THE air in an ordinary oven is stagnant. It becomes saturated with the odors of the different dishes cooking—the strongest odor impregnates all. That is why you sometimes get pie with a flavor of onions and roast beef with a taste of fish.

The air in the oven of the

is constantly changing. Fresh air is drawn in from outside the range by our patent oven flue, superheated and forced into the top of the oven. It circulates throughout the oven, keeping every corner at a steady, even temperature. The air is then drawn off through the oven ventilators carrying with it the fumes of the cooking dishes.

The Imperial Oxford Range cooks your food with pure, fresh, dry heat. Would you like to see this range? Call at your dealers. If he can't show you the Imperial Oxford, write to us and we'll send you full particulars and tell you where you can see it. 17

International Bible Lesson for Tomorrow.

The Captivity of Judah—II, Chron., 36, 11-21.

Golden Text—"Be sure your sin will find you out."

Zedekiah was the last King of Judah, Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, and Hophra of Egypt at this time. All prophecy has literal fulfillment; the cloud-burst of judgment must come.

The Ammonites, Moabites, Edomites and Philistines all assisted in the onslaught on Jerusalem and rejoiced in the destruction of their ancient enemy. God's feeling toward Judah all through the centuries of their apostasy was one of long-suffering love; but though God is long-suffering, judgment must come at last if men will not repent—II, Peter, 3, 9-10.

The day of the final destruction of this unholy city was the 10th day of the fifth month, 589 B. C., and the day is still observed by the Jews as a fast day, only second to the great Day of Atonement. On the same day of the same month the City of Jerusalem was again destroyed by Titus, A. D. 70.

How terribly often it is written of evil people, "He did that which was against the sight of the Lord his God." All lives are under the direct eye of God, therefore we are directly responsible to Him. Before men we may be like an old-fashioned beehive, you can't see what goes on inside; but before God we are as glass houses; all within us is seen and known of Him. His all-seeing eye is an ever-present witness. Everything came to pass as God, through His servants and prophets predicted. Kings and princes and people became prisoners of war because they departed from God.

Every one of us have our choice between serving God with joyfulness and gladness of heart, or serving our enemies in wretchedness and ruin.

The wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord. Humbly and thankfully take the gift.

Miss Alley's Story—Short, But Interesting to Every Woman.

Miss Addie Nalley, 137 D Street, S. E., Washington, D. C., writes:

"A cough, the grip, catarrh of the lungs, all sorts of remedies, home, patent and prescribed by doctors, and no relief—that tells my story, a story of suffering and distress that lasted four years."

"Then three bottles of Pe-Ru-NA catarrh gone, appetite and strength returned—a happy woman, and none more grateful for the blessing of health—that is what Pe-Ru-NA has done for me."—Addie Nalley.

A reward of $10,000 has been deposited in the Market Exchange Bank, Columbus, Ohio, as a guarantee that the above testimonials are genuine; that we hold in our possession, authentic letters certifying to the same. During many years' advertising we have never used a single spurious testimonial.

"I suffered long with Catarrh. Miss Clara Case, 725 9th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., writes:

"I can think of no event in my life that fills me with more gratitude and at the same time a sense of future security, as a cure after long suffering from catarrh, brought about by using Pe-Ru-NA as directed. It has completely cured me."—Clara Case.

Entire System Toned by Pe-Ru-NA. Miss Mary Bennett, 1619 Addison Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes:

"A few months ago I contracted a cold by getting my feet wet, and although I used the usual remedies I could not shake it off."

"I finally took Pe-Ru-NA. In a week I was better. After several weeks I succeeded in ridding myself of any trace of a cold, and besides the medicine had toned up my system so that I felt splendid."—Mary Bennett.

A WORD TO THE LADIES

Since summer must leave its space for winter to fill in, you also must change your garments from the thin dainty, cool, kind, to cosy cold-proof apparel. Now this question arises, do you want stylish garments, or will what was designed six months ago do. At any rate I cannot help but advise you that not one garment was bought for the Urban store before August, when the very latest styles came out, and in order that you may be thoroughly convinced, bring any of the very latest fashion sheets with you to the Urban Store and compare styles of ready-to-wear garments with the illustrations of what your fashion plates claim are right; most particularly in mantles, raincoats and furs. Don't wait until the ground is covered with snow; come now while the stock is complete, and if you are not ready to buy we are perfectly willing to hold any garment for you, besides very special prices are being given to early fur buyers who will get first choice, or leave your order for any special garment such as Persian or seal jackets, which we are willing to fill and guarantee perfect satisfaction at a trifle above cost. Realizing that we must make September sales our advertisement for following months, we are offering 200 mink skins at greatly reduced prices. Come and select a muff now and save $10.00

THE URBAN STORE.

GOOD SEASON

Notwithstanding that the Bungalow at the Eau was closed last season it has had a most satisfactory run this year. All summer it has been well patronized, chiefly by Clevelanders.

At the present time there are about fifteen of these registered and as many more are expected on to-night's visit. The season closes on the 15th inst.

MR. CLANCY IS APPOINTED

Former Member for West Kent and Bothwell Recognized by the Government

Will Assume Duties of Provincial Auditor as Successor to C. H. Sproule—A Worthy Record

To-day's gazette announces the appointment of James Clancy, the esteemed candidate of the Conservative Party in the recent Provincial elections, as provincial auditor. Mr. Clancy's appointment is a splendid one—and no better man could have been selected for the position.

The Globe to-day says:—An important shuffle in the Provincial Treasurer's Department was yesterday ratified by order in Council.

The resignation of Mr. W. N. Anderson, the Assistant Treasurer, has been accepted. The vacancy has been filled by appointing Mr. C. H. Sproule, Provincial Auditor to the position.

Mr. Sproule is succeeded by Mr. James Clancy, former Conservative member of the House of Commons for Bothwell. When that constituency was abolished Mr. Clancy ran in West Lambton, at the general elections in November last, and was defeated.

He was the Conservative candidate in West Kent at the last Provincial election, and was again defeated by Mr. A. B. McColg. Mr. Clancy sat in the Legislature from 1883 to 1890. He is a farmer and 62 years of age.

STRANGER WORSHIED

Friday evening a young Englishman, a stranger in the city, stepped into Ronson's tansorial parlors on King street and, in domineering tones, ordered the colored shoe shine artist to shine his (the stranger's) shoes.

The command was coupled with some abuse of the colored race in general and of this individual member of it in particular, who is only a lad.

The boy's good sense gallingly gave way when the stranger intimated his ability to subjugate the whole African race with one hand tied behind his back. It took only three blows from the boy to show the bellicose one that he was mistaken, which fact he acknowledged from his prone position on the floor with the boy sitting on his (the stranger's) head.

The stranger passed out twenty-five cents in payment of the shine, the boy keeping the change to pay for removing the traces of the sanguinary conflict. The crestfallen one made no demur whatever, and sought a nearby physician to attend to one or two beauty spots he had acquired during the fray.

BLOCKS SHIP CHANNEL

Turbine Victorin—Ashore 36 Miles Above Quebec.

Leyland Liner Virginian Aground In a Fog 50 Miles Below Quebec—Nineteen Feet of Water in Forward Hold of Victorin—Her Passengers, 350 In Number, Are in No Danger—The Details.

Montreal, Sept. 2.—The Allan Line royal mail steamship Victorin, one of the new turbines, with 250 passengers, general cargo and the mails for Great Britain, ran aground at Cape Charles, 120 miles below here and about 30 miles above Quebec at noon yesterday. The liner had been steaming slowly in a thick fog, rendered thicker by dense smoke from forest fires on shore. The Allans have been informed that there is 19 feet of water in the forward hold of the steamer, and that she is hard aground forward, with her stern protruding at an angle into the ship channel.

All available wrecking appliances at Quebec had been despatched earlier in the day to Cape Charles, fifty miles below Quebec, to the assistance of the Leyland Liner Virginian, which went aground there at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, while bound for this port with 3,000 tons of general cargo from Antwerp. This necessitated the sending of wreckers from this port. Tugs and lighters left here at 4 o'clock yesterday and were due at the steamer's side about midnight.

The Allans have announced that the transfer of the mails will be left entirely to the postoffice department, and officials there have not yet decided upon what action to take. The passengers of the stranded liner are quite comfortable and in no danger. They will be given the option of remaining over at the line's expense until the Allan Liner Bavarian sails from here next Friday, or having their passage money refunded. Strenuous efforts will be made to have the liner off as soon as possible. She will be lighted considerably and will as soon as she floats be taken to dry dock at Quebec.

Word has been received here that the Victorin is blocking the ship channel. The Dominion liner Kensington, for Liverpool, is sailing this morning, and there are a number of freight steamers to leave. The Government tug Frontenac will proceed to the scene of the grounding and wire directions to outgoing liners. Meanwhile all outward bound vessels will anchor at Batiscan, above Cape Charles.

SMALLPOX IN CHEESE FACTORY.

Serious Outbreak of Scourge in North Hastings.

Belleville, Sept. 2.—Reports from the northern portion of the country say that there are several cases of smallpox there.

Another report says that at Howard's Station, near Campbellville, there are several cases of smallpox in a cheese factory there. The provincial authorities visited the place Thursday, and stringent measures are to be taken to stamp out the scourge. There are said to be 1,500 cheeses in the factory, and the patrons will also be debarred from sending milk there, and, perhaps, to any other factory.

