OPINION IS DIVIDED AS TO MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.

Public Utilities Commission However Reports That the Services are Much Improved When Corporations Exist in Fear of Municipal Control

NEW YORK, July 18.—Municipal ownership of public utilities in Great Britain, as observed by a committee of experts sent abroad last year by the National Civic Federation, is treated at length in a series of reviews by members of the committee, which were made public today. These reviews of the experts' report written by Milo H. Malibie, Watson Clark, vice president of the United Gas Improvement Co., of Philadelphia, and Charles L. Edgar, president of the Edison Electric and Illuminating Company of Boston, are divided in opinion as to the success of their undertakings as a whole. Mr. Malibie is one of the members of the newly created public service commission for Greater New York. This body has the widest responsibilities and the greatest responsibilities of any commission to which the regulation of corporations has been entrusted, up to this time, in the United States. Mr. Malibie spent six months in Great Britain supervising the work of the expert accountants and engineers of the privately owned companies. He has passed the experimental stage. He declares that the municipal operation of public utilities in Great Britain generally give a superior service at a relatively lower cost as compared with the private companies. This end he finds to be due principally to the higher rate of interest and profit and the greater amount of capital of the private companies. By far the most interesting part of Mr. Malibie's conclusion, however, is that the municipal operation is not necessary for the success of the municipal ownership idea. He says that the power to operate if necessary or desirable, in many instances has been as effective as actual operation, that the mere fact that a city has the power to step in and operate an undertaking itself often makes the exercise of that power unnecessary. He mentions in Great Britain that no system of control of regulation is complete without the power in the hands of the municipality to purchase and operate, says Mr. Malibie, "if one company may be succeeded only by another or only by a group of companies, there comes a time when action, not repression, is wanted and then no remedy is adequate unless it be the power of the city to step in and operate the undertaking itself. But the mere fact that it has the power often makes its exercise unnecessary and what the British desires is not the universal adoption of some method of producing results but the results themselves." The reasons that have led to British municipalization, Mr. Malibie finds, are many. First among them, however, is the most general and the most important, is the desire to secure for the public the financial profits of the undertakings. Second, there is the desire to keep the city from being misled by a private company, the general demand for better service at lower rates. He mentions also, a fourth cause, which has played a prominent part in the United States and which is not known in Great Britain, namely opposition of privately operated public utilities companies to the welfare of the city. A fifth factor is the belief that municipal operation would permit the co-ordination of public services in a way that is not possible where different services are operated by private companies. Messrs. Edgar and Clark favor some form of regulation of private companies rather than the adoption of the municipal ownership idea. The hold that the solution of the present difficulties is to be found not in municipal ownership and operation of the public utilities, but in the election of municipal officers who will protect the government against injustice on the part of individuals or corporations.

JACK WEST'S TIPS MAKE SCOTTY'S FADE AWAY

New Spendthrift From a Nevada Mining Camp Simply Dazzles New York With the Fatdest Roll Ever.

NEW YORK, June 17.—Not since "Scotty," the Death Valley Miner, astonished New Yorkers by his extravagant tips, has there been a man here as young "Jack" West displays. West came here from Nevada. He has only been in town 20 hours, but his lavish tips and his expenditures have already stirred the main street. Judges of such things declare that the Nevada boy will certainly dim what lustre "Scotty" had. The new spendthrift from the Nevada mining camp is now installed as a valet, in a six-room suite at the Astor. He arrived on the Twentieth Century limit from Chicago. The bell boys soon learned that a new Croesus had arrived when the dark-haired, stocky young stranger carelessly tossed a $5 bill to the doorman and followed it up with another tip of like amount to the hallboy who escorted him and his party to his suite. After a luncheon in the Pompeian room champagne corks popped. Mr. West and his party took an automobile ride through Central Park. At each stopping place the waiters bowed over the receipt of tips of surprising size. Young West is a well set up youth of some 24 years, black haired, dark eyed, and the possessor of a huge diamond stud and an equally valuable diamond ring. "This is my first trip to New York," he said, after having pressed the button for a waiter, to whom he afterward handed another $5 bill. "And I would like to add that it is all right. I am here to spend money and have a genuine good time." He was considerably excited when asked if he knew "Scotty," the alleged spender. "Yes," he said sarcastically. "I know 'Scotty' of Death Valley, and have never been in this city before, but I know that New Yorkers won't stand for a 'piker' who comes here in khaki trousers, a blue flannel shirt, a red necktie and a sombrero and tries to make the town believe that he is a sure enough specimen of the Nevada mining camps." Young West wore no flannels. He was tailored in Broadway style, with a light spring suit of expensive stuff. He had a Panama hat and silk necktie and stockings to match. "I haven't any idea that I am going to start New York with my profligacy. This is where 'Scotty' fell down. I can spend dollars where the Death Valley wonder spent cents, and I propose to do so; but who cares?" The roll carried by the boy from Nevada is of plethoric proportions. He is of it in one night in Chicago matching pennies at $50 a throw. As one of the hotel employes was leaving his suite after doing a trifling service, young Mr. West handed him a $10 bill with the remark: "Here's something to pay for having your shoes massaged."

