WORLD'S DEBT TO CANADA

A Wonderful Achievement—Discovery of "Fruit-a-tives" Has Meant Health for All.

Canada's farm does not rest solely on her furs and wheat fields. Her rise in the esteem of the world is not due to her Cobalt mines. It is the work of her great men that has made her great. A graduate of McGill University has won lasting renown for his original researches in the realm of Hygiene.

Everyone knows that fruit, whole, when eaten judiciously, is generally recognized as a beneficial food. It is a fact that fruit juices have a beneficial effect on the various organs of the body.

"Fruit-a-tives" is this combination of fruit juices and tonics. Since its introduction to the public, "Fruit-a-tives" has met with a success accorded to no other medicine in the world.

Then with deliberation she told how she had spent the summer at the seacoast in Italy—Rimini for the most part—trying to add the English to her repertoire of many languages.

Miss Trentini did not know until she was told that the name of the opera for which Victor Hebert has written the music and Mrs. Rita Johnson Young the libretto was "Naughty Marietta."

Paul Casanova, another old-timer here, is beginning an American and Canadian tour in Don Caesar. He was in New Orleans last week.

After a brief tour in "The Mikado," Mrs. Scheff will return to New York, and about Christmas time will be seen in the new musical version of "Tribby."

Eliza Mason, who will be recalled here for her splendid work as character woman for the Baker Stock Co., a few years ago, is now playing in Chicago in The Girl in Waiting. The company will play New York later.

Daniel Ryan is playing in Massachusetts in The Black Fox. He was in Lowell this week, after having run for forty-two miles.

Mrs. Eleanor Lane Bainbridge Bell, widow of Charles J. Bainbridge Bell, the actor, who died under mysterious circumstances on April 13 leaving a note in which he said he had been "a failure."

The will, disposing of an estate worth $100,000 leaves the bulk of the property to Alice Butler, an actress, with whom Mrs. Bell had been married.

The Merry Widow will close in Boston this week, after having run for forty-two nights. Tom Wise will follow this show at the Majestic.

Edouard Durand will be a member of Joseph Weber's company in Alma, Where Do You Live?

A slight change has been made in the plans for the tour of Paul Gilmore this season. It is now stated officially that he will head a company playing The Lottery Man, on southwestern time.

His tour in The Wolf is to be closed at once, and rehearsals begun for the new show.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

CHATTY NEWS OF THE GREEN ROOM

Petite and sprightly Miss Emma Trentini, formerly of the Manhattan Opera House, who is now to be Oscar Hammerstein's stellar attraction in a new comic opera, has just arrived from Europe.

MISS TRENTINI

Four companies will be put on the road with this production. Oscar Hammerstein declared this week when he heard the first complete rehearsal of the new comic opera "Hans the Flute Player," at the Manhattan Opera House, New York, that he would have it in thorough shape for the opening Monday night.

Maqin Arbuckle opened his season in New York Monday at the Bijou Theatre in a new play called "Welcome to Our City." It is a farce, and is being well received from the German by George V. Hobart. Arbuckle is a laughmaker and the fact that he had plenty to do in the piece makes it plain that there was considerable fun created.

It is rumored in New York that Wm. Brady is planning to organize a big permanent stock company, in which several famous players will be given parts. Among those of local interest is Florence Roberts, wife of Lewis M. Morrison, now appearing in the all-star revival of Jim the Penman.

Maude Fealy has just returned to New York after a long rest among the pines at Jackson's Point, Ontario, quite well and strong again, and ready for active work. Though of tender years she has had more experience in her work than most women twice her age.

Seven Days passed its 320th performance at the Astor theatre, New York. Several local favorites are seen in the production among them T. D. Fraley and Gwen Hiers.

The Merry Widow will close in Boston this week, after having run for forty-two nights. Tom Wise will follow this show at the Majestic.

Edouard Durand will be a member of Joseph Weber's company in Alma, Where Do You Live?

FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE

UNIVERSAL RELIGIOUS LIBERTY

By Daniel O'Connell

Can anything be more absurd and untenable than the argument of the learned gentleman, when you see it stripped of the false coloring he has given it? First he alleges that the Catholics are attached to their religion with a bigoted zeal. I admit the zeal, but I utterly deny the bigotry.

But the fact does not bear him out; for we do not seek nor desire, nor would we accept of, any kind of interference with the Protestant church. We disclaim and disavow any kind of control over it. We ask not, nor would we allow, any Catholic authority over the mode of appointment of their clergy.

A suit to recover $5,000 has been instituted against Lillian Russell by William Fitzgerald, the possessor of the Hope jewel, which she carried when she was run down by Miss Russell's automobile on Aug. 6 and that he is still confined to his bed by internal, possibly permanent, injuries.

May Yoh's stage career is at an end. Every cent of her money is gone. She left the possession of the Hope jewel, which she carried when she was run down by Miss Russell's automobile on Aug. 6 and that he is still confined to his bed by internal, possibly permanent, injuries.

Editors will be written, the clergy and those opposed to the stage will see in May Yoh's there is a sterling one, too—the lesson of life that follows the misguided footsteps anywhere and always in any walk. There will be some to profit by May Yoh's experience, others will read of this, make an impulsive resolve and promptly forget it when the music tangles and the white lights flood midnight. There will be other May Yoh's and more's the pity.