Calls For Investigation.
Peterboro, Sept. 2.—The Examiner last evening called for an investigation as to the construction of the concrete work on the Trent Valley Canal at Kirkfield. It claims that a million gallons an hour is the leakage through the concrete, and that the bridge company who have the contract for the iron work are unable to satisfactorily use the hydraulic power necessary for the construction of their work. The Examiner asks who is responsible.

Banquet to Prince Louis.
Quebec, Sept. 2.—The festivities in honor of His Serene Highness Prince Louis of Battenberg were crowned last evening by the finest banquet ever given in Quebec. It was held at the Garrison Club and presided over by Hon. Mr. Parent, mayor of Quebec. About one hundred guests were present.

Drug Trust Now a Fact.
Montreal, Sept. 2.—The Canada Drug Trust is evidently an accomplished fact for out of 25 wholesale concerns about three-quarters of that number have given the admission to the $6,000,000 merger as it is called by the trade.

One lot of one hundred and fifty soft front colored shirts, sizes 14-1-2, 15-1-2, 16, 16-1-2, former prices $1.00, $1.25, and $1.50. Your choice while they last for 75c. Stone The Hatter.

Are you now convinced that Red Rose Tea "Is Good Tea?"

I HAVE made an honest effort to convince you that Red Rose Tea is good tea.

I have shown you in these talks that Red Rose Tea combines the good qualities of rich, strong Northern Indian tea with the delicate fragrance of Ceylon Tea.

That by this combination of two good teas, Red Rose Tea is better than either—with a "rich fruity flavor" exclusively its own.

I have told you why it is always uniform in flavor and strength, of its selection at the gardens, how it is tested and blended—I have tried to tell you all about Red Rose Tea and why it is good tea.

I want you to try Red Rose Tea because I want you for a permanent customer. I know if you once try it you will use only Red Rose Tea.

The price of half a pound of Red Rose Tea is small—that small investment may show you how much tea value, tea quality and flavor you have missed. Is it not worth trying?

FREE SAMPLE—We will send a large sample of Red Rose Tea by post, free, if you will write and tell us the priced tea you are now using, and whether black or green.

SOUTH BUXTON.

We are still much in need of rain. Rev. Newton Hill, pastor of King City Methodist Church, near Toronto, in company with his wife, has been spending his summer holidays on a tour through Illinois, Iowa and the West. On their return trip they stopped off here last Friday to pay Mr. Hill's brother, John, a short visit. Mr. Hill also preached in St. Andrew's Church, and as the Baptists of North Buxton were holding a basket meeting, he kindly went down and helped them in their services. He will return to his flock in King City to-morrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Saline, of Detroit, are visiting friends here. Thos. Young, of Blenheim, who has been visiting his old home, has returned to his post of duty. He is operator for the P. M. R. R. James Blythe, of Raleigh Plains, has been smiling over 50 bushels of wheat per acre. This has awakened general interest and an expert has measured the field and finds that there was a slight mistake. There is 12 1-2 acres in the field instead of 10 acres, as published. This has clipped the tips of Mr. Blythe's wings. We learn that wedding bells will ring in Philipville in the near future, Misses Annie, Elsie and Helen Young, of Detroit, have been visiting their parents here. Miss C. Cromwell, of Fletcher, met with a painful accident a few days ago, by which she got a severe burn on her face. The basket meeting held by the Baptist Church last Sunday in Patterson's Grove, was very largely attended, and the meeting was very largely attended. Rev. T. H. Henderson, of Chatham, gave a very able address, as did also Rev. Newton Hill, of King City. The meetings will be continued next Sabbath at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m.

I WILL CURE YOU FIRST THEN YOU PAY ME

Dr. S. GOLDBERG.
The possessor of 14 Diplomas and certificates, who wants no money that he does not earn.

I have 14 Diplomas and certificates from the various colleges and state boards of medical examiners, which should be sufficient guarantee as to my standing and abilities. It makes no difference who has failed to cure you, it will be to your advantage to get my opinion of your case free of charge.

PHYSICAL DEBILITY

The Latest Method Treatment is a heaven-sent boon to nervous sufferers. There are scores and hundreds of persons suffering from severe nervous disorder, resulting from overwork, hurry, worry, business and domestic cares, nervousness, disposition, etc. To them life is one continual round of misery, while peace, comfort and happiness are impossible. They suffer from headache, loss of memory, mental depression, strange sensations, dizziness, dizziness, restlessness, irritability, constant indestructible fear, foreboding, sleeplessness, weakness, trembling, heart palpitation, cold limbs, utter fatigue and exhaustion. In this class of cases almost immediate relief is afforded by my treatment. The use of narcotics and poisonous stupefying drugs is done away with, and permanent cures accomplished.

I Cure Nervous Debility, Varicocele, Stricture, Early Decay and Waste of Power, All Nervous, Chronic, Blood and Skin Diseases.

X RAY EXAMINATION, ADVICE AND CONSULTATION FREE

HOME TREATMENT

If you are in or near the city you should apply for treatment in person, but if you live too far away, write me a full and unreserved history of your case. You will receive as careful, conscientious and painstaking attention as if you were in my office daily. As men in different parts of Canada and the United States, as well as all over the United States, are being cured by my system of home treatment, I feel fully justified in claiming that it is the most perfect and successful system ever devised. All physicians coming to me for consultation over obstinate cases which they are unable to cure, are called upon to treat will receive the usual courtesies of the profession. Medicines for Canadian patients shipped from Windsor, Ont., all duty and transportation charges prepaid.

DR. GOLDBERG, 208 Woodward Ave., Suite 411 Detroit, Mich.

ALWAYS BE TIDY.

There is no necessity for going around like a sloven.

There is no need to look untidy even if you are working about the house. You cannot be so cheerful nor so self-respecting when you are carelessly dressed as when you are neat and presentable, and even the home worker who has no help with a little good management can be both.

If gloves are worn to do the dirty work in they can be drawn off at any moment and expose a pair of hands free from dirt. A clean cloth wound around the head when sweeping will prevent the hair from becoming dirty and dusty, and it can be easily removed in case of an unexpected visitor. A good plan for the home workers is to have a large overall to work in, which, when taken off, will display a neat dress, quite free from dust and dirt.

The home worker has a better opportunity of keeping her good looks than the business girl. She has nothing of the strain of traveling, in sometimes dirty cars and through smoky tunnels and often muddy or dusty streets. She can always depend on a properly prepared and cooked meal, while the business girl must put up with what she can get, but there is no reason why she should not pay attention to her dress; the keynote of which should be neatness, and she should be as tidy in appearance as it is possible for her to be.—Detroit News-Tribune.

ARE YOU TOO PLUMP?

Black is the Thinnest Color a Stout Woman Can Wear.

White makes a woman look innocent, winsome and classic. Clear white is for the blond, cream white for the brunette. Is it not the woman in white who has all the attention and the wide eyed young thing in white with a blue ribbon who captures all the beaux?

"Black suits the fair," a poet tells us. It is the thinnest color a stout woman can wear. Indeed, the woman who wears black to best advantage is she who is stout and has black eyes and black hair. It is well known that in gowns of certain colors flesh seems to shrink, in others to expand.

A subdued shade of blue, heliotrope and olive green with black, of course, are the colors under which flesh seems less ostentatious, while Wedgwood blue, pale gray and almost any shade of red are to be avoided. Mauve and the highest shades of green are the two colors that in decoration about the throat and shoulders are especially helpful in diminishing the effect of flesh.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Soap shavings or a small lump of yellow soap tucked into a mouse hole prevents the reappearance of the mouse.

Put brown paper on the top of the wardrobes. This is easily taken off and shaken and prevents the wardrobe becoming thick with dust.

A grease spot can be removed from leather by applying a little benzine. It may make the surface dull, but you can restore the polish with the white of an egg.

Ink stains on linen should be soaked out in milk, and the sooner this is done the better, for, though wet ink comes out readily, it takes a good deal of soaking to remove it if it has been allowed to dry in.

When cleaning rugs or carpets, manage if possible to do it on a windy day, when the high wind will blow away the dust pounded out and decrease the amount of labor that would be necessary on a quiet day.

Beauty and Attraction.

Attraction and beauty are two very different things. Who has not seen the merely pretty woman come off a very poor second best to the plain, fascinating one? Of course magnetism and the mental qualities that fall under the heads of tact, vivacity and wit have much to do with the final fact of fascination, but it has also many other minor ingredients, powerful among them being femininity, which is in itself a complexity, a subtle perfume, delicacy of dress, hands and complexion, a careful coiffure and a hundred and one other things going to make up its alluring charm and refinement.—Ladies' Pictorial.

One Way to Treat Servants.

There is a shrewd Scotchman in New York whose management of servants is the wonder of the neighborhood. In twenty years he has never spoken to one of his domestics. If the breakfast is vile, he does not swear at the cook, but quietly leaves the table. It looks like a case of injured innocence, and the cook is duly humiliated. He never hires or allows his wife to hire a servant a second time. No sort of familiarity is tolerated. "Treat servants as you would treat common soldiers," he says. "Discipline, discipline, discipline—yet kindness and consideration."—New York Press.

The Faded Carpet.

After sweeping the carpet, rub it over with a cloth wrung out in vinegar and water, and, if possible, do not let it be walked upon until it is dry. The quantity of vinegar is a teaspoonful to a pail of warm water, and this treatment often has a wonderfully good effect in reviving the faded color of an old carpet.

