NOGI PROVES A GENEROUS FEE.

Japanese General Telegraphs Governor of Nagasaki Asking For Full Military Honors For Port Arthur's Brave Defender--Japs Hold Review in Captured City.

Tokio, Jan. 16--11 a.m.--General Nogi has written to the governor of Nagasaki the following as to the treatment of Gen. Stoessel: "You will be advised by the proper authorities, but it may not be out of place to point out that Gen. Stoessel now is neither a prisoner of war nor an enemy, but a foreign gentleman who meritoriously served his country and moreover so honorably performed, without unnecessary delay, the complicated task of transferring the forts and munitions of Port Arthur, that he deserves to be accorded full military honors, and I commend him to your consideration."

Found a Woman.

Nogi in Port Arthur.

London, Jan. 16--Under date of Jan. 15 the Port Arthur correspondent of the Times says: "Gen. Nogi, attended by his staff, the divisional commanders and foreign attachés reviewed detachments of all arms in the new town square today. The generals afterwards marched through the town which shows few signs of the bombardment. No casualties occurred to women or children, who lived in the houses during the siege. Champagne was always obtainable. There was little desertion or typhus, but much scurvy, owing to the lack of vegetables."

The hospitals are fairly well kept and are still used for the wounded and the Russian trenches. The treatment of the Japanese prisoners at Port Arthur did not compare with that accorded the Russian prisoners in Japan. The Japanese prisoners were given poor food and the fact that they were permitted to go outside of the prison.

THE WRIGHT CASE TO JURY TODAY.

Geo. W. Fowler, M. P., and Attorney General Pugsley Address Jury---One Contends Blow was Struck in Self-Defence, the Other that Wright Was in the Wrong.

Hampton, Jan. 16--(Special)--The Oscar Wright trial was resumed this morning. The case may go to the jury this afternoon. Mr. Fowler made his address this morning, and Mr. Pugsley followed and was speaking when the court adjourned at 1 o'clock.

Mr. Fowler alluded to the sympathy that would be felt for the widow and children of McKnight. He also pointed out that sympathy should be extended to the prisoner. He was a young man and had always borne a first class reputation, and if it had been at all possible to have brought against him during this case, as he certainly had enemies. Even the most prejudiced witness against him could not but swear that so far as they knew his past life had been creditable to him.

Mr. Fowler went into the whole case and reviewed all the evidence very fully and impressively upon the jury. He would discredit the evidence that had been given by Charles Coates, and hoped that the jury also would discredit it, and attach no weight to it. He said the jury should bring in a verdict of innocence, and alluded to the greatness of British law, and justice being tempered with mercy. The prisoner had been acting in self-defence, and he asked the jury to bear that in mind. He was daunt and had struck out to defend himself. He expressed himself as very confident that the verdict of guilty would not be returned.

Attorney General Pugsley. Attorney General Pugsley said the prisoner was very fortunate in having such able counsel to defend him. He then spoke of several slips Mr.

A GOOD RECORD.

Every person knows where St. John's Presbyterian (Bennett's) church is, it is known more by that name than any other. It has been well understood that what the church undertakes, you will always be sure of enjoying yourself for the price. They have always carried the largest picnic in former years. So it is in everything that is carried on in that building. The concert on Tuesday evening will more than make a record, as in point of numbers and programme. GROWTH OF WINNIPEG IS MARVELLOUS.

Interview With a Gentleman Who Has Lived There For Twenty Years and Seen Mud Streets Replaced by Asphalt and Macadam.

J. Lamont, of Winnipeg, who is the western manager for W. H. Rodding and Sons, manufacturers of boots and shoes at Yarmouth, N. S., is at the Victoria.

Mr. Lamont has lived in Winnipeg for the past twenty years. Interviewed by a Times reporter this morning and questioned as to the possibilities of the development of Winnipeg and the northwest generally Mr. Lamont said:-- "It is a thriving country. The northwest is most fertile and prolific, as has been shown by statistics. The fertility of the land is actually surprising. Its features in this respect are known world-wide.

