FOE REPULSED IN FIGHTS FOR MORT HOMME

EDDIE SEAGRAM
Germans Held By French in Great Two Days' Battle.
ALLY GAINS GROUND
Enemy Also Made Slight Progress on Slopes of Hill.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.
LONDON, May 21.—In a battle of great violence and lasting two days the French repulsed the enemy at Le Mort Homme and generally on the front extending from the Avocourt wood to the Meuse. The Germans gained some advanced positions on the Mort Homme slopes, and the French today launched an attack and occupied two German trenches in the neighborhood of the road from Hancourt to Elnes. They also entirely shattered with their guns a small work south of Hill 257 which the enemy occupied on May 18. On the eastern bank of the Meuse they also captured the Haudremont quarries, which had been strongly organized by the enemy, taking 30 prisoners and four machine guns.
Foe Claims Prisoners.
More than 1500 French, including 31 officers, 18 machine guns and a cannon, were captured in a new German assault on the Verdun front in the region of the Grand Etart. The German war office claimed today. The statement says the German lines were advanced on the south and southwest slopes of the hill.
Critical on Saturday.
The fighting was most severe and most critical for the French on the Meuse to the west of Le Mort Homme, and on its northern slopes, Saturday afternoon. Here, in an all-day struggle, the Germans succeeded towards the end of the day in occupying some elements of the French advanced trench, and detachments of German pushed on towards the French second line, where they were taken under a violent fire from the French guns and retreated in disorder, leaving heaps of slain on the ground. The struggle for this position took the shape of a series of German assaults, in which the attacking troops were mown down by a violent fire of the French guns and infantry. East of Le Mort Homme the enemy, in the course of his assaults, penetrated into

KAISER SPEEDS BACK TO MEET CABINET CRISIS

Acute Situation Has Developed and Ministerial Changes Are Impending.
TO COMMANDEER FOOD
Bill to Give Imperial Chancellor Wide Powers is Under Discussion.

LONDON, May 21.—Emperor William suddenly returned to Berlin yesterday morning in order to settle the ministerial crisis, according to telegrams from Berlin in Amsterdam, says a Reuter's despatch from that city.
The emperor, whose arrival was kept quiet, is not stopping at the royal castle but at Potsdam.
He received Imperial Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg and Dr. Karl Helfferich, secretary of the imperial treasury, on his arrival. It is not expected that the emperor will remain long in Berlin, and will leave for the Russian front after the crisis is over.
The imperial German chancellor had an audience with the emperor today to discuss the appointment of the new ministers. The usually well informed German press announces that Dr. Karl Helfferich will be appointed secretary of the interior and vice-chancellor, and that Count Von Roeder, now governor of Alsace-Lorraine, will take the post of secretary of the treasury. A. Tordilovitz Von Batoeki, now president of East Prussia, is also reported, it is to be expected, to be appointed minister of food supply, assuming the duties of the so-called food dictator, which post will be filled with Herr Von Batoeki.
An Amsterdam despatch received tonight says: "According to German newspapers the bundestag is discussing the 'authorization bill,' empowering and distributing all products and raw material needed for their production and to fix their sale price. All administrative authorities throughout the empire will be compelled to follow the instructions of the chancellor."
The Berliner Tageblatt says the bill will be adopted tomorrow and that the chancellor will be empowered to appoint new officials who will be responsible to him alone.
The municipality of Berlin has decided to reduce the amount of butter to be obtained on presentation of tickets from 125 to 80 grammes for each person.
A despatch from Geneva, Switzerland, says: "French newspapers say that travelers who have just arrived in Switzerland from Berlin have the impression that the resignation of Clemens Dabrunck as vice-chancellor and minister of the interior will be followed by the retirement of Gottlieb von Jagow, the foreign minister. It is reported Prince von Buelow, former chancellor, will become foreign minister."

RUSSIAN DELEGATION HAS REACHED PARIS
High Officials and Members of Douma Included in the Party.
PARIS, May 21.—The Russian delegation which has been visiting England arrived in Paris yesterday from London. In the party are several high officials and members of the Douma. After official receptions by President Poincare and parliament, the Russians will visit Havre, Harfleur and other centres of the war industry. They will then spend two days on the French, British and Belgian fronts, and a day at Lyons, and will depart from Paris for Rome on May 21.

