HOSPITAL AFTER MONTREAL BOUT

Rioux Has Jaw and Nose Broken—Mayor Stops the Contest.

Montreal, Oct. 20.—With a broken jaw, a broken nose and a bad cut on the forehead and general laceration of the face, Eliezer Rioux was admitted to the hospital last night, following one of the most dogged and sanguinary bouts seen in this city, a battle in which the French Canadian heavyweight withstood a terrific punishment from Archie Skinner, a recent arrival from Scotland.

Skinner was floored four times in the first two rounds. Both men were bleeding freely, and the bout ended when Mayor Martin ordered the officials to stop it, on the plea that there was "too much blood." No decision was given, the bout being declared "no contest."

Joe Burns was given the decision on points from Kid Henry, in a preliminary round. In a second preliminary round, Eddie Boyle of New York knocked out Pete Campbell of Scotland in the first round. In a second preliminary round, Pat McAdam of Scotland was given the decision over Bert Noonan of Halifax.

TURNED AWAY FROM BIG BOSTON HOTEL, SAYS ROBERT FROST, POET

They Wanted His Full Address and He Had None.

Robert Frost, one of the most distinguished living American poets, is telling women's clubs a joke on Boston so utterly unfair that for the city's good name he must be exposed before he immortalizes his experience in imperishable verse, says the Boston Herald. Boston, with its crowded streets, its sylvan bridge and its culture, is the target of so much humor that when a man thrust can be paraded, it must be done—even though the defence point the joke toward Mr. Frost and cause him fear of a fine not less than $10, nor more than $45, for conspiracy to violate the "true name" law.

Mr. Frost makes his charges as a prelude to reading from his poems. He makes them in a charming way, in rambling, whimsical vein, altogether amusing. But his complaint, stripped of poetry, is blunt enough; that he was refused a room—turned away, in fact—from one of Boston's best-known hotels, because he lived in the country. Mr. Frost left hastily and soon obtained accommodations at another hotel, where he realized he was not so well known; but the harm had been done, he had suffered humiliation, and hence was angry.

The great poet told his pen over the register in the hotel of his choice, William D. Howells, thought Mr. Frost, as he turned back somewhat wearily.

"I am most sorry to trouble you, Mr. Frost," the clerk continued, "but we must have your complete address. You know, it is not our street number, you know, it is—"

"None," replied the poet, "I have never had, and I have never had one written more than that; besides I am not here."

"That is the law," the clerk replied. "We are required to get the full address of every guest."

"But I haven't any full address," confessed Mr. Frost indignantly.

"You cannot understand that," the clerk said. "My street has no name and my house has no number. On that account I do not have a name."

And hereupon, the poet declared, he actually was denied a room. He tells the story in a simple, direct, and to the point manner, with a touch of humor and a touch of indignation.

Then he concludes his tale by saying that he has been told to look for the poet in a rural district, devoid of full addresses, and how he was much surprised, and how he was cordially welcomed, just as though the hostelry were a special business in countrymen.

Strangely enough, the second hotel is under the same management as the first, although Mr. Frost did not know it at the time. Certainly, something is wrong, if Mr. Frost's story is absolutely accurate. Can it be that the old Newcomb place, most to the top of the hill? Of course, he could sleep between the whitest of sheets if he lived at 23 Hillside terrace. In short, he should be able to find his way to all the hotels in the city. In fact, it is not until he visits Boston, or mustn't they visit Boston?

So far reaching in its effects, so discriminating, so unjust would such a situation be, did it exist, that investigation seemed a duty. In fairness to Boston, inquiry reveals beyond a doubt that the situation does not exist, absolutely, without qualification, indubitably. Anyone whom the immigrants

BARN AND COWS AT MARTINON BURN

James Evans Also Loses Horse, Pig, Grain and Vehicles.

James Evans, Martinon, met with a severe loss early this morning when he destroyed his barn and all its contents, one loss being about $1,800, of which $600 was covered by insurance.

The fire was discovered about 12:45 by Mrs. Evans who awakened from her sleep and saw the reflection. Mr. Evans at once started for the barn but the flames were so fierce that he could not get into the building to save anything. He lost the building, three cows, one horse and one pig, and his stock of hay and grain and farm machinery and vehicles.

After the fire had been burning about half an hour the wind changed and all that was saved was house and going as well. Mrs. Evans said this morning to The Times.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

ENGLAND VS. LOS ANGELES

Toronto Paper Makes Pertinent Comment on Picture Making.

The Toronto Star says editorially: "The first English super-film shown at Massey Hall last night scored a decided success. The crowds in coming out pronounced it wonderful picture, and they carried away with them the feeling that they had not only had a fine entertainment but had derived a certain amount of solid worth from it as well."

"The conception of the author was to take half a dozen children born about the year 1819 and trace the story of their lives against the background of the great events that occurred during their lifetime. One of the infants selected at the outset was the child Alexandra Victoria, afterwards to become the great Queen. But royalty by no means dominates the picture. There is, in some cases a clerk instead of a king, and the town is too small for street addresses and nothing more is said. Sometimes the clerk learns this only after asking the guest for a complete address."

Mr. Frost laughs at Boston but all the managers laugh at the idea of turning a man away because he lacks a house number. "We do our best to comply with the law, and no more," they say. "All we can do is to take the roll of guests as to where they live."

The race between the Ariel and Teapling from Pagoda Anchorage, China, to Dungeness on the English channel stands out as the most famous sailing ship race in history.

Some prominent geologists predict that the American petroleum supply will be exhausted within fifty years.

"The Game of Life" must have been produced at vast cost. The scenes are staged across the streets of London, at periods as far apart as the Coronation of Victoria and the Diamond Jubilee, with thousands of people costumed according to the differing fashions of the time, must be regarded as achievements in film work.

The charge of the Light Brigade at Balaklava is one of the most thrilling sights ever pictured. Yet all these scenes belong to one plot of the story and play their part in the lives of the characters, whom the audience see at intervals from infancy to tottering old age.

"The Game of Life" is to be the attraction of Imperial Theatre the first three days of next week. Elaborate patriotic musical programme. Usual admission prices.

DUMBELLS TO ADD TO GALA OCCASION

There is good cheer in the world "Cheerio," especially in reference to the Imperial Theatre. The odds are that the "Dumbbells" series of overtures. "Cheerio" is billed as a new source and its success meets with the approval of the theatrical circles. The charge of the Light Brigade at Balaklava is one of the most thrilling sights ever pictured. Yet all these scenes belong to one plot of the story and play their part in the lives of the characters, whom the audience see at intervals from infancy to tottering old age.

Captain Plunkett has produced a musical revue in "Cheerio," his fifth production in Canada, that is said by the upper Canada papers to surpass in every way any of the previous presentations of the series, both from the standpoint of artistic excellence and tuneful appeal.

AL. PLUNKETT,

The stage settings are many and magnificent. The costume revelation. Ross Hamilton scores the greatest success of his career with three big feature songs and an active part in the comedy sketches. Al Plunkett sings and smiles his way to headline honors with his accustomed ease. ## ROBBED OF 2 THOUSAND AT TORONTO

Roll of Money Located in Stocking of Woman Driving Car.

MONEY IS DEMANDED
Three Thousand Dollars are Taken by Two Highwaymen.

(By Canadian Press.)
Toronto, Oct. 20.—Two highwaymen, one masked and armed with two revolvers, held up and robbed Mrs. Sadie Grupstein of $2,375, and Louis Rice of $750 and a gold watch, on the Kingston Road, a few miles east of the city limits, at midnight. Rice was first searched and his money taken and then one of the highwaymen searched his companion, finally discovering the roll of $2,375 in her stockings.

Mrs. Grupstein was driving east along the Kingston-Toronto highway in her coupe machine with Rice sitting beside her. She slowed up the machine, she says, to let Rice out to examine the front tire which she felt had become "flat." Just as she slowed down two men sprang out from the darkness, opened the door and seized Rice, hauling him out of the car on the roadway.

Is Ordered to Shoot.
"Shoot—shoot," yelled a voice, and the gunman forced Rice around to the rear and sat him down on the bumper. "Come on with the money," he demanded. Rice handed over a ten dollar bill. The gunman searched Rice, finding $750 in his hat pocket in the top of his trousers.

After Robbing Rice the gunman turned to Mrs. Grupstein and demanded she hand over her money. He leveled his gun at her head. "Please don't shoot—I'm a mother." He then searched Mrs. Grupstein. He opened her blouse and searched for money.

No money was there. The gunman then went through her pockets and found some change in a little pocket in her dress. But he apparently knew she was in possession of more money, for he rolled down her stockings and found the $2,375 in a roll.

ROLLS BARREL TO PAY SERIES BET

Ralph Journey, Lower Cove to Indiantown.

Another freak bet was paid this afternoon when Ralph Preston rolled a gasoline barrel from the Imperial Oil Co. yard at Lower Cove, to Indiantown as a result of pinning his faith on "MacGrath's crew's" ability to win a third wire in series. He was sure they would win that when Frank Kiley questioned it he enthusiastically agreed that if they lost he would part with this stunt of rolling a barrel through the city streets and having lost it manually carrying out his word.

He says there was no evidence of hard times so far as outward appearances went. The people were all remarkably well dressed, and the number of automobiles, especially in Toronto, was amazing. One man he met had to park his car four blocks away from the hotel where he lodged, so fully was available space taken up.

3 DROWN AFTER PARTY ON BOAT

Police Suspect Craft Upside After Fight - Woman Among Victims.

New York, Oct. 20.—Edward Logue, captain of the stakeboat Rak, anchored off Whitestone, Queens, his wife, and Terry Gillespie, manager of a White-stone grocery, were drowned when the dinghy in which they were rowing ashore was overturned.