"What about Winnipeg?" queried the reporter. "Well," replied Mr. Lamont, "there is a decidedly marked change in Winnipeg since I located there twenty years ago. The development of the city has been marvelous. When I went there the streets were of mud, and in the rainy season were almost impassable. The change has been, to say the least, astounding. Now the streets are asphalted and macadamized. The change has been most remarkable in less than a quarter of a century. In fact no other city on the continent has developed to such an extent from the point of population and general advance. During the past year the increase in population has been 35,000. This in itself is remarkable, and illustrates the drift of immigration to that country. I have not the least doubt but that the present prospects of the city of Winnipeg will year by year proportionately increase its population. Since the latter part of 1903, the city of Winnipeg has increased in population from 33,000 to 77,000. Figures speak for themselves and this west.

THE TIMES' NEW REPORTER.

The Times new reporter has the gripe. He arrived at the office this morning with lack-lustre eye, creaking joints and a lame back. His head was dizzy and his limbs uncertain. He had been in bed all day Sunday, making the acquaintance of certain nauseous preparations which well-meaning friends assured him would be particularly efficacious if taken copiously and frequently. He permitted himself to be persuaded, and became a wreck.

The staff offered to do his work for him, and the editor advised him to go home, but he is an obstinate young man, and persisted in sitting at his desk and grinding out between groans and grunts the following story:--

"AN IDEAL SCENE. King Square presented an ideal scene yesterday afternoon. A gentle breeze stirred the foliage of the trees and flowers, whose sweet and varied perfumes permeated the atmosphere. The warm afternoon sunlight shot its rays through the fountain in the centre of the square, converting it into a moving curtain of diamonds. The sparrows chirped in the trees or darted through the fringe of the fountain. The walks were filled with brightly dressed people, and all the seats were occupied. Did and young enjoyed the beauty of the scene, and the Times man counted forty-three baby carriages. It was worth a journey to the square, just to witness the unalloyed pleasure of so many people.

The new reporter handed this story to his desk editor, who was sitting at his desk with his overcoat on, and said:--

THE ST. JOHN EVENING TIMES, MONDAY, JANUARY 16 1905.

THE STORY OF A GREAT SECRET.
Millions of Mischief.

By HEADON HILL.

Author of "By a Hair's Breadth," "The Duke Decides," "A Race with Rain," Etc., Etc.
"And some that spill have in their hearts, I see."

And with what solicitude had he advised it. I remembered how the crusty old man had appealed to my mercy, dressing up his prayer in the guise of a bargain, and suggesting that if I did not perform my part and allow Roger the chance of escape, the promised profits would be withheld and the admission repudiated. It was plain to me now that the younger Marske had utilized the start his wife either had prepared for him, not in flight, but in preparing the trap into which I had fallen. That the brutal captain of the Nightshade had any knowledge of Arthur's unfortunate sister, or had ever sailed with Roger Marske on a yacht, was extremely improbable. Belcher did not look like a man who would over-hear an entrained with the command of a yacht. However, by the light of what had befallen me at his hands, that was immaterial. Doubtless Roger Marske, or maybe Sir Gideon himself, had had previous dealings with him, and knew that he would be an unscrupulous instrument for conveying me—where?
All these recollections and forebodings rushed at lightning speed through my clearing brain, and with an effort I staggered to my feet and looked about me. The place I was in was a small cabin, with two sleeping bunks on the lower of which I had slept out my drugged sleep. I had a thrill of apprehension that the bedclothes were fairly clean and neat, but that was all. On such a vessel as this cleanliness suggested preparation and design, and there were infinite possibilities in the designs of such people as had hold of me.
One step brought me to the door, which, of course, was locked, and I turned to the circular port-hole. It was closed, but had I been able to open it, it would have been useless for purposes of escape, for it was too small to admit the passage of my body. It head, to say nothing of the outside world, and enabled me to calculate the time that had elapsed since I had come on board. My watch had all ready told me that it was half-past five, but that might mean anything.
The sun was rising from a hazy haze, between which and the ship, a considerable distance, a long line of low-lying mud-flats was visible. I was able to conclude, therefore, with tolerable accuracy that it was early morning, and that the steamer was somewhere in the lower reaches of Thames, heading for the open sea. The discovery destroyed my last hope ed in the stifling cabin. At the same time I impressed upon myself the necessity of not overdoing the assumption of studied carelessness, for I shrewdly suspected that in Captain Belcher's crude animalism (that was a large proportion of native cunning. His reception of Sir Gideon Marske as an unexpected stranger, in order to lead up to my involvement down the companion, had shown that he himself could play a part with success.

