Health for Sick Women

For Forty Years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Been Woman's Most Reliable Medicine—Here is More Proof.

To women who are suffering from some form of woman's special ills, and have a constant fear of breaking down, the three following letters ought to bring hope:—

North Cranston, Wis.—“When I was 16 years old I got married and at 18 years I gave birth to twins and it left me with very poor health. I could not walk across the floor without having to sit down to rest and it was hard for me to keep about and do my work. I went to a doctor and he told me I had a displacement and ulcers, and would have to have an operation. This frightened me so much that I did not know what to do. Having heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I thought I would give it a trial and it made me as well as ever. I cannot say enough in favor of the Pinkham remedies.—Mrs. MAYNE ASHICH, North Cranston, Wis.

Testimony from Oklahoma.
Lawton, Okla.—“When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I seemed to be good for nothing. I tired easily and had headaches much of the time and was irregular. I took it again before my little child was born and it did me a wonderful amount of good at that time. I never fail to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to ailing women because it has done so much for me.”—Mrs. A. L. McCASLAND, 509 Have St., Lawton, Okla.

From a Grateful Massachusetts Woman.
Roxbury, Mass.—“I was suffering from inflammation and was examined by a physician who found that my trouble was caused by a displacement. My symptoms were bearing down pains, backache, and sluggish liver. I tried several kinds of medicine; then I was asked to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has cured me and I am pleased to be in my usual good health by using it and highly recommend it.”—Mrs. B. M. OSOON, 1 Haynes Park, Roxbury, Mass.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letters will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

A Dog On the Strength.

The war has led to the relaxation of many of our rules, and the latest reported instance is that whereby the dog Rara, a Great Dane, the mascot of the Auckland (New Zealand) Naval Rifles, has become attached to the 4th London General Hospital. The story goes that one of the men in the regiment made a great pet of Rara, who, on her friend becoming a patient, and consequently an absentee, lost her appetite and became depressed. On hearing the news, Rara became worried, and for the sake of both patients the dog was brought to the hospital, where she is understood to be wearing an official identification badge fastened to a chain, provided at the expense of the regiment. It is perhaps fortunate that one mascot is usually sufficient for each regiment, for a visit of hospital wards in which patients are surrounded by the kennels and cages of their pets would make a ghastly-laced staff, if any remains, snif with disapproval.

The Boy Scouts.

Commemorations of the Boy Scout Movement come from all quarters of the globe, and from men who direct the destinies of nations and Empires. They come from men who realize what the Boy Scout organization is doing to mould the coming manhood of the great nations. The movement has a warm advocate in the United States in the person of ex-President Roosevelt. In a recent article in the ‘Outlook’ he says: ‘Perhaps it is too much to hope that the time will come when every public and private school in the United States will have a Boy Scout organization connected with it. It is, however, an ideal to be hoped and worked for.’ After quoting the Scout law, he goes on to say: ‘An organization which is cultivating these qualities in our boys is performing a national work of the best kind of patriotism.’ In another part of this journal the ex-President writes: ‘The Boy Scout Movement is distinctively an asset to our country for the development of efficiency, virility and good citizenship.’

An Old Problem and the Solution.

How many apples did Adam and Eve eat?
The old version says, Eve 8 and Adam 2. Total 10. But this is what certain American papers have to say: Nebraska Herald: ‘Eve 8 and Adam 8. Total 16.’
Mississippi Gazette: ‘We don't see this, Eve 8 and Adam 82. Total 90.’
New York Scream: ‘Our contemporaries are entirely wrong. Eve 8 and Adam 82. Total 83.’
Ohio Advertiser: ‘We reason like this. Eve 8, here—8 and Adam 824. Eve. Total 832.’
But the Illinois Telegraph says: ‘Eve 824 know how it tasted and Adam 8242 know what it might be like. Total 9264.’

The Ad. Man's Story.

During a convention of ad. writers held recently, someone told the following:
‘A man entered a shop one cold day and bought a woolen muffler. When he opened the box he found inside the photograph of a beautiful girl with a note couched in these terms:
‘If you are single, please write to me.’
‘A name and address followed, and the man smiled. He was single. He placed the photo on his library table. In a week he had fallen in love with the picture of the beautiful girl. So he wrote her.
‘A week passed, during which the bachelor was in a fever of impatience. Finally he received the terrific blow in the shape of a letter:
‘Dear Sir,—The Mary Jones to whom you wrote was my grandmother. She died nine years ago, aged eighty-seven. Yours truly’
‘Upon investigating this strange case, the broken-hearted bachelor discovered he had purchased the muffler from a dealer who did not advertise.’

