BRITISH TAKE AND LOSE AGAIN LA BASSEE VILLE

BRITISH CAPTURE TOWN, BUT WITHDRAW AS FOE FORCES COUNTER-ATTACK

La Bassee Ville Changes Hands Twice Within Few Hours—Germans Taken Prisoner as Result of Successful Raids at Three Points.

London, July 27.—The British last night captured La Bassee Ville in Belgium, near the French border, but subsequently withdrew in the face of a German counter-attack in force, the war office announces. The statement follows:

"There was local fighting last night in the neighborhood of La Bassee Ville, southwest of Warneton, in which our troops drove the enemy from the village and captured several prisoners. This morning the enemy counter-attacked in force, and our detachments in the village withdrew to their own line. We captured a further 29 prisoners last night as a result of successful raids in the neighborhood of Monachy-le-Preux, southwest of La Bassee and northeast of Ypres.

"Yesterday morning a German raid against our positions southeast of Gouzeaucourt led to sharp fighting. The enemy suffered considerable loss. A few of our men are missing."

ARTILLERY FIGHT GROWS.

British Headquarters in France, July 27.—By the Associated Press.—The artillery fighting along the western front continues to grow apace, particularly in Flanders, and last night was marked also by infantry thrusts at various points. In one of these the British occupied La Bassee Ville, after inflicting severe casualties on the Germans. This place was in process of consolidation early today.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR PRISONER EXCHANGE NOW ALL COMPLETE

Governments of Britain and Germany Agree.

DIRECT REPATRIATION

This Will Be Resumed for Seriously Ill and Wounded.

London, July 27.—The agreement reached by the British and German delegates at their recent conference at The Hague regarding the exchange and treatment of civil and military prisoners has been ratified by both governments, according to a statement made by James Fitzalan Hope, Unionist member for Sheffield in the House of Commons.

The agreement provides that direct repatriation shall be resumed, that the qualifications on medical grounds for repatriation or internment in neutral countries be made more lenient, and that the more seriously ill and wounded now interned in Switzerland shall be returned to their own countries to make room for others.

In addition to those sent to Switzerland, Holland has agreed to accept 7,500 persons, while all commissioned and non-commissioned officers, whether in health or not; who have been in captivity for 18 months or more, shall be eligible for internment in neutral countries, Holland has agreed to accept 6,500 of these.

The Dutch Government will further provide for 2,000 civilian prisoners, invalids being given the preference. Punishments for attempts to escape and for other offences also have been regulated, while reprisals against individuals have been cancelled.

STRIKE NEARLY ENDED.

Rio Janeiro, July 27.—The strike of 50,000 workmen, which has been in progress for several days in protest against the steadily increasing cost of living and the refusal of employers to raise wages, is virtually ended. A complete understanding between the employers and the workmen is expected shortly.

CONTINUE THE WAR UNTIL GOAL GAINED, IS ALLIES' DECISION

Result of Conference Held In Paris.

TO PREVENT AGGRESSION

Representatives Reach Unanimous Decision on All Questions Discussed.

LATER.

The Entente powers decided to withdraw their troops as soon as possible from ancient Greece, Thessaly and Epirus.

Paris, July 27.—The Allied powers yesterday concluded their conference, after announcing a decision to continue the war until the object for which they are fighting is attained.

Their declaration, which was made unanimously before separating, reads:

"The Allied powers, more closely united than ever for the defence of the people's rights, particularly in the Balkan peninsula, are resolved not to lay down arms until they have attained the end which in their eyes dominates all others—to render impossible a return of the criminal aggression such as that wherefor the Central Empires bear the responsibility."

There was unanimous agreement on all decisions reached during the meetings. The ministers of departments affected will meet in London to draw up the executive measures.

COLORED MAN HANGED

Halifax, July 27.—Lawrence F. Sparks, colored, was hanged this morning in the county jail for the murder on March 12 of Charles Dixon, also colored. Sparks shot Dixon during a quarrel. The execution passed off without a hitch, death being instantaneous.

TWO BIG FREE TRIPS OFFERED CANDIDATES OR THEIR FRIENDS

Two Fine Trips Down the St. Lawrence to Saguenay or to New York — 50,000 Extra Votes for Greatest Number of New Subscriptions in Ten Days—Nine New Candidates Entered the Contest Yesterday.

An open letter to the several hundred candidates and their many thousands of friends:

During the past three days the contest manager of The London Advertiser's big $16,000 prize contest, has received over 300 requests to extend the extra vote offer. Some wish to have just a few days more in which to gather in promises of new subscriptions, others could not cover their territory as they had planned, owing to the wet weather, and others again who have just entered the contest, wanting to make a good showing with the extra 50,000 vote offer.

Taking everything into consideration, and especially the 27 candidates who have entered the contest during the past ten days, the contest manager has arranged for another special 50,000 vote offer for the next ten days and will supplement the vote offer with the option of a free trip down the St. Lawrence to Saguenay, or to New York.

The Conditions.

The conditions of this special vote offer are as follows:

The candidate turning in the greatest number of new yearly subscriptions to The Advertiser between today (Friday, July 27, and 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, August 7) will be given the choice of a free trip for himself or herself and a friend either down the St. Lawrence to Saguenay, or to New York, with all expenses paid.

The attention of the contest department has been drawn to the fact on more than one occasion that a prize should be offered for the many friends of candidates who are assisting in this great campaign, and this fact was not lost sight of in arranging for the two free trips.

May Send Friends.

The candidate winning this special prize has the privilege of taking along a friend, or, if not finding it convenient to take the trip, may give the two free trips to some friend or friends. All expenses will be paid for the candidate's friends who are lucky enough to get the trip just the same as though the candidate winning the special prize were going along.

A trip to Saguenay in the month of September is one of the most pleasant outings a person could wish for, and it will be especially pleasant for a candidate to be in a position to give two of his friends who have assisted him in the race for the great prize, a week's boat trip with all expenses paid.

This special offer will last ten days from today (Friday). All extra votes secured during these ten days will count toward the grand prize, or any of the other many prizes offered.

CONTEST NOTES.

Toronto, July 26.—All the Toronto daily papers, morning and evening, have announced increases in their subscription rates, effective August 1. Single copies will be two cents, instead of one cent, and there is an advance of $1 in the annual subscription rate.

Candidates in The London Advertiser's contest are requested not to solicit subscriptions for a longer period than three years, as, owing to the continual advancing price of newsprint and labor The Advertiser may be forced to increase its subscription price.

District No. 8 has a number of new candidates in the field, and is making a concerted effort to win the four big prizes which must go to some one district. Miss Minnie Breckenbrough is the latest to enter in Owen Sound, and from the reports received by the contest manager yesterday, some of the other candidates in District 8 will have to move faster to keep Owen Sound from carrying off the big prizes.

Leo Soull of Southampton, another new candidate, writes: "Please rush receipt books, as I am going in to win the automobile."

John Walker, Port Dover, over long-distance phone: "Will you mail me five receipt books at once? Be sure and get them in the postoffice this (Thursday) afternoon, as I need them for Friday morning."

Our agent in Stratford sent in a hurried call for twelve receipt books for candidates in Stratford yesterday.

RUSS CAVALRY THROWS BACK FOE FORCE IN EAST GALICIA

Rumanians Advance Towards Upper Suchitza Reaches

CONSOLIDATE THEIR GAINS

Military Reverses Strengthen Hands of Government at Petrograd.

Petrograd, July 27.—Russian cavalry threw back the pressing Austro-German infantry on Wednesday in the region southwest of Monasterzyska, in Eastern Galicia, says the official statement issued today by the Russian war department.

The Russian announcement says the Rumanians have advanced towards the upper reaches of the Suchitza and are consolidating their gains. The Rumanians took many prisoners and captured six guns.

Retire Elsewhere.

Between the Dniester River and the Carpathians, the statement says, the Russians continue to retire in an easterly direction.

Southeast of Trembowla, in Galicia, near the Russian border, the Russians retired a short distance to new positions. The Austro-Germans have occupied the Galician towns of Ploiycy and Czystylor, on the Sereth River.

BERLIN ADMITS RETREAT.

Berlin, July 27.—Troops under command of Archduke Joseph have retreated on the Rumanian fornt. The statement given out today by the German war department says that the Teutons left to the Russo-Rumanians the territory in the Suchitza valley as far as the upper course of the Putna River.

GOVERNMENT STRENGTHENED.

Washington, July 27.—The Russian military reverses have enormously strengthened the hands of the Government in Petrograd, according to a dispatch from United States Ambassador reports, and have led to a universal demand for stronger discipline.

The ambassador reported that the military crisis at the front has caused the deepest alarm in Petrograd, not only as to a severe military disaster, but as to the achievements of the revolution itself. All parties are united, he said, in urging the Government to adopt measures necessary to meet the situation.

Dispatches Confirm View.

Dispatches to the Russian embassy confirm this point of view, and show that many conservative leaders, who have recently gone out of office, are now again coming to the front of affairs. They include such men as the former president of the Duma, Rodzianko; the former minister of instruction, Ignatieff; Leader Pleksanoff of the Social-Democrats; Prof. Avksenteff, and Admiral Kolchak of the Black Sea fleet.

At the same time arrests among the Bolsheviki and the Red Guard are continuing. Premier Kerensky's call for an extraordinary national council, announced today from Petrograd to meet in Moscow July 31, was also forecast in embassy dispatches sent just prior to the decision.

Fears of food riots, which originally precipitated the crisis in Petrograd leading to the revolution, are dispelled, the dispatches add, by reports of splendid harvests from all over Russia.

Defeat Explained.

The Galician military defeat was further explained by mutiny in one grenadier division of from 16,000 to $20,000 mn, which opened up the front to the Germans and allowed them to drive a wedge 20 miles deep, which necessitated the retirement of the whole of Gen. Korniloff's forces of 300,000 men.

Heroic defence of a cavalry division alone held the Germans up a few hours before Tarnopol, permitting the escape of the defending infantry and destruction of the munition stores.

Reports that negotiations are under way for sending American troops to Russia are flatly contradicted here, where it is stated that Russia has more than she knows what to do with. America's great possibility lies in sending munitions to Russia, especially railroad materials.

AUSTRALIANS REQUEST COMMISSIONER IN U. S.

Melbourne, Australia, July 27.—A resolution was moved today in the Commonwealth Senate for the appointment of an Australian high commissioner in Washington.

LET US SAVE OUR BOYS FROM DEATH IN RIVER!

Every summer London loses so many of its young citizens by drowning in the River Thames.

The Thames is a stream that should not drown anyone. Its breadth is not great. Its depth is not great. Its current is not swift. And perhaps its very apparent harmlessness is the undoing of many a youngster.

But it has taken three lives in a few weeks, and this loss of life, this waste of life, is horrible.

London should have a river patrol of some sort that will endeavor to supervise swimming, and to protect boys from their own venturesomeness.

Don't try to keep the boys out of the river. That is the way most London boys must learn to swim. But do try to save them. As a city do not let us stand aside, and when a stark little body has been hauled up on the bank stand staring for a moment and then pass on, doing nothing.

We waste big bank rolls in London so that life may be saved theoretically. But here is the chance to save life actually. If some effort is not made to supervise swimming in the river more boys will be drowned. AT LEAST LET THE DANGEROUS PLACES BE MARKED SO THAT THE LITTLE FELLOWS WILL NOT FALL INTO THEM.

Meanwhile parents should bring the drownings to the attention of their children. Let the lesson of going into deep and unknown waters be forced home. Let a father or big brother go with the children when they swim. Let everybody do what he or she can to save the lives of these little children of the humble home who cannot go to ... and pay 50 cents for a bathing suit. Better that the city should "shoot" a little of its money this way than to be so lavish in expenditures for absolute pleasure.

TWO LONDON BOYS GIVEN D. S. O. FOR GREAT GALLANTRY IN WAR; ONE BAGGED GUNS AND HUNS, ANOTHER SAVED SUPPLY LINE

Official reports just received here show how two Londoners, Major G. Eric Reid and Major J. Harry Thornley, received the Distinguished Service Order, for great bravery and courage in danger. They are the sons of George M. Reid and Mrs. May R. Thornley of this city, respectively.

Major "Buster" Reid led a company with great skill in a successful assault, capturing four field guns, a machine gun, and over fifty prisoners. Reports received here from soldiers at the front state that the action was one of great brilliancy, and was carried out in the face of grave danger.

A BRILLIANT OFFICER.

Major Reid's daring and clever leadership were manifest in every way, and he is marked as one of the most brilliant among the younger men who are serving at the front. He enlisted as a private in the McGill College Unit, but was soon promoted for gallantry on the field. Since then his progress has been rapid. He was wounded in the earlier stages of the war, when with the Princess Patricias.

Major J. Harry Thornley, son of Mrs. May Thornley, went overseas with the 33rd Battalion. He was one of the most capable officers sent forward from this district.

SAVED THE SUPPLY LINE.

He received his decoration for personally supervising the repairs to a light railway, upon which the supppiy of artillery ammunition entirely depended. The line was broken in twenty places by shell fire.

Both achievements took place during the great battle in which the Canadians captured Vimy Ridge.

RUSSIAN CAVALRY AND ARTILLERY FOUGHT MAGNIFICENTLY, BUT THEIR INFANTRY FAILED LAMENTABLY

Cyclists Battalion Charged Afoot and Awheel—Treachery of Others Ruined the Efforts of Shock Battalions Who Captured Positions—Death Battalion Formed.

Petrograd, July 27.—Accounts of the battles in Galicia which have reached here say the cavalrymen fought like heroes. Cossacks, co-operating with Russian and British motor cars, defended the Sereth line as long as the least hope remained. It is reported that artillerymen on their knees implored the infantry to save their guns, but that the infantry did not heed them.

Orders to shoot traitors and marauders are being carried out. The commander of a grenadier division has been removed for refusing to fire on deserters.

The 5th Cyclist Battalion fought most bravely. It kept off three German regiments with its machine guns and carbines and made several bayonet charges afoot. In one attack the men rode their bicycles. Some sections of the battalion lost 80 per cent of their officers.

A member of the Duma, who has returned from the Dvinsk front, states that after Russian shock battalions had captured very important German positions, it was discovered in several instances that signalling to the Germans was going on from the Russian rear.

Belgian artillerymen and mechanical experts in Petrograd, many of whom were wounded on the Yser or at Ypres, are forming a "battalion of death" to give an example of military valor on the Russian front.

RUSSIAN WOMEN CHARGED ENEMY FEARLESSLY AS MEN DESERTED

Women's Legion Took 102 Prisoners During First Engagement.

TURNED TIDE OF BATTLE

But Suffered Heavy Casualties After Going "Over the Top."

FOES WERE ASTONISHED

Hundred Thousand Citizens Give Frenzied Greeting to the Wounded.

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD.
[Special to The Advertiser.]

Petrograd, July 27.—Charging fearlessly over a shell-torn field, when their men comrades had deserted, Russian women fighters in their first battle took 102 prisoners, two of them officers.

Dispatches from the Dvinsk front today added to the glory of the women's legion of death. They gave an additional casualty list of a dozen wounded, including Mme. Bochkariova, commander of the battalion. The second in command, Mlle. Skryblova, was suffering from severe shell shock. All were sent back to Minsk for temporary treatment, and will later be brought to Petrograd.

The girls "went over the top" in the charge with fierce impetuosity, firing as they hurried forward to meet the enemy, and utterly without fear. Their example shamed unstable troops near by, who had started deserting, and it was undoubtedly the heroism of the women soldiers that turned the tide of battle in favor of the Russians.

The prisoners captured by the girls expressed the utmost astonishment and chagrin when they learned the sex of those who had so fiercely attacked their position.

A hundred thousand citizens and soldiers at Poltava assembled with bands and flags to give frenzied greeting to several of the wounded women who passed through there from the front today.

AUSTRIA WILLING TO REINSTATE OFFICERS

Copnhagen, July 27.—A semi-official dispatch from Vienna to German papers says an imperial order has been issued permitting reserve officers who were cashiered for participation in political demonstrations in Vienna, Prague and Graz to regain their commissions.

Berlin, Wednesday, July 25—Via London, July 26.—Greater Berlin will contribute slightly more than 104,000,000 marks to the state income tax this year. This is an increase of 11,000,000 marks over 1916.

MANAGER CARROLL GORED TO DEATH BY SAVAGE BULL AT CLINE FARM

Animal Breaks Rope as Stock Man Is Replacing Ring in Nose, and Thrusts Horn Into Lung—Daughter Gives Alarm, But Help Comes Too Late.

Gored by an infuriated bull as he attempted to replace a broken ring in the animals nose at 8 o'clock this morning, D. H. Carroll, manager of the stock farm of Dr. C. A. Cline of this city, on the 1st concession of Westminster Twnship, died three-quarters of an hour later before medical assistance arrived.

Mr. Carroll took the bull out to water, and, after tying him securely, as he thought, in his stall with a chain and rope, proceeded to repace a broken ring in his nose. The animal became infuriated, and as he was not held by a staff, with a mighty effort broke the rope as if it had been a string. Turning on the farmer before he had a chance to escape, the beast plunged his horn through Carroll's right lung and stamped on his chest with his front feet.

Daughter Gives Alarm.

His daughter Mary, who was in the barn at the time, hearing the noise, rushed to the stall, and not daring to approach the maddened animal alone, ran for help. She returned in a few minutes with Thomas Riley, the hired man, and James Thompson, a brother-in-law of Carroll, who lives close by. They arrived only to find the unfortunate farmer lying unconscious on his back at the head of the stall almost under the bull's feet.

The latter was still trembling with rage and shaking his head to and fro. The men quickly dragged the farmer from the stall and carried him to the house. Mrs. Carrol, on seeing her husband, fainted away, while the girls were in a highly nervous state.

Used to Handling Stock.

Mr. Carroll has had a long experience with stock, but apparently misjudged the strength of the bull. The rope used to tie the animal was a thick one and strong enough to hold any ordinary beast. The bull was known to be savage, and great care was always taken in the handling of it.

Mr. Carroll is survived by his wife and four daughters, Mary, Maggie, Ethel and Mabel. He was 46 years of age.

KERENSKY GETTING DOWN TO BUSINESS WITHOUT RED TAPE

Convokes the National Council Without Preliminaries.

NO BACKWARD MOVEMENT

Ultimatum To Kronstadt, and Warning Given To All Conspirators.

Petrograd, July 27.—The extreme gravity of the country's position in the front and rear impels Premier Kerensky to take the exceptional decision, without waiting for the constituent assembly, to convoke, on July 31 at Moscow, the extraordinary national council. All members of the Duma, prominent men from chief centres of the empire, representatives of the Zemstvos municipalities, labor unions and universities will participate therein.

Getting at Root.

The council will hold two sessions at which the Government will be asked to make an exhaustive report on the condition of the country, answer questions and ask opinions of authoritative persons on how best to save the fatherland from ruin.

Explaining the scheme today, Premier Kerensky declared that attempts to move the revolution backwards were impossible. Conspiracies to restore monarchical government will be suppressed in the most determined and merciless way.

Ultimatum to Kronstadt.

As an indication of the new policy and firm measures to be taken, Kronstadt received an ultimatum to hand over three of the chief Bolsheviki agitators, including the notorious Roschal. In case of a refusal, the island will be declared blockaded. The evening newspapers declare the position on the front is somewhat improved.

As the evacuation of Tarnopol is considered to have been premature, Russian generals have been ordered to recapture the town.

TWO ESCAPE FROM CHATHAM JAIL; GET OVER WALL OF YARD

Both Held on Serious Charge Made by Girl.

Chatham, July 27.—Walter Bowers, white, and Herb Williams, colored, waiting trial on a serious charge preferred by a 15-year-old white girl, escaped from the county jail this morning by placing a bench against the stone wall of the exercising yards, and are still at large.

ENEMY DEPENDS ON DIPLOMACY TO WIN WAR, SAY PRISONERS

Declare She Is Ready To Hold Out.

IGNORE UNITED STATES

Do Not Believe the American Army Will Amount To Much.

London, July 12 (by mail).—Germany's dream of world conquest has been shattered, and the belief among all classes there now is that the war must end through diplomacy rather than by a brilliant victory, according to German prisoners in England.

A representative of the Associated Press, who has just returned here after a visit to the large internment camp at Dorchester, where approximately 1,900 German prisoners are quartered, is enabled to present many interesting sidelights on the German viewpoint, as represented by men of all types, who have fought with the German forces on land and sea and in the air. These may be summarized as follows:

Germany having held out this far, she is prepared to hold out to the end. The economic situation in Germany is not as bad as it has been represented, either by the belligerent or neutral press. Contrary to reports, there is no visible shortage of materials actually needed for the prosecution of the war.

Do Not Fear U. S. A.

America's entry into the war will prolong rather than shorten it. The United States being essentially a commercial nation, she cannot make her man power felt soon enough to change the course of events.

The submarines are doing all that was expected of them.

There is a surprising lack of concern manifested by the prisoners because of the United States being arrayed against their country. The correspondent was allowed to mingle with them freely at times without any of the British officials in charge of the camp being present. A young German airman who was brought down recently off Dover, and who exhibited an iron cross, which he said he had won for many daring feats over the Anglo-French lines, seemed to express the view of the more intelligent class of prisoners by asserting there had been "so many declarations of war against Germany when the United States came in, that more did not matter."

Doubts Big Army.

Asked whether it would surprise the German people if the United States should actually place 1,000,000 men in France within a year, the airman smiled as one amused and replied: "I would like to see them there first."

A tall, distinguished-looking fellow, who said he was formerly a lawyer in Bavaria, expressed the belief that the war would undoubtedly result in giving the German people a more democratic form of government. He doubted, however, whether any attempt to remove the emperor would succeed. Germany, he said, was so accustomed to an imperial head that he did not think it would be advisable for her to follow Russia's example. Others, including a government official from West Africa, a German, and a young man who said he had been a professor of English in a German university, were of the same opinion.

NO GAS FOR CITY, PLEAS MADE IN VAIN AT BUFFALO

Mains Laid Likely to Remain Empty, According to Report

HAMILTON COMES FIRST

Took Supply Years Ago and Company Is Under Obligation to Serve It.

London will not get a supply of natural gas, according to reports received here today.

Although the city made arrangements some time ago for a supply, no gas has been forthcoming, and the indications are that none will come.

The agreements were made with the Southern Ontario Gas Company for a daily supply of two million feet, to be supplied the McClary Company, Beattie Bros., and others. The price was to be about 21 cents at the city limits.

Have No Gas Left.

Shortly after the agreements were drawn up, the company notified the utilities commission that it would be impossible to furnish the supply. Hamilton had made additional demands for a supply, and there was not sufficient for both places. Hamilton took the opportunity some years ago of getting the supply, when London voted a proposition down, and the company feels that it is morally bound to give Hamilton industries all the gas they need.

No Luck at Buffalo.

As a result, it appears London will not get a supply. Several deputations have gone to Buffalo recently to urge the company to give gas here, but without success.

"It certainly does not look as if we will get a supply," said General-Manager Buchanan of the utilities commission today.

KIDDIES CLIMBING ON FLOATING DOCK FLIRT WITH DEATH

A Four-Year-Old Boy Causes Shudders at Port Stanley.

COULD THEY BE SAVED?

Possibility of Drowning Apparent As Children Play Over Deep Water.

Fish were biting well at Port Stanley on Wednesday evening, and the lighthouse pier had a long line of anglers on either side. One fisherman had contributed to his own comfort by taking along a camp stool and setting it up at a perilous angle on the westward slope to the deep water.

visitors to the pier, in search of cooling visitors to the pier, in search of coolinig breezes, among these several young children. The placid waters looked innocent and kind, and doubtless this was the reason that a number of little tots were allowed to play along the very edge of the pier, one small boy, not possibly more than four, crawling back and forth with other children onto a floating dock in dangerously deep waters.

When a guardian called out from a distance in a threatening tone: "If your father caught you doing that," then proceeded with an interrupted conversation, it didn't have any special effect on the daring youngsters.

"What would you do if you fell in?" was asked by a stranger of one little laddie, who persisted in flirting with a bad ducking at the best.

"Thwim out," he promptly replied.

"Can you swim?" was the next question put to him.

"Sure, I could," he said; "I didn't ever, but I'd just go like daddy does." And he took such a lunge over the lake that the heart of the stranger scarcely recovered all evening from the the somersault of that moment.

One onlooker who berated criminal carelessness in taking children to such dangerous places and allowing them to run about as they pleased commented: "But it isn't likely a child could drown here with so many men within call. At the same time, how many of those men could swim to the extent of rescuing anybody else, or give to bring up a little form that had gone down for the last time?"

One remark overhead was this: "Surely there are enough safe places for children to play along this big beach without letting them risk their lives like that."

GRIFFITHS—ANDERSON.

A quiet wedding was solemnized in the First Methodist Church on Wednesday by Rev. Richard Whiting, B.A., pastor of the Dominion Methodist Church, Westmount, Montreal, and formerly of the First Methodist Church, London, assisted by Rev. N. D. Drew, the contracting parties being Miss Ada Anderson, only daughter of the late Peter Anderson, and niece of the late Murray Anderson, first mayor of the city of London, and N. J. Griffith.

THREATENS ADVANCE IN SPEEDING FINES

"Every day I see the law against speeding broken, and the fines in this court will certainly be increased unless drivers take heed," said Magistrate Graydon in police court today as he imposed a fine of $5 and costs on Fred S. Onn, 155 Tecumseh avenue, a clerk in a local store.

Patrolman Tomlin testified that Onn had driven between Dufferin and Princess on Sunday evening at a speed of 31 miles an hour.

Melville Onn was found guilty for the second time in three weeks of driving his motorcycle on the Wharncliffe road at a speed greater than the law allows. According to the patrolman he got over the ground at 32 miles an hour on Thursday evening last. He likewise paid in $5 and costs.

Fred W. Luney, for allowing his car to stand without lights between dusk and dawn, was fined $2 and costs.

One drunk, who pleaded as an excuse that he had to drink whisky in order to stand the hot weather, was assessed the usual amount, $10 and costs.

FINED FOR LIFTING WIFE OF ANOTHER MAN INTO BUGGY

Fred Westover Didn't Think Lady Was Married.

SKIRTS WERE SO SHORT

You Can't Always Tell by Length of Them, Is Magistrate's Comment.

Claiming that Fred Westover, an 18-year-old member of the A. M. C., had picked her up in his arms and placed her in a buggy on Sunday night, much against her own will, Mrs. Mildred Bougs, a young married woman, had Westover and a companion named Hughie Boyle, summoned to court today on an assault charge.

Westover was found guilty and fined $5 and costs, but Boyle was acquitted, as the evidence did not show that he had done any more than render slight assistance by taking hold of the complainant's hand.

A Determined Wooer.

The testimony of Mrs. Bougs, whose husband is connected with one of the units at Carling Heights, was to the effect that young Westover had first asked her to go for a drive with her sister, but she had declined. He then gathered her up in his arms, a la Douglas Fairbanks, and before she realized what had happened, was in the buggy and being driven away.

Emily Brooks, Douglas Brimson and Alfred Turner corroborated the evidence of Mrs. Bougs, but as the latter had made no outcry, they did not interfere.

Led Her to Buggy.

Westover, in his defence, denied he had used the tactics attributed to him, but claimed he had led the complainant by the hand to the buggy, and had then lifted her in.

"Didn't you know that this young woman was married?" asked the magistrate.

"No, I didn't think she was married, because she was wearing short dresses," replied Westover.

"As you grow older, you will find out that it isn't wise to be guided by the shortness of the dresses," said the magistrate. "Styles have changed since your grandmother's day."

LONDON NURSE WHO DIED BY DROWNING

Advertiser Illustrations

MISS EDITH NICOL, daughter of Mr. John Nicol, 347 William street, who lost her life at Shawinigan Falls, near Montreal.

DROWNED DAUGHTER BROUGHT HOME ON HIS 74TH BIRTHDAY

Saddest Anniversary in Long Life of Mr. John Nicol.

POPULAR, EFFICIENT GIRL

Doctor Attempted To Save Life, But Was Weak Because of Illness.

Although two of the best swimmers in the district were within a few feet of Miss Ethel Nicol of London when she was drowned at Shawinigan Falls, near Montreal, Tuesday they were not aware of the mishap in time to make efforts to save her.

The remains were brought to the city last night, the occasion of her father's 74th birthday. They were accompanied by Miss Ethel Corby, a nurse, who related the details of the tragedy to the family.

Had to Relax Hold.

