GERMANY MUST APPLY TO FOCH FOR AN ARMISTICE

London, Nov. 5.---In the House of Commons today Premier Lloyd George stated that the Allies had decided that Germany must apply to Marshal Foch for an armistice.

BOLSHEVIK GOVT. REQUESTS THAT PEACE NEGOTIATIONS WITH ALLIES BE OPENED

Note Has Been Handed to Neutral Ministers for Transmission to Entente Governments, Says Dispatch From Petrograd to Copenhagen.

London, Nov. 5.—The Bolsheviki Government of Russia, it is reported from Petrograd, has handed the neutral ministers a note for transmission to the Entente nations, asking for the opening of peace negotiations in order that hostilities between the Allies and the Soviet Government may be ended, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen. The note asks the Allies to decide upon the time and place for the holding of the negotiations.

UNION GOVT. WILL TRY TO CLING TO LIFE BY LETTING PROVINCES DO ITS WORK

Soldiers' Land Settlement Question To Be "Passed Up" By Federal Authorities—Will Appease West on Tariff Reform By Appointing a Commission.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—Developments which it is hoped by certain Ottawa politicians may go far toward the perpetuation of Union Government are pending at the capital. On the 19th of the present month a conference of provincial premiers will be held here. At the conference it has been stated, one of the most important questions to be discussed will be that of soldiers' land settlement. As a matter of fact such settlement has been practically nil, since the federal authorities took it up. It is now stated that the long-deferred transfer of these natural resources and lands to the western provinces is to be accomplished, and that at the conference the details of the transfer will be worked out. Thereafter it is stated the provinces themselves will be intrusted with the task of settling the soldiers who come within their borders, and the federal authorities will limit their activities in that regard to the advancing of money to the settlers. Thus will a long-standing grievance in the west be removed, and the Government here relieved of a task for which it has so far shown itself to be strangely unfitted.

Will Merge Departments.

The transfer of the natural resources to the provinces will rob the department of interior of many of the functions which it at present exercise. It is therefore proposed that the department of immigration and colonization be again merged into that of the interior. Hon. Arthur Meighen, at present minister of the interior, it is said, will become minister of railways and canals, and Hon. J. A. Calder, who is now minister of immigration and colonization, will take charge of the merged departments. Hon. Dr. Reid, it is now said, will go to the senate to succeed the late Hon. Senator Richardson of Kingston.

It is realized, however, that if union is to be perpetuated something must be done to appease the hunger of the west for tariff reform. That this may be done it is now proposed to "take the tariff out of politics" by the appointment of a tariff commission. A bill to appoint such a commission was introduced into parliament by Sir Thomas White during the session of

CANADA SHOULD GET INDEMNITY FROM GERMANY

W. T. R. Preston Presents a Strong Claim in Pamphlet Just Issued.

MAKE HUNS PAY IN FULL

$60,000,000,000 Available If German Standard Applied to Belgium Is Adopted.

Toronto, Nov. 5.—In a pamphlet issued by W. T. R. Preston, who was Sir Wilfrid Laurier's representative overseas when the military vote was polled last December, a strong claim is presented for the payment of a war indemnity to Canada by Germany, covering expenditure already incurred and the full amount necessary to make liberal provision for the soldiers and their dependents.

Mr. Preston claims that by applying the standard which Germany assessed upon Belgium to the central powers, $60,000,000,000 will be available as war indemnities.

Mr. Preston says: "The distribution of gifts and honors has usually proved a balm to Canada's wounded pride when imperial interests have necessitated the Dominion should be the brunt of any particular sacrifice. With the greatest possible respect Downing street is now asked to consider the interests of all the colonies to be of paramount importance, and insist upon the central powers recognizing and paying Canadian indemnity to the full extent of expenditure and future liabilities.

WOULD HAVE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY SUBMIT STATEMENTS

Argument Advanced by Municipalities' Counsel In Fight Against Raise in Rates.

HEARING OPENED TODAY

Sir Henry Drayton Suggests That Claims Be Presented As Justification.

ISSUE ORDERS.

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—Sir Henry Drayton, chief commissioner, in giving judgment at the conclusion of the argument granted both applications proffered by the municipalities. He stated that he would have an order issued without delay, instructing the Bell Telephone Company to furnish the municipalities with facts and statistics upon which they base their claim for increased tolls, and appointing auditors who will be authorized to examine the books of the company. It is probable that this work will be done by Clarkson, Gordon & Dilworth, of Toronto, and Price, Waterhouse & Company, of Montreal.

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—The first round in the fight of the Canadian municipalities against the application of the Bell Telephone Company for a general increase in all rates opened shortly before noon today before the board of railway commissioners. The hearing today was based upon the application of the city of Toronto for an order giving Messrs. Clarkson, Gordon and Dilworth, chartered accountants, access to the books of the company to ascertain whether the requested increase in rates is warranted.

Representatives of the municipalities in conference here this morning, however, decided to shift their ground of attack on the score that the proposed investigation by accounts might prove to be too cumbersome, and suggested instead that the Bell Telephone Company should be requested to furnish the municipalities with the facts upon which they base their application for increased tolls.

Let Company Submit Figures.

Hon. A. T. Atwater, counsel for the municipalities, who opened the argument today, said that examination of the company's books might be a long and expensive operation. The municipalities, therefore, had decided to make the request that the company should be requested to submit statements in justification of their demand.

L. MacFarlane, counsel for the company, was disposed to favor the suggestion that accountants should inquire into the position of the company and supply the information sought by the municipalities.

Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the board, threw out the suggestion that if the company were to furnish statements as to increased cost of labor, taxes, cost of material, financing and general overhead expenses, this might be sufficient. Later on he suggested that in addition to the foregoing the company should supply a statement of its revenues account for the past year or two, coupled with an estimate of what its profits had been.

REJOICE!

The morning of victory is breaking, the end we have fought for is nigh;
Let the bugles resound to the heavens, let your cheers reach the clouds in the sky.

The Prussian is beaten and broken, his Allies have bitten the dust,
And the undaunted legions of freedom have thwarted the tyrant's red lust.

We have given our sons and our daughters; they have entered with zeal in the fray;
We have proven our faith in our heritage by more than a verbal display.

We have prayed to our God for assistance; He has heard us and fought on our side;
Let us render Him praises and homage while our souls thrill with patriots' pride.

The palace of Sans Souci stands in the park of Sans Souci at Potsdam. The building was erected in 1745-1747 for Frederick the Great.

DARING ROBBERY ON DUNDAS ST.; WINDOW BROKEN, DIAMONDS TAKEN

Nearly $1,500 Worth of Rings Stolen From Wray's Store.

About three o'clock this morning, when all was quiet, someone, at present unknown, threw a brick through the window of W. J. Wray & Co., wholesale jewelers, 234 Dundas street, and, snatching a tray of diamond rings, made a successful escape.

The tray of rings was valued at between $1,000 and $1,500. Nothing else was taken, although the window was full of valuables, which is taken as proof that the thief or thieves acted in the greatest hurry and stayed only long enough to seize the first thing at hand.

Detectives Robert Egleton and Harry Down are working on the case and reported with several winks and smiles this afternoon that they had nothing yet for publication, although it is believed they are lining up several suspects.

CONQUERORS DICTATE PEACE

Kaiser's Camouflage Is Fooling No One But Himself.

New York, Nov. 5.—The New York Herald today, editorially, says that the Austrian armistice is the "handwriting on the wall for the German people," and continues: "As Bulgaria, Turkey and Austria-Hungary have, each in turn, begged for a beginning toward peace on the basis of their unconditional surrender, so Germany must accept an armistice—if she is to have one—dictated in every line and every word by her conquerors.

"Signs are not wanting that the kaiser and other devotees of kaiserism are still hoping to squirm themselves into peace negotiations. The kaiser is out in solemn approval of a revamped constitution which is a combination of arrant sham and not very clever camouflage. Ostensibly he surrenders his 'divine right,' but he immediately steps to the front of the stage in the role he himself has described as hereditary president.

"He is fooling nobody outside of Germany, unless it be some persons who want to be fooled."

The World says: "The terms of the armistice required of Germany by the allied powers and the United States are to be, as had been expected, no less severe than those imposed upon Bul-

TWO WOMEN SENT TO JAIL FOR MONTH FOR STEALING HATS

Magistrate Promises More Severe Penalties in Future.

The two women convicted last week in police court of having stolen two hats from the millinery store of Smith & Hessey, 188 Dundas street, were sentenced to one month in jail by Magistrate Graydon today. The other woman of the trio, who pleaded guilty to having knowingly received stolen goods, was let go on suspended sentence.

"This thieving is on the increase," stated the magistrate, in passing sentence on the women who were all visibly agitated. "In this instance, I have talked with the two husbands and the son of the other woman, and I find that there was no necessity for any of you to steal, as you were all comfortably provided for.

"However, the representation made to me are such that possibly a light sentence will serve the ends of justice in this case. I don't want the impression to go out that I view such crimes in a trivial light, and the next offender will be severely dealt with."

Admits Desertion.

James Frederick Strucke, who deserted from the 241st Battalion two years ago and who was arrested by the military police Monday, pleaded guilty, and will go to jail until the military authorities want him.

A local man, who is as famous in London as the Grand Trunk station, was fined $10 and costs for being drunk. He was remanded till Thursday on the charge of assaulting Constable Tom Noonan, who made the arrest. He objected to being removed from the bar of the Brunswick House and picked up an ice pick intent, according to Noonan, on picking him to pieces. At any rate, Noonan said the man managed to get one good wallop to the constable's jaw that made his teeth rattle like a kettledrum, accused did not remember having taken a poke at the cop, and was given till Thursday to think it over.

Fined for Being Drunk.

Another man was fined $10 or 10 days in jail for being drunk. He declared that he had ulcers on his legs, and that was what made him walk in such a peculiar manner. In fact, he started to display a shapely calf, but was restrained by the magistrate.

Sarah Weston, charged with unlawfully detaining a posted letter, pleaded not guilty, and was bailed to appear on Wednesday, November 13. R. G. Fisher appeared for the accused.

SLIGHT CHANGE IN EPIDEMIC SITUATION NOT TOO FAVORABLE

Are People Getting a Little Careless?

MORE NURSES WANTED

Children Taking Influenza Develop Distressing Affection of the Ear.

According to a number of doctors, nurses and other sources of information, there is a slight change in the influenza situation today, and not a favorable one.

The question which is being raised is this, "Are people getting a little careless about the precautions they have observed for some weeks past?"

One doctor has applied for six more nurses for cases at the women's emergency registration bureau in the Institute of Public Health, and today numbers of new names were handed in to the diet kitchen for nourishment to be sent to the addresses given. The new names and addresses, further, were telephoned in by doctors. Yesterday a number of the orders were cancelled, consequently the actual count of baskets sent out will not be increased. The fact of so many new orders, however, is causing those in charge of the diet kitchen to wonder just what the effect is going to be of closing up the work there on Wednesday night.

Two More Deaths.

In St. Joseph's Hospital yesterday there were four admissions, one death and only two discharges. There has been one more admission during this afternoon. Several of the cases in the hospital are regarded as serious.

Six new cases were admitted to Victoria Hospital in the twenty-four hours previous to midnight last night, and one this forenoon. There have been no discharges. One death has occurred, that of Mrs. Annie Doranzio, 568 Hill street.

One of the patients who has been brought in is a nurse.

So far as nursing help is concerned, much more is needed owing to the fact that some of the nurses who have been on duty a length of time are completely worn out; illness has developed in the homes of some, and the services of others are now required to look after friends who have taken ill. Last night was one of the most difficult nights since the outbreak of the epidemic for those in charge of the registration bureau for nurses.

One of the men of the city who has been most generous in giving his time and the service of his automobile to help combat the epidemic has been taken ill and admitted to the hospital.

Affects the Ear.

According to doctors and nurses several of the children who are ill with influenza are suffering acutely from earache, the trouble appearing to be in the middle ear. One doctor has had a number of cases in which abscesses have developed.

An encouraging report was given today by the McClary Manufacturing Company, where the welfare nurse has been in charge of a most efficiently-organized campaign to help in every possible way employees and their families who are ill with influenza.

"We are still sending out baskets from our diet kitchen," was the statement made, "but it is apparent that the epidemic is slackening up. Numbers of the men are reporting back every day."

Nursery Doing Well.

The "nursery" in charge of No. 4 Nursing Division St. John Ambulance Association, at 404 Talbot street, is still a lively place. One of the children, the only one to be seriously ill, has been isolated and in charge of a special nurse. He is reported "getting along fine."

"We are really enjoying the children," said the V. A. D. in charge today, "but we won't be sorry when it is all over."

"How are the twins?" was the inevitable question.

"How are the twins?" was the in- "but the girl is beating the boy."

A couple of the little tots have lost their mothers by the epidemic, but the fathers are living and these babes have good homes to go to as soon as everything can be arranged.

The warning note is being sounded today by doctors and nurses against any relaxing of vigilance.

WOULD FINE STREET RAILWAY FOR LACK OF GOOD SERVICE

Council Decides To Send Bill to Company.

L. & P. S. FARES MAY JUMP

Sir Adam and "Commish" Also Want Book-Tickets Clause Changed.

Like the proverbial Irishman who could not be kept down, the question of the schedule of the London Street Railway Company will not stay buried, and it bobbed up again last night at the meeting of the city council.

On the motion of Aldermen H. B. Ashplant and F. R. Watkinson, the city treasurer will be instructed to send a bill to the company, covering the amount of the fine to the end of October for running on a schedule which it is claimed to be contrary to the bylaw.

In the discussion previous to the passing of the resolution, Ald. Ashplant asked why the council did not insist on the company restoring the service until the question was settled. He thought the company was imposing on its friends in the city, and in the council by its action in refusing to restore the former service while the negotiations are being carried on. Ald. G. B. Drake suggested that the chairman of No. 1 committee, Ald. F. E. Harley, might persuade the company to put on extra cars during the rush hours three times a day in order that the working men of the city could conveniently get to and from their work.

Ald. Harley replied that the company has trippers on its lines for this purpose, and that it was willing to put on all the cars the traffic demanded.

Amount Not Settled.

The amount to be collected was left to be filled in later after it is determined when the company was notified to restore the former schedule, and the amount per day that is allowed by the bylaw. The sum of ten dollars per day was mentioned, but this was left for verification. The motion also said that if the bill is not paid by the first of December the matter should be placed in the hands of the city solicitor for collection.

Alderman P. J. Watt said that the people of London were suffering from an inadequate service all the time the question was being passed through the various committees and the council. He intimated that certain factions of the city apparently wished to obstruct the enforcement of the schedule for some reason or other.

Prior to this motion of Alderman Ashplant, Alderman C. G. Moorhead made a motion to the effect that the city clerk be instructed to lay the matter before the Ontario railway and municipal board. On the suggestion of some of his colleagues he recommended that the resolution asking this be referred to No. 1 committee for a report. This was agreed to by the council.

Speaking to this motion, Ald. Harley thought the matter should be taken from the hands of No. 1 committee before this was voted on.

Ald. Moorhead thought the matter should have been settled months ago. "Here it is the fifth month since the council undertook to make the company live up to the agreement, and no definite action has been taken yet. It would have been better if the council had not made any move at all than to act as it has."

Notice Sent.

Ald. Drake raised the question as to who should send the notice to the company, and as to whether it had been sent. By reference to minutes of former meetings, it was established that City Clerk S. Baker had reported to the council that he had sent the company notice that it should restore the service.

Ald. Harley intimated that the only thing to do was to take steps to enforce the penalty and let the company appeal to the Ontario railway and municipal board if it wished to do so.

Ald. Watkinson asked if it were true that the company had taken off five more cars. He had heard that this had been done. Mayor C. R. Somerville replied that he had not heard it.

