HEARST INVESTORS OF LONDON MAY GO TO WINNIPEG TRIAL

Citizens Sank Nearly $50,000 in Western Bubble-Were Fooled by Auditors' Reports, One Stockholder Declares.

PROMOTER OF SCHEME WAS FAST WORKER

London stockholders in the defunct Hearst Music Publishing Company may be called to Winnipeg to give evidence against the president of the concern, Joseph X. Hearst, who gave himself up to Winnipeg police yesterday on his return from Germany, whence he fled last December.

Local men invested close to $50,000 in the concern last year and do not expect to get back a cent, they stated this morning. Hearst was in London last November selling stock and "hooked" a number of citizens who relied on signed auditors' reports as to the amount of business the firm was doing and the amount held Amputations Association Has Done Nothing Concerning Amalgamation.

Nothing definite will be done conerning an amalgamation of the amputations association and the great war veterans until September. This was given out by E. K. Porter, press representative, this morning.

Speaking of the statement made by Harry Wray, president of the local command of the G. W. V. A., that he was confident that all veteran societies would enter the fusion, Mr. Porter said that as far as he knew Mr. Wray had not approached his association, concerning its views on the matter. He added that the members would not know themselves whether they intended to enter until after the fall convention.

Mr. Wray said today that he based his statement on the remarks made at the Ottawa conference by the Dennis amputations' speaker, who intimated that they might join. He had never taken it up with the local branch. "It is not for me to tell tem wha to do," said Mr. Wray, "but I expect to see them soon and talk it over. It their own business whether they Remarking that there is a very close connection between the problem of unemployment in Britain and the problem of emigration, the Daily Telegraph says it would be admirable if the tide of migration were quickened, but that there had not been the same readiness to receive in the dominions as there has been on this side to send. Australia favors the system of nominated migrants, but not everyone has a friend or relative in Australia or is connected with a church chapel in Australia as to be able to obtain nomination. Canada, continues the Telegraph, is showing a decided preference for selected families, but families are much more difficult and expensive to move than single men and women and a large number of unemployed n Britain are unmarried.

The Labor press invariably refers their shoulders of burdens, but nevertheless there are signs of a broader view becoming manifest and finding misfortune opening many eyes which, until recently, were kept wilfully shut.

London Conference Strives To Avert Strike of Million Miners Friday.

Associated Press Despatch. London, July 29 .- Whether the coal mining industry of the nation is to cease operations Friday night, entailing unemployment for more than a million miners, or whether the men will continue pending efforts to devise new working arrangements is to be decided at a joint conference between the miners and mine owners today. The premier meets miners' representatives today to discuss the proposition he laid before the owners yesterday Later he attends the joint miners-owners conference. This presided over by W. C Bridgeman, who has acted as inter nediary in the prolonged efforts to bring the two sides together for the drawing up of a new working agree-

The report to the government committee of inquiry into the mining situation does not, as has been rumored, suggest a subsidy for the mines. It upholds the miners in their demands for a minimum wage agree ment, but the committee believes that the wage should be determined by negotiations.

SCHOOL RESULTS EARLY THIS YEAR

Middle and Upper Departmental Lists To Be Announced Soon.

Middle and upper school departmental examination results are expected to be out about two or three weeks earlier than usual this year. Principal E. A. Miller, M.A., gives as his reasons for this belief the fact examination papers were forwarded to Toronto from the different examination centers in two lots this year in order that a start might be made with the sorting and other work to be done before the arrival of the teachers appointed by former years.

Owing to the fact that previously results have not been received by some schools until after the reopening of school for the fall term the department took the necessary steps to speed up the examining and publication of the results in order to permit of appeals being made, and also for those writing the examina tions to plan for the future as to the schools and universities they would attend to continue their educational

Adding Insult to Injury.

