CHAPTER XII.
NEW ARRIVALS.

"Toney, you are the most extraordinarily girl!"

"Whatever is the matter, Uncle Dove? Now what is extraordinary in helping a poor young fellow that has no mother or sister to confide in? He'll be awfully conscientious. I believe, and give me all his tips. You see, if you don't have much loose money about you, you can't it. Stephens isn't much help. He's such an old stager, and then he orders Jim about so much."

"And pray are you going to write Jim's love letters?"

"No, of course not, Jim's got two young women, uncle, so that would be hard work."

"Two! Hardly honourable."

"Oh, yes, he explained it to me, one he walks with and the other he's promised to. It is the one that he walks with. It only means that if the other throws him over he'll be engaged to this one. It's not a bad plan, is it?"

"Well, that depends."

"Did you walk with anyone besides Aunt Dove?"

"At this moment they saw Lewis Waycott coming towards them. Toney ran to meet him."

"Oh, did you mind? Uncle Dove says that you—"

Lewis's handsome face was all smiles.

"Mind, oh, no. We had a lovely afternoon, didn't we, Miss Whitburn? Quite refreshing."

"My dear Waycott, you have been victimized by this Australian."

"I never had such appreciative guests," said Lewis, laughing. "But indeed, Sir Evas, won't you let me lend Miss Whitburn my hunter? She has a born talent for riding and taming wild colts."

"No, no, certainly not. Lady Dove would—No, impossible."

"Aunt Honoria will be so sorry to have missed you," said Lewis, turning to Toney, whose hard exercise had painted her cheeks a beautiful color.

"Oh, you must all come and dine with us, Waycott, next week. Tomorrow—no, not to-morrow—but Lady Dove will write. Your young cousins must make friends with Toney."

"Miss Crump likes music," put in Toney; "you said your cousins did too. You know I hate it, but— I forgot, come, Uncle Dove, the race. We shall lose," and without further ceremony, Toney dragged away her uncle, who could only just call out to Mr. Waycott by way of explanation.

"We are racing my hunter Bess Waycott; be thankful you have no Australian niece living with you."

"Well, uncle, I thought I just made time a little cheerier for you. You were precious dull here, and oh! it's not half as nice as home. Pups was a man in a thousand."

"I'm sure he was. His daughter is one in ten thousand I think."

"No, I'm only ordinary, but Pups!

BOWRING BROS. LIMITED, ST. JOHN'S

Oh, he was just a sort of King Arthur. There wasn't a living being he didn't care about, man, woman, child, or beast. He wasn't stiff and proud as you are about Jim."

"I'm sure I didn't mean to be, Toney, but you see—"

"Never mind now, uncle; come on and don't talk. I see Bess right away beyond the park palings. She'll beat us sure as cheese," and he obeyed.

Lady Dove had come home rather late for her tea. She had paid a series of calls and had been mostly at home. At all these houses she had discoursed about Toney. At some of these were charitable people—she had laid stress on the advantage it would be to the poor, penniless girl to live with her and receive her education from that poor and learned young clergyman, Mr. Hales, to whom she had given the living of Aldersfield. At the houses of the more worldly she had said that Sir Evas was so kind that he had insisted on befriending a sort of relation, whose father had utterly neglected her, and who was left without a penny. She hoped in time to fit her for earning her own living, and by bestowing much care upon her education to make her look and speak rather more like a lady than she did at present. Australia was a dreadful country, she continued, where evidently etiquette and manners were unknown; in fact, everything calculated to bring a softening influence to bear upon young people. She must not mind the trouble, as it was for the poor girl's own good. Her last call had been paid on Mrs. Hamilton and Miss Honoria Waycott, and she found the ladies only just returned from a long drive.

Miss Honoria Waycott was anxious to hear more of the girl who had appeared to rouse some interest in her uncle; but she could not forbear commiserating Lady Dove on having to deal with such an undisciplined creature. Mrs. Hamilton remarked that her daughters had never been any trouble to her, they were so gentle and so clever, indeed they had quite a genius for music. It was so good of young people to have time and opportunity given to them to study some special accomplishment. Had Lady Dove's new intimate any talent?

"I'm sure he was. His daughter is one in ten thousand I think."

"No, I'm only ordinary, but Pups!

had ever handled. Now and then she wondered what it would be like to be even moderately rich; but she had put such dreams away as being quite unprofitable for her, only a poor companion and a tradesman's daughter.

Lady Dove, went on meditating aloud.

"He is not at all strong. He has heart complaint, or some such thing; but I don't believe he has made his will. These old men with money are very tiresome. Really we want money sadly to keep up this place, and live in it as we ought to live. Instead of that here are all these new expenses coming upon us."

Poor Miss Crump felt painfully conscious that her twenty pounds must be a great and unnecessary drain upon the Dove estate; but she could not see how she could dress suitably on less, and save five pounds a year so as to have something to fall back upon when the day came, so often predicted by Lady Dove, when she really could no longer afford to keep a companion.

Thus it happened that Miss Crump was not released till the dog-cart came dashing up to the front door, and then the poor companion hurried distractedly to the dining-room. Just as the General was lowering his gouty foot from its elevated position, Toney, red and breathless, rushed up to him.

"I've won; but Uncle Dove has lost. General Stone. Here he comes, and here is Aunt Dove on the steps."

"Dear General, how are you? Ernest, give General Stone a hand. This lovely spring weather will set you quite up, General. How are you, Henry? My husband has forsaken you, I see?"

Neuralgia and Sciatica

Caused great suffering for 25 years. Nothing effective until Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills were used.

"It affords me pleasure to speak favorably of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills," writes Mr. W. T. Collins, Morphett, Ont. "I had been a sufferer for 25 years from sciatica, lumbago and neuralgia and tried nearly all the remedies advertised without one particle of benefit until I began the use of Dr. Chase's medicines. Before I had finished two boxes of the Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills I noticed considerable benefit in my condition. I have so much confidence in these medicines that I have recommended them to some of my friends."

