7, 1905,

ice .. 28c

h goods at

MONTREAL, THURSDAY, AUGUST 3, 1905.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

A MEMORABLE DIVISION.

Vol. LV., No. 4

Scene in the House of Commons when the Government Was Beaten.

Parliamentary correspondent, feat, says:

It was apparent when the House filled for the division that there was an exceptionally large muster on the Liberal side, although while the debate was proceeding the Opposition benches had been no fuller than usual. As the division proceeded there were evidences of growing excitement, the members on both sides returning to their places in the House instead of going out, as they almost invariably do after the last division of the night. The Ministerial whips came in before the whips of the Irish party, who were telling for the motion for the reduction of the Land Commission vote. There was instantaneously an outburst of cheering on the Opposition benches, but it was as quickly checked, members evidently fearing that they had been too precipitate. But immediately the Opposition lobby, shouting "The Government is defeated !" and there was at once a terrific cheer. Then. as the tellers advanced to the table after an Irish member rushed in from to announce the figures and the Clerk handed the paper to Sir Thomas Esmonde, thus denoting that he was the winning teller, the whole Opposition and Irish Party rose in their places and rent the air with a perfect tornado of cheering, waving of hats, handkerchiefs and papers, while Sir Thomas Esmonde, with Captain Done, lan by his side, both of them smiling cheerfully, stood with the two de feated and palpably dejected Ministerial tellers, waiting for the storm to subside before formally declaring the numbers. There they stood while the members on the Opposition benches exhausted themselves in manifestations of delight, while Minis-Mr. Balfour was not in his ters, one and all, looking ghastly and desperately perturbed, sat with fold ed arms, trying to appear unconcernplace, but as the demonstration continued he was forced to come from his room, and his appearance was the signal for a fresh and more furious burst of cheering, directed pecially at him. He walked with slow, dramatic steps to his seat, carefully arranged the tails of coat, and threw himself back on the bench, but the face he turned to the House was distorted with excitement and anger. Poor Sir Acland Hood sat next him, deeply studying the notice paper, a pathetic figure; while Mr. Arthur Lyttelton and Mr. Aus- naturally that I was an early canton Chamberlain, confronted with the possibility of ejection from office, were pitiably overwrought and dejected. At last there was silence, and Sir Thomas Esmonde, in a clear, steady voice, read out the figures-199 for the reduction, and 196 make in view of what had just happened. Mr. Balfour rose slowly, while his followers cheered him in a faint-hearted way, and he said that if he had any statement to make he could not make it on that occasion. His followers and his colle who evidently expected that he would have stated at once that he intended to ignore the vote just given, looked anxious at this announcement. Mr. Redmond then rose—his voice was hoarse after his speech in the after noon—and at once put the situate before the House with his usual for He pointed out that the vote an had followed almost a of rising; and Sir H. Campbell-Ban-herman, uproariously cheered, asked whether he had any statement to shown in the most unmistakable THE FRENCH "SEPARATION" in power. So long as they were way its want of confidence in the Government. But the Prime Minister had ignored all these manifestations, and told his followers that he would cling to office until he had been defeated in the House. This point, so aptly cited, aroused another roar of cheers, and Mr. Redmond asked him, now that he had been defeated, would describing the scene in the House of it not be contrary to every precedent Commons after the recent division and to all constitutional usages if he which resulted in a Government dedid not resign. He had swallowed all did not resign. He had swallowed all the other humiliations, and it. was inconceivable that even he could swallow this one. Mr. Redmond went on pushing home the moral of the event with remorseless force, and declared that if Mr. Balfour decided to ignore this rebuff, he believed it would be the duty of the Opposition to use every means in their power to make the continuance of the Government impossible.

Mr. Balfour, who had already spoken, replied by leave of the House and was evidently still so discomfit ed and confused that he was unable to make up his mind what he should do. He showed, however, that his inclination was to set up the vote again and get it passed, his hints to that effect provoking loud manifestations of derision from the Opposition benches. "So long," he said, in a melo-dramatic period, "as I cam conduct the affairs of this House with dignity"-but he could proceed no further. His claim to dignity was too much for the House, which was dissolved in laughter and ironical cheering. Then he continued the sentence, but its effect was gone.

A Famous Irish Woman in London

The typical representative of modern education for women in the Britieh Islands is an Irish woman, Dr. Sophie Bryant, successor to the late lamented Miss Buss, a famous educational pioneer, as principal of the North London Collegiate School for Girls, perhaps the chief establishment of its kind in England. Dr. Bryant is by birth a Dublin woman, the daughter of the late Rev. W. A. Willock, D.D., Fellow of Trinity College. She had the good fortune to have a father who was keenly interested in education, and who was, what is even now rare in Ireland, a man who raised no barrier of sex in educational matters, and treated boys and girls alife as human souls desirous and worthy of sound knowledge. The fact of little Sophie being a girl was never considered an obstacle to participation in the main philosophy, in both of which subbirthright to knowledge with my brother. Hence it happened most didate for the Senior Local Examination, out of which came my quaintance with Miss Buss." At the Science, of the London University, being the first woman to attain this distinction.—Charlotte O'Conor Ec-

FATHER SLOAN ON TEMPERANCE

cles, in Donahoe's for August.

In St. Bridget's Church, Ottawa, on Sunday, last, Very Rev. Canon Sloan, in announcing the re-organization of the Father Mathew Temperance Society, urged the mothers and daughters of the parish to do their utmost toward strengthening the society by encouraging the men and boys to join and continue in it.

CAMPAIGN.

The following article on the so-called Separation Bill, which was passed by the French Chamber of Deputies recently, is from the Saturday Re view, of London, July 8:

On Monday at midnight-"the hour of crime,"-the French Parliament voted the text of the Revised Bill for the separation of the churches from the State-whereby the Republic lightly endorsed an act of the weightiest consequence, not only to France herself, but also to the rest of Europe. It would, however, be premature to say that the Bill is "pass ed," or that the separation is accomplished: for it will have to go before the Senate, where its pass may be obstructed for a very long time, during which the general election (which is within sight) may overthrow the whole scheme, since it is not as popular as the Socialists, Radicals, Atheists, and their chief organ. La Lanterne, intend the uninitiated to believe. Four million eight hundred and seventy-two thousand persons, all of them over twenty-one years of age, have already signed a petition against the Bill: and, as Le Temps observes, the Catholics may, in due course, turn the scale at the future election, and a Moderate, if not exactly a Catholic, majority replace the present anticlerical Bloc. Once returned to even a modified degree of power, the Opposition might follow the methods M. Combes' all-too-famous majority, and vote unreasoningly yet steadily, as hidden by its leaders, and with surprising results. But we will for the sake of argument consider the Bill as passed, and the churches as absolutely separated from the State, as M. Aristide Briand or even M. Combes would not be killed by this measure, and the "human conscience," to quote the French Episcopacy is more M. Bienvenu Martin, will not therefore be any the more "emancipated." Unfortunately French Socialism, by allying itself with atheism, has sown noxious weeds in its own political garden, and anti-clericalism is beginning to prove an undesirable growth even to an ultra-Radical Republic. When, a fortnight ago, France suddenly realized that was within sight of a war with her thematical studies of her brother, or Rhine, a thrill of terror passed over ancient foe on the other side of the in pantosophy, in the says herself: whilst engrossed in the specious work wilt had never been suggested to me of dechristianizing the nation and the land at the mere thought that down the country, the politicians in power had demoralized the army, neglected the navy, and left the frontiers almost unprotected. ac- have guieted down since then, but, time she first met Miss Buss, Mrs. unrest abroad which makes think-Bryant was already a widow. She ing people dread the passage of a law that may eventually lead to internal of Plymouth, at nineteen, and lost divisions and disorders even more 199 for the reduction, and 196 of Plymouth, at nineteen, and lost against—a near thing, but the baller has been easily modified in a liberal sense, and cries of "Balfour ! Bal Buss designated her, when she first characters, and cries of "Balfour ! Bal

Buss designated her, when she first characters, and cries of "Balfour ! Bal Givisions and disorders even more against the nonly, will Ireland have a persection than it was when first much milder than it was when first then only, will Ireland have a persection to the Chamber. The feetly free hand to do what Belgium month makes a curious contrast to the Bill as it stands has been enabled to do, and there the baller can be no doubt that we have the capacity to do it. But even under the capacity four "Resign ! resign !" rang out in the midst of the din. Mr. Balfour the midst of the din. Mr. Balfour house the four the cathedrals and churches being seized and converted into music halls four house the four the cathedrals and churches being which figure so conspicuously the Infour house the four the cathedrals and churches being which figure so conspicuously the Infour house the four at the London Matriculation. She and meeting houses, and even the regraduated B.A. in 1881, taking first ligious processions are not to be abolished. But the bishops and Science Honors list, and a Second priests will be subjected to a very Class in Mathematics. In 1884 she strict police supervision; the laws took her degree of D.Sc., Doctor of admirably framed to silence them. should they say a word likely to offend their Prefect or their Mayor, are Here is a great nation, which already existent. La Lanterne inti-mates that "it only accepts the Bill ed herself the "eldest daughter of the mates that "it only accepts the Bill as it stands as a preliminary, we must silence the priests, and prevent them, even in their pulpits, from g any more of the virus of reigion into the minds of the people for if we do not kill the Church, the Church will kill the Republic. Evidently La Lanterne sees a rock ager Deputie who sit on the Left and the Friene Left have overlooked. Surely when the clergy are no longer paid by the State and have to pay the same tastes as other citizens, it would be right to complain if a salaried clergy opposed its will. If the Bill is finally passed, it will be different; and though, for a year or so, the more independent and outspoken of the will come when the Republic, wearied alarmed at their increasing popularity, will have to realize that she has created a new and (from her point of view) a very perilous party-an emancipated episcopate and clergy. No longer Erastian, these will presently prove a formidable barrier to which sees in Christianity the chief enemy of progress and humanitariauism-ignoring that both are the offspring of that very teaching that they are seeking to destroy by every means at their disposal.

The outlook for religion in France is distinctly ominous just now, but it is by no means hopeless. Human affairs are much influenced by action and reaction, and probably the cliof anti-religion, in France was reached last Monday night. We may be on the eve of a powerful reaction that will undo the nefarious work of the Bloc, and this much sooner than is generally imagined. The extraordinary conspiracy of silence on this momentous matter in the English press is doubtless due to the fact that English Christians and gentlemen are usually considered unfit to represent English newspapers on the Continent. The Paris correspondents of our leading journals, being nearly all of them men of Oriental extraction, can not. however honorable and enlightened, he expected to entertain any particular interest in the fate of the Christian religion. We are invariably led by these gentlemen to believe that all is for the best in the best of Republics. The unanimous tide Briand or even M. Combes would protests of the archbishops and desire; what then? The Church will bishops have been barely alluded to and most Englishmen believe that less indifferent to the Separation Bill whereas in reality it has already vehemently protested against all the innumerable arbitrary acts of the present Government, and this not only by individual pastorals addressed to their respective flocks, but in a joint note endorsing the powerful letter written some time ago by the poetry, we had a little more prosaged Cardinal Archbishop of Paris to President Loubet, a letter which, by the way, that gentleman never ans wered. Then again we hear nothing of the countless meetings which are being held in every city, town and can be discovered, anything in the village, at which the anti-religious nature of an idle class; and she has hustling monks and nuns up and policy of the Government is severely attacked and violently condemned. It nessed such meetings during the re cent vacation that they personally and when such a thing as a realized the danger to which they were exposing their chances of reelection by their excessive anti-cleri- exist within our shores. The atcalism, and, therefore, they introducwhich figure so conspicuously the Infamous One and his vile Mother," are and wait till the millennium dawns. still to be tolerated, always provided the Prefect or the Mayor proves obliging and conciliatory.

On the whole to a thinking foreigner the spectacle presented by contemporary France is an amazing one.

BELGIUM AND IRELAND.

The recent pilgrimage to Fontency transit in Ireland must be cheapened has brought Belgium prominently be- if Irish producers are to be given a fore the minds of Irishmen, says one fair chance. The contrast between bishops and clergy may be nunted of the pilgrims in the Dublin Free- the cheapness and efficiency of Belman's Journal. Such a visit as gian railways and the ruinous comthat which has just been paid has a petition and high rates that exist by their resistance and, possibly, two-fold value: It is valuable because it reminds Irishmen of a glo-the nationalization of Irish railrious episode in the country's tory, and, therefore, helps to cultivate that pride in our country's past that of Ireland, supports a populawhich is one of the most precious of a nation's possessions. But it has a more practical and immediate value rapidly increasing country in Euthe darling projects of a Government as regards our present and our future.

Belgium bears many resemblances to Ireland: It is a small country; it is a predominantly, nay, an almost exclusively, Catholic country; it is a country which, though it has manufactures, relies chiefly on its agricultire for the support of its population; its agriculture is carried on on a similar scale to that on which it is, or might be, carried on in Iremax of anti-clericalism, rather than land. The tillage of Belgium hears no resemblance to that of the vast wheat-growing plains of America; it is a country of small farms; machinery is not, and, indeed, could not be employed to work the land; it is cultivated by hand labor,

With what wonderful care and with what extraordinary success this kind of cultivation is carried on those who have just visited Belgium can testify. In the district round Fontenoy the houses are clustered thick all along our route; we were hardly ever out of sight of them, and the space be most like a continuous street. And their number is not more remarkable than their cleanliness and tidiness; and the air of prosperity which manifests itself everywhere. Equally re markable is the thrift which shows itself in the arrangement of the fields. No hedges, or ditches, or stone walls; no corners cut off by subdidision, as in Ireland; no cattle (with few exceptions), grazing in the fields, for all the cattle in Belgium are stall-fed. In fact, not an inch of ground seems to be wasted anywhere; and while the diversity of an Irish landscape certainly males more picturesque, still man does not live by the landscape, and we may be sometimes excused for wishing that, without sacrificing any of our

Belgium, of course, enjoys many advantages which Ireland does not yet possess. She has a peasant pro prietary; she is without, so far as can be discovered, anything in the self-government. We may hope that the time is not far distant was mainly because the deputies wit- every inch of the soil of Ireland will be owned by the people of Ireland, living in iddeness on the produce of the labor of others will no longer ed several modifying clauses into the longer deferred, but its advent is The work of building a nation must go on here and now. it seems to me that Ireland many lessons to learn from gium, and that the application methods such as are followed in this and in other Continental countries may do much to stop the ruinou flow of emigration, which is Ire land's greatest danger to-day. in the East and breasure in the Cattern, at a time when Germany is menacing her and proclaiming at Metz, of all places in the world, her Imperial wish to become more and more friendly with the head of the Church of which France has so long been the which France has so long been the matural ally! Surely a great states—

The state and breasure into touch with Continent with the head of the Church of which France has so long been the which would well repay a visit. Our matural ally! Surely a great states—

The state and breasure into touch with Continent were year, for there are many places of lirish interest in France and in other countries on the Continent which would well repay a visit. Our magnitudinal with the way of visiting Continent wit It would seem, then, of the utmos ral produce. And it is certain that gium are extraordinarily cheap in their rates both for passenger traffic and for the conveyance of agricultu-

at home is a strong argument for ways

Belgium, with an area one-third tion of over 7,000,000. It is the most thickly peopled and the most rope. What might not Ireland do if her resources were properly developed ?

ENGLAND'S IRISH POLICY.

It is difficult for an outsider to understand England's policy in Ireland. A few recent happenings illustrate that fact. On May 20 a dinner was given in Dublin by Irish Tories in honor of Mr. Long, Chief Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant. The Duke of Abercorn, who presided, introduced Mr. Long "as a statesman who was among them to protect the liberties and property of the peaceful and loyal population, and to put down the conspiracies of the disloyal population."

In the Duke's opinion, no improvement in the country could be effected "until ordinary liberty and order were secured." The Chief Secretary, in a lengthy speech, covering more than three columns of the daily newstween Tournai and Antoin seemed al- papers, declared that he "coincided with the Duke's opinion." He scored the Earl of Dunraven's project of 'Devolution' as quasi-self-government, veiled Home Rule, and accused the Earl of "drifting down that road which others before him have followed who have begun their downward career by the policy of surrender to the forces of disorder." His whole speech is of like tone.

If one were to judge from these utterances, Ireland must be seething in conspiracy and crime. But, on the other hand, some startling facts are rest our judgment. Within the month immediately preceding the Duke's Chief Secretary's speech the county court judges for Sligo, Kerry and Westmoath, whose jurisdiction practically corresponds to superior judges in Massachusetts, were each presented with white gloves by the sheriff, a symbol that the criminal docket was blank; that there were no criminals to be tried. And four days after the Tory banquet in Dublin, on Wednesday, May 24, the county court judge for Louth, W. H. Kisby, was presented by the sub-sheriff with a pair of white gloves, emblematic of the crimeless condition of that county. Judge Kisby, acknowledging the presentation, said from the bench that "over and over again, sometimes for three and sometimes for four sessions of the year," he was tainment of self-government may be presented with white gloves, a fact country. No criminal docket in at month makes a curious contrast to

(From the London Express.)

One of the leading wine merchants in Pall Mall told an Express representative that the keeping of a wine cellar was a declining fashion.

"No longer is it considered essential to the dignity and good name of the country squire or the owner of a mansion to have a good wine cellar," he said. "Our men frequently find the bins guite empty.

"Flats and the camera are among the minor contributory causes of this new feature of the mansion wine bin, A person living in a flat is obliged to order a little at a time, and fa milies living in mansions often find that the cellar makes an excellent

"At the bottom of it all, however, agricultural experts, too, might do more in the way of visiting Continental countries and studying the methods practiced there. Such study might be especially valuable in regard to the question of transit.

The State-owned railways of Bel-

OUR

THURSDAY, Al

r Girls and Boys those letters. Anna a young contributor. not forget to get py, and I am sure you to it. I would like McG's flower bed. I you were too young, d firmation, even though enough. You touch a May, when you speak o helpful little girl yo when you are able to p while he is ill quite a collection of fl garden, Hugh. We hav our share of warm wee hope for a continuance Your lovin

* * * Dear Aunt Becky: You must think I hav rotten you, but such is

AU

have been so busy th got any real vacation station agent, and have to well, and I trains in his place. I old friends will not for together, as the boys a ner is quite deserted. for corn and tomato tin a lover of vegetables; Auntie? There is an Burlington to-day. My gone and will not get l o'clock to-night.

We are having bad haying, as it is raining Farmers will be discou keeps on. I will close are enjoying summer pl

Sherrington, July 23, + + + Dear Aunt Becky:

I am a little girl, 5 y as I cannot write very mamma to write for me sisters and two brothers. is eighteen months old. pets besides the chickens papa is going to get u week. I think we will !

much. We have a mile school, so I can't go Our baby's name is Ma she can talk quite plain this time.

Three Brooks, N.B. + + +

Your loving r

Dear Aunt Becky:

This is my second lett ers are quite plenty. W suckles, stars and marig weather is warm. It is haying. I hope you are hot. I have not very mu so I will close. Your loving nep

Dear Aunt Becky:

Gertrude Burke berries are all gone and ries are coming in. I h a long letter this time,

THE LOST DOL The seaside cottage had in order, the trunks had and say a good-by," ugging Flora Louise in They went through all t

HOME INTERESTS. Conducted by HELENE.

Apropos of the much elaborated re- in this condition for a few days b ports of a bargain crush in an Ame rican city the other day, the ques tion might be asked, Why has the alluring sign: "This all-wool so-and-so will go at $3.99 to-morrow morning at eight o'clock," such an effect when the simple announcement "$4.00," is passed by without a thought. Here in our city we are accustomed to the sight of a crowd struggling an early hour in the morning first place long before store doors are Then when the mad rush is made articles are mauled and dragged out of one another's hands greater reductions are implored, and to give a semblance of truth to the so-called bargain sale, this last re quest is sometimes granted, people forgetting all the while that they are paying full value (perhaps more for, in most cases, rubbish a store keeper could not otherwise get rid of. How these same men must smile while they look on at the public being gulled.

From a spectator's point of view it appears a pity that people do not think more, people particularly who have to count their money, for it is not possible to sell a first class artitle at a ridiculously low price any more than it is honest to charge the exorbitant prices we are much customed to. We wonder what will take the place of the bargain coun ter and the bargain hunter.

+ + + FASHIONS.

