FLANAGAN FORMS ATHLETIC CLUB

Following His Resignation From the I. C. A. G., Tom Has Organized New Body.

Good-bye, Irish. The Irish-Canadian Athletic Club has practically gone to the wall, following the resignation of Tom Flanagan, the erstwhile manager of the club.

Tom Flanagan has been made president, with Edwood Hughes, secretary, and the work of the runners will continue as in the past, with the exception that they will compete at the different meets under the new name.

The Scarborough Beach Athletic Club has applied to the C. A. A. U. for membership in that body, and their application will be undoubtedly considered. The club, with Skene, Pearce, Black, Marsh, Hitchin, Howes and others, will continue to be a big factor in the athletic world, although it is a pity the name of the Irish-Canadian is to be dropped.

NOTED RUNNERS SIGN FOR 100-MILE RACE. Lobert, Hatch and Malzer Will Run Century Marathon This Month.

CHICAGO, July 22--Three of the best long-distance runners in the middle west were matched yesterday afternoon for a 100 mile foot race, and the event probably will be run over the boulevards of the city. The men came together because of Charles Lobert's claim to premier honors among the amateurs as a distance runner.

The American Roller and Cycling Club's star announced that he would soon make an attempt to break the Milwaukee-Chicago record, and this brought out protests from both Sidney Hatch of the Illinois Marathon Club, and Elmer Metzner of the Illinois Athletic Club, who claimed a better right to make his attempt. The result was a triangular match, and July 22 and 24 were the dates selected by the men for the race, each to furnish his own automobile to follow the event.

JOHNSON AND STREET. Stallings and Farrell Offer Fabulous Price for Them.

The largest amount of cash ever offered in the history of baseball, a battery was made by Stallings and Frank Farrell of the American association. These two officers of the Washington Nationals, and it is the largest offer ever made for a pitcher and catcher.

Manager Cantillon, of the Washington team, promptly turned this offer down and he dropped it out that when he lost Johnson and Street his team was done for. While Johnson is worth a lot of money, what Stallings wants is to get Street, whose catching is the very best ever seen. Cantillon thinks he could sell Street alone to Stallings for that amount of money if he wanted to, but he doesn't. Stallings' battery start is pretty well in the bag. Several of his men are down with sore fingers, feet and arms. "Catcher, Kleinow and Sweany are all to the lead, the 1847 and Stallings is gathering gray hairs in his hair-shirted attempts to gather a good battery."

A $20,000 OFFER. Word has just been received of another large sum offered for a ball player. President Ebbets, of the Brooklyn National League Club, has offered $20,000 to the Chicago club for their star catcher, Johnny Kling. Kling has made some records for himself, and is a consistent batter, but the only thing that makes him worth $20,000 is the urgent need of the Brooklyn club for a catcher just as good as he is.

SHRUBB OUT FOR BIZ. Alfred Shrubb is perfectly willing to meet John Swenberg, who conquered Tom Longboat at fifteen miles Saturday night. The Swede's challenge was taken up this morning by Shrubb, who says he will run him a series of three races, namely, at ten, twelve and fifteen miles.

"I'll include them both," said Alfred, "just as soon as they are ready."

RUDY KIP AFTER TAKING FIRST OF FREE-FOR-ALL

LOSES RACE TO LOUISE E.

With the weather conditions almost ideal about twenty-five hundred people yesterday witnessed the race of the opening day of the midsummer meet at Moosehead.

The day was devoid of accidents of serious nature. In the first heat of the 227 Mona Baron had a wheel on her silky shodded wheels turning into the stretch. It was decided that the accident was unavoidable and the horse was allowed to start in the subsequent heats.

In the free-for-all Terrace Queen was a disappointment to many. The mare showed up poorly from the time the scoring for the first heat began. Lydiard was up but failed to take her to the wire on her last lap. Raymond took Lydiard's place and got the Queen's first heat the freights horse got only second money.

Rudy Kip was pole horse and held his lead throughout the first heat although Simms forced him hard on the stretch. Louise E. came in third. The time by quarters was, 36, 1:09 1-2, 1:45 1-4, 2:10 1-4.

The second heat of the free-for-all was the best of the race. The horses were given the word on the first curve and kept well together. Rudy Kip led at the half with Simms second and Louise E. close behind.

SHABBLIY TREATED, MARATHONS ASSERT

When the baseball team which Mr. Charles Willey took to Fredericton reached home last night, they had something to say about the treatment which they had received in Fredericton.

Of yesterday's game they had no serious complaint, but Wednesday's was described as one of the most complete routs any of the players had ever experienced.

