THE Village of Watford has a $4,450 sidewalk debenture for sale, bearing interest at 5 per cent., payable in 20 equal annual installments of principal and interest. THE case of Rex ex rel Fitzgerald vs. Stapleford was heard before Judge Taylor in the Council Chamber, Watford, on Wednesday last. A. Weir Sarnia, presented the case for Mr. Fitzgerald and J. Cowan, K.C., looked after the interests of Mr. Stapleford. A number of witnesses were examined. Case adjourned till Thursday of next week, at Sarnia.

MANY PEOPLE are anxious to have parcel post extended to the proportions now in use in the United States. Be it remembered that even parcel post has its disadvantages. A runaway boy (United States) wrote home for money the other day, telling that he was starving, and his kind old mother sent him a box of sandwiches by parcel post.

COMPLAINTS are to hand of petty thieving in and around Watford. Farmers complain of losing fence rails and people in town find their wood piles lessened during the night. An example will be made of someone if the practice is continued, as was done in Culp last week where a man was sent to central prison for stealing coal.

NEVER send a dollar away from home when the article that the dollar will purchase can be obtained at home. Money is our financial blood. Its circulation keeps the body alive. Bleed that body by sending money away and business will soon put on a look of lethargy. Always trade at home. Watch the bargains offered by enterprising advertisers in this paper and you will learn the best place to spend those home dollars.

WATFORD, like other towns, should adopt an annual spring cleaning up day, when the garbage and accumulation of filth of the winter is removed. The towns which have tried out the plan are high in praise of the system. However, do not wait for some one to start with a movement, but start cleaning up at once. It is good for the health of the community as well as the appearance of the town.

EASTER millinery openings were held on Thursday and Saturday. The beauty and variety of the hats shown attracted considerable attention as evidenced by the crowds which constantly filled the stores during the afternoons and evenings. Simplicity is the keynote and charm of the headgear this season. Beautiful flowers, sprays, ribbons, silks and velvets are shown, and on the whole, the hats are more attractive this season than for some years past.

D. A. MAXWELL'S BUILDING AFTER FRIDAY'S BIG BLOW.

FIERCE EQUINOCTIAL GALE RAGED AROUND WATFORD Doing Considerable Damage in Town and Country

A storm of tornado intensity raged over Ontario on Good Friday, many thousands of dollars loss resulting. The wind which wiped out so much property is reported to have attained a record velocity at some points. Wires fell in all directions before the storm and not in many years has there been such prostration of telegraph and telephone service. The wind blew gently in the morning but towards 10:45 it started to hustle along at about 50 miles an hour. The final spurt in the last lap touched 65 miles an hour. From about 11 o'clock the high wind continued until late in the evening, doing damage all the time.

In Watford the storm seemed at its worst about 11:45, and never in the history of the town has so much damage been done by wind on a rampage. The upper front of D. A. Maxwell's machine shop fell into the street with a crash just before noon; roofs were torn off, trees and poles uprooted, fences laid low, windows blown out, chimneys crumbled and fell, and boards and shingles were flying about like carbide. Shortly after noon the roof of the old Dominion House, owned by R. Auld, was lifted off and hurled into the street in front of the Guide-Advocate office, causing a shower of mud that splattered the nearby buildings. Mr. Ed. Thompson, Brooke, was driving past at the time and had a miraculous escape from death. A piece of roof, probably 20 by 30 feet, was hurled over his head and dropped in front of the rig. In its descent flying pieces broke a number of windows. Part of the front of Cameron's carriage house was blown off and the metal roof of his horse stable was carried over the barn and deposited in the vacant lot beyond. The roof of C. B. Matthews' storehouse was badly damaged and the smoke stack blown over. S. Saunders & Son's smoke stack also collapsed. A corner of the Merchants Bank building was blown off. The plate glass front of Matthews' feed store came out with a crash, and many other windows followed suite. The brick cornice of W. E. Fitzgerald's office was in a moment a heap of brick on the sidewalk. Part of the coping was ripped off the old Trinity church, and parts of three windows blown in. Part of roof of the Grand Trunk freight shed was blown off. The coping on front of the Guide-Advocate office was torn off and thrown on the roof of J. D. Brown's barber shop, demolishing the rear chimney and badly damaging the roof. A number of house chimneys fell and caving in was reported on many buildings.

In the country the damage was very great, hardly a farm that did not share in the disaster. Sides of barns were blown off, roofs carried away, or the shingles ripped off. In many instances buildings were saved by prompt action in anchoring them with chains, etc. There is hardly a windmill left in the district. Some of the farmers lost heavily, among them being Alex. Laird, 18 sideroad. He and his son John had a narrow escape from death. While working in the barn the new part was ripped away from the main part, carried off its foundation and completely demolished, and the rest of the building badly damaged. Andrew Thompson, 2nd line north, lost the roof off his fine barn. John Lowry, 8th line, had about 40 feet of barn roof blown off. James McManus, 12 sideroad, lost his silo and had his barns damaged. And. Auld's barn was swept clean of shingles, 25,000 being required to repair it. George Penner's barn was lifted up over the cattle and deposited some distance, and not a head of the stock therein hurt. Damages similar to those mentioned occurred on nearly every farm in the district, and it will take many dollars and much hard work to place the buildings in the condition they were in before the storm, to say nothing of the silos and windmills that were demolished and the small stuff that was swept away.

ZEPHYRS.
Most of us felt a little nervous for a time. Good Friday, 1913, will be remembered for many a day.

The telephone men made good all broken connections on Monday.

The masons, carpenters and glaziers will not be short of odd jobs for a little while.

The town was in darkness Friday night, but the lights were all in working order again Saturday.

Our "main drag" was a tough looking place Saturday morning, but the debris was pretty well cleared away by noon.

When the Maxwell front fell Dave walked out of the building as calmly as if he was going to fix a disabled motor car.

There was quite a procession of teams engaged hauling shingles into the country on Saturday. The dealers here luckily had a large stock on hand.

The sidewalk wasn't wide enough for some pedestrians, and they hadn't been drinking either, and staid citizens could be seen holding on to trees about the noon hour.

The wardens of Trinity church made temporary repairs to the windows, and a service was held in the church Good Friday. Only 33 people were present, however.

There was no telegraph connection on the Grand Trunk, and trains ran wild. One came in unexpectedly during the afternoon and stopped at the station before the officials expected it, and the passengers had to get their tickets on the train.

