THE ROYAL MILITARY REVIEW HELD IN QUEEN CITY

Magnificent Spectacle in Toronto-Flower of the Canadian Militia March Past the Duke and Duchess-The Dominion's Heroes Rewarded.

at which some twelve thousand men, Ontario, and hundreds of the veterans of the Imperial army and of the campaigns of 1866-1885 and South Africa, marched past the Duke and Duchess in the presence of fifty thousand spectators, was one of the most stirring spectacles seen by the royal couple since the shores of the Isle of Wight faded from their view in May last. The muster was very complete, the various brigades having their ambulance wagons and all the accessories save transport.

THE MARCH PAST.

His Royal Highness rode onto the rounds shortly after 11 o'clock, accompanied by Lord Minto, and attended by a glittering suite, in which the Duke of Roxburghe and Lord Crichton, in the cuirassiers of the Horse Guards' blue, were the most conspicuous figures. The Duke wore the uniform of the 7th Fusiliers, with a huge bearskin hat. The Duchess had arrived some time in advance, and with a party of her ladies, sat in the royal stand. The morning had been so misty as to almost obscure the movements of the troops, but it soon began to clear, and the march past was seen by the spectators to advantage. His Royal Highness on his arrival was received by a guard of honor, composed of Upper Canada College cadets and the band of the St. Catharines 19th Batt. At a signal, the long line of troops, with the colors of over twenty regiments showing and cavalry and artillery massed behind, gave the royal salute. The glitter-ing staff then passed the lines on a general inspection, the massed bands of over 500 pieces playing "O, Canada." SOUTH AFRICAN HEROES IN EVI-

Returning to the saluting base, where the royal standard was flying, and immediately in front of the por-tion of the grand stand where Sir Wilfrid Laurier, (Hon. G. W. Ross and the members of the Dominion and Duke presented Major H. Z. C. Cockburn, of this city, with the Victoria Cross, and also a sword of honor fro.a the people of Toronto. Then followed the presentation of over 500 South African war medals to Ontario soldiers. This was very quickly over, each recipient saluting as he came forward in line and received his medal from the Duke's own hand.

A MAGNIFICENT SIGHT.

When this portion of the ceremonies was completed, the long lines of men who had stood on the common for two who had stood on the common for two hours, swung into line and came down to the saluting base. The cavalry marched past first with jingling brid-les and flashing sabres, over 1,500 of them, a magnificent sight. The artillery went past by batteries, six guns abreast and keeping admirable align-ment. The Kingston Battery of regulars, who had almost to a man been decorated a few minutes before for South African services, were cheered to the echo by the spectators, who remembered how they had fought the Boers. The infantry streamed along with the Guards Brigade at the head of the column. The Foot Guards, of Ottawa, and 48th Highlanders, of Toronto, had the most admirers. Toronto, had the most admirers. The Haldimand Rifles, with its Indian companies, was another popular corps. The last division was the recently organized A. M. C. corps, under Lt.-Col. Neilson, splendidly drilled and equipped. It too won the applause of the spectators.

The Duke and Duchess, on passing through the streets on their way to Government House, were cheered by 40,000 spectators along the route.

The actual parade was 10,055 and 250 men were on guard duty. The ireview consisted of slightly over 11,000 wiew consisted of slightly over 11,000 men. The Duke, before leaving the grounds expressed to General O'Grady-Healey his deep admiration for the splendid turnout and the steadiness of the men. Several members of the staff said the parade was the largest of the whole tour.

After dinner many of the corps After dinner many of the corps broke camp and by three o'clock four train loads had pulled out. All day afterwards, Col. Nelles and the transport officers worked at the problem of despatching the men, and by midnight the grounds were almost untenanted and the royal review of 1901 bad become history.

SEEING THE SIGHTS.

Their Royal Highnesses spent an exceedingly busy afternoon and evening. Shortly after luncheon they drove up Queens avenue, en route to the university, and saw a fine exhibition of the control of the state of the private all the the university, and saw a fine exhibition drill by the fire brigade, all the most modern appliances being turned out for their inspection. His Royal Highness saw the extension ladders and water_tower in operation, and passed in review the members of the brigade. The next stop was Bishop Strachan's school, where the Duchess was presented with a huge bouquet. Another stop was made in Queen's Park, where the Duke and Alexander Muir, the author of "The Maple Leaf," *******

HIS FIRST JOKE.

In his reply to the address his Royal highness made the first joke of the visit at the expense of a former undergraduate:— "I deeply appreciate," said he, "the high honor of a degree in your distinguished university, which you have just conferred upon me. At the same time you have reminded ma name of my dear father-(appleuse)-and I further notice has remained in that position more than forty years."

The evening was devoted to a state dinner party and a public reception in the building at which about 2,000 persons. The most he "freshies" of 1860 persons, the most prominent people, not only of Toronto, but of Central Ontario, passed before their Royal Highnesses, while thousands waited on the lawn outside, which was transformed into a veritable fairyland with electric lights and Chinese lanterns. The par'y leave for a flying trip to Western Ontario to-morrow morning at nine o'clock.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

There were many guesses why the 45th Reginent, of Victoria, of which Sam Hughes, M. P. P., is the gallant Colonel, wore a tartan on their helmets in the royal review to-day. It was the MacKenzie tartan, and there were those, who, knowing the political proclivities of its commanding officer, saw in this upon the headgear of the soldiers of the King honor for a forsoldiers of the King honor for a for-mer Canadian Premier and political leader of the colonel. But there are other Mackenzies, There is one, Mr. Malcolm Mackenzie, president of the Toronto Railway Co., who incidentally is honorary colonel of the 45th Regi-ment of his native county. He it was who a year or so ago presented the regiment with these tartans and this is why they wore them before the Duke to-day.

As Gen. O'Grady-Haley rode to the parade grounds this morning by the west end of the grand stand he passed a group of military. Apparently they did not recognize the commander-inchief of the Canadian forces, for not a hand was raised in salute. The Major-General passed, apparently nothing was going to happen, but one of the knot was smoking a cigar.

"Haven't you any manners?"
This afternoon the Duchess of York visited the Bishop Strachan school for young ladies, on her way to the university. The carraige passed through the east entrance beneath an arch of red and white bunting up to the verandah, where the members of Council and their wives with the staff of the college were assembled. The Princess was received by the Bishop of Toronto, and the principal of the school. The bishop expressed his pleasure and gratitude at the honor done the Bishop Strachan School, and their appreciation of her graciousness in acceding to their request that their appreciation of her graciousness in acceding to their request that she should visit them on her way to the University of Toronto. Miss Marjorie Holcroft, the baby of the school, presented her Royal Highness with a bouquet of purple orchids tied with white ribbon. The Duchess then signed her name in the visitor's book after the signatures of Louise, 21th Sept. 1879, on which date the Princess Louise with the then Marquis of Lorae, visited the school. The Duchess was heartily cheered on her eness was heartily cheered on her en-

H. H. McConnel, of this city, is one of many loyal Canadians who think Canada needs a flag which is more suggestive of a federation of provinces. He has therefore designed a flag along that line. It is among the many decorations of the corner of Carlton and Yonge streets. The design con-sists of a Union Jack and two rows of green maple leaves, four in the top row, and three in the bottom, representing the seven provinces, thus leaving a vacancy in the lower row to be filled when Newfoundland enters the Dominion. The new flag has been favorably commented on by a large number of citizens.