Bovard's pitching yesterday was remarked upon as wonderful. Another feature of the game which marked its quality was a play executed by Lynch and Donnelly with a runner on second who had taken a long lead, a Protector batter hit to Lynch, who threw the ball across the diamond, and Lynch tagged the runner out.

Charlie Willey said last evening that the team which played in Fredericton would probably meet the St. Josephs on Wednesday evening.

GHOU AFTER MONEY IN CORPSE'S MOUTH Told Police Drowned Man Was Friend—Robbed Sailor, Jumped Overboard With $15 in Teeth.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Michael Murphy, an East Side character, was interrupted last night in the cheerful operation of prying open the mouth of a corpse, and thereby hangs a mystery.

When discovered in an undertaking establishment fumbling with the man's body, who he says was a friend of his, Murphy admitted that he was looking for money. Examination thereupon revealed three $5 bills in the dead man's mouth. They had been there since Sunday last when Andrew Erickson, whose nose lips were closed over the currency, met death in Jamaica Bay.

To the police Murphy told a weird story. He said he and Erickson had lured a drunken sailor to a boat and had robbed him. Then the sailor broke, says Murphy, and Erickson, stuffing the money in his mouth to keep it dry, jumped overboard after him. He sank, says Murphy, but the police think there may have been a struggle, for Erickson's head bears a deep gash.

When the sailor was found, he was found with his mouth open, and the money was found in his mouth. The police think there may have been a struggle, for Erickson's head bears a deep gash.

HANS HOLMER COMES BACK HOME

Marathon Runner Finds Mother in New York.

Left Home When a Youngster, Saying He Would Return When Famous, and He Did.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Mrs. Alice Holmer, wife of Peter Holmer, an electrical engineer, of 366 Bronx Park avenue, West Farms, was making bread in her kitchen early yesterday afternoon, thinking among other things, of the little boy who had run away in anger nine years before, when his family, smaller and more comfortable than now, lived in an old farm house in Southern Boulevard, near 178th street. That boy was her eldest, and she was sure he would never use one word of him or from him had heard.

At just about that time there stood before a row of brick tenements on Southern Boulevard, near 178th street, a tall, athletic-looking young man. He was Hans Holmer, champion Marathon runner of Canada, whose long swinging stride had carried him to the victor last Saturday in the Marathon race at Atlantic City.

He now looked like a young man. He took his hat from his head, and in a puzzled way passed his hand over his thick, wavy hair. Then he turned and walked to the old West Farms square, where for years the village smithy had stood.

"Does Paul Holmer, the blacksmith, live here?" he asked. "No," they told him. "He long ago retired." "Well, does anyone know anything about Peter Holmer?" asked the runner, looking at his brother, Bert.

"Sure," said a small boy, "I do. I know his dad. I'll show you to his house." Mrs. Holmer in her kitchen remembered how nine years before, when West Farms was nothing but a country village, and she had only six in her family, instead of eight, this oldest boy had been born.

They had two dogs, the boys, a pointer, a setter, and their father, an old sea captain, with strict rules of discipline, though a kind father, and he had a small farm, with a cow, a pig, and a horse. Then one day, for the tenth time, the dogs came in through the convulsion of the boys. The father was very angry.

The next day he came to his mother, a slight, tow-headed little boy then, and in his eyes the anger still shone. "Mother," said he, twisting his cap, "I'm going away. I am not coming back till I have made you all proud of me. I'm not going to school, either. With that he turned and marched out.

Mrs. Holmer thought he was joking, and Mr. Holmer said: "Oh, he'll get tired of it and come home." "Time passed, but no Hans returned. The years said by and the family of six became eight, and the father, a man to care for so many, though Holmer's work was steady and good, and finally they moved to their little house in Bronx Park avenue.

ROTHESAY THREATENED WITH WATER FAMINE

But Mr. Crawford Mends a Bad Break and Dinner is Given in His Honor.

The pretty little suburban village of Rotherham, noted at present chiefly for its dissatisfaction with the I. C. A., provided itself yesterday that it could survive its big sister in at least one respect. Trouble arose in the water system, and there was some excitement over the prospect that the residents would have to trot to the river to bathe before taking the morning train to the city.

The anxiety was the greater because of the fact that there is only one man who could attend to the break, with any degree of certainty that it would be repaired with any kind of dispatch, as he had put the pipes in. William Crawford was the only one who knew where to tap them in order to remedy the difficulty. Accordingly, he was hurried from the city by automobile.

The plumber found that in repairing the break, which occurred during last night at the reservoir two miles back of the village, the workmen had carried the water on by means of the valves and the pipe had become filled with air. One section of the pipe which lay in a hollow half a mile from the reservoir had refused to let the water pass through, and in order to get the current running again the pipe had to be bored and plugged.