Easter Church Services

TRINITY CHURCH

Considerable interest was centred in Easter at this church last Sunday on account of the services being the last held in the old church. There were two celebrations of the holy communion in the morning, with 83 communicants. In the evening the service was a bright and impressive one. The choir gave some inspiring Easter music, the anthem "His Name in Excellent" being exceedingly well rendered. At the close of the sermon the pastor spoke very feelingly of the spiritual progress made and the associations connected with the building during the forty-five years it had been used for public worship. At the close of the service the doxology was sung and the wardens removed the holy table from its place to show that the building would not be used any more for divine worship.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Sermon in the morning at the Presbyterian Church was on the "Life of David Livingstone." In the evening an Easter sermon. Anthem in the morning, "The Light of Easter Morning," and in the evening "Lift up your Heads, O ye Gates." Miss Lotta Cameron also sang a solo, "Close to Thee."

METHODIST CHURCH

The usual Easter services held in the Watford Methodist Church were well attended both morning and evening. The floral committee had by their artistic arrangement of hyacinths, carnations, and Easter lilies transformed the pulpit and platform into a bower of beauty. Rev. H. E. Currie preached at both services, the subject for the morning being, "The Resurrection" and in the evening, "The Relation existing between the Resurrected Christ and His Followers." Special music given by the choir at both services. The anthems sung in the morning were "Christ Arose" and "Forth from Gloom to Glory." In the evening Miss Agnes Williams sang a solo, "Where the Golden Bells are ringing" very acceptably. Some former members of the choir who were Easter visitors assisted in the singing.

Saunders-Louks

The marriage took place on Monday afternoon of Miss Kate A. Louks, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Louks, Ontario street, to Mr. Robert Sterling Saunders. The ceremony took place at the parsonage of the Talbot street Baptist church, London, and was performed by the Rev. H. H. Bingham, B.A., pastor of said church. The happy couple, returned on the evening train and went to their new home on John street where a reception was held. The Guide-Advocate joins with their many friends in wishing them much happiness.

OPENING DINNER

In connection with the opening of Trinity church, the Church Women's Guild purpose holding a dinner in the school room under the new church on Monday evening next, March 31st. Dinner will be served from 5 to 8 o'clock. At the close of the dinner a sacred concert and organ recital will be held in the church, when a program of select sacred music will be given. Tickets to dinner and concert 50c.; children 25c. Proceeds towards the building fund. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

THE BLESSING OF MOTHERHOOD

Healthy Mothers and Children Make Happy Homes

Motherhood is woman's highest sphere in life. It is the fruition of her dearest hopes and greatest desires; yet thousands of noble women through some derangement have been denied this blessing. In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong. This is evidenced by the following letters which are genuine and truthful:

London, Ont.—"I wish to thank you for the benefit I received by taking your famous medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Before my baby was born I was so ill I could not stand long or walk any distance. I had to lie down nearly all the time. After I took your medicine I felt like a new woman. I could work from morning till night and was happy and well. I certainly think it relieves pain at childbirth and recommend it to every woman who is pregnant. You may use this testimonial if you like. It may help some other woman."—Mrs. FRANK CORBIN, 132 Adelaide St., London, Ont.

Brooklyn, N.Y.—"I was ailing all the time and did not know what the matter was. I wanted a baby but my health would not permit it. I was nervous, my side ached and I was all run down. I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was good and took the medicine. I have now a beautiful baby and your Compound has helped me in every way."—Mrs. J. J. STEWART, 239 Humboldt St., Brooklyn, N.Y.

HARRIS & CO. PROPRIETORS. WATFORD, MARCH 28, 1913.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

If Dr. Freidmann really can cure consumption with his new serum he need not mind all the mean things the medical fraternity in the United States are saying about him.

Capt. Amundsen, the explorer, says that the high cost of living might be solved if people would take to eating dog meat. Not while poodles are quoted in Toronto at $500.

The Presbyterians are in the ascendancy just now in the United States. President Wilson, Vice-president Marshall and Secretary of State Bryan are Presbyterian elders, the orthodox kind who believe in the doctrine of election and stand for an unabridged confession of faith.

Mr. Godfrey has introduced a bill in the Legislature to amend the marriage act and provide that "if any minister, clergyman or any person solemnizes a marriage while either of the parties thereto is under the influence of liquor, or if he has reason to believe that either of the said parties is an idiot or insane, he shall incur a penalty of $500, and shall also, in the discretion of the court, be liable to imprisonment for any period not exceeding twelve months." There is also a clause in the bill that "every issuer of marriage licenses, on receiving an application for a license, shall cause a notice containing the names and addresses of the parties to the proposed marriage to be posted up in a conspicuous place in the office of the clerk of the municipality, and it shall be the duty of the clerk to keep the said notice posted up in his office for a period of three weeks. The license applied for shall not be issued until the expiration of three weeks from the day on which the notice is posted up."

About Your Wife or Your Motor

It isn't the initial cost; it's the upkeep that counts. Every man thinks his own the best—or pretends he does.

There's something about having one that makes a man feel mighty important.

When the country hotelkeepers see you coming with one they put up the price of everything.

Lots of people think second hand ones are just as good.

Anybody can get one, but it takes a master hand to manage one the right way.

Of course it's not a cheap venture, anyway you look at it, but the best economy is to get a good one.

When a man gets a new one he can't talk about anything else.

"No, I don't want a fast one; what I want is reliability."

Often they're efficient and dependable on a level road; its the uphill times that count.

There is no education like adversity. Success requires patience coupled with intelligence.

Keep your troubles to yourself and they will not expand.

A novel lie attracts more notice than commonplace truth.

An accident has played the least part in the history of achievement.

A real man is loyal to his friend and guards his reputation as his own.

Many a man who is calling loudly for justice would be in jail, if he got it.

A real man never hunts danger, and never dodges it when he ought to meet it.

Those who are much together grow singularly alike as time goes on.

The circle of human duties is only complete by the union of those of man and woman.

Memories of what we learn through bitterness and sorrow may not always be held in regret.

The model housekeeper of to-day who is cultured and refined, and yet enjoys domestic life, who knows how to care for the money brought into the home by the husband, how to use it wisely and well for the comfort of her family, certainly understands domestic economy and should be an object lesson held up for study in the town in which she lives.