Newton's version of the tragedy was that a swell had struck the dinghy and upset it. The police of the marine division were investigating a report, however, that there was a fight aboard the tiny craft.

Newton was brought to Manhattan by Captain Lorenz Johnson of an O'Brien Brothers Towing Company tug, and after being questioned by the police of the East Twenty-second street station was treated at Bellevue Hospital. Newton said that he and Gillespie had been guests at a party on board the Rak last night and, according to the police, admitted that they had had a few drinks. The accident occurred about six o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Logue tried to swim to the Rak when the dinghy overturned. Newton said she clung with him, to the overturned dinghy until her strength gave out.

Capt. Johnson recovered her body from the water and also found her dog, a Spitz, that was splashing around near by.

Newton told the police that Capt. Logue was at the oars when the accident happened. Gillespie and Mrs. Logue were in the stern and Newton was in the bow. Logue and Gillespie disappeared when the boat overturned, Newton said. The seaman said also that Mrs. Margaret Callahan, 14 years old, was another guest at the party. She remained aboard the stakeboat with the captain's children, Edward, 14 years old, and Robert, 10.

The Rak is kept anchored off White-stone by Owen McCaffrey's Sons, 1 Broadway, a transportation company, and barges in transit are tied to it temporarily.

John Coughlan, of Vancouver, arrived in the city yesterday and is a guest at the Royal Hotel. Mr. Coughlan is making his first visit to St. John since 1876, just one year previous to the great fire. He remained in the city for only one day on his visit 47 years ago, he had little to say regarding any changes other than that when he arrived yesterday, he was looking for an hotel in Princess street, as it was the place he stopped at on his first visit.

FRED. W. DORMAN DIED IN MONCTON

Was a Native of St. John and Well Known in the City.

News of the passing of Fred W. Dorman will recall to the older citizens memories of years long gone, for he was in his eighty-eighth year, and was well known about St. John, in which city he was born and where he spent his life.

Mr. Dorman was a charter member of Union Lodge, Knights of Pythias, and was one of the last if not the very last survivor of the original lodge.

For very many years he was employed in the old Opera House, and before that in the old Academy of Music, a key of which was among his cherished belongings. He was there when the Academy was destroyed in the great fire in 1877, and engaged so earnestly in fighting the flames from point to point that he had eventually to take a small boat and row along the Back Shore to join his family, who were later driven from their refuge also.

Mr. Dorman's hair and beard were silver, and his clothes partly brown during the experiences of that awful day.

He knew Nannary and all the old time theatrical men connected with the Academy, and lists was identified with the Opera House. The older newspaper men have a kindly recollection of him, for he gave them many a hint of news, and visited the offices when time permitted.

Mrs. Dorman died some nine years ago. For some time Mr. Dorman lived with his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Barnes, of St. John West, but for the last year he was in Moncton. He is survived by four sons—Charles F., of Missoula, Montana; Harry, of Seattle; George F., of Moncton and William W., of St. John, and one daughter, Mrs. J. W. Barnes of this city.

The body will be brought from Moncton today to the home of his son, William W. Dorman, First street, and the funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at half-past two o'clock. The family have the sympathy not only of the Pythians, but of many citizens who have kindly memories of Fred W. Dorman.

Each day's receipts for the Japanese relief fund at the Red Cross depot amount to a considerable sum and the grand total is steadily advancing. The money received yesterday was as follows: St. Paul's church, $51.46; St. John's (Stone) church, $178.03, and a second contribution from Fredericton, $4.

New York, Oct. 20.—Abe Goldstein of New York won the judges' decision over Joe Barman of Chicago in a 12-round match at Madison Square Garden last night. Goldstein substituted for Joe Lynch, bantamweight champion, although Barman was recognized as the title-holder in New York State.

Lynch dislocated his shoulder yesterday, his manager announced. Barman weighed 118 pounds, and Goldstein 117 1/2.

TRAFALGAR DAY.

Tomorrow comes the Trafalgar anniversary, and the people of the Empire, honoring the memory of peerless Nelson, remember what sea power has meant in their nation's history, and give thought to what, perchance, it may mean again. But for the ships and the gallant souls who manned them the Empire had been impossible. That wonderful heritage is ours to keep, to guard, and to pass on inviolate to those who come after.

The story of Trafalgar loses none of its glorious inspiration with the passage of time, the story of Nelson's greatest triumph and of his death in the hour when victory was complete and Britain's mastery of the seas was established. Southey in a few words sets the stage for the action of Cadiz by setting forth the significance of the issue:

"The vast plans of the French Emperor included an expedition to cross the Channel and crush England, and to accomplish this he gathered all his available French ships and also those of his ally, Spain. These were intended to protect his army in its passage to England, but Nelson met the French and Spanish fleet off the Spanish coast at Cape Trafalgar, and Britain's empire over the seas was established beyond controversy."

In communicating to Collingwood the order of battle and how the enemy's line was to be broken, "Nelson said that his admirals and captains, knowing his precise object to be that of a close and decisive action, would supply any deficiency of signals and act accordingly. In case signals cannot be seen or clearly understood, no captain can do wrong if he places his ship alongside that of an enemy."

Villeneuve had superiority in numbers and still more in guns, but could not prevail against the spirit and the resolution of the English led by Nelson in the Victory. "The English fleet," says Southey, "consisted of twenty-seven sail of the line and four frigates—the French, of thirty-three and seven large frigates. The French superiority was more in size and weight of metal than in numbers. They had four thousand troops on board; and the best riflemen who could be procured—many of them Tyrolese—were dispersed through the ships." Signal was made to hear down upon the enemy in two lines, Collingwood in the Royal Sovereign leading the leeward line of thirteen ships, and Nelson in the Victory the weather line of fourteen. The fleet having set all sail Nelson retired to his cabin and wrote a prayer for victory. "May the great God, whom I worship, grant to my country, and for the benefit of Europe in general, a great and glorious victory; and may no misconduct in anyone tarnish it; and may humanity after victory be the predominant feature in the British fleet. For myself individually, I commit my life to Him that made me; and may His blessing alight on my endeavors for serving my country faithfully. To Him I resign myself, and the just cause which is intrusted to me to defend. Amen, Amen." Nelson's immortal signal "England expects every man to do his duty," was "received throughout the fleet with a shout of answering acclamation, made sublime by the spirit which it breathed and the feeling which it expressed."

The Victory was long under heavy fire from ships which hoped to disable her before she could close with them. "The Victory had not yet returned a single gun; fifty of her men had been by this time killed or wounded, and her main-topmast, with all her studding-sails and her booms shot away. Nelson declared that in all his battles he had seen nothing which had surpassed the cool courage of his crew on this occasion. At four minutes after twelve the Victory opened fire from both sides of her deck." Soon afterwards she ran aboard the Redoubtable, from the heritage the great admirals kept for us, the duty to keep the old flag flying, to guard the Empire by sea and by land, by sacrifice and by devotion, to honor Nelson and the great captains best by keeping alive the spirit that made them and the race great, to keep the nation worthy of its priceless inheritance.

CIVIC EFFICIENCY.

Ottawa is having a discussion as to civic methods and efficiency, and opinion there still favors an annual election for Mayor rather than the two-year term adopted in many other cities. The longer term for the chief elective official has been brought into force as a rule because of the argument that it brings more continuity of policy, gives a man time to carry his ideas into effect, and makes him more independent than he is under the one-year rule. The two-year term is likely to be abandoned in Chatham, Ont., on the ground that unless there is an annual election the interest of citizens in community matters tends to decline. The Ottawa Journal thinks the short term in practice affords all the advantages of the longer one, and avoids some of the disadvantages, and it stoutly contends that there is no trouble about continuity of policy as Ottawa is always ready to re-elect a good man—a state of affairs indicating a just and vigilant citizenship.

"The people of Ottawa," says the Journal, "have shown a disposition to retain good men in the Mayor's office and in the City Council as long as they wish to remain, re-electing them year after year. Thus we have that continuity of policy that is urged as one of the benefits of the two-year term. Nor does an honest, capable member of the City Council need to be forever striving to guide his attitude and actions in the disposition of civic questions with a view to vote-catching at the annual election. If he lets the interests of the city be his guide he has little occasion to worry about re-election. The annual election does not only assist in maintaining the interest of the people in civic affairs, it also serves to keep the office holder alert. He is less likely to be negligent of his duties and responsibilities if he has to go before his constituents at the end of every year and give an account of his stewardship than if he were permitted to forget them for two years."

It sounds all right, but when does the Mayor of Ottawa find time to eat and sleep? One is moved to ask the question upon reading in the Citizen a partial list of the Mayor's activities: "Early and late the Mayor must be on hand. To gain an idea of the time and thought he must put into his job as Mayor, one need only enumerate the functions he must take part in during the course of his term of office. In the first week in a month, an auspicious beginning is made with a City Council meeting. Each Tuesday and Thursday afternoon there is a Board of Control meeting. That would be a comparatively simple matter, but there are also special meetings and adjourned meetings which occupy long hours of effort. Then there is the special Tuesday night Board of Control meeting, inaugurated this year, to receive deputations. The latter never fail to turn up. This list by no means exhausts the engagements the Mayor is called upon to meet. Almost each day there is a committee gathering of some sort, sometimes two. If it is not the street railway committee, it is the hospital, playgrounds, group insurance, town planning, tree planting, plumbing, building by-law or some other committee. And if there is no committee, there may be a meeting of the police commission, of which the Mayor is chairman, or the Ottawa Improvement commission, the Hydro-Electric Commission or the Board of Health, all of which he is a member ex-officio. In case he has a few minutes yet to spare, there is probably a reception or a deputation, a civic welcome or a municipal celebration. Between times he must attend to correspondence and other matters."