Mr. Crawford very much resembles his father, and for the first time in the world, more victories he promised an early return and a long visit.

MODERATE DRINKER IS WORSE THAN SOT

Startling Statements Made by Temperance Evangelist at Knowlton.

KNOWLTON, P. Q., July 27.—The "Temperance Week" at Knowlton Conference promises already to be a great success and to amply justify the efforts of the promoters of it. On Monday two sessions were held, the attendance at each being most gratifying. Mr. John H. Roberts is giving a course of afternoon addresses on the Christian aspect of the Temperance Problem and at night he lectured on the social and legislative phases of the Temperance Reform. Yesterday he dealt with "The Bible, a Total Abstinence Text-Book," and made out a strong case for the Scriptures being regarded as entirely favorable to the total abstinence position and antagonistic to the use or abuse of strong drink.

At the evening session Mr. Roberts lectured on the topic: "The moderate drinker more than the drunkard," and claimed that although the moderate drinker is usually the best citizen, friend and father, and though in moral qualities he would stand higher than the drunkard, in some vital respects he is worse. The health of the average moderate drinker, drinking a glass or two of liquor per day, would be worse than the health of the average drunkard, getting drunk twice a week or fortnight, and being a sober man in the intervals. The moderate drinker's body is always saturated with alcohol, but the drunkard in his periodic spells of sobriety gives his body a chance to eliminate the alcohol he has consumed, and therefore to recuperate. This, the speaker contended, is the opinion of the medical profession today.

"The example of the moderate drinker is worse than that of the most degraded sot on earth," was one of the strong statements of Mr. Roberts. No young man would be tempted to drink, he argued, by seeing the effect of drink as exhibited in a drunkard's life and conduct, but the moderate drinker's

PLUMBING ALL RIGHT, BUT OH! THAT CHEESE

Peace of Limburger Finally Costs an Indiana Man $150.

HAMMOND, Ind., July 27.—Tom Mauger, proprietor of the Indiana Harbor Express Company, bought a piece of limburger cheese. It cost him $150 before he was through with it. Mauger's wife refused to tolerate it in the house, and so he took it to a small outside of his house, and the hot weather did the rest. He forgot about the cheese, and his wife told him that there was something wrong with the plumbing. He employed a plumber, and in searching through the pipes for defects in sewerage the plumber practically wrecked the house.

Then Mauger remembered the cheese and the cause of the smell, and the plumber at once removed the cheese.

SAYS HE PEDALS AN AIRSHIP LIKE BICYCLE

West Brandywine Inventor Declares His Aeroplane Flies Like a Bird.

WEST BRANDYWINE, Pa., July 27.—Dr. George A. Spratt, physician, farmer and inventor, announces that he has made a successful flight in an aeroplane of his own make. He believes he has reached the object for which he has been working for years. "I made a trial flight last Saturday with my aeroplane. I am able to say that I have at last completed the main desire of my life," he said. "I have attained something which, I am safe to say, is more than any other air navigator has so far succeeded in doing. That is, navigating a plane in the air with absolute stability, without the assistance of a motor."

With his machine, with twenty-foot planes, he says, he has taken flights by using only the power he obtains from the working parts of a bicycle. "The Wright brothers," he says, "hope to work out this problem, as also do many other aviators of less fame. I will have a great advantage over my competitors in the fact that my machine will have the gliding stability, an essential power in an air-navigating body."

"I covered about 300 feet at a distance of six feet from the ground, but this is all I desired to ascend, as even at that distance I found that I had in the machine what I desired. The wind blew me many feet from the straight course, and by a simple movement I found that I had acquired the valuable gliding stability for which we have been working for a decade."

Y. M. C. A. BOYS CAMP OPENS AUGUST 4TH

B. M. Nicholson of Yarmouth in Charge This Year

Many boys throughout the Maritime Provinces are looking forward to having a very enjoyable time at the Y. M. C. A. annual summer camp to be held this year at Robertson's Point on Grand Lake, from August 4th to the 15th.

The camp is open to all boys in the Maritime Provinces between the ages of 13 and 18 years, and it is not necessary that one should be a member of the association to take advantage of the outing. It is expected that about eighty boys will be under canvas, a large proportion of whom will likely be from St. John.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the pleasure of the boys, and it is expected that this year's camp will be the most successful ever conducted by the association. The situation selected is well adapted for such wholesome and beneficial sports as bathing, swimming, rowing and other aquatic events, and the two weeks at Robertson's Point promise to be weeks of ideal camp life for the boys.