In severe cases of this nature the combined use of these medicines brings results which are both surprising and satisfactory. The Kidney-Liver Pills regulate the action of kidneys, liver and bowels, while the Nerve Food enriches the blood and builds up the nervous system. Simmons, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Tips the Basis of Girl's Fortune

New York, June 6.—Traffic Patrolman Michael Dugan, of the Thirtieth street station, on duty at Fifth Ave. and Thirty-third street, by the Waldorf-Astoria, peeped for months through the hotel windows at Miss Rose Farrell, the girl at the head stand. He at last succeeded in obtaining a formal introduction, made love to her, and last evening married her in St. Francis of Assisi Catholic Church.

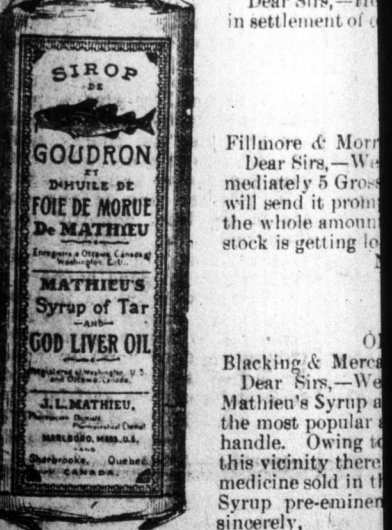

Thereby the hotel lost a popular employee, who had been there twelve years. For the last eight years she had checked hats. Last night, after the ceremony, she showed the bridegroom deeds to property on City Island estimated to be worth between $75,000 and $80,000, besides a bank book showing several thousands of dollars on deposit.

The basis of Miss Farrell's fortune she came in tips. When she had $15,000 she invested in real estate. Values At combines the rich gluten of Manitoba Spring wheat and the lighter, but equally important, properties of Ontario Fall wheat. The two combined form a perfectly blended flour that makes bread light, white, nutritious and extremely palatable, while pastry made with Beaver Flour has a crisp, flaky texture that brings many a compliment to the cook.

You don't need to be an expert in baking to attain the best results with BEAVER FLOUR.

Giving Things a Rest.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

To last as long as possible and remain in the most efficient state, human beings must have a certain amount of rest and change. That is a truism. But did it ever occur to you that inanimate objects also seem to profit by an occasional rest?

A few months ago, a clock which we had had a great many years, suddenly stopped in the middle of the week, and firmly resisted all efforts to start it. "It needs cleaning," we said, "we must send it to the clockmaker." We were very busy, however, and put off attending to this matter until last week. At that time we were about to call up the clockmaker and ask him to come for the recalcitrant timepiece, when someone suggested, "Let's try to start it once more before we send it away."

We did so and the clock started cheerily off its duties of timekeeping without a murmur or a hitch. "All it needed you see, was a rest. Everyone knows that boots and shoes will wear just about twice as long if they are not worn steadily, but given a chance to rest a day or two every now and then, and many people say the same about clothes. At the end of last summer, the hat which I had worn all the season seemed absolutely impossible to me, and I bought my winter hat considerably earlier than I had intended to, because it did not seem to me that I could wear my faded and dilapidated summer hat even once more. But behold, when I took that hat out of the bandbox after a winter's rest, and it didn't look half bad, and I actually wore it a few times.

A woman who keeps two or three expensive plumes as permanent hat ornaments, declares that she is able to get a good deal more wear out of them, if she gives them a season's rest now and then. "If I used them steadily, every season they would only last three or four years," she says, "but by giving them a summer or a winter vacation now and then, I can keep them presentable for eight or nine years."

Perhaps someone will suggest in the case of the hat that the change was subjective rather than objective; in other words, that it was my eyes which profited by the rest rather than the hat. There may be something in that, but that hypothesis doesn't explain the clock, you know, nor the plumes, nor the shoes.

There have been philosophers who contended that there is a principle of life in every inanimate object. I can't quite go that far, but I do still insist that, however you explain it, in this one matter, inanimate objects are just like you and me—they sometimes need a rest.

The National Convention.

BY H. L. RANN.

The national convention is a quadrennial gathering of super-heated patriots who have no direct interest in anything save pure politics and the federal appointments. It is made up of delegates who are chosen by the people at great expense, and are loaded down with instructions so that they will stand hitched in one spot until death do us part. The national convention has three important duties to perform. It has to nominate a president who will not cause big business to throw a chill, hitch him up to a vice-president who is on good terms with our infant industries, and write a platform which will accommodate every body from a Holy Roller to the Anti-cigarette league. National conventions are always attended by a number of palpitating dark horses, who hope that the two leading candidates will adjourn sine die and allow somebody to be nominated who can be elected. Every once in a while some dark horse will throw a handful of hoarse delegates into the running gear and ball up the convention until the postmasters can't tell one bandwagon from another. The most successful dark horse in American history was the late General Garfield, who edged in with one delegate that he endeavoured to strangle early in the proceedings and was finally roped and tied despite his struggles. The national convention is held in some building which will easily hold one-nineteenth of those who have tickets, and is the most remarkable gathering of cold storage eloquence and shirt sleeved enthusiasm in the known world. Every national convention has a temporary chairman who sounds the key-note, which reverberates throughout the country in the form of boiler plate for several weeks. Contested delegates to a national convention are embittered citizens who are not allowed to have any hand in saving the country, unless they are seated with a pickaxe. A national convention is not as bloody as a Mexican bull fight, but it lasts longer and is far more exciting. Nobody who is looking for a new brand of nervous thrills should miss it.

Neck and Back Broken, Yet She Lives.

New York, June 11.—Esther Harris, an eighteen year old girl, who was placed in a heap of the lifeless in a Triangle fire disaster, but who was taken to a hospital instead of to the morgue when a faint sign of life was detected and who suffered total paralysis for months afterwards, can walk again. The girl slid down the elevator cable when the shirt waist panic raged, but was knocked down from her hold by a man who jumped down the shaft, and she, too, was hurled to the basement, breaking her neck and back. After she had lain in a hospital un-

HAPPY THO' MARRIED?

There are unhappy married lives, but a large percentage of these unhappy homes are due to the illness of the wife, mother or daughter. The feelings of nervousness, the befogged mind, the ill-temper, the pale and wrinkled face, hollow and circled eyes, rest most often from those disorders peculiar to women. For the woman to be happy and good-looking she must naturally have good health. Dragging-down feelings, hysteria, hot-flashes or constantly returning pains and aches—are too great a drain upon a woman's vitality and strength. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription restores weak and sick women to sound health by regulating and correcting the local disorders which are generally responsible for the above distressing symptoms.