Miss Nicol was bathing with three doctors. Two of the doctors, considered expert swimmers, made their way around to the opposite side of the pier near which the four had entered the water. While they were there the tragedy occurred. The remaining doctor made a gallant attempt to save Miss Nicol's life, but being in a weakened condition through a long illness, he was forced to relax his hold after he had reached her. He was completely exhausted, and had to be brought to the shore by the other swimmers.

Miss Nicol was not recovered until an hour and a half later, and although she had been in the water for that length of time attempts were made to revive her, but were unsuccessful. She was taken to a Montreal hospital, where still further efforts to restore animation also failed.

Was a Good Swimmer.

The cause of the accident is unknown. Miss Nicol was an able swimmer, Miss Corby states that the young woman was asphyxiated as she went down the second time.

Miss Nicol was the daughter of John Nicol, 347 William street, and the funeral will be he'd from that address on Saturday. Interment will take place at Woodland Cemetery.

She was one of the most popular and efficient nurses of the corps at the hospital where she was engaged, and had a wide circle of friends in this city.

Mrs. D. Saunders Receives Group Picture From Germany

TWO BROTHERS TAKEN

Overwhelmed by Germans While Fighting—Three Joined the 33rd.

A photo has been received in the city by Mrs. D. Saunders, 270 Dundas street, showing a collection of allied prisoners at a German prison camp, her husband being one of the number.

Corp. D. Saunders was one of three brothers, all of whom enlisted with the 33rd Battalion. He was in many of the larger engagements prior to June 2nd, when he and his brother Charles were taken by the Germans in a battle in which the Canadians were cutnumbered five to one.

Corp. D. Saunders is at Quedlinburg, Germany, while Charles is still at another camp to where he was transferred immediately after taken a prisoner.

The third brother, Pte. Harry Saunders went over with the first draft of the 33rd, and was returned several months ago. He is stationed at Carling Heights doing duty as a bayonet instructor.

All three came from Otterville, Oxford County, where the parents still reside.

LEAVES SERVICE.

Major F. B. Eaton, Canadian Permanent Army Service Corps, has vacated the appointment of assistant director of supplies and transport of this district, effective February 21, 1917, it is announced in district orders today.

Prov. Lieut. R. L. Henry, 31st Regiment (Essex Fusiliers), and Lieut. H. C. Mason, 26th Regiment (Middlesex Light Infantry), have been seconded, and Prov. Lieut. D. McCrorie, 28th (Perth) Regiment, has been retired.

Lieut.-Col. William Spittal, 7th Regiment, and Lieut. E. S. Detwiler, 6th Battery, C. F. A., have been granted leave of absence, the former from July 21 to August 2, and the latter from August 4 to August 19, both with permission to travel abroad.

ARE YOU GOING TO LADY JEAN'S SHADOW PARTY?

Will Not Be a "Spooky" Affair But Just First Social Gathering.

EXPLAINS FUNERAL RITES

Lady Jean Says She Always Sees Spirit of Departed Standing Over Grave.

The first social evening of the Church of Scientific Research, established some months ago in Sherwood Hall by Lady Jean Hooper, is being held this evening. The woman-pastor announces this will be a "shadow party."

Each lady of the congregation has been asked to bring lunch enough for two. The shadows of the ladies in turn will be thrown on a screen, and the men will bid on them. With the "shadows" the highest bidder in each case gets the original and the supper she has brought.

Lady Jean Hooper announced today that she has been quite encouraged by the interest manifested in what she has come to teach in London in regard to psychic phenomena, notwithstanding the criticisms that have been made. She expects in the near future to ordain an assistant. Up to the present time the only sacrament she has administered has been that of baptism, though, as an ordained minister of a chartered church she has the right to perform marriage ceremonies.

How Funerals Are Held.

"What about funeral services? Have you conducted any?" she was asked today by The Advertiser.

"Not here," she replied, "but in other places. We sprinkle flowers in the grave and on the casket as a symbol of the continuity of life. We simply speak of the body that is being laid in the grave as an overcoat which has been laid aside, and emphasize the fact that the real personality is there, as much alive as anyone else present. I can always see the spirit of the departed leaning over the grave, watching its own funeral. That may seem a strange thing to you, it doesn't to me, and to us who know and understand. The spirit hovers around the material body for three days after it passes out. It is probable that a subconscious understanding of this truth has made it the custom to keep bodies for three days after death before burial."

The Spirits Understand.

"Do the spirits, then, know and understand what is going on at their own funerals?" was the next question asked of the medium.

"To be sure," replied Lady Jean emphatically. "Frequently spirits are very anxious to come back and to communicate with friends or give messages. It is sometimes owing to their great anxiety and nervousness that it is very difficult to materialize them. A case which always comes prominently to my mind is that of a master mechanic of a big American railroad who lived in St. Louis. He had been a spiritualist before his death and he made nineteen efforts to be materialized by Mrs. Clara Sawyer before he had success. He spoke to an engineer friend who was present at the seance. The engineer said, 'How am I to know it is really you, Tom?'

"'You were at my funeral and you were a pall-bearer, weren't you?' said the materialized spirit.

"'Yes,' came the answer.

"'Do you remember what was said at the funeral?' The engineer did, and was convinced as the exact words were repeated and incidents related. When the dead man's wife had taken the priest in to look at the remains, the words of the reverend man were, 'Another Mason gone to hell.'

Not a Materializing Medium.

"Mrs. Sawyer," continued Lady Jean, "was the materializing medium with whom Sir Oliver Lodge and Mr. Crooks tried experiments in Boston in 1889. She was the only materializing medium in America whom I have known or known of, upon whose authenticity I would stake my life. Am I a materializing medium? No, indeed, and I would give anything if I were. There isn't one medium in 500 who is a materializing medium. The real, materializing medium is usually very fleshy, because the flesh of the medium is taken to build up the materialization. Chemists and sculptors of the spirit world are present to perform the task. In this connection it must be understood that there are two kinds of materialization, one in which the spirit body appears, visible, but intangible; the other, a real material body for the time being. The body doesn't come back cold, but warm and full of life.

"On the occasion when Sir Oliver Lodge and Mr. Crooks tried the experiments with Mrs. Sawyer in Boston, every precaution was taken to make fake a scientific impossibility. She was put in an iron cage, and after the materialization, of which photographs were taken, were over, there were deep bars all down her arms, made by the bars of the cage when her flesh passed through for the materialization.

"I have a number of spirit photographs which have been taken, and you know, it is an axiom that the camera cannot lie.

Met Mother's Spirit.

"Medium though I was, I was profoundly skeptical about a materializing medium in America until I had an experience with Mrs. Sawyer in St. Louis, when, accompanied by my husband, I went to a seance on invitation of an old gentleman, Professor Wilkinson. A number of spirits had been materialized, among them Professor Wilkinson's daughter. I hadn't known her, so I couldn't be sure whether it was a fake or not. But I was convinced when my own name was called out, and I was asked to go up to the cabinet and meet a spirit that wanted to materialize for me. It was my mother, and she put out both her hands and took mine. She always had a stiff finger, and it was this that struck me more than anything else in the materialization. 'Have you a stiff finger in the spirit world, mother?' I asked her.

"'No, my child,' she replied, 'but had I not had a stiff finger when I came to you, you would not have believed.' She then wished to be introduced to the others present, and recognized a woman and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Townsend, who had lived at our house in England. She suddenly dematerialized as she stood and talked to my husband and me."

RIDOUT ST. CHURCH HAS FINE SUCCESS AT GARDEN PARTY

The garden party last night in connection with Ridout Street Methodist Church was a fine success. Though rain fell up-town, there was none in the south, and the grounds were in perfect condition. They were lighted beautifully with dozens of Chinese lanterns and electric lights, also decorated with many flags. The ice cream booths did a rushing business. Every one was all sold out at the close. There was a fine crowd.

The program of music and readings was much enjoyed. The pastor, Rev. J. E. Holmes, introduced Mayor Stevenson as the chairman of the evening, and said the mayor had always been a good friend of Ridout Street Church. During the evening the mayor spoke of the success of the effort made in the city for increasing food production, and felt that the many gardens were a credit to the citizens. Those taking part in the program were: Corp. White, Reginald Hudson, Mrs. Eva Metcalf, Miss Myra Jones; readings, Miss Jennie Metcalf; accompanists, Mrs. R. Court and Mr. Reginald Hudson. All were thanked at the close. Ridout Street people are grateful to Mr. Flexster for the use of his grounds.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

DEATH OF ROBERT CARSON.

Robert J. Carson, aged 23, son of Fireman Joseph Carson of the C.P.R., died yesterday at the family residence, 689 Colborne street. He came to London four years ago from Tyrone, Ireland. Besides his father, he is survived by one brother, Joseph, and one sister. He was a member of Hackett L.O.L., No. 805; also of the Royal Scarlet Chapter, Enniskillen, R.B.P., No. 834, Royal Black Knights of Ireland, under whose auspices the funeral will be held. A brother, Andrew J. of the 1st Canadian Battalion, was killed in France, and a cousin, Pte. John R. McCombe of the 18th Battalion, also made the supreme sacrifice. Mr. Carson was a member of St. Paul's Cathedral, and the funeral, which will be held on Saturday to Mount Pleasant Cemetery, will be conducted by Canon Tucker.

PROVINCIAL MOTOR LAWS WILL GOVERN IN CITY

The board of control had a great deal of ordinary business to dispose of this morning.

It was decided to repeal all traffic bylaws conflicting with the provincial regulations. There is much confusion at the present time, and the controllers thought it better to have the provincial statutes govern. The latter, in the opinion of motorists, are about as clear as mud, and just as easy to understand as a Chinese puzzle. However, they will govern.

City Solicitor Meredith is preparing a new agreement with the Ajax Rubber Company, which will be ready in a day or two.

The discussion of the new garbage regulations was deferred. The aldermen will be furnished with copies, so that they will know what is proposed.

The question of street markers to regulate traffic was laid over until Controller Little could prepare a report on what was needed. The specifications for new garbage wagons were referred to Controller Saunders to check up.

The firemen's uniforms will be ordered at once.

GIANT POTATO PLANTS

Mrs. Marshall of 27 Euclid avenue, now wants to claim the championship for potato plants She has them in her garden standing 5 feet 10 inches.

FIRES AT CITY PAVING PLANT AND AT DYMENT BAKER LUMBER YARDS

Fire which originated in the shavings room at the Dyment-Baker Lumber Company's plant at noon today resulted in $75 damage before the firemen brought the blaze under control.

A spark from the boiler, it is thought, managed to get in the shavings bin, and before noticed the fire had assumed serious proportions. The blaze reached the roof through the blower pipe.

At 7 o'clock this morning the firemen were called to the city paving plant, 654 Bathurst street.

The heavy planking surrounding the ovens caught fire when the ovens became over-heated. The damage will not exceed $10.

JAMES CUMMINGS, FAMOUS ENGINEER, DIES AT HIS HOME

Former Londoner, Who Built Railways, Expires at Long Island.

James Cummings of New York, a former Londoner, died at his home on Long Island yesterday.

About a week ago he was overcome by a stroke of paralysis, and died as a result. The interment will take place in Vermont. He is survived by his wife. Mr. Cummings was well known in London. He was the son of the late Alfred Cummings, who formerly kept store at St. John's, and later lived at Hyde Park.

He left London some years ago, engaging in the electrical and contracting business. He went to Russia, here he had the contract for building the railways at Petrograd and Moscow. Mr. Cummings was for a long time a resident of London, England.

He had been living in New York of late years. He frequently visited London, and as very popular.

TAG DAY FOR COMFORTS.—A tag day to raise funds for comforts for returned wounded and invalided soldiers is being held tomorrow by the Isobel Hampton Chapter, I. O. D. E., and the members of the chapter hope to realize a large amount to assist them in their work.

BECK HAMMERS, MOORE DEFENDS CITY PAVEMENTS

Sir Adam Says City Always Got Poor Deal on Roads and Walks.

CONTROLLER DENIES THIS

Says Most Walks and Pavements Have Stood Test for Twenty Years.

There was a contentious exchange of words at the board of control this morning relative to the methods employed by the city engineer's department in constructing cement foundations for pavements.

When Sir Adam Beck was at the meeting on other matters, Controller Shaw endeavored to obtain information from him as to the sections of the Richmond street pavement with which he found objection. Sir Adam would not specify, but stated that the whole method of construction, including the specifications, was wrong.

Asserting His Rights.

"The material is improper," he declared. "The method of laying it is improper. I am not an expert, but I know that much. I have no ill-will against anybody, but I am going to assert my rights to protest against this way of putting down pavements. No other city would allow such stuff to be put down on the streets. No other place would allow stuff like that to go into buildings. Toronto would not allow it."

"Are any parts of the Richmond street pavement worse than others?" asked Controller Shaw.

"I don't know anything about that," answered Sir Adam. "I am just telling you that the whole system of construction is wrong. Our experts have said so, and they know."

Gravel Is All Right.

"I want to say that the average gravel taken from the river has the right proportions for mixing," declared Controller Moore. "It is first-class gravel. There is a great deal of difference of opinion as to the amount of water that should be used in mixing. I am in favor of plenty of water. Broken stone would be better, and I have favored the securing of a plant for breaking stone here. We must get one."

"Our experts tell us that you can screen, wash and sort the gravel, and put it in the wagons by machinery, just as cheaply as you can load this gravel by hand," said Sir Adam. "These men should know. They are paid for that kind of work. I want to say that London has had nothing but second-rate pavements, second-rate sidewalks, and second-rate curbs and gutters ever since it was a city. It is high time the system was changed."

Defends Public Works.

"We have sidewalks that have stood for 20 years, and pavements just as long, if not longer," insisted Controller Moore. "There may be some that are bad, but not many."

"Well, you have our experts' opinions, and you are getting your own," said Sir Adam. "When they are in your hands, we will know exactly where we stand."

"You might say something about the hydro shop," said Controller Moore.

Says He Refused Concrete.

"The builder would not put in the stuff with the usual amount of cement," said Controller Moore. "He insisted on putting in more cement. I don't see why broken stone is not used. The other stuff is poor."

"We are using broken stone," said Philip Pocock. "We are using gravel for the footings only."

The discussion eased off, but will be resumed when the reports are all in hand.

General Manager E. V. Buchanan, of the utilities commission, called The Advertiser to say that there was no truth in the statement that Contractor Putherbough had found the specifications wrong, and had insisted on putting in more cement.

WOMAN LAY IN A POOL OF BLOOD AFTER ASSAULT

Husband of Assailant Lays All Blame Upon Wife.

An assault, the termination of which might have been of a serious nature, occurred at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. George Brown, now living at 103 Briscoe street, attacked Mrs. G. E. Carfrae of East London with a heavy boot, inflicting serious scalp wounds and bruising Mrs. Carfrae's body to a great extent.

A warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Brown was sought by the husband of the assaulted woman at the police court yesterday.

According to Mrs. Carfrae, whose husband is Mrs. Brown's brother, she was performing certain household duties, when Mrs. Brown, who had been living at her brother's expense in his house, accosted her, accompanied by a friend, and demanded her apparel which had been kept inside the house, at the same time saying she had heard that Mrs. Carfrae was telling tales about her to other women.

"I have been doing no such thing," Mrs. Carfrae. "Before making such charges you should furnish proof of them."

Starting of Combat.

After saying this Mrs. Carfrae bent over to pick up some of Mrs. Brown's belongings and accidentally touched Mrs. Brown with her hand. The latter suddenly seized Mrs. Carfrae, who is an extremely slight woman, and with the help of her friend dragged the smaller woman to a corner and pummeled her body until she became unconscious.

The screams of Mrs. Carfrae attracted the neighbors, who found her lying in a pool of blood in a semi-conscious condition.

The police were called, but no arrest was made.

Mr. Carfrae was angry when seen by an Advertiser reporter today, and declared that his sister ought not be allowed inside a civilized community. He said that she had asked to be taken into his home, and she had been there for five days when she made the unprovoked assault.

EFFORT TO GET BAIL FOR THIS YOUNG MAN

Efforts are being made to secure bail for the 18-year-old boy who appeared before Squire Chittick yesterday and was committed for trial on a charge of having attempted to indecently assault a 13-year-old girl.

In committing him for trial, Squire Chittick pointed out the seriousness of the charge, stating that under the criminal code the accused, if convicted, was liable to two years' imprisonment, with lashes.

The alleged attempt to assault the girl was made on Sunday evening last on the way home from a buggy drive to Springbank.

DEATH OF ERNEST WILSON.

Ernest Albert Wilson, youngest son of John and Victoria Wilson, died at the home of his parents, 84 Chesley avenue, last night. He was 21 years old, and in addition to his parents is survived by three brothers and three sisters. They are Norman, Chester and Ben, Mrs. James Dunlop, Calgary; Beatrice and Velma.

The funeral will be held on Sunday to Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The services will be conducted by Rev. H. L. Ferguson.

DOMINION FUEL COMMISSION COMES TO CITY ON TUESDAY

The Dominion Fuel Commission will hold a session in the city hall on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, to meet manufacturers and others interested in soft coal.

Mayor Stevenson received a telegram today from C. A. McGrath, the chairman, stating that he, H. B. McCue, a member of the commission, C. W. Peterson of the national resources commission, J. S. Murray, secretary of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, and R. C. Harris, representing the Provincial Government, would be in London on Tuesday to discuss the situation. Mayor Stevenson some time ago sent an invitation to the commission to come here.

The manufacturers and others interested in the soft coal situation are invited to be present, and give their opinions to the commission. The whole situation will be discussed in an informal way, so that the needs of London, the supplies here, in afct, all information possible on the situation may be brought out.

The hard coal question will not be dealt with. Mayor Stevenson is hopeful that a later meeting may be held, at which that matter will be taken up.

CARRIES RED-EYE IN RADIATOR AND DOES RUSH BUSINESS AT 25 CENTS PER WHISKEY

All manner of ingenious methods for the distribution of spiritous liquors have been conceived by whiskey vendors since the Ontario temperance act came into effect, but few methods have been as original as that conceived and put into effect by a local man on Talbot street yesterday.

According to one of those who took advantage of his offer, and who told the story to The Advertiser, the man, who was driving a motor car, stopped on Talbot, near King street, and hailed some passersby to come over.

They crossed the road.

A Kind of Flying Inn.

The man on seeing them approach drew a cup from under the seat of the car, got under the radiator and emerged with the receptacle full of the fiery liquid.

A mad rush for the stuff ensued, and the contents of the cup sold for 25c. A small crowd collected, and soon the smell of the stuff permeated the immediate vicinity.

It was said that 68 drinks were sold in all at 25 cents per drink, the heat of the day making the whiskey very popular with the crowd.

Drawn From a Tap.

The stuff had been put into the radiator instead of water, and was extracted from it by opening a tap from underneath the front of the machine.

Much money was collected, and the merchant made good his exit from the neighborhood when a member of the police force appeared some hundred yards distant from the scene of the prohibited enjoyment

CITY BREVITIES

ATTEND GRAND LODGE.—George Moll, chief engineer for the McClary Manufacturing Company, and D. Freedy, chief engineer for Silverwoods, Limited, are attending the grand lodge of the Canadian Association of Stationary Engineers at Toronto this week.

DISCUSSES NEW AGREEMENT.—The finance committee of the city council will meet this evening to discuss the new Ajax Rubber Company's agreement. The session will be held in the committee rooms, when efforts will be made to get the matter straightened out.

MUST SHOW AUTHORITY.—Officers who are wearing colored patches, with staff or regimental badges on the side of their headgear, are asked to submit without delay their authority for this practice to the assistant adjutant-general of the district, in camp orders today.

MILITARY MUSICAL RIDES.—The names of men who are used to military riding, and who would like to participate in a "musical ride," are requested in camp orders today, and commanding officers are asked to ascertain if there are any such N. C. O.s or men under their command.

GOOD BUSINESS.—London reports to Bradstreet's say that in the western sections of Ontario the status of business is secure. The commercial centres are backed by a prosperous farming community. The wholesale and retail trade remains active. Collections of wholesalers and jobbers continue about normal.

COURT OF INQUIRY.—A court of inquiry will be held in the near future for the purpose of inquiring into and reporting upon the circumstances surrounding the death of Pte. L. J. Stafford, 241st Battalion, C. E. F., and camp orders state today that the officers to compose this court will be detailed by the officer commanding Central Training Depot.

BRING PLANS OF BUILDING.—Capt. Symes of the hospitals commission will be in the city on Saturday with the plans for the vocational training building to be erected on the Byron Sanatorium site for the tuberculin soldiers. Construction work on this will be started at once. He will also prepare preliminary sketches for the buildings to be erected on the Odell farm for hospital purposes.

DIVINE SERVICE AT CAMP.—The men in camp at Carling Heights will lattend divine service on the camp grounds on Sunday, instead of being allotted to the churches of the various denominations throughout the city, as has been the practice on previous Sundays. Arrangements are now being made by the authorities at headquarters to hold the service in the Y. M. C. A. hut.

CITY WILL SECURE LAND FOR $17,850 FOR NEW HOSPITAL

Board of Control Favors Purchase of Odell Farm.

BUILDINGS PERMANENT

Will Be Used Later On for Asylum Purposes, Says Sir Adam Beck.

The board of control this morning recommended to the council that about 51 acres of land be purchased at once for the site of the proposed military hospital. The Odell farm, south of the city, is the one in mind, having been approved of by the hospitals commission and the Provincial Government. Permanent buildings will be erected upon it, to be used after the war for asylum purposes.

Sir Adam Beck reported to the board of control that the hospitals commission and the Provincial Government had looked over the property and had decided upon its suitability. The city had promised to give the site, and he wanted the assurance that the land would be available.

Asks for Plans of Land.

"I received a communication from S. A. Armstrong, one of the members of the hospitals commission," said Controller Moore, "asking me for a plan of the property, showing the contour of the land, etc. City Engineer Brazier had such a plan, and it happened that Capt. Symes, in charge of the buildings for the commission, was in the city that day, and he went over it. The site is absolutely satisfactory. The plans were forwarded to the commission, and will give all the information necessary."

"The Government will have the deed of the land, as it will be used later for asylum purposes," continued Sir Adam. "The commission ask for sewers, water connection for fire protection, power and natural gas. The Government will pay for these, merely asking that the city facilitate the securing of them."

Property Cost $17,850.

Controller Moore stated that there were about 51 acres in the property, at $350 an acre, or $17,850.

On motion of Controller Shaw, it was decided to recommend the purchase of the land. This will be accomplished at once, and the Government notified of this action.

RETURNED MEN PUT BLAME FOR FAILURE ON SOLDIERS' AID

Say Citizens Always Furnish Cars When Asked.

EXPLAIN TO DUTTON D.O.E.

Secretary Asked on Day of Trip How Many Men Were Going.

Only two cars were on hand for the trip planned for the returned men at the Central Military Convalescent Hospital on Wednesday. One hundred and twenty-five men were eagerly anticipating the pleasant trip and the hospitality of the Daughters of the Empire of Dutton. As a result of the failure of London motor car owners to provide the required cars, the following letter has been sent to the D. O. E. of Dutton, explaning the failure of the returned men to put in an appearance, a copy of which has been sent to The Advertiser with the request that it be published:

London, Ont., July 27, 1917.

To the Daughters of the Empire, Dutton, Ont.:

The undersigned N. C. O.s and men wish to be brought to your notice the disappointment they experienced on Wednesday, the 25th inst.

The automobile trip to Dutton had been looked forward to with keen interest, and a good time had been anticipated, but on account of lack of cars this was denied us.

We wish it clearly understood by the ladies of Dutton that it was no fault of ours that we did not avail ourselves of your kind hospitality.

The secretary of the soldiers' aid commission 'phoned to the sergeant-major at the hospital at 10 a.m. on Wednesday and asked how many men would be going, and he replied 125, and at 2 o'clock that number were waiting at the hospital for the cars, of which only two were on hand.

All arrangements of cars, etc., for these trips are entirely in the hands of the soldiers' aid commission, and not the hospital authorities or the soldiers themselves, and the citizens of London have generously responded when previously requested for the loan of their cars.

We are, gratefully yours, S. G. Moeller, W. Flaxman, J. J. Humphreys (Sergt.), Sergt. W. Mitchell, J. Andrews, C. S. M., S. Masters, Q. M. S., F. W. Hubbard, C. S. M., G. H. Carner, Sergt., Wm. M. Stair, Sergt., G. Hamilton, Sergt., H. C. Holmne, Sergt., A. Zinch.

GIFTED CORTESE BOYS AT RECITAL

Musical Treat for Friends at Home of Mrs. Senator Coffey.

A number of music lovers had the pleasure on Thursday evening of hearing the gifted Cortese brothers—Angelo Cortese, harpist, and Joseph Cortese, violinist, at a musicale given by Mrs. Coffey and Mrs. R. M. Burns, Clontarf, Wellington street.

Conceded to be the greatest harpist before the public of this continent today, Angelo Cortese enthralled his audience by the beauty of the music he evoked from his instrument, the dazzling brilliancy of his technique, the crystal purity of tone, the infinite variety of effects, from the majestic and organ-like to those of most subtle delicacy.

His interpretations were at once richly colorful and characterized by nice sense of balance and exquisite taste.

The violin work of Joseph Cortese proved a revelation so far as his development since he was last heard here was concerned, as well as in other respects. Master of tone that is so big, rich and velvety that it is 'cello-like in quality, he is able to obtain the most tantalizingly dainty and whimsical effects. Like his brother, he is endowed with rare gift of artistic temperament and fine intellectual appreciation. His accompaniments were played by A. D. Jordan, a charming contribution to the program being a duet for violin and piano, "Molly on the Shore," by Percy Grainger.

Miss Alice Graves, dramatic soprano, and Miss Isabel Coles, contralto, were the assisting artistes, Miss Regan playing the accompaniments for the latter. Under the tuition of Arthur Lawrason in New York, Miss Graves' voice has developed in a most gratifying manner, both in quality and volume. She sings with good style and excellent dramatic appreciation, and her distinct enunciation is in itself a great.

Miss Coles, who has a most pleasing contralto voice of considerable promise, was heard in a couple of numbers, "Perhaps" (Dorothy Foster), and "The Lovers' Litany" (Holiway Atkinson), the audience insisting upon an encore.

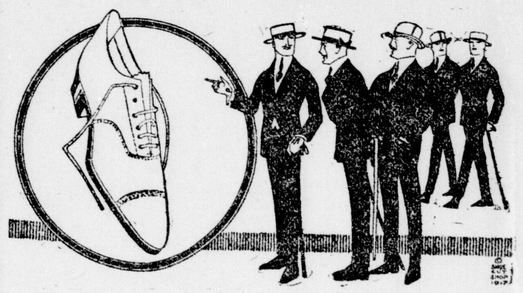

ALL CONTRIBUTIONS TO PATRIOTISM EXEMPTED BY HOUSE AT OTTAWA

The action of the House of Commons in exempting from assessment all grants given to patriotic funds from income tax is considered a vindication at the city hall of the action of Assessment Commissioner Grant in deducting $1,000 from the income assessment of Bishop Fallon.

"All those who understand the situation are agreed that this is the proper thing to do," said Mr. Grant. "I think it was only fair and just."

BRITISH GAIN UPPER HAND IN ARTILLERY DUEL IN THE WEST

Even Prussian Guard Gunners Beaten Out.

By Stewart Lyon, Special Canadian Press Correspondent in France.

Canadian Army Headquarters, July 2.—Our guns have at last definitely secured the upper hand on this part of the western front. The artillery actions by which this has been done have been in progress for several days.

With the object of challenging our ascendency in guns, the enemy recently brought up a battery of artillery attached to a Prussian guard division. These additional gunners were given practically unlimited supplies of ammunition, which they used for the bombardment of our heavy artillery positions. They were good men, and a duel took place between them and our guns in the Loos and Avion sectors. It has ceased now. The counter-battery work of the British and Canadian gunners proved too much for even the highly-trained artillerists of the Prussian Guard and their activity is now subnormal.

Perhaps the question of shell supply had something to do with the lessening of the enemy fire. It is certain that the Germans are experiencing increasing difficulty in replacing the projectiles used so prodigally in these bursts of activity.

A letter from a relative to a soldier on this front, dated July 16, stated that on the previous day the bells of the Protestant and Catholic churches in the village in which the writer lived had been removed to provide material for shells. Having stripped the cities of brass and copper, the German metal controller is now taking the village bells.

