AUSTRALIANS WIN NEW GLORY AT POZIERES

Selected for Leading Part in New British Offensive Launched Friday Night Carry on One of Most Brilliant Operations of Somme Drive and Prove a Big Factor in Capture of 400 to 600 Yards of Enemy Trenches.

London, Aug. 6.—The British official communication issued at 10 o'clock last night reads: "Including the capture of the German trenches reported this morning, we, during the last two days, pushed forward our line north and west of Pozieres, some 400 to 600 yards over a front of about 3,000 yards.

"Troops from Australia, Kent, Surrey and Sussex participated in this operation and consolidated the position won, despite the shell fire, which was especially heavy near the Pozieres-Bapaume road.

"Our artillery shelled La Courcellette, and Miramont, causing large explosions in both places. Ten gun emplacements and three ammunition stores were destroyed. The enemy attempted to seize a crater near Souchez, but was repulsed with bombs.

"There was some artillery activity between Hooge and St. Eloi, where the enemy exploded a small mine, but no movement followed.

"The enemy's aircraft showed little enterprise. Eight of their machines scattered when engaged by three of ours."

French Push Forward On Verdun Front.

Bulletin—Paris, Aug. 6, 3.01 p.m.—A further gain of ground by the French in local operations northwest of the Thiaumont Work on the Verdun front, was announced by the war office this afternoon. A German counter-attack in this sector was repulsed.

Progress for the French southwest of Estrees and on the Somme front, as a result of small engagements also was announced.

BRITISH ADVANCE AT HIGH WOOD.

London, August 6.—In fighting along the Somme front in Northern France last night the British made an additional slight advance at High Wood, according to the official announcement this afternoon. The Germans actively shelled various portions of the front during the night, says the statement which follows:

"The enemy's artillery was active during the night, shelling various areas on and behind the front between the Anpre and the Somme. A little further progress was made by us at High Wood.

"Northeast of Arras the enemy, apparently alarmed by one of our patrols, opened a heavy bombardment which lasted 14 minutes. The situation is unchanged."

French Airmen Raid Enemy Positions.

Paris, August 6.—The official statement today says: "South of the Somme, two small local operations have enabled us to progress into German trenches southwest of Estrees.

"North of the Aisne, an enemy surprise attack on our positions on the Vauciere plateau failed under the curtain of fire of our artillery.

"On the right bank of the Meuse, during patrol fighting at some points we have sensibly enlarged the ground conquered by us at the northwest of Thiaumont Work. We have repulsed a counter-attack in the same region.

"In the region of Fleury and in the sectors of Chapitre and Chenois, artillery fighting continues, without any infantry actions.

"On the night of August 5-6 our air squadrons dropped 40 shells on the region of Comblès; 84 on the station at Noyon; 30 on the stations of Stenay and Sedan; 40 on the station of Conflans; 60 on the Sablon station at Metz, and the railway establishments there, and 40 on the military establishments of Bombach, north of Metz.

"Several of these squadrons made two consecutive raids. One of them made no less than seven raids during the same night.

"On the Somme front our aeroplanes set on fire two German captive balloons.

"A German aeroplane dropped four bombs on Baccarat. There were no casualties and the damage was insignificant."

CARRY SIX LINES OF TRENCHES WITHOUT STRIKING A BLOW

Paris, Aug. 6.—A despatch to La Liberte, dated North of France, says: "The latest British advance north of Pozieres, was the result of a brilliant offensive begun on the night of August 4-5, after an artillery preparation of great efficacy. Since the Australians captured Pozieres the enemy has not ceased his furious counter-attacks against the village, in the outskirts of which he had succeeded in keeping some ground.

"The British commander resolved on Friday to clear the village by taking the principal support of the second line of the German defense, made up of a series of small works extending from Bapaume road to that of Thiéval, on a front of about three kilometers.

"The bombardment began about daybreak, and continued incessantly until night. It destroyed the defenses, levelled entrenchments and rendered shelters uninhabitable. At 11 o'clock at night, the work of the artillery had been deemed sufficient, the order to attack was passed along to the units grouped in the village of Pozieres. While the Surrey and Kent troops pushed on in an assault against the positions on the Bapaume road, which were taken in less than half an hour, the Australians, with Sussex regiments at their left, captured, without striking a blow, six lines of trenches northwest of Pozieres. They carried also a large work situated at the intersection of the Thiéval and Woquet roads, and continued their victorious progress east of Lelepis road in the direction of Thiéval.

A Brilliant Operation.

"The operation, in the opinion of observers, was one of the most brilliant since the beginning of the offensive in the Somme, and was carried out with rapidity and certainty, which was aided by the precision of the fire of the British batteries.

"British troops advanced through entrenchments which had been completely destroyed, and machine guns and defenders buried, and at certain points not the slightest resistance was encountered.

"The Germans, moreover, seemed to have been taken by surprise by this attack, on which they had evidently not counted at so early a date. Decided hesitation was observed in the decisions of the German commander, which resulted in delaying the bringing up of considerable reinforcements.

"It was more than four hours after the British had attained their objective that counter-attacks occurred, and these were easily repulsed."

German came forward holding up their hands, and surrendered. Behind them the British guns placed curtains of shell fire through which it was impossible for them to retreat, while the Australian machine guns and rifles, mowing them down, made it hopeless to continue the charge.

"The last previous attack having been by the right flank, the British renewed the offensive by the left flank after a week of bombing and sapping. Here the task fell to the Australians, who added another victory to their brilliant record in the taking of Pozieres.

In grilling heat, under a blazing sun, they had been working in continued effort, digging their new trenches in the open beyond Pozieres, facing the German second line trenches on the left of the break the British had made in their previous attack.

Tornado of Shells.

This was one of the remaining important positions on the high ground which has been so bitterly contested. Upon this section the British kept up a tornado of shell fire. Not only did the German guns return the complete fire, but the Australian front line, but kept up curtains of fire behind it. The Germans managed to stick to the ruins of their fortifications. Evidently the German staff had determined this ridge summit must be held at any cost.

The Germans were surprised, and even the British staff was somewhat surprised when it was found first reports that the Australians had taken every rod of the front which they had attacked, were correct. Some 600 prisoners were started back, but even after their surrender their lives were not safe, for they had to pass through the German curtain of shell fire behind the Australians, which had been maintained in considerable volume all day.

With this additional front, the British now hold five miles of the former German second line. The Australians are today in sight of Martinpuich and Courcellette. Beyond is Thiéval, on the summit of a hill where the British attack of July 1 met its heaviest loss, and was repulsed.

Now this whole section could be put under the enlivening fire of British guns.

"Whenever I look at that new German salient," said an officer who suffered in the Ypres salient, "I feel avenged. We have never had a worse one."

TEUTONS' DEFENCE SOUTH OF BRODY IS SMASHED

Six Villages Captured by Czar's Men in Their Drive in Northern Galicia — More Than 3,000 Prisoners Taken.

Hindenburg Brings Up All Available Reserves for Desperate Counter-Blow to Check Russian Advance on Kovel — Austrians Also Concentrate On Road to Lemberg and Terrific Battle Looked For.

Petrograd, Aug. 6, via London.—Russian attacks along the Sereth and Graberkar rivers, south of Brody in Northern Galicia, broke the Teutonic resistance and resulted in the capture by the Russian of six villages and the entire ridge along which they are located, according to a war office announcement today. More than 3,000 prisoners were taken.

"Western front: South of Brody, on the banks of the rivers Sereth and Graberkar, obstinate fighting continued during the whole day for the possession of villages and heights. The enemy offered determined resistance, and made several counter-attacks. In the streets of the villages fierce fighting took place, and it was necessary to drive the enemy out from house to house.

"Our attack was crowned with success, all counter-attacks of the enemy being repelled and his resistance broken. Our troops have taken the villages of Zvylin, Ratsche, Tchistopod, Meldalsgor, Gaidava and Zalvoce and the entire ridge between them. One of our gallant Cossack regiments made a cavalry attack on an enemy infantry battery on the southwest. In these engagements 95 officers and more than 3,000 men were taken prisoner.

"To the south of Erzingan we captured two lines of trenches, four officers, 50 Askaris and 2 machine guns. The enemy suffered severe losses.

"In the Black Sea our torpedo boats destroyed 42 small sailing craft of Kerasun and bombarded wharfs and storehouses at Samsun."

Hindenburg's Desperate Attempt To Check Russians.

Petrograd, Aug. 6, via London.—Since the loss of Brody by the Austrians and the successful operations of the Russians against the Germans, which resulted in their gaining the whole of the line along the Stokhod and the capture of several fortified villages considerably west of this river on the direct route to Kovel, the situation on the Russian General Brusiloff's front has remained virtually unaltered.

The Russians by no means have lost control of the initiative, but another wave of energetic German resistance has set in and the newly organized German army which is composed of all available reserves and fresh recruits, has undertaken the task of changing its tactics from passive resistance to a most active counter-offensive. Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's personal direction of the operations in this field is quite apparent, but it is not thought possible by the Russian observers that he can more than temporarily check the advance of the Russian forces upon Kovel.

The Russians have succeeded in consolidating all the positions they won in the recent battle, between the Stokhod and Kovel, except one village, which they were compelled to yield before a determined German counter-attack. Meantime, the Russian forces have been steadily advancing, and apparently impregnated with smoke or oil. At any rate, from that time on only two periscopes were to be seen.