DR. A. W. CHASE'S 25c. CATARRH POWDER.

Is sent direct to the diseased parts by the improved blow. Heals the ulcers, clears the air passages, stops drops, stops the flow of pus and permanently cures Catarrh and Hay Fever. A box 10c. Money free. Accept no substitutes. All dealers or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

The black-haired boy had a mighty contempt for the tow-headed boy.

‘Hub,’ he said, ‘your mother takes in washing.’
‘Of course she does,’ the tow-headed satirist retorted. ‘You didn't think she would leave it hanging out at night unless your father was in jail, did you?’
‘Twenty thousand members of Jesuit Order are fighting in France against the Huns.’
‘Jiggs—I slept like a log last night.’
Mrs. J.—‘Yes, and I heard you snoring.’

Not a Final Parting.

“You see the American had discovered something British that was better than anything they could produce,” said the Scot.

“You're takin' him to Amer, isn't you?” said the Yankee.

“No, I guess so,” said the Yankee. “I'll be back in a day or so, but he couldn't swim the Atlantic.”

Had Never Seen Cream.

The times through which we are passing have caused many a man to change his views, amidst the Cincinnati Enquirer. They had this effect on an East Side milkman who decided to become honest.

On the third morning he was taken back when he called for the payment of his weekly bill and a customer began to shriek at him.

“You needn't serve me any longer,” she said, “I'm not going to pay you for the last two days.”

There is No Middle Course.

As a warning to those who lay to their souls the fitting unctious that though regular drinkers, they are not drunkards, let the doctor be heard further: To prevent misapprehension, it is well here to state that all the evils resulting from heredity which may be transmitted by the parents, and which have never been noted in the past, are now being noted.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

In ‘The Outlook’ in the October number of Red and Gun Magazine, which is now on the news-stands, H. C. Haddon gives some intimate details in the life of a family of wolves, which the writer observed at first hand, from the birth of the cubs up to the time when one of their number became a famous hunter and a destroyer of cattle on the ranch of a Western farmer. In ‘A Ball of Triple Crek,’ A. Ray Giddings gives a dramatic account of a fight between two bull moose, the human element being supplied by the two trappers, who witnessed the encounter between the two rival bulls, and one of whom is rescued from death. The Light that Saved Camp Magic, On the Trail of the Wounded Bull Moose, A Story of Eggs and Skins, and other articles besides the regular department, constitute an interesting issue for the sportsman whose thoughts at this time of the year are turning to the opening of the big game season.

Reached the Top.

Very wrong verdicts are come to by people who use modern inventions in the wrong way. The moving staircase of the Embankment Station offered a proof of this. A countryman was seen trying to ascend the descending side of the moving staircase. There was no official about, and after two plucky attempts he at last made progress and joggledly worked his way up to the top. Some people who saw her efforts waited for her at the top. When she recovered her breath she said:
‘I don't think them movin' staircases all the talk's about is any better than the old lift.’

Purple Feather Club.

In addition to those mentioned in a recent issue, the following have contributed: Mrs. R. D. G. Harris, Prin. E. T. DeWolfe, Mr. H. Stairs, Mr. Hamilton, and Capt. Tim may has forwarded to the Treasurer in Halifax $83.75.

Nervous and Almost Crazy With Pains in the Head

Clergyman Certifies to This Cure of Nervous Prostration by Use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

No ailment is more discouraging than Nervous Prostration. You may feel better for a day or two, only to find the next day that you have lost ground and are worse than ever. The headaches are worse, languid feelings are terribly depressing. As you lose strength you lose hope and courage and look to the future with fear and trembling.
Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the greatest blessing that has ever come to the sufferer from nervous exhaustion. It is not narcotics in its influence. It does notadden the trembling, irritated nerves, but through the medium of the blood nourishes them back to health as nothing else can.
Mrs. Alonzo B. Elmer, Ellipton, King's county, N. S., writes:—“I was very low with nervous prostration and was about discouraged, as I could not sleep nights and was almost crazy with the pain in my head. I had tried many doctors, but seemed to get little benefit from their treatments. A friend handed me Dr. Chase's

Refreshing Tea

In any season—Summer or Winter—there is nothing more enjoyable than a delicious cup of tea. The flavor must be “just right,” though, and that's where KING COLE TEA excels.