Milk in an Omelet.

In making an omelet, instead of putting the usual bit of butter into the pan try a couple of spoonfuls of milk, just enough to make a thin film over the bottom of the pan, and follow with the eggs. Cook slowly. Eggs should not be cooked at a high temperature under any circumstances where they are served alone.

Where does your Heat go to?

Every stick of wood, every piece of coal contains a certain number of heat units, according to the size and quality of the stick or chunk.

Now some ranges let these heat units escape up the chimney. Heat units which go up the chimney do not heat the oven or the frying-pan. They are wasted. Every heat unit that is wasted is money lost, money burnt. The science of range building is the successful utilization of all the heat units.

The Pandora Range is the only range that utilizes all the heat units and sends none up the chimney.

You can't put your hand over the chimney when some ranges are in use, because so much heat goes up the chimney. Your hand would be burned. That is heat wasted, money wasted, time wasted, because it takes so much longer to do your work when a large part of your heat is lost.

The Pandora Range is built to keep all the heat units in the range—keeps them there till the heat is exhausted—it is the only range that does not waste heat. It uses all the heat there is in the coal or wood.

That's the kind of range you want in your kitchen—it is economical—it saves coal, wood, money, time. It makes kitchen work easy.

ELABORATE.

Faust, as presented by Porter J.
White's company at the opera house Wednesday evening, was fully up to the expectations of the large and select audience that was present.
The acting of the entire company was of the highest order, and the stage effects were perfect. The scenic and electrical display has never been surpassed in this city.
It was a magnificent spectacle with many scenes of enchantment, but the Broken scene, with the lost souls in torment, was gruesome enough to make one resolve to attend divine service every Sunday for the next year.
Faust will be presented at the Grand here on Friday, Sept. 8.

"I feel as if I should fly to pieces,"
How often those words are on a woman's lips. They express to the uttermost the nerve racked condition of the body, which makes life a daily martyrdom.
If this condition had come suddenly it would have been unbearable. But the transition was gradual. A little more strain each day on the nerves,
A little more drain each day of the vitality. Any woman would be glad to be rid of such a condition. Every woman tries to be rid of it. Thousands of such women have been cured by Dr. Pierce's treatment with his "Favorite Prescription," when local doctors had entirely failed to cure.
"Favorite Prescription" contains no
opium, cocaine or other narcotic.

who was ill with diphtheria and

ley, came to the city last night and pleaded guilty before County Po-expense she had been put to the magistrate imposed the nominal fine of $5, and costs. Hereafter the punishment will be imprisonment.

'DEATH' AT DESERONTO

Three Victims of Fatal Accidents
Within Two Days.

Young Man Falls Off a Log Boom and Is Drowned, Another Meets Similar Fate From An Excursion Steamer,
and a Third Fell Into a Ship's Hold
and Had His Neck Broken in the Fall.

Deseronto, Sept. 2.—A sad drowning accident occurred here about noon yesterday. Leo McGarrigle, a young man who has been employed in the Rathbun Co. lumber mills, during a summer vacation, and whose home is at Deseronto Junction, was killed during the noon hour, with several other young fellows. He missed his hold on a boom and as he could not swim he at once. His friends, not knowing he was drowning, sat and waited for him to come up. After several minutes had elapsed they shouted for help, and several workmen came to their aid.
The body was recovered immediately.

Deck Hand Drowned.
Thursday night a young man named Hill, a deck hand on the steamer Ni-gara, was drowned near Glen Island.
He was in the habit of swinging himself down from the deck through one of the lower windows, and it is supposed that while trying this he lost his balance and fell into the water.
Neck Broken In Fall.
Hicks Butman, a Napanee man, was killed here Thursday night. He is a laborer on the freight boat Marlan. Another boat, the Katie Eckles, was lying between the Marlan and the wharf.
Butman, in crossing this to reach the wharf, fell into the hold of the Katie Eckles and had his neck broken.

M. P. S. Son Drowned.
Montreal, Sept. 2.—Yesterday afternoon Leon Poupore, son of W. J. Pou-pore, M. P., while boating at Morrisburg, fell into the river and was drowned. He was 20 years of age, and had not finished his course at Ottawa College.

Might Have Been Worse.
Hamilton, Sept. 2.—At the Y just west of the city yesterday morning
an engine and several freight cars crashed into the 7.50 passenger train for Allandale. The freight train had broken in two. The crew got one part on a siding safely, and was coming down with the second part. The air-brake connection had been broken by the division of the train, and as the grade was steep, the engine could not hold back the cars, and then ran into the side of the passenger train. There were about 25 passengers in the car, which was thrown off the track, and badly smashed. Everybody escaped with a few cuts and bruises.

TRAIN DEMOLISHES STATION.

Rear Cars Leave Track, Causing the Death of Ten Persons.

Wilham, Eng., Sept. 2.—As the express from London to Cromer on the Great Eastern yesterday morning, several passenger cars left the track and crashed into the station buildings, causing the death of ten persons, six of whom were women, and seriously injuring twenty people.
Among the killed was the porter of the station, who was sitting in his room on the platform. He was crushed to death. Two ticket sellers were buried in the wreckage, but they escaped serious injury.

The gasometers beneath the cars
caught fire and consumed the wreckage, but fortunately all the bodies were removed before the flames gained headway. It was the rear cars that left the track, the engine and front cars
remaining on the rails.

Toronto Woman Injured.
London, Sept. 2.—(C. A. P.)—Mrs.
Ingham, Lansdowne avenue, Parkside, Toronto, was seriously injured, but not seriously injured, in the wreck of the Cromer express on the Great Eastern Railway, in which ten persons were killed.

Big Fly Wheel Burst.
Pittsburg, Sept. 2.—Through the explosion of a fly wheel at the National Tuke Works in McKeesport yesterday afternoon four men were killed, another was supposed to have been blown to pieces and a number injured. They were members of a heating gang.

TWICE ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

Young Man, Suffering From Melancholia, Jumps From Steamer.

Huntsville, Sept. 2.—A young man named Stephenson, who has spent a few months on Lake of the Bay, attempted suicide by jumping from the steamer Mary L. White, opposite Norway Point. The splash attracted the attention of the boatmen, who launched a boat immediately and rescued him.
A second attempt was made just after he steamer Empress had left the portage
in the Peninsular Lake. This time Stephenson was prevented by the passengers. With him on the boat at the time was his wife, and they were bringing his mother, who is in a very dangerous condition from nervous prostration, to the hospital in Huntsville. Stephenson has been melancholy since the loss of his only child about four years ago.

More Amicable.
Paris, Sept. 2.—The French reply to the German note on the subject of Morocco was delivered to Prince Radolin, the German Ambassador yesterday.
The situation is described as being more amicable, and it remains only to fix the date and place for the international conference.

Side-Steps Montreal.
Montreal, Sept. 2.—Prince Louis of Battenberg went from Toronto to Quebec without coming to Montreal. The sailors and marines also passed through yesterday, the squadron sailing to-day.

Wife Admits Murder.
Baltimore, N. Y., Sept. 2.—The mystery surrounding the murder of James Murphy, a farmer, has been cleared up by a confession from his wife, who admits she killed him.

Lumber Yard Burned.
Quebec, Sept. 2.—Fire completely destroyed Bertrams' lumber yards yesterday morning. The loss is very heavy.

LABRADOR MISSIONS FAIL.

Observation Parties Sent to See Eclipse
By Canada and the Lick Observatory Unsuccessful.

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 2.—The Lick Astronomical Observatory expedition which went to Cartwright, Labrador, to observe the solar eclipse of Wednesday last, met with complete failure. Heavy banks of clouds obscured the heavens
during the entire period of eclipse, and the result of the attempted observations
was so unsatisfactory that the astronomers will not even attempt to develop the photographic plates which were exposed.

The report of the failure of the mission was brought here yesterday by Governor MacGregor, who had accompanied the scientists to Cartwright, and who returned here yesterday on the warship Scylla.

Fears Canada Is In Same Boat.
The Governor said he feared also that the expedition sent out by the Canadian Government, which was located at Hamilton, only about fifty miles from Cartwright, was fully as unfortunate as those from Lick.

Early morning conditions last Wednesday were very favorable for observation of the heavens, the governor said, and every preparation had been made for the work, which was to begin about 8 a. m. Before that hour, however, banks of clouds rolled up, and the whole period of totality of the eclipse was obscured.

Saw Eclipse From Egypt.
London, Sept. 2.—Prof. Wm. Joseph Russey of the Lick Observatory expedition cables to the Associated Press
from Assuan, Egypt, that the expedition executed its eclipse program as planned. The elongates were in the form of streamers of the fish-tail type,
with marked rays from the sun spot
zones, especially from the southeast limb. However, the streamers distinctly recurred. Prominences were prominent, especially those near the North Pole.
The motion of the shadow bands was determined.

WHEN TREATY IS SIGNED.

But Not Until Then Will Japan Consent to Armistice.

Portsmouth, Sept. 2.—Japan has refused to consent to the cessation of hostilities until the treaty of peace
has been signed. The Russian plenipotentiaries, accompanied by their secretaries, called on Baron Komura and Mr. Takahira shortly after noon yesterday and were in conference with them for half an hour. Japan having indicated Thursday night through their secretary that they were willing to armistice Mr. Witte supposed yesterday that he would find them ready to sign. Baron Komura explained that while his Government was ready to consent to an armistice, his instructions were that this should not take effect until after the signing of the treaty. The Japanese were insistent, and an agreement was accordingly entered into providing for an armistice
which shall take effect the moment
the treaty is signed.