POSTPONE THE HEARING OF COAL-STEEL DISPUTE

Representatives of the Former Company Say That Shareholders Do Not Wish the Litigation to Proceed.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 18.—There was a new move in the Coal-Steel litigation today. Notice of motion was given by the Coal Company returnable Saturday before Judge Leask to postpone the trial. The motion is founded on the affidavit of James Ross, president, and Geo. H. Duggan, manager of the Coal Company. Ross states in his affidavit that he was approached after his return from Europe in the spring by shareholders representing 187,000 shares, to stop the litigation, and that would have been accomplished at the annual meeting had not been postponed, and he requests the trial to be adjourned until after the annual meeting when the shareholders will have an opportunity of expressing their views in regard to the continuation of the litigation. Mr. Duggan's affidavit is that relying on the fact that litigation would be stopped, two important witnesses, Hon. Robert Drummond and Prof. McDonald are out of the province and their evidence is not available. Separate counsel filed notice of motion on behalf of E. H. LeMay, a shareholder, to postpone the trial on the ground that the majority of the shareholders postpone the trial, on the case. LeMay writes Ross under date of July 15 that he is applying on behalf of himself and other shareholders to have the litigation adjourned until the shareholders have met to express their views and this letter is made part of the proceedings.

YOUNG WOMAN SUICIDES.

CHICAGO, July 18.—While talking to friends on the 15th floor of the Masonic Temple, Miss Anna Normandy, a stenographer, deliberately walked to an open court window, and without a word of warning threw herself to the stone pavement of the Rotunda, 250 feet below. The girl was mutilated beyond recognition. No cause is known for the suicide.

AVOIDING TROUBLE.

PARIS, July 18.—U. S. Rear Admiral Stockton states that Japanese sailors will not be invited to the entertainment arranged for the American sailors and that shore leave will be curtailed while the situation is at Brest, in order to avoid all chance of unpleasant incidents, which are always possible when hundreds of different nationalities meet on shore.

BRUTAL TREATMENT OF AN ENGLISH LAD

Who Left His Job on Railroad Construction

Bound Hand and Foot to a Bed, He Tells of Inhuman Conduct of Those for Whom He Worked.

ENGLEHART, Ont., July 18.—Chained to a bed in a small upstairs room in Wilson's restaurant here, John Kay, has been a close prisoner since Sunday afternoon. His crime is the same as that of the thirty thousands who were arrested three weeks ago, namely that of deserting the employment of Chandler and McLean, the railway contractors at McDougall's Chute, some seven odd miles north on the T. & O. Ry. When seen yesterday evening he was lying on the bed, his right hand locked close to the side by means of a pair of handcuffs. He could not stand upright nor take a single step in any direction. Constable McDonald, who had him in charge, adopted this method of securing his prisoner and at the same time relieving himself of the necessity of keeping his eye on his all the time. With tears in his eyes the boy, who is only twenty years of age, told his side of the story. He said between sobs—"I am a Lancashire lad, and came out to Canada two years ago, I worked with the Montreal Steel Co. for a time, but quit to engage in railroad work, as I was told I could make more money. I signed a contract with an employment agent in Montreal to go to work at McDougall's Chute."

ORDERS ISSUED TO KILL ALL JAPANESE

Koreans Up in Arms Against Their Rulers

Emperor, Who Has Lost in Authority, May Advocate to Clear the Way for New Government.

TOKIO, July 18.—As a result of urgent representations by the ministers, it is very probable that the Emperor of Korea will abdicate in favor of the Crown Prince as the first step towards reform in Korea. This will most likely be followed by the calling of a new convention which will keep Korea's national existence intact, will limit the sovereign power in some form whereby the ruler can exercise his powers only on the consent of the Japanese resident-general.