One of the daintiest sheer coats is the apricot silk mousseline inset profusely with valenciennes and heavy guipure in combination and linen with white chiffon and silk. velvet nasturtiums, toning in perfectly with the pinkish yellow of the mousseline, were dropped carelessly among the frothing frills of mousse line and lace and folds and knots of a deep orange liberty satin were also a part of the color scheme.

Capes and little coats of linen embroidered and perhaps lace trim med, are numerous among the imported models, but have not taken

The ostrich feather boa has been summer standby for many season past and is still desirable, but many variations have been rung upon within the last few years. This sum mer the variety in neck scarfs, ruche and stoles is even greater than usual and some of the new things are very attractive.

A very pretty waist of light weight linen was made with a round yoke, embroidered with a charming pattern of butterflies and evelet holes, while the front of blouse was embroidered in regular round spots, the size of a five cent piece.

Linen tailored suits are very n nish and severe. The most desirable model at present has a long coat very loose and baggy, with revere and collar of corored kinen blue mauve or green.

Voile while not as durable mohair, is far from being a fragile material, and in the heavier varieties wears very well indeed.

For the black hat, which is an inmany women, nothing is more satisfactory than fine horsehair braid.

bar and checked silks are pop ular. The rough weaves for silk known as Burlingham, Rajah, etc. well as the smoother pongees come in a variety of colors cross hatched with contrasting colors or black.

RIMELY MINTS.

Warts will disappear entirely they are rubbed two or three times a day with oil of cinnamon. This gives no pain whatever, and is simple enough for any one to try it.

Stone jars with tight covers ar fied water in, for they are easily filled and handled, and may be set in an ice chest to cool, says the New York Telegram. Once cold the heavy eeps cool for hours, even when taken from the icebox. only objection to boiled water for ping it cool. This is rather han w tinned pots and pans are fill-will be rendered rust proof. Earthenware can be firmly ore being actually put into hy means of a cement made of erus parts of plaster of paris, water ar white lead. Plaster of paris very guickly, and the cement should be made in small quantities and be used immediately. Let dry for three days.

Fasten pieces of rubber ta the corners of the crib, with large safety pins attached to the free ends These can be pinned to the cover after the child is tucked in securely and they remain in place in of restless movements, while in way interfering with the little one's comfort.

The mixing pan can be quickly cleaned if a little boiling water is poured into it for a few minutes and close cover put over it. The steam softens the dried dough so that it will readily wash off.

An excellent covering for the kitchen table is zinc, which saves la or, because it absorbs no grease and is easily kept bright and clean.

+ + +

RECIPES.

Sand Tarts-One cup butter, two cups brown sugar, one whole egg and the yolks of two; cream butter and sugar and add the eggs; flour to make a soft dough; flou your board well and roll very light and with a small brush wash ove the rolled-out dough; mix the sugar and cinnamon together and shake it all over the tarts; cut in any shap you desire.

Heart of lettuce salad with Goron zola cheese carefully crumbled between the leaves makes a delicious if very rich salad when served with French dressing. Tomatoes are ne ver better than when the insides are removed to make room for chopped up cucumbers and little onions that have not yet acquired flavor enough to assert themselves.

Salmon Pudding-To a pint o boiled salmon add two beaten eggs three tablespoons of cream and little salt and pepper. Put in bowl placed in a pan of water and bake 20 minutes. Turn the salmon on a hot platter and serve with po tato balls around it and the following sauce poured over it: Mix toge ther one tablespoon of butter and one of flour. Stir them into a cup of boiling milk until smooth. with salt, pepper and chopped pars

Fruit Punches-Mash a quart raspberries, blackberries, currants or cherries. Cover with water and put in a preserve kettle with half pound of sugar and the juice grated rind of one lemon. Set the fire and stir until the sugar dissolved; strain and bottle. When ready to use, fill the glasses fourth full of shaved ice.

Stuffed Apples-Take six large weet apples, peel and remove cores Stuff cavities with chopped dates and nuts or raisins. Plug both ende with pieces of apples and bake until tender. Serve with plain or whip ped cream.

Any person who likes grape juic as a beverage will appreciate this grape juice frappe. One pint of grape juice, one cupful of orange juice, and the juice of two lemons are required Add two cupsful of granulated sugar and four of water. Boil the water and sugar fifteen minutes and add the fruit juise. Strain, add a quart of ice water, and more sugar if ne cessary. "Remember that ices ar arv sweeter before they are frozen afterward. Do not freeze too hard.

+ + +

woman who goes to the shore for the first time, takes it for granted that one of the best things she can do for her health, as well a one of the most enjoyable, is daily sea-bath, and frequently it is a surprise to her that after her bath instead of the exhibaration she ex pected, she feels languid, suffers from a headache, and possibly from more or less acute attack of indige This may be due to the fact tion. heated. Though the results of this are not as serious in salt water a may make the mistake of going into the water too soon after eating, or only a short time before a meal. The from the digestive process to counteract-ing the chill of a plunge into cold water interferes sadly with the died to sea bathing never wet the entire surface of their bodies during a so-called bath. They simply wad about, exposing part of the body the cool breezes. Everyone who tried the experiment, knows that th tire body were immersed. By far the most common mistake is that protracting the bath unduly. woman who for an hour or m nounding and a pummeling such ill effects. Her teeth chatter. Sh looks pinched and blue. She ing to persuade herself that it ha been delightful, but in reality inding it hard to put one foot be fore the other. A wick dip and a vigorous rub-down would have made ner bath invigorating as well pleasant. + + +

A MOTHER'S PRAYER.

God bless and keep my little boy, Guard body and guide mind Mix not his gold with hase alloy-Dross of the worldly kind.

Oh ! lay on me the care and pain! Spare him a little while: The heartsease ne'er will spring again Which blooms now in his smil

Roll not the years too fast, O God I fain would longer keep This tousled head which now

Finding the way to sleep

And let not time with foot roughsho My few small charms destroy For there be years to come, O God, When I must woo my boy.

Lend sweetness to his mothe To charm his critic ear For siren songs will court his ch As manhood draweth near

Only the tender years are mine Ah, stretch their shortening span; Yet, if I must my charge resign, Make him, O God, a Man.

-The Delineafor

* * *

WASHING SILK UNDERWEAR. Directions for washing silk under wear have been asked for. The same precautions that are used in washing fine woolens need to be taken with silk. Prepare a suds of white soap and fairly hot water, and add to each gallon of water two fablespoons If the ammonia of ammonia. strong use only one tablespoonful Let the garments soak in the suds for some time, half an hour or long-Wash by rubbing with the hand and gently squeezing. Never rub or a board, and never rub soap on silk unless some spots are unusually ob stinate. Rinse thoroughly. Thi means through two or three waters ing water. Iron when nearly dry If the garments are very delicate press under a thin musiin

* * * THREE SPEAKERS, THREE CA-

THOLICS

(From the London Tablet.) Two hundred women writers m as comrades at dinner on Monday evening, and three of their number were down on the programme speeches-Mrs. Meynell (who presided over the pretty banquet, made gay with flowers and musical with arble of feminine voices). Mrs. Ka therine Tynan Hinkson and Craigle. The last note to be su gested by such a festival is a pole mical one. three spokeswomen of the happen all to be Catholics writers is something more than a lucky fluke It corresponts the warm dominating activities of Catholic women in nearly all the departments of literature and journalism.

+++

THE SAME MOTHER IN DIFFER-ENT SETTING.

When one sees boys and girls con gregating on the city streets, learning alley language and gutter manners, one involuntarily asks, are their mothers ? What are they doing so important that it force them to leave their children to th ribald instruction of the ourbstone?'
Can they take them to the country they can't afford it. When they can afford it the good fortune does not change the type of mothers who do not care to be "bothered" with th When rich this kind children. mock-mother leaves her responsibil ties to the hired nurse; when she pays a higher price in trustin them to the guardianship of street. She is occupied with work, fiction and "piazza chat" drudgery and back-door gossip in the other instance. It's the same wo in Catholic Standard and GIAD HE WENT TO ROME.

WALL PAPER PICTURE FRAMES Unless you have tried it, you ca ine what pretty and ine pensive picture frames can be of wall paper. Select paper of small design or of plain color cover the panels which have been cut from heavy cardboard, turning the edges over and glueing in plac Place the front panels in ogether, face down, and lay a piece of ribbon at the top and bottom t The backs are form hinges. glued to these, except the lower edge which is left open to slip the pho tograph in. Place a board this with a heavy weight until dry Some very effective frames for large photographs are made of flowered de sions and are quite as pretty selected paper is used. Some of the tapestry papers make excellent frame and screens, and are also effective for covering shirtwaist boxes.-New Orleans Times-Democrat.

SELF-TONED ROOMS.

The self-toned room-that is, the room where everything is of one color-has the lead in the best house below the bedroom floors. Two three kinds of furniture of as many different colors jumbled up in drawing-room are out of the que tion now.

In a millionaire's new house drawing-room has a long expanse of perfectly plain ceiling, rounding down to meet a four-inch moulding of white and gold. The walls between a two-foot high wainscoting of white enamelled wood and the frieze paneled with yellow self toned bro cade. The chairs and sofas are upholstered in brocade of exactly the same tint, and portieres window curtains are made from same material. The frames of the curtains are white enamel. This is the general style of drawing room most in vogue now Plain ivory tinted ceilings devoid of ornamentation are practically the rule. The wide, elaborate has gone out. So have the vivid contrasts of color in wall hanglings and furniture coverings. Harmo is the main , idea rather than that there shall be several thousand dollars' worth of covering in evidence. The showy gilt windows cornices mirror frames and curtain supporter once so fashionable, have vanished Only the panel curtain hanging straight down against the glass now used in rooms of state with the heavy curtains of brocade, tapestry or velvet, as the case may be, next to the room. As a result of fash ion's change in favor of simpler and quieter effects it is perfectly possible for people in most moderate circum stances to duplicate in comparative ly inexpensive materials some of th most costly rooms in the country. Washington Star.

FUNNY SAYINGS.

UTILITARIAN.

Sunday School Teacher-Of cours you'd like to be an angel, Tommy wouldn't you?

Tommy-I guess I would. I'd hav wings then and could fly up and git the jam off the top shelf."

+++

"Woman," said he, in agonize tones, "you have broken my heart." She laid her head on his manly "No," she said, after listening in evidence of organic lesion. There is a slight palpitation; due, perhaps, to That is all." And now the young man swears that hereafter s love to a girl at summer resort he will be sure she is not a medical student.

A BAD BREAK.

During the annual convention of certain religious body, not so long ago, an incident occurred whi was not on the programme, which completely upset the gravity of the ministers and brethren ass hled. It was at the closing session were about $100 short of an am desired to be raised for a given pu be made up before the final adjour ment. One of the laymen jumped u with the remark:

"I'll start the good work with

"I don't ther," said the chairman, "but may God bless you, and may your business be doubled during the year."

Much to his ast

platform and whispered:
"Why, that's Mr. Blank, a pent undertaker of the town."

His Visit to the Head of Catholic Christend, m.

ent number of the "Your Man," of London, England, the Rev R. J. Campbell, minister of the London City Temple, discussing Catholic city, gives some particulars of his "I have for years past," he writes made a point of availing myself of such opportunities of studying manism from within as might my way. I have friends among the d and the laity in England and out of it, and have taken care ful note of much that they have told In the early part of the pre sent year I visited Rome itself, where was received with great kindness and allowed to see a good deal Catholic life in the Eternal City My visit to the Pope, about so much fuss was made by some ex-treme Protestants in this country was neither the most instructive, nor the most interesting of my experiences there. "Nothing could have exceeded the courtesy shown me by these ecclesiastics, from Cardinal Merry del Val downwards, to whom I took of introduction from my friends the diocese of Westminster. Perhaps some Protestants would say courtesy was all of a piece with the present designs of Rome upon England. I cannot flatter my own portance by thinking so. The Pope nas a benevolent expression, considerable personal digmity, and there is about him an atmosphere of unworldliness and simple goodness which unmistakable. If any real curiosity exists as to why I went to see him the opportunity was courteously afforded me, and because I was glad to look on the face of the peasant boy who had risen to be head of Ca tholic Christendom."

On the general question of Catho licism, he admits that, in spite of all his efforts at Rome to look on things from a Catholic point of view, was unable to discover the "secret of the power of Rome over so many minds. "And yet." he continues. "we felt-my friends and myself-the glamor, the majesty, the almost super naturalness of Rome. We were not disappointed, as we had been repeatassured before leaving edly land would be the case. The ecclesi astics with whom I was brought into contact were men of high culture fine character, and true spirituality I was even able to worship withou any feeling of unreality or menta protest, and yet I came away with out getting at the secret of the power of Rome over minds like that of John Henry Newman.

FILIPINOS CLING TO FAITH

As Little Danger of Losing it as of Ireland Apostatizing.

The Filipino people are intensely and intelligently Catholic. They have been made so by the heroic work of the Spanish friars, and they will com tinue so under the wise and pruden rule of the American Bishops. sects, by their own reports, have made no progress, and the schism of the excommunicated priest, Aglipay, has been unmasked and found to be revolutionary plot for independence There is great encour ment in the recent words of the Archbishop of Manila' "There is as much danger of the Filipinos losing their faith as there is of the Irish

Direct and reliable reports inform us that Archbishop Harty's wisdon and prudence have won for him th love of the Filipino people, the de votion and confidence of the clergy and the admiration and respect the governmental authorities. H is consulted on all questions involve ing the church in the islands, and i implicitly trusted by the governo and the commissioners and Preside Roosevelt about the many intricate problems that arise. .

The Archbishop is authority the statement that his work is at solutely unhampered by the govern to assist him in every wenty-five years the Archbishop of fanila predicts 'Filipino missionaries will be going to the surround-

THE SONGS OF IRELAND

(Feom the Pall Mall Gazette.)

"The Land of Song" is one of nany poetic and symbolic names in which Ireland rejoices. It is a title which is well deserved. Ireland is the one country which has a musical nstrument for its national emble On her green flag gleams a golden harp. The system of law in ancien: Ireland was a poetic composition se to music. The Irish airs which are best known, those adopted by Thomas Moore to his own graceful lyrics, expressing intensely every phase of emotion, never fail in their hu Yet the history of this matchles ossession of the Irish race has never been written till now. Hitherto the best account of the music and musical instruments of Ireland was to be found :in the famous "Lectures on the Manners and Customs of the An cient Irish," which Eugene O'Curry, the archaeologist, delivered to students of the short-lived Catholic University founded by voluntary subscription in Dublin in the '50's Mr Grattan Flood's work ("A History of Irish Music," just published in Dublin) is a most exhaustive history of Irish music. But it is more than that. It is a very valuable contribution to social history, to the history of manners and customs in Ireland from ancient times till the end of the nineteenth century, as illustrated by the songs and music of the people. In ancient Ireland the bard was person of immense power and influnce. He had to undergo at least twelve years' training perore the co veted title of Ollamh was conferred upon him. At that time rank was designated by color in dress The bard had a dress of fine colors, including a white mantle and a blue cap ornamented with gold crescent There were nine different musical instruments in use. The harp was the most appreciated, and after it in popularity came the bagpipes, flute and horn. The ancient music in Ireland, which is still extant, consists of battle marches, dance tunes, love me lodies, religious shymns and chants. Right down the centuries the characteristic of Irish music has its vein of melancholy or tenderness.

BEAR TRIES TO LIFT DEER FROM WATER.

(From the Maine Woods.)

W. M. Kennedy, who has been in the lumbering business for a number of years past, tells of seeing a bear try to lift a live deer from the Magalloway River. When he discovered them, the bear had hold of a young buck's head with his teeth and was hanging on hard with the aid of his The deer swam for the shore, claws. carrying the weight of the hear, but he swam directly into a trap in the crotch that was made by the boom. The bear made frantic efforts to get onto the logs and pull the deer after him. But the sight was too much. The bear was despatched by Mr. Kennedy.

Man-Eating Pike of Yorkshire Dr. G. V. A. Robertson, of Picker-

ing, reports :- "On Saturday I re ceived a call to visit the son of farmer. The message was, 'The lad has been bitten by a fish.' arrival I found the lad suffering from a severe wound of the right making inquiries I was told the lad had been bathing, along with two others, in the river Leven, which runs near to the farm at Sinnington, and on getting out of the water he sat on the bank, as lads are wont to do, when suddenly a large fish jumped out of the water on to the bank, seized again. The distance from the water to the bank is guite two feet and the lad's foot was three from the edge of the bank. who was passing and heard his cries sistance and carried went to his assistance and carried him home, as the foot was bleeding profusely. A gentleman who stays at the farm and is an enthusiastic angler, asked to see the place, and said he would try to catch the the gratification of catching the fish in a few minutes with an artificial

Three Brooks, N.B. . . .

It has been a long tip have written to the corr thought I would write to-day. Our school wil August 15th, 1905. I years old 15th of Febr I have a flower bed of m Bishop was up and hesai small to be confirmed. could be confirmed the r comes up. Our teacher the expressman, and Pa was at the gate with th Even Flora Louise, Phyl doll, had her cape and ready to go to the s "Let's go all around below, and then upstairs other look at the blue ing in the sunshine and its white surf on the bea Phyllis found the w It had been forgotten.

BERT

ad Flora Louise could namma. Down came nt, alas! Flora Lo ont, alas t alipped outside to the beneath and rolled down row railing at the edge slands, and in Archbishop of ino mission the surroundert the 8, 1905.

IRELAND.

Gazette.) g" is one of olic names It is a title Ireland has a musical ional emblem. ms a golden law in ancient irs which are ted by Thomas eful lyrics, exery phase their human this matchless race has never Hitherto the usic and musiand was to be "Lectures oms of the Anagene O'Curry, wered to the lived Catholic voluntary sul the '50's, Mr. ("A History published in is more than uable contribu ms in Irela the end of the illustrated by the people ne bard was a wer and infludergo at least perore the cowas conferred time rank was n dress. The ne colors, in-e and a blue gold crescent. nt musical in e harp was the after it in popipes, flute and usic in Ireland, consists of tunes, love mes and chants. ries the cha-

LIFT DEER ER.

isic has been or tenderness.

e Woods.) has been in s for a number seeing a bear n he discovered old of a young teeth and the aid of his n for the shore, the hear, but a trap in the by the boom c efforts to get l the deer after ed by Mr. Ken-

of Yorkshire

son, of Pickeraturday I rethe son of a was, 'The lad On my fish.' d suffering from e right i as told the lad ong with two ven, which runs Sinnington, and e water he sat are wont to do, fish jumped out he bank, seized and jumped in from the waguite two feet was three feet bank. A lady heard his cries nce and carried ot was bleeding nan who stays an enthusiastic catch the fish. tackle he had atching the fish th an artificial out to be a fine feet one and a d weighing six be no doubt."

I not only saw but I also saw d the gentleman

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS.

BY AUNT BECKY.

Dear Girls and Boys :

It seems almost like old times to see those letters. Anna McG. is quite a young contributor. I hope papa will not forget to get you the puppy, and I am sure you will be kind to it. I would like to see Berthe McG's flower bed. I should think you were too young, dear, for confirmation, even though you were wise enough. You touch a tender spot, May, when you speak of corn. What a helpful little girl you must be when you are able to perform papa's duties while he is ill. You have quite a collection of flowers in your garden, Hugh. We have been having our share of warm weather, too. I hope for a continuance of the letters.

Your loving AUNT BECKY

* * *

Dear Aunt Becky:

You must think I have entirely forgotten you, but such is not the case. have been so busy that I have not got any real vacation yet. My father station agent, and is not quite well, and I have to tend to the trains in his place. I hope your old friends will not forget you alner is quite deserted. I am wishing for corn and tomato time, as I am a lover of vegetables; are you not, Auntie? There is an excursion to Burlington to-day. My brother has gone and will not get home until 10 Katharine. "There on the veranda o'clock to-night.

We are having bad weather for haying, as it is reaming every day. Lynn, opening the window wide. Farmers will be discouraged if it keeps on. I will close hoping you the roof below, and then crept slow are enjoying summer pleasures May O'N.

Sherrington, July 23, 1905. +++

Dear Aunt Becky:

I am a little girl, 5 years old, and as I cannot write very well I asked mamma to write for me. I have two sisters and two brothers. The baby is eighteen months old. We have no pets besides the chickens now, but papa is going to get us a pup next week. I think we will love him very But she was Flora Louise no longer We have a mile to go to school, so I can't go all the time. is " sighed Katharine.

