the eastern dealers will be able to sell all the lumber they have at these prices. When they go beyond these prices the West Virginia spruce will take the place of the Maine Product.

"New York lumber merchants always favor the eastern markets" said Mr. Taibot, "but I believe that if the lumbermen in this state go beyond the above prices this spring that they will lose many or lers, because West Virginia spruce can be bought at the same figures and can be delivered in New York in much shorier time, and in small or large cargoes."

"Mr Talbot says that his concern has received many orders for spruce to be shipped to points in Cuba, something which was never known in the New York market before. These orders call chiefly for spruce boards but some dimensions is wanted. Maine spruce has found its way to South American points through the New York markets for many years, but never before has there been any call for it from Cuba. Pine shippers have always been used in Cuba and it is supposed that the demand for spruce is brought about by the report that the government troops would stay there during the summer thus making the building of barracks necessary.

THE IDAHO PEA.

Its Seeds Are Said to Possess High.

The Idaho pea is being talked of lately as a new forage plant, and its cultivation has been highly recommended in the west on account of the value ouring cheese. We now indertain that bacterial work and that bacterial work an Idaho pea or chick pea (Cicer arietinum) has been in cultivation in eastern countries longer than any other leguminous crop. It is estimated that there

GRAM OR IDAHO PEA. are now in India 5,000,000 acres devoted to its cultivation either alone or as a bycrop with wheat. Next to the cereals gram forms the largest part of the food used in India and in portions of northern Africa, Spain and other countries bordering on the Mediter-

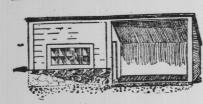

This plant is a branching annual, with many upright stems from the same root. The leaves resemble those of the leaves on short stalks about onehalf inch long. The pods are bladdery, inflated, from one-half to three-fourths of an inch long and finely pubescent, with glandular hairs. Each pod contains one, or very rarely two, large seeds, which are wrinkled and bear a fanciful resemblance to a ram's horn, whence the Latin name arietinum. The seeds are a little larger than those of the common garden pea, to which they

The Idaho pea was cultivated in 1895 and 1896 at the Colorado experiment station. Professor Cooke states that it "has demonstrated its ability to make a large growth with plenty of water and a fair growth with a very limited supply." It belongs to the pea family, and is grown in rows 30 inches apart, and the plants 60 to 12 inches apart in the rows. Its growth indicates that it can be raised for about 1 cent a pound. About 30 to 50 pounds of seed are used per acre, depending upon whether it is sown in drills or broadcast. All authorities agree that it is better suited to arid and semiarid regions than to humid ones, the crop apparently requiring a great many sunny days during its season of growth. Better results are obtained in growing it with irrigation than without, although it makes a fair yield on comparatively dry soils. If continued experiments with this plant in the west prove that its average yield is as high as has been claimed, it will undoubtedly prove a valuable addition to the list of forage plants suitable to semiarid regions.

The gram plant is very sensitive to cold. The seed should be sown not earlier than May 15, or, at the higher altitudes, about the 1st of June, and if some of the short season varieties are procured there will be less danger of their being caught by early frosts. Gram is sown in India as a winter crop. It is said to be adapted to almost any soil from light sandy to heavy clay or loam, apparently preferring the latter. It might prove of some value in parts of the southern states as a winter crop and soil cover on lands which are unsuited to the vetches and the crimson clover. It requires only moderate amounts of moisture and is said to be injured by prolonged cloudy weather or abundant rains, which cause it to flower prematurely and thus materially af-fects the yield of seed.

"AGED CHEESE."

Chapter on Cheesemaking That Is Not Given Its Proper Importance by Makers of the Article.

Makers of the Article.

On the Swiss Aips, where the trade in European "ripe" cheese is the largest part of the commerce, cheese is the staff of life in the fullest sense of the word, as it makes a large part of the meal three times a day, three hundred and sixty-fire days in the year. Banishment of cheese from the table would, in those districts, seem as disastrous as to remove the sun from the firmament. Science has, of late, cast considerable light on the process of cast considerable light on the process of curing cheese. We now understand that

4. The use of water to lower the temperature of the whey and curd should not be practiced, because, besides the fact that water often contains germs, it will wash out part of the flavor. A better plan is to dip out part of the whey and set away to cool, on ice, for instance.

