HOPELESS DISSENSIONS OF ASSURE SUCCESS OF GOVERN

Asquith Certain of Power Long Enough to Pass Home Rule Bill Over House of Lords.

Law Confers With Lancashire Members and Plain Talk Marks the Meeting.

[Canadlan Press.]

New York, Jan. 3.—An Associated Press cable from London this mornng says: The project of imposing taxes food imported into the British Isles put forward by some of the leaders of the Opposition in the House of Commons, has created such hopeless dissensions in the Unionist party as to render almost certain the retention of power by the Liberal Government for the two years necessary to overcome the resistance of the House of Lords to the home rule bill.

Election Unlikely. On the other hand the wrangles among the Unionists afford some temptation to the Government to make an appeal to the country on the chance of coming back to power with an increased majority. This, little likelihood of being sanctioned by the members of the Irish Nationalist party, because it would delay the passage of the home rule bill and would even risk the return of the Unionists to office, thus shelving home rule altogether.

The Food Taxers.

On the whole, therefore, the chance decide against a dissolution of parliament, and will push on their legislative program, especially as David Lloyd George, the chancellor of the exchequer, has practically overcome his difficulties with the medical proand has secured almost enough doctors to work the new insurance act. According to one of the of the Unionist party in the House f Commons have now abandoned the dea of taxing food, leaving only 17 advocates of food taxes under the this estimate is a correct one the re-een extraordinarily successful.

Andrew Bonar Law's position as eader of the Unionist party, has become somewhat difficult, as he publicly advocates the policy of imposing taxes on foods which has been abandoned by the bulk of his party.

LANCASHIRE MEN PROTEST

[Canada Press.] New York, Jan. 3.—A cable to the Tribune from London says: In his room in the House of Comyesterday Mr. Bonar Law, leader of the Opposition, had an informal conference with the Unionist members, representative of the Lancashire constituencies. The proceedings were of an extremely interesting character, and, as the meeting was private, there was no lack of plain speaking. Mr. Bonar Law's reply was firm in tone, and having alluded to the desirability of unanimity in the party, without which the position of leader was extremely difficult, he advised his friends to wait until Jan. 11 for the adjourned meeting of the Lancashire division of the National Unionist Association, at which he would make a statement.

Much interest was taken by Unionist members generally in the meeting, and for an hour or more, while it was taking place, the lobby was filled with little groups engaged in eager discussion. At one time a of the most prominent race horses in rely to the police station from behind the frame of the united States and Europe, and his intoxicated. He was allowed to lie on Mr. Bonar Law had told the deputation that no modification of the party's policy was possible, and this had a depressing effect upon his followers

Spirits Revived. When it was afterwards made known, however, that a door to a compromise had at any rate been left open, the spirits of the Unionists re-It is a matter of great importance at the present juncture to keep clearof the two Unionist wings in the controversy over this particular aspect of tariff reform, Before the Christmas recess it was estimated that 70 per cent of the party in the House

Commons was averse to food taxes, but the Times says that in fact 17 per cent would now be a generous estimate of the Unionist members who are taking this stand. This figure may be correct, but i certainly includes several of the most prominent men in the Unionist side, including Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer in the last Unionist cabinet, and the eloquent F. Fun for Liberals.

Meanwhile the Liberals are getting plenty of fun out of the lively criminations on the subject in the Unionist press.

The Daily Express says: "Neither the Daily Mail nor its captive stepsister, the Times, may be looked upon as Unionist journals. The Times has more claim to be called a South American advertising sheet than a representative political journal, whereas the Daily Mail has long since been outstripped by the Winning Post (a racing and boxing sheet), in matters affecting the national welfare. Their covert attacks on Mr. Bonar Law's leadership had a result, unex-pected in the plans of Uncle Five Heads (the name given to Lord Northcliffe by S. L. Garvin in the Pall Mall Gazette), for the Unionist party, has rallied to support its leader in such a manner as to show that it will not manner as to show that it will not permit dictation from such a source. It would be a hopeless and pitiful spectacle if the party were in future to accept calmly the orders given out by the Carmelite Napoleon. This will not come to pass, because the sense of humor is not quite dead."