The use alike of drums containing liquid fire projected into the enemy's lines and gas shells increases steadily. The British are also going more freely in for gas warfare, which is the most terrible of all forms of taking life seen here at the front. Yesterday eighteen tons of gas was sent over the enemy's line in Lievin sector, with practically no retaliation.

MILITARY BONUS FOR MEN WHO SERVED AT FRONT IS ARRIVING

First Payment Is Being Received and Distributed.

Checks covering the amount of the first payment of the three months' pay to be given to men discharged from the Canadian overseas forces are now being received from Ottawa, and are being mailed to the men from the office of Lieut. L. G. Goldsborough, paymaster of F Unit, Military Hospitals Commission Command, at the Central Military Convalescent Hospital.

The checks are coming in very slowly, and in small batches of from half a dozen to fifteen or twenty, and as soon as they are received here they are at once mailed to the men for whom they are made out.

Expects Faster Work.

In all about fifty have been received, according to Lieut. Goldsborough, who informed The Advertiser today, that they are coming in faster now than at first, and that steadily-increasing number may be expected from now on, as the staff at Ottawa, which was at first unable to cope with the amount of work entailed, has been increased, and is now busily at work collecting information required from discharged men all over the country, so that the checks may be issued as quickly as possible.

Must Make Affidavit.

Men who are discharged from the hospital here are not given the checks, but they must fill out a form giving the required information, make an affidavit that is correct, and return it to Ottawa. When this affidavit has been received at Ottawa the officials there then forward the check to Lieut. Goldsborough, and he remails it to the man as soon as it is received.

Every man honorably discharged after the required term of service overseas is to receive the pay and allowance of his rank, but apparently no particular system, or order, is being followed at the present time, checks being issued as fast as the information required is obtained. Some of the checks received here have been for men discharged a year ago, and others were for men who left the service only a few months ago.

IS LONDON WILLING TO DRIVE FARMERS AWAY FROM MARKET BY CROWDING WIVES IN CELLAR?

Lambeth Man Who Makes Ring ing Criticism of Present Policy Calls on City To Improve Conditions, and To Give Produce Bringers Fine, Free Service.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Two years ago I wrote you from the Pacific coast. That communication requested you, through The London Advertiser, to urge improved conditions, both in buildings and street paving of the London market. I fully appreciate the wide influence and the extensive circulation of The London Advertiser in Western Canada. Your voice is potent, as it reaches the eyes and ears of a multitude six days of every week of the year, such as no orator or statesman of this earth could approach. The public press is an unending spring of education.

If you printed what I sent you two years ago, (while I was visiting the Pan-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco), on the subject of needed improvements of the London market, it seems to have had no more influence than a common jay bird would have at a county fair. So I come to you again. What will you do about it? Will you allow the farmers' wives and daughters of Middlesex and adjoining counties to be insulted without raising your vehement protest?

BEE HIVE OF SPLENDID WOMEN.

On Saturday I visited the old, dirty basement of the market house. It was a sight I shall not forget, as that wet, sloppy, dingy room of about 160 feet long by 30 feet wide, held a beehive of splendid women, old and young, from the farms, who had brought their fresh products to feed the hungry mouths of sixty or more thousand people.

Upon inquiry I learned that the building where the wives and daughters of farmers have assembled for years with their eggs, butter, and vegetables, has been taken away from them. It is reported that it is to be remodeled for the hucksters, florists and vegetable gardeners in London vicinity. That is all right for the gardeners are entitled to covered accommodations. They, with their wagons and horses or autos, like the farmers, should be protected from the storms of winter and the hot sun and dust of summer. Give it to them.

If the hucksters and gardeners are important to London, and we say they are most important, where do the farmers stand in comparison If it were not for the rich, splendid agricultural products that reach London three market days of the week from the farms, the thousands comprising the Forest City would starve, unless the steam or electric lines would bring food products from other counties.

BIG ENOUGH TO BE FAIR.

London is big enough physically and strong enough financially to show reasonable consideration to the farmers. The very life of London, quite different from many other cities is almost entirely agricultural. Of course, London is a strong manufacturing city, too. All these interests have a commonality. With an excellent climate, pure water, splendid educational institutions, and one of the very best agricultural producing areas on the globe, London must and will grow rapidly in commercial strength and social influence.

Those responsible for the gross insult to the good women of Middlesex had better consider, reverse their action and resume some sane judgment. Surely they should judge better and more highly of the dignity of farm life, and the respect due to every man, woman, boy or girl who digs the soil to sustain the world.

The city officials may learn necessary lessons if they visit Stratford, Toronto, Brantford or Chatham. No farmers' wives in basements in those cities. The various products are classified. I am advised that the market house of Stratford receives sufficient revenues from meat and kindred products to pay all expenses annually. No market fees or tax should be levied against farm productions.

ENCOURAGE THE FARMERS.

If other cities erect good, suitable buildings, with good light, concrete floors and other modern and necessary improvements for the comfort and convenience of the good women who help to feed those cities, why not London? The market places of many cities in Canada and so all over the world, indicate that those cities appreciate and try to encourage the good women of the rural sections to come to the cities. Where the masses go, as a rule, prosperity is evident.

Will you help wake up the drowsy city officials, call a meeting of the finance committee, have the street engineering department and architectural represented, macadamize the market place, then surface it with asphalt for sanitary purposes, corrugate it at convenient places, so there will be no slipping of man or beast, build sheds for the protection and convenience of every man, woman, team, wagon or auto that comes to the London market?

Calculate that 150,000 people will make their homes and be an asset to London in less than 25 years. Each generation builds for the future, not the past, so construct modern market buildings, with good ventilation, light, tables, chairs or stools and all other comforts for the men and women who bring butter, eggs, poultry, fruits and vegetables to feed the people.

DRIVEN TO WHOLESALERS.

Men and women told me Saturday that they would go to the wholesalers rather than be insulted, others told me they live near Tempo, Talbotville and places more convenient for them to market their wares in St. Thomas. Please measure what this means. Figure what the labor and shop people of London would have to pay for necessities if the farmers decide on such action.

The subject is too important to be trifled with or to be sidetracked. The life, growth and prosperity of London is dependent upon the country around. Will the taxpayers and merchants and commercial organizations look into this? Will London care for those who feed it? Will you show evidence that you honor and respect the oldest, most necessary, and what should and will be, the most dignified profession of the world—farming?

SEVERAL NEW SERIOUS WORKS AT CITY LIBRARY DEAL WITH MEN AND AFFAIRS OF CANADA

A number of books of very decided Canadian interest at the present time are included in this week's additions at the public library. The new life of James J. Hill by Pyle will be read with interest by the people of this country, with whose railway affairs Hill was closely connected. The question of railway nationalization is dealt with in Moore's Railway Nationalization, while the question of general compulsory service is dealt with in Merritt's Canada and National Service.

Several new war books that will be read with interest are included in the latest additions. Empey's "Over the Top" is one of the most graphic pictures of the fighting on the west front that has yet appeared, while "In the Claw of the German Eagle," by Williams, gives a thrilling account of prisoner experiences. What the great volunteer auxiliary forces of England are doing at home to help win the war is well told in Bowser's "Britain's Civilian Volunteers." The full list of additions is as follows:

Philosophy, Religion and Sociology.

Simonis, The Street of Ink; Rashdall, Theory of Good and Evil; Hancock, Archaeology of the Holy Land; Stokes, What Jesus Christ Thought of Himself; Talbot, Thoughts on Religion at the Front; Burgess, Reconciliation of Government With Liberty; Atteridge, Famous Modern Battles; Merritt, Canada and National Defence; Moore, Railway Nationalization.

Science and Useful Arts.

Schofield, Border Land of Science; Clute, Ferns in Their Haunts; Husband, America at Work; Cabot, Layman's Handbook of Medicine; Barbour, Story of the Automobile; Collins, Keeping Up With Your Motor Car; Bailey, Principles of Vegetable Gardening; Hall, The Garden Yard; Hunn, Practical Garden Book; Prince, Letters to a Young Housekeeper; Cahill, Office Practice; Iosull, Central Station Electric Service.

Fine Arts.

Farnsworth, Ideals and Tendencies of Modern Art; Radford, Dante Gabriel Rossetti; Anderson, Pictorial Landscape Photography; Towees, Balance of Light and Shade in Portraiture; Bell, Fairy Tale Plays; Mackay, Silver Threads; Richards, Fairy Operettas; Parret, Lawn Tennis Lessons.

Literature.

London, The Human Drift; Tucker, S. Weir Mitchell; Hodgson, Poems; Noyes, Open Boats; Oxenham, All's Well; Underwood, War Flames; De Maupassant, Second Odd Number; Dostoievesky, Crime and Punishment; Dostoievesky, Eternal Husband.

Travel, History and Biography.

Middleton, Vagabond's Odyssey; Way, Round the World for Gold; Demilt, Ways and Days Out of London; Gleason, Inside the British Isles in 1917; Ackermann, Germany the Next Republic; Kennedy, A Tramp in Spain; Whiting, Canada, the Spell Binder; Hawthorne, Old Seaport Towns of New England; Herbert, Modern Europe 1789 to 1914; Bowser, Britain's Civilian Volunteers; Brandes, World at War; Dawson, For France; Empey, Over the Top; Wells, Italy; France and Britain at War; Williams, In the Claw of the German Eagle; Sloane, The Balkans; Latourette, Development of China; Moseley, With Kitchener in Cairo; Levi, Jan Smuts; Wrong, Federation of Canada; Foord, Life of Andrew H. Green; Pyle, Life of James J. Hill, 2 volumes; Morgan, Recollections of a Rebel Reefer; Wood, Winnowed Memories.

Fiction.

IMPOSSIBLE TO GET ENOUGH FISH TO SUPPLY LONDON

Dealers Claim That Appeal of the Government Is Unreasonable.

That the citizens have not responded to the Government's appeal to eat more fish, and that, if they did, there would not be a large enough supply obtainable to meet the increased demand, were statements made to The Advertiser by local fish dealers yesterday. The dealers claim that it is almost impossible to obtain fish during the hot weather, and that great difficulty is experienced in keeping them in good condition because of the heat.

The shortage in the supply is due to the fact that the shoals of lake fish swim out to the deeper water during the hotter weather, and only a few remain in the stretches on which the fishing boats usually ply, one dealer asserts.

One boat returned from its trip on Thursday with only 200 pounds of fish on board, and other vessels made equally small catches.

Large Export Trade.

Another cause of the scarcity and high prices existing here, local men claim, is that the fishermen at Port Stanley carry on a large export trade, supplying the markets of the United States before anything is offered for home consumption. For the small amount that is left the fishermen are able to ask any price they like, and the dealers here must accept it or go without the supply. Dealers here claim that their profit on most varieties is not more than 4 cents a pound, when freight and overhead charges are paid. In the case of pickerel, one dealer stated to The Advertiser that on Thursday morning he paid 14 cents a pound at Port Stanley. Freight charges brought the cost to approximately 15 cents a pound, and he sold the fish here for 18 cents.

This dealer stated that another cause of the shortage was that the big catches usually made each year from the big gravel bank near the Port had not been as large for the past two or three seasons. The fish come there in the fall to spawn, and the huge hauls made at that season were chiefly due to this. The effect on the supply was serious, however. There are closed seasons only on a few of the varieties, such as yellow pickerel and salmon trout. The fishermen are allowed to take the other varieties all the year around, and even during the spawning season.

Many Fine Fish.

Ontario waters supply many kinds of food fish, whitefish, salmon trout and herring being chiefly in demand. Pickerel, pike, burbot, carp, perch, catfish and eels are almost as good food, and are quite as palatable when properly cooked. They are cheaper than the other varieties.

The Government claims that a regular and increasing demand for fish would tend to reduce prices, asserting that overhead charges would be almost the same on ten times the quantity as on that which is being used. Dealers do not hold this view, but think that the cost would rise steadily with the demand.

According to the Government, Ontario lakes and rivers are teeming with suitable food. Fish, it claims, possesses high food value, as it contains both protein, the body-building compound, and fat, the energizing compound, in good proportions, and is, in addition, more easily digested and more readily assimilated to the bodily needs than meat.

HUSSARS ENLISTING MEN AT GOOD RATE

Men are coming in at a good rate to enlist in the 1st Hussars Draft-Giving Depot at Carling Heights camp, and the depot is again up to a strength of 35 men, after sending away a draft of 100 men only a short time ago. Major Stewart, officer in command of the depot, is away on a recruiting tour through Western Ontario towns, and a party of fifteen recruits are expected to report at the depot in the near future.

FIVE FROM STATES COME TO SIGN UP

Only three men offered themselves at the Armories yesterday, and all were passed as fit by the medical board. R. S. Halke reported from Denver, and the other two, C. Close and L. E. Burkholder, came from London.

Today five men arrived from across the line—James Daniels, East Liverpool, Ohio; Frank Kerrigan, East Akron, Ohio; James Murphy, El Paso, Texas; George Davis, Cleveland, and Harry J. Watson, Savannah, Georgia.

MEMORIAL SERVICE AT FATHER'S CHURCH FOR LATE GORDON McINTOSH

At the King Street Presbyterian Church a service in memory of Driver Leonard Gordon McIntosh, son of Rev. W. R. McIntosh, the pastor, who was killed in action recently, will be conducted by Rev. Dr. McCrae, assisted by Capt. A. Graham, lately returned from the front, on Sunday. The elders of the church have arranged that the "Last Post" be sounded at the conclusion of the service, and Major Cameron, who was the young man's commanding officer during his training in this city, will be present. Many of the young man's school friends will be present.

YOUNGEST CANADIAN IN TRENCHES NOW KILLED

Montreal, July 27.—(Montreal Gazette).—Pte. Auguste Doris, said to be the youngest soldier who went to the front with any of the Canadian contingents, and probably one of the youngest soldiers of the Empire to go into the trenches, who has been missing since last fall, is now listed as presumed to be dead. He apparently fell in the battle of the Somme, in which his battalion, a French-Canadian regiment, was engaged.

THREE VALUABLE CARGOES.

Boston, July 27.—What was said to be the largest cargo of indigo brought to the United States in several years arrived here recently on board a steamship from a port in India. South African wool and Philippine hemp came in large quantities on two other vessels, and the cargoes of the three steamers had an estimated value of more than three million dollars.

TO CUT BARLEY.

Roland, Man., July 27.—If the weather continues favorable, cutting will commence today in a field of barley there. A big yield is promised.

THE GREATEST CLOTHING VALUE In Canada Today!

Thanks to our foresight and tremendous preparations, neither this National Tailoring Institution nor its customers are at the mercy of a panic-stricken woollen market. Our price has not been affected and not influenced by the present high cost of materials. Though our stock of woollens have almost doubled in value since its purchase about a year ago, our price remains the same as heretofore.

Because we make clothes to order for thousands of men through our chain of tailor shops from coast to coast we retail a custom tailor's craftmanship on the wholesaler's profit margin, and make it unnecessary for any man to pay more than $16 for a well tailored, perfect fitting suit to his individual order. Come tomorrow and see our range of fabrics and learn why we can give you the greatest value in the Dominion.

Always $16 To Measure

If you are not convenient to one of our stores, write to Head Office, 256-258 Richmond street west, Toronto, for our patented self-measurement form, style book and samples of cloth. We guarantee perfect satisfaction by mail.

OFFER THREE BEARS TO UTILITIES BOARD FOR SPRINGBANK ZOO

Hen-Hawk Can Also Be Secured if It Is Wanted.

The utilities commission will have quite a zoo at Springbank, if the gifts increase. At the meeting yesterday afternoon, Commissioner T. W. McFarland reported that three bears had been offered the commission. In addition, he had received an offer of a hen-hawk. The gifts will be accepted, and General Manager E. V. Buchanan instructed to get prices on a bear cave. Chairman Philip Pocock stated that he received a communication asking that the city accept a fourth bear. All are black fellows, mostly cubs. Mr. Pocock thought there should be a lot of rabbits at the park, and some will be obtained. The question of more deer will also be taken up with the Government.

The hydro-electric commission will be asked to settle the dispute between the city council and the commission, relative to street lighting rates. The report of Controller Shaw and Ald. Harley was presented to the commission. It was stated in this that the city was not responsible for the cost of extra lights on Queen's avenue, Dundas or other streets, nor for the lights at the intersections, as the commission had promised to bear the cost.

Should Be Adjusted.

This was denied by Chairman Pocock. He also stated that London's streets were badly lighted, as compared with other cities. However, he thought that the hydro commission should adjust the matter, as it controlled all rates.

It was decided to hold the next meeting of the commission on August 8, and then the commission would adjourn until the first Thursday in September. New laboratories will be erected at Springbank, the present accommodation not being sufficient. The work will cost about $1,000.

Tenders for the plumbing of the new hydro shop were received and opened, and referred to H. F. Elliott, consulting engineer, and General Manager Buchanan. A report on the cost of a steam-heating plant will also be given the board. General Manager Buchanan will take up the question of a party wall between the hydro shop and the city hall with Building Inspector Piper at once.

O. W. Cambridge complained that his water bill was too high, and a reduction of $2 was made him.

It was reported to the commission that the Foster well water was pure, both the local analysts and the provincial analysts finding it clear of colon bacilli. It will be turned into the mains at once.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

AJAX RUBBER BYLAW.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Dear Sir,—As a letter, signed "Ratepayer," appearing in last night's Advertiser, asks me to explain the terms of the Ajax bylaw (voting on which has now been temporarily delayed), I am glad to grasp this opportunity to do so, and in advance acknowledge my indebtedness to you for valuable space placed at my disposal for this purpose.

"Ratepayer" has made, apparently, a genuine effort to understand the bylaw from the sources at his disposal, viz.: the legal agreement as published and the company's advertisements. With regard to the latter, the company has taken every precaution to place the facts honestly before the ratepayers, and al itheir advertisements were submitted for approval to two members of the board of control appointed by that body for the purpose. I think it may safely be assumed, that before a vote was taken, every phase of the agreement would have been set forth in their advertisements, if it lay within their power to do so, and certainly, opportunity would have been, and will be, given to all ratepayers to ask questions at the public meetings to be held.

Not being a lawyer, I do not care to enter into any public discussion regarding the legal agreement. The city council has decided to withdraw the original agreement because of its ambiguity, as it was found that there were differences of opinion in their minds regarding the interpretation of the terms expressed in legal form. A new bylaw is being prepared which, it is hoped, will remove all the features which have been open to criticism, and some new clauses are being inserted which will further safeguard the city's interests.

Personally, I do not think the average man who has not had the advantages of a legal training, is qualified to give a correct interpretation of the average legal document, and would mention just one instance in support of this belief, viz.: the Ontario temperance act, which has been law for six months and concerning which the law courts are still being called upon to decide upon the interpretation of certain of its clauses.

In order, therefore, to place the issue involved in the bylaw as clearly before the ratepayers as it is possible for me to do, let us assume that the bylaw has been passed and proceed to set forth in detail what the company and what the city would do in carrying out their respective agreements as authorized by the ratepayers.

The company would purchase a site in London and erect thereon a factory with machinery and manufacturing accessories, such as cores, molds and tools, which are required in building tires. In this, let us say, they invest the full value of the guaranteed bonds authorized by the bylaw, viz.: $450,000. This sum may be more, but the city may not guarantee bonds for more than that amount. It may be less, but not less than $300,000, as the company mentioned this sum as the minimum cost of land, buildings and plant at the request of the council. The company would employ at least 250 people every day in the year for twenty years, 60 per cent of these would be adult male, and would pay at least $250,000 annually in wages, and manufacture 900 tires every day. Before applying for the city's guarantee of bonds they would have to satisfy the city that they had a plant actually in operation, which would fully comply with all the stipulated requirements and produce all vouchers, agreements and documents which would be necessary to satisfy the city that they could manufacture 900 tires a day, that they had invested $450,000; that they were employing and might reasonably be expected to employ 250 hands, and that they were paying and might reasonably be expected to pay at the rate of $250,000 a year.

Mortgage on Plant.

Before, also, the guarantee of bonds is asked, the company have to secure the city as to the principal of the bonds, which would be done by this means: an agreement would be entered into with a trust company (approved of by the city) to guarantee the principal of the bonds as they mature, $225,000 in ten years, and $225,000 in twenty years, for a consideration paid now in cash or securities. If the trust company agree to allow them 5½ pre cent, payable annually, they must pay in cash or in securities $208,835.70. If the rate of interest allowed by the trust company is less than 5½ per cent the amount paid will, of course, be larger. The trust company would be required to guarantee to the company and to the city that the principal of the bonds as they mature would be forthcoming. By this means the city is secured of the full amount of the principal of the bonds guaranteed. As security for the interest on the bonds the company would give a first mortgage on the fully-equipped factory, on which they were able to show value for $450,000, presuming, of course, that guarantee of bonds to that amount was asked. The interest on the bonds for this amount ($450,000) is, at 6 per cent (the rate at which the bonds are issued), $27,000 a year for the first ten years and $13,500 for the second ten years, or $405,000 spread over twenty years. This amount is guaranteed by the city, and is really the only sum which we guarantee, which is not already provided for. During the first ten years this sum is very substantially reduced, the amount at the end of that period being $135,000. The mortgage is on a plant fully equipped and in running order, having a capacity of 900 tires a day or for 300 days, 270,000 a year. In addition to the security afforded by the mortgage, it is only fair to give consideration to the security offered by the business, for which the plant is built.

In the first place, the rubber business is one of the, if not the, most profitable of manufacturing industries today. At Akron, Ohio, the rubber centre of the world, eight to ten thousand houses are needed now, despite the fact that 2,637 dwellings were erected last year, and 1,808 other buildings, aggregating $12,000,000 in cost. The city has grown 74 per cent in six years—all through rubber.

Guarantee Assured.

Management is also important, and a guarantee will be secured before the city is asked to take a dollar of risk, that the company will be controlled and managed by one of the most successful rubber companies in the world. The reasonable supposition is, that the business would not only be successful, but would before long greatly increase the original proportions.

If, in every business transaction, there was demanded absolute elimination of risk, most business as we know it today, would cease. Successful business is, largely, calculating where risk may be safely taken. England is strong today, not because of her agricultural or natural resources, but because of her manufactures, and the money she has expended to develop foreign trade. If she had taken no risks in her industries in the past (as every industry involves an element of risk), she would long ago have been at the mercy of Germany.

A manufacturer in securing a suitable plant, purchasing raw material and engaging help, takes risk that he will get adequate return for his money, but if he is engaged in a profitable business (such as rubber), has demonstrated his ability to manufacture successfully elsewhere and has capital enough to carry on his business, the chances of failure are reduced to a minimum. At any rate, municipalities every year are accepting such risks as this, and the ratepayers would be unfair to their own interests if they did not consider the value, in addition to the mortgage, of the security and prospects of the business now under consideration.

The new agreement will make the city absolutely sure that before the guarantee of bonds is asked, that the operating company (one of the largest in the world, as already stated) will control and operate the Canadian plant, and will invest all money raised by bonds guaranteed by the city in the Canadian plant. We have, therefore, the assurance that if the city is asked to guarantee the bonds to the extent of $450,000, and before the city is asked to do so that we will have a plant in operation in London costing that sum; that over $208,000 has been placed with a trust company to meet, with accumulated interest, the bonds as they mature, a total investment of over $650,000, and the absolute guarantee from the controlling and operating company that the proceeds of the bonds will be applied for the purposes of the Canadian company in the Canadian plant at London. The total amount invested, therefore, in addition to whatever sum the shareholders of the company invest, will be $650,000 plus $450,000, $1,100,000 invested, or available for working capital, in the London plant. It should be noted that the total value of guaranteed bonds authorized in the bylaw is used throughout this letter, and the fact should also be noted that if the amount invested in plant and buildings is less than that sum—$450,000—the amount of bonds guaranteed will be reduced proportionately, so that if the plant and machinery were only valued for $300,000, the amount of bonds guaranteed would be for $200,000 also.

It is perhaps unnecessary to argue London's need for new industries. With an area almost as large as Hamilton's, and a population of a little over half, it stands to reason that our overhead expenses must be reduced in order to bring down our taxes. In order to decrease expenses per capita we must increase the population of revenue-producing citizens, and London will find it hard to equal again the proposal, as regards monetary advantage in wages paid, and the security offered, contained in the proposed Ajax bylaw.

As there is reason to believe that certain interests do not wish another rubber factory to be established in Canada, I think it only fair, in the city's interests, that I reserve the right to refuse to reply in future to communications on this subject unless the name of the writer is made known.

Yours truly,
GORDON PHILIP,
Industrial Commissioner.

QUERIES ANSWERED.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

I see your subscribers sometimes apply to you for information and to solve difficulties.

1. Do you know if there is duty on dahlia and other roots coming into Canada from the United States, and if so, what is the rate?

2. A friend in the States sent me a small parcel, and on the wrapper was marked, "Total collection, 25 cents." After some weeks I got a letter from the express company demanding an additional sum of 38 cents, and valuing the parcel at $5. Do you think that they can collect this of me?

I would very much like your opinion on this subject. MRS. JAMES SCOTT.

Ans.—1. Twenty-five per cent and 7½ per cent war tax.
2. Yes.

REMARKS ON SERMON ON SPIRITUALISM BY REV. BYRON SNELL.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Dear Sir,—I am asking your indulgence to allow me space to make a few remarks on the above-mentioned sermon.

The reverend gentleman states that he has given several years of study to the phenomena of spiritualism and has arrived at conclusions satisfactory to himself. I have no doubt but he is sincere in this, but he has not made a thorough investigation. He has only entered the A B C of investigation, and consequently has not had satisfactory experiences. There is nothing mysterious or supernatural in the phenomena. They are all easily accounted for in natural law.

His sermon contains the following assumptions:

1. That the subjective mind is the key to unlock the mystery of so-called supernatural manifestations of spiritualism.
2. That the medium can only tell what is in your own mind.
3. That hypnotism may also account for the manifestations.
4. That mind over matter has a great deal to do with it.
5. That the departed cannot return.

These are all assumptions, but not proven facts. He claims to establish number two assumption by quoting the case of Saul and Samuel and through the Witch of Endor. He states that the Witch of Endor did not bring back Samuel and that she was the one that talked to Saul.

In I. Samuel 28: xv., it says: "And Samuel said unto Saul, why," etc., and to the end of the 19th verse talks directly to Saul, which is entirely contrary to the statement of the reverend gentleman.

He claims to establish assumption No. 5 by quoting the case of the rich man and Lazarus, but here again the text does not back up his statement that spirits cannot return. The text in Good Book does not say that one could not return to the brethren of the rich man, but asserts that they would not believe if one rose from the dead. There are hundreds today that would not believe even if one returned from the spirit side of life. The Bible is full of instances of spirits returning and talking to mortals, also spirit writings and spirit materializations.

I have made during nearly twenty years a thorough investigation of the phenomena under most critical tests and under all kinds of conditions, and will give to the reverend gentleman a few instances as facts for his careful thought.

1. My daughter passed out several years ago and shortly after my wife also. I have many times had distinct conversations with them, not through the medium's voice, but their own distinct and natural voices, and on one occasion I asked my daughter to sing a verse of one of my favorite hymns. She did so, and she took the notes as clear and distinct as she ever did in life. Others in this city were present at the seance and heard her.

2. At another time my departed wife told me about certain business transactions between two members of my family that should be adjusted. I did not know of such, but when I visited them I found it just as my wife stated and got the matter arranged.

3. At another time my present wife and I were at a seance (private). We had communication with twenty-two of our relatives inside of two hours, frequently two of them speaking at the same time. My mother spoke in her broad Scotch, which no one could have imitated.

4. At another time, when on a journey, a gentleman in this city died and at a seance in another city he told me of his decease and described the circumstances which I verified on my reaching home.

5. My daughter at one time materialized right before me, called me papa and placing her head on my shoulder talked for several minutes about her children and gradually vanished as she had came.

I might give a score of similar instances. The above are facts. I was not hypnotized nor had the subjective mind anything to do with it. There are hundreds and perhaps thousands of messages daily taking place between spirits from the spirit world and their friends on the earth plane. They are glad of the opportunity to come to their friends. They are continually near us and take an interest in all that we are doing. Yours truly,

AJAX.