The chase continued until 4.30 that afternoon, the boats not getting any closer to us, nor showing themselves. We kept on firing at them, in all fifteen shots, from our two 3-inch naval guns.

"After our third shot the submarines evidently tried to get in a position to launch a torpedo, but were no doubt afraid to come to the surface to get better speed because of our heavy fire. No flag was seen, and there was no way to determine their nationality, but their wake, as seen through glasses, indicated that they were big ones."

The Re D'Italia is a vessel of 6,237 tons, owned by the Italian Lloyd Company. For several months she has been engaged in handling freight.

One of Pursuers Hit.

"About 9.45 a.m. the submarines were slightly ahead on the starboard quarter, travelling in a line," Captain Pincetti said. "Seeing that they were chasing us, I ordered the gunners to open fire. The third shot, I believe, took effect, as the spout of water that followed the falling of the shell was much different from that caused by the preceding shells. It was much

VETERANS OF ALLIES WELCOME TO DOMINION

London, Aug. 6.—Canada's offer to war veterans is the subject of an article in the Weekly Dispatch by the minister of militia in which he states that the Canadian government is addressing itself to problems that must arise. After the war the cry would be for men, more men and yet more men. The veterans of the Allies would be received with open arms, nor would the war widows be forgotten. Those with children would be generously treated.

The minister also declared that in Canada there is no need of compulsion, and that the question is not mooted. Sir Sam is spending the week-end at Hfracombe, visiting Mrs. Garnett Hughes and his new grand child, Tomorrow, with Lloyd George he reviews the 4th Division at Bramshott. Lord Rothermere has presented Sir Sam Hughes with a fine portrait of Pitt, the first Lord Chatham. This is one of the only three extant.

Premier Morris of Newfoundland has received a cheque for a thousand pounds from Lord Rothermere, who is chairman of the Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company, for war contingent comforts.

In the war for position the general opinion is that the value of this latest gain cannot be overestimated, and the heavy bombardment which is proceeding in that neighborhood indicates the Australians will have a stiff job holding this new position.

German prisoners report heavy casualties from the fire of the British long range guns, in villages and camps anywhere from the front line to five to ten miles in the rear.

Hold Southern End of Fleury. Paris, Aug. 5.—11.15 p.m.—The official statement issued by the war office tonight reads:

"On the right bank of the Meuse the enemy made no attempt in the sector of Thiaumont.

"We have organized the positions conquered immediately west of the road from Thiaumont to Fleury and in the village, the entire southern part of which we held.

"After a violent bombardment which lasted the entire day, the Germans launched two powerful attacks in the Vaux-la-Chapelle wood. One of these attacks, broken by our fire, was not able to reach our lines. The enemy, who in the course of the second attack had succeeded in penetrating some elements of our trenches, were immediately driven out by a counter-attack. Our front remained intact.

"The usual cannonade occurred on the west of the front.

"An enemy aeroplane which was reported in the communication of this morning, was brought down by Sgt. Leonard. This is the sixth enemy aeroplane accounted for thus far by this pilot."

Belgian communication—"Our batteries of all calibres successfully shelled today the German works in the region of Namur. The enemy replied feebly."

Allied Battle-planes shot down. Berlin, Aug. 5, via London, Aug. 6.—An official statement issued today says:

"An enemy battle-plane Saturday morning near the coast of Flanders after a long chase was forced to fight by one of our seaplanes and was destroyed. Naval Lieut. Boehnisch thus destroyed his fourth enemy machine."

French Heavily Bombed on Right Bank of Meuse. Paris, Aug. 6.—The official communication issued by the war office tonight reads:

"On the right bank of the Meuse the Germans bombarded violently, from 5 o'clock in the afternoon, the Thiaumont Wood and our position at Chemin. There were no infantry attacks during the day.

"The cannonading was intermittent on the rest of the front.

"This morning one of our pilots brought down successfully two enemy aeroplanes in the region of Verdun. One fell in the French lines, the second between the German trenches and our trenches. The same morning, after a combi, another German machine was compelled to land within our lines at Moyenneville, north of Estrees. The two enemy aviators were made prisoners. The machine was of a recent model. It was intact.

"Belgian communication. This afternoon the German artillery and trench guns were active at Steenstraete and Het-Sas. The Belgians carried out a destructive fire on the enemy batteries south of Torvaate."

German Report That Bulgarian Attacks South of Monastir Were Successful Entirely Unfounded, Despatch From Saloniki Says—Brave Little Army of King Peter Nobly Fulfilling Work Allotted by Its Powerful Champions.

Paris, Aug. 6.—The Serbians have won another success in operations along the Macedonian front, according to a Mava despatch from Saloniki today, taking the village of Remli, near Provas, which had been occupied by the Bulgarians.

German reports that the Bulgarians had delivered successful attacks against the Serbians south of Monastir are unfounded, the despatch declares.

Italiana Repulse Austrian Thrusts. Rome, Aug. 6, via London.—Attacks by the Austrians on Italian positions at several points along the line from the Presidio to the Brenno, none of which was successful, are reported in today's war office statement. The Austrians are keeping up a heavy bombardment along the greater part of the front. The official statement follows:

"On the front between the Adige and the Upper Isarno, the enemy continued his violent bombardment of our line and at points launched strong infantry attacks. Hostile artillery activity increased yesterday on the left bank of the Leno, in the Passio area, and at the head of the Posina torrent.

"In the Susana and the Upper Cordevole valleys, infantry actions took place which were particularly heavy on the slopes of Monte Sief, where three attacks on our positions failed. At the head of the Costanza Valley, in the Palasero area, the enemy's heavy batteries fired five hundred rounds on our trenches without effect. The enemy again shelled villages in the Chiaro and Upper Dogana Valley.

"Aviation continued, the enemy's heavy bombers being taken in the Sebago Valley.

"On the Lower Isarno there have been lively artillery duels.

"The special attack of August 4 in the Monfalcone area the enemy, on evacuating positions, left behind special gas bombs which exploded as we entered the trenches."

Patrols, Aug. 6, via London, 6 p.m.—The official statement from general headquarters issued today reads:

"The battles along the Sereth south of Brody are developing in our favor. Our troops after consolidating their position on the right bank of the river captured two more villages by assault and part of a wood situated southeast of one of them and a height situated between the two.

"Especially fierce fighting occurred in the villages, where it was necessary to drive the enemy out of nearly every stretch. The enemy made nine counter-attacks from the neighboring woods. All these were repulsed and the enemy suffered heavy losses. Over 1,200 men were taken prisoner and fresh prisoners continue to arrive.

"The situation in the Caucasus remains unchanged."

German Claim Gains in Chapitre Wood. Berlin, Aug. 6, via London.—The official statement today is as follows:

"Western front: Fighting continued near Poitiers. In the evening local enemy attacks at Fourreaux were repulsed.

"In the region of the Meuse, especially on the east bank, great artillery activity developed. Around the Thiaumont Wood desperate infantry actions are taking place. The number of prisoners captured in the Fleury sector has increased to sixteen officers and 374 men. In Chapitre Wood we progressed further yesterday. The number of unwounded prisoners taken at this point was three officers and 227 men.

"Northwest of Vermeles, in the Arzonnes, and on Combres Heights, we carried out successful mining operations. Enemy patrols were repulsed at several points. Some undertakings near Craonneville and on Combres Heights were successful.

"At Fromelles an enemy aeroplane was shot down by our anti-aeroplane guns, and one was shot down northwest of Bapaume in an aerial encounter."

"The Hussians captured the west bank of the River Sereth."

"Front of Archduke Charles: Advanced actions took place before the town of Zarnitz. Count von Bothmer, the successor of our troops in the Carpathians, has extended."

any form. Except for his craving for ice cream he is a sober and temperate lad. He likes to fight for the love of it, but he has an eagle eye for the coin of the realm.

Leonard's bout with Freddie Welsh was a revelation of boxing class, and it was said of Freddie Welsh and American sporting scenes and fight fans have said a lot that wasn't true—he is one of the cleverest who ever put on a glove, and personally he has seen Steve Matthews, and yet in cleverness he didn't have a thing on Benny, who fought with all the generalship of a veteran.

New York has had a lightweight champion since Jack McAuliffe retired and James was a Brooklynite and a native of Cork. Harlan Tommy Murphy, Knockout Brown and Leach Cross seemed for a time to be complete champions, but they all fell down in the stretch. Benny Leonard, "the Pride of the Ghetto," may be just another false alarm, but at the hour of rushing to press Manhattan sports are convinced that at last they have a real lightweight champion of the world in the making.

VISITORS TO PATRIOTIC FAIR HAD ONE GRAND DAY IN HAMPTON

Enterprise of St. John Rotary Club and Hampton Willing Workers on Saturday Proved Most Successful—The Prize Winners.

The patriotic country fair at Hampton Saturday proved a great success. The fair was held under the joint auspices of the Rotary Club of St. John and the Willing Workers of Hampton. Those on the committees worked hard. The plans were laid well in advance and carried out so there was not a hitch in the proceedings, in fact it looked as if they had even made arrangements with the weather man, for no better day could have been provided for a country outing than that of Saturday.

