STORY OF THE BRITISH ARMY STORES SCANDAL

Over a Million Pounds Was Lost to the Nation Through Mismanagement—Lack of Intelligence Was the Principal Cause.

If it were not for the seriousness of the issue, the loss to the British taxpayer, and the severe condemnation of the war office and army officers of all ranks, the report of the British war stores commission, which has been sitting for some time past and has just published its report, would be amusing. The actual loss to the public through the mismanagement of the stores transactions in South Africa, after the war had closed, cannot be definitely stated; but after elaborate counting the commissioner says: "Leaving out of account the loss of £752,857 (under the head of shrinkage, shortage, had, condemned, destroyed by fire, etc.), all of which we treat as unavoidable under the circumstances, we estimate the total preventable loss to the home taxpayer during the twenty-two months after the peace as somewhere between three-quarters of a million and one and a quarter million."

COL MORGAN'S RECALL. Again, the circumstances of the recall of Colonel Morgan "afford a striking illustration of the absence of intercommunication, of common action or of common interest between the different departments of the war office." As to the delay in the war secretary's return, the commission hopes that steps will be taken to prevent a recurrence of such an incident. At the most critical moment in the administration of the supply system the financial adviser was removed and the duties of director of supplies transferred from a qualified officer to one wholly without local experience or knowledge of the work. The relieving features of the report are few. As to Lord Kitchener's experience in the local contract system, the commission says the event proved that he overestimated the sale value of his supplies and underestimated their amount, adding, "no blame can fairly be attributed to any one."

Financial Crash Predicted for Japan. Owing to the Shabby Treatment Accorded Foreign Capitalists and the Inflation of Home Securities. LONDON, Oct. 20.-In a despatch from Tokio the correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says there exists an almost complete deadlock between foreign capitalists and the Japanese government. Many foreign promoters are sitting in Japan but few of their schemes show any prospects of success. There is much negotiation, but little real business. On the other hand the Japanese themselves are floating innumerable companies which are always over-subscribed. The stock market is in a ridiculous inflated condition, the correspondent says, and some persons predict a serious financial crash.

ROME HOLDS THE HIGHEST TRUMPHS AGAINST SPAIN. ROME, Oct. 19.-The Vatican is showing great indifference in the matter of the anti-clerical threats of the Spanish government, declaring that nothing serious will be done in this direction, as any real attempt to injure Roman Catholic interests in Spain might be answered by the Vatican by the withdrawing of the prohibition to the Carlists to move against the present monarchy. MORAN WOULD SHOW THEM HOW TO STOP LYNCHING. Says He Would Put An End to It in Massachusetts and Other States. Might Follow That Example.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Oct. 19.-John B. Moran addressed an audience in city hall tonight in the interests of the campaign for the governorship of Massachusetts, in discussing various planks in the Republican platform he said, among other things: "I'll see to it that, when I am governor there will be no lynching done in Massachusetts, and if in 1908 they want the Massachusetts governor to show them how to stop lynching all over the country, I'll show them how to do it." Many of Mr. Moran's auditors took this remark as following out an intimation contained in his speeches delivered in Marlboro and Natick last evening that he might be a candidate for the presidency. Speaking later of comparisons made by the Governor and the political campaigns in New York and Massachusetts, Mr. Moran reiterated his statement previously made, that the issue in Massachusetts is neither Bryan, Hearst or Hughes, "My interests," said Mr. Moran in this connection, "are antagonistic to both Bryan and Hearst."

ST. JOHN STAR. ST. JOHN, N. B., OCT. 20, 1906.

THE BRITISH NAVY. The British admiralty has just sprung on this warlike world the greatest surprise in years, and one which must cause deep disappointment and chagrin to several ambitious nations. Three warships now rapidly approaching completion, which it was generally understood were second-class armored cruisers, turn out to be battleships of the most powerful type, greater even than the monster Dreadnought, and sufficient, when ready for service, to give Britain ten years lead in naval armament over every other nation.

When a bride dresses of fairies the night before her marriage she must consider herself blessed, and if she finds a spider on her wedding-dress it also means a blessing. Should the wedding ring be dropped during the ceremony it is always a sign of ill-luck, but if a bridegroom carries a miniature horseshoe in his pocket, it leads to good luck in the future.

THE CORRECT COUNT. As a prisoner was brought before Judge Sherman for sentence the clerk happened to be absent. Judge Sherman asked the officer in charge of the prisoner what the offence was, whereupon he was charged, "Bigotry, your honor. He's been married to three women at once."

PRINCIPAL GORDON ON CORRUPTION. He Calls Upon Party Leaders to Inaugurate an Anti-Bribery Fund.

KINGSTON, Ont., Oct. 19.—In an article in the Quarterly, Principal Gordon deprecates the corruption in both political parties to inaugurate an anti-bribery fund, to be used in prosecuting cases of corruption. Thus will be secured deliverance from what seems to have become a necessity of the party system.

THE GIRL WHO SMILES. The wind was east and the chimney smoked, And the old brown house seemed dreary, For nobody smiled and nobody talked, The young folks crumpled, the old folks croaked, They had come home chilled and weary.

Then opened a door and a girl came And sang, Her nose was pug, and her cheek was thin, There wasn't a dimple from brow to chin, But her smile was bright and cheery.

Oh, give me the girl that will smile and sing, And make all glad together! To be plain or fair is a lesser thing, But a kind, unselfish heart can bring Good cheer in the darkest weather.