BOLD HOLD-UP IN HEART OF BROADWAY

A Robber Covers Clerk and Carries Off Cash of Railway Ticket Office.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Jan. 3,-With are lamps throwing a glare of almost spotlight brilliancy upon him and crowds passing just outside the plate glass windows, a robber carried out a bold holdup in an Erie Railway ticket office on Broadway last night, near Her-

While Joseph Farrell, the ticket agent, was turning to get the Chicago time tables which the stranger requested, the latter drew a large blue | court: steel revolver and demanded the contents of the cash drawer. Farrell cowed by his threats to shoot, allowed the stranger to scoop up $200 from the drawer. "I'll leave a penny for luck," the robber said, and reiterating his threat to kill if the clerk called for assistance, he tucked the gun beneath his coat and disappeared.

UNIONIST LEADER SPOKE FOR HIMSELF

In Saying He Would Not Resist Home Rule If Favored By Electorate.

LAW NOT INDORSED

Leading Ulster Unionists Declare They Will Never Submit to Change.

London, Jan. 2. - The leading Ulster Unionists do not indorse the undertaking of A. Bonar Law, the leading member of the Opposition in the House of Commons, last night that he would not resist the enforcement of ome rule if it was confirmed by the electorate. Mr. Law made it that he spoke only for himself, although he believed that the members of the Opposition on the front bench concurred with him. In reply to the "Would you advise Ulster o submit if the home rule bill were approved by the country at a general election?" the Daily Mail has received ten replies:

From Godfrey Fetherstonhaugh, a Unionist member of Parliament for Fremanagh: "I believe Ulster would reject the advice if given unless the bill was very different from the pres-

Fight to Finish. William Moore, Unionist for Armagh: "We shall From for Armagh: member resist while ten men are able to hold rifles." Robert James McMordie,

From

Unionist member for Belfast: tainly not.' From Captain James Craig, Unionist member for East Down: "I shall ever advise Ulster to submit to John Redmond and his disloyal followers. If England casts us forth we shall still old the loyal province intact for the King of the Empire." From William John MacCaw, Unionist member for West "I would certainly advise my constituents to resist whether the bill s approved or not." From the Rev. Dr. Montgomery, moderator of the Irish Presbyterians: You need only to read the Ulster eovenant in order to see that no elecion results can affect us."

Pro-German Pamphlets. It seems that Winston Churchill's emark about Ulster going over to Germany during the debate on the nome rule bill yesterday was not altogether gratuitous. The Liberal newspapers this morning print leaflets, posters, and speeches which employed in the agitation in were Ulster between January and September, 1912, wherein there is such a dec-laration. The Ulsterites are quoted as saying that rather than be placed under the heel of Rome the Ulster Protestants would appeal for help to Germany, "the greatest Protestant nation on earth." It seems, accord-ing to the Liberal papers, that there was something like a pro-German fever in some quarters of Ulster.

No Envoys to Pope. Six clauses of the home rule bill were disposed of by the operation of closure during the report stage in the House of Commons this evening. * * Earl Winterton moved an amend-

Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church Will Go to Victoria, B. C.

EXPRESSIONS OF REGRET

Congregation Sorry to Lose Him, But Do Not Desire to Stand in the Way of His Wishes.

Rev. J. G. Inkster, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in London, has announced definitely that he will accept the call to become the minister of the First Presbyterian Church in Victoria, B. C., which was recently extended to him. He asked that arrangements be made to have the transer made by the end of the present month. These announcements were made on Thursday evening before a representative gathering of the mem-

REV. J. G. INKSTER,

That universal regret will be occasioned by Mr. Inkster's departure was plainly expressed by numerous persons at the meeting. Judge T. Macbeth, Dr. Arnott, Mr. E. Crawford, Mr. M. F. Irwin, Mr. C. G. Jarvis, Mr. G, H. Gillespie and others eulogized the work of Mr. Inkster as preacher and pastor, and greatly regretted his departure London. However, a resolution was passed to the effect that the congregaion would not prove a barrier to Inkster's wishes in the matter, if those wishes were to go to Victoria.