SEVERAL WERE ON CAR FROM WHICH McMULLIN FELL

Chas. London Says They Were Going to Maine—He Was Sleeping When Accident Happened
Charles London, who was with John McMullin on the trip which terminated in McMullin's death, at Fredericton Junction, said today that he met McMullin on the morning train, about 10 o'clock, and McMullin asked him if he had any intention of going to Maine to work in the potato fields, as was London's custom for the last few years back. London answered in the affirmative, and said he intended leaving that evening. McMullin said that he was going, but he had no money he intended going on the bus, and London agreed to accompany him; but on that evening about 6:30 o'clock they crossed to Fairville on the electric cars.

MONTRAL'S CONSCIENCE AROUSED BY CONGRESS

Toronto Paper Asks What Will Be Result of Eccentric Assemblage
Toronto, Sept. 15.—(Special)—Because of the frequency of desertions in Toronto, the Charity Organization have decided to appeal to the Dominion parliament next session for amendments to the criminal code under which husbands who beat and desert their wives may be severely dealt with. They claim that the present law is too lenient. Within the last month there have been four cases of elopement from Toronto. In one case the wife is crazed with grief and on the verge of shooting her father on sight.

TORONTO HAS 500 CASES OF TYPHOID

Toronto, Sept. 15.—(Special)—It is estimated that there are at least 500 cases of typhoid fever in the city, but only about 25 per cent of the cases are reported. Bad water from the city service and bad milk with an occasional case of vaccine typhoid are the chief causes. There are 130 cases in the hospitals, but the medical health officer does not regard the condition as alarming.

AUSTRIA HUNGARY'S GOOD CONSULAR SERVICE

Vienna, Sept. 15.—In these days of international rivalry of diplomatic and consular efficiency, it is interesting to note that Austria-Hungary possesses the best equipped consular agency in the world. Opinions differ as to whether the balance of utility is altogether against the man who gets his job because he has political "pull," but here, at any rate, they believe in equipping the consular service thoroughly with men who have been specially trained to nurse their country's interests in the business centres of the world. Thirty-five students are now being trained in their palatial new building to represent the dual monarchy. Graduating this morning, these students enter the best-paid of all consular services, with the assurance of permanent positions and substantial pensions at the end of their active career. Further, these fortunate young men are housed, fed, and clothed for the period of five years practically free of expense to their parents or guardians.

Premiers Confer

Hon. A. K. MacLean, attorney-general and acting premier of Nova Scotia, Hon. F. L. Hazard, premier of P. E. I.; A. E. Warburton, M. P., and Hon. H. J. Palmer, M. P., arrived in the city yesterday to attend a conference with Premier Hazen concerning the representation of the maritime provinces in the federal house. They visited the Dominion Exhibition last evening and expressed themselves as greatly pleased with the show. The conference will take place this afternoon. Premier Hazen said today that in addition to the three premiers, A. E. Warburton, M. P., of P. E. Island, and Dr. J. W. Daniel, M. P., of St. John, would be present at the meeting today. The former was the mover of a resolution bearing on the matter of representation at Ottawa in the last session of parliament and the latter was the seconder of the resolution. Mr. Hazen declined to make any statement regarding the manner in which the subject would be discussed. J. Howe Dickson, clerk of the executive council, was in the city today to attend the conference. The visitors will be entertained at dinner this evening at the home of Premier Hazen.

THE FAIR AND ST. JOHN

The Dominion exhibition closed last night amid a scene of great animation and hearty enjoyment. The citizens showed their appreciation of the fair and their good-will toward the management by turning out in thousands to witness the last performances and take a final survey of the most extensive and attractive exhibition ever seen in St. John.

So far as St. John people are concerned, this exhibition marks progress. The "made in St. John" exhibit was an evidence of a new spirit and a revelation of progressive enterprise which created a very decided and altogether favorable impression in the minds of visitors.

The Board of Trade, as a result of this exhibit, should find a more general and substantial support of its efforts to arouse local enthusiasm and attract the attention of outside investors. The citizens have had presented for their inspection evidences of industrial progress of which they are all proud, and this is but the beginning of a great development which must come, and will come the sooner if the people themselves give practical proof of their faith in their own city.

SIGNS OF CHANGE

A scene was witnessed on the harbor late yesterday afternoon which, if it had been seen not very many years ago would have sent a shiver down the spine of the ancient mariner. There was no wind, and eight fishing schooners with dories in tow went swiftly down the harbor and out to sea, without a yard of canvas stretched, or any visible explanation of what it was that moved them on their course.

It was a fine illustration of the change that has been wrought by the use of the auxiliary motor, which makes these craft a measure independent of wind and tide.

SIR JAMES WHITNEY

Sir James Whitney, of Ontario, has been lecturing the people of the mother country on the subject of imperialism. He appears to think they have not secured the right brand, which can only be got in the city of Toronto. No doubt the "weary Titan" will bear with patience this latest infliction.