The young ladies of Hampton certainly deserve the title of "Willing Workers" for attired in their white costumes they worked with a will and every face bore the smile of satisfaction because of their untiring efforts being crowned with success. The members of the Rotary Club were out in force, and with their coats of arms and their good things offered for sale and dished here and there about the grounds with but one object in view, that of gathering in the money for the visitors to swell the patriotic funds.

While special mention has been made of the excellent work of the members of the Rotary Club and the Willing Workers of Hampton, it would be just as well to state that the members of the Commercial Travellers' Association took an active part, and the travellers made it a point to be home for the week-end and took advantage of the time and were on hand in force. They had charge of booths along the pike, and as their business every day is selling goods, it goes without saying that they proved a valuable assistance in disposing of the goods. The articles ranging from a doughnut to a pig and a load of hay, and there was not one article sold which Auctioneer Matthews did not get a good price for.

A special train from St. John carried hundreds of pleasure seekers, while the steamer Hampton steaming from Indianville at three o'clock in the afternoon, carried a fairly large crowd arriving in Hampton village at seven o'clock. The Temple band from St. John was present during the afternoon and evening and rendered an excellent programme of music.

A dancing pavilion was erected on the grounds, and the music was furnished by a young man with an accordion. Many of the young ladies and gentlemen danced to their delight despite the warm weather.

The grounds where the big fair was held adjoined the Hampton court house. Two concerts were held in the court house and a fair audience enjoyed the programmes.

On the grounds where the big fair was held, there was a midway, and there everything that was necessary could be found where the visitors could spend spare cash.

It was a general holiday in Hampton and all places of business were closed, those having farms stopped work for the day and all tended their way to the fair grounds.

Business men might have been seen along the pike using all the terms of a piker, calling on the visitors to "try your chance, pull the coin," "take a guess on the cake," "try for the pig," "guess on the load of hay," and many other things, and every booth appeared to be doing business.

The top steps of the court house might be seen Steve Matthews, the auctioneer, getting clear of a large quantity of goods. His assistant was E. A. Schofield of the Schofield Paper Company. The latter could have been seen holding on high a squealing baby, which was finally knocked down to a St. John merchant for $4.35, and the purchaser had his own troubles looking after the porker. Then came hundreds of doughnuts which were sold by the dozen, and articles of such a nature too numerous to mention.

Fair prices were received for all the goods and the money thus derived went towards swelling the patriotic funds.

About the grounds were many returned soldiers who have been invalided home, and they also assisted the committee in selling tickets and in other ways.

The piker had many different booths from "hit the Kaiser" to the "spare" fortune teller, in fact there were couple of dozen booths conducted in a style that was highly creditable, and only the professional piker could have done better.

The fair was opened by Mayor Hayes of St. John in a short address, and he was followed by Rev. Dr. G. M. Campbell who delivered a patriotic address. E. A. Schofield was the chairman of the general committee and H. G. Marr was the treasurer, and these gentlemen with the ladies and gentlemen who took part in making the fair such a success are satisfied that their labors were not in vain.

In the guessing contest for a pig Mrs. Gaudette of Bermuda was the winner, having guessed the exact weight, which was 19.84 pounds. The lady handed the prize back to the committee and the porker was sold down. The remainder of the machines returned undamaged.

During the afternoon Miss Russell, daughter of Commissioner J. V. Russell of St. John, lost a valuable watch on the grounds. The watch was found by little Margaret Ross, daughter of Joseph Ross, of Hampton, who gave it to one of those on the committee to return to the owner.

Those owning automobiles in Hampton, with some from St. John, kindly loaned their cars for the day, and they were kept busy conveying people from the boat landing to the fair grounds and other points.

While there was an excellent crowd present, there was not the large attendance from St. John that was expected. The committee was disappointed in some of the prizes won.

The following is a list of some of the prize winners:

Opera glasses (Bean contest)—A. M. Dunn of Hampton. Rubber boots—Harold Fairweather, Hampton. Silk umbrella—Mr. Sinclair. Box of soap—Mrs. Hooper. Bag of pounds of candy—C. D. Dickson.

Load of Hay—W. M. Lundy. Fountain Pen—Mrs. M. J. Lowe. Box Candy—Miss Alberta Crandall. Bag of soap—Mrs. J. D. Angeline. Barrel of Potatoes—Mrs. Angeline. Wrist Watch—Miss Glandys, Victoria, B. C.

Cake—Dr. Malcolm Kuhnras. Box of Perfumes—Mrs. Suffren. Utility Bag—Miss Edwina. The committee wish to thank the following persons for donations to the fair:—Amherst Piano Company, Havelock. Mineral Springs Co., Sussex. Mineral Springs Co., Ferguson & Page, F. A. Dykeman, Donaldson Hunt, National Drug Company, Imperial Optical Company, E. G. Nelson & Co., H. B. Robinson, Charles Robinson, E. Clinton Brown, Mrs. W. Langstaff, Manchester Robertson Allison, Vessie & Company, also to Prof. Lloyd, the Tennis Club, the Willing Workers and Canadian Rubber Company, Waterbury & Riving, T. H. Eastbrook, A. & J. Isaacs, Marr Millinery Company, Mrs. Burden of Boston; G. E. Barbour, C. A. Munroe, Baird & Peters, Bond & Scott, Brayley Drug Company and all others who gave donations towards making the fair such a success.

It was fully ten o'clock before the crowd left the grounds and wended their way homeward, tired but happy over the fact that all had spent a most pleasant time.

TURKS SUFFER DEFEAT NEAR THE SUEZ CANAL

TURKS WALK INTO TRAP BRITISH SET FOR THEM

ATTACKING IN LARGE NUMBERS OTTOMANS WERE FOOLED BY APPARENT RETREAT OF BRITISH, WHO LURED THEM INTO SAND DUNES AND THEN COUNTER-ATTACKED, INFLECTING SEVERE DEFEAT.

London, Aug. 6.—The strong Turkish force which attacked the British at Romani, 22 miles east of the Suez Canal, on August 4, was defeated and put to flight by a counter-attack, says an official statement issued today.

The Turks, adds the statement, are being vigorously pursued by the British, who have taken more than 2,500 prisoners, including some Germans. The official announcement says: "The general officer commanding-in-chief in Egypt reports under date of Aug. 5, the following further details of the fighting in the vicinity of Romani on Aug. 5.

"The enemy made a frontal attack on the British entrenchments, in conjunction with a flank attack around the southern flank, employing 14,000 men and heavy howitzers for the operation.

"The frontal attack was unsuccessful. Before the flank attack our mounted troops retired slowly until the enemy became involved in sand dunes late in the evening of the fourth.

A counter-attack was then made by all arms, which was completely successful, and at dawn on the fifth the pursuit of the retreating enemy was taken up with vigor, and is being continued at the time this report is sent.

"The enemy suffered heavy losses. By 5 p.m. on August 5 over 2,000 wounded prisoners, including some Germans, four mountain guns and a number of machine guns had been captured. Our casualties were not heavy.

"Australian and New Zealand mounted troops displayed steadiness in holding the strong flank attack and an energy and initiative worthy of the highest praise in the pursuit."

EAST FLORENCEVILLE AND VICINITY SHOW A FINE SPIRIT OF PATRIOTISM

Big Meeting on Grounds of B. F. Smith, M.L.A., Calls on County Council to Vote $10,000 to Patriotic Fund.

The call of the lieutenant governor to the people of New Brunswick to signalize the second anniversary of the war by fitting popular action was loyally responded to in the upper sections of Carleton county on Friday. A strong committee of citizens, with B. Frank Smith, M. L. A., as chairman, organized and carried in effect a large and impressive open air demonstration in East Florenceville.

The gathering was one of the largest which this section has seen in many years. The popular local member for the county opened his spacious grounds for the occasion being ably seconded by Mrs. Smith who was unsparring in her efforts to make her numerous guests feel fully at home. It is estimated that nearly fifteen hundred people accepted the invitation to be present.

NEAR RECORD IN PAYMENT OF STUMPAGE

Almost $200,000 Paid in Seven Days—Lumbermen Are Paying Up Promptly Despite War Conditions.

Special to The Standard. Fredericton, Aug. 6.—The provincial department of Lands and Mines had almost a record period last week in the matter of stumpage receipts. The announcement, made by Lt.-Col. Loggie, deputy minister, was to the effect that during the past seven days about $200,000 had been received in stumpage from lumbermen operating on crown lands in the 1916 season.

The date on which stumpage was payable was August 1st and on that date, last Tuesday, receipts reached the sum of $123,000. Despite the war, lumbermen are paying their stumpage dues with considerable promptness and there are not more than the usual number of accounts unpaid at this date.

Almost the entire falling off in stumpage receipts for this year, as compared with 1915, is accounted for in payments of subsidiary companies of the International Paper Company and the Paper Trust in the United States. Usually these companies, Miramichi and Dalhousie Lumber Companies, pay in about $75,000 or $80,000, but this year's operations were unusually light and the bill was only about $26,000.

