Sport Scholarships 'OK' Claims Debate

Affirmative speakers Brian Kempster and Peter Miles won a unanimous decision in the debate Thursday night on the following resolution: "This house approves of the principle of North American Athletic Scholarships." The negative team consisted of Stephen Fay and Ron Manzer.

Speaking for the affirmative, Peter Miles declared "The principle of athletic scholarships is sound. These scholarships are of intrinsic value to the individual, providing aid for needing and deserving students."

Stephen Fay, first speaker for the negative, expounded upon the corruption and cynicism associated with athletic scholarships. "If the principle is good, these faults will not remain. But we think they will. He concluded by declaring that sport has become more of an opiate than religion, and that it must remain essentially what it is... an entertainment."

Brian Kempster, second affirmative speaker, denounced misconceptions caused by sensationalism. He also pointed out that rules enforce the principle on a university level. "This enforcement is a continuous thing," he said and cited an example of a $95 000 fine on a deviant American University. Mr. Kempster also drew an analogy between the principle of democracy and the principle of athletic scholarships.

Final speaker was Ron Manzer who stated that athletics should not be bought at a university and that the purpose of the university was not to provide entertainment. "Prohibiting the true nature of the university, it is unfair to the students who have the academic ability but not the athletic ability."

The judges commended the ease of speaking and the logical arrangement of the negative speakers particularly. The debate was a preliminary one to the intercollegiate debate slated for King's College, Halifax, on January 20, when Brian Kempster and Peter Miles will again uphold the affirmative.

BOOK SALE IN GREAT HALL

The SOM Book-sale will be on campus Thurs. to Sat. in the Great Hall in the Arts Building. The book-stall will feature many works on topics ranging from philosophy to religion and will be manned by local members of the SCM.

ENGINEERS HOLD ANNUAL FORMAL; CROWN QUEEN

Upwards of 100 couples attended the Engineering Society's Formal last Friday evening in the ballroom of the Lord Beaverbrook Hotel. From 10 p.m. until 2 p.m., dancers whirled to the "heavenly" music of the Robin Robert's Orchestra from Camp Gagetown.

Highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Engineer's Queen, Esther Hoyt, by Marg McClelland, last year's Queen. Bill Paterson, President of the Engineering Society, presented the Queen with a lovely gift, and their "Highnesses" Jean Baird, Betty Farren, Carol MacPherson, and Martha Saunders, were presented with corsages.

The Decorations Committee, headed by Jean McCutcheon, created a very effective "Spring Gardens" atmosphere.

Chaperones for the event were

Jockey Conjoined By Campus Beauties

It takes no lengthy explanation to show why local disc jockey Norm Butler of CFNB agreed to MC the evening programme of entertainment during the Winter Carnival. With a delegation of faculty queens such as these for persuasion, who could refuse? The ladies surrounding the D. J. are Betty Rooke, Science; Esther Hoyt, Engineering; Chris Lloyd, Bus-Ad.; Ann Morrison, Forestry; and Ursula Rodzewicz, Arts.

Art Festival Entries

Student entries for the Art Festival are now being accepted at the Art Centre for display during the Winter Carnival and the Festival which starts on February 11. This Art Festival will also feature the noted guitarist of the N.B. Chamber Music Group, Carol Van Feggelen, and a program of folk music.

For the latest styles in togas, slave garb and dancing girls' costumes which every collegiate must see, watch for the "Streets of Pompeii" on February 16th.

Tommies Tie Opener 2-2 As Devils Dispute Shot

The UNB Red Devils opened their NB-PEI Intercollegiate Hockey Schedule with an overtime 2-2 draw against Saint Thomas College of Chatham. The hard pressed Devils, defending NB-PEI titlists, held a 2-1 lead until the final seconds of regulation time; when Tommies right winger Bryan Jones scored a hotly-disputed goal to tie the game.

Star of the game was UNB goaltender Dave Inch, putting on a one man show, kicking out the tremendous total of 46 shots. Inch consistently robbed Tommie snipers of sure goals, particularly in the third period when UNB was outshot 21-5.

The Red Men jumped into an early 2-0 lead on goals by Jake Bourque and Al Jones. The Tommies closed the gap midway through the second period on a low 20 footer by Larry Wood. The final seconds of the third period provided a dramatic climax. With UNB shorthanded St. Thomas coach Vance Toner pulled goaltender Wally Jimmo and went with six attackers. Twice UNB got off shots at an empty net that could have clinched the game, but missed the open net. At the 19:58 mark, during a large pileup in front of the UNB net, the puck was batted into the crease to give the Tommies a draw.