Your loving niece,

Three Brooks, N.B. + + +

Dear Aunt Becky: This is my second letter. The flowers are quite plenty. We have some richmedels, four o'clocks, honey suckles, stars and marigolds. The I have not very much to write, so I will close.

> Your loving nephew HUGH McG.

Three Brooks, N.B.

... Dear Aunt Becky:

It has been a long time since have written to the corner, and I thought I would write a few lines to-day. Our school will be open years old 15th of February, 1906. I have a flower bed of my own. The I have a flower bed of my own. The Bishop was up and he said I was too small to be confirmed, but that I could be confirmed the next time he comes up. Our teacher's remaining the comes up. Our teacher's remaining the comes up. comes up. Our teacher's name is Gertrude Burke. The straw berries are all gone and the raspberries are coming a long letter this time, so good-bye BERTHA McG.

THE LOST DOLL.

The seaside cottage had been put in order, the trunks had gone with the expressman, and Papa Graham was at the gate with the carriage Even Flora Louise, Phyllis' beloved doll, had her cape and bonnet on, all ready to go to the station.

"Let's go all around the cottag and say a good-by," said Phyllis, hugging Flora Louise in her arms. They went through all the rooms below, and then upstairs to get an other look at the blue ocean gleaming in the sunshine and rolling u its white surf on the beach.

Phyllis found the window wide op and Flora Louise could close it for mamma. Down came the window but, alas ! Flora Louise somehow allignments. alipped outside to the veranda beneath and rolled down to the row railing at the edge.

Poor Phyllis! She stood an in stant watching the gay little heap huddled together in the sheltering angle, and then ran downstairs fast as she could go to tell papa about it.

But papa said that they must not wait another instant. Mamma had already locked the door, as soon as Phyllis was out, and she and Baby Lou were getting into the carriage There was nothing left for Phyllis to do but to climb in too.

With a long, lingering look at the speck of red cape that showed through the veranda railing, she laid her head on her mother's shoulder and cried as if her heart would break They said she should have a new dolly just as soon as she should get back to town, and it came in du season, and grew to be very dear to Phyllis; but she never forgot poor Flora Louise, out in the sun and wind on the veranda roof at the seaside cottage.

"Next summer I shall try to get her the very first thing," she said. After a month or two the cottage was let to a winter tenant, for in the South, where Phyllis lived, people often go to the beach resorts during the winter season.

Lynn and Katharine, the little new comers, went all through the cottage the first thing, to see what their new together, as the boys and girls cor- home was like. At the front window upstairs they paused, as Phyllis had often done, to watch the blue ocean sparkling in the sun and rolling up its white surf on the sand.
"Oh, look, Lynn,!" suddenly crie roof! I wonder what it is! "I'm going down to see," said

He let himself down carefully ly down to where poor Flora Louise was huddled.

"What a dear dolly !" cried Katha rine, as she held it safe in her arms at the window. "Some poor little girl must have dropped her, and couldn't get her again. What fun we'll have with her !"

Many a happy day had Lynn and Katharine in the little cottage and on the warm, sunny beach, and Fiora Louise shared in all their good times.

"If we only knew what her name "But we'l Our baby's name is Marguerite, and just have to give her another, poor she can talk quite plain. That is all little dear! It must be awful to be lost and not able to tell your own name. Let's call her Ger-ANNA McG. 'trude." So Gertrude she remained all winter.

When the time drew near for leaving, mother one day gave Katharme an idea, which she was quick share with Lynn, and after that there were busy, busy days for both. weather is warm. It is dry now for Katharine came and gather d Gcr trude in her arms. "You dear precious !" she murmured. "I hate awfully to leave you. But you're going to have a delightful 'sprise some day, when the summer girl comes back."

It was not Gertrude, however, but the summer girl hersel', who had the greatest "s'prise."

The very first week of vacation the carriage stopped at the gate again, and Phyllis looked anxiously up to August 15th, 1905. I will be eight the veranda railing while Papa Graham unlocked the door.

But the first sight that met eyes as she walked into the sittingroom was Flora Louise herself, gorin. I have written geous in a new gown, and seated on a cunning little bedstead just right for her! Pinned to her dress was a little note, which read:

"Dear Summer Girl: The agent told us you live in this cottage every the rescue. The helpless, featherless summer, so I know you will be glad little creature was directly in the to get your dolly again. We love her, too. One of us climbed out the window and got her and made her saw the mother trying to lift the window and got her and made her bedstead, and the other took care of her and made her new clothes. We ped the car.

this summer. Lovingly,
"The Winter Boy and Girl." Near by was a little trunk containing a pink silk dress and a lainty cloak and hat. There were also many dainty little garments that delighted the eye of grateful the agent if that boy and girl are coming back next winter, and, if they are, I'm going to leave her here for them."-Lily Manker Allen, in Youth's Companion.

HOW FATHER WON THE MEDAL. It was the night of the prize conest at Summerville College. Portis Bridge, one of the excited group on the placeform, was in a tumult of young bird, and as the baby opened the fright, but the only person in the its greedy mouth she dropped every penny had to be counted to one back into the nest. keep her in college. But there he was-dear old father !

To the strangers there he was only a farmer in town clothes, but Portia speech was wanted. And she knewwith a sinking heart to-night-his fond belief that his daughter had inherited that gift.

But he would see soon that this was a different matter from reciting hefore enthusiastic church sociables at home. Oh, how had she ever had the conceit to try ! Then the graceful girl in the soft black gown began to speak, and Portia saw her father leaning forward eagerly listen-and everything seemed whirl.

Portia's name was last on the programme. As the numbers were pass ed, one by one, the frill that circled her pretty shoulders began to beat time with her heart. Over over she swallowed to moisten parched throat. The piano duet had begun. When that was finished she would have to speak. She tried to think of the first lines of her recitation. They were gone.

At that moment, under cover the music, a tall, sunburned man from the very end of the long room walked deliberately down the aisle Regardless of curious eyes, he went straight to his astonished daughter, sitting at the eage of the low platform, and whispered in her ear:

"Keep perfectly cool. You've got 'em-tighter'n a brick!"

That was all. With an unmoved face he made his way back; but . a sudden pink had flooded the girl's white cheeks and an unfrightened mirth shone in her eyes. As her name was announced her knees forgot to shake, and she faced her audience with a charming confidence that caught every heart in the room.

The decision was a foregone conclusion. The judges were out two minutes, and the gold medal was presented to Miss Portia Bridge amid deafening rounds of applause.

But no one except Portia and one tall, sumburned men knew just what it meant when-after it was all over she flew into his arms, right there before the glad little group that had gathered round, and cried out:

Youth's Companion.

+ + + YEARS.

After flying about the country for nearly three years a blue checked pigeon which in June, 1902, was go to a funeral. shipped to Gordonville, S.C., to be entered in a five hundred mile contest for young birds, returned to the loft of its owner. John Dethoff, this city, to-day.

The small ring of identification remains intact on its leg.-Reading

MOTHER BIRD'S LOVE.

An object lesson in motherly love was witnessed by the rush-hour crowd on Park Row last night, says the New York World. A baby sparrow flew from its nest in City Hall Pinned to her dress was a park and alighted in the middle of the busy thoroughfare.

The ever-watchful mother flew to path of a trolley-car, when the moyoung bird from the street and stop-didn't know her right name, but we have called her Gertrude. We hope you'll have a good time with her heavy for the mother to carry. A newsboy picked it up and took it to a fire escape at the Sun office. The mother flew over the head of the newsboy, making a great racket, as she did not understand that he was 'rying to aid her.

As soon as the newsboy placed her offspring on the fire escape the modren!" cried Phyllis, when mamma had read the note. "I'm going to call my lost dolly Flora Louise Gertrude Graham, and I'm going to ask of discarded food. FATHER KOENIGS FREE A VALO the hall who knew it was a tall, sun-food in. For half an hour the burned man away back by the door, crowd watched the devoted mother He had come in quietly during the feed her youngster. Then some one violin solo, and Portia's heart had took the little hard off the fire esgiven a great jump at sight of him. cape and carried it across to City She had not dreamed of his taking Hall park and put it in a tree. By that journey to hear her speak. She degrees the mother and several other the expense; she knew how birds succeeded in getting the young

> * * * WHERE TOYS COME FROM.

Most of our dolls and other toys knew better. She knew the keen, berg, in Germany, and it is most interesting to visit the doll factories her letters, had thrown out suggestit of contern that made her father in these towns. It is a strange fact tions of a desire to go to the city, the man to be sent for from all over that no factory makes a whole doll; not far from her home, to teach. whenever a stirring each part is made specially, and by It was hard to think of, they had ticular part.

> Very little machinery is employed in doll-making, or in toy-making, wishes stand in the way.
> but all pass through the hands of "I shan't let her go," said little

A toy turtle, with a clock in its chest, has to pass through the hands more." of three men and thirty-seven girls hefore it is ready to be put on the market.

Many children in Germany help in the manufacture of toys, and enjoy the work and the money they thus earn.

"The children of Germany take pleasure in making

What the children of England take pleasure in breaking.

A REMARKABLE PRIEST.

Rev. James Crickard, pastor of the parish of Loughin Island, County Down, Ireland, recently celebrated his ninety-fifth birthday, and also his with me in thinking that I ought seventieth year in the priesthood. The parish of which the aged priest myself. is spiritual head is located pretty near the centre of the county, in rural district, a few miles from the little town of Ballynahinch, figured so prominently in the memorable year of 1798.

With one assistant, notwithstand ing his remarkable age, Father Crick- it, mother, darling." ard still continues to administer the affairs of his parish with great ability. Every Sunday he celebrates Mass, and every alternate Sunday preaches the sermon, which is always full of instruction and often eloquent, his voice reaching every member of the congregation.

As regards age, he is now the spiritual Father of the diocese to which he belongs, is very popular, and still full of quick wit full of quick wit and good humor. Father Crickard comes of a longlived family, most of the members living over ninety years, and some even passing the century mark. His mother lived to be 103.

"Oh, father, dear, you did it!" THE CHINAMAN'S FOOD FOR THE DEAD. Admiral Hichborn, long chief con-PIGEON RETURNS AFTER THREE structor in the navy, has a Chinese servant named Chow, whom brought with him from the East. One day Chow asked permission to

"All right," said the Admiral. Then he added: "I suppose you will put a lot of food and sweetmeats on his grave as they do in China ?" "Allee same China," Chow replied

"Now, Chow," continued the Admiral, "when do you think the dead mains intact on its leg.—Reading correspondence Philadelphia Bulletin.

Chinaman will come up to eat the food you leave on the grave?"

"Allee same time Melican man comes up to smellee flowers you leave on his grave," answered Chow, ur banely.-Boston Herald.

HOT WATHER AILMEENTS.

The best medicine in the world to ward off summer complaints is Baby's Own Tablets, and it is the best me cine to cure them if they attack little ones unexpectedly. At the first sign of illness during the hot weather give the child Baby's Own Tab lets, or in a few hours the trouble may be beyond cure. These Tablets cure all stomach troubles, diarrhoea and cholera infantum, and if occasionally given to the well child will prevent them. Mrs. Edward Clark, McGregor, Ont., says: "I used Baby's Own Tablets for my little girl who suffered from colic and bowel troubles and I found them the most satisfac-tory medicine I ever tried." This is of the distance with her mother, the experience of all mothers who have used this medicine. Keep the Tablets in the home during the hot weather months and you can feel that your children are safe. Sold by all druggists, or sent by mail at 25 cents a box by writing the Dr. Wil-liams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A POINTED MORAL

It was the middle of June and the hittle ones were holding high festi-

"Only a week more-" "And sister will be here."

"Oh, I'm so glad she'll be done with that nasty old school!"

"She's going to stay with us all the time now, isn't she, mother?"

"We can't tell till she comes, dear," Mother's tone was a little sad, for the thought of her eldest daughter coming home from school to be her help and comfort, to take her share of the home cares, had lain warmly at her heart.

"Why can't we tell, mother?" clamored the little ones.

"Perhaps sister Emily will want to go somewhere else, after spending workmen who only make that par- all looked forward so long to the homecoming, but if she earnestly desired it, mother would not let her

> Alice, stoutly. "I'll take such tight hold of her she can't get away any

A letter was brought to mother. "I don't know what you'll think of me, mother dearie," it began, "but I want to ask you if you will be willing for me to spend the early part of the summer away from you. Margaret Marshall, my chum, has asked me to visit her. I would mot wish to do it, except that it will give me an opportunity to attend the summer school and lectures -a great advantage to me in view of what I hope to accomplish in the future. "Of course the next few years ought to be the most useful of my life, and I'm sure you will agree to seize on every chance of improving

"As you are coming up for the distribution, I shall have a nice little time with you. It's too bad which cannot see the little ones, but they can wait, and what good times we will all have when sister does come; Write and tell me what you think of

+ + +

A forlorn wail went up from three little voices when the small girls were told of the new plan. Mother felt that she could have joined in it easily, the blessed home-coming had meant so much to her. How could her daughter disappoint her so? when she reached the school; in the face. whirl of the closing days the glow of ing in of new interests and new pursuits, was it to be wondered at that the quiet demands of home should be shoved aside? Certainly, it would require much of the grace of God to turn from all this pleasant excite ment to the simple routine so satisfying before years of school. Mothe was sure it was all right, but her heart kept on aching. Music was popular in the school, and formed a conspicuous part in the closing exercises. Emily was to sing, and the glow of the loving pride with which her mother looked at he as she stood before the audience in her simple white dress, she forgot, for the moment, everything but the shadow fell again. All the sweetness, the beauty of the young life was for others, not for those who loved her at home.

eyes fell on her mother, who sat near I am looking at the other side the stage. A pain smote her to the heart, for mother's face wore a look of pathetic sadness which her daughter had never seen before. through the light and the music and the upturned faces came a rush of feeling so strong that she almost forgot her part. She saw, as never before, the contrast between mother's life, witten so pathetically on he gentle face, and her own, filled to overflowing with all the joy and enthusiasm of youth. Her whole heart was in the close of her song. for she sang to her mother as had never sung before. A burst of believe I am keeping more than I applause greeted the close. The next morning was full of stir, for in the afternoon the young peo-ple were to separate, some to return, others to take up a new life. Emily was to travel a short part to change trains and continue he journey with her friend, leaving he mother to go home slone. All that morning Emily was in wild spirits.

'T'm going to have such good times, mother, such good, good times," Not one word of regret at the prospect of being separated from her again, not a thought, apparently, of the little ones who mourned because sister Emily was not coming. Mother really began to wonder her daughter was growing absolutely selfish.

SURPRISE SOAP

We Tell Our Friends ide, as good as SURPRISE, which is "A Pure Hard hes well and wears well. THE ST. CROIX SOAP MFS. CO., St. Stephen. N.B.

When the time came to change trains, Emily was on ner feet, still laughing and chatting.

"Aren't you going to wish me good-bye, dear?" said mother, Emily followed her friend to the door of the carriage. She turned with a merry lauch.

"Good-bye, mother. It won't be long before I see you again."

The door closed on her. Mother sank back into the corner of her seat with a sob, while out on the platform the merry voices still kept on; How lighthearted those girls were, and how thoughtless of all besides their own desires and pursuits. She never would have believed Emily could be so.

"You're making the mistake of your life, Em.

No, I think not."

"It isn't too late yet to change your mind. Come, Emmy, see to your luggage while I get you a tick

"Thank you, dear; but I am de-"You will regret it when it is too late." "If I do you may be sure I'll tell you. You must write and tell me of all the good things you hear. Now -time for you to go-good-bye."

Farewell shouts echoed back and forth as the other train moved away? but mother, who had not headed the light talk, did not look up until a pair of arms held her in close But she could understand it better brace, and she looked up into Emily's

"Did you think I could leave you, delightful anticipation, in the crowd- mother, darling? It has been my little joke all the morning-to get this little surprise on you. Oh, mother, do you think me the most selfish, undutiful daughter in the world?"

"How you talk, my dearie?" "Because if you don't, you and I have a disagreement. Well, mother, I seemed, somehow, to come to my senses all at once, and last night I fought it out with myself, with result that here I am going to the dearest little home with the dearest mother in the world; and to staynot to leave you when the summer is over. "But, Emily-you are giving up so much. You said these next few years were going to be so important to

"I said so, and I may say so still, But I don't think that the next few, years can be better spent than As she paused in her song, Emily's doing what I can at home. You see, things. There are plenty of girlspoor things-who have no home. I will let them do the struggling the tugging, because they have But there is one girl who is not going to throw away the blessing which belongs to her. Now for the precious little ones and the dear home life ?"

"But, my child, you are giving up a great deal. Have you considered it well ?"

"I know I am," said Emily, with a serious look on her face. have thought it all out, mother give up.

"Judge not, that you may not be judged;" also judge not because you do not know all the "mitigating circumstances." God knows these.-The

One can make a great sacriff e now and then, with a martyr siccism, but the petty thorns in me's yath hurt as cruelly, and must to they od in silepce.—Amanda Douglas.

drue Mitness The

And Catholic Chronicle IS PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY

The True Witness Printing & Publishing Co., 25 St. Antoine Street, Montreal, Canada.

P. O. Box 1138.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE Canada (city excepted), United States and Newfoundland..... $1.00 City and Foreign ...... $1.50

TERMS: PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS .- When order ing change of address it is necessary to send old as well as new address.

SUBSCRIBERS in Westmount, Montreal Annex, Montreal West, Verdun, Point St Charles, St. Henri, Maisonneuve, Ste. Cunerconde, St. Louis du Mite End, will fin future have to pay $1.50, owing to change in P. O. regulations. This takes effect with subscriptions commencing January. 1905.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 3, 1905.

CATHOLIC SCHOOLS EXCEL

The Toronto News, the self-constituted organizer and tribune of the anti-Catholic element in Toronto, played a strange prank upon itself the other day. After publishing a wordy and vehement communication from Rev. Dr. Carman, a Methodist firehrand, charging Catholic schools with maintaining the lowest standards, and with fostering ignorance and mediaevalism. The News launched out on its own account as the duly appointed reformer of this deplorable state of things. But in the news columns of the paper another tale was unfolded. There the results of the entrance examinations for the Collegiate Institutes of Toronto were published. Over 1200 children drawn from the public schools, the Separate schools the private academies entered ine contest. About sixty per cent of the total number passed; but the News reporter, with unexpected devotion to detail, pointed out that a large peecentage of the children from the Catholic or separate schools went through successfully than of any other group. Less than 20 per cent of the Catholic children failed: the children who, according to Dr. Carman and the editor of The News. learn nothing in the separate schools but Catechism. The separate schools of Toronto are taught by the Christian Brothers, the St. Joseph Sis ters and the Loretto nuns. These religious teachers, according to fr. Carman and The News, are the cause of "virtual stagnation of social and national progress"; and they "call it education." But they show that they educate their pupils better than the teachers of the public schools along the lines laid down by the State Department for public school examinations.

GOT IN THEIR BAILIWICK.

Some public journals in Ottawa and Montreal have assumed the cosponsible task of helping the proper authorities to administer the aCaus of the Catholic Church in this Pro- of course perfectly gratuitous, vince. The Ottawa Journal dervies great satisfaction from the circum stance that La Patrie and itself are of one mind about the 'administration of Catholic affairs" in Quebec. We think it was La Patrie that considered it necessary some years ago to intervene in behalf of a section of the Catholic laity in New England. It also says a word now for the French Acadians for whom it would like to nominate a Bishop. We are legislature, Provincial or Dominion hardly prepared in Canada to ruteive political or newspaper sugges tions regarding the selection of 181. of the citizens of Montreal. thops. Even upon the foundation of the ConcordatFrench politicians have not satisfied the Holy See. And we and the Ottawa Journal would not lated upon the energy he is bringin nt method of appointing Bishon were done away with and the right of nomination conferred upon them. Though they are in agreement today they may guarrel to-morrow, and there would be great danger of their saying unpleasant things to each other. The "administration of Catholic affairs." as the Ottawa Journal puts it, is best understood by Catholics themselves, who know that ne difficulty is likely to arise amongst them as long as all have the welfare of the Church at heart. Therefore it might be as well not to extend the legitimate spheres of innewspaper publicity is likely to throw upon the interests of English-speaking Catholics in this Province. The affairs of the Church here are in excellent hands. We have all the machinery that is good for us. There is no influence that is not available to every element of our people from the Papal Delegate down to the humblest of our devoted priests.