Safe even for children. Beware of dangerous substitutes offered under misleading names and meant to deceive you for genuine "Catarrhoseon" which is sold everywhere, large size containing two months' treatment costs $1.00; small size 50c; trial size 25c.

form. The Hartland brass band interspersed the programme with stirring martial selections from their stand in the centre of the lawn. The grounds impressed all beholders as a most appropriate setting for an occasion such as they were called to celebrate. They had been lighted and decorated with considerable labor. The front of the house was a fare of flags and bunting, the numerous trees around the property also being festooned with the imperial red, white and blue. A mass of Japanese lanterns and gas lights supplemented by the lamps of the numerous autos arranged for the purpose poured light upon the scene—the whole a tribute to the taste and energy of F. T. Atkinson of the grounds committee.

Returned Here Given Great Welcome.

Lieut. Harvey T. Reid of Hartland, present by special invitation, was given a rousing welcome by his fellow citizens of his native county. Lieut. Reid launched the celebration in a stirring speech. The resolution issued by the lieutenant governor in which the public were asked to express their sentiments with respect to the continuance of the war was presented by the Rev. G. A. Ross, being seconded by the Rev. E. C. Jenkins in a brief but telling speech. Whatever was lacking in atmosphere favorable to the enthusiastic adoption of this resolution was supplied by Lieut. Reid's address. The geographical distance between the roaring battle front and this peaceful province was bridged by the wounded officer's graphic description of our soldiers' work in France and his inspiring exhortation to the audience to stand behind the army which was so sure to be victorious. The putting of the resolution to the audience was greeted by demonstrations of enthusiasm which, reinforced by the tooting sirens of the massed autos, made the welkin ring.

The celebration was directed to a more practical issue by the presentation of a second resolution by Mr. Smith having to do with aid for the Patriotic Fund.

The resolution was as follows: "Resolved, That we, the citizens of East Florenceville and vicinity, assembled here, request that the municipal council of this municipality call a special session for the purpose of voting a sum of money to be devoted to the Patriotic Fund, and we would request that the amount be ten thousand dollars for which short term bonds shall be issued payable at the rate of one thousand per annum.

This also was unanimously adopted. Rev. Father Coughlan, Councilor Tompkins and others spoke in support of this resolution. The hat was passed on the spot for contributions to the fund and a goodly sum was realized.

WOMAN AVOIDS OPERATION

Medicine Which Made Surgeon's Work Unnecessary.

Astoria, N. Y. — "For two years I was feeling ill and took all kinds of tonics. I was getting worse every day. I had chills, my head would ache, I was always tired. I could not walk straight because of the pain in my back and I had pains in my stomach. I went to a doctor and he said I must go under an operation, but I did not go. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told my husband about it. I said 'I know nothing will help me but I will try this.' I found myself improving from the very first bottle, and in two weeks time I was able to sit down and eat a hearty breakfast with my husband, which I had not done for two years. I am now in the best of health and did not have the operation." — Mrs. JOHN A. KOENIG, 552 Flushing Avenue, Astoria, N. Y.

Every one dreads the surgeon's knife and the operating table. Sometimes nothing else will do; but many times doctors say they are necessary when they are not. Letter after letter comes to the Pinkham Laboratory, telling how operations were advised and were not performed; or if performed, did no good, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was used and good health followed.

"We are fighting for a worthy purpose, and we shall not lay down our arms until that purpose has been fully achieved."—H.M. The King.
 TO THE PEOPLE OF THE EMPIRE—Every fighting unit we can send to the front means one step nearer peace.

WAR COMMENT.

The past few days in the war have not produced any particularly startling or significant events. On the Somme sector of the western front, where the British and French troops made much progress during July, there has been a relative slackening although both war offices have reported minor successes. The British and French have repulsed severe German attacks, and in the vicinity of Poelmissie and Basentin have pushed their lines forward a little, but it is evident that the time has been largely employed in a consolidation of ground already won and preparation for renewal of the struggle on a still larger scale.

Those who expected that the first successes of the British drive would be followed by daily advances until the enemy was forced back to the Rhine have need to curb their optimism. There is no longer room for doubt as to the eventual result on the western, as on all other fronts, but it is too much to hope that each day will bring news of a precipitate German retreat. It must be remembered that the enemy is fighting on ground he has occupied for months and which he has well prepared. Also his supplies of men and munitions are not yet exhausted and with the technical skill attained as the result of years of preparation he will be able to put up a stiff fight for months. Consequently the progress of the Allied armies on the western front, while assured and steady, may not be rapid, and it is only reasonable to expect more than one reverse before they have succeeded in clearing the invaders out of Belgium and Northern France.

On the eastern front, where the fighting has been practically continuous it is evident that the Austro-German forces have been reinforced or are occupying positions of greater strength than when the Czar's soldiers started their advance. The strongest movement of the Russians appears to be in the direction of Kovel, where, in the past few days, they have captured more than 40,000 men and large quantities of munitions and supplies. The Russians also report the repulse of German attacks on the Stokod River and Austrian attacks near Brody. One report also said they had penetrated the lines of General von Bothmer near Buczacz, but as no further mention is made of the operation in that area it is presumed the Germans were able to drive them back again. While much is to be expected from the Russian movement an occasional reverse is not surprising for the line of battle over which the Czar's men are fighting is more than twice the length of the western front and it is hardly possible that there should be a general advance along that whole line without setbacks being encountered at some points.

Reports from all fronts and from all sources tell of stubborn fighting and it is only too true that in every engagement the casualties to friend and foe have been heavy. Doubtless the commanders of both armies feel that upon what is happening now depends the success or failure of the future and this knowledge would contribute added ferocity to the fighting. Generally the past week or so has seen but small gains but an encouraging feature is that they were all made by the Allies.

While the result of the war is no longer in doubt the necessity for maintaining preparations for a campaign of many months has not yet passed. One encouraging sign is that munition contracts entered into by the Allied governments during last week contained the special clause cancelling them in the event of the cessation of hostilities which marked the first few months of the war but was later abandoned. This in itself looks as if the supply of munitions is regarded as well up to the probable demands and that new contracts are being entered into only as a preparation for a longer conflict than generally expected.

BRITAIN'S WAR BILL

Britain's latest vote of credit for the war will bring the expenditure of the country up to the amazing figure of $14,160,000,000.

Can Britain go on spending money at the rate of thirty millions a day with such a huge millstone of debt around her neck?

There seems to be no reason against it at present, says an American exchange, which goes on to point out that after the war with Napoleon the United Kingdom, with her income one-tenth of what it is today, was able successfully to meet a national debt of $4,000,000,000. On this basis she ought to be able to meet a debt of $40,000,000,000 today. But of course she will not be asked to do anything of the kind. Long before the cost of the war has reached $25,000,000,000, Germany will have sued for peace. Then Great Britain is taxing herself today in a fashion which no other country in the world dare attempt. She is running the war on sound financial principles—not like Germany on "scraps of paper" that only victory can make good. Great Britain can contemplate her financial future without fear.

A REMARKABLE FORECAST.

One of the most interesting newspaper forecasts of the present war was that made by Charles P. Norcross a noted journalist, in the columns of the Kansas City Star, of November 29, 1909, and which the Star has recently republished. Writing from London almost seven years ago Mr. Norcross, after referring to the statement of Lord Roseberry that an "ominous hush" brooded over Europe, went on to speak of the tense situation in all the capitals. War was in the air, and each nation was dreading the day when it would burst with devastating violence.

Mr. Norcross' remarkable article was in part as follows:

London, Nov. 29, 1909.—The stage is being set in the Old World for a great drama. Within every cabinet in Europe, behind closely guarded doors, around great tables, grave and thoughtful men are peering anxiously into a portentous future. The tension is felt acutely in Downing street and the foreign office, and it is reflected in the brooding eyes of Pincheon, the great Foreign Minister of France. With phlegmatic calm, von Bethmann-Hollweg, the grim Chancellor of Germany's war lord, studies the statistics of the superb army, the impregnable fortresses and the huge fighting craft that fly the flag of the fatherland....

You do not see the situation openly discussed in the newspapers, and you rarely hear it discussed in public. It is a subject tabooed, yet it is in every man's mind. When the leaders of England meet in Downing street or behind the closed doors of the great houses, it is the subject that is discussed almost to the exclusion of everything else. Once in a while you find some statesman that hints at it—this terror that shadows all Europe. Perhaps the best expression of the situation was that by Lord Rosebery, who recently referred to it as "the ominous hush" that broods over all Europe....

Germany and England, these are the great signatory powers to the decree of unrest. They face each other awaiting the inevitable, the final war for dominance. Europe is not big enough for them both. One must go. Germany has made its bid for dominance. England cannot acquiesce.

For a century England has dominated the sea. "Britannia rules the wave" is not the chant of a deluded nation. It is the daily consecration of a work that must be sustained.

Germany has put out her hand for that rulership. Either England must submit supinely or fight—and unless all signs fail, England will fight.

These countries are the Rome and Carthage of the modern day. Flanking them are the other nations who cannot avoid the war—and in casting lots each ruler and each cabinet will be governed, jackal like, by what can be carried off in the way of loot from the mighty conflict.

The London journalist who nearly seven years ago cabled the foregoing to his newspapers either had a wonderful grasp of the situation, or was a remarkably shrewd guesser. As the Kansas City Star points out it is a most interesting forecast.

Ain't it Sad.