Netminder Inch had to be restrained by his teammates from forcibly demonstrating his opinion of the officials. Inch claimed, and undoubtedly there was a great deal of truth in his claim, that two St. Thomas players were within the confines of his crease and that the puck was batted in by a gloved hand.

RUNNYMEDE (EP)—June 15, 1215 Prince John today appointed a commission to investigate county forestry policies. The royal decree promised "restoration of all areas seized as forests in our time" and went on to promise "an investigation by twelve Knights in each county." The Knights were encouraged to investigate "all evil customs" of "foresters and warreners".

Reports from Runnymede state that the Prince did not fully agree with the content of the decree, but was persuaded into accordance by the Barons and Lords, who are said to be growing increasingly dissatisfied with the Prince John administration.

A spokesman for the E.I.F. & W. (English Institute of Foresters and Warreners) denied the practice of evil customs, insisted that the profession had a strict code of ethics to which it adhered most closely.

The president of the Nottingham local No. 12, E.I.F. & W., Mr. I. Hoppa, insisted that his membership had accomplished a great deal without government interference.

"At one of our recent meetings we voted overwhelmingly to expel from membership any person found practicing sorcery, and no sorcerer holds office in the organization to the best of my knowledge. Rumors that this labor organization is witch controlled are completely unfounded."

He went in to indicate that scientific forestry was being practiced in the forests of Nottingham, which are now being managed on a sustained yield basis. He also noted that "we will attain continuous production of galloway timber by 1230, and expect to be able to meet total county demands by that time."

An interview with Sir I. Lookalot, who has headed numerous commissions with great success, revealed that perhaps an investigation was wisely called for. In an exclusive roundtable interview Sir Lookalot explained that "in my opinion forestry practices in this and other counties are badly in need of investigation. There seems to be considerable evidence in support of suspicions that the E.I.F. & W. is under witch control, and many of us question the right of foresters to supplement their income acting as highwaymen. The E.I.H. (English Institute of Highwaymen) has complained bitterly of infringement upon their rights, and the president of the Nottingham Forest local of that group, a Mr. R. Hood, has launched a bitter complaint. "I only hope that this investigation can do something to rectify the wrongs that we are certain to find," he concluded.

WHERE IS MAC ?

One of the most faithful columnists to produce copy for last term's Brunswickan was the mysterious character known simply as "MAC".

He has failed to make an appearance since the Brunswickan resumed publication after Christmas. Could it possibly be that MAC is one of those students who was asked to leave following the Christmas Exams? On the assumption that he is not, his picture is shown here with the hopes that someone may have seen him — on or off the campus.

MAC has gained a reputation for his controversial column. There are many students who probably breathe sighs of relief when they note his absence, however, for the few who may be interested, please give a hand in the search for MAC.

NEW SAPS MEET TONIGHT

The Sociology, Anthropology and Psychology Society — better remembered as SAP Society — is one of the newest organizations to appear on the campus.

The new society was formed last fall by professors and students, particularly interested in the subjects concerned. Barbara Pepperdene is chairman of the committee which includes Professor T. F. S. McFeat and Charlene Hallett.

SAPS will hold monthly meetings which will feature panels, discussions, guest speakers, and also occasional field trips. The next meeting will be held this evening in the New Lounge of the Student Centre at 4.45 p.m. The meeting will highlight a discussion on "Postgraduate Study — How, Why, When, Where".

MODEL PARLIAMENT PLANNED BY TORIES

The Progressive Conservative Club held its first meeting of the spring term last Tuesday. First on the agenda was a discussion of the plans of the Tories for a Model Parliament. David Covert, third year Arts student, was named chairman of a committee of three to meet with representatives of other parties wishing to participate in the Parliament.

The P.C.'s also heard an address by the Hon. R. G. L. Fairweather, the Attorney-General of the Province. Mr. Fairweather spoke of the proposed Canadian Bill of Rights and some aspects of provincial affairs.

The Tories are now planning to issue a challenge to any other party or parties to oppose them in a campus election and Model Parliament.

On Fireplaces

by Jo-Ann Carr

There are times when the "good ol' days" don't look half bad. Now, for instance, with a fire crackling, spueing smoke and sulphurous fumes into the room.