When a mother detects from the writhings and fretting of a child that worms are troubling it, she can procure no better remedy than Miller's Worm Powders, which are guaranteed to totally expel worms from the system. They may cause vomiting, but this need cause no anxiety, because it is but a manifestation of their thorough work. No worms can long exist where these Powders are used.

A colored woman was on trial before a magistrate, charged with inhuman treatment of her child. Evidence was clear that she had severely beaten the youngster, aged some 9 years, who was in court to exhibit his battered condition. Before imposing sentence his honor asked the woman whether she had anything to say. "Kin I ask yo' honah a question?" inquired the prisoner. "Go ahead," said the judge, and the courtroom listened. "Well, then, yo' honah, I'd like to ask yo' whether yo' was ever the parent of a perfectly wuthless culled chile?"

Mike came to the doctor about nine o'clock with the information that their month old baby would not sleep a wink. The doctor gave Mike sleeping powders for the baby. The next day he met Mike on the street. "Well, how did the powders work?" asked the doctor. "Them powders, Doc," answered Mike, "sure did the trick." "Made the baby sleep, did they?" "No, that they didn't, Doc. We gave the darlint a dose, just as you told me, but it wouldn't sleep at all, at all. So we just took a dose o' them ourselves, we did, and went right off to sleep, and never the darlint cried one bit any more."

ASTHMA VICTIMS. The man or woman subject to asthma is indeed a victim. What can be more terrifying than to suddenly be seized with paroxysms of choking which seem to fairly threaten the existence of life itself. From such a condition Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has brought many to completely restored health and happiness. It is known and prized in every section of this broad land.

DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.

Helen Gould's fortune is said to exceed $30,000,000.

Eva Rosenbaum, aged fifteen, of Kansas City, fluently speaks Russian, Hebrew, French, German and English. She is a night school student.

Mrs. E. G. Reakirt of St. Louis is rearing her son, now five years old, in ignorance of the fact that at twenty-one he is to inherit $1,000,000.

Miss Mary Gray Peck has given up her position on the faculty of a university to become press chairman of the Woman Suffrage State association in Ohio.

Miss Ilse Bulford, daughter of the jockey, Harry S. Bulford, made her appearance as the first female jockey in Austria-Hungary on the Rakos Palota race course, near Budapest, a short time ago.

Miss Vera Holme, said to be the only liveried girl chauffeur in London, has driven a car in that city for several years. She is able to make all the necessary repairs when a breakdown occurs, having taken a mechanical course in a London school prior to engaging in the business.

Parcel Post Don'ts.

Don't seal your package. Wrap and tie the securely.

Don't forget the name of the sender must be on the outside of the package.

Don't forget to buy an insurance stamp for 10 cents. It insures up to $50.

Don't forget to mark your package "Fragile" when it contains breakable articles.

Don't forget to mark your package "Perishable" when the contents are perishable.

Don't try to use ordinary stamps. The distinctive parcel post stamps must be used.

Don't try to send a package weighing over eleven pounds or measuring more than seventy-two inches in combined length and girth.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

For Tangled Hair.

Many a beautiful head of hair has been cruelly and needlessly sacrificed when a long and serious illness has left it in a seemingly hopeless mat through which no fingers, however patient, can push their way. Then comes the tearful demand for scissors. Instead spread a towel smoothly over the pillow, lay the patient on her side, have at hand a bottle of best alcohol, take the matted hair and saturate thoroughly with the alcohol, then gently draw this way and that, and presently it will yield and admit your fingers. Keep the hair thoroughly wet, and in a few minutes the long strands will be straightened out. Don't fear cold. The spirits will have evaporated too quickly for that. Cologne will not serve.

Game For the Sewing Circle.

A workbasket as the first prize and a few accessories were the rewards in a parlor game played at a recent gathering of a sewing circle. The game was called, "my lady's workbasket." Each of the ladies was given a card with a list of words, mostly nonsensical, printed thereon. The idea was to trace the letters of each word to form a word designating something belonging to a workbasket, a half hour being devoted to the pastime.

COMFORT IN TEA GOWN.

Easy Matter to Convert Party Frock into This Costume.

The word "negligee" covers a multitude of frilly, intimate costumes. There is, first, the tea gown, so named because it was the comfortable, informal costume the Englishwoman slipped on to her return from a day's sport when she joined the men again for tea. The English type of tea gown however, has been glorified by many French touches until today it is a thing of great beauty. Many women wear these tea gowns to informal dinners in their own homes and often at that jolly function the Sunday night supper. It is very difficult, even for the initiated, to describe the difference between the tea gown and the dinner frock, a difficulty often increased by the fact that the tea gown has been evolved from a dinner dress which had begun to show the signs of wear and tear. It is the simplest matter imaginable to take the foundation of the dinner frock and drape over it an overdress of chiffon or lace, as the fancy may dictate. The tea gown in the sketch shows the possibilities of this idea.

The first requisite of any negligee, whether the more formal tea gown or the simplest bodice robe, is comfort. It must be a garment so loose and roomy that it can be worn without corsets, and for this reason the high waist line is generally more becoming than the normal one. The fullness of the gown hanging from this raised waist line hides the fact that the support of the corset has been withdrawn. The simple little tea gown pictured is of pale blue albatross, with deep cuffs and shawl collar of white albatross dotted with blue. Lingerie beading run with blue ribbon holds the high empire waist in place.

Causes Much Disease

Advice about Stomach Troubles and how to relieve them.

Don't neglect indigestion, for it may lead to all sorts of ills and complications. An eminent physician once said that ninety-five per cent of all ills have their origin in a disordered stomach.

Our experience with Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets leads us to believe them to be one of the most dependable remedies known for indigestion and chronic dyspepsia. Their ingredients are soothing to the inflamed membranes of the stomach. Rich in Pepsin and Bismuth, two of the greatest digestive aids known to medicine, the relief they afford is very prompt. Used persistently and regularly for a short time, they tend to relieve pains caused by stomach disorders.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets help insure healthy appetite, aid digestion, and promote nutrition. As evidence of our faith in them, we ask you to try them at our risk. If they do not give entire satisfaction, we will return the money you paid us without question or formality. Three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1.00. You can buy Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets in this community only at our store.

Poor Fellow!

A man entered a shop one bitter cold day and bought a woollen muffler. When he opened the muffler he found inside it the photograph of a beautiful girl, together with a note saying:

"If you are single please write to me."