5. The curd should be brought into the desired shape before it comes in contact with the air, and the hoops and molds should be so constructed as to be

Farmers and the Heg Market.

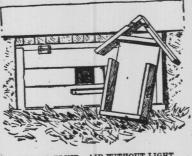

So much has been written and said on the feeding of hogs that we thought by this time every farmer in Ontario knew how to produce the standard bacon hog. A glance at our market reports from day to day, however, reveals the fact that large sums of money are being lost by farmers through the improper feeding, says The Toronto World. Last week in the Toronto Cattle Market animals of the right proportion and weight brought the right proportion and weight brought 87½ cents per hundred more than those which were too fat. A 200-pound hog, properly ied, brought $1.75 more than one which did not come up to the requirements of the packers. A considerable percentage of all the hogs sold last week, well on to 50 per cent., were culls, bring ing 87½ cents per hundred less than they should have brought. In the aggregate this is a very big loss to the farming community. The drovers claim that the community. The drovers claim that the packing houses are too strict, if not actually unjust, in their rejection of so many of the hors that are offered for sale. There may be some truth in this contention, but it seems to us that a simple remedy is available to the farmer. Let him feed his hogs properly and market them when they are of the right weight and none of his animals will be rejected. There is no difficulty in feeding them and in producing the animals the packers insist on. We think, therefore, the farmers have, to a large extent, the the farmers have, to a large extent, the remedy in their own hands.

To do this without trouble, we leave the cap or cover with the roof over it in the exact spot occupied by the hive and remove only the brood chamber to the cellar. In this manner the hives occupy a much smaller space, and it is easier to give them good ventilation, which is absolutely necessary to keep the combs from molding, if the cellar is at all

We pile the hives in the cellar, two or three or even four tiers high, usually putting the lower tier on timbers raised a foot or so from the ground. We have always noticed that the colonies nearest the ground were the ones that suffered, if any did. After the hives are in, darkness, quiet-

While in the cornfields they can be destroyed on the plants by applications of kerosene emulsion. Without vigilance and prompt action, however, only indifferent results are to be expected from any of these measures.

In regard to hibernation Professor Webster says: The chinch bug hibernates in the adult stage, and though there may be occasional exceptions, especially in the south, it has yet to be observed in very early spring in any other than the adult stage, at least in any locality north of Mexico. I have observed pupæ in central Illinois apparently in hibernation in company with adults on Nov. 11, but there is no proof that these survived the winter. In Tensas parish, La., adults were abroad in considerable numbers during abroad in considerable numbers during March, 1887, yet there was no indication of any young having wintered over.

Foreign Wheat Crops. According to the crop circular for November, changes reported in the estimates of foreign crops would increase the total estimate of the world's wheat crop, but the conditions affecting the crops of the southern hemisphere are scarcely so favorable as they were commonly supposed to be earlier in the season. The London Times estimates the wheat crop of the United Kingdom at 9,440,000 quarters, or 77,900,000 Winchester bushels.

It seems likely that the total of wheat for Canada will reach the highest of the three estimates already madenamely, that of Broomhall, which was 68,000,000 imperial bushels.

Fall sowing was delayed by drought throughout a large part of Europe, but there is no reason to apprehend any material detriment to the crop from the delay, though in some countries the area sown may be somewhat smaller than it would have been under more favorable circumstances.

Does It Pay to Keep Your Cow? During the summer of 1898 the Kansas Agricultural college dairy made an investigation of the patrons of the Meriden creamery to ascertain the income they were realizing per cow for milk sold to the creamery. The poorest herd averaged per cow $7.54 annually and the best one $42.09, making a difference of $34.55 per cow. Taking the poorest five herds the average per cow is $9.44 and for the best five $33.74, a difference of $24.30, or 257 per cent. Where records have been kept it has been found that Prince, we can show an equal increase. These two wards poll about the same number of votes as the city of Moncton. In 1892 Moneton polled, as already stated, 1190 votes, while Wellington and Prince, at the same election, polled 1269. To break this journal's claim for Westmorland as the banner electoral district in the province, our esteemed contemporary, the St. John papers, take in the county outside, which is in local elections a distinct constituency. If it were summer, it is presumed these journals would have included Digby as a suburban district of St. John to balance matters.