If it weren't for "South Pacific" drifting around, I could almost see myself, sprawled in front of a fire-place in a Loyalist dwelling, draughty of course; back in the early days of Ste. Anne's Point. (My knowledge of local history is now exhausted) My mother, a dark, severe woman (cross between Laura Secord and Queen Victoria) enters. She walks quickly across the uneven plank floor. Her moccasins, with a picture of Davy Crockett on the toes, make a gentle swishing sound. She pauses ominously above me, glances severely and in a strong Yankee accent, with a touch of Puritan, rasps;

"Get ye to worke. The floors to be scrubbed, the bread, mixed, the cow, stabled; the milk, churned; your Math. 200 to do; etc., etc."

When you come to think about it, "South Pacific" is a pretty record.

And then there was the sophomore who sowed his wild oats on Saturday night and went to church Sunday to pray for a crop failure.

To prevent duplication of meeting times and places and to ensure a listing in THE BRUNSWICKAN, please report all campus events to SHEILA CAUGHAY, campus coordinator, at the Maggie Jean Chestnut House (Phone GRanite 5-9061).

A VOICE FROM THE PAST

The main theme on the campus this year is expansion. The plans include many new buildings. There was a time, in the not too distant past, when our so-called old buildings were the pride and joy of UNB. The following editorial is taken from a Brunswickan published in October, 1923.

THE NEW BUILDING

On climbing up the old College hill this term the first thing to catch the eye was the already completed foundation of the new building, situated on the left and in front of the Arts Building.

This structure will be known as the Memorial Hall and will at once provide excellent new accommodations for several departments and serve as a splendid monument to those sons of the University, some thirty-four in number, who layed down their lives in the Great War. As was most fitting, the corner stone of the building was laid by His Excellency the Governor-General, Baron Byng of Vimy, who commanded the Canadian Corps in France during a long period. This ceremony was carried out on the afternoon of July 3rd. A convocation was first held in the Library and the degree of LL.D. conferred on His Excellency, after which a procession was formed. The party proceeded to a platform which had been erected in readiness on the site of the new hall, and the corner stone was placed in position with fitting ceremony in the presence of the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province, members of the Legislature and the Senate of the University.

The main entrance of the hall will face the river and will be approached by means of a porch of much the same design as that of the Arts building. The construction will be of brick, with concrete foundations. The frontage of the building will be one hundred and seven feet with a maximum depth of one hundred and fourteen feet. The basement will contain a large dynamo room on the left of the entrance. In the centre will be dark and photometry rooms and accommodations for the heating plant and at the back a kitchen, pantry and a lunch room. The kitchen will be connected with one of the dressing rooms in the Memorial Hall above by means of a dumbwaiter. On the right side of the basement will be rooms for thesis and research work, and store rooms.

Immediately inside the entrance on the main floor there will be a stair hall, floored with tile, which will open into the Memorial Hall proper. This floor will contain Physics laboratories on the left and Physics lecture room and offices on the right. The same arrangement will be carried out on the second floor for housing the Chemistry department.

The Memorial Hall itself will be the full height of the two stories. It will be forty-five feet in width and seventy feet in depth, and will be surrounded by a gallery at the height of the first story. A stage with dressing rooms on either side will occupy the back of the hall. The high windows of most pleasing design will constitute a very notable feature of the hall. These windows are of a shape suitable for the installation of memorial windows, and while they will be glazed with plain glass for the present, it is hoped that such windows will be forthcoming in the future. In a bay on the left of the entrance there will be a large brass tablet bearing the names of all those former students or professors of the institution who lost their lives in the war.

For the erection of this addition to the University's accommodations the Provincial Government subscribed the sum of Fifty thousand dollars, the City of Fredericton Twenty-five thousand dollars and private subscribers Forty-five thousand. Entirely aside from its utilitarian and memorial value, this building means much to us as an expression of the increased interest of the Government and people of the Province in the Provincial University; the interest on the capital invested will soon be available in the shape of better facilities for higher education and the opening of the doors to higher standards of study and research in the field of Science.

"VICKI"

One week from tonight, the curtain goes up on this year's musical comedy, Vicki, again written and directed by Steve Patterson and produced by Jerry Scarfe. Roger Cattley will be playing the lead.

The show is being presented in Memorial Hall and will run for five performances during Winter Carnival Week.