Sunlight and Health.

EVERYONE KNOWS WHAT HAPPENS TO FLOWERS THAT GROW IN THE SHADE.

There is a striking analogy between the beneficial effects of sunlight and air upon plants and upon human beings. One of the principal requisites for our physical welfare is haemoglobin, the coloring matter of the blood. Sun bathing and outdoor life are the best means of making it. Everyone knows what happens to flowers that grow in the shade.

Physiologists tell us that haemoglobin of the blood is to the human body what chlorophyll is to the plant, and its growth is facilitated. Miners who work underground become pale. Flowers that grow in dark places have little color and the leaves are pale. Human beings and animals are affected in much the same way for want of sunlight, excepting those that by nature are adapted to this life.

The sunlight does more than tan the surface of the skin. The coloring matter is formed and developed deeper in. The sun's rays strike down and the effect penetrates perhaps for an inch or two into the soft tissues, so that the influence of the sun is felt on the exterior of the body as well as on the exterior.

Getting the Wind Up.

This is a common phrase at the Front, and is applied to a soldier who develops, jumpiness and alarm in circumstances where coolness and resource are valuable above all things. It is believed to have originated in pre-war days when a soldier had to obtain a certain number of points at musketry practice in order to qualify for proficiency pay. To a highly-strung man, who was also but a medium shot, this implied a genuine nervous strain, which was reflected in somewhat erratic shooting. As drawing men will clutch at straws, so would the soldier keep feverishly adjusting the wind gauge on his rifle, hoping that the inaccuracy of shots was due to flut gusts of wind across the range, and that a slight adjustment of the wind gauge would put things right. This monomania would be observed by ‘old hands,’ who would be watching with sympathetic interest the struggles of a comrade ‘shooting for his pay.’ And when the manipulation of the wind gauge displayed extra agitation, they would mutter anxiously, ‘He's getting the wind up.’

Alcohol Stunts Plants.

Experiments have been tried by feeding the plant on water to which some alcohol has been added. Very soon a change for the worse has come over the plant; it has lost its color and its strength. Its growth has been stopped, and finally it has died. This illustrates the action of alcohol on the human body. It is an enemy to a healthy constitution; it takes away the power of the red corpuscles to do their cleansing work; it shows its deadly effect on a weakened heart and robs the face of its natural beauty. The best of all drinks for flowers and human beings is pure water.—The Young Abstemious.

Piles Entirely Cured.

Mr. Wm. Woodell, 107 St. John St., Carlton, St. John, N. B., writes:—“I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for itching, bleeding piles, and as a result have been entirely cured. For years I was a great sufferer from this distressing ailment and can say that three boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment cured me. You may use this letter for the benefit of others.”

WED ROSE TEA “is good tea”

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., OCT. 20, 1916

Editorial Brevities.

Imperial British officers who witnessed the charge of Nova Scotians at the taking of Courcellette, say that it was magnificent, and they had never witnessed anything like it before. Today those Nova Scotians are the most talked of unit in the Canadian forces at the front, and the finest in the Canadian Expeditionary Force. They have gained great honor for the Province on the anniversary of their landing in France.

Charles Elderkin, who had been convicted in the Supreme Court on a charge of assault and was awaiting trial for larceny, and Roy Daniels, of Dalhousie, an offender against the N. S. Temperance Act, being confined in the same cell in Kentville jail, dug their way out on Wednesday night of last week, and are still at large. It looks as though it were about time that some steps were taken to make the Kentville jail a more secure place of internment.

General Sir Sam Hughes, Canadian Minister of Militia, has received a letter from Sir Douglas Haig, of which the following is an extract:— "I desire to express my sincere appreciation of the generous terms in which you refer to the achievements of the army in France. It must be a source of pride and gratification to you to know that the gallant officers and men who come from Canada to fight for the King and the common cause of our Empire invariably do their duty in a way that reflects the greatest possible credit on themselves and their Dominion."

It is high time that the Council was moving in the matter of the adoption of better building regulations in Wolfville. Under present conditions any kind of a building can be erected in any part of the town. This is not as it should be and does not make either for the best appearance or sanitary condition, or fire protection. A start should be made toward a brick district, provision being made that nothing but brick or cement or stone buildings could be erected within certain limits. The town is already a little late in the matter, but it is better late than never.

Pensions.