Recently the Ontarto government published Ontario as a playground for American tourists. In that booklet, although ample material was forwarded, no mention was made of London and Port Stanley was omitted from a map purport ing to show the ports of entry into Ontario. Eight pages were devoted to describe Toronto, while Hamilton, Brantford, Ottawa, Kingston time it is the Montreal Herald, which sees and other eastern points received similar atten- Canada and the United States marching steadily tion. now offers to The Advertiser the first official ing guns. In order to enforce prohibition the explanation of the case. He says it was "an United States is building a new navy and selectoversight." Of course it was. In that lies the slight. It is no explanation at all to say that the Ferguson government "overlooked" the richest and most beautiful part of Ontario, including her fourth largest city and one of her finest following dreadful diagnosis: lake ports, in describing the province. It is merely a statement of the error. Mr. Hele's explanation is an excellent example of adding insult to injury and does nothing to appease the very proper indignation of Western Ontario taxpayers who helped pay for a booklet which ignored them.

Playing With the Dragon.

The Deadliest Diseases.

A most interesting document is the report issued annually by Sir George Newman, the chief medical officer of the British government. Which are the most deadly of all diseases? The each bandit killed. Their money would be safe question is answered by a table showing that if they offered it for each one hanged. of every 1,000 deaths:

174 were caused by bronchitis, pneumonia and other respiratory diseases.

168 by diseases of the heart and circulation.

106 by cancer and malignant disease. 100 by diseases of the nervous system.

87 by all forms of tuberculosis.

Sir George Newman does not dwell upon successes achieved but upon tasks awaiting performance. Of every 1,000 babies born about 70 fail to survive their first year. This is a good standard compared with a generation ago, but Sir George says there is still room for considerable improvement, particularly as regards the mortality in the first four weeks of life.

Influenza is baffling the medical profession. There were 18,896 deaths from influenza in England and Wales during last year. The disease appears to attack adolescent youth more than other people. "No material advance," says Sir George, "has been made in our knowledge of the bacteriology of influenza." The various claims to discoveries of the influenza germ are not credited.

Sleeping sickness claims an increasing number of victims. For practical purposes it is regarded as a new disease of the last six years. "An attack of hiccup may precede or accompany the nervous symptoms and there is some reason for regarding hiccup as a mild form of sleeping sickness."

From the national and imperial point of view a most challenging phenomenon is the falling birth rate. The number of births falls year by year, as witness the following figures:

848,814
780,124
758.131
730,286

"Thus it goes. We are travelling the same road to hate and strife that European nations have already travelled. Our boast of a frontier of 3,000 miles 'with never a fort or a gun' is fast passing into history. The possibilities are appalling. Yet where is the remedy? Will the time come when the United States, despairing of the cost and the difficulty of border protection, will proclaim an extension of the Monroe Doctrine to cover liquor and immigrants? Canada view such a possibility with equanimity. Yet we are moving in one direction or the other-on the one hand to increasing militarism and armaments directed one against the other, or on the other hand to form of continental suzerainty."

Presence of Organizers and Other Officials Give Rise To Belief.

By E. C. BUCHANAN. Special to The Advertiser by Staff Correspondent. Ottawa, July 28 .- The clinical thermometer of politics registers several degrees of fever today, in consequence of the full meetings of the presence in the capital on summons of the government of members of the cabinet that are being held, and the Commons and Liberal organizers from all parts of the country. The question of dissolution of parliament and the holding of a general election honored declaration at the conclusion of the cabinet meetings of "nothing yet" is taken for what it is worth and no more.

MAINTAINS SILENCE.

Canadian Press Despatch Ottawa, July 28 .- Today's prolonged meeting of cabinet was productive of no announcement relative to an election. It is doubtful whether the prime minister and members of the government pursued the matter farther than to exchange views and discuss the situation in the cabinet is again convened. The date for the next meeting has not been announced.

The silence of Premier King on the question of an election was not unexpected. While it is practically likely that anything is decided however. With Mr. Stewart will go Hon, R. Dandurand and Hon, P. C. Larkin, both of whom have attended the league meetings before. Mr. Stewart could always be recalled, leaving the two other Can-adians to represent the dominion.

However, there are still a good many men of daughters of their friends in the old outhern way, and to me it invariably As in all habits which might be thought affected, however, it must be done naturally and with ease, otherwise it is spoilt. Young ople should not use this form of address unless asked to. It would be familiarity coming from them, where it is a charming compliment coming from an older person. I am always excepting the south, where it is a general custom.