A name and address followed and the man smiled. He was single, and he put the photograph on his sitting room mantel. There every evening looking up from his book, he beheld it. It was very beautiful, and in a week he had fallen head over heels in love.

So he wrote the girl. Another week passed, a week of anxious, nerve-racking suspense. Then the love-sick man received this crushing letter:

"Sir—The Mary Smith to whom you wrote was my grandmother. She died nine years ago, aged 86. Yours truly.

Our heart-broken bachelor, on looking into this strange matter found that he had foolishly bought the muffler from a dealer who didn't advertise.—Pittsburg Dispatch."

MUSCULAR RHEUMATISM SUBDUED.

When one is a sufferer from muscular rheumatism he cannot do better than to have the region rubbed with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. There is no oil that so speedily shows its effect in subduing pain. Let the rubbing be brisk and continue until ease is secured. There is more virtue in a bottle of it than can be fully estimated.

A Sweet Voice

"Oh, father, I wish I could sing! It's so nice to give pleasure to people. Florence sang at the club today, and we all enjoyed it so much. She sings every night to her father, too. I'd give anything if I could. But there's no use wishing; there isn't any music in me."

"Is that so?" asked the father, taking her wistful face between his hands. "Well, perhaps you can't sing; but don't tell me your voice has no music in it. To me it is full of music."

"Why, father, how can you say so?"

"Almost every evening," answered the father, "when I come home, the first thing I hear is a merry laugh, and it rests me, no matter how tired I am. Yesterday I heard that voice saying, 'Don't cry, Buddie; sister'll mend it for you.' Sometimes I hear it reading to grandmother. Last week I heard it telling Mary, 'I'm sorry your head aches; I'll do the dishes tonight.'"

"That is the kind of music I like best. Don't tell me my little daughter hasn't a sweet voice!"

DIPPING THE FLAG.

One of the Oldest of All Methods of Marine Greeting.

The salutation given when a vessel lowers or "dips" its flag is one of the oldest and most honorable of all forms of marine greeting.

This form of salute has always been demanded by English speaking seamen, and its exaction has burned the hearts and the powder of generations of naval commanders.

In the old days for a foreign ship, whether merchant or naval, to enter an English port without veiling topsails or dipping its national flag was to run the risk of war, although the profoundest peace existed.

Without warning or argument the shore defenses or a man of war would send a round shot across the bows or between the masts of the foreigner, and if the offending flag did not instantly come down the insolent intruder was brought to her senses by being raked through and through.

Such was the reception accorded by Sir John Hawkins in the sixteenth century to the Spanish admiral who, in time of peace, sailed into Portsmouth sound without veiling his topsails or lowering his flag.

Salutes are essential matters of naval etiquette and are exchanged on an elaborate code fixed by the maritime powers. The number of guns to be fired under all circumstances is minutely stipulated.—Harper's Weekly.

CHANGES IN WORDS.

How, for instance, "Boor" Was Transformed into "Neighbor."

Wood building is as much a piece of carpentry as is house building; only it takes longer, sometimes a century or more, and by that time the word's first meaning is usually changed.

For example, the old word for "neighbor" was "sib." One's good neighbor was known as one's "good sib" and later to "gossib." Then the word's whole meaning changed and gossip no longer meant good neighbor, but applied to the sort of talk exchanged between good neighbors.

Take the word "farmer," too. The old word for farmer was "boor." And "boor" later was used for describing farmer-like or rough persons. The farmer living nearest to one was known as the "nighboor," and this phrase in course of time was twisted to "neighbor."

You've heard the proverb "Little pitchers have big ears." Well, it doesn't refer to the utensil that holds water or goes to the corner side door. "Pitcher" was a slang term with some such meaning as our word "chap" or "fellow." Thus "Little fellows have big ears" is a more sensible rendering of the proverb.—Chicago Journal.

Samuel Pepys and Nell Gwyn.

After dinner with my wife to the king's house to see "The Mayden Queen," a new play of Dryden's, mightily commended for the regularity of it, and the strain and wit, and the truth is, there is a comical part done by Nell, which is Florimel; that I never can hope ever to see the like done again by man or woman. The king and Duke of York were at the play. But so great performance of a comical part was never, I believe, in the world before as Nell does this, both as a mad girl, then most and best of all when she comes in like a young gallant and hath the motions and carriage of a spark the most that ever I saw any man have. It makes me, I confess, admire her.—From the Diary of Samuel Pepys.

DO YOU ENJOY EATING

Or Does Everything You Eat Distress You?

Experts declare that the reason stomach disorders are so common in this country is due to hasty and careless habits of eating. Stomach troubles and run-down conditions also usually go together.

John Lind, of Oneonta, N. Y., says: "I have been troubled with a bad stomach trouble for fifteen years, and became so weak that I could hardly walk or do any work. My appetite was very poor, and it seemed impossible to get any relief. Since taking two bottles of Vinol I find that it has already made a remarkable improvement in my health; my digestion is much stronger, and I have gained in weight."

Vinol makes weak stomachs strong because it strengthens and tones up the weakened, tired and overtaxed nerves of the digestive organs. Vinol is easily assimilated by the weakest stomachs, and is delicious to the taste.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.

Microbes in Your Scalp

Authorities say that a microbe causes baldness. If you are losing hair try our remedy at our risk.

Professor Unna, of Germany, and Dr. Sabouraud, the great French Dermatologist, claim that a microbe causes baldness, and their theory has been verified by eminent scientists. This microbe destroys the hair follicles, in time causing the scalp pores to close and the scalp to become shiny. Then, it is believed nothing will revive the growth. If treated before, this occurs, baldness may be overcome.

We know of nothing that has given such universal satisfaction in treating the scalp and hair as Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. It has been designed after long study to overcome the cause of falling hair as discovered by Prof. Unna, Dr. Sabouraud and other scalp and hair specialists, and we believe it will do more than anything else can to remove dandruff and stop falling hair; and if any human agency can promote a new growth of hair it will do that, too.

We want you to make us prove it. We will pay for a month's treatment of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic used during a trial, if you will use it according to directions, and are not thoroughly satisfied. When we will do this, you surely should not hesitate to at least try it.

Start the treatment today. Your mere request will get your money back if you want it. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00.