It is now expected that the text of the peace treaty will be completed by tonight or Sunday.

JOHN GAMBLE INQUEST.

Horace Corfield and Caleb Poyner
Held on Murder Charge.

Stratford, Sept. 2.—Horace Corfield
and Caleb Poyner, the two survivors of the tragedy which occurred in this city Thursday, August 24, when John Gamble and Adam Seneca were murdered, are in jail awaiting trial for murder.

The jury returned a verdict last evening that John Gamble met his death as the result of injuries inflicted by an instrument in the hands
of either Adam Seneca, Caleb Poyner or Harold Corfield.

PRESS DAY AT THE FAIR.

Toronto, Sept. 2.—Press Day at the exhibition grounds was quiet and fine
with an attendance of probably 35,000.
All departments of the Fair were in full swing, and there was a grand opportunity for the journalists from all over the Province to see the exhibition under most favorable conditions.

At the directors' luncheon, Arch. Mc-
Nee, president of the Canadian Press Association, responded to the toast of
"The Press."

Judges were busy everywhere
amongst the exhibits, and the pressmen were apparently well pleased with the progress Canada is making, as shown conclusively by Toronto's exhibition.

Punish Brutality To Natives.

Paris, Sept. 2.—As a result of the investigation of Count de Brazza, the African explorer, into the charges of brutality toward natives of the French Congo, the Government announced yesterday that the two chief colonial func-tionaries, M. Gand and Toque, have been sentenced to five years' imprisonment. The charges included compelling the natives to eat a dish made of the flesh of dead relatives, and also exploding cartridges inserted in the bodies of natives.

Confesses His Crime.
Seattle, Wash., Sept. 2.—Charged with the murder of Philip H. Ross and his wife, and the burning of their saloon at Kerryston to conceal the evidences of their crime, Adam Moore, a negro, and John Dallas, who came from Louisiana have been arrested by officers of the city and county. Moore has confessed.

Ecuador's New President.
Guayaquil, Ecuador, Aug. 31.—Senor Lizardo Garcia, who was elected President of Ecuador January 11, assumed the Presidency to-day. The retiring President is Gen. Leonidas Plaza.

Winnipeg's Building Boom.
Winnipeg, Sept. 2.—The nine-million-dollar mark in building permits was passed Thursday, making a greater total than the whole of last year.

Hon. Peter White's Birthday.
Pembroke, Sept. 2.—Hon. Peter White, M. P., celebrated his 67th birthday on Wednesday. He has been in active business for 47 years.

Died at 102.
Fort Edward, N. Y., Sept. 2.—At the age of 102 Jacob Howard, a farmer, died Thursday at Greenwich.

AN IMMENSE SUCCESS

Inauguration Ceremonies of New Province of Alberta.

Lieut. Governor Bulyea Took Oath of Office In Presence of 8,000 People—
Speeches by Earl Grey, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Gilbert Parker—Sir
John Macdonald, West's Greatest Friend, Entirely Forgotten.

Edmonton, N. W. T., Sept. 2.—The inauguration ceremonies of the new Province of Alberta here yesterday were an immense success. The concert Thursday night in the rink was attended by five thousand well-dressed people, representative of Canada. The Governor-General and Sir Wilfrid Laurier were in the front, and the concert was excellent, while the keynote of Earl Grey's speech here yesterday at the ceremonies was the impression that the gatherings of Thursday night and yesterday made on him.

The town and country people were a revelation to all who saw them for the first time. The ceremonies were imposing, and yet democratic, and the Governor-General, as the representative of the King, with the regiment of Mounted Police, smartly disciplined, all on splendid mounts, red-coated, solidly, well-dressed, added a note of picturesqueness to the democratic skirted western lad.

Appreciates the West.

Earl Grey's speech was an excellent one, hitting off the incident, and its significance and showing he appreciated the west.

Governor Bulyea took the oath in front of eight thousand people. It was an oath of loyalty and to give honest government.

Sir Wilfrid made one of his characteristic and eloquent speeches, conveying no special message, but pleasing the people.

Sir Gilbert Parker also spoke with good phrasing.
The review of Mounted Police was a high-class spectacle, the marches past and the movements at walk, trot, and gallop being well executed, and the people cheering enthusiastically. The ceremonies took place on the Fair grounds in a beautiful plain in the valley of the Saskatchewan in front of the town, under most beautiful weather conditions. It was a great patriotic movement well carried out.
But more eloquent than all the ceremony was the apparent forgetfulness
by everyone of the man who did more for the west than any one else, who bought, founded, opened up the west, who had always confidence in it, who did all he did to it in spite of unpatriotic opposition and who was never mentioned in the whole affair. And yet
Sir John Macdonald, unseen, unheard, unmentioned was the spirit that vivified
itself most to the birthday celebration of the new Province of Alberta.

A Wondrous City.

grand ball in the evening that for style, dress, number of people and the like would surprise the east. Edmonton is a wondrous city out in the far Northwest. One hundred hours from Toronto, full of big ideas, big business and about to burst into a great development. It has as good a country about it as Toronto—that is its hope, and three great transcontinental lines are now in the hottest kind of rivalry to make it the next city to Winnipeg and nearer to Winnipeg than Calgary. It will be only sixty hours from Toronto in a few months. Among those who witnessed the ceremonies were several western Senators and
M. P.'s, and William Mackenzie, B. E.
Walker, Dr. Potts, E. A. Kemp, M. P.,
and W. F. Maclean, M. P., Toronto.
Mr. McGee, Clerk of the Privy Council, administered the oath to the new Governor. Lord Grey was attended by Col. Hanbury Williams and Capt. Newton. Capt. French, Mounted Police, acted as aide de camp to Governor Bulyea.

FEEDING FACTS

In ordinary feeding the steer consumes about 34 of its ordinary feed; the balance is undigested or wasted.

This undigested balance can be made to give 1/2 to 1 lb. extra gain per day, and at a profit, by adding the "salt, pepper, and gravy"
to its food to make it "tasty."

You like these on your own food; why not the animal.

Like ourselves the animal longs for a
"tasty" meal.

It starts the "mouth watering" before eating, and the stomach fills with digestive fluids
to thoroughly dissolve the food.

This extra amount of digestive fluid dissolves an extra amount of food. This is where the extra gain comes in.

AROUND THE COUNCIL TABLE WITH MARION HARLAND

Sour Milk for Ink Stains

I DO hope I can help "B. E." get the "ink out." Last summer my own little daughter tipped over an ink bottle on a "brand new" red percale dress. Her heart was broken! We tried sweet milk with little result, and then I had an inspiration—and a quart of thick sour milk. I put it—the ink spot—to soak in one pint, which in the course of a few hours, was black; then soaked it again in the remaining pint, which removed every sign of ink and left the color as bright as ever.

I do want so much to write a letter to that "empty drawer" for I am an interested mother of four, and should have loved to have six or eight. My children have been the best paying investment I ever made, to put it self-ishly. To me they are the best "worth while" of anything I know.

Some time I am going to send some original recipes made by my husband, who has a tad for cooking and has made some things that are fine.

K. S. H. (Chicago).

A Polish That Cleans

I SHOULD like to ask you what I could use to polish my oak furniture that would clean it at the same time. Soap and water takes the polish off, and linseed oil, the odor stays with it so long.

A. B. H. (Missouri).

AN EXCELLENT POLISH FOR

furniture is crude linseed oil, two parts; spirits of turpentine, one part, adding a tablespoonful of salt to each gallon of the mixture. Shake into an "emulsion," apply with a soft flannel cloth. Leave it on for an hour before polishing with a chamol skin. The smell leaves it in a few hours.

Begin Dinner With Soup

DO YOU always serve soup at dinner, and how many vegetables should be served?

2. Is it permissible at an ordinary home luncheon to place the dessert upon the table with the rest of the meal, or should it be served separately?

3. When friends are visiting one what additions, if any, should be made to the family menu?

LEARNER (Colorado).

1. A WITTY EPICURE HAS CALLED a dinner without soup "an acapulous meal." That is, one lacking a head. When you can do it conveniently, begin the family dinner with a soup, and study to make it good. Instead of washes, look and taste like dishwater, digestion with appetite. Soup, two vegetables, meat or fish, with a sweet dish or fruit, followed by a small cup of black coffee, make a respectable family dinner.

2. The actual presence of the sweet course takes the edge from the appetite. And even if you are your own waitress, the table should be cleared and crumbed after meat and vegetables have been removed.

3. A salad with crackers and cheese, and perhaps an extra dish of fruit and a glass dish of olives, or salted nuts, in some sort convey the idea that you wish to honor the guest.

THIS IS THE SORT OF LETTER

that warms the "verra cockles of the heart," as our Scotsman says. I thank the whole-souled woman for her cordial endorsement of my oft-repeated assertion that no other investment pays as children recompense parents for what they have cost them. Each pays for itself with the first cry that greets the mother's ears, and from that hour goes on rolling up and compensating interest.

"Children are a heritage from the Lord"—"Happy is the man who has his quiver full of them,"—are inspired deliverances that never lose force and beauty.

By all means, let us have John's "original recipes."