Rev Mr. Inkster has been a pubc-spirited citizen, and has taken an has been a leader in all movements pertaining to social and moral uplift. t was only a month ago that he was Christian Endeavor in the First Presbyterian Church. "DOUBLE EVENT"

London, Jan. 2.—"Silence is golden," is Lord Derby's motto for the Unionists, just for the moment. He reminded a Leigh audience of the proverb this evening, and added that he would speak out when the opportune time "There are two things," he said, "upon which I do not think a single man in our party would go back for one minute. One is that we are prepared to tax manufactured articles coming from abroad for purposes of revenue; and, secondly, we are prepared to see what can be done to bring into closer relationship the mother country and the colonies. As to the method by which that can best be done, that is a matter for discussion,

MR. INKSTER'S REMOVAL.

There will be widespread regret in London at Rev. Mr. Inkster's decision to leave the city. In the few years that "that Col. Denison thinks it is a step he has resided and labored here he has become well and most favorably known. His departure will leave a noticeable gap.

Mr. Inkster's is a very dynamic personality, as hardly needs to be said. He has vital energy, enthusiasm, and geniality. These and his broad sympathies with various sorts of men, and with started in at that time a daily newsgood causes, and his fearless assertion paper in London called the Star, which and championship of ideals, make a rare combination of qualities. ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

Tragic Death of a Renfrew County Young Lady. [Canadian Press.] Ottawa, Jan. 2.-Miss Lizzie Potvin, aged 17, daughter of James Potvin, of Dacre, Renfrew County, was instantly killed there yesterday by a shot from a rifle in the hands of James Lagree, the eight-year-old son of James Lagree, of Renfrew. The boy was visiting his uncle, Alfred Lagree, who keeps a store at Dacre, and the girl had been making a purchase. Young Lagree had found the gun behind the door and was handling it when it went off. The girl was at the door leaving her back. It develops that Alfred Lagree had taken down the rifle to do some shooting, and had stood it behind the shop door. There aws no cartridge in the chamber, but in handling it the boy pumped one in from the magazine and then pulled the trigger, not knowing the danger. The dead girl is a member of a large and prominent family. Dr. Connolly, of Renfrew, after investigating decided an inquest was not necessary.

THE FIRST WORD-When you begin to look backward instead of forward you are on the last lap of life.

Are you looking backward? If so, think of that woman who made the mistake of doing this and was turned into a pillar of salt. If you do not look forward you may be sure that some of the sweetness of your nature has grown acrid. If you can no more see the light and beauty of life; if you have become of it as yet. At every afternoon tea blind to the pleasures of hope while regretting the joys that are gone; if this is so you are growing old very fast and it is time for you to make some new plans of living and start following them before the beginning of the year. There is nothing that is known to the physician that will prevent hardening of the arteries as surely as a ong look ahead. A friend of mine said to me the other day that Sara Bernhardt told her that if she accomplished all that she had planned she would be one hundred and thirty years old. I immediately Bernhardt's secret of eternal youth." The future must hold something for you, even up to your latest breath. There is no such thing as living in the past. Remember the past is past, you poor little girl who is crying because a man quite unworthy of you has left you with a broken heart. But take hope in the knowledge that there is a future for everyone, and the greatest and most wonderful thing that is given to man or woman is not love, but life. Live it and love it. Don't whine as the years begin to stretch out behind you, and, above all else, never look back, for if you do you along with those who are going away from the city

MISS BILLIE BURKE. will become like Lot's wife, without power to march of yesterday. Welcome all that life brings to you each day. If it be sorrow, look forward to the merrow, which will surely bring surcease from pain. If it be joy, hope that it will stay a while with you. Only remember this one thing: That no life is complete without both joy and sorrow. Always look forward to living. There is time enough to look back and balance the ledger when the constant change of this wonderful existence has become eternal calm

SAFETY PLAY IS TO BE RETAINED

Billiards' Only Defensive Element Would Be Robbed if It Was Eliminated

New York, Jan. 3 .- Safety play is to be retained as permissible in billiards, and not to be penalized in the rules about to be established by the National Association of Amateur Billiard Players, according to a decision reached by the rules committee and announced today. It was learned that a number of prominent amateur players had registered their opposition to the proposed rule on the ground that it would take from billiards what amounted to its only defensive element.