Last year, Patterson and Scarfe gave us Around the World in 80 Minutes, which was a box-office success and had to be held over an extra performance to accommodate ticket sales.

The show's popularity stemmed from the novelty of "our own show", from the catchy music, and from the enthusiasm of the cast, who enjoyed themselves as much as the audience seemed to.

There was one major weakness last year, however. The plot was skimpy and the consensus was that the bulk of the show did not measure up to the strong first act.

This year, therefore, the plot should be a major consideration. This is necessary to offset the novelty appeal, which will not be as strong a drawing-card as last year.

Let's hope that the cast will be as competent this year as it was last. A musical comedy needs a bouncy cast — one that will deliver the songs with gusto and will play their parts as if they really enjoyed them.

The audience is also important. A full house and a receptive and appreciative audience is a great impetus to the cast, as was evidenced by Around the World in 80 Minutes.

If the four ingredients — good plot, catchy music, enthusiastic cast, and receptive audience — are present at next week's premier, Vicki will be a successful girl.—P.C.K.

Letters To The Editor

Sir: Last Tuesday in perusing the pages of Canada's oldest student publication, (currently threatened by the Fredericton Retail Merchants Association), in a corner on page three under the banner "Editor's Mailbox", we came across some words of wisdom, some prophesying truths. We agree with "Name Withheld", in fact, we heartily congratulate him for having discerned the subversive activities of the F.R.M.A.

"Name Withheld" points out the dangers of allowing the F.R.M.A. to get control of "our own" Winter Carnival. But we submit that they would not be satisfied with this; they would also infiltrate other university functions. These would be but a spring-board to control of the "Brunswickan", (horrors of horrors!!) Think of the implications! Through the medium of the press, they would be able to dominate the S.R.C. Soon the University will be governed not by the university senate, but by the F.R.M.A. The president of this organization may even assume the presidency of the University. From here it would be but a step to the control of other Maritime Universities, then finally to the control of all Canadian education. But this would only whet their appetites. Control of education would result in the F.R.M.A. controlling all Canada! New Brunswick would become the keystone of the nation! The capital of Canada would be moved to Fredericton!

ON WATCHING A FLY

by Jo-Ann Automobile

Yesterday, I was sitting by my fireplace, reading Dr. Zhivago (in Russian, of course), and attempting to analyze the trends in Pasternak's grammatical style, when I noticed a fly crawl onto the arm of my chair.

It was a cute little fly, and sat so attentively waiting for me to stroke it. I noticed a certain far-away look in its eye and imagined it was probably thinking of the last time it had laughingly perched on an empty sardine can.

I felt that this fly was musically inclined. I don't know why I felt this, but there just seemed to be something about the fly that sent vibrations up and down my spine.

I leaped from my comfortable arm-chair and flew to the gramophone. Wrenching Prognofsky's Fourth Symphony from the rack, I jammed it in the turn-table.

As the melodic notes wafted across the room, I glided back to my chair. I was so elated by the music and calm contentment in the fly's eye that I accomplished a graceful pas-de-deux right between the coffee table and my latest Epstein statue.

Knowingly winking at the fly, I reached for my wellworn copy of Milton's Paradise Lost. The fly showed little interest. I tried Samson Agonistes. He turned away. I was flabbergasted. I read from James Joyce, T. S. Elliot, Tolstoy, Confucious, A. J. M. Smith, and even A. G. Bailey, but still the fly did not flick a wing.

I read my own poetical works to the fly. It indignantly flew to the lamp-shade. I approached the fly, cautiously, knowingly, lovingly, and gazed into those deep penetrating eyes. Then, I caressingly reached for the Iliad (a rare first edition).

I opened the book to my favorite passage. The fly hopped onto the page, ever so gently, to better revel in Homer's verse. Then, with an artful swing of the back cover, I crushed the bloody thing.

ROMAN CARNIVAL IN ARTS WEEK

A prominent event to be held in conjunction with Arts Week, February 16-21, is a Roman Carnival.

The back part of the gymnasium will be converted into a Pompeian Street scene. The Classics Club, in an all-out effort, will present this project, under the direction of Dr. Mary E. Milham.

Although the date is tentative, either the sixteenth or the seventeenth, the success of this venture is certain. Various games will take place, Roman style, and student projects on various aspects of Roman life will be on display.