You can buy Rexall "93" Hair Tonic in this community only at our store:

four foxes and used to go in and out of their cage several times a day and invariably took with me a handful of raisins. I found they were very fond of any sweet fruit, especially raisins, and it was not long before they would eat them freely from my hand. At first I had to approach cautiously and not dare to attempt to place my hand on them. But by and by I petted them almost as freely as I would a dog, and they ceased to show any fear in my presence. It was the same with the coyotes and the lynxes or wildcats.—Detroit Free Press.

Metals and Metaphors.

"It is most amazing," said a metallurgist, "how the world relies on metals for its metaphors and similes. Thus an orator is silver tongued or golden mouthed. An explorer is bronzed by African suns. A resolute chap has an iron will. A sluggard moves with leaden feet. An ostrich has a copper lined stomach. A millionaire has tin. A swindler is as slippery as quicksilver. A borrower has brass."

Amicable Adjustment.

"I want you distinctly to understand, Emil, that when your colleague's wife has a new hat I want one too."

"Calm yourself, my dear. We've settled it between us. You're neither of you going to get one."—Fliegende Blätter.

"Can't say I do. I'd rather have him talk politics than hair tonic."—Washington Herald.

Nonleakable Down Pillows.

When making down pillows the wrong side of the tick should be ironed with an iron rubbed over with beeswax, rubbing the iron thoroughly with the wax each time before it is put on the ticking. This will keep the down from working through the tick.

A Stirring Fork.

When stirring gravy, sauce, corn-starch, etc., use a cooking fork instead of the basting spoon commonly so employed. This will prevent lumps and the necessity of constantly scraping off accumulations from the spoon.

DON'TS.

Don't cackle loud unless, like the hen, you have something substantial to show for it.

Don't retreat, but beat defeat. A victory that has been won after failure is most precious and inspiring.

Don't expect every one to see as you do. You may be color blind or have an egotistic mind.

Don't kill time killing your prospects by starting a plant with bargain counter birds. To make good the best are none too good, and for these you must pay good money.

A largely attended mass meeting of the Warwick churches was held in Knox Presbyterian church, two miles east of Warwick village, on Wednesday evening, March 13th. The two invited speakers of the evening were Mr. H. J. Pettypiece of Forest, and Rev. R. J. Bowen of London. Both addresses were very instructive and interesting, and delivered in a masterly manner and were highly applauded by the audience. Mr. Pettypiece gave a very interesting and glowing account of the life and work of that great missionary hero, while Rev. Mr. Bowen spoke more particularly on the influence of Livingstone's work upon the great missionary enterprise. The meeting was presided over by Rev. H. F. Kennedy, Warwick. Several churches were well represented not only by the laymen but also by the clergymen, including Revs. Forster, Shore, Kennedy and Stevenson. Express Rates to West Reduced

The work of the Watford Board of Trade is beginning to show results already. Application was made through the Amalgamated Boards of Lambton for a reduction on car shipments by express to Winnipeg. On Wednesday Mr. W. A. Wykesmith, secretary of the local board, received the following letter from Mr. H. P. Holland, Sarnia, chairman of the Amalgamated Board:—"We beg to advise you that the reduction in Express rates asked for by our Association on shipments West has been granted and from this on your town will be grouped with Sarnia and be given the same rate as the Leamington district—two hundred and twenty-five dollars ($225) a car on shipments to Winnipeg. This is a reduction of five hundred and fifteen dollars ($515) a car from the present tariff rate and we consider that this happy result will be only one of the many savings that our Association will be able to make for the shippers of Lambton County."

ORONIO

Toronto, March 25.—Receipts at the Union stockyards were 77 cars, with 1,150 cattle, 1,928 hogs, 320 calves and 36 horses. The feature of the market today was a firmer tone in prices but a very slow trade.

The higher prices asked, in some cases 10c to 15c higher than a week ago for the choicest butcher cattle, was due to the light run and small number of really choice offering. The slowness of the trade is usual, following immediately after a holiday. Although buying was not keen, particularly in view of the high prices asked, the light run was pretty well cleaned up at a comparatively early hour.

Sheep and lamb trade was very quiet and slow, with but few offerings, and no changes in prices.

There was a very light offering of hogs and the market was firm at $9.65, fed and watered, one or two lots going at $9.75; off cars, $9.90 to $10 are quoted, and $9.25 to $9.35, f. o. b.

Langford—Mann

Inwood, March 25.—A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Mann on the 8th concession of Enniskillen, when their daughter, Estella Margaret, became the bride of Herbert J. Langford, a young farmer of Adelaide township.

The young couple stood under a beautiful arch of evergreen while the ceremony was performed by Rev. N. A. Campbell, pastor of Inwood and St. Andrew's congregation. The bride was dressed in a gown of beautiful duchess satin trimmed with shadow lace, and carried a spray bouquet of beautiful white roses. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Langford.

Among other gifts was a rich mantel clock of Greek temple shrine design, the gift of St. Andrew's choir, of which the bride was for a number of years the efficient organist, and a $20 goldpiece from the congregation. These were accompanied with suitable expressions of best wishes following the bride to her new home. The young couple left for their new home near Kerwood following the wedding.

Those Who Experience Fullness and Pain After Meals, Stomach Disorders, and Indigestion, Should Read Below.

"When I was working around the farm last winter I had an attack of inflammation," writes Mr. E. F. Dawkins, of Port Richmond. "I was weak for a long time, but well enough to work until spring. But something went wrong with my bowels, for I had to use salts or phosphate all the time. My stomach kept sour, and always after eating there was pain and fullness, and all the symptoms of intestinal indigestion. Nothing helped me until I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Instead of hurting, like other pills, they acted very mildly, and seemed to heal the bowels. I did not require large doses to get results with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and feel so glad that I have found a mild yet certain remedy. Today I am well—no pain, no sour stomach, a good appetite, able to digest anything. This is a whole lot of good for one medicine to do, and I can say Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the best pills, and my letter, I am sure, proves it."

He Refused Her

And the Consequences Were Peculiar

By F. A. MITCHEL

There are as many customs of courtship and marriage as there are peoples. In Lapland a suitor must run a race with the girl he wishes to marry. If he loses the race he wins the girl. In Spain courting is done by the girl sitting on a balcony, the suitor talking to her from the street. In Tangier the parties are contracted for by their parents without seeing each other, and the bride is led to her husband in a box on a mule by an old nurse.