When I emerged from the cabin into the cuddy, I found the captain already seated at the end of the table, and it was a relief to see that the meal was not to be eaten collectively or individually, in a poor way, but that it remained to be eaten by the man and woman who had served me as but a poor weapon so far but it remained my only one. I would pin such little faith as was left in me to it still.
"How soon will breakfast be ready?" I asked, striving to make the question sound as indifferent as if I was addressing the steward of an Atlantic mailboat.
My apparent complacency must have astonished him, for a plumpish but not unkindly old man, he looked at me and said, "Now you're talking sense. The coffee'll be hot as soon as you want it, and your door's unlocked." The truth of the latter statement, evidenced by the scrooping of the key, emboldened me to put the question: "I wish you would tell me where you are bound for, Captain Belcher. I cannot pretend to feel very comfortable till I know that."
The rasping laugh that met my request for enlightenment was not reassuring. "There you have me, missy," replied the captain. "You may believe me or not, but I know no more than you do, and shan't tell you more than the Streets. We're sailing man-o'-war fashion this trip—under sealed orders."
"Very well," I said. "I shall be quite ready for breakfast in ten minutes. Am I to have it in here?"
"Not you," thundered through the cabin door. "You're to have it along of me—here in the cuddy. And you'll find me a first-class ladies' man, I warn you."

CHAPTER XXVII.

Captain Belcher opens the Envelope.
The prospect of sitting down to breakfast with the captain of the Nightshade gained nothing in attractiveness from his self-description as a ladies' man, but it did under the ordeal seemed the wisest policy. It was possible that by feigning a studied apathy I might avoid the brutal violence of which he seemed capable. And there would be more scope for seizing any opportunity that might occur if I availed myself of the run of the ship, than if I sunk

Severe Chest Colds And Painful Coughs Demand Prompt and Active Treatment.

The great danger in troubles of this class is "delay." Don't neglect a Cough or Cold, it can have but one result. It leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected—Bronchitis, Pneumonia, Asthma, Catarrh and Consumption will surely follow the neglect to cure.
The first dose of
DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP will ease the cough, soothe the inflamed throat and loosen the phlegm. Mrs. Joseph Paradis, Blackwell, Ont., writes—
"I had such a bad cold I could hardly breathe. I tried Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup advertised, so had my husband get me two bottles—I had only used one before I was cured. I recommended it to a friend, and two bottles cured her after other remedies had failed—and would not keep it in the house now and would not be without it. It is the best cough medicine I have ever taken."
Price 25 cents per bottle.

Hon. J. R. Stratton Says He is a Better Man Than His Opponents Would Make Him.

GETTING READY TO GOBBLE HAYTI.
United States May Proceed to Energetic Intervention.
Port Au Prince, Hayti, Jan. 13.—Mr. Powell, the American minister, has informed the government of Hayti that the United States government refuses to recognize the validity of the sentence in contumacy to 15 years at hard labor, pronounced by the Haytian Court against Jaeger Huber, an American citizen, for alleged complicity in bond frauds charged against the administration of former President Simon Sam and officers of the Bank of Hayti. The U. S. demands the annulment of the sentence under pain of energetic intervention. The demand has caused much excitement here.