PRELIMINARY HEARING IN MURDER CASE

Opened Before Magistrate Marsh Today

Salvation Army Captain Tells of Seeing David Shoot His Wife—Other Evidence Submitted.

FREDERICTON, N. B., July 18.—The preliminary examination of Thomas David charged with murdering his wife at McAdam Junction was begun this morning at the police court before Col. Marsh, J. H. Barry, K. appeared for the crown, and J. D. Hazen, K. C., for the accused. There was a large number of spectators present. Both Barry is acting as stenographer. It was decided not to have an interpreter at the present stage of the proceedings. The first witness was Miss Sadie Porter, a captain of the Salvation Army, and stationed at Woodstock. She told of being on the train running from Woodstock to St. John on July 8th. She was accompanied by Ensign Miss Ethel Martin. Between Woodstock and McAdam she saw the prisoner on the train. He conversed with a woman sitting opposite. Miss Porter next saw the two at the station at McAdam. She saw the prisoner fire at the woman and as the latter moved away he fired again. The woman fell and was carried upstairs. Miss Porter followed and undressed the woman. She found an ugly wound in the loins and there was blood on the clothes surrounding. Dr. Butler was sent for. Miss Porter went on afterwards to St. John returning to Woodstock the following Thursday. She never saw the victim of the shooting again.

FEAR THAT LOSS OF LIFE FOLLOWED FLOODS

Virginia Visited by Very Heavy Rains Which Have Caused Much Damage.

WHEELING, W. Va., July 18.—Despatches last night from Gratton, Rowlesburg, Tamminton and other towns in the Tygart Valley in northern West Virginia, tell of terrific rains followed by the river going out of its bank nearly its entire length, causing property losses that will aggregate nearly a quarter million dollars. Fifteen or more bridges are washed out, railroads are washed out and at Gratton a church from Rowlesburg passed down the raging river. At Thornton the water was five feet over the Baltimore and Ohio tracks and several houses were washed away. At Gratton traffic on the E. and O. is tied up. A railroad bridge passed there but it is not known where it came from. It is feared many other lives have been lost as the flood came without warning.

Mrs. Sanford Anderson Now in a Dangerous Condition—Thieves Make Annual Visit to Moncton Market—Sudden Death of Mrs. Kempton McKim in Winnipeg

MONCTON, July 18.—Shot by a revolver in the hands of her five year old son, Mrs. Sanford Anderson, of Edgett's Landing, near Hillsboro was yesterday so seriously injured that she may die. She was operated on last night but her condition is serious. Mrs. Anderson, who was in a delicate state of health was sitting at a desk in which her husband kept a loaded revolver. In securing writing materials she left the drawer containing the revolver open, and her little son took the weapon out. His mother did not see him at first, but turned and saw him as she reached to take it. The little fellow pulled the trigger and the bullet entered his mother's abdomen. A Moncton physician was summoned and there are now hopes of Mrs. Anderson's recovery.

WITNESSES IN THE HAYWOOD TRIAL

BOISE, Idaho, July 18.—An exodus of witnesses in attendance on the Haywood trial commenced in earnest today and by tonight most of them will have left town. Since the case commenced it is estimated that at least 500 have been in town at different times. The force of detectives will also be reduced.

ARE GOING HOME

Argument on the admissibility of certain evidence will occupy today's session. A point on which the court has asked counsel to present argument, is that portion of the evidence connecting Haywood with the alleged murder of two men in the St. Joe county. Steve Adams is now in jail charged with one of these crimes which Orchard in his testimony swore was a part of the general conspiracy. It is now expected that the case will go to the jury about next Wednesday or Thursday.

FOREIGN IMMIGRATION NOW DIRECTED TO CANADA

SEATTLE, Wn., July 18.—Secretary of Commerce and Labor Straus declared yesterday that the tide of immigration is changing particularly from the Oriental countries and is turning toward Canada. "In the last three months," said the secretary, "the number of immigrants coming into the United States through all points has increased ten per cent while immigration from Japan has decreased. Canada is a wonderful country and it is going to be one of the biggest problems you men of the Pacific coast will have to face in the future."

SPORTING MATTERS
"BOB" FITZSIMMONS KNOCKED OUT BY
JOHNSON IN 2ND ROUND

PHILADELPHIA, July 17.—Jack Johnson stopped "Bob" Fitzsimmons in the second round of a six round boxing bout before the Washington Sporting Club tonight. Fitzsimmons did not show a trace of his former prowess, and it is probable that Johnson could have stopped him in the opening round if he had cared to do so. The blow that put Fitzsimmons out was a light right to the jaw. The old man fell to the floor, and as he made no attempt to rise the referee stopped the bout. The hitting which usually follows knockouts of this character was absent, the spectators evidently taking compassion on the former pugilist star.