The best feature of the discussion raised between the Journal and La Patrie is that they are so heartily in agreement with each other. Upon this basis they might be content to let matters that really do not concern them alone.

THE GLOBE CALLED DOWN

We are glad to see that Le Soleil and other voices of the Liberal party throughout the Province have echoed our remarks of a few weeks ago upor the attitude of the Globe towards certain particular members of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Cabinet. The effect of these protests against the arrogance and narrowness of whatever element the Globe may speak for cannot but be good. The True Witness did not open this subject with out cause. Indeed, we had it on excellent authority at the time when the school question had begun to assume a more or less critical appearance during the recent session of Parliament, that the President of the Globe had openly boasted in the presence of several parties that he rejoiced because the Globe had the power of making and unmaking Governments. It may have been chagrin after this bootless boast that accounted for the recent tantrums in which the Glooe indulged, and a little plain speaking to the over-conceited organ at this time of the day, whe politics in the ordinary sense com in for a much needed rest, may possibly have a salutary effect. We reproduce in another column the ar- Cowper, who will be remembered as ticle of Le Soleil.

NO SUNDAY THEATRES.

ing the managers of Montreal thea- chairman of the famous Cowper Com tres concerning the reported intention of one place of amusement to port that the Land League had been cater to Sunday seekers after pleasure. It is hardly within the exclusive jurisdiction of theatrical people to decide whether our Sunday shall but for their oppression. be desecrated in this manner. Public opinion will guickly settle any schemes that may be hatching among maintenance of their revenues in the dull season. The manager of one house takes a slap at our French-Canadian fellow-citizens as a body, assuming that they are in favor of Sunday theatres. The assumption is soul of the illustrious Mansignor

Sunday or Monday the theatres Montreal are no great credit to the city, and the only wonder is that the people can stand the entertainment they ordinarily afford. If any of them hope to get busy upon Sunday they wholly misapprehend the strength and respectability of ou public opinion, and it will not take them long to become disillusioned Nor is there much chance that any will help them in the direction of disregarding the religious convictions

FOOD ADULTERATION

Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Minister of are greatly afraid that La Patrie Inland Revenue, is to be congratugive complete satisfaction, if the to bear upon the problem of adulteration of foodstuffs. For some LE SOLEIL, OF QUEBEC, time his department has had speci agents working in the country col lecting samples which have been su jected to analysis at Oftawa. It is rather alarming to learn that up wards of 25 per cent. of the prepared foodstuffs sold to Canadians are adulterated with compounds more or less injurious and some of a decidedly poisonous nature. The ingenuity brought to bear by the operators in this line is truly remarkable. Amongst their compounds are mentioned rotten stone-one of the least harmful when mixed with pep- "The lines which follow may be least harmful when mixed with pep- written after full reflection, and let fluence, on account of any light which per; cheap wood alcohol, employed promiscuously in drugs and liquors; glucose, which, compounded with, cheap sugar, makes a marketable brand of maple syrup, and so on, frid Laurier? Public opinion will strengthen Mr Brodeur's strong right hand in the punishment of all offenders against the public health.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Bishop Archambault has founded a kindergarten school in Joliette, the opening of which is fixed for Sep tember 1.

The Viceroy of Canton has ejected the monks from the monastery at Canton, in consequence of their opposition to a proposed school, and has sold the monastery and its lands at auction, realizing $300,000. He is spending the money in establishing a normal school on foreign lines for the children of two provinces.

The Count de Mun, in a review last week of the future of the Church in France, takes an extremely gloomy tion Bill in the Lower House. He ments? describes the Bill as marking the official apostasy of France. He says this legislation will lead to the opening of a terrible era in which violence and disorder may be anticipated.

It will interest the Irishmen of Montreal to know that Mr. B. B. of the late Mr. John Kelliher, of Ballyplymouth, Castleisland, County Kerry. His selection for the position which he occupies was made solely upon merit, one of the chief evidences of his energy and capacity being the Oregon Short Line system, one of his first successes in America.

A cable of last week brought th news of the death in England of Earl the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland from 1880 to 1882. When Mr. Gladstone adopted the Home Rule cause Earl A local paper has been interview- Cowper became a Unionist; but as mission he made the remarkable rethe salvation of Ireland, as the people had no hope under laws which were not made for their protection

The Vice-Rector of the Irish College has received the following letter from the Pope'-"Dearest Son:

"While praying that the peace of the just be accorded to the blessed Murphy, I feel it incumbent upon me to express to you and the dear pupils of the College my most sincere con dolences on the occasion of the great loss which we have all suffered. are comforted by the thought that the good rector has been called to receive the reward of his virtues, that he will not forget us before the grateful if on an opportune occasion you will make known Our sentiments to the relations of the dear defunct and to all those who in their rela tions with him justly appreciated the seautiful gifts of a truly exemplary you and the students the Apostolic Blessing.

("Signed). PIUS X"

Do the duty which lieth nearest to nce. Thy second duty will have al-

ASSAILS TORONTO GLOBE.

"If the cap fits you, wear it" is published in Le Soleil (Fre Quebec, against the Toronto Globe "The article results from the English paper's evident desire to see Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick leave the Cabinet. "We are going to say what we think, and all what we think," begins Le Soleil.

whom they are addressed take note of the se

"Where would the Liberal party be to-day without its leader. Sir Wil-and what would become of the Government itself, without the work, the energy, the ability and the legal light Minister of Justice, Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick?

"We put those questions to Globe, and we ask that paper to an swer them.

"We have the Globe announcing three times in one year the retire ment of Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick, and it was on each occasion when the party was in the greatest need of his se The first time was on the eve of the general elections last fall. Was it the Globe, for instance, that carried the district of Quebec for the Liberal party 2 As a matter of fact that paper did not even consider the status quo in its own province, which it lost completely at the provincial elections. The second time was dur ing the crisis caused by the duestion. Is it the Globe that would have saved the party from complete disintegration in which the servatives are to-day and conserved the Confederation by means of mutual concessions from both French view of the passing of the Separa- Catholic and English Catholic ele-

"No. never.

"For a miserable question of patronage, according to the avowal of its Ottawa correspondent, the Globe started in to follow suit with the World, the News, the Mail and the Telegram. The Globe, in a word, preferred its subscribers to the principles of tolerance, of justice and liberty. It linked the spirit of Kelliher, the new chief engineer of George Brown, and in order to com World, the News and the Mail it frid Laurier.

"The Globe evidently ignores the fact that it was the spirit of George Brown that defeated the Liberal par ty, while it was his death that gave it victory, although the reappearance of the same spirit may again bring nifest that he was destined for poli defeat

"The third time the Globe announ ed the retirement of the Minister of penetration and common sense ha Justice, to replace him, let it noticed, by Mr. Aylesworth, and this at the close of a session in which almost the entire responsibility of the Government was placed on the shoul-

"Do they believe in Toronto that it would have been possible trample under foot the rights of two fifths of the population of Camada of 2,500,000 Catholics, and ther ask the support of these 2,500,000 Catholics for a party who would have sacrificed them, and for a constitution that could not have pro tected them. If the Liberal party "No strong, if it is united to-day, if the The Pope and the Irish College, outlook of the Confederation still aplation to Newfoundland. pears under glorious aus peace and harmony exist to-day Canada, it is not due to the intolerants of Toronto and those who are inspired by them, but rather to the principles of right and justice indicated by Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick and Sir Wilfrid Laurier?

"It appears that the Franco-Catho lic element, thanks to its energy, its breadth of view and to that liberality which distinguishes it, holds to day a predominating place in government of the country.

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Charles Fitzpatrick are certainly the two strongest men in the Cabinet. that he will not forget us before the And the others, Hon. Messrs, Pre-Throne of God, and that he will be a fontaine, Brodeur and Lemieux cerpowerful advocate in obtaining the highest grace for us. We shall be Anglo-Protestant collea

This superiority is displeasing to Toronto, and the Globe and News, which have frequently exalted the value of the men from Quebec, did it evidently from interest at time when they were needed to strengthen the parvy.

Globe, in articles which we have been additionally been approximately been approximat gthen the party. And when the pleased to reproduce, paid homage to our element, did it do this also through interest? Everything, in fact, points this way.

"Now that the Liberal party is all ed manner those who have made the party what it is, under pretext that they are not of its race and creed. What does the Globe hope

"These who made the Liberal party sary for its conservation "Who, after Sir Wilfrid Laurier has done as much for the Libera party as Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick? Who works harder than the Minister of Justice? Who has more ability? better than he in both languages? It is exactly for these reasons because is exactly for these reaso noses itself on the deputation because he is necessary that he designated by the Globe, the chie organ of the English Protestant Liberal party, to give place to Aylesworth. We since ever, that the Hon, Mr. Fitzpatrick will not recede before this disloyal and underhanded persecution of the "What would become of the party, Toronto Globe. He must know that he has no sympathy to expect from the intolerants, of whatever they may be, for the Minister Justice has done too much to de troy them, and he has succeeded only too well. If, not because of little Toronto and Protestant cabals but because of ill-health, the Miniscombat-we hope he will elect to re main-let it be well understood at Toronto that Catholics and French Canadians will not be less united in future combats.

> "The Globe has already four Pro testant candidates in the field. of whom is not even a Liberal. Let the Globe retire them or there be trouble."

DEATH OF SIR AMBROSE SHEA

Sir Ambrose Shea, formerly gover nor of the Bahamas, died at l dence in London at the age of 90. Sir Ambrose Shea was a fine type of those colonial statesmen who play such an important part in the schem of Empire by untiring labors to advance the interests and develop the resources of those colonies with which they are connected. A native of Newfoundland, having been born at St. John's in 1818, he spent the most strenuous years of his life in behalf of the oldest colony, and achieved much for which Newfoundlanders will hold his name in grate ful remembrance. It was not until the G.T.P. railroad, is the third son pete with the circulation of the he had made a mark in commercial life, however, that Sir Amhrose, then came out against its leader, Sir Wil- plain Mr. Shea, entered the political

> At the early age of thirty-two h was already recognized as one of the smartest business men in St. John's and when he entered the Newfound land Assembly it was soon made ma tical distinction. Five years later his undoubted talents and his sound won for him the position of Speaker of that turbulent Assembly, and he retained this post for six years.

After his retirement from the office of Speaker he conducted with success negotiations for the admission Newfoundland to reciprocal treaty arrangements, and was despatched to London as a special delegate from urge that colony's right to enforce restrictions upon the fishing opera tions of the French.

In 1883 he proceeded to England as Commissioner from Newfoundland to the Fisheries Exhibition, and prepared an elaborate report on the re sults of that exhibition in their re-

His lengthy and disinterested vices on behalf of his native island won for Sir Ambrose the reward of tation of all," said Father Sa K.C.M.G. in. 1883, and four years after this he was selected by the Secretary of State for the Colonies to whose place of residence is No. fill the post of Governor and Comoccupied this post until 1895, and the manner in which he discha his duties while in the Bahamas can be gauged from the fact that on his departure he was presented by the ina testimony of his signal services the colony by the establishment of of the marked ability of his general After his retirement from the Colonial Civil Service Sir Ambrose went to live in London. England, where he still retained wide commercial inter-ests, being a director of several com-panies and in some instances chair-

Sir Ambrose was a Roman Catho ic, a man of wide tolerance and sym-pathies which enabled him to tackle successfully knotty colonial prob-

GVER, A DOZEN MARVELLOUS MIRACLES

de Beaupre.

Over a dozen marvellous miracles were wrought during divine service in church of Ste. Anne de Beaupre less than six pilgrims from the vicinston, Mass., who arrived there on Monday, shared in the won derful manifestation of God's bountiful goodness. The occasion was the annual feast of Ste. Anne, and over four thousand pilgrims from all parts were in attendance at the imposing and impressive service when the mi-

The Rev. Father E. F. Saunders. curate of St. Ann's Church, Sommerville, Mass., a subsurbs located about three miles from the city of Boston who came here with an organized pilgrimage of 300 persons to pass three days in devotion at the church dedicated to the mother of the Blessed Virgin, told the story in the presence of some twenty of his party who confirmed his statement, which was also confirmed by Rev. Father Fisher, of Berlin, Ont., was also present at Ste. Anne's when the miracles were performed.

ly impressed over his experience, said he had the pleasure and privilege of witnessing the phenomenal manifestations wrought through the inter-cessions of St. Ann and he never could or would forget the wonder. He said that over a dozen miracles took place, but outside of one or two others he only took a written note of special blessings that occurred in his own party, as follows:

Frank O'Neil, who keeps a small cigar store at Cambridgeport, and well known to every resident in the city of Cambridge, Mass., for some years suffered with hip disease and could only walk with difficulty by the aid of two crutches. He took the trip to Ste. Anne's, and devoutly made the triduum presided over by Rev. Father Daly, C.SS.R., connected with Ste. Anne's church. proached the altar rail, received the Blessed Sacrament, and then stood up and walked back to his pew with only one crutch, leaving the other behind. He was cured.

Miss Annie A. Reynolds, who re-Boston, has been the victim of a deformed hand for years, and after she partook of the sacrament, she also left the rail cured.

Mrs. O'Reilly, a member of St. Joseph's Church, Union avenue, Somerville, who suffered from a bad knee that caused her pain and precluded her from walking, was cured This lady was advised not to make the journey on account of distance and fatigue, but she persisted and her courage and faith were rewarded.

Highland, Mass., who was almost totally blind from a cataract on her left eye, could see perfectly after she received Holy Communion. Adele Boutin, of Somerville, Mass.,

who has , been a martyr to violent leadaches for years, was also cured. Mrs. James Kane, Lowell, Mass., afflicted with deafness for the nine years, and who had been proed incurable by numerous Ame rican ear experts, including professors of Tufts University and ney Hospital, walked away from the number cured.

"But the most wonderful manifes named Harry Doyle, aged mander-in-Chief of the Bahamas. He lad, who was accompanied by friends, that he had almost to be carried munion, and one of those who sisted was Mrs. Peter Kelly, be habitants with a service of plate as ing to our pilgremage from Charles This boy as soon as h crutches on the floor of the ed the church, and every person

PERATION ON BISHOP DOWLING

At the Shrine of Ste. Anne

Rev. Father Saunders, who is deep-

THE MIRACLES.

ides at Revere, Mass., also near communion rail perfectly cured.

Miss Mamie T. Griffin, a well known milliner of Chicopee, Mass., who was partially blind was also

"was the cure wrought upon a boy Clifford avenue, Rochester, N.Y. This with his disease the altar rail to receive Holy Comraised his head from his act of adoration, stood up and, casting his two walked away unaided with his face radiant with divine pleasure. This wit ed by the multitude that throngdeeply affected with the wondrous

ing with great success arrangements. Don't day, August 26th, Next Sunday, imm high Mass, St. Gabriel' tinence and Benefit Soci their regular monthly n mittees to take charge ferent affairs in connect annual excursion will 1 and all other matters with it will be arranged

Gabriel's Juvenile

nce and Benefit Socie

The men's branch (Fr Third Order of St. Fra very successful pilgrime de Beaupre on Sa Over 1400 were in atte ral of the Franciscan I companied the pilgrimag The men's branch hold their first pilgrim caud on Sunday, Augus

Monday morning at 9 Mass was celebrated at Church. Rev. Father S the Archdiocese of Bosto in charge of a large pa grims, officiated. A of the pilgrims were preservice. Rev. Father I laghan, the pastor, welc The party left afterward train for Ste. Anne de l

FEAST OF ST. ALPI The feast of St. Alpho lebrated at St. Ann's Wednesday. Solemn hig sung by Rev. Father Rio sisted by deacon and sub sanctuary was tastefully and a large statue of the surrounded with electric lights. In the evening s diction was given, durin choir rendered a choice I

FEAST OF THE PORT The feast of the Portiv celebrated at the Francisc on Wednesday. The churc

ed at 4 a.m., and the firs at 4.15, followed by Mas 6.15, 7 and solemn high 8 o'clock. Large crowd all the Masses, and made the gaining of the indulg and piety were much in e people came from all over to participate in the exer

CATHOLIC SAILORS Joseph Morgan, aged 18 of Bootle, Liverpool, Eng one of the sailors on boar Dominion, died on Thursd the Montreal General Hosp remains were taken in cha Catholic Sailors' Club, ar in their lot in Cote des N metery. Too much canno in praise of this excellent in and we wish it and its noble effort. ST. GABRIEL'S Y.M.S. RIDE.

every success in their

The officers, of the above desire to thank their ma and the public for their patronage on the occasion recent trolley ride, and we logize for the inconvenience to those of their friends wh unable to be accommodate count of the limited num The Society also desires it known that all persons still tickets for same, may have ney refunded, or tickets wil ored on presentation at th

CATHOLIC HIGH SCH Blinkbonnie Academy will in future as the Cathol School. The property boug Durocher street will be used building has been complete vated and fitted up in excelle The Principal will be Mr. Hales Sanders, and a very staff will assist him. The ium of studies will be the as used at Blinisbonnic Academy pupils of the Academy made cellent showing at the late Art Association examination wish the new Catholic High every success.

ST. PATRICK'S ORPHAN NUAL PICNIC.

The children of St. Patricophen asylum are enjoying selves at their annual picnic 1905.

VELLOUS

te. Anne

is miracles e service in de Beaupre

, and no

ho arrived

n the won-

on was the

, and over

m all parts

imposing

en the mi-

. Somme

ated about

of Boston,

organized

s to pass

the church

the Bless

in the pre-f his party ent, and by Rev.

Ont.; who nne's when ho is deep-rivilege of

l manifes-

the interd he never wonder.

n miracles

f one or a written a small

ent in the

for some ilty by the e took the devoutly l over by

h. He apeceived the pew with he other who re-

m of a de-d after she

she also avenue

rom a bad

was cured.

to make of distance

ed and her

of Melrose, us almost act on her

y after she

ille, Mass.,

to violent

ell, Mass.,

the past

rous Ame-

ng profes

nd Cory from the well known

among the

l manifes-

Saunders, on a boy

six years, s No. 9

N.Y. This

by friends, his disease

earried to ly, belong-

n Charles-soon as he ment and ct of ado-

ng his two ne church, h his face

ure. This was wit-

at throng-

erson was

DOWLING

Joseph's light Rev. ton. His follows:

arrangements. Don't forget Satur-August 26th, to Highgate

Next Sunday, immediately after tinence and Benefit Society will hold their regular monthly meeting. Committees to take charge of the difand all other matters in connection

Third Order of St. Francis held a people turned out to honor their bevery successful pilgrimage to See. loved prelate. Flags were flying, joy guns fired, and the greatest en-last. Over 1400 were in attendance. Several of the Franciscan Fathers accommendate several hundred children, companied the pilgrimage.

gaud on Sunday, August 27th.

Monday morning at 9 o'clock high Mass was celebrated at St. Patrick's Church. Rev. Father Saunders, of grims, officiated. A great number of the pilgrims were present at the laghan, the pastor, welcomed them. The party left afterwards by special train for Ste. Anne de Beaupre lebrated at St. Ann's Church on the direction of the Clercs de Wednesday. Solemn high Mass was sisted by deacon and sub-deacon. The sanctuary was tastefully decorated, and a large statue of the saint was surrounded with electric and other lights. In the evening solemn Benediction was given, during which the course of English classics will choir rendered a choice programme.

FEAST OF ST. ALPHONSUS.

The feast of the Portiuncula was celebrated at the Franciscan church on Wednesday. The church was opened at 4 a.m., and the first Mass said of St. John's, Newfoundland, captur- Chartrand. at 4.15, followed by Masses at 5.30, 6.15, 7 and solemn high Mass at all the Masses, and made visits for the gaining of the indulgence. Faith ing the season. The final game was

CATHOLIC SAILORS' CLUB. Joseph Morgan, aged 18, a native of Bootle, Liverpool, England, and one of the sailors on board the ss. Dominion, died on Thursday last at the Montreal General Hospital. The remains were taken in charge by the in their lot in Cote des Neiges Cenetery. Too much cannot be said in praise of this excellent institution, and we wish it and its promoters every success in their grand and

ST. GABRIEL'S Y.M.S. TROLLEY RIDE.