It is of course a diverting circumstance that Sir James suddenly appears on the horizon and invites everybody to hurry up and settle this little matter while he is on the spot; but it is possible that more than one imperial statesman will suggestively close one eye while he gravely assures the Toronto knight that his message of deliverance for a distressed people has been heard.

It is of course possible that the Ontario premier is talking with one eye on Canada, and the knowledge that his remarks would be cabled to this country. The tariff reformers in England would welcome his enology of the Chamberlain policy, and the Conservatives of Canada might be impressed by the prominence given to his views by the press of London.

Sir James thinks of taking a hand in federal politics. He has been suggested as a possible successor to Mr. Borden. Meanwhile, both in Canada and Britain, the people will refuse to accept the doctrine that imperial sentiment has only a commercial value.

Each day brings fresh evidence of a general desire for closer sympathy between the mother country and Canada, and there is no necessity whatever for any attempt to impose a cut and dried trade policy upon the several states of the empire. These matters will gradually adjust themselves.

PREACHERS OF ECONOMY

Mr. James J. Hill not long since told the people of the United States that the extravagant habits of the people was largely responsible for the financial panic of a couple of years ago, and that only a return to economy and thrift on the part of the people generally could prevent similar panics in the future.

Cardinal Gibbons has more recently preached the same doctrine. In an interview on the eve of his starting from home to attend the Eucharistic Congress at Montreal he took occasion to pass criticism on the too common lack of economy on the part of the present generation of men and women and the desire for too many luxuries and extravagances.

"The people believe," says Cardinal Gibbons in the interview, "that they must have automobiles, must go to the theatre, must have various kinds of amusements and must have many things more or less expensive without which their fathers and grandfathers got along well enough and prospered. This desire prevents a sensible conservation of the people's resources."

The Cardinal went further and dealt with the tendency to blame the labor unions or corporations for results to which the people themselves largely contribute. "There is nothing," he declared, "to fear from law-abiding unions and law-abiding corporations."

A writer in the New York Sun expresses views similar to those of Mr. Hill and Cardinal Gibbons. He says: "That one reason for the unrest existing in business circles here and abroad is the want of old-fashioned economy in habits of living and the unwillingness of people of moderate means to do without things that a previous generation did not attempt to get, seems certain. The automobile is blamed by many people for the difficulty so many have in making ends meet, but the automobile is only a sign. We know that both here and elsewhere very many people have automobiles who did not attempt to keep a pony a few years ago, but this only means that they are dominated by the sort of spirit which makes a cottage at the seaside and constant week-end excursions, theatre-going and late suppers in big expensive restaurants necessary to many people who cannot afford them and who acted on the plain fact that they could not afford them up to ten years ago."

"They must come back to reality and must make both ends meet. The process will be a painful one, and we shall hear every one blamed for the results of extravagance except themselves. At all events, we believe more people are refusing to spend, to enter on plans for spending, until they see where to get the money; and the banks have been compelled to direct the attention of their customers to the need of this sort of worldly wisdom."

Confirming this view, the New York Commercial refers to the "European craze" as one that taxes the resources of many Americans and takes abroad millions that never come back. That journal adds: "When the banks feel called upon to preach economy, it is plain that something is wrong in the money-spending habits of the people. A bank bears the same relation to its depositors and its customers that the family physician does to his clientele; it feels the pulse of business daily and hourly. And it is pretty apt to know if anything is the matter with business and, moreover, what it is."

A new ferry boat is said to be needed. This is perhaps the next important matter to be bungled by the city council.

When does the committee appointed in July, on motion of Ald. Jones, to investigate the board of works, propose to begin its work? Next year?

An Associated Press despatch states that President Taft hopes to see negotiations for reciprocity in progress before the end of October.

Moncton should not fail to get Earl Grey to visit the Albert oil and gas wells on his tour of inspection of provincial resources.

When game licenses are issued, the authorities should take pains to learn whether the applicant knows a man from a deer when he enters the woods. This would prevent a number of fatalities.

The Standard is highly pleased with its attitude on the playing matter, and with the report of the committee. That is to say, the city hall censor of the Standard is highly pleased with his control of the civic policy of this newspaper.

MISSED THEM WELL. There are always two ways of telling the truth. The man who told the king that he would outlive all his subjects was a courtier, and understood human nature far more than the man who was put to death for declaring to the same monarch that all his subjects would die before him. The gamekeeper in Francis Pigon's "Odds and Ends" also had the gift of presenting the pleasant side of a fact.

A certain noble lord was a very bad shot. One day, after a particularly discouraging exhibition of his bungling, he said to the keeper: "Now, my man, tell me the truth. Did you ever see anyone who shot as badly as I do?"

"Oh, yes, my Lord," returned the keeper. "I've seen worse shots than you, Lordship. Your Lordship misses the birds so clean."—Youth's Companion.

THE LAND OF THE LONG AGO

There's a dear old home in the Far Away, A soft snug nest where the children play, A realm of rest where the old folks stay, In the land of the Long Ago.

There's a dear old home where the roses twine, And the fruit hangs ripe on the tree and vine; Where the fates were good to me and mine, In the land of the Long Ago.