Ain't it sad—when you're marching in with a change of nice dry clothes, when you step in a ditch full of water,

That soaks you from head to toes, and you've got to stick it, for three days, p'raps four, and dry yourself out by degrees, especially when it's snowing galore, and doing its best to freeze?

Ain't it sad when you're caught on the hop, right out in the open at that, and to dodge a murderous shell fire, you've got to flop down flat, or jump in a shell hole, with a head-long rush, and fancy yourself in luck, to find you are up to your neck in slush.

Ain't it sad when you want to duck? Ain't it sad when you are making tea, to warm yourself up in the morn, when the night has been dirty—and busy, and you wish you had never been born.

When just as you've finished and put in the rum, Brother Fritz throws a bomb at your smug face, and blows your breakfast to kingdom come.

Ain't it sad when you can't see the joke? Ain't it sad when your numerous friends, with "squatter's rights" on your vest, take a notion to go for a promenade or start on a foraging quest.

And try to get away, you can't go where you want, and they take you over the top for a jaunt.

Ain't it sad when you're out to stay? Ain't it sad when you're out for a rest, all wrecked with rheumatical pains, when you take a couple of snorts for a stimulant, and they run away with your brains and you find yourself pezzed for F. G. C. M.

Without an excuse that will fit, and you do "No. 1 F. P." pro tem, ain't it sad when you're doing your bit?

R. WILLIAMS, C. A. S. C., From the Listening Post.

STILL PLENTY OF CHANCES TO GO ON OVERSEAS SERVICE

Many Units from New Brunswick Are Short of Men and Afford All Sorts of Opportunities to the Young Patriot Who Wants to Don Khaki—General Military News.

The 5th Field Ambulance Train now being recruited in St. John, N. B. is still in need of seventy-five men to complete its establishment. The men of this corps look after the wounded and convey them to the different dressing stations. There were no recruits for this unit at the local recruiting office on Saturday, but results are expected from the personal solicitation being conducted by members of the unit. About twelve recruits are expected to arrive in the city this week to receive their clothing, etc. The officer commanding this unit speaks highly of the class of men who have already enlisted.

No. 2 Construction Corps. (Colored).

Lieut. Russel McLean, formerly of the 71st York Regiment, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon to start a recruiting campaign for the colored battalion. The headquarters of this battalion will be at Pictou. Speaking to The Standard yesterday Lieut. McLean said he did not intend holding recruiting meetings as the colored population is scattered it would hardly be advisable. "The colored men we already have," said the lieutenant, "are as fine a body of men as one would wish to meet. They are so easy to discipline and train. Let me tell you right here they certainly can cook."

Speaking of the progress made in recruiting Lieut. McLean said that the colored people are taking a great interest in their own battalion and he was of the opinion that as soon as the people had an opportunity of fixing their business interests in civil life that there would be a grand rush for the battalion.

Uncompleted Units.
To the young men of New Brunswick, between the ages of eighteen and forty-five, who are single, who are not the sole support of a widowed mother, who are not employed in the manufacture of munitions, or in the transportation service, the following units still require a number of men to complete their establishment:

Infantry.
132nd (North Shore) Battalion. Officer commanding Lt.-Col. Mersereau. This regiment is now at Valcartier camp and requires about 100 men to complete its complement.

140th Battalion. O. C. Lt.-Col. Bear. This regiment is now at Valcartier camp and requires a few more men to bring it up to strength.

145th Battalion. O. C. Lt.-Col. Forbes. This battalion is now at Valcartier camp and requires about 200 men to complete its establishment.

165th (French-Canadian), O. C. Lt.-Col. Daigle. This battalion is now at Valcartier camp and is still in need of about 250 men who are to be recruited throughout the Maritime Provinces.

27th Battalion (American Legion of Honor), O. C. Lt.-Col. Bullock, headquarters, Digby, N. S.

Artillery.
65th Field Battery, O. C. Major Evans. Headquarters, Woodville. This battery has an opening for about fifty drivers and fifty gunners.

Pioneers.
The 4th Pioneer Battalion, headquarters St. Andrews, N. B., O. C. Lt.-Col. Weatherbe. This unit requires about 100 men to complete its complement, who are to be recruited from all over Canada.

Home Services.
62nd Regiment, headquarters St. John, O. C. Major Frost. Men are still required for guard duty on the docks and terminals at West St. John. Men who have been turned down for overseas service on account of slight physical defects will be accepted for this service, and should apply at any of the recruiting offices throughout the province.

No. 9 Siege Battery.
About forty members of the Siege Battery stationed on Partridge Island left Saturday to take a special course in gun laying and sighting at Halifax. This battery, in command of Major P. W. Wetmore, requires about eighty men in order to bring it up to overseas strength.

As the Siege Battery will be leaving for overseas in the near future, about ninety men will be required to complete the Composite Battalion stationed on Partridge Island. These men will be given an opportunity to go overseas later on.

Military Notes.
Dr. F. W. Barbour of Fredericton, one of the best known members of the dental profession in New Brunswick, has been ordered to Aldershot, N. S., within the next two weeks to join the Dental Corps stationed at that camp preparatory to going overseas. He is to have the rank of captain. Captain Barbour has one son at the front, Capt. R. M. Barbour, with the 26th Battalion. Captain Barbour, who is a graduate of Tufts College, is president of the Canadian Dental Association.

Lieut.-Col. Guthrie spent the week-end at Fredericton. He is expected in the city today.

Peter F. Gutelius, son of F. P. Gutelius, president of the Canadian Government Railways, is in the city, where he will be attached to one of the artillery units that he might be qualified to take a course in heavy artillery.

Sixteen recruits enlisted in Fredericton during the past week. Three enlisted on Saturday, Robert McArthur, Victoria Mills, and Leo McManus, Gibson, 236th Battalion, and Archibald Clayton of Fredericton, joining No. 2 Construction Corps.
Mrs. Kuhring has received more applications from those desiring to enter hospitals in England. Only one was qualified and her application was forwarded to Ottawa.
Lieut. Charles D. Knowlton of the 26th Battalion, who has been convalescing, is expected home shortly.
Sergeant Baker of the American Legion is in Hampton in the interest of the battalion.
The 140th band will arrive in the city today. Tonight a band concert will be given in King Square.

EAST ST. JOHN GARDEN PARTY A BIG SUCCESS

Realized More Than $300 for Work of the Soldiers' Comforts.

The garden party at East St. John on Saturday was a big success in every way. Over $300 was taken in for the work of the East St. John G. C. A. The fruit booth in charge of Miss Nellie Burditt was a unique affair, being built in the shape of a submarine. During the afternoon Mrs. George McAvity, president of the G. C. A., Mrs. Fred. Harding, Mrs. William Shaw, Mrs. John E. Moore, Mrs. Alexander Holly, Mrs. Willis and Miss Rosamond McAvity, representing other circles of the G. C. A., were present. The City Cornet Band was present from 3 until 6 and added very much to the pleasure of the afternoon by their excellent music. Miss Rising took a number of the soldiers from the Parks home, out and one of them was fortunate enough to win a box of chocolates. Mrs. William Shaw was the fortunate winner of a pair of blankets. In the evening a social dance was held from 8 until 10.30 which was very much enjoyed by the young folk.

APPRECIATES KINDNESS OF MEMBERS OF STEPHEN'S

Rev. Gordon Dickie Receives Letter of Thanks from Member of 115th Regiment

The following letter of appreciation has been received from a member of the 115th by Rev. Gordon Dickie, pastor of St. Stephen's church, written just before the boys left for the front: Valcartier Camp.

To the Congregation of St. Stephen's Church:

I take pleasure in writing you on behalf of the boys that used to attend St. Stephen's church last winter. The boys will not soon forget the efforts made by members of the church to make their stay in St. John a pleasant one. We often speak of the way you made us feel at home at your services. St. John city may miss the soldiers but not more than we miss St. John and the people there. There is a great difference here where there is no place for the boys to spend an evening. Wishing the pastor and members of St. Stephen's church every success,

Yours very truly,
PTE. H. BROWN,
On behalf of D. Co. 115th.

LATE NEWS AND VIEWS FROM SPORTING WORLD

TURF ENTHUSIASTS HAD ANOTHER GOOD DAY'S FUN

Saturday's Races at Moosepath Drew Large Crowd and All Were Satisfied—Bingen Light and Lacopia the Winners

Despite the many diversions and attractions booked for Saturday last, there was an exceptionally large crowd of horse racing enthusiasts at Moosepath to witness the free for all and the 228 which were run off in the afternoon. The track was fairly fast. This, coupled with the weather, made an excellent condition for good horse racing.

P. Bellevue piloted Lacopia, 2.08 1/4, the Moncton horse, to victory in the free for all, although four heats were required to decide the race. Three out of the four heats were run off in 2:20.

Bingen Light, owned by H. Coates, of this city, won the 228 with Bud Moore, the Halifax horse, fighting the trotter every inch. The other two entrants were not at all dangerous. Unfortunately in the first heat of the 228 Try Fast tripped and excited the Frederickton horse, he would have pushed the winners right up to the wire.

Free for All.

There were three horses lined up for this race, viz., Lacopia, 2.08 1/4, owned and driven by P. Bellevue, Moncton; Bob Mack, 2.13 1/4, owned and driven by Edgar Campbell, Sydney, C. B. and Walter J., 2.08 1/2, entered by L. R. Ackers, Halifax, and driven by William Hood, North Sydney. The other two horses entered, Corwin Hal, 2.13 1/4, and Lillian Burns, 2.13 1/2, were drawn.