The length of the civic term has probably less bearing upon good civic government than is commonly supposed. The people succeed in electing good candidates and in keeping their affairs in order if they constantly show a lively and intelligent interest in civic affairs. If they are careless and apathetic no particular system of civic administration will give satisfaction. Everywhere it is increasingly difficult to get strong and capable men to accept official duties which involve a great sacrifice of time and which are too often a thankless task. The more lively and general the interest of the taxpayers, the better the chance to get good candidates and satisfactory government whether the term be one year or two.

One that Bonar Law told at Lloyd George's expense after they parted company has been revived in connection with the former Prime Minister's fish widow was made a prisoner in a war against a savage hill tribe and carried into captivity, chained to one of his captors. The bad news came in a letter from a brother soldier. HARMSWORTH DOCUMENTS REVEAL ROMANTIC STORIES OF EARLY CANADA

Vaudreuil's Action may have Prevented Montcalm from Holding Quebec. London, Oct. 20.—(Special cable to Canadian Press by Geo. Hamletton, staff correspondent)—Romantic stories from the dim pages of Canadian history are being slowly unfolded from the collection of original documents which Sir Leicester Harmsworth has presented to the Canadian Government as memorial to his brother the late Lord Northcliffe.

There are volumes of maps, diaries and communications but ranking first in interest among them so far is a letter in faded handwriting. It was written by Gen. Montcalm to De Bougainville, his second in command, seven days before Wolfe's soldiers made their way up the steep heights at Wolfe's Cove and captured the Plains of Abraham. At that time Gen. Montcalm's army was camped on the Beauport shore below Quebec, but Montcalm apparently was aware of the weak link in the French defences on the Heights of Abraham. "There, above Wolfe's Cove, De Rumigny was in command of a French outpost. "I am sending a regiment of Guéneau (an old French province) to Monsieur De Rumigny," Montcalm writes to De Bougainville. "The regiment never came. That same night Wolfe's soldiers climbed the slope and defeated the French forces on the Plains of Abraham."

What would have happened had the regiment of Guéneau been there to defend the way is a matter of keen speculation. In the face of such resistance Wolfe's men might not have succeeded at all and the French regiment in Canada might have had a very different history.

The documents are now being closely examined by Dr. A. G. Doughty, Dominion archivist. They are so numerous that only a cursory examination has been possible up to the present time. In all likelihood other correspondence will be found to throw additional light on the Montcalm-Vaudreuil episode.

Although the notice plainly stated that no fishing was allowed, the angler sat placidly dangling his line over the stream. The irate keeper who approached him was surprised to see the line was baited with a potato. In an amused voice he asked the angler what he was doing. "Fishing," was the reply. "You see, my health has been upset by financial worries, and I came down here to see what fresh air would do for me."

"Thinking that the man was mentally weak, the keeper did not trouble him, and walked away. "That evening, in the local inn, the keeper was telling his friends about his amusing experience when in walked the angler. "Caught anything?" inquired the innkeeper thoughtfully. "No," answered the angler. "Here," interposed the keeper, "you didn't catch those with a potato?" "No," was the cool reply; "that was what I caught you with."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

LOWER COVE BOULEVARD. To the Editor of The Times. Sir,—As I previously stated, a delegation of citizens would wait on the members of the Common Council, to urge removal of the fence erected by the Exhibition Association across Wentworth street to the Barracks Square. It was because the Association desired to maintain this barrier that the delegation waited upon the Commissioners.

It was made clear from the arguments of the opponents that during the summer months hundreds of persons from various sections of the city were attracted to this beautiful spot for rest and recreation for themselves and their children, or in watching others sporting themselves in the water south of the "Barrack Point," where a number of bathing houses had been erected by the energetic young men of the neighborhood. The objection raised by members of the Exhibition executive would seem to indicate that all the grounds outside of the enclosure belonged to the Dominion Government and, therefore, the City Council had no right to extend Wentworth street, and construct a driveway, as had been done some years ago, around the southern boundary of the Exhibition grounds, thence to Sydney street. This matter has been referred to the Commissioner of Public Works for report back to the Council. In the meantime I have made an examination of the records, and I find that in the year 1887 the Department of Militia and Defence, as representing His Majesty the King, gave the City of St. John a clear title to all the land in dispute.

With these facts before them the Commissioners should experience little difficulty in meeting the views of the citizens who are asking for the restoration of the facilities they so long enjoyed. Yours truly, JOHN B. JONES.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR DOCK PICTURES

Plans for taking official motion pictures of the ceremonies in connection with the opening of the mammoth dry dock on Monday afternoon, Oct. 29, were practically completed at a meeting of the citizens' committee last evening in Mayor Fisher's office. Walter H. Golding, chairman of the picture committee, gave a comprehensive report of what could be done in this direction and he was empowered to proceed along lines he suggested. His suggestion that the citizens' committee should have a very different history.

Mr. Golding also was empowered to complete arrangements to have "still" pictures taken for publication in the photographic sections of some of the leading newspapers of the continent. Reporting for the parade committee of which he is chairman, Commissioner John Thornton announced that the Gyro Club had offered to provide a float for "Miss Canada" (Miss Winnifred Blair) in the parade and that the offer had been accepted. He said that to date the following organizations had definitely decided to enter floats: Gyro Club, Garrison Club, civic employees, firemen, St. John Power Boat Club, Pythian Sisters. The chairman announced that Guy L. Short had been appointed secretary of the parade committee and that W. E. Scully, M. P. P., had been added to the committee.

Commissioner Thornton expressed himself as being confident that the parade would be a huge success. Monetary prizes, he said, would be put up. F. S. A. McMullen, reporting for the band committee, submitted prices for the services of the four bands. He was instructed to engage the bands at the prices they named. MRS. LINDQUIST TELLS WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did for Her

Kansas City, Mo.—"I was left in a very serious condition after childbirth and no one thought I could ever be any better. Then came the 'Change of Life' and I was not prepared for what I had to suffer. I had to go to bed at times to be perfectly quiet as I could not even stoop down to pick anything from the floor. I did not suffer any pain, but I was decidedly nervous and could not sleep. For nearly two years I was this way, and the doctor was frank enough to tell me that he could do no more for me. Shortly after this I happened to see in a newspaper an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In a few days the medicine was in the house and I had begun its use and I took it regularly until I was well. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to others when I have the opportunity."—MRS. ## SAYS EFFORTS TO WESTERNIZE RUSS WILL FINALLY WIN

Declares Dreams of Reformers Thwarted so Far by Racial Factors

London, Oct. 12.—Writing in the Daily News, Herbert Bailey says: "All the reformers in Russia, whether Tsar or Communist, peasant or industrialist, have always looked to the west, yet have found their schemes curtailed and their dreams unrealized because the people are still of the east."

"Peter the Great insisted that Russia should borrow her future from Europe, and Lenin has only been his natural successor. Lenin has always visualized a Russia imitated developed on the lines of all that scientifically exists in Europe and America. He wished at one time to electrify the whole of Russia, and gigantic schemes to attain this object still exist in Moscow while even now the Russian army is exploiting all that it knows of aviation to construct formidable air forces."

"Both he and Trotsky wished to bring Russia abreast of the nations of the west, but both have found that while Russia is three centuries behind Europe in scientific development, the human material that was to ensure the triumph of western science in eastern Russia is too crude, too unskilled, too uneducated, and generally too indolent to ensure the immediate enlightenment of their ideas. They have postponed their experiment while they slowly eradicate the human defects.

Says Movement Will Prevail.

"It is only a postponement, for the movement to westernize Russia will prevail. To the west or perish, is the cry of every Russian reformer. The stimulation of ideas and activity produced by the events of the last nine years in Russia will produce a startling vitality in the next few years."

"Russia will borrow extensively from Europe, but she will borrow more freely from America. All those features of American life which find their source in the agricultural character of the country will be reproduced in Russia. The light automobile, like the Ford, which provides the American farmer with a cheap means of transit, the extensive development of the telephone, which enables the American farmer's wife to fight the battle of loneliness, the multiplication of the gramophone, the growth of the cinema, the wide use of the radio, even the huge circulation of popular magazines, which are the product of America's agricultural life, will have their counterpart in Russia as the movement toward the west and the emancipation from the east continues."

"Whether the new Russia will be as attractive or as spiritually happy as the old we cannot tell. But she will certainly astonish the world."

ADVENTURE!

70-Year Old Commissioner to Brave Rio Grande's Perils

GEORGE CURRY, READY FOR HIS EXPLORATION

By NEA Service

Juarez, Mex., Oct. 17.—George Curry, best known of all public men in the southwest and one score years past the half century mark, wasn't born in Missouri.

Nevertheless he has to be shown to be convinced.

Hence his determination, at 70, to traverse the entire tortuous length of the Rio Grande from El Paso to its termination at Brownsville, Tex.

Curry, ex-governor of New Mexico, former congressman and lately appointed commissioner on the U. S. Mexican Boundary Commission, will make the trip to acquaint himself with every twist and bend of the stream.

He has gathered up his cars and outboard engine of the quarter-in-the-slot variety, principally to test the river's navigability declared possible by a Supreme Court decision, but never demonstrated as practical.

In order to fill his role as commissioner he wants to know first-hand all about the boundary question, and though there are ample works on the subject, Curry isn't the type to take things second-hand when he can get the facts himself.

On the 1400-mile trip he will cook his own pork and beans and expects to reach the trail's end around Christmas.

Accompanied by an engineer as his sole companion, the exploration party, if it succeeds on its mission, will be the first to traverse the entire water route since the days of the Spanish settlers.

AIR LINE TO EUROPE BEING CONSIDERED

United States Interests Reported at Work on Northern Route

Copenhagen, Oct. 19.—Lieutenant Crumrine, of the American Naval Air Service, has arrived here on his way to Greenland, with the Danish Government's permission, to find suitable landing places for aeroplanes and examine whether climatic conditions in Greenland permit of aviation.