SATURDAY SERMONETTE. "HORSE PLAY." I don't know exactly what is meant by the phrase horse play, but I imagine it means rough, coarse play in which there is no fun, no wit, no humor, and describes the kind of play by other colleges, for most undergraduates seem to be destitute of humor and originality, and have the idea that it is amusing to destroy property and main a freshman.

But after all it is not the brutality of the hazing which the public object, it is the utter stupidity of it. It is the killing of a few freshmen even the killing of them if you make the public laugh when you do it. But, oh, sophomores, do your killing humanely if you can.

Wraps for Young Girls

FOR young girls, the favorite wrap is a long cape, perhaps with the hood at the back or with several little capes that flare out over the shoulders and make their youthful wearer look broad.

Plenty of coats are seen, too, practically replicas of the simplest of those the debutante wears, and likely to be finished with deep collar and cuffs of fur. That delightful touch need not be expensive, either. If you have laid away among your treasures a bit of fur of almost any kind, and suit the material of the wrap to it. For instance, a bit of Persian lamb is stunning upon one of the scarlet cloaks that prove so serviceable, and even heavier is pretty upon a wrap in the same dull, soft woody brown, while gray or brown squirrel suggest endless pretty combinations.

Only a few white winter wraps are used for very young girls, unless they are of a material that will stand repeated cleanings. And even then there is not nearly the service in a white wrap, with its unmistakable air of evening festivities, as there is in one of color.

The light weight felt-stuff, found in upholstery shops, is used a great deal for these wraps, and serge is used almost as often. Broadcloth, of course, is loveliest of all for them, and when broadcloth is used, it is not the chiffon broadcloth of last year, but a weight just a little heavier that has twice the wear in it.

Blue and brown and red are the three colors upon which the changes are rung, the prettiest of the brown tones really no more than biscuit color deepened a little. Among the red shades have come the pretty dahlias and wine shades over which Paris is so enthusiastic. But a good strong red is the shade oftenest used. As for blue, old blues and navy blue have it between them.

If a cape is to be made, it is cut on very marked circular lines, so that it falls in very full folds. Capes are long, although not so long as coats (which usually, with a girl young enough to wear short skirts, come all the way down to the very edge of her skirt), the favorite length being about six inches above the hem of the skirt.

Thin Stuffs for Party Dresses

EXCEPT for the occasional frail mortal who must taboo them, thin stuffs are used almost entirely for young girls' party dresses, the proverbial "best white dress" having developed into a bewildering array of tints and colors half submerged in lace and ruffles.

The chilly little mortal first: Cotton voiles and colonnes have made things very pleasant for her, and the prettiest of all the many styles are those made with guimpes. And, by the way, the guimpe is displayed so much more elaborately than is usual. In fact, the guimpe itself may be a simple lace blouse, over which the dress is worn.

The cashmere weaves have come out this winter in so many new forms and so many new colors that for light weight woolen dresses there's nothing much prettier than they are.

Instead of ashes, the prettiest little girdles are worn, quite narrow, and trimmed with tiny rosettes and ends, or with stunning buttons.

For the girl who can wear thin things with impunity in the dead of winter, the prettiest thing she can don is all-white, but there are hundreds of variations of that same all-white from the stereotyped dress of sheer lawn and Valenciennes lace to a clever little dress evolved from yards and yards of wide embroidery coloring.

In colors, the batistes—embroidered, some of them—and mull, share honors amicably, and the flowered stuffs—organdies and printed lawns—are very popular, especially those with big, effective blossoms instead of the more summery looking tiny-figured materials.

Most of them are cut—not low, but just a shade lower than collarless, in square or round shape, and are finished off with a narrow frill of lace. Sleeves are usually short—somehow, when you're that age, short sleeves seem to spell "party!"

Individuality in Color Schemes

"WHAT is the color of this season?" was asked one of those knowing mortals whose word is law in the fashion world. The laconic answer seemed ambiguous at first hearing: "Every color."

And then he went into the question, warming up to his subject delightfully. The upshot of his confidences was that the note of individuality in dress was to be struck even more strongly this year—it is to be whatever is most becoming.

Of course, there will be colors and shades talked about—brown, for instance, promises to be very good; and gray, the shade known as London smoke, almost as good. But, in the main, it will be a case of choosing what brings your own particular style and coloring out best; and the woman who knows just what color and shade that is, has half the battle fought.

A thousand new tints are about—a new green, "epinard" (spinach) they call it over the seas; castor (a dozen now shades of it); marine—a blue with more blue in it than navy has, and yet less conspicuously so, by virtue of that mysterious beauty enhancing weave; chasseur, a new strongly soft blue—it's impossible to describe them! But everything is softened and "sombred" into a beauty far more alluring than the brash tones of yester-year.

In street suits, brown is wonderfully popular; and for morning suits, there's nothing more all-round satisfactory than the brown and black, brown and blue, or brown and green checks or plaids, with brown introduced into the quiet trimming in a way that sets the seal of approval upon the brown of it all.

DECOLLETE gowns are in better favor for all sorts of uses. And the return of the gown cut ever so slightly low—just one remove from the collarless gown of last summer—is filling the heart of the young girl with joy.

Mousquetaire gloves are popular, even when they are worn with long sleeves. And plenty of colored gloves—tinted gloves, rather—are worn with pale-colored gowns, which being distinctively evening gowns, are naturally made with short sleeves.

And mousquetaire sleeves—perhaps wrinkling all the way from shoulder to waist, perhaps just from the elbow down—are back again.