The Canadian and foreign corres condents, who have accompanied the Duke on his tour through Canada were tendered a luncheon by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and the Canadian Press Association at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon. A number of short speeches were made, after which the visiting press men were driven through the manufacturers' arch and around the city. The decorations were much admired,

The Board of Health ask to dismiss a man, the council does it, but they are not called upon to appoint the man selected by the Board of Health, although possibly theirs might be the better man. I was not present at the meeting but of F had been there I would have supported the choice of the council.

DEADLY FIREWORKS.

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 11.—There was serious if not fatal accident at the . W. Hand Fireworks Company's factory, in West Hamilton to-day. The explosion occurred in a building in which Prof. T. W. Hand, secretary of the firm, was experimenting with explosives, and he was very seriously, burned. He was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital, where the attending physicians say that have but slight physicians say they have but slight hopes for his life. The building in which the explosion occurred and another adjoining it were consumed, together with the contents. It is less than a year ago since Mr. Teal, a junior member of the firm, was blown to atoms in an explosion of a similar nature at this factory.

will really resign or are they only joking?" queried Ald. Edmundson this morning. "The aldermen are elected by the city of Chatham to do the business of the city. If the Board of Health, however, want the power to appoint the Health Officer let them have it. They will, then, be an independent body. Under the present law, however, the council have the power of appointment and a perfect right to exercise it. The council has to take the responsibility of dismissing a civic official and, if there be any honor in selecting a successor, the council should have it. "Every applicant was entitled to fair show and it was only right that the council should consider the names of all the applicants." Ald. Fleming-The way I feel about the matter is this. I supported the man recommended by the Board of Health, but as the balance of the council have seen fit to appoint another man I thank that the Board should give him a trial and if he is not a competent man they can ask him for his resignation.

Ald. McCoig-I think that the whole matter was a little premature. All the council had to work on was hearsay. I am neither commending or condemning Mr. Guttridge, but I think that the rea on for Mr. Guttridge's dismissal should be investigated and that Mr. Guttridge should be given a hearing. At the meeting be given a hearing. At the meeting of the council I voted to tay the matter over until a full meeting of the council, when Mr. Guttridge should be present and heard within the bar. HIS WORTHY EXAMPLE.

In refusing to remain in Sir John Thompson's ministry, points out the Ottawa Citizen, when he could no longer approve the policy of the premier, the late Hon. Clarke Wallace set an example that gentlemen now supporting Sir Wilfrid would do well to imitate, But with the record of the Liberal party's shameless abandonment of its professed principles for the loaves and fishes it is overmuch to expect that any of them would prefer his principles to his pocketbook and the more when one recalls the fate that has overtaken the member for Lisgar who was sacrificed, not for deserting his principles and the '96 Liberal platform, but for holding fast the professions of his political faith and the doctrines received by tradition

Out of the numberless suggestions for the suppression of anarchy with which the American newspapers have been flooded since the assassination of President McKinley, the best, and probably the only one of any practical value, says the Toronto News, is that of Jacob A. Riis, this author of "How the Other Half Live," Mr. Riis' idea that either by the action and intensifies the difficulties of those of philanthropic individuals or by the who are conducting the war. It is unaction of national or state governlished all over the country for the purpose of bringing those who are willing to work to the work that certainly awaits them, and in many places hungers for them. There would of course be enormous difficulties in the way of the system, and more or less dissatisfaction in its working, however perfect it might be, would have to be counted on. No one, nevertheless, who knows anything about the value of an honestly conducted private bureau of employment to men who are out of work can doubt that good would result from the establishment of such a system as Mr. Riis suggests. The various branches would keep in constant touch with each other, and the service alone, which they would perform in equalizing the supply and demand of labor would be beyond all calculation. .

Mr. Riis is an old friend of President Roosevelt, and is said to enjoy his confidence. They were together in the great reform movement, which led to the defeat of Tammany in New York some years ago, and it may be that Mr. Riis has the assurance of the sympathy and support of the President for his scheme. It is well worth trying, at any rate, and there seems no reason, if the government goes into it earnestly, that it should not fulfil the hope of one of its advocates, who in a recent newspaper review said that the bureaus would do more to alleviate misery than the founding of a thousand charities, for the greatest and noblest of all charity was to help man to help himself.

PRESS CENSORSHIP.

Of cable news from South Africa we have next to nothing. The censorship is so strict that nothing but an occasional official despatch is given to the public. The latest English mail, however, brings us advices which are of a somewhat grave nature, and show that the weary struggle is still going on with intense bitterness. The London Express correspondent, using the mail, conveys to his readers some idea of the conditions which is not reassuring. It shows how necessary it is to maintain the rigid censorship; how important it is, not that the loyal people of Great Britain be kept from knowing the worst, but that the disloyal pro-Boers be prevented from having information which they would immediately make known to their

ing the families of the Boers to the concentration camps, pretty effectually cleared that portion of the country of the enemy, but the scene of operations has been transferred to Cape Colony, and it is there that the Boers are apparently preparing to make their last stand. If the information at hand is to be believed, the Dutch British subjects in Cape Colony are in a state of open or quies cent rebellion; undoubtedly furnishing the men in the field with supplies, assisting sympathizers of all nations to reach the commandos and actually swelling the ranks of the enemy from their own numbers.

The Express, editorially commenting upon the letter of its correspondent, says: "Once more the British people must catch hold and hang on like the bull-dog breed they are. We have no fear for the ultimate result, but we have a very pressing fear that the desired end may be postponed by the folkes of certain misguided folk in our midst. We can safely prophesy that when the pro-Boer press learns the serious condition of affairs in the Colony it will raise another and yet more piercing howl against the war. And the worst part of it is that with the black news from the Cape for their text they may lead astray an occasional waverer from the straight and stern path of national duty. It is this fact-that we have enemies within our gates-that complicates doubtedly the pro-Boors in England- life have caused the country lad to MINARD'S LINIMENT. nts labor bureaus should be estab- ready as they are to exaggerate our form frugal habits and keep good reverses, to listen to every lying tale that seems to involve their countrymen in dishonor, and to prophesy evil with a malignant joy-who are responsible for the severity of the censorship. At first it seems strange that our generals should attempt to shield us from bad news. We are not accustomed to regard ourselves as a weak-backed people, easily dishearteped by misfortune. But the duty of the censor, we take it, is to prevent the circulation of news that is likely to be of assistance to the enemy. How

This news is the reason for holding five hundred pro-Boer meetings in various parts of the United Kingdom, as announced by cable yesterday. The meetings will be received with indignation by the mass of the people of Great Britain; may even lead to disorder among those who allow their antipathy to such efforts to go beyond words. At the same time the mere holding of such meetings will give great enouragement to the Boers in the field, and egg on the Dutch in revolt.