The horses got away in fine style for the first heat. It was easily seen that Walter J. was not in the same class as the two heavier horses. The fight was between Bob Mack and Lacopia, the latter being the favorite.

Walter J. drew the pole, with Lacopia in second position and Bob Mack third. The first half saw Bob Mack leading with Lacopia nosing. Bob Mack's driver, and Walter J. bringing up the rear by about two lengths. The horses held the same position until the three quarter was reached when Lacopia's driver closed in a little on Bob Mack. They came under the wire in this position. The time for the heat was 2:20.

The second heat proved a little more exciting. Lacopia took the lead at the first quarter and held it the entire distance, with Bob Mack fighting him all the way. The three quarter mark saw Bob Mack holding the same position. The heat was won in the same time as the first, 2:20. At the conclusion of this heat the judges called Bob Mack's driver to the judges' box and censured him for not driving his horse to win. He informed them that he was doing his best, saying, "When a horse is going 2:20, she's not losing much time."

The third heat was the same as the second. Lacopia took first position and held it throughout. Bob Mack came under the wire about the same distance behind Lacopia with Walter J. about two lengths behind. The time was 2:20 1/4. The judges announced here that they were of the opinion that Mr. Campbell was not forcing Bob Mack, but as they had no jurisdiction on account of not being affiliated with the trotting association, either to fine the driver or to put a new driver behind Bob Mack they were powerless to do. There was a great deal of discussion among the spectators, many of whom had placed a little loose change upon the Sydney horse.

The fourth heat came off just about the same as the two previous, although it appeared that Campbell was forcing Bob Mack on the back stretch and at the three quarter. Lacopia inished first in 2:20. First money went to Lacopia, second to Bob Mack and third to Walter J.

228 Trot and Pace.

Bingen Light, the St. John trotter, won the 228 trot and pace, and in doing so trotted the first half in 1:11, the fastest half negotiated in the 228 class at Moosepath for some time. Four contenders were up for this event, viz., Bingen Light, H. Coates, St. John, N. B.; Bud Moore, L. R. Ackers, Halifax, N. S.; Try Fast, Jewett, Frederickton, N. B.; and Victor, W. J. Alexander, St. John, N. B. It took four attempts before the horses got away. Victor had the pole with Bingen Light, Bud Moore and Try Fast, as named.

Bingen Light was the favorite with Bud Moore at even money. The horses in the first heat held the following position at the first half: Bingen Light, Bud Moore, Try Fast and Victor. It was after the first half had been scored that Try Fast tripped and threw his driver, Sharon. This gave Victor third place.

Bingen Light was covering fast track along the back stretch with Bud Moore at the trotter's heels. At the three quarter Bud Moore came up alongside but was unable to cut in ahead of the St. John horse. It was a pretty race coming down the home stretch with Bingen Light only a lead of a head. "Hoody" forced Bud Moore for all he was worth but he could not pass him before they reached the wire. Victor trailed the two horses coming in about three paces behind. The time was 2:25 1/4.

In the second heat Bud Moore strove hard to beat the winner of the previous heat but the attempt proved fruitless. The horses got away at a good start with Bingen Light and Bud Moore striving for the pole. Bingen Light was successful in getting the position along the back stretch the first time around. The horses came under the wire for the first half with Bingen Light in the lead, and Bud Moore next, with the little Frederickton horse, Try Fast, running Bud Moore for second place. On the back stretch Bud Moore by a wonderful burst of speed came up alongside of Bingen Light and it looked as if the heat might go to the Halifax horse. But Bingen Light's driver was not letting anything pass him and came through again with first place, with Bud Moore second, and Try Fast not very many feet behind. Time, 2:25 1/4.

The third and last heat found the horses all away at an even start with Bingen Light forging into first position, which she got at the three quarter mark. Bud Moore was right at her wheel from this mark until the home stretch was reached. Then there was a grand finish, probably the best heat of the day. Both horses were neck and neck coming up the home stretch and it looked as though another heat would have to be run to settle the race. Bud Moore's driver was urging his horse along, in fact, both drivers were using their whips, each fighting every inch of the stretch. The heat finished with Bingen Light not more than eight inches ahead. Try Fast had an easy win over the St. John horse, Victor, for third place. The time for the final heat was 2:26 1/4. First money went to Bingen Light, second to Bud Moore, and third to Try Fast.

WINNER OF CORONATION CUP STILL UNDECIDED

Yachts Went Over Course Saturday, but Owing to Light Wind None Finished Within Time Limit.

Special to The Standard.
 Halifax, N. S., Aug. 6.—The series of races for the Coronation Cup is proving long drawn out. The yachts went over the course yesterday but the wind was so light that none finished within the time limit. Three boats have each had one win, Gem, Mist and the Linnet. Should the Windward win on Monday, when the racing will be resumed, still another race will be necessary, but if one of the boats which has now a victory to its credit should win again that would give it the cup.

GREAT BRITAIN GIVES THE WORLD ANOTHER LESSON

Mobilization of Industrial Resources for Munitions Work A Wonderful Achievement

FOUR THOUSAND FACTORIES AT WORK

Two Million People, Including Thousands of Women, Employed in Making Fodder for British Guns.

London, August 5.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—When the British forces in France began their great offensive bombardment on June 27, and for days hurled into the German lines such an avalanche of steel and lead as the world had never known before, even the people of England expressed wonder that it should have been possible to assemble so vast a store of supplies. The story of how these supplies were created constitutes one of the most important chapters in the history of British achievement during the war.

At the outbreak of hostilities two years ago, there were only three important government munition factories in the British Isles. Today some four thousand government-controlled firms, employing more than 2,000,000 workmen, are turning out an area of munitions of an amount of war materials which have gone to equip the five million British soldiers in the field.

The organization of this great industry has been accomplished only a little more than one year by the Ministry of Munitions, which was established in May, 1915, under the leadership of David Lloyd George. In that time every available resource of the country has been mobilized for the production of munitions. Some idea of the scale upon which this organization has been carried out may be gathered from the statement that the largest of the new plants covers an area of nine miles long and from three to four miles wide.

A staff of 5,000 people has been required to supervise the work. At the head of this staff and responsible to the Minister of Munitions, has been a man whose organizing ability has been accorded widespread recognition. He is Dr. Christopher Addison, internationally known for his medical research work. For some years he has devoted his attention to politics, and besides holding a seat in the House of Commons had been Parliamentary Secretary to the Board of Education before entering on his present duties as Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Munitions. Every detail of the munitions production is known to Dr. Addison, and during an interview with a representative of the Associated Press he told us many interesting facts of the creation of this industry as could be made public at this time.

At the outset he disposed of the statement which has been made in America to the effect that if it were not for the munitions furnished by the United States, Great Britain would have to quit the war. "I have heard that statement made," said Dr. Addison, "and it is preposterous, of course. The United States has furnished and is furnishing many raw materials which we are anxious to get for the manufacture of munitions, but so far as the actual production of shells goes, America has provided us with only a very small percentage of those which we have used."

Turning to the manufacture of munitions in this country, he continued: "At the beginning of the war there were only three important munition factories in the United Kingdom. In addition there were a number of large private munition and armament firms. At the start reliance was placed mainly in these national factories, as experienced firms, and at that time they were full of orders."

"In the early stages of the conflict more attention was paid to field guns and their equipment than to heavy guns, but as time went on the requirements for heavy shells greatly increased. In June, 1915, we made an inventory of all the available machinery in the country, and it was evident that it was entirely inadequate to meet the demands. There were, however, a great many private firms which could be brought in to make munitions and it was decided to mobilize them for national service. In order to do this we created an organization, embracing the entire country. The country was divided into districts in each of which a working board of management was set up. By means of this scheme of local organization, thousands of firms have been brought in, many of which had never seen a shell body, or a fuse, or a grenade, or a bomb, before, much less than make them. Now munition-making in some form or other has extended well nigh to every considerable town—indeed to large numbers of villages."

"An earnest desire to learn, an adaptability and eagerness to learn, have brought into munition-making the most remarkable assortment imaginable of shops and factories. In one area alone shell bodies or the components of shells are being made not only by engineering works, but in confectionery works, by a music-roll manufacturer, by an infants' food maker, by a candle maker, by a flour miller, by a tobacco merchant, by an advertising agent, in several breweries, by some job-masters, by a glazier, by sphygmomanometers and so on. Shells and good shells have been turned out by machine and milled which would horrify to the apostles of orthodoxy.

"What all this amounts to in the aggregate you can form some conception of when I tell you that a calculation made three weeks ago showed that there were being turned out weekly by firms who a year ago had not been engaged in munition work, sixteen times as many heavy shells as were being produced a year ago by all the national plants and private armament firms put together. Of course, the big armament firms have been greatly extended since then and that figure does not apply to their present output."