"I suffered greatly for a number of years and for the past three years was so bad that life was a misery to me," writes Mrs. B. F. Dickover, of Utopia, Ohio, Route 4. "The doctors told me I would have to go to a hospital before I would ever be better. A year ago this winter I was in torment. I am the mother of six children. I was so bad for five months that I knew something must be done, so I wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce, telling him as nearly as I could how I suffered. He outlined a course of treatment which I followed to the letter. I took two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and a small bottle of 'Smart-Weed,' and have never suffered much since. Dr. Pierce's medicines are. There is no use wasting time and money doctoring with anything else or any one else."

The Medical Adviser by R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y., answers hosts of delicate questions about which every woman, single or married ought to know. Sent free on receipt of 50 stamps to pay for wrapping and mailing only.

Tips the Basis of Girl's Fortune

New York, June 6.—Traffic Patrolman Michael Dugan, of the Thirtieth street station, on duty at Fifth Ave. and Thirty-third street, by the Waldorf-Astoria, peeped for months through the hotel windows at Miss Rose Farrell, the girl at the hall stand. He at last succeeded in obtaining a formal introduction, made love to her, and last evening married her in St. Francis of Assisi Catholic Church. Thereby the hotel lost a popular employee, who had been there twelve years. For the last eight years she checked hats. Last night after the ceremony, she showed the bridegroom deeds to property on City Island estimated to be worth between $75,000 and $80,000, besides a bank book showing several thousands of dollars on deposit. The basis of Miss Farrell's fortune came in tips. When she had $15,000 she invested in real estate. Values

Football Match.

Collegians Win Easily. Under unfavourable weather conditions and before a small gathering of spectators the Collegian-B. I. S. football match was played on St. George's Field last evening. The former team won easily, having eight goals to their credit whilst their opponents did not reach the net once. The B. I. S. won the toss and defended the western goal. Right at the outset they started a splendid rush confining the ball near the Collegians goal and the latter had all they could do to prevent the Irish lads from scoring; shooting was bad but this was easily understood owing to the heavy downpour of rain that prevailed making the ball wet and greasy. For about five minutes the B. I. S. kept up the attack but could not get beyond Ayre who is a hard man to beat. Soon after the Collegians forward line took a hand in and inside of fifteen minutes had three goals to their credit through Hutchings, Pike and Aitken. During the remainder of this half Hutchings repeated the trick three times, and when the half time whistle sounded the score was—Collegians, 6 goals; B. I. S., 0.

Second Half. On resumption the Collegian players constantly were in control of the ball. They played all round the B. I. S. boys and the game was anything but interesting to the spectators. Clinton was called upon to save scores of shots which he did in capital style. It was generally admitted that he gave one of the best exhibitions of goal tending ever witnessed on St. George's Field. During the balance of the game the Collegians notched up two more goals and the score stood 8 goals to 0. Mr. R. R. Wood acted as referee.

Useful Men.

The useful men are doing some tasks both sane and good; they're plowing or they're hewing or sawingicks of wood. They make two blades of lettuce grow where one grew before; they do not bore or fret us with an internal roar. Ah, when I contemplate them, my eye in moisture swims. Why don't you emulate them, you tiresome Windy Jims? I get so tired of speaking, of verbal catarracts, of statesmen who are reeking with Arguments and Facts; of politicians yellow who toot the brazen horn; I most admire the fellow who calmly plows his corn! The men who rant and thunder across the jagged land, and tear the air asunder with noise that beats the band, contribute nothing, nothing, to help the race to win, and idle are the frothing, the whooping and the din, The man who puts a collar upon his spavined bay and earns a sweaty dollar for toiling through the day to me is more enchanting than all the gifted boys who spend the summer ranting and kicking up a noise. The useful men are hoeing, performing kindred deeds; they're out where things are growing, a-pulling up the weeds; the weeds—they amputate them, destroy them roots and limbs; why don't you emulate them, you cheap old Windy Jims?

Our Position.

As usual when the Editor of the Chronicle is not making unwarrantable imputations against the character of an opponent, he is mixed and muddled in his arguments.

Editor McGrath says "The Telegram disputes our suggestion that the Memorial against Mr. Morison is now the property of the Secretary of State for action, &c." There is not a word in the whole of our article of Saturday which raises such a dispute.

On the contrary the whole article is based on the assumption that the Memorial is before the Secretary of State, and it is strictly consistent with our publication on April 25th of the Daily News report to that effect.

Editor McGrath asks why the Memorial requests that a copy be sent to the Secretary of State. The answer is obvious, and it is that papers of such gravity are usually sent to the Secretary of State as a matter of record. His Excellency told Mr. Coaker there was no need to put in a request for a transmission of copies to the Secretary of the Colonies, as it was his duty to send copies. The Memorial called for nothing more than it was the duty of the Governor to do, according to his own showing, and there was nothing therefore in the Memorial which converted it into a request that His Excellency should not deal with the matter himself, but refer the issues for decision to the Secretary of State.

Editor McGrath is anxious to know the construction we put on the request for transmission of copies at the time of the presentation of the first Memorial.

He can easily satisfy himself that Editor Lloyd construed the whole Memorial as a matter for the decision of the Governor by perusing our article on April 6th, published some time before His Excellency had intimated to the President of the F. P. U. that he intended to refer the Memorial to the Secretary of State for decision.

Here are some extracts:—"We publish to-day a letter with enlosures which was sent last Saturday morning to His Excellency the Governor by the President of the F. P. U., concerning the connection of the Hon. Donald Morison with the Anglo American Development Company, Ltd."

In the whole article the Secretary of State is not mentioned.

"The President of the F. P. U. directs the attention of the Governor to these matters. We endorse that effort, and also especially direct the attention of the Prime Minister to them."

We would also draw their attention to these words from the Prospectus appended to Agreement of Feb. 16, 1910, etc."

It is the attention of the Governor not that of the Secretary of State that is called to these matters.