RUSSIAN CAVALRY JOINS BRITISH ON SOUTH BANK OF TIGRIS RIVER

Astonishing Intelligence Received in London of Important Junction, But How It Was Made is Unknown—Sakiz Is Occupied and Russian Line Straightened.

LONDON, May 21.—The first news of the operations on the Tigris since the fall of Kut-el-Amara, sent today by Lieut. Gen. Sir Percy Lake, commander of the British forces in Mesopotamia, altho it shows that the Turks are still holding the Sannaiyat position on the left bank of the Tigris, where the British check made it impossible to carry out the relief of Gen. Townshend, brings the welcome but astonishing intelligence that a body of Russian cavalry, after an adventurous ride, has succeeded in joining Gen. Goring's forces on the south bank of the Tigris.
How this important junction was effected is still unknown, and the story will be awaited with intense interest. The supposition is that this detachment came from the Russian army which is threatening Khanik, but it still remains a puzzle where and how the Russians succeeded in crossing the river.
Their sudden appearance with Gen. Goring's has also raised the question whether the Russians have already cut the Baghdad Railway at Mosul. In any case, the unexpected appearance of this body of cavalry is as great a surprise as was the first landing of the Russian troops at Marwille, and is another instance of the swift and stealthy movement of the Russian forces in Asia Minor.
An official communication issued tonight concerning the situation along the Tigris follows:
Gen. Lake reports that on the 19th, the enemy withdrew the baseless advanced position on the right bank of the Tigris. Gen. Goring, following up the enemy, attacked and carried a bridge where and how the Russians succeeded in crossing the river.
"A force of Russian cavalry has joined Gen. Goring's after a bold and adventurous ride."
PERSIAN TOWNS TAKEN.
Russian Occupation is of Extreme Importance, and Their Line is Straightened.
PETROGRAD, May 21.—The Russian occupation of Sakiz, and their advance upon the Village of Ban is of extreme importance and established a direct line of communication between the two Russian groups which are operating against the Turkish Mesopotamian army.
Altho little has been known regarding the military operations in this important district, which lies between Lake Urmiah and Khanik, on the Persian border northeast of Bagdad, Kurdish bands supported by Turkish regulars have been for a long time attempting to make inroads into Persia, and by cutting off from each other the Russian armies advancing toward the Mesopotamian border, make their progress impossible. It is apparent that in these efforts they had been so successful as to capture the Persian Towns of Sakiz and Ban, but, as officially announced, the Russians recently ousted them from these positions, and the danger created by this wedge into the Russian line has been removed.
Ban is near the Turkish border and along a 200-mile front the Russian armies are now drawn up close to the Mesopotamian frontier. Military experts believe that further progress for the Russians should be considerably facilitated by their straightening out of the Russian line and the establishment of direct communication, which not only makes further Kurdish inroads impossible, but lightens the difficult task of provisioning, which delayed the Russian progress in Asia Minor.

OFFENSIVE MOVE AGAINST AUSTRIANS WILL BEGIN SHORTLY FROM ALL FRONTS

Allies in France Are Also Expected to Attack Enemy to Help Italy in Measures to Resist Invasion Started By Foe.

Rome, May 21.—After a protracted council meeting, attended by cabinet ministers, Gen. Morone, minister of war, issued a statement concerning the military situation in connection with the Austrian offensive, which will leave the Italian supreme command perfectly tranquil.
The plans of the Italian military authorities cannot be divulged, nor discussed, but it can be stated that measures have been adopted to cope with any possible situation. In addition to direct action on the Italian front, it is expected that a general offensive movement against the Austrians will be made on other fronts, especially in the Balkans and in Russia, and in addition a contemporaneous attack is expected to be sprung by Italy's allies in France.
Meanwhile military critics, including Gen. Morone, advise restricting the Italian front by abandoning the far advanced positions in order to be better able to repulse the Austrians, whose forward move along the Trentino front already has lasted a week.
This action is a repetition of what Austrian generals did more than a century ago when Napoleon attacked Austria from the Isonzo River.
The Austrian staff, it is believed, hopes to invade Italy along the Adige River valley, thus forcing the Italians to abandon their offensive on the eastern front for fear of having their main army taken in the rear. For this attack Austria, which had 30 divisions on the Italian front, augmented them by 10, six of which were drawn from Serbia, and six from the Russian front.