How To Do It. Many young people are at a loss to think of a way of addressing older people who are not relatives in whom the difference in age is too great to permit of the use of the first name. and yet who are people of whom they conventional Mr. and Mrs. Sometimes, particularly if we have known them from early childhood, we call them Aunt or Uncle, but if we grow the nearly of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Mitchell and family. The Ridgeway, leave next week to holiday at Higgins Lake, in are too fond to use the cold and them Aunt or Uncle, but if we grow the north of Michigan. to know them after our childhood we want to find some other name. Quite a good plan is to discover an affectionate and appropriate nickname. For some reason this does seem impertinent, and if it is fallen into easily, is a very good way of solving the difficulty.

Not Too Forward. Though young people must be careful not to seem forward in their manner of addressing older people, there is another thing for them to There are many older people who enjoy having people than they call them by their first It seems in some make them feel rejuvenated. They even become offended if you forget to comply with their request say forget, for there are certain Lake Huron, for the week-end. older people whom it seems forced and unnatural to call by their first names, and, consequently, it is difficult to remember to do it

I recall particularly a certain very charming older lady who always re-fused to allow me to call her Mrs I liked her very much and loved to see her and talk to her, but unlike some others with whom seemed quite natural, with her using her first name always rang false in my ears. It didn't suit her, somehow. But I soon realized that it is very easy to give offence to an older pertemporary. They do not realize that your feeling toward them cannot be changed by your manner of addressing them. However it is However, it is a good thing to remember always to call older men and women by their first names if they have once asked you to; never before, however, if they are really of another generation.

FIRST NEWS ARRIVES HERE OF MISSIONARIES' ESCAPE

Miss Margaret Brown Vividly Describes Conditions in China.

FROM ST. MARYS

Another interesting story has come from China re the conditions in that country. Miss Margaret H. Brown, daughter of Mr. P. J. Brown of St. Marys, in a letter to her family, tells of the trials through which the missionaries are passing while the foreign element in China is causing so much trouble.

Miss Brown has spent the past twelve years in Honan with Huai King her headquarters. This brave woman is but one of the many who were able to escape from the menaced district, and at the time of writing had arrived in Peking. "We have come through a good

Bakermen Swat Knotty Lee's Hired Help After Poor

SEVEN TRIPLES

Delman in the third inning, after the Delman in the third inning, after the Colts had got to him for three blows that meant three runs, and after that by smacking out a triple that tied the count. Later, the Bakermen went ahead, heartened by Bill's display, to the plate. He almost had a single in the third, but Knapp raced out after his Texas leaguer over the infield and brought it down with a one-landed with Joe Delman was decidedly weak in the box. He couldn't get them over, and when he did it meant hits. Accordingly, the Kitchener clan got one counter in the first frame on Knapp's triple and Orme's sacrifice fly, and followed it up in the third with a triple, that signalled Delman's retirement. Then Coogan stepped in, and the Colts could not touch him. He baffled them the same yesterday as the Colts could not touch him. He baffled them the same yesterday as he did the day before. Only three hits were registered off the long boy's delivery in nearly seven innings. And that was good pitching, for the Lee men were right up on the bit, smarting from Monday's dip in the whitewash.

Wilson, the young rookie, burled a splendid game for the Colts. The aplendid game for the Colts. The aplendid game for the Colts. The seven he was the key to Knotty Lee the other day Tecs in Rear. The Tecs were two runs in the rear of the galloping Colts when Coogan stepped in, and it looked as if the cellarites were going to even up the series. The locals garnered their counters in the second and third frames. Vermilyea's triple and Delman's hard smash to Knapp did the trick in the second, while in the third Baker singled, went to second on Stimpson's free pass, and came in when Knothe threw high trying to catch Stimpson at second on Welch, s.s.

This was the break, and the Bakermen took advantage of it in the next frame. Coogan started it off with a three-base clout over Loepp's head near the right field foul line and came in on Sandquist's single. Baker's choice caught Sandquist at second, and Stimpson's easy roller got Baker. Stimpson stole second and went on to third when Keating let loose another wild peg. Cross's triple did the rest.

for the Tribe. Coogan was sending the Colts down, one, two, three, except for a hit here and there that didn't mean anything, and the Tecs kept pecking at Wilson. A base on balls on Klein, Kernan's long lazy fly, and Coogan's second hit gave them a run in the seventh. In the eighth they gathered in their seventh and eighth counters with perfect scoring tactics. Simpson, first up, slapped a triple to the fence in right field, and Cross crashed out a long sacrifice and let Stimpson walk home. Then Bower got his threehase knock. This one went to the daisies in centre when Orme lost it in the sun. Klien immediately came across with another sacrifice into Six and Possibly Eight Teams Will Make Up Circuit.