"We would ask His Excellency the Governor, the Prime Minister, and people generally, to read the following letter, written a few weeks after Mr. Morison became a member of the Ministry and Minister of Justice, etc."

Then follows the letter about the Orange Bay property. We did not direct the attention of the Secretary of State to it, but that of the Governor the Prime Minister and people generally.

We closed the article with these words:—

"We ask the Governor to form his own opinion of the meaning of the words to which we have referred. We ask the Prime Minister to do the same."

We ask our readers to use their own judgment and ask themselves what they would do had they a say to the writer of these words, who at the time he wrote them was Minister of Justice."

In all this, there is no reference to the Secretary of State, but to the Governor, the Prime Minister and our readers.

Finally, we do not, nor have we ever raised any objection to His Excellency seeking any advice he deems fit. But it is the duty of His Excellency to assume the responsibility for the course he took and not attempt to thrust it on other shoulders.

Reckless About Bait Protection.

Yesterday we published correspondence between the Board of Trade and the Government about Bait Protection. This correspondence in no way expresses the strong feeling which prevails either in the city or in the Southern Bays against the laxity of the Government in enforcing the Bait Act.

Here we have the S. S. Fiona taken off Bait Protection at a time when fishery affairs are critical. The gravity of the matter arises from the extraordinary size of the Norwegian catch and the effect it will have on the sale of our own staple.

One would imagine that at such a time the Government would strain every nerve to keep the bait for our own fishermen, and prevent bait being run to St. Pierre and supplied to foreign bankers, who will catch fish on our bait which will be put into the market against ours. Instead of assisting the fishermen by keeping the S. S. Fiona on the service, she is ordered here to get ready to take the Governor round the outports on a trip and in the meantime our bait is in shore and there is no steamer on the service to prevent bait being run to St. Pierre.

And that is not the worst of it, for not only has there been no protection afforded the last few weeks, but the Government are putting on a steamer which is considered of little use for the service for the time during which the S. S. Fiona will be engaged taking the Governor round.

The S. S. Fiona should never have been taken off the service. If the Government wished to give the Governor a trip round the outports, they should have hired a steamer for the purpose and kept the Fiona at her work. Already irreparable damage has been done and it would seem that further damage is going to be done.

Surely the first claim on the Government is the protection of our staple industry, and the convenience and pleasure, or even an official visit of His Excellency are but secondary matters. No Government but one run by a Picnic Party would hold the S. S. Fiona as a Governor's yacht, when such interests are at stake. It ought to be clearly understood that the fishery interests of the Colony have a first claim on the S. S. Fiona, and not the Government. But what can be expected of the Government? Picking always takes first place with them.

Origin of the Salvation Army.

The Salvation Army had its origin in the town of Whiteley, in the rough coal mining district of Yorkshire, England, where General Booth, at that time Rev. William Booth, was doing humble mission work. England was then in arms, expecting to jump into the Russo-Turkish war. It occurred to Booth that he might attract a crowd by issuing a declaration of war himself, so he prepared one forthwith, sprinkled it plentifully with halibut heads and posted 2,000 copies of it about town. The device tickled the British sense of humor, there was a "red-hot, rousing meeting," to quote General Booth, "the penitents fell down in heaps," and the Salvation Army sprang into life full grown.

Boats Did Well.

The boats fishing on the local grounds yesterday did better than for sometime past. From 1 to 4 cwt. were taken with hook and line. When the caplin strikes in the men hope to make good catches.

Another Fire.

At 7 p.m. yesterday while fireman Con Kavanagh was at tea in his own home on Lewis Place he noticed that the match factory of the Horwood Lumber Coy. was on fire. He rushed to the Western Station gave the alarm and the company with their apparatus went to the scene and throwing some water on the blaze was soon quenched. The phosphorus used in the manufacture of the matches ignited and the woodwork was just catching when the firemen arrived. Little damage was done. The building is of concrete and could not be destroyed.

President Coaker At Port Rexton.

Special to Evening Telegram.

PORT REXTON, Last Evening. President Coaker arrived here at 5 a.m., S. U. P. band and 200 members of the Union met him at the station amidst volleys of musketry which echoed through the settlement. The procession wended its way to the Orange Hall and the President addressed a large audience and intimated that he would meet them at nine and address them. The meeting opened at 9 and closed at 12. The President speaking two and a half hours. The hall was crowded and a worn out fisherman, aged 84, Mr. Wm. Bannister, joined. The settlement was adorned with bunting and in holiday attire. Mr. Watson was at the station when the President arrived and was an eye witness to the great demonstration. This is our reply to Patsy McGrath and the Hon. Organ. "Long live the Union and Coaker" is our motto. The President left by carriage for Catalina where he will deliver a speech to-night.

Roosevelt's Line of Attack.

Special to Evening Telegram.

CHICAGO, To-day.

On the eve of the Republican National Convention, Roosevelt last night disclosed the line of attack which he will make. He laid down two principles (1) that delegates whose selection he contests must not vote in the organization of the Convention or upon the settlement of the contests and made it clear he would resist it. He declared that no action in the Convention based upon votes of these "fraudulently seated delegates" would be binding upon the Republican party. It was a Roosevelt rally in the Auditorium that the ex-President made the challenge. He was facing a cheering throng, which jammed the huge building. They gave the ex-President a mighty welcome. Roosevelt made a fighting speech. His hearers were in a fighting mood. They cheered him on as he denounced his opponents and shouted to him "Go at him Teddy;" "knock out the steam roller;" "hit them again."

Great Gathering.

New York, June 14.—What experts consider the greatest gathering of track and field athletes ever gathered in one team in this country, sailed out of New York harbor this morning on the steamer Finland, bound for Stockholm, to represent the United States in the Olympic games. The vessel has been converted into a "veritable floating gymnasium, so that there will be opportunity for all hands to keep in trim en route.

The track and field contingent numbered 108 athletes. As there are only 94 among the regulars, this indicated that 14 of the supplementary list were in the throng. All told there were about 150 in the party, including those assigned for contests other than track and field events. John Paul Jones, Cornell's sensational distance runner, was one of the last track men to put in an appearance.

Sensation At Badger.