MAYOR WHITE. Mayor White has been asked by an influential deputation of business men to stand for re-election. Should he decide to do so, there is little likelihood of any serious opposition. The ground taken by the deputations and those signing the petition in that having taken up the question of extending the water system to Loch Lomond, and having been chairman of the water board for the past year, and having also carried through the scheme for an assessment commission, the mayor should consent to remain in office until these measures of civic policy have been carried to a successful termination.

It is a high compliment to be asked by so many leading business houses to stand for re-election. It is equivalent to a vote of confidence in his administration. FRENCH POLITICS.

It is stated in a cable from Paris that the cabinet of Premier Combes will resign, not because it has been actually defeated, but because in a hot debate on Saturday night, which lasted until one o'clock Sunday morning, the government on two votes only had majorities of six and ten. Once during the evening, the socialists caused a disorderly scene by crossing and threatening to attack members of the opposition side of the chamber. The session was temporarily suspended. Later an opposition deputy flourished a succession in the face of the premier.

FIRE IN THE UNION CLUB.

A fire in the Union Club last night, gave the members present, quite a scare, and did damage to the amount of two or three hundred dollars. The fire started under the grate, in the private dining room, being caused by the intense heat. It was necessary to tear up the floor, in order to get at the fire. It was about half an hour before the fire was completely extinguished.

GLORIOUS OUTDOOR LIFE OF CANADIAN WOODSMEN

A Trip to the Woods With Axe in Hand Brings One Back to Nature's Heart--Insolent Town and Grimy Streets Forgotten--Every Hour a Dream.

(Kenneth Goldthwaite in the New York Evening Post.) To shoulder an axe and go forth on a bright day in autumn or early winter to cut logs for the heart is a genuine return to nature. Strokes of light play through the thin tree-tops. Occasional shreds of breeze weave in and out, shaking the bare branches and on to the fields beyond. The woodlands are deserted, save for the presence of the wild creatures who were timid companions of another day. Silent broods among the squat trunks of the beeches. The hard maples stand forth clearly revealed with a fitness and delicacy of outline that is almost poetic. The interior of some vast cathedral, so much is the feeling of arch, pillar, dome and arcade suggested. As innumerable steps on a fallen limb disturbs the solitude, and a small, red squirrel, white-bellied, and with an eloquent tail, scurries up a tree and pauses upon some lower limb to eye you curiously. Far above solitary buzzards winging their way across the interior of some vast cathedral, so much is the feeling of arch, pillar, dome and arcade suggested. COUNCIL SCORED.

Rev. T. F. Fotheringham Preaches Against City's Action re the S. A. Metropole Grant.

In St. John's Presbyterian church last evening Rev. Dr. Fotheringham preached a stirring sermon from John III, 17. "But whoever hates me, and doeth his brother's will, he hateth me, and doeth his brother's will." The preacher said that charity was the main test of general Christianity, for a loveless heart knew no God. From the beginning to the end of the Bible there were abundant opportunities to exhibit this in St. John's case, and in the case of those cast penniless on Canadian shores, for the distress in old world cities leads to seek refuge on this side of the Atlantic. From the speaker's own knowledge, men were coming here from London, Liverpool, Manchester, Birmingham, Glasgow, Antwerp and many other continental cities. Few were underserving, and asked for nothing more than one night's lodging. Since December 1, thirty-four men have been applied to him for help. They were Germans, good, honest straight-forward fellows willing and anxious to do anything to help themselves and their families. There were no funds in the city to meet these cases, and it therefore devolved upon the charitable generally to give temporary relief. The recent action of the city council in refusing a grant of $200 to the Salvation Army home was not expressing the voice of the citizens. Five hundred men could have received a day's board with the sum they refused to give, and such a contribution would have relieved the greater part of the suffering for the remainder of the winter. It would have been a better way than taking the money out of the pockets of the people in a hoggery fashion.

