TORONTO, May 29.—In response to the enormous demand for admission to the inaugural services of the United Church of Canada on June 10, which were planned to be held in Massey Hall, it has been decided to enlarge the present plans and to hold these services in the Arena, which was secured for that purpose. The Arena will accommodate about 8,000 people. One of the chief difficulties in the way of transferring the scene of the historic ceremony was the administration of holy communion with which the inaugural service will close. TORONTO, May 29.—Addressing the Ontario Dental Association here yesterday, Dr. Weston A. Price of Cleveland stated that after much research work he had discovered that dental infection contributed largely to many viral diseases, and he instanced cases where patients whose calcium reserves had been broken down to such an extent that they had become prey to suspected tuberculosis, cancer, diabetes, heart trouble, stroke or other afflictions, have been restored to health by the judicious use of calcium lactate and activated cod liver oil.

THE highest function of calcium, Dr. Price declared, was not to make bones and skeletons, for many forms of life had no bones, but one of its main functions was that it determined the form of the cell tissue.

He recommended the prescription of from one to three 2-grain calcium tablets once a day, with the addition of a capsule containing about nine drops of cod liver oil, that had been activated in the sun about 15 or 20 minutes.

As special photographs of the baby or babies must be taken to meet the requirements of the competition the remaining time would appear too short for any other applications to be received now. Why Headaches
At Close Work

Nineteen headaches out of twenty warn you of Sight Faults. They may come any time, but more so at near work as then the Sight muscles are strained hardest.

If they strike you any part of the forehead or the temples—the trouble is likely Astigmatism. You may see clearly but it costs you something. Through one part of your eye there is a distortion called Astigmatism.

Severe Astigmatism shows itself in poor vision and a false shading to printed letters.

ARE WOMEN 100 PER CENT EFFICIENT?

How many women do you know who are one hundred per cent efficient? That means every nerve and sinew of the body pulsating with life and health as nature intended. Do you not know more who are half dead and half alive with aches, pains, nervous, irritable and despondent, making themselves miserable and every one around them? Women in this condition should let Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound rebuild and restore them to a normal healthy condition which will make them one hundred per cent efficient and life worth living. There are women in every section of this country who testify to its merits.

Congoleum Gold-Seal Rugs have many advantages not found in fabric or fibre rugs. No back-breaking sweeping is ever needed to clean them—just use a damp mop. Dirt, tracked-in mud and spilled things cannot stain or penetrate the smooth, sanitary surface.

CAMPAIGN PRELIMINARIES

In modern warfare it has become the practice, in attacking an enemy's position, to subject it to heavy bombardments in preparation for the grand assault.

The Opposition convention shelled the Government's lines, and last evening Premier Veniot turned loose some of his batteries in reply, with the kindly intention of showing that the campaign is not to be all one-sided.

In due course there will be counter-blasts from the Opposition, and the work of organization and the nomination of candidates will occupy attention for some time to come.

NATIONAL POLICIES

The Sydney Post, which is discussing national issues, says that protection will be maintained as a public policy in Canada so long as it is approved by a majority of the people, but that if and when the electors vote against protection it will be dropped.

One of the main difficulties about the tariff question is that of securing a binding definition as to what constitutes "moderate protection" or "adequate protection."

public policy of Canada should be so framed as to leave no reasonable excuse for the suggestion of drastic remedies.

There is nothing new in the dispute over the tariff. It will be a lasting subject of disagreement in Parliament.

THE ARCTIC MYSTERY

Meeting of Local Council of Women Hears Three Addresses

Social Hygiene and Work for Backward Children in Schools Discussed.

The Women's Council at a very largely attended meeting in the Board of Trade rooms last night heard with keen interest three able addresses bearing on child welfare which were given in a programme which had been arranged by Dr. Mabel Hanington, medical inspector of schools. Mrs. A. W. Estey presided at the opening and closing of the meeting and others besides Dr. Hanington who gave addresses were Miss H. Dykeman, director of public health nursing services, and Miss Margaret McMillin, teacher of one of the opportunity classes.

Applause was given the announcement of Mrs. T. H. Carter, treasurer, that the tag day for New Scotia miners' relief, which was convened by Mrs. A. C. D. Wilson, raised $1,283.70. The general fund balance was $48.92 with some outstanding bills. The milk fund balance was $1,029.42 with a bill of $135.30 unpaid. Payment of bills was authorized.

The sum of $1,200.16 net proceeds of tag day was acknowledged by the relief committee in Halifax. The workers for tag day were thanked, especially the convener and the Daughters of Israel.

Child Welfare.
Dr. Hanington took charge of the meeting and announced child welfare was the evening theme. She said a tribute to the Women's Council as mainly instrumental in establishing medical inspection in the city schools and thanked the council for its never-failing interest and sympathy in her work.

Miss H. Dykeman, explaining what the Health Centre does and does not do, as the centre for preventive measures, to keep well people well, said it housed the offices of the district medical health officer, the V. O. N. pre-school age clinic and the office of the school medical inspector, who takes care of the care of the teeth and examination of the eyes. These various services covered the whole sphere of child welfare and the Health Centre housed also the Tuberculosis Society's clinics and the Social Hygiene clinics. The Health Centre was not a medical or surgical dispensary, Miss Dykeman declared, and she told of the many times when it was necessary to refer Health Centre visitors to their own doctors or the hospital. Its lecture hall, however, was always available for health propaganda and in it many home nursing and first aid classes had been held. Miss Dykeman spoke last of the Lady Byng summer camp for delicate children as an offshoot of the Health Centre and asked generous support for it this year.

Social Hygiene.
Dr. Hanington brought before the meeting the plea of the Social Hygiene Council representative that parents and teachers co-operate in giving sex instruction to the young. Dr. Hanington advocated the formation of home and school clubs as a means of assuring this instruction being given in the homes.

Speaking on her own theme, "The care of the feeble-minded," she believed that only along this line would be found the solution of many of the problems of this age. The subject confronted her daily in her duties in the schools and a solution was a vital necessity.

Care Suggested.
Dr. Hanington referred to those of the laymen in the community who urged action in the care of the feeble-minded, mentioning J. King Kelley, A. M. Belding and Mrs. McLellan. For those engaged in philanthropic endeavor she asked if it was not the case that very often poverty, ill health, ignorance and sin were directly the result of feeble-mindedness. She paid a tribute to Judge Henderson for his knowledge and interest in the cases in the city.

Teacher Speaks.
Miss McMillin was introduced as the teacher of one of the city's seven opportunity classes which are a first step in the care of sub-normal children and have removed a great burden from the general schools. She told how the pupils were selected and trained, a special curriculum of practical work being used. The classes could not by a miracle enable sub-normal children to become normal but by means of training the senses and muscles in the opportunity classes there was found a pupil unable to read or write had become one of the best pupils in the manual training department. The chief aim was to train the children to be happy without doing wrong and to try to find a balance between the mental age and a possible adult employment.