The officers, of the above Society desire to thank their many friends and the public for their generous patronage on the occasion of their own that all persons still holding tickets for same, may have their mo-ney refunded, or tickets will be honored on presentation at their next

CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL. Blinkbonnie Academy will be know in future as the Catholic High School. The property bought at 55 Durocher street will be used. The building has been completely renovated and fitted up in excellent etyle.
The Principal will be Mr. A. J.
Hales-Sanders, and a very efficient staff will assist him. The curricujum of studies will be the same as used at Bliniconnic Academy. The pupils of the Academy made an excellent showing at the late McGill Art Association examinations. We wish the

ST. PATRICK'S ORPHANS' AN-NUAL PICNIC.

wish the new Catholic High School

The children of St. Patrick's phan asylum are enjoying them-phan asylum are enjoying them-eives at their annual picnic to-day. This pleasure they owe to the life-long friend of the as-icution. Mr-Bernard Tansey. This gentleman is an ideal entertainer, and be make Sure that nothing is left undone to give the youngsters a jolly time, and he is as happy as the little ones whom he so generously treats to this The officers and committees having annual outing at the Shamrock grounds. Mr. Tansey has always charge of the annual picule of the set a good example for charity and St. Gabriel's Juvenile Total Abstinence and Benefit Society are meeting with great success in all their ing with great success in all their abundantly blessed with this world's Ottawa.

St. Globely and St. Bilodeau, Rev. J. Chatelaine, C. Suitable address, this bringing the Society are meeting with great success in all their abundantly blessed with this world's Ottawa.

Great credit is due to the parishgoods and who would be compensated fourfold because they had given of their bounty to the orphan.

BISHOP McDONALD.

His Lordship Bishop McDonald, of the Diocese of Harbor Grace, Nfid.. ferent affairs in connection with the annual excursion will be appointed. cese, is meeting with great receptions in the different parishes. Last week he visited Trinity and Bonavista Bays, as well as King's Cove and The men's branch (French) of the other settlements. Everywhere the very successful pilgrimage to Ste. loved prelate. Flags were flying, said Mass and preached, showing his The men's branch (English) will old time vigor. The people were de-hold their first pilgrimage to Riabsence of five years.

RIGAUD COLLEGE.

Among our educational establishthe Archdiocese of Boston, who was ments which give a thorough classiin charge of a large party of pil- cal and commercial course is Rigaud College, situated in a very healthy spot in the beautiful village of Ri- bers; Ontario, 100 courts and 7839 service. Rev. Father Martin Cal- gaud. The commercial course is in members. English, and is equal to the given in our business colleges. Phy- CHANGES AT ST. MARY'S AND sics and chemistry are taught by a graduate of one of the Paris Universities. Last year 265 pupils were The feast of St. Alphonsus was ce- in attendance. The College is under Viateur, the President is Rev. Father sung by Rev. Father Rioux, P.P., asfrom Rome and France. A large staff of English professors is also attached to the College, among them being Mr. Collier, from Notre Dame, Indiana. This year a six years'

FEAST OF THE PORTIUNCULA. THE IRISH BOYS WIN FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

On Wednesday, July 26th, the Benevolent Irish Society football team ed the senior Association football championship of the Island by defeatpeople came from all over the city the play was very fast. The attend-to participate in the exercises.

St. Patrick's Hall, where a celebra-ten was held in honor of the event. Bennett's band serenaded the boys. and played several Irish melodies. The band then entered the hall and played from the gallery, while refreshments were served to the cham-Catholic Sailors' Club, and interred midnight the gathering broke up. land. Last year the B. I. S. also won the championship. They will be presented with gold medals emblematic of the championship for 1905.

FORE. St. Bonaventure's College, St. John's, Nfld., is to be considerably enlarged to meet the growing de-mands of higher education. The Irish Christian Brothers are doing excelrecent trolley ride, and would apo- lent work in the educational arena in logize for the inconvenience caused to those of their friends who were proved their worth year after year in unable to be accommodated on account of the limited number of cars.

St. John's the noble educators have won the respect and encomnums not club, goes to the Immaculate Conbishop for his kind only of Catholics but of non-Catholics as well. Several non-Catholic childrenattend their institutions, especially the college, which speaks volumes for our Irish Catholic educators, and their system of education. They are the men of the hour, progressive and up-to-date in every respect. Their pupils lead in examinations, other; follow. In the sacred ministry, in commercial and other business positions, their pupils stand in the from rank, showing the thorough training received at the hands of their devot ed and sacrificing teachers.

INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION OF

C. O. F. Thirty-one delegates, representing the Provincial Court of Quebec, Catholic Order of Foresters, left the Bonaventure Station on two special cars at nine o'clock Monday morning for Boston, Mass., to attend the Catholic Convention of the Catholic Convention of the Catholic Convention of the Catholic Convention of the Catholic C ny, St. Jerome; F. X. Bilodeau, J. crayon portrait of himself and Desaulniers, Ste. Anne de la Perade; high Mass, St. Gabriel's Total Abs- ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTIONS TO Aime G. Dion and Rodrigue Guay, Quebec city; J. L. S. Roberge, St. Andre, Kamouraska; J. A. Stevens, Campbellton, N.B.

Sherbrooke District-A. Dupuis, Magog: A. Matte, St. Constant; Rev. F. X. Brossard, Sutton; M. E. Plante Notre Dame de Stanbridge: L. A. Fortin, St. David, Yamaska: A. Charron, St. Hubert; A. P. Vanasse, Sorel; Rev. A. Lessard, La-

The provincial secretary, who returned from Chicago on Saturday evening, reports that the benefit fund the accumulation of which was authorized five years ago, now amounts to $925,136.55. The fotal membership of the order is now 177,379. in 1460 courts, the five leading state and provincial courts being as follows: Illinois, 342 counts and 33,-788 members: Quebec. 232 courts and 18,685 members; Wisconsin, 143 courts and 12,474 members; Minnesota, 183 courts and 11,517 mem-

LOYOLA COLLEGES.

St. Mary's College-Rector, Rev. ture; Method, Rev. P. Archambault, gregation.

Rev. Louis Lalande will be stathe Sacrod Heart. Rev. Father Devlin will also be at St. Mary's College and have charge of English missions and retreats. Rev. pions and visiting delegates. At Lalande goes to Mold College, Eng-

Loyola College-Rector, Rev. Fa-Theology, Rev. Fathers Kavanagh and Fox; Prof. of Rhetoric, Rev. CATHOLIC EDUCATION TO THE Father Cox; Prof. of Belles Lettres, Rev. Father Hingston; Prof. of Versification; Rev. Father McMahon; Prof. of Syntax, Rev. Father Dunn; Professors of Latin Elements, Rev. Fathers Cotter, Primeau and Quirk Prefects of Discipline, Rev. Fathers O'Gara, Dunne and Desjardins; Prefect of Studies, Rev. Father McCarception Church, Rev. Father Doyle will be chaplain to the Sailors' Club. Rev. Father Gorman, who is giving a retreat at present at Port Arthur, will be stationed at St. Boniface College. Rev. Father Gregory College. O'Bryan, the well known missionary. is at present unwell and is resting at Loyola College.

ST. MICHAEL'S GARDEN PARTY.

The St. Michael's parish gardenparty for the benefit of the new parish church opened on Tuesday even-ing, July 25th, by the blessing of all present and their undertakings by the Rev. J. P. Kiernan, pastor of the parish. The tents used for the sion were loaned through the kindness of Mr. Griffin, of the Mont real Tent and Awning Co. The St Ann's brass band their services, and enlivered the pro-seedings of the first evening by their sweet music. On the second evening the numerous patrons of the ere entertained by a vocal and in annual outing at the Shamrock Callum, St. Henri; C. L. de Martig- surprise in the form of a splendid Great credit is due to the parish Quebec District—J. A. Comeau and Dr. N. Lambert, Three Rivers; St. Georges Le Moine, Beauceville; O. working committee of gentlemen who so heartily aided the ladies to bring all to such a success.

The following is the list of prize Jubilee Cake-Miss Eva Perrin.

Cottage Clock-Mr. Seabrook Silver Berryspoon and Pie-fork-Mr Wm. Donnelly. China Ink-stand-Mr. D. McCormack. Camera-Rev. Father Grenot. Fancy Cushions-Mrs. F. McCarthy Mr. H. E. Gittleson and Miss I're-

Fern Bowl-Mr. P. Ryan. Silver Jewel Case-Mr. Dohan. Wicker Chair-Miss Golloghy. Tobacco Jar-Mr. J. Dillon. Japanese Vase-Mr. McKenzie. Yacht Clock-Mrs. Sully. China Jewel Case-Rev. Father Grenot.

Easter Egg-Mrs. Kearns. Piano Scarf-Mr. Gallery Cake of the Garden Party-Miss St. Louis.

Father Leonardo Relieved of His

Charge as Italian Pastor,

On Monday evening, the feast of St. Ignatius, founder of the Jesuits, the changes for the year were and the changes for the year were and the changes. The Italian rock home. By well directed efforts of the sassistance, the two great described by this Grace force men went up to help the Shamlored and the rock home. By well directed efforts of the sassistance, the two great described by the Shamlored and the rock home. By well directed efforts of the sassistance, the two great described by the Shamlored and the rock home. By well directed efforts of the sassistance, the two great described by the Shamlored and the rock home. By well directed efforts of the sassistance, the two great described by the Shamlored and the rock home. By well directed efforts of the sassistance, the two great described by the sassistance, the two great described by the Shamlored and the rock home. By well directed efforts of the sassistance, the two great described by the sassistance and the sassistance are two great described by the sassistance and the same and the sassistance are two great described by the sassistance and the sassistance are two great described by the sassistance and the sassistance are two great described by the sassistance and the sassistance are two great described by the sassistance and the sassistance are two great described by the sassistance and the sassistance are two great described by the sassistance are Joseph Lalande; Minister, Rev. P. work was rather heavy for Father Robinson did the trick. It was Jim's usual, encouraging those present to-Martineau; Prefect, Rev. A. Monoti Leonardo, who is advancing in years. work saved the colors from being wands the continuance of the good Chaput; First Year Philosophy, Rev.
J. Bourgeois; Mathematics and Sciences, Rev. Fathers Loiseau, Lamy and Courtot; Rhetoric, Rev. Theophilus Hudon: Belles Lettres. Rev. Line paternal tenderness." said the Italy the change of the Sciences of the National and noble work.

A representative of the True Witness lowered. The work of the National and noble work.

Called on the rev. gentleman, who appeared to be highly pleased with they deserve great praise in playing the change before the breaking up of last night's the champions to a standstill. For gathering, that a rare treat is to be paternal tenderness." said the Italy two hours the battle waged, and at looked forward to for next Wednessers. philus Hudon; Belles Lettres, Rev. lian pastor, "has relieved me of my G. Lebel: Versification, Rev. A. Cou-Syntax, Rev. J. Pare; Latin Elements, Division A.; Rev. H. Labello, hard for me. Nearly thirteen years as one, thus leaving the Shanrocks ago I came here from the United victorious by 12 goals to 8. In the Rev. Fathers Garceau and Desjardins are transferred to the Church of The work was no easy task, and afwas do or die, but the situation was scientists. States at the request of Cardinal Sa- last warter the Shamrock home men 6.15, 7 and solemn high Mass at championship of the Island by defeat-8 o'clock. Large crowds attended ing the Stars by 1 goal to 0. The the Immaculate Conception. Rev. ter years of toil my health and adsaved just in the nick of time. Over Father Doherty, the English preacher, vancing age demand work that will confidence, no doubt, had a lot to and piety were much in evidence, as the most exciting seen for years, and ed by Rev. Father Kenny, rector at had not relieved me of my charge been taught a good lesson, one they not be so heavy. If the Archbishop do with Shamrocks, but they have three weeks' trip. I would have been obliged to have will not forget, it is hoped, during game the champions were escorted to tioned at St. Mary's College, and I could not cope with the work. Over asked him to do so. I found that the season. will preach missions and retreats. 800 families scattered throughout the Rev. Father Devine will again have length and breadth of the city had charge of the Canadian Messenger of to be ministered to. It is much better that a religious community have charge of the Italians as they can devote more time and will succeed in every way."

On Sunday His Grace the Archbishop assisted at the little church of the Italians on St. Catherine ther Turgeon; Minister and Bursar, street and preached in Italian. He space about the charge and its spoke about the change and intro-Italian, and who has already preached missions to the congregation. His zeal and devotedness of Father Leonardo for his work among his congregation for years. He said that the zealous priest was worthy promotion, and when an opportunity for the Shamrocks. would present itself Father Leonardo would receive the reward of his la-> nked the Archbishop for his kind references to himself, which he thought he had not merited. He told the congregation that a priest was like a soldier, he had to obey his commanding officer, and as his superior was the Arch-bishop he bowed in obedience to his usual form, but played a hard command, He trusted that the congregation would show the same respect and obelience to his succe as they had shown to him. He asked for a share in their prayers, and hoped that God would bless them in all their undertakings.

The report that Father Leonardo was leaving for Italy is absolutely unfounded, as he will reside in Mon-treal at 43 Balmoral street and still minister to any of the congre ention who may require his services until the Archbehop finds other work for him to do.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Cuddiby, 596 St. Urbain street, and Mr. and Mrs. Foran, New York City, have left for Quebec to spend their holidays.

Mr. Denis Maloney, of Troy, N.Y.

Catholic High Zehool.

Re-opening of Classes TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 5th. Classical Commercial and Preparatory Courses. Boys prepared for McGill, Quebec, B. M. C, and other examinations. A scholarship, donated by Hon. J. J. Curran, J. S. C., is offered to the boy passing the best entrance examination in September.

For particulars apply for the present to A. J. HALES-SANDERS, M.A., Principal, "Blinkbonuic," 724 Sherbrooke street.

A magnificent afternoon for la crosse, a large and enthusiastic crowd, a fine exhibition of our national game by the giants of the N. A.L.U., went to make up a very pleasant time for lovers of lacross on last Saturday at the beautiful grounds of the Shamrocks at Mile End. It was a great game, and four thousand spectators enjoyed it thoroughly. The French-Canadian pecple turned out in large numbers and loyally applauded and encouraged their favorites. The Nationals playat the Shamrock grounds. The big after time fooled the plucky . Shamturday's game will never be foring to Shamrocks and Nationals

NOTES OF THE GAME.

The home of the champions is badly in need of a general to direct their efforts. A lot of useless work is done which could be avoided by having a leader.

Trouble in the National ranks delayed the game for nearly half an Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Ahern and fahour.

Hoobin, the general of the home, was sadly missed on Saturday. duced the new pastor, Rev. Father ("Heney" watched the game from the grand stand, and felt anxious about "Heney" watched the game from the Rev. Gerald McShane, S.S., his team as he saw their efforts to away on his vacation, which he is score frustrated on several occasions, spending at St. John and St. An-Grace paid a glowing tribute to the Hoobin's ankle is still very sore, and he has to use a cane to limp around.

Jimmy Hogan, the brave and tireless little home man and sharpshooter, was the first to find the net at the Sanitarium Gabriel's in the

Johnny Brennan played stellar lacrosse and also found the net. Little Curries was usual tireless Johnny is still able to fool many a man on the field.

"Eddie" Robinson made some great dashes in order to score, and at last found the net.

game.

played great lacrosse for an old

Phil O'Reilly was responsible for the second goal scored. He brought the ball in near the net, and a quick

Kenny, the goal keeper, stopped. some hot shots with his chest, Mike was not at his best last Saturday.

O'Reilly, Howard and Kavanagh-put up the real brand of first-class lacrosse. The famous trio of strong and reliable defence men are the best in the business to-day.

The game is growing very popular with the French-Canadians, as over half the attendance was composed of that nationality. Next Saturday afternoon anothe

IN THE LACROSSE WORLD, LEARN TELEGRAPHY & R.R.

850 to 8100 per month salary assured our graduates under bond. You don't pay us until you have a position. Largest system of telegraph schools in America. Endorsed by all railway officials, Operators always in demand. Ladies also admitted. Write for catalogue.

MORSE SCHOOL OF TELEGRAPHY, Cincianati, O, Buffalo, N.Y., Atlanta, Ga., Lacrosse, Wis., Texarkana, Tex., San Francisco, Cal.

CATHOLIC SAILORS' CLUB.

Last evening witnessed a typical sailors' concert, the programme beed fine lacrosse, and gave an exhibi- ing almost entirely in the hands of tion of sprinting scarcely ever seen the sailors themselves. Mr. B. Mc-Govern, of H.M. Customs, acted as defence of the French-Canadian team chairman for the evening. The prowas as steady as a rock, and time ceedings were numerous and varied, Seamen Holden, Sanctuary, Cameron, rock home men. The fine stick- O'Byrne, Williams and Griffiths were handling and running qualities of well appreciated as singers. Besides Sauve and Blanchard roused the en- the above-mentioned also took part thusiasm of the supporters of the Miss K. Fitzgerald, who rendered in tri-color as they repelled the light- a soft and pleasing voice, with good ning attacks of Hogan and J. Bren-nan. The last two minutes of Sa-Child." and as an encore "Teasing." Messrs. Greenwood and O'Byrne, in gotten. With defeat facing the cham- their respective recitations, "Hispions, the great general of the team, tory" and "Little Baptiste," elicit-Rev. Father Leonardo, the pastor big Jim Kavanagh, took in the situ- ed rounds of well-merited applause. of the Italian colony of this city for ation, and calling Johnny Howard Mesers. Brooks and Rennie, in their colony has of late years grown very the two men worked in near the lone, S.J., and Mr. F. B. McNames numerous, and the burden of the net, and a pass from Kavanagh to were to be found at their posts as the end the score stood 3 to 3.0w- day evening at the hands of Branch No. 232, C.M.B.A.

PERSONAL.

Rev. Father Killonan, of St. Patrick's Church, left on Monday for a

Mr. T. K. Brennan, of the Edward Murphy School, is spending his holidays at St. Gabriel de Brandon. Rev. Father Tracey, P.P., Sheenboro, Diocese of Pembroke, was a guest at St. Michael's Presbytery last week.

Rev. Father Singleton, St. Agnes. Church, is back again to work after. spending a pleasant vacation at Old Orchard Beach.

mily, St. Urbain street, have returned from Gaspe, after spending a pleasant vacation.

Notre Dame Church, is at present drews-by-the-Sea

Rev. Father Christopher, O.F.M., of the Franciscan Monastery, Dorchester street, is spending a few days Adirondack Mountains, under the care of the Sisters of Mercy.

OBITUARY.

A faithful pastor, a noble clergyman, one beloved by Protestants well as Catholics, in the person of Rev. H. A. Meahan, parish priest of St. Bernard's Church, Moncton, N. B., was called to his reward a few, days ago. His death came as Harry Smith still travels fast and Meahan was an indefatigable worker, shock to the community. Father and to-day a beautiful church, school buildings, and a home for the phans and poor which occupied his time in completing when summoned pass to Johnny Brennan did the who worked well in the vineyard away, will tell of the faithful price the Lord. In the early days he introduced the League of the Sacred Heart into the parish and made ita work spread, so that every family in his parish was a member. Father Meahan had the happiness of assist-Meahen had the happiness of assisting at the Jubilee feasts of the Immaculate Conception in the Eternal City, and had an audience with the Holy Father. Last year the decased spent some time at the Hotel Dieu in this city undergoing

It is an axiom of the politics of history that no war ever yet took place, however much harm it brought about, that did not do some good The in one direction or another, Russo-Japanese war, it is almost universally acknowledged, has done one great service to a large section of humanity: it has advanced the Liberal movement in Russia probably by a quarter of a century, says the Dublin Freeman's Journal. That fact is of general interest. there is another that is of special interest to countries that are Catholic such as Ireland. Since the tim of Peter the Great the position of a Roman Catholic in Russia was that, to a large extent, of a religious out Peter, no doubt, had proclaimed toleration for all religions as part of his system of "enlightened despotism": but, unfortunately, the system only meant that subjects of the Czar not already classed members of the National Church were not required to enter it. All with in its ranks, on the other hand, were subject to banishment or other pen alties, for so-called conspiracy. That law, under the pressure of the defeats in Manchuria and the Korea Straits, has just been abolished—and abolished absolutery; and every Russian subject, as a consequence, i now free to profess what creed

This boon to the Catholics of Rus sia can hardly be appreciated by the Catholics of those countries, who, na turally, know little about the condition of the Catholic community in the great Eastern Empire. A writer San Francisco Monitor, who evidently writes with knowledge, declares that "the boon, to a large section of Polish Catholics, is far greater than Catholic Emancipation was for those of Ireland and England. In Poland, at the time of its conquest of Russia," says the writer. "the Catholics were divided be tween the Latin and Ruthenian rites. both being in full communion with the Holy See, but having separate hierarchies and discipline. Catherine of Russia promised equal liberty for both rites when she seized the first territory from Poland. The Czars succeeding her have professed maintain the same system for all Catholics in their Empire." In practice, however, the Ruthenian Catho lics, owing to the policy of the Government, have been gradually, but completely, cut off from all com munion with the Holy Sec. The method of the Government was to unite Ruthenian Catholic dioceses en bloc With the official Church by Imperial ukases. The process was repeated thrice in the modern history of Rus Catherine began it in the 18th century in the provinces of Volhyma and Podolia, her forced conversion including several millions. Nicholas repeated the process in Lithuania in 1838, when four dioceses, with million two hundred thousand Catholics were forcibly enrolled "Orthodox." On this occasion, it is regrettable to recall, the change was made with the help of four apostat bishops, each of whom had been re commended to the Holy See by the Russian Government. One, indeed the Metropolitan, had already pledge ed himself to apostacy before taking the oath of fidelity to Rome-afte the manner of Cranmer in England. There remained, after these peculiar transformations, only one Ruthenian dioceset that of Chelm, in Poland So Alexander II., in, 1872, incorporated it with the State church, without either apology or explanation. About 400,000 Catholics were then deprived of their freedom of worship. and the priests who remained faith ful to Rome were banished and re placed by Russians. Furthermore forbidden to receive the laity were Sacraments from any Catholic priest, and the churches, as a matter "Orthodox" clergy.