Sir Adam Beck, P. Pocock and W. Spittal of the London and Port Stanley Railway Commission, with J. E. Richards, manager of the London and Port Stanley Railway, waited on the council to ask that body to request the Dominion Government to strike out two clauses in the agreement between the city and the commission relating to the 30-cent fares to Port Stanley, and the sale of book tickets at set prices.

Blames Rise in Wages.

Sir Adam Beck pointed out the increased cost of operation caused mainly by the rise in wages of the employees. The commission must devise some means of overcoming the deficit which he thought would be inevitable if conditions remain as they are. He intimated that the wages had been increased from 52 per cent in some instances to 118 per cent in others. He did not give any figures to show what the employees had been receiving before the increases had taken effect. These increases had been granted since 1914. In that year the annual pay roll amounted to $102,000, while for 1918 it will be $190,000, he pointed out. The commission had failed to get any redress on application to the Dominion railway board, and the new freight schedules do not apply to electric roads.

That the road was hauling freight for the M. C. R. at a loss, he thought was a fact. This could not be remedied, either, until two years hence, as the contract is for thirty years, and according to the agreement, a reconsideration can only be made at the end of five years, and one year's notice must be given to this effect. As the railway has been in existence about three years, the commission will have to continue to haul freight for the M. C. R. at a loss for two years or until conditions change.

Ald. S. R. Manness—Do I understand you to say that you are losing money on the M. C. R. contract?

Sir Adam Beck—Yes.

Commissioners' Mistake.

Ald. Manness—Well, the commission should not come to the council to ask us to rectify the mistakes of the commissioners.

Commissioner P. Pocock stated that it did not mean that the commission would increase its fares even if the two clauses were eliminated. It was only asked as a safeguard in cases of emergency. He admitted that the rates might be increased. He thought the 30-cent fare inequitable inasmuch as it was too low for adults and too high for children.

Ald. O. G. Keene asked why the commission did not intimate before that the holiday passenger rates were too low?

Commissioner W. Spittal explained that no one could foresee conditions that have been brought about by the war. He said that under the McAdoo award the wages had been increased by a bill of $52,000 this year alone. The road had been successfully operated, he was sure.

Alderman P. J. Watt asked who would decide what increase would be made in the fares, if any, the commission or the council. He was assured that this would be decided by the commission.

The commission asked for the removal of the two clauses, it was said, in order that if it found conditions would necessitate the step the fares could be increased next summer.

It was finally decided to send the matter to No. 1 committee for consideration and a report.

No Memberships Paid.

It was decided to allow the heads of the civic departments to pay for their memberships in the reorganized board of trade. The board of control recommended that the city should pay for these, and that the question of purchasing tickets for the aldermen be left to the council of next year. The aldermen thought that the department heads were well able to buy their own tickets, but the question of tickets for the aldermen was laid over till 1919.

In this connection Alderman Wilson seconded by Alderman Moorhead, moved the following resolution which was voted down by the council:

"That this council do not accept the recommendation of the board of control to pay for membership for the heads of certain city departments on the new board of trade, nor even consider the proposition of taking out membership for the twelve aldermen at the city's expense. It is up to the city officials and the aldermen to pay for their own membership if they deem it advisable to become members of that body."

The council acted on the recommendation of the board of control in regard to the purchase of Victory bonds, and $50,000 worth will be bought and money taken from the sinking fund to pay for them.

To Ask Repeal of Section.

It was agreed that the council of 1919 be recommended to make application in the city of London Bill for the repeal of the section, conferring upon the water commissioners the management of all public parks and public boulevards, and that the council of 1919 take control of all public parks and boulevards of the city of London except Springbank Park.

The question of opening Paul street through to Edinburgh street was laid over for the consideration of the city solicitor.

Some of the councillors flopped when the question of allowing George White one month's pay in consideration of his having undergone an operation with the idea that he would be taken back on the fire department came up for decision. On the first vote, by a show of hands, the recommendation was lost. Then someone called for the yeas and nays, and this swung the vote in favor of the recommendation of No. 1 committee by a vote of eight to five.

The proposed increase of $100 for Building Inspector A. M. Piper was laid over for next year's council to decide. Controller J. M. Moore recommended that Mayor C. R. Somerville be instructed to sign the lease for Queen's Park to the militia department for the winter. He reported that the solicitor had the agreement about ready. The militia will undertake all responsibility of the insurance of the buildings, and the city will cancel the policies on the buildings for the period of the winter. This was carried.

Alderman Wilson asked that the city engineer be instructed to inspect the work that had been done by the London Street Railway Company at Clarence street and Central avenue.

Wants Breakwater Repaired.

Ald. Wilson, seconded by Ald. Harley, moved that the unexpended balance of $400 placed in the estimates of 1918 for repairs to the West London breakwater be referred to the council of 1919 with a recommendation that the city engineer carry out the work of repairing the said breakwater, and that it be constructed and completed in 1919 to the extent of $400.

This was referred to No. 2 committee.

The Standard Paving Company asked that the repairs to the pavements under guarantee be left over until next spring. This was referred to No. 2 committee and the board of control with power. It appears that the company understood that the city would take over the pavements and make repairs, charging same to the company. This was not done, and thus the repairs were not made at all.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

APPLES, ETC.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

It is a crime to waste apples in orchards. Poor people are going about in this city buying cornmeal, etc., and yet apples are wasted. The Salvation Army could collect apples as well as money, and perhaps do more good. Yours respectfully, J. BROWN.

DOUBLE MILITARY WEDDING PERFORMED

Those who passed the home of Rev. Charles Deacon, 539 Dundas street, this morning would think a heavy shower of snow had fallen last night; only it looked as though it had come from the rainbow. It was confetti. A victory celebration took place here last evening, in the form of a double military wedding, Pte. George William Baker being united in marriage to Violet Irene Hearson and Pte. William John Stewart to Mary Ashburn. Rev. Charles Deacon follows the war-time custom which says that the wedding fee shall be returned to all soldiers.

BYRON SANATORIUM PATIENTS REQUEST SUNDAY CAR SERVICE

Have Departmental Support For Their Plea.

COUNCIL HEARS APPEAL

Sir Adam Beck Addresses It, Asking Springbank Line Be Opened.

The question of Sunday cars to Springbank is again in the limelight. It was brought before the city council last night by Sir Adam Beck at the request of Edwin Ryan, medical director of the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment Department at Toronto. Dr. Ryan wrote a letter to Sir Adam asking him to use his influence towards securing Sunday cars to the riverside park. When reading the letter to the council, Sir Adam remarked that he was not sure that his influence would carry any weight. He intimated that he would do what he could.

To Visit Friends.

In the letter, Dr. Ryan pointed out that the soldiers at Byron Sanatorium should have the convenience of the cars on Sundays in order to enable those of them who are able to visit their friends in the city. He also pointed out that the civilian patients of the Sanatorium would appreciate the Sunday service.

On the motion of Controller C. H. Merryfield the question was sent on to No. 1 committee.

One Effort Failed.

About three years ago an effort was made to secure Sunday cars to the park, on account of strong opposition the proposal was not successfully carried out. At that time there were two deputations waited on the city council, one asking that the council favor the proposition and the other one strongly opposing it. Both deputations were from the vicinity of Byron, it is said.

Before the cars may be operated on Sunday to Springbank it will be necessary ao secure the consent of the city council, the township council of Westminster, and the Legislature.

It is understood that the Government was opposed to the proposal at that time. It would appear that considerable effort will be expended to secure the consent of all parties this time.

The father, mother and child who resided at 568 Hill street, were all taken sick about the same time and were taken to Victoria Hospital. The father recovered, and although every care was taken to save the life of Mrs. D'Orazio, she succumbed to the disease. Very little hope is entertained for the life of their only child. Arrangements for the funeral of Mrs. D'Orazio have not yet been completed.

COUNCIL THINKS CITY POSTMEN SHOULD HAVE INCREASE IN SALARIES

That the city postmen should receive an increase in wages to conform with that granted the postmen of Western Canada recently was the opinion expressed by the members of the city council last night. City Clerk S. Baker was instructed to forward the resolution to Ottawa, indorsing the request of the postmen.

Ald. W. Wilson made sure that the city council would not be required to foot the bill for the increase before he indorsed the action. The matter was brought up by a letter from the postmen asking that the council back them up morally in their request to Ottawa.

CHURCHES TO CONSERVE COAL BY HOLDING ALL SERVICES IN DAYLIGHT

Suggestion of Sir Albert Stanley To Be Adopted in England.

London, Nov. 5.—A suggestion made by Sir Albert Stanley, president of the board of trade, that all church esrvices be held in daylight on account of serious coal shortage is to be adopted, it is announced in many London churches. An exception will be made, however, in the case of Westminster Abbey.

"The evening service," said Canon Charles of Westminster Abbey, "is a special litany and it appeals to a large number of people who cannot attend worship in the afternoon, and for that reason it is considered necessary not to make any alteration."

Evening services at St. Paul's Cathedral were discontinued last year as a precaution against air raids on account of the difficulty of subduing the cathedral lights.

He took command of his company in the Amiens battle, when all the other officers had fallen, and led them to their objective successfully. As the 215th Battalion, in which he was commissioned, was over strength with officers he stepped down to the ranks, but won back his commission.

SOLDIERS TO STRIP ORCHARDS AND GET APPLES FOR WINTER

Fruit Will Be Given to the Warriors' Families.

FARMERS CO-OPERATING

And Bags, Motor Cars, Storage Are Being Provided by Citizens.

If the efforts of the relief committee of the Soldiers' Aid Commission, of which Mrs. S. F. Lawrason is secretary, of returned soldiers, are successful, the families of soldiers will not be in need of apples or other vegetables this winter. The committee has started a campaign by which apples or other vegetables are going to be secured in plenty.

Some farmers have already consented to let their orchard be stripped of fruit. The Dominion Seed Company has lent the committee 400 bags for the purpose of helping to harvest the apples. Motor cars have been secured to take the soldiers to the different farms, where the farmers can depend upon it that nothing will be left behind. A truck has been secured by which the apples will be transported to the city. Room 19 downstairs in the market house is where the collection will be taken care of having been secured through the kindness of Ald. Harley.

Storage was secured through the kindness of John Tanton and R. J. Webster, who consented to give storage to anything that was sent to them by the relief committee. The campaign was put into effect today. A few citizens kindly lent their cars and soldiers were secured to do the picking.

The farms which are to be visited today are those of David Jackson, 5th concession, Westminster Township, and of James Bradish, 8th concession, Westminster. A few farms have been secured, but more are urgently needed. Citizens are requested to offer their cars so that the soldiers may be taken to the different farms.

YOUNG LADS ADMIT STEALING 4 MOTOR CARS IN FEW DAYS

Three Remanded For Week on Theft Charge.

The police, in arraigning three lads in the juvenile court this morning, bagged the auto thieves who, since Halloween, have stolen four cars. The boys pleaded guilty and were remanded a week for sentence. The case occupied over an hour of the magistrate's time. It is more than likely that the boys, two of whom are brothers, will be severely dealt with, as the magistrate is determined to stamp out the epidemic of auto-thieving that has been thriving in London for some time.

A short time ago two lads were sentenced to three months in jail for having stolen a car. The cars of Archie Steele, Granton; Wm. McPhillips, London; R. J. Clifford, Putnam, and O. Campbell, Dutton, were the ones that the boys stole to have a good time.

Two other youngsters were allowed to go on suspended sentence, the magistrate warning them against Halloween pranks.

TREASURER'S PLAN MAY SAVE THE CITY CONSIDERABLE CASH

Scheme To Let the Insurance Policies Carry Themselves.

About $5,600 will be saved by the city this year on the insurance premiums of the soldiers, if the proposal which is being made by City Treasurer James S. Bell in conjunction with the special committee can be carried out. The policies have been in force nearly four years and, according to the terms of the agreement, they may be extended for a period of from three to four years without the payment of any more premiums. The extra charges which have been levied by the company as a war risk will have to kept paid up. This change can only be made ordinarily with the written consent of the insured and the beneficiaries.

In a recent letter from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company to Mr. Bell, the company intimates that it will waive the clause regarding written consent of the insured, but it still asks for the signatures of the beneficiaries. As the relatives of the men are scattered all over Canada and the United States, and some are even in England, it would be nearly impossible for this to be done, and Treasurer Bell urges that an effort be made to secure the company's consent to the change in the policy without the signature of the beneficiaries. This would save the city having to pay out more premiums for some years.

The company also agrees to suspend the extra war premium on all men who can be shown to be returned to the dominion with the understanding that it will be resumed if the men are returned to active service again. This alone will save the city a considerable sum, as the men are often returned and kept for nearly a year before being discharged. As soon as they are discharged, the men are given the privilege of taking over the policies. If they do not wish to take this opportunity the policies are allowed to lapse.

PURCHASES HOUSE.—W. B. Buchanan has purchased the house and lot at 89 Edward street from Mr. Strangeman for $1,500.

You'll Have To Pay Some Day

HOLD ALL CHURCH MEETINGS ON ONE OF TWO DAYS INSTEAD OF MANY TO SAVE COAL, SUGGESTION

Rev. H. H. Bingham Has Plan To Help Conservation—Does Not Think Much of Abolishing Evening Services For the Winter Months.

"In your opinion, what would be the effect if London, Ontario, churches followed the example of London, England, churches this winter in holding only daylight services on Sunday to conserve fuel," was a question put to some of the leading local clergymen this afternoon.

"In my opinion," said Rev. H. H. Bingham, "at least so far as Talbot street church is concerned, I don't think it would effect a great deal of saving. The amount of coal thus conserved, if we held a service, say one in the morning and the other in the afternoon, would be insignificant. Where I do think the churches could conserve fuel in this coming winter would be in gathering up all the meetings usually spread over the whole week into one or two afternoons and one or two evenings. My idea would be to have the different organizations hold their meetings on the same night in different parts of the church or school building instead of having extra heat, several nights or afternoons. In our church it is necessary to keep a little fire going all the frosty season to keep the pipes from freezing up. But I can see that a great deal of coal might be conserved by having one meeting night for the various organizations, or even two.

Rev. Dr. Peever, pastor of the First Methodist Church, was of the opinion that the interests of the church were as important as those of business. The question of conservation was one which might be taken by calling those particularly interested together with the local fuel supply committee.

"So far as I can see," said Dr. Peever, "the fuel situation should be better in the Allied countries than a year ago. I have seen more encouraging reports from the United States concerning the fuel situation. Again, the war situation has so improved that the coal areas of France are now available, and the Allies will be able under armistice stipulations to purchase coal from Austria. It is no use becoming panicky until there is definite ground for doing so. In any case, the churches are always ready to consider the best interests of the community. I may say, we burn soft coal altogether in the First Methodist Church."

No New Departure.

Rev. W. S. Wright of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church said: "It would be a matter of readjustment of services. London, England, isn't the first place to hold only daylight services. It has been done in Scotland long before this. I have been struck with this in noticing the hours of service in some cases when in Scotland; 11 o'clock in the morning and 3 or 4 in the afternoon, with no evening service. This would mean changing the hour of our Sunday school session to probably 10 o'clock in the morning. As far as our church is concerned, one fire for the morning service heats up our small church for both the Sunday school session in the afternoon and the regular service at night."

Climate Against It.

Rev. Canon Gunne, rector of Christ Church, considers that the climatic conditions in Canada would not make it possible to effect any great saving of fuel through holding only daylight services on Sunday.

"So far as our church is concerned," he said, "we have already made our plans for fuel conservation. After Jan. 1, all our services will be held in the Sunday school, which will effect a saving of half or almost two-thirds of the amount of fuel that we would otherwise require. Our winter's are so severe that it is necessary to have the fire kindled up on Friday to heat the church properly for Sunday. Once our church or school building is properly heated up for the morning service, that is about all that is required for all day."

BULLETS FROM VICTORY LOAN MACHINE GUN

Standing in the Victory Loan League.
Gum Sox $317,200
Macs 226,300

Two employees of the D. S. Perrin Company have bought $15,000 worth of bonds. They're the candy kids, and take the biscuit.