Although it is believed by the committee that the new rules was misinterpreted its elimination has been decided upon

The meeting of the National Association to be held here on Jan. 20 will,

Second Game a Good One.

The Sixth Field Battery and the Army Medical Corps teams were winners in the Armories' Indoor Baseball League games last evening. As a result the A. M. C. team leads the league, while the Battery and R. C. R. teams are tied for second place. The First Hussars have failed to break into the win column as yet and are at the bottom. A One-Sided Game, The first game was a runaway affair R. C. R. .....1 for the Battery team. The R. C. R. Hussars .... aggregation looked pretty good on Monday night, when the First Hussars succumbed before them, but last night the tables were reversed, and the Barracks' team was defeated by the same score that they beat the First Hussars by. The game was replete with good fielding, but the Regulars could not hit 9 to 10.

Referee Eyton Explains Why He Stopped Fight in the Eighteenth Round.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 2.-Luther McCarty, accredited heavyweight champion of the world, and Al. Palzer, the man whom he defeated yesterday in one of the most terrific ring battles witnessed in Los Angeles, are resting oday. McCarty, outside a few bruises s almost fit to go into another contest. His big opponent is battered and sore and bears numerous marks of the punishment he assimilated yesterday. There is considerable comment among fight followers here today over the action of Referee Charley Eyton in stopping the fight in the eighteenth round, after Palzer's seconds refused to interfere. For the most part the fans agree that Eyton's action was justified, that Palzer was in real danger of being severely hurt by the blows of his antagonist, and that "I stopped the fight because Palzer was absolutely helpless," Eyton ex-plained. "I did not propose to see he had no chance with McCarty."

George Smith Will Referee in Toronto

The following article about George Smith, who is at present attending the Western University Medical School in this city, and is prominently connected with local basketball affairs, appears in the Teronto morning papers:

There is great rejoizing among the members of the West End Y. M. C. A. basketball team and management now that George Smith has decided to handle the whistle Saturday night when the fast Hamilton Tiger basketball team and the West End seniors meet for the first time this season on the West End floor. There is no doubt that Mr. Smith is the best referee around this section of the country. In every basketball game a great deal depends upon the one who is to handle the whistle This fact is known by the university teams in the States, for they think nothing of asking a man to travel a few hundred miles to handle a big

FUNERAL BATTLESHIP REACHED NEW YORK

Sombre Setting for the Arrival of the Body of Hon. Whitelaw Reid.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Jan. 3-Steaming slow in dense fog, the British cruiser Natal, bearing the body of Whitelaw Reid, late United States ambassador to England, passed Sandy Hook shortly after 8 o'clock this morning. Accompanying her as a guard of honor were two United States battleships and four destroyers. Leaving quarantine arrangements called for slow progress of the vessels into the harbo: and up the Hudson to the foot of West Ninety-sixth street, whence the body will be removed to the Cathedral of St. John the Divine.

Rain and fog furnished a sombre setting to the arrival of the funeral ship. Because of the murky weather exact hour of the Natal's arrival og Ninety-sixth street could not be set, but plans called for the lowering flags at half-mast and the tolling of Trinity Church chimes, as the vessels steamed past for the lower part of the city.

RIOTOUS SCENES IN NORTH BAY THEATRE

The Liquor People Refusing a Hearing to Champion of Local Option.

[Canadian Press.] Bay, Jan. 3. people held their first meting of the ocal option campaign vesterday evening in the Royal Theatre, and the proceedings were marked by wild disorder disturbance arose over the refusal to allow local option speakers to take part in the discussion. The speakers of the evening included Rev. J. B. D. Wadleigh, who refused to comply with repeated requests from the audience to state where he came from and what church he represented. As a consequence he was frequently interrupted, and for 30 minutes could not make himself heard above the uproar. After nearly an hour of disturbance in the theatre a large number of the local optionists, failing to get a hearing inside, left the theatre and held a meeting on the steps.