The sequel of this story must have a profound interest for the Catholic people of this country. "That the late proclamation is genuine," says the writer in the Monitor, "is at tested by the fact that many thous-Lublin and Siedlee have already joined the Catholic Churche of the Latin rite, and the Bishops of Lithuania have issued circulars ordering their priests to receive mselves. A peculiarity of the case is that the former Ruthe nian Catholics now all demand to be classed as Latins. The Ruthenian rite itself, it must be remembered had been sanctioned by the Church as a concession to Slav nationalism over a century to make that very nationalism a higher authority that contest, not the religion of Christ And the parador and His Church." of the situation is that all this has been brought about by a heathen na tion. The ways of Providence, however, are inexplicable. The Japanes war will have done one good thin for the Russian Empire, at least however it may end politically, if it gives that great and intensely religious community religious liberty.

COUNT PLUNKETT, IRISH ART SPECIALIST.

Count Plunkett, M.R.I.A., F.S.A etc., a well known figure in Irish life, is a specialist in art, which he has studied since boyhood in all the great centres of the world, says a writer in the Monitor and New Era of London, England. Born in Dublin in December, 1851, he was educated at Nice, Clongowes, and Dublin University, where he gained prizes in mo dern languages and distinction oratory. He was called to the bar in 1885, on his return to Ireland from a prolonged tour around the United States. Having studied literature under Prof. Dowden, he has contributed to a score of Irish journals and magazines.

In 1882-3, in union with some large-minded friends, he issued "Hibernia." a review that tried to find a common platform for Irishmen who desired the intellectual elevation of the people. He enlisted the services of veterans like Dr. Mahaffy, Dr. Joyce, Mr. Olden and Miss Margaret. Stokes, and younger writers such as Mr. N. Colgan, the Irish botanist, Mr. T. W. Lyster, of the National Library, and Mr. W. F. Bailey, the chief organizer of the land-purchase scheme. Through the journal Count Plunkett introduced Miss Katherine Typan and Miss Jane Barlow to the literary world. As a post he won the praise of Cardinal Newman, and when his views on Christian art were guestioned by Miss Stokes, they were defended by Aubrey de Vere.

Count Plunkett, who is of the Fingall branch of the family, is a landlord in sympathy with the people, having joined the Home Association in 1871, and worked for Catholic and national ideas all his life. A pioneer in the movements for language and music of Ireland, he is also a promoter of university and and the establishment of popular libraries. With the eminent scholar, Dr. Hogan, S.J., he edited O'Kelly's account of the Irish War of 1688-91, from the Clongowes MSS. Count Plunkett's monumental work on Botticelli appeard in 1900; and for some years past has lectured, mainly on Christian painting and sculpture, in the Dublin Juseum of Science and Art. He also takes an active share in the worl of the Catholic Truth Society, and other religious and benevolent organ izations of Dublin. He was created a count by Pope Leo XIII in 1884.

There will be little music in you voice unless there is a song in your vorld are always beyond our reach. world are always beyond our reach. If most irr true progress in most if we had them we wouldn't be a teacher. Only a limited number of students were admitted to his opeways have plenty to be thankful for.

In most irr true progress in most reach my destination. I told him some manner in which he had spo that I could get sufficient to bring of me, but I never, until now, an opportunity of doing him a laughingly remarked that after that vice in return. Now you know ways have plenty to be thankful for. If we had them we wouldn't be bit happier. We only think we would

nationalism that must perish in the ABLEST DOCTOR IN AMERICA

(From the Messenger.)

Recently over one hundred physi ians from various parts of this coun try and Canada assembled at Delnonico's, New York, at a bar quet in commemoration of the seven ty-seventh birthday of Dr. Thomas Addis Emmet. Dr. Emmet was un doubtedly one of the most distinguished physicians of the generation just past and the one to whom, mos of all of those now living, America owes whatever reputation it has fo progressive surgery. His name is lection is undoubtedly one of the probably better known in European clinics than that of any other fellow countryman, and to have been a pu pil of his secures a welcome for the physician travelling in Europe better than any open sesame. Dr. Emmet has lived to reap the reward of bibliography. A monument to this faithful service in his profession, and the present tribute is only a public manifestation of feelings that long been cherished for the eminen surgeon, the broadly cultured scholar, the practical teacher to whom medicine and the medical professio in America owes so much, but above whom to know has always been

Dr. Emmet came to New York as love and honor.

young man, on his own resources with only his desire to work in his chosen profession and a thorough knowledge of medicine of the as his capital. His first years of delivered a lecture at a recent meet service were in the Emigrant Hospital. Like many another, he had his related the following interesting first experience of all that suffering could mean among the emigrants from Ireland, so many of whom cam afflicted with ship fever, as the dread typhus was called at that time. Few of the young physicians of that pe riod escaped infection with the disease, but this did not deter from faithfully fulfilling their professional duties. Emmet had his turn with the disease in the first days of his professional career. but far from disheartening him, this only seemed to give him greater sympasemed to give him greater sympasemed to give him greater sympasemed to give him greater sympasement to learn all possible intense desire to learn all possible indians. I had fi ly prepared for the maladies that were passible to make a Catholic out of you, or are you trying to make a Presbyte rian out of him, which?"

Church Bells in Chimes in Peals or the poursey when I discovered that rian out of him, which?"

Welther, Mr. Presidenty but I eered to make the autopsies at the hospital, and during his service actually made over one thousand. It is no wonder that, after professional zeal like this, when his term as resident physician was finished, he was though twenty years the junior of any other member of the visiting staff, a position on that staff which had just become vacant. Even this much of his career sounds the leynote of Dr. Emmet's success. take if it only promised to give him added knowledge. When the opportunity came to assume a position at Hospital of New York City was re-cognized by the medical world as ing most for true progress in medi-cine. Emmet was not a lecturer but opportunity to study all the details the cases, and took away with m such definite ideas as had never been given by a medical teacher be no doubt that to Emmet must be at tributed the initiation of genuin hedside teaching in America, his world constituting the first oasis in the rather arid desert of medical education a half a century ago.

Dr. Emmet was more than a teach er, he was an original investigato of high order. Long before Lord Lister insisted on the necessity for precaution to prevent the externa infection of patients, Emmet empha tically taught and practised the cus tom of thoroughly cleansing all sur faces that were to be operated upon and insisted that the surgeon himself should have special care in secur ing his own cleanliness. In mor modern times this has become almost sacrificial rubric known asepsis in surgery. The important very carefully laid down by Emmet almost half a century ago. In the matter of operating he has even higher distinction. For many years he taught and practised that certain forms of chronic inflammation could be best treated not by direct operative procedures, but by careful conservative measures tending to reduce the inflammation present and increase the vitality of the patient in such way as to bring about an absorption of the inflammatory products. After having tried the radical operative procedures for many years. surgeons have now come to the recognition of the fact that Emmet's principle of teaching, enumerated so long ago, is the proper one.

eone has said that the really great man can be told even more from his avocation than readily his vocation, that what from a man does at his leisure is the best index of his character and culture In this Dr. Emmet is indeed a model to all professional men. He spent much of his spare time and a large part of his fortune in the collection of books and documents illustrative of early American history. His best of its kind that was ever made As the result of his hobby many pre cious documents that might been lost are now preserved, since his interest was infectious, and other became attracted to this field side of Dr. Emmet's character is his collection, which may be seen at the Lenox Library in New York, as a manifestation of the generous patrio tic spirit of an American physician.

FATHER DE SMET AND LINCOLN

How the Pioneer Missionary to the Indians Became a Chaplain in the Army.

H. E. Robinson, president of the Missouri State Historical Society ing on Father De Smet, in which h story of the pioneer missionary:

When Francis P. Blair was electe to the United States Senate from Missouri, to fill the vacancy cause by the resignation of Charles Drale. Father De Smet took active interest in behalf of Blair's candidacy. As this was rather unusual, he was asked the cause, and gave the following answer: "In 1863 our Father Provincial, at my request, had granted me permilitary reasons, had drawn its line along the entire Indian frontier, and him from vou. it was impossible to get through without a pass. I was informed that I could not get a pass without going to Washington. I accordingly journeyed to the capital; but on my arrival I found that all my friends who had been members of Congress at my last visit were either dead or in the rebellion. I had no alterna- give him twelve months He had the genius for hard work, Blair, who was then representing St. and no trouble was too much to Louis in the lower house. Having dence and introduced myself and the object of my mission, and asked his the Women's Hospital at New York, good offices. He requested me to call this talent for unfailing application on him on the following morning at soon put him in the leading position 10 o'clock, and in the meantime be would see what could be done. I did tracted attention first in this country and then before many years in driven to the White House. On the route he was kind enough to say that he had heard of my labors among the Indians, and mally asked me if one of the institutions that was dong most for true progress in medireach my destination. I told him some manner in which he had s

BUSINESS CARDS

Advocates, Barristers and Solicitors. ROOM 587 - - TEMPLE BUILDING

M. J. Morrison, LL.B. A. R.Johnson, B.C.L.

T. J. O'NEILL REAL ESTATE AGENT, 180 ST. JAMES STREET.

Loans, Insurance, Renting and Colecting of Rents. Moderate charges, and prompt returns.

Bell Tel, Main 3552 Night & dayservic CONROY BROS.

228 Centre Street Practical Plumbers, Bas and Steamfitters ESTIMATES GIVEN. Jobbing Promptly Attended To.

Established 1864.

C. O'BRIEN,

House, Sign and Decorative Painter PLAIN AND DECGRATIVE PAPER-HANGER.

Whitewashing and Tinting. Orders promptly ttended to. Terms moderate. Residence. 75 ATLMER STREET. Office, 647 Dor-hester street, east of Bleury street. Montreal. Bell Telephone, Up 205.

LAWRENCE RILEY PLASTERER

Successor to John Riley. Established in 1866. Plain and Ornamental Plastering. Repairs of all kinds premptly attended to Estimatos fur-nished. Postal orders attended to 15 PARIS STREET, Point St. Charles.

SELF RAISING FLOOR.

DRODIE'S CELEBRATED SELF-RAISING FLUOR

is the Original and the Best A PREMIUM giver for the empty bas 10 BLEURY St., Montreal.

PATENT SOLICITORS.

BANGE PROMPTLY SECURED

ter leaving the carriage, and whe mansion, he stopped me and said

" 'Father De Smet, I am about to introduce you to President Lincoln and to ask from him a favor for you Please promise me that you will express no eurprise at what either he or I say, but they you will combent yourself with thanking him if grants my request.'

"I readily acceded. We found the his hand with a weary expression of countenance, as though he were en tertaining sad thoughts. His face however, lighted up at our coming and after being formally introduce we took chairs, and he opened conversation with this remark have come here to ask a favor for

"'Mr. Stanfon tells me,' said the General-that his regiment-I think ed out on the northwestern frontier and that they have no chaplain want you to make Father De Sm the chaplain of that regiment, an which time he wants to go into the war.

up his pen, wrote a few lines handed the paper to General Blair, saying, 'Take that to Stanton.' "Before I had time to say a wor

Mr. Lincoln took me by the ha and in bidding me adieu, r " 'You will do more good out the than all my soldiers and commi

"There was pay attached to position, for I believe I ran

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

T. PATRICK'S SOCIETY-Estan lished March 6th, 1856; incorporated 1863; revised 1840. Meets in St. Patrick's Hall, 92 St. Alexander street, first Monday of the month. Committee meets last Wed-nesday. Officers: Rev. Director. nesday. Officers: Rev. Director. Rev. M. Callaghan, P.P.; President. Mr. F. J. Curran; 1st Vice-President dent, W. P. Kearney; 2nd Vice, E, J. Quinn; Treasurer, W. Durack, Corresponding Secretary, W. J. Crowe; Recording Secretary, T. P.

ST. PATRICK'S T. A. AND B. SO. CIETY-Meets on the second Sunday of every month in St. Patrick's Hall, 92 St. Alexander street, at 8.30 p.m. Committee of Management meets in same hall on the arst Tuesday of every month, at 8 p.m. Rev. Director, Rev. Jas. Killoran; President, J. H. Kelly; Rec. Sec., J. D'Arcy Kelly, 13 Valles

ST. ANN'S T. A. & B. SOCIETY, established 1863.—Rev. Director Rev. Father McPhail; President, D4 Gallery, M.P.; Sec., J. F. Quinn, 625 St, Dominique street; treasure er, M. J. Ryan, 18 St. Augustia street. Meets on the second Sunday of every month, in St. Ann's Hall, corner Young and Ottawa streets, at 3.30 p.m.

C.M.B.A. OF CANADA, Branch 26.

-Organized 13th November, 1883. Branch 26 meets at St. Patrick's Hall, 92 St. Alexander street, en every Monday of each month. The regular meetings for the transaction of business are held on the 2nd and 4th Mondays of each month at 8 o'clock p.m. Officers: Spiritual Adviser, Rev. J. P. Killoran; Chancellor, W. F. Wall; President, J. M. Kennedy; 1st Vice-President, J. H. Maiden; 2nd Vice-President, J. P. Dooley; Recording Secretary, R. M. J. Dolan, 16 Overdale Ave.; Assistant Rec. Sec., W. J. Macdonalc's Financial Secretary, J. J. Costigan, 325 St. Urbain street; Treasurer, J. H. Kelly; Marshal, J. Walsh; Guard, M. J. O'Regan; Trustees, T. J. Finn, W. A. Hodgson, P. J. D'Arcy, R. Gahan, T. J. Stevens; Medical Advisers, Dr. H. J. Harrison; Dr. E. J. O'Con-nor, Dr. G. H. Merrill.

OFFICIAL CIRCULAR CATHOLIC MUTUAL Benefit Association GRAND COUNCIL OF QUEBEC.

Organized at Niagara Falls, N.Y., July 3, 876. Incorporated by Special Act of the New York State Legislature, June 9, 1879. Membership 63,000 and increasing rapidy More than $14,500,000 paid in Benefits in twenty-eight years.

Reserve Fund, November 25th, 1994, 62,775 99.

Reserve Fund, November 25th, 1904-1,62,773 99.
The C. M. B. A. is Sanctioned by Pope Piux X., and Approved by Cardinals, Bishops and Priests, several of whom are Officers.

FOR INFORMATIONADDRESS

A. R. ARCHAMBAULT, Supreme Deputy, Organizer for the Province of Quebec, OFFICE: 1592 NOTRE DAME STREET. Residence: 747 ST, DENISST Phone Sell East 2011.

OHUROH BELLS

MENEELY BELL COMPAN TROY, N.Y., and

77BROADWAY, NEW YORK OILY. Manufacture Superior CHURCH BELLS

ROOFERS, Etc.

ARE YOUR STOVE BRICKS IN BAD ORDER? DON'T WORRY!

Presbrey" Stove Lining WILL FIX IT.

This is the best Stove Cement in parket to-day, and is fully guaranteed. GEORGE W, REED & CO. ROOFERS, &c.

AT ARMS

THURSDAY, AUGUS

I never could quite unders Tom Hopkins came to mal plunder, for he had been th whole term at a medical co-fore he inherited his aunt's and had been considered st therapeutics.
We had been making a ther that evening, and after ran up to my rooms for a a chat before going on to luxurious apartments. I ha into the other room for a when I heard Tom sing out "Oh, Billy, I'm going about four grains of quini don't mind—I'm feeling all shivery. Guess I'm taking "All right," I called bac bottle is on the second shell it in a spoonful of that e eucalyptus. It knocks the After I came back we sat fire and got our briars go about eight minutes Tom s into a gentle collapse. I went straight to the me binet and looked. "You unmitigated hayse growled, "See what money for a man's brains!" There stood the morphin with the stopper out just a had left it. I routed out another you who roomed on the floor a and sent him for old Dr. G squares away. Tom Hopkin much money to be attended young practitioners alone. When Dr. Gales came we through as expensive a cou treatment as the resources of fession permit. After the drastic remedies we gave hi of caffeine in frequent dose strong coffee, and walked he and down the floor between Old Gales pinched his slapped his face and worked the big check he could see in The young M.D. fro next floor gave Tom a mos rousing kick, and then apole

"Couldn't help it," he sa never kicked a millionaire be my life. I may never have opportunity.'

"Now," said Gales, after of hours. "he'll do. But awake for another hour. Y do that by talking to him a lse and respiration is norm let him sleep. I'll leave h you now."

was left alone with Tom we had laid on a couch. very still, and his eyes wer closed. I began my work of him awake.

"Well, old man," I said, had a narrow squeak, but we attending lectures, Tom, did of the professors ever casua mark that m-o-r-p-h-i-a neve 'quinia,' especially in fo doses? But I won't pile it you ought to have been a d Tom, you're splendidly quality fill prescriptions." Tom looked at me with a

you until you get on your fe and foolish smile. "B'ly," he murmured, "I like a hum'n bird flyin' aro jolly lot of most 'sphenis

Don' bozzer me. Goin' leep And he went to sleep in to 'Now, Tom," I said, severel won't do. The big doctor sa must stay awake for at least hour. Open your eyes. You entirely safe yet, you know.

Tom Hopkins weighed one and ninety-eight pounds. me another somnolent grin, into deeper slumber. I wou made him move about, but as well have tried to make ra's needle waltz around the with me. Tom's breathing stentorous, and that, in con with morphia poisoning, mes Then I began to think. I co rouse his body; I must strive cite his mind. "Make him was an idea that suggeste "Good!" I thought, "but There was not a joint in To mor. Dear old fellow, he we nature itself, and a gallant mor.

man, fine and true and clean light. He came from son down South, where they still ideals and a code. New Yor charmed but not spoiled him had that old-fashioned, children to the spoiled him had that old-fashioned, children to the spoiled him had that old-fashioned.

3, 1905. CTORY.

ETY-Esta 56; incorpore 40. Meets in St. Alexannday of eets last Wed lev. Director. P.; President. st Vice-Presi 2nd Vice, E. W. Durack; retary, T. P.

AND B. SO. St. Patrick's ler street, at e of Manages all on the month, at 8 lev. Jas. Kil-I. Kelly; Rec. y. 13 Valles

B. SOCIETY ev. Director President, De J. F. Quinn treet; treasure St. Augustin in St. Ann's and Ottawa

Branch 26. vember, 1883 St. Patrick's month. The hetransaction n the 2nd and month at & rs: Spiritual illoran; Chan-President, J. President, J. President, J. Secretary, R. dale Ave.; As J. Macdonry, J. J. Cosn street: Trea-

J. O'Regan; W. A. Hodg-R. Gahan, T. Advisers, Dr. E. J. O'Con-CULAR

lls, N.Y., July 3, ecial Act of the ire, June 9, 1879... rereasing rapidy ,000 paid in ars. tioned by Pope I by Cardinals, ral of whom are

LANGER, outy, rand Council, E EET, QUEBEO MBAULT, ce of Quebec, AME STREET.

in Chimes in Peals Shane's

COMPAN .,ana V TORROIT. CHURCH BELLD

E BRICKS IN ER? ORRY ve Lining

, Etc.