Mr. Nicholson was in the city yesterday and left for Moncton last night.

TAKE CHORUS GIRLS OUT FOR AN OUTING

Even New York is Astounded at the Noise They Make on Fifth Avenue.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The festival of the chorus girls of the city of New York, which is the first annual outing and singing under the auspices of the "Beauty Spot" lodge of the Herald Square Theatre.

The object of the society is to see that the chorus girls get out into the open—away from close dressing rooms and smoke-filled restaurants—at least once a year.

Wherefore, Miss d'Armond and Campbell Cascade chartered the City of Worcester today and got all the chorus girls one could get together on short notice and went away from here, Tuesday at the foot of East Twenty-fourth street, near the morgue.

Everybody gathered at the Herald Square Theatre at 1:30 o'clock and climbed into sightless automobiles and unostentatiously swept every thirty-fourth street and down Fifth Avenue, singing as they went. And if Fifth Avenue ever woke up it awakened today.

Strollers muttered from the cars to hell all and sundry that this was the "Ozone Club" and if pedestrians failed to notice who was passing, young Miss Lillian Hazel or Bessie Van Ness (after whom the Van Ness mansion in Washington is named), stood up on their respective hind limbs and attracted attention.

THE PAIR BACKSLIDERS

There was some trepidation on the part of the chaperone, Miss d'Armond, as Martin's was reached. The only backslider, however, was Miss Vonnie Hoyt, of the "Pollies" show, who decided at Twenty-sixth street that enough is enough. Miss Hoyt had the moral support of Miss Mae Carlisle, the corresponding secretary of the beauty-spot-broker-lodge of the parent organization. Miss Carlisle decided that if any lodge member in good standing wanted to stop or at Martin's stopping in the by-laws could stop him or her, as the case may be.

So Miss and Vonnie Hoyt just up and stopped. They haven't been seen since.

When the good ship City of Worcester was reached it was learned that the omnibus auto carrying the newspaper men hadn't got much farther than Keen's chop-house, where everybody stopped merely because Jeff de Angelle, Morris Gest and Paul Honkel, manager of the chop-house, had a lot of letters to write to their folks and needed some liquid refreshment in order to lick the stamps.

Hundreds of the proletariat were aboard the steamer when the regular folks arrived, but the proletariat knew who was present as soon as the "beauty spot" chorus arrived. The orchestra on the forward part of the upper deck was in the middle of Harry Williams' dainty lyric "Hitch in Pick-

IN A PASSION PLAY.

Swiss Peasants More Musical and Less Dramatic Than Oberammergau Performers

Four Hundred Performers Chosen—Deep Reverence Marks the Whole Performance.

LUCERNE, July 22.—In the little sequestered village of Solothurn, with 1,000 inhabitants, in scenic Switzerland, in the Bernese Jura, a few miles from Solothurn, and within easy reach of Berne and Lucerne, are being produced every Sunday performances of the Swiss Passion Play, as interpreted by 400 native performers—every fourth villager. The performances are attracting full houses every Sunday, and extra performances are given on Mondays to accommodate those who cannot obtain seats for the Sunday performance, which will continue until September. The quaint theatre was built specially for this production, and has a seating capacity of exactly the number of the people of the village.

We arranged to arrive on the Saturday night preceding, to secure accommodations, and we found the village full of vibrant but subdued life. The full of vibrant but subdued life. The villagers are peasants, who earn their daily bread by the cultivation of their little patches of land, and mechanics engaged in watchmaking, but who have as their remarkable creations music and the drama, gymnastics and rifle shooting, in which they are all efficient.

We made ready for a busy day, and were early to start. At 8 a. m. the village goes to mass. The excellence of the music was astonishing, few churches in New York give a service like this. This song service prepared, us somewhat for the surprise we got at the theatre.

Breakfast followed mass, and then we strolled through the village, examining with curiosity the pretty cottages and chalets, with their low, slanting, moss-grown or thatched roofs. We were fortunate in being able to visit some of the chief actors in the play, even being able to get some photographs of them in their ordinary attire. We spoke to storekeepers and waiters, besides peasants and mechanics, about the performance and their parts, and were considerably enlightened as to the play. Most of these men wear their hair long—which they have allowed to grow, the better to represent the characters they enact.

The hair faces we passed beamed with the light of intelligence and dignified serenity.

No one is allowed to take part in the play who is not of irreproachable character, and every performer must belong to the village or its immediate vicinity.

Visitors began to gather from the hotels and boarding houses about 10 o'clock at the theatre, the play beginning at 2. The theatre occupies a site by itself and consists of two parts, the main or front portion, a square-looking building containing the auditorium, and the rear, a deep, oblong extension.