Many marriages among the Genoese are brought about by brokers. Each broker accumulates a number of names of marriageable girls, with their dowries, their education, accomplishments and other attractive features. A young man wishing a wife applies to him, and he arranges a marriage with the parents of some one of the girls on his list, after which the couple are introduced. Either party may decline to carry out the arrangement, but if the man does so he must pay the brokerage and expenses.

Signor Girandola, a citizen of Genoa, had a daughter of a marriageable age and one day received a visit from a marriage broker with a proposition for her hand for one of his clients, Luigi Baltrani. The father took the young man's name and address, made inquiries with a view to confirming the broker's statements and, finding them in the main correct, arranged for a meeting between the two young persons.

Lita Girandola after a brief interview with young Baltrani was very much pleased with him. He was refined, courteous, good looking. For these reasons—she left the monetary features to her father—she decided to accept him. All seemed going well.

WHEN SHE MET HIS GAZE SHE WOULD DROP HER EYES.

for the match when Signor Baltrani notified his broker that he would not fulfil his part of the contract. With this notification came a check for the commission and expenses. Baltrani was young and not experienced in woman's ways. His broker had informed him of the preliminaries in the matter, and since according to the contract neither party was to be bound until the contract was completed he felt at perfect liberty to withdraw up to that time, and it did not occur to him that if Signorina Girandola should claim the same privilege he would have any cause for complaint. Why should he? Was not the affair up to a certain point a business transaction?

The young man was, however, so far aware of the greater sensitiveness of woman to be somewhat surprised and greatly pleased at a note he received from Signorina Girandola assuring him that the brief visit he had made her had greatly impressed her in his favor and she would be pleased to retain him as a friend. During their interview he had shown an insight to certain subjects in which she was interested and hoped that she might have further benefit of his views upon them. The matrimonial matters having been disposed of, there would be greater freedom between them without danger of misinterpretation. She therefore hoped that Signor Baltrani would come occasionally to see her.

"That is the most sensible letter,"

HIS BLADDER WAS TERRIBLY INFLAMED

GIN PILLS Brought Relief

Larder Lake, Ont., March 26th.
"I had been suffering for some time with my Kidneys and Urine. I was constantly passing water, which was very scanty, sometimes as many as thirty times a day. Each time the pain was something awful, and no rest at night."

I heard of your GIN PILLS and decided to give them a trial at once. I sent my chum 60 miles to get them and I am pleased to inform you that in less than six hours, I felt relief. In two days the pain had left me entirely. I took about half a box and today I feel as well as ever and my kidneys are acting quite natural again."

he remarked, "that I ever received from a woman. And what perceptive faculties! I might have talked to a dozen girls about those subjects of which I have made a study without making the slightest impression upon any of them. This girl has evidently appreciated every word I said to her. I shall certainly avail myself of her invitation. And who knows but that I may change my mind and the match go through after all."

Signor Baltrani answered the note in person. He was further pleased that the young lady received him cordially, though she seemed a trifle embarrassed lest he attribute her invitation to different motives than friendship. But when he assured her that he understood those motives perfectly her reserve was thrown off at once, and it seemed to the visitor that he was on the threshold of one of the most delightful friendships of his life.

Though he was not conscious of it, he had really entered on a love affair. He half smiled, half shuddered, when he thought of the business arrangement by which he had made the acquaintance of Signorina Girandola. What a wretched business that had been, to be sure! And now for the first time, the status between him and Signorina Lita having changed from strangers to warm friends, the fact that he had declined to marry her, she being willing, seemed changed too. Then he regarded it a matter of business; now he began to wonder how she could have received his refusal without showing some pique. The fact that she had not shown pique impressed him that she might be indifferent to him. This troubled him.

The best way to discover her feelings would be to assume something of the lover, dropping an equal amount of the friend. The next time he was with her he tried to do so, but was surprised to find it difficult. The fact that he had declined to marry her rose as a barrier between them. He said something lover-like, and it came back to him like a mocking echo.

She might have helped him, but she did not. Nor did she discourage or encourage him. She remained neutral. This led him to make another trial. The result was the same, though he was conscious that the fault was his. So long as he was friendly he was in his element; the moment he undertook to play the lover that refusal to marry he came up again between them, and every time it did so it seemed more insurmountable. It was no longer a hedge, a fence, but a stone wall reaching to the skies.

He was like a ship at sea, now rolling far down on one side, then on the other. Signorina Lita was kind, friendly, appreciative, but while he was racing madly on in love she remained the same. Yet there came a time when she seemed to change. Occasionally when she met his gaze she would drop her eyes. This encouraged him, but no sooner did he begin to act the part of a lover than she drew back within herself and left him to act his role.

But why try to follow the mad course of a man in love who has not yet won the race? At times Baltrani would wonder why he had changed his views concerning Signorina Lita from the time he had declined to marry her. Then he would doubt if he had changed them. This craving for her was all nonsense. He would banish it.

For how long? Sometimes for a few hours, sometimes a few minutes. Sometimes he would fall from his indifference into the depths of despondency. A man in this condition is apt to appear to be looking for the most foolish thing he can do and finding one foolish beyond his fondest hopes. Baltrani, when he discovered that he could not propose as a lover, concluded to begin over again as a matter of business. He argued that he should place the young lady in a position where she would have an opportunity to treat him as he had treated her. He went to his broker and instructed him to go to the young lady's father and make another proposition for her hand.

The broker refrained from comment on such a course. He went to Signor Girandola and made the proposition. The gentleman was surprised, but made no comment except to remark, since the parties had met, there would be no need of an introduction. He would confer with his wife and return an answer after having done so. He said nothing about his daughter, for it was supposed that a marriage for her was in the hands of her parents. Nevertheless he knew full well that Signorina Lita would decide the matter.

Luigi expected an answer within at least a few days. A week passed, and he received none. Every day he called on his broker and asked him if he had any word for him. Every day the broker shrugged his shoulders and replied, "No, signor." At last Luigi could stand the suspense no longer, or thought he could, and begged the broker to go to Signor Girandola and ask for a reply. The broker did as desired and returned with the answer that Signor Baltrani's proposition was still under consideration.

The lover now began to suspect that he was on the gridiron and was being broiled for the delectation of the lady he loved. Indeed, he had feared from the first that he would meet with a refusal, but when one had not been returned in due time he had hoped. Now all hope was gone, and he knew the worst—no, the worst was not yet come. Every day the fever within him burned fiercer. Every day he suffered more intensely. The only relief that might come to him was that he would receive a refusal from the girl he had refused. It would be preferable to this intolerable contempt.