THE NEXT PREMIER OF CANADA.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

"The wish may be father to the thought," but I find myself believing that the next premier of Canada will be: (1) An expert parliamentarian, to lead with dignity the new House of Commons, composed largely of men, little, if at all, practiced in parliamentary procedure and even, perhaps, somewhat inclined to be impatient of limitations and directions imposed by the wisdom of the past. (2) A bilingual orator, having equal facility in both the languages of Hansard, to act as an expert and sympathetic interpreter between the two racial elements represented by these languages. (3) A man above suspicion of that vilest of faults in a statesman, "the love of money." (4) A statesman having the British ideal of government, amplified and clarified by the American vision. (5) A leader, uncompromising (in matters of principle), in matters of policy accommodating. (6) An antagonist determined to insist that no dispute is settled until it is settled right. (7) A man that when placed in power will lay strong hands and swift on Canada's surplus wealth; but will be very careful how he lays a hand at all on the weakest of her sons. (8) A man of picturesque personality, that will appeal to the imaginations of the Europeans, when he sits with them to deliberate on the terms of peace. (9) In a word, to adapt Lowell's characterization of Abraham Lincoln:

"The kindly, earnest, brave, foreseeing man,
Sagacious, patient, dreading praise, not blame;
New birth of our new soil, the first Canadian."

May The Good God (Le Bon Dieu) grant us such a man for our great hour, and may the Son of Mary strengthen him to fulfill his task.

Will those who believe with me join with me in the prayer? Should our hopes be realized, I would suggest that in the new House of Commons, the old party names be dropped and the parties representing the inevitable two ideals of policy (let us hope that the ideals of principle will be the same in both parties) shall be called respectively His Majesty's Loyal Supporters of the Government and His Majesty's Loyal Critics of the Government.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

A Simple, Safe and Reliable Way That Calls for No Ugly Trumpets, Phones or Other Instruments.

To be deaf is very annoying and embarrassing. People who are deaf are generally mighty sensitive on this subject. And yet many deaf folks carry around instruments that call attention to their infirmity. Therefore people who are hard of hearing, who suffer from head noises, or who are actually deaf from catarrhal trouble, will be glad to know of a simple recipe that can be easily made up at home for a few cents' cost that is really quite efficient in relieving the disagreeable deafness and head noises caused by catarrh.

From any drug store get one ounce of Parmint (double strength) about 75c worth. Take this home and put it into a simple syrup made of ¼ pint of hot water and four ounces of ordinary granulated sugar. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.

This treatment should by tonic action reduce the inflammation in the middle ear that a catarrhal condition would be likely to cause and with the inflammation gone the distressing head noises, headaches, cloudy thinking and that dull feeling in the ears should gradually disappear. Anyone who suffers from catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises should give Parmint a trial. It is pleasant to take and is quite inexpensive.

CONCRETE

Forms the "high" road to national prosperity.

Before we can take our rightful place among the nations, we must eliminate road inefficiency and road waste. Canada has been a long time awakening to this great fact; but with the full realization will come prompt action. Now that the campaign for better highways has commenced, we may look for rapid progress. What is needed first of all is more widespread appreciation of all that concrete means, and to accomplish that, we offer, free to all, our books which prove the complete superiority of

MOST EMINENT MEDICAL AUTHORITIES INDORSE IT

Dr. Eberle and Dr. Braithwaite as well as Dr. Simon—all distinguished authors—agree that whatever may be the disease, the urine seldom fails in furnishing us with a clue to the principles upon which it is to be treated, and accurate knowledge concerning the nature of disease can thus be obtained. If backache, scalding urine or frequent urination bother or distress you, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, gout or sciatica, or you suspect kidney or bladder trouble just write Dr. Pierce at the Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.; send a sample of urine and describe symptoms. You will receive free medical advice after Dr. Pierce's chemist has examined the urine—this will be carefully done without charge, and you will be under no obligation. Dr. Pierce during many years of experimentation has discovered a new remedy which he finds is thirty-seven times more powerful than lithia in removing uric acid from the system. If you are suffering from backache or the pains of rheumatism, go to your best druggist and ask for a 50-cent box of "Anuric" put up by Dr. Pierce. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak women and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the blood have been favorably known for the past forty years and more. They are standard remedies today—as well as Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for the liver and bowels. You can get a large trial package for 10c of any one of these remedies by writing Dr. Pierce.

Doctor Pierce's Pellets are unequalled as a Liver Pill. One tiny, sugar-coated Pellet a dose. Cure Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels.

THE FINNISH DIFFICULTY.

A RUSSIAN, writing in the New York Outlook, gives his country's viewpoint as to Finland. He compares its relation to Russia with that of Cuba to the United States. The American Republic would not tolerate an independent Cuba virtually controlled by Germany. Similarly, Finland, which is pro-German and has been sedulously cultivated by German agents, business houses and tourists for a number of years back, would be a risky neighbor to Petrograd if allowed to become independent.

The Finns have not been forced to serve in the Russian armies for this war. Six thousand of them have fought as volunteers in the German army. If the Finnish Government should carry out its plan of a complete secession from Russia, such a move would be likely to be followed up by an alliance with Germany. In fact, the Germans would not wait for an alliance, but would probably start at once for Finland, do some fraternizing and camerading in their usual greasy way, and then poke an army into Finnish ports. The landing of German troops in Finland would bring them to within 30 or 40 miles of Petrograd on the northwest. The supposed case of Cuba and the United States is as nothing to that of Finland and Russia in such an event. It would be better for Great Britain to have the Germans in occupation of a seceded Ireland than for Russia and the Allies to see Finland in the enemy's grasp.

Supposing that the Russian armies succeed in stemming back the Teutons in Volhynia and Galicia, the secession of Finland, if unsuppressed, would give the enemy's fleet an iron grip on the Upper Baltic and the approach to Petrograd via the Gulf of Finland. It would permit the easy passage of food supplies from Russia through the pro-German state. Clearly the Entente Allies no more than Russia itself can regard the possible secession of Finland as an event to be calmly endured. The Russian Government should assure the Finns, at any rate, of autonomy, while making it plain that independence, for the present at least, will not be allowed.

THE WRONG SITE.

IF IT IS true that the commission and Government have decided to select the O'Dell farm as the site for the new returned soldiers' hospital, it is a great mistake. Sir Adam Beck is apparently urging haste to have the deal closed as soon as possible. Haste is usually a cause for suspicion. There is good reason to believe that the Government and commission have come to no agreement in the matter at all, and, if they did, it would not justify the selection of the O'Dell site.

London View is far better. Everyone knows that London View has many advantages over the O'Dell site. It commands the best view anywhere near London. It overlooks the city to the north and east, and has a beautiful view to the west. It is only a short distance from the street railway. It is on the line of the London and Lake Erie, has natural gas and hydro power and electricity, has city water, and can have the best of sewerage. As a healthy spot it cannot be excelled, and this is equally true as to convenience.

The O'Dell site is selected not because it is equal to the London View, but because it is on the London and Port Stanley, which must be bolstered up. It is a mile and a half from a street car, and in no way can be compared to London View.

If the O'Dell site is chosen in preference to London View, it cannot be justified. It is unjust to the returned soldier in every way. It would not be as cheerful or healthy, will cost a great deal more for water and sewerage. It is inconvenient and out of the way. The returned soldier should be dealt with honestly, and the selection of the O'Dell site, if made, is not an honest selection.

A GOOD SUGGESTION.

DR. LYMAN ABBOTT, one of the best of living men, suggests that Julia Ward Howe's "Battle Hymn of the Republic" be made the battle hymn of all the Allied nations.

It is not in any sense local or necessarily belonging to any nation, Lyman Abbott says. "It is an international hymn of liberty." In the Outlook he compares it with "The Star Spangled Banner," which applies only to New England, while "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" applies to the whole country. "It is equally fitted to express the spiritual faith of Roman Catholic and Protestant, Jew and Christian, Conservative and Liberal, and is as beautiful in its poetic form as it is inspiring in its elevated and catholic spirit." Lyman Abbott would like to see it adopted by all English-speaking peoples.

It is quite in keeping with the tendency of the thought of the best men and statesmen of the United States today. Individually, and as a nation, they are strongly in favor of the brotherhood of man and the brotherhood of nations. The leaders of Great Britain, men like Earl Gray, Lloyd George, A. J. Balfour, H. H. Asquith and many others are equally so. Lyman Abbott's suggestion is well worth adopting. "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" merits the highest praise. Here it is:

Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord:
He is trampling out the vintage where the grapes of wrath are stored;
He hath loosed the fateful lightning of his terrible swift sword;
His truth is marching on.

Full chorus—
Glory! glory! Halleluiah!
Glory! glory! Halleluiah!
Glory! glory! Halleluiah!
His truth is marching on.

I have seen Him in the watch-fires of a hundred circling camps;
They have builded him an altar in the evening dews and damps;
I can read his righteous sentence by the dim and flaring lamps;
His day is marching on.

I have read a fiery gospel, writ in burnished rows of steel,
"As ye deal with my contemners, so with you my grace shall deal;
Let the Hero, born of woman, crush the serpent with his heel,
Since God is marching on."

He has sounded forth the trumpet that shall never call retreat;
He is sifting out the hearts of men before His judgment seat.
Oh, be swift, my soul, to answer Him! Be jubilant, my feet!
Our God is marching on.

In the beauty of the lilies Christ was born across the sea,
With a glory in his bosom that transfigures you and me;
As He died to make men holy, let us die to make men free,
While God is marching on.

THE INCOME TAX.

IN PROPOSING to raise revenue through an income tax the Government is departing radically from the traditions of its party, which prefers raising revenue and other things by the indirect tax of the customs duties. So far as the people are concerned there is little difference in the long run, as the consumer pays in both cases. The departure from tradition is not important, except as it emphasizes the fact that Canada is at war, and that money as well as men must be raised in any way possible. The Government is to be congratulated in bringing itself to the point of admitting that there is often more than one way of doing a thing, and in taking a step which the Opposition has been urging upon it for some time.

Whether the income tax bill as at present drafted fits the needs of the case is perhaps a matter of opinion, but undoubtedly it will undergo some revision in the committee stage. Few people will regard it as fair in the division of the burden as between unmarried and married men, and as between those of moderate circumstances and the very wealthy. An unmarried man with an income of $4,000 pays only $80 tax, while the married man pays $40. An unmarried man with an income of $10,000 is left $9,600 to spend, while the unmarried man with $100,000 a year will have $85,200 left after paying the tax. It is only fair to assume that the finance department has considered the fact that conscription will fall heaviest upon the unmarried men, but it is also certain that few unmarried men with large incomes are within the military age.

Along with the enforcement of the act must come the puzzling question as to what constitutes an income. The finance minister promises to make this clear. He does not offer any hope, however, that war profits will be required to pay a higher tax than profits from normal business. Another point which may come in for criticism is the fact that non-residents, although drawing an income from Canadian sources, will escape the tax, which is to be applicable only to residents of this country. This exception is frankly made to encourage businessmen of other countries to invest their money in Canada, both during and after the war, which, after all, is most desirable.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The nervousness of the Germans in itself constitutes a victory for the British.

There are many ways of preventing trouble with mosquitoes, none of them effective.

Russia's trial is intense. To shoot down comrades is a terrible task to set the soldiers.

Greece can hardly be expected to make a firm stand if the weather there is like London's.

Strange but true: You don't feel the heat half so badly when working. Note the loafers mopping themselves.

It's all right to offer a reward for the first aviator to bomb Berlin, but it will not increase the eagerness materially.

Blunders are generally costly, but sometimes the blunderers get off easily and others pay the cost. See the city hall proceedings.

All the Toronto newspapers will raise their subscription rates by mail to $4 a year on August 1. The excessive cost of everything entering into the manufacture of a newspaper makes this necessary. The end of the 3-dollar newspaper everywhere is approaching.

ANOTHER REASON.
[Hamilton Times.]

Another reason why Borden should not get an extension is the fact that he is using the time to crowd the Senate with his supporters. To be honest he should have made the new members Tory and Grit in equal proportion.

The Three Heroes of Quebec

They Stand on Guard for Canada 3,000 Miles Away.
E. Botting in the Montreal Herald.

You have heard of one Horatius in the brave days of old,
How he faced the Tuscan army with his two companions bold
For the safety of the city. Let us now proceed to sing
Of our three Quebecois heroes who did quite a different thing.
Came the tidings, dark, portentous, "Huns have loosed the dogs of war!"
Drunken with the will to power, they will ravage near and far.
Shall we share the fate of Belgium, since has drawned the fateful Day?
Who'll stand on guard for Canada and keep the Huns at bay?

Forth came Monsieur Bourassa, self-styled champion of his race,
Though some didn't like his notions, seeds of mischief grow apace.
No Dominion vision, Henri's, but a "nation" province-wide
On the banks of the St. Lawrence, well-protected—from outside.
"This is not our war," said Henri. "The sea is deep and large,
And Great Britain stands before us with her navy, free of charge,
We are the real Canadians, for while others join the fray,
We'll stand on guard for Canada—3,000 miles away.

"We are loyal to Great Britain, we will let her bear our blows,
France, notre mere, O yes, we love her, but we will not heed her woes.
We need our men and money to maintain our patrie whole
And make to grow her body, never mind about her soul,
'Sauve qui peut!' that's a good motto in uncertain times like these,
Why should we be made to suffer while the war is overseas?
In short it's not convenient; but this much I will say,
We'll stand on guard for Canada—3,000 miles away."

Then out stepped Armand Lavergne, a doughty warrior he,
A Colonel in—the Lord knows what, nor why the thing should be.
And Armand, too, was "loyal"; true, he wouldn't go to war
But he wore his Sovereign's khaki, what could reason ask for more
And he strutted in it proudly, and he wouldn't take it off.
When they called him a Tin Soldier he serenely let them scoff.
"I want to die at home," he cried, "not in the Flanders clay!
I'll stand on guard for Canada—3,000 miles away."

And up rose Tancrede Marsil, but he rose not very high,
No giant intellect, Tancrede's, still, the greatest can but try;
And his spirit burned within him to compete with One and Two
For a share of dubious limelight in Quebec, que voulez-vous?
The tongue, so saith the Scriptures, the tongue can no man tame,
So Tancrede chose his weapon, and the public heard his name,
"I'll talk," said he, "and talk and talk, no matter what they say,
I'll stand on guard for Canada—3,000 miles away."

"A bas!" screamed little Tancrede, "a bas this!" and "a bas that!"
And the straw hats gathered round him quite perceived the sense of that,
"They shall not send us to the war, when we would rather not
Be taken from our happy homes. Mon Dieu! one might be shot,
Let them get their fighting soldiers from Timbuctoo and Spain
And Mandalay and Yucatan and Idaho and Maine,
From Ontario and Alberta. But we others, n'est-ce vrai
We'll stand on guard for Canada—3,000 miles away."

True Canadians, French and English, for the great Dominion's pride
And her safety, in the trenches, are standing side by side,
They kept the foe from Calais, they drove him from the Ridge,
They stood 'twixt home and danger, as Horatius kept the bridge.
Australians and New Zealanders, and men from India's strand,
From the Isles of the Pacific, and the frozen Northern land,
With the Poilus and the Britons bear the burden and the rack
Of the long, long day in Flanders till the Hun is driven back.
But while the Nations battle that the world may be kept free,
The Nationalists stay safe at home, led by the dauntless Three.

WON BY THE CLOCK.
By C. B. Lewis.

Clip—slide—fall!

That was May Palmer and she had fallen on the icy pavement on hands and knees.

"Heigho! Got a fall, have you!"

That was Joseph Farlow, a partner in a woolen house downtown.

"Yes, I've had a fall," replied Miss May as she looked up.

Did you ever fall on hands and knees on a hard stone sidewalk? How it hurts! Your hands are numb in a minute, and for a time it seems as if you had broken five kneecaps. You have simply got to have help to get to your feet again, no matter if you are a man or a woman. The victim had been to a house of an acquaintance only four doors from her home. When she left her house the sidewalks had been dry. Then there came a cold, drizzly rain and put a thin sheet of ice over everything. She left the neighbor's steps with the utmost confidence, and had made progress for about ten feet when the fall came.

And Joseph Farlow was coming along right behind her. He didn't have any rubbers on his shoes, but was stepping along as briskly as a horse newly shod. He wasn't a man to let a little ice interfere with him.

"Come, now, but I shall help you up," he said as he extended his arm. "There you are, but you can't take a step alone. Do you live anywhere about here?"

"Right there," said Miss May as she pointed at the steps.

"Oh, that is easy. I shall put an arm around your shoulder and you lean on me, and we go up the steps as safely as we walk a hall floor. Here we are, and I'll ring the bell for you. Good evening, madame, I've got to run for it or I shall be two minutes late at the store. See you again some time, perhaps."

Miss May entered the house to play baby for a while, and when she came to explain the accident to her father and mother the father replied with a laugh:

"Say, I'll bet you any money that man was Joe Farlow. He passes along the street twice every day except Sunday. He is in business downtown, and probably this is the first time in his career that he has let anything detain him for one minute. They call him the 'Human Clock' because he is always on time. If he is one minute late at the store there is almost a panic. Yes, it must have been Joe who helped you up, and you had better look out a little. Joe is a nice looking fellow, and he is making more money than any young men I can mention. I shouldn't object to having him for a son-in-law."

"Well, he didn't laugh at me, and that was good of him," replied Miss May as she went to the medicine chest to find the bottle of arnica.

Out of curiosity, of course, she posted herself at a window about the time she figured Mr. Joseph Farlow would be due to come along next evening. How would she know him? Why, do you suppose a strange man can lift a girl up on an icy walk, and put his arm around her, and act as a post for her to lean against, and lift her up seven or eight icy steps, and hold her upright while he reaches out and pulls the door bell, without her being able to identify him if she ever sees him again? Of course she would know him, and, if he looked up at the window, she would dodge back.

Mr. Furlow came along. He was on time to the second. There was a smile on his face, as he passed the house, but he didn't turn his head to see if anybody was at the window. He knew there was, and that he did not even see a glance was a mark in favor of Mr. Joseph Farlow.

Some days passed and Miss May started in her car one day to go to her dressmaker's. When the vehicle had traversed several blocks, some heavy trucks got the chauffeur in a pocket and he lost his head for a moment. He ran the machine into a grocery wagon standing at the curb, and there was a crash and a scream. Joseph Farlow was passing at that moment. He had gone to the grocery store on a business errand, and he had given himself just so many seconds to get back to his woolens. It is doubtful if the trumpet of an elephant or the roar of a lion would have made him halt, but the scream Miss May gave stopped him dead in his tracks. He saw her trying to open the door of the auto, and in three jumps he had the door open and was helping her out and saying:

"It's you again, is it? Well, your chauffeur is not up to the mark. You will have to walk the rest of the way. No ice this time, and you won't get a fall. By-by. I'm due at the store."

And off went Mr. Joseph Farlow, and more than one pedestrian got a dig from his elbows to make up for lost time. Maybe it was a month later when Mr. Palmer, father of May, sat in his office one afternoon, and young Mr. Farlow burst in and explained:

"Say, Mr. Palmer, I know you by sight and by name, though we never shook hands. You can ask any business man about me. I just called to say that I want the privilege of calling on your daughter. It has happened that I met her on two occasions, but we have not exchanged names. I am a very busy man, but I will try and spare ten or fifteen minutes some evening to call and make her acquaintance."

It was a serious matter, but Mr. Palmer could not help smiling over it. He replied that Mr. Farlow might call any evening and remain fifteen minutes or three hours if he would. If Miss May happened not to be at home they could talk over the state of the market and smoke a good cigar together. Mr. Farlow thanked him and rushed out so impetuously that he upset an employee who was coming in.

In about a week Mr. Farlow called. He didn't look at his watch as he sat down to see if he could spare fourteen or fifteen minutes, but he was soon so interested that almost half an hour glided away. He had to go back to the store to help mark some goods, but he made good time of it when once clear of the house.

Miss May did not know whether she liked Mr. Farlow or not, even after he had made half a dozen calls, but he kept calling so many times that she finally decided he was the right man. She answered that way to him, when he came to the point one evening, and she was not a bit astonished when he added:

"Well, that is over and I am a very happy man; also a very busy one. I shall probably be detained at the store until midnight."

And six months after marriage, when May asked about the strange ways of her husband, she replied:

"Oh, that is all right. When I asked him for $10 this morning to buy a lot of little things, he threw me over a hundred-dollar bill and said:

"I am two minutes late this morning. Take this bill and keep the change."

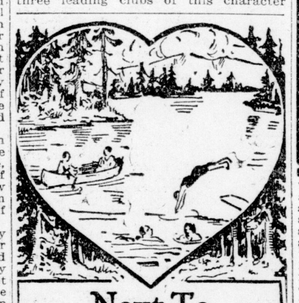

HAVANA THE WORLD'S GREATEST CLUB CITY

One of the most striking features of the general social life of the Cuban capital, Havana, is the development of its clubs. The city has a population of about 350,000, and according to recent statistics, at least 125,000, or over one-third of the entire number, are members of some club. Furthermore, there is one club that has a membership of 45,000. In other words, practically every man in the city of Havana is a member of a club, be he millionaire sugar baron or a hodcarrier. This rather unusual state of affairs is largely due to certain features that are peculiar to a number of these organizations, usually known as "centros." These were originally organized by Spanish residents of the city for the purpose of uniting in social organizations those of their compatriots who came from the same section of Spain. Thus, the Centro Gallego was organized primarily for the benefit of the Gallegians, the Centro Asturiano for natives of Asturias, etc.

An interesting account of these "centros" appears in the current number of the Bulletin of the Pan-American Union, Washington, D. C., from which the following facts relative to these remarkable institutions are taken. The three leading clubs of this character are the "Gallegos," the "Asturiano," and the "Dependientes" or Clerks' Club, all being organized along about the same lines and having practically the same features. Their memberships, in the order named, are, 45,000, 37,000 and 25,000. They have all of the social and recreative features of the great social clubs of other large cities, are housed in palatial club buildings which have very large reception rooms, parlors, libraries, reading-rooms, ballrooms, dining-rooms, billiard halls, gymnasiums, swimming pools, etc. In addition to these social and recreative features, however, they have certain mutual benefit and aid departments that make them unique, and offer the greatest incentive for men of limited means to become members. Among these may be mentioned the following:

They maintain free night schools for their members, including courses in shorthand, bookkeeping and other commercial subjects; they maintain kindergartens for the benefit of the members' small children; grammar and high schools for the older children; domestic science classes for the wives and daughters; they employ their own staff of physicians, surgeons, oculists and dentists, who attend to the wants of members free of any charge, except for material used in filling teeth or the lenses prescribed to correct and aid sight, and they each maintain their own hospitals, sanatoriums and asylums for the insane. Especially notable are their general hospitals, known as "quintas," which have their own medical corps, and are as thoroughly and efficiently equipped as are the most modern of such institutions in any of the great world cities. Each has its own pharmaceutical department, carrying full lines of medicines and druggist sundries for the "quinta." As an instance of the work of these hospitals may be cited the quinta belonging to the "Centro Gallegos," which treats over 12,000 patients a year, not counting those who merely visit the doctors' offices or receive treatment at home. When treated at the "quinta," the room, meals and medicines prescribed are furnished without extra charge, and in the event of the death of the patient the club provides for a suitable burial in cases where the family of the deceased is unable to bear the expense. The club dues are not over $1.50 per month for regular members.

It is these features that have made the "centros" of Havana so popular, and account for the tremendous membership. In addition to the "centros" there are a great number of social clubs of the characterr usually found in large cities, including a fine country club, tennis clubs, the famous yacht club, various women's clubs, and a number of professional clubs, so that taken altogether Havana may justly claim to be the "greatest club city in the world."

ONE GERMAN WHO SEES WAR IN TRUE LIGHT

"I've seen a Boche who really understands the war," declared an English officer, recovering from 'a bit o' shrap' in a field hospital. "I was wounded when we captured him and he carried me for half a mile. 'This war is the greatest crime the world has ever known'—'Yes, sir,' the officer insisted, 'that is what the Boche said.' 'The crimes of the beasts who are running Germany today are unspeakable. They were thieves and brigands when they started the war, but now they're the bloodiest murderers by wholesale, the world ever produced. They know perfectly well they've lost the war, but they are frightened of their own miserable skins to admit it and call a halt; and because they are frightened of what the people might do when they learn the truth, they keep the thing going and sacrifice many thousands of Germans every single day, just to shield the reputations of a handful of princes and politicians. Here on this front our people are being killed like flies. Your artillery kills them in bunches. Our men would gladly give themselves up to end it, but you know they cannot. When there seems a chance, there is always an officer or N. C. O. about. It is not only your guns that kill. Many Germans fall each day with German bullets in their backs. They are driven like dogs to the fighting. Thank God, I'm captured and out of it."

A PAGE OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Husband Comes First.

Dear Miss Grey,—I noticed that we had been neglecting our prisoners' fund. I believe I missed last month's donation, so will try and make up for my carelessness, and send it 'n right away. Find inclosed $2 for the prisoners' fund. I would like to write to the lonely ones, but I'm afraid they would never be able to read the letter. I have my husband to write to and send parcels to, and I find that takes about all the time and money I can spare. LADY BETTY.

Ans.—You are perfectly right to remember the far-off loved one first of all, and it seems scarcely right to be receiving such a large donation from you for the prisoners' fund. However, I do not doubt it is "cheerfully given," so please accept warm thanks in return.

From "Girl" to "Mrs."

Dear Miss Grey,—Here I am again. I sure am a stranger to your page, but I have been reading the Mail-Box letters just the same. It seems to me there is a lot of new readers on your page since I last wrote. I want to say a few words to you "City Farmers." I am sure you deserve great praise for the lovely gardens you have in your back yards. I wonder what they would look like if you were all on a farm. I think they would be just as good. I am still on the farm, Miss Grey, but not into a big strawberry patch like I was last year. Now do you know the writer? Well I must be off. Kindly answer the following:

1. Which is the correct way to hold the crochet cotton on the hands?
2. What is a good way to get rid of ants?
3. A recipe for ripe cucumber pickles.

I am now MRS. OF ALL TRADES.

Ans.—Well, well, so our "Girl" has been transformed into a "Missis." What nice news! But did you not miss the strawberries this year? 1. I am going to ask some of our crocheters to tell us 'bout holding the cotton. Didn't know there was any one way more correct than another; however, here's hoping for enlightenment.

2. Have you tried sprinkling gum camphor on the shelves? Another way is to mix paris green and a little honey and leave it on infested shelves, but be very careful first to remove all food to ant-proof box or cupboard.

3. Ripe Cucumber Pickles.—A good way to use large, ripe cucumbers: 12 large cucumbers, peel and remove seeds, 12 large onions, cut both these up in strips, and sprinkle salt between each layer and let stand over-night; drain next morning and add 3 cups vinegar, 3 cups sugar; 1 tablespoon mustard, 1 tablespoon curry powder, 1 tablespoon flour, mix together, and a little red pepper or ginger. Let boil till tender and clear.

Where Lives "Mary Sunshine"?

Dear Miss Grey,—A few days ago some reader inquired the way to mark socks. I have seen no reply to her If she isn't near enough to call on me, but would like my help, you can give her my address, and if she writes to me and mentions the letter she wishes to put in the socks, I'll send her a copy and directions. With best wishes to all, OLD COUNTRY WOMAN.

Ans.—It was "Mary Sunshine" who asked about the initials, and I haven't her address, since she changed her name to "Mrs. Sunshine." I hope she reads your kind offer and sends it for you.

Re the other address you speak of, I have it, and will be pleased to mail the same to you, if you wish.

Happiness and Contentment.

Dear Miss Grey,—As I take much pleasure in reading the page, I suppose to pass along a few remarks myself won't be out of place.

"A Tennis Girl" asks for opinions of readers re the happiness of persons of like and unlike dispositions in wedded life. It is indeed a very knotty question to answer, and can be viewed either way. For instance, take two who are of a very hasty temper; such would be unhappy together, as the chances are they would be always quarrelling. Or take persons of a jealous disposition; they would be unhappy together, as they would be forever imagining they had cause to be jealous, and, both being of the same disposition, one wouldn't try to soothe the other's fears.

But, on the other hand, persons of quiet, good-natured dispositions should be happiest when together, and so on in the many dispositions of human nature. One must know just what the dispositions are before they could decide as to the future happiness of those concerned.

And this question brings to my mind the thought and fact that the disposition richest in happiness and pleasure may be a common heritage of us all, rich and poor alike—to be contented. There is nothing more disagreeable than a person who is always grumbling, is there?

The rich man may have more money than I, but what can he buy with it? Three meals a day, doubtless costing more, but he doesn't enjoy them a bit more, if as much, as I do mine. He has a roof over his head, perhaps larger and more expensive, but I'm just as dry as he is, and contented. I enjoy a good night's sleep. How many of the rich do? And money won't buy it.