Mr. Wadleigh obtained a very indifferent hearing all through, and confined his remarks to the operations of temperance enactments in the United States, and based his lecture on the statement that the liquor traffic was in the world to stay, and as it could not be killed, should be controlled under license. J. Livingstone, editor of the Grimsby Independent, obtained a better hearing than his predecessor. He admitted that local option produced bottle-drinkers, and worse conditions than existed under licenses. He stated that Grimsby under local option had more drinking than under license, liquor being brought in from near-by places on the trolley cars.

THE GUARDIAN

BY FREDERICK ORIN BARTLETT -

As a matter of fact, it was unusual for a girl to attempt the summit of Eagle Mountain. The mountain itself was high, its sides were precipitous, and there was no trail. It was a feat which even the hardy young men of the neighborhood boasted about. Nat himself was an exception. To him, who was more familiar with the woods than he was with the broad highways, and whose stout legs had never yet failed him on any task he set them to do, the undertaking was only a holiday jaunt. Furthermore, his knowledge of the physical capabilites of women was slight. Even if his experience had convinced him they were a weaker sex, he still would not have applied the knowledge to Julie. He put no limitations of any sort upon her. He imbued her not only with all the resolute qualities of his own. He announced to his father on Frigore, "Whar?" questioned the father.

FIVE YOUNG LADIES ENTER THE SISTERHOOD

An Impressive Ceremony at Mount St. Joseph On Thursday Morning.

The dawn of the New Year was marked at Mount St. Joseph by the eception of five young ladies into the Sisterhood

This ceremony, ever interesting and impressive, took place in the convent chapel on the morning of the 2nd inst., in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends of he young ladies.

The beautiful chapel, at all times devotional, was unusually so on this occasion. The altars were glowing with many waxen tapers, electric lights and small colored lamps beautifully arranged. Soft-hued flowers harmonized with the white and gold of the altars.

The music was of that solemn and nspiring nature so appropriate to the time of year and the occasion, His Lordship Bishop Fallon offered up the holy sacrifice, assisted by Fathers Tobin and McCulloch. In the Fathers West, Murray, Bench, Foley, Hodgkinson, Laurendeau and Valentine. His lordship preached on the text, "What doth it profit a man to gain

From this point their course led them for another mile through a tangle of pine and fir with a scattering of young maples. An old wood road made the walking easy and kept them out of the undergrowth, still wet with dew. The big walking easy and kept them out of the undergrowth, still wet with dew. The big sword-ferns which grew almost walstnigh along the way gave a tropical appearance to this part of the trail which her quick imagination seized upon instantly. Nat's broad shoulders and his light hair, which curled a little about the neck, furthered the illusion in startling fashion. From behind it was almost impossible to tell the brothers apart. With the two side by side, Nat would have shown the heavier and clumsier, but at a this moment it was 'Gene himself who walked ahead of her. She found herself responding to the fancy as heartily as though it were a fact. In the sturdy swing of those long legs, in the easy poise of the big back, she saw 'Gene and 'Gene alone. She endowed Nat's every movement with that supple grace which so pleased her in 'Gene. He walked with the steadiness of an Indian, with a commothing to do but follow. She felt that the steadiness of an Indian, with a comnothing to do but follow. She felt that she could keep on behind that big frame aside as easily as he did the birch twigs which lay over the path. For some time members of the hospital trust have advised that the box, which was formerly located inside the building in the main corridor, be reaway, but chose a slower pace and made as much ado as possible in getting over place. Their suggestion was acted once she saw again only his back she recovered herself. It had been a shock when he faced her. As she followed on, she asked herself why. Why was he Nat, and why was 'Gene' Gene? A woman could not ask for kindlier or more trustworthy eyes than those into which she had stared when Nat turned. They were the same color as 'Gene's and much the same shape. And yet they were Nat's eyes and not 'Gene's eyes; thy snatched her back from the romance of the tropics to the sober reality of the Maine woods. They brought her down from the clouds

Her husband was ordered to pay to the support of his wife and two children $5 per week, commencing next Saturday. He will also pay the costs with the first installment. It is possible that the police proceedings will be followed by further litigation, as Mr. Richards may take action to gain possession of the children. They are now with the mother, however, and she intends to continue as their custodian.