One day he saw Signorina Girandola approaching as he walked on the street. She came on as though she did not see him and shortly before meeting him turned down a cross street without noticing him. She did not look displeased with him or revengeful or contemptuous. She simply acted as though she had never seen him before, was not interested in him and was thinking about something else.

From that day to this the proposer has not received an answer to his proposition. He is growing old and has never married. It seems a severe punishment for an offense which, coming from a woman to a man, would only cause him to love her the more. But men cannot look at things through women's eyes. She is, has always been and will ever be to him an enigma.

Surprised Former Owner

E. Hodgetts, Lambeth, Ont., writes:—"I bought several sacks of Homestead Bone Black Fertilizer from H. Hamlyn of this place which I used on part of my oat field. The previous owner of the farm paid me a visit this summer and in walking over the farm we visited the oatfield. He asked me why a part of this field showed oats of so much greater length and quality than the rest of the field. I informed him what I had done and he said he could not have believed it, if he had not seen it, that fertilizers could give such good results. I can highly recommend the Homestead Fertilizer to all who wish to build up their farms and grow big crops."

It is understood that a Bothwell man by the name of Blackhall, intends starting a skunk farm with the view of satisfying the never decreasing demand of furriers for skins of this kind. The prices for well-preserved skins range from $1 to $1.50, and as the animals breed rapidly, Mr. Blackhall will undoubtedly find his investment a profitable one.

KITCHEN SHOWER.

Household Articles Masquerading in Many Amusing Disguises.

A kitchen shower may be lifted out of the commonplace and be made interesting, even artistic and certainly amusing by dressing up each article given until it looks like something else.

The costuming needed for such masquerading is plenty of crepe paper, bolts of cheap baby ribbon and a paper of pins.

A clotheshorse, two or three ply, could be hung on each side with brown paper to resemble a screen of hard wood. Even more amusing would be a decorated screen with caricatures drawn or pasted to the flat paper surface.

The rolling pin may be rolled with blue or pink paper, tied on the handles with fluffy bows and have a veil neatly fastened round it to represent a veil roll.

Clothesline can be rolled round and round and woven into place with baby ribbon until it looks like one of the woven mats used for front steps.

Decorate buckets and wooden pails with paper, frills and paper flowers until they resemble gay trash baskets.

Get a half dozen flat wire egg beaters, tie the handles of two together with light wire and make a wire hook to resemble a coat hanger. Wind the entire framework with strips of crepe paper and tie on a huge tissue paper bow. Give a set of three of the hangers.

Fashion a jardiniere made from the lid of a wooden box, in which put, point down, a fence of paring knives with the handles up. Weave in strips of crepe paper in several colors and leave only the tips of the handles showing as a border. Fill the center with a potted plant.

Egg beaters and potato mashers make amusing dolls, with heads made from potatoes, apples or painted rags and a body made, so the utensil will stand, from rolls of cardboard. Dress in tissue paper hat and gown.

Clothespins may be turned into amusing dolls with crepe paper, using marshmallows for heads, each decorated with features in black ink. To present these dolls erect fill a long baking dish with moss or sand and stick the pins into it. Drape the pan with double frills of neutral tinted paper, so as not to detract from the gaiety of the dolls.

It adds to the fun if the hostess gives prizes for the best disguise, the most artistic and the most grotesque; also prizes for those of her guests who get greatest and the second greatest list of utensils before the masquerade is revealed.

"Futurist" Hats Latest in Paris.

One of the striking features of spring millinery, says a Paris rumor, will be "futurist" hats. The futurist painters have succeeded in covering themselves with ridicule, but Parisian milliners believe that better luck is in store for futurist hats.

These will be of no particular shape or form, but some of the promised color combinations are almost too daring to believe. For instance, with a hat made of picot straw, leghorn or horsehair will be seen bright blue, cerise, indigo and emerald combined with Spanish yellow. One creation shows red, violet, green and yellow. Among the favorite shades will be bishop's purple, bright yellow and letter box red.

Fruit and flowers will come back to favor as trimmings, and the apple in all shades of green, red and yellow will be held in special honor. A chic spring model is a black hat with two apples, one green and the other yellow. Plums, cherries and peaches will also be used by milliners.

Ribbons, which were banned in women's hats last year at the same time as flowers, will come into their own again for decorative purposes.

The smart spring turban in the cut rises to a peak at the front or shoots out into a propeller at the back. This hat of the former type is in the Indian princess style, with a high question mark trimming placed directly in the front of the hat.

For the Fireside.

Nothing is more useful as a fireside log basket than one made of willow. These baskets are especially attractive, inasmuch as they can be stained to suit one's room.

Protecting Wall Paper From Trunks. To keep your walls from being marred throw a light rug or blanket over a trunk that is to be carried through your house.

Town Topics.

That French lawyer is mistaken. Americans do not put their feet on the table after dinner, not even in Chicago.—Boston Globe.

A "tenants' union" has been formed in New York, but we await with no little amusement to see what happens when it runs afoul of the typical New York janitor.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

A physician thinks Pittsburgh's smoke is responsible for the prevalence of pneumonia in that city. Perhaps, but it cannot be made to account for many of the other ills to which Pittsburgh is heir.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Flippant Flings.

A Brooklyn man is arrested on the charge of stealing an airship, which sounds like a crime of the highest order.—Wall Street Journal.

A minister in the east has his sermons printed and sent to each sick member of his flock. That at least should insure against any feigned illness.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

H. G. Wells in his latest novel uses the word "anyonesoever." A writer of reputation can afford to ring changes on the English language in anyoldwaysoever.—Lowell Courier-Citizen.

Automobile Runs.

Germany has scarcely more than half as many motor vehicles as the state of New York.

Self starting apparatus for automobiles was invented many years ago, but was not regarded as practical. The public automobiles of Antwerp, Belgium, must be fitted with mud guards for the protection of pedestrians.

Over 1,000,000 autos are registered in the United States. New York leads with 102,570. Aggregate investment is over $1,000,000,000.

The Cost of Living.

Another reason for the high cost of living is that dinner used to begin with prayers instead of cocktails.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The woman's leagues that are cutting down food prices have now started on apples. This is a sort of compensation owed the public, as the combination of woman and an apple was the original cause of all high prices.—Baltimore American.