"Numbers of manufacturers who have hitherto been engaged in producing quite different goods have sacrificed their business and gone into munitions. They have done it for the asking and ungrudgingly. Many of them will find themselves at the end of the war with a great part of their goods well jeopardized or lost. "Concomitantly with the programme of bringing in private firms it became evident that even with their help the output would still be insufficient, so the Ministry of Munitions proceeded to create a large number of 'single purpose' factories, that is, plants where the work could be specialized. Skilled engineers divided the work up into a number of repetition operations, which could be done with a few such as could be done with a few unskilled labor. There are now in the country fifty-three national shell factories of this kind, all of which have either been built or are under construction. Of these thirty-eight are under the management of the boards previously referred to. Others are managed for the Ministry by experienced munition firms."

"That is, apart from the manufacture of shells, aeroplanes, etc., which do not fall under the charge of the Ministry of Munitions, there are now employed about two million people of whom several hundred thousand are women. It follows that there has been much labor expended in housing munition workers. Many villages have been built and we have provided accommodation for sixty thousand people in twelve months."

"People from all classes of society have joined in the manufacture of munitions. There is, for example, on the staff of the Ministry of Munitions the daughter of an earl, who worked for nine months as a lathe hand in a munition factory. Large numbers of the best known families have devoted themselves to work in the canteens and to other work in connection with the factories. There is a department in the Ministry which is solely concerned with the provision of canteens for munition workers and these canteens provide meals for 600,000 people daily. This enables them to get their food under decent conditions. Charges are made to cover the cost."

Dr. Addison pointed out that it has been necessary to interfere arbitrarily in private industry in order to carry on the munition work. Private and public buildings have been stopped in many cases in order to move the labor elsewhere or to economize material. "What applies to the building trade holds good with many others. However, this interference has been cheerfully borne, he declared.

"We can now produce in less than a month as many of the lighter shells as could have been turned out in the whole year of 1914-15. In less than a fortnight we can make more heavy shells than we could have done in the year 1914-15. We can now turn out in a week far more shells, filled and completed, than were used in the whole battle of Loos, which had been over a fortnight, and they had been over a month. We could have a battle of Loos every week now and it wouldn't touch the shell reserve stock."

"The manufacture of shells, which did not lend itself to the process of sub-division like ammunition, has had to be concentrated largely in the hands of experienced firms, but new factories under the direction of these firms have been made for single purpose work."

"Regarding our present capacity for gun production as compared with the capacity in June, 1914, before the war, we are now making in the case of the lighter guns over ten times what we were then, in the case of medium weight guns over twenty times, and in the case of heavy guns more than fifty times."

"The production of trench warfare supplies has meant the creation of an industry of which there was practically no experience in this country. Now grenades are being made in back yards and in all sorts of small shops as well as in the big factories, and hundreds of thousands are being produced weekly. In the early days of the war the trench mortar was a weapon which had received little attention and undergone little development; there was a mere handful of these weapons in existence. They are now being produced in immensely improved types in hundreds where they were previously in units. And the output of their heavy ammunition has had to keep pace. The output of bombs where it previously was reckoned in hundreds has now reached a total of scores of thousands weekly. The production of trench warfare munition in a most miscellaneous collection of workshops has, of course, necessitated the provision of many assembly and inspection stations."

"One of the earliest steps the Ministry of Munitions had to take was to acquire control of every machine-tool maker in the United Kingdom and also to bring in the manufacturers of machine-tools. Every machine-tool made during the last twelve months has been disposed of as directed by the Ministry of Munitions. The tools have been sent where they were most needed for the making of munitions.

"One of our most anxious problems has been the supply and the distribution of skilled labor. There was not enough skilled labor to go round. This fact was recognized by the trades unions and the government has received their hearty assistance throughout in the distribution of skilled labor and in the diffusion of skilled labor into unskilled. The introduction of unskilled labor into the field of munition work is a sacrifice of skilled labor to which no too high tribute can be paid. Skilled men have trained and instructed unskilled workers and in thousands of cases have willingly been moved from piece work to day wages with the result that they have earned smaller wages than the people they had trained have received at piece work."

"This position was rendered more difficult by the fact that many of the workmen crowded into the army. More have since been withdrawn for munitions work. They so where they are sent. This has given the Ministry of Munitions control of a very body of skilled workmen who can be moved as required."

"Apart from the manufacture of ships, aeroplanes, etc., which do not fall under the charge of the Ministry of Munitions, there are now employed about two million people of whom several hundred thousand are women. It follows that there has been much labor expended in housing munition workers. Many villages have been built and we have provided accommodation for sixty thousand people in twelve months."

WOMEN'S WORK

Ten young ladies have notified Mrs. G. A. Kubring of their readiness to answer the call which has come to the St. John Ambulance Brigade through the assistant commissaires, Dr. C. J. Copp, to Mrs. G. A. Kubring, commissaire of the voluntary aid detachment of this city.

Those ready to volunteer are asked to apply by letters to Mrs. G. A. Kubring, 31 Seawall street. Only members of the Voluntary Aid Detachment can be accepted.

Scrupulous attention to the care of the hair is even more important in summer than in winter. The hot summer sun burns the hair, making it brittle and the dust clogs the pores of the scalp.

What do they grow in an electric light plant? "Bulbs," was the brief reply. And the crowd agreed that he had been answering according to his folly.

When your eyes are strong and willing to impose upon them, you are not, and it is too apt to be when they begin to fail us that we realize our neglect.

How would you like a beautiful doll, or a splendid meccano set for the best copy of this picture? It looks much harder than it really is.

As mentioned above, I shall award a lovely large doll, or a most useful Meccano set to the kiddie who sends in the best result. The copy must be larger than the original, have the usual coupon attached and reach this office not later than Wednesday, August 16th.

A splendid watch will be awarded to the boy or girl, not over fifteen who sends in the most words made from the letters in the word "celebration".

the eyes, most valuable of all, are sadly neglected and even abused. Here are some hints to help in their care: Don't rub your eyes when awaking in the morning.

Mrs. Joseph Ellis of Mace's Bay, a member of the Soldiers' Comforts Association, put a note in a sock, one of a pair which was forwarded to the front.

I have been given a pair of socks and I have found in the toe of one of them the note which I enclose. It has travelled with me within German shell fire and I enclose it, back as a souvenir.

Dear Madam:— I remain yours very thankfully, S. S. Geoff Scott.

An Interesting Letter Received. Canadian Siege Battery, Horsham. To the president, officers and members of the Soldiers' Comfort Association at Mace's Bay:

This is to acknowledge with sincere thankful appreciation the two parcels sent you and received here. The contents arrived in good condition.

I must not describe but you may guess what effect was when the word "circulated" "a parcel from India," a cloud of dust, and a few Indian war whoops, etc.

In fact you don't imagine what en- couragement it is to the boys over here to get packages and letters from home. I think if everyone did, there wouldn't be so much of it left to the willing ones.

"Any letters from home?" is always the first question in the morning. I guess it is our counterclaim.

A great deal is done here by different organizations as the Soldiers' Comforts, Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. and believe me earnestly it is appreciated. The Red Cross is a wonderful society. The work is immense and much more extensive in proportion here than at home.

It has been doubted by some the actual benefit derived, but I say any doubt in this connection should be eliminated absolutely.

Please convey to the officers and members of the D. C. A. of Mace's Bay, the sincere thoughts of the boys and myself, and let us hope that we may represent Mace's Bay in France, and do our share, for I say, we will do it willingly, to crush the enemy that would test the blood of Christian people and wipe them off the earth for the sake of mere glory.

Your obedient servant, Herman Mawhinney.

TODAY'S LITTLE JOKE.

Not What She Meant. John's father kept a store, and the little fellow often brought candies to school to divide with the other children. One morning the teacher noticed a strong smell of peppermint, and began to investigate in order to stop eating during school hours. Unable to detect the culprit, she bent over small John and whispered: "John, have you any candies?" "No, ma'am," he replied. "Have any of the other boys any?" "No, ma'am." As she turned away, he touched her hand and said: "I'll bring you some at noon."

ANDROCOLOUS AND THE LION. Once there was a man named Androcolous going through the woods he saw a lion coming toward him, at first he thought he would be killed, but on approaching the lion, he saw that it was lame, and when it came up to him it raised its foot, as if to ask for help. On taking the lion's foot in his hands he found it to be all hot and swollen, and he began to pick at his foot and found there was a briar in it. On taking it out the lion showed his thanks by wagging his tail and licking the hands of Androcolous. Some years afterwards the man was accused of doing wrong and was sentenced to be torn to pieces by lions. He was thrown into a cage where there was a lion. The onlookers where amazed to see the lion crouch at his feet and lick the hands of Androcolous. This shows a kindness is never forgot even by a dumb animal.—Sent by Myrtle Cox, Young's Cove.

EXTRACTS FROM THE MAIL BAG. An interesting letter. Dear Uncle Dick:— My subject will be on the "Grand Lake." Grand Lake is one of the most beautiful places in New Brunswick. In summer it is ideal for boating and in winter for skating. The lake is thirty miles long and seven wide. In spring there is large raft of lumber taken through the Grand Lake. R. K. Y. C. comes up through the Grand Lake, some times it stops at White's Cove, other times at Young's Cove. It's shores are excellent for picnics. The Grand Lake is a wonder. It is far to little known by New Brunswickers, and it attracts a great number of tourists. On the north side of the lake at Princess Park it is a great place for large game, such as moose and deer, and at the head of the Grand Lake it is a great place for large game such as moose and deer, and caribou. In the hunting season there is a great number of people that come from different places to get these large game. It is also a great place for small game, such as ducks, geese, partridge, woodcock, etc. I will close with love, From your niece, Myrtle Cox.