Dr. Hanington in continuing her theme praised Miss McMillin's work and pointed out that the opportunity class not only helped the child but protected the community from the disasters the feeble-minded bring. Both sides of the question must be considered.
She felt that if the women backed the project, an institution for the care of the feeble-minded would be secured for this part of Canada. She urged the women to strive towards this objective.

When Mrs. A. W. Estey resumed the chair she spoke of the tremendous strides which had been made in child welfare work in Saint John, referring to medical inspection in the schools and the work which had just been described.
A welcome was extended Mrs. H. B. Peck who attended the International Council of Women Quinquennial meeting.

QUITS CHILD WELFARE WORK TO SPEND TIME AND MONEY ON DOGS

MISS LEONORE CAWKER AND ONE OF HER CAPTURED DOGS.

Says They Need as Much Attention as Children—Opens Pound.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 29.—She used to spend her time and money helping other people's children. Now she's spending both for the welfare of other people's dogs. The salary the city pays her doesn't believe she is doing more good for society than she ever could have hoped to do as head of a settlement house.

For 10 years she has made the lives of the city's dogs and the children who love them brighter and happier. She is probably the only woman in charge of a dog pound in the United States. A veritable paradise for forsaken animals in Miss Cawker's home, nestled among tall and stately trees, and set far back on a big lawn, on the city's most exclusive residence thoroughfare.

The salary the city pays her doesn't begin to cover the expense of running the Cawker Animal Home. She has spent $75,000 on it out of her own pocketbook already.

Miss Cawker first became interested in canine charity work back in 1908. She was then head of the Cawker Club, which she founded and financed for the purpose of helping children in the poorer districts of the city enjoy wholesome pleasures and recreation.

Saw Dog Captured
One day she saw the city's dog catchers capture a stray dog. The sight horrified her, for the dog catcher had strangled the poor animal by tightening a wire around its neck and roughly hurled it into a wagon already crowded with other captured dogs.

She investigated conditions at the dog pound and she appealed to the health department to stop the cruel and inhumane methods used in killing homeless animals.

At first her appeal went unheeded. Many people laughed at and ridiculed her.

Finally she interested influential church people and the newspapers. An official investigation was begun. As a result the dog pound's employees were discharged.

Miss Cawker decided to assume the responsibility herself. "I realized it meant giving up my social welfare work," she recalls. "But welfare workers were increasing, while nobody was doing anything for dogs."

"Everybody is interested in needy children. Few people are interested in needy dogs—I mean interested enough to devote time and spend money helping them."

"I regard dog welfare as more important than child welfare. That is to say, if I have to choose between the two, I would choose dog welfare."

Her husband had threatened to kill her and was holding an army rifle pointed toward her when she fired the shots that ended Delaney's life, the woman told the police.

JUST FORGET WORRY

ONE cannot stop worry by voluntary effort. The only method to check worry, and bring about sleep, is to occupy the mind with something else.

This something else should not be an exciting or an entertaining thought. If it is, it may prove as active in preventing sleep as worry.

The mind should be engaged in some form of activity which is as nearly as possible automatic and monotonous.

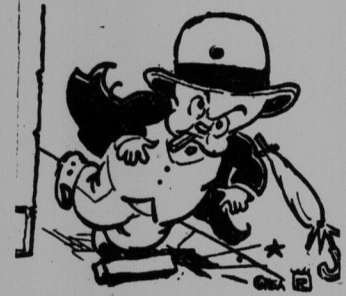

For this reason monotonous mental exercise, such as counting, is efficient. The monotonous roar of the Niagara Falls is said to induce sleep to those accustomed to it.

Once ice formed at the Falls, which in some way stopped this roar, and all the people near, awakened.

A baby is crooned to sleep by the mother. Often when the mother stops singing, the baby will awaken. Mothers sleep in their chairs. When the wheels stop grinding, the noise stops, and they awaken with a start.

If there is no monotony to induce sleep, one may produce it.

Take a card and a short lead pencil to bed. When ready to go to sleep, close the eyes, take deep breaths, and at the end of every breath make a mark on the card.

The amount of mental exercise, and the monotony of the marking soon induces sleep.

Adventures of the Twins

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON.

MRS. PENGUIN AND THE SHEATH BILLS. Peter Penguin was so full of stories that Doctor Bill and the Twins coaxed him to stave.

"You are such good company," said Doctor Bill, "and I can't tell you when I've had such a good laugh."

"Do tell us another story," coaxed the Twins.

"Well," said Peter Penguin, scratching his head with his wing, "let me see. Would you like to hear about the albatross and the jelly-fish or about the penguin and the sheath-bill bird?"

"Which is the funniest one?" asked Nick.

"Albatross!" sighed Peter Penguin. "Neither are so very funny. Indeed in the story about the albatross bird, the jelly-fish put so many stingers into him he was lame for six days and—"

"Then tell us the other story," said Nancy quickly.

"All right," said Peter Penguin. And he began:

"Once upon a time there was a penguin called Mrs. Penguin, and she scolded her husband something awful. If he said the sun was hot, she said it was cold, and if he said the sea was rough, she said it was smooth, and if he said the fishing was poor, she said it was fine.

"One sheath-bill began to peck at her head."

"But Mrs. Penguin never moved. She knew that if she did, the other sheath-bill would get behind her and eat her eggs."

"So she called, 'Mister Penguin! Mister Penguin! Come here at once and help me."

"Yes, darling," said he rushing up. But suddenly he stopped and just looked on.

"Why don't you help me?" demanded Mrs. Penguin angrily.

"I was just thinking," said Mister Penguin. "Now you know how I feel all the time. No matter which way I move there you are after me. I think I'll let you alone and see what happens."

"Oh! Oh! Do help me," begged his wife. "I see how mean I have been. I'll let you alone after this. Honestly, I will."

So Mister Penguin chased the sheath-bills away and Mrs. Penguin had no more trouble. Mister Penguin hadn't either. His wife had learned a lesson.

"How do you know?" asked Nancy.

"Because I'm Mister Penguin himself," said Peter with a wink.

NURSING CLASSES CLOSE FOR SEASON

Central Baptist and Exmouth Street Methodist—Presentations Are Made.

One new home nursing class was organized under the auspices of the Red Cross Society by Miss S. Barrington in Penobscot yesterday afternoon, and last night in Saint John two of the classes which she had organized earlier in the season held their closing meetings.