O never a map shall point that place; Nor ever the drift of time erase; But the hungering heart and the lines shall trace Of the land of the Long Ago.

On the north and south are the joy and rest Of a sister's smile and a mother's breast; And a father's love to the east and west Of the land of the Long Ago.

We shall all come back from the desert's sigh, We shall all return in the "By and By," To the land of the Long Ago.

IN LIGHTER VEIN

WAITING. Aunt Anna now, kind sir, she said, "Just like the rest of you," replied the ungentelemanly man.

REMINISCENT. "I see you are limping as my jokes," said the waiting contributor, hopefully. "Yes," replied the editor, "that courtesy is not when one meets old friends."—Philadelphia Ledger.

CRUEL. "My mind is made up," quoth the haughty society girl decidedly. "Just like the rest of you," replied the ungentelemanly man.

FALL. The frost is on the pumpkin and the campers homeward flock, There's a look appertaining to the wilful, the farmer is preparing for the coming county fair, And the stragglers relegated to a place beneath the stairs;

The bald head shows a ticket for the first or second row, And the busy politicians sound their keynotes high and low.

"HOBBLED." "Where are you going, my pretty maid?" "Darned if I know, kind sir," she said. "May I go with you, my pretty maid?" "Yes, if you'll hobble, sir," she said.

"How do you walk, my pretty maid?" "I don't I just hop, kind sir," she said. "Do you enjoy it, my pretty maid?" "It makes me dizzy, sir," she said.

"You are wise to the fashions, my pretty maid." "I tumble to everything new," she said. "How can you beat this fashion, my maid?" "By staying abed, kind sir," she said.

"Now, will you marry me, my pretty maid?" "How can I walk to the church?" she said. "I'll bring the minister, my pretty maid." "I'll be both he hobbled, kind sir," she said. —G. T. Humes in New York World.

The Playground Idea

(Detroit Free Press). The playground idea is engaging the attention of the more progressive cities and towns everywhere. And the wonder is that it has not sooner engaged attention. Children have an endless amount of energy to exhaust daily, and the spirit of playfulness is the most marked "symptom" of a healthy normal child.

To place a curb on that playful spirit is cruel, to turn them loose to seek the open air and "dumps" and accumulate all that these unwholesome places had to offer and worse than all else were made to feel that while the world has a place for every thing, even to the dumb animals, there is no place which the child can call his own and feel that his rights are respected.

A playground properly fitted up, and controlled, and directed, is one of the best investments any city or town can make. And besides the playground there should always be a swimming pool or two swimming pools. To attempt to bring up a boy in the way he should go without a swimming pool is next to impossible. He takes to it like a duck to water, and he should have it too.

Not is it only boys, who need this luxury. It is just as good for girls, and they should be taught to swim and enjoy the bracing effects of water contact just as much as the boys. And it may be that after a term of years in which we begin to discover that there is something in life better than mere money getting, that the old folks—the growing-up girls and boys I mean—will find that the most judicious and profitable human nature and good and sensible investment for themselves. At least let us hope so.

POSTAGE ABROAD

Some persons know that there is a two-cent postage rate on letters to Germany, but comparatively few know that that rate applies only to mail going out on German boats. The fast steamers running to England and France do not take the two-cent letters, but mail for Germany carrying five-cent postage will be duly forwarded. The two-cent rate is good to England also, but letters passing through that country to the continent must have the higher postage. Those who have foreign correspondence should keep these points in mind.—Lowell Courier-Opinion.

CURE FOR STAGE FRIGHT. At the climax of their careers some stars still feel stage fright, but no one need ever know that sensation any more. Dr. Pierre Bonnier has found a complete cure for it. Indeed the cure sounds quite radical, and even violent, but those who have felt stage fright say that they would give their eyes to be rid of it. According to Dr. Bonnier, they need only give a portion of their noses. He has observed that stage fright is due to contraction of the diaphragm. Now the muscles of the latter are somehow connected with a facial nerve which runs up through the nose. The remedy is therefore, obvious. You have the nerve in question burned out of your nose, and you are ever after as bold as brass before the footlights. Without ever having acted in your life you play Hamlet before an audience of dramatic critics without turning a hair. Incidentally the removal of the nerve mentioned also cures neuralgia. But Dr. Bonnier does not say whether it may not spoil one's nose. That would be a heavy price for actors and actresses to pay even to be cured of the stage fright. On the other hand, some noses might look even better without the facial nerve than with it, and the cure would thus be doubly beneficial.—Paris Correspondent London Standard.