PLAY AT ARENA

The cry of London hockey fans for some scheme to develop talent among the youngsters of the city will be answered during the coming season by a six, and possibly eight, club league, which will operate in the arena, and from which will be selected the team which will represent London in the junior O. H. A. series, beginning in January.

The plan, which is being sponsored by Bill Marsden, always an ardent supporter and promoter of amateur sport in its many branches, calls for the circuit to begin operations about the middle of November. The arena will be used, and two and probably three games will be staged each week. By starting at this time the league's series can be concluded the league's series can be concluded the league's series can be concluded as they meet the Caleys on Saturday should easily draw the record crown process thus giving an ample commences thus giving an ample before the O. In the past junior city leagues have existed, but, because of more or less haphazard organization, they have not enjoyed the success which the good intentions of their have merited. However, this year the circuit promises to be a real league, with keen competition and a definite aim in view—that of provid-ing an actual incentive for the youngsters to make a place on the youngsters to make a page of the junior O, H. There will be a trophy for the champions, of course, and as the league will begin before O. H. A. hockey gets under way for the year, It bids fair to attain a large following Strathroy Youngsters Take Decisive 12-5 Victory.

Special to The Advertiser.

Strathroy. July 28.—London Orient juveniles tonight suffered their first defeat of the season when they lost to the local youngsters by a 12—5 score. The batting of Fiddler, Reynolds and W. Brady was largely responsible for the tallies secured by Strathroy.

Goldenberg, who started in the box for the visitors, was found for a steady succession of safe hits, and he was finally replaced by Lindsay after they are backward about saying so, as they have been and the run, and were headed for the pennant.

The Pittsburgs were in the lead back in 1921 from June until September, but the next week found them in second of a pennant and a lot of money that season.

Little by little the story came out—the heat season.

win the championship this year, but they are backward about saying so, as they have been made backward by their own mayers, who have disappointed re-own hayers, who have disappointed repeatedly.

The Giants have not been playing forward ball—they are a receding team, not an advancing team. They have put up a stubborn fight to hold their own, but their percentage on the first day of July was 618, and since then they have been crowded under the .600 mark, so that means something. The Pirates were .615 on the first of July, and they have been able to about hold their own since. And that means something. If it happens that the Pittsburgs take one of those falls out of the New York team which occasionally have been the lot of the Giants in Pittsburg, it may be that the pennant race in the National league will get quite a lot of settling. But much wheat must be sent through the mill before this takes place, for the New York and Pirates come together last of all on this second invasion of the easterners into the western territory of the league.

Boston and Philadelphia have been harder nuts for Pittsburg to crack than New York and Brooklyn, for both of the second division teams have defeated Pittsburg more than either of the two first division clubs mentioned. Figuring on percentages, it might be reasoned that the Giants would even up with Fittsburg as the Giants are such a strong team, but there are times if meetings of New York and Pittsburg when old Mr. Percentage gives up the pittsburg is certain, and that is that the Bittsburg have belead as good in the second.

SMITH—A wonderful memory left be-hind, beloved by all who knew him Arnold G. Smith, drowned at Port.

A SOUL IN HEAVEN.

It was Monday afternoon 20th July. When old Eric carried our boy away, His fair young form lies in earth a clod. But his pure white soul is with his God.

So young and kind, so brave and true, But we could not on earth keep you; Still, Arnold, we'll think of you always, In your home beyond the skies. Dear boy, we will miss you woefully, Alas, your sweet smile we will no longer

But your passing to us a boon has given. The joy of possessing a soul in Heaven.

Missing Head of Defunct Firm Gives Up To Winnipeg Police.