A PRACTICAL WAVE MOTOR. A Device at Last That Successfully Utilizes Some of the Immense Power in Ocean waves.

(From the World Today.) Many attempts have been made to harness the waves of the ocean and utilize their stupendous force for the accomplishment of man's various purposes. The Patent Office at Washington there are nearly two hundred and fifty applications for patents on various devices for this purpose, and considerable sums of money have been expended in attempts to invent a practical wave motor. The Pacific Coast has been fruitful in these efforts of this sort. In 1880, a certain named German erected a huge machine on the shore, a few miles below Santa Cruz, which was supposed to generate electricity by means of a flywheel set in motion by the waves. The machine did not work and was smashed by the waves. In 1895, a certain American erected a similar machine at Santa Cruz, but it also failed. A FOG IN LONDON.

What it Means to the Great Metropolis to be Shrouded in Mist—Traffic at a Standstill.

What is generally considered to be the worst fog known in London for a number of years descended on the city just before Christmas.

Shortly after 1 o'clock omnibuses, automobiles, vans laden with Christmas goods, broughams and hansoms of all kinds were absolutely blocked, and it was almost impossible to cross the road so dark was it.

Walking on the pavement, it was impossible to see even the kerbstones. The drivers had to leave their horses and lead the horses along while the conductors piloted, or tried to pilot, the way with a lantern.

But, bad as it was in the city, some conditions prevailed in the suburbs. Brilliantly lighted shops in Clapham, for instance, were quite useless in lighting up even the pavements, and the center of the streets was impenetrable blackness.

Shopkeepers, much to their consternation, had to stop delivering their Christmas orders either by van or by hand, and some bus drivers in despair had to give up even leading their horses, and had to tell their passengers they could risk going no farther.

The Daily Mail, in its description of the fog, says: "London had suddenly become a strange new city; its newly-acquired mystery caused the greatest wonderment among those who knew the metropolis best."

The spacious streets had become a solid mass of gray, just as solid as the mass of gray which hid the buildings on each side. The world was suddenly an intangible invariable gray cloud, through which one saw only points of light.

TRAINED WAR PIGEONS USED BY THE JAPANESE.

They Imported English Racing Birds, Bred Them and Use Them to Carry Dispatches.

Such is the eagerness of war that even the gentle dove of peace is pressed into its service, says Black and White.

With a far-seeing foresight, the necessity of which is only now apparent, the Japanese have organized a system calculated to bring forth the highest qualities of the pigeons with which their lots were stocked.

Recourse was at first had by our allies to this strain, but the Oriental pigeon was almost instantly discarded in favor of the bird now used by England and the continental powers.

With an army on the march the use of pigeons is a matter of life and death. The birds are kept in a special enclosure, and are fed on a special diet.

With a rush modern life is, push, drive, get there somehow. It's hard on the nerves, hard on the digestion and strength goes down hill.

In Centenary church yesterday morning Rev. G. M. Campbell paid a fitting tribute to the late Dr. Lathern.

EVADING TAXES.

Up-to-Date Methods in the United States to Avoid Assessment.

Our States are burdened with debt, our cities are mortgaged. New taxes must be provided for all this, and the claim that we grow richer and richer is made only by taking into consideration the aggregations of property which have the power of passing intact downward.

The wheat is traveling the same road. First it goes to the mill, then it is milled, and the meal goes to the mill, and the mill goes to the mill.

It is not the wheat that is the problem, it is the mill. The mill is the problem, and the mill is the problem.

It naturally causes us some surprise to be told that there are, according to the tax list just given out in New York, fewer millionaires in that city now than there were a year ago.

ST. JOHN AGAIN BEATEN; MONCTON DID THE TRICK.

Neptunes Defeated by the Railway City Hockey Boys in a Rattling Good Game---The Lady Hockeyists---The Stanley Cup---With the Curlers.