It is strange that contentment should not be more widespread, considering how common the things are that make it. Beware, though, for there is a difference between the soul that does not worry and the one that does not care! Don't stand still, but have some aim in life, and be forever pressing forward. Make this your motto: "In whatever state I am therewith to be content and thankful."

"Beautiful Doll," why don't you write? We miss your interesting letters. Did you know I was living in the same city with you now? And, more than that, know you by sight. But that is an aggravation, eh? Get me? Well, must close, with best wishes to all. Sincerely, ORIGINAL LONELY.

Ans.—Our "Lonely" is blossoming into a regular philosopher, and, somehow, his doctrine sounds very good. Would it not be interesting, pageites, to know just what particular goal in life "O. L." is aiming for?

War Time Economy

COCOA versus TEA AND COFFEE

THE war is being fought in the kitchens of Canada, just as truly as it is in the trenches of France.

The housewife that is genuinely anxious to help the cause of our Empire will use Cocoa on her table in preference to tea and coffee, which—delightful as you may find them as mild stimulants—have no real food value, and hinder the proper digestion of starchy foods, bread, cakes and potatoes.

Saving at Home Serves in the Trenches

There is more nourishment in a cup of cocoa than in a cup of chicken soup, bouillon or beef extract. You require less of other foods when you drink cocoa. You save money on your table expenditures.

The money you save will enable you to purchase War Savings Certificates. For $21.50 you can buy at your nearest bank or Post Office a Certificate worth, in three years, $25.00.

Cowan's Perfection Brand Cocoa for the table, and Cowan's Maple Buds or Milk Chocolate Bars for most delightful confections will be found at the stores of all dealers throughout Canada.

Ask for Cowan's ACTIVE SERVICE Chocolate, just what our Soldiers in the trenches appreciate. Specially manufactured to meet their needs. 92

Quick Aids For the Sunburned Complexion of Milady

Few people ever have more than one bad case of sunburn in a lifetime. One is enough! After the experience, the sufferer usually takes precautions against its repetition. But there are always folk who will not be taught by the experiences of other folk. Year after year, or summer after summer, sunburn goes on making trouble and misery—even spoiling completely lovely skins that will never be the same again. There seems excuse for a bad case of sunburn where a child is concerned—if no older person has been about to prevent the disaster; but the girl of twenty or the woman of thirty has no excuse. It is pure recklessness that permits the burning glare of a summer sun to wreak havoc on complexion and arms. One may pay a penalty of leather-like skin or a crop of disfiguring freckles all the rest of one's life for the bravado or carelessness of a few hours, and usually the victim has only herself to blame.

There are always shade hats; there are usually veils and parasols to be had. Even on the beach nowadays one may have a widebrimmed rubberized hat to wear during the lounge on the sand; or one may—if one is sensible—sit under the shade of a big beach umbrella where the glare is removed from the sand immediately about one. For the white glare reflected from sand or from still water under a strong summer sun, is quite as injurious to the complexion as direct sunbeams. Some of the worst cases of sunburn are acquired on days when the sun is not fully out—when the humidity makes a dense haze through which direct sunbeams cannot penetrate. On such a day there is no breeze, and the reflected glare from rippleless water and from sand is fierce and trying.

This is the sort of burn one acquires at the beach; there is another kind of sunburn which one gets in the mountains which is even more difficult to treat successfully. All sunburn, of course, disappears in time, though the discomfort of it may be prolonged; but all sunburn cannot be removed so successfully that the skin never shows traces of it thereafter. Perhaps the burn acquired from the reflection of sun on fresh or lake water is more inimical in its effects than a salt water sunburn. It seems to eat deeper into the cuticle.

There is also windburn. Girls who sail a great deal, or who ride horseback, are liable to this trouble. Windburn browns the complexion gradually—it does not get in its work all in a few hours—and when it has once fixed itself on the complexion it is very hard to get rid of. It will not, however, do the skin the same harm that the deep irritation of sunburn does, and usually it wears off at the summer's end without leaving any traces.

Make up your mind that this summer, at least, you simply will not acquire that coat of tan that is so unsightly when October brings out the new evening frocks and pretty winter blouses. But even if tan seems an inevitable penalty to pay for good fun out of doors, determine resolutely not to start the vacation season with an uncomfortable attack of sunburn; there is really no necessity for any sunburn at all if one takes simple precautions. For first two or three days limit your sea dip to fifteen minutes, and go instantly to your bathing house when you come out of the water. And before emerging from the bath house ready for the dip, prepare arms, neck and face for the encounter with the sun. Rub cold cream—the greaseless vanishing cream will show less than an oil cream—into the pores of face, neck and arms until no more will be absorbed. Dust talcum powder over and pat smooth with a soft towel. Do not wipe or rub, for you will rub out the cream. If you are spending a whole day picnicking on the sands, retire to the bathhouse very little while and repeat the cream and talcum treatment. You will sunburn a little, but the cream will prevent the burn eating its way in, to cause discomfort and blistering later. The woman who values her complexion uses this cream and talcum treatment all summer, whenever she is going sailing or motoring, or otherwise expects to face strong sunlight and winds for several hours. If a good vanishing cream is used and the face is lightly dusted with talcum thereafter, the safeguard to the complexion should be quite noticeable.

But if sunburn does come—that terrible baking sunburn that makes the skin stiff and sore and glazed, with the promise of blisters and peeling when the fiery burn has disappeared, first aid treatment is necessary. Sunburn should not be allowed to wear off "in the course of nature," but should be cooled and healed by soothing lotions. I beg of you, do not rub cold cream or any kind of grease on fresh sunburn. You may be advised to do this, but it is the worst thing possible, and will only make the suffering worse. One of the best sunburn lotions is the recipe of an old bathing master who for years had charge of the beach at Asbury Park. The formula is this: One part of alcohol to three parts of witch hazel, and the burned skin is to be kept continuously wet with this lotion. Witch hazel is cooling and soothing; alone it would not accomplish much, but the alcohol takes out the burn. Alone, the alcohol would be unbearable on a burned surface, but the witch hazed so neutralizes its strength that one feels nothing but the cool, grateful lotion.

While you are waiting for somebody to fetch the alcohol and witch hazel mixture from a drug store, apply first aid in the way of cucumber juice to the burning hot complexion. Slice a large cucumber in half lengthways and hold the flat, juicy side against the face, moving the cucumber along as relief is felt. When the burn is going out of the skin in a day or two, apply a cucumber paste to whiten the skin and keep it from losing its fine grain and becoming leathery—one of the worst dangers of sunburn. Here is the recipe for cucumber paste:

Wipe four large cucumbers and cut into small pieces. Do not remove the skin. Add 8 ounces of almond oil and keep very hot (but not boiling) for four hours. Strain through cheese cloth and return to the stove. Add 1 ounce white wax, 2 ounces spermaceti and 2 ounces of lanoline. When dissolved add 2 ounces of Balsam of Peru and 1 ounce tincture of benzoin. Beat till creamy.

PATRIOTIC KNITTING BAGS

The girl who is knitting for the soldiers scorns an artistic knitting bag of flowered cretonne such as she used last summer when she was merely knitting colorful sweaters for her own adornment. Her knitting bag now is a businesslike affair which suggests practical rather than picturesque usages. Very popular knitting bags are made of khaki cloth. The bag has two sides, each shaped like a shield; the shield-sides being joined by a gusset of the material, set in around sides and bottom. Narrow red, white and blue ribbon is used to cover all seams where shields and gussets are stitched together and the ribbon binding outlines the top of the shield also. The bag hangs from handles of wide, blue grosgrain ribbon, attached to the points at the centre-top of each shield.

Another knitting bag is for Red Cross needlework or knitting-work. Many women are knitting cotton washcloths or compress pads for the ambulance service, and this work is kept in a Red Cross bag, made of white muslin of simple rectangular shape, the upper edges shirred over light wooden rods. White cords attached at the ends of these rods, form handles that may be slipped over the arm. On one side of the bag is a printed shield with the words, "Red Cross" above it. This device and the letters are worked in red cotton on the white material of the bag.

SMART FROCKS FOR TOWN WEAR.

It is a mistake to believe that a woman must be gowned in white, or light, perishable colors in order to look "cool as a cucumber." These clothes are all well enough for fortunate women who have ample incomes and French laundresses, but the average woman cannot afford to carry this expensive whim very far.

A dark, thin, cool-looking summer dress is a necessity. Those who spend the hot months in town know that in the hottest weather of July and August there are about two weeks' time that even the lightest silk dress is too uncomfortable. Light colored dresses will not keep fresh-looking all day long. So if you are to spend the summer days in office or workroom do not forget a sensible frock. It need not be expensive.

I remember one last summer a little actress used to wear about town when rehearsing in August. It was a simple, very sheer, dark blue linen, with little white polka dots. It was made with a baby waist and a gathered skirt, both trimmed with narrow ruffles, which made the dress look frilly. It was worn over a thin white batiste princess slip. The white showing through the sheer material gave a light look to the dark gown. A twisted sash belt of dark grass green ribbon made the frock look still cooler.

Dark blue voile also is a thin material that looks well over white. A one-piece dress of this, with the lower part gathered on at hip depth and a narrow sash belt encircling the waist high up, is becoming to all types of figure. A detachable collar of filet or wash satin—one can have both and alternate—and the seams hemstitched, and you have a dress that may be worn morning or afternoon.

One that will do also for evening wear to roof garden or restaurant or to the shore would be of dark blue georgette crepe. Here a bit more elegance is allowed. A slipover top and a straight gathered skirt may be widely banded with one of the curlicue embroideries of dark blue soutache or even the loose stitch floss or worsted or bead embroidery. A filet collar and cuffs or a carrickmacross lace set give it the unpretentious summer look.

REDS WIN ANOTHER

Cincins Take Moran's Help Into Camp—Pirates and Robins Split.

CHICAGO, July 26.—Vaughn kept New York's hits well scattered today, while the Cubs bunched hits off Tesreau, and with the aid of some erratic fielding, easily won the first game of the series today, 7 to 1. The league leaders were saved from a shut-out when they bunched two hits, with a stolen base in between.

PIRATES AND ROBINS EVEN IN SMOKEVILLE

PITTSBURG, July 26.—The Pirates and Robins split today's double-header, Pittsburg winning the first game, 4 to 1, and the visitors easily taking the second set-to, 5 to 1. Carlson opposed Pfeffer in the first game, and held the visitors in check. The second was a pitchers' battle between Jacobs and Cadore until the ninth inning, when Jacobs let through three hits, on which were scored three runs.

BABE RUTH AND FOSTER BOTH WIN CONTESTS

BOSTON, July 26.—Boston won two games from St. Louis today, the opening game, 11 to 2, and the second, 8 to 3. Poor pitching and wretched fielding gave Boston its chance in the first game, in which Ruth had easy sailing. In the second encounter, Sothoron was bombarded with base hits, and gave way to Rogers, who did not prove any puzzle to Boston. In the first game, Lavan was hit in the ribs by a pitched ball, and threw his bat at Ruth. Umpire Dineen ran between the two players. At the close of the inning Ruth and Lavan shook hands.

HIPPO VAUGHN TRAVELS SOME

A popular winter sport is picking the players who have been on the most clubs. Yearly the plan is handed a different individual's. But when it is all simmered down the honors go to Hippo Vaughn, mastodonic fork-hander of the Chicago Cubs. Vaughn has been up baseball eleven years and he has played on eleven teams in eight leagues.

Jim started throwing his slants in the Texas League, then in the South Texas League. From here he packed his grip and journeyed to the Arkansas circuit. Becoming too fast for this bush organization, he was bought by a team in the New York State. Then down again to the South Atlantic and up to the American Association.

In 1908 he was in four leagues, which is about a record for traveling in one year. He started the year in the American and from there was shipped to the Arkansas. He soon bobbed up in the New York State and finished the season up in the South Atlantic.

For the past five years he has been toiling for the Chicago Cubs, and seems to be perfectly acclimated to the breezes of the Windy City. Vaughn is usually one of the Cubs' best winners and has turned in several excellent games. His latest and best feat was holding the Cincinnati Reds to one hit in ten innings, while Fred Toney did not allow the Chicago team a single blow.

FERDIE CHEWS TOBAC WITH PLENTY OF VIM

"How do you account for your present effectiveness" was asked of Ferdinand Schupp. "I don't know," responded the Giants' southpaw somewhat diffidently, as if he didn't care to talk about it, "unless it is being in there." Schuppy is applying himself more closely than he used, and that has something to do with it. He was a devil-may-care, care-free youngster, taking care lightly, in his days of bench apprenticeship, though always in earnest when he went to the box. It strikes now that he is more serious generally. He is an unassuming kid, not in the least puffed up over his success, always affable and chews tobacco exactly as he always did, which is with more vigor than tidiness.

DAYS OF WILDCAT MINING ARE OVER.

For some days The Advertiser has published announcements of W. A. Burmeister, Schiller Building, Chicago, advertising the Mohawk Gold and Copper Company, mining land situated in the Lane Mountains, San Bernardino County, California, stated to be the richest gold mining district in the western country. Mr. Burmeister claims that the Mohawk mine comprises 100 acres in one of the richest districts, and it has been in operation for several years. He states that the ore is rich in color and unlimited in quantity, and that ten thousand tons are now piled on the dump waiting to be milled. Formerly the ore was carried by pack-animals and railroads to a distant stamp mill, a method which was too slow and expensive. For this reason the company has been incorporated, and arrangements have been made to sell stock, not for the purpose of developing an unknown mine, but for the erection of a mill to work the ore already mined. The announcement again appears in today's issue. b

CRUISE IS LEADING HARD LUCK PLAYER

"Who is this fellow, Walton Cruise, who is leading the National League hitters" is a frequent query. Miller Huggins will tell you that he is one of the game's greatest outfielders and also the champion hard luck player in the game today. Cruise, who is often called Joe Jackson's double, came from the south, like the American League swatsmith. He was born in Sylacuga, Ala., some 27 years ago, and first attracted attention while playing with Columbia College, Lake City, Fla., where he was trying to study veterinary medicine. He was grabbed by both Detroit and New York, while Connie Mack was a day late on his bid for him.

Tagged "no good," he was sent to the Cotton States League. While here he encountered his first run of bad luck. He was spiked in the foot and almost lost the member when blood poison set in. His ankle was carved by surgeons four times and he was incapacitated for several months. Drifting to Jacksonville, where he broke his leg, he came under the eye of Miller Huggins one day while the Cards were playing an exhibition game in that place. Cruise hit the ball for two home runs, made several sensational catches and pulled all the stellar stuff he knew of. Huggins signed him on the spot. He flivvered with the Cards and "Hug" sent him to Milwaukee. Here he was beaned in a serious manner and soon after ran into the fence, breaking his sun glasses into his eyes. Later he broke two ribs, dislocated his thumb and shoulder and sprained his arm. He was only out a few days, playing the remainder of the season with his ribs in the broken condition

One Run of Accidents.

The day before the 1916 season opened he ran into Roger Hornsby and tore his collar bone loose from the sternum. He did not play with the St. Louis club last year, although he did a little work for Mike Kelly at St. Paul. His work there brought about his recall to the Mound City and he has justified Huggins' faith in him every day since the present season opened. It was once said that he was hard to handle, and that he and Huggins could not agree. But shrewd old Mike Kelley studied the youngster and soon discovered the best means of getting work out of him. Mike imparted this information to the boss of the Cardinals, who has been using it with much success.

CULLOP'S FINE PITCHING

N. Y. Twirler Did Not Give a Pass in 13 Innings—Boston Beats Browns Twice.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The Yankees defeated the White Sox in a sensational 14-inning game here today by a score of 6 to 5. The Yankees filled the bases, with none out, in the fourteenth, on singles by Baumann, Pipp, and a fielder's choice. Baker's sacrifice fly brought in Baumann with the winning run. Cullop pitched a masterful game, and did not give a base on balls in thirteen innings.

TY COBB BATS DETROIT TO WIN

PHILADELPHIA, July 26.—Detroit broke even with Philadelphia here today, the former winning the first game 6 to 2, and Philadelphia the second game 4 to 2. Cobb, who arrived at the park late and after Dauss was announced as Detroit's centre fielder, made two singles, a double and a triple in four times at bat in the opening contest, and one single in four times up in the second game. Cobb's hitting and home-run drive by Veach featured the first game, while bunched hits gave Philadelphia the victory in the other.

OUTLOOK POOR FOR GRAND CIRCUIT MEET AT DETROIT IN 1918

Detroit, Mich., July 27.—Directors of the Detroit Driving Club, which staged the grand circuit races here, are pessimistic over the outlook for a grand circuit meeting here next year. The elimination of the closing day program, which was to have been racing today, indicates their attitude. The reason officially given was a scarcity of horses for the closing day's races.

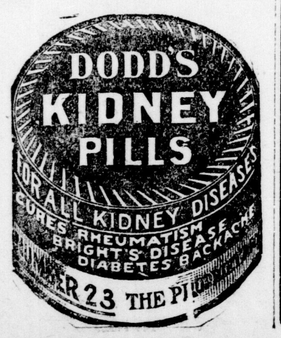

Although the weather was ideal for racing, good marks were made, the fields entered were fairly large, and the attendance good, the elimination of betting, and the loss of revenue from that is understood to have had great weight in discouraging the backers of the meeting.

The Detroit meeting, which is usually considered one of the most attractive in the big circuit to trainers and owners of light harness horses, opened to a record first-day crowd with a betless program upon orders of Police Commissioner Couzens. All attempts to secure modification of the rule were vain.

HOME ON FURLOUGH.

SARNIA, July 26.—Robert Coffey, a member of the first Canadian contingent, is home on three months' leave of absence, and is spending a few days visiting friends and relatives.

Pte. Claude Lewis, who expects to leave shortly for overseas with the C.A.S.C., was presented with a wrist watch by friends at his residence on Wednesday evening. Vocal and musical selections were rendered and refreshments were served to the guests, who wished him success and a safe return.

HAL BOY SETS UP RECORD AT DETROIT

Stephen Wins Two Heats in 2:10 Pace on Closing Day.

DETROIT, July 26.—The annual grand circuit meeting here was cut one day short by the management, presumably to prevent further loss, and so ended with today's racing. The last day crowd saw a splendid race in the free-for-all pace, in which the season's record was established by Hal Boy, although Single G. won the race.

All the races went into extra heats. The 2:16 trotters took four heats. Bessie G. won the first and then Tommy Murphy came along with Peter Chenault, and took the next three heats handily.

Stephen won two heats in the 2:19 trot with plenty of reserve, but broke in the last part of the third, when Brescia pushed him, and the rest of the race was easy for Brescia.

From here the grand circuit moves to Kalamazoo, where racing begins next Tuesday. Many of the horses, however, are going back to the half-mile tracks, Mount Clemens opening on Monday with the biggest minor affair of the year.

PORT HURON HERE SATURDAY

Blue Labels To Stack Up Against Fast Team Tomorrow.

Manager Ernie Dinsmore, of the London Blue Labels, announced last night that he had secured the fast Port Huron team as an attraction at Tecumseh Park Saturday afternoon. The Port Huron bunch has had a good record so far this season, and promise the Labels a game just as warm as the weather.

The local boys have yet to taste defeat on the home lot, and the Michigan team will have to move along if it expects to bat Yank Flint to the ends of the earth. London now has a team that compares favorably with anything that ever performed here in the Canadian League. There was a fairly good crowd out last Saturday, when the Labels trimmed Windsor, but there was still lots of room in the stands. The boys are worth seeing at any time, and Saturday is a fine time to see 'em on the job.

SCOTCH DOUBLES GO TO R.C. AND PARIS

Bush and Shannon, Begg and Wilkinson Winners on Closing Day of W. O. B. A.

The W. O. B. A. for 1917 wound up yesterday afternoon at the Rowing Club greens, when the Scotch double finals were pulled off. The first event went to Charlie Bush and Jack Connor of the Rowing Club, who beat out Brown and Douglas of the Thistles 19 to 15. The Rowing Club pair came strong on the last four ends, and rolled up a score of eight, which was enough to win.

The score by ends.—
Connor .....0202010401131340—19
Brown .....1030105040002—16

In the consolation event, one, Paris and his mate Wilkinson splashed that famous Paris Green on Ed Weld and Alf. Heffernan of the Rowing Club, the score being 19 to 14. The London pair have bowled a lot better than they did yesterday while on the other hand Begg was as strong as usual, if not more so, on the draw. It was a good game to watch. The local men threw quite a scare into the visitors the last few ends. When the final end blew round Heffernan was but two shots down. He was out of a tie by a nicely-placed bowl of Begg's on the second last frame. In the final, Alf tried a running shot and missed.

The score by ends.—

Heffernan .....0010040200213l0—14

"KEEP 'EM IN," MATTY'S RULE

Christy Firm Believer in Keeping Team Intact Through Season.

Christy Mathewson is working on different lines from his immediate predecessors in trying to furnish Cincinnati with that novelty—a first division team. Herzog, Tinker, Griffith and O'Day, when they bossed the Reds, used players by the wholesale. Mathewson has managed to get along with 23 athletes this season, and five of these he has fired.

Official scorers have not acquired writer's cramp in making out the box scores of the games in which Cincinnati has participated, for Mathewson makes few changes in his team's lineup after the game starts. He has had three pinch runners and 13 subhitters this year, nine pitchers, three catchers, three men at first, four at second, three at third, one at short, four in left, three in centre and one in right.

Mathewson probably leads all major league managers in letting his original nominee go the route. In 53 contests one man has done the hurling. Fred Toney has lasted through 18 games he has started and bids fair to take from Grover Cleveland Alexander one of the honors Aleck has been winning annually since his advancement from the New York State League to the National—that of traveling the full distance oftener than any of his contemporaries.

They Hit For Toney.

The Reds hit like fiends, generally, when Toney pitches, and have made 98 runs for him in eighteen games. The mountaineer has let his opponents gather 49 tallies. Of Toney's eighteen complete contests he lost only two. These were by scores of 5 to 2 and 4 to 3.

Pete Schneider has pitched eleven full games for Matty, of which nine have been wins. Thirty-seven runs have been made for Schneider, 37 off him.

Out of fifteen starts Clarence Mitchell, former Tiger, has clung to the mound in eight. He won five, being supplied with 22 runs and letting the foe gather 16.

"Hod" Eller, who went south with the White Sox last year, has lasted through five battles, of which he has captured three. He has been handed 16 runs and let the Reds' opponents have only half this number.

Jimmy Ring, a springtime employee of the Yankees a couple of years back, has traveled the full distance three times and each time he has brought home the bacon. Once the Reds made 19 runs for him, once they made six and once they made four — total of 29 for three controversies. He has permitted 14 markers.

Going the Full Route.

Mike Regan, who did little pitching for Mathewson until the season was well under way, has come through with seven complete contests, in which 21 runs were made for him and 23 runs were made against him. Regan has stacked up against Alexander thrice this year, and while beaten twice has given the Nebraskan great arguments, losing 3 to 2 and 1 to 0.

Roy Sanders, who baseballed himself out of the National League, pitched one full game for Cincinnati, and was beaten, 2 to 0.

The Red pitchers seldom have heard the call of the wild this year, and have twirled eleven faultless games in which no one walked. Nine of these were Cincinnati triumphs. Regan claims four of these perfect games, Mitchell two, Toney two, Eller one, Schneider one and Toney and Eller, in collaboration, one.

A notable achievement on the part of the Red boxmen was going through the double-header with the Giants on July 12 without deadheading anyone.

From Toney, Schneider and Regan, Mathewson is getting the kind of pitching Stallings had from Rudolph, James and Tyler three years ago.

CALLS SUFFRAGE OF ALIENS A CROOKED DEAL TO WIN VOTES

Col. Currie Says Enemies Were Naturalized Since War.

CALLS IT ABSOLUTE CRIME

Privileges Not Accorded in Other Countries Save in Canada.

OTTAWA, July 26.—The Commons today took its coat off and fanned itself, while the Government and western Liberal members struggled with a revision of the Government land laws.

The alien residents of Canada came in for criticism, chiefly by Col. John Currie. He said that it would be news to the people of Canada that aliens, some from enemy countries, were allowed to naturalize during the war and become both homesteaders and voters.

"To grant alien enemies here," he said, "the privilege and citizenship in this country during the war is nothing short of absolute crime, and an insult to the men in the trenches for whom, as a soldier, I speak. In their own country they would not at this time have the right to take up land nor to vote, and if we take away these rights here, we take away nothing that they would have in their own land. If they had the opportunity tomorrow they would get out of this country and go over to fight for Germany, Austria and Hungary. British subjects in Germany today are not allowed to take up land and become voters, and it is a downright shame that we should pander to the German and other alien enemies here who are still holding their German and Austrian citizenship, because no matter if they are naturalized the laws of their own countries prohibit them from foreswearing their allegiance.

Crooked Political Game.

"I say that there is a crooked political game going on in different sections of this country, and this House should take action before it prorogues, to take away the votes of the men who have become naturalized and who are of alien enemy birth. They would vote against any candidate for this House who would favor the war or favor our soldiers."

Dr. Roche said that while some judges held that aliens had the right to naturalize during the war other judges held that they had not.

Col. Currie replied that the Government under the war measures act should have long ago taken away this right. Col. Currie said that there were men who had taken up lands in the Canadian West now with the German forces fighting against Canadians.

Dr. Roche said that at the present time applications for homesteads from men from enemy alien countries were not received.

German Vote to Elect 40.

Col. Currie held that unless the rights of aliens to vote were cancelled there would be thirty or forty members of the new house elected by the votes of Germans and Hungarians.

J. G. Turriff said that Canada had invited these people to come with the understanding that they could take a quarter section of land provided they became British subjects and resided upon and worked the land. They received this as a scrap of paper that should not be torn up. These people could not be forced to go back. They were good Canadians. There were many Germans fighting in the ranks of the Canadians at the front. The thing that had made Britain the great colonizing nation of the world was the fact that she treated people well and carried out agreements with them.

Col. Currie noted that a portion of the press was supporting union government, and intimated that the result of such a government would be that from forty to fifty thousand German votes of the west would send members to Ottawa. He did not know where the money was coming from in Canada to carry on the propaganda to get the votes and have them send members to parliament.

Col. Currie attacked the position that Mr. Turriff had taken and flatly said that he was supporting the voting of unfriendly aliens.

Defends Mr. Turriff.

Mr. Lemieux said that such a charge did not seem fair against a member like Mr. Turriff, who had his only son killed at the front.

"I saw a wounded German-Canadian come back to this country and have seen his German father deny him admission to his house," said Col. Currie.

The chamber and the trouble became so hot that the Government intervened and withheld the measure until another day.

SOUTH AFRICA MAY BE MODEL USED IN IRISH SITUATION

Convention Adjourns While Secretary Secures Data.

DUBLIN, July 26.—Even fewer people assembled on College Green this morning to witness the arrival of the delegates to the Irish convention in session here. No individual caused any demonstration either of admiration or hostility. The complete absence of public excitement is treated as on the whole a healthy sign. The unanimous election of Sir Horace Plunkett to be chairman of the convention is welcomed by the newspapers of the various political sides.

At today's session of the convention, the official report announces, a preliminary procedure committee was appointed to prepare proposals, and it was agreed that the convention adjourn until August 8 to enable the chairman, in conjunction with the secretaries, to prepare and issue to the members in circular form the material necessary to enable the convention to proceed with its task.

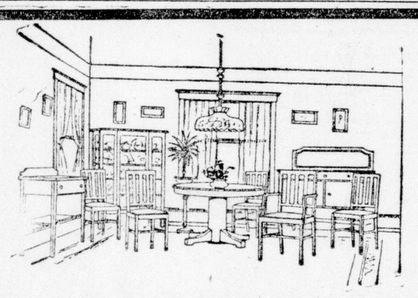

The preliminary procedure committee then held its first meeting, continues the official account, and decided to have a draft of the standing orders for the convention drawn up. The committee also asked that Sir Francis Hopwood, the convention's secretary, should submit to the members of the committee information in regard to the procedure adopted by the convention that drew up a constitution for the Union of South Africa. The committee will meet again on Tuesday next.

CORONER CONDEMNS DOCTOR AND MAID IN JURY ADDRESS

Calls Physician's Actions "Improper and Dishonest."

TORONTO, July 26.—After two hours of deliberation, the coroner's jury investigating the death of seventeen-year-old Florence Cook, niece of Henry Ellis, undertaker, who died under suspicious circumstances, tonight brought in a verdict that death resulted from peritonitis, brought on by a miscarriage through an illegal operation, by person or persons unknown.