A Recipe Asked For

WOULD you kindly publish, if convenient, a recipe for making honeycomb candy? It is similar to cream candy, but is very brittle and delicate. I very greatly appreciate any information as to the same.

READER.

I FANCY IT IS MADE LIKE SUGAR candy, but it is pulled white after being stirred after cooking. Sugar is dissolved to granulation and also to brittleness.

Will some one let us have the exact recipe?

To Remove Oil Spots

WILL you please tell me through your column how to remove a spot made by sweet oil from an ingrain rug?

And in return for the very useful hints I have obtained from your department I send a recipe for a very good cake requiring but one egg:

One-half cup of butter, one cup of sugar, one egg, one cup of sweet milk, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, and two cups of flour. I find it better to use just a little more flour.

Mrs. J. E. N. (Maywood, Ill.).

Chicken Salad

ONE of the recipes most often asked for by readers of this page is "chicken salad." Here is one sent in by a New England contributor which has all the earmarks of being tried and true!

One of the best ways of making chicken salad is to boil the fowls slowly in rich chicken stock until tender, then let them remain in it until quite cold, which will prevent the meat from becoming too dry. Separate the meat nicely and cut into pieces about one-quarter inch square. Use only white and tender pieces of celery, cut into much smaller pieces than the chicken. One-half chicken to one-half celery is a good proportion, but that is largely a matter of taste. If a rich salad is wanted, mix a little thin mayonnaise with the chicken, and set away to get very cold. When ready, serve on a cold platter, with crisp and tender lettuce leaves. Garnishings of hard-boiled eggs, pickled beets, stoned olives and capers may be used—separately seems to be the neater way—but, if preferred, they may be served on the same platter with the salad. Little davoring will be needed with this salad, as boiling in the flavored stock is sufficient.

M. B. B. (Leominster, Mass.).

WHOLE SOME ENJOYMENT

Reflect for a moment what it is for an American-born business man to think of nothing, with the open heavens above him, sweet airs wafting over him, the chirp of free birds and the laughter of his joyous children in his ear! He is not making money for that hour, but he is

"Oh! that we two were Maying
Down the stream of the soft spring breeze!
Like children with violets playing
In the shade of the tapering trees."

SO SINGS the English poet, with the scent of the Hawthorn hedges in his imagination—the stilling, roaring town expressing his senses. The perpetual miracle of spring-time awakens in people who talk, write and live prose, unuttered longings for country sounds, country sights and country smells. As a nation we Americans are just learning to spell vacation, after the Squeersian fashion. And when we, too, "know this out of book, we go and do it"—or we think we do. To nine hundred and ninety-seven out of every thousand, "Vacation" means a dead stop in the routine of our daily living, for one, two or four weeks in the hottest season of the year, and "going somewhere." If that daily living be very plain as to externals and monotonous as to mental exercises, the "outing" is probably to the gayest "resort" of which the pleasure-seeker has any knowledge. There he or she tarries, an unconsidered looker-on, as long as the money allotted for leisure holds out. Then—back into harness for another eleven months and a half!

We take ourselves and all connected with us too seriously. We set for ourselves tasks too long and too heavy. Our Teutonic, Gallic and Latin immigrants could give us profitable lessons in the art of taking duty in broken doses, and diversifying by breathing spells the long pulls, the strong pulls and the pulls all together for which we are noted.

A HOLIDAY EACH MONTH

I think sometimes that Benjamin Franklin was the truest exponent of the typical American spirit our country has yet produced. He took to the strenuous life early. His proposed grace over the whole barrel is a representative anecdote. We compress our merrymaking into tabloids and swallow them periodically. May invites and June woos in vain. Vacation, as a business, has its season. Rich people can take liberties with rules, and play when the humor seizes them. Men and women who have their living to make cannot interrupt the grind.

That a holiday once a month, even if it be dressed with uncongenial mercies, would make the grind easier, and brace the back to carry the burden jauntily, does not enter into the working man's calculations. A Sunday off, now and then, he may indulge in, if he be a non-church-goer. Otherwise, he stands in his shirt-tails, in the groove of the grind. Holidays are too costly for poor folks. As a people we know not of cheap pleasure-taking.

To such sober-minded citizens the family picnic may not commend itself, unless they are caught young by the attractions of what I shall try, to the best of my humble ability, to set before flat-dweller and cottager as a delight within the reach of the poor in purse and reasonable in desire.

Saturday is the most approved day for family excursions, if the occasion has been foreseen and provided for. If the father be his own master, he can pack and accommodate work to leave part of the day free. The mother can do the same. The hardest student among the children has what the much-courted fopling in "Patience" stipulated for—"the usual half-holiday."

AN UNCONVENTIONAL FAMILY

Throwing American traditions to the winds, and forgetting Poor Richard for six hours, set we forth with the unconventional family after a 12 o'clock luncheon, for the actual country of the shortest route. Each of the party, the weest tot not excepted, has a basket or a paper box. The eldest boy or biggest girl has also a shawl strap, the purport of which will be discovered by and by. The destination of the happy crew, decided upon weeks ago, is a secluded grove or shady meadow so near town that little time is lost in reaching it. There must be grass, and wild flowers grow in the grass; trees and birds and squirrels haunt the branches. Water within easy distance is an absolute necessity. Whatever else was left at home, be sure a box of fish-hooks and a coil of twine form a part of each boy's outfit. If an unwary shiner or a brainless perch reward three hours' patient fishing, it will be evanescent, stuck on a stick and crisped in the smoke of the camp-fire kindled upon the edge of the picnic grounds.

Mamma has brought the magazine she had no time to read at home. The shawl is taken from the strap and spread upon the softest turf where a treebole will support her back; papa stretches his lazy length of limb upon the ground near her, and his head supported by his crossed arms, looks up through green boughs at the blue sky and thinks (consciously) of nothing.

Reflect for a moment what it is for an American-born business man to think of nothing, with the open heavens above him, sweet airs wafting over him, the chirp of free birds and the laughter of his joyous children in his ear! He is not making money for that hour, but he is laying in health and happiness, with a store of pleasant memories for the busy weeks beyond the half holiday.

The children spread the cloth, which was the nucleus of the strapped bundle. Supervised by the mother, they unpack and arrange upon the cloth the contents of boxes and baskets—sandwiches, cakes, hard-boiled eggs, fruit and bonbons, chatting like magpies as they bustle over the pleasing task. There are bottles of milk and lemonade, and for the parents, ginger ale, all cooled in the shade of the brook, or in the spring.

A little later in the season there will be berries and gayer wild flowers than the "innocents," anemones and wood violets, withering in the hot and grimy little hands that bear them homeward as the sun touches the tops of the trees. And yet later, nuts in hedge-row and wood, and wild apples to be had for the climbing and picking, and

"On the hill the golden rod,
And the aster in the wood,
And the yellow sunflower by the brook."

Always there will be wholesome enjoyment, the simple delights—exquisite as simple—of face-to-face communion with nature. The blessed old mother takes young and old lovingly to her bosom; now, as in the very oldest days of myth and parable, we, too, arise refreshed from contact with her teeming heart—the same now and for all time.

Our next talk will be upon THE NEIGHBORHOOD PICNIC, with directions for the conduct of the same, including recipes for portable delicacies.

For the one hot dish

The thought has occurred to me that there are hundreds of others situated as I am, not able to spend $500 a year on the table, in one sense of the word. In another, were all materials used kept strict account of, they would be found to amount to the same thing. I have reference to those living in small towns or suburbs of larger, who not only have a garden, but fruit in abundance, keep a few chickens, a cow for milk, butter and cream. Many keep a pig, which, when killed and properly taken care of, will supply an ordinary family with lard, bacon, ham, sausage and fresh pork. I have taken it for granted that all such housekeepers have made the most of their opportunities, have canned and dried vegetables and fruit in season, and have also packed several dozen eggs for winter use. We will go no farther than poultry, chicken yard and cellar, even at this time of the year. All fruit used, with the exception of prunes, is either canned or cellar stored; all vegetables the same, and all meat, butter, eggs, milk and cream home product. The pieplant sauce will be found beneficial at this time of year.

For the halved brown potatoes, boil potatoes in their jackets the day previous to using, peel, cut in halves and brown in bacon drippings.

POTATO SALAD—Six cold boiled potatoes, three hard-boiled eggs, one onion. Chop fine. Add one-half teaspoonful of salt, dash of pepper, one tablespoonful of prepared mustard, and toss all together lightly with one-half cup of sweet cream. This is delicious.

For the succotash use one cup of home-dried corn and one cup of beans—soaked and cooked.

CURRENT ROLLS—Use any good baking powder biscuit recipe, adding just before mixing one-half cup of well-cleaned currants. Roll to one-half inch thickness, spread with butter, sugar and cinnamon. Roll up, cut in thin rounds and bake a light brown.

DUCHESS SOUP—Place one quart of milk in a double boiler on stove. Add one slice each of onion and carrot. Simmer gently one-half hour. Strain, return to fire and add one tablespoonful of butter blended with one tablespoonful of flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt and dash of pepper. Cook just a minute, remove from fire and pour over one well-beaten egg. Serve at once. Easily prepared and very nutritious.

PRUNE TAPIoca—Soak twelve large prunes in three cups of water for a day. Drain from water, slip out stones and cut the prunes in halves. To the water add one-half cup minute tapioca. Place on stove and cook until clear, add scant half cup of sugar and juice of one-quarter lemon. Remove from fire, add prunes and mould.