There has been considerable comment in many Canadian papers in reference to the Canadian pension law, which follows closely that in force in Great Britain, the pensions being graded according to the rank of the recipient. It is held that while this system may have been all right for the regular British army in the old days it is not applicable to the Canadian army of today. The British caste system should not be allowed to settle itself in Canada, which is a democratic country where class distinctions do not and should not exist. The Canadian army is a cosmopolitan one and has been recruited from every walk of life, and in thousands of instances the officers are the superiors of the privates only through the accident of war. While they are performing military duty the officers are paid in accordance with the responsibilities of the duties which they discharge; so likewise with the privates. But when they come back to private life officers and privates are again on equal basis and should be treated as equals. If an officer should lose an arm and if a private should lose an arm the loss of the arm to the private would be as great a handicap as to the officer in the struggle for existence in the days that are to come. But under the present law regarding pensions, the officer would draw a generous pension and the private a comparatively small one. In a democratic country like Canada it is claimed, and we think fairly, that the pension should be the same for the private as for the officer, for both have made equal sacrifices. Those who hold the views we have set forth say that they have no desire to criticize our gallant officers, but a sincere wish to see that our equally gallant privates get their just dues.

The Price of Newspapers.

The increase in the price of printing paper has become so serious that publishers are getting together to devise measures to meet the situation. Many have already increased their subscription rates and some have been forced to suspend publication. We are advised, however, by the publishers of The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal that for the present, anyway, there will be no increase in the price of that paper, and we are permitted to offer The Family Herald and Weekly Star along with THE ACADIAN for the small sum of $1.75, that is one full year's subscription to each paper. This offer is good only until Nov. 30, 1916, as it may be found necessary to make a change then. The publishers of The Family Herald and Weekly Star, notwithstanding the enormous increase in cost of production, have decided to spend more money than ever improving the paper, and to give their great army of readers greater value than ever.

A full year's subscription to THE ACADIAN, and The Family Herald and Weekly Star will cost only $1.75 provided orders are received before Nov. 30, 1916. Send your subscription to this office.

Historical Documents.

From 1710 to 1749 Annapolis Royal was practically the only English settlement in Acadia. Between 1749 and 1783 some fifteen townships were settled between Liverpool and the head of the Bay of Fundy by immigrants from the States and disbanded soldiers from the seven years war. During the same period Lunenburg was settled principally from Holland. After them came the Loyalists and they in turn were succeeded by numerous immigrants from Scotland, England and Ireland. During all this time, involving a period of over a hundred years, there must have been a considerable amount of not only personal and domestic correspondence, but of correspondence relating to public business. After the Government was transferred to Halifax and counties were organized and representatives elected, there must have been a vast amount of correspondence between the departments and the various officials throughout the Province. To such letters and documents writers of local history could go to seek information of events, occurrences and personal happenings the past two hundred years.

But the question has often occurred to us, "Where are those documents to be found?" Where are they? Last week Mr. W. C. Milner, who represents the National (Ottawa) Archives in the Maritime Provinces, was in town and THE ACADIAN asked him the above questions. Mr. Milner replied that the merest fraction of these documents existed today. "Most people," he said, "in the country have no idea of what value old documents may be, and sometimes, it being inconvenient to keep them, they are bundled out of an old attic or old chest and dumped in the fire."

A newly made widow, not a hundred miles from St. John, celebrated her freedom by dumping, after the funeral, the collection made by her husband, after years of hard labor, into the fire. She learned afterwards it was worth some hundreds of dollars. Old wooden buildings catch fire. In one of these in Barrington street, Halifax, some of the historic manuscripts and correspondence of Sam Slick were wiped out. The Windsor fire burnt a lot of old time papers.

There have been more than one conflagration of such documents at the Provincial building, Halifax. The collection there, outside of what the late Dr. Atkins saved, is of very little value. Besides such causes, enterprising agents of American Historical Societies and private collectors tour throughout the Maritime Provinces prepared to buy relics of the past and pay good prices. Many people are unpatriotic enough to sell. The original and only copy of the Journals of a Session of the Assembly of New Brunswick has thus found its way into a New England Library. The whole Archives of the Prince Edward Island Government before 1776 has disappeared and much of it since in private hands.

THE ACADIAN asked Mr. Milner, "What steps are being taken to collect and preserve what is left?" "That is the business," he replied, "the Archives has set itself to work out. It has succeeded in rescuing much, but it meets with much obstruction, not only from ignorance, but from parties who are on the make and animated by self-seeking aims. Some stand out for cash; others seek to make private collections, which is altogether futile; say the official custodian of public documents dies, often his family holds the documents as a family heritage."