ROOSEVELTISM.

President Roosevelt has compelled the admiration of a section of the Democratic press by the appointment of an Alabama ex-Confederate officer to the judiciary. The Philadelphia Record says: "It is an encouraging proof of the nerve as well as of the wisdom of President Roosevelt that he has not hesitated to name ex-Governor Jones, of Alabama, for a United States district judgeship in that state. There is no question of the fitness of the nomination. But the fact that Governor Jones was an officer in the Confederate army was not allowed to stand in the way of his promotion. This is a new and welcome evidence that sectionalism is dead, and that the fact is fully recognized by a president who takes this method of showing his willingness to help bury the corpse.

COUNTRY AND CITY BOYS. The question is often discussed as o why so many country boys come nto the city, and outstrip the urban youths in the race for success in business. Many reasons are given, but the principal one may be given in the training and surroundings. The city given the same opportunity to learn Montreal, and they will send you free the evils that abound in the city, by mail, sheets of the "Diamond Dye Mat and Rug Patterns." might go downward even faster than the youngster who has had the opportunity of visiting haunts of vice all along. But the necessities of farm start life for himself he is placed on his mettle and comes into the city prepared to work any hours and at any kind of employment. If it is necessary to go to work at 5 or 6 a m. he will do it. The city boy thinks 8 a. m. is early enough to get to business, bécause he has been taught that way. The country boy will go to bed at 9 or 10 p. m. in order to get the rest necessary for his work, while the city boy will remain out until 11 o'clock or midnight, and will thus rob imself of necessary repose. Watch the boys until they are grown to manhood, and in a great many cases you will see the country boys gaining the ead in business life. Not afraid of work he gains the confidence of his employer and gets rapid promotion, while the city boy thinks he has been worked too much for the money he receives, and grumbles and goes down. Numerous instances could be given of clever boys from the country coming to the city and becoming lead-

London Free Press. A monument to Tecumseh, to be rected in the park, is advocated by the Macaulay Club, of Chatham. Mr. Thos. Scullard, chairman of the C. C. I. Board, is among the promoters. He says:-"This district, and especially that part of the county of Kent lying adjacent to the River Thames, should have some monument, because it was through this country that the retreat was made, and it was the point at the confluence of the creek and river that Tecumseh, with rare perception, selected as the place to oppose the Americans. The British General unfortunately neither accepted his advice nor respected his counsel, and retreat-ed with disastrous results."

Mr. Fleming will have a yield of about 2,000 man's name is Arthur Coll, and he came to Manitoba a month or two ago on one of the harvest excursions. After his operaions in Morden, Mr. Coll skipped out and the merchants of the town noti-fied Chief Elliott, with the result that the missing Arthur was located at Glenlea, on the C. N. R. He was found working with a threshing gang under the distinguished alias of "Smith."

Mr. Coll, alias Smith, will not, how Harwich Rangers Hold Another ever thresh out the proceeds of the goods shipped to Chatham, because they were separated from him by telegram from Chief Elliott, who had delivery stopped at the Ortario town, Coll was arrested and brought before Magistrate Colin McCorquodale, of Morden, on Saturday, where he pleaded guilty on three charges of theft. He was remanded for sentence until to-day. The analyst of The Chatham Planet, who recently toured the west, may be able to throw some light on the motives which impel the Chatham youth to come west and victimize Manitoba merchants and why Manitoba merchants allow themselves to be done up by an innocent-appearing but deceiving harvest hand.—Winni-

The Free Press man seems to have overlooked the fact entirely that Chief Young, of this city, located the man Coll in Glenlea for the Morden police, after the "innocent looking but deceiving harvest hand" had entirely eluded the police in the little town in the Prairie Province. Then, too, it was the Maple City police who secured the clothes and shipped them back to Morden. Lastly, the man arrested doesn't belong to Chatham at all, but to Ridgetown, 20 miles east of here. The insinuation that the Chatham people need clothes is horrible, but no less so than the inference that the *Wm.Anderson in o less so than the inference that the Manitoba merchants are easy. That fellow Coll must be a brute to take clothes away from Manitoba. They will need all they have when winter comes. But if he-an easterner-got ahead of the Manitoba merchants on a deal, he is a genius-a very Napoleon in the art of bargaining.

HAT IS EVIDENCE?

Following the Rule of the Courts, the Letter of Mr. Arbour should be admitted as the best possible testi-

The law has provided that no man shall testify in court as to what he has heard others say, but only as to what he has seen or heard or felt himself personally.

The only evidence admissable is this direct, positive personal experience and such is admitted as the best evidence and such is admitted as the best evidence a witness can offer by any court in the civilized worlh. In supporting the claim that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure any case dyspepsia, indigestion or other stomrouble, except cancer, only unqualified statement of personal witnesses shall be offered.

This is not hearsay, it is not guess work, but the strong, truthful personal statements of men and women who suffered, and who have been cured.

Read this letter:—
"I suffered with dyspepsia. I was so bad that for weeks I would be obliged to abstain from all foodexcept milk, which seemed to be the only thing that did not give me terrible distreess Listress.

"I resolved to try Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and am very grateful indeed to be able to say they have cured me completely.

"From the very commencement got relief and began to feel better, and now I can eat anything I wish for without the slightest fear of unpleasant after effects."
Mr. Josephi J. Arbour, the writer of the above letter, lives at Perce, Gaspe County, Quebec.

If Mr. Arbour's letter is not convincing, it would be very hard ito and any evidence that would convince.

Doubt and fear are symptoms of dyspepsia it is true; and so many sufferers have tried for a cure many times and failed that it is no der perhaps that there are many who hesitate to try again, no matter what proof is offered.

But no one has ever tried Dodd's spepsia Tablets and been disap-inted. They will cure any case of omach trouble no matter how acute of how long standing. Indisputable idence has proven it a thousand

CRYING BABIES

The Cry of an Infant is Nature's Signal of Distress.

Bables never cry unless there some very good reason for it. The signal that there is something wrong. Every mother ought to get to work immediately to find out what that something wrong may be. If the fretfulness and irritation are not caused by exterior sources it is con-clusive evidence that the crying baby is ill. The only safe and judicious thing to do is to administer Baby's Own Tablets without the slightest indigestion, sleeplessness, the irritation accompanying the cutting of teeth, diarrhoea, constipation, colic, and simple fevers, these marvellous little tablets have given relief in thousands of cases and saved many precious baby lives. Do not give a child so-called "soothing" medicines; such only stupify and produce unnatural sleep. Baby's Own Tablets are guaranteed to contain no opiate or other harmless drugs; they opiate or other harmless drugs; they promote sound, healthy sleep because they go directly to the root of baby troubles. Dissolved in water these tablets can be given to the youngest infant. Mrs. Walter Brown, Milby, Que., says:—"I have never used any medicine for baby that did as much good as Baby's Own Tablets. I would not be without them."