A great sensation was caused at Badger Brook on Saturday when a lumberman, who was crazed from liquor, ran amuck on the street. He assaulted all he met, and after a desperate fight he was captured by some men. They tied him with a rope and confined him in a shack. After the lapse of several hours he became somewhat rational and was released. He, however, procured more liquor and became a perfect maniac after a short while and again ran through the place shouting and screaming. People who came in by the train to-day say that he assaulted and hurt several. He was again captured after a hard fight and tied up, and a policeman arrived on the scene yesterday and arrested him. He will be brought on here.

Here and There.

GETTING BETTER.—Mr. MacKenzie who fell off the incoming express yesterday is much improved.

CATTLE ARRIVE.—Mr. J. Rice arrived by to-day's accommodation train from West Toronto with four horses and cattle.

BOUGHT THE PLANT.—Mr. S. B. Kesner, of this city, to-day purchased the full plant of the old rolling mill at the Nail Factory.

RED CROSS LINE.—The S. S. Florzid had not left Halifax up to noon to-day but will get away from there some time this afternoon. She is due to arrive here on Thursday forenoon.

RIFLE SHOOT.—The members of the Rifle Club will shoot for the following prizes to-morrow:—In the morning for the H. D. Reid challenge prize and the J. P. McLoughlan handicap prize, and for the W. H. Rennie handicap prize in the afternoon.

LOST HER VALISE.—A young woman named Burton, of Clarke's Beach, arrived here by last night's train and on leaving the cars found that her valise which contained $40 cash and some articles which she valued had disappeared.

FOGOTTA'S PASSENGERS.—The S. S. Fogotta sailed north at 10 a.m. to-day with a fair cargo and these passengers:—Const. J. Symonds, Rev. Fr. O'Brien, Miss S. Kean, Mrs. Wm. Blundon, Mrs. J. Donohue, Edy Hatch, E. Pelham, J. Quinlan, Miss Alma Berry, Miss S. Way, Mrs. W. Hatch, P. Rice, J. Rice and John Hatch.

Card Game Ended in Death.

Norton, Va., June 12.—Reports were received from Dante, a mining camp in the mountains, that 25 men were killed and wounded in a fight between miners and mountaineers over a card game early yesterday morning.

Dante is in the most inaccessible section of the mountains and it is almost impossible to obtain information. Nearly every man engaged in the game was killed, and bystanders were shot down. Pistols were brought into play when miners charged the mountaineers with cheating in the card game. Almost simultaneously volleys were fired by both factions. There was a stampede for the doors and many of the injured were trampled. Combatants who escaped fled to the mountains.

The miners are incensed, and it is feared there will be further trouble, following a report that mountaineers were congregating in the hills preparatory to marching upon the town.

Light, Warmth and Food.

These three words embrace the most urgent necessities of life, and it is an extraordinary thing that in each case our thoughts turn to Gas; this, after all, is but natural. We want Light, gas gives us the best, cheapest and healthiest artificial light known. Again, we want Warmth, and the gas fire is at hand to give it in its best form; and, lastly, we must have Food, and here the gas cooker never fails us. All this is absolutely true, as we have shown over and over again.

It is however, any of our customers are in the least doubtful on any of these points, we cordially invite them to consult us. In the meantime, our advice is to get good burners and buy mantles of well-known makes, to use modern gas fires and cookers, and, above all, to keep your gas appliances (whether old or new) in good order, for in this is the true secret of efficiency and complete satisfaction.

Mr. W. H. Morrow, Manager Bank of Nova Scotia, Carbonate on Saturday for his home at A. Royal, N. S., on hearing of the illness of his father, Mr. Bremner, Manager of the Bank Branch, will take charge at Carbonate during Mr. Morrow's absence.

Mr. John Davis, Principal of Methodist Academy, who is shortly returning from service, was on Saturday presented by his pupils with an address and a very nice fountain as a small token of their appreciation. Mr. Davis, although taken by surprise, was very much touched by the thoughtfulness of his pupils. We wish this opportunity of wishing Mr. Davis many years in which to enjoy the compensation for his valuable services.

Mr. John Cooney, while engaged last week cutting clay near the cemetery, noticed some soft mud protruding from the bank and investigation he drew forth first a blouse, then an undershirt, and a lady's silk dress. Mr. Cooney most expected to see a lady following all this finery, but in this he was disappointed. The material must have been there for a long time as it is very much decayed, but it will never be known how long ago it was whom it was put there.

Miss M. Parsons and Miss M. want to St. John's on a visit friends on Saturday morning, expect to return to-night.

The church bell at St. Paul's is regret to say, broken, and will be re-cast. This bell has been in use for worship for the past ten or eleven years, and its beautiful sound much to fill the citizens with thoughts for Sundays. There is music so attractive to some people, the church bells as they call people to their duties. We hope soon to hear new bell at the old church.

Cruelty to animals is punishable, what about cruelty to Christians?

Improvements in Gas.

The Old Year is closed, and in looking back, the advocates of Gas have no cause for complaint; indeed, it has been a year of great progress in this industry.

Each year Householders realize more and more what Gas (intelligently used) can do for them in Cooking Heating and Lighting.

A great improvement in gas appliances is shown in all directions and the growth of knowledge as to how Gas may be used to the best advantage is one of the most satisfactory features of the past year.

The Swimming Pool.

The Council's swimming pool at Quidi Vidi Lake this season will be in charge of Mr. Wm. Clance, who was appointed at last week's meeting as instructor and caretaker. We learn from those who know the newly appointed one that the Council have acted wisely in their selection. Mr. Clance is not alone an expert swimmer and a prize winner, but is an ardent devotee of this form of sport. Nothing gives him greater pleasure than instructing the youngsters, who are naturally timid whilst learning. All this should disappear the coming season amongst those who will frequent this safe and well protected pool. The instructor will personally give each child lessons, and will side by side with his pupils swim and wade through the enclosure. Parents can rest assured that their boys who will visit the pool provided by the Council are in charge of a good, capable instructor and will be well cared for. Whilst writing on this subject we may be permitted to suggest to His Honor the Mayor and Councilors that if they wish, and we know that they do, to make this safe resort for boys popular, there is one thing more to be added, which need not be costly, and that is the erection of a shed as a dressing room. Such a shed is necessary. We saw the want of a shed last season when we visited the place several times and bathed in its sparkling waters.