According to Lieutenant Crumrine, America is considering the possibility of establishing an air route between New York and Europe via Labrador, Greenland, Iceland, the Faroes, and Scotland. Instead of via the Azores and Spain.

The Greenland route would be 1,000 miles longer, but it offers more landing places, the longest distance being 650 miles, whereas the Azores route presents an unbroken distance of 1,300 miles.

Jumps in Water, Saves Wife, Leaves Before He Recognizes Her

Cowes, Eng., Oct. 19 — A man, drenched and breathless, rushed on board the last steamer for Southampton as the gangway was being pulled on board a few nights ago and explained that he had been delayed by jumping in the water to rescue a woman. His name was Knecker, and he was one of the firemen in the steamer.

Inquiries were made and it was found that a woman had wandered down a slipway by the side of the pier in the darkness and had slipped into the water. She explained that a man jumped in and rescued her and hurried away.

The police, continuing their investigation, found, to their great astonishment,

FORMER CITY MAN IS COMING BACK

Thomas Daley, a former St. John boy, who for the last seven years has been located in Halifax, as manager of the Cosmos Theatre, has severed his connection with that theatre and returned to St. John to accept a position with F. G. Spencer. Mr. Daley will have charge of the purchasing of the photoplays for Mr. Spencer's entire circuit of theatres and also the management of the local Unique Theatre. Mr. Daley's advertising and explanation methods have on different occasions drawn recognition from American photoplay magazines and, in a recent issue of the Exhibition Herald, Mr. Daley was cited as "one of the best advertisers in the theatrical business." Specimens of his work have been entered by that journal in the Bok competition. Mr. Daley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Daley, of Union street, St. John.

DOG, SENTENCED TO LIFE IMPRISONMENT, WAITS FOR DEATH TO SET HIM FREE FROM CANADIAN JAIL

By NEA Service
New Westminster, B. C.—Glen, a brown and white collie dog, is waiting for death to free him from his life sentence in the provincial penitentiary here.

For 10 long years, the cold gray walls flanking the prison confine have marked his playground.

Companionship of other dogs is unknown to him. Men in stripes—prison-was commuted to life imprisonment. Though doomed to a life of constant confinement inside the forbidding piles upon the town, Glen has made the best of things.

In reconciled dog fortitude he has caught the little green runway with choice bones retrieved from the prison kitchen.

And as a mark of gratitude for the many kindnesses shown him, he acts as voluntary guard over his companion prisoners.

Even in his old age, with sunken, almost toothless gums, they fear to escape while Glenn maintains strict watch at night.

He will permit no convict to leave the prison after hours, unless the removal is effected in most formal manner, with a guard marching on either side of the man. Once he even refused to let Warden Patchell remove a prisoner at night.

Nor did it make any difference to Glen that the warden happened to be the guard who years before had saved him from execution.

Rank, nor friendship, meant nothing when duty called.

Glen's predicament was brought about because he listened to the voice of his dog's sense of justice.

When scarcely more than a pup, some small boys bombarded the garden in which he was kept, with stones. They did it constantly and so outraged him that one day he pursued them and nipped one of his tormentors.

The lad was not seriously hurt for Glenn's teeth were then too small to do much harm.

But when the matter was taken to court he lost. And now nothing can get him from the penitentiary—not even the warden, who, when he retired the other day, tried to take Glenn with him.

The judge had said for life. Only death can revoke the sentence.

U. N. B. MAY RAISE THE STANDARD OF LOCAL LAW SCHOOL

Welcome Extended to Visitors at Formal Opening Last Night.

A spirit that boded well for the future of the Law School of the University of New Brunswick characterized the formal opening held last evening in the Equity Court room in the Pogesley Building. The Senate of the university was represented by the president, Dr. W. S. Carter, chief superintendent of education, by Dr. C. C. Jones, chancellor of the university, and by Dr. W. W. White, a member of the governing board. There were present in addition Chief Justice, Hon. H. McKeown, dean of the law faculty; Dr. J. Roy Campbell, K. C., registrar; Judge H. O. McInerney, professor of law; A. E. Gilbert, secretary; and other members of the faculty.

Chief Justice McKeown, in an able address, extended a welcome to the students and to the visitors. He referred to the course of events, which led up to the severing of relations with Kings College at Windsor and the amalgamation with the provincial university. He dealt with the requirements for the degree of Bachelor of Civil Law, and impressed strongly upon those aspiring to that honor the need for close mental application and strict attention to each detail of the course. At the close of his remarks, he called upon F. D. McGuire, president of the Law Students' Society.

Welcomed By Students.
Mr. McGuire read an address to Chancellor Jones referring to the pleasure which the students felt at having him present at their opening exercises. He made reference to the manifold benefits which would result from the association of the law faculty with the other faculties of the university. He complimented the university on the choice that had been made in the selection of Judge McInerney as all-time professor, and referred to the satisfaction on the part of the students at the retention of Chief Justice McKeown as dean of the faculty and Dr. Campbell in the capacity of registrar. On behalf of the students, he voiced confidence in the new members of the faculty, and expressed the opinion that the combined faculties any law school might well be proud. In conclusion, he expressed a wish that a close bond of fellowship, academic, social and athletic, might exist between the members of the student body resident in St. John and Fredericton. The address, which was handsomely bound and tied with red and black streamers, colors of the U. N. B., was presented to Dr. Jones.

Dr. Jones Replies.
The chancellor, in reply, expressed his pleasure at being present, and voiced his heartfelt thanks for the warm welcome which had been accorded him. He referred to the many men, prominent at bench and bar, who had been graduated from the St. John Law School. He predicted that, at some future time, it might be considered advisable by the senate and faculty of the university to raise in some degree the standard of admittance. With reference to the desire expressed by the president of the students' society regarding close cooperation between members of the student body, he gave his assurance that he would do all in his power to promote such an alliance.

Reviews History.
Dr. Campbell spoke in a reminiscent vein of the founding of the law school by Rev. Dr. Partridge, one time rector of Robbsey, 30 years ago, and traced the stages by which the St. John Law School had come to occupy an outstanding position at the present time. He made feeling reference to Dr. Earle and Dr. Aitken, past deans of the school, and commented upon the energy with which Chief Justice McKeown, present dean, prosecuted his duties. Dr. Carter expressed himself as greatly gratified with the course which events had taken, and paid a tribute to the men who had made amalgamation possible as well as to those who had made and were still making the law school a living force in the education of the young people of the province.

Visitors Thanked.
Dr. White spoke of the close relation between the two great professions of law and medicine, and made reference to the bridge by which the narrow gulf between the two was spanned, namely the subject of medical jurisprudence, in which subject he is lecturer. He voiced his pleasure at the union of the law school with the provincial seat of learning, and endorsed the prediction of Chancellor Jones regarding the raising of the standard.

Judge McInerney voiced his appreciation of the reference which had been made to him in Mr. McGuire's address. He stressed the value of the law school to the community, and said that the province might well be proud of every graduate that had gone forth from the St. John Law School.

N. H. S. RECEIVES OLD PICTURES

Eight Prints of Famous Scenes are Gift of Dr. J. C. Webster.

The Natural History Society has had the good fortune to receive as a gift from Dr. J. Clarence Webster eight prints of the famous series of Bartlett prints which were made prior to 1942 and which depict scenes in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia at that date. The pictures are in excellent condition and seven of the eight are beautifully tinted. The prints have been hung in the lecture hall at the museum, where the walls are now used to exhibit some of the society's interesting historical pictures as well as the portraits of many of those who have been connected with the society since its inception.

A small number of the fine paintings of the St. John Art Club's collections are also hung in the lecture hall and in all there are close to 100 pictures on exhibition there.

Dr. Webster's gift is a very valuable one, not only from a monetary viewpoint, but also, as an art treasure and as an historical exhibit. The prints are small in size, but the work is extremely fine and delicate. The pictures have narrow frames of grey-stained wood which show up their dainty coloring most effectively.

One print shows a view of St. John from the "Signal" which was the name of the Tower Hill in Carleton. Another print shows Halifax from Dartmouth, and a third gives a view of Windsor, N. S., from the residence of Judge Halliburton, author of Sam Slick.

The collection of prints will be an object of much interest to the visitors to the museum and cannot fail to charm as well as interest.

World's Record Fish

Captured off St. Ann's Bay, N.S., by Mr. J. K. L. Koss, Director of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and well known sportsman and race-horse owner, this tuna weighed 712 pounds, a world's record fish via the rod and reel. Using a Von Holt tuna rod and reel, No. 39 thread line and mackerel for bait, Mr. Ross landed the big fellow in three and a quarter hours. It was 9 feet 2 inches in length, and 6 feet in girth.

Mr. Ross for many years has been an ardent tuna hunter. He has landed many large ones, some weighing over 600 pounds but until the summer he was unable to beat the record of Captain Laurie D. Mitchell who caught a 710 pound tuna of the Nova Scotia coast many years ago.

HIS DRAWINGS REJECTED, CARTOONIST ENDS LIFE
Worcester, Mass., Oct. 20. — Mason H. Robinson, 31 years old, who had ambitions to be an artist and cartoonist, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor in Institute Park.

The young artist aspired to be a cartoonist, but after his marriage nine years ago, his drawing came back from the magazines and newspapers in such numbers that he was forced to seek employment in a wire mill to get money enough to live on. His dead body was found in the park, and with it were two notes to his wife, telling her of his discouragement and loathing for his work in the wire mill.

The gain in the number of horses in the United States during the last 25 years has been 2,750,000.

The collection of prints will be an object of much interest to the visitors to the museum and cannot fail to charm as well as interest.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

It Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wych's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time by morning. The gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wych's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

The Brockton show he said is one of the most successful on the continent, drawing attendance from the thickly populated areas of New England, including Boston and its environs.