HOCKEY.

Moncton Won.

The Victoria's of Moncton, defeated the Neptunes of St. John in the fourth game of the provincial league at Moncton Saturday night, by a score of 2 goals to 1. The Neptunes had the advantage in team play, what little combination work there was, coming from their ranks. The Moncton team was very much stronger than when they played Sackville. H. M. Woods of Sackville refereed the game in a very fair and impartial manner. Players from both teams were penalized during the game. In the first half Way and Trites of Moncton were laid off for two minutes each, and Howard of the Neptunes had the same rest. During the second half, Way and Gordon Trites, of Moncton, and Carlyle and McNeill, of the Neptunes, were sent to the bench.

It would be hard to say which of the Neptunes players played the best game as they all appeared to be working their hardest. In the defense Coombs and Carlyle played well, Coombs especially showed up in his old form and played a star game, while Carlyle had his work cut out for him, stopping the many hot ones that were rained on the goal. Capt. Brown who has not been well for the past few days and practically got out of bed to play, was lacking in his usual zest, but played a splendid game under the circumstances. Townsend and Howard played well and kept the Moncton goalkeeper busy. Townsend shot the only goal that the Neptunes got.

Howard played a strong game but was a little weak in shooting. Clawsen and McNeil kept after their men like leeches and being much lighter than their opponents, they kept them hustling. Among the Moncton players the most prominent was Way. At cover point or in a rush he was sure to make things hum. The funniest thing of the game was to see him with a stick broken off a foot from the blade, crouched down on the ice and going through the Neptune forwards who were too dumbfounded at the sight to at once stop him. Wortman played a star game in goal and saved the game for Moncton time after time. The St. John players were on the ice shortly before eight o'clock, but the Moncton team was late, so the game did not get started until about 8.30 o'clock. The teams lined up as follows:

In the face-off Moncton secured the puck and carried it into the Neptune's territory, but it was quickly rushed up the rink, and for a few minutes the play was around the Moncton goal. Way secured the puck and made a fine rush up the rink but failed to score. The play was mostly in Neptune's territory for a time, until Clawsen secured the puck and made a good try but missed. Townsend was fouled by Way, who was sent to the bench for two minutes. The puck travelled back and forth for a few minutes, until Geo. Trites secured it and made a fine rush landing the first score for Moncton, after eleven minutes' play.

After the face off the Neptunes rushed matters and Townsend made one or two good shots but failed to score. About this time Way made his great rush up the ice with the broken stick. Nothing very startling happened for the next few minutes except that Geo. Trites was laid off for shoving a man. Howard also was sent to the bench for slashing as time was called.

Moncton started in strongly and after a few minutes J. Schaefer poked in the second goal for Moncton from a mix-up in front of the net. Shortly after this Carlyle was laid off for two minutes for falling and lying in front of the goal. His action probably saved a score. While Carlyle was on the bench, Way made a great rush but as he neared the goal, the tines told Carlyle his time was up, and he rushed just in time to intercept the puck and Way crashed into Coombs who was in goal, carrying away the goal net and mixing things up generally. From this time until the end of the game the Neptunes outplayed their opponents. Delahunt got hurt by colliding with one of his own team and had to retire. His place was taken by Donald. Shortly after this Townsend secured the puck and placed it between the posts, making the only score for the Neptunes. The Neptunes continued to rush matters, but failed to score again. Gordon Trites and McNeill were sent to the bench for slashing. Time was called without further scoring. The games so far played in the league have resulted as follows: Jan. 6--Mohawks v. Neptunes, at St. John, Neptunes, 2-1. Jan. 10--Mohawks v. Trojans, at Fredericton, Trojans, 6-0. Jan. 10--Sackville v. Moncton, at Moncton, Sackville, 4-0. Jan. 14th--Neptunes v. Victorias, at Moncton, Victorias, 2-1.