Store open till 9 o'clock, Sept. 14, 1910. A-HIT has been made with our Fall styles of the GOLD BOND SHOE For Gentlemen. Our Baron, Capital and Bull Dog Lasts are the latest novelty in classy footwear. Prices $3.50 to $6.50. Do not buy until you have seen these. PERCY J. STEEL, Foot Furnisher, 619-621 Main Street

GOOD SCHOOL SHOES. Beware of trash! Many stores are crying school shoes at prices wonderfully small. What if it, if the shoes are poor—coarse leather, spongy soles, carelessly made! Economy doesn't lie along that route. Pay as much as you can for school shoes; get Goodyear welt, if possible. It is stronger, easier, holds its shape better and is cheaper, though it costs more. STRONGER, because only the best leather can stand the terrific pounding of the machine. EASIER, because the welt gives flexibility, and because the stitches are side-ways, not up and down; no hard ridge inside and no tacks in the shoe. CHEAPER, because it wears longer and can be repaired better—the new sole can be sewed on—in others it must be pegged or nailed on. Goodyear Welt Shoes for Boys and Girls, $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50, all sizes. Other good School Shoes at $1.50 and $1.75. D. Utilizing Peat Deposits (London Engineering). The exploitation of the vast peat deposits which many countries contain is a problem which of late years has engaged the attention of numerous scientists and engineers without any great practical results, so far, having ensued. Methods which at the outset were considered as an ingenious solution of the question, have, on closer testing, had to be abandoned, and considerable disagreement has since arisen as to the best possible course. A large installation has now been planned in Germany, under the best possible auspices. The Siemens-Schuckert Company, having secured from the Prussian government a concession, extending over seventy-five years, for the exploitation of the large "Königsmoor" near Aurich, has built at the peat deposits an electric station which supplies power for the necessary work in connection with the scheme. The peat is not used direct as fuel, but is placed in gas-generators, which, in addition to the gas required, yield considerable quantities to be done is the digesting, or rather ploughing, by large motor-ploughs, of a system of canals of an aggregate length of 25 miles, and along with the colonization of the vast "Königsmoor," which seems the main object of the undertaking, more generators are planned, which will supply electric current to a number of towns, Aurich, Emden, Leer, Wilhelmshaven, Wittmund, etc. According to calculations made, the peat, which has to be removed for the construction of the canals alone will suffice for the generation of 5,000,000 kilowatt-hours annually for a period of sixty-six years.

"Rat-Proofing" a City (New York Times). San Francisco is being "rat-proofed." The word has become part of the San Francisco vocabulary, like "water-proofing," and refers to a style of brick and concrete architecture that is enforced by condemnation proceedings in portions of the city, until now the centres of rat population.

The Death of John P. McMullen FIRE CAUSES LOSS OF ROLLING STOCK ON THE CENTRAL RAILWAY

An inquest into the death of John P. McMullen, who was killed on the railway track at Fredericton Junction Tuesday night, was opened in city hall last night by Coroner Weaver.

The body of John P. McMullen, who met his death as the outcome of a fire which occurred in the roundhouse of the Central Railway at Minto yesterday morning destroyed that structure as well as two locomotives and one flat car which were in the building at the time.

The fire started about 5 o'clock and the night watchman was the first to discover the flames. He immediately gave the alarm and many of the neighbors ran to the scene. It was found that the fire had started in a boiler which was being repaired.

The roundhouse was built of hard pine and was a substantial structure. There were three engine stalls but only two engines had been in over night, besides the flat car. In addition to the rolling stock, the heating apparatus, consisting of a small boiler with the necessary piping, was lost.

The master mechanic of the road was on the ground yesterday but he could give no opinion as to the condition of the engines. It is said, however, that they will be useless. The flat car axles are so badly warped by the heat that it is feared no use can be made with them.

Fashion Hints for Times Readers

JAUNTY TURBAN FOR A YOUNG GIRL The shape of this blocked felt turban, which is suited to a pretty, youthful face, with its high crown and brimless edge...

The Evening Chit-Chat By RUTH CAMERON

How long it is since you've had your picture taken? If it's over five years, that means that you are morally due at the photographer's again, and consequently that tonight's chat may interest you a bit.

In the first place, as to what to wear. Don't wear anything stiff and heavy that will not fall in pretty lines. Soft silks or satins, crepe de chine, thin velvets or voiles, and soft muslins take the best.

Don't wear anything stiffly pleated, tucked or shirred. Fall, softly gathered things that can be gracefully and easily draped are much better.

Don't wear dark things. The shadows are too heavy. White, ivory, pale blue, pink and yellow, take the light the best.

If you wear a shirt waist be sure it fits perfectly, especially around the neck, and that it lies flat across the front.

If you prefer modesty to prettiness, a picture in a tailored suit and hat may please you. Such pictures are rather in favor just now. Only be sure that the coat is perfectly plain tailored and fits you well, and have the hat a sailor, a raincoat or a wide-brimmed hat, both because they never go out of style and because they are the most artistic.

When you are in the act of having the picture taken, don't allow yourself to feel strained. As far as you can, while still keeping the pose the photographer desires, relax. Breathe naturally. Don't try to hold your breath. Consciously and fully relax.

Low, and most important of all, according to a prince among photographers, BLINK YOUR EYES. No, I haven't made a mistake. I don't mean the opposite. Unless you have very light eyelashes you can blink your eyes several times during the exposure and it will not spoil the picture. Quite the contrary. For if you let them blink regularly and just as you naturally would, instead of conscientiously trying to hold them open, you will eliminate that stony stare, which has doubtless spoiled many pictures.

Daily Hints for the Cook

CUSTARD AND PLAIN CAKES The moment a custard is done it should be taken from the oven and out of the basin of hot water in which it is cooked.