Mrs. Richards left her husband a few weeks ago after an incident, the details of which were related in a private session of police court. She was considered a deserted wife within the meaning of the law, and judgment was therefore in her favor.

TAGNEY INQUEST HELD

Evidence Showed That Thamesford Man Had Died as Result of a Hemorrhage.

The jury which investigated the death of Mr. Robert Tagney, of Thamesford, who was found in an unconscious state at the rear of the Grand Opera House on Saturday night, and who died two heurs later in the cells of the Carling street police station, where he was placed on a charge of drunkenness, returned a verdict last night exonerating the police from all blame, but attached was a suggestion that all men brought in in such an apparent condition be subjected to a strict examina-

This registration exceeded that of 1910 by 3,937, the largest increase being in the numchildren who saw the light of the world for the first time were 622 pairs of twins, of whom 632 were boys and 612 lets, 7 boys and 11 girls. The number of births in 1911 was the largest in the 13 years from 1899.

Marriages. The number of marriages in 1911 was 1,771 in excess of the number registered in 1910, making a ratio per 1,000 of population of 10.2 marriages. The County of York, including Toronto, had the largest number of marriage ceremonies, 5,604, while the County of Essex, with 2,774 ceremonies, showed the largest ratio per 1,000 of population. This ratio was due, according to the report, to the situation of Essex, being across the river from Detroit.

The month of June was the popular for marriages, there being 3,-439 ceremonies performed in that period. September and December were the next in popularity. The members and adherents of the Methodist Church contracted more marirages than any other church, some 14,571 Methodists having been married. The Presbyterians, Anglicans and Roman Catholics followed in order. Members of the Salvation Army contracted the least number of mariages, there being but 106 grooms and 109 grooms claiming connection with the army. Mixed Marriages. A very interesting paragraph in the report deals with the question of mixed marriages between Roman of Pro-Catholics and members In 1910 there testant churches. 7.351 Roman married, and of this number 5,842 wedded in their own religion, leaving the percentage to contract mixed marriages at 20.5. The number of Roman Catholics to marry in 1911 was smaller, being only 6,743, and of this number 6,224 married Roman Catholics. The 1,519 remaining, although only 10 more than in 1910, was a percentage of 22.5, which shows that the number of mixed marriages is slowly increasing in this Province. Only 266 men stated that they were not connected with any denomination, while 407 did not give their religious preference.

Outside Information. There were 4,939 brides ages of 15 and 19, and only 581 grooms. The largest number of marriages were contracted by people between land a joint expeditionary force in the ages of 20 and 24, there being 8,-Albania immediately after the conclu- 948 grooms and 10,352 brides. Of the persons entering into matrimony who had reached the age of 70, the men were the most venturesome, 72 taking the step while only 13 such women yielded to the persuasive powers of Dan Cupid. The statement that a woman does not like to make public her age is shown in the report, as there were 258 who refused to tell how old they were, and only 33 men refused their age.

Deaths in Ontario. Of the number of deaths registered ,884 were of children under one year of age, and the total number of deaths was 802 in excess of the number in 1910. The death ratio per 1,000 of population shows a decrease of 14.4 from that of 1910, when the ratio was 14.8. The highest death ratio was in Carleton and the lowest in Kenora, where the figures were 21.1 and 6.4 respectively. The average death ratio was 14.4, and that of Middlesex County was 13.5, and in London 15.6,

The only change of importance is the nauguration of single sessions of the kindergarten. On Monday morning, these will be in operation according to the resolution of the board. The directors and assistants have been appointed.

There will be no change in the teachers in the schools of Pottersburg, Ealing and Chelsea Green. The board of education, when organized for the year, will look over the situation and decide what is best to be done.

The annexation of the new districts cut several school sections in two, and temporary arrangements will have to be made to properly accommodate the former county publis. A rearrangement of the school boundaries may follow, although this may not take place for some time.