ITALIANS HOLD UP FOE'S OFFENSIVE

Resist Stubbornly Fierce Attacks of Austrians Everywhere.
GET MANY PRISONERS
Beaten Enemy Abandons Large Quantities of War Material.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.
ROME, May 21.—As a result of the placid resistance of the Italians to the great offensive of the Austrians, all the efforts of the enemy have resulted in heavy losses and in the dispersion of their troops, according to the official communications issued here. Several thousand prisoners, with arms, munitions and provisions, abandoned by the retreating Austrians, have been captured. Some of the fiercest fighting has been seen on mountain heights far above those on which any previous combats have taken place.
In the fighting reported yesterday and today, the Italians have repulsed many ferocious attacks, and they have even regained some of the ground lost to the enemy in fierce hand to hand encounters.
Italian positions on Bonsega were bombarded through yesterday and the Italians were attacked by three huge masses of infantry, which, after desperate engagements, were driven back with enormous losses.
Fierce infantry fighting also occupied the energies of the troops defending the line between the Astico and Brenta, and the enemy was held by Italian troops.
The zone between the Terragnole Valley and the upper Astico, the Italians are also putting up a stubborn defence. They repulsed an attack against Cortina and they shattered attacks on the line from Milgohe to the Susaverle basin.
Between the Adige and the Terragnole Valley the Austrians were also repulsed in attempts in the direction of Maricho and along the railway line. The Austrians assert that the Italians have been ejected from Col. Santo, southeast of Rovereto. It is also claimed that the Austrians have so far captured 18,000 men and 107 guns, twelve 11.3 inch howitzers and 88 machine guns.

FOE'S AIRCRAFT BOMB DUNKIRK IN TWO RAIDS

Some Hostile Machines Also Fly Over and Shell Belfort.
ALLIES GIVE PURSUIT
British, French and Belgian Machines Attack Enemy Cantonments.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.
LONDON, May 21.—On the western front these days aeroplanes have been active. The Germans raided Dunkirk and dropped 20 bombs, inflicting 23 casualties, including the killing of two soldiers and a child. On a return visit they dropped 100 bombs on the outskirts of the town. German machines were brought down by allied pursuing planes and 38 British and French aircraft set out immediately and dropped 250 shells on German cantonments at Wywege and Ghistelies. Belfort was also bombed. Allied aviators have been particularly on the offensive. Two German machines were brought down by the British Saturday behind the enemy's lines and three were brought down Sunday. One was also captured intact. The French official statements on aeroplane work follows:
"German aeroplanes carried out since yesterday two bombardments in the region of Dunkirk. About 20 shells were dropped last evening, killing four persons and wounding 15. Today another enemy squadron dropped about 100 bombs in the outskirts of Dunkirk. Two soldiers and a child were killed and 20 persons were wounded.
"Allied aeroplanes pursued the enemy machines and succeeded in bringing down two at the moment they were about to enter their own lines.
"Immediately after the first bombardment 35 French, British and Belgian aeroplanes flew over the German cantonments at Wywege and Ghistelies, on which 250 shells were dropped.
"German aeroplanes today dropped 15 bombs on Belfort, but the material damage was insignificant.
"A raid was made by enemy aviators in the region of Baccarat, Epinal and Vesoul. The material damage was insignificant. Four persons were wounded.
"Bomb Foe Establishments.
"Our aviators last night threw numerous bombs on military establishments at Thionville, Etain and Spincourt, and on the camps in the vicinity of Amannas and Dambillers. The railway station at Lumes was bombarded, causing the rapid flight of