Puck Notes.

Coombs showed great improvement over his previous game. Practice tells. Carlyle's fall probably saved a score. Capt. Brown may have been sick, but he also made some of the Moncton men feel a little shaky. Some interesting developments are promised for the games next Friday. Both Neptunes and Mohawks say that there will be something doing. Way made a hit when he made his rush with the broken stick, but he didn't know just the same.

The League Standings.

Table with 3 columns: Team, Played, Won, Lost, P.C. Sackville: 1, 1, 1, 100. Trojans: 1, 1, 0, 100. Neptunes: 2, 1, 1, 50. Moncton: 2, 1, 1, 50. Mohawks: 2, 0, 2, 0.

The Stanley Cup.

As there has been much controversy in regard to the Stanley cup matches and difference of opinion as to the regulations governing the trophy the Times, in response to several requests here published the conditions in full: 1. The cup shall remain a challenge cup, and will not become the property of any team, even if won more than once. 2. In case of any doubt as to the title of any club to claim the position of champion, the cup shall be held or awarded by the trustees as they may think right, their decision being absolute. 3. Should other trustees resign or otherwise drop out, the remaining trustees nominate a substitute. In dealing with challenges and matches after 1905, the trustees have observed the following principles: 1. So far as the A.H.A. of C. is concerned, the cup goes with the championship each year without the necessity of any special or extra contest. Similarly, 2. Challengers from outside the A.H.A. of C. are recognized by the trustees only when a challenge is accepted, all terms of the contest themselves such as a choice of date, division of the gate money, selection of officials, etc. The trustees do not wish to interfere in any way, shape or form, if it can be avoided. What happened club fail to agree the trustees have observed and will continue to observe as far as practicable the following principles: (a) The cup is to be awarded by the trustees. The trustees would be willing however, if desired, to allow the contest to be decided by a majority of the goals scored in two matches only (instead of the best two matches in three). (b) Contest to take place on ice in the home city, the date and choice of rink to be made or approved by the trustees. (c) The net gate money given by the rink to be equally divided between the competing teams. (d) If the clubs fail to agree on a referee, the trustees to appoint one from outside the competing clubs, the two clubs to share the expenses equally. (e) If the clubs fail to agree on other officials, the trustees to authorize the referee to appoint them, the expenses, any, to be shared equally by the competing clubs. (f) No second challenge recognized in one season from the same rival association.

The Ladies' Game.

The ladies' hockey teams played their first game Saturday afternoon, after the regular skating was over. Will Play New York.

The Montreal Hockey Team are to go to New York at the end of this week. While there they are booked for a couple of matches. They will return on Jan. 24.

A Tempting Offer.

Ottawa, Jan. 15.--"If your boys succeed in defeating the Ottawa and Montreal clubs and winning the Stanley cup, I will make you a present of $1,000." In the Russell House last evening this offer was made to Dr. McLennan, captain and manager of the Yukon Hockey team, by Mr. J. A. Acklin, a well-known Klondike mining man, at present in the city on business. "It's my desire to buy up the team for the purpose of winning the game," said Mr. Acklin. "I simply want to see the boys have a good time and I'm willing to put up the stuff. We all admire the grit of the boys in coming out after the silverware, a move that is all the pluckier in view of the fact that they have lost the services of two of their best men--Young and Bennett."

Harley Won.

New York, Jan. 15.--Harvard defeated Columbia by the score of 5

CURLING.

Thistle Won First Game.

The roaring game was played at both curling rinks Saturday afternoon and evening, between the Thistle and St. Andrew's club in their first annual match for the championship. A large number of spectators were present to witness the game which was keenly contested by some skips, while others as the score will show were completely snowed under. The following is the score of each skip: Thistle skips: St. Andrew's skips: Sharp, 14; Barker, 20; Palmer, 18; Smith, 15; McAndrews, 18; Clarke, 12; Rivers, 14; skip, 20; Malcolm, D., 2; Watson, 21; Shaw, F., 20; Harrison, 18; Robinson, 17; White, F., 19; Shaw, W. Tea Shots.