HEARD A MURDER AT THE TELEPHONE
Milliner Shot by Rejected Sultor While Constable Listened at Other End of Wire.

LOWELL, Mass., July 17.—Hearing a union lodge a telephone was the surprising experience of Bernard J. Gately, a constable, who heard the screams and the shot when Mrs. Mary A. McBride, a milliner, was fatally attacked in her office this afternoon.

In her millinery shop at No. 223 Dutton street, before her helpless employees, Mrs. McBride was shot by a man, who rushed in, fired a revolver at her and escaped. The woman is at the St. John Hospital, where she is not expected to live. She regained consciousness when she was told to say—"John Kelley shot me."

The constable who had the remarkable experience was some distance away at his office in the Central Building. He called the milliner by telephone regarding a legal matter. The voice at the other end of the wire answered—"This is Mrs. McBride, and I refer you to my attorney, Daniel J. Donahue."

Then the constable heard a scuffle and loud cries, "My God, don't shoot me! Don't shoot me!"

Then he heard clearly over the telephone a revolver shot, followed by a woman's moaning, which grew fainter, until all was still.

Gately was paralyzed for a moment at the unusual sounds over the wire, but gathering his senses, rushed for the millinery store.

He found Mrs. McBride lying unconscious with an ugly wound over her right eye.

In one corner was Miss Yanaese, the milliner's assistant, half fainting from the experience and moaning that Mrs. McBride had been killed. The assistant explained that the shooting was done by John Kelley, who was madly in love with the married woman.

Kelley was found near the scene of the shooting and was arrested charged with attempting to murder. He refused to make any statement.

Wilson started for the shore which he reached safely, while Northrup stayed by the canoe and shouted lustily for help. Three or four boats put out for the spot, and although he was not located very easily in the fog, an oar was stretched out to him and he was taken into one of the boats.

DROPS DEAD AT FEET OF HIS SONS
Climber Ascending Black Head Mountain, in Catskills, Victim of Heart Failure.

CATSKILLS, N. Y., July 17.—In the forest on top of Black Head Mountain, a high peak in the town of Cairo, Thos. Simpson, forty-nine years old, of Brooklyn, one of a climbing party from the Round Top Ravine House, four miles distant, dropped dead yesterday afternoon at the feet of his two sons.

Mr. Simpson who was head bookkeeper for the Boynton Heater Company of New York, with his sons and a friend, Richard Doscher, early Monday morning left the hotel, planning to climb Black Head Mountain.

Walking leisurely and stopping often by the way, it was mid-afternoon when they paused again to rest before making the final ascent.

Mr. Simpson was the first to rise and urge the others on, waving a small American flag, which he intended to erect upon the summit, "Come," said he, "let us be going" and with those prophetic words he fell dead.

Albert Simpson started for the Ravine House, but lost his way and wandered for several hours in the woods. After vainly awaiting his return, Charles Simpson and Doscher determined to set out to climb Black Head and about nine o'clock in the evening reached the place where the body lay.

Placing it upon a stretcher, they bore it with difficulty and many halts down the mountain in an all night journey, which ended at five o'clock this morning when they arrived at the hotel. The body was conveyed to Brooklyn by train. Mr. Simpson's death was caused by heart failure.

A quiet wedding took place in Portland Methodist parsonage yesterday evening, when Albert Scott of Peterborough, Que. was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth Lorne Bell Scott, daughter of John and Margaret Ann Scott of Peterborough. Rev. N. McLaughlan performed the ceremony. The bride was attired in a blue traveling suit and was attended by Miss J. H. Garrison, of St. John. The groom was supported by Walter A. Scott.

The matter of Sleeth & Quinlan, against the City of St. John, was heard before Judge McLeod in chambers yesterday. The plaintiffs concluded their case in the morning and the Recorder opened for the defense, calling as his first witness ex-director R. H. Cushing. On account of some witnesses not being on hand, the case was stood over and in the afternoon the case of Mayor Garrison, who has leased City Hall for a year. The proprietors are two St. John men, J. E. McGarigle and Albert Ramsay, formerly of Wonderland in St. John and now running a Nickel show at Truro, is also opening a similar place of amusement at Springhill.