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

It is not improbable that the offensive of the Austrians against Italy which seems already held, will lead to energetic action by all the allies acting in concert. A statement was issued after a protracted council meeting at Rome yesterday announcing that measures have been adopted to cope with any possible situation. In addition to direct action on the Italian front, it is expected that a general offensive movement will be made against the Austrians on other fronts, especially in the Balkans and in Russia. At the same time an attack is likely to be sprung by the allies in France. This program is a big one, but if carried out, it is extremely liable to upset the calculations of the enemy.
Rome also reports that the great offensive of the Austrian forces has so far found such well placed resistance that all their efforts have resulted in heavy losses and the dispersion of their troops. Several thousand prisoners, with arms, munitions, and provisions, abandoned by the retreating Austrians, have been left in Italian hands.
No further headway was realized by the Austrians this week-end in their big offensive against Italy, according to the official reports issued at Rome. In the Lagarina Valley an attack by the enemy with three huge masses of infantry was driven back everywhere with immense losses. Between the Astico and Brenta fierce infantry attacks of the enemy were held with great stubbornness by the Italian infantry and small forts which the Austrians had already taken by storm were wrested back from them. In this fighting there was furious hand-to-hand encounters. In the Sugana Valley Italian advanced posts repulsed an Austrian attack and fell back on their supports. Moderate activity prevails on both sides in the zone between the Astico and the Brenta. The Italians are reinforcing their lines.
In order to initiate her offensive against Italy, Austria drew 12 divisions from the other fronts, six from the Russian and six from the Balkan, and added to these 30 previously maintained against Italy, or a larger force

ONLY TWO FAVORITES WIN ON OPENING DAY

Mandarin at Odds on and Sun King Even Money—Rancher the Long Shot.

Mandarin and Sun King were the only feeded to win on opening day at Woodbine Park. Rancher, long shot, landed the Trial Plate, the first event which yielded the richest of the day. The other four went to second and third choices. Yellow Sally, in the second race, yielding better than 2 to 1; Hoconr, 4 to 1 in the Minto Stakes; Pair Montague, in the Mulock Cup, nearly 4 to 1, and Lady London about the same in the last event.

The ladies were there, more becomingly gowned than ever. Not only were they dressed for admiration, but a display of hostry not in vogue in the good times of long ago.

The women had actually more than they could attend to, and many a race patron saved money or failed to win because his end of the line did not get up to the ticket seller before the bugle blew.

Geo. Hendrie's Rancher beat a field of favorites in the first race, showing fine form of early speed for a long-distance performer, and then having enough to win the second race, when he was back to back to third. Pickens got nothing out of the race, and the winner, Hoconr, was a long shot.

Rancher took the lead in the second race, when Blue Grass Belle and Cadillac drove up the stretch like winners. Bright Star came from behind, in the last 100 yards, to win the race.

Hoconr won the Minto Stakes by breaking into the lead from outside position to the lead at the top turn. Most of the race he was in the lead, and he had a left. Eddie Henry was alone in the chase, but had to do his best to stay in the race.

The platers paraded 50-50, three Seagram and three Woodhead were quickly on scheduled time. Mandarin went to the front at flag and ran into second position during the first quarter.

Hoconr was the best of the big field of thirteen in the closing event of the day. Irish Heart and Gentlemans were the leading contenders entering the stretch, and they raced together the final quarter, when Lady London came on the outside and won by a length in the last 100 yards. The rest were away back.

Capra, Long Shot, Wins Handicap at Jamaica

The Finn Second and Boots Third—Roamer, Favorite, Outside the Money.

NEW YORK, May 20.—James Butler's Capra, a four-year-old filly by Ballot-Cap and Bella, at 20 to 1, won the King's County Handicap, at Jamaica this afternoon by a nose from H. C. Hallenbeck's Finn. Oscar Lewisohn's Boots was third. Ten thousand persons saw the triumph of the Butler filly over the best of the other horses in training.

The day was ideal for racing and the track fast. The entire field of ten runners were in the front, and the King's County Roamer, Andrew Miller's Whitney's Gainer well played.

Capra's 140 3-5 was within a fifth of a second of the record for the race hung up by S. C. Hildreth's Foyette in 1910. The Finn, Oscar Lewisohn's Boots was third. Ten thousand persons saw the triumph of the Butler filly over the best of the other horses in training.

Mayor Church, in welcoming the soldiers back, expressed his admiration for the work the soldiers had done for the British Empire, and assured them that the city council and the industrial concerns of Toronto would assist them in every way possible and give the returning veterans precedence.

How She Made a Smart White Blouse Relieved by a Touch of Blue.

A QUARREL with a man you like pretty well isn't the pleasantest diversion in the world, and it seems absurd to find fault with him because he happens to have too much money. Yet that was my reason for making Ted Campbell and myself miserable yesterday afternoon.