Their names may be Little, but Arthur and Sid are looming big in this Victory Loan Campaign.

C. V. Laing may not be up on Russian like Chief of Police Williams, but he can sure talk Victory bonds in Chinese. Here is a list of Chinamen Mr. Laing sold bonds to yesterday: Lee Tong, Leo Gaey, Jung Tong, Charlie Wig, Lee Ling, Fong Gang, Pong Yark, Wong Doo Tai, Quan Bing, Jung Hoo, Wong Do Park. The Celestials bought bonds aggregating $950.

With $600,000 added to London's objective, it means that the citizens will have to dig right to the toe of the family sock for the wherewithal to buy an extra bond.

Frederick Smith, a salesman, like Lot's wife, looked back; in fact, he went back to sixteen houses he had called at and sold bonds to the extent of $39,100. Shows that a little reflection convinced the people that Victory Bonds was the best investment possible for their money.

Twenty-four bonds sales in half a day is the record of W. J. Gray. It's one of which to be proud.

If you want to see a parade that makes a circus look like a funeral, be sure and be down town tonight. The lads in khaki are staging a cooks' parade, and it promises to be the funniest affair ever seen on London streets.

Let your slogan be: "Bring him home with the Victory Loan."

Now that peace is in sight, there is all the more reason for buying Victory bonds. It has been said that it will take at least a year to demobilize the army and during this time the country will require large sums of money to "carry on." Let your bond help.

Application for bonds may be made at headquarters on Richmond street, near King street. H. Bapty is there all day long, and will be pleased to write you up, from fifty to a million dollars.

Fred Smith wastes no time. He took one applicant for a bond into the back seat of his auto yesterday and wrote him up for a good large amount on the way downtown.

That Kaufman Rubber Company knows a good investment. The local branch of the Kitchener firm subscribed for $10,000 worth of bonds. This amount is entirely separate from the large block subscribed by the home office.

James H. Hussey sold a $2,000 bond to a man yesterday who gave in payment four checks, on banks in California, Toronto, Vancouver and Detroit. He took twenty $100 bonds.

Here is a list of the men who totalled Monday's bond applications: A. A. Langford, Thomas C. Benson, D. R. Teasdall, Frank Adams, David Ross, W. A. Casselman, P. M. Wood.

The number of applications received so far is not as large as 1917, but averages much higher. Shows what London's financial condition is.

HONOR ROLL OF LONDON FIRMS

LETT BROTHERS ARE ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF TRAIN ROBBERY

Soldiers Are Apprehended on a Serious Count.

Toronto, Nov. 5.—Dressed in the uniform of a Canadian infantry, Captain Jack Lett was taken into custody at 7:30 this morning by Supt. Campbell, of the Thiel Detective Service, Provincial Inspector Miller and Detectives Mitchell, McConnell and Nicholls, and charged with holding up the express messengers on the Buffalo express October 3 last.

As a result of this daring crime, it is claimed that Lett got away with $20,000. His brother, Walter, the owner of the military uniform, was arrested by the same officers at 3 o'clock this morning at the same hotel in Toronto, charged with being an accessory with his brother. With these two men in custody the police claim to have recovered about $4,000 more of the stolen money, and of this sum $100 was found over the boiler in a west end Methodist church.

The police say that Walter Lett has been in Toronto since the day of the robbery, but that his brother Jack only returned to the city last night. The Letts came originally from Barrie, and Walter had been conducting a small farm at Jordan, near St. Catharines. The police say that when Jack was placed under arrest he had a loaded revolver in his pocket, but he offered no resistance to the officers.

Nine thousand dollars is still to be recovered.

Both men are slightly over six feet in height and are of fine appearance. Jack Lett is 32 years old and his brother 30.

The police are optimistic regarding the chances of recovering the money.

20,000 AUSTRIANS WERE CAPTURED IN TRENT CITY

Italian Flag Hoisted Amid the Shouts of Populace.

Rome, Nov. 5.—Trent, the chief city of the Trentino, was entered at 3:15 o'clock Sunday afternoon by Italian cavalry, Alpini and artillery, according to a semi-official note issued today, giving details of the swift advance of the first army on that city. More than 20,000 Austrians, including the commander of the 50th Scheutzen division, were captured.

The Italian flag was hoisted over the castle of Buo Gonsiglio amid enthusiastic outbursts by the population.

UNION GOVERNMENT

1912-13, but it met it's death at the hands of the senate. This bill will, it is believed, be introduced next session, and so once again will the Government be relieved from an unpleasant task.

Crothers' Job Gone?

Hon. T. W. Crothers has departed to Pasadena, California, for a two-months' holiday. In the times of change it is scarcely probable that he will find his seat in the labor department unoccupied when he comes back.

Hon. Senator Gideon Robertson is now occupying it and may continue to do so. F. F. Pardee's entry into the cabinet is predicted, but no confirmation of the rumor is yet available.

The hardest workers for the perpetuation of union are probably Hon. Arthur Meighen and Hon. J. A. Calder. Mr. Meighen has ambitions, but he knows that as a straight Conservative he has no future in his own country. Mr. Calder learned on his last trip west that his going into union had left him few friends in the west and that his future as a Liberal was about as rosy as that of Mr. Meighen as a Conservative.

The Easiest Way to End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

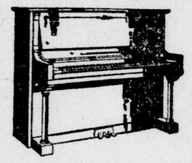

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.—Advt.

ENTENTE'S ARMISTICE TERMS ARE SIGNED AND DELIVERED; DEMAND GERMAN SURRENDER

If Accepted They Mean Imme diate End of War, Leaving the Five Peace Terms to the D ictation of the Victors—Result May Be Kn own in 24 Hours.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Terms upon which Germany may obtain an armistice and end the war were completed today and signed in Paris. Secretary Lansing announced the fact tonight in a brief statement, adding only that complete diplomatic harmony had been achieved by the Allied and American conferees at Versailles.

If accepted they mean surrender and immediate end of the war, leaving final peace terms to the dictation of the victors.

It may be stated authoritatively that the terms, not yet given out for publication, follow closely those under which Austria-Hungary surrendered today and passed out of the war, leaving Germany to stand alone against the world.

Answer in Twenty-Four Hours?

The presumption in official circles here tonight was that the stipulations would be in the hands of the German Government in less than 24 hours. If they are accepted, a reply settling the issue of peace or further fighting may also be received within that time. The uncertainty caused President Wilson to cancel tonight his proposed trip to New Jersey tomorrow to cast his vote in the congressional elections.

Although the complete text of the Versailles document probably is only now on the cables for Washington, its substance had been reported upon fully and approved by the president before the final draft was prepared.

Secretary Lansing made this statement:

"According to an official report received this evening, the terms of the armistice to be offered to Germany have just been agreed to unanimously, and signed by the representatives of the Allies and the United States in Paris. The report further states that diplomatic unity has been completely achieved under conditions of utmost harmony.

Mean Absolute Surrender.

Subject to analysis by military officers here, both Allied and American, the terms of the Austrian armistice, which are said to be no more drastic than those for Germany, ARE INTERPRETED TO MEAN ABSOLUTE SURRENDER. Nothing is left to the good faith of the vanquished, and no restrictions or limitations are imposed upon the victors. These officers believe Germany, left alone, also must throw herself without reserve upon the mercy of the victors.

Final adjustments, territorial or otherwise, are all deferred to the peace conference for which the cessation of hostilities paves the way. The German appeal for an armistice was submitted on the basis of acceptance of the peace terms already outlined by President Wilson, and when these discussions start the Allies and the United States will be a position to dictate their result. IN FACT THE REAL PEACE CONFERENCE HAS BEEN SITTING AT VERSAILLES.

Face Debacle In West.

The judgment of army officers as to the situation on the western front in a military sense is that Germany must accept the armistice conditions or face a debacle of her armies. Signs of disintegration of the German forces facing the Franco-American lines have been evident for two days. The German official statement yesterday admitted an American breakthrough. If the breach is widened the German armies will be cut in half as effectually as were the Austrian armies in Italy. They then may be crushed separately.

So strong is the impression here that Germany will accept, that when word come that a statement was to be issued by the state department tonight, a Washington newspaper put out an extra saying the war was over, and Germany had surrendered. It caused no excitement.

The Versailles conferees evidently did not sign the final draft of the armistice terms until late today. Just before 6 p.m. it was stated at the state department that the work had not been completed. An hour later, word sent out from the department that an important statement would be forthcoming at 9 p.m.

SPECKS FLOATING BEFORE HIS EYES

When specks start to float before the eyes, when everything turns black for a few seconds and you feel as if you were going to faint, you may rest assured that your liver is not working properly.

The essential thing to do in all cases where the liver is slow, lazy or torpid, is to stir it up by the use of a medicine that will clear away all the waste and poisonous matter from the system, and prevent as well as cure all the troubles arising from this accumulated mass which has collected in the system.

Keep the bowels open by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and you will have no liver trouble of any kind. They will clear away all the waste and effete matter which has collected and make the liver active and working properly.

Mr. John R. Morrison, Grand River Falls, N. S., writes: "Several months ago I was troubled with a sour stomach, and had specks floating before my eyes. I took five vials of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills which cured and cleaned my blood before any length of time. I told my friends about it and they got some, and they, too, find themselves different since they took them. I recommend your pills very highly."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

HER TROUBLES HAD COST THOUSANDS

Mrs. White Says Tanlac Overcame Troubles After Everything Else Failed.

"Actually, a few bottles of Tanlac did more for me than all the other medicines and treatments that have cost me thousands of dollars," recently declared Mrs. Kittie White, whose husband is proprietor of the University Paint Company, and who lives at 1312 Forty-second street east, Seattle, Wash.

"Fifteen years ago," she continued, "I was as strong and healthy a woman as you ever saw, weighing in the neighborhood of a hundred and seventy pounds. My troubles started when I contracted asthma, which got so bad that many a time I have had to sit up night after night wheezing and gagging, hardly able to get my breath and suffering so terribly I really thought I was going to die. Then my stomach went back on me, my food would sour, and the gas that rose up in my throat would almost strangle me, and start me to vomiting till I would be in such misery I would almost go distracted. My head ached like it would split and my back hurt like it was going to break in two. I lost over forty pounds, I was but a shadow of my former self, and was so weak, and felt so wornout that I was barely able to get around.

"Now this was just the awful condition I was in when one of my friends told me about Tanlac, and I thought if I could get my stomach in good condition and regain my strength, maybe I could stand the asthma better, so I got me a bottle. Well, sir, the results have far surpassed anything I expected. Why, my appetite is so great, that I felt ashamed to eat enough to satisfy myself, and my stomach is in good condition. But the greatest surprise of all is I haven't suffered a particle from asthma since I have been taking Tanlac. I felt so fine on finishing my first bottle that I just couldn't get another one quick enough, for I couldn't afford to miss a single dose. I sleep so sound now, that I don't know a thing from the time I go to bed till I get up in the morning. I never know what a headache is and those awful pains in my back are all gone. I have already gained several pounds, and am gaining in weight and strength every day. Why, I can do any amount of hard work now without getting tired, and can't remember the time when I felt as fine as I do today. I am so happy over my great improvement that I want everybody to know what a splendid medicine Tanlac is."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS NOT TO BE WARMER THAN 68 DEGREES

Householders Are Also Urged To Conserve Fuel.

OTTAWA, Nov. 4.—"The temperature in all buildings must be kept down to 68 degrees at most," is announced by C. A. Magrath, fuel controller. The fuel situation has become so critical that it is urgently necessary to avoid waste, and a conference called by Mr. Magrath has just been held, at which ways and means of saving on limited supplies of hard coal were discussed with the fuel administrators for the provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

It is the duty of owners of large buildings of all kinds to place thermometers in prominent positions, along with a notice specifying the maximum heat allowed, in view of the urgent necessity for fuel conservation.

It is equally important for the householders to keep within reasonable limits the temperature in his home. The issuance of specific regulations on the subject is still under consideration.

AMERICANS WITHIN 9 MILES OF SEDAN

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE SEDAN FRONT, Nov. 4.—In the face of stubborn opposition the Americans took, and held firmly, the wooded heights south of Beaumont, the last German stronghold west of the Meuse. The advance carried the lines forward for an average gain of five kilometers. The forces on the heights are now only about seven and one-half miles from Carrignan on the Mezieres-Metz railway, and about nine miles from Sedan, bringing both places within range of the Allied shell-fire.

The day's work may be said to have been complete. It was the principal phase of the American operation since the neck of the German lateral communications between the armies to the north and west was narrowed to the strangling point.

Old Regime Gone For Good, States Hun Chancellor

New Democracy Will Soon Be at Peace With Present Opponents.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 4.—Prince Maximilian of Baden, German chancellor, discussing German reforms in an interview, is quoted by the Vossische Zeitung of Berlin as saying:

"God be praised for a real, peaceful revolution. The old regime is gone for good. I am firmly convinced that a new German democracy soon will be living at peace with our present opponents, in order to be able to complete the task of remodelling Germany."

The chancellor declared also that if in the future the Reichstag should pass a vote of want of confidence in him, he would be obliged to resign.

With reforms in the federal states, he said, it was unthinkable that the federal council should ever receive instructions which would bring it into conflict with decisions by the Reichstag.

Interesting Information for Investors, Savers and Earners

Over the Top---To Victory

The word has been passed down the line, "Stand ready to go 'over the top.'" But not as our soldiers do—to face gunfire and bayonets. We, here in Canada, do not have to go over the top with the bayonet or bomb. Our campaign is a campaign of SUPPORT. Money must be forthcoming for the support of our men at the front, for the thousands of needs of the war which is being fought for freedom and for us.

While we await the word to advance, we consider our actual needs, we figure just how much we can spare as a loan to our country, and when WE go over the top it is with our open pocketbooks in our hans, to dloan, on the best security in the world, the money that will help to bring VICTORY, and after VICTORY, PEACE!

London has been asked for $7,300,000. When that amount has been subscribed we shall have earned our Honor Flag; when twenty-five per cent more than that has been subscribed, we shall have earned the right to place one Honor Crown on our Flag, and an additional Crown may be added for each twenty-five per cent subscribed over our quota.

HOW MANY CROWNS SHALL WE HAVE?

It is up to each one of us individually and to all of us collectively. We have to get that Honor Flag and get it quickly. First let us wear the Victory Loan Button, and have our names on the Honor Roll in our place of business.

The Honor Flag will fly with more than two crowns on it if we all do our part and go

Canada looks to YOU for help in making this great Victory Loan a success.

Canada needs your MONEY.

Ours is a country whose individual citizens are more prosperous than those of any other country in the world.

Canada has come to YOU—her citizens—with a straight business proposition.

That proposition in a nutshell is this:

"I need Three Hundred Million Dollars to help finish up my business over in Europe. Lend me the money for a short time at 5½ per cent interest, payable half-yearly, and I pledge the return of every cent of your loan."

Plan to take all the Bonds you can possibly pay for. The payments are as follows

10 per cent on application. 20 per cent January 6, 1919.
20 per cent December 6, 1918. 20 per cent February 6, 1919.

Victory Comes High, But WE MUST HAVE IT!

This is no time to count the cost of VICTORY—when hundreds of thousands of our own Canadian boys are charging, full speed ahead, with the Huns on the run.

This is no time for loyal Canadians to stop and consider the terrible price, in blood and tears, this war has already cost the world.

When the word goes forth over there to CHARGE, every man is on his toes—straining every muscle—eyes front—head up—bayonet fixed—to sweep the German hordes back out of Belgium—out of France—back, ever back—until they throw up their hands with "Kamerad! Kamerad!" on their cowardly lips.

Here, in Canada, when the word goes forth to "LEND," let us all be worthy of the gallant boys who have given up home, and comfort, and even life itself for the cause of Victory.

We, at home, must furnish the funds that will keep the victorious Canadian troops supplied with food and clothing—with guns and ammunition—with tanks and shells and airplanes.