The Arts Week schedule includes a banquet for the evening of February 21. The highlight of the week, the Arts Ball, will be held on February 20th. Further details will be released next week.

In the college year 1956-57, there were 6 students from Greece at UNB. Two were in sophomore year, one in junior, two were intermediates, and one was a senior.

The Campus Beat

A CAMPUS BEAT EXCLUSIVE: In the November 25 issue of the Brunswickan THE CAMPUS BEAT carried a story concerning the Winter Carnival Committee's endeavours to have an entertainment personality guest for the three day frolic. Today, a successful sequel to that story:

In an exclusive release to CFNB's Norm Butler Show and this column, the UNB Winter Carnival Committee has announced that West Coast night club entertainer, Stan Wilson, will appear at the three-day snow show. He will perform each evening during the Carnival.

Who is Stan Wilson, you ask? Peruse the following lines then, dear reader, while we elucidate:

Stan Wilson is a multi-talented folk singer who specializes in ballads and calypso music. He has been very popular in California night clubs for several years and now has just recently completed a four-year stand at a San Francisco nightery. The Hungry Eye, which is currently headlining The Kingston Trio of "Tom Dooley" fame. In fact, a recent article in a national U.S. magazine listed visiting the Hungry Eye and hearing Stan Wilson sing as one of the "things to do" when in San Francisco. Local deejay, Norm Butler, calls Wilson a combination of Burl Ives and Josh White, and in some calypso numbers he excels even Belafonte.

Stan Wilson has recorded on three labels, Cavalier, Clef, and Verve which lists among its artists; Ella Fitzgerald, Buddy Rich, Gene Krupa, and Woody Herman. His albums include "Leisure Time", "Wanderin'", "Evening With Stan Wilson", "Stan Wilson Recital".

Wilson's performances will include audience participation numbers and sea shanties as well as his superb collection of folk and calypso songs.

You'll be able to hear some of the Wilson kind of music on the Norm Butler Show during the next few days when Norm will be spinning some of Stan's waxings.

'INTERVALES' MEETS DEADLINE

'Intervales', the magazine of UNB student writings, has been sent to the printer. The final manuscripts were mailed last Wednesday, meeting the deadline.

The book committee selected about half of the available material for the magazine. 'Intervales' will have approximately fifty-two pages of short-stories, essays and poetry. It also will have a Forword written by Dr. Pacey, Head of the English Department.

The seven short stories were written by Janet MacNair, Kathy Hart, John Stockdale, John Williams, John Ripley, Ron Manzer, and Carl Wallace; the two essays by Ron McBrine and Stephen Fay; and the twenty poems by John Drew, John Stockdale, Dick Alexander, Jack Garnett, Jo-Ann Carr, Charles Daughney, Peter Kent, Mary Bernard, Hubert Henderson and Lawson Stockford.

The editors will be spending the next two weeks with the galley proofs and a sample book. On February 18 the magazine will go on sale in all campus buildings. The circulation manager, Peter Miles, has arranged for news releases, radio spots, and posters. His committee will be setting up about thirteen sales outlets on the date of publication.

In the magazine there will be no advertising, therefore the whole cost of the project must be met through sales. Although the total expenses have not yet been released, they are expected to exceed two hundred and fifty dollars. With only three hundred magazines being printed, the sale price has been set at one dollar.

An interesting feature of the magazine will be the cover. Designed by Brigid Toole and printed in black and white, it is a presentation of a common New Brunswick intervale. Intervales are the low-lying meadows that stretch between rivers and the neighbouring high ground.

The snipe, a small marsh bird, has a long flexible bill to probe in mud for worms and insects.

Co-Eds Seek Title Intercollegiate Hoop Crown At Stake

On Thursday evening, play for the Maritime Women's Intercollegiate Basketball Championship will begin, for UNB, at Dalhousie University, Halifax. Dalhousie and UNB are reputed, by our secret spy service, to have the strongest teams this year, so the first game will be an important one. The Co-eds will play Acadia Friday evening.

The Co-Eds, who are still waiting for the university to buy them red bloomers, so they can live up to their name, have a long tradition of top basketball. However, when the first whistle blows Thurs. night, the honour of red and black will rest solely with eleven girls. Best of luck, kids!

Coach Iris Bliss will lead the following girls to Halifax

Eileen Stiven—Science, third year, playing forward in her third year with the team, previously a member of the F.H.S. basketball team.