Getting Better.

Mr. Walter Petrie, who was hurt yesterday by a fall yesterday over the stairs at the R. N. Co. machine shops, was much improved last night. When brought to the Hospital yesterday he regained consciousness for a short while and then relapsed into insensibility. He became conscious again during the afternoon and was quite rational last night. His father and mother with Rev. Dr. Greene visited him yesterday evening. The man is not suffering from concussion, as at first thought. It is feared that his nose is broken. He was badly hurt about the head. The hospital physicians think that he will be all right after a couple of weeks.

Carbonear Man Honored.

We learn that Mr. R. W. Boyle, son of Dr. A. D. Boyle, of Carbonear, and grandson of the late Robert Maddock, merchant of this city, has been appointed to the position of assistant Professor of Physics at McGill University. Mr. Boyle has had a brilliant career all through and his fellow townsmen are justly proud of him. He is a nephew of Mrs. F. R. Mat thews, of Wesley Parsonage, and we congratulate his parents and friends on the distinction he has attained.

C.L.B. vs. N.H.

The Nfld. Highlanders and C. L. B. will try conclusions in this evening's football match, and the game promise to be a good one. The players will be:

Highlanders—Goal, Mercer; backs LeGrove, Adams; halves, McKinley, Ledingham, Churchill; forwards, Morris, Rennie, Chancey, Auckinleck, Butler.

C. L. B.—Goal, Marshall; backs Highmore, F. Rendell; halves, Reid, Bradbury, Dicks; forwards, Hunt, Crocker, Shute, Winter, Andrews.

7.30 p.m.—Performances in Nickel and Star Halls.

Fined $100.

The case preferred against Kong Wha, a Chinaman, for keeping a house of ill-fame, and which has been occupying the attention of the Court for the past month, was concluded yesterday afternoon in the Magistrate's Court before Judge Knight. In closing the case Gibbs, K.C., made a strong plea on behalf of the celestial, but His Honor after summing up the evidence convicted the accused and imposed a fine of $100 or 3 months' imprisonment. The fine was paid.

Bait Scarce.

Passengers who came in by last night's train say that there are now over 30 bankers awaiting bait between Placentia and Argentia. They are offering good money for a supply but little or none is to be had. Caplin were seen in the coves yesterday morning but in no great quantity. If these vessels were at Holyrood and Conception Hr. they would get all the caplin they required.

Vehicle Damaged.

Last evening a horse attached to an express was coming at good speed down Freshwater Road, and while rounding a curve to enter Field Street met with mishap. The vehicle collided with the side of a house and was wrecked, one of the wheels being smashed in pieces.

Sluggish Liver Action

Causes indigestion, constipation and bilious headaches—Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills the cure.

"Sluggish liver has been my trouble," writes Mrs. I. P. Smith, Paris, Ont., "and I have been greatly benefited by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I have taken medicines from several good doctors, but none ever did me the same amount of good as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I could not keep up and do my work if I did not use these pills when the bilious spells come on, and I have recommended them to many."

"Dr. Chase's medicines were about the only kind that came into my father's house 40 or 50 years ago, and they were always satisfactory."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are prompt, definite and direct in their action on the liver, kidneys and bowels, and are therefore the most effective treatment obtainable for biliousness, indigestion and constipation. 25 cents a box, $1.00, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Increased Taxation.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—I was very pleased indeed to read in your excellently conducted Journal of Thursday last an article copied from "The People" relating to taxation and other kindred subjects. I have always regarded the shouts of the versatile and unreliable timeserver who controls the columns of the Chronicle as very misleading indeed, and the article copied from "The People" puts the matter in a very clear light and is very pertinent and opportune production. The public surely know that the increased cost of living—especially the cost of the class of goods consumed by the labouring classes of the Colony—the great body of taxpayers—brought about by a reckless and extravagant system of Government can mean nothing else but overwhelming debt and difficulty, with crushing effect to the working population, until a wiser and more economical Government takes the place of the present spendthrifts and cuts down the taxes in the same ratio in which they were reduced by Sir Robert Bond during his tenure of office.

A BOLD STROKE.

It was a bold stroke when Sir Robert struck the duty off of Flour, Kerosene Oil, Salt, Lines and Twines, etc., and people shook their heads with fear and hardly knew what the consequences would be, or how the Colony's finances would be affected by such a drastic move, but it worked out all right and saved the taxpayers of the country hundreds of thousands of dollars. That was the first great stroke to lighten the heavy burden of the people and they felt the uplift and seemed to breathe more freely and hopefully and enter into their varied occupations with greater vim than ever before. Sir Robert intended at that time to go on reducing taxation as circumstances with increasing revenues would permit, and he will resume that work of striking off taxes and lightening the burdens of the fishermen and other labourers just as soon as they place him in position to do so. First of all there must be a reduction of duty on tea sugar and various other items largely consumed by the average working classes who are

THE BONE AND SINEW OF THE COLONY.

I understand that it was a special pledge of the present Government that they would put tea, sugar and other items on the free list. Did they do it? That's the question. Did they do anything for the well-being of the people? No, emphatically no. Picnicking is a very mild name indeed for such gross and ruinous extravagance. Is it not as plain as plain can be that in every department of the present Government it has been grab, grab, grab, all the time since they assumed office, and it will be until they are kicked out of office, and heaven speed the time when this shall be done? What can the fishermen think of it all? Here they are scooping in thousands upon thousands of dollars into their own pockets and yet they have the conscience to offer poor old fishermen, at 75 years of age, what they call a

PENSION OF FIFTY DOLLARS A YEAR.