Fears Defeat.

When a nation begins to comment upon the horrors of defeat it is a sign that they are beginning to think that what they fear is inevitable. The Germans entered the war in joyous anticipation of making the rest of Europe pay the price to the last centime. They are singing a different tune now. The official "Cologne Gazette" has been publishing some awful pictures of what defeat would mean. Here is a sample:—

"The majority of our people still have no conception of the consequences which would follow if we were defeated, and defeated by such an enemy as England. It is a dangerous mistake to regard as vain boasting the speeches of English Ministers and deputies, who, after our overthrow, desire to destroy German militarism, to blow up Krupp's works, and to banish the Kaiser to St. Helena. In the event of her victory England will act quite differently. 'Sick, burn and destroy' was always England's motto. For God's sake let us not deceive ourselves about England's determination so to force Germany to her knees that she must accept England's conditions without resistance, and be wiped out forever as a competitor in the world's markets. All classes of the people are united in this resolve, from the First Sea Lord to the humblest dock laborer at Newcastle-on-Tyne. It cannot be too firmly insisted that such a victory for England would mean an irreparable catastrophe for the German Empire. Not only would the German Empire be dissolved, but our people itself would be most seriously threatened with extinction especially in view of the Russian torrent pouring in from the east."

Just now when stoves are being put in running order is the time when great danger from fire is general. Too much care cannot be given to seeing that stoves, pipes and chimneys are in safe condition. Otherwise, loss of property, and perhaps life, is liable to occur.

Lieut. Governor MacKern Makes Appeal for British Red Cross.

To the people of Nova Scotia:

One year ago you responded most generously to the appeal made on behalf of the British Red Cross Society and the order of St. John. Another call has come, and however many the demands upon us, we must, as a people, assist in the magnificent work which the British Red Cross Society is doing for the gallant soldiers and sailors of the Allied Nations.

I am in receipt of a cable from the Marquis of Lansdowne, President of the British Red Cross Society, and from the Earl of Plymouth, Superior of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, as follows:— "I have the honor to inform you that the British Red Cross Society and the Order of St. John are once more proposing to appeal throughout the Empire, by street and other collections. The money received will be devoted to our wounded soldiers and sailors from home and overseas at the various seats of war. The generous response which we received last year from all parts of the King's Dominion encourages us to hope that the constantly increasing demands for our help may be met by a corresponding increase of generosity throughout the Empire. We shall be truly grateful to you if you will assist our work by organizing an appeal and sending the proceeds to us for our sick and wounded at the front. I shall be greatly obliged if you will communicate the contents of this cablegram to your Ministers and recommend the proposal to their favorable consideration. Their Majesties, the King and Queen, and Her Majesty, Queen Alexandra, are giving us their gracious patronage."

I am therefore appealing to the people of Nova Scotia to take up such a collection on Tuesday, the 31st day of October, as will enable us to forward to those societies a contribution worthy of the Province. Since our last appeal the Province is much more largely represented at the front or by battalions en route. It is incumbent therefore upon us to do all in our power to provide the necessary funds to enable these splendid organizations to carry on their work effectively.

I therefore confidently appeal to the civil authorities of every city, town and municipality in the Province, to take such necessary steps as will give our people an opportunity on the 31st day of October to make their contributions to this most worthy cause.

I have requested Mr. H. A. Fleming, Manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Halifax, to continue to act as treasurer for the fund. All contributions are to be forwarded to him. D. MACKERN, Government House, Halifax, October 18th, 1916.

Married in Wolfville.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bald, was the scene of a happy event Wednesday afternoon, it being the marriage of their sister Miss Blakeney, daughter of Mrs. F. J. Blakeney, formerly of Halifax, and A. J. Barnes, traffic manager of the Maritime Telephone and Telegraph Company. Rev. G. W. Miller, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony. Miss Blakeney, who was given away by her brother, looked very lovely wearing a travelling dress of Marie Louise velvet and a French leather toque, her arm bouquet being of white roses and lilies of the valley. Both bride and groom were united.

Some years ago he purchased a small farm near Dr. Johnston's residence and erected a house upon it. A man of quiet disposition, industrious, upright in his dealings and a good husband and citizen his comparatively early departure at the age of 47, will be generally regretted. He leaves a wife and one daughter, Miss Alice Ross.

Obituary.