Baby's Own Tablets are for sale at all drug stores, or will be sent direct on receipt of price, 25 cents a box, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co.. Brockville, Ont.

IS ONE TAUGHT US BY THE EX-PERIENCE OF OTHERS.

Learn This Lesson Well and the Rav ages of Disease Will No Longer be so Prevalent—The Story of One Who Has Been Benefitted and Who Offers Her Experience to Aid Others.

From L'Sorelois, Sorel, Que. Among the multitude of ailments that afflict humanity there are few that cause more acute misery than indigestion or dyspepsia, as it is variously called. Both young and old are susceptible to its attacks, and its victims throughout the country are numbered by tens of thousands. Among the disagreeable symptoms which accompany dyspepsia and make it easily recognizable, the weight, uneasiness and a heavy feeling in the stomach after eating, a feeling of weariness, sick headache and dizziness, pains in the stomach, offensive breath, iritability, etc. Ordinary medicines will not cure dyspepsia. They may relieve its symptoms temporarily, but the trouble always returns and each time in an intensified form. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the only medicine which will thoroughly and effectively cure dyspepsia. These pills act not merely upon the symptoms, but on the disease itself through the blood, hence through the stomach, which is strengthened and restored to its normal functions. Mrs. Alp. Lussier, a lady well known in Sorel, Que., is one of the many who have been released from the clutches of dyspepsia through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and in the hope that her experience will be of benefit to some other sufferer she gives the following story for publication: "For over two years I was a sufferer from dyspepsia or bad digestion. The disease became chronic and I was an almost continual sufferer from headaches, heartburn and heart palpitation. All sense of taste left me and at times my stomach was so weak that I was unable to keep any food on it, and this caused me more distress than one could im-Although I tried several remedies, none of them gave me any re-lief, and I began to regard my life as a burden, rather than a joy as it should be. One day while reading I came across a case similar to my own, cured through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, so in the hope that I would receive similar benefit decided to give the pills a trial. had not taken the pills long before I could see that my hopes for recovery were being realized. By the time I had taken half a dozen boxes all symptoms of the trouble had disap-peared and I was able to enjoy life as I did before being seized with the malady. I have no hesitation in saying that I think that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best known cure for dyspepsia, and I would strongly advise all sufferers to give

The old adage "experience is the best teacher" might well be applied in cases of dyspepsia, and if sufferers would only be guided by the experiwould only be guided by the experience of those who have suffered but are now well and happy through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, there would be less distress throughout the land. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be had at all dealers in medicine or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 icine Co., Brockville, Ont.

NO ARGUMENT NEEDED

Every Sufferer From Catarrah Knows That Salves, Lotions, Washes, Sprays and Douches Do not Cure.

Powders, lotions, salves, sprays, inhalers, cannot really cure catarrh, be-cause this disease is a blood disease, and local applications, if they accomplish anything at all, simply give transient relief. The catarrhal poison is in the bleod and the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and trachea tries to relieve the system by secreting large quantities of mucous, the discharge sometimes closing up the nostrils, dropping into the throat, causing deafness by closing the Wustachian tubes, and after time causing catarah or serious threat time causing catarrh or serious throat

A remedy to really cure Catarrh must bean internal remedy which will cleanse the blood from catarrhal poison and remove the fever and congestion

The best and most modern remedies for this purpose are antiseptics scientifically known as Eucalyptol, Guaiacol, Sanguanaria and Hydrastin, and while each of these have been successfully used separately, yet it has been difficult to get them all combined in one palatable , convenient and efficient

The munfacturers of the new cai tarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, have succeeded admirably in accomthe throat and finally the stomach. Unlike many catarrh remedies, Stuart's Catarrn Tablets contain no cocaine, opiate or any injurious drug whatever, and are equally beneficial for little children and adults. Mr. C. R. Rembrandt, of Rochester, N. Y., says: "I know of few people who have suffered as much as I from catarrh of the head, throat, and stomach. I used sprays, inhalers and powders for months at a time with only slight relief, and had no hope of cure. I had not the means to make a change of climate, which seemed my only cure. "Last spring I read an account of some remarkable cures made by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and promptly bought a fifty cent box from my I all I could ask, and my hearing catarrh, has greatly improved until I feel I can hear as well a fever. They are a household necessity in my fam-

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cen's for complete treatment and for convenience, safety and prompt results they are undoubtedly the long looked for catarrh curs.

An old-fashioned country remedy that a village housewife recommends to drive out moths is tansy leaves. These sprinkled freely about woolens and furs prove efficient.

Its Charm Illustrated and Commended by Dr. Talmage.

THE CRYSTAL CANNOT EQUALIT.

Everything in Our Lives Is irranged Without the Possibility of Mistakes-The Edge of Ged's Rob of Government Never Frags Out Nor Are There Loose Screws in Work's Machinery.

Washington, Oct 6. - The charm of an exalted ression is by Dr. Talmage in this discourse illustrated and commend; text, Job xxviii, 17, "The crital cannot equal it." Many of ne precious stones of the Bible hay come to prompt recogni-tion. Sat for the present I take up the less valuable crystal. Job, in any tat, compares saving wis-om with a specimen of topaz. An chemist or mineralogist' than the former, but Job an intelligent comparison, looks t religion and then looks at estal and pronounces the form-asof far superior value to the ning, in the words of t. the first place, I remark that gion is superior to the crystal in thess. That shapeless mass of tal against which you accidentdashed your foot is laid out more exactness than any earth There are six styles of cryzation and all of them divine-Every crystal has ematical precision. Never counting wrong though he counts the grass blades and the stars and the sands and the cycles. His providences never dealing with us perpendicularly when those proridences ought to be oblique, nor laterally when they ought to be verti-Everything in our life arranged without any possibility of mis-Each life a six-headed prism. Born at the right time; dying at the right time. There are no "happen so's" in our theology. If I thought this was a slipshod universe, I would be in despair. God is not an anarchist. Law, order, symmetry, precision, a perfect square, a perfect rectangle, a perfect rhomboid, a per-fect circle. The edge of God's robe of government never frays out. There are no loose screws in the world's machinery. It did not just happen that Napoleon was attacked with indigestion at Borodino so that he te-came incompetent for the day. It pany, and while there are many did not just happen that John Thomas, the missionary, on a hea-then island, waiting for an outfit ation I tell you that it is the whole and orders for another missionary tour, received that outfit and those orders in a box that floated ashore, while the ship and the crew that carried the box were never heard of. I believe in a particular providence. I believe God's geometry may be seen in all our life more beautifully than in crystallography. Job was right. "The crystal cannot equal