WHAT PARIS HAS TO OFFER IN THE WAY OF WINTER STYLES

PARIS, '06. WINTER fashions have reached that satisfactory stage wherein assertion at last supplants prediction. It really seems as if the American woman, whose taste must be consulted earliest, in every season becoming more and more carefully considered. Perhaps she more strongly influences the French idea, for each season the fashions grow more wearable at home, without the slightest modification, and the changes are all leaning our way.

Evening as well as street gowns are simple as you please to have them, most artists in line and very becoming. Colors are a trifle more pronounced—less neutral, one might better say. For tailor-made gowns it is dark blue, blue and green in a Scotch mixture and a plain bottle green, which is trying without any recompensing loveliness of tone.

Elaborate afternoon gowns find color expression in a new bordeaux and a sort of a Russian blue, called storm blue, both of which have already gained quite an enthusiastic following. One especially lovely model in the latter shade was made of brussels net and broadcloth; these two widely different materials were ostensibly held together by a heavy embroidery of coarsest rope silk. It was an excellent example of the "genre" that has become indispensable since the replacing of the elaborate separate blouse by whole costumes.

For evening, the new color is "peach pink"—more like the palest orange—a delicate though rich shade that is a boon to brunettes. The latter are also lucky in the reappearance of coral as one of the season's most fashionable shades. For blondes there are pink and blue, separately and collectively. In either case it (or they) is generously touched with a fine shade of soft Roman gold, in the form of embroidery or cobweb-like lace. Lovers of pale blue may at last appear in artificial light without that cold insignificance to which their favorite color so often sinks.

Little golden tassels finish the short dangling ends of new girdles—narrow affairs of satin, crushed as of yore. A fringe of tiniest gold or steel beads is another of the season's features, and a fringe, made of tiny silk balls that match the costume, is also seen. Paquin has shown an especial predilection to fringes of all sorts, provided they don't exceed an inch in depth—that is, at the present writing.

At Paquin's, by the way, they cling to the short waist, although the other houses are united in adopting the perfectly round but normal waist line, which dips neither in back nor front.

Chiffon and the chiffon-like clothes of past seasons lend themselves well to these new trimmings. They are found in all the new evening as well as afternoon shades. Bias bands of satin or of velvet to match the cloth finish most of the new skirts, weighting them into graceful folds, as well as acting as a substantial hem. The most striking idea shows a single band nine inches deep, although two bands are also used, a lower one of four inches, supplemented by a second a few inches above, that measures an inch less.

Sleeves are most artistic and very independent, being anything that the fancy may dictate in the way of soft fussiness, provided it is in keeping with the size limit, which is a becoming slight one.

All that there is of the fantastic seems to have expanded itself in hair. These are of a size that seems exaggerated after the microscopic turban of the summer months.

Following the lines of the new hat, which is set on nearly flat, there is a brand-new coiffure, richly varied and gathered loosely to the back of the head just beneath the hat, with a wonderful massing of soft puffs and curls.

The whole arrangement is protected by the strictest of tulle veils, tied beneath the chin and over the hat in careless folds. The effect, which is airiness itself, is wonderfully clever, for any other sort of veil used in the necessary quantity would look thick and awkward.

NOTES OF FASHIONS

EVERY other hat you see has plaid on it somewhere caught up into a rosette or, more often, into the great bow that is so irresistibly reminiscent of the snash of our childhood days. The way that bow at the back fits down over the hair is the prettiest thing imaginable.

But—a great big but—those plaids are being done to death as violently as were the peacock feathers of last spring. It's only a question of time—and a short time at that—when they'll go out with a bang, except for school hats and the like.

Paris is indulging in the dearest booties imaginable—shoes that are made of finest kid and buttoned instead of laced, the buttons set more closely together than they've been for these many years in which mannish styles have held sway.

Even dress shoes have crept up from the once-ubiquitous pump, and the prettiest white booties give the foot that slim, graceful look that is the goal toward which every Parisienne strives.

COMMERCIAL. ONE BURNED TO DEATH THREE OTHERS INJURED

By a Blaze at a Maine Sawmill—Dus Caught From a Spark From the Boiler.

BRUNSWICK, Me., Oct. 19.—The sudden ignition of sawdust in a conveyor at the plant of the Pejepscot paper mill, at Pejepscot, about ten miles from here, caused the death of one man and severely burned three others today. All the men were employees of the paper mill and had gone into the conveyor which runs from the main mill to the boiler house carrying sawdust and shavings, to clean it out.

The conveyor is about six feet square and 150 feet in length. The four workmen had just entered it to begin the removal of an accumulation of fine dust when there was an explosion, due probably to the ignition of the dust by a spark from the boiler. Bray who was nearest the mouth of the conveyor made his escape without serious injury, but the other men were caught in the burst of flame. Poitras' clothing was burned off and when he was removed from the conveyor and the fire was extinguished, he was alive but lived only a few hours. The other men were cared for at their homes.

OLDTOWN, Me., Oct. 19.—Fire which broke out in the Maine Central freight house at Milford at 11:30 o'clock to night caused an estimated loss of $5,500. The freight shed was destroyed as was also 1,000 tons of ice belonging to the McNamara Ice Company of Oldtown and about a thousand dollars worth of lumber belonging to the Jones Lumber Company, also of Oldtown.

Harry Pitt, the North End barber, returned from a hunting trip last evening with a quantity of partridges.

TRAFFIC IN GIRLS FOR IMMORALITY

Declared at W. C. T. U. Convention to be Widespread.

American Soda Fountains are Better Than German Beer Gardens—A Hint for European Temperance Workers

BOSTON, Oct. 19.—The speakers at the W. C. T. U. convention this evening were Miss Agnes E. Slack, of England, Miss Sylvia C. Carpenter, of Greece, the Earl of Carlisle, of England, Mrs. Margaret Dye Ellis, of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Anna Howard Shaw, of Philadelphia.