Victory is within our grasp. Continue the great offensive and the war will be won.

Every dollar you have, or can borrow, is needed to bring back the boys VICTORIOUS.

Canada needs your money, but Canada is willing to pay for the use of it.

Every dollar invested in Victory Bonds will be returned to you with interest.

What Is the True Meaning of the Victory Loan?

We are within sight of Victory, and now, less than ever, can we afford to rest in a false atmosphere of security.

Now is the moment for a grand rally, an irresistible push forward with men and money.

The men are there—and always fresh ones go. They must continually be fed, clothed, and supplied with ammunition. The work of supporting them, the EASY PART, is ours. Shall any of us fail them at this end?

NO, A HUNDRED TIMES, NO!

And what are we asked to do? What is it that Canada asks of us?

Simply to LEND to our own country, more money, that the great fight may be finished for us, and that the sacrifices made for us in four years of war shall not be in vain. No thinking man or woman who realizes this can fail to respond to the limit of his or her ability.

And Canada makes it very easy for us to do this through

THE VICTORY LOAN 1918

She will pay us interest at 5½ per cent on any amount we lend. She offers us Bonds issued in convenient denominations of $50, $100, $500 and $1,000, repayable in 5 or 15 years, as we may desire.

Let us get right down to business, OUR OWN BUSINESS—AND HELP TO OVER-SUBSCRIBE THE VICTORY LOAN 1918. And let us do it NOW.

HUNS SENT 42 BATTALIONS IN TO STOP THE VICTORIOUS CANUCKS' CAMBRAI ADVANCE

Regardless of Cost, Boche Sacrificed Unit After Unit in Effort to Halt Canadians, Writes General Sir David Watson to Minister of Militia.

OTTAWA, Nov. 4.—How the Canadian corps had to fight 84 enemy battalions at Cambrai is shown in a letter which the minister of militia has received from Major General Sir David Watson, commanding the fourth Canadian division at the front.

"When one comes to sum it up," Sir David writes, "I find that there were no less than thirteen divisions, consisting of 84 battalions, pitted against us during the first terrible days. The Boche actually threw in division after division, and unit after unit, regardless of cost, in his attempt to stop our victorious advance. It was actually the hardest fighting that our Canadians have been up against, and the manner in which they took these terrible gruellings and stood those assaults during those days, is one of the most creditable occurrences in the annals of this great war."

Sir David also praises the work of reinforcements "who had joined us just before these last operations, and who, I am sure you will be delighted to learn stood it through so gallantly and courageously as to fit them to be true comrades in every respect of the gallant men with whom they have become associated."

Bonus on Sliding Scale Likely For Civil Servants

Improbable That Full $350 Asked For Will Be Given.

OTTAWA, Nov. 4.—The cabinet council again this afternoon had under consideration the application of civil servants for a war bonus of $350. Earlier in the day there was a conference between Hon. N. W. Rowell, Hon. A. K. McLean, and the deputy ministers, at which the subject was threshed out and reports from the various departments submitted.

While an official announcement is not yet to hand, indications are that it is very improbable the full, flat bonus of $350 requested by the civil servants will be granted. In awarding a smaller bonus, as is likely, it is expected that the Government will adopt some form of sliding scale, giving the larger amount to those with dependents and earning small salaries.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate To Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION.—Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.—Advt.

SIGNS OF ABATEMENT OF "FLU" ARE CERTAIN

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—While there were forty-four deaths from influenza and two from pneumonia recorded with the city clerk today the local health authorities are confident that the epidemic has pretty well run its course insofar as the city is concerned. The deaths recorded extended over a period from Saturday noon until 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Reports from various parts of the province also indicate that the epidemic is waning. Ottawa, which has been probably the worst stricken city in the province, reports only a little over a thousand cases as compared with three thousand a week ago. Only seven persons died of pneumonia in that city during the 24 hours ending at noon, and but 90 new cases were reported for the same period.

SAYS HOT WATER WASHES POISONS FROM THE LIVER

Everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it, before breakfast.

To feel as fine as the proverbial fiddle, we must keep the liver washed clean, almost every morning, to prevent its spongelike pores from clogging with indigestible material, sour bile and poisonous toxins, says a noted physician.

If you get headaches, it's your liver. If you catch cold easily, it's your liver. If you wake up with a bad taste, furred tongue, nasty breath or stomach becomes rancid, it's your liver. Sallow skin, muddy complexion, watery eyes, all denote liver uncleanliness. Your liver is the most important, also the most abused and neglected organ of the body. Few know its function or how to release the dammed-up body waste, bile and toxins.

Every man and woman, sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to wash from the liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, the poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Limestone phosphate is inexpensive; any pharmacist will sell you a quarter pound, which is sufficient for a demonstration of how hot water and limestone phosphate cleans, stimulates and freshens the liver, keeping you feeling fit day in and day out.

FOSTER EDUCATION BY EXCHANGE OF COLLEGE HEADS WITH DOMINIONS

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—"To get outside of your own country, to lose the parochial standpoint, and get the world standpoint." These few words of Miss Caroline Spurgeon express in brief the spirit which lies behind the visit of the British educational mission to this country, of which Miss Spurgeon of the University of London and Miss Rose Sedgewick of the University of Birmingham are members.

To harmonize American education and English education, to find a common ground, and to facilitate the sending of a constant stream of young men and women between the two continents and Australia, and their educational institutions, was the plan as explained in greater detail by Miss Spurgeon to the members of the University Women's Club. The plan calls for an interchange of senior and junior professors as well as students. She thought it might include the lower schools, too.

300,000 FOES, 5,000 CANNON ARE CAPTURED

Once Powerful Austrian Army Crushed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. — Three hundred thousand Austrian soldiers and not less than 5,000 guns had been captured by the victorious Italian armies before the armistice went into operation at 3 o'clock this afternoon, said an official dispatch tonight from Rome. This included all captures since the offensive began October 24.

The soldiers of the once powerful Austrian army, the dispatch said, continued to flee in disorder. Since the offensive started 63 Austro-Hungarian divisions were put out of combat by 51 Italians divisions, three British and two French divisions, with Czecho-Slovak units and an American regiment.

Italians' Splendid Valor.

"The war against Austria-Hungary, which was conducted under the high command of His Majesty the King of Italy, with an army inferior in number and still inferior means, since the 24th of May, 1915, has come to an end," said the dispatch. "With unshakable faith and indomitable valor, the Italian army waged a continuous and hard war for a period of 41 Toronths, and won the stupendous battle begun the 24th of October, and in which were engaged in their entirety all the resources of the enemy.

"So far the enemy has left in our hands 300,000 prisoners and not less than 5,000 guns. The soldiers of what used to be one of the most powerful armies in the world are now fleeing in disorder and without hope from the valleys which they had invaded with truculent confidence.

AUSTRIANS MUST DISPOSE OF 251 SHIPS IN NAVY

Must Be Either Disarmed or Delivered to Safekeeping of Allies.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Austria-Hungary's navy, which either must be delivered to the Allies or disarmed under the terms of the armistice that country has signed, consists of approximately 251 ships, according to the latest official information reaching the navy department. These figures, Secretary Daniels announced today, were compiled without reference to recently reported losses of two Austrian battleships.

The total of submarines is placed at 45 with 15 battleships, an equal number of cruisers, 21 torpedoboat destroyers, 10 torpedo gunboats, 67 torpedoboats, 45 mine layers, 11 river monitors, 7 patrol boats, 6 armed steamers, 6 scouts, 1 river torpedoboat and 2 trawlers.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed-up with a cold or nasty catarrh.

TOOK BRONCHITIS AFTER THE MEASLES

Measles is a disease that is very hard on children, and it generally leaves the system in such a debilitated condition that it is liable to attacks of some other trouble. One of the most common of these is bronchitis, which starts with a short, painful, dry cough, a feeling of tightness through the chest and difficulty of breathing, accompanied by a wheezing sound from the lungs.

There is a raising of phlegm from the bronchial tubes which is very often streaked with blood.

Bronchitis, although not really dangerous, should never be neglected, as some serious lung trouble is most liable to follow if it is.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will loosen the phlegm, soothe and heal the irritated bronchial tubes, and in a short time the bronchitis will disappear.

Mrs. Murdock McLean, Adanac Apts., Winnipeg, Man., writes: "About two years ago my little girl had bronchitis; took them after having the measles. I tried several cough remedies, and oils of all kinds, but they all failed. At last I got Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. After using three bottles she has never had any sign of it since. I can honestly recommend it as being a grand medicine."

The genuine Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

GIRLS! TRY IT! HAVE THICK, WAVY, BEAUTIFUL HAIR

Every particle of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Draw a moist cloth through hair and double its beauty at once.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it, surely invest a few cents in a bottle of knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter, and just try it.

Save your hair! Beautify it! You will say this was the best money you ever spent.

AUSTRIA'S COMPLETE SURRENDER.

AS WITH BULGARIA and Turkey, Austria's submission to the Allies has been complete. No other course was possible, so weakened had Austria become through internal dissension, the heavy blows of the Allied armies and economic and financial collapse. Weeks ago it was apparent Vienna's unconditional surrender was inevitable. The unqualified acceptance of the drastic conditions does not surprise a world well aware the kaiser's main ally was all in. It is keenly interested, however, to learn just how directly the surrender will affect the big boss of the criminal band that tried to bludgeon the world into submission.

No doubt the Versailles conference decided as to the main terms and that with the view of a speedy subjugation of Germany. The terms call for complete demobilization of the Austrian armies and the right of the Allied forces to march through Hungary and Austria against Germany's back door. With her main armies rapidly disintegrating, unable to cope with the stupendous Allied drive on the western front, it is not conceivable that Germany will prolong the war by rejecting the Allied terms, however deservedly harsh and humiliating they may be. Austria's surrender should take from the kaiser his last hope of further resistance.

EXIT DUAL MONARCHY.

BULGARIA'S surrender was complete and Turkey's capitulation abject and absolute, but great as their downfall has been it has not approached the hopelessly wrecked state of what was once the powerful dual monarchy. Bulgaria appears to be fairly well united internally, and Turkey, after the readjustment in the Near East, will probably retain some of her old sovereignty in Asia under some sort of Allied control, but Austria-Hungary, as such, has gone by the board. There will be no come-back for the Hapsburg kingdom as it stood four years ago. Hungary, Bohemia, Poland and Croatia have cut loose. They are through with the rule of the Hapsburgs forever. If in time they should unite for economic reasons it will be in republican form. The peoples of the dual monarchy are doing for themselves just what Wilson insisted must be one of the main conditions of a peace settlement, self determination as to rulers.

The birth of these new independent states is progressing under stormy conditions. Something of the anarchy that swept Russia following the revolution is in control, but the Czecho-Slovaks, Poles, Bohemians and Croatians have had a too vivid picture of what Bolshevism means to permit it to govern permanently. Once the chaos and confusion of the great convulsion has passed away, with Allied assistance, these new democracies of middle Europe will steady down. Even Austria proper, for centuries the stronghold of the most heartless absolutism, has declared itself for a degree of democracy with a national assembly that is to be given wide powers of government. Truly the old order of things in Karl's kingdom are vanishing, and even should the emperor and his war lords retain some powers they will be so hemmed around by democracies that there will be no chance to repeat the adventure of 1914. The dual monarchy is a ruin, but from the wreckage already are springing new nations that will be based on justice and freedom.

"NOT MORE THAN FORTY TONS."

THE LONG-SUFFERING public must have heaved a big sigh of relief when it read the fuel controller's order the other day, stating that no house would be permitted to secure more than 40 tons of coal for the winter's supply. "Not more than 40 tons," reads like an instruction to the average householder enjoining him from indulgence in champagne baths, to keep off the ermine-lined overcoats this winter, and not to buy more than a peck of emeralds when the jewel traveler calls around.

Probably the order was issued for the benefit of government house, Sir Henry Pellatt's residence and Rideau Hall, the three palaces the province boasts.

MESSENGERS TO GARCIA.

A VOLUME of water has passed over the brink of Niagara since the "message to Garcia" was carried by an American officer in the Cuban war and Elbert Hubbard wrote his immortal ode to simple duty. And in the great world war a million have carried their messages to Garcia and paid with their lives. The Garcia message incident placed on a pedestal the man who gets through in his every day task. The officer was given a difficult mission; he had fear for his life, but he landed on the Cuban coast and tore his way through jungles and swamps to reach Garcia. The same spirit has inspired thousands of men. They do not ask "How?" but simply take the allotted task and then proceed to the work. One type of man cannot carry a message to Garcia. Ask him to carry out a mission, and he requires to be started like a machine. He will have to be told how to do his work. The other simply gets the request and proceeds to his task.

In a newspaper office the other day an editor wanted the picture of a certain notable. One man who was requested to get the picture immediately began to ask where and how it should be secured. And not even when he was told where and how, could he secure the portrait. Another man was told that the picture was required, and he came back with it. If the first man had been asked to carry a message to Garcia he would have stopped half way, and reported that a certain river was too deep to cross, or a certain mountain too high to climb; the other man would have won through or perished in the attempt. Allied spirit has created something for the world to capitalize—an iron will to sustained effort in a good cause, let the winds of fortune blow as they may.

SAFETY LAST.

HATS OFF to "safety last"! We owe much to "safety first," but because liberty-loving governments and men unselfishly and instantly chose the dangerous way tyranny and cruelty is dying the world over.

There is no question but that Germany would have paid Britain handsomely to have stood to one side in August, 1914, but John Bull refused to play it safe.

King Albert threw his little band of Belgians across the path of the German hordes, thereby inviting destruction. "Safety last" was his motto, whether he realized it or not. Had he considered his own safety, he would have submitted to the German occupation without a struggle.

"Safety first," the personal kind, went into the discard when the millions throughout the empire flocked to the colors and went gladly into the trenches.

"Safety last" accounted for the daring and superb courage that have beaten the enemy on every front.

"Safety last" has kept the merchant marine of the Entente world on the high seas with the menace of death in sudden and terrible form ever present.

For the four years of war "safety last," whether lived up to consciously or unconsciously, has been the conquering slogan of a world fighting to keep kultur's fetters off freedom. Finally, "safety last" has really been "safety first."

ONE GREAT BLESSING.

A boy serving in the front line trenches in France.
A second boy called to report under the M. S. A.
A husband in a serious condition through illness.

A MOTHER from the country contemplated life through the lenses enumerated above as she sat in a down-town ticket office yesterday. She had come from her rural home with her boy, and he had been taken into the army. The law was there and the boy was called. So men must fight and women must weep. All the oratory or argument of the world could not dispel her sense of hopelessness. Her patriotism was as sound as the next person's, but she was not making out that she was filled with pride to see her son enter the army. She was not against the Government, but she was against the system of things that made war possible.

As the fresh developments looking toward peace broke from the scare headlines of the newspapers that the boys were calling outside, one could feel that the greatest blessing of peace, the immediate blessing, like the recent resurrection day of the lost people of Lille, would be the solace that it would bring to the hearts of millions of mothers. Simple-hearted mothers whose whole world is a little parish inhabited by their sons and daughters may be forgiven if they do not always respond to the impulses that fill the breasts of those mighty in the midst of war and duty. They have lived and toiled and suffered for their sons alone.

As the mother sat there to await the train that carried her back to the homestead, the full force of the great bounty an Allied peace will confer upon the world was felt by those who regarded her, and looked upon her grief with sympathy.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

With Germany it appears to be a case of fight or flight.

General rout seems to have succeeded General Ludendorff.

It is said Wilhelm may go to Switzerland. But there are avalanches there too.

Austria's collapse opens the back door of Germany for the Allies, and the front door is hanging on one hinge.

A Berlin dispatch says the clown prince's favorite valet has been sent to the front. At last his chinlessness will realize that war is hell.

Sir Frederick Smith demands that an Allied court try those responsible for the Huns' many crimes. That is one jury service nobody will try to evade.