PREPARED CITRUS MELON Pare and cut the melon into nice pieces about an inch thick and weigh it. Boil gently until tender in just enough water to cover it. Set soon at tender, take it out and lay on a platter. Make a syrup with as much sugar as the whole melon weighed (before cooking) and the water in which it was. Let this boil one hour, then put in a melon and one lemon sliced to each pound of melon, also a few cloves. Simmer 30 minutes, take the melon out and boil the syrup half an hour longer. Pour over the melon in jars while hot and sealed.

STUFFED DOUGHNUTS Take a small piece of light bread dough and roll to 1/8 inch. Cut out a circle, put a teaspoon of jam in center, wet the edges and cover with another circle. Press the edges together and fry in deep fat. Boil in sugar.

SPICE CAKE 1 1/2 cups of sugar, 1 cup of molasses, 1/2 cup of butter, 1 1/2 cups of sour milk, 2 1/2 teaspoons of salaratus, spice to taste, 1 cup of raisins, 3 cups of flour, 3 eggs beaten in last. This makes two good sized loaves.

ONE-EGG CAKE 1/2 cup of butter, 3/8 cup of sugar, 1 egg, 1/2 cup sweet milk, 1 teaspoon cream tartar, 1 1/2 cups soda, 1 cup flour, 3 eggs.

Yesterdays' Happenings There were very few people on the grounds during the morning, but early after dinner quite a number arrived and the performance of the Royal Canadian Dragoons and the other features before the grand stand were watched by many.

The boys of the Industrial School, Crouville, were visitors at the fair grounds yesterday, in charge of Superintendent McDonald. They were shown everything of interest. They were given supper in the dining hall by Mayor Frink.

Madame Kennerly and ladies of the Boston orchestra will leave Friday morning on their return to Boston.

One of the heaviest moving jobs at the exhibition is that of shifting the ten or twelve tons of material in the booth of the Nova Scotia Steel & Coal Company. The work was officially ended last night, and by this afternoon it will be loaded into cars ready for shipment to New Glasgow. Only the iron and steel portion is being taken back, however, for the company have attracted so much attention from all the visitors to Machinery Hall, to Mrs. Brundage, mother of the exhibition, that she has decided to be carted around to her home this morning.

Among some of the heavier prize winners at the fair are the following: Logan Bros., Amherst (N. S.), $487.00; W. W. Black, Amherst (N. S.), $475.00; McIntyre Bros., Sussex, $454.00; H. B. Bull & Sons, Brampton (Ont), $445.00; Hartland Poultry Yards, Hartland (N. B.), $400.00; T. B. Macaulay, Hudson Heights, (Que.), $317.00; Roger Bros., Oshawa, $241.00; J. H. DIG THEFT THREE YEARS AGO; ARREST NOW

London, Sept. 14.—In consequence of the alleged distortion of his views here on Canada, Premier Whitney has given an interview to the Standard recapitulating his views on Imperial questions.

Whitney urges the desirability of Canada establishing herself in the British market and strongly deprecates any reciprocity arrangement with the United States.

Dealing with the strong desire of Canada to weld the empire on the strongest lines, Mr. Whitney said: "We don't care whether you make free trade or tariff reform the basis of your part of the commercial arrangements, but, for goodness' sake, let us stop drifting and agree to begin a definite course. The only live Imperial policy before us is that enunciated by Chamberlain. Let us get around the table and discuss it as business men, for one and fathers by whom our splendid heritage was won. If the free traders cannot see their way to make Chamberlain's policy the subject of discussion, let them produce an alternative policy of their own. We will examine that; anything to make a step forward; anything to prevent a backward movement which may naturally occur."

After a meeting by carrier pigeons, David Cohen of Winsted, Conn., won and married Miss Frances Adams of Atlantic City. The mails were too slow and Cohen sent his love missives by the birds and received his answers the same way.

LABOR MATTERS

Move to Oust American Agitators—Labor Men's Attitude Toward Militia

Montreal, Sept. 14.—(Special)—Today's sessions of the convention of the Canadian Federation of Labor were noticeable for a continuance of the attacks upon American unionism.

Deputy McNeil, reporting for the committee appointed to report on the possibility of extending the Provincial Workers' Association to the mines all over Canada so as to have a united body independent of United States interference, denounced the presence of the American organization in the Cape Breton coal fields strike.

The report favored the formation of the miners into a purely Canadian body. A resolution against union men being members of the militia caused considerable discussion, but was not carried.

J. B. O'Brien, of Ottawa, submitted a resolution, which was carried, that provincial executives of the Trades and Labor Congress be instructed to ask for the enactment of legislation compelling the different street railway companies throughout the dominion to equip cars with air brakes and other modern equipment.

Another resolution had to do with child labor, and was carried unanimously. Whereas the physical, mental, and moral welfare of children is sacrificed to the greed of the employing class through the employment of children at too early an age, therefore be it resolved that this Trades and Labor Congress of Canada instruct the provincial executives to secure the passage of an enactment raising the age of children eligible for employment to sixteen years of age.

Another motion, which was put to the meeting and carried, is to the effect that ratemakers holding property in more than one ward should not vote on money bills except in the ward in which the ratemakers reside.