The class composed of members of the Central Baptist church, which has been meeting in Miss Craig's hospital and receiving instruction from Miss Craig and her nurses, held its closing meeting in the hospital last night when Miss Craig conducted a review of the work and the pupils made an excellent showing. Of the 30 members of the class 28 received attendance cards for high average.

A handsome silk umbrella was presented to Miss Craig by Mrs. H. Downey, president of the class, who expressed the members' appreciation of their teacher's leadership. A social time was enjoyed at the close of the examination.

Exmouth Street Class. The class composed of members of the Exmouth street Methodist church, which has met in the Health Centre with Miss Martina Wallace as teacher, made a splendid showing when the review was conducted last night. Attendance cards were presented to 34 of the members of the class. Mrs. E. E. Thomas, on behalf of the class, presented a dozen beautiful roses and a very pretty card to Miss Wallace and thanked her very heartily for her unflinching interest and her skilled leadership.

ELECTIC CLUB

The Electic Club held its closing meeting of the season last night at the home of Mrs. W. M. Mackay with a very large number of members present. Before the programme was given the members were entertained at a social high tea. Rev. R. Moorhead Leggie was in charge of the evening and the subject was "Robert Louis Stevenson." Mr. Leggie gave the introductory paper, reading from "Tustala, a Master Craftsman." F. B. Ellis' reading was "Francis Villon." Richard Hooper Cortlandt Robinson read from "Travels With a Donkey" and Adrian Gilbert read from "Valima Letters." The program was of exceptional interest and very greatly enjoyed.

Social Notes of Interest

Sir Douglas Hasen was the host at a most enjoyable luncheon yesterday at the Cliff Club when covers were laid for fourteen. Those present were Mr. Hasen, Miss F. Tibbels, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Mackay, Miss Edith Cushing, Miss F. Burnside, Mr. and Mrs. D. King Haem, Mr. Dougal Cushing, Mr. H. B. Griffiths and Mr. Thomas R. Ker.

Mrs. James F. Robertson entertained at a delightful small luncheon yesterday at her residence, Carleton street in honor of Miss Elspeth MacLaren.

Mrs. Percy McAvity and Mrs. Clifford McAvity were joint hostesses yesterday at the Riverside Golf and Country Club, when they gave an enjoyable small luncheon in honor of Miss Catherine McAvity.

Miss Alice E. Capson was given a delightful novelty shower Wednesday evening by the ladies of the staff of Manchester, Robertson, Allison, Ltd., Mrs. E. D. Smith, sister of the bride-elect, opening her home for the event at 411 Main street. Thirty guests were present and enjoyed the pleasure of seeing the many gifts opened by the recipient. Little Miss Constance Smith, daughter of the bride-elect, pulled a gaily decorated cart into the room bearing the gifts. She also presented to Miss Capson a bouquet of roses and spring flowers. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Benjamin Lawton presided at the supper table and the guests were served by Miss Florence Trentowsky and Miss Ellen Thomas.

Mrs. Fred Pheasant, of Saint John, left this morning to spend the summer at Masareene.

The Saint John branch of the Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis at its meeting yesterday afternoon in the Health Centre acknowledge a gift of $100 from Douglas Clinch, A. M. P. president, was in the chair and reports of the recent national convention given by Dr. H. A. Farris and Miss Edith Hegan were heard. It was decided to have a sale of Christmas seals again this year but to have no turns made at a central location and not have the money sent through the post.

The reports of the month's work showed 205 visits made by the nurses and 346 patients were enrolled on the society's list. It was decided to continue a plan which had previously been abandoned, the appointment of one of the members of the board as visitor for the month, and Mrs. G. F. Barbour was named the visitor for the ensuing month. The directors will not meet again until October unless special need arises.

A walk from one end of Main street to the other will convince any citizen, without figures, that there are more stores in this street than perhaps the combined number of any other two Saint John streets.
But what is most striking of all is the number of merchants who own their business premises.
Starting at Indiantown, and continuing down the corner of Paradise Row, one finds that store after store is owned by the occupants, and, in many instances, were owned by fathers before them. Some stores have been in the possession of a family for more than 60 years. P. Nase & Son, Ltd., is one example, and the store of Joshua E. Cowan is another example of long-time ownership. (Mr. Cowan, however, recently disposed of his business, but still owns the premises.)
Then there are the Purdy's. This is another old-time North End family, associated with business a good deal longer than the average citizen can remember.
McConnell is another old-time name, the late Robert McConnell conducting grocery business for more than 30 years in Main street.
There are many others, too numerous to mention, who have proved to be mainstays of the city.

HOME OWNERS.
As well as being owners of business premises, the North End residents outnumber by far the balance of the city as home owners. The main street residences between Douglas avenue and the river are in most cases owned by the occupants. This is also true of the residents of many of the branch streets, Portland Place, for instance, is practically one hundred per cent. owned by the residents. This locality, however, is one of North End's newest residential sections, built on a home-owning plan inaugurated by Armstrong & Bruce, Ltd. The homes in this district are built and sold on a time-payment plan, the purchaser paying a deposit and the balance by monthly payments spread over a number of years. Several residents of this locality have completed their payments, and now are happy possessors of fine modern homes.
The same plan is being carried out on Douglas avenue by the Fenton Land and Building Company, Ltd.
SHOPPING DAYS.
Although the telephone has relieved to a great extent the crowding of stores, Friday and Saturday are busy days in the North End, particularly in the evenings.
It seems to be the custom of the residents to go down town after tea, visit the movies and shop on the way home. Every resident has his favorite store. Some shop at a certain store because their parents before them shopped there. Others are attracted by fine window displays and the weekly newspaper advertisements.
Keen and friendly competition has created a high standard of service in their business, and are alive to the requirements of their customers. In the majority of cases the proprietor serves behind the counter along with his helpers. This fact no doubt greatly aids efficiency. The merchants and clerks hold friendly chats with their customers while filling their orders, and from one end of Main street to the other, on the busiest of days, there exists a spirit of courteous cordiality so necessary to successful merchandising.
The merchants themselves all know each other personally, and whether in the same line of business or not, a friendly spirit exists. Grocers, shoe dealers, druggists, etc., will often be found discussing business and community affairs in each other's stores. They are extremely loyal to the North End. Their motto seems to be "The North End first, our personal interests next."