During the fog last night at Rockwood Park, while not many people were in that popular amusement ground, a serious accident was narrowly avoided. Two canoes were racing along Lily Lake, one occupied by Hedley Northrup and Eldon Wilson and the other by Arthur Chase and Albert Ramsay. Near the shoot-the-chutes the first canoe upset and its occupants were thrown into the water. Wilson started for the shore which he reached safely, while Northrup stayed by the canoe and shouted lustily for help. Three or four boats put out for the spot, and although he was not located very easily in the fog, an oar was stretched out to him and he was taken into one of the boats.

WAR FOOT IN ART GALLERIES.

The ethics of looting in war are becoming discussed in consequence of a bitter allegation from Corea that a Pung-Duk Pagoda, described as 'an exquisite national monument of white marble' was carried off from Seoul by Japanese Vice-consul Tanaka, Minister of the Imperial House of the Mikado. A Japanese writer compares this 'robbery' to a hypothetical snatching away of the Nelson column from Trafalgar Square. But on behalf of Viscount Tanaka it is stated that the Pagoda was not a national monument, and that so far from seizing it, he bought it from a private citizen.

Commenting on the incident in the New York Tribune, an 'Ex-Attache' points out that there are few capitals in Europe where the national museums and galleries, as well as the palaces of the rulers are not adorned with works of art and with monuments that are held as trophies of victory. In fact, there are few celebrated art collections belonging either to the crown or to the rulers that have not been, in some way or other, the result of the spoils of war. In fact, the most precious treasures, were they to be forced to surrender all the art treasures of the world, or as a fruit of the latter. No victorious commander, however, carried looting to quite the same length as the First Napoleon.

TIME BRINGS ITS REVENGE.

During the sixteen years that preceded the Battle of Waterloo, when his despotic sway extended over the length and breadth of continental Europe, he took advantage of his power to despoil public institutions, royal and private palaces, and even religious edifices in Spain, Italy, Germany, Austria, the Netherlands, and Russia of their finest art treasures, carrying them off to Paris, his depositions in this respect extending even to the land of the Nile. After his downfall, and the occupation of the French capital by the allied forces, the latter at once took steps to resume possession of the national chief treasures of art and archaeology, discovered in the Tuilleries, at Fontainebleau, at Compiègne, and in the various public buildings of the Gallic metropolis. In this way Venice recovered her famous bronze horses, of which she herself had plundered Constantinople in 1204, and which for nearly 600 years had surmounted the entrance of her Cathedral of San Marco, until Napoleon bore them off as part and parcel of his loot in the Carrousel from 1797 to 1815. In the various public buildings of the Gallic metropolis, 'The Transfiguration' was restored to its place on the walls of the Vatican, after an absence of fifteen years in Paris.

THE IRON DUKE'S LOOT.

There were many such treasures, however, which were beyond recovery, which had been presented by Napoleon to his generals, or which he had allowed them to retain at the time of their victory as their share of the plunder. It was thus that the entire collection of Spanish old masters, which Marshal Soult had carried off from Madrid and other cities of the Iberian peninsula was irretrievably lost to Spain. Perhaps the grandest painting of the lot was Murillo's 'Immaculate Conception,' which had belonged for centuries to the Hospital de los Venerables Sacerdotes, at Seville. When Soult seized it, took it back with him to France, sold it there, and after remaining in private hands for a couple of decades or so, that is to say, until long after the allies had withdrawn from Paris, it was acquired through a perfectly legitimate purchase by the Louvre, where it is now regarded as one of the principal treasures of France's great national museum. Those paintings which had escaped Marshal Soult were seized by King Joseph Bonaparte, whose plunder represented many of the most valuable old masters of the National Gallery of Madrid. When King Joseph was driven by the British to abandon his Spanish crown and to retreat to France, he carried with him these paintings in his immense baggage train. The latter was captured by the Duke of Wellington and shipped off to London, along with other belongings of the British commander. They remained in England in their packing cases until after the downfall of Napoleon and the return of the Duke of Wellington to England. King Ferdinand, and learning that the paintings in question were in the possession of Wellington, at once requested him to keep them as a token of the gratitude of his people and of himself for the services rendered by the Iron Duke in expelling the French invaders and in placing him (Ferdinand) once more on the throne of Spain.

WHY WE ARE OFFENDING THE GREEKS.