Again I remark that religion is superior to the crystal in transpar-ency. We know not when or by whom glass was first discovered. Beads of it have been found in the tomb of Alexander Severus. Vases of it are brought up from the ruins of Herculaneum. There were female adornments made out of it 3,000 years ago — those adornments found now attached to the mummies of Fgypt. A great many commentators believe that my text means glass. What would we do without the crystal? The crystal in the window here not the storm and let dow to keep out the storm and let in the day, the crystal over the watch, defending its delicate ma-chinery, yet allowing us to see the chinery, yet allowing us to see the hour; the crystal of the telescope, by which the astronomer brings distant worlds so near he can inspect them. Oh, the triumph of the crystals in the celebrated windows of Rouen and Salisbury! But there is nothing so transparent in a crystal as in our holy religion. It is a transparent religion. You can put it to your eye and you see man—his sin, his soul, his destiny. You hok at God and you see something of the grandeur of his character. It is a transparent religion. Infidels tell us it is opaque. Do you know why they tell us it is opaque? It is because they are blind. "The natural man receiveth not the things of God because they are spiritually discerned." There is no trouble with the crystal. The trouble is with the eyes which try to look through it. We pray for vision. Lord, that our eyes may be opened! When the eye salve cures our blindness, then we find that religion is transparent. crystal of the telescope

Where there is ill-health there will surely be schappiness. The happiness of many a home has received its downfall at the table, spread with rich and dainty foods. The first symptoms of disease of the stomach are ignored as being disagreeable but not dangerous. Presently dyspepsia or some other form of disease fastens on the stomach.

At any stage Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. But the cure is quicker if the "Discovery" is used in the earlier stages of disease. If you have any symptoms of diseased stomach use "Golden Medical Discovery" and be cared.

Everything that I ate disagreed with me. I suffered all the time with swimming in my head; heart beat too fast, myfeet and hands were cold all the time. Did not sleep well at all. Was able to get about but very little. I commenced to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets' in May, 1897, and by December I could begin to get about very well. Sinai, the mountain of the law; Pisgah, the mountain of prospect; Olivet, the mountain of instruction; Calvary, the mountain of sacrifice.
All the rivers of the Bible come out -Hidekel, or the river of paradisai-cal beauty; Jordan, or the river of holy chrism; Cherith, or the river of prophetic supply; Nile, or the river of palaces, and the pure river of life from under the throne, clear as cry-stal. While reading this Bible, after our eyes have been touched by grace, we find it all transparent, and the earth rocks, now with crucifixion agony and now with judgment terror, and Christ appears in some of his 256 titles, as far as I can count them—the Bread, the Rock, the the Captain, the Commander, the Conqueror, the Star, and on and beyond any capacity of Transparent religion! The providence that seemed dark before becomes pellucid. Now you find God is not trying to put down. Now you understand why you lost that child and why you lost your property. It was to prepare you for eternal treasures. And why sickness came, it being the precursor of immortal juvenescence. And now you understand why they lied about you and tried to drive you hither and thither. It was to put you in the glorious company of such men as Ignatius, who, when he went out to be destroyed by the lions, said, "I am the wheat, and the teeth of the wild beasts must first grind me before I can become pure bread for Jesus Christ." Or the company of such men as "that arcient Christian martyr" who, when standing in the midst of the amphitheatre waiting for the lions to come out of their cave and destroy him and the people in the galleries jeering and shouting, "The lions!" replied, "Let them come on!" and then, stooping down toward the cave where the wild beasts were roaring to get out, again cried, "Let them come on!" Ah, yes, it is persecuthings that you will have to posttendency of your religion to unravel and explain plain and interpret and il-and irradiate. People talk too much about their cross and not enough about their crowns. Do you know that the Bible mentions a cross but seventeen times, while it mentions a crown eighty times? has been an early riser. He has been an admirer of cameos and corals and all kinds of beautiful things. Ask him what he thinks of religion, and he will tell you. "It is the most beautiful thing I ever saw. The crystal cannot equal it."

Beautiful in its symmetry. When it

Beautiful in its symmetry. When it presents God's character, it does not present him as having love like a great pertuberance on one side of his great pertuberance on one side of his nature, but makes that love in harmony with Mis justice — a love that will accept all those who come to him, and a justice that will by no means clear the guilty. Beautiful religion in the sentiment it implants! Beautiful religion in the hope that it kindles! Beautiful religion in the fact that it proposes to garland and enthrone and emparadise an immortal spirit. Solomon says it is a lily. Paul says it is a crown. The Apocalypse says it is a fountain kissed by the sun. Ezekiel says it is a foliaged cedar. Christ says it is a bridegroom come to fetch home a bride. While Job in the text takes up a whole vase of precious stones — the topaz and the sapphire and the chrysoprasus — he holds out of this beautiful vase just one crystal and holds it up until it gleams in the warm light of the eastern sky, and he exclaims, "The crystal cannot equal it." Oh, it is not a stale religion; it is not a stupid religion; it is not a toothless hag, as some seem to have represented it; it is not a Meg Mer-rilies with shriveled arm come to scare the world; it is the fairest daughter of God, heiress of all his wealth; her cheek the morning sky, her voice the music of the south wind, her step the dance of the sea. Come and woo her. The Spirit and the Bride say come, and whosoever will, let him come. Do you agree with on and say it is a lily? Then pluck it and wear it over your heart. Do you agree with Paul and say it is a crown? Then let this hour be coronation. Do you agree with the Apocalypse and say it is a springing fountain? Then come and slake the thirst of your soul. Do you believe with Ezekiel and say it is a foliaged cedar? Then come under its shadow. Do you believe with Christ and say it is a bridegroom come to fetch home a bride? strike hands with your Lord and King while I pronounce you ever-lastingly one. Or if you think with

Job that it is a jewel, then put it on your hand like a ring, on your neck like a bead, on your forehead like a star, while looking into the mirror of God's word you acknowledge "The crystal cannot equal it." Again, religion is superior to the crystal in its transformations. diamond is only a crystallization. Carbonite of lime rises until it becomes calcite or aragonite. Red oxide of copper crystailizes into cubes and octahedrons. Those crystals which adorn our persons and our homes and our museums have only been resurrected from forms that were far from lustrous. Scientists for ages have been examining these won-derful transformations. But I tell you in the gospel of the Son of God there is a more wonderful transformblack as coal and hard as iron God, by his comforting grace, stoops and says. 'They shall be mine in the day when I make up my jewels."

'What!" say you. "Will God wear ewelry?" If he wanted it, he could make the stars of the heaven his belt and have the evening cloud for not want that adornment. He will not have that jewelry. When God wants jewelry, he comes down and digs it out of the depths and darkness of sin. These souls are all crystallizations of mercy. He puts them on, and he wears them in the pres-ence of the whole universe. He wears them on the hand that was nailed, over the heart that was pierced, on the temples that were stung. shall be mine," saith the Lord, "in the day when I make up ny jewels." "The crystal cannot equal it." Now, I have no liking for those Now, I have no liking for those people who are always enlarging in Christian meetings about their early dissipation. Do not go into the particulars, my brothers. Simply say you were sick, but make no display of your ulcers. The chief stock in trade of some ministers and Christian a tian workers seems to be their early crimes and dissipations. The number of pockets you picked and the umber of chickens you stole make very poor prayer meeting rhetoric. Besides that, it discourages other Christian people who never got drunk or stole anything. But it is pleasant to know that those who were farthest down have been brought high-est up. Out of infernal serfdom into est up. Out of infernal serfdom into eternal liberty. Out of darkness into light. From coal to the solitaire. "The crystal cannot equal it."