Miss Slack, in her address, said: "Babylon ruled the world, Greece ruled the world, Rome ruled the world, because of the character of their people. If we love our country, how much are we willing to deny ourselves for our country? Religion has taught us all that is best in the world. But we have centered our attention too much, perhaps, on alleviating instead of on preventing disease. Help us in our work and you will not need your hospitals and your jails."

Lord Carlisle said in part: "In visiting the United States I have of ten one thing which the temperance workers of Great Britain might study—the possibility of getting refraining temperance drinks in much variety in my country. Many parties the so-called 'bar' have beer gardens of Germany, and cafes of France and Italy. Yet I have travelled much in those countries and have heard distinguished Germans lament the frightful increase in intemperance in Germany. And there is no question which seems to me more melancholy than that which has taken place in France and Italy. Formerly there was almost complete absence of the ordinary drink shop in those countries and there was much to be said for the safe. Yet even there the great amount of absinthe drunk was ruining the people. But since 1870 there has been an immense increase in the number of drinkshops in France and Italy. Such is the outgrowth of the beer garden and the cafe."

"We must peg away as hard as we can. I hope no one will be led away with the idea that the temperance effort can be neglected. And without personal persuasion any legislation which is not the result of education may be forgotten. We temperance people are like the wicket in one respect, there is no rest for us."

During the evening Miss Slack made an impassioned appeal for funds for the work she was doing in Japan, India and other Eastern countries, and a large amount of money was subscribed for this work.

Dr. Allen, in her report of the purity department, said in part: "There is a widespread traffic in girls and transportation of girls from one country to another for immoral purposes. We have seen the signs of sympathy and indifference, and against the low standards of morality which prevail in many places. It is a question of legislation in regard to the union of the divorce laws of the different states in this country. The spread of immorality among young people and children. Parents, however, are becoming aroused and are demanding of instruction for their children regarding the facts of life. The medical profession is very generally discussing the question of how such instruction may be given to the children in the public schools. Some teachers already have been giving scientific instruction to pupils in the higher grades. This raises the teaching of the fundamental laws of human life from the level to which we have permitted it to sink, up to a level with other sciences. We have found one of the best methods of forwarding our work to be in holding mothers' meetings in connection with the public schools."

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 20.—The election of officers was the principal business scheduled for today at the World's Woman's Christian Temperance Union Convention. Although the convention proper will come to an end this afternoon, there will be a meeting this evening at which one minute addresses will be made by representatives of many countries. Tomorrow afternoon the annual sermon will be held in the evening in charge of the Young Women's Christian Temperance Union.

There was no indication early today when the convention would choose as its president for the next three years, Mrs. L. M. Stevens, of Portland, Me., and Lady Henry Somerset, the present incumbent, have both been mentioned.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Connors and family, St. Stephen, are visiting Mrs. Charles Bradley, Main street.

P. W. D. Campbell, of the I. C. R., is connected through the house through illness.

Miss Lila Breen, of this city, left yesterday on the Galvin Austin to visit her sister in Boston for a few weeks.

Mr. Belyea, of the Island revenue, H. M. C., is spending his vacation in New York accompanied by Mrs. Belyea.

Rev. Dr. McLeod came in from Frederickton this morning.

Mrs. W. T. Whitehead and Miss F. Whitehead arrived from Frederickton on the Montreal express today.

Miss Cromwell has gone to Frederickton for a short vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Rising and son, Harold, and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Tennant have gone on a holiday trip to Boston, New York and Washington.

On Monday a sharp decline sale of ready-to-wear skirts for women will commence in M. R. A.'s costume section. The particulars in the usual advertising space to-day state there are over two hundred garments to be offered, and it will also be noticed that prices are halved. Every skirt is an exceptionally good value, most of them having done service as samples, others are the remains of big lines. Not a skirt that is not this season's.

Prof. Spencer's classes will open for ladies and gentlemen on Wednesday evening, 8 o'clock, at 74 Germain St. 20-10-1

Carolina coast. It is still hazardous for coasting craft along the middle and south Atlantic coasts. The hurricane, which was forecast by Henry, of the weather bureau, seems to have been temporarily checked in its northeastward movement and has not advanced in the past twelve hours, nor do the indications point to any change in the next 24 hours. Another storm is developing in Colorado.

Naval officials expressed gratification at the way in which the American war vessels rode out the storm in Havana.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The following official despatch was received at the war department late this afternoon: "Havana, Oct. 19. 'Secretary of War, Washington: 'Terrific hurricane swept over Havana and vicinity at midnight lasting several hours. Wind officially reported 80 miles an hour. Telegraph and telephone wires all down. Trees blown down in all parts. Two schooners ashore. Loss city and country heavy. Fear considerable loss life. Eight deaths reported in city of Havana. Have called upon governors of provinces to report local conditions. Ocean-going shipping in Havana harbor unharmed. Number of launches and lighters ashore and sunk. (Signed) 'Magooon.'

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 19.—The steamer St. Louis, Captain Bravo, has sunk off the Florida coast.

One of the extension steamers arrived in port tonight bringing sixty wounded, who were taken to the hospital, and it is said there are 25 dead bodies which will be brought up tomorrow.

It is believed now that a portion of the Florida Fish and Products Commission's fleet were destroyed. Manager Adams sent out one of their boats this morning to look for men and boats, and on their return they reported no signs of the fleet. The fishing nets were found strewn upon the shore.