HIGH IN SOCIETY, SENT TO JAIL FOR STEALING CLOTHES

English Woman Shoplifter
Admits She is Guilty of Several Thefts

London, Oct. 19.—A woman described as having friends holding high positions in society, and who had been admitted to membership of the Royal Yacht Club at Cowes, was at Bournemouth sent to prison for six months for stealing clothing and notes to the value of $825.

The accused, Mrs. Helen Vera MacLaren, 39, was first charged with the theft of a bag and purse, containing notes to the value of $300, the property of Mrs. Inez Lillian Peck, of Branksome Wood Road, in the boot department of Bright's stores at Bournemouth. She pleaded guilty and also admitted stealing clothing from a shop and a minkish coat, the property of Mrs. Kathleen Violet Starkey.

Superintendent Garrett recorded various convictions for thefts against the prisoner, including one offence in the Isle of Wight, which, he said, was committed when she was a member of the Royal Yacht Club at Cowes. There were eight other charges of shoplifting in Bournemouth, in addition to those now being dealt with. There was also jewelry in her possession which she admitted having stolen. Her husband was unaware of what she had been doing, and he had given the police every assistance.

DRINKS ALCOHOL TO FORGET TROUBLE

Wallace, N. S., Oct. 19.—Mrs. Arthur Angevine, aged 42, was at the point of death here tonight as the result of drinking alcohol.

She was found in bed this morning with an alcohol bottle by her side. Mrs. Angevine had been subjected to much worry because of sickness in her family.

GIRL EDITORS And Mighty Live Ones, Too, Their First Paper Shows

They are proud of their sport page, which doesn't look at all as if it had been done by a feminine writer.

The paper, an eight-column, eight-page journal, has all the front page earmarks of a metropolitan daily.

Both girls are former students of Journalism at Indiana University.

"Our experience as real editors has brought us trials, tribulations and humor," says Miss Eigneman.

"In an interview with the chief of police he asked me to run a story telling people not to park their cars on the streets all night without leaving the tail lights burning, or the cars would be tagged and the drivers prosecuted."

"I wrote a big story in accordance with the chief's wishes—

"Then I left my car in front of my house and was the first one tagged!"

Civic Commission Approves $20,000 Contracts—Nearing Completion.

At a meeting of the St. John Electric Power Commission, held yesterday afternoon, contracts for line materials amounting to more than $20,000 were approved subject to the authorization of the Common Council and it was decided to have the engineer make arrangements with the New Brunswick Telephone Company, Ltd., to remedy interference with conversation complained of, provided this interference was not caused by the line of the Telephone Company in Rothesay Avenue, being out of place.

It was also decided to forward to the City Council the letter sent to the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission in connection with the loan of two transformers.

While no formal motion was passed the members of the commission expressed themselves as opposed to the suggestion that they stop canvassing for business at the present time and their determination to carry on energetically.

The Civic Commission's engineer reported yesterday that the distribution system in the northern portion of the city was practically complete, work was being rushed on the West Side, and that plans and specifications were being prepared for the erection of the steel towers on the highway bridge.

The engineer reported that two of the 1,500 k.v.a. transformers of the commission had been loaned to the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission on the condition that in no way should St. John service be interrupted through the New Brunswick Power Co. of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission supplying electricity. A copy of the letter sent to the commission was read and it was decided to forward a copy of this letter to the Common Council.

Want Payment.
A letter from the Stephen Construction Co. enclosing bill for $116.10 for time lost when changing from one location to another, on the order of the engineer and inspectors of the commission, was referred to the engineer for a report. The engineer was also requested to take up the matter of sidewalk repairs around the poles with the Construction Company and with the city solicitor, in case the contractor refused to make the repairs, to find what legal steps were necessary to compel him to do so.

Applications.
An application was read from twelve residents of Tidale Place for lights. It was decided to inform them that at present the commission could not do business outside the city limits and refer them to the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission.

A growing preference is expressed for KING COLE TEA. What other explanation could there be for its persistently increasing sale? Public confidence has been demonstrated in no uncertain way. The testing stage has been passed with honour.

FARNOL IN N. Y., TO WRITE NEW BOOK

British Novelist Returns to City, Where He Rose From Poverty.

New York, Oct. 19.—Jeffrey Farnol, author of "The Broad Highway" and "The Amateur Gentleman," has just arrived from England on his second visit in 20 years, except for a brief trip to cover the Dempsey-Carpenter fight for a London newspaper. According to Mr. Farnol, New York is the "city of glad ventures," which he expects to write while here.

Twenty years ago, Mr. Farnol landed here with $10 in his pocket and no literary reputation. He was on his honeymoon trip and came to seek the forefathers of his American father-in-law, F. Hughson Hawley, a New York artist. Efforts at reconciliation failed, and the young couple went to live in a dismal, rat-haunted studio in Hell's Kitchen, owned by a man named Physic.

Thus, Mr. Farnol met gunmen, thugs, sharpers, and robbers, among them Dago Frank, Lefty Louis, Whitey Lewis, Gyp The Blood and others who became famous in the Becker case. Mr. Farnol says that during these days he had a remarkable sale in the States. Over 17 million jars were yearly.

Her Quinsy Yields to Vicks

The Direct Action of a Vaporizing Salve is Best.

Mr. Joseph Haley, of 199 West Milk Street, Brantford, Ont., says: "My wife has suffered with quinsy for years, but Vicks VapoRub must have prevented it for she got through the winter without a single attack. We sent part of a jar to a neighbor, whose boy was very sick with a cold or grip. He also got relief. Vicks surely should be in every home."

They used to treat cold troubles externally with tallow, goose grease and camphor. Recently, internal dosing has been the habit and people naturally doubt the value of a salve.

For this reason, Canadian druggists introduced Vicks VapoRub, the vaporizing salve for all cold troubles, by giving away dozens of samples to responsible families and every jar sold was on 30-day trial.

The above report is just one of the great many received from enthusiastic Canadian families. With such endorsement and a positive money-back guarantee, every household ought to give Vicks a thorough trial as the home remedy for croup, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, catarrh, neuralgia, cuts, burns, bruises and sores.

At all drug stores, 50c a jar. For free test size package, write Vicks Chemical Co., 844 St. Paul St., W. Montreal, P. Q.

Though Vicks is new in Canada it has a remarkable sale in the States. Over 17 million jars were yearly.

Attention to my work. One product of that period was "Black George," the blacksmith of "The Broad Highway."

"I am going to remain in New York about 10 days. I hope to place a serial and get material for my new book on New York. Of course, I find the city changed after 20 years. What progressive city isn't. But that is all superficial. There are more people here, more noise, more lights, more buildings, more hopes, more sorrows, more tragedies, more comedies, but underneath it's just the same tender-hearted lovable old place."

INDIA MISSIONARY IS COMING TO CITY

Miss Mabel Archibald, M. A., who has been for twenty-five years in India as supervisor of missions will spend next week-end here, after a holiday in Wolville, N. S., where most of her furlough was spent. Next Saturday afternoon Miss Archibald will give a dramatic presentation of child life in India at the Central Baptist church for the Baptist children of St. John. She will use costumes brought from India and will demonstrate in a realistic manner the life of East Indian girls, particularly. Her work has been almost wholly among the non-Christian boys and girls.

In addition to her scholastic endeavors, Miss Archibald has carried on an extensive literary work, and is editor of the India Temperance Record. She has prepared a careful review of work in India, entitled "Glimpses and Gleams of India and Bolivia," in conjunction with Mrs. Louisa Mitchell, of Toronto, who was for years in Bolivia, with her late husband, Rev. J. Mitchell. Miss Archibald will go to Montreal from here and will sail for India this month.

GIVES ADDRESSES ON SERVICE AND PRAYER

The services in St. Paul's church conducted by Very Rev. Dean D. T. Owen of Niagara diocese, were attended by large congregations and were greatly inspiring. In the afternoon Dean Owen gave the last of his talks on prayer and spoke on when to pray, as suggested by the example of our Lord. He pointed out that Christ had prayed early in the morning and had also set aside long periods for prayer. He had prayed also before and after all great crises. The missionary reminded his hearers in closing that, apart from these three special times of prayer, Christ had always found time for prayer when he was unusually busy.

TOMORROW IS ANNIVERSARY OF NELSON'S VICTORY

Admiral's Famous Signal at Trafalgar Still Empire's Rallying Call.

Tomorrow marks the anniversary of the Battle of Trafalgar, fought on October 21, 1805, in which Lord Nelson so decisively defeated the French fleet but lost his own life. While the history of this battle is well known a short review of the events leading up to it will prove interesting at this time.

The above report is just one of the great many received from enthusiastic Canadian families. With such endorsement and a positive money-back guarantee, every household ought to give Vicks a thorough trial as the home remedy for croup, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, catarrh, neuralgia, cuts, burns, bruises and sores.

The ORIGIN of OUR NATIONAL SPECIFIC.

In 1889-1890 the world was in the throes of a serious Grippe Epidemic, which caused numerous deaths in Canada.

Medical Science was subjected to a hard ordeal during that time, and numerous scientific researches were undertaken in order to find an efficient remedy to vanquish this dreadful illness and prevent its recurrence.

Dr. J. O. Lambert, who, then had his office at 1102 Ontario street, Montreal, after many researches and experiments, discovered the remedy so much sought for, and in 1891, at a conference held in Montreal, speaking of this specific, he said: "I offer to mankind, by a purely vegetable process, radical means to prevent and vanquish chest ailments."

Once more medical science triumphed, and Canada had every reason to be proud when adding the name of this scientist to the roll of its national celebrities.

From that date our country had at its disposal an efficient and positive specific to prevent and successfully fight La Grippe and other chest ailments so common in our climate, such as, coughs, colds, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, croup, etc.