It cost over $20,000, or $12.50 for every man, woman and child in the village. It is completely equipped, and the arrangements are excellent. The latest ideas in the use of electric lighting are introduced, the Swiss being expert electricians.

BIBLICAL LIVING PICTURES.

The play consists of two parts, a morning performance, from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. and an afternoon from 2:30 to 5 p. m. The morning presentation consists of living pictures, or tableaux vivants, representing incidents and episodes from the Old and New Testaments, as well as scenes depicting the childhood and ministry of Christ, while the afternoon presentation carries us on through the life story of Christ to the tragic climax and glorious ascension. The play opened with a recitation of the Gospels, "Let there be Light," which created the audience by its beauty. Then followed a number of the familiar episodes related in the Old Testament, "Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden," "Noah's Ark," "The Fall of Man," "The Birth of Isaac," "The Sacrifice of Isaac," "The Binding of Isaac," "The Flight into Egypt," "The Adoration of the Magi," and "The Flight into Egypt," where, in the latter, folded in the arms of Mary, as He rode with her on the back of the ass led by Joseph, the tender-hearted in the audience yearned toward him.

The other scenes from the Old Testament were concluded by "The Star of Bethlehem," "The Birth of Christ," "The Adoration of the Magi," "The Flight into Egypt," "The Sermon on the Mount," "Jesus, the Divine Friend of Children," and "The Entry into Jerusalem" brought the first part of the presentation to a close.

CHRIST'S SUPPER.

The afternoon performance pictured the sufferings and death of Our Lord and the resurrection and carried the story onward with vividness, the first scene disclosing the "Designs of the High Council," in "The Parting at Bethany," "The Lord's Supper," "Jesus on the Mount of Olives," "The Betrayal of Christ," "The Capture of Jesus," "Jesus before Pilate," "The Mocking of Jesus," "The Scourging of Jesus," "The Carrying of the Cross," "The Descent from the Cross," "Jesus Laid in the Sepulchre," "The Ascension," which are beautiful in their setting and presentation.

These tableaux in which a large number were on the stage were particularly impressive and effective, as in the "Giving of the Manna in the Wilderness," "The Entrance into Jerusalem," and "The Road to Golgotha." The closing pictures were extraordinary in their life-like reality, and gave one an acute sense of the tragic and holy passion represented.

The "Ascension" was one of the most dazzling of them all, a picture of heightened glory, with Christ rising into the heavens, his brows crowned with effulgent light. Around were the multitude of grasping angels, while the awe-struck throng below endeavored to catch the last glimpse of their disappearing Lord in the blazing light that beat upon Him.

Christ was depicted, not as a man, merely suffering but as Titan has embodied Him, in the Uffizi painting. John the Baptist was depicted as full of tenderness, as the Renaissance might depict him. Mary might have stepped out from one of Sassoferrato's pictures.

Several of the tableaux presented are evident copies of the old masters. "The Crucifixion" reminds us distinctly of Perugino's painting; "The Last Supper" closely follows Leonardo's "Vinci"; while in the "Angelic Salutation" one recognizes Fra Angelico's famous mural painting. "The Angels Appearing to the Shepherds" might have been grouped according to Thomas's picture.

Re-acting with the deepest Christian reverence, what they believe with their whole souls—yet embodying in their representation in the play, the noble and dignified bearing of the actors, and the exceptionally well conceived grouping of the tableaux and their brilliant costumes, which have been carefully studied and are in harmony with the ideas of the sacred text, are all notable.

WOMAN IN STREET CLOTHES LEAPS INTO SEA, SAVES CHILD

Cheered by Hundreds at Atlantic City as She Swims Ashore With Friend and Men are Panic-Stricken.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 22.—Mrs. C. William Rath, prominent in Atlantic City society and daughter of Commodore C. Stanley Grove, of the Chelsea Yacht Club, plunged overboard from her husband's launch into the swift inside Thoroughfare after this evening and saved the life of Miss Lillian Royce, of Germantown, after the latter had tumbled from the deck of the Rath's launch.

Men in the party, including Dr. Rath, who could not swim, attempted to reach the plucky young woman and her half-drowned charge, but Mrs. Rath swam with Miss Royce to the shallow water and carried her out on the bank, while spectators on boat-house porches, cheered her bravely.

Miss Royce is visiting the Rath's, and was the guest on a boating party which started out from the water-bungalow of her hostess. The launch had barely started when a sudden lurch threw Miss Royce over the stern rail and into the deep water. Before men in the party could gather their wits and halt the swiftly moving craft, Mrs. Rath, who was taught to swim when a child, by her father, leaped overboard and swam to the sinking girl.