With the Allied nations as Santa Claus it looks as if the world might have the grandest Christmas gift of all history barring that of Bethlehem.

Lenine, Trotsky and their gang are about all that is left to the kaiser of his old partners in crime. Autocracy and anarchy fighting together in the last ditch make an odd picture.

After the war perhaps the world will be told all about Col. House, President Wilson's personal representative. Just now he is a good deal of a mystery, but he must be a good deal of a man to be intrusted with America's part at the Versailles conference.

SELF-PRESERVATION THE FIRST LAW.
[Chemnitz Volkstimme.]

The masses of the German workers join in the assurance given by the Krupp workmen that they will continue to fight for Germany's existence and for their own future. This goes without saying—not, however, because the kaiser urges them to do so, but because of the call of the law of self-preservtion. At the same time, they have become quite conscious of their duty to see to it that Wilhelm II. shall no longer be burdened to anything like the same degree as formerly with the care and responsibility for a people of seventy millions.

THE TIES OF FRIENDSHIP.
[Christian Science Monitor.]

If there should arise, in forthcoming peace conferences, any question as to the feasibility of dispensing with war boundaries, it might not be out of place to point out to the doubtful conferes that there is an international line on the North American continent, somewhere between three thousand and four thousand miles in length, without a single fortification or the need of one. The militarists may dislike to throw away their theories, but the sooner they are made to see, and to feel, the necessity of doing both, the better it will be for all concerned.

TEACHING THE HUN.
[Philadelphia Record.]

Germany never did a generous thing. Germany never spared a prostrate foe, except that it was a part of Bismarck's policy not to humiliate Austria beyond the point at which she could be utilized. The Allies are not restrained now by any similar consideration in the case of Germany, for they have no use for it. Germany will get about as much consideration, now that she is conquered, as she gave to Denmark and France when she was victorious. One of the results of this war will be to disabuse Germans of the idea that they are in a class by themselves. For years Germany has been telling what she would do to all other nations when she had conquered them, and now they have conquered her.

AN UNWELCOME FRIENDSHIP.
[Rochester Democrat-Chronicle.]

There is no particular elation in London over the news that "the Bulgars are eager to be our friends." Their friendship is tempered altogether too much by the fluctuating fortunes of the war to be really valuable to anybdy.

GEO. STANDISH'S BROTHER.
[By Jane Osborn.]

"Daily demonstrations in the making of sugarless desserts and war bread. Demonstrator, Clarabelle Snell, United States food administration. Next demonstration 2 o'clock."

Bill Burke regarded the sign and then looked at his watch, observed that it lacked but twenty minutes of the hour and decided to stay—howbeit with a guilty conscience. He reflected to his comfort, however, that it was really Laurette's fault. If she would insist on sending him to household furnishing sections of department stores where such bewitching white-clad demonstrators as Clarabelle Snell performed culinary miracies in the enticing background of an electrically equipped, white enameled kitchen, such as the one set up on the demonstrator's platform before him, then she must take the consequences.

The fact was that Laurette had sent him on an errand some two hours before—hadn't exactly sent him, but had indicated that it was her pleasure that he should go and buy some cooking utensils; had told him to go to this particular department store, and he had gone. This wonderful Clarette creature was just finishing a demonstration on sugarless date pudding when he came, and drawn by the magic of her voice, he wedged his way forward among the listeners who gathered around her little demonstration platform kitchen. There was a look of yearning in his thoroughly masculine eyes. There must have been, and Clarabelle must have thought it was yearning for some of the pudding, for when the demonstration was over and he still lingered, she smilingly asked him if he would sample it. And he did, and fancied it ambrosia, though he really had no taste for date puddings. After that he had taken a turn around the store and had come back just to see Clarabelle again.

Now to explain just why Bill Burke was so vulnerable to the charms of the whitecad Clarabelle Snell and her Hoover kitchen. Largely, of course, it was because Clarabelle was really a very charming sort of person; her particular charms appealed to him because of the contrast they bore to the woman whose personality dominated his entire existence. That woman was no less than the justly celebrated novelist, George Standish, in private life, Laurette Burke, his sister. Laurette was some five or six years older than he. Her first successful novel had helped him through college and by the time he was graduated her renown and her income from her writings were phenomenal.

But she needed a manager, her bank account was in a hopeless mess; she could not endure to live alone; her rather eccentric housekeeping methods would have been the despair of any woman who might have been helpful to her, and, though she might have chosen a husband, she preferred the less binding companionship of her brother. He shared her literary tastes if not her talents, he had a good head for business and was at least used to her ways and owed her a rather deep obligation.

So, just when he was trying to decide what his choice of a career should be she settled the matter, offered him a salary that would have been a temptation to any young graduate, and took him on as her manager. In that choice Laurette showed that for once she had managed her affairs wisely, for with Bill as her constant companion and adviser she nearly doubled her literary output, found new inspiration and was relieved of all the little interruptions that had previously harassed her.

Meantime, Bill had become nobody in the world but George Standish's brother. He lived in her apartment, ate of her odly-chosen meals, criticised vigorously all that she wrote, stood between her and her publishers, and incidentally did such other not really worthy tasks as going shopping for her, hiring maids when they left, and, when they couldn't be hired, sharing with Laurette the work of their admittedly shiftless housekeeping.

Of course, it was not just the manly, strong thing to do—to become so absorbed in the personality even of a brilliant sister. But Bill felt keenly his obligation, and he couldn't take the first step that would mean his independence.

At times the whole thing really get very much on even his steady nerves. The morning of his first vision of Clarabelle was one of these times, for Laurette had worked all night in the throes of a nearly completed novel and came to breakfast haggard but jubilant and ravenous. It was in one of the cookless epochs of their housekeeping, and what breakfast there was Bill had got; and Laurette, who might have been a very comely woman—and in fact was so on occasions, sat there eating the scrambled eggs that Bill had made serenely unaware that they were burned and cold, reading aloud the product of her night's labor. A new maid was promised for that afternoon, and to solve the dishwashing problem until then Laurette had conceived the happy idea of getting more dishes and pans and hence Bill had been dispatched to the store to buy them.

And as he looked at that immaculate kitchen he thought of the contrast it would make with that other one in Laurette's apartment. Then, as Clarabelle returned, he contrasted her as she stood there—as fine a type of woman as his own sister—yet willing to take the matter of home making and cooking seriously. A thrill swept over him as he asked himself whether men no more worthy than he sometimes found wives who would give thought and attention to this matter of making homes run easily and smoothly. What joy it would be to buy electric stoves and dish washers and all the other costly equipment shown in that kitchen if there were someone like Clarabelle to appreciate them and preside over them!

Well, that is how it began. There was no long-drawn-out falling in love—he was in love when he first saw her, and there was no reason that he could see why he should stand on unnecessary formalities in making the acquaintance of the charmer. Within a week he had induced Laurette to come to the demonstration place, make the acquaintance of Clarabelle and invite her to her apartment for "tea or something"—if Laurette really put her mind to the task, with Bill's assistance she could at least make tea, and such refreshment in the picturesque, though slightly eccentric, home of the celebrated novelist was something that few guests would not find a treat.

After that Bill didn't mind how things went at home. He was as serenely oblivious of the uncertain housekeeping as Laurette always was, because he could fill his soul with thought of how those things might be done by a girl like Clarabelle. In a few weeks there was no "might" about it.

He had confessed his passion and had been accepted. He had found to his joy that all the electrical equipment necessary would make only a small inroad on what he had saved from his salary as Laurette's manager. And a little suburban white cottage was part of the picture, and this he could also afford.

"I am tickled to pieces about it," Laurette assured him when he told her. "I made up my mind when I first saw her that she was the girl I wanted you to marry, and I was afraid I was almost too open in my scheme to get you two together. I really did manage quite cleverly for me. And I've got it all doped out; you needn't worry at all about things. I've decided we need someone here to run the place on a smoother basis, someone that can keep a maid—and so run along just as soon as you want to and marry Clarabelle, and we'll take her right in. If you hadn't married her I'd have been tempted to myself, so there."

But Bill hadn't told all he had to tell to begin with. There was something in his dream besides Laurette, and besides the cottage and the perfect kitchen.

"You are great to talk that way," he said; "but you see Laurette has been working like a nailer and she's more or less bound up for the period of the war with the food administration, and so when she said that she would marry me it was with the condition that I'd enlist right now and not wait till I'm called. So I've gone and done it, Sis——"

Thus did Bill Burke cease to be simply George Standish's brother.

The smoke from Canada's factories signals to the world that Canada's army of workers is "carrying on."

These fires must be kept burning

As long as Canada is busy at home she can continue her glorious part in the war.

Canada's factories are a source of great national strength to-day.

They send across the sea a steady stream of vitally needed war supplies.

They employ our people at home at good wages.

They enable Canadians to earn the money to carry on the war.

To let those factories slow down now would be a crime against the boys in France—a disaster to the great army of workers at home.

The fires under the boilers must be kept burning.

That is one of the great purposes of the Victory Loan 1918.

When you buy Victory Bonds, when you lend your money to Canada, you are supplying the capital on which our industries depend. You are contributing directly to our prosperity at home, and lending your personal weight to our mighty war effort in France.

PAGE OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

The French Woman's Part

No other women caught in this great maelstrom of Hunnish frightfulness have had the kind of burden to bear that has been laid upon the women of France. One may truthfully say that no other women have had as heavy a burden. All that English women have faced in solving the problem of dilution of labor has been assumed by French women. The horrors that Belgium has suffered because of invasion, France has suffered as far as the Hun has been able to penetrate into her territory. Just what those horrors have been and are at present no one except those who have endured them can ever dream. All that other women have borne through separation from father, brothers, and sweethearts, all of anxiety and grief because of wounds and death, French women have borne with the added terror of the Hun at their very gates and, at first, hospitals yet to be equipped and adequate help secured. "The Hun at the gates!" is a terrifying cry, paralyzing in its effect.

Other women of the Allies have heard next to nothing of what French women are doing in this war; they have, too often, refused to read authentic accounts of Hun atrocities because of the harrowing details. As a consequence they have failed to do justice to women who, as helpless victims, have been compelled to live through these experiences which are considered too awful to read about in peaceful, sheltered Canada—women who have paid this terrible price of war and have never for one moment failed to support the men of their nation in staying the onslaught of the foe. That French women have the spirit to do anything but grieve is wonderful; that they had this spirit in 1914 is a marvel.

When someone asked the question, "What are French women doing?" an Englishman who lived in France and was capable of judging answered: "They are keeping the country going." All Frenchmen say the same thing. Once again the world is forced to remake its pre-war estimate of the characteristics of the various nations—an estimate for which the world was entirely responsible as the indolent tool of Germany. The only women in the world who have with universal consent been classed as frivolous and pleasure-loving, incapable of even the desire to regard the serious things of life, have shown themselves buoyant, indeed, but with a buoyancy which insures grim determination and faith in the ultimate triumph of right when the serious side of life presents itself. It is a buoyancy that is not afraid to look misfortune squarely in the eyes. These so-called butterflies have shown that all along they have been possessed of well-balanced, practical instincts which make courage gay, and therefore all the more forceful, and which give a spirit quick to sacrifice self wherever material instincts, patriotism, and religion are concerned. Basic seriousness, fixity of purpose, and dauntless courage distinguish the women of France.

Jimmy Coon and His Friends

The Adventures of the Little People of the Great Forest.

THE MUD TRAP.

When Dick Otter and Benny Mink found that they were stuck fast in the black mud and sticky clay, and couldn't possibly get out, they both yelled together, "Help! Help! We're stuck fast in the bottom of Silver Pond and we can't get out of this mire."

And their parents and brothers and sisters and all their friends rushed as fast as their little legs would carry them to give aid. But the funniest thing in the world happened. For, all who ran to their help—scores of friends, besides their families—got stuck fast in the mud, too! But, worst of all their trouble, was the sticky clay. This clay held their little feet fast, just as "Tangle foot," or fly paper, holds the feet of the flies. They were certainly caught in a trap this time.

But you couldn't possibly have kept from laughing, for it was awfully funny. For all the little folks kept clawing, kicking and struggling to get out of this horrid black mire, and the sticky tangle-foot clay. And the more they kicked and clawed, the deeper they sank in the mire. And to make matters worse, the black mud and sticky clay were flying in all directions from their clawing hands and feet.

Of course, they didn't mean to spatter this mud over each other, but they were all terribly, terribly excited and frightened, and the more they kicked and struggled to get out, the worse the mud and clay flew, on all sides, and it filled their eyes, noses, ears, mouths and fur with the black and sticky stuff. And they were all shouting and crying for help, and making a terrible racket. And I'm sorry to say that some got very angry and acted as if they had gone crazy. You know that some people always get angry when they get into trouble; but you know that the more they fuss and scold, the worse off they become.

Mr. and Mrs. Bluejay and their family, and all their bird friends were perched in the trees along the bank; and they all felt very sorry for the little people who were stuck in the mud. But they saw some very funny sights, and they couldn't help laughing, now and then, in spite of their sympathy.

Father Muskrat pulled him out by the hind legs.

Benny Mink got up on the back of Dick Otter, so that he could look about, and see what was going on. But Dick Otter got angry, and gave an awful hump with his strong back, and sent Benny Mink over his head, headfirst into the mud; and all thought Benny's last hour had come, as he disappeared in the mud. But Father Muskrat pulled him out by the hind legs, and saved his life. Benny Mink looked as if he had dived into a pool of black ink. And Benny didn't try any more of this funny business that day.

But something still worse was about to happen.

Tomorrow—Greater Danger.

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS ON THE UNIFORM LESSON FOR SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1918.

ONE GOLDEN TEXT SUGGESTION.

By Rev. T. B. Linscott, D.D.

Jacob Deceives His Father. Genesis xxvii., 18-29.

QUESTIONS FOR TODAY.

4. Verses 18, 19. What was the loss and gain of Jacob lying to his old father?

5. What is the difference in a blessing gained by fraud, and a curse richly deserved?

6. When and why, if ever, is it right to do evil that good may come?

Golden Text—Speak ye truth each one with his neighbor.—Ephesians xxiv., 25.

SELFISHNESS IS FOLLY.

When men deceive or lie to their neighbors, it is for one or two purposes, either for the profit which is expected to be made through the deception, or to do injury to the person who is deceived. Such deception never helps the deceiver, although it may succeed in injuring the person who is deceived. Lying is the result of pure selfishness, but it is great folly, for it finally results in loss, and the expectation of gain from an untruth is vain. Selfishness always defeats its own purpose, and proves to be a boomerang, an instrument of destruction thrown at another, which recoils and strikes the person who threw it. Unselfishness, or helping the other fellow, never fails to bring us true gain.

Advertiser Patterns

A SUGGESTION FOR YOUR NEW GOWN.

Waist—2392. Skirt—2400.

The pretty soft crepes, the new foulards and the smart ginghams, linens and shantungs are all admirably suited to this style. It is also nice for combinations of material, and perhaps you could remodel a last season's frock on these lines. Waist and skirt lend themselves nicely to separate finish. The skirt of cloth or linen taffeta or crepe will look well with a waist of matched color in some contrasting material. As so little trimming is now required, just a bit of bead embroidery, a touch of bright color or a little lace is all that you need. The waist pattern 2392 is cut in seven sizes, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. The skirt 2400 is also cut in seven sizes, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32 and 34 inches waist measure. The entire dress will require 8⅝ yards of 36-inch material for a medium size. The skirt portion measures about 1¾ yards at the foot.

This illustration calls for two separate patterns, which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents for each pattern, in silver or stamps.

Please send above-mentioned pattern as per directions given below:

Name .....

Town .....

Province .....

Age (if child's or misses' pattern).....

Measurement: Bust..... Waist.....