In his address to the jury the coroner expressed the opinion that if Edith Copeland, the maid now under indictment, had spoken more frankly, they would have been able to place the blame. He also censured Dr. Dawson, the attending physician, his conduct being by his own admission "improper, dishonest and contrary to the ethics of the medical profession."

NOTHING SHORT OF FREEDOM FOR ALL, ALLIES' WAR AIMS

Asquith's Statement in House So Declares.

MEASURE FAILS 148 TO 19

McDonald Resolution Fails to Gain Support of Even Labor Men.

LONDON, July 26.—After employing the whole evening session in a discussion of a peace resolution introduced by Henry Ramsay MacDonald, a Socialist and Labor member, the House of Commons defeated it by a vote of 148 to 19. The announcement of the figures was received with some cheers and much laughter. The smallness of the number of members in the House when the vote was taken is an indication of little interest shown by Parliament in any hope of a useful peace movement at the present time, and the conviction was voiced in an important statement by Herbert H. Asquith, the former premier, that nothing was to be hoped for from the present temper of the German Reichstag and people. Mr. MacDonald, as shown by the vote, found very few supporters. George James Wardle, in behalf of the Labor party, declined to have anything to do with this pacifist resolution.

The speech of Andrew Bonar Law, the Government leader in the House, dealt largely with the Russian crisis. He said that all the nations engaged were staggering under the blow, but that the resources of the Allies were sufficient to make it absolutely certain that, unless their hearts failed them, they must secure the results for which they entered the war. The struggle had reached a point where it was a question of staying power, and in this matter he had absolute confidence in the Allies. He was equally certain that if anything could delay peace, it would be any sign of faltering.

Protests at Bloodshed.

Philip Snowden, Socialist, said the debate disclosed that the British Government, more than any other belligerent, was standing in the way of an early settlement. He protested against more blood being shed to restore Alsace-Lorraine to France.

The resolution was moved by James Ramsay MacDonald, Socialist and Labor member for Leicester, and was supported by Charles P. Trevelyan, Liberal, Hastings; Bleesch Smith, Liberal; P. Snowden, Socialist, and Arthur A. Ponsonby, Liberal.

Mr. MacDonald agreed that his resolution expressed the opinion of only a small minority, but he contended that this minority was ever growing. Stockholm had borne its fruit; the Allied conference would bear more, and the international conference would bear still more fruit. Such a conference would find out that the time had come for an active effort for peace, and it would find a peace that would not be disturbed by preparations for war.

No Peace With Conquest.

Charles P. Trevelyan, who seconded the resolution, agreed in condemning the uncertainty in the speech of the German chancellor, Dr. Michaelis, and said that they were all agreed that peace awaited the restoration of Belgium and France, without any economic or other conditions. He also doubted whether there could be peace until all the governments clearly and expressely repudiated the idea of conquest or annexation. While it might be the duty of the Government to reply to the German chancellor, it was the duty of the House of Commons to reply to the Reichstag resolution. Dr. Michaelis' speech was made on that resolution, and the fact that he did not speak against it or try to persuade the Reichstag from passing it ought not to be overlooked.

Former Premier Asquith thought that the previous speakers attached more importance to the Reichstag resolution than it really deserved. They seemed to have forgotten the circumstances under which it was passed. After an obscure struggle in Berlin, in which for a time it seemed as if the advocates of a relatively moderate policy would get their way, the military chiefs appeared on the scene and secured the dismissal of the imperial chancellor, in whom the emperor, only a few days before, had expressed his unbounded and undiminished confidence.

Peace, said Mr. Asquith, had become the supreme interest of mankind, but subject to an all-important condition, namely, that it is a peace which does not defeat the purpose for which the great nations entered upon and have continued to war, and that it does not turn to waste the immeasurable loss and suffering they had shared and were sharing in common. He welcomed the news that a conference would be held early in the autumn on the invitation of the Russian Government. Nothing but good could come of a plain restatement of the Allies' aims in a good cause. Two new facts of the present year, first, that Russia had ceased forever to be autocratic, and second, the appearance with all her moral and material forces, of the United States in the struggle, had a direct and practical bearing upon the opinion of the world as to the sincerity of the Allies' aims.

For Freedom Only.

"They mean," continued the former premier, "that the allied nations now include an overwhelming majority of the free peoples of the world. The Allies are fighting for nothing but freedom and nothing short of freedom. . . . That is the policy of this great and unprecedented aggregation of free peoples.

"Earnestly as we desire peace, no peace is worth having which restored under some thin disguise the precarious status quo ante bellum and left countries like Belgium, Serbia and Greece at the mercy of dynastic intrigue or under the menace of military coercion. It would be premature and futile to grapple in detail with the geographical problems eventually to be solved.

"The principle clearly agreed to by every one of the Allies is that in any rearrangement made the governing principle ought to be the interests and wishes of the population. Is Germany prepared not only to evacuate Belgium but to make reparation for the colossal mischief and damage which accompanied her devastating occupation and the practical enslavement of a large portion of the Belgian people? Is she prepared not only to do that, but to restore to Belgium, not a pretense of, but absolute independence?

No Hope in Reichstag.

"I should like to know the German answer to these questions. I find no answer in the vague, indeterminate formulae of the Reichstag. I have no desire to say that peace is impossible, but I cannot see, from what has recently occurred in Berlin, any real approximate of a practical kind to the aims and objects of the Allies."

Mr. Asquith thought that the German people was the greatest obstacle to peace, but said that was a matter for the German people themselves. So far as the Allies were concerned, the best hope of peace, he said, was a frank and open statement, both by way of avowal and disavowal of the objects for which they were fighting, and as a means to that end he welcomed the fullest use of all opportunities for an interchange of views between representatives of the great democracies. It could not be too clearly stated that this was a matter for the peoples, rather than the governments.

Have Clear Conscience.

"Once that is realized by the democracies of the world," continued the former premier, "we shall be within measurable sight of an honorable and lasting peace. Meanwhile, we shall not be helping the advent of peace if we give the impression that there is any faltering in our determination, or doubt in our ability to carry on the burden. We look up with clear conscience until our ends are achieved."

George James Wardle, chairman of the labor party in the House of Commons, speaking in behalf of his party frankly agreed with Mr. Asquith's remarks and said that he was unable to support the resolution. The Reichstag did not represent the German people, and any negotiations could only be with the German Government; therefore an international Socialist conference would be useless. He saw no sign of repentance on the part of the German Socialist majority, nor any desire to come to such an understanding as the movers of the resolution suggested.

Crime If Resolution True.

Andrew Bonar Law, the Government leader, also opposing the resolution, said that if the views of the movers of the resolution were right, then this country had been guilty of the greatest crime ever committed in the history of the world. He contended that it was useless to base anything upon the resolution passed by the Reichstag, which did not have the smallest power. Germany never had stated her aims, because she knew she would be found out directly she put her peace terms down in black and white.

ADOPT WIN-WAR POLICY

Ontario Newspapers Will Support Only Candidates Who Will Back Men at Front.

TORONTO, July 26.—A conference of editors and publishers of Ontario Liberal newspapers was held in the Ontario Club this afternoon to discuss the Canadian political situation. Those present were: T. H. Preston, Expositor, Brantford; W. J. Taylor and F. H. Markey, Sentinel-Review, Woodstock; J. I. McIntosh and A. R. Kennedy, Mercury, Guelph; W. M. O'Beirne, Beacon, Stratford; William Banks Jun., Globe, Toronto; M. A. James, Statesman, Bowmanville; J. E. Atkinson, J. T. Clark and J. R. Bone, Star, Toronto; W. J. Laut, The Advertiser, London; F. H. Leslie, Review, Niagara Falls; J. M. Elson, Journal, St. Catharines; W. J. Elliott, Chronicle, Ingersoll; H. T. Blackstone, Times, Orillia; J. O. Herity, Ontario, Belleville; Mr. Thompson, Times, Hamilton; Hal B. Donly, Reformer, Simcoe; Thomas F. McMahon, Liberal, Richmond Hill; W. P. Moore, Free Press, Acton; W. Elliott, Recorder, Mitchell; J. G. Elliott, Whig, Kingston; Howard Fleming, Sun, Owen Sound.

T. H. Preston of Brantford was called to the chair, and after a thorough discussion assent was given to the following expression of opinion, the only dissent being on the part of W. Elliott, of the Mitchell Recorder:

"1. Canada's task is to organize her man-power and resources for the winning of the war, including compulsory military service, conscription of wealth, progressive income tax, increased food production, control of profiteering, nationalization of munition plants, national and personal thrift and economy, etc.

"2. It is essential that our troops be backed up by the needed reinforcement, and that the Liberal party in Ontario should stand squarely for compulsory military service, and that no candidate should be supported who will not support this.

"3. Sir Robert Borden and his Government have proved themselves unequal to these tasks. No other purely party government at the present time could deal with them. A war cabinet and government representing both parties and the strong forces of the nation working for the winning of the war is therefore necessary."

GOBLES WOMAN WAS INSTANTLY KILLED BY FALL FROM EXPRESS

Remains of Mrs. W. H. Baker Were Found Beside the Rails.

GOBLES, July 26.—Mrs. W. H. Baker was instantly killed a quarter of a mile east of here tonight by falling from the G.T.R. express on which she was returning home. Her husband was at the depot to meet her and when the train pulled in looked in vain for his wife. A friend assured him that she had been on the train when it left Hamilton and that he had talked with her only a short time before. It was decided to search along the tracks and the party on going back found her lying beside the rails. Her face was terribly mangled. Just how Mrs. Baker met death will probably never be known, as no one saw her at the time of the accident. Besides her husband she leaves three daughters. An inquest will be held Friday.

Mrs. Baker went to Toronto a couple of days ago with her daughter, who was on her way to Moose Jaw to visit friends. Fearing to have her travel all the way alone, Mrs. Baker accompanied her part way, and was returning when killed.

IRISH LEADER IS SUSPENDED FROM BRITISH HOUSE

Ginnel Unruly and Removed—Says Life Threatened.

LONDON, July 26.—Laurence Ginnell, the Irish leader, who has long threatened to follow the example of other Sinn Feiners and abstain from attending Parliament, was suspended by the speaker in the House of Commons this afternoon for refusing to obey the ruling of the chair. At the conclusion of the "period" Mr. Ginnell accused the Government of having sent secret service men to his house yesterday to discredit the Sinn Feiners, and amid roars of laughter he said that if these men had been searched bombs would have been found in their possession.

In reading a number of threatening and abusing letters which he had received, he declared dramatically: "I believe my life is in danger in this country. If my life is taken, my death will be a death for Ireland, and I consider it cheap."

He refused to resume his seat when ordered to do so, and the speaker instructed the attendants to remove the unruly member. The House adjourned while the attendants hustled Mr. Ginnell from the chamber.

CONSCRIPTION TALK IN SENATE TUESDAY

Debate Expected To Come To Early End.

OTTAWA, July 26.—The compulsory service bill has reached the Senate. This afternoon the speaker announced that he had received the famous measure from the Lower House, which has stirred the country. It was given its first reading, which is a mere formality, and Tuesday was fixed for the second reading. This stage will show how the parties line-up in the Senate. The Liberal senators held a meeting today to consider what position they would adopt. It was stated that there was no effort to reach an agreement upon a unanimous line of conduct. The expectation is that there will be the same sort of freedom of action authorized for the Senate that there was for the Commons.

The debate in the Senate is expected to be finished in the course of three or four days. The Government is strengthening its senatorial following, in order to insure the passage of the measure, in spite of any combination which may develop.

Morning sittings of the Senate are promised, in order that the bill may be rushed through.

Three More Tory M. Ps. Win Party Reward in Senate

Fisher of Brant, Blain of Peel and Lesperance of Quebec Are Elevated.

OTTAWA, July 26. — Four more senators have been appointed, three of them from the House of Commons. They are: J. H. Fisher, M. P. for Brant; Richard Blain, M. P. for Peel; D. O. Lesperance, ex-M.P. from Quebec, and L. McMeans of Winnipeg.

TRADED WITH ENEMY

Paris Courts Condemn Two Men to Fine and Imprisonment.

PARIS, July 26.—The Paris courts have condemned two men to two months' imprisonment and a fine of 1,000 francs under the "trading with the enemy act." The men were charged with sending 30 cases of an Austrian commodity to a German firm at Santos, Brazil.

OPPOSE SEIN FEINERS

LONDON, July 26.—Another electoral contest between the Nationalists and Sinn Feiners is impending. Ex-Mayor McGinnis of Kilkenny has been chosen by the Nationalists to oppose William Cosgrave, recently selected by the Sinn Feiners as their candidate for the Kilkenny seat in Parliament.

LEAVE LAND QUESTION TO ASSEMBLY, HE SAYS

New Russian Minister of Justice Opposes Socialistic Move.

LONDON, July 26.—The new Russian minister of justice, M. Efremoff, has publicly declared that he is resolutely opposed to the Socialist minister of agriculture's proposal that all land transactions be prohibited immediately, says a Reuter dispatch from Petrograd. The minister of justice contends that the whole land question is one for the constituent assembly.

Canada to Mark War Anniversary

OTTAWA, July 26.—The Government has requested the premiers of the four different provinces to make arrangements for a suitable celebration of the third anniversary of the declaration of righteous war and rededication of the energies of the Canadian people to a vigorous prosecution of the war until an honorable peace is secured.

SURPRISE AIR RAID

ROME, July 26.—Today's war office statement regarding military operations on the Austro-Italian front, reads:

"On the whole front the artillery and patrol activity was normal.

"During the night an isolated attack by the enemy southwest of Castagnavizza was broken up by our fire.

"One of our airplanes paid a surprise visit, under adverse atmospheric conditions, to St.Lucia-Tolmino, dropping a number of high explosives on the railway works and doing considerable damage."

Do You Put Winning The War Ahead of Everything Else?

Are you willing to have party politics dropped until after the war has been won?

Do you believe that Canada must "carry on" to the end, and support civilization with men, money, munitions and food?

Ought every ability and activity of Canada to be devoted to winning the war?

Are you determined that honor, duty and patriotism shall prevail over selfishness and indifference?

Shall we support those sons, those brothers, those husbands, those fathers who are fighting for us at the front, and shall we send them the aid needed to save them from being killed alone and unaided?

Of course you answer YES. Then fill out and mail this coupon and get your friends to do the same.

HOUSEKEEPING IS A BUSINESS. ECONOMICAL COOKING IS A SCIENCE.

Our Consumers' League

BY ISOBEL C. ARMSTRONG.

"If the people of the United States and Canada would cut down their consumption of wheat by one-sixth, there would be no question of a shortage," was the statement by Canada's Food Controller, Hon. W. J. Hanna, this week at the opening meeting of the Provincial Women's Food Conservation convention, held in Convocation Hall, Toronto. In this connection Mr. Hanna told the grave truth in regard to the situation. A deficiency exists on this side of the Atlantic of 160,000,000 bushels of wheat on the estimated amount required to feed Britain and her Allies.

"Now let me state," said Mr. Hanna, "that the Allies are dependent for the supply on the United States and Canada, if the armies are not to retire before the enemy in defeat because they may not have enough food to maintain them in the battle they have so far fought so well."

Here is a new department of service on the firing line at home, defeating the Germans by the establishment of wheatless meals, one every two days, according to the food controller.

First, it was defeating the Germans by digging and planting and tending garden. Now it is to be a case of wheat substitutes or pulling in your own belt and taking reefs in the family belts.

Mrs. Buchanan, a Scottish woman who quite brought down the house at the convention by her humor and sound common sense, advocated oatmeal porridge for breakfast. Lots of people achieved great prominence in the world, who, for a period of their lives at least, ate very little else but oatmeal porridge

Nothing like the war and a food controller to get people back to the simple life! The wonder is if some of the people who did so much raving about its advantages in ante-bellum days will take it cheerfully now that it has become a patriotic duty and a war necessity.

"CONSERVING" BABIES FOR THE NATION.

"The strength of a nation depends on the health of its individual members, and no statesman is worthy the name, who does not exert his influence for improving the conditions under which his fellow countrymen live and develop."

The foregoing statement was made by P. B. Tustin, M.R.S.I., manager of the Bureau of Child Hygiene and Chief of Food and Dairy Division, Health Department, Winnipeg, Manitoba, in a bulletin published some time ago on "Conservation of Human Life."

Winnipeg, by the way, has one of the best organized child welfare departments not only of any city in Canada, but on the continent.

Apropos the statement quoted, it is a fact worth pondering that some of London's civic statesmen have seen fit to cut the estimates of the board of health and refuse to make provision for the employment of a welfare nurse. They have evidently failed to recognize the responsibility resting upon civic statesmanship of exerting influence for improving conditions under which fellow citizens live and develop.

Especially have they failed to recognize a responsibility towards the future citizenship.

"What more do you want," said a prominent citizens the other day in an exasperated tone of voice. "Haven't we appointed school nurses to look after the welfare of the children. Aren't we spending a lot of the citizens' money for this very thing?"

"We want to begin at the foundation, start with the babies from their earliest infancy. You don't need to be told that the majority of babies born who do not live to grow up, die in the first year of life, and a large percentage of the remaining minority under five years. You have surely heard this statement made often enough to recognize it. It is before school age that the majority of the lives of children are needlessly lost," was the writer's reply.

The great man looked weary. "Oh, yes! We have heard all that," he replied, "but you have got to take into consideration that this is war time, and there are a number of other things to be done with civic funds at the present time without starting these fad movements. If we didn't act conscientiously about public funds, we would soon hear about it. I tell you, it is all very well to talk about starting these new things when there isn't so much demand being made for money in all directions. We have got to cut down expenses somewhere."

And that was the last grand big argument of the civic statesman against squandering money on child welfare work and engaging a welfare nurse.

If the war has taught any one thing more than another, it is the fact that the strength of the nation depends on the health of its individual members.

The number of rejections of men as physically unfit for military service is surely a sufficiently striking illustration of this point. The men the army wants are strong, vigorous men. Weaklings need not apply.

Apart from actually saving children from death from preventible causes, child welfare work and education along child welfare lines, is an insurance of improved standard of health and strength for the future citizens, an insurance of "strength for the nation." It looks strangely like good patriotism as well as humanitarianism.

If there is one thing above another no city can afford to do it is to cut down estimates which will make possible the preservation of the lives and health of infants who are to be the future citizens and strength of the nation.

It is an exceedingly short-sighted policy to say the least.

BABY'S DAY COMING IN LONDON.

While the establishment of child welfare work to meet the actual needs of the city is out of question for this year, owing to the action of Powers That Be in refusing to include provision for such a department in the estimates, no harm is done by hammering away at the subject and keeping it before the "intelligent citizens." To be sure, some work might be undertaken to save the babies, even at the present time, by raising of money by subscription to pay a welfare nurse and establish at least one certified milk depot. But this would be merely substituting charity for what is the city's business, just as much its business as operating public schools, maintaining a fire department and lighting and cleaning the streets.

Evidences are to be found on all sides in London of a growing interest in child welfare efforts, and an increasing appreciation of the importance of the conservation of child life. Last week at the Rotary Club the entire after-dinner hour was devoted to a discussion of various phases of conservation of young life with all its potentialities.

After attention had been given to the Y. M. C. A., the juvenile courts, Children's Aid Society work, etc., Col. Gartshore, chairman of the hospital board, called the attention of fellow members of the club to the very first principles of social welfare work, namely, infant welfare.

Col. Gartshore is by no means the only prominent citizen who appreciates the importance of taking up a definite child welfare crusade in London, and keeping it up. The members of the board of health are ready to do their part in promoting such a movement. Dr. W. H. Hill, medical officer of health, has already strongly expressed his views in this department of The Advertiser. In the past, the mothers' clubs have devoted attention to infant welfare in an educational way. The Women's Liberal Association is giving infant welfare a prominent place on its program for the coming year.

The Isabel Hampton Chapter, I. O. D. E., composed of graduate nurses, is planning a most practical way of arousing the interest of the public in a better babies' movement in this part of Ontario. The chapter has already arranged for space at the Western Fair for a child welfare exhibit, obtainable from the Government, to be shown under the auspices of the chapter. Proper sleeping and bathing arrangements for the baby will be demonstrated, proper clothing, etc. "Baby Killers," which include long tube feeding bottles, flies and other menaces to infant welfare will be pointed out as warnings.

Following the brief report which appeared of the Rotary Club luncheon, at which welfare work was discussed, Col. Gartshore received a letter from an out-of-town woman, daughter and wife of a soldier, commending him upon the stand taken by him in regard to infant welfare, and urging him to continue his interest and efforts towards the establishment of a child welfare department in London.

All of the foregoing indicates that people are thinking as probably never before along the lines of conservation of child life, and that the people who are now thinking are going to get other people thinking.

It means that even if innocents are to be sacrificed for some time to come, London in the not far distant future will take its place among progressive cities, with a well organized and adequate child welfare department.

VIA WIRELESS FROM FOOD CONSERVATION CONVENTION.

"No matter how great the sacrifices of those at home may be, they can never equal the sacrifices of the men in the field."—Lady Hendrie.

"We face famine, and the pestilence that follows famine, unless we can learn to replace the things lacking in our dietary with other nutritive foods. Children must have nourishing diet. In any cutting of rations they and the soldiers must be the exempted ones. Don't let us wait till we have no wheat before we begin to experiment with other grains. . . . A soup plateful of oatmeal porridge equals four slices of bread half an inch thick, taken from a four-pound loaf."—Miss Davidson, Domestic Science Expert.

"A tomato, with legs, walked from the home garden to the factory and back to its own table in a tin can and cost 18 cents. Its brother, which stepped from the garden to its own kitchen window and into the nome can, arrived at the table, costing 4 cents."—Miss Chapman.

"Five hundred and fifty-three million, seven hundred and seventy-six thousand, six hundred and ten pounds of grain have gone into alcohol since war began. If alcohol is necessary for munitions, why not use the 20,000,000 gallons in bond?"—Mrs. Crowe, Guelph.

"We are urged by the Government to buy fish, and we can't get them, though the rivers and lakes near us are full of them." — Mrs. Beasley, Sandwich.

"We need at this hour a revival of the patriotic enthusiasm that stirred Canada at the outbreak of war. We are losing the spirit of sacrifice. Conserving of food is something you can begin to do now. Every hour's delay diminishes the supply for the armies in the field. It is a woman's question—much as the men have at stake, the women have vastly more. If Germany were to triumph, she would lose the place she has won in the civilized world."—N. W. Rowell, K.C., M.P.P.

BRITAIN ELIMINATING FOOD PROFITEERING BY FIXED PRICE SYSTEM

Taking Over Flour Mills and Selling at Below Cost.

SUBSIDY TO COVER LOSS

Lord Rhondda Also Announces Prosecution of All Illegal Profits.

...DON, July 26.—Lord Rhondda, ...d controller, outlining today the ...e intends to follow to regulate ...ices and eliminate profiteering, ... intended to fix the prices of ...odities of prime necessity, over ... he could obtain effective control, ...ll stages, from the producer to the ...nsumer. Every effort would be made ...o prevent speculation and unnecessary middlemen would be eliminated. Existing agencies would be utilized for the purpose of facilitating distribution under license and under the control and supervision of local food controllers to be appointed by the local authorities.

Will Press Imprisonment.

Where profits were made illegally, Lord Rhondda said he would press for imprisonment in all cases of sufficient gravity. He proposed to eliminate profiteering by fixing prices on the basis of pre-war profits. All flour mills would be taken over and worked on the Government account, the flour being sold to bakers at a uniform price, and the bakers being expected to sell loaves over the counter at a maximum of 9d retail, and flour at a corresponding rate.

British wheat will be purchased by millers at prices determined by the Government, these prices over the year averaging 72s per quarter.

Lower Than Cost.

The prices charged to millers for both home and imported wheat would be lower than the cost to the Government, and the difference would be made up by a subsidy from the exchequer. The policy of subsidies was only justifiable because of the impossibility otherwise of reducing the cost of food to the poor.

Maximum prices of cattle would be fixed at 74s per cwt. in September, 72s in October, 67s in November and December, and 60s in January. This would enable the farmers to realize without serious losses and would reduce prices to the consumer.

Dealers' and butchers' profits would also be controlled. Retail prices would be fixed by local committees, and arrangements would be made for equitable distribution. The local authorities would be asked to appoint food control committees, including at least one representative of labor, and one woman, these committees to be responsible for carrying out the regulations of the food controller.

Communal Kitchens Coming.

A new scheme of sugar distribution, said Lord Rhondda, would be put into operation, and another important feature of the economy campaign would be the establishment of communal kitchens.

BRITISH SEAMEN STUCK TO POSTS DESPITE FIRE OF AUSTRIAN CRUISERS

Wonderful Heroism of "Drifters" Men in Otranto Straits Engagement, in Fight Against Terrific Odds, Given to Public Now.

LONDON, July 26.—Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.—Following are the particulars concerning the gallant behavior of a line of British drifters employed in watching anti-submarine nets in the straits of Otranto, when attacked by three Austrian cruisers at dawn on May 15, as already briefly reported in the official communique of May 18:

The drifters were disposed in eight divisions of about six boats each along a line running roughly east and west. They carried a crew of ten men each and one small gun. The Austrian cruisers separated on approaching the line, one attacking the centres, the others the two divisions of each wing. In one instance the enemy appears to have acted with chivalry towards the little drifters, signaling that the crews must abandon their crafts. This cruiser approached within one hundred yards of the Gowanlea and ordered her crew to take to the boats. Skipper J. Watt, slipping the nets, replied by ordering full speed ahead, and calling on the crew for three cheers, bade them fight to a finish. They manned the gun and continued to fire with good effect until a shot from the cruiser disabled the gun. They hung on under heavy fire, endeavoring to repair the damage, until the cruiser passed out of range.

Skipper Stuck To Past.

The Gowanlea then proceeded to the assistance of her badly damaged consort, the Leondia, who had four men killed and three wounded out of her equipment of ten, but whose skipper, though wounded in three places, remained at his post throughout the action. Meanwhile the remaining cruisers had opened a devastating fire on the centre and other wing of the line, yet despite the overwhelming odds against the drifters and the willingness of the enemy to allow the crews to take to the boats, a spirit of indomitable gallantry was shown from one end of the line to the other throughout the action.

The crew of the Admirable only abandoned their vessel after her boiler had exploded and her wheelhouse had been shot away. Even then A. Gordon, a second hand, scrambled back on board with the evident intention of fighting the gun single-handed, but was killed.

Crew Refused To Leave.

The Girl Rose, Coralhaven and Selby were not abandoned by their crews until they foundered under them. The crew of the sinking Taits, having taken to the boat, discovered one of their number to be missing. They returned to the vessel through a heavy fire to search for their shipmate. Second hand Joseph Hendry, of the Serene, remained on board until the ship sank, rather than be taken prisoner, and was picked up in the water an hour later. The crews of the Garrigil, Bonespoir, Christmas Day and British Crown refused to leave their vessels even when outranged and under broadside fire from the enemy, and brought them through the action.

The enemy displayed an anxiety to destroy the wireless telegraph apparatus of the drifter in each group, and the behavior of the wireless operators of the Capella and Garrigill in remaining at their posts throughout the action is conspicuous. The wireless operator of the Leondia was found dead in his chair at the conclusion of the action, having collapsed over the wireless log in which he was writing at the moment of his death.

RACE RIOTS BRING DEATH TO TWO IN PENNSYLVANIA CITY

One White Man and One Negro Killed at Chester.

SLAYING FOLLOWS RAID

National Guardsmen and Police Succeed in Restoring Order After Deaths.

CHESTER, Pa., July 26.—Two men, a white man and a negro, were killed in race riots which broke out anew here tonight after a day of comparative quiet. About twenty others were injured, and scores of persons were arrested.

The rioting, which started last night as the result of the killing of a young white man named McKinney by negroes last Tuesday, reached its climax tonight, when a mob of several hundred whites invaded the negro section. Negroes who ventured to retard their progress were beaten down with clubs, and houses were searched in the hope of discovering one of the suspects in the McKinney case.

One of tonight's victims was Joseph McCann, white, 28 years old, who is said to have been a leader of the mob. When he fell, mortally wounded, the invading whites were augmented by hundreds of onlookers. Several negroes were dragged from street cars and beaten into insensibility. One was fatally shot. Scores of shots were fired by the negroes from the windows of their homes, and several white men and boys were injured.