The steamer St. Louis belongs to the fleet of the Florida East Coast Railway and was employed in carrying coconuts to and from the extension work on the Keys. Despite the storm warnings Captain Bravo sailed for Key West with a large number of workmen aboard. The steamer was caught in the storm and was driven ashore with an awful loss of life.

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 19.—Passengers arriving here from Miami tonight report that the damage there by the hurricane was nothing like as serious as first reported. All the east coast hotels at Miami and other east coast points are still open and business is being done. The damage to small houses and fences. Three stores were unroofed and awnings and sheds all over the city were blown down.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Oct. 19.—The "Red D" line steamer Philadelphia from La Guayra, Venezuela, for New York, arrived here today 48 hours late. Her captain reports that a Dutch steamer between Curacao and La Guayra.

The Philadelphia encountered the cyclone upon leaving the harbor of La Guayra on Monday. She was blown ashore and slightly damaged. This and the heavy weather accounted for her delay in reaching here.

Twenty miles of the railroad connecting La Guayra with Caracas have been totally destroyed by the storm, according to officers and passengers of the Philadelphia.

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 19.—The most destructive storm in years struck Miami at 3 o'clock Thursday morning, coming from the northeast. The damage wrought throughout the city will amount to many thousands of dollars, it being impossible now to give any accurate figures.

The new Oriendorf block, which was nearly completed, was partly destroyed.

The Arcade building was badly damaged. The first Methodist church was partially wrecked.

A large portion of the terminal docks and the car shed near the round house were blown down.

Most of the merchants lost heavily from water.

HAVANA, Oct. 19.—The cyclone which began here Wednesday afternoon reached its full fury on Thursday morning. The greatest damage occurred on the harbor and along the docks. A number of smaller craft and lighters were sunk and some houses were blown down.

The total number of deaths was Subsequent reports from Matanzas city declare that some houses there sustained slight damage.

It is estimated that the damage in Havana province will reach fully $2,000,000. One hundred and fifty tobacco barns in the Alquizar district have been destroyed. The recently planted tobacco crop also has been seriously ported from the Guira section, the centre of the banana and plantain growing district. These crops are said to have been practically destroyed. Many small farmers have lost their all and are in great distress.

SECOND CRIB NOW IN PLACE
Work Carried On by Electric Light.
Operations Began at 11 p. m., and Were Practically Completed at 1.30 p. m.

Another definite step towards the completion of the harbor improvements on the west side was taken last night by the successful sinking of the crib work on No. 2 site.

Contractor Clark finished his soundings yesterday afternoon, and finding them satisfactory, decided to sink the crib work at once.

The crib work was covered with green lanterns, making a very pleasing effect. The night was a perfect one for the work, and many citizens were present to see it.

Contractor Clark, provided with night glasses and a megaphone, directed the operations from his office.

On hand to assist him were Director Cushing and Inspector Duffy.

COLLINS MUST FACE JURY ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Preliminary Examination Ended Yesterday With His Commitment for Trial at the Next Session of the Supreme Court—His Counsel Criticises Prosecutors and Press.

HOPEWELL CAPE, N. B., Oct. 19.—Thomas F. Collins will have to face the grand jury at the next session of the supreme court, for the murder of Mary Ann McAuley, the prisoner having been committed for trial today by the Hon. Mr. Justice Stuart. The result was no surprise. While none of the evidence may have connected the prisoner directly with the murder, there was an abundance of testimony pointing strongly in his direction. When court opened at 3 p. m., Clerk of the Peace Dixon, in the absence of acting Attorney General Tweedie, stated the case on the evidence already presented, and asked that the prisoner be committed. J. C. Sherrin, the prisoner's counsel, waived the second reading of the deposition and addressed the court, criticizing the crown officers severely for the repeated adjournments. The crown should have provided witnesses or not. They said at one time they had important evidence, warranting adjournment, and then finally asked for a commitment without further testimony. He also claimed the crown should have provided funds for the defense of the stranger, who had against him all the strength and machinery of the government. The counsel for the defense also considered the prisoner's case had been reported by newspaper and other reports. He did not blame the newspapers so much but thought the reports should have supported certain reports until the matter was brought into court. He instanced the reported finding of the second valise by Detective Killen, and said that as far as the court was concerned they did not know there was a second valise found yet the matter went ahead to prejudice the prisoner. Mr. Sherrin scarcely thought the evidence warranted a commitment and made a formal application for dismissal, stating that the case for the prisoner would be fought to the bitter end. Mr. Dixon in response, explained that the crown had further evidence, and that it was the intention to present the same, but through the unavoidable adjournments seemed necessary. Magistrate Stuart announced that he would dismiss the application for dismissal and read to the prisoner the information charging him with the murder of Mary Ann McAuley, and asked him if he had anything to say in regard to the charge. The prisoner, who stood composedly, his face somewhat paler than usual, while being addressed, answered in a strong voice, "I've nothing to say, sir." The magistrate then spoke briefly, saying that he was glad that the question of the innocence or guilt of the prisoner did not rest with himself. He thought the crown officers were unjustly censured by the counsel for the defense, and said that he had been informed that it was not in their power to assign funds and counsel to the prisoner. The magistrate also spoke in defense of the newspapers, and considered the prisoner's case had been reported by newspaper and other reports. He did not blame the newspapers so much but thought the reports should have supported certain reports until the matter was brought into court. He instanced the reported finding of the second valise by Detective Killen,

BUCKINGHAM STORY RETOLD Farmer Swears Rioters Fired First Shot and Identified Some of the Strikers