Caution: Be careful to inclose the above illustration, and send size of pattern wanted. When the pattern is bust measure, you need only mark 33, 34, or whatever it may be. When it's waist measure, 22, 24, 26, or whatever it may be. If a skirt give waist, and length measure. When misses' or child's pattern, write only the figure representing the age. It is not necessary to write "inches" or "years." Patterns cannot reach you in less than one week from the date of application.

DAILY FISH BULLETIN

BIG TRAWLER CATCHES.

(Issued By Canada Food Board.)

The fate of the "Triumph" off the Atlantic coast created a momentary interest in the trawler, which inlanders hear little about, but which is really one of the chief instruments in keeping the market well supplied with fish.

Steam trawlers are something of an innovation in Canadian fisheries. Five years ago there was only one on the Atlantic coast. Now there are five fishing out of Nova Scotia ports and between them they land an average of half a million pounds of fish weekly. As much as 250,000 pounds have been landed by one trawler in six days' fishing. There are three trawlers operating off the Pacific coast.

Juliana—Very pleased to have you join our column, and I hope you will write again. So you correspond with seven "lonelies!" It must keep you busy writing letters to them all.

To help make strong, keen-red-blooded Canadians there is nothing in my experience which I have found so valuable as organic iron — Nuxated Iron," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital. Nuxated Iron often increases the strength, and endurance of weak, nervous, rundown people in two weeks' time. It is now being used by over three million people annually, including such men as Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, formerly Secretary of the Treasury, and Vice-Presidential nominee, Charles A. Towne; General John L. Clem (Retired), the drummer boy of Shiloh, who was sergeant in the U. S. Army when only 12 years of age; also United States Judge G. W. Atkinson of the Court of Claims of Washington, and others. Nuxated Iron is dispensed by all good druggists everywhere.

A quiet, but pretty wedding was solemnized at Spruce Grove Farm, Maplewood, the home of John A. Forbes, when his daughter, Christene B. was united in marriage to George D. Hossack of Thamesford. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert Ross. The bride, who was given away by her father, was prettily gowned in grey taffeta and carried a shower bouquet. Miss M. Hossack, sister of the groom, played the wedding march. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl sunburst, and to the pianist a pearl ring. After a reception Mr. and Mrs. Hossack left for points east, the bride travelling in a smart navy blue suit.

NINE MINOR LEAGUES PREPARE 1919 CARDS

NEW YORK, Nine minor league organizations have shown enough confidence in the future of baseball to make claims for reservation of players and have filed their lists with Secretary John H. But one of these nine—the International—finished the season, but the others went far enough to be able to take advantage of the ruling that in a half completed schedule permits recognition.

The nine leagues are the International, American Association, Pacific Coast League of Class AA, Southern Association and Western League of Class A, Eastern Texas and Pacific Coast International Leagues of Class C.

There are no Class D leagues now in the National Association.

Only a Flood of Dollars Will Put Out the Fire In Europe

WHEN the kaiser started the great conflagration, which threatened to engulf the world, he failed to reckon with Canadian prosperity.

Here in the Western Hemisphere, safeguarded by the British fleet, production has increased to such an extent that Canada is one of the richest countries in the world.

Step by step the Allied armies have got the fire under control. Ever and anon it breaks out anew. Only one thing will put it out—Money, money, and still more MONEY.

Money is urgently needed to keep the Canadian troops at the front.
Money is absolutely necessary to supply the munitions of war.
Without more money we can never hope to win a lasting PEACE.
Where is this money coming from?
From You—and You—and YOU.
Get in line NOW.

BUY VICTORY BONDS

Buy till it hurts. Cut out your frivolous expenditures—those harmless luxuries you can so well do without.

Make this a real sacrifice. Don't merely use the money you can easily spare—mortgage your income for a year ahead to provide the sinews of war.

You are not asked to donate, but to lend every dollar you have, or can borrow. You will receive good interest, and your loan will be paid back to you in a very few years.

From the standpoint of patriotism, your duty is clear.

But, apart from any consideration of duty and patriotism, Victory Bonds represent the safest, surest and best investment in Canada today.

Better Value for Your Money

THE size and the resources of the producer have a big effect upon values. A large volume of business reduces the cost per unit of product. Great buying power means the ability to secure materials well in advance, and at lowest prices.

Ames Holden McCready supply the shoe requirements of a large part of the Canadian public. More than 5,000 dealers, in all sections of the country, sell A.H.M. shoes. No other Canadian shoe house has anything like this volume of output.

And in financial resources this company occupies the same dominant position. It is able to place contracts for materials far in advance of actual requirements, and at better prices than would be possible for smaller purchases. These facts are important in normal times; they are doubly important now.

The A.H.M. trade-mark on a shoe is a warranty of value based upon the large output and greatest buying power.

FRED FULTON HAS KNOCKOUT RECORD

Twenty Boxers Knocked Out by Fred in Three Years.

Fred Fulton, the famous heavyweight boxer, has a deadly wallop in each mitt. During the short period of three years he put 20 opponents to sleep and forced another half a dozen to quit. Fulton's march to fame was checked for a time by Jack Dempsey, who slipped a surprise blow that caused Fred to see stars for the first time in his ring career. As Dempsey put over his punch when the mill was only 18 seconds old, fans did not have a chance to judge which is the best man. Had Fulton been stopped in the third or fourth round, Dempsey's win would have carried more weight than it really does, but the way it is, Fulton is not disheartened, and feels confident of getting revenge in another battle. Boxing Is Only Big Sport Not Properly Organized

Present Sportsmen's War Charities Drive Shows Up Weakness of Ring, Says Jim Coffroth.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Jim Coffroth's coming to this city to organize the national drive in boxing for the United War Work Fund has accentuated the fact that the United States is sorely in need of a national controlling body for the sport. Coffroth himself is led to bemoan the absence of an American body such as the National Sporting Club of London. With a national association the question of organizing a nation-wide drive would be comparatively simple, but without a controlling organization Coffroth is confronted with a difficult task, the magnitude of which he himself did not realize when he came here last Monday.

"Boxing," said Coffroth the other day, is the only big sport in America that is without organization. This makes boxing easy prey for its enemies, both within and without. Baseball has a powerful organization behind it and so has racing. In fact, with the exception of boxing, every major professional sport is protected by a strong organization, the object of which is to fight off attack from the outside and compel those on the inside to obey salutary rules and regulations. In view of the important part that boxing and boxers have played in fitting soldiers for duty at the front, and the commendation it has received from those in high places, it would seem that those interested in the raising of the standard of the sport should band together for the purpose.

"With the adoption and enforcement of rules looking to the uplifting of boxing there is no reason why the sport should not take its place in the foremost rank of vigorous pastime. The value of organization has been demonstrated in England and France where boxing is comparatively under control of authoritative boxing associations. You seldom hear of boxing scandals in those countries, for the reason that all concerned are compelled to conform to set rules and offenders are severely disciplined.

"A dozen years ago I was not enthusiastic about a boxing association, because conditions were bad. But I think that among the new crop of promoters that since has sprung up there are enough with the best interests of the sport at heart to form an association and conduct it properly."

Leafs	3	0	1,000
Browns	2	1	.667
Braves	0	2	.000
Maroons	0	2	.000

The Leafs defeated the Browns by the score of 41 to 26 in the C. A. C. Basketball League Monday evening. By winning the game the Leafs take the lead of the league. The game was fast all the way through. The Browns failed to stop the good shooting of the Leafs, and lost out. H. Coughlin played a good game for the winners, having eight points to his credit when the game ended, and Feeney showed up well for the losers.

The Browns are only one game behind the Leafs in the league, and when the first series of games end in December it is expected that the four teams in the league will only be a few points behind each other, as the teams are very evenly watched.

Tom Mascara, captain of the Leafs, ran up 21 points last evening.

The teams lined up as follows:

TORONTO SOCCER MEN TO PLAY AT NEWARK

Bethlehem Steel Team Will Likely Be S. P. A. Team's Opponent.

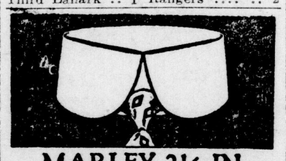

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—In connection with the visit of the Toronto soccer team to New York, under the auspices of the Sportsmen's Patriotic Association, to take part in the national sports week a meeting will be held at 180 Jones avenue tomorrow evening to select the players to make the trip. The committee will consist of three representatives from the T. and D. F. A. and three from the Provincial League, with E. Spencer as chairman. A suggestion has been made that a "possible" team and a "probable" team be selected and play an exhibition game in aid of the MacLaren fund, but as it is probable that the selected team will have to leave by November 16, little time would be left to make the necessary arrangements.

A New York dispatch says: "The offer of the Toronto Sportsmen's Patriotic Association to send over a picked soccer team to play for the war fund benefit has been accepted, and the date has been set for Sunday, November 17, at the Newark, N. J., grounds. In all probability their opponents will be the Bethlehem Steel team, which has unlimited backing, and who have offered their services to the war fund committee."

JACK COOMBS HAILED AS GREAT PITCHER

When Jack Lapp, who caught for the Athletics when they were champions, read that his old battery mate, Jack Coombes, had retired from the game for good and all he passed some compliments on the Colby man that are interesting. Among other things Lapp said Coombs was the strongest man who ever put on a baseball rig, in his opinion. He said Coombs could pitch 20 innings, throw every ball, with all his might, and send them over the plate just as fast at the finish as he had at the start of the game, and the afternoon's work didn't even seem to make Jack tired. He was always ready for more.

"I don't think any pitcher ever lived who could throw as many fast ones as Coombs, throw as many curves as Coombs, and go to the long route that Coombs could go," continued Lapp. "I will admit that Walter Johnson probably could throw a better smoke ball than the 'Iron Man,' and I do know that probably Chief Bender had a little more cunning, and that "Rube" Waddell had a wider break to his curves, but as a combination of speed, cunning, curves and the knowledge of what every batter could and could not hit, Coombs was the superior of any hurler I have ever known, and without boasting, I think I have had my share of experience in catching some of the good ones.

"Connie Mack did say that if he had one great game to win, and had to rely on one pitcher, it would be Chief Bender, and I will couple my guess along with that of Mack. Bender could almost make me think he had crossed me by his method of delivery. I have often signalled to him for a fast one, watched him wind up, and think perphaps a curve was coming. That never troubled me much because a curve is a slower ball than a fast one and the catcher can get himself together and master it. It is when the pitcher throws a fast one after having taken the signal for a curve that the catcher is in danger. This is because before the catcher can correct his mental and physical poise the ball has hit him I simply mention these things to illustrate how the Chief must have fooled the batters when his own catcher was in doubt.

NOTED ENGLISH HORSE ARRIVES AT LAUREL

Irving H. Wheatcroft, whose interest in the thoroughbred is about as extensive as any man in the business, was a visitor at Laurel. He came north to arrange with E. W. Moore to look after the stallion Fitz Grafton, which was due to arrive from England Thursday afternoon. Fitz Grafton is by the noted sire Grafton, and his dam is Olive Branch, a sister to the dam of Polymelus. During his racing career he won 18 races of over $100,000 in value. He was bred in Australia and after winning several races in that country was shipped to England and raced. He was sent from England to India to run in the Viceroy cup, an £8,000 stake, which he won. He was then returned to England, only to be shipped back to India the following year to again start in the Viceroy cup, which he again won after picking up a 10-pound penalty.

Fitz Grafton has the reputation of being the handsomest thoroughbred in England, and was never beaten in the show ring in that country. He will be quartered at Pimlico until he is shipped to his owner's farm, the St. James Stud, in Kentucky. In the consignment of 60 which arrived on the same ship were drafts for Major August Belmont, Clarence Mackay, J. E. Widener and E. R. Bradley.

Victory Comes High
But We Must Have It!

THIS is no time to count the cost of Victory—when hundreds of thousands of our own Canadian boys are charging, full speed ahead, with the Huns on the run.

This is no time for loyal Canadians to stop and consider the terrible price, in blood and tears, this war has already cost the world.

When the word goes forth over there to CHARGE, every man is on his toes—straining every muscle—eyes front—head up—bayonet fixed—to sweep the German hordes back out of Belgium—out of France—back, ever back—until they throw up their hands with "Kamerad! Kamerad!" on their cowardly lips.

Here, in Canada, when the word goes forth to "LEND," let us all be worthy of the gallant boys who have given up home, and comfort, and even life itself, for the cause of victory.

We at home must furnish the funds that will keep the victorious Canadian troops supplied with food and clothing—with guns and ammunition—with tanks and shells and airplanes.

Victory is within our grasp. Continue the great offensive and the war will be won.

Every Dollar you have, or can borrow, is needed to bring back the boys VICTORIOUS.

Canada needs your money, but Canada is willing to pay for the use of it.

Every dollar invested in Victory Bonds will be returned to you with interest.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Trachoma—What It Is and How Science Combats It

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG, A. B., M. A., M. D., (Johns Hopkins University.)

DR. HIRSHBERG

Trachoma is a troublesome eye inflammation associated with an overgrowth of granular-like condition of the inner folds of the eyelids. So common and widely distributed has this eye menace become that the United States public health service has had to establish special guards against its introduction into the country, and health boards against its entrance from one state into another.

Trachoma is due to a persistent little germ which diffuses a virus as well as its own self. This causes the contagion, with its symptoms and train of serious consequences.

Some of the first symptoms of trachoma may escape notice, because they resemble so many eye troubles that are treated lightly. "Pink-eye," conjunctivitis, "something-in-the-eye," and other supposed trivial eye disorders are often confused with trachoma, because the latter in its beginning is much like them.

It starts with itchy redness, watery eyes, burning sensations and a feeling as if there were a speck in the eye. The eyes are sensitive to light and painful and at times the vision seems to be blurred.

Later the lids may swell and the space between them grow narrow. A variable amount of mucus may be present at first, but as the affection becomes chronic this discharge disappears.

Progresses, Then Stops.

The membrane over the eyeball and eyelids becomes thick, tough, red and uneven because of the granules formed.

Upon this thickened surface a velvety or granular appearance begins to be noticeable. The upper lid is usually worse than the lower one. Folds and furrows are then to be seen on the inner side of the eyelids. The trachoma granules give them the so-called granular appearance.

The granules are grey or yellow, rounded, translucent, small, large, or warty. Sometimes they are flat or arranged in rows. They are really collections of lymph in connective tissue.

Trachoma progresses for a time and then becomes stationary. Scar tissue appears and brings the disease to a standstill. This, however, does not restore the eyes and eyelids. Narrow white bands and scars change the inside of the lids into a pale, bluish-white membrane.

Complete Cure Rare.

Trachoma, like leprosy or tuberculosis, does not show until a long while after it has been "caught." It creeps into your system insidiously and may be present for months before its annoying presence is discovered.

A complete cure of trachoma is seldom possible in severe cases. The treatment aims to kill the virus, to check and remove the overgrowth of the eye membranes, and to prevent the contagion's spread to others.

Surgery, silver caustic, 2 per cent strength curettage, excision, electricity, expression of the granules with instruments, and complete isolation and quarantine of the victim of the disease, are methods used upon the different types of trachoma.

Answers to Health Questions

Y. Z. Q.—Kindly advise what to do for pimples.

A.—Apply a little of the following to the affected parts:

Sulphur lotl	2½ drams
Balsam peru	½ dram
Camphor	½ dram
Green soap	1 dram
Lanolin	½ ounce
Vaseline	½ ounce

L. A. Q.—Please give me something for pains on top of my head

A.—You should have a thorough examination made of your eyes, and, if necessary, have glasses made to fit your eyes.

W. A. P. Q.—Kindly advise what to do for a leaky valve.

A.—Inside of the chambers of the heart there are draw curtains called valves. This flap opens to allow the blood to come in, and closes automatically when blood has filled the chambers. When these curtains shrink from an infectious disease or some other trouble they do not close fully, and that causes flow of blood between the chambers. It is not a serious condition at all.

K. L. A.—If you will send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your query repeated I will be glad to answer your questions.

TROUBLED. Q.—What shall I do for catarrh?