A strong dose taken morning and evening will positively prevent Grippe, coughs, colds, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, croup, etc.

It is this same specific that rendered such wonderful and efficient service during the appalling epidemic of 1918.

This remedy came as a revelation to the public, and since that date it has its place in every home.

It is the true family doctor. Its reputation for over 32 years has grown to such an extent that today it is in demand on the whole North American continent and even abroad.

The popularity of Dr. J. O. Lambert's Syrup has caused many imitations to be placed on the market; the result of which has been to enhance its renown and give it the unchallenged record of the largest sale without exception.

A strong dose taken morning and evening will positively prevent Grippe, coughs, colds, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, croup, etc.

For SALE EVERYWHERE, and FOR EVERYONE, of ANY AGE or CONDITION.

DR. J. O. LAMBERT, M.D.

Recognized by medical authorities, the author of the specific against chest ailments.

RED CROSS PLANS
TWO CAMPAIGNS

Arrangements for Drive for Members and Financial Aid Considered.

The New Brunswick division of the Red Cross Society during the last month received the last installment of its grant from the Common Council and, as in the future the division must be practically self-supporting, the suggestion was made at the meeting yesterday that both a financial campaign and a membership campaign should be conducted this year.

The statement of the treasurer, C. B. Allan, told of expenses for the month amounting to $1,546.88. Mr. Allan also gave a report of the meeting of the Central Council, in Montreal, at which he represented the New Brunswick division.

Home Nursing Course. With regard to the new course of home nursing which the Red Cross is inaugurating for women, Miss Jarvis said some committees in New Brunswick were eager to form such classes.

For the Junior Red Cross the supervisor, Mrs. Harold Lawrence, gave the first annual report telling of expenses totalling $3,465.78, made up of traveling costs, equipment, literature, supplies and other items.

Children's Work. During the year forty-two branches were formed with 1,822 members. Four children had been given treatment through the children's own fund for crippled children.

Miss F. Allison, for the sewing committee, reported 119 garments and 52 skeins of wool sent out to workers and 143 garments received back, as well as 50 blankets returned from the Lady Byng Day Camp.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. "I had trouble with my kidneys and very frequent urination. This was followed by pains which at times were very severe. The doctor said I had inflammation of the bladder and that an operation might be necessary. To this I refused, and began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. From the first few doses I felt the benefit. The pains left, urination was corrected, and I have had no recurrence of these ailments."

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry. For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Slightly and pleasantly prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic.

Into a 16-oz. bottle, put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 18 ounces. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, this mixture saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway spruce extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions as to use. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

certain a certain amount of pension progress and a well baby clinic has been encouraging success. In Campbellton Miss Marion Maloney reported the work was continuing satisfactorily. The children were increasing and children showed improvement.

Dr. Alfred Morrisey for the St. John branch told of a "shower" of furniture arranged for a soldier's family. The chief work at the depot during the last month has been the receiving and acknowledging of money for the Japan relief. We still confidently hope that the sum of $5,000 may be forthcoming from the public.

Many calls for relief have been received during the last month. One case in Campbellton where the family of a returned soldier suffered loss by fire was referred to our branch in Campbellton. Another call for help came from a family whose breadwinner, a soldier, had been taken to the hospital at the Sussex Warms Institute and Red Cross Auxiliary. Another call for help came from Hampton and this was placed in the hands of the Hampton Women's Institute. Transportation was given a woman and two children on the understanding that the money would be refunded from pension, and a local case was handed to the St. John Red Cross who have taken necessary steps for relief.

Our branches are resuming their winter's work and many of them are hard at work at the very necessary emergency sewing. Membership fees have been received from Clifton, Chipman, St. Martins, Riverside and McAdam, all of which are very encouraging. From Lakeville branch have come two splendid quilts for our emergency chest and also a good photograph of the members of the branch.

During the last month the secretary visited Newcastle and Chatham at the invitation of the president of the Newcastle branch, Mrs. Charles Sargent. During the last week a splendid donation was received from Hampton consisting of home-made jellies, jams and pickles and also apples for the soldiers at Lancaster Hospital. It is hoped other communities will furnish a similar donation for the tubercular boys in East St. John.

SPORT NEWS GLEANED FROM WORLD'S CENTRES

NEW PLATES FOR PYPYRUS

Derby Winner Will Wear Aluminum Shoes in Race With Zev.

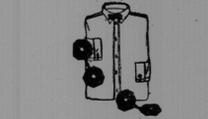

New York, Oct. 20.—The man who hammers some of the finest iron in this country, August Belmont, is one of the most extraordinary things about Papyrus is that he hasn't had a single lick at blacksmithing to do since he has been in this country. This is because Papyrus, like all gentlemen, is very easy on his shoes. The dark brown son of Tracery is still wearing the metal boots that were tacked onto his hoofs back in Newmarket. Farrier Lowe announces that Papyrus will take the barrier Saturday with a brand new set of shoes for the occasion, and these shoes will be aluminum. These racing plates are now being planned by Lowe with as much care as a naval architect would design a cruiser. The shoes will be extremely light—the exact number of ounces being veiled in mystery—to enable Papyrus to cut over the track with birdlike speed.

Aluminum shoes are no innovation in this country. August Belmont is one American owner who sometimes outfits his racers with aluminum shoes, or, more specifically, iron shoes with a quarter inch aluminum flange copper-solvetted around the edge as the working surface of the racing plate. If Papyrus' new shoes are all aluminum it may be because Farrier Lowe figures the softer, lighter metal will serve as a sort of spring, or shock absorber, between the tender Derby winner and the hard dirt track which is always a hardship and a handicap to an English horse. No one will be allowed to watch while these precious shoes are being fabricated. There will be a lot of secrets snuffed into them in the forge. All that is so far discovered is that each shoe will have eight nail holes and that a steel nail from a Papyrus racing plate has been known to fetch as high as a pound sterling as a souvenir when made up in the form of a ring. All these shoes, like all delicate horse racing shoes, are not hammered with a metal faced hammer, but are affectionately patted and coaxed into shape with a fat little wooden mallet.

Learned Shoing in Army

Farrier Fred Lowe is a tubby little Cockney, forty-one years old, who works for E. H. Leech, F. R. V. C., of Newmarket, when he is not in the Mounted division, Headquarters Troop and went with the army service corps to Egypt, Palestine and Turkey. He thinks the New Zealand Mounted Rifles had some of the best mounts in the whole Imperial army. Lowe's long service in Egypt along the Nile makes him especially suitable to attend a horse named Papyrus, whose shoes are truly enough almost paper thin.

Guarding Against Cranks
Farrier Lowe, in the idle interval he has had while waiting for word to start pounding out the precious shoes for Saturday, has been helping on the twelve Pinkerton detectives and the big Alredale dog that day and night guard the Corden stable where Papyrus is housed, from molestation by cranks. It is recalled that the Derby winner's sire, Tracery, was severely injured by a misguided person once in England. The stall where Papyrus snoozes while Trainer Jarvis sits outside the door and reads aloud to him from Punch, is about 6 feet by 8 feet and is padded a foot thick with air cushions, just as was his stall on the Aquitania coming over. According to Jacob Rodacker, electrician of Belmont Park, the stall is lit by four bulbs, while in the runway are fourteen bulbs. This is plenty of light for Papyrus to study by at night in planning his coming campaign, but Jarvis won't allow him up after 9 p.m., the official hour for lights out and getting tucked in the hay, or rather, the straw.

Ball games are won on narrow margins sometimes. Babe Ruth was on third during the second inning of the fifth world series game. Pipp grounded to Fitch, who whipped the ball home. Babe came in and looked out a mile, but the big fellow, shown here just about to launch into a tremendous slide; evaded Gowdy's hand, thus scoring what proved to be the winning run in an 8 to 1 score.

that he was more on the defensive than the offensive. Healey did much of the leading, McIntyre's friends, however, claim that owing to his present excellent condition that he will have no ability to offer if he falls to win back the crown, which, he says, was unfairly taken from him in Halifax.

McIntyre started training last night at the Y. M. C. I. and says that this is going to be his greatest effort. Healey is in splendid condition and is matched to meet Hunt in Halifax on Monday night. This means that the champion will have two fights on in one week. However, owing to the wonderful condition in which the champion keeps himself this will be no hardship for him.

toward an opportunity to have a try at the writer championship of the world. Both McIntyre and Healey are working for this opportunity. The second preliminary, it was announced last night, will be between Hogan, who scored a decided victory over his opponent last week, and Shanks, a clever boxer from West St. John. The first preliminary has not been announced. It is assumed, however, that Knox will be matched with a fast youngster from this city.

HEALEY ACCEPTS M'INTYRE'S DEFI

Championship Bout Arranged for St. John Oct. 26—Their Fifth Meeting.

Nedder Healey, welterweight champion of the Maritime Provinces, last night accepted Johnnie McIntyre's challenge for a return bout in St. John at the Arena on Friday night, October 26. Many fans who witnessed the match at the Arena last week were not satisfied with the decision which McIntyre got. He, himself, said that he had at least eight of the twelve rounds. This is the route the two boxers will take for the next match, and it will be the last appearance of the two men in the ring together at the Arena.

Johnnie says he was suffering from a cold for a week previous to the last bout. It was admitted by his friends

M'GILL ATHLETES WIN TRACK MEET

Score 59 Points in Toronto—Three Records are Broken.

Toronto, Oct. 20.—One of the best intercollegiate track meets held in many years was won by McGill University athletes yesterday when they scored 59 points at the University of Toronto stadium, ten more than were earned by the U. of T. athletes.

Three intercollegiate records were broken, those for the half mile run, the 120 yards hurdles and the pole vault were broken, the display given by Irving Francis, the 1923 Canadian champion, in setting a new mark or the last mentioned event, being the feature of the meet.