To be eaten cold with cream, either plain or whipped.

Original and very dainty.
Mrs. F. W. D. (Wyoming, Ill.).

PICTURE POST CARDS.

One of the most notable of recent features in connection with the postal service is the marvellous development of the picture post card.

The plan of printing local views upon such missives received its impetus when the private post card with stamp attached, became allowed and became then the wave has swept over every civilized country.

For example the annual report of the British Postmaster-General just issued, shows a total issue of post-cards for the year of 724,500,000, an increase of 20 per cent, and 80 per cent of such cards were privately printed and most of them picture cards. To such an extent does the craze exist in the United Kingdom that letters have decreased one-half per cent.

The same kind of story comes from all lands and from all centres. In Bradford, for example, one bookseller alone reports the sale of 42,500 such cards in nineteen and a half months and similar reports come from everywhere.

"A fad" some people may say, and one which will run itself out in two or three years. In reality it is not altogether certain that this will be the case. That the custom will be maintained to the present strenuous extent is of course unlikely, but the picture card has two elements of popularity which seem liable to make it a steady feature for all time to come. In the first place it appeals to children, much more than any prosaic epistle can do. In the second place it enables those who are travelling to easily and pleasantly remember themselves to their friends, without the bother of letter writing.

Taking one consideration with another it seems altogether likely that the picture post card is here to stay.

CANADIAN MORALITY.

In our zeal for our country we are wont to call for Canada a moral atmosphere superior to that of any other country, and especially that of the United States. While as individuals we would be loath to boast of our superior virtue, as a nation we feel we are quite in line in making the claim.

The Hon. J. W. Longley, in an able article in the current number of the Canadian Magazine, questions the contention of Canadians. We quote from the article:

"What about the moral fibre of these six millions of Canadians? What of their religious tendencies? The ordinary man will say, surely Canada is a moral country, as moral at all events as any other country on the globe; and as for religion we are not a religious people. Does not a church stand in every hamlet; and are not churches multiplied in every village, town and city in this wide dominion? Certainly, all these things are true, and yet I am going to venture, at the risk of unpopularity to suggest, that the moral fibre of Canada is not up to the ideal standard, and that the religion of the Canadian people, in common with the religion of the rest of the English-speaking world, is to a very large extent the outgrowth of a perfunctory system, which, while it utters the formulas, is in large measure destitute of the vital principles of a religion which recognizes God, eternity and immortality, as the great supreme considerations of human beings.

"Let us deal for a little with morals. The usual definition of morality is the conforming from day to day to the usages and customs of civilized life; obeying the law, paying one's debts, and assisting to secure peace and order in the community. All these are good and essential. But is there not another, a higher and an ideal morality to be sought after, to be grasped, to be attained? The ideal morality is that derived from the overshadowing principle of love or self-forgetfulness. A morality which derives its force by prompting each individual to seek not the interest of the individual, but the interest of others, the interest of the world at large. And such a morality in Canada we have not, and what is worse, the tendency of the general thoughts, views and impulses of the people is not only not to recognize such a morality, but to regard the man who ventures to illustrate it as a hopeless and unspeakable lunatic."

No sensible Canadian would maintain for a moment that the moral fibre of Canadians is up to the ideal standard. The "ideal" standard is not to be found anywhere in real life. Ideals are goals which when approximately attained, move on, so that they are always in the distance, though we fail in the attainment of

BABY'S AWFUL ITCHING ECZEMA

Sores and Scales All Over Face and Body—Could Not Tell What She Looked Like—Unable to Sleep—Grew Worse Under Doctors.

CURED BY CUTICURA IN ONE MONTH

A grateful mother, in the following letter, tells of her of those marvellous cures by Cuticura: "When my baby was four months old her skin broke out with a humour. I took her to a doctor, who treated her for eczema, but she kept getting worse. Her little face and body were so covered with sores and large scales you could not tell what she looked like. No child ever had a worse case. Her face was being eaten away, and even her finger nails fell off. It itched so she could not sleep, and for many weary nights we could get no rest. At last we got Cuticura Soap and Ointment, first bathing her in warm water with the Soap, and then spreading on the Ointment with soft cloths. I saw a change in a week. The sores began to heal, and she could sleep at night, and in one month she had not one sore on her face or body. Any mother having children with eczema or humours will find a friend in Cuticura Soap and Ointment. (signed) Mrs. Mary Sanders, 709 Spring Street, Camden, N. J., Aug. 14, 1904."

INSTANT RELIEF For Baby and Rest for Tired, and Fretted Mothers

The foregoing statement justifies the oft-repeated assertion that Cuticura Soap and Ointment afford instant relief, and permit sleep for baby and rest for tired mothers, and point to speedy, permanent, and economical cure in the most torturing, disfiguring, itching, bleeding, scaly, and crusty skin and scalp humours of infancy and age, when all else fails.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are sold throughout the world. Depot: London, 22, Chancery Lane, E. C. 4, England. Sole Proprietors, J. C. F. & Co., Ltd., 10, Abchurch Lane, London, E. C. 4, England.

NO SAFETY-VALVE IN THIS PIE.

A huckleberry pie that had been baked without any air holes in the top crust exploded when it was placed on the table in a Paterson, N. J., boarding house a few days ago, and several people were badly injured. There should be drastic legislation providing for air holes in boarding house pie.

AMERICAN DIVORCES.

Everybody's Magazine. The American habit of leading the procession is capable of being carried to excess. The divorce rate in the United States at present is 612 divorces for every 10,000 marriages. Some cynics may think that this is not too much, but most of those who would not admit impediment to the quick separation of persons who desire better terminal facilities for marriage must admit that it is a little peculiar that the divorce rate in the United States should be so much greater than it is in other countries. Germany lags pitifully with a rate of 165; France can show only 80; while 165, France can show only 80; Switzerland, with 422, does very well for herself. But the proud pre-eminence of the United States for sudden severing of the marriage tie seems likely to be maintained, and even increased.

WHERE GOLDWIN SMITH IS POPULAR.

Pittsburg Dispatch. The Cornell campus is crowded with memories of Goldwin Smith. One of the finest structures on the University hill is named in his honor. A pretty path skirts the edge of Caspary creek for several miles. His presence as Goldwin Smith walk. His knowledge at Ithaca, in the early days of the university, had much to do with the popularity that immediately gained as an institution of learning. The victories of the Cornell crews upon the water completed the fame of Cornell on the Hill. That Goldwin Smith will "live to be the last leaf on the tree" is the wish of every man who has sat under him in the lecture room. He may never succeed in uniting Canada to the United States, but he has already gained the love and affection of the vast majority of the American people.

Duty and pleasure are no more related than a wheelbarrow and an automobile.

Have submitted Galt Sure Grip Shingles to every practical test, and have not found them wanting in a single instance.

These shingles lock together so strongly and surely that when applied to any roof they become in reality one sheet not a number of individual shingles nailed to the roof.

They are absolutely wind, water, storm, lightning and fire proof; are easier laid than any other shingle, metal or wood, and require less expert knowledge to lay them.

Illustrated catalogue and all information for a postal card, addressed to The Canada Shingle Co., Ltd., 100, Queen St. W., Toronto.

Western Fair

THE EXHIBITION THAT MADE FALL AGRICULTURAL FAIRS POPULAR

When Governor Simcoe laid the foundation of London, Ontario, one hundred years ago he knew it would grow to be a great city, but had no thought of the Western Fair.

The Western Fair gives the people of this country an excellent opportunity for a pleasant outing at a minimum of cost, and at the same time develops their store of practical and useful knowledge.

Its educational features have always been carefully fostered by the Directors. This year several important improvements of an instructive nature have been added.

The celebrated 1st Highland Regiment Band will give three concerts daily during the exhibition. The entertainment department will be better than ever, and will include keeping the gap in mid air on a steam automobile.

DIVINE CALL OF LOVE

FINDS THE LUKEWARM IN RELIGION HARD TO REACH.

THE CHURCH AT LAODICEA

Outward Appearance Reasonably Fair, But Not One of the Seven Churches in Asia Was More Excoriated Than This Church For Systematic Indifference—Modern Laodiceans of Lukewarm Christianity.

Entered according to Act of Parliament of Canada, in the year 1905, by Frederick Dyer, of Toronto, at the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 27.—In this sermon the preacher takes to task the lukewarm indifference of professors of religion and shows the evil results of their example in social and business life. The text is Revelation iii, 15, "I would that thou wert cold or hot." "God is love," the Bible declares it. "Whether the divine Father's children are saints or sinners they are still enshrined in His parental affections. God's love is like unto that of the earthly parent who one day overheard his little girl saying to her brother, 'Now, Charley, be a good boy or papa will not love you.' With that, the father answered: 'No, Nellie, you must not tell your brother that. I do not love you children because you are good or bad, because you are my children. When you are good, then you make me very happy. When you are bad, then you make me very sad. But I still love you just the same.' God loves his prodigals, though they are prodigals, but he loves his saints with a delighted joy.