Shortly after McCann was killed a squad of National Guardsmen was rushed to the scene. Augmented by the local police force and a large squad of state police, they drove the rioters from the colored section with drawn revolvers and pointed rifles. The negro section was roped off after quiet was restored, and a heavy guard thrown around it. Mayor McDowell announced at midnight that he had the situation under control.

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

ELECTRIC STORM IN THORNDALE DISTRICT DOES MUCH DAMAGE

Cows Killed, Trees Blown Down, Crops Lodged.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Thorndale, July 27.—An electric storm of an unusually severe nature swept over this district yesterday, doing considerable damage. David Aitken, whose farm is on concession 4, West Nissouri, had two valuable cows struck and killed. L. Foster of concession 1 was also a loser, two of his heifers being killed.

On concession 2, the barn belonging to Joseph Cunningham was struck, but not burned, as the wires of the lightning conducted the lightning to the ground.

Concession 6 was visited by a hail and wind storm, several trees being blown down, and crops being lodged over a wide area.

RETIREMENT OF RUSSIAN FORCE STILL GOING ON

Petrograd Admits Its Armies Are Falling Back.

CARPATHIAN LINE LOST

Berlin Claims Germans Have Won Way Through It.

PETROGRAD, via London, July 26.—(British Admiralty, per Wireless Press).—The official communication from general headquarters tonight reads:

"In the direction of Vilna there has been an artillery duel. In the region of Smorgon and Krevo the enemy's fire was more intense. East of Tarnopol under enemy pressure our troops retired to the Gnizdiozno and Donizna rivers.

"Northeast of Trembowla on Wednesday superior German forces attacked and penetrated our positions on the River Gnizana in the region of Loszniov. Efforts to restore the situation were unsuccessful.

"At the same time the enemy, penetrating our positions on the Sereth to the south of Trembowla and in the region of Zalavie and Podhaytse, began to develop his stroke in a northeastern direction, in view of which our troops occupying positions in the region of Trembowla retired eastward. Owing to the ineffective composition of our units and the state of their morale, our counter-attacks brought us no definite results.

"Developing his stroke toward the south, along the western bank of the Sereth, the enemy occupied Janoff, Butznioff and Zvieniacz (south of Tarnopol), the enemy's heavy artillery delivering an intense fire on the eastern bank of the Sereth and in the region of the village of Kabklovloki.

Some Units Stand Fast.

"On Wednesday evening our troops began to retire from the Sereth eastward. Certain units are continuing to leave their positions voluntarily without carrying out the military tasks they had been intrusted with. However, with these units there are others, which are devotedly fulfilling their duty toward the fatherland.

"Between the Dniester and the Carpathians our troops, covered by rear guards, have continued to retire eastward. Nijniuv and Tlumacz have been evacuated by our troops.

"Rumanian front: On Wednesday the Rumanian and Russian troops continuel to press upon the retiring enemy to the west of the Suchitza River, and have moved to a line represented by Villatten-Hovela-Gueril.

"Caucasian front: The situation is unchanged."

ABANDON CARPATHIAN FRONT.

BERLIN, via London, July 26.—The supplementary official statement from general headquarters issued this evening says:

"Further German successes in Eastern Galicia compelled the Russians to abandon their Carpathian front as far as the Kirlibaba sector."

The war office says that the German artillery partly closed a breach made in the line by the Russians south of Smorgon.

The heights west of Tarnopol and the Gnizna River sector as far as the Trembowla-Husiatyn railroad were occupied.

Heavy artillery fighting on Field Marshal von Mackensen's front is reported.

The text of the statement follows:

"Eastern theatre:

Close Up Hun Line.

"Front of Prince Leopold, army group of Gen. von Eichhorn—South of Smorgon our concentrated artillery fire has partly closed up the breach in our lines made by the Russians. The enemy was compelled to retreat, and almost all of our former position again is in our possession.

"Army group of Gen. von Boehm-Ermolli—During stubborn engagements our divisions gained heights west of Tarnopol and the Gnizna River sector to the Trembowla-Husiatyn road. Farther southwest of Buczacz, Tlumacz, Ottynia and Delatyn have been taken.

"Front of Archduke Joseph—The Russian Carpathian front, owing to the pressure to the north of the Dniester, has now commenced to weaken to the south of the Tartar Pass. The enemy is retreating there in the direction of Czernowitz. During an attack yesterday the Russians were driven from the Baba and Ludowa Heights.

"Army group of Field Marshal von Mackensen—From midday until nightfall there was a lively artillery engagement on the lower course of the Sereth. On the Macedonian front there is nothing fresh to report.

VIENNA, July 26.—Via London. — The official communication issued today, dealing with the fighting in Galicia, says it was the army of General von Koevess, which captured the Baba and Ludowa heights, and that the Budapest infantry regiment named after Maria Theresa, once queen of Hungary and Bohemia, especially distinguished itself in overcoming the Russian resistance at the Tartar Pass.

The communication adds that on the Italian and Balkan fronts there is nothing of importance to report.

MANY IN DISTRICT PASS TO FACULTY

Certificates Will Soon Be Mailed to Principals.

Results of the upper school examination for entrance to the faculties of education have been issued. The list contains the names of all the candidates who have passed on one or more parts of the upper school examination for the entrance into the faculties of education at the University of Toronto and Queen's University, Kingston. The certificates of those who passed, and the marks of those who failed will be mailed to the principals and inspectors soon.

The appeal examiners have already re-read the papers of each candidate whose marks justified an appeal. Where such candidates have still failed the statement of marks will be stamped as re-read and no further appeal will be allowed. In other cases of failure appeals will not be refused if made before September 1, and accompanied by the fee of two dollars. If made after September 1 the fee is five dollars. No appeal will be accepted after September 10.

Successful candidates who desire to attend the coming session of either faculty of education must make application to the dean at the university concerned, from whom may be obtained the forms of application and all other information.

The successful candidates from Middlesex are: C. M. Anderson (parts I. and II. honors), D. K. Braithwaite (part II. with algebra), C. A. Brown (part II), H. W. Brown (part I), E. F. 1,500 CHINESE IN STATES READY TO SERVE IN FLANDERS Offer Services to President Wilson for Overseas.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Military services of 1,500 Chinese, native of China and American-born sons of Chinese parents, were offered the United States by Tien Tow Lu, a student at Columbia University, in a letter to President Wilson. Under Tien's direction, 300 Chinese in this city have been drilling three months, and he has aroused interest among compatriots in Chicago and San Francisco, so that he is now able, he says, to organize a separate unit of Chinese, to be incorporated in the American overseas army. Tien is a nephew of the late General Huang Sing, leader of the Chinese revolutionary army in 1911, and has had several years military training. Because of his activities as an aide on his uncle's staff a price was placed on his head and he was sent to the United States.

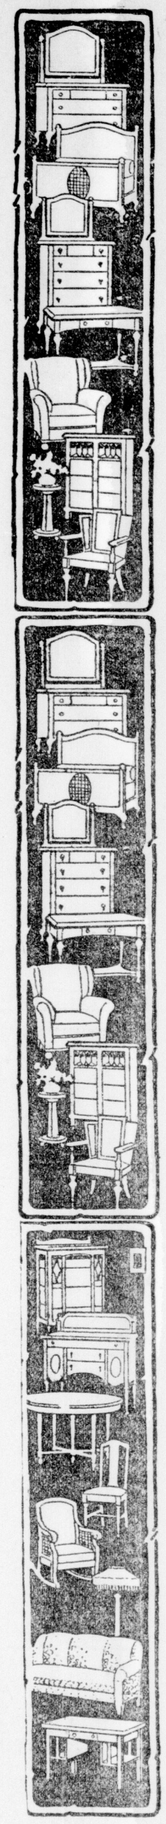

"In order that the world may be made safe for democracy," Tien says in his letter, "everyone must do his or her share to terminate the horrible war and help to sweep away the perilous kaiserism."

CHENG TU IN FLAMES; MORE TROUBLE IN CHINA

Shanghai, China, July 27.—A correspondent of the North China Daily News reports that serious fighting has broken out again at Cheng Tu, capital of the province of Sze Chuen, where Kwei Chow and Yun Nan troops have resumed their quarrel for mastery of the province. The city is in flames, and the people are fleeing in panic.

August Home Furnishing Sale

To-Morrow Morning We Begin Saving London Thousands of Dollars On Fine Furniture

To-morrow morning and for a few weeks, there will be new price tags on our furniture--Price tags that are eloquent in their tale of savings

We are going to break records. We are going to accomplish the summer clearance in a shorter perod of time than ever before. New furniture is waiting to be put into our warehouses, and we are going to make room for it.

Every single piece of furniture, every room suite or home outfit, every piece of floor covering, will be reduced in a manner that will make London a city of more beautiful homes from now on.

Furniture of every season, of every material and design, for every requirement, is all reduced. For instance to-day there was a dining-room suite in our window marked $97.50, to-morrow it's $74.50.

The Home-Lovers' Club

Again opens its register to help home owners who wish to share in the advantages of this sale, but who do not wish to pay all cash for their purchases.

We have only one price, and that the lowest cash price to everybody.

We have found for the past three years especially—that is during the period of the war—an increasing thrift and conservation, which avoids debt and prefers to pay as you go.

To many perfectly responsible customers of moderate income this would involve the postponement of home furnishing or the doing of it piecemeal.

For these customers we started the Home-Lovers' Club, whch has now on its register about one thousand names. These customers have availed themselves of the plan of extended payments.

You buy at our August sale prices. There is no extra charge of any kind. The club is just a convenience to those who wish to avail themselves of it.

THE HOME-LOVERS' CLUB.

Club members may select what goods they want, pay a small deposit and the balance in weekly or monthly payments. Goods will be delivered at once.

HALF-HOUR EARTHQUAKE

CLEVELAND, July 26.—An earthquake lasting half an hour, was recorded tonight on the seismograph at St. Ignatius' College. Father Odenbach, observer in charge, was unable to estimate the probable location of the disturbance, but believes it was several thousand miles distant. The primary indication of the quake was recorded at 8:01:20 o'clock. The secondary came at 8:07:25, the main indication at 8:14:55, and the maximum wave at 8:18 o'clock.

OLD FOLKS NEED "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER, BOWELS

Salts, calomel, pills act on bowels like pepper acts in nostrils.

Enjoy life! Don't stay bilious, sick, headachy and constipated.

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need Cascarets. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets, and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store.

HAVE SOFT WHITE HANDS

By using Cuticura Soap exclusively and Cuticura Ointment occasionally. Samples of each free with 32-page skin book. Address "Cuticura," Dept. S, Boston.

MRS. BURNHAM, JAMAICA, N. Y.

Sufferings Cured by Medicine Recommended by Sister-in-Law.

Jamaica, N. Y.—"I suffered greatly with my head and with backache, was weak, dizzy, nervous, with hot flashes, and felt very miserable, as I was irregular for two years. One day when I was feeling unusually bad my sister-in-law came in and said: 'I wish you would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.' So I began taking it and I am now in good health and am cured. I took the Compound three times a day after meals, and on retiring at night. I always keep a bottle in the house."—Mrs. L. N. Burnham, 295 South street, Jamaica, N. Y.

Women who recover their health naturally tell others what helped them. Some write and allow their names and photographs to be published with testimonials. Many more tell their friends.

ALGONQUIN PARK.

The Highway to Health and Happiness.

No better place could be devised for a real holiday for red-blooded men and women than Algonquin Park, situate about 200 miles north of the city of Toronto. It is an unspoiled territary of nearly 2,000,000 acres, starred with beautiful lakes and intersected by winding streams. No reserve in Canada can approach it in the wealth of attractions it offers to the lover of out-of-doors.

Away up in the Highlands of Ontario, 2,000 feet above the level of the sea, the park is a wonderful spot in which to renew the energies of a tired body or refresh a wearied spirit. Its tonic air filters through hundreds of square miles of pine, balsam and spruce; the days are unusually long, with bright sunshine, while the cool evenings are a time of enchantment. The park is a paradise for the fisherman and canoeist; the excellence of its sport draws anglers from every part of the Dominion, and from every state in the Union, while the canoeist can travel for hundreds of miles in his light craft and be in a veritable kingdom of his own.

The accommodation in the park is such that the most varied tastes can be pleased. There are hotels for those who want to be in the wilderness—yet enjoy all the comforts that good service and social companionship can bring; there are groups of log cabin camps, comfortably furnished and ideal for family parties, with central lodges containing recreation and dining rooms, where you may dine and find everything ready for you on your return from the tramp; or if you have planned to camp under your own canvas you may step into a canoe at one of the little railway stations, and after a short paddle find a site unmarred by the hand of man yet within easy reach of the park outfitting stores.

Many families now go into the park expressly for the camping, making their headquarters at the hotels long enough to get supplies and camping outfit ready for the trip. Then in canoes, and with guides or without them, they launch out into the deep woods, camping where fancy prompts.

A handsome illustrated publication telling you all about this famous park is issued by the Grand Trunk Railway, and a copy can be had free on application to C. E. Horning, Union Station, Toronto, Ont. July 31.

CANADA CAN SEND MORE MEN WITHOUT HURTING FARMERS

Reinforcements Badly Needed at Once, Says Leader Rowell.

ORGANIZATION IS URGENT

Conscript Wealth and All Resources of Dominion to Win War.

HICKSON, July 26.—Newton W. Rowell gave a fine address here tonight before a crowd of many hundred farmers who had gathered from all parts of the district. Among those present were scores of young men who have come out to help in the greater production movement, and Mr. Rowell praised their efforts and showed how essential it is that Canada should do everything possible.

His address was as follows:

"The military service bill has cut clear across party lines. The majority in the House of Commons, and the minority as well, are made up from the members of both parties. I am glad the member for this riding, my friend, Mr. Nesbitt, supported the bill throughout, and I am sure you will permit me to say how gratified I was personally that Mr. Nesbitt did so.

Proper Organization.

"You all know my position. For nearly three years I have been giving my best thought and attention to the issues of this war and Canada's participation in it. I am convinced that by a proper organization of our man-power and resources we can reinforce and maintain our present divisions at the front without prejudicing agriculture, which is also vital to the nation's life, or other essential industries which must be maintained if the war is to be successfully prosecuted. The experience of other countries at war proves that we can do this. And when this has been done, in view of what other nations have already accomplished, our sacrifice will be less in proportion than that of any nation which entered the war at the time we did.

Visited the Front.

"In order that I might better understand the real situation, I visited the battlefront last year, and have endeavored to keep in touch with conditions at the front ever since. I spent some weeks looking into the situation in Great Britain and France. I found both countries putting forth unprecedented efforts and making unparalleled sacrifices to achieve victory. I have been in close touch with the recruiting situation in this province since the outbreak of the war, and I know something of the recruiting conditions in the other provinces.

"Applying my best judgment to the conditions as I found them and know them, I reached the conclusion some months ago that Canada could not continue to reinforce her men at the front; could not maintain her position in the battleline; could not continue her struggle for her own freedom under the voluntary system. Having reached the conclusion that compulsory military service was essential for the defence of Canada and the preservation of our liberties, it was my duty to say so; not because I liked compulsion, for I did not; not because I believed it would be popular, for I knew it would not be popular; but because I believed it was necessary, and that the people of Canada if they once realized the necessity would be prepared to make any sacrifice required to achieve victory.

Need Reinforcements.

"The actual need for reinforcements is much greater than I had thought possible. We cannot enlist men and put them into the trenches at once; they must have months of training before they can take their places in the firing line. They should have at least six months' training. To put men into the firing line who have not completed their training is neither fair to the men, to their companions in arms, nor to the cause for which they are fighting.

"I have looked into the question of our infantry reserves in Great Britain, and I am convinced that even if we had our new recruits ready to commence their military training at this moment, before they could complete their training our infantry reserves would be exhausted at the present rate of wastage.

"The appeals that come to us from across the sea for assistance and support from our own officers and men are appeals which we cannot resist. We have asked these men to go there and fight our battles; we promised them that Canada would be behind them to the last man and the last dollar. How can we at this time fail to respond to the urgency of their need?

"Added to that urgent appeal is the present critical war situation on the eastern front, and the absolute necessity that the army should be maintained at full strength on the western front, unless we are to lose the benefit of the sacrifices already made.

All Are Confident.

"Today our gallant Canadians face the foe in confidence that the country they are dying to save will not desert them, that when they are cheerfully offering their lives for us that we will not fail them. Every citizen of this county, every citizen of this province, must answer for himself this question, 'Will he back up the men at the front?' If the answer is, 'Yes, we must back up the men at the front,' then the next question is, 'How can we back up the men at the front?' I know of no man who has studied the recruiting situation and knows the actual conditions of recruiting in this province for the past year who would be prepared to say that we can secure the necessary men solely by voluntary enlistment. That being so, what is our plain duty?

"We must get the men. To every young man of military age who is not engaged in agriculture or other essential industry, the appeal comes with compelling force to offer himself at once to the service of his country. He should not wait the operation of the military service act; he should offer now. He is needed now, and I earnestly hope our young men will respond to this need. But in addition to any voluntary recruits, we must also have the military service act now.

"Strongly as I differ from the manner in which this grave issue of compulsory service was presented to the country, wise as I believe it would have been to consult with labor, agriculture and other interests vitally affected, before the proposal was submitted to Parliament, firmly as I believe it should have been presented by a national government rather than by a party government, these considerations would not excuse me for now failing to support a measure, which, I am convinced, is essential to meet the war conditions we are now facing.

A Fierce Struggle.

"I know some of my friends in this county and elsewhere do not agree with the conclusions I have reached. I deeply regret that I am compelled to differ from them; but few, if any of them, have seen what I have seen of the conditions at the front, or know what I know of the fierceness of the struggle and of the patient and cheerful courage of our men, buoyed up in the confidence that Canada was behind them. I would be untrue to these gallant men and to my own convictions as to Canada's clear duty if I did not support compulsory military service now that a bill has been introduced and passed in Parliament, and appeal to my fellow-citizens to recognize their obligations to the state and cheerfully to accept and loyally support compulsory service.

"But Canada must not stop with a compulsory military service measure. Men at the front feel and feel keenly that while they are giving their all for Canada and for liberty, men at home are making huge profits out of the war.

"I hold in my hands a letter from one of our distinguished officers at the front, who has been there ever since the outbreak of the war. What does he say?

Not Yet Awakened.

"'Sometimes I feel that in spite of all the individual heroism and self-sacrifice shown by Canadians, there is little sign yet of a real awakening. . . . I wonder who number the most—those killed in battle or those who have made money out of the war? I speak only of Canada. The impression, inadequate, I am sure, but not without some justification, gathered by nearly every man I have talked to who has been home to Canada on leave, is that people there are more interested in the money to be made out of the war than anything else.'

"We must show by our actions, not by our words, that this view of the people at home is not correct.

"In justice to the men at the front, as well as to the cause for which they are fighting, we must require wealth to bear its full share of the burden. Men who are profiting by the war must make a full contribution to the cost of the war, and in addition a radical, progressive income tax is a measure urgently needed. We must also proceed with the thorough organization of our resources, so that Canada may throw her full strength into this struggle. In order that in this critical hour of our history she may not fail in her duty to herself, to her gallant sons at the front and to the cause of liberty for which so many of these brave men have cheerfully laid down their lives."

LITTLE GIRL KILLED WHEN AUTO UPSET; MOTHER ESCAPED

Car Landed in Creek After Going Over Bridge.

GUELPH, July 26.—A fatal accident occurred at the entrance of the bridge leading into Milton from Campbellville, when Marguerite, 3-year-old daughter of Frank Ellis, was killed instantly. Mrs. Ellis left Campbellville early in a motor car with the little girl for Milton to catch the train for Toronto. At the entrance of the bridge something went wrong with the car and it turned turtle, landing upside down in the creek, with the occupants underneath. Mrs. Ellis was not seriously hurt, but when she succeeded in getting her child out she found that she was dead. She carried the little one to the nearest house and was then driven back to her home. Her husband is editor of Farm and Dairy, published at Peterboro, and comes home to Campbellville every week. He is a graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College. Mrs. Ellis was formerly Miss Myrtle Morse and a student at MacDonald Institute.

AUSTRIANS GIVE TRIBUTE TO BRAVE WOMEN OF RUSSIA

Acknowledge the Courage of Amazon Battalions.

LONDON, July 27.—A dispatch dated July 22, printed by the Budapest A Zest, records the first contact of Austrian troops with Russian women battalions:

The fighting took place on the Brzezany front and the dispatch says the women fought with extraordinary bravery, counter-attacking fiercely.

The same dispatch ascribes to Russian prisoners the statement that M. Kerensky, the Russian premier and minister of war and marine, was severely wounded in the arm near Brzezany. A Russian infantry regiment, says the dispatch, refused to fight and retreated, whereupon the Russian artillery turned their guns upon it. M. Kerensky in an automobile dashed in between the two forces and succeeded in stopping the slaughter, but himself was wounded.

WESTERN LIBERALS TO DISCUSS ANYTHING

WINNIPEG, July 26.—Preliminary arrangements for the western Liberal convention, to be held at Winnipeg on August 7 and 8, are practically complete, and western members of the convention committee, including Premier Sifton, of Alberta, and Premier Martin, of Saskatchewan, have returned to their homes, but will be back in Winnipeg a day or two before the big convention opens.

In some respects the most important decision reached by the committee was that of recommending to the convention that the committee on resolutions, when struck, should be empowered to hear representations of any organized body on any public matter that it is thought should be brought before the convention.

RUMANIAN CABINET CRISIS IS SETTLED

LONDON, July 27.—Referring to recently cabled reports to the effect that a cabinet crisis existed in Rumania, the Morning Post's Jassy correspondent says the trouble has been settled by raising the number of Conservative members of the Government to five. M. Bratiano, the dispatch adds, will retain his post of premier, while M. Jonescu, minister without portfolio, will become vice-president of the council.

PROHIBITION VOTE

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 26.—National prohibition will be voted on by the Senate next Wednesday. By unanimous consent it was agreed tonight to take up on Monday Senator Sheppard's resolution for a national prohibition amendment to the constitution, and to dispose of it by Wednesday night.

CHOICE STOCK LOST WHEN CAR BURNED IN INGERSOLL YARDS

Seventeen Fine Animals Killed When Spark Set Hay on Fire.

INGERSOLL, July 26.—Fire in a stock-car in the Grand Trunk yards shortly before 6 o'clock tonight resulted in the death of seventeen choice cattle, billed from Chicago to New York for export. Ten of the animals were suffocated in the car, and five were killed on instructions from Chief of Police Holmes, acting as an officer of the Humane Society. Two that were taken out alive were subsequently killed on instructions from the officer.

The fire is believed to have been caused by a spark from a westbound engine lodging in the hay in the racks above the animals. It was detected when the train was nearing Ingersoll, but it was believed the water pipe in the yard could be reached in time to prevent serious harm. The cattle car was about in the centre of the train, and when it was brought to a standstill, it was a short distance from the water pipe. The automatic working of the airbrakes, it is claimed, resulted in loss of time in getting the car under the water, and in the meantime the town brigade was called out. The car, however, was burning fiercely, and when the seal was finally broken, only two of the animals were able to get out. Ten had already been suffocated, and the throats of five more were cut. All the woodwork of the car was completely destroyed. The cattle were a fine lot, and the two slaughtered weighed 2,700 pounds.

DEMONSTRATION OF TRACTOR AT LAMBETH

LAMBETH, July 26.—A demonstration of the Staude Mak-a-Tractor has been in progress here for the past two days on the farm of Charles Ead, just south of Lambeth. The work is being done under the direction of Mr. Ridley, secretary of the Reliance Machine Company of Toronto, and Mr. Davis of Minneapolis, representing the manufacturers. The tractor is available to any farmer owning a Ford car, and will do the work of four horses in plowing or other farm work. At today's demonstration about three acres were plowed with a two-bottom gang-plow hauled by a Ford tractor car, to which the two-wheeled device was attached. The plowing was done in a recently-mowed clover meadow at the rate of about five acres per day if worked full time. The work was watched by a large crowd of interested farmers from all around Lambeth. It is expected than an agency will be organized in Lambeth shortly for the sale of the tractor.

EXETER SOLDIER GETS DISCHARGE

EXETER, July 26.—Pte. Brown, who returned from the front some months ago, having been wounded and gassed, has now received his discharge from the army as unfit for further service.

O. McPherson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. McPherson, who has been a traveling drug salesman, and is a graduate druggist, has enlisted at Montreal.

The farmers are busy haying. It is a very heavy crop. In Biddulph Township the fall wheat is turning very fast, and if it keeps warm and dry will be fit to cut next week.

Miss May Clark has been successful in connection with London Conservatory of Music, having secured a first-class certificate in vocal and piano in the intermediate grade.

INSPECTOR IS OUT WITH THE FACTS

Government Employee Now Indorses Tanlac.

TROUBLES ARE OVERCOME

Had Suffered All Winter With Catarrh.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson, who resides on Harding avenue, Weston, and is in the employ of the Canadian Government as inspector of munitions, is anotner Toronto woman of culture and refinement whose deep sense of gratitude and desire to benefit other sufferers will not permit her to remain silent in regard to the wonderful results she obtained through the use of Tanlac. Mrs. Wilson has lived in Toronto for twenty years. Her statement follows:

"Since the early part of last winter I have suffered a great deal with catarrh. My nasal passages felt raw and irritated all the time, my throat was dry, and my head felt stopped up—just like a severe cold. I had dull, throbbing headaches that kept me awake for hours many a night.

"Besides this trouble I had indigestion and was dreadfully nervous. The least little noise completely upset me. I often had trembling spells, and would shake all over. I had no appetite, and the little I ate disagreed with me. I simply felt miserable, and some days I just had to quit work and go home.

"I have now taken two bottles of Tanlac, and my improvement has been wonderful. The catarrh is gradually disappearing, my head feels clearer, the nasal passages are not sore and irritated like they were, and I don't have those awful headaches like I did. I am not nervous, and the trembling spells are a thing of the past. My appetite is much better and I don't suffer with indigestion any more. I just simply cannot tell you how much better I feel in every way. My husband is simply delighted with my improvement on Tanlac, and has begun taking the medicine himself."

Tanlac is sold in London and St. Thomas by Standard Drug, Limited, under the personal direction of the special Tanlac representative, and by one agency in every town.

MIST HALTS OPERATIONS OF BRITISH AIR CORPS

LONDON, July 26.—The official report from British headquarters in France tonight reads:

"Owing to a thick mist there was little activity in the air yesterday. One German machine was brought down in the air fighting and one of ours is missing.

"There is nothing further of special interest to report."

FIERCE DRIVE ONLY GETS ENEMY POINT IN ADVANCED POST

Unable to Recapture Chemin-des-Dames.

ENTERS OUTER POSITION

Prussian Regiments Mown Down by Terrific Barrage Fire.

GRAND HEADQUARTERS OF THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, July 26. —(By the Associated Press.)—The Germans, in a persistent effort to recapture at least some part of the Chemin-des-Dames, transferred their attention today to the region of Hurtebise, on which they launched a strong attack, supported by heavy artillery concentration. The infantry assaulted again and again, but despite the heavy masses thrown into the action, they were unable to secure any advantage other than entrance into a small section of advanced French trenches to the south of Ailles.

The Germans' storming battalions were caught by an intense barrage fire as they left their trenches, and their ranks were rapidly depleted.

Details of the attack on the California and Casemates plateaux, in which the Germans suffered the most complete defeat in the first half of the week, show that some of the Prussian regiments lost fifty per cent of their effectives. They employed more than one hundred batteries during the bombardment.

INTENSE BOMBARDMENT.

PARIS, July 26.—Intense bombardments and heavy fighting at various points on the French front are reported in the official communication issued tonight by the war office. The French succeeded in regaining some of the ground lost during the night to the Germans.

The text of the statement reads:

"Engagements accompanied by an intense bombardment on the Hurtebise Plateau and south of Ailles continued throughout the day, but without enabling the enemy to make progress. At several points we recaptured the ground gained during the night by the adversary.

Sortie Rendered Impossible.

"In Champagne enemy attacks were renewed unsuccessfully during the course of the morning, followed in the afternoon by a violent bombardment, which extended on the left front from Mont Blond, and on the right as far as the neighborhood of the Casque. Our artillery replied energetically, which rendered impossible a sortie by the German infantry.

"On both banks of the Meuse the artillery was very active. The day was calm on the rest of the front.

"Belgian communication: A surprise attack attempted by the Germans during the night against our trenches north of Dixmude failed completely, the enemy being repulsed with heavy losses."