"We're all right!" she shouted to the members of the party, who were in a panic, and struck out with her charge for the shores of the Thoroughfare, where she landed safely.

Outraged joined the yachting party in reviving the Germantown girl, who recovered in a few minutes. Mrs. Rath jokingly refers to her heroic act as a "little mishap" tonight, and refuses to allow herself to be considered a heroine.

HIS OPPORTUNITY.

(From the Catholic Standard and Times)

"I tell you what," said the old-looking man, "it's pretty hard for a man with a large family to live on a small income."

"Yes," eagerly agreed the stranger, "but it's a great deal harder for his family if he dies on one. Now, my dear sir, insurance. Let me interest you—What's your hurry?"

SHOOTING MARKS STRIKE RIOTS IN WISCONSIN

Several Men Injured, One Probably Fatally—Many Arrests Followed.

KENOSHA, Wis., July 22—State troops at Milwaukee are in readiness tonight to proceed at once to this city in event of any recurrence of the rioting which broke out here today when the N. R. Allen Sons Company reopened its tannery plant, the employees of which had been on strike.

The rioting today began when the guards attempted to disperse strikers who gathered in numbers about the entrance of the plant to fear at two hundred or more men who remained at work.

PENNSYLVANIA STRIKE IS FIZZLING OUT

BUTLER, Pa., July 22—The backbone of the strike of the employees of the Standard Steel Car Company, the Butler Forge Wheel Company and the Standard Wheel Company is broken, according to a statement of officials connected with the three concerns tonight.

It is thought that by Saturday a large majority of the workmen who walked out in partial sympathy with the men of the pressed Steel Car Company of McKees Rocks, near Pittsburgh, will have returned to their old positions.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 22—With the exception of a magistrate's hearing in the case of the eighteen alleged strike leaders, charged with inciting to riot and threatening to kill today, the strike situation at the Schoenwille plant of the Pressed Steel Car Company was without incident.

A Scottish laird overheard some Lowland cattle dealers discussing the use of "English" instead of "prits" in Midland's famous signal. "English expects that every man will do his duty." According to one patriotic Scot, there was no question of the Admiralty's selfishness, a companion expressed surprise at the "injustice" the patriot resented him. "No, no," he explained, "only expects of the English; he said something of Scotland for he kept the Scotch would do theirs."

THE WALLACE CASE IN POLICE COURT

Witnesses Tell of Attempts to Pass Raised Check

But Merchants to Whom He Applied Did Not Take Kindly to the Scheme—Chief Clerk Also on Stand.

In the police court this morning four drunks were disposed of.

Chas. Shannon, one of the drunks, who claimed St. Andrews as his home, later asserted that he arrived on the Boston express yesterday from Maine. Efforts will be made to deport him via the C. P. R.

The case of Frank Wallace, who endeavored to pass a raised check was dealt with.

Walter Beattie, of the firm of Beattie and Johnston, Main St., was the first witness. On Wednesday morning, he said, between 9 and 9.30 o'clock I showed the prisoner some clothing and after looking at several suits he settled upon a $15 suit and selected a $15 rain coat. He stated he would take the goods if I would cash a check for him. Upon my asking to see it he handed the check to me. I asked the prisoner if he was a traveller as I had seen the mention of a raised check in the morning papers. He answered that he was, and acknowledged that he had been the victim of the raised check transaction on the train. He then opened his coat and showed a police badge, saying that anyone wearing this badge could not be mixed up in any scrape like that. He requested to see a copy of the paper and after reading it said that such reports as this placed strangers coming into town at a disadvantage.

He then cut the account of the affair out of the paper and put it in his pocket. Leaving the store he said he would get the check cashed and would come back and get the clothes he selected.

I next saw him with Deputy Chief Jenkins and Detective Killen. In answer to Deputy Jenkins, Mr. Beattie stated he was notified about a raised check by Oak Hall.

Edwin Bonnell of Oak Hall gave evidence of the prisoner entering that store Tuesday morning and selecting a brown suit at $38. He asked if I would cash a check for him. Upon his handing me the check I told him that it would be necessary for me to refer it to the office. I took the check to Mr. Smith, our cashier, who saw that it had been tampered with and that it had been imprinted with and would not accept it.

Frank C. Smith, secretary-treasurer of Oak Hall, was then called. On Tuesday morning Mr. Bonnell came to me with a check, saying that he had cashed a customer's suit if we would just hold a customer's suit if we would cash the check. I refused to cash it, as it had the appearance of being tampered with. I noticed the letters "W" and also the "9" after the amount.