HOW TO DO IT. A "Man Doctor" uncharitably declares that women do everything rather less perfect than men. They don't cook so well, they don't make dresses so well, they don't (as you have heard) through the medical section's dumb on this point, even spin hats quite as well as a man who sets himself to millinery.

If you have a feeling that your wife doesn't cook so excellently as you, just you take her to the kitchen, and try to make possible matters that you can't do. With cold meat, that is, with eggs, bacon, deliciously fried, and a little of the best of the best, you can make a meal that will do credit to a man.

Back To Work

The good health you won at seaside or mountain, can be retained by using "MONTERRAT" Lime Fruit Juice.

Now that people are coming back to town, it is highly important to guard against the dangers of Typhoid. The water is low at this season, and unless precautions are taken, Typhoid Fever will again be common.

At the Molson Laboratory of McGill University, experts took a glass of water teeming with Typhoid germs, and added to it two table-spoonfuls of "MONTERRAT" Lime Fruit Juice. At the end of fifteen minutes, all the Typhoid germs were killed.

What affords an absolute protection against contracting typhoid through impure, disease-laden water? Simply add "Monterrat" to the drinking water and the whole household will be protected against typhoid. It is also unnecessary to boil the water if "Monterrat" is added.

Inland Revenue Department Bulletin No. 197 shows that "Monterrat" is genuine Lime Fruit Juice, free from adulterants and preservatives—nothing but pure lime juice and the best juice in the world. Druggists and grocers have it.

Send for our free book of dietary drinks and luscious desserts made with "Monterrat" Lime Fruit Juice. It will give you a lot of new ideas. NATIONAL DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO. OF CANADA LIMITED, Montreal.

LOCAL NEWS

The funeral of the young child of Mr. and Mrs. C. Leonard, 23 Adelaide street, will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Miss Mabel Thomson, maritime golf champion, has gone to Toronto to compete in the Canadian championships which will take place the first of the coming week.

The Central Railway Commissioners have received no further tidings from Miss regarding the fire there yesterday. J. R. Stone will go to the place tomorrow morning to see what the damage was.

At a meeting of the Presbytery of the Miramichi, held in St. John's church, Chatham, on Tuesday last, Revs. Messrs. MacLean, Tattrie and Hardy were appointed to visit Campbellton and prepare a report on the action of matters there, in order to have an appeal ready for the meeting of the synod next month in New Glasgow. N. S. Rev. E. Mowatt, of Rebert, declined a call from Blackville church.

It is expected that nearly 700 people will journey to Boston on the excursion being conducted by the City Corner Band, the first boat tomorrow evening taking away the band and the largest party of excursionists to the Hub. The band has received permission from the mayor of Boston to play on Boston Common on Sunday next, and for the event has prepared a fine programme.

The Sisters of Charity of St. Vincent and St. Peter's Orphanages sincerely thank the gentlemen who so kindly treated the children to an automobile ride and to several hours of sightseeing at the exhibition. All was arranged and carried out so perfectly in every detail that much credit is due to the managers who planned the unique entertainment for the little ones, who enjoyed it most heartily.

Four prisoners appeared in the police court this morning, three men and a colored woman. The latter, Ada Gloss, was remanded on a charge of drunkenness, and on the same charge, Thos. O'Hara was also remanded, while Thomas Lord was fined $4. John Johnson, a native of Finland, who was arrested last night on a charge of wandering on the South Wharf, but not giving a satisfactory account of himself, was remanded. It is thought that the man, who cannot speak English, is an immigrant, and not a sailor, as was first supposed.

EXCITING TIME AT THIS FIRE

Rideau Hall Borders Asleep As Building is Burning

WAY IN IS FORCED

House Filled With Smoke—People Get Out Only Partly Dressed and One Young Woman is Carried to Street Half Conscious

Awakened by the firemen, while fire raged in the building, with smoke so thick that it was almost suffocating, the boarders in Rideau Hall, at the corner of Union street and Hazen avenue, kept up Jaco Barclay, were hardly able to get out this morning. As it was, one young woman was carried out in half-conscious condition.

The origin of the fire which did considerable damage to the building, and destroyed much of the furniture, is a mystery. With a gaping hole through a portion of the roof, the walls and ceilings cut open in many places, and with the hail and some of the rooms a pool of water, the house presents a forlorn appearance.

Fire was first detected by a passer by who noticed smoke pouring from the roof on the Hazen avenue side of the building. An alarm was rung in from box 6 and the fire apparatus was quickly on the scene. On the arrival of the firemen, there was no evidence that any one within was aware of the fire and the door was forced. Inside they were met by a heavy smoke that filled the house.

The building is a three-story one, and it was no easy task to get about the place and locate the sleeping people as the smoke was so thick.

However, as one after another of the boarders was aroused, each in turn noticed others and there was soon a general exodus, some only in their night clothes, others partly dressed.

Special Policeman John Kane who was one of the earliest on the scene, had much difficulty in awakening Miss Terresa Harlan, who is employed in the house. When she emerged, the hall way leading from her room was so choked with smoke that she encountered the difficulty in locating the stairway. Policeman Kane threw her trunk to the street from a window.