FREEHOLDERS ONLY. SAYS THE MAYOR

If the Electrification Scheme Is Submitted It Will Not Be a General Vote.

Mayor Graham announced today that f the bylaw for the electrification of the London and Port Stanley is submitted, freeholders only would be allowed to express an opinion. His worship stated that this was the intention of the council and would be adhered to. Ald. More considers that such a step is the logical thing to do.

"There is no doubt about it," said his worshrip. When the vote is taken freeholders only will be allowed to express an opinion. That is right and proper. This is the procedure in the submission of al lmoney bylaws, and it will be followed in this instance. That was the intention at all times.'

Cynthia Leith, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Leith, 772 Dundas street, was Mrs. Jennie Getty Sues the County of Middlesex for $500.

The case of Getty against the County of Middlesex, which was postponed from the sittings of the county court last month, was commenced this morn-

The plaintiff, Mrs. Jennie Getty, rehorse shied at a large stone near the road, and bolted. Mrs. Getty at the time was driving closely behind another wagen, and as the road was very narrow she could not pass the other vehicle. She called to the driver, and he turned to the naled into court, but as they were the right-hand side of the road, but when she attempted to pass on the left side the buggy turned over, and she was thrown about nine feet into the ditch. Since that time she has been unable to go about her work on account of the injuries she received, and she seeks to recover $500 damages from the county. County Engineer Talbot was examined as to the state of the roadway, but as there was some doubt as to the scene of the accident his testimony was not completed. Dr. W. H. Woods, of Mount Brydges, testified to the effect that he had attended Mrs. Getty some four or five months after he accident, and found that she was suffering from injuries that could be sustained in such a maner as she described. Dr. W. Waugh, of this city, was also called.

Mr. P. H. Bartlett, of this city, is acting for Mrs. Getty, while County Solicitor Elliott, of Glencoe, is representing the county. The case was continued this afternoon.

STRATHROY IS STRONG FOR LOCAL OPTION

Business Has Steadily Increased and Conditions Have Been Better.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Strathroy, Jan 3.—The greatest interest s being taken in the elections here next Monday. The big feature of the campaign is the repeal of local option, and temperance people are confident that Strathroy will remain "dry," as conditions here have never been more satisfactory than since local option went into effect. Citizens are so strongly convinced of this, that they feel there is no need to revert to the former state of affairs, when drunkenness was prevalent and crimes far more numberous. Businessmen are strongly opposed to any change, as under local option business has steadily increased and Strathroy was never more prosperous.

The fight for the council is also arousing much interest. The following are the candidates: Mayor—J. T. Buttrey and Henry Owens. Reeve—T. Benstead and W. Sullivan. Deputy-reeve—W. Hill and S. Oakes. Councillors—James Bowley, Henry Dale, F. N. Dunn, G. M. Haldane, S. McAndless, Wm. Stevenson, J. C. Scott, T. Seed, W. Wright. Strathroy will remain "dry," as condi-

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Calver, 8 Maryboro Place on New Year's Eve when their daughter, Ellen Irene, was united in marriage to George Morley Vandusen, of this city. Rev. George N. Hazen, pastor of Wellington Street Methodist Church, officiated. The bride entered the parlor leaning on the arm of her father to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March played by Miss Potts. The bride was gowned in ivory messaline silk with pearl trimmings, and wore a veil wreathed with orange blessoms and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Miss Alice Calver, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and wore a dress of pale blue marqui-sette over blue silk, and carried pink carnations. Little Ellen Snow, niece of the bride, made a charming little flower girl, and was dressed in pale blue marquisette, over blue silk, carrying the ring in a basket of flowers. The groom was supported by his brother Cecil. The groom's gift to the bride was a sunburst of pearls; to the bridesmaid, gold brooch; flower girl, a ring; to the groomsman, a tie pin, and to the pianst a hatpin. After congratulations, all adjourned to the dining-room, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Vandusen will reside at Carfrae Crescent.

DAVIS-ROSENTHAL. A quiet wedding was celebrated on Tuesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. Rosenthal, 128 Inkerman street when their daughter, Miss L.