NO. 471004, PTE. HAROLD CLIVE FIELDING KILLED IN ACTION OCT. 1ST, 1916, AGED 23 YEARS.

This young soldier, a grandson of B. A. Fielding, late of Halifax, and Dr. E. N. Payzant, Wolfville, and son of Dr. H. C. Fielding and the late Rachael Florence Payzant, his wife, has given back to the soil of France the maternal blood of an expatriated Huguenot family of Caen, France. To Mother France a cycle of blood and breath is completed and closed.

In September his grandfather received an official notice that Clive was wounded on Aug. 23rd, returned to duty Aug. 24, wounded in right leg. Official notice again on the 17th inst. that he was killed in action Oct 1st, 1916.

He was born in Dartmouth. For some few years this young man led a sea faring life, sailing sometimes with Capt. Potter, of Kingsport, who, Clive often said treated him like a father and wished to advance him for a master's certificate. Later he travelled in Western Canada and on the Pacific Coast. He became a machinist. Eventually he crossed over to the Gulf Ports, which he had before visited. Thence he took vessel to Halifax. After a visit to St. John, Nfld., he enlisted in the 64th Batt. at Halifax. The day before the overseas sailing he visited his grandfather Payzant, who was quite ill in bed. The Rev. G. W. Miller being present prayer was made. Tall and firm in stature, his pose in the King's uniform was to be admired. Thus he stood before the pastor receiving the addressed words as if they were entrusted to him by a commanding officer. Thus another of the Wolfville boys has gone. A full toll has been collected overseas, a full and most promising soldier's manhood and life has been surrendered.

Soldiers Appreciate.

Aldershot, 5-10-16

To the Red Cross Society, Wolfville: In the good work you are carrying on it may be of interest to you good ladies to know how much we soldiers appreciate the socks which through the instrumentality of Lieut. Crawley were given to us boys of No. 12 platoon C. Co., yesterday.

We of 12th platoon are highly favored in having for our platoon commander Lieut. Crawley, of Wolfville. He is highly respected and is beloved by every one of us, and he can rest assured that when the time comes for us to do our 'little bit' Mr. Crawley will be ably supported by 'old rough and ready' 12th platoon. But in our praise of Mr. Crawley we must not forget to again thank the good ladies of Wolfville for the lovely socks which keep our feet in such good condition. A soldier with sore, lame feet is not much better than a dead soldier, and sore feet is often caused by wearing ad socks. Therefore the women of the Red Cross can hardly realize the great amount of good they are doing, and the excellent service they are rendering their country by supplying us fellows with socks and other things which add so much to our comfort. And many a time during the coming winter we will have occasion to remember the Red Cross people of Wolfville. We are on the verge of going overseas and No. 12 Platoon, C. Co., 8th Batt., send greetings and good wishes to the good ladies of the Red Cross Society, Wolfville. Yours truly,

SGT HUTCHINSON
12th Platoon, 8th Batt.

The Blue Cross.

FOR WOUNDED HORSES.

A big Christmas Sale is to take place at the Royal Albert Hall, London, on November 29th and 30th and it is going to be quite the biggest function of the Christmas season.

We are anxious to have a stall representing Canada so as to bring forward the great help which Canada has given to the Blue Cross. I wonder if the people who read this paper could help at all by sending me anything with which I could furnish the stall? Any contributions you could send would be most acceptable and would, I am sure, sell well.

Kindly send parcels not later than November 1st to Mrs. Ronald White-way, Hon. Secretary for N. S. & N. B., Bridgetown, N. S.; or to Wolfville representative, Miss Marguerite deWitt, with donor's name and list enclosed.

Guard the Children from Autumn Colds.

The fall is the most severe season of the year for colds—one day is warm, the next is wet and cold, and unless the mother is on her guard the little ones are seized with colds that may hang on all winter. Baby's Own Tablets are mothers best friend in preventing or banishing colds. They act as a gentle laxative, keeping the bowels and stomach free and sweet. An occasional dose will prevent colds or if it does come on suddenly the prompt use of the Tablets will quickly cure it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Casualties.

L. Dickie, Kingsport; A. E. Skelving, Grand Pre; Edward S. Blanchard, Centerville; F. Bennett, Auburn; Grant Watson Schofield, Black River; Lloyd V. Marsters, Hantsport; are among the wounded. George Ritchie, Wolfville, and Lieut. E. H. Simpson, Kentville, are reported missing. Among those who died from illness: J. B. Chase, Lakeville.