It is only fair to add that Napoleon and his French generals were by no means the only offenders in this application of the public institutions of the enemy. The practice was one which was generally recognized and tolerated by international law, and in 1815, when the Papacy recovered its painting of 'The Transfiguration' by Raphael, as described, it was forced to surrender to Germany the treasures of the Palatine Library of Heidelberg, which had been looted in the Thirty Years' War, and which the two subsequent centuries had been preserved in the library of the Duke of Wellington on account of the Duke of Wellington's purchase with the approval of all the cultured Greeks of the day, who are not only rejected in the hands of the marbles to the east as the only available means of preserving some of the grandest masterpieces of the plastic art of ancient Greece, but positively gloried in the fate of those sculptures that Lord Elgin had looted, realizing that they were suffering well-nigh daily injury from the effects of the weather, from vandals, tourists, and at the hands of the natives, who looked upon the ruins of the Parthenon in the light of mere stone quarries.

THE ELGIN MARBLES.

A full justification of the disposal of the Elgin marbles to the seventh Earl of Elgin is supplied by the deterioration which the sculptures suffered since his time, whereas the Elgin marbles in the British Museum have suffered no harm whatsoever. Viscount Tanaka is apparently doomed to share the unmerited fate of Lord Elgin in being denounced as a spoiler and robber of national monuments. But judging from the shameful neglect to which the Pung-Duk Pagoda was subjected at Seoul, and its solid and filthy surroundings, it is a service which the Japanese statesman has rendered to the cause of archaeology, and not an offence.

THE SARCASTIC CABBY.

The London hooly is notorious for overgrown feet and hands. Likewise the London cabby is generally accredited with never being at a loss for a reply. One day a hooly lifted up his hand majestically to halt a cabby, but the latter crowded his horse ahead. 'Didn't you see me raise my hand?' demanded the hooly. 'I did see the sky darken a moment, but my horse was shy at your feet,' replied the cabby, as he whipped up and went on.—London Graph.

AN EXTREME PROTECTIONIST.

President Firstbrook of the Toronto branch of the Canadian Manufacturers Association is an ardent exponent of the association's policy of guarding the home market.

But a few sentences further along in his address, Mr. Firstbrook forgets all that he has said, and launches into untold praise of the government policy and indirectly of its effect upon Canadian industries.

Those who have, since its inception, so heartily advocated the idea of an all-red route from Britain to Australia via Canada, could not have hoped that their plan would have been carried through without opposition from some quarters.

Moreover, the death bed scene as the young clergyman saw it in his mind's eye, was corroborated in every detail in a letter two weeks later.

Patent Leather has at last been made so as not to crack—known as Ideal Kid. Other sorts are coming to perfection—have got part way now, but many risky leathers are knowingly palmed off as "Ideal Kid."

We have Patent Calf Shoes also, and we guarantee them against any reasonable wear.

SAW DEATH-BED IN ENGLAND

A Remarkable Experience Credited to Student in New York.

NEW YORK, July 17.—What appears to be a remarkable psychological experience has just been undergone, it is said, by the Rev. Henry Rollings, now taking a special course in the New York Homeopathic medical college, in that he saw as in a vision the death of his father, although 3,000 miles separated father and son at the time. Moreover, the death bed scene as the young clergyman saw it in his mind's eye, was corroborated in every detail in a letter two weeks later.

THE LETTER FROM ENGLAND said that the elder Rollings died on the exact day and at the exact hour that the younger Rollings had had his death pictured to him. Not only that, the letter said, but the elder Rollings said just before he passed away that he could see his son standing by the bedside. The strange room in the vision was explained by the statement that the family had moved from the old homestead to another house in Bedfordshire, and the absence of the sister from the room was explained by the statement that at the time she was ill.

Rev. Mr. Rollings received his theological education in England. He came to America and for a time was curate of St. Andrew's parish of Rochester, N. Y., of which the Rev. Algernon S. Crapsey was then rector.

GETS JUDGMENT AND COSTS AGAINST THE HARMSWORTH NEWSPAPERS

LIVERPOOL, July 17.—The attempt made in the fall of 1906 to organize a huge soap combine in the United Kingdom, which rapidly came to an end under the pressure of adverse public opinion, had a sensational sequel in the assize court today when Wm. H. Lever, Liberal member of parliament for the Weymouth division of Dorset, secured judgment for damages of $20,000 and costs against the Harmsworth newspapers, the Daily Mail and the Evening News, for libels published by them during the course of the controversy that followed the attempt to bring about the combination.

After a hearing that has lasted for two days the defendants this morning suddenly withdrew their plea of justification and agreed to pay the amount demanded.

Mr. Lever, it is declared, took a leading part in the efforts to establish the soap combine.

THE READER WHO SKIPS.