Of course, I expected to be firmly "set upon" and I was. No girl has ever had the courage to criticize Ted for fear of losing his attentions. He is a "spoiled child," and has been teased to all his life. So I wasn't surprised when he hurled uncomplimentary and sarcastic remarks my way, but some of them were hurt.

I had meant over the whole affair, for I miss Ted's friendship a whole lot. But says that everything is bound to blow over, but I don't know how to "blow it and make up" when any one has offended him.

Little Stories Told in Homely Rhyme

THE NEW JOKE.

A FUNNY fellow on the stage, whose jokes were gray and bent with age, once hit upon a scheme to try a brand new joke some night. 'Twas really new and crisp and bright. He felt 'twould be a scream. 'Twas heralded about the town, and hundreds of his friends went down to hear this brand new joke. They chuckled for an hour before, believing they'd a treat in store. With laughs they thought they'd choke. The funny man appeared and sprang the joke and out in front the gang sat quiet as the grave. The jester hurried to the wings; the manager was saying things. Great Scott, how he did rave! "You've spoiled my show, you fool," he vowed. "You've thrown an insult at the crowd. Go back and square it quick." The funny man returned and tripped; then fell, arose and slid and slipped. The laughs came fast and thick. Then to the lights he proudly strode, and asked why chickens cross the road. They roared at him in glee. He told another of his kind and then retired just to find a famous man was he. A vivid moral's in this rhyme. Dear reader, when you have the time, you'd better look for it. And I'd suggest to funny men they read this over once again and ponder just a bit.

Gigantic steam shovels weighing sixty-five tons each, capable of eating up the earth at the rate of 150 to 200 cubic yards an hour, and self-propelling extension track pile drivers, are part of the equipment recently purchased by the government for Colonel C. W. F. Ramsey of the Canadian Overseas Railway Construction Corps. This plant was selected by Colonel Ramsey's colleagues in the engineering department of the Canadian Pacific Railway and is being prepared by that company at the request of the government for shipment abroad. The Canadian Overseas Railway Construction Corps has already built many miles of track at strategic points and is all the while engaged in surveys for further construction. The work has often to be done under fire and the men have been so many narrow escapes that the on-commissioned officers and men are regarded as heroes of the war. The splendid work of these Canadian engineers has been highly appreciated by the allied commanders.

She is not only a more cheerful, more intelligent personality, but thru all the years of her work she has maintained a feeling of camaraderie with her children. She has kept up-to-date mentally on most subjects, so that "mother" is really contemporary with her children. They regard her not only with the dutiful affection of the child toward the mother who has made sure of the comfort of her family, but there is a spirit of spontaneous affection in that household which is really the life and spirit of the ideal home.

What Are You Doing With Your Spare Time?

HOUSEHOLD HELPS BY ISOBEL BRANDS. BUSINESS men consider it necessary and desirable to have some sort of hobby for spare hours. No matter how busy a man works during business hours, in his time off he usually tries to get as far away from business as possible. Indeed, he is told repeatedly by authorities on the subject of health that an "avocation"—an occupation outside of daily work—is absolutely necessary for the worker who desires to keep in good health and spirits. Has the homemaker her avocation? What does she do in spare hours? One of the most interesting and useful avocations I ever knew was a woman who was known to all her friends as an "ideal" homemaker. She was a woman who was immaculate, likewise her children, she was a perfect cook, an excellent seamstress for her family, an all-round expert in almost everything that pertained to the management of a home. And at 3 o'clock each afternoon her day's work was near completion and she sat down for her hour or two of rest. But so faithful was she to the duties of the household that her "spare time" was always devoted to some house task—mending, occasionally laundering or going over accounts. Of course, a quiet hour in the afternoon was an excellent time for her, but she never interested herself in any other way. Her whole mind was concentrated on just one thing—the work

BY RACHEL R. TODD, M.D. Desirable Perennials v. The Pacony. There is probably no perennial now known to gardeners that has a more interesting history, nor a longer lineage than the pacony. Just when this plant first became known in its primitive form, will never be discovered. That most ancient of nations, the Chinese, cultivated the plant both for the sake of its magnificent bloom and because of the medicinal value of its juicy acid roots. And the name by which it was then known signified "The King of all Flowers."