CIT. re Cement in the ED & CO. sttre rinted and mablis e street. Month ITNESS P. & P.

AT ARMS WITH MORPHEUS.

Tom Hopkins came to make that thing up for a minute or two in my hole term at a medical college before he inherited his aunt's fortune—like that on old Tom Hopkins. Then and had been considered strong in I took him by the shoulder and therapeutics.

had been making a call togea chat before going on to his own luxurious apartments. I had stepped into the other room for a moment in cold and distinct tones, "you and when I heard Tom sing out:

about four grains of quinine, if you don't mind-I'm feeling all blue and hivery. Guess I'm taking cold."
"All right," I called back. "Th bottle is on the second shelf. Take ed. it in a spoonful of that elixir eucalyptus. It knocks the bitter After I came back we sat by the fire and got our briars going. In about eight minutes Tom sank back into a gentle collapse. I went straight to the medicine ca

"You unmitigated hayseed!" growled, "See what money will do for a man's brains !" There stood the morphine bottle with the stopper out just as Tom had left it.

I routed out another young M.D. who roomed on the floor above me and sent him for old Dr. Gales, two squares away. Tom Hopkins has too much money to be attended by rising young practitioners alone.

When Dr. Gales came we put Ton through as expensive a course treatment as the resources of the pro-After the more fession permit. drastic remedies we gave him citrat of caffeine in frequent doses and strong coffee, and walked him uj and down the floor between two o us. Old Gales pinched him and slapped his face and worked hard for the hig check he could see in the dis tance. The young M.D. from the next floor gave Tom a most hearty. rousing kick, and then apologized to

"Couldn't help it," he said. "] never kicked a millionaire before in my life. I may never have another opportunity.

'Now," said Gales, after a couple of hours. "he"ll do. But keep him awake for another hour. You do that by talking to him and shaking him up occasionally. When his pulse and respiration is normal, then let him sleep. I'll leave him with you now."

I was left alone with Tom, whom we had laid on a couch. He lay very still, and his eyes were half

"Well, old man," I said, "you've had a narrow squeak, but we've pulled you through. When you attending lectures, Tom, didn't any of the professors ever casually remark that m-o-r-p-h-i-a never spells 'quinia,' especially in four-doses? But I won't pile it up especially in four-grain you until you get on your feet. But you ought to have been a druggist, Tom, you're splendidly qualified to fill prescriptions."

and foolish smile.

"B'ly," he murmured, "I feel jus' jolly lot of most 'sphenise roses.
Don' bozzer me. Goin' leep now." And he went to sleep in two tonds. I shook him by the shoulder. made a cur of yourself, and"-I "Now, Tom," I said, won't do. The big doctor said you broken a faithful heart. (Old Tom must stay awake for at least an Hopkins breaking a faithful heart!) entirely safe yet, you know. Wake sible."

Tom Hopkins weighed one hundred and ninety-eight pounds. He gave me another somnolent grin, and fell into deeper slumber. I would have made him move about, but I might as well have tried to make Cleopatra's needle waltz around the room with me. Tom's breathing became stentorous, and that, in connection with morphia poisoning, means dan-

Then I began to think. I could no rouse his body; I must strive to excite his mind. "Make him angry." was an idea that suggested itself.
"Good!" I thought, "but how?"
There was not a joint in Tom's armor. Dear old fellow, he was goodmor. Dear old fellow, he was goodnature itself, and a gallant gentleman, fine and true and clean as sunlight. He came from somewhere down South, where they still have ideals and a code. New York had charmed but not spoiled him. He had that old-fashioned, chivairous

I never could quite understand how there was my ideal ! I worked the ne to make that thing up for a minute or two in my shook him until his ears flopped. He opened his eyes lazily. I assumed an ther that evening, and afterward Tom expression of scorn and contempt, ran up to my rooms for a pipe and and pointed my finger within two inch es of his nose.

"Listen to me, Hopkins," I said, I have been friends, but I want you "Oh, Billy, I'm going to take to understand that in the future my doors will be closed against man who acts as much like a scoundrel as you have."

Tom looked the least bit interest-

"What's the matter, Billy?" he muttered, composedly, "don't your clothes fit you ?"

"If I were in your place," I went on, "which, thank God, I am not, I think I would be afraid to close my eyes. How about that girl you left waiting for you down among those lonesome Southern pines-th girl that you've forgotten since you came into your confounded money? Oh, I know what I'm talking about. While you were a poor medical student she was good enough for you. But now, since you are a millionaire it's different. I wonder what she thinks of the performance of peculiar class of people which she has been taught to worship-the Southern gentleman? I'm sorry, Hopkins, that I was forced to speak about these matters, but you've covered it up so well and played your part so nicely that I would have sworn you were above such unmanly tricks."

Poor Tom. I could scarcely keep from laughing outright to see him struggling against the effects of the He was distinctly angry, and I didn't blame him. Tom had a Southern temper. His eyes wer open, now, and they showed a gleam or two of fire. But the drug still clouded his mind and bound his

"C-c-confound you," he stammered "I'll smash you."

He tried to rise from the couch With all his size he was very weak now. I thrust him back with one He lay there, glaring like a arm. lion in a trap.

"That will hold you for a while, you old looney," I said to myself. I got up and lit my pipe, for I was needing a smoke. I walked around a bit, congratulating myself on my brilliant idea.

I heard a snore, I looked around closed. I began my work of keeping Tom was asleep again. I walked over and punched him on the jaw He looked at me as pleasant and ungrudgingly as an idiot. I chewed my pipe and gave it to him hard.

"I want you to recover yourself and get out of my rooms as soon as you can," I said, insultingly. "I've told you what I think of you. If you have any honor or honesty left, you will think twice before you attempt again to associate with gentlemen She's a poor girl, isn't, she?" sneered. "Somewhat too plain and unfashionable for us since we got Tom looked at me with a faint our money You'd be ashamed to walk on Fifth avenue with her, wouldn't you? Hopkins, you are like a hum'n bird flyin' around a forty-seven times worse than a cad. Who cares for your money? I don't. Perhaps if you didn't have it you'd be more of a man. As it is, you've hought it quite dramatic-

> I turned my back on Tom and winked at myself in a mirror. heard him moving, and I turned again quickly. I didn't want a hundred and ninety-eight pounds falling on me from the rear. But Tom had only turned partly over, and laid one arm across his face. He a few words rather more distinctly than before.

"I couldn't have-talked this to you, Billy, even if I'd heard peo ple-lyin' about you. But jus' soon 's I can s-stand up—I'll break your neck—don' f'get it."

I did feel a little ashamed then. But it was to save Tom. In the morning when I explained it, we would have a good laugh over it to-rether.

In about twenty minutes Tom dropped into a sound, easy slumber.
I felt his pulse, listened to his respiration and let him sleep. Everything was normal and Tom was

I found Tom up and dressed when I next morning. He was entirely himself again with the exception of shaky nerves and a tongue like a white oak chip.

"What an idiot I was." he said. thoughtfully, "I remember thinking that quinine bottle looked queer while I was taking the dose. Have much trouble in bringing me 'round?

I told him no. His memory seemed bad about the entire affair. I concluded that he had no recollection of my efforts to keep him awake, and decided not to enlighten him. Some other time, I thought, when he was feeling better, we would have some fun over it.

When Tom was ready to go stopped, with the door open, and shook my hand.

"Much obliged, old fellow." said, quietly, "for taking so much trouble with me-and for what you said. I'm going down now to tele graph to the little girl."-S. H.

A POSTAL CARD RACE

With a view to testing the time required by a post card to go the round of the world, and to ascertain also the route which the card should take to accomplish its journey in the least possible number of hours, an interesting experiment in the form of a competition is being made at Paris. At three o'clock one afternoon, at the central post office, and in the presence of a number of witnesses 470 post cards, sent by an equal number of competitors who had beforehand secured the services of correspondents in America and the Fa East, were handed in after examination by and on the certificate of a sheriff's officer. Some will go by the Havre route, others by Marseilles, by Cherbourg, by Southampton. Af ter a few brief resting places, ter a few brief resting places, ne-cessitated by the time taken by the correspondents in the United States or in Asia to repost them, the postcards will return to Paris, when the sender of the one that arrives first will receive a prize of money.-Lon-

316 Doctors at His Bedside.

A physician has just returned from China, heavily laden with stories of Chinese medicine.

"Medical consultations are carried to their extreme limit in China," he said. There, when any one becomes seriously ill, a consultation of fifteen or twenty doctors is held. The doctors fill the house with their argu ments. They make as much noise as a political convention. But such a consultation as that would be con sidered small and futile if a great man-a mandarin, say, of the class-were to be ill. To consult or his case at least a hundred doctors would gather together.

"A member of the royal family was taken sick while I was in China, and my Chinese host told me with good deal of pride that the larges consultation known to history had been held over the sick man. No les than 316 physicians, he said, had come from every part of the kingdom to study and discuss the case

"The royal patient, I heard after ward, died. This mammoth consul tation had been held in vain."-Phi

DO YOU KNOW THAT BACKACHE IS THE FIRST SYMPTOM OF KIDNEY TROUBLE.

It is I and you cannot be too careful about it.

A little backache let run will finally cause serious kidney trouble. Stop it in time.

TAKE DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

They cure where all others fail. As a specific for Backaches and Kidney Troubles they have no equal. Here is what

MR. GEO. H. SOMERVILLE,

safe. I went into the other room DWIS KILLED BY ELECTRICITY

Mining Company's Trouble With Birus Tuat Alight on Their Wires.

The temporary suspension of work at the mine and mill of the Granite-Bimetallic Mining Company, caused by an owl becoming entangled in the wires, recalls the fact that since the transmission line was put in com mission, nearly four years ago, twenty-five owls have been electrocuted by coming in contact with the wires, and since November of last year twelve fine specimens of the ow family have gone to owl land over this route.

The transmission line is eleven miles in length and furnishes a current of 16,000 volts to the mine and mill, No. 4 copper wire being used. The line traverses a wild and unsettled country, the abiding place of all kinds of wild beasts and birds. Shortly after the line was opened there was a sudden break in the current one night. The line crew began an investigation at once.

A few miles from the power station a monster owl was discovered dead just below the pole line. The bird bore every evidence of having been electrocuted. The occurrence was then considered a novelty, and the bird was stuffed by some of the company's employees and placed on exhibition. Since then, however, the act has been repeated so often and with such serious loss of time to the company's operations that the freaks of the owls have become a serious nuisance. As might be supposed, the break always occur at night, just at the time they are most difficult to find. In nearly every instance the wires are burned outright, but in a cases where the owls fail to land with both feet on both wires no serious damage is done to the wires. but the bird is always a victim. Geo T. MacGuire, the electrician at the power house, has a memento of one of these night tragedies in the shape of a rabbit's foot, which was found in the talons of an electrocuted owl. A big owl became entangled in the wires one night, causing the customary suspension of work at the mine and mill. Midway between the station and the mill next day Mr. Mac-Guire found the owl suspended from the wires, the claws of one foot clutching the wires and the other holding fast a rabbit's foot. The rabbit had evidently been killed by the owl and partly eaten. After making a meal of bunny the owl had carried away the foot for a future repast or perhaps for good luck, and later struck the high voltage wires with disastrous results. The owl had such a ceath grip on the foot that Mr. MacGuire was compelled to cut away the claws to secure it, and he has carried the amulet ever since. Philipsburg Correspondent Anaconda Standard.

RUNNING A RAILWAY FLYER

It oftentimes occurs that in arranging a schedule of a fast and important train it is necessary to change the time of other trains which are not so important. Other occasions arise where a fast train overtakes a slower one, and it is then necessary to schedule the slower train so that it can be side tracked at a convenient and proper station for the fast train to pass. This is usually done a way as not to delay the slow train more than five or six level is slowly but steadily sinking. minutes, and where the slower train This is very apparent among the ishas a considerable distance to run this time is usually made up in the schedule, so as to bring the train into its terminal at its old time. On we have had knowledge of these issome railways where the destiny of lands some of them have been comtraffic is unusually great, the change pletely covered at high water, so of one train has been known to distance that the native inhabitants have been evolution, the power of sunlight must arrange the schedule of nine or ten others. Previous to the change time table a notice is issued, posted on all bulletin hoards and in all stations, calling attention of employees to the fact that a new time table will be issued on a certain date, and it is the 'duty of every employee whose occupation requires it to secure a copy of the new time table, of the Niger to the upper river in receiving it from one of the various places where they are supplied for distribution. The supply for stations and block stations is sent out, and receipts received for them. No em- among the French posts in the westployee is allowed to go out on the road when a new time table takes effect without first having a new time table is his possession, and this information is secured before he is al-Harper's Weekly.

Thomas Edison, the famous inven-Thomas Edison, the famous inventor, prefers girl machinists for the details of his electrical inventions. He says that they exhibit more fine sense about machinery in one minute than most men possess in a lifetime. At the present time Edison has over three hundred girls on his payroll.

Tooks.

Fortunately for the French they ment between our primate ancest date of the sense allowing a new inlet to the upper Niger. My general confention is that wh giving a new inlet to the Soudaness possessions. But geographers are stocks of humanity, and that in wondering how long the drying up of process of evolution they been three hundred girls on his payroll.

A NEW POET.

(R. W. Gilder, in the Atlantic.)

Stop babbling! Hark, a sound is in the air ! Above the pretty songs of schools (Not of music made, but rules), Above the panic rush for gold And emptinesses manifold Friends, beware !

And selling of the soul for phanton And reek of praise where there should be blame; Over the dust and muck The buzz and roar of wheels, Another music steals-

A right, true note is struck.

Friends, beware! A sound of singing in the air! The love song of a man who loves his fellow men; Mother-love and country love, and the love of sea and fen; Lovely thoughts and mighty thoughts and thoughts that linger long; There has come to the old world's singing the thrill of a brave new song.

But listen !- a master voice ! They said there were no more singers, A voice of the true joy-bringers! Now will ye heed and rejoice, Or pass on the other side. And wait till the singer hath died, Then weep o'er his voiceless clay ? Friends, beware !

A keen, new sound is in the air-Know ye a poet's coming is the old world's judgment day !

The Niger is the third largest riof New York it would make an is- the sea, on the terraces of mountain land of the northern part of North valleys, and even up on the great America. But the Niger is now plateau of the Kavousi mountains showing more evidences of the deover large parts of Africa than any world. other large river, for it is the run A Cretan town is always situated off for the waters of a great part of on a height, and it looks most atthe western Soudan, where the decline in rainfall has been uncommonly marked for a considerable period. The British have made several futile attempts in the last two years to reach Jebba from the Niger mouth with their steamer Nupc. Ten years ago this point, where the railway from Lagos is to cross the Niger was accessible at all stages of water to light draft steamers. At Timbuktu, some 1200 miles up the river. the French report that the water lands that divide the Niger into many channels from 100 to 300 miles above Timbuktu. As long as compelled to make an annual sojourn on the mainland till the fall of the floods. Not a single island is now abandoned, for none of them is covered even when the flood is unusually high.

The French officers Toutee, Hourst and Fourneau prove the possibility of carrying supplies from the mouth spite of the long stretch of rapids about 50 miles above the delta Hundreds of tons of freight have thus been distributed from the ocean ern Soudan, and as late as last year some supplies were still forwarded by this route; but this highway to inner Africa, hailed as a great discovery when the French declared its practi allowed to go.—George H. Daniels, in cability, had been abandoned this The water is so low in the rapids that no boat can get over the marked within the last ten years by the appearance of Lake Nagami, in the south, and the diminution Lake Shad, 2400 miles further north, to a fourth of its former size, and there are as yet no signs that the great decrease in rainfall is merely a temporary phenomenon.

A Day's Journey in Island of Crete A day's ride in Crete leads you

through every variety of scenery, from a flat, treeless plain, past gray olive and dark green carob trees, over gently rising hills, and across a chain of rugged mountains, along dizzy heights beneath which yawn deep ravines and gorges. Even in the interior the sea is seldom out of sight, and its deep blue combined with the intense blue of the sky forms a striking contrast to the violet shades of the mountains and the white cliffs along the shore. The vegetation, too, changes with the character of the land. In the flat, sandy plains near the sea lie cultivated fields, where vegetables grain grow luxuriantly as a result of careful tillage and a primative system of irrigation from well sweeps. Often the foothills of the bare mountains abound in natural springs, and then the vegetation is almost pical in its luxuriance. Fig, orange, lemon and pomegranate trees interlace their branches, and by the edge the streams the pink oleanders make bowers of loveliness. Higher up in the mountains are groves oak, chestnut, and plane, but the top of a Cretan mountain is almost bare, except for a low, scraggy growth of carob trees, or, in the spring, when the rough hillsides are veiled in the misty lavender of the asphodel. To a lover of wild flowers DECLINE OF A GREAT RIVER the Cretan flora would be a deep source of delight. Great blue and pink anemones, scarlet poppies, wild ver in Africa and one of the greatest myrtle blossoms and scores of other gladioli, and later the fairy-like rivers of the world. If a channel as flowers make the journey a continual long as the Niger were to he cut joy. Vineyards are found everyacross the continent in the latitude where in Crete; in the low plains by range, the highest point where the siccation that is gradually spreading vine is cultivated in this part of the tractive to see a white village crowning the summit of a hill or nestling on a dark mountain side; but, as you approach, the apparent whiteness grows darker and darker, and you find yourself riding into a little town along narrow, tortuous alleys, with pigs and sheep and cattle getting in your way and all the inhabitants standing in the doorways or on the housetops to greet you.-Scribner's Magazine.

ORIGIN OF WHITE SKINS.

(From an address by Dr. T. F. Macdonald, of Geraldton, Queensland.)

The origin of colored skin, white either, is still unknown. If the evolution, the power of sunlight muse have been curtailed when people took to wearing clothes.

The slightest protection, as seen in the use of ladies' veils, keeps white skin pure. Therefore, if there is any protection afforded by the natural dark skin, an equivalent is obtained for white people by the use of clothes. Until white people to discard clothing in the tropics their skin will remain white.

Sunburn must not be confounded with pigmentation of the skin. Sunburn is merely a tanning of the epidermal cells on the surface of skin, whereas pigmentation is caused by a deposit of dark matter within the deeper layers of the true skin. Summing the whole evidence up, considering all the arguments derive ed from history, anthropology, ethnology and general evolution, it seems to me that the colored skin is an intermediary stage of develop-ment between our primate ancestors My general concention is that whiteskinned peoples come from the oldest stocks of humanity, and that in the

MORE ABOUT THE SHAMROCKS' TURN DOWN

our Irish Catholic Athletic Association against the turn down given them by the other athletic orunizations in the senior Rugby Union. It was the one and only paper that stood by the Shamrock Association in its hour of trouble. It has been receiving many congratula tions on the position it took in behalf of the S.A.A.A. This week it returns to the difficulty. Many rea sons are given for the other clubs knifing the Shamrocks, the principal ones being the stand taken by the Shamrock lacrosse delegates against professionalism, and if the Shamrocks were admitted many players would leave the two city teams to play for the green and gray. When Shamrocks last year upheld amateurism at a meeting of lacross delegates, who praised their work in this respect and sent a congratu-latory letter? Was it not the M.A. A.A.? The letter is in the posses sion of the secretary-treasurer of the Shamrock Association.

Who fought hard to have profes sionalism introduced into lacrosse this year? The M.A.A.A. But be cause Shamrocks did not follow in their path the knife was used against them at the Rugby Union meeting. If the enticing of players away to another team is a good excuse turn a team down, why did not the Shamrocks turn the Montreal Lacrosse Club down? Because they have never resorted to such tactics and never will. The enticing away of Howard, Robinson and McIlwaine this year is not forgotten, meither is the fact that the present Montreal lacrosse team is composed of five old Shamrock players, Finlayson, Nolan, Ward, Liston and Muir. Let us tales Westmount's case, What reason can they give for voting against Shamrock? Do they forget that only two months ago the Shamrock delegates to the intermediate lacrosse league were the means of forming 'a new league. Why? Simply to get Westmount into it after they had re ceived the knife from every club except the Shamrocks. Did not Westmount promise to support Sham-rock's application? Why did they change after what Shamrocks had done for them? An explanation of such conduct would now be in order What had the Rough Riders against the Shamrocks? They instructed their delegates to voite against them, but one at present in Montreal, whom they had sent as a delegate, did not follow the instructions, and one ballot was marked for the green. What special right had the St. Patrick's Club to be taken in the senio league? If the rule bad been followed they would simply be told to go to the intermediate ranks and prove their worth. They are simply the so-called St. Patrick's Club. They do not belong to any athletic organization, neither have they any grounds of their own. And still if reports be true they seem to have been the guiting star in the whole movement, thus making the matter worse than at first.