A good work of fiction, whether in prose or in verse—we are here speaking only of good works—is a work of art and can be rightly enjoyed only by entering into sympathy with the artist's mind and accepting his work according to his intention. In a perfect poem the place of every word, in a perfect novel the place, if not of every word, of every episode and of every paragraph, is important, and the reader who skips throws away the pleasure he has meant to derive from the harmony of composition, in which very possibly the beauty of the whole may chiefly consist, and despises the best part of the artist's labor. He might as well go to see a good play and then willfully miss every alternate scene.

AMERICAN PROPOSITIONS TO HAGUE CONVENTION

Peru Submits an Amendment Which Releases States From Undesirable Agreements.

THE HAGUE, July 18.—The American delegation has presented to the Peace Conference the following proposition:—

"If for any reason a captured neutral vessel cannot be tried, the vessel must be released." The Peruvian delegation has presented the following amendment to the American proposition regarding the collection of contracted debts.

"The principles established by this proposition cannot be applied to differences arising from contracts between the government of one country and the foreign subjects of another when the contracts provide that these differences must be submitted to the judges of local tribunals. The Venezuelan Delegation presented a proposition on the same subject, making the same objection as Peru, with the addition that in case no contract exists, all diplomatic means of reaching an understanding must be tried before recourse is had to the permanent court of arbitration.

The Venezuelan declaration ends with these words:—"It is understood that differences are to be settled through peaceful means without recourse to coercive measures implying the employment of military or naval forces."

Medical Association Meeting Ended Today—What Solomon Had to Say About the Doctors.

The sixteenth annual meeting of the Maritime Medical Association was concluded shortly after noon today. The visiting physicians will leave for their homes this evening.

At the morning session the nominating committee reported the following members as officers for the ensuing year:—

Dr. M. Chisholm, Halifax, N. S., president; Dr. G. E. DeWitt, Wolfville, N. S., vice president for Nova Scotia; Dr. Anglin, Fairville, N. B., vice president for New Brunswick; Dr. Jardine, Summerside, P. E. I., vice president for Prince Edward Island; Dr. Melvin, St. John, secretary; Dr. Farrieh, Yarmouth, treasurer; committee composed of Drs. James Ross, Hogan, C. D. Murray, G. M. Murray, M. A. Curry; Dr. J. R. Corrier, local secretary.

Dr. G. G. Corbett, St. John, spoke on Colles' Fracture (skiographs). Dr. Scammell, St. John, read a paper on Monstra per Defectum. Dr. Gray, of Fairville, also read a paper on Artificial Delivery, its Methods and Indications. Dr. McEwan, Dr. W. G. Campbell and Dr. J. D. Lavson read case reports. Dr. Gray's paper was on the History of Instruments Used in Delivery. A short discussion followed.

Letters were read from Drs. Ross, of Halifax, T. Carleton Jones, who is at present in Patuxent, J. F. Thompson, of Portland, Me., Caswell, of Gagetown, regarding their enforced absence. In some cases their papers were forwarded and were taken as read.

Dr. Inches moved that Dr. Bayard, who is now in his ninety-fifth year, and who has been seventy years in practice, should be congratulated by the society upon attaining such a great age and should be informed that his work is still greatly recognized by the association. Dr. Campbell seconded the motion and paid a warm tribute to Dr. Bayard.

Dr. Farrieh, of Yarmouth, then read a paper filled with wit, advice, and applicable quotations from the Book of Proverbs. He treated thoroughly and pleasantly of a physician's life and work, and even told of a dream in which a practitioner had been transformed to the other world where his greatest enjoyment was to occupy a seat outside a judge and watch his earthly debtors "sizzle and burn."

He took as his text—for he spoke from a text—"Hast thou found honey? Be filled therewith and vomit."

In the course of his remarks he took up the question "Should a doctor marry?" advising the younger men in regard to the choice of a wife, quoting the sayings of Solomon in this regard. He concluded in the affirmative without doubt.

He said a physician should on no account use intoxicants, which were always dangerous. He again quoted Solomon aptly.

In regard to the business side of medicine he said that many physicians after a life's work left their families unprotected for, and outsiders wondered why men with such large practices, left no estate. He said there should be a strict and close relation between patient and doctor. "Short payments make long friends."

In the course of his remarks he referred to the poor "whom we have always with us." There are three kinds of poor, "God's poor, the devil's poor and the poor devils." The first and last he commended to his brother practitioners' kindest and most personal opinions should hold.

In concluding his excellent article Dr. Farrieh said that he had a great deal to say to the other class he said personal opinions should hold.