The Plant Itself. I am not going to attempt any description of the blossoms, because it is waste of time, and unnecessary. Everyone knows what a pacony blossom looks like. Many of us know that the newer hybrid varieties are delightfully fragrant, and rival the roses not only in scent, but in beauty of form and delicateness of coloring. Indeed, some of the pacony buds are so exquisitely lovely that we would keep them buds, if we could. And these on the first day's opening, rival any rose I have ever seen, their deep, multi-petaled cups marvels of waxen purity.

Gross Feeding Vegetable. Asparagus is a gross feeding vegetable taking up large stores of food from the soil. In some soils it thrives with applications of stable manure, and in others does better with chicken manure. Asparagus likes "well-drained soil" and should have a good application of stable manure in the autumn, followed in the spring with applications of wood ashes, a dressing of salt (salt should not be used on heavy, wet lands) and nitrate of soda. Knit seems to be particularly suitable. Beans and peas thrive with the fertilizer recommended for asparagus, with the exception of salt. Beets, carrots and pumpkins can easily be overfertilized with chicken manure, which for them is best when put down a foot under the surface. Nitrate of soda, one part; bone flour, one part; superphosphate, three parts; sulphate of potash, two parts, makes an excellent top dressing for beets, carrots and pumpkins applied at the rate of four ounces to the square yard. Potash is out of the question this season, owing to the scarcity and high price. I know of no other account of the European war, so the "mixture may be used without potash."

CHARLIE CHAPLIN'S STORY

By ROSE WILDER LANE.

CHAPTER I. In which he relates his experiences up to the time he was discovered on the occasion of his first public appearance on any stage. Life itself is a comedy—a slap-stick comedy at that. It is always hitting you over the head with the unexpected. You reach to get the thing you want—slap! bang! It's gone! You strike at your enemy and hit a friend. You walk confidently and fall. Whether it is tragedy or comedy depends on how you look at it. There is not a hair's-breadth between them. When I was eleven years old, homeless and starving in London, I had big dreams. I was a precocious youngster, full of imagination and fancy, and proud. My dream was to become a great musician, or an actor like Booth. Here I am today, becoming a millionaire because I wear funny shoes. Slap-stick comedy, what?

success, and is still remembered in England. My mother and I were always laughing and singing together, and my mother was very fond of him, but a little afraid, too. She had a very white, delicate hands, which reminded me of the little bird which she dressed me. In spite of the hit-and-miss life we led, always moving from town to town, and my mother's hard work on the stage and her own part in the business, she kept me and my brother and me beautifully dressed. At night, after her music hall work was done, she would bring our little white Etel and me to bed. One day, when I was about five years old, she was sitting at the table, and I was sitting on the floor when my mother came in, staggering. I thought she was drunk, I had seen her after awhile I heard my mother's voice, very weak. "Don't get up, my little bird," she said. "I've got to work tonight. We need the money," my mother said. "I'm sick," I heard my mother say, sobbing. "I heard my mother say, 'I'm sick,'" my father's boots stamped up and down the room. "Well, I'll take Charley, then," he said. I backed closer to the wall, and kept still. With no reason, I was terrified. Then the door opened again, my father's boots stamped out and down the stairs, and I heard my mother sobbing. My mother said she wanted me to go to the stage with her, and she wanted me to sing my very best. I said I would. Then she had me bring her a little new coat she had made for me, and fresh clothes, so it took her a long time to dress me, and to get my hair combed to suit her. She was still busy with it when my father came back. (To be continued tomorrow.)

Questions and Answers

A F—I am very anxious to become a moving picture actor. How shall I begin, and do you always need any experience to become one? A F.—Unless you have had considerable stage experience your chances of becoming a picture actor are rather remote unless you journey to one of the film manufacturing centres and wait your chance to work into a minor role, which will bring you to the attention of the director. You might send your photograph to the director of one of the large film concerns in America, or he would require that you paid all your own expenses, and then waited your turn. You had better start by trying to work into some amateur theatricals around town and get a little experience. Eva—How many companies are there making moving pictures now, and which is the best one to apply to for a job as an actress? A.—It is impossible to answer your first question, because picture companies are something like fools there is a new one born every minute, to say nothing of the hundreds that die every year. Our official list gives the number of going concerns in America at the beginning of May as 24, but this is rather misleading, for some companies given as, for instance, the "United Artists," are all "swore" when it comes to "applying for a job," unless you are right on the job and are willing to work for nearly nothing until you have proved your worth.