WITNESS SAID HE SMELLED LIQUOR FROM CURRY'S BREATH

Chief Clerk Stated that on Thursday Mrs. Currey told him that she had seen the man on the train.

On Wednesday Mr. Young stated that Beattie and Johnston had phoned his being in their store and presented the check. In consequence of this message we notified the police.

Chief Clerk stated that on Thursday morning the prisoner came to his office, stating that he had cashed a check on the train for $50, which he thought was not good.

He then handed me the check. He stated the man on the train assured him it was all right and he cashed it. He gave me this description of the man:

"J. E. Muldoon, aged 35, black hair, 5 ft. 9 in. tall, dark complexion, black moustache, dark suit and black derby."

"I told him that any one could see the check had been raised. He claimed to have acted foolishly in taking the check, after which he left my office."

"Afterward I ordered his arrest upon hearing of his various attempts to pass the check."

The prisoner was remanded for three days, when other witnesses will be brought from Moncton.

STEAMERS WATCHED FOR SUSPECTED MURDERER

American Wanted in Connection With Latest Trunk Mystery is Still Missing.

LYNN, Mass., July 23—Sull without another clue to the whereabouts of the missing Vanah Nabaladian, the Armenian who is wanted in connection with the trunk mystery revealed yesterday and with no additional light thrown on the death of Miss Montjian, whose body was found in the trunk, Chief of Police Burke continued today to hold to the theory that the murder was committed in the room in which the trunk was discovered, although no one could be found who had heard the report of the shot which caused Montjian's death.

The steamship companies, especially the Trans-Atlantic lines, have been furnished with a detailed description of Nabaladian and in stations have been ordered to detain him if found.

Nabaladian's remark in this city shortly before his disappearance, that he was going to Turkey led the police to believe today that he may be on board a steamship bound for that country.

Witnesses tried to get Mrs. Currey to come to her own home. This occurrence took place about 2.30 p.m., sometime in August or September, 1907.

On cross examination by Mr. Skinner witness said Mrs. Currey rushed from her house and flung her arms around witness's neck.

Witness said she did not think that Mrs. Currey knew witness was passing. Mrs. Currey had her hat and coat on.

Mrs. Flood said Mrs. Currey told her that Currey had been shaking her. Witness had to assist Mrs. Currey up the street as she was weak.

The court adjourned at one o'clock and the case is being resumed this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

ESCAPED LUNATIC FOUND IN CELLAR

Girl Gone From London Institution for Ten Days

LONDON, Ont., July 22—Julia Cane, the young Biddulph woman for whom the asylum authorities have been searching for ten days, was found early this morning in the cellar of J. Clancy's house on Victoria street. Mr. Clancy was awakened by his collar dog, which had been barking for over an hour, and he got up and went out to see what was the matter. He found the dog standing in the doorway leading to the cellar, and opening the door he saw the young woman sitting on the collar steps. She is in a serious condition, having been exposed to the damp night, and being very scantily clad during the ten days that she has been at large. It is not known where she obtained food during the days she has been roaming the country.

The Lusitania mails are due at noon tomorrow from New York.

A meeting of the appeals committee will held yesterday afternoon in City Hall.

OTTAWA MAN PRAISES BOARD OF CONTROL

Tells of Its Successful Operation in the Capital—Thinks St. John Would Benefit by Its Adoption

Napoleon Champagne, a member of the Board of Control of the Federal capital, is in the city. He talked interestingly last evening of the workings of the control board, which has been under consideration as a substitute for the present system of government in St. John. Mr. Champagne states that the Board of Control system has been highly successful from every standpoint. The citizens of Ottawa are distinctly gratified over the amount of work executed by the board. The members can point to a large amount of work for the money, which has been expended. The board spends $500,000 annually.

The program consisted of addresses by: Wm. Covey, Master R. J. Anderson, Rev. W. R. Robinson, County Master J. King Kelly; Deputy C. M. J. B. M. Baxter; and H. Selton; bag pipes selection H. S. and A. Crulshank; piano solo, Miss Bray; mandolin and banjo duet, W. H. and W. R. McDonald.

LIQUOR "AS REQUIRED"

TORONTO, July 23—Some startling facts showing the freedom with which liquor is sold in a local open town under doctors' orders were told in the County Court yesterday, when George Collard, a Stouffville druggist, was fined $100 and costs by Magistrate Ellis for selling liquor in contravention of the license act.

The liquor, a small flask of whiskey, was produced in court, and two Federal officers told of obtaining it on July 12 from an old man named John Graham, whom they had seen purchasing it.