But, my friends, the chief transforming power of the gospel will not be seen in this world, and not until heaven breaks upon the soul. When that light falls upon the soul, then you will see the crystals. What a magnificent setting for these lewels of eternity I sometimes hear people representing heaven in a way that is far from attractive to me. It seems almost a vulgar heaven as they represent it, with great blotches of color and bands of music making a deafening racket. John represents they represent it, with great blotches of color and bands of music making a deafening racket. John represents heaven as exquisitely beautiful. Three crystals! In one place he says, "Her light was like a precious stone, clear as crystal." In another place he says, "I saw a pure river from under the throne, clear as crystal." In another place he says, "Before the throne there was a sea of glass clear as crystal." Three crystals! John says crystal atmosphere. That means health. Balm of eternal June. What weather after the world's east wind! No rack of storm clouds. One breath of that air will cure the worst tubercle. Crystal light on all the leaves. Crystal light shimmering on the topaz of the temples. Crystal light tossing in the plumes of the equestrians of heaven on white horses. But "the crystal cannot equal it." John says crystal river. That means joy. Deep and ever rolling. Not one drop of the Potomac or the Hudson or the Rhine to soil it. Not one tear of made. Crystal, the bed over which it shall roll and ripple. Crystal, its infinite surface. But "the crystal cannot equal it." John says crystal sea. That means multitud Vast in rapture. Rapture vast as the sea, deep as the sea, ever changing as the sea. Billows of light. Billows of beauty, blue with skies that were never clouded and green with depths that were never fathomed. Arctics and Antarctics and Mediterraneans and Atlantics and Pacifics in crystaland Atlantics and Pacifics in crystal-line magnificence. Three crystals! Crystal light falling on a crystal river. Crystal river rolling into a crystal sea. But "the crystal cannot equal it."

"Oh," says some one, putting his hand over his aver "can the con-

Yes, it may be - it will be Heaven we must have, whatever we have or have not, and we come here to get it. "How much must I pay for it?" you say. You will pay for it just as much as the coal pays to become the diamond. In other nothing. The same Almighty power that makes the crystal in the mo tain will change your heart which i "I will take away your stony heart and I will give you a heart of flesh. "Oh," says some one, "it is just the doctrine I want. God is to do everything, and I am to do nothing.' My brother, it is not the doctrin you want. The coal makes no resistance. It hears the resurrection voice in the mountain and it comes to crystallization; but your heart resists. The trouble with you, my brother, is the coal wants to stay

The crystal river would be befouled with our touch. Transformation must take place now or no transformation at Give sin full chance in heart and the transformation will be downward instead of upward. stead of crystal it will be a cinder. In the days of Carthage a Christian girl was condemned to die for her faith, and a boat was bedaubed with tar and pitch and filled with combustibles and set on fire, and the Christian girl was placed in the boat, and the wind was offshore, and the boat floated away with its precious treasure. No one can doubt that boat landed at the shore of heaven. wants to put you in a fiery boat and shove you off in an opposite direc-tion— off from peace, off from God, off from heaven, everlastingly and the port toward which you would sail would be a port of darkness, and the guns that would greet you would be the guns of despair, and the flags that would wave at your arrival would be the black flags of death. Oh, my brother, you must either kill sin or sin will kill It is no exaggeration when I that any man or woman that wants to be saved may be saved. Tremendous choice! Mr. J. A. Baddick, of the Domin ion Dairy Department, has returned from inspecting the Dominion Dairy Stations in Nova Scotia. These stations, which are situated at Scotsburn, Mabou, Nappan, are doing good work, although, owing to the drought, the output will not be unusually large. It is, however, of an excellent quality, so that a considerable quantity of it is being sen to the West Indies, where only the best quality of butter finds a mar-ket. The buildings for these dairy stations were put up by the farmers themselves, and are first-class in every respect. Each station is in charge of a Government expert, and the farmers are charged 31 cents a pound for the butter manufactured from the milk which they supply.

Credulity of Skeptics It is marvelous that the men who most of all rail at faith, are remarkable for credulity. Not caring to have God in their hearts, forsaking the living fountain, they have hewn out to themselves cisterns which are broken and hold no water. Oh, that we may each of us be more that we may not forsake the old path, nor leave the way that God hath prepared for us. What wonder we should travel amongst thorns and briars, and rend our own flesh, worse than that, fall among mountains, and be lost among the chasms thereof, if we despise the guidance of our unerring Father!

A city clerk has points of law, disputes and many other things to decide beyond his ordinary arduous routine duties of office. Xesterday City Clerk Merrift was busy deciding the jurisdiction of the city over the ceme-tery road. Hogs have been rooting up the road and the caretaker has been wondering whether to impound them in the township of Harwich or in Chatham. The city bought the road to the cemetery and threwa it open for traffic. The city attended to all re-pairs and kept the road in order, but the pigs made it necessary for the civic authorities to decide what rights they have over the road. The cemitery, although beyond the pale of the city's gates, is considered by law as within the corporation. The road was bought for cemetery purposes. The clerk referred the matter to the city licitor, who decided that the city had jurisdiction over the road and the pigs impounded will be the enforced guests of the city.

County Court Clerk James Holmes has a good story to tell at the expense of a Raleigh farmer. "When I kept of a Raleigh farmer. "When I kept my little store on King street," said Mr. Holmes this morning, with a merry twinkle in his eye, "I had a little room at the back where I kept wall paper. The farmer, somewhat the worse from gazing too long on the bowl that flows cheerfulness, wandered into the room and was caught worse than a fly in a trap. I heard the noise and going out to locate the trouble found my paper room had an occupant who had little regard for the beauty of my wall paper. I spoke to him. He responded with query as to where he was and how the lock-up and, as Judge Houston was out of town he, the farmer, would have to stay where he was. t Caus.d a Profound Sensation and Much : xcitement by Ex. ggarated Rumor.

"Boy drowned in the river!" These were the words-passed of from mouth to mouth-which caused so much excitement in the city short-ly before three o'clock this afternoon. The rumor, as first stated, was the simple fact that a boy was drowned. But before it had circulated far it had assumed massive proportions. The little boy was said to be the only son of a widowed mother and was em ployed as an errand boy in one of the dry goods stores, and now his aged mother would be left alone in the world with no one to support her. Others went so far as to say that wo little fellows were fighting or the Park dock when one, evidently the smaller, was knocked off into the water and drowned, while the other unfortunate lad was cruelly hand-cuffed and marched over to the police court to answer to a charge of mur-der in the first degree. Naturally, people became interested and it was not long before a large crowd had gathered at the Park dock to view the scene of the appalling tragedy.