Peggy Colpitts—Science, fourth year, playing forward in her fourth year with the team, formerly a Moncton High player.

"Dede" Smith—Phys. Ed., third year, plays center-forward and captains the team, in her second year with the Red Bloomers.

"Di" Sanger—Phys. Ed., second year, plays forward for her second year on the team, hailing from Boston, Mass.

Barb Barnes—Phys. Ed., second year plays forward and center-forward, in her first year with the team, a product of Saint John basketball teams.

Jo-Ann Carr—Arts, second year, plays forward, with the team two years, formerly with the F.H.S. team.

"Doody" Armstrong—Phys. Ed., second year, playing forward in her first year with the team, a Bathurst High player formerly.

"Biddy" Wilson—Arts, third year, plays guard and has three years with the team, formerly with the F.H.S. team.

"Pune" MacElmon—Phys. Ed., third year, playing guard, with the team two years, a former Saint John High player.

Lorraine Gardiner—Phys. Ed., second year, plays guard in her second year with the team, previously played for Minto High.

Janet Murray—Arts, first year, plays guard, a member of a Halifax high school team formerly.

Skiers Plan For Carnival

As the Winter Carnival again approaches the UNB Ski Club has decided to hold a meeting on Wednesday, Jan. 28, at 7:30 p. m. in the Student Centre to discuss plans for making the Ski Club once more one of the leading campus organizations. Regarding this year's Ski Club float, George Von Westarp who is the chairman of the committee says that progress on the float has already started but would appreciate further assistance from any interested members. We again plan to nominate our Ski Club Queen to match the one we had last year, Miss Janet MacLellan. Therefore, "I would like to see a large turnout on Wednesday for the election of our queen." Members who have any nominations to present, please make sure to attend this meeting. Also more ideas could be brought forward for our snow sculpture. So far few ideas have been presented for the Ski Club's first attempt at entering a snow sculpture in the Winter Carnival competition.

This is YOUR chance to again make the Ski Club an outstanding example of school spirit on the campus.

GRUNT "N" GROAN ARTISTS AT WORK

Newly elected officers of the UNB Wrestling Club include Jim Ross, president, Jim Bayer, vice president, and Bill Bird, secretary-treasurer. Over twenty UNB wrestlers are currently training in anticipation of the New Brunswick novice wrestling championships to be held on February 28, at the Lady Beaverbrook gym. The tournament will be open to all those relatively new to the sport. Saint John and Moncton clubs will be among the groups participating.

Among other activities this year the club is planning on several dual meets as well as the Maritime championship which is expected to be held in Saint John on March 14.

At half-time of the Winter Carnival basketball game, UNB students will have an opportunity to see amateur wrestling in action by virtue of two exhibition bouts against members of the Saint John YMCA wrestling club.

Beaver's Outswim St. John Dolphins

The Lady Beaverbrook Residence swimming pool at UNB was the setting for a hard-fought aquatic battle between Saint John YMCA Dolphins and UNB Junior Varsity Beavers swimming team. Final tallies showed UNB on top by only one point in the 52 to 51 score.

Unofficially three Maritime Intercollegiate swimming records were broken. Former Montrealer Glen Murray knocked 6.9 seconds off the 100 yard back stroke with a time of 65.4 seconds and .9 seconds from the 40 yards back stroke, finishing in 23.5 seconds. Murray is in his first year up the hill. Albert Bene knocked .6 seconds off the 40 yard breast stroke time in 26.4 seconds for the Beavers. 160 yard medley relay UNB N/T, 100 yard freestyle, Jones UNB 63.5; 40 yard back stroke, Murray, UNB, 23:5 (record); 40 yard breast stroke, Bene, UNB 26.4 (record); 40 yard butterfly, Russell, Saint John, 25.0; 40 yard freestyle, Cameron UNB, 21.1; One meter spring board diving, Kennedy, Saint John, 115.4; 440 yard freestyle, B. Mosher, Saint John, 5:54.0; 100 yard back stroke, Murray, UNB, 65.4 (record); 80 yard breast stroke, UNB, Bene, 58.5; 80 yard butterfly, Barry, UNB, 58.2; 400 yard freestyle relay, Saint John, S. Mosher, MacLeod, B. Mosher, Maxwell, 4:23.0.