BUCKINGHAM, Oct. 19.—The inquest in the riot shooting case was continued this morning, the first witness examined being F. Smith, a Buckingham farmer, who was a witness of the riot. He swore positively that the rioters fired the first shot and that he saw shots fired by George Robinson, Colbert Bastien, Thomas Belanger and Hillaire Charrette. Later he identified Charrette positively, and the identification is most important, for Detective Pickard, who followed Smith on the stand, swore that the wound he received in the fight came from a shot fired by this man. Charrette, Pickard also testified in his evidence that previous to the riot Belanger, who was killed, came to him and said, "You are taking a great deal of our mouths." We will not allow you to move the police, he said, and warned him that if he did not give a 4-4 for the law, he would stop them. He then called his chief's attention to the fact that Belanger had a revolver, and advised his arrest, whereupon Belanger retorted that he didn't give a 4-4 for the law. Pickard then saw the rifles being distributed from wagon to strikers and the strikers rush up, Belanger striking Bailiff Cummings on the head and falling him to the ground. He described the fight at some length, but was taken faint and a physician reported that he was suffering from great pain and unable to proceed. The inquest was thereupon adjourned.

BETTY: ALIAS NELLIE NEVILLE

The Taylor girls were calling across, from their wagon. "Oh, Betty, when did you come? Awfully glad to meet you, Mr. Henderson; it's the nicest thing in the world to have you all come along just now, for we are going up on the Hog Back, for a moonlight picnic, next Thursday. Oh, it's only twenty miles; what of that? And most of us mean to ride; but they say you can get up there in a buggy, if you like. Anyhow, we've got two riders—and the Hog Back is the only place flat enough to dance. We can have a good old reel up there. The Vale is not far from there, you know, and we are rather thinking of staying all night with the Carters, if we could only hear whether Cousin Sue was quite well again. "Night, indeed!" said Philip Marshall, riding up. "We wouldn't get there till sunrise, and, as we'd sleep most of the day, I don't see how it would bother Cousin Sue. Whoever heard of a Carter minding a dozen or so people coming in? Betsey, I am to give you two kisses. This one for myself—and I certainly am glad to see you, dear girl—and this one for the husband, I thank you. He can't leave his horses, a pair of colts he's breaking; but he wants you and Henderson to come to Kinloch to dinner today or tomorrow, or whichever day suits you. Do you care for hunting, Mr. Henderson? I've missed seeing today, and I've got two fairly good dogs, and there are half a dozen coveys of birds on Hill Top, we might go after. Or, if you like fox hunting, there's a meet day after tomorrow, it's a little rough, but about here, a pretty steep and lots of stone fences, you know, but no wire. What do you say?"

eying and at night there were a lot of cousins constantly coming in. Mr. Henderson looked bored and disappointed, and I began to relax, because it really was hardly fair when he had come such a distance. So I wailed him on the stairs (seeing there'd be no chance to talk to him alone) and suggested that he telephone for a buggy and drive home the next day, since it would be as convenient to him to go north from our station as from Weatherby. "What good Lord, Betty, it's thirty-five miles, would that be permitted." He looked aghast, but I began to be a little tired of his attitude. "Well," I said, "we've all been doing it ever since the Colonies; but no doubt it might be boring after the first hour." Mary Cary, who had begun to feel the sincerest sympathy for him, came up the stairs at that moment, and highly approved the plan, assuring him that it was quite the custom and they went off together to order the buggy and arrange that a man should go over on the stage, to bring it back. The next day was clear and crisp, and the drive most beautiful. The horse travelled well, I drove him and I saw that he did, for I—well, I rather think I wanted to reach Tracey by mail-time! But the village was deserted when we passed through, and I felt disappointed not to see even my old gentleman. I began telling Mr. Henderson about them, and about our little game, supposing he would be amused. Far from it. "Now, see here, Betty," he exclaimed, in the last stage of exasperation, "do you mean to tell me you sat on the road-side playing with a couple of old traps you never saw in your life before? Why, what could their being impostors? How do you know they were the men they represented themselves to be? And if they were that, they were idle old rascals by their own showing. Think of two men sitting down to play dominoes all the morning, and then going home to take a nap! That, no doubt, is a pretty fair sample of your old Virginia aristocracy." "And what, pray, of your own Philadelphia club men? Do they lead more useful and noble lives? Is there not that sort of element in every community, where an inheritance of easy living has left some men helpless and idle?" "That may be true, in a measure; but, Betty, indeed you should not be allowed to sneer at the country in this unchaperoned state and get into such situations."

EIGHTY FIVE POISONED; TWO HAVE SINCE DIED

Guests at Silver Wedding Ate Gelatine Dressing in Chickens Boiled in Copper Pots—Some are Now Near Death's Door—First Thought to be Epidemic of Typhoid Fever.

HAMILTON, Oct. 19.—As a result of eating gelatine dressing in chickens boiled in copper pots eighty-five of the guests were ill. Those who had partaken of the dressing were ill and the other five who had not were untouched. At first it was thought to be an epidemic of typhoid fever until Doctors Maw and Morrow diagnosed it as a salmon poisoning. Mrs. Ferguson died shortly afterwards as a result of eating the dressing, while Rev. Mr. Ferguson, her husband, is critically ill. Mrs. Foster, mother of Hector, is also dead. Hector, his wife and two children, are critically ill, but the other guests are slowly recovering.