FARMERS OFFERING GOOD WAGES TO MEN TO HELP HARVESTING

Some Are Ready to Hire by Year, if Necessary.

GALT, July 26.—Thirty-one men and three boys are wanted by the farmers in the vicinity of Galt to harvest the crops, for periods varying from days to months, and in a few cases for years. Good wages are being offered, $2 and $2.50 a day or $40 to $60 a month and board, while one farmer is prepared to pay $75 a month to the right man. These labor requirements were obtained through a circulization of the farmers and the board of trade today issued an appeal for the help wanted. Farmers are now engaged at their haying and the harvest will be on shortly after.

Pte. Percy Lowrey, No. 602683, who enlisted here with the 34th Battalion, and who has been reported missing since Sept. 22, is now officially reported dead. Deceased was 22 years of age and single. He was a native of Falmouth, England, and a resident of Galt for two years previous to enlisting. He lived with a sister, Mrs. Gundy, Metcalfe street, and worked at the Goldie & McCulloch north works. He attended Trinity Church.

A thunderstorm this afternoon made it necessary to postpone the dance of the 29th Regiment Chapter, Daughters of the Empire, which was to have been held this evening in the Victoria Park pavilion.

The funeral of Miss Winnifred Gibson, who was senior nurse at the hospital, took place today, the remains being taken to Kitchener. At the hospital an impressive funeral service was conducted by Rev. W. H. Snelgrove, rector of Trinity Church, which was attended by the staff of the hospital.

BIG PICNIC AT PRESTON.

BRITISH-AMERICAN POLICE CO-OPERATE IN TRACKING SPIES

Former Give Valuable Information on Best Methods.

MUST WATCH WIRELESS

London Strongly Favors Execution of First Spies Captured.

London, July 12—(By Mail).—The most effective method of combating the German espionage system in America is to be found in co-operation between the public generally and the police, according to opinions expressed by high officials of Scotland Yard.

From the first days of the war, English police and military agents who have had to do with the gathering in of German spies have received masses of information from citizens regarding suspicious persons, and through this co-operation have been enabled to apprehend many undesirable and dangerous persons who otherwise might have been at large.

Scotland Yard has had considerable trouble with neutrals in the employ of the German Government, and the English police feel that this menace is one which the United States will have to guard against.

Britain Gives Tips.

Since the entry of the United States into the war, English officials and officials of the United States department of justice has been closely co-operating along these and other related lines, and the American agents have been furnished with much information, not only in regard to persons but in regard to methods of catching those who are working for Berlin.

The compact wireless apparatus, easily moved about and within containers that disguise its real nature, is to be especially guarded against, Scotland Yard says. Considerable difficulty has been experienced here with the wireless and the police now freely employ an instrument through the use of which these enemy instruments are detected.

An Interesting Point.

Scotland Yard is intensely interested in the work that is being done in the United States to discover how the Germans found out when American destroyers were due in English waters, and how they discovered the location of the ocean rendezvous of the transports bearing the first American contingent. Obviously, the English officials say, Germany's spies are in a position to become familiar with the most secret of secrets in Washington, and they are anxious to render any assistance they can toward weeding them out.

Executions Favored.

Wholesale internment of Germans will not solve the problem. England has not interned all her German residents, but the police are absolutely sure of the connections of those allowed to remain at large.

There is a general feeling in London that the execution of the first spies caught would go far in the United States toward persuading others, Germans as well as neutrals, that such work is extremely hazardous and very likely to have disastrous results.

RECRUITING IN CHICARO SHOWS BIG INCREASES

Chicago, Ill., July 27.—Recruiting activities today in the combined British-American drive will centre in a mass meeting to be held tonight at the First Methodist Church in the downtown section.

As a result of the patriotic demonstration here yesterday, in which thousands of soldiers paraded the streets with a detachment of the 48th Highlanders, recruiting for the British and American armies showed a marked increase. The recruiting offices of the United States enlisted 200 men during the day. Figures for the British recruiting were not given out, but the results are said to have been highly satisfactory.

SORRY FOR PEARY, BUT CROCKER LAND CERTAINLY A MYTH

Donald MacMillan Tells Friend In Letter.

TO RETURN BEFORE LONG

Expects To Return Home In September If Relief Ship Arrives.

Boston, July 27.—Donald B. MacMillan, the Arctic explorer, who has been in the Polar country for the past four years, expects to return home by September 15 next, according to a letter to P. F. Parker of this city, manager of his personal affairs, made public today. The letter was dated at Etah on November 6 last, and is believed to be the first direct word from MacMillan this year, although advices have been received indirectly.

"If our relief ship does not fail us a third time," the explorer writes, "I shall reach home about September 15, 1917.

"Although I have had, or will have had, four years in the Arctic, yet I am not a bit tired of it, and have planned for further work.

No Crocker Land.

"As you know, we failed to find Crocker Land. I am sorry for Peary, who was, without a doubt, sincere in his belief that it lay some 120 miles due northwest of Cape Thomas Hubbard; we went 151 miles to make sure, and then were rewarded with nothing but a clear horizon.

"Last year I reached my objective point, King Christian Land, the Finy Land of some 60 years ago, which has never been visited, as far as I know. Returning, I headed for North Cornwall, which also has never been explored.

Found New Islands.

En route, six new islands were discovered and many miles of coast line mapped. Incidentally we picked up about 50 musk oxen and 20 Polar bears. Am now planning another long trip in the spring, which, when completed, will net me about 8,000 miles of dog team work.

"We have enough food for the year, such as it is. Our supplies consist largely of beans, salt beef, dehydro vegetables, whole wheat biscuit and pemmican. Walrus and seal meat are in cache and hare on the hills. The ducks and dovekies will be back in May, and then we shall be in the land of plenty again."

WORKING PARTIES STILL SEARCHING FOR BODIES IN WATERFORD MINE

Glace Bay, N. S., July 27.—Working parties continued their search in the New Waterford mine of the Dominion Coal Company this morning for the bodies of the three men still unfound from the mine crew suffocated when the explosion took place Wednesday morning. Sixty-eight men have failed to respond to the roll call and are virtually given up as lost, though the rescue of a young German, after being cut off for 36 hours, leaves a little room for hope.

The pit has been found to be little damaged and mining operations will be resumed almost immediately after the last body has been recovered.

British M. P. Issues Challenge To Other To Fight 20 Rounds

To Settle Quarrel Begun in the House and Help Red Cross.

New York, July 27.—A London cable to the Sun, under yesterday's date, says: Pemberton Billing, according to the Evening Standard, has challenged Major Archer Shee to a twenty-round boxing match at the National Sporting Club as a means of settling the encounter the two had in the palace yard last evening. Billing suggests the use of Marquis of Queensbury rules, the loser to pay $500 to the Red Cross.

The encounter followed a verbal clash in the House of Commons in which Shee called Billing a cad, and Billing invited him to go outside and repeat the remark. The two met outside the Parliament buildings at the end of the session and several blows were struck. Neither appeared in the House today.

DENIES THE RUMOR.

Berlin, July 25—Via London, July 27.—Dr. W. S. Solf, the colonial secretary, in a communication to friends in Hamburg, denies a rumor that he is contemplating acceptance of a foreign office appointment. He states he will continue to serve in his present capacity, as he is thoroughly convinced of the future of the German colonies.

BRITISH DESERTER TAKEN IN STATES FOR HIGH TREASON

D. H. Wallace, "League of Homanity" Man.

CLAIMS ACTIVE SERVICE

Says He Was Through Many of the Most Important Battles.

Davenport, Ia., July 27.—Daniel H. Wallace, author of "Shanghaied Into War," who was arrested at Davenport, Ia., early today on a charge of high treason, according to his own statement and that of fellow-members of the "League of Humanity," is a deserter from the British army. According to an official of the league, the British Government has set a price upon Wallace's head.

In Many Battles.

Wallace claims to have been through many of the most important battles on the western front in Europe, deserting after the battle of Neuve Chapelle. He also claims to have been a member of the Texas Rangers, a sergeant in the Coldstream Guards, and to have more recently belonged to the 8th Australian Light Horse. He has been active in work against war since coming to America, and has delivered speeches and written books against it.

GERMAN AGENTS ON SCANDINAVIAN SHIPS VISIT UNITED STATES

Passport - Forging Bureaus Supply Necessary Papers.

AMERICANS IN HUN PAY?

Copenhagen Says Police Could Tell Tale About Some of These.

Copenhagen, July 27.—Information obtained here shows that more effective measures than are now in force for supervision of Scandinavian liners plying to the United States must be put into effect if the passage of numbers of German agents and couriers and the transmission of intelligence by German spies in America are to be checked. It is said authoritatively that German pass-forging bureaus are euipping German agents in Scandinavia with fraudulent Scandinavian passports.

These are copied from genuine originals in the same fashion as American passports have been counterfeited photographically by the notorious bureau of the admiralty.

Deceit Is Easy.

New names and descriptions are substituted occasionally, but sometimes the only change is to attach a new photograph of the ostensible holder. Every liner now sailing to the United States carries 200 or 300 passengers, principally of Scandinavian nationality. There is little to prevent the intelligence department of the German admiralty, now under the clever leadership of Capt. Carl Boy-Ed, former naval attache at Washington, from planting any desired number of agents, equipped apparently with genuine Scandinavian passports, among the passengers. There is reason to believe this is being done.

American Traitors?

Various attempts to recruit neutrals for courier and information missions to the United States have been reported more or less definitely. The Scandinavian police also could tell a tale of Americans who are employed in the German secret service. They are working against the interests of their own country and of neutral states, whose hospitality they enjoy, as well as against the European Entente. It may be difficult to stop the activities of the two latter classes.

WESTERN YIELD OF GRAIN ABOUT EQUAL TO 1916 ON C. N. R.

Vice-President Gives His View on Prospects.

Toronto, July 27.—Owing to conflicting reports regarding the progress of the growing grain in Western Canada, Vice-President Hanna of the Canadian Northern Railway, wired M. H. MacLeod, general manager of western lines, and has received the following reply.

"From personal observation the crop along the main line is in good condition as far west as Maymont. From Maymont to Vegreville the crop is light, on account of the dry weather. On the Goose Lake line the crop is in fair condition from Saskatoon to Rosetown, light from Rosetown to Hanna, good from Hanna to Calgary. I estimate the Goose Lake crop to be less than last year.

"Many points in Southern Manitoba the crop has suffered on account of dry weather. On other branch lines the crop is progressing favorably. It has been raining from Winnipeg to Wadena for the past ten hours; is still raining, and the rain is general throughout Southern Manitoba. This will greatly improve crop conditions. On the whole the yield along our line should be approximately the same as last year."

WALL STREET EXPERTS TO WORK FOR RED CROSS

New York, July 27.—A number of volunteers from Wall street will depart at an early date for Europe and, unlike many others sailing for Europe, they will not be expected to fight. These men are expert accountants and bookkeepers, and are going to the headquarters of the Red Cross in France, where they will follow their profession of keeping the assets and liabilities in such shape that the contributors may know just how all the money collected by the Red Cross is spent. The enlistment of the accountants is part of the new efficiency plan of the Red Cross.

MISSOURI SOLDIERS KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Were in Guard Tent When Heavy Storm Broke at Camp Maxwell.

St. Louis, Mo., July 27.—Three members of the first regiment, Missouri National Guard, were killed and a dozen others were injured, some of them seriously, by a bolt of lightning during a storm which swept Camp Maxwell early today. The dead are: H. S. Davis, sergeant; Dwight L. Trump, private; C. B. Carroll, private. The injured were revived by means of pulmotors, and are thought to be practically out of danger, although severely burned.

The soldiers were asleep in the guard tent at the main entrance to the camp when the storm broke. The tent collapsed and the injured and dead were carried to the hospital tent, where efforts were made to revive them. Many other tents about the camp were set afire by lightning, but the occupants escaped serious injury.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

THE LOCAL MARKET

Seasonable fruits and vegetables are expected to feature the market tomorrow, the quality of these classes of produce being likely to be the best up to date that has been offered.

Raspberries will be a particular feature of next week, and according to growers will be sold at prices warranting preserving. They sell at the present time from 18c to 20c per box, a decrease of 5c from the initial value, but about next Tuesday raspberries will probably drop 3c or 4c, as the market for that fruit will be more or less glutted at that time.

Today and tomorrow are banner periods for all varieties of cherries, and housewives should take advantage of the low price immediately if they intend to preserve. Red cherries sold yesterday from $1 to $1.15 per basket. Today, however, a few of a fairly good type sold at 50c at the same rate, but the general value is from 80c to $1 per basket.

Gooseberries and all kinds of currants are in good demand, but have remained unchanged in price, with the probability of declining slightly next week.

A few vegetables dropped to still lower prices today, beets declining 10c, selling now at 30c per dozen bunches, carrots decreasing at a similar rate, bringing 25c per dozen bunches instead of 30c. Green peas made another substantial drop of 10c, being offered now at 15c to 20c per quart.

Potatoes will be offered tomorrow at lower prices, the home-grown variety declining about 50c, bringing the value down to $2 per bag.

Dairy produce is fairly scarce, but stationary. Live stock and butchers' meats are in poor demand. Hay is scarce, the old stuff not having been sold on London's market for four days.

WALL STREET.

New York, July 27—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Except for Industrial Alcohol, which rose a point, changes at the opening of today's trading were limited to fractions, with an even distribution of gains and losses. St. Paul added to yesterday's belated recovery, but steels and equipments were irregular and motors decidedly reactionary. Dealings were light and exceedingly narrow.

Noon.—Prices sagged all around soon after the opening on further heaviness of motors and shippings, declines in these issues extending from 1 to 2½ points. The market reversed its course before noon, however, on a fair inquiry for steels, coppers, oils and specialties. Alcohol scoring an extreme advance of 3 points, but rails made little progress. Liberty bonds sold at 99.40 to 99.44, and internationals were slightly lower.

1:30 p.m.—The stagnation of the mid-session was partly relieved by additional gains, mostly in specialties. These were featured by Baldwin Locomotive, Mexican Petroleum, Maxwell Motors and Sumatra Tobacco, at extreme advances of 1 to 2 points.

HIGHER BIDS MADE ON WINNIPEG WHEAT

Cash Grades Go Up to $2.37 Yesterday—Crop Prospects Blacker.

Winnipeg, July 26.—There was a good demand for all grades of wheat and oats today at higher prices than yesterday's closing quotations. The Government agent was the principal buyer, but millers and mixing houses were again in the market, and the competition led to advances. The offerings were considerably below requirements. During the trading cash wheat was bid as high as $2.37. The fact that there is approximately five and a half millions of bushels less wheat in sight in the country west of Winnipeg than there was at this time a year ago, and the crop prospects not any too bright, serves to keep the situation strong.

October wheat closed 4½c higher than yesterday. Cash wheat closed 3c up. July oats closed ½c higher, October 1½c up, and December 1½c higher. Barley closed unchanged. Flax was 4c to 5¾c up.

Cash grain: Wheat—No. 1 northern, $2.37; No. 2 northern, $2.34; No. 3 northern, $2.29; No. 4, $2.17; No. 5, $1.92; No. 6, $1.65; feed, $1.53.

Oats—No. 2 C. W., 79c; No. 3 C. W., 77¼c; extra No. 1 feed, 77c.

Barley—No. 3, $1.25; No. 4, $1.20; rejected, $1.10; feed, $1.10.

Flax—No. 1 N. W. C., $3; No. 3 C. W., $2.97; No. 3 C. W., $2.83.

TORONTO.

Toronto, July 26.—Grain quotations are as follows:

Wheat—Ontario, No. 2 winter, $2.55, outside, according to location; Manitoba, No. 1 northern, $2.37; No. 2 northern, $2.34.

Oats—Canada western, No. 3, 84¾c, at lake ports for immediate shipment.

MONTREAL.

Montreal, July 26.—Today's trading in the local grain market was the dullest on record for some time. Practically no business was done, with local quotations at the close advanced 1c.

Corn—American, No. 2 yellow, $2.10 @2.10½.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 85c; Canadian western, No. 3, 84c; extra No. 1 feed, 84c.

Barley—Manitoba feed, $1.26.

BRITAIN HAS 347,000 NEW ACRES POTATO AND CEREAL CROPS

Official Estimate Does Not Include Small Gardens.

London, July 27.—In England and Wales the increased acreage in wheat, barley, oats and potatoes this year is 347,000 acres, or about 6 per cent, according to the official returns published today. These figures do not include any allowance for the enormous efforts made by the small growers, the results whereof it is impossible to collect accurate figures.

The official estimate is that "the area of smal cultivation has bene quadrupled, and this estimate probably is below the mark as the number of small vegetable gardens in England and Wales has been increased by more than half a million, and the displacement of flowers by vegetables has been general in gardens throughout the country."

The figures published today constitute the first authoritative evidence of the tremendous agricultural efforts which have been made throughout Great Britain.

Huns Hoarding Up Gold, Paper Declares; Government Appeals

Wants All Coin and Ornaments Given Up.

Amsterdam, July 22.—The daily recurring public notices printed in conspicuous type in Germany entreating citizens to aid the fatherland by giving it their gold evidently is insufficient of productive results.

The Weser Zeitung of Bremen publishes a renewed appeal, complaining especially that the well-to-do public still fails to realize the situation and that all gold must be handed in.

The neswaper cites examples of members of the German imperial and royal princely houses sacrifices their gold and jewelry, and says competent authorities calculate that three to four hundred million gold coins are being obstinately hoarded in Germany, while the value of gold ornaments is estimated at a billion marks.

The Weser Zeitung says the public often asks whether gold cannot be loaned instead of given to the German imperial bank. The answer is no, because the law demands gold as a cover for paper money, and it must be in bars or coin. The public is again urged to yield jewels of all kinds which realize good prices and are most useful for credit purposes there.

GOLD!

MOHAWK GOLD & COPPER COMPANY

CAPITALIZATION - $200,000

Stock Now Selling At

12½c

PER SHARE

The Mohawk Gold and Copper Company own 100 acres of land, situated on Lane Mountain, in the Lane Mountains, San Bernardino County, California, the richest gold-bearing district in the western country.

There has been over $20,000 expended in development work. The Mohawk is a proven mine.

ANALYSIS

	Gold oz.	Silver.	Value per ton.
On the 140 foot Shaft No. 1	.54	.30 oz.	$ 11.57
On the 140 foot Shaft No. 2	.44	....	9.10
On the 60 foot Shaft No. 3	1.00	1.60 oz.	26.00
On the 60 foot Shaft No. 4	1.03	.90 oz.	21.94
On the 60 foot Shaft No. 5	32.86	3.62 oz.	683.39

The company has over 10,000 tons of valuable ore on the dump ready for milling. A mill to extract the gold is needed to make the Mohawk a big success. Conservatively figuring this will cost about $15,000, for which stock is being sold. The officers of the company state that it will take about 40 days to erect this mill, and the company will be able to pay dividends 60 days after its erection.

The company can mine and mill their ore at a cost of $3 per ton; this includes all overhead charges. Every dollar received by the company from the sale of stock must go toward operation of the mine. The officers and directors of the company do not receive a salary.

Can you ask for quicker action on your investment than stated above? You certainly cannot. I consider the Mohawk Gold and Copper Company the greatest mining proposition ever offered to the public.

Fortunes in Legitimate Mining

A good legitimate gold mining investment is 17 per cent safer than Banking.

29 per cent safer than Mercantile Business.

32 per cent safer than Farming.

41 per cent safer than Manufacturing.

The State of California has paid dividends of $20,000,000 yearly in gold since the year 1849. In the year 1916 there was taken out of the ground in the West over $100,000,000 in gold and about $35,000,000 in silver.

It is estimated that over half of the population of the State of California are living off the dividends received from different mining enterprises. The same opportunity is afforded you, but you must venture in order to win. No one ever acquired wealth by simply saving his earnings.

CAR GOES IN DITCH ON RETURNING FROM ELK FISHING PARTY

J. E. Raymond Sustains Broken Arm In Accident.

40 SEEK FINNY FELLOWS

Catch Is Kept Secret, but the Second Outing Was Much Enjoyed.

The only incident to mar an otherwise successful fishing trip held by the Elks Club yesterday to Kettle Point was an accident when one of the cars skidded into the ditch at a short turn near Ravenswood.

J. E. Raymond, one of the party, sustained a broken arm. The fracture was reduced by Dr. Rutledge, Dundas street, one of those in the car. The other occupants were shaken up to a considerable extent, but escaped without injuries.

The driver of the car stated that owing to a mist in the early morning he was unable to see that a small bridge under repair had been shifted at right angles to the road. Although going slowly the danger loomed up out of the mist so suddenly that the accident was unavoidable.

The car was got out of the ditch after some difficulty and taken to Thedford, where the required repairs were made, after which the party proceeded on its way.

The event was the second annual fishing trip of the members of the local Elks Club. Forty enthusiastic anglers in eight motor cars left the city in the early morning, some starting long before the sun peeped above the eastern horizon.

Arriving at Kettle Point, boats, Indian guides and bait was in readiness for the disciples of Isaac Walton.

The number of fish caught remains as yet a secret, although all agree that it was one of the most successful trips held by the club.

The party arrived home late last night, tired but more than delighted with the day's outing.

MIDDLESEX BOYS AMONG BRAVEST ON BATTLEFRONT

Sir Arthur Currie Cables to Warden Archie Blaikie.

Warden Archie Blaikie last evening received a cablegram from Sir Arthur Currie, commander-in-chief of the Canadian forces on the west front, acknowledging a cablegram of congratulation on his promotion. At the June session of the county council, the resolution of congratulation was drawn up, when Reeve John Currie, Adelaide, brother of Sir Arthur, was absent, and it was forwarded to Sir Arthur at once. His reply has just come, and is as follows:

"Warden Middlesex County, London:

"Please accept grateful thanks for your kind congratulatory message, which has deeply touched me. I am proud to be able to assure you that in this mighty struggle for Christendom none have born themselves more gallantly than the sons of old Middlesex. From them I send a message of love and encouragement to those at home.

"CURRIE."

The Resolution.

The resolution of the council follows: Moved by County Councillor J. Morgan, and seconded by Thomas Clarke.

"Resolved in open session of the county council of the county of Middlesex, that this council desires to put on record the lively satisfaction felt at the honors and promotions which have been earned and extended to Major-Gen. Sir Arthur W. Currie. We desire to spread upon the minutes of this council the sense of the just appreciation felt by all the people of this, the natal county of so distinguished a son—one upon whom our gracious sovereign has seen fit to confer a well-earned knighthood, and one to whom the high command of our gallant Canadian armies in France and Belgium has been intrusted.

"We pray that the great Arbiter of battles may continue to guide and protect our hero, so that he may be enabled to lead our men to still greater victories.

"We gratefully acknowledge the honor which he has brought to his native county, and we extend to him and all his kindred our heartiest congratulation, and especially do we congratulate his brother, John Currie, Esq., who is a distinguished member of this council.

"Passed in open council.

"A. J. BLAIKIE, Warden.
"JOHN STUART, Clerk."

"Sir Arthur is an old Middlesex boy, and we thought it our duty as well as a very great honor to cable him our congratulations," said Warden Blaikie to The Advertiser. "He is one of Middlesex's most distinguished sons, the latest in a long list of brilliant men who have come from our county. He has honored us, and we thought we would extend to him our congratulations."

Photoplay News

PATRICIA.

Bryant Washburn and Hazel Daly in "Filling His Own Shoes," an Essanay production, is the feature photoplay at the Patricia Theatre for the last half of this week. In addition, a Strand comedy reel, "Two of a Kind," depicts numerous funny situations that make this picture good for a laugh every minute.

In "Filling His Own Shoes," Bryant Washburn and Hazel Daly are seen in characters for which these favorite screen stars are particularly adapted. It is one of their best.

Washburn plays the character of Richard Ruggles, and Miss Daly that of Ruth Downing.

Richard P. Ruggles, an American shoe clerk out of a job in Paris, France, joins the Red Cross forces in the Balkan war. During a fierce action he rescues a wounded Turk from the field. The latter dies, but in gratitude to Ruggles, bequeaths him his fortune of $1,500,000.

The will stipulates, however, that Ruggles must accept also the guardianship of the Turk's three beautiful wards—Roxana, Rosa and Bulbul. The shoe clerk moves with his fortune and the three Turkish maidens to Paris. Here he renews his acquaintance with Ruth Downing, daughter of his former employer. The two fall in love with each other, whereat Roxana is driven to a jealous fury. She, too, loves Ruggles Effendi.

The Turkish girl attacks Ruth, attempting to hurl vitriol into her eyes, but Ruggles intercepts her action. Roxana escapes, later marrying a young Parisian. Believing that Ruggles had been involved in some intrigue with Roxana, Ruth renounces her love for him.

The great Rapoli presents a vaudeville act of versatility. His act is one that appeals to lovers of art, science, athletics and drama. His shadowgraph paintings are wonderful and his athletic exhibitions include the manipulation of giant projectiles. His impersonations of great music composers and Teddy Roosevelt are good.

"Fatty" Arbuckle in "The Rough House," at the Patricia Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next.

Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle, heaviest of heavyweight comedians and merriest of screen mirthmakers, has adopted the war menu. In spite of the fact that the 250-pound film star is making the eight-hour day look like a myth by arriving at the studio after an early breakfast and remaining until long after the dinner hour six days a week, he is heart and soul with the preparedness squad, which is urging moderation in the use of food supplies.

And if in the immediate future "Fatty's" admirers discover that he has become as sylphlike as Vernon Castle or other popular devotees of the dance, they will know that it was because he voluntarily abandoned sirloin steak and French pastry for a war menu something like this:

Breakfast—Glass of orange juice, one French roll, coffee.

Dinner—Bean soup, vegetable salad, coffee.

Experts versed in the calory system are authority for the statement that it will be many months before the effect of these simple repasts is discernible in "Fatty's" ample form. As the hero of the latest Paramount-Arbuckle comedy, "The Rough House," he is as broad as ever, and, as those who have seen the picture assert, even more successful as a laugh-maker than he was in his recent successes, "The Butcher Boy" and "The Reckless Romeo."

"Fatty" Arbuckle will be seen at the Patricia Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next.

MAJESTIC.

Norma Talmadge in "The Devil's Needle," Mae Murray in "At First Sight," William Collier in a great Triangle comedy, Roy Griffin's songs, and the Majestic augmented orchestra overtures, constitute a bill today and Saturday at the Majestic that can without exaggeration be pronounced a program of excellent quality.

Norma Talmadge stars with Tully Marshall in a photoplay, "The Devil's Needle" that gives this wonderful screen actress a role which proves a variation from the regular character in which she has so frequently been seen.

The plot of the play unfolds a pretty love story, portrayed in a charming manner by one of the most popular screen idols of the day. It is one of the best of the many splendid pictures in which Miss Talmadge has been featured.

Mae Murray, that vivacious bit of femininity, whose admirers are numbered by the thousands, is showing in an extra attraction, "At First Sight," a famous Player's Paramount production.

In this picture one of the rarest feats of photography is accomplished, that of photographing a real thunderstorm. In order to bring about the actual spectacular result, the photograph was taken under the most trying conditions, while a severe electrical disturbance was in progress.

The effect produced on the screen is realistic beyond description.

In "At First Sight," Miss Murray is seen in the novel role of a refreshingly native American girl, who scorns the marriage planned for her by her relative, and frankly sets out in quest of a husband of her own choice.

As a diversion, the Triangle comedy, featuring William Collier, is a winner. The comedy situations are planned and carried out in a way that makes this picture one long laugh.

Roy Griffin, the silver-voiced tenor, has become so popular with Majestic audiences that his entrance is invariably greeted with rounds of applause, and the manifestations of approval following each of his solos indicates that he is increasing in favor each week.

The Majestic augmented orchestra will continue to play today and Saturday that famous overture, "The Jolly Robbers," by F. P. Suppe.

Last night's feature screen attraction, "A Girl's Folly," starring Robert Warwick and Doris Kenyon, was pronounced by those who saw this picture to be a decided and pleasing variation from the usual run of photoplays.

It is a romance built about the activities of a movie studio. The inside workings of a big studio are shown in all their detail, and around the making of pictures is woven a romance of great charm.

Each week, as a special feature, Manager Logan will continue, as in the past, to show films depicting local scenes, the pictures being taken at frequent intervals by the Majestic cameraman. The next picture to be shown Monday and Tuesday will present bathing scenes at Port Stanley, showing before the big bathhouse the latest novelties in bathing suits and swimming exhibitions.