Canadian Press Despatch Winnipeg, July 28.-Joseph Xavier Hearst, former president of the defunct Hearst Music Publishing Company of Canada, who disappeared from Winnipeg following the financial crash of the firm early in December calmly walked into the central police station here today and surrendered himself to the authorities. Failure of the company involved a less of nearly half a million dollars to investors in Canada, A reward of $1,000 was out for his arrest. With a casual greeting to the chief of police, the writer of popular songs, and reputed financial wizard, introduced himself: "I understand that there is a warrant out for my arrest. and I am here to face any charge there is against me," he calmly declared. He was placed in custody, and will appear in court tomorrow morn

Hearst disappeared from Winnipe early in December, 1924, following an investigation into the affairs of company. Despite the concerted efforts of the police of this continent, Scotland Yard and Germany, he defied apprehension. When action proper starts against him, Hearst will be faced with charges of misappropriation of funds, with obtaining $40,000 by false pretences, and in a civil action with negligence, malfeasance and breach o duty as an officer of his company.

Branch offices of the company wer formerly located at Toronto, Van-

CHEESE

Canadian Press Despatch.

Montreal, July 28.—The receipts of cheese were 11,506 boxes, as compared with 13,047 for the same day last week and 21,004 for the corresponding day a year ago. There was an improved demand from local buyers for supplies, and some fair-sized lots changed hands, but the trade over the cable was again reported quiet, owing to the fact that the prices bid were not iline with some exporters' views. The tone of the market was easy, but prices on spot showed no further change.

WARWICK SALT PLANT

Alterations Are Nearly Completed-New Well To Be Ready.

A communication from Major J. H. Franklin, president of the Elarton Salt Works, states that this plant, which is the nearest salt producer to London, will soon be running again. It has been closed this spring for alterations and improvements with the object of increasing the output and substituting coal for wood as fuel. The jub of sinking a new well on the property is nearing completion, and it is anticipated that by the end of next month, everything will be working again.

In the meantime, the friends and customers of the company passing on the Sarnia gravel are invited to stop over to see the work in progress, and are asked to watch the advertising columns of this paper for the actual date of reopening. Bid Ask

FLOUR Canadian Press Despatch.

Montreal, July 28.—There was no important change in the condition of the local market for shipping wheat grades of flour.

A very firm feeling prevailed in the market for old-crop winter wheat flour, owing to the limited supplies available on spot and the very light shipments from Ontario millers on account of the scarcity of wheat. There was some demand from local buvers, while corn flour was steady, with sales of odd cars at $1.60 to $7.70 per barrel in jute bags, delivered to the trade.

The feature of the millfeed situation was the stronger feeling that prevailed in the market, but no actual change in prices was announced. The demand from the United States for supplies was good.

Mortgage Cut From $80,000 to Syndicate Formed With Do-$40,000 in Two Years— Dividend Coming.

The Financial Times says:
Loew's (London) Theatres, Limited:
Earnings for the first half of the year have been running well in excess of estimates made several months ago. The situation is now that the directors may feel justified in declaring a dividend on the common shares in the office of the year. The mortgage on the Loew's London property has been reduced from $80,000 to $40,000 within the last two years.

It is the intention of the directors to wipe out this indebtedness altogether, but there is more than a possition stock will commence before balance of the mortgage is completely liquidated. Cash on hand as of July 11 is estimated at $24.174, which will probably be exceeded by several thousand dollars, judging by the rate of earnings in recent weeks. Disbursements, including half-year dividends of $11,800, on the preferred, will total approximately $23,639.

Obligations during the balance of the year consist almost entirely of the process of Dominion Bank and Cochran, Hay and the proceeds are to be used in part for local improvements. The bonds came in several parcels as follows: $154,980, 10-year; $50,854, 15-year; $209,406, 20-year; $175,000, 30-year. The list of bids included the following the process of Dominion Bank and Cochran, Hay & Company, the price cate composed of Dominion Bank and Cochran, Hay being being 100,747. This is on a basis to cost the city $4 of a point off $4.85 to company, the price cate composed of Dominion Bank and Cochran, Hay being the proceeds are to be used in part for local improvements. Initial declines were associated with relative weakness of value at Liverpool. On the other hand, the fact that the domestic movement of winter wheat thus far failed to show any important accumulations were followed.