Who's Who in Main Street
C. M. BELYEA.
Some time ago Mr. Belyea took over the old-established grocery business of Joshua E. Cowan, who had successfully conducted it for more than 40 years—62, to be exact. Mr. Cowan is in the city of Saint John. This store does a wide business with members of the Saint John Power Boat Club, the club premises being within a stone's throw of the store. The new proprietor is well known in the city. He is another of Main street's mainstays who has seen overseas service, having served in France with the 26th. Mr. Belyea's brother, R. A. Belyea, with the Liggett Drug Co. of New York, is assisting in the managing of the store.
R. F. BRITAIN.
Twenty-one years in the shoe-repairing business in Main street is the record of R. F. Britain, who conducts a well and modernly-equipped repairing plant. Mr. Britain has seen many changes in the methods of shoe repairing. When he first entered the business, the labor-saving machinery now used was not then available, and most of the work now done by machinery was done by hand, a much slower process. Repairing while you wait in those days was a thing unknown. The old-time cobbler no longer sits gossiping while sewing on patches by hand, but his descendants skillfully operate rapidly-moving machinery.
The L. D. Brown meat store is a spic-and-span business establishment, enjoying a wide business connection in the North End and other parts of the city. Mr. Brown has his own meat butchering business for a large number of years, and has built up an enviable reputation in the trade. He has occupied his present stand for more than seven years. He was 16 years in business in Mill street and nine years in business in Adelaide street.
D. J. DEWEY.
Under the trade name of "The New Store," Mr. Dewey has opened up a furniture repairing and upholstering establishment. Mr. Dewey is a returned soldier of Main street's returned soldiers connecting business. He went overseas in 1916, served with the 11th and was invalided home in 1919. Before commencing business on his own account, he was with the Soldiers' Memorial Workshops. His premises are well kept, and, judging by samples of his work, his new venture will meet with the success deserved, as one who has served his country well.
RED, WHITE AND BLUE STORE.
This patriotic name has been given to a grocery, news agent and general business conducted by H. Gillis, 447 Main street. Mr. Gillis is a returned soldier. He served four years with the 28th Battalion, and was invalided home three days after the armistice. This store was opened up a few weeks ago, and the good wishes of the North End residents will naturally be with Mr. Gillis.
M. GROSWEINER.
After spending more than 22 years in the wholesale business, M. Grosweiner, 625 Main street, opened his present premises in 1922. Mr. Grosweiner is a manufacturer of high-class ladies' made-to-order clothing, as well as a manufacturer of ready-to-wear goods. His plant is well equipped, and latest styles are closely followed by his designs. The retail store presents an attractive appearance, with well-trimmed windows and large stocks. Mr. Grosweiner employs a number of tailors and is working up a fine business.
THE STANDARD CREAMERY.
During the last few years The Standard Creamery has come forward rapidly. Under the efficient management of F. M. Logan, a wide connection with the milk consumers of Saint John has been built up. The plant is right up to date, and recently several thousands of dollars' worth of new equipment has been added. This company does both

VENIOT ANSWERS OPPOSITION CHARGES

SAYS GRAND FALLS SCHEME INVESTIGATED

Government Satisfied Data Shows Development Good Business Possibility

CALLS THREAT TO KILL CONTRACTS "BUNKUM"

Comments on Resolutions Regarding Prohibition, Debt Increase and Agriculture.

HON. P. J. VENIOT, Premier of New Brunswick, arrived in the city last night from his home in Bathurst and issued a statement in reply to the policy of the Opposition as laid down at the convention on Wednesday last. He dealt with each subject mentioned in that connection and set forth his answer, item by item. His statement was as follows:

GRAND FALLS.

While the resolution in a general way approves of the development of our water powers it does not state whether the Opposition party is in favor of public or private ownership.

"It condemns the letting of contracts before all necessary investigations have been made. All necessary investigations have been made as to the cost of development by eminent engineers and checked over by independent expert engineers in this class of work. The government is perfectly satisfied that sufficient information and data have been obtained to warrant the development of Grand Falls as a splendid commercial possibility.

APPROVED BY HOUSE.

"The Legislature by an overwhelming majority, said that with the data submitted and the explanations given by our engineers, the government were warranted in undertaking this development. This large majority did not include government supporters alone, but the solid farmer group and the four independents. It is not possible for me to say that the public in general would desire to have the Opposition pronounce on the principle of public or private ownership. They have not chosen to do so, therefore no fault should be found if the Government party avail themselves of the privilege of drawing conclusions based

AGRICULTURE.

"The resolution on agriculture, viewed from the way the new leader and his friends carried on the affairs of the Department of Agriculture, becomes a huge joke. I am sure that the public in general would desire to have the Opposition pronounce on the principle of public or private ownership. They have not chosen to do so, therefore no fault should be found if the Government party avail themselves of the privilege of drawing conclusions based

"Women often ask me — says Mrs. Experience — how I get my table linen so immaculate"

"I take it as a real compliment, because most women do try to excel in their table linen."

"Of course, I tell them the way I've found easiest and best is with Sunlight—just rubbing the linen lightly with Sunlight, rolling it up and putting it to soak. After soaking, perhaps a light rubbing here and there may be called for, then just rinse, and the linen is spotlessly clean. Fine linens should be protected and never come into contact with anything but the purest soap."

"As a household soap there is nothing better or more economical than Sunlight. Every particle is pure soap, with no wasteful filler. Sunlight is mild and easy on the hands, too." Lever Brothers Limited of Toronto, make it.

Japan Wants Immigration Matter Settled With World Labor Problems

Britain Refuses Guarantee For Germany's East Frontier In European Security Pact

British United Press. LONDON, May 29.—Great Britain will decline, politely but firmly the request of France that she act as guarantor of any European security pact, except one covering Germany's western frontier.

This means that England will not assume responsibility for Germany's eastern frontier as France has desired, for the sake of Poland and Czechoslovakia.

The draft of the proposed French reply to the German security offer suggested that arbitration pacts be concluded by Germany with Poland and Czechoslovakia, to cover the eastern frontier. When a copy of the draft was submitted to Britain, the cabinet replied asking whether France proposed to commit herself alone or all the Allies.

As a result of the French rejoinder, Britain suggested that the note represent the joint Allied view. With that idea the cabinet is now preparing a memorandum to France suggesting amendments to the draft note. It is believed the memorandum will make clear that England is not able to act as guarantor of Germany's eastern frontier.

England will propose that Germany effect arbitration treaties with Poland and Czechoslovakia, these treaties to be registered with the League of Nations. Thus, as England is a member of the League, she will become responsible, jointly with the other league nations, for enforcement of the treaties.

VERDICT UP TO PEOPLE.

"The silly threat made by the new leader of the Opposition that he would cancel all contracts for Grand Falls development when he got into power, reminds me of the man who is forced to whistle to keep up his courage. I am satisfied to leave the verdict to the people. Should any contracts be awarded in the regular way, Mr. Baxter, as a lawyer, knows that his threat is all bunkum. It is not worthy of a leader of a party. The days for bluffing the public have gone by."

PROHIBITION.