They were considedably surprise however, to find that no one was there except D. A. Hutchinson, who was engaged in pushing a lawn-mower up and down the bowling nd the Little Accident Prever 61 Blenheim from Greeting a Distinguished Trio.

Three Maple City young men intended to visit Blenheim Fair yesterday. They didn't do it, all on account of the death of a horse. Many causes have kept young men from the fair before, but this is the first known instance wherer the fair at Blenheim has missed the presence of three prominent patrons by reason of such a trifling incident as a dead horse. What Blenheim missed by the accident she will never know.

The facts are these. The your men secured a rig from a local livery to go to Blenheim. They had gone a little over three miles, when the horse began to wobble and had scarcely gone the four miles when the horse lay down and died, just opposite Joseph Young's place on the town line. The trio sent in word with a farmer and the liveryman sent out another rig with a veterinary surgeon, and, inci-dentally, to bring the three home The horse doctor gave the cause of death as acute indigestion, and the remains were taken care of. The three, however, returned home, having con to the decision that Blenheim fair would be over by the time they reach

A PLAYFUL BADGER.

HE WAS FULL OF LIFE, BUT REFUSED TO BE TRAINED.

Brief History of an Attempt to Make a Pet of Him In a Colorado Camp. Conclusion of the Crank Who Tried to Do the Training.

"I have often wondered," said a man who is fond of animals, "why people don't give more attention to the badger. He has lots of character.

"Once when I was younger I was a bookkeeper for a few months at a grading camp a few miles south of Pueblo, Colo. One day the contractor appeared in camp, bringing a badger which he had caught on his farm.

'You boys can put in your time train-

"We were pleased enough, but the badger gave us to understand from the first that he wanted none of us, emphasizing his decision by a snap at Gleason's hand. We managed to get a collar and chain attached to him, and tumbled him into a big box.

"There he was on his guard every moment and ready to charge any one or anything that crowded him in the least. He snarled and roared, and when he tired of that he grunted like a pig. He was absolutely without fear of anything that walked or crawled. He tackled an immense St. Bernard owned by one of our subcontractors. Poor Rex had never seen a badger before, and he was greatly astonished. First he smelt of the badger's hind leg. Then he sat down and gently waved one paw over the creature's head. This the badger took as direct insult, and the next minute he was hanging on to the dog's nose. When freed, Rex was not seen for two days.

"Jim Gleason was the commissary man. He had followed camp life for 20 years, and had developed into the worst crank I ever ran up against. But for some reason he was quite tickled over the badger. Maybe he recognized a kindred spirit. He said:

"'I'll have that badger tame in two days. He's only scared a little; that's

"He told us of a coon he once caught in Arizona and tamed so it followed him about like a dog. Just before I dropped off to sleep the first night he informed me in an offhand way that he'd teach the padger to shake hands before 10 o'clock the next day. "But when morning came the badger was missing. The chain was in the box all right, but the badger and the collar were gone. Gleason felt bad. "'It's a confounded shame,' he said.

'I took a liking to that cuss, and was going to give him a nice, easy time. Let's look for him. Maybe he is around camp yet.'
"He spent two or three hours hunting for the badger, and when he finally gave it up he said mournfully, 'It's a shame;

a piece of fresh beef outside the commissary door 'in hopes,' he said, 'that the hungry little beast may find it.' The next morning I was awakened by Gleason's voice raised in loud and picturesque cuss words. He was an artist at the business when he set out to do a good job.

"'Look at that,' he said, and pointed at a hole in the ground just outside the and showed me another hole just under tent. Then he dragged me into the tent,

'The nerve of him.' roared I put meat out for him and done everything for him I could! He's in that hole, and there's a five pound piece of bacon in there with him. I come in just in time, and seen him get away with it.

"The cold ingratitude of the badger and to strike Glesson to the heart."

seemed to strike Gleason to the heart, and turn all his kindness to gall. I asked him when he was going to give the badger his first lesson in shaking hands, but he didn't seem to see the point. He hunted up two rails and spent most of the forenoon lugging water from the ditch and pouring it into the holes. Every time he emptied a pail he picked up a club and watched the hole, ready for the badger when he dashed out. But the badger didn't dash, and finally Gleason missary tent to the sleeping tent, and my ent through up to my knee. Gleason started toward me, and he went through too. Then we noticed little round holes in different parts of the dirt floor. The badger was at work under mining us, "Next morning a big piece of beet had a disappeared. We gravely asked Gleason to please put out a good lunch for the poor little beast that night. Jim said poor little beast that night. Jim said nothing all day. He appeared to be thinking. When night came, he opened his mouth long enough to tell me that he'd show me the badger's skin when I turned out next morning.

"Some time in the middle of the night I was awakened by an unearthly racket. My first thought was that the men were

The badger was in his hole, all except his head. Jim was on his knees, and behad. Jim was on his knees, and between the two was a full side of salt tween the two was a full side of salt pork which must have weighed 20 pounds. Both Jim and the badger had firm hold at opposite corners. They were putting forth their full strength and talking to each other. Their remarks ing to each other. Their remarks were so loud that the whole camp was roused. How long the show would have continued I can't say if Jim hadn't forgotten that he was barefoot and aimed a tre-mendous kick straight at the badger's mendous kick straight at the badger's flat head. He remembered just too late, and tried to kick both ways at the same time. The badger snapped at that bare foot. Jim yelled and jerked. The pork came easy, and Jim turned a new kind of somerant.

"We were holding ourselves in all kinds "We were holding ourselves in an kinds of positions, too weak to say a single word. Jim saw us for the first time, but he said nothing; just hiked back to bed. The next morning he moved all the meat down to the cook shack.

"I know when I'm licked," he said.
"I'll let the cook have part of the fun."

Sudden changes of weather are especially trying and probably to none more so than to the scrofulous and consumptive. The progress of scrofula during a normal October is commonly great. Lays, Molten and Flattened. The earth revolves on its axis once ir 24 hours. Millions of years ago the day was 22 hours; millions of years before it was 21 hours. As we look backward into time we find the earth revolving faster and faster. There was a time, ages ago, long before geology begins, when the earth was rotating in a day of five or six hours in length. In the remotest past the earth revolved in a day of about five hours. It could re-single unbroken mass. It was at this time that the moon was born-separated, broken off from the parent mass of the earth. The earth was then a molten, flattened sphere of lava. Its whole body was fluid. The tides, which now are small, superficial and, so to say, local, were then universal and immense. They oc curred at short intervals. The whole surface of our globe was affected. And the corresponding lunar tides in the fluid, molten moon were indefinitevolve no faster than this and remain a ly greater still. Our day is now 24 hours; the distance of the moon is now 240,000 miles. When our day was about five hours long, the moon was in contact with the earth's surface. It had just broken away from its parent mass. As the length of the terrestrial day increased, so did the distance of the moon. The two quantities are connected by inexorable equations. If one varies, so must the other. Whenever the rotation time of a planet is shorter than the period of revolution of its satellite, the effect of their mutual action is to accelerate the motion of the satellite and to force it to move in a larger orbitto increase its distance, therefore.