Miss Bertha McLeod, one of the last to get out, was carried to the street in a semi-conscious condition. She succeeded in getting half way down the stairs. She was picked up and carried down to lights to the street.

The whole situation was rather thrilling as the fire was roaring and smoke crackling as the people and furniture was taken from the house. The strange part of the affair is that there was no fire in any of the stores at the time and the start of the fire seemed to be in a vacant room, at which is adjoining another vacant room, with folding doors between.

When the firemen located the blaze the woodwork was a mass of flames extending from the wall to the ceiling, from which it had worked out through the roof, giving the impression that it had gained a good headway when the department arrived.

In all about six rooms were considerably damaged by fire and water, and especially the latter. There were about ten boarders in the house. Mr. Barclay, who is not in the house at the time, being at his restaurant in Pond street, and he was notified by a coachman who drove him to the house. He was unable to say how much his loss would be, though he estimated that it would be in the vicinity of $700, partly insured. The building is the property of Adam E. Bell, who is now located in the west.

The damage to the building is said to be in the vicinity of $700. There is $700 insurance on it.

MAYOR CANCELS THE LICENSE FOR THE FIGHT PICTURES

The Law in the Matter—Moral and Social Reform Council Ready to Take Action if They Were Shown

The mayor this morning issued an order cancelling the moving picture license issued to Frank Coleman, under which it was proposed to show the pictures of the Queen's rink. His Worship, in giving the reason for his action said: "Anything that is so filthy for the city of New York is certainly not fit for St. John."

Section 6 of the by-law relating to public exhibitions, etc., says: "The mayor may at any time cancel any license which he deems to be of an indecent or immoral description, or which may in any way be suggestive of indecency or immorality, or which he may consider would tend to corrupt or demoralize the public or individuals, or which may be contrary to law and public order."

There is a penalty of $50 for anyone who attempts to conduct an entertainment after the license therefor has been cancelled.

This morning A. A. Wilson, K. C., solicitor for the Moral and Social Reform Council, called upon the mayor and protested against allowing the pictures to be shown. The mayor informed Mr. Wilson that it was his intention to cancel the license for the show.

At a meeting of the Moral and Social Reform Council it was decided to proceed against the proprietors of the show under the criminal code as well as the civic by-law, if they should attempt to exhibit the pictures. Even had the mayor allowed the pictures to be shown, the reform council would have started action under the criminal code.

A private trial of the pictures was given this morning in an up-town hall.

MISSING MAN SHOWED UP TODAY

The veil of mystery covering the disappearance of Samuel Howard, of Allan Falls, Me., has been partly lifted, but not entirely, as he put in an appearance this morning at the home of his brother-in-law, Samuel Cunningham, thus clearing any doubt as to his being still alive, but, it is said, would not say where he had been.

The finding of his hat in his brother-in-law's yard on Wednesday, the day after he disappeared, is explained by the fact that he had two such articles of headgear, and dropped one of them.

Mr. Howard caused a little uneasiness and anxiety among his relatives by not returning to Mr. Cunningham's residence on Tuesday night.

ALBERT COUNTY SHALE; CAPITALISTS INSPECT

The Shale deposits of Albert county are attracting wide attention. Two separate parties, one from the United States and the other from Great Britain, are at present the county looking over the various deposits with the object of acquiring working rights if everything turns out satisfactorily.

MR. MCNICOLL LIKELY TO BE HERE NEXT WEEK

David McNicoll, vice president and general manager of the C. P. R., is expected in St. John next week, on his way to Nova Scotia to make an inspection trip over the coast route to Halifax, N.S.

It is also thought that his visit may have some bearing on the negotiations for the purchase of the cold storage plant, the likely property and other properties on Main and Mill streets.

It is probable that Mr. McNicoll will make an announcement regarding steamship services for the coming winter season. So far as known at present there will be little change from last year, except that the Australian steamers will make St. John their terminus.

WILLS OF HUGH J. MCCORMICK AND SAMUEL W. KAIN—MARTIN SPEARS' ESTATE—THE SIMONDS WILL CASE

SUITS and OVERCOATS
For Fall and Winter Wear

Just think how many times you have bought a suit or overcoat, that has looked well at first, but after a few weeks wear have lost their shape and hung like a rag around your form, that was the cause of inferior canvas and interlining and the lack of noirecloth. It is safe to say that you don't want any more garments of that kind and you won't get them if you buy at these stores, as the Suits and Overcoats we are offering for Fall and Winter wear retain their shape and appearance, as only the best of canvas and interlining and noirecloth only have been used in their make.

When At The Exhibition Examine The Glenwood Range

If you have not yet seen the Glenwood Ranges you have a chance to examine them at the Exhibition. Our Glenwood Ranges are made to make your cooking easy and your labors light. The Glenwood Ranges are not plastered all over with nickel but they have enough nickel on them to make them neat in appearance and it can be removed by simply pinching a spring. Our Triple Hot Range that we have on exhibition is something that every hotel, restaurant, or boarding house people should see. Three stoves in one and every one of them can be used separately. Glenwood Ranges are sold on their merits, quality and workmanship. Every range made in St. John.