"I have carefully read the resolution on prohibition, the preparation of which has taxed the ingenuity of the new leader, especially when he must have remembered that speech, he delivered in which he admitted having made the mistake of his life when he consented to introduce the Prohibition Act of 1916. I am sure the Temperance Alliance will find great consolation in the pronouncement made by our Opposition friends. Would it be interesting to review the work of the prohibitionists of his past attitude on this question."

ECONOMY.

"This resolution states an absolute falsehood when it says that we have increased the public debt from $15,000,000 to over $31,000,000 since 1917. The record shows that when we took power in 1917 the books of the outgoing government showed a debt of about $15,500,000.

"The independent audit made by Price, Waterhouse, shows a debt of $18,000,000. The accounts for 1916 had been cooked and that there was in one item alone the sum of over $1,000,000 not should have been charged up, which the incoming government had to meet by a bond issue."

CONTRACTS OUTSTANDING.

"Besides this there were contracts and other obligations outstanding for which the old government was directly responsible amounting to over one million and a half dollars which had to be met by a bond issue. They had not failed their bond issue in 1917, but the sum of $1,400,000 in the interest account which should have been paid in 1916, but which we had to pay in 1917."

HAD TO FINISH RAILWAY.

"Besides all this we had to complete the Valley Railway, to do which we had to borrow about $1,700,000 to pay the contracts given out in their time. In all, the present government had to load the province for over $4,000,000 to meet the obligations direct and indirect of the Murray-Baxter regime in the face of such facts I feel I caution the statement in this resolution that a misstatement in this resolution is a deliberate attempt to mislead the people."

PUBLIC DEBT REDUCED.

"Besides this we have reduced the public debt incurred by them to the extent of over $1,000,000, not to mention the reduction of about $1,000,000 of Valley Railway bonded indebtedness. There is at the present moment about $1,750,000 in the sinking fund to meet maturing bonds, and provision has been made for sufficient sinking fund to meet all bonded indebtedness at maturity, except the Valley Railway bonds, for which the Murray-Baxter government never made any provision."

ECONOMY PROMISES.

"The resolution also promises economy. The tree is known by the fruit it bears, and to convince the public of the absurdity of promises of economy on their part I have only to point to the extravagance that reigned from 1912 to 1916, not to mention the money lost to the province by such deals as the Valley Railway deal of $108,000 through the Nova Scotia Construction company, and the $125,000 through the Gould-Fleming deal, as well as the timber scandal by which large sums of money were lost to this province. Is this the kind of economy our friends are again offering to the public?"

ISN'T DISPLEASED.

"I may say that while I am sorry to see Mr. Richards forced to take a back seat, I am not displeased in having Dr. Baxter as leader of the Opposition. He is a good fighter, and if he does not surround himself with the old gang which brought disgrace on this province from 1912 to 1917, the public might be inclined to forget the part he played in the game."

Premier Veniot is at the Victoria Hotel.

GENEVA ENVOY RAPS RACIAL DISCRIMINATION

Declares Limitations Should Be Imposed Rationally and Impersonally

URGES SCIENTIFIC VIEW IN SOLUTION

Stresses Importance of Action to Countries Without Natural Resources.

GENEVA, May 29.—Japan suddenly interjected the immigration problem into the world labor conference yesterday, when Tamon Mayeda, permanent Japanese representative at question should be settled simultaneously with world labor problems. If Geneva, declared the immigration this is not done, declared Mayeda, the very improvement of labor conditions may impose possible restrictions on countries deprived of natural resources and suffering from other disabilities.

The Japanese spokesman said he did not pretend that the principle of the right to immigrate is absolute. He said he believed the right or freedom of immigration should be subject to some limitation by the countries receiving immigrants, but that this limitation should be imposed rationally and impersonally.

"There should be no discrimination because of racial and national differences," declared Mayeda, "and I hope the immigration committee of the Labor conference will deal with this problem from a scientific and impartial viewpoint, thus satisfying all the countries concerned."

NEW HAVEN, May 29.—The exhaust pipes on automobiles should be on the top of the car, so as to send the engine gases up into the air instead of down toward the ground, Prof. Fandell Henderson of Yale believes. ## CARLETON RICH IN CITY HISTORY

Much There Associated With the Days of French Explorers

Industry, Sport and Modern Life of Western Section Pass in Review

When one comes to consider the position occupied by the trans-harbor section of this city, meaning West Saint John, weight of important history and the honor of priority in the sentimental phases of its career must be credited to that section of the community. A little later than mid-June just 221 summers ago the southern coast of New Brunswick was skirted by the French explorer Champlain and his co-traveler, Sieur DeMonts, who had rendered essential service to their King, Henry IV. of France. On the 24th of the first summer month these voyagers sailed into the estuary of the river they named Saint John, now our magnificent harbor. It was on the Carleton side of the city as we now have it the white man's hand the dangers of Indian opposition to plant the fleur-de-lis and make temporary settlement. If Sir Arthur Conan Doyle is right about the spirit world these early French navigators must be enjoying much delectation over the growth of their infant colony now represented by the resourceful and happily settled western section of this thriving port-city.

Know Your City

As was noted in a typographical jaunt around the North End of Saint John in these columns a short while ago, one does not know his own community right well until he takes the time and trouble to amble from street to street and make a thorough survey of the situation. People get in the habit of living very much unto themselves in older cities and perhaps do not display the same neighborly spirit that has become so famous in the rapid development of a brand new country. It would indeed be unfair to West Saint John people to deny them credit for a burst of home-making enterprise and public forwardness in late years that sets a striking example to the main part of the town, indeed an example that has lured many families across the harbor to take up residence there.

Modern Streets

When citizens are showing off to the city visitors they instinctively turn from Douglas avenue and the bridges to the rapidly improving neighborhoods of Lancaster and then down into

Steamships at Docks of The Winter Port

Picture shows ocean steamships berthed at West Saint John in the ush of the Winter Port season. View is from Union street, looking across the harbor to the East Side.

Carleton, where DeMonts and Champlain streets provide a splendid demonstration of the new vision in orderly residential layout that has been caught by really concerned and appreciative householders. These streets and surrounding thoroughfares stand out in Saint John's residential scheme as splendid examples of new development, an example which is being followed in various other localities on the West Side of the harbor and round about the city.

Excellent Expansion

Spacious and comfortable abodes, most of them owned outright by the occupants; plenty of green lawns and garden spaces, a wealth of shade trees, well-spaced streets, increasing mileage of cement sidewalks, a water service from Spruce Lake all its own, a well-lighted town, adequate fire protection, well policed and possessing requisite public buildings, West Saint John is as any of the outskirting districts happily possessed by the municipality as a whole.

