

HERBERT TELLS STORY OF CRIME WHICH MAY HANG GERALD SIFTON

With No Display of Bravado, But With the Shrinking, the Crown's Star Witness Goes Into the London's Sensational Case

London, Sept. 24.—Walter Herbert went into the witness box at the trial of Gerald Sifton for the murder of his father this afternoon and told a very straight story of the crime. He admitted having struck the first blow, but said he then threw away the murderous axe. Gerald Sifton picked up the axe and struck his father on three different occasions.

The elder Sifton was coming thru a trap door in the barn on his place, when Herbert struck him a glancing blow on the side of the head. The blow dazed Sifton, but he did not fall from the ladder. Gerald Sifton then seized the axe and raised three or four blows on top of the head. The now unconscious man was pulled up the ladder and three or four more blows were struck on the head. Here Gerald struck him twice, and again he did so before the body was let fall thru an opening in the end of the barn—a fall that the defence claims was the cause of death.

Herbert was then sent across to where the body lay, and placed it as Gerald directed, together with the axe and some stones, putting blood on the latter. The injured man's head was covered with blood. Herbert said Gerald told him to "hit the old man again, as there would be no trial if he came to." He struck the prostrate man twice, and then he knew nothing of Sifton's intention to kill his father until the morning of the tragedy. He was minding as usual when Sifton called him and he went over to the old man, father's to do away with the old man, and say there was no foul play should the question be raised, he would give him $1000. He consented. Not until the door was closed to come thru the trap door was Herbert asked to assist. He struck the old man, but he did not know what he was doing. He threw the axe away. The younger Sifton then grabbed the axe and while

MAYOR CHAMPIONS CHORUS

Miss Evelyn Cox Chosen to Present Bouquet to Her Royal Highness.

The Mayor is considering the comfort of the adult chorus since the Council has endorsed it, and now he thinks that consideration should be provided for them in the City Hall while they are waiting for the Duke to come. This would necessitate the removal of the patriotic columns in the main corridor, and Ald. Lamb objected to this proposal in the Board of Control yesterday. The matter stands where it is for the present.

The contract for erecting the colonnade and temporary station at North Toronto was awarded to R. Dinna & Son at $1075, and for the erection of the stand for the children's chorus, Henry March, $1000. Mr. Martin will also erect the stand for the adult chorus at the City Hall for $100.

Outside Addresses. The Mayor read a letter from Mayor Maude, stating that the royal party would arrive in Toronto at 2 p.m. Oct. 12, and will remain until 9 a.m. Oct. 13. Mayor Maude said that the Mayor makes the necessary arrangements for the organization of the parties of the ceremony of presenting addresses from various places in the province. His Excellency would be glad if the Mayor would reserve suitable accommodations for prominent officials and recognized representatives of the press at the public functions.

Miss Cox Will Present the Bouquet. The Reception Committee met yesterday, and Miss Evelyn Cox, daughter of Chairman Cox, was chosen as the young lady to present the bouquet to the Duchess. A plan for the illumination and decoration of the City Hall was presented by City Commissioner Eastworth, whose ideas include a British coat-of-arms and maple leaves over the main entrance, Prince of Wales' Court, arms of the Duke of Cornwall over the windows of the Mayor's office, illumination of the clock dial and outlining of the tower with electric lights. The entire building will be lit up.

CHAIR OF DEATH AWAITS ASSASSIN SENTENCE TO BE PASSED THURSDAY

Jury Only Thirty-Three Minutes in Determining His Guilt—Medical Testimony Throws New Light on President's Death—Coizog Shows No Signs of Emotion.

Buffalo, N.Y., Sept. 24.—Leon F. Coizog, alias Fred Nieman, was today found guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury in part III of the Supreme Court, in having on the sixth day of September shot President William McKinley, and having inflicted such gunshot wounds as would result in the death of the President.

The wheels of justice moved swiftly. The trial of the assassin consumed eight hours and twenty-five minutes, and covered a period of only two days. The examination of the evidence was so clear, so conclusive that even had the prisoner protested the plea of insanity it is doubtful if the jury would have returned a verdict different from the one rendered today.

The announcement made this afternoon by the attorney for Coizog that the eminent alienists summoned by the Erie County Bar Association and by the District Attorney to examine Coizog and to determine his exact mental condition had declared him to be perfectly sane, destroyed the hope of a defence that would have been based on insanity. It will be the aim of Miss Yeoman, who will be in charge of the defence, to show that Coizog was sane at the time of the crime.

ONE POINT ABOUT THE VICTOR. A Case in Which a $350 Boot Exceeds Other Boots at All Prices.

Many a man with a small boot has experienced the trouble of getting a pair of men's suits begin at sixes. Below sixes they are called boys' boots, and are boys' boots, being more clumsy in shape and appearance and less finely finished. For a boy who wears such a pair of boots a pair of boys' boots or have a pair made to order at a considerable extra expense. Victor boots, however, are distinctive in this as they are many points that they are made in both the five and six and a half sizes. This fact will be appreciated by men whose boots do not come within the standard figures, as ordered by the long established custom of boot manufacturers.

Special Mission Will Not Be Sent Because Boer Funds Are at a Low Ebb.

London, Sept. 24.—The Associated Press representative here learns that the announcement made in The Scots of Tuesday that Mr. Kruger had decided to send a special mission to President Roosevelt is not correct. The expenses incurred since Mr. Kruger came to Europe has reduced the Transvaal funds to a small sum. In fact some of the Boers here are even destitute, and all of them agree that Mr. Kruger has scarcely enough for himself. The course probably will be to request that Montagu Wylie will be instructed to approach the United States Government.