In his defence, Mr. Collard said he had sold the liquor to a man named John Mayer, who told him he wanted it for "old Mr. Graham," who was applying liquor to Graham and to people who said they wanted it for Mr. Graham for two years past. He had been doing this on a verbal instruction from Dr. Walter A. Sangster of Stouffville, to give Graham liquor "as required."

Dr. Sangster, who was called by the defence, admitted that he did not know that he had never given the defendant a written order or prescription for the liquor. One written prescription for liquor, issued by the witness' brother, Dr. A. Sangster, was produced. It read: "Give the bearer what liquor he requires." A. Sangster, M. D.

REGULUS REACHES PORT WITH BOW SMASHED IN

Collided With Iceberg on Way to St. John's—Jettisoned Deck Cargo But Had Narrow Escape From Sinking

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., July 22—With her bows completely smashed in as the result of a collision with an iceberg off Cape Race this morning, the freight steamer Regulus arrived here tonight after a narrow escape from foundering.

The Regulus had on a heavy cargo, including a deckload of boilers and machines. As the ship settled by the head, officers and crew worked with desperate energy to jettison the deckload as well as a hundred tons of coal. This eased the steamer sufficiently for her to make this port. It was the worst iceberg wreck seen here in many years.

The Regulus left Philadelphia July 2 for St. John's (Nfld.) at which place she arrived on the 8th. Her destination upon leaving St. John's is not known.

TRUSTS TO JUDGMENT OF THE DELEGATES

Board of Trade Council Decided to Give No Instructions to Representatives at Empire Congress.

At a meeting of the council of the Board of Trade held in their rooms this morning it was decided that no instructions should be given to the delegates to the International Congress regarding the subjects which are to be discussed.

The seventh Congress of the Chambers of Commerce of the Empire meets in Sydney, Australia, on September 14th this year and the local Board of Trade will be represented by W. F. Hatheway, M. P. P., and James Pender.

A long list of subjects has been prepared for discussion and as the voting on all questions is done by the boards represented and not by the individual delegates it was thought that it might be well to give the council an opportunity to pass on these matters.

After consideration of the program, however, it was decided this morning that it would be better to leave the subjects to the discretion of the delegates as the council had full confidence in their ability to vote on their own judgment.

As there are no matters which the Board wishes their representatives to put before the Congress the delegates will go entirely un instructed.

Mr. Hatheway will leave St. John on the 21st and will proceed to Vancouver via New York. Mr. Pender will leave a week later and will go direct to Vancouver, where he will be joined by Mr. Hatheway and they will leave on the same steamer for Australia.

At the meeting of the Council this morning the members also discussed the bankruptcy laws. Objection is taken to the present New Brunswick law on the grounds that it does not give the creditors of an insolvent merchant the opportunity to sell him out until two months have elapsed after the first steps are taken.

The Board of Trade is anxious to have this amended and would also like to see in operation a Dominion act covering all of Canada to replace the present provincial laws which differ widely in their provisions.

The President, W. E. Foster, presided at this morning's meeting and the following members were present—J. Hunter, H. B. Schofield, Jas. Pender, H. C. Schofield, W. H. Thorne, W. F. Hatheway, G. E. Barbour and W. F. Burditt.

A ST. JOHN CAPTAIN ON THE PACIFIC COAST

Capt. Ludwig Estabrooks, Formerly Commander of the David Weston, Has Charge of Fine C.P.R. Steamer

On a picture postal card directed from Vancouver to Mr. James Paterson, of Indiantown, Mr. Jack Pugsley says that the commander of the steamer on board of which he was writing is Capt. Ludwig Estabrooks, formerly one of the most widely known men upon the St. John River.

The steamer is the Okanagan, owned by the C. P. R. She is a boat of splendid appearance, propelled by a stern wheel, and with a speed of almost twenty knots.

Capt. Estabrooks has been away from St. John for twenty years past, but is remembered here as one of the most popular captains who ever sailed upon the river. His last command was the David Weston. Capt. Leander Estabrooks to the ground, is a brother of the Okanagan's commander.

SPLENDID WEATHER AGAIN ENSURES GOOD RACING

2.19 and 2.21 Classes Have the Field This Afternoon—Interest Keen

The weather man again proved considerate to the horseman today and the races at Monmouth Park are attracting keen interest. The fog early in the morning dampened the spirits of the day as an ideal one for fast racing. A big attendance is assured. Both special trains carried large numbers to the grounds.

The 2.19 and 2.21 classes are the numbers on the card for this afternoon. There are several entries in each event and speculation is rife as to the outcome of the races. The meet will conclude tomorrow afternoon.