Industrial

Still one of the distinctive industries of this west side of the harbor is nature's bounty, a wealth of harbor and outer-harbor fishing. With the development of the Maritime Provinces fishing has kept pace with time in all suitable sections and the business has been pretty well divided up. Nevertheless Carleton fishermen still pursue their hardy vocation from generation to generation and visitors find at their wharves and curing plants much to interest them and point them out as one of the reasons for the city's steadiness as a wage-earning centre.

Like the North End of the city the Carleton side has suffered the loss of some of its lumber-milling industry, due to the evolution of trade matters, but in the place of these have sprung up fish-curing and canning plants, a lumber and woodworking plant, great winterport terminal facilities with accompanying railway yards, government immigration activities, a manufacturing plant of national importance such as the Simms brush plant; minor industries employing tradesmen of all kinds and a growing mercantile trend which follows householding growth.

Winter Port

West Saint John began his newer career in the late nineties, when winterport development got its first permanent impetus. The erection of wharves along the harbor frontage from Sand Point to the Rodney ferry slip was a priceless boon as an employment source and following Contractor Connolly's big jobs, other dockage was constructed by Contractor D. C. Clark, a Carleton man. This made the place a hive of industry. Dredging, the construction of grain elevators, acres of freight sheds, millions of dollars in modern construction for the Canadian Pacific Railway, the city and other interests, laid a foundation for the happiness and success of industrious West Side workmen who gave faithful labor and received preferred treatment because of their activity.

So as the Winterport of Canada, West Saint John homes are largely represented in the personnel of the operating staff of the terminal facilities in the late fall, winter and spring. Some have advanced in the service of the railways, necessitating a division of their time between Upper Canada and home and this interchange of citizenship has given the Carleton side of the harbor some Upper Canadian brides, establishing something of a bonnie en-tente between the winter and summer shipping centres of the Dominion.

Churches

Saint John has been called a city of churches. Its spires are the first tips seen to pierce the sky as mariners approach from the outer bay. West Saint John is well represented in this array of edifices. St. George's Anglican is rich in history. Nearby is the Anglican Church, St. Jude's, overlooking the outer harbor. The Baptists have two churches in Ludlow and Charlotte streets; the Presbyterians enjoy a commanding position for their minaretted church on the rugged heights; the Roman Catholics with a splendid example of Byzantine architecture, furnish one of the finest grey and red stone structures in Eastern Canada in the Church of the Assumption.

The Methodist community is also well represented in this district and in fraternal circles the Free Masons, Knights of Pythias, Orangemen, Odd Fellows, "Prentice" Boys and others tender their proportion of citizenship to the life of that community, all functioning prosperously.

Schools

There is considerable good-natured rivalry in the City of Saint John in the development of school facilities. An unprejudiced investigator might find it difficult to settle the question of superiority without taking West Side buildings into serious account. In the New Albert School, on the heights of Duke street, Canada possesses an institution of which it may justly be proud. Furnished with its own theatre, a domestic science department, equipped with electric cooking appliances, indoor playgrounds for wet weather, reception quarters and the very last word in every other appointment, it must surely be the realized dream of progressive teachers. Much the same may be said of the new St. Patrick's school in Carleton, and though the LaTour building is of older construction it is keeping well abreast of the times, while the Beacomfield located in more populous centres would be worth millions to investors and entertainment promoters and enjoyed by the people as a whole.

In closing rambling reflections upon the place occupied by West Saint John in the progressive scheme of the city it can be fairly summed up in the assertion that for restful residential life, healthful homing conditions, adequate mercantile facilities of modern type and operation; business activity in a national and international way as to its educational facilities, religious and fraternal life and in a happy, neighborly social way, the historic left-hand side of the harbor is, and should be always, a very happy place. It is ample open resting areas the same as the city proper, many of Saint John's leading citizens make their homes on that side of the harbor, the community is capable of living closely unto itself in many ways and might easily be a municipal section under its own government in conjunction with Lancaster parish, if it did not happily belong to the four-part city of Saint John as a grown-up daughter.

Carleton In Sport

No great mention of the Carleton side of the Saint John harbor can be comprehensively made without telling again the glorious tale of the Paris crew, world's champion four-oared crew, composed of West-siders. Present generations will have it to tell how Hilton Belyea won his way as far as the Diamond Sculls contest, the classic of man-propelled craft. Aside from these highlights in sport the history of Carleton is richly blessed with eminent sportsmen in singles and doubles in rowing and four-oared crews. Yachts bearing the Carleton halling name have also been among the winners in days gone by and everybody remembers the skating prowess of Mike Walsh, Hilton Belyea, Percy Belyea and others from that side. In musical circles West Saint John has always contributed its quota to the best voices of the city and is retaining that distinction. It is a matter of wide comment at this particular moment that West Saint John is completing a sporting field and track that should be the basis of a movement that will bring Saint John into the circle of enthusiastic track meets once again.

Historical

Historically, as stated at the outset, Carleton occupies many pages in the records of local writers on Saint John's part in the upbuilding of Canada. The romance of the LaTour, the career of DeMont, Champlain, D'Aulnay, Poirincourt; Indian tribes in their terrific warfare, early trading posts, Martello Tower and its occupancy as a signal station by British troops. All these furnish much of interest to the student of the past and the tourist. No visitor to Saint John has heard the whole story of this city's varied career as a French outpost, an Indian reserve, an English settlement, and then the chief centre of Loyalist immigration after the American revolutionary war, unless the West Side of the harbor gets its full credit for its own share in the exploits of these pioneering days.

BIG RECRUIT FOR DOMINION POLICE

Mr. Cris Mitchell, late of the Liverpool, England, police, came to Canada recently to join the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, but when he went to his cabin on board the Canadian Pacific S. S. "Montrose" it was found that he was too lengthy to be able to assume a horizontal position in any of the berths. Consequently an extension had to be made to one of the regular berths, which when completed, measured six feet eight inches. Thus he was enabled to travel in comfort and beyond the danger of having his hat knocked off by a passing cloud, suffered no inconvenience on account of his great height.

Who's Who in West End

DUNLOP PHARMACY

Here we have one of West Saint John's well known merchants of today in Watson Dunlop, who is operating a chain of three drug stores. The first one he purchased from the late E. Walters, 255 Union street, some six years ago. Later he purchased the business of the late W. C. Wilson and just recently that of Benson Mahoney, on Dock street. It is very gratifying indeed to see the splendid success Mr. Dunlop is meeting with in his business ventures and every good wish goes with him for the future.

JAMES W. CARLETON

The happy disposition of James W. Carleton has won for him a host of friends in social and business circles in West Saint John. He purchased the West End Fuel Co. some eight years ago. Mr. Carleton has been very successful in conducting his business along high ideals to the present standard it has reached today.