WHEN IT RAINS.

She—"You seem deep in thought. Of what are you pondering?"

Young Scientist—"Well, I have at last discovered that French heels are really of some use."

WHEN IT'S ALL OVER.

"Finished your honeymoon yet?"

"I don't know. I have never been able to determine the exact meaning of the word 'honeymoon'."

"Well, has your wife commenced to do the cooking yet?"

NO HARM DONE.

Mistress—"I am sorry to trouble you, Bridget, but my husband wants his breakfast tomorrow at 5.00."

Cook—"Oh! it won't be no trouble at all, mum, if he don't knock nothin' over whole cookin' it, an' waks up."

CHURCH OF ENGLAND S. SCHOOL CONFERENCE

FREDERICTON, N. B., July 17.—The Sunday school conference was continued here today with a good attendance. Holy Communion was celebrated at the Cathedral at 8 o'clock and the business session opened at Church Hall at 10. The programme in the morning included interesting papers by Rev. Canon Hanington, Rev. H. R. Trumpp and Mrs. H. H. Pickett of St. John.

The conference concluded its session this evening.

The thermometer registered 90 in the shade here at noon today, but a slight breeze does not make heat unbearable.

Clever Clothes

No single word describes the merits of 20th Century Brand garments better than "Clever." They are cleverly fashioned, cleverly cut and cleverly tailored—honestly tailored too. They hold their shape because that shape is put in permanently with needle and not put in temporarily with the flat iron. This is the clever way to tailor clothes. The flat iron method is the fake method, but it is the only method that can be employed to make cheap clothes. This is one of the great differences between 20th Century Brand garments and the unsatisfactory kind.

OPENING OF "THE CEDAR"

Children Should Watch for the Band Wagon and Get a Free Ticket.

The old Union Hall presents a scene of unparalleled activity these days. Workmen are preparing for the new Cedar, moving picture palace "The Cedar" opening on Saturday afternoon at 1.30 p. m. The spacious hall has been completely transformed under the judicious touch of deft decorators and will be a place of beauty when thrown open to the public.

For the evening performances Master Len Callahan, assisted by "The Cedar" children's chorus, will sing "Why Don't They Play With Me," illustrated by beautiful picture slides. A full orchestra will be present and refreshments will be served free to all patrons. Manager Stanton will give away 2,000 tickets to the children on the streets Saturday morning. Watch for the band wagon.

The "Summer Fair" at F. W. Daniel Company's, Charlotte street, is certainly a new feature in the retail dry goods business, the way the store is laid out, every space filled with tables and counters loaded with all sorts of summer tractions at this time of year and any one paying a visit will surely find something to interest taste as well as pocket. One of the most successful features is the sale of pretty trimmed hats at perhaps the most reasonable prices experienced by the St. John buying public. Another feature has been added to the "Summer Fair" and that is a large purchase of men's shirts (not any great bargains) of all kinds from fine neat gattas to extra strong working shirts, all much under usual prices.

FISH OF THE NORTH SEA.

Starting with the axiom that a given area of the sea can nourish only a limited amount of fish, a British expert points out that if the methods of capture tell more heavily on one kind than another it is quite probable that valuable species may be largely displaced by inferior ones. This seems to be the condition of affairs in the North Sea, where the worthless dab is increasing at the expense of the plaice.

FINANCIAL AND ECONOMIC CONDITION OF JAPAN.

The latest official figures claim for Japan a present population of 48,844,000, or about that of the United States in 1878. The revenues for the current year are estimated at $308,220,000, and the national debt is reported as 2,217,723,750 yen, the equivalent, in round figures, of $1,100,000,000.

Practically all of Japan's national debt is in the form of outstanding loan bonds, about equally divided between interior and foreign accounts. A part of the internal obligations is supported by collateral, such as State railways and other public utilities and industrial enterprises established or now owned by the Government.

Chemistry did not become a science in another world, chemistry power did not exist until the seventeenth century, and it was as late as the middle of the eighteenth century before it began to amount to much.

THE CORSET.

The corset is a distinctly modern contrivance, dating from the reign of Queen Victoria. In the days of "chivalry" the armor makers, thinking to improve the form as well as the life chances of the militant dame, invented the corset, from which the modern corset is descended.

Some remark has been occasioned by the case with which Lord Eglinton's amendments to the British North American bill went through the lords last night. Not a single word of objection was said, not a single protest against securing the abandonment of Churchill's pledge to British Columbia.