A.—Often examination of the nose and throat by a nose and throat surgeon will reveal deflected bones, tumorous growths, adenoids, infected tonsils and other things, which a slight operation will correct.

A READER. Q.—Kindly advise what to do for sore throat.

A.—A one-minute cold bath every morning and exposure of the throat to the cold air usually prevents this. Once it appears, crushed ice and alcohol, or something cold applied to the neck all around, helps. With the use of some good antiseptic mouth wash and gargle, such as a teaspoonful each of alum, carbolic and chlorate of potash to a quart of water, one-half a tumblerful as a gargle, does much good.

GUELPH. Q.—Kindly advise what to do for trolley sickness.

A.—Various causes are possible, such as instability of the ear canals, loose kidneys, stomach and other abdominal organs. Try a little of the following:

Potassium bromide	5 grains
Benzoic acid	½ grain
Powdered cinnamon	1½ grains

One capsule.

Black Chiffon and Lace Gown With Crimson Girdle.

What the evening gown will lack in fanciful materials this season will be made up by the deft touches of the ingenious wartime designer. Unique sweeps of line and contrast make up for scanty use of fabric and a minimum of unessential ornaments.

The gown here shown is a combination of black chiffon and lace. The bodice is a light drapery of chiffon, forming a deep V in front. The back of the skirt, also, is of slightly full chiffon and is partly covered by a graceful sweep of chiffon tunic. The only touch of color is in the deep crimson girdle.

MY SOLDIER HUSBAND

ADELE GARRISON'S CONTINUATION OF

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

What Madge Overheard Outside Her Father's Door.

If I had had the will to leave the spot outside my father's library door, where I had stopped at the sound of his voice telephoning a telegram to Dr. Pettit, I doubt that my feet would have carried me away. They seemed rooted to the spot, and with no thought until afterward that I was guilty of eavesdropping, I listened breathlessly to the cryptic message my father was sending over the wires.

For at his first words the conviction had seized me that this hurried telegram had been caused by my appeal for the loan of money to tide over the crisis in our affairs caused by Dicky's mysterious expenditures. And I felt that at all hazards I must know what message my father was sending in such haste to Dr. Pettit.

"Come back quickly as possible," my father dictated. "Imperative consult you matter vital importance. Before leaving, query Cx 158 what chance breaking stones. Can turn trick immediately. Disregard absolutely our last talk and agreement. Explain on arrival.

"(Signed) GORDON."

"Repeat the message, please," my father commanded, and with the words my volition came back to me, and with swift, noiseless feet, I hurried down the hall and out of the house, thankful that the Japanese servant had been too busy in another part of the house to notice my return or second departure. My father need never know unless I chose to tell him, that I had listened to the queer-sounding telegram he had sent Dr. Pettit.

I went directly to my own room and locked the door, for I felt that I must have solitude in which to face this unexpected complication of my problem. I knew there was no fear of my being disturbed for an hour at least, because Mother Graham had taken the baby in her room when I went to see my father, and she wouldn't willingly give him up until she was compelled to do so by his own restlessness.

Thought Brings Perplexity.

The fire was smouldering, almost out. With an impatient desire for action of some sort I stirred the embers to a tiny blaze and fed it assiduously until it was flaming cheerily. Then, sitting down before it I drew out the check my father had given me, and looked at it with joy and aversion, relief and anxiety so mingled in my mind that I couldn't tell which emotions were uppermost.

The amount it represented spelled the difference between comfort and financial disaster, between peace of mind and the haunting anxiety penury so often brings.

But I could not rid myself of the notion that it shouldn't be in my hands, that there was something back of my father's quickly suppressed agitation at my request which I ought to know.

Could it be possible that he couldn't afford to give me the money? I put aside the idea as preposterous, for I knew my father to be comparatively a wealthy man. But there was something about this hurried, cryptic message to our friend that puzzled and alarmed me.

For I knew that only the most urgent reasons could have induced my father to send for Dr. Pettit. The young physician who had brought him back to life after his terrible experience in South America had remained with him after the rounding up of the band of enemy spies headed by Grace Draper, remained until the secret service had assured him the danger of vengeance being wreaked upon my father was practically over.

What Is the Reason?

Then he had gone to Washington to make arrangements for his transfer from the service to the medical corps. I knew that the day he would be permitted to start for France would be the happiest of his life, for I, as well as the rest, had seen his restless chafing at the inaction to which he had been condemned.

And now my father had summoned him from the most important conference of his life. Why? Was it because of my need?

I sprang up and paced the floor frantically. If my conjectures were true I felt that I couldn't endure it. For I had long suspected, known definitely but a few weeks that it was on my account that Dr. Pettit had stayed so long at my father's side, when every fibre of him was yearning for action in France.

I took up the check with the wild idea of rushing to my father, and giving it back to him. Then I realized that Dicky's plight and my baby's coming had left me tied, helpless. I was no longer a free agent, but the pawn of circumstances.

To-morrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 6.

The planetary figures for this day point to certain liveliness in business affairs, with gains through plans, schemes, combinations and affiliations. The mind will be in a rather peculiar condition, with the faculties alert and the mental insight clear and inspirational, and the spiritual vision open. Gain may come through premonition, impression or through mediumship, also through writings, poetry, music and art, as the faculties will be quickened to the point of genius or inspiration. Those in employment who are sure of themselves may profitably push for favor, promotion and increase of salary. While domestic, social and affectional interests may be lively, a great degree of discretion and circumspect conduct is called for in this direction, as Venus is strongly and adversely aspected. Women especially should be on guard. Those whose birthday it is will be successful if in the employment of others, but they are especially enjoined to be discreet and careful in all their social and domestic relations. A child born on this day will be impressionable, inspirational, romantic, possibly erratic, and may well remain in employment.

PROOF
of the power of Zam-Buk over chronic cases of skin disease and serious skin injuries is found in the following personal experiences:
1. Mrs. W. Adams, 489 La Salle Rd., Verdun, Montreal, writes that her little son suffered from eczema for five years. Treatment at three hospitals failed to cure him, but Zam-Buk has completely and permanently rid his skin of the disease.
2. Mrs. S. Cliff, of Melette, had blood-poisoning very badly as a result of a cut. She suffered tortures until she used Zam-Buk, which ended the pain, brought down the swelling and healed the sores.
3. Pte. C. Oakley of the 96th Highlanders cut his leg so badly that he was laid up for five weeks under doctor's care, and was finally advised to go into a hospital. Instead he used Zam-Buk, and in two weeks' time he was able to return to work.
4. Miss J. Keith, Nurse, Olds, Alta., uses Zam-Buk for her patients, and says she has never known a case of skin disease that Zam-Buk has failed to cure.
5. Mr. J. E. Arsenault, J.P., Wellington, P.E.I. sustained a knock on his leg, which resulted in an ulcer and then turned to eczema. After using numerous remedies and having treatment from two doctors, without benefit, Zam-Buk cured him.
6. Mrs. A. Bruhm, of Northfield, N.S. says her little girl was so badly burned that her life was despaired of, but Zam-Buk brought relief from the agonizing pain, healed the burns and saved her life.
7. Mr. R. Howard of Bracebridge, Ont., was under doctor's treatment for six months for an ulcer, and was unable to work. Recently another ulcer broke out. This time he used only Zam-Buk, with the result that he did not lose a day's pay, and the ulcer healed in a much shorter time.
8. Capt. R. B. Nunn, No. 2 Section, 8th D.A.C. (formerly of Vernon, B.C.) had an ulcer on his leg for two years, until he used Zam-Buk, which completely healed it.
9. Mrs. R. A. Smith of Roblin, Man., has used Zam-Buk with excellent results for bad sores which developed on her baby after vaccination.
10. Mrs. J. Valliere, 903 Hale St., Escanaba, Mich., says after suffering for seven years with a rash on her hand she cured it with Zam-Buk.
11. Mr. T. M. Marsh of 101 Delorimier Ave., Montreal, suffered for twenty-five years from eczema. Doctors failed to cure it, but Zam-Buk has effected a complete cure.
If you are suffering from any skin trouble or injury don't waste time and money in useless experiments, but use Zam-Buk in the first place. The reliability of this herbal remedy has established it as the household balm throughout the civilized world.
Zam-Buk is unequalled for ringworm, scalp sores, boils, pimples, running sores, abscesses, piles, rheumatism, chapped hands, cold cracks and cold sores. All dealers or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 50c box, 3 for $1.25.

Good Night Stories

By Blanche Selman

THE WISE LITTLE CRICKET.

One evening when Dotty's mamma told her it was time to go to bed, Dotty gathered up her bonnet and ran outdoors and sat down on a stone and began to cry.

There was a rustle in the grasses at her feet, and Happy Giggles, the merry elfin from Makebelieve Land, hopped up before Dotty.

"Why, what in the world are you crying for on such a lovely evening?" he asked, bowing and bobbing before Dotty.

"That's just it," sobbed Dotty. "It's too early to go to bed, and mamma says I must."

"Probably it's because you've played so hard she thinks you're tired and sleepy," suggested Happy Giggles.

"But I'm not, and nobody's going to bed this early in the day," sobbed Dotty.

"I'm sure it's too early for the meadow folks to go to Bed."

From over in the meadow came the soft song of the cricket.

Happy Giggles smiled and bade Dotty listen. Dotty dried her eyes and looked off toward the meadow.

"Don't you hear the Mamma Crickets singing their good-night songs right now?" whispered Happy Giggles. "They say it's time for all little folks to be in Slumberland."

"This early in the evening!" exclaimed Dotty. "Why, the sun hasn't been out of sight very long! I'm sure it's too early for the meadow folks to go to bed!"

"Maybe so. Suppose we go over and see for ourselves," and taking Dotty's hand, Happy Giggles led her over in the meadow and they knocked at Mamma Cricket's door.

Daddy Cricket opened the door and told Happy Giggles and Dotty not to make a sound, for Mamma Cricket was rocking her babies to sleep; then he invited them inside.

Sure enough, there in a tiny rocker made from grasses, sat Mamma Cricket with a baby cricket on each arm, rocking back and forth, singing her little low lullaby.

"Nid-nod, nid-nod, it's time to go to bed," she kept repeating, nodding her little brown head to her guests, and as soon as the baby crickets were fast asleep she laid them down in the grasses and came out to shake hands with Happy Giggles and Dotty.

"But isn't it dreadfully early to put them to bed?" asked Dotty.

"No, indeed," laughed Mamma Cricket. "Little crickets who romp and play all day long need a good night's rest, so they'll be ready to awaken early the next day."

"Early to bed and early to rise, makes little crickets healthy, wealthy and wise," chirped Daddy Cricket as he led Happy Giggles and Dotty outdoors again.

"It surely must be true," laughed Happy Giggles, "for you meadow people go to bed with the sun, and a happier, healthier and wiser lot is not to be found."

"You never see one of us crying and cross," said Mamma Cricket. "And if folks were wise they'll learn that lesson from us." And bidding her guests good night she went into the house, and Dotty could hear her soft lullaby as she and Happy Giggles went home.

Dotty tumbled into bed and was soon lulled to sleep by the songs of Mamma Cricket as she rocked her little ones to sleep.

GREAT BATTLE NOW BEING WAGED MAY DECIDE ISSUE

Allied Offensive Is Being Carried Out in Two Sections—Gens. Horne, Byng, Rawlinson, Debeney, Gouraud and Liggett in Charge of Attacking Troops.

Paris, Nov. 5.—A battle which is believed here to be decisive is now going on. It is being waged in two sections. In the north the blow delivered by the British armies of Gens. Horne, Byng and Rawlinson and by the French under Gen. Debeney is a threat levelled at one of the flanks of the vast pocket formed by the German lines from Holland to Metz.

The object of this offensive is to drive dangerous wedges either north of the Sambre in the direction of Mons or south of the river in the direction of Avesnes and Maubeuge. The result may be a compromise retreat of the German armies in Belgium or those still between the Oise and the Aisne.

Excellent results have been realized so far. The Sambre River and Canal have been crossed. This was the last line of resistance west of the frontier, which may be soon reached in that region. According to latest information, the allied advance continues, notwithstanding desperate resistance by the enemy.

Second Section of Battle.

The second section of the attack is being conducted by Gens. Gouraud and Liggett on the Meuse. This is the great strategic offensive which the Germans have always feared and which they sought to make impossible by storming Verdun in 1916.

The aim of the Franco-American offensive is to pinch out the whole pocket. American troops are at Beaumont. That is less than eight miles from La Mouilly station, northwest of Montmedy on the great shuttle railroad running between Thionville, Sedan and Mezieres. Even better, the opening of a fresh attack by the Americans on the east bank of the Meuse may bring them into the Montmedy-Longuyon region. That may mean not only the cutting of the railroad, but making it impossible for the enemy to form upon the Meuse line, because that front could no longer be joined up with that of Thionville.

FOCH'S "PINCERS" ARE SLOWLY BUT SURELY SQUEEZING THE LIFE OUT OF THE GERMANS

Teuton Retreat Eastward Through Lorraine Has Virtually Been Cut Off—Ghent Has Been Isolated by the Allied Forces—Enemy Is Trapped.

New York, Nov. 5.—The Associated Press this morning issued the following:

With the German retreat eastward through Lorraine virtually cut off by the American advance on the west side of the Meuse, British, French, Belgian and American troops are striking hard at the enemy's lines in Northern France and Belgium. Field Marshal Haig's men launched a terrific attack south of Valenciennes yesterday and have made progress which seems to threaten the Germans in the region of Mons and Maubeuge.

Ghent is now virtually isolated by the French, Belgians and Americans. At last accounts the lines of the Allies were close to the city on the west, north and northeast, and it is said that allied cavalry has been operating in the outskirts of the city.

Gen. Pershing's forces are now within ten miles of Sedan and within easy range of the railroad south of that city. In fact, it is said that the fire of the American guns has cut this great artery of German communications, and that it is useless to the enemy for transporting troops or supplies eastward from the Aisne and Oise fronts, where large forces of Germans are still holding their lines against the French.

FOCH'S "PINCERS" WORKING AGAIN.

It still appears that the familiar "pincers" methods which Marshal Foch began using on the Soissons-Rheims sector in July is now in full operation once more, and each day seems to bring new peril to the enemy legions caught within the slowly closing jaws. Since Saturday noon these jaws have approached each other an aggregate of eleven miles. The lower jaw now rests at Beaumont, just west of the Meuse. The other is close to the eastern edge of the great Mormal forest, west of Maubeuge. The advance against Ghent is another development of the same movement, and still further imperils the only avenue of retreat remaining to the Teutonic armies. The whole front from the Dutch frontier to far below the Oise River was flaming all day yesterday. Then came a number of sectors which were relatively quiet, but far to the east the French, with the Americans to their right, were rapidly moving toward Sedan. Resistance along this last front has been somewhat more stubborn than it was on Saturday afternoon and Sunday, but the speed of the allied advance seems to indicate that the Germans have not as yet reached a line where they will turn definitely at bay.

AUSTRIA AT ALLIES' FEET.

Austria is at the feet of the Allies. Her army must be disbanded and all its munitions placed at the disposal of the Allies. The same is virtually true of her navy. Austria has also agreed to permit the Allies to occupy any of her strategic strongholds at any time. The troops of the dual monarchy must retire back of a line which roughly corresponds with the Italian irridents, which was claimed by Italy and which led that country to enter the war.

What appears to be a serious situation may be developing in Western Russia. Ruthenian Ukrainian troops have clashed with the Poles and have taken Lemberg, the capital of Galicia and Przemysl, the fortress in Galicia which was the scene of repeated sanguinary conflicts during the first three years of the war. Czech and Austro-German troops are marching against each other in Bohemia, and a battle is imminent.

Little or nothing of the true state of affairs in Germany can be learned, probably because of the strict censorship that prevails. It is known, however, that the demand for the abdication of Emperor William is growing and that Bolshevists are active in many parts of the country.