The day of the earth is now shorter than the month-the period of revolution-of the moon. The moon is therefore slowly receding from us, and it has on receding for thousands of centuries. But the day of the earth is, as we have seen, slowly growing longer. The finger of the tides is always press ing upon the rim of our huge flywheel and slowly but surely lessening the speed of its rotation. So long as the terrestrial day is shorter than the lunar month, the moon will continue to recede from us .- Professor E. S. Holden in Harper's Magazine.

SIMPLE REMEDIES.

Diluted ammonia is good for insect bites and stings. A raw egg swallowed at once upon getting a fishbone in the throat beyond the reach of the finger, it is said, will dislodge it and carry it down. A simple remedy for indigestion is the white of an egg beaten to a stiff froth and stirred into a wineglassful of cold water. This should be taken after each meal. For burns and scalds, when no other remedy is at hand, try the effect of a piece of rag steeped in vinegar and bound round the scar. This is especially useful when cooking, for the vinegar is generally at hand. To cure a severe case of colic teaspoonful of salt in a pint of water; drink and go to bed. This is one of the speediest remedies known. It will also prove efficacious in reviving a person who seems almost dead from a heavy THE WALL BY THE PARTY OF THE PA

Preparing For a Journey. Jerome K. Jerome recalled, with reverence, a habit of his methodical uncle who, before packing for a jourhey, always "made a list." This was the system which he followed, gathered from his uncle's own lips:

Take a piece of paper and put down on it everything you can possibly require. Then go over it and see that it contains nothing you can possibly do

Imagine yourself in bed. What have you got on? Very well; put it down, together with a change. You get up. What do you do? Wash yourself. What do you wash yourself with? Soap. Put down soap. Go on till you have finished. Then take your clothes. Begin at your feet. What do you wear on your feet? Boots, shoes, socks. Put them down. Work up till you get to your head. What do you want besides clothes? Put down everything. Tais is the plan the old gentleman always pursued. The list made, he would go over it carefully to see that he had forgotten nothing. Then he would go over it again and strike out everything it was possible to dispense with. Then he would lose the list.

The Backslider. "Many years ago," says the Providence Journal, "in a village not 20 miles from Providence a reviva! was in progress. A young man, one of indis tinguishable twin brothers who had previously been observed, as was supposed, in an attentive attitude at the meeting, rose for prayers, walked to the anxious seat, and there wailed and moaned to such good purpose that the dencons were sure he was on the high road to salvation.

The next day he was overheard in the back yard at home chopping wood and swearing painfully at a refractory lcg. When remonstrated with for his sudden backsliding, he merely said, "Oh, brother Jim couldn't go to the meeting last night, so I went and hollered for him."

Meant What It Said. "No," said the impecunious one, "you can't believe all that you see in the newspapers." "Are you prepared to specify?" the other man asked.

"I am. I saw a statement in the financial columns that money was easy, but when I tried to negotiate a loan I found that the reverse was true." "You misunderstood the paragraph It didn't say the people were easy."-

Golden Text-"But God was with Joseph, showing him mercy.'

Here we have a thoroughly reliable youth in every way. Not 30, yet for 13 years as slave, steward and prisoner, proving what God can do for him, and will do for us, if we are as fully surrendered to Him. Notice that Sa-tan fails to overthrow Joseph and tri-als and temptations develop him fit-ting him for greatness; destined to rule, but first to suffer. The steps in Joseph's career closely tipify the treatment of our Lord in His humiliation and exaltation. Loved by his father, hated by his brethren, delivered for a price into the hands of perse cutors, falsely accused and conc opens not his mouth in self defense vet delivered and exalted, and rules that be may deliver Egypt. Valracine, Que., Oct. 11.-(Special)-Madame Pierre Clouatre of this place feels it her duty to make public certain facts, and to this end has given for publication a statement which she has signed with her hand, and to which her husband has also affixed his signature confirming the truth in every detail of the story told.

It is only fair to Madame Clouatre to explain that in making this part of her life's history, she is actuated only by the purest of motives, the hope that by so doing she may help another.

For years this good lady suffered much with kidn y disease. Her loving husband, sick at heart to see his wife suffering so much, tried everything he could hear of ,but all

Theatrical

Undoubtedly the most importan musical event in Chatham in years i the coming to the Grand of the original Bostonians on Thursday, Oct. 17 in "Robin Hood," which has always proved their most popular production The Bostonians were at the Star Theatre, Buffalo, all last week and did a record-breaking business. This week they are appearing at the Princess Theatre, Toronto, and next week will play the only week of one night stands they will have this season. Their coming to Chatham was only effected by the most persistent effort on the part of the management and it is to be hoped that local theatregoers will appreciate the importance of the emgagement and accord at home to the Bostonians the same patronage they have so often given them in Detroit. The Bostonians will, later in the season, play a week's engagement at the Detroit Opera House, using "Robin Hood" as their principal offering.

Dainty music, a humorous and interesting story, famous singers, pret-ty chorus girls, a trained orchestra, brilliant costumes and lavish scenic effects are the medley of good things promised in a production of that ever green and popular comic opera "Robin Hood," to be sung here by the Boston-

This famous organization has the reputation for giving the best that lyric market affords, and "Robin Hood" is so well known that little re-mains to be added. The Bostonians are thoroughly organized this season and are operated at a cost of over five thousand dollars a week. All the original singers will appear here and already seats are selling rapidly.

The Bostonians are so well know that little remains to be said concerning their reputation, only to add however, that no company presents such an array of talented singers nor such a repertoire of standard sucesses. This season an unusually effective group of artistes have been engaged for the tour, and the company has been thoroughly reorganized with several brilliant young singers added to the forces. Among the favorites who will appear here are the genial and veteran comedian, Henry Clay Barnabee, whose name is a household word with music-lovers. the equally well known and stalwart baritons, W. H. MacDonald; the beautiful young prima donna soprano, Frances

Miller; and Gertrude Zimmer, the graceful contralto, Adele Rafter; the distinguished basso, Allen Hinckley; the comedians, George Frothingham and W. H. Fitzgerald; the popular contralto, Josephine Bartlett; Mac-Donald Dorrington, baritone, and Charles J. Swikard. The tenor roles this season are sung by the handsome young artists, Albert Parr and Vernon Stiles, and a brilliant chorus of fifty voices and a trained orchestra under the direction of S. L. Studley are again featured. The engagement has been arranged upon the payment of a large guarantee and the opera selected is "Robin Hood," which has enjoyed unparalleled vogue wherever This opera is replete with the most dainty melodies, striking ballads and dramatic finales, while the hu-morous and romantic element predominates and comedians are given every opportunity for fun-making. "Robin Hood" is semi-historic and its scenes ive every opportunity for lavish disolay and brilliant costumes. Sale of