BROWN BROS. GROCERY CO.

Brown Bros. Grocery Store is situated on the corner of King and Ludlow streets and is a busy corner. It was established there some nine years ago. The firm has successfully built up one of the finest grocery businesses in the city. They also conduct another

HELDLEY A. NORTHRUP

Naturally when one thinks of candy or ice cream thoughts centre on Heldley A. Northrup. For 13 years this firm has conducted a splendid confectionery business in West Saint John. Mr. Northrup was born in Belleisle and first started here some 13 years ago. Much credit is given for the way he has built up his business and also for having made up one of the most attractive confectionery stores in this part of the country.

THE IDEAL STORES

N. M. Carson, proprietor of the Ideal Stores at 103-5 Union street, West End, started in business in West End in 1913 with just a shoe store. Honest and ambitious, he has grown since to own and operate three fine looking, well stocked stores including a men's furnishings emporium and a ladies' furnishings and dry goods store (all under one roof). Carrying a complete assortment of lines to dress up every member of the family, it is an establishment well worth its name "Ideal." Or as it may be called "One of the big stores of the province."

LEWIS CONNORS AND SONS LTD.

The name of Connors needs no introduction to Saint John, nor does it need introduction to Canada. For years it has been associated with sardine packing, and creditably associated too. Sardines packed by Lewis Connors & Sons Ltd. find their way to all parts of Canada and the world, advertising West Saint John wherever they go, and at the same time giving employment to a large number of men and women. This firm makes its own cans, in one of the most modern can making plants in Canada.

COLWELL FUEL CO. LTD.

Founded in 1872 by the late Enoch B. Colwell as a fish business, the Colwell Fuel Co. Ltd., Union street, West Saint John, today is one of the largest employers of labor on the west side of the harbor. Although exporting many gasoleneys yearly to the West Indies, the business today is principally a fuel business, with up-to-date plant and rail and water connections. To date, the company has shipped 500,000 of this fish to this market. The original location of the company was the present marine dock in West Saint John but

In March 1920 he went to Fredericton as chief dispenser in the Military Hospital. Later on, in September of the same year, he entered the Maritime College of Pharmacy (Dalhousie University) at Halifax, taking the course in pharmacy, chemistry, etc. After receiving his diploma he worked with F. W. Munro, North End and Newham & Slipp in Woodstock, N. B., buying out the drug business in 1924. He now is located at the corner of King & Ludlow streets.

Paavo Nurmi, Finnish Marvel, Was Offered $250,000 to Turn Professional.

NEW YORK, May 29.—Offers totaling approximately $250,000 to renounce his amateur status were made Finland, during his visit to Canada and United States, Frederick Rubien, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union, said shortly after Nurmi sailed for his home in Abo, Finland, yesterday.

All offers were refused, however, Rubien said, and Nurmi is particularly happy over the fact that his amateur standing remained undamaged.

Rubien reiterated that Nurmi received only $7 a day as expenses. A crowd of several hundred persons were at the pier to wish him bon voyage. Nurmi hopes to return either next year, or in 1926.

CASUALTIES LIGHT IN MUKDEN BLAST

PEKIN, May 28.—A recheck of news reports following the explosion Tuesday night at the Mukden Arsenal shows that the casualties were few. It was first said that 300 were killed. The explosion wrecked the powder storage plant, some thousand yards from the Arsenal itself, which was not damaged.

Martello Tower Tourist Asset Committee Plan

The committee of the Board of Trade which is giving consideration to tourist matters has taken up the question of making Martello Tower more of an attraction to visitors. To that end they have made a suggestion that a history of the tower be placed within so that those from outside points might know why it was erected.

It has also been suggested that the Government be asked to restore the tower as it was originally, with the guns and all and have an attendant in charge dressed in the uniform of the date when the tower was constructed.

SCOUTS AT BANQUET

Victoria Street Troop End Winter Training—Enrollment Has Reached 45.

Last evening the Boy Scouts of the 14th Saint John Victoria St. Baptist troop had an enjoyable banquet at their headquarters in Victoria street. Some 30 boys gathered for the closing event of the season's activities. The meeting opened with an excellent supper served by nine members of the troop.

Asst. Dist. Commissioner F. Chopin gave an interesting talk on scouting. Rev. G. B. MacDonald, chaplain of the troop, gave an excellent talk on what scouting was accomplishing for the boys of Victoria Street Troop and what he hoped it would accomplish.

Scoutmaster E. D. Howard and Assistant Scoutmaster L. G. Pincombe gave interesting addresses following which Scout Percy Mearns, troop secretary gave a detailed report of the troop's activities during the season.

This proved very interesting and reflected great credit on the troop and its leaders who have worked hard to make it a success. A vote of thanks was extended to Signalling Instructor Harry Barr, who has given the scouts valuable instruction in Morse signalling during the winter.

VISITORS ARRIVE

Towards the close of the evening three members of the H. Q. Rover troop including D. W. Colwell, W. Edwards and L. L. Johnson, district secretary, paid a visit to the troop on their way home after an outdoor meeting. Mr. G. B. Pest, district commissioner, arrived just before the meeting came to a close, and gave the scouts an interesting address on scouting as it is being carried on in Saint John today, he congratulated the troop on the progress it has made since its re-organization by Field Commissioner H. Lister, last fall, and urged the boys to continue their scouting practices, especially the "daily good turn."

The banquet was very efficiently served by Mrs. Ducey, Mrs. MacDonald, Mrs. Thorne, Misses Rae and Eva Currie and Miss Alice Clark. The troop now has an enrollment of 45.

 Rise Follows Notice of Dividend Increase to Five Per Cent.
ATLANTIC SUGAR YIELDS 3 POINTS
 Court Decision Is Reflected in Wall Street Trading Today

By Canadian Press.
 MONTREAL, May 29.—Dominion Textile touched a new high at 79 during the early trading on the local stock exchange today, following the announcement yesterday that the dividend had been increased to five per cent. Small lots changed hands at the above figure, with board lots selling up 1/4 at 78 1/2. Another feature was Atlantic Sugar preferred, which appeared at 45, three points below the previous transaction. Other changes were in Abitibi, up 1/4 to 69 1/2; Dominion Bridge, off 1/4 at 91 1/2; Montreal Power, up 1/2 to 165, and Winnipeg Rails, down 1/4 at 46. Steel of Canada, Laurentide and Brazilian sold unchanged at 85 1/2, 80 and 52 1/2 respectively. Fractional advances were scored by Canadian Industrial Alcohol, up 1/4 to 16, and B. C. Fish, up a similar fraction to 37 1/2. The balance of the list received little attention, though Spanish River preferred, in a small lot, was off 1/4 at 117; Spanish common, also in a small lot, off 1/4 at 107, and Lion Bank only one share of which changed hands, up 1/2 to 117.