Who's Who and What's What in the Picture World and on the Stage---Favorites and What They Say and Do.

Director Joseph Kaufman, has returned to the Famous Players studio looking brown as the proverbial berry after a complete rest of five weeks. Kaufman worked himself into a state of complete exhaustion during the production of "The World's Great Sneer" in which Pauline Frederick starred on the Paramount Program, and retired to the celebrated Muldoon Farm where the wrestler put him through the paces that are guaranteed to kill or cure. They cured.

Director J. Gordon Edwards has successfully faked a desert sand storm in "Under Two Flags," the Fox feature starring Theda Bara. It is a triumph of mechanical genius and directorial skill. This is a distinct departure from the majority of pictures in which Miss Bara has ranged through tempes of emotions in her vampire roles. From brain storms to those of the sand variety is quite a change, and possibly a healthy one.

CURTAIN FLASHES. John Stepping, who recently came to Universal from the American Company, will direct "Smiling" Billy Mason in a comedy by L. V. Waters.

"Peg O' the Ring," the serial featuring Grace Cunard and Francis Ford, will close with its fifteenth episode. "Liberty," the new serial, will follow immediately.

Ollie Kirkey is at last able to discard the crutches which she has needed since her injury several weeks ago while playing in a "Social Pirates" scene at the Kalem studios.

Anna Luther is again doing comedy leads, this time with the Fox company which has enlarged its studio possessions in California and plans for an increase in the variety of its output.

Cleo Madison, Universal star who has been producing the pictures in which she stars, will have the leading role in a big production of a modernized version of "La Tosca."

Another American Beauty. Pretty, charming, blue-eyed, blonde leading ladies are becoming numerous, on the "Hot of the Flying A-Mutual studios at Santa Barbara."

One of the most recent arrivals is Miss May Cloy, who is playing the principal female role in the Kolb and Dill five-part comedy entitled "A Million for Mary."

Miss Cloy is well known to the realm of photoplay fans, and to disciples of the spoken drama, as she has appeared for some time with these famous comedians in their repertoires of musical comedies.

Few women have been more successful than Miss Cloy in adapting to the screen histrionic experience acquired on the stage.

There are many opportunities afforded Miss Cloy in this production to run the gamut of emotions from safety to pathos, and her registration is such as to sway spectators readily from laughter to tears and back to laughter.—Motography.

Attractive Ushers in Attractive Costumes. The girls who conduct the patrons of "Civilization" to their seats at George M. Cohan's Grand Opera House are exceptionally pretty in the attractive costumes designed especially for the play. They are Chicago girls, moreover, not selected as being prettier than other Chicago girls, but illustrating a fair average of Chicago pulchritude.

Their leader is Miss Victoria McNeill, and her principal assistant is Miss Gertrude Jacobs, says an article in Motography. These two are cousins, living on the North Side, and both have had experience in singing and dancing upon the stage. Ushering is merely a pleasant summer sideline with them.

The "Civilization" girls are also as vivacious as they are pretty. In a body they attended the recent movie ball at the Sherman Hotel, clad in their odd costumes and each wearing a "Civilization" ribbon around her right arm. They were in great demand as dancing partners, and when it was all over a philanthropic and chivalrous admirer took them all to their various homes in his big touring car—so that, as the girls themselves expressed it, they had a perfectly grand time.

A number of theatres the country over have provided their ushers with special costumes, but few have gone to the trouble to create designs so becoming and so appropriate as those for Ince's big war drama.

Famous Players Complete Two Films From Stage Successes. The adaptation of two of the five stage successes, the acquisition of which was announced by Famous Players last week, have been completed. They are Clyde Fitch's "The Woman in the Case," starring Pauline Leederick and Roy Cooper McGee's "Under Cover," which marks Owen Moore's return to Famous Players.

The latter was directed by Robert G. Vignola, and numbers in its cast Frank Losee, William Courtleigh, Jr., Ebel Fleming, and others. Miss Frederick upset tradition by deciding that she would rather play the less conspicuous role of Margaret Rolfe, instead of playing the title part of Claire Foster, in which Blanche Walsh scored a great hit on the stage. Miss Frederick's support in "The Woman in the Case" includes Marie Chambers, Clarence Handysides, Alan Hale and Paul Gordon.

Unrevised Amateur's Scenario Produced as a Stunt by Knickerbocker. An amateur's scenario, produced exactly as written, with all its faults and merits intact—that is the novel idea of the Knickerbocker Star Feature, "Sibyl's Scenario."

The plot is a conglomeration of melodramatic situations, linked together in such a manner as to excite curiosity and compel attention, it is announced. This is said to be the first unrevised amateur script ever presented on the screen.

Exhibitors May Read Kalem Serial in Short Stories. The Kalem Company has taken a novel step in connection with "The Girl From Frisco," the new series of the West featuring Marin Sais and True Boardman, by making it possible for exhibitors to read the stories of the first four episodes before they book the productions, says Motion Picture News.

"Go to the nearest newsstand, buy a copy of Short Stories Magazine," reads the Kalem announcement, "and read the first four stories of Robert Welles Ritchie's series. Get the August issue, on sale now."

Another point Kalem has found is that exhibitors may thus see that episode of the series is really a distinct story, entirely complete. As the series is not released until August 5, the advance publicity is expected to produce results.

WEEKLY SKETCH. Charles Kent. The career of Mr. Charles Kent has been nothing short of remarkable. His work on the legitimate stage was for years acclaimed as excellent. In his thirty years of professional work, Mr. Kent supported Julia Neilson, Clara Morris, Edwin Booth, Richard Mansfield and H. A. Kendall.

He had extensive experience as a delineator of Shakespearean roles, and appeared for years in prominent stock companies. Mr. Kent is popularly known as "the dean of the screen" because of the personality he has imparted to the hundreds of parts enacted before Vitagraph cameras. His white hair, his aristocratic bearing, his quaint style and careful emotional portrayals have made him a cherished character in the photoplay realm.

In "A Price for Folly," "The Supreme Temptation," "Kenny Square" and "The Vital Question," one finds him in the roles that have made him esteemed in the eyes of the public.

At police headquarters the prisoner was examined by Dr. Dunlop who could not find very much wrong, and no reason can be given for his rash act.

POLICE LANDED EXAMINATIONS LOCAL GIRL PECULIAR TRIO OF ENTRANCE TO CAME THIRD LAST EVENING NORMAL SCHOOL IN PROVINCE

One Stranger Offered to Sell Alarm Clock—Two Tramps Well Supplied With Money and Goods.

Last night about eleven o'clock Detectives Barrett and Briggs while going their rounds managed to lock up three suspicious persons. While on Pond street they were accosted by a man giving his name as Walter Dryden. The man had a new alarm clock which he offered to sell to the detectives, claiming that he wished to obtain money to purchase liquor. Dryden was surprised when he learned that he was talking to officers and when he could not give a satisfactory account of himself he was locked up. A few minutes later the detectives found two men of the tramp variety hiding between cars near the old elevator site on the Government Railway grounds. They claimed to be brothers, the oldest being eighteen years of age and giving his name as Eugene Sieniewiez. They claimed to have come from Halifax, but gave the officers two or three names before they finally stated that the name given was their own. When searched the older brother was found to be well equipped for tramping or jumping trains, for he had an old pair of gloves and a pair of old trousers pulled over a better pair. He claims that his home is in the United States. When searched he had his pockets ten dollars in bills, three dollars in five and ten cent pieces and forty-seven coppers, a bunch of keys, a pair of barber clippers, six collars, two ties, one pair of socks, four handkerchiefs and a number of other articles. The younger brother carried a towel, piece of soap, strop, bunch of shoe strings and a comb. While the two appear to be tramps there is some suspicion that they may also be thieves.

A Fine Warm Day. Yesterday, being one of the warmest experienced in St. John this year, thousands of citizens sought the seashore where they could enjoy the breeze from the Bay. The result was that never before in the history of the street railway was such a rushing business on the Seaside Park route. Every car was crowded all afternoon and evening, and many persons along the route were obliged to stand while crowded cars passed them before they were able to get a passage. As many cars as could be run on a single track from the main line to the park were engaged, but had there been a double track to the park and more cars the passengers could have received better accommodation. Glen Falls, Rockwood Park and other resorts were crowded with people and any shaded place that could be found proved pleasant owing to the extreme heat. Towards evening there was a cool breeze which was received with pleasure by all.

Boy Burglars Surprised. Last night about 10.30 o'clock Police Constable Soper, a recent addition to the police force, was surprised on going his rounds to find a window forced in the rear of the home cooking and confectionery store conducted by James Malm, 223 Brussels street. The officer went through the window and found two boys in the store. He placed them under arrest and took them to police headquarters. After the boys had been locked up Policeman Soper with Sergeant Scott returned to the store for the purpose of making another search and closing the window. When these officers entered the store they were surprised to find a third boy there in hiding and he was also locked up with his companions. On searching the place the officers found a jar of coins and a quantity of cigarettes, gum, candy and a few other articles all bundled up and ready to be removed.