Napoleon won by six "Sharp" shots. Smith and Palmer had a great game. McAndrew's only downed Clarke once.

Old War Kibble put Billie into the river.

The St. Andrew's had a lead of twenty points. Andy Malcolm downed J. W. Thomson 9 points, what's the matter James? Bruce was not there.

Another keen contest was the game of Jones and McClelland.

John Malcolm beat T. McCa, Stewart out by three. Skip Sandy Watson buried Douglas very deep. Courtney did not do a thing with W. A. Stewart 22 to 7.

The W. A. Shaw combination whipped it into Jack White by a score of 20 to 10. There must have been some south paws in Shaw's rink to do this.

Boris Willett the cracker jack lost to Dr. Magee by four points. "I did not think that."

Next Saturday another game.

Moncton Defeats Sackville.

Moncton, Jan. 15.--Four rinks of Sackville curlers played a twelve end game with Moncton here yesterday afternoon and were defeated by 19 shots. Score by skips: Sackville: Moncton: 14 T. Murray, 3; W. N. Rippey, 15; W. M. Tweedie, 5; J. F. Faulkner, 9; G. C. Allen, 9; 45; 26.

The agreement between the two universities is a two year one and renews itself at the expiration of each term unless an objection by either university calls for a change. Today no complaint being heard from either committee the agreement was renewed. Details of the rule prohibiting any athlete from either college from accepting money prizes or rewards for participating in any sport through the summer season, was talked over in its various phases. Mr. Camp said that out of today's discussion will be formulated a rule which will be presented by the committee which will state in definite terms that an athlete cannot accept money, reward or any compensation, except his expenses, and remain eligible to the college team.

THE TREASURY BOARD AND THE ASSESSORS.

Re-appointed Old Board, But Will Seek Legislation to Increase the Number to Five—Ald. Macrae Refers to the Great Weakness of the Present System.

A meeting of the treasury board, was held in the city building this morning.

The question of re-appointing the present assessors, which according to an act of the legislature, is required to be made in January of each year.

The present assessors are: A. W. Sharpe (chairman), Irish Drake, R. Farmer.

Their re-appointment was the subject for discussion. Of late there has been considerable talk about the advisability of appointing two extra assessors, which would entail an extra expense of at least $1,000.

At the present time the assessors have been paid $400 each.

Ald. Macrae before the board had been explained by the chairman, Ald. McGoldrick stated that he did not see why the council should go to the expense of paying $2,000 for tax commissioners.

The city has been appointing assessors but and they had done their work. To appoint two new assessors, as had been proposed, he did not see how the city council could do it.

The board adjourned.

Chairman Robinson said that the local legislature will not be called together before the first of March.

It is impossible that the tax commissioners might be able to report during the approaching meeting of the legislature.

The chairman paid a tribute to the efficiency and capabilities of the three members of the commission, and said whatever action they took would be entirely in the interests of the city.

Ald. Macrae at this stage suggested the situation. He contended that the law was workable as regards the assessment but that according to what he could ascertain the assessors did not think so.

He considered that the Board of Assessors is practically a farce, that according to the way such boards are conducted in many of the prominent cities of Canada.

Under the present system, he said, any assured business man can do the city nine times out of ten.

Ald. Frink said it might be possible that the commission could not draft an act to pass through the legislature in time.

Ald. McGoldrick motioned that no change be made in the assessors for the current year when then put and carried.

Ald. Frink then moved that the board recommend to the common council that a bill be drawn up and presented to the legislature in amendment regarding the appointment of assessors for the city of St. John.

The motion was adopted.

It might be stated that this act if passed will empower the council to appoint assessors practically at their will and pleasure.

Providing for the appointment of the number of assessors to five. The motion was adopted.