But, though God loves all his children, there is one class about whom he is especially concerned. As the fathered mother four or five times during the night lights her lamp and goes to look at the little sick patient and to feel the brow of the fevered child, God again and again turns his anxious eyes toward certain of his wayward ones. And where do you think these divine eyes are most pleadingly looking? Toward the social outcasts? Oh, no! Toward the drunkards who are staggering and hiccupping toward their filthy tenements in Asia, there are the murderers in the criminal code about to be tried for their lives? No. Toward the thief who in the evening hours knocks down the pedestrian or toward the sneak who with his dark lantern is making his way through the cellars of the bank he intends to rob? No, no, no. These sinners by the very enormity of their crimes may be led to the mercy seat if we only get on our feet in the right way. God's most yearning looks are not turned toward those who are in open rebellion against his name, but toward those who are chronically and systematically indifferent. Those who are simply negative in Asia, there are of love are harder to reach than those who deride God or curse him. Can you make any other deduction than this from Christ's message to the church members at Laodicea? Of all the seven churches in Asia, there was not one more excoriated in Revelation than was this church. Of all the eastern churches there was not one from outside appearance whose transgressions were not more heinous than those of the modern Laodiceans; these sinners of lukewarm Christianity and tepid morality, at a distance can be likened to a beautifully polished mahogany or rosewood table. To the casual observer it seems to be worth almost its weight in gold, but when you closely examine the same you find it is simply veneered with rosewood or mahogany, cut as thin as paper. They are like contrary winds, tantalizing the sea captain because near the equator. Here it is a little puff of wind, yonder it is a little puff, off to the west is another little puff. All these little puffs come from different directions. But before the ship's sail can be trimmed and filled, like the cheeks of a schoolboy blowing soap bubbles, these puffs of wind die away and the ship's keel moves not. They are like people of shallow Christian experience whom Christ describes under the figure of grain growing on stony ground which, on account of the scarcity of soil covering the roots, dies before the meridian has been reached by the sun in the heavens. Now, the purpose of this sermon is to describe some of the causes of the languid condition of these modern Laodiceans. I am not to-day going to preach to the great sinners or to the great saints, but to those who are simply lukewarm or negative or apathetically indifferent to God's love and God's commandments. May God help me to move some out of their sinful lethargy. May he fire with holy zeal the lukewarm hearts of our modern Laodiceans, whom Christ denounces with God's bitterest contempt and scorn and opprobrium.

The appalling negativeness of my text can well be applied, in the first place, to those of weak kneed theology. It can be applied to those who cannot quite make up their minds whether Christ is God or a very good man, whether Christ is the only begotten Son of the Father, or merely one of many different manifestations of God's love of whom Mohammed and Confucius and Buddha and Vishnu are other manifestations and almost as good. With the old southern mammy's sympathy. When her young mistress's little child died and the frantic mother thought her daughter was lost forever, the old slave said: "Honey, darlin', ye ain't right. Dar's a dreadful mistake somewhere. Why, de Lord ain't like what ye think. He loves ye, honey. Why, jes see how I loves ye, an' I would n't hater him as made me. Dar jes ain't but one thing to come to, an' dat ar's Jesus. Jes' come right down to whar dis pore old darky has to stay allers. It's a good place, darlin'. Look right at Jesus. Dar's a God ye can kneed theology can't look at Jesus and love him like that, but the trouble is that is not the place to stop. They go a little further and still a little further and say, 'Jesus is so good that he saves us whether we love and honor him or not.'"

No sinner was ever saved from eternal death except by the divine atonement. Now, my friends, it is about time for some of you to stiffen up the backbone of your theology. It is about time for some of us to realize that only the blood of Jesus Christ can cleanse us as white as the driven snow. There is a stream in Corsica called the river Restonica, which has the remarkable power of turning white everything which is dropped into its clear waters. The cane which falls from your hand into it becomes a white stick. The watch which slips out of your pocket into it becomes a white metal. A traveler tells us that an iron bar dropped into those waters and once becomes as white as a silver scepter. So every one who is really cleansed by Christ's blood becomes, as in the river Restonica, white as the driven snow. But, mark you, as the old southern mammy said, "It is only by looking to Jesus, who is a God to love," that you and I can become purged and cleansed and washed until we become whiter than snow. It is surely time for some of us to centre our hopes upon the cross, which alone can save us from eternal death.

Many years ago the British Admiralty sent the man-of-war Thetis to Mediterranean waters to hunt up a leak in the reef or bank that had been reported by some fishermen. The vessel sailed back and forth without being able to locate the dangerous reef. The captain returned to England and declared no such reef existed, but the first lieutenant of the Thetis thought differently. He begged the privilege of continuing the investigation. He labored on until at last he located those rocks, and was promoted for the service he had done in the world's shipping. The old captain of the Thetis obstinately declared that these rocks were purely chimerical and never existed. "If I ever go near their supposed site I shall sail over them and prove I am right," said he. A few months later the Thetis was conveying the British Ambassador to the city of Naples. One stormy night the captain found that he was near this supposed reef. He heard a deep growl and he said, "Now, I will prove that this is not a fabricator!" The ship sailed on for a few hours, then came to grating sound of shallow water, then a crash! The Thetis was a helpless wreck. Meet of the crew were saved, but the foolish captain would not allow himself to be saved, to meet certain disgrace. "He perished," said Dr. Stoughton, "a victim to his own unbending pride. Thousands upon thousands of immortal souls will perish on account of their lukewarm acceptance of the Cross. They are not directly enemies of Jesus Christ. They belong to what is called the liberal order of Christians, that Christ died, that Christ rose again from the dead, but they do not believe that Christ is the only begotten Son of God and the only way of eternal life. And 'Except ye believe that I have died and risen again, ye shall perish.' The Bible distinctly declares the necessity of believing in Christ as a Saviour and in Christ alone.

But we also find these modern Laodiceans wonderfully negative in reference to their business principles. Every Sunday morning they may be found vending their way to their church pews. Every Wednesday evening they may attend the midweek prayer meeting. But the way they act inside the church and outside of the church may have no more similarity than the nature of a striped furred leopard can be compared to a affectionate whinny of the Shetland pony whom your children are petting at the barn door. Now, I am not asserting that these modern Laodiceans have no business principles. I am not asserting that these men are any worse than their business associates, but I do assert that they will be just as dishonest as they can be in their financial affairs and yet preserve their social respectability.

What is true of some dishonest business men is absolutely true in reference to some dishonest political candidates. I see the political strife going on in a large city. One of the parties has fallen into such disrepute that in order to win at the polls its leaders decide to nominate as a candidate one who is not of their kind. So they go and offer the nomination to a well known Christian church member. Nine cases out of ten what does that nominee do? Does he go to the polls and bribe voters? Oh, no. That would not be honest. But he does commit a crime in the sight of God which is just as heinous. Instead of looking out first for an honest election he becomes a modern political Laodicean. He shuts his eyes to the dishonesties that are being done in his name. He says, "I am not responsible because I simply remain silent at this political corruption." Now, my friends, these teachings of my text practically mean this. A man must be positively honest in all his financial dealings. He must be positively honest in seeing that all those who work in his name are acting honestly, else God will have none of him. Mere negative respectability in God's sight does not measure up to his standard.

I find, too, that the appalling spiritual negativeness of the modern Laodicean is most frequently demonstrated in man's relation to the amusement question. Where there is one lukewarm Christian who will dishonor Christ in his financial dealings there are five, ten, fifteen or even twenty who will dishonor him when the day's work is done or when out on a summer vacation. And the amusement sins of the American Laodicean at home are as nothing compared to those of the Laodicean's sins when they are traveling in Europe or Asia or in Africa or in any foreign land. Let me illustrate my thought to you in a practical way. We are American tourists in Spain, or, bringing the statement a little closer home, in Mexico. Sunday morning has rolled around. What are you going to do? Will you attend the Protestant Church, as you would do it at home? "No," you say, "I guess not. I have tickets for the bullfight. One of the finest matadors in the world is going to fight to-day. I will never get another chance to see him."

What if you do not get another chance? Ought you to go and see one of the most brutal exhibitions in the world, where men and horses are often horribly mangled? Because other people do wrong in Spain and Mexico, can you afford to do wrong on the question of your vacation amusement? Sunday at home comes around. The communion of the Lord's Supper is to be celebrated at your church. A party of friends is going down to the beach. What are you going to do? Stay away and go to church, as you ought, or go off on Sabbath day recreation? I know of an elder of one of the largest Presbyterian churches of the west not only staying away from church on the Sabbath day, but when the members of his church were assembling for communion he rode past that church on the top of a trolley to take some of his eastern friends out to see the city sights. As a church officer, do you ever sin thus? Wednesday evening comes around. It is prayer meeting night. A card party or a dance is to be given the same evening. Which will you choose to attend? These illustrations are not imaginary. These conditions meet us as church members almost every month of our lives. In deciding how we shall solve the amusement question, nearly all of us decide whether we will be positive Christians or negative modern Laodiceans, cursed by a lukewarm allegiance to God.

Lastly, I remark that the lukewarm Christianity of our modern Laodiceans is demonstrated in reference to the professed disciples of Jesus Christ, neglecting to win their brethren from their sins. If the negative Christians are spending an evening with a party of friends, they may not tell the least story themselves, but they will not rebuke that story when they hear some one else telling it. If they see another travelling the crowded paths of sin, they may not follow, but they do not go forth and as a Christian friend say: "Brother, this is not the way to Christ. Let me lead you into the right path." In other words, in their friendship to Christ they are like a chameleon—changing their colors to suit their surroundings.