Messrs. Mulqueen, Barton, Archibald and McGarry, all officials of the meet, measured the height with a tape and all were agreed that Francis cleared the bar at a fraction of an inch better than 12 feet 7 inches.

The former record of 2 minutes 1-5 seconds was made by "Mel" Brock, when he was a member of the U. of T. team in 1911. Legg won by 12 yards from Miller of the U. of T.

One fifth of a second was clipped off the 120 yard hurdle mark of 16 2-5 seconds made in 1920 by J. Farthing of McGill, when S. Pierce, of McGill, won the final heat yesterday.

GROFF DESERVED DRAW.
"Bully" Groff, the Winnipeg boxer, was entitled to a draw, at least, in his bout with "Dick" Hunt at Halifax the other night, according to the Halifax Herald in the account of the fight. The Herald says:
"Just why Referee Latham gave

Hunt the award no one knows, for the worst the visitor was entitled to was a draw, according to ringside patrons. The bout was full of action and both men boxed at top speed, slashing toe to toe exchanges being conspicuous. Groff, with his splendid left did some damage to Hunt who did not appear to be going at his best. The local man lacked the steamy punches which he threw at Gordon Paris last month. At infighting Hunt excelled, but Groff evaded Hunt's rushes and landed effectively with his straight left. As a result of his win, last night, Hunt was matched to box Nedder Healey for the championship Monday night, probably at the Arena.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE MONEY AND STOCK MARKETS TODAY

FLUCTUATIONS AGAIN NARROW

Irregularity Also at Wall Street Opening—Quiet in Montreal.

New York, Oct. 20.—Price fluctuations at the opening of today's stock market were again narrow and irregular. A fair inquiry was noted for the tobacco and equipment shares, but heaviness again cropped out in a number of the oil and rubbers. United States Rubber first preferred sagged to another new 1923 level.

Montreal, Oct. 20.—Trading on the Montreal Stock Market today opened very quietly and only three issues appeared on the board during the first half hour, namely Steamship Pfd., Spanish River and Quebec Railway bond issues. The former was off 3/8, Spanish River was unchanged, and the last named was up 1/4 to $1.04,000.

New York, Oct. 20.—Block Maloney: "We advise purchasers of all good stocks, believing the market to be over-sold and that a further rally is due at this time."
Hornblower & Weeks: "Under cover of steadiness in a few stocks, important selling continues to take place in various parts of the list, with new low prices being recorded in the issue thus affected."
S. Baruch & Co.: "We still incline toward the belief that a further rally from this level should be minor, and that such a rally should be utilized for the completion of liquidation of lines acquired late last week."
Prince & Whitney: "Until more develops, it will be just as well to look on or make only very moderate commitments."

BONDS MAY BE CASHED AT BANK

Ottawa, Oct. 19.—Holders of 1923 bonds who have not yet exercised their option of conversion into the 1928 or 1948 refunding issue, may have their bonds paid off in cash through any branch of any chartered bank in Canada, it was announced this evening by Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance. The bonds call for payment of the principal at the Department of Finance, Ottawa, and at the offices of the assistant receivers-general at Charlotte, Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary and Victoria.

ST. JOHN TRADE CONDITIONS GOOD

Winnipeg, Oct. 19.—The weekly trade report of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association, Limited, states: "St. John—Wholesale trade conditions are generally regarded as satisfactory. Retail business is fairly active and collections as a whole fair."

Fowls From Provincial Poultry Department go to Montreal and Boston.

Fredericton, Oct. 19.—Over 4,100 hens, culled under co-operative arrangements between the Federal Department of Agriculture and the Poultry Division of the Provincial Department during the summer, have been shipped this season to the Montreal and Boston markets.

The Montreal market prices netted the farmers eighteen cents per pound, live weight, for number one culls and fifteen cents per pound for number two culls. Practically the same prices were received from the Boston market. No further shipments of live stock will be made this season, the next shipments being that of dressed poultry for the Christmas markets.

SAYS EFFORTS TO WESTERIZE RUSS WILL FINALLY WIN

Declares Dreams of Reformers Thwarted So Far by Racial Factors

London, Oct. 12.—Writing in the Daily News, Herbert Bailey says: "All the reformers in Russia, whether Tsar or Communist, peasant or industrialist, have always looked to the west, they have found their schemes curtailed and their dreams unrealized because the people are still of the east."
"Peter the Great insisted that Russia should borrow her future from Europe, and Lenin has only been his natural successor. Lenin has always visualized a Russia heavily developed on the lines of all that scientifically exists in Europe and America. He wished at one time to electrify the whole of Russia, and gigantic schemes to attain this object still exist in Moscow while even now the Russian army is exploiting all that it knows of aviation to construct formidable air forces."
"Both he and Trotsky wished to bring Russia abreast of the nations of the west, but both have found that while Russia is three centuries behind Europe in scientific development, the human material that was to ensure the triumph of western science in eastern Russia is too crude, too unskilled, too uneducated, and generally too indolent to ensure the immediate enthronement of their ideas. They have postponed their experiment while they slowly eradicate the human defects."
"Says Movement Will Prevail."
"It is only a postponement, for the movement to westernize Russia will prevail. To the west or perish, is the cry of every Russian reformer. The stimulation of ideas and activity produced by the events of the last nine years in Russia will produce a startling vitality in the next few years."
"Russia will borrow extensively from Europe, but she will borrow more freely from America. All those features of American life which find their source in the agricultural character of the country will be reproduced in Russia. The light automobile, like the Ford, which provides the American farmer with a cheap means of transport, the extensive development of the telephone, which enables the American farmer to fight the battle of loneliness, the multiplication of the gramophone, the growth of the cinema, the wide use of the radio, even the huge circulation of popular magazines, which are the product of America's agricultural life, will be transplanted to Russia as the movement to westernize the west and the emancipation from the past for the future."
"Whether the new Russia will be as attractive or as spiritually happy as the old we cannot tell. But she will certainly astonish the world."

AUTO AND DRINK HIGH IN SOCIETY, CASE IN COURT SENT TO JAIL FOR STEALING CLOTHES

Wm. Lean Arrested—Collision With Dr. Bonnell's Car.

William Lean was arrested last night on a charge of operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. When he appeared before Magistrate Henderson in the Police Court this morning he was represented by E. J. Henneberry.

Dr. Fenwick C. Bonnell testified that while passing Car No. 14731 going in the same direction in the Marsh road last night about 11:30, the other car swung into his car in the rear. He reported the matter to Sergeant Power. He said that he did not see the driver.

Lean's Story.
The defendant, sworn, said that he had had one drink last night about 8 o'clock before he left home and had had none since.

The magistrate postponed the case until Tuesday morning. He allowed Lean out on a deposit of $50.

English Woman Shoplifter Admits She is Guilty of Several Thefts

London, Oct. 19.—A woman described as having friends holding high positions in society, and who had been admitted to membership of the Royal Yacht Club at Cowes, was at Bournemouth sent to prison for six months for stealing clothing and notes to the value of $825.

The accused, Mrs. Helen Vera MacLaren, 38, was first charged with the theft of a bag and purse, containing notes to the value of $300, the property of Mrs. Inez Lillian rock, of Branksome Wood Road, in the boot department of Bright's stores at Bournemouth. She pleaded guilty and also admitted stealing clothing from a shop and a musquash coat, the property of Mrs. Kathleen Violet Starkey.

Superintendent Garrett recorded various convictions for theft against the prisoner, including one offence in the Isle of Wight, which, he said, was committed when she was a member of the Royal Yacht Club at Cowes. There were eight other charges of shoplifting in Bournemouth, in addition to those now being dealt with. There was also jewelry in her possession which she admitted having stolen. Her husband was unaware of what she had been doing, and he had given the police every assistance.

TRANQUIL ASPECT IS CHANGED BY ANNOUNCEMENT

Recall of General Von Lossow is Cause of Split

PRINCE EBERT IS NAMED SOLE JUDGE

Immediate Fate of the Ruhr is Causing Much Worry

Berlin, Oct. 19.—Diplomatic relations between the Berlin, Munich and Dresden Governments which local official quarters represented today as having assumed a more tranquil aspect during the past twenty-four hours, late tonight were given an unexpected jolt by Dr. Von Kahr, the Bavarian dictator.

Dr. Von Kahr informed the Central Government that Bavaria hereafter must decline to enter into formal or official relations with Dr. Otto Gessler, the Federal Minister of Defense, who is military dictator for all Germany under the provisions of President Ebert's recent proclamation.

This latest Bavarian attack on the Central Government's prestige and authority is not only a serious blow to the official relations with Dr. Otto Gessler, the Federal Minister of Defense, who is military dictator for all Germany under the provisions of President Ebert's recent proclamation.

General Von Lossow's attempt to barricade himself behind the Bavarian Government in this connection, and his disinclination to retire voluntarily rather than further incur Gessler's displeasure, drew into the issue a military authority had been seriously undermined.

President Ebert is the sole judge of the adjudication of the controversy. He is not obliged to consult Chancellor Stresemann or the members of his cabinet, although the Chancellor's opinion is constantly drawn into the conversations which are proceeding between President Ebert, Dr. Gessler and General von Seeck.

The President is reported to be firm in his determination not to raise the issue of continuing the present situation in its present stage and has so informed the Socialist leaders, who yesterday apparently drew into the controversy the question of the use of force.

President Ebert is desirous of using not too rigorous procedure for the moment, but he is determined to use force if necessary to bring Saxony's industrial sectors which are being terrorized by communist mobs.

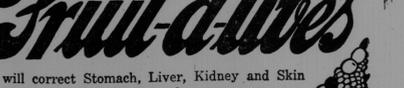

The immediate fate of the Ruhr and the Rhineland constitutes an outstanding source for apprehension in cabinet circles, especially as Chancellor Stresemann is without the slightest inkling as to the intention of the President.