Political Quips.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson may make excellent cake, but curiosity is now focused on the way her husband carves the pie.—St. Louis Republic.

Now that congress has abolished the "Mr." before names in calling the roll, perhaps it will not mind if the rest of the nation omits the puffing "Honorable" before the "Mr."—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Train and Track.

Railway trains propelled by gas have been running for some time in Germany.

Switzerland is building a new railroad 13.5 per cent of the line of which will be through tunnels and 0 per cent over bridges.

Schemes for the construction of a 3,000 mile railway through central Africa, at a cost roughly estimated at $50,000,000, have been revived by the termination of the war between Italy and Turkey.

KEEP LAMBTON COUNTY CLEAN

The pioneers of Lambton County were thoughtful and industrious enough to plant shrubs and fruit trees to decorate their homes and furnish their table with fruit. Have their sons been diligent in preserving this heritage by executing the care which modern circumstances demand?

SAN JOSE SCALE

An insect fatal to fruit trees and berry bushes is gradually working northward, leaving, in its wake, ruined orchards and sickened plantations. It has established itself in the three southern townships of Lambton County and has already appeared as far north as the Sixth line of Plympton. It may be recognized as a small dark purple on the branch, dark in color and carrying a small depression in the top. Sometimes it may be so small that it will not be recognized with the naked eye. On the fruit it appears as a dark speck, surrounded by a pink or crimson circle. Under this scale is a small insect which reproduces so rapidly that in many cases it will kill a tree in two or three years.

REMEDY

Cut out and trim all dead and unnecessary branches. Before the buds begin to burst, spray with Lime Sulphur solution, about 1 to 7, when using the commercial concentrated material, taking care to cover every branch or twig, that no scale may remain untouched by the spray. Thoroughness is absolutely necessary to be effective and the insect may be controlled in this way. The difficulty in identifying this insect, and the danger of future attacks of Little Peach and Yellow and other diseases, which are equally destructive to peach plantations, demand that a man in each locality should become acquainted with the different insects and diseases and devote a little time each season to inspection work.

TOWNSHIP INSPECTOR

A Township Inspector, whose salary is paid equally by the Township and the Government, will be appointed by the Township Council upon the request of fifteen fruit growers. We are waging a war-like campaign against the scale in the south of the County but our success depends upon the assistance rendered by the owners themselves. The fruit growers of Lambton have enjoyed considerable freedom from such attacks but it becomes plainly evident that immunity from injurious insects and fungous diseases is at an end and every farmer should be prepared to meet these new conditions.

W. H. PORTER,
District Representative.

NEW STRENGTH IN THE SPRING

Nature Needs Aid in Making New Health-giving Blood

In the spring the system needs a tonic. To be healthy you must have new blood just as the trees must have new sap to renew their vitality. Nature demands it, and without this new blood you will feel weak and languid. You may have twinges of rheumatism or the sharp-stabbing pains of neuralgia. Often there are disfiguring pimples or eruptions on the skin. In other cases there is merely a feeling of tiredness and a variable appetite. Any of these are signs that the blood is out of order—that the indoor life of winter has lessened your vitality.

What you need in spring is a tonic medicine to put you right, and in all the world of medicine there is no tonic can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills actually make new, rich blood—the greatest need in spring. This new blood drives out the seeds of disease and makes easily tired men, women and children bright, active and strong.

Mr. John Walfield, La Have Islands, N.S., writes: "I take great pleasure in telling what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me. I am a fisherman and fifteen years ago through hard work my system became run down and I could scarcely get on my feet. I lost in weight; my blood became poor, and I was very weak. I consulted several doctors but their treatment did not help me so I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and in a short time I was entirely well again. My wife and daughter also used them with benefit. We think so much of the Pills as a family medicine that we always keep them in the house."

These Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or can be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

EASTER VESTRIES

TRINITY CHURCH, WATFORD.

The Easter vestry meeting of this church was held on Monday evening in the new church. There was a good attendance and much interest taken in the proceedings. The Rector, Rev. S. P. Irwin, occupied the chair. The financial statement for the year was presented by the wardens, and showed a nice credit balance. The rector appointed Mr. A. G. Brown as his warden for the coming year and Mr. W. A. Wykesmith was elected people's warden. The sidesmen appointed are P. J. Dodds, C. A. Class, A. G. Brown, W. H. Shrapnell, J. Osborn and M. James. Jas. Newell, M.D., was elected Lay Delegate to the Synod with Mr. John Shirley as substitute. Mr. W. H. Shrapnell retains the office of vestry clerk, and Col. Kenward and P. J. Dodds are the auditors. Meeting adjourned for two weeks.

CHRIST CHURCH, SUTORVILLE

The Easter vestry meeting of this church was held Tuesday evening with a goodly number present, the rector presiding. The financial report of the wardens was the best in the history of the parish, the receipts amounting to over $740.00, and during the year the debt of $110 was cleared. The Churchwomen's Guild reported $220 on hand towards the purchase of new pews. The vestry passed a resolution of condolence to the family of the late A. J. Davis, who had been vestry clerk since the church was organized to the time of his death. The officers for the coming year are:—Theo. H. Lucas, rector's warden; John Saunders, people's warden; the sidesmen, Rich. Lucas, Rich. Williamson, Thomas Kidd and Clark Taylor; vestry clerk, John Davis; Lay Delegate to Synod, John Saunders; substitute delegate, Rich. Lucas.

ST. JAMES' CHURCH, BROOKE

The annual vestry meeting of this church was adjourned on account of the wet weather on Easter Monday, to Tuesday evening, April 8th, at 8 o'clock.

Teachers' Salaries Increase.

In the report of the Minister of Education for the year 1912 an optimistic tone is taken towards teachers' salaries, and the Minister records gratifying increases in salary schedules.

It is noted that the average salary paid to men teachers in the elementary schools during the year was $767, and to women teachers $518, an increase of $50 and $35 over the previous year's figures.

There are 868 teachers in training at present in normal schools, and although the outlook is promising, rural districts will have to resort to special inducements to get certificated teachers.

The Frank street Methodist church, Stratroy, has been torn down. For some time it has been used as an upholstery factory. It was built in 1874 and went out of use as a place of worship when the Methodists amalgamated in 1901.