The religion of these modern Laodiceans is like the wavering friendship of Marie Louise, one of the most contemptible characters of all history. The second wife of Napoleon Bonaparte clung to no one. She had a heart of putty. As soon as she left her father's palace she forgot her father, her brothers and sisters and her step-mother. When her husband was threatened, Napoleon Bonaparte at once passed out of her life. She had no further use for him and almost immediately formed an affection for Count Neipperg, one of Napoleon's bitterest foes. She would not write to her exiled husband, and when Napoleon returned from Elba she was in mortal terror lest her sins should find her out. When the King of Rome, her only son, was dying, his mother cared no more for him than if he had been a peasant child. When Count Neipperg died, Marie Louise almost at once formed a sinful alliance with another member of the Austrian court. Her heart seemed to have turned from a heart of putty to one of stone. Her affections were in the waters of the shallows of brooks, which could gurgle and smile no matter what sun shone upon them. Her loving power was as dead as is the heart of a dried up mummy which has been buried a thousand years in one of the Egyptian pyramids and is now put under a glass case in the Cairo museum. So with some of us like Marie

THE LEEHING, MILLS CO., Limited, MONTREAL.

Louise, we smile on God when we are with God; we smile on God's enemies when we are with God's enemies. We are never God's true, firm disciples. We never uphold him. We never fight for him. We are never ready to die for him as Christ died for us. Oh, that we might be faithful to God in rebuking the sins of others as well as true to him in reference to the personal actions of our own lives!

Would that we might be as true to God's love in every way as Dr. Joseph Leidy, the great naturalist, was true in his noble affection for dumb brutes. Some years ago Dr. Leidy was lecturing on natural history to the students of Swarthmore College, about ten miles out of Philadelphia, where he lived. He was lecturing on the subject he took into the classroom these little mud turtles out of a nearby pond. After the lecture he looked these little turtles up in his laboratory, intending to turn them loose next day. That night Dr. Leidy was summoned to Germany by a telegram. He had to catch the early boat for New York next morning. There was no train out that night to the college town. So, rather than let his little friends, the mud turtles, starve to death in the closest of walls, he only had the key. Dr. Leidy walked over the Pennsylvania hills to the college town and then walked back and caught the early morning train for New York. "Ah," said he to the college janitor, "I could not go away without my mud turtles, and think of those little turtles starving to death in my closet."

"A little thing," you say. Yes, it was a little act, but it was a noble act. It showed a heart that was true. It showed our love to Christ being demonstrated. May it be a positive love. May we be true to him in our pleasures. Last, but not least, may we be true to Christ in rebuking sin wherever it is found. In our rebuking, may we strive to lead the sinner into the spirit of Christ's sacrifice.

AGONY AFTER EATING

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cure the Worst Cases of Indigestion.

"I suffered so much with indigestion that my life had become a burden," says Miss Nellie Archibald, of Sheet Harbor, N. S. "Every time I took even the lightest meal it caused me hours of agony. The trouble causing a choking sensation in the region of my heart, which seriously alarmed me. My inability to properly digest my food, left me so weak and run down that I could not perform even the simplest of my household duties. I would tire out in a few steps slowly. I sought medical aid and tried several medicines, but without getting the least benefit. My sister, who lived at a considerable distance, and who had been an invalid, wrote me about this time that she had been cured through using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and this decided me to give them a fair trial, practically, as a last resort. In the course of a few weeks there was a noticeable change in my condition, and I began to relish my meals. From that on I began to gain new strength, and by the time I had used seven boxes all signs of the trouble had vanished and I was once more enjoying good health, and I have not since had any return of the trouble."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are indigestion, because they make the rich red blood that brings tone and strength to the stomach. Nearly all the common ailments are due to bad blood, and when the bad blood is turned into good blood by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the trouble disappears. That is why these pills cure anemia, dizziness, heart palpitation, general debility, kidney trouble, rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, and nervous troubles, such as neuralgia, paralysis and St. Vitus dance. That way they bring ease and comfort at all stages of womanhood and girlhood, and cure their secret ailments when the blood supply becomes weak, scanty, or irregular. But you must get the genuine pills. Substitutes and imitations, which some dealers offer never cure anything. When you buy the pills see that the full name Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People is printed by all dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

DRESS AND FASHION

THE TREND OF STYLES AT ELEGANT FRENCH FUNCTIONS.

Sleeveless Jackets and Lace Coats. The Close Waistcoat—Princess Robes and Picture Hats Returning to Favor.

Admirable taste triumphs in the exquisite sleeveless tea jacket of the first cut. It is in spotted net, uniquely embroidered with gold and silver, emphasized here and there with touches of green. This is worn over a robe of net, the skirt trimmed with two flounces of lace and the full lace sleeves frilled to the elbow.

Of equal artistic inspiration with this jacket is another coat made in lace of the broad variety, to harmonize with the plume skirt which it accompanies. Medallions of lace form a panel down the front of the skirt, and lace composes an underbust whose yoke is covered with tiny ruchings.

What are technically known as garden party toilets include some of the most elaborate and charming concoctions of the season. In this style are the costumes of the second cut. A dress of green voile is trimmed with a design of grape leaves embroidered in white silk. With it is worn a high crowned hat, trimmed with fruit and feathers.

China blue linen worked with white broderie anglaise forms the second very taking costume. The coat bodice is worn with a closed vest, and a knotted scarf ends at the side.

It is indeed already predicted that the close fitting vest is to be a certain feature of the autumn styles. China and pompadour silks in the picturesque Louis effect form a waistcoat of great chic in company with a cutaway coat of dark cloth.

The dominant note of the most exclusive Paris taste appears to be the princess robe. The most costly examples of fine Parisian toilets are fashioned in a princess in white broderie anglaise and lingerie. A graceful figure shows off this style most delightfully, and it is likely to remain in favor for the new autumn modes.

Other prominent points in fashions, as gathered from the latest elegant French functions, are the richness and costliness of trimmings on the white lace and linen dresses and the marked return to large picture hats having high crowns, which now take the place of the perky, tilted shapes of the early season.

AMY VARNUM.

Ice Cream Cake.

Cream half a cup of butter. Add, gradually, one cup of fine granulated sugar, then, alternately, half a cup of milk and one cup of flour and half a cup of cornstarch, sifted with four level teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Lastly, add the stiff beaten whites of four eggs. Bake in a sheet, covered with confectioner's or boiled frosting and sprinkle with chopped pistachio nuts.—Cooking School Magazine.

Eggs With Tomato Sauce.

Put half a dozen eggs into boiling water and let them cook for twenty minutes. Then remove the shells and cut the eggs into halves lengthwise. Have ready a highly seasoned tomato sauce. Place the eggs in a dish, pour over them the sauce and place the dish over boiling water for fifteen or twenty minutes before serving.

G. T. R. Refused Injunction.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 1.—Judge Warty, in the United States Circuit Court, yesterday refused to grant a preliminary injunction enjoining the Grand Trunk Railway, enjoining its striking machinists and shop employees at Port Huron, Mich., from picketing about the company's shops, where non-union men are working. The judge, however, warned the strikers against violence and disorder.

THE HAPPINESS OF HOME.

Very largely depends on the mother's disposition; if she is animated and bright, everyone is happy; but if she is nervous, irritable and cross—everything goes wrong. Bright, cheerful women usually use Ferrozone, the greatest health-maker known. By acting through the blood, Ferrozone is able to reach all the organs that need assistance; it establishes regular and healthy action of all functions, builds up the general health, fortifies the system with a reserve of energy that defies disease. Don't put off—Ferrozone costs only 50c, at any drug store; get it to-day.

Kenora's Water Power.

Toronto, Sept. 1.—The hydro-electric commission of Ontario met yesterday and completed its report on the application of the Town of Kenora (at Portage) for the water powers of the Keweenaw river in the vicinity of the town for the purpose of developing electricity for a municipal plant. The report was presented to the Government yesterday.

TERIBLE BACK PAINS.

They fairly agonize your life. Something powerful and penetrating is needed. Doctors knew nothing so swift to relieve as Nerviline, a strong penetrating liniment made to cure just such pains as yours. Nerviline is very concentrated, about four times more powerful than ordinary liniments. In the worst cases Polson's Nerviline is extraordinarily good. All muscular pain flees before it. Nearly fifty years in use—a good recommendation, surely.

Sweden Wants Dried Apples.

London, Sept. 1.—(C. A. P.)—The Swedish Government is making offices, through Lord Strathcona's offices, a very large quantity of Canadian dried apples could supply a very large quantity. Lord Strathcona communicated with representatives of Canadian firms here, who said that if a large quantity was required now any quantity could be supplied.

LISTEN FOR THE BRONCHIAL "WHEEZE."

It means that disease will soon attack the lungs. Wheezing is threatening to the sufferer and annoying to his friends. Nothing half so certain in Bronchitis and throat trouble as "Catarrozone"; it gives instant relief and cures even the worst cases. Bronchitis fairly flees under the magic influence of "Catarrozone" which cures so thoroughly the disease never returns. Other remedies may relieve but Catarrozone cures bronchitis, catarrh and throat trouble for all time to come. Sold everywhere.

The aged spinster wonders what be the disposition of the girl who raves over a man's love expressions.

Henry Elliott, Esq., of Sherbrooke, N. S., Inspector and Supt. of Bridge Construction for Nova Scotia says: "A bottle of MINARD'S LINIMENT cured me of a very severe sprain of my leg, caused by a fall while building a bridge at Doherty Creek, Cumberland County, Nov. 17, 1893."

The man with an opinion is shunned as though he carried about him the germs of infectious disease.