IN WALL STREET.
 NEW YORK, May 29.—Heavy selling of the Pan American issues inspired by the unfavorable court decision against that company in the Elk Hill and Hawaiian contract cases, featured the irregular opening of today's stock market. Pan American A. opened 8 1/2 points lower, and the B. 3 points. Reading moved up 1 1/4 to 88, a new high record for the year, and American Waterworks and Inspiration Copper each opened a point higher.

MEN AND HORSES
 How closely related is man to the more intelligent of the animals is seen in many of the ailments to which both are prone and the remedies to which they answer.
 Doctors and veterinarians are often surprised to learn of the similarity of their methods of handling the ailments of man and beast.
 Sprains, burns, scalds, scratches and many other minor injuries, many everyday ailments, too in men and animals take the same course, and both answer immediately to the same treatment—Absorbine Jr.
 Absorbine was first discovered by a very close student of the horse, W. F. Young, and by him, devoted to its cause. Its very exceptional benefits, however, were promptly seized upon for the human race and, in a milder form, the preparation is sold all over the continent today as Absorbine Jr. It is used for men, women and children everywhere as a positive germicide—a germ killer—and a prompt and certain healer of all hurts. It is useful not only for all the purposes served by ordinary liniments and embrocations, but as a mouth-wash and for anything else where a germicide is needed. Don't wait until you need it. Get it in the house today. $1.25 at your druggist's.

Tenders will be received by the undersigned up to twelve o'clock noon, MONDAY, JUNE 1st, 1925, for installing plumbing for PLAYGROUND SHELTER for the Saint John Rotary Club, according to Plans and Specifications prepared by me. The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

LIST OF DRIVERS CUT BY DEATH OF GREAT TRIO

Only Two Foreign Cars Will Complete This Year

United Press.
MOTOR SPEEDWAY, Indianapolis, May 29.—Spinning their mounts around the huge brick oval for a final trial, thirty pilots today completed preparations for the 500-mile Decoration Day auto race tomorrow.

Start Tuning Up

A few of the early arrivals put in an appearance at the speedway early in the month and started tuning up their engines, but the course did not take on its pre-race atmosphere until the advent of the drivers who rode in the races at Charlotte, N. C., on May 11.

In striking contrast to previous races at the Indianapolis track only two foreign cars are to start the race tomorrow—a Fiat Special, piloted by Pietro Bordino, ace of Italian drivers, and a French Schmidt Special.

Mechanical Innovation

The most important mechanical innovation at this year's race will be the use of the front wheel drive on two of the Miller Specials.

The front wheel drive was tried in the early days of the local races, but was abandoned when it failed to give satisfactory results.

Other race car manufacturers are watching the performance of the new cars this year and if they show well tomorrow, it is expected that a number of cars of this type will run in 1926.

While the entry list contains the names of pilots who have been known in the racing world for a decade, the names of winners of three former races at Indianapolis are missing.

MAKES PLEA FOR ORIGINALITY

F. Maclure Sclanders Addresses "Y's Men's" Club at Luncheon

More Broad Thinking and Larger Vision Urged on Young Men.

F. Maclure Sclanders, secretary of the Board of Trade addressed the "Y's Men's Club" in the Y. M. C. A. dining rooms at the lunch hour today and made a strong plea for originality in thought and action along progressive lines in the Maritime Provinces. He stressed in a logical and scholarly discussion the development of personality, escape from the commonplace and an abandonment of superficial thinking.

FOR LARGER VISION

Mr. Sclanders made the point for his address the need of more broad thinking among Saint John young men and the advantages of a larger and more hopeful vision. He said it was a common fact that people were not thinking today in the old-fashioned meaning of the word, that they were not being governed by their own better intellectual processes but on the contrary a majority were parrot-like repeating the views of others or copying their not always useful actions.

DANGEROUS LINE

The philosophy of least resistance was dangerous to the age and must be shaken off. Superficially seemed to be one of the reasons for the slow drifting of war's aftermath. This attitude of mind was making the world, or parts of it that they knew best sadly commonplace. So long as men and women were content to be poured from the same mould human progress could only mark time, Mr. Sclanders said.

In his peroration the Board of Trade secretary urged upon the members of the club a strengthening of their better personalities, development of original thinking combined with a justifiable boldness to put their conclusions into action.

The Y's Men's Club luncheon was attended very largely today lacking the presence of Fred Myles was given a special song book was given a special song book was given a special song book was given a special song book.

As Hiram Sees It

"I met an optimist in the street today," said The Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam.

"Made you feel good—didn't it?" asked Hiram.

"It did have that effect," confessed the reporter.

"Yes, sir," said Hiram, "there ain't nothing that makes me so plucky mad as to run across one o' them 'weenin' felers that can't see no hope nowhere."

"How did you find out he was an optimist?" demanded Hiram.

"He was wearing a straw hat," said the reporter.

"Good Lord!" said Hiram.

BRIDGES HOUSE IS FIRE VICTIM

Colonial Landmark on Saint John River Is Destroyed

Built Many Years Ago at Sheffield—Barns and Contents are Saved.

One of the old landmarks of the early settlement on the Saint John river in 1860 was destroyed by fire last evening, when the Bridges homestead at Sheffield was burned a little after 6 o'clock. It was in charge of a caretaker and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hudlin, who were absent at a neighbor's house, assisting in some work. Their young son was at home, and there has been little rain recently. The grass was also extremely dry and the fire ran with great rapidity, burning the three buildings adjacent to the house. The barns, filled with the abundant hay crop that is gathered every year on this large farm, were saved. The carriage house was also saved.

NEIGHBORS HELP

Mr. Hudlin saw the blaze and ran to the house. Help was summoned from the community; from Burton, across the river, and from Upper Gagetown. The fight was a hard one and much credit was accorded the men who saved the big barns from destruction. The house was a total loss with all the belongings of the caretaker included. H. B. Bridges, of Gagetown, the owner, was thought to be in Saint John, but could not be located today, so that no report as to the estimated loss, which it was thought might be partly covered by insurance.

BUILT 75 YEARS AGO.

The house was a handsome colonial structure, built 75 years ago, when such an accomplishment in such a situation was somewhat of a Herculean undertaking. The lumber for its erection was hauled during the winter from Saint John—the only means of traffic up the river at that time. The trees around the house, which were handsome and gave it the appearance of a southern dwelling in the early eighties, were partially destroyed by the flames.

The family frequented the house in the summer for picnics and during the hay season, when the large crop of good hay was harvested by a large crew of men.