Talk about an increasing revenue! What has that to do with the country's prosperity if rioting on the country's resources continue as at the present time? That is only one side of the question. Tell me how the increasing revenue is being appropriated and expended. What would be the use of anybody earning a large salary if that salary were wasted in extravagance or squandered in excessive personal gratification, or in purchasing favour and friendships at an enormous cost? The unanimous demand at the present time is for reduced taxation and the duty of the people's representatives is to yield very respectfully to that demand and not to squander immense revenues in appropriations which are only calculated to bring back to themselves enormous bundles in the way of useless concessions and arbitrations in which a horde of political parasites stand ready to participate. It is now conceded by a very large majority of our people that the only hope for the country is to call Sir Robert Bond back to office and say to the present booting crowd:

June 12.—Reports were made of a mining camp, and it is a fight between mountaineers over a card yesterday morning.

The most inaccessible mountains and it is almost impossible to obtain information. The man engaged in the mountain and bystanders were brought into the mountains charged the mountaineers in the card simultaneously volleys from both factions. There were no doors and the injured were trampled. Those who escaped fled to the mountains and it is further trouble. The mountaineers are in the hills preparing upon the town.

The Gibbons Case Demonstration For Coaker,

Mark Gibbons vs. W. Crosbie and A. W. Piccott. The final stage in this remarkable and memorable case was reached yesterday when the plaintiff's counsel announced in Court that a settlement had been arrived at whereby the plaintiff receives the full amount sued for and costs. The plaintiff sued for one-third of the net proceeds of the sale of 112 square miles of timber land which was sold for $5,000. The plaintiff began this case under great difficulties, as he had practically nothing but his own word to stand on against the two defendants, and there was no agreement in writing to evidence his claim. His case was that he (Mark Gibbons) after some conversation with W. Crosbie had made an appointment to see Mr. Piccott's office in July, 1909, to arrange about taking up the area. He and Crosbie on July 19, 1909, went down to Mr. Piccott's private office. Mr. Piccott was engaged with several men, who went out when Gibbons and Crosbie entered. Mr. Piccott then went to the Crown Lands Office and got a map and laid it on the table. Piccott sat on one side of the table and Gibbons and Crosbie on the other side. Gibbons said that at this meeting they agreed that the property at Macleod Lake was to be taken up in W. Crosbie's name and that Piccott was to see that the rentals were paid, and that they were to share and share alike in the proceeds, and that when he pointed the area out to them on the map and described and gave them the boundaries, and that Crosbie was to have it in his name, which he did. The property was sold in February, 1911, for $5,000, and the defendants refused to pay Gibbons his share or to recognize his claim whatever. Piccott in his evidence said that he was W. Crosbie's agent in all that he did, and that there was no agreement made in his office to give Gibbons any share; that he wrote a letter to Mr. News in May, 1911, saying that Gibbons had given him the boundaries and that he had signed the boundaries to Crosbie. He said in reference to that letter that Gibbons did not give him the boundaries at the meeting in his office, nor at any time before but that it must have been some time afterwards. But he also said that he (Piccott) must have given the boundaries before the property was gazetted. It was gazetted on July 3rd, 1909, the day of this meeting. Piccott said Gibbons had many conversations with him in 1909 and 1910 about this land, asking if it was sold, and Piccott would answer, not that he knew of, and so forth. That day (the purchaser) went to Gambo to look at the area. Gibbons wrote him (Piccott) letters telling him what the cruisers had seen and how they measured the timber and that he answered these letters. Piccott's first letter in reply was as follows:—

Department Marine & Fisheries, St. John's, Newfoundland, February 13th, 1911. Dear Mark—Your letter of the 10th instant to hand. Soy is here in town and tells me that the map he had to go over the ground reports only 21 miles of timber land. Can this really be true? If it is, you were badly mistaken when you advised Crosbie to take out a grant for it. I surely thought there were more than 12 miles timber land there; certainly there must be something wrong somewhere, but I suppose this man Brown, whom you say has returned and is sending in his report, cannot be giving a true statement. Either he or yourself is wrong. Received samples asbestos. What about taking out the claims for it? I will go in with you if you will give me the chance. If you do, write me and I will have the claims taken out at once. It looks good, but the party to whom I showed it said it was pity that the fibre is so short. I did not know anything about this stuff but if you had it analyzed in Canada as you say you did, you know what the report says. Let me know when you intend to do it and I will clap the grips on it immediately. Yours in haste, A. W. PICCOTT. Pro. T. S. D. Mr. Mark Gibbons, Gambo. Gibbons' second letter of February 15th gave further details of what the cruisers had reported. Soy came to town and made an agreement to buy the property on Feb. 18, 1911, for $5,000. The agreement was signed by John C. Crosbie on behalf of W. Crosbie, who was away. Piccott went to Botwood on Feb. 13 and came back about the 20th of February. Soy left St. John's by the express on Feb. 19th, and going through Gambo had said that he agreed to buy the property. Gibbons said he then wrote a third letter to Piccott asking for his share. Piccott denied getting this third letter, and on Feb. 24th he wrote Gibbons as follows:—

Department Marine & Fisheries, St. John's, Newfoundland, February 24th, 1911. Dear Sir—Before I went to Botwood I was not willing to sell the timber land for what was offered, as it is as far as was concerned. Of course the land belonged to Mr. Crosbie, and neither you nor myself have anything more to say in it. It is true I helped to pay the rentals. I was at Botwood one week. When I came back Soy was gone and I have not seen Mr. Crosbie since, so that I cannot give you any information as to what was done, or what they intend to do, and know no more about it than yourself. Yours in haste, A. W. PICCOTT. Mr. Mark Gibbons, Gambo. Piccott also said that when he wrote this letter he did not know that the property was sold, but wanted to tell Gibbons that he had no right to be interested in this timber land. Although W. Crosbie had not told him to tell Gibbons that he (Gibbons) was not to have anything further to say in it. He also said that although he signed a note for part of the rentals, he did not pay any, as John C. Crosbie paid them. W. Crosbie in his evidence admitted getting from Gibbons all information about the timber land, but said Gibbons was not to have anything further to say in it. He admitted meeting Gibbons in Piccott's private office, but said he met him there by accident and not by ap-

The Hillson Trio.