INSISTENT CLAMOR RAISED FOR ABDICATION OF GERMAN KAISER

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 4.—The Berlin Tageblatt's Munich correspondent says the bourgeoise, as well as the Social-Democratic newspapers of Bavaria are demanding the abdication of the emperor.

The Munich Neueste Nachrichten, a copy of which has been received here, says:

"Even the decree of the kaiser indorsing the new state form of government could not restore the people's confidence in him."

Even the National-Liberal Augsburg Abend Zeitung demands that the imperial and federal governments shall urgently request Emperor William to take "the inevitable step."

TERMS ARE

garia and Turkey and Austria-Hungary in turn. They are, broadly speaking, such as will make impossible a resumption of hostilities, by the German Government on either land or sea pending a permanent treaty of peace. . . .

"It was to have been world dominion or downfall, according to Germany's own assertions. It has become downfall, and everybody in Germany from the kaiser downward is at last beginning to recognize the fact."

Dual Monarchy Impotent.

The Tribune says that the terms of the armistice leave the dual monarchy impotent.

"The allied demand for the evacuation of the Trentino, Istria, and Dalmatia leaves no doubt about the disposition of Alsace-Lorraine in any armistice with Germany. Alsace-Lorraine will be surrendered as these Austrian provinces have been surrendered. The German navy will similarly be turned over to the Allies or dismantled, so that Germany can never resume the war at sea.

"Germany, the arch-conspirator against the peace of the world, will be bound, just as Austria-Hungary, her humble satellite, has now been bound."

Germany Stands Alone.

The Times says: "The iron ring has once again closed about Germany. . . She stands alone against an increasing host of foes. There is no help for her from any quarter and the territory and transportation service of countries which were lately fighting by her side are open to the use of the Allies for attacking her upon fronts hitherto secure. She must surrender, and soon. The terms imposed upon Austria enable her to judge the severity of those she must accept for herself."

The Sun says: "The end is in full sight now," and concludes: "The one great principle which Great Britain, France, Italy, the United States, and all democratic nations interested in safeguarding their future and the future peace of the world must keep in mind when victory has been completely achieved is the preservation of enemy lands, if for no other reason than for the sake of the preservation of our own orderly democracies, against world Bolshevicism, against the red curse of disintegration and anarchy and chaos for which mob passions are always preparing the field when strong government ceases. The experience of Russia has already illustrated this with startling and monitory significance of warning."

1,000,000 WOMEN ARE EXPECTED TO VOTE IN N. Y. STATE ELECTION

Inclement Weather Not Deterring Exercise of the Franchise.

New York, Nov. 5.—New York state's first election day, on which women were permitted to vote began with unfavorable weather in many sections. Reports from some cities upstate indicated, however, that, as in New York, the low temperatures and grey skies were not deterring the women from exercising their franchise in large numbers.

Observers in New York city, taking into account the early rush for the polls here, combined with similar reports from other cities, expressed opinion that few of the estimated 1,000,000 women registered would fail to cast ballots. The Republican and Democratic state tickets are headed respectively by Charles S. Whitman, governor, and Alfred E. Smith, president of the board of aldermen here.

HEAVY VOTE IS BEING CAST THROUGH MICHIGAN

Interest Centres in Sensational Battle Between Ford and Newberry.

Detroit, Nov. 5.—Predictions that an unusually heavy vote would be cast in Michigan today seemed to be borne out by the early balloting. Favored by ideal weather throughout the state and keen local contests, voters were out in force early. Interest in the senatorial battle between Lieut.-Commander Truman H. Newberry, Republican, and Henry Ford, Democrat, continued at high pitch today. Suffrage leaders continued their work for the woman suffrage amendment today, bending their energies toward bringing out a maximum number of voters.

Complete congressional and state tickets also are being voted on.

DEMONSTRATION IN BERLIN IN FAVOR OF CONTINUING WAR

Report From Copenhagen Says Germany Will Not Accept Humiliating Peace.

London, Nov. 5.—A demonstration was held before the Bismarck monument in Berlin on Sunday in favor of continuing the war and a resolution was passed protesting against the acceptance of a humiliating peace, according to a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company, quoting the Tageblatt of Berlin.

GERMANS IN AUSTRIA URGED TO JOIN ARMY

State Council at Vienna's Issues Appeal.

Amsterdam, Nov. 4.—The state council at Vienna has isued an appeal to the German people of Austria, in which it is declared the country is in danger and the army breaking up in disorder. The appeal exhorts the soldiers voluntarily to join the German-Austrian army corps.

The appeal points out that Germans from non-German districts are going home, while German soldiers, obviously tired from the long duration of the war, are leaving their units without considering that the irregular demobilization "brings the danger of widespread unemployment, hunger and misery." The prison camps are being abandoned by their guards, the council adds, and Italians, Russian and Serbians are leaving the camps and flooding the country.

"This danger," the appeal declares, "must be countered if fresh bloodshed is not to threaten our severely-tried people and tens of thousands of men, women and children perish with hunger."

SEVERE BUT SHORT-LIVED EARTHQUAKE IS FELT IN QUEBEC TOWN

Quebec, Nov. 5.—A severe but short-lived earthquake is reported from Chicoutimi, where the quake was felt during some seconds yesterday evening about 5 o'clock. In some places the shock was strong enough to shake stoves and shift tables.

ROME TAKES HOLIDAY TO CELEBRATE VICTORY OVER THE AUSTRIANS

Airplanes Circle Over City Dropping Flowers on Joyful People.

Rome, Nov. 5.—Business has been virtually suspended here while the city continues to celebrate the victory over Austria. The demonstrations in various parts of Rome are following each other without interval. All the stores are closed and the tramways have been forced to suspend service because of the dense crowds that are thronging the streets.

A notable feature of the celebration is supplied by airplanes and dirigible balloons, which are flying over the city and dropping flowers.

PROPERTY OF AMERICAN WOMEN WHO MARRIED TEUTONS IS TAKEN OVER

Countess Gladys Vanderbilt Szechenyi Included in List To Be Affected.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Millions of dollars' worth of property belonging to women of American birth who have married German and Austrian subjects has been taken over by the alien property custodian. Many prominent women are in the list, including Countess Gladys Vanderbilt Szechenyi, whose property as taken over amounts to nearly four millions of dollars in addition to the income from a five million dollar trust fund created under the will of her father.

MONTREAL'S TOTAL $38,507,950.

STAGE WILL CONNECT LAMBETH WITH CITY

Move Made Necessary by Stoppage of Traction Line.

LAMBETH, Nov. 4.—At an enthusiastic meeting of the ratepayers of the village, held in the town hall this evening, it was decided to have a motor stage to run between here and London.

The meeting, at which Rev. Mr. Holmes presided, was a representative one.

Although the schedule for the system has not yet been worked out it is expected that the stage will run five or six times a day. The fare will be 25 cents for a single ticket, but those who patronize the stage regularly will be able to purchase round-trip tickets for the same price as a single fare. School children and villagers employed in London will benefit by this special rate.

Frank Evans will in all probability be the driver of the stage. Those who were at the meeting pledged him their patronage. The terminals have not yet been selected. Negotiations have been started to secure a proper conveyance. The schedule will be worked out in such a manner that the traveling public may be given the best possible service. Although the stage will carry light baggage passengers will be given the preference. Those behind the plan hope to have the stage in operation in a week.

The introduction of the stage follows the stopping of the traction line and the subsequent disposal of the road as scrap.

TALK OF PEACE NO HINDRANCE TO WAR LOAN

London Workers Are Showing Real Victory Spirit in Canvass.

TOTAL IS NOW $3,795,400

London's New Objective Is $7,900,000—Military Bond Salesmen as Spry as Ever.

Peace talk is having no effect on London's Victory Loan drive. Yesterday the citizens subscribed $188,450 to the loan, bringing the total to $3,795,400.

"We've got the real Victory spirit for the first time since the campaign started," declared J. J. Foot last night. "I've felt it all day long and tonight's total proves it beyond mere words. The teams have just turned in $128,050, which is $61,300 better than Saturday's record. I feel that the machinery is working perfectly and that the salesmen will do a lot better from now on."

Local headquarters was notified last night that its share in the new objective decided on by Dominion headquarters was $600,000, which raises the city's striving point to $7,900,000. The teams will raise the extra amount.

Middlesex farmers are slow in coming through with their money, although the ones that have subscribed have done well. Monday's subscriptions totalled $103,500, making the county's effort to date $479,950, with 992 applications.

Major Frank Spry and his military men are still as spry as ever. One hundred and fifteen soldiers bought bonds Monday, subscribing $12,950. The soldiers have just put over $160,150 in bonds, that is 1,039 of them have, and there are a lot more to be heard from. They are furnishing the surprise of the campaign, averaging $115 per man.

The "Industrials" are still sawing wood, and by the time the campaign is over the workingmen of London will have nothing to be ashamed of. Seven London firms proudly announce that their employees have every one bought a bond, and that 10 per cent or more of the annual payroll has been taken out in bonds that will help nail the lid down tight on the kaiser's hopes, if he has any left.

Smallman & Ingram closed at a "quarter to six" Monday afternoon, all the employees gathering in the tea-room to listen to the stirring addresses delivered by Chairman George M. Reid, Organizer Norman Tovell and M. Ireland of Belfast, Ireland. Four salesmen from headquarters and a committee from the big store will write up the employees' subscriptions today and it is expected that the amount subscribed will greatly exceed that of last year.

Just to show the people of London that in addition to being good Victory Bond buyers they are also able to boost the loan in other ways, the boys of the 1st Depot Battalion, W. O. R., are going to pull off a "cooks' parade" tonight. So keep your eyes open for the boys in khaki!

They are going to swarm out of their quarters at Queen's Park camp, in weird costumes at 7:30 by the clock, and will appear down town about 8 bells, or thereabouts. Whatever is lacking in noise will be made up by the bands that accompany them. They will make first for the mobilization centre, Carling Block, and from there they will move forward to the Victory Loan headquarters, Richmond street, near King.

Speeches will probably be a feature of the doings, whenever and wherever the parade comes to a halt. The boys are making big preparations for the parade, and the costumes promises to outdo any minstrel show that ever set foot in London, according to Lieut. "Bob" Dehart, who is looking after the publicity of the W. O. R. outfit in the Victory Loan drive.

FUN, THRILLS AND DRAMA IN FRED STONE'S PHOTOPLAY AT THE MAJESTIC

Patrons Delighted With Program at Reopening of the Popular Playhouse.

Majestic Theatre patrons were provided at the Monday reopening performances with one of the classiest programs presented at this popular playhouse in many months.

The first Fred Stone Artcraft picture "The Goat," proved a delightful treat to the audience. "The Goat" is a curious mixture of homely human drama and riotous fun, with the agile Fred always very much in evidence. The photoplay was received with applause and Mr. Stone at once established his popularity.

Mr. Stone plays the part of Chuck McCarthy, an iron worker, who becomes dissatisfied with his wages of $3 a day and decides to take a short cut to wealth via the movies. Most of the scenes take place behind the scenes in a picture studio in this photoplay. Mr. Stone's ease of manner, his wonderful sense of the ludicrous, and his skill at performance quite enjoyable.

When the picture opens, the young iron-worker hero, Chuck McCarthy, is shown at home dining with his family. He is filled with the idea of going in the movies, which he acquired while doing some construction work that day at the Filmcraft Studio. During the day he had chanced to rescue the leading lady's pet monkey and she, thanking him effusively, had remarked that he should go in the pictures.

The "movie bug" is therefore planted firmly in Chuck and neither the disdainful attitude of his father, or of his sweetheart, Molly, will turn him from his purpose. By a fluke the next day Chuck is selected to double for the leading lady Bijou Lamour, who is to do a roller skating scene. He makes good at that, but gets into a terrific fight with some film soldiers who are in German uniforms.

Many humorous and dramatic scenes follow in which Stone is given wide scope to display his ability as an actor and an acrobat.

A Majestic news weekly, Lillian Gish in a Victory Loan picture and a 2-reel Mack-Sennett comedy complete an excellent program of screen features.

In vaudeville Jack King, the young man with the "voice and the songs" entertains with a number of select vocal numbers. He was accorded a warm reception at all performances on Monday, and was compelled to respond to encores insisted upon by the delighted patrons.

The above performance will be repeated again today.

On Wednesday and Thursday the attraction will be Dorothy Gish in "The Hun Within."

Showing at the Majestic Tomorrow and Thursday.

SECOND SON OF GEORGE GRAY DIES IN SOUTH AFTER LONG ILLNESS

The death of George Wilbur Gray, second son of Lieut. George Gray of the fire department, occurred in Arizona on Sunday. He left about a year ago for Arizona on account of his poor health, and for a time showed much improvement. Previously he was employed at the postoffice for several years, and was well liked, being possessed of a bright disposition. He was also prominent in Masonic circles, under whose direction the funeral will be held.

A brother, Capt. Harold Gray, was drowned in France in August. He is survived by his parents, Lieut. and Mrs. George Gray, and one sister, Miss Marion, and one brother, Reynolds, of the Labatt office staff. The body will be brought to this city and interment will take place in Woodland Cemetery. He was 27 years of age. Funeral arrangements will be made later. The family resides at 428 Queen's avenue.

INGERSOLL MOUNTING UP.

INGERSOLL, Nov. 4.—Exceptional progress was again reported by Victory bond workers. Throughout the day the figures mounted up rapidly, and tonight the total standing since the opening of the campaign was in the neighborhood of $400,000. Very active co-operation is being accorded the canvassers by all the manufacturers.

Today the four plants of the John Morrow Screw and Nut Company reached their quota, and will receive service flags. The council at tonight's regular session unanimously instructed the mayor and treasurer to purchase Victory bonds of 1918 issue with cash available in sinking funds. It is confidently expected that Ingersoll's big objective of $460,000 will be reached.

Iron Recommended After Influenza.

Doctors recommend that people take iron to build up the blood after an attack of Spanish Influenza. One of London's best-known physicians remarked several days ago that hundreds of people who have had influenza will contract pneumonia this winter if they do not build up their systems properly. The germs of this dread malady impoverish and poison the blood, and as a result the system is left in a weakened condition. The limbs feel weak, and the man or woman recuperating from "Flu" find they have no inclination to perform their duties. The best and most modern way known to science to take iron is in the form in which it is put up in Tonal-Iron Capsules, the new French gelatin remedy, and hundreds of people are using it after an attack of influenza with excellent results. These capsules are soft and dissolve very quickly in the system, and all the iron they contain is quickly absorbed. This remedy also contains several other non-narcotic stimulants, and creates an appetite, as well as working on the bowels, liver and kidneys. Tonal-Iron Capsules are guaranteed by the manufacturers, and are sold by all druggists in Canada and the United States for $1 a box, or mailed anywhere in Canada on receipt of the price. GODERICH OFFICER COMES TO LONDON

GODERICH, Nov. 4.—Capt. and Mrs. J. W. Fox, who have been in charge of the work of the Salvation Army, leave Thursday morning for London, where the captain will assume charge of the third corps in that city. Capt. Fox has been in Goderich for two years, and has proved himself to be an energetic, industrious and popular worker. He has taken a deep interest in the welfare of the town, and has co-operated with the churches of the town in a brotherly way.

He has been an active worker in the Ministerial Association. Mrs. Fox came here as a bride one year ago, and has proven herself valuable in the work of the army and a helpmate for her husband. They will be both greatly missed in Goderich. A farewell meeting for Capt. and Mrs. Fox was planned for Sunday night by the churches of the town, but on account of the ban being placed on public meetings, the meeting could not be held. Lieut. Wicksey and his wife of Leamington assume charge of the work here, and they come well recommended.

"When you've shouted, "Rule Britannia,"
When you've sung "The Maple Leaf,"
When you've finished killing Wilhelm with your roar—
Just remember for a minute
That your VICTORY BONDS will help
Those fine gentlemen in khaki so much more."