PREMIER PETERS IS WELL SATISFIED

Pleased With Result of Conference of Provincial Premiers at Ottawa—Matter Settled for Good

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Oct. 19.—Premier Peters was last night from the conference of provincial premiers at Ottawa, says the well satisfied Premier. He had definite assurance from the Dominion government that the subsidy for this province will be increased by $70,000. The question of the 80 cents per head of population was discussed at considerable length. Mr. Peters pointed out to the conference that as far as Prince Edward Island was concerned this matter was settled for all time. He said that the federal government attempted to reduce the perceptible allowance, but as the terms of union provided for an increase, not for a decrease, the Dominion could not justly make the reduction. After a good deal of correspondence the government admitted the contention of the island and have continued to pay the original amount ever since.

WHY... SASKATOON GROWS

It is the centre of an empire of hard wheat of unexampled area and fertility. It is the strategic railway crossing of the great Saskatchewan River. It has now built or building nine railway lines. It has enterprising business men in City Council and Board of Trade. It is endeavoring to keep pace with the demands made upon it by its far-reaching and productive tributary territory—the bread basket of the British Empire.

There is no better, safer or surer investment in the world than well located Real Estate such as we are offering in East Side Saskatoon.

More money has been made in Real Estate than anything else. Real Estate often pays form Five Hundred to One Thousand Per Cent in a comparatively short time.

A leading Banking Institution paid recently $125,000 for a Forty-four Foot Frontage in one of growing western cities. This property years ago was not worth five thousand dollars.

A 50 Ft. Front in S.a.s.k.a.t.o.o.n brought $10,000 that 5 years ago was sold for farm land at a few dollars an acre.

A SAD CASE Wife of Edward Priddle, Reported Drowned, is Very Ill

Mrs. Hayward Priddle received a telegram yesterday morning from her husband concerning the strange disappearance of his brother. The telegram simply stated that his brother was missing and in his opinion must have fallen overboard and been drowned. It will be remembered that Alex. Priddle, brother of the missing man, was drowned about two years ago at Chatham, Mass., off the "Wentworth." Mr. Priddle's wife and family were drowned with him. Capt. Priddle intended leaving the "Free Trade" in Boston in charge of his brother Edward as he was engaged as captain of the "Island City," which is being rebuilt at Dalhousie. Mrs. Edward Priddle, wife of the missing man, is in a very delicate condition. Dr. Bishop was called in yesterday and strongly advised that nothing be told to excite her too strongly. She is yet in ignorance about the disappearance of her husband.

CAPE BRETON MAN KILLED

GLACE BAY, C. B., Oct. 19.—Edward Carter, a young man belonging to St. Peter's, was killed today by being crushed between a water tank and a steam shovel at the banking station. Carter was coupling the steam shovel and water tank, but missed the coupling and was crushed between the buffers of the two trucks. His back was broken and he only lived for half an hour. The town's new water plant was put in operation today for the first time. The high pressure cracked one of the main pipes, and for several hours the town was without water. By vote of 96 to 42 ratepayers of Glace Bay decided tonight in favor of dividing the town into wards.

IN POOR HEALTH; HANGS HIMSELF

SACKVILLE, N. B., Oct. 19.—Henry Estabrooke, aged about sixty, of Mount View, a few miles from here, committed suicide this afternoon by hanging himself in the house in which he was born. Deceased had been in poor health for the past year and it was thought his mind was affected. He leaves a wife and several children, the eldest of whom is a boy about fifteen years old. While being ridden at a gallop tonight by Ralph Ford, the driving mare belonging to Chas. W. Ford, fell and broke her leg. She had to be shot.

LOCAL NEWS.

There were twenty-one births recorded during the week. Seven were males. Six marriages were registered.

The police report having been called into George Brown's house on Brussels street last night to quell a disturbance.

Fourteen deaths occurred in the city during the past week. They resulted from the following causes: Infantile, 2; old age, 2; cholera infantum, 2; tubercular meningitis, 2; peritonitis, 1; asthma, 1; heart disease, 1; paralysis, 1; and pneumonia, 1.

The break in No. 2 high service main which occurred yesterday, has not yet been repaired, and residents of the high levels are without water. Work will be rushed today, but a security may not exist over Sunday, but it is quite probable that repairs will not be completed before Monday. The most recent break occurred near the Hickey Road.

Chief of Police E. W. Power, of Liverpool, N. S., arrived in the city this morning with a warrant from Magistrate John Allan to take charge of Virgil M. Buchanan. Buchanan was arrested Wednesday evening on arrival of the steamer Prince Rupert and is charged with embezzling about $600 from the South Shore Steamship Company, while he was in charge of the company at Liverpool. Chief Power and the prisoner left on the noon train for Liverpool. Buchanan is a young man of good appearance and feels his position keenly.

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Tapley, French Lake, when their daughter, Miss Minnie J. Tapley, was united in marriage with Frederick M. Briggs, of the same place. The home was very prettily decorated with flowers and ferns. The ceremony took place at seven o'clock and supper was served at eight o'clock, after which the bride and groom drove to their new home, Lakeville Corner. The wedding was a quiet affair, only immediate relatives being present. The bride, who is a very popular young lady, received many presents. The young couple have the best wishes of a wide circle of friends for their future happiness.

One of the blazes that occurred on the Royal Bank site about 11 o'clock this forenoon sent up a shower of rocks and bricks that might have seriously injured passersby. As it was several people were struck with fragments of stone, but none were hurt. The Vassie building came in for a christening, and a half brick was tossed into the centre of King street. Evidently the exceptional velocity of this particular brick was only immediately felt by the car which was passing at the time. It was the first one to send stones over the fence surrounding the site. The foreman says he should not have again if he could help it. The plan employed by the excavating boss on this job is to have several drillings made at once and the cartridges exploded in quick succession. This does not interrupt traffic as much as continuous blasting.