At Rossley's Star Theatre last night one of the biggest crowds for the season assembled to witness the splendid act put on by the Hillson Trio. Mr. Rossley is to be congratulated on having secured such three people. They all have beautiful voices of great range and volume which harmonize and blend in such a manner to make perfect music. The only fault is one wishes to hear much more from each performer, as it is seldom a vaudeville act can boast of three people "all possessing" good voices in the one act. The tenor solo, "Coclea Mavourneen, sweet girl of my dreams," was beautifully rendered by Mr. Perry. Mr. Hillson has a clear and powerful bass voice. Miss Pauline Hillson's lovely contralto voice was heard to great advantage in a medley by the Trio. This act scored one of the biggest successes of any singing and comedy act ever seen here. The comedy by Mr. Hillson was clean, original and just funny enough not to be overdone. As a pleasure to see an act on this order, and speaks well for Jack Rossley's judgment.

Supreme Court.

Before the Full Bench. A. W. Bishop who was found guilty of conspiring to cast away the vessel "Annie Raymond" was up for sentence this morning at 11 o'clock. The Chief Justice pronounced sentence, which was that the prisoner serve three years with hard labor, sentence to begin to run from expiration of his present sentence of 12 months. Herbert Barrett was next sentenced for complicity in the same matter his sentence is two years, to run from date of his arrest. The Chief Justice stated that the reason why leniency was shown in this case was because of the age of the prisoner, who is quite an old man. Arthur Barrett was next dealt with, his sentence was one year with hard labor to date from the time of his arrest. When the other prisoner, Walter Smith, guilty of complicity in this matter came up for sentence, the Deputy Minister of Justice moved that he be released on suspended sentence, on the ground that he had been of material assistance to the prosecution. He was thereupon, after the judges had conferred for a moment or two, released on suspended sentence. The Court then rose till Saturday.

Letter From Mr. A. B. Morine.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir—In the course of some remarks entitled "What a Difference," in the Telegram dated May 30th last, you represent that Premier Borden, after inquiry, accepted my resignation because he held that certain matters in which I was concerned in Newfoundland were incompatible with my continuation in office. Naturally enough, perhaps, you have fallen into an error which is unjust to me. Premier Borden has made no inquiry about me, as the result of the Carvell charges. My resignation was tendered immediately after the charges were made because I felt that my usefulness in the peculiar position I held would be destroyed by the mere discussion of my personal affairs, especially as the charges related to matters very largely of a partisan political character. The resignation was meant to take place at once, but I was requested to finish certain pending inquiries of a public character, and they took longer than was expected. Yours truly, ALFRED B. MORINE. Ottawa, June 11th, 1912.

Labor Day Celebration.

It is unlikely that the proposed Labor Day mammoth parade and attending functions, which were set down to take place on July 3rd, and in which all unions in the city would participate, will materialize this year. The various union Presidents discussed the matter last evening when Delegate McGrath pointed out that the Longshoremen's Union were under heavy financial obligations at the present juncture. He further intimated that the L. S. P. U. could not assume the financial responsibility of former years in connection with the parade. Consequently in view of the lack of support and co-operation from minor organizations this year's event will be called off.

Cricketana.

To-morrow an interesting cricket match will be played between the C. L. B. and a City team chosen by that veteran willow wielder Mr. P. J. Myler. The contest will take place on St. George's Field and should attract many lovers of the game. The proceeds will be divided between the city orphanages. As will be seen from the names of the players appended, some of the best batmen and all round cricketers in the city will play. The teams will be:— City—J. S. Munn (Capt.), T. C. Fitzherbert, J. J. Grieve, F. Donnelly, F. Bowring, H. W. Dickinson, W. H. Peters, T. H. Hayward, W. Hazell, H. Winter, Gerald Ayre. C. L. B.—R. F. Goodridge (Capt.), N. H. Alderice, Dr. Bowring, E. A. Bowring, Rev. J. Brinton, Rev. H. Hewitt, E. C. Bayley, J. A. Winter, C. Carter, A. Blackall, H. Hayward.

Mortality Money Paid.

The Longshoremen's Union held their regular monthly meeting last evening after the dues and fines were collected the sum of three hundred dollars ($300.00), mortality money and divided into five amounts of sixty dollars ($60.00) each, was handed over to relatives of deceased members of the Union who went down in the ill-fated S. S. Erna. Before the close of the meeting President McGrath occupied the platform for some time and made pathetic and inspiring references to the departed members which touched the hearts of all present.

Sunday evening, at the residence of the bride, Leslie Street, a pretty wedding took place, when Mr. John Cullen of County Youghal, Ireland, was united in hymen's bonds to Miss Kathleen Mallowney. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. McDermott. The bride was assisted by Miss Alice Mealey, while the groom was attended by Mr. P. J. Murphy. Both were the recipients of a number of handsome presents. After the ceremony a reception was held and a pleasant time was enjoyed by a number of the friends of both. The Telegram extends congratulations.

DIED OF INJURIES.
Sunday forenoon an accident which had a fatal termination occurred at the residence of Mr. Tuik, Goodview Street. The servant was in the act of taking a vessel filled with boiling water off the stove when Augustus Tuik, 5 years of age, in romping about the kitchen ran full tilt against the girl and the contents of the vessel went over his head and down over his body, scalding him terribly. The poor little fellow suffered intense agony until the arrival of Dr. Anderson, who administer a palliative and then ordered him to Hospital. The little chap lingered till 7 a.m. yesterday when death put an end to his sufferings.

The Tale of Perfect Time in a Watch

From Mainspring to Hairspring, between them lies the secret. The Mainspring is the power which it transmits to the active parts of the watch. The Hairspring has the control and regulates the motion. The fitting is most delicate; machine a 100th part of a hair. (Impossible isn't it!) Yet it is enough to interfere in its performance, to wonderful in its adjustment. The friction from accumulating dirt; lack of oil, etc., destroy these perfect fittings. Do not let your watch run to ruin from neglect. Remember our business is the care of watches, and our opinion costs nothing.

The Economy of "Paisley Flour"
—the true raising powder—is so great that a 5 cent tin is sufficient for a pound of ordinary flour, a 22 cent tin for half a stone.

And do you know that by using Paisley Flour, cake making at home is very little trouble; also it is much cheaper than using cake mixtures.

A great advantage of home baking with "Paisley Flour"
The SURE raising powder

is that you know what is in the cake—that all the ingredients are clean and sound.
Use one part Paisley Flour to eight parts ordinary flour.
