Sad Accident—On Monday last while a number of boys were playing about some freight cars on the track on Government wharf, a little boy ramed Gormely met his death under the following circumstances: It appears that some men had separated two cars from each other, which were on an incliding track, when one of the boys thoughtlessly let go of the brakes, which caused the cars to come together, crushing the poor little fellow between the couplings, injuring him so hadly that he died on the following night.—Windsor Mail.

These ominous words fell on my ears as I saw Jabez issue from the engine-room, followed by the engineer, who seemed evidently to have got his steam up.

THE FIRST LOCOMOTIVE.

In the year 1808 I enjoyed the never-to-beorgotten gratification of a paddle up the Hudson on board the first steam out that ever moved on the waters of any river. Among the voyager was a man whom I had known for some years previous by the name of Jabez Doolittle, He was an industrious and ingenious worker in sheet-iron, tin and wire; but his great success lay in wire-work, especially in making "rat-traps;" and for this, his last and best invention m that line, he had just secured a patent; and journey through the State of New York for the travelling wheels. e of disposing of what he called country rights," or, in other words, to sell the privilege of catching rats according to his patent trap. It was a very curious trap, as simple as it was ingenious, as most ingenious things are after they are invented It was an oblong wire box, divided into two compartments. A rat entered one, where the bait was hung, which he no sooner touched than the door at which he entered fell. His only apparent escape was by a funnel shaped hole into another upartment, in passing which he moved another wire, which instantly reset the trap; and thus rat after rat was furnished the means of "following in the footsteps of his illus trious predecessor," until the trap was full Thus it was not simply a trap to catch a rat, but a trap by which rats trapped rats ad infinitum This trap, at the time to which I allude, absoately divided the attention of the passengers : and, for my part, it interested me quite as much me the steam-engine was Greek, the trap was plain English. Not so, however, to Jabez Doo-

HINTS ABOUT WORK.

Last Year's Mistakes are to be avoided. Take time, do all kinds of work thorough and well. If not present, let everything ordered to be done pass under your inspection our readers a full report next week. on after it is finished.

A Watch on the Markets .- We have almost always either something to sell or something to buy; hence it is always woll advantage of them, if possible.

Labor will pay. Hire more labor—take risks of this kind. If work is well planned, and judiciously carried out, the more there is done, the better off you will be. If money at interest pays, that spent for labor ought to pay fifty per-cent better.

Cows.—When there is a good strong growth of grass, turn the cows to pasture, but not before. Calves, wearing muzzles set with nails which are well sharpened, but not slender pointed, may ruu with their dams without danger of their sucking. Cows "coming in" on full feed often make more milk than their udders have capacity to retain, if milked but twice a day .-Neglect to milk oftener causes not only the oss of a pint or two which leaks out daily, but induces a tendency in the cow to secrete less entailing a loss through the year.

Sawdust as Manure.—The common practice of throwing this article into the streams or which saw-mills and shingle-mills are situated is reprehensible. It would not pay to spread it upon a muck swamp, but upon any sandy land, or light gravelly loam, deficient in vegetable matter, it would prove a good dressing and in time would show good results. The best use we have ever seen it put to was bedding in for animals in stables. It is an excellent absorbent, and will keep cows clean even better than straw. It is also a very light han dy article in the hennery, and more cleanly to handle than muck. The article is merchantable in cities, and is quite extensively used upon floors in eating saloons, and for other purposes. At country mills it can generally be had for the carting, as mill owners are glad to be rid of it. It is a good substitute for straw and this is now worth so much for manufactur ing purposes in many parts of the country that

Mr. McBean then addressed the meeting at some length, and in a pleasing meeting. which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gumbs, reducing all infiammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

Sure to Regulate the Bowels Depend upon it mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to your Infants

We have put up and sold this article for truth of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER ILAS IT FAILED IN A SINGLE INSTANCE TO EFFECT A CUEF, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "what we do know," after 30 years experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfilings of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infart is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most EXPERIENCED and SKILFUL NURSUS in New England, and has been used with never failing success in

THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only cheves the child from pain but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly re-