PAY FOR THE MILITIA HAS ARRIVED AT LAST

B. Company Men Will Receive Theirs Tonight—It Should Have Been Here Weeks Ago.

After something like three weeks' delay, the money for the St. John militia has at last arrived, and the men will receive their annual pay within the next few days. B. Company, 62nd Regt., will meet this evening at the drill shed at eight o'clock for return of clothing and to receive their pay. Each private now receives from 50 cents to $1.00 for each of the twelve government drills performed during the year. Those who receive the largest amount of money are the most efficient men, who have been in the service for three years or over and who attend all the drills. The pay runs as low as 50 cents for each drill, and this is the amount given to those recruits who do not show any particular interest in their work.

It was anticipated that the checks would be here six or seven weeks ago, but evidently there has been some inevitable delay in Halifax, the headquarters of the division, due to the change in the command. The men have been for some time anxiously inquiring when their money was coming, and complaints were made in some quarters. It is estimated that something like $5,000 will be paid out in St. John. A. Co. will meet on Monday evening.

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE?

The question is often asked: "Is there any difference between business colleges. It can be said without fear of contradiction that St. John possesses a business school which is distinctly different in all its branches from any other school. The Currier Business University, Ltd., is entirely independent of publishing houses. No text books are used in any of its departments. Its shorthand system has been compiled by court stenographers with their expert suggestions embodied. Its business systems are taken direct from the best offices in the different cities—all the matter pertaining thereto, being compiled exclusively at the school under the supervision of the principal, a man of twenty years' experience, and the president a barrister of thirty years' practice. Hence the reason why this school enjoys the largest attendance in Eastern Canada and fills most positions in one year than the combined colleges of the province.

SALVATION ARMY

PLAN BIG CONGRESS

To be Held Here During the Present Month.

Commissioner Coombs and Other Officers Will be Present—The Programme Now Being Arranged.

The Salvation Army of the Maritime Provinces will celebrate its twenty-fourth anniversary in this city from Friday, Oct. 26th to Nov. 1st. Commissioner and Mrs. Coombs of Toronto, will be in charge of the congress. They will be accompanied here by Col. Pugmire and Adjutant Morris, the Commissioner's secretary.

A series of meetings will be held on Friday night the proceedings will be opened by a reception given to the visiting delegates in the Charlotte St. barracks. Refreshments will be served from 5.30 until 7.30 p. m. At eight o'clock a public meeting will be held and Mayor Sears will welcome the visiting delegates to the city. Other prominent men will deliver addresses. Great preparations are under way to make the congress a success.

On Sunday three meetings will be held in the Opera House. In the evening Commissioner Coombs will give an illustrated lecture entitled "The Shadow of the Cross". Forty-seven slides will be shown, all of which have been taken from the paintings of the celebrated French artist Tissot, who spent eight years in Palestine, studying the customs of the people there. This will be the first time these pictures have been shown in this city. A year ago the Commissioner showed them in Massey Hall, Toronto, before 6,000 people. This service will commence at 7.30 p. m. In connection with the congress several changes will be made in the location of the officers.

The Army is running its annual excursion from Cape Breton, and from a number of delegates and friends are taking advantage of the low rates. The famous Glace Bay Band will be here during the proceedings and a musical treat is in store for St. John.

HIS LEG CRUSHED UNDER A MOVING FREIGHT CAR

John O'Neal Tried to Crawl Under a Train—Amputation Will be Necessary.

John O'Neal, a laborer employed at the Union Depot in the repair work, was run over by a car in the I. C. R. yard this morning and had his left leg badly crushed.

Mr. O'Neal was going to work about 6.30 o'clock and took a short cut through the railway yards. He was crawling under some box cars when the engine of No. 8 train started shunting. Mr. O'Neal was knocked down and the heavy cars passed over his left foot. His cries brought assistance from the station and he was carried in there and a telephone message sent to Dr. Walker but before he arrived the ambulance came and took the unfortunate man to the hospital.

At the hospital it is said that the leg will have to be amputated just below the knee. O'Neal is fifty-five years of age and unmarried. He lives with his sister Miss Mary Ann O'Neal at 63 City Road.

DREDGE INSPECTORS TO REPORT ON MONDAY

A meeting of the board of works has been called for Monday by Alderman McCordick. The report of the dredge inspectors will be read at this meeting and steps will be taken towards arriving at a decision.

No work has yet been received from Capt. Wright, but Ald. McCordick said this morning that the inspectors were due to arrive here today.

DELAY IN ADMITTING PATIENT TO HOSPITAL

The driver of the ambulance stated to the Star today that when he took John O'Neal, whose leg was crushed at the I. C. R. yard, to the hospital this morning the man was compelled to remain in the ambulance for fully 25 minutes, while employees at the hospital made up their minds whether he should be admitted or not. The driver says that one of the attendants answered the summons to the door, and although O'Neal was lying in the ambulance with the blood streaming from his leg, this employee refused to admit him until one of the house doctors could be found. There appeared to be an altogether unnecessary delay in finding the doctor and Dr. T. D. Walker, who followed the ambulance, reached the hospital before O'Neal had been taken inside. After Dr. Walker's arrival the injured man did not remain waiting very long.

REPAIRING THE DAMAGE DONE BY THE FIRE

A large crew of men are at work at Stephenson's machine shop, recently damaged by fire. The greater portion of the roof has been torn out and masons are at work rebuilding the walls. As a result of the fire Campbell Bros' Edge Tool Works have been closed down, owing to the smoke stack being damaged. The latter firm will probably start work again on Monday. R.