French Premier, since Poincaré dismissed Herr Von Hoeseck, the German Charge D'Affaires, with a wholly negative reply to Von Hoeseck's recent proposals.

The Ruhr industrialists are seeking to work out their own salvation, since the Berlin Government apparently is unable to accord them a promise of relief so far as its ability to finance a resumption of the Ruhr economic situation is concerned.

Inspired statements appearing in a section of the press would seem to indicate that the Stresemann Government has decided to default on future reparations payments and deliveries in kind unless Germany is placed fully in the position by the occupying powers to resume her administrative authority in the Ruhr and the Rhineland in connection with the task of getting the mines, the steel plants and the railways started.

PRISON TUNNEL IS DISCOVERED

Prisoners Use Underground Route to Communicate Between Their Cells

Dublin, Oct. 19.—Discovery of a tunnel used by prisoners for communication between their cells were reported today by the authorities of Mount Joy prison where several hundred "Republican" soldier prisoners recently started a hunger strike. The authorities declare that none of the prisoners is seriously a yet in consequence of the strike.

At the government offices this morning it was stated that eighty of the Mount Joy prisoners had been taken from that institution during the forenoon. This followed the removal of eighty others last evening.

The prisoners were taken to a new place of detention which was not disclosed. Eighty of the Mount Joy prisoners were released today, some of them after signing an undertaking to keep the peace. It is stated in Sinn Fein quarters that sixty of these prisoners were released unconditionally.

TENT COLLAPSES ATOP OF AUDIENCE

Pandemonium Reigns at Circus Until People Extricated From Wreckage

Tipperrary, Oct. 19.—During a performance by Seckles' Circus at Fair Green, Tipperrary, recently the tents collapsed, and darkness and pandemonium ensued for 15 minutes.

The performance had been in progress an hour when one of the tent poles was seen moving. Some circus hands went outside to adjust it, and almost immediately the central pole gave way, and the whole tent collapsed. Two clowns had been on the stage.

Women and children screamed, performers dashed towards the dressing tent, which had by then fallen, seats collapsed all round, and people sprawled.

FINDS TRACES OF STONE AGE MAN

Vienna Scientist Discovers Implements High in the Eastern Alps

Vienna, Oct. 12.—In the course of his investigations, Dr. Bayer, director of the Anthropological section of the Natural History Museum in Vienna, has recently discovered traces of a primitive man in the form of stone implements in Upper Austria.

Although several settlements of prehistoric man have been located in the Western Alps, until now the only corresponding discovery in the Eastern Alps has been that of the Drachenloch (dragon's cave), near Mirkwitz, in Styria, where ancient firelocks were found. The place of the present finds is in the district of the "Tote Goblitz" (dead mountains), which are in the most southern part of Upper Austria.

The discovery is especially interesting in that the locality of the finds is close on 4,000 feet above sea level, amidst the former glacial region. From the locality of the discovery the conclusion may with reasonable certainty be drawn that prehistoric man inhabited these mountains, as he could only have lived in the higher Alps under a favorable climate.

It is very probable that these finds represent the most ancient remains of prehistoric human life so far discovered in Austria. Dr. Bayer believes that the investigations will eventually lead to the discovery of the actual place of settlement of prehistoric man in that region.

GIRLS IN COURT ON VAGRANCY CHARGE

Two young women appeared before Magistrate Henderson in the Police Court this morning, charged with being vagrants. As Miss Ross, police matron, said that they had never appeared before in police circles, the magistrate allowed them to go on suspended sentence after he gave them a severe warning.

The girls said that they had first attended the show at the Opera House and had gone from there to the Famous Luskay Film Exchange where they looked at the showing of some films until 5 o'clock this morning. In reply to a question from the magistrate, one of the girls said that there were some men there.

The magistrate said that their story was rather thin, but in view of their past good record and on their promise not to repeat the performance again, he allowed them to go with a warning.

TAYLOR STATEN AT JOINT MEET

Addresses Boys' Work Board and Mentors' Association on Boys' Work.

The St. John Boys' Work Board and the St. John Mentors' Association held a combined meeting last evening at the Y. W. C. A. cafeteria to meet Taylor Staten, Toronto, general secretary of the National Boys' Work Board. It was a supper meeting and at the close Mr. Staten gave a very interesting address. Rev. J. M. Rice, the president of the St. John Boys' Work Board, was in the chair.

Mr. Staten has just returned from a visit to Newfoundland, where he was the guest of the Governor-General and was taking up matters in connection with boys' work. He will take charge of the Trail Rangers' grand camp which will convene in St. David's church this evening and on Monday he will leave for Fredericton. Mr. Staten will be in St. John again on Wednesday evening to take charge of the Tuxis grand convalescent which will be held in the Y. M. C. A. in the evening. He is an outstanding figure in boys' work in the Dominion and is always a welcome visitor in St. John.

Mr. Staten told of the work of the Trail Rangers and Tuxis Boys across the continent. He told how the movement was being taken up in all parts of the world, especially in Japan, China and India, while in the United States the Mentors' Handbook was being used as a text book in training for boys' work in Chicago, Hartford and other universities.

Speaking of the success of the work for older boys in the upper Canadian and western provinces, he advised giving the boys as much to do in running their programme as possible and warned against allowing any one part of the programme, such as basketball, from becoming the principal factor of the group's activities to the detriment of the remainder of the four-fold programme. Enrichment of character through a variety of interests should be sought for instead, he said, that Mr. Staten taught those present to

DRY DOCK WORKMEN SHOW FINE SPIRIT AND WIN TRIBUTE FROM MANAGER ROSS

Hustle Though it Means Lost Jobs—Plant Highly Praised.

"Right up to schedule," said Frank M. Ross, manager of the St. John Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Co., when he was asked last evening about the preparations for the opening of the largest dry dock in the world at Courtenay Bay, on October 29. And in this connection he paid a glowing tribute to the rank and file of the large army of men who have been on the works during the many months that have passed in bringing the plans of the company to maturity.

"The men on the work," he said, "the laborers, carpenters, shovel runners, engine drivers—in fact those who are engaged at the plant, know that they are working themselves out of their jobs by completion of the enterprise, and yet I've never seen men so conscientious or men who have worked harder. I believe it is an extraordinary situation."

The dredge Tornado sucked its way through the large cofferdam for the first time on Thursday night. This structure kept the tide out of the fitting-out berth. It has been undergoing a gradual undermining process and little by little will be removed. There is now in this berth a depth of 25 feet of water. Work on the marine railway also is going on satisfactorily.

John Clarke, a prominent consulting engineer of London, Eng., has been visiting the new dock at Courtenay Bay. He has seen all the great dry docks of the old country and says he does not know of any that is better equipped as is this one.

The fine spirit shown by the workmen at Courtenay Bay gives an excellent example to the people of the city in general in connection with the providing of such an important adjunct to the port of St. John as the new dry dock will be.

James Bulyea, who was struck by an automobile driven by Otis Myles on last Thursday night, died this morning about 4:30 o'clock at the General Public Hospital, never having regained consciousness since the accident.

Mr. Bulyea stepped off the curb to cross Main street, near the Baptist Church, and evidently did not see the car coming, for he walked right in front of it. Mr. Myles, seeing the collision, was unable to escape the collision. The injured man was taken to the hospital, where everything possible was done for him, but without avail.

He was one of the best known citizens of the North End, and the sympathy of the community will be extended to his relatives. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Flora Bulyea, who resides with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Watson; and two sisters, Mrs. Frank Watson and Mrs. J. S. Murray. The funeral will be held at Gagetown.

HON. MR. PUGSLEY IS SERIOUSLY ILL

A telegram received at the office of Hon. Wm. Pugsley here this morning states that he is in St. Luke's Hospital and it adds that it is expected he will be around in a short time.

Another dispatch says that Hon. Mr. Pugsley's condition is not considered dangerous but his physician advised that he be placed in a hospital, where he could receive better care.

KINGS FARMER MEETS HEAVY LOSS

Harold Lison's Barn Burns With 33 Cattle, 4 Horses, Equipment. Harold Lison, one of the most progressive farmers of Kings County, sustained a very heavy loss, early this morning, by fire which destroyed his large, modern barn at Roschville, some two miles from Sussex, together with 33 head of cattle, four horses, 300 tons of hay, a lot of grain, milking machine, mowing machine, wagons and harness. In fact the total of his fine equipment, save one horse, which was rescued.

The fire was first seen about two o'clock this morning and had then a firm hold on the roof of the barn and the flames were blown by a high wind. Fortunately it was blowing away from Mr. Lison's residence, which is about 100 yards away and this was not damaged. The barn was 100 feet long and it is said the loss on the building alone is $2,000 and on the contents, without any insurance.

WILSON GOES TO HIGHER COURT

Munroe Wilson, a matter of Scotland, was committed for trial in the police court by Magistrate Henderson on charges of forgery and obtaining pretenses. The charge has to do with checks taken from the office of Dexter & Richards, contractors at Musquash. The accused declined to make any statement.

John H. Higgins, accountant of the Fairville branch of the Bank of N. S., testified that Wilson attempted to cash a check for $250 drawn on the Royal Bank, signed "Dexter & Richards" and endorsed "W. Edwards." He refused to pay it. He said the check was cashed at the Royal Bank and that the check was O. K.

Detective Power said that after receiving a message from Dexter & Richards, he received a report from Mr. Pullen, Robinson's Clothing Ltd. Later he went to Fairville where he arrested the prisoner, and took the check to the office of Dexter & Richards. The prisoner was wearing an overcoat which was identified by Mr. Pullen, and had $24 in his possession. He said he did not remember what had happened the day before.

The prisoner declined to make any statement and was committed for trial.