And now we reach the end of the treacherous drama in three acts which is being played against the Shamrock Amateur Athletic Associa-Two acts have been played, One succeeded, the other failed. The football team is stabbed and dead the lacrosse team still lives in all its glory. The third and final act is being prepared, and a full dress rehearsal will shortly be held before it is staged at the council chamber of hockey delegates. The latest 14c. move is to drive the Shamrock hockfeam out of the senior league, and no doubt to substitute a new in its place, possibly an Ottawa We warn the hockey delegates club. of the Shamrocks to go to league meeting prepared to hear their doom, and to witness the last act of a stabbing in the dark, a plot has no parallel in the history of athletics the world over to-day When the last act is accomplished will the handwriting on the wall read as follows: "Down with the Shamrock Amat'eur Athletic Associa tion, we'll stab it even unto death.'

Honor and justice rest with our Arish Catholic athletic organization thirty-five years of a magnificent record in which they have captured honor after honor on a fair field without favor, while shame, treachery and infustice mark the "Black Hand" that is doing its best to destroy it.

CHEESE UNCHANGED-BIDDING SLOW FROM BRITISH MAR-

The condition of the local chees market is unchanged, prices ruling too high to encourage speculative trading. One feature that may be noted is the fact that cablus sent out on Saturday and Monday offering cheese to the British importer at 55: emain unanswered, indicating that the English trade is unwilling move in sympathy with the advance here. Local prices this morning are 11%c to 11%c for Western, and 11%c to 111c for Quebec.

EGGS WORTH MORE IN THE COUNTRY.

Eggs are firm but not over active on the local market, and prices here are about the same as have ruling for some days in spite of advance of about half a cent in the country. Commission merchants ex press themselves as disappointed with the quality of last week's gathering of eggs, an improvement in the quality, which has not taken place, being looked for as a result of the cooler weather.

Selects are sold to the local retail trade at 20c to 21c; No. 1 candled are worth 161c to 17c, and straight stock, 16c to 161c; No. 2, 12c to

BUTTER MARKET FIRM AND FAIRLY ACTIVE.

The local butter market is firm and trading is fairly active. though export trade is feeling the effects of the recent rise in values in the reluctance of English importers to the prices asked: 113s is about the average offering, but orders on that basis are slow in coming in; 23c to 231c the local quotation to-day for finest creamery, though one lot of fine was offered at 221c. Dairy is scarce, and brings from 18c to

FLOUR-Manitoba spring wheat patents, $5.40 to $5.50: strong bakers, $5.00 to $5.20; wheat patents, $5.50; and straight rollers, $5 to $5.15 in wood; in ags, $2.40 to $2.50.

ROLLED OATS-$2,421 per bag PEARL HOMINY-$1.85 to $1.90 n bags of 98 lbs.

MILL FEED-Ontario bran in bulk at $14.50 to $15; shorts, $17.50 to $18.50; Manitoba bran in bags $15.50 to $16 shorts, $19.

HAY-No. 1, $9 to $9.25 per ton on track; No. 2, $7.50 to $8; clover, $6.50, and clover mixed, $6.75 to $7.25.

OATS-No. 2, 48c to 49c per bushel; No. 3, 47e to 47ic. BEANS-Choice primes, $1.70 to $1.75 per bushel; $1.65 in car lots PEAS.-Boiling, $1.10 to $1.15 per bushel (60 lbs., bags included) 2 in car load lots, 821c to 84 POTATOES - New potatoes, bags of 90 lbs., $1, and $2 per barrel. Old potatoes, 50c to 60c

Per bag.
HONEY-White clover in comb. 11c to 12c per section in 1 lb Sections; extract in 10 lb. tins, 71c to 8c; im 60 lb. time, 7c.

per bag.

PROVISIONS - Heavy Canadian short cut pork, $20.00 to $21.00; light short cut, $18 to $19; American cut clear fat back, $18.50 to $1% compound lard, 5%c to 6%c Canadian lard, 91c to 91c; kettle rendered, 101c to 11c, according to quality; hams, 12c, 13c and 14c, according to size; bacon, 13c to 14c; fresh killed abattoir hogs, $10; alive, $7.25 for mixed lots, $7.50 for selects.

EGGS-Straight stock, 17c; No. 2, BUTTER-Choicest creamery, 221c

to 28c undergrades, 211c to 22c; dairy, 18c to 20c. CHEESE—Ontario, 111c to 111c;

Quebec, 11 c to 11 3-16c.

ASHES — Firsts, $5 to $5.10; se conds, $4.55; first pearls, $7.

INSPECTING APPLE CROPS

Member of English Firm Tours Canadian Orchards.

Toronto, Aug. 1-Mr. Edward H. Woodall, a junior member of the Liverpool fruit firm of Woodall & Co., is at the King Edward Hotel. He has been inspecting the prospects of the apple crop in the orchards east of Toronto, travelling in company with Mr. Eben James, of Toronto the firm's resident agent. Mr. Wood all said that his firm bought fruit from the Hudson Hiver county as long ago as 1847. They are now included in the six great firms who auction ninety per cent of all the fruit imported into Liverpool, which We learn the true emptiness and is the largest fruit distributing cen-mothingness of this world, of its tre in the world. He says the home leasures and gains and honors, by and continental crops are light this year, and offer good hope of fair bevote ourselves to the care of the prices for the Canadian grown apples.

MONTREAL WHOLESALE PRICES The Shie Starply Grapmy & THE IRISH LACE DEPOT OF AMERICA.

We take this name "upon ourselves because we are the selling agents, in Camada, of the Irish Home Industries' Association, an organization formed for the purpose of reviving the ahcient industry of the making of laces in the homes of the Irish peasants.

The Countess of Aberdeen, as president of the Association, first placed these laces upon the American market, by selling them herself across our counters: but that was years ago. Since then the buess has grown enormously. At this time of the year we are especially busy on account of the tourist trade. We are often told by New Yorkers and Boston people that they heard of us in connection with Irish laces long before they left

We keep in cable touch with the Lace Depot in Dublin as as carry an enormous stock at this end. The latest arrivals comprise a choice as-

Real Irish Crochet Edgings, Real Irish Crochet Insertions, Irish Crochet Allovers. Real Irish Crochet Medallions or Motifs in beautiful designs, embodying the shamrock, the and the thistle, etc.; Real Irish Carrickmacross Applioue, Real Irish Carrickmacross Applique Edgings and Insertions, Real Lish Carrickmacross Guipure, Real Irish Carrickmacross Edgings and Insertions, Real Irish Limerick Edgings and Insertions; also the newest productions in Real Irish Crochet Collars, and Real Irish Crochet Collar and Cuff Sets.

he John Murphy Gengray Banks

BOOKS RECEIVED.

"Certainty in Religion," by Rev Henry H. Wyman, Paulist. The Columbus Press has issued, under the above title, a popular manual of Christian Apologetics which is a vainable addition to its missionary li terature so widely distributed throughout the land. throughout the land.

Father Wyman, its author, is an old and experienced missionary, who as he modestly says, has endeavored to supply a Christian Apology Suitable for distribution on Catholic and non-Catholic missions.

Father Hymun remarks: "It is pity that the arguments for the CATHOLIC SALORS' CLUB Standard apologists are not better known. Published as they are iin farge volumes, written in a scientific and learned style, they are inaccessible to ordinary readers."

Priests and missionaries, who, like the author, have felt the need of such a book, will welcome this volume a valuable aid on missions and in instruction classes.

The price is five dollars per hu dred copies.

Published by the Columbus Press 120 West 60th Street, New York Paper, 10c per copy. Cloth, 50c per copy.

GLENANAAR.

lowing criticism of Canon Sheehan's latest work:

Glenanaar is a beautiful story. From an historical point of view it is important as being a vivid picture of the White Boy days, the te rible famine years of '48 and '49. and the true horror of the Irish heart for that monstrous British produc tion on Irish soil-the informer. Th story is very well told and true to nature. In these respects it resembles Father Sheehan's greatest books -The Student, and Triumph of Failure, The New Curate and Luke Delmege. The phases of life in Glenferent from those encountered in other works of this able author. The story itself is a very pathetic one, and brings out into bold relief son of the tenderest and most estimable traits of the Irish character. One cannot easily forget poor dear Nodlay after following her through life as portrayed by Father Sheehen. With all, however, this work is not so high or so deep, so great or so beautiful as these other works of beautiful as those other this gifted author above

PERSONALLY CONDUCTED TOUR PACIFIC COAST, CALIFORNIA,

LEWIS & CLARK EXPOSITION, By Special Train, Aug. 28th, 1905 Round Trip Fare from QUEBEC. SIGO SO

Tickets good to return within ninety days.
Above faces include MEALS and TOURIST SLEEPING CAR berths both ways.

PORTLAND, OLD ORCHARD. Leave Montreal at 8 a.m. and 8-01 p in fullman Farter Cars on day trains and Miceping Cars on night trains. Megant Cafe car service on day trains of wom Montreal and Portland.

Montreal-Ottawa and Valleyfield Lve Montreal 8.40 a.m., +4.10 p.m., 7.00 p.m. Arr Ottawa 11.40 a.m., +7.10 p.m., 10.00 p.m., Lve Ottawa 8.20 a.m., 3.30 p.m., +6.35 p.m. Arr Montreal 11.20 a.m., 6.30 p.m., 19.35 p.m. Parlor Cars on all trains between Montreal and Ottawa Lve Montreal 8.40, 9.30 a.m., 4.10 p.m., †5.15 p.m. Arr Valleyfield 9.45, 11.10 a.m., 5 17 p.m., †6.45 D m. Lve Valleyfield †8 a.m., 10 10 a.m., 4.40, 5.27 p.m. Arr Montreal †9.33 a.m., 11 20 a.m., 6.00, 6.30 p.m. † Week days, All other trains daily.

MONTREAL AND NEW YORK. MUNI BEAL AND NEW YORK.
Shortesi line, quickest service Two night trains daily each way. Two day trains each way, week days.
Lve Montreal '7.21 a.m., '10 15 a.m.,
'8.10 p. w. '11.30 p.m., Arr Montreal '2.50 p.m., '8.20 p.m.,
'7.11a.m., '9 45 p.m.
'Daily 'tWeek days.
Train leaving Montreal at 11.20 p.m.
connects at Albauy with Hudson River day line steamers, making that charming inland water trip down the Hudson River to New York. Connection with this train is also made at Saratoga Springs with the 'Saratoga Limited,' reaching new York at 11.33 a.m.

CITY TICKET OFFICES 37 St.James Street, Telephones Ms 460 & 461, or Bonaventure Station

CANADIAN PACIFIC

LEWIS & CLARK. CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION. Portland, Oregon. Until OCTOBER 15th, 1905, $75.50.

Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle, Wash., Tacoma, Wash., Portland, Ore. And return from Mentreal. Tickets now on sale, and good to return within 90 days from date issued, but not later than November 30th, 1905.

PORTLAND, OLD ORCHARD, Scarboro Beach, etc. Through Parlor and Sleeping Car Service. Trains leave Windsor Street 9 a.m. week days, 7.45 p.m. daily.

THREE RIVERS EXHIBITION.

ST. ANDREWS-BY-THE-SEA SLEEPING CAR SERVICE—Through Sleepers leave Windsor Street, 7,25 p.m., Tuesdays and Fridays, for St. Andrews. Returning leave St. Andrews Mondays and Wednesdays, arriving Montreal 8.05 a.m.

Ticket Offices 129 St. James St. Windsor

ALL SAILORS WELCOME. Concert every Wednesday Evening

All Local Talent invited. The finest in the City pay us a visit.

MASS at 9 30 a.m. on Sunday.
Sacred Concert on Sunday evening.
Open week days from 9 a.m., to 10

On Sundays from t p.m to 10 p.m.

ST PETER and COMMON STS.

o' DIED.

GERAGHTY-On July 6, 1905, in the parish of Hinchinbrook, Que. All by experienced workers. Annie Geraghty, aged 38 years.

of Failure, and The Student. These are really two volumes, but only one story. Next in rank in our estimates tion would stand Luke Delmege, ther the New Curate and fourth Glenanaar. Other story tellers the merest tyros in their art after one has spent a few afternoons with Canon Sheehan's unique novels. W. E. C.

DONAHOE'S FOR AUGUST.

The boyhood of John Boyle O'Reilly is the subject of a very interesting paper in the August issue of Dona-hoe's Magazine. The writer, Brian O'Higgins, visited the places O'Reilly's youth was spent, and talk-ed with the people who knew him, o Keilly's youth was spent, and talke ed with the people who knew him, collecting from them tender reminiscences of the handsome, high-spirited boy who shared their sports, read to them by the hearth fires; or incited them to join him in the perilous edtyantures ke loved. Photographs of the composing room in which he worked on the Drogheda Argus, of Dowth Castle, the monument in the filittle cemetery and of the unveiling stories by Margaret Chadwick, J.
ceremony, help to bring more clearly

C. O'Conor Eccles: "Two Women of the Stage," by the Rev. John Talthe Stage, "by the Rev. John Talthe Stage," by the Rev. John Talthe Stage, "by the Rev. John Talthe Stage," by the Rev. John Talthe Stage, "by

S, CARSLEY CO.

THE CREATEST "CLEAN-UP SALE" IN THE HISTORY OF THIS CITY

Was Commenced under New Management at 8 a m. of Aug. Ist.

Was Commenced under New Management at 8 a m. of Aug. Ist.

ITS OBJECT—To effect a quick, decisive, thorough clearance of summer merchandise.

ITS METHOD—Price Outting, deep and fearless—a total disragard for losses—value-giving that is irresistible.

ITS EXTENT—To every Department—to every counter of this helpful Store—every article—every fabric that pertains to summer has fallen a victim to the price cutter.

ITS QUALITIES—Good dependable merchandise—our regular stock for which you have paid at least the sale price—new weaves—late styles

ITS BARCAINS—Wonderful—innumerable—matchless.

More bargains and better bargains than have ever endowed any other sale event.

SALE BEGINS—At the hour of eight.

Montreal's Greatest Sale Event-Most Important Value Carnival on Record.

HE NEW MANAGEMENT REDUCES THE PRICES ON TAPESTRY, BRUSSELS AND AXMINSTER CARPETS.

The Carpets we offer at these reduced prices are as good as any we will have in stock for the fall. The sole reason for clearing them is that we have not enough of these particular patterns, and have desided to reduce the prices on all pieces of carpets measuring twenty. five yards and less. Tapestry, Brussels, Velvet and Axminster are all included in this Special Clean Up Sale, and will come under the same scale of reduced prices. For instance:

TAPESTRY CARPETS, Regular BRUSSELS CARPET. Regular TAPESTRY CARPETS, Regulas BRUSSELS CARPET. Regular TAPESTRY CARPETS, Regular price, 65c a yard. Clean Up Sale Price ..... ... TAPESTRY CARPETS, Regular price, 75c a yard, Clean Up Sale Price ...... 57c per cent.

price, $1.25 a yard. Clean Up Sale Price ....... 90 ...... 49c All pieces of Brussels Carpet measuring 25 yards or less, to be cleared at a reduction of 25

BIG REDUCTIONS ON FINE FURNITURE.

145 DINING CHAIRS, made of hardwood, golden oak finish, emboss

... $20.00 ONLY, PARLOR SUITES, comprising five pieces, mahogany finish frames, coverings of handsome figured velour, several patterns to select from. Regularly, 22. Clean Up Sale Price is $16,50 FANCY PARLOR CHAIRS, upholstered seats and backs, maho finish frames, highly polished, elegant designs. Regularly $8.00 to $10.00. The New Management will close them out at GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.

$3.50 to $8.00 LADIES' CAPES FOR 98c.

Of course these garments are not this season's styles, but every one is made of first class materials and perfectly finished. They will prove quite useful for seaside or country wear, and many need but slight alterations to bring them right up to date.

47 CAPES, in a variety of materials, almost every color, very handsomely made, and all capable of alteration, some silk lined, others unlined, trimmed with embroidery or silk applique. Regularly $3.50 to $8.00. Clean Up Sale Price ........ ..... 98c

THE S. CARSLEY COLIMITED

AUGUST SAI

This being our Semi-Annual Stock Taking Month every Department will be made attractive with low prices and liberal discounts.

See our large stock of Carpets, Curtains and House Furnishings, Furniture, Beds and Bedding.

Mail sea side orders for putting your homes in. order during August and be relieved of work people on your return. Carpets taken up, cleaned and relaid, furniture polished and renovated, mattresses made ever.

THOMAS LIGGET 2474 & 2476 St. Catherine St.

before the reader the scenes the writer describes. Count Francesco Vannutelli writes of "The Black Pope," and the part the Order he represents takes in the educational life of Italy. "The Star-Spangled Banner" is the subject of a patriotic article by A. V. D. Wattersont, and John Robertson recounts various manifestations Other illustrated papers that attract attention are "A Holiday in

"Some Irishwomen in London," by C. O'Conor Eccles; "Two Women of

THE KING'S MICE. (From the Car.)

Rated on the books of the British navy and set down in the official pay sheets with the other complea very useful purpose on the British submarines. It having been noticed sion to petrol vapor, and express the same by very persistent squeaking, they are domiciled in cages near the arine's petrol tanks, Immedi arely a leakage of petrol vapor occurs they set up a most vigorous protest and thus give timely warning.

It is the struggle, and not It is the struggle, and not the attainment, that measures character and foreshadows destiny. Character is not determined by faults and weaknesses and periodic phases of life, nor by limitations and accidents of present existence; but by the certral purpose, the inmost desire of the heart. If that he turned toward God and His rightcousness, it must last bring us thither.—Dr. Munga,

CARDINAL

Money the Great

"Corporation corrupt evil that we must reck as long as the present society exists in this c Cardinal James Gibbon Whenever there is an of great capital, or a of men interested making concern, there corruption. It is not It is a story as old as history. The only rea comes so much to the fo is that the methods of are daily growing stron "Corruption has al Corruption, I am much always exist as long as ture yields to the attr lead to temptation.

THE EVIL MONEY CREATES

"The bright spot i swamp of present moral is the fact that the deg made known. Corruption ist nowadays without be ed after a while. The evil the greater the pos remedy. And that poss medy has now become su ed fact that it counterba most, the evil which the dition of money madries

"The fear, the dread o the counterbalancing ele that fear, that dread, t of having a name onc dragged down is due to the metropolitan press. be good theology, it may ethics, but it is certainly common sense, and a moral element that the dread of exposure in the keeps many a man stic to the path of rectitude wise would stray off into of personal graft."

Cardinal Gibbons is sp summer at the further en Island, in the modest li of Father O'Hara, who is of the Church of the Sa at Southampton. In th the oldest setfled spots where even the road sig that this particular one in 1663, the only wearer biretta in America away the brilliant wind s mer days.

DOES NOT WASTE HI It was in the rectory of church that Cardinal Gib plained what he feared mo financially from the presen of the country. Cardina talks absolutely to the p does not waste words on pressions of sentiment. F beat about the bush with f What he has to say he say cally, briefly. He does no seventy-one years. Althou small in stature, he is not The vigor of youth is still tunate blessing. versational, informal way occasional interruptions priest or a visiting church be ushered in, and in a f and satisfying words Care bons dismissed them one other. A photographer ca wanted to take his picture. nence smiled, and said: How foolish to snapsho when there are so many pict of me at my best which easily obtained. I do not have my picture taken, and like to have them printed, lize the fact that publication times think it necessary to portrait. I put up no They are guite at liberty to

When these various inte of visitors had passed His settled down to a serious t cerning the grave condition country

EVERY MAN SHOULD PR REPUTATION.

"There is nothing," said b a man prizes more than hi tion. And the only way to by upset a man's reputation