On the distaff side, the UNB Mermaids defeated Saint John High and Vocational Schools 56 to 21. In an almost repeat performance of last week, the Mermaids only lost points in second and third places, winning every event. The 60 yard medley relay team made up of Martha Saunders, Marilyn French and Sandy Kilburn readily passed the Saint John team to win in 40.1 seconds. Ann Selig of UNB finished the 20 yard free style in 12.8 seconds just ahead of Kay Clarke of Saint John. The 20 yard breast stroke saw Marilyn French finish first for UNB in 15.8 seconds. Martha Saunders closely followed by Sandy Kilburn finished one, two for UNB in 14.5 seconds for the 20 yard back stroke.

Barb Pepperdene, Maritime Intercollegiate One Meter Spring Board Diving Champion (women) for the past two years, won the diving with 58 points, 5 points ahead of Kathy Andrews of Saint John. Sandy Kilburn won the 40 yard free style for UNB in 26.2 seconds. The 40 yard breast stroke was won by Marilyn French, closely followed by Ursula Rodzewicz, both of UNB. Time: 34.5 seconds. Martha Saunders for UNB was the only entrant in the 40 yard back stroke for UNB and copped first place in 32.1 seconds, followed by Carolyn Scarborough and Eleanor Kerr of Saint John. The 80 yard relay team from Saint John was disqualified, caused by an incorrect take-off, giving the UNB squad first place and seven points. Georgina Elton, Winnie MacPherson, Judy Etter and Sandy Kilburn made up the winning crew with no time recorded due to Saint John's disqualification, despite the fact that Saint John was leading in this event.

Future meets will see the Varsity Beavers venture to Montreal to battle it out with CMR and Sir George Williams College. Next in line for the squad will be the UNB Winter Carnival meet to be held at the LBR pool Friday, February 6 against an Army team from Gagetown and the Saint John Dolphins club.

Bloomers Defeat St. Stephen H.S.

In a warm-up for intercollegiate play, the UNB Co-Ed basketball team defeated a top high school team, 48-32, Friday night. The game, held at St. Stephen, saw the college girls move cut in front and stay there, from the first whistle.

Second Half Drive Beats Red Raiders

Last Saturday afternoon the Red Raiders were beaten 95-56 by a hustling Ricker quintet from Houlton, Maine. Fresh from a thirty point victory over the Mount Allison Hawks, the purple and white started slowly, leading 38-23 at the half, but then ran away with the game as they scored fifty-seven points in the second half.

The Raiders were unable to find the range throughout the game and managed only a meager 20% of their shots from the field, while the Ricker boys scored on over half their attempts.

Ricker was led by Bragen with 20, McIntyre and Peabody with 16 points apiece, while the Red and Black men's top scorers were Morgan with 19 points and Bob Porter with 10.

A big factor in the lopsided score were the fouls, as Ritchie and Reid were hard on the Raiders. Guards, Taylor and Petrie exceeded the limit in the second half. The Ricker men hit 31 out of 41 from the free throw line while the Raiders sank 13 out of 22.

In the preliminary game on Saturday the J.V.'s looked good in dropping a close 50-39 verdict to the local senior "B" team. This team is composed of former Red Raiders and faculty members but they looked off form on Saturday. However, once they get a few more games under their belts, they should prove to be one of the powers in provincial basketball play-downs.

The Raiders next game is on Wednesday night against the league leading Husson cagers from Bangor. This will be the final tune-up before the Raiders' first intercollegiate game against the Mt. Allison Hawks which takes place this Friday evening.

UNB is the defending NB-PEI champion, but from all reports Gus McFarlane has come up with a tall strong team and everything points to an exciting contest.

The Co-Eds played the brand of ball that last year took them to second place in Maritime competition. The guarding was steady, with "Pune" MacElmon and "Doody" Armstrong playing particularly good games. The forwards scored in starts and stops, with over half their points coming in the second quarter. Barb Barnes and "Dede" Smith continued to put the ball where it is most effective, namely in the basket. If the forwards can maintain a steady flow of ball through the basket, Dalhousie and Acadia are in for a couple of good games this week-end.

Lineups:
UNB: Stiven 1, Colpitts 4, Smith 17, Barnes 18, Carr 8, Wilson, MacElmon, Gardiner, Murray, Armstrong.

St. Stephen: S. Pomeroy 14, Stuart 6, Francis, Blanchard 4, Dinsmore 8, Speedy, J. Pomeroy, S. Bowden, Mallory, Jardine, Getchell.