We fail to see what similarity there is between the separation of Albert from Westmorland and the division of the city and county of St. John into two electoral districts. Nearly half a century ago Albert became a separate county, and severed all connexion with Westmorland, just as Restigouche, Gloucester The Moneton Transcript does well to and Kent had been previously cut out of praise the county of Westmorland, which the original county of Northumberland, in certainly a most progressive and pros- and Carleton, Victoria and Madawaska perous municipality. # The Largest Medical Practice in Canada.

For the past thirteen years Dr Sproule has been working up a practice in New England, which has now assumed such enormous proportions as to extend to every portion of the United States, from the Atlantic to the Pacific. How has Dr Sproule attracted such a large number of patients? By two means, first, his great natural ability; and, second, by honest dealing. The dactor never undertakes to treat a person without firs' through an elaborate system of correspondence, satisfying himself that he can cure the case. Dr Sproule never takes any man's money unless he can do him good, and then the cured patients are so enthusiastic about the doctor's matchless skill that, as soon as they are well, they recommend their friends to try his treatment, and so his enormous practice keeps steadily increasing.

One year ago Dr. Sproule determined to allow Canadians to avail themselves of his services, and, to show them what he could do, went to Toronto and established an office at 93 Carleton street. At first patients came slowly, but these got well so fast that they couldn't help telling their friends, and in three months Dr. Sprould's practice was the largest in Canada. As the doctor agreed, he remained six months in Toronto, and then went back to his headquarters at Boston, where, aided by a trained staff of assistants, he is now directing the largest medical practice in the world in Catarrh and Chronic Diseases.

If you are ailing, don't mind because you cannot visit the doctor personally; his system of treatment by correspondence places his unrivalled knowledge right at your service in your own home.

SENT TO PRISON.

ST. JOHN MAN WHO KILLED BLANCHE RYAN SENTENCED.

At the trial yesterday Dr. Harris testified to the condition in which he found Blanche Ryan's body when he viewed it at the morgue. The body was badly bruised, ribs and breast bone broken, mose twisted and right side cut and bruised half way around the body.

The principal witnesses for the government were Fannie Woods and Edward Cassidy of 115 Chambers street. The former testified that Blanche told her she fell out of bed, and she replied: "Don't tell me that." Then Blanche said, "Jimmy and me had a fight and he did it."

She asked her if she wanted a doctor and advanced the last hand in the provincial government to prevent the disgraceful scenes that attended the last hanging in this province.

At the evening session the president, J Rufus Starr, presided and delivered his annual address. The report of the secretary treasurer, Paul C Black, of Falmouth, was also read, as well as the auditor's report, showing nearly one thou-and dollars to the credit of the association. In the absence of B W Chipman, secretary of agriculture, Halifax, Professor F T Shott, chemist of the experimental farms, Ottawa, delivered a very interesting and practical address on "the results of some recent experiments in the preservation of manure," the result of which was illustrated by means of charts. The address showed the relative value of the component parts of both solid and liquid manure for plant food and the value of the nitrigen phosphorus and potash contained in harmard manure, which the nitrigen phosphorus and potash contained in barnyard manure, which was far more valuable than the commercial fertilizers. He also answered many questions relative thereto in a satisfac-tory manner, after which the association adjoorned. An evening session will be held in the Academy of Music.

He read the following paragraph from the advertisement, and asked if the gentlemen present desired to be heard with regard to it:-

"To impose a tax of $150 on every insurance company doing businesss in the city of St. John in lieu of assessing them on their net profits or capital stock." Maj Grant said the insurance men, or Maj Grant said the insurance men, or many of them, were opposed to a specific tax, our rather favored a tax on net revenue. The proposed $150 specific tax on businessalicense would impose a great hardenips on companies which did a small business in the city, and would be an unfairly small portion of the taxes which a company doing a large business should pays He had heard it stated as a reason for the license fee, that under the present system of taxing profits insurance companies some times paid no taxes at all. This was natural enough as the losses was natural enough as the losses and a specially interesting service at for each year exceeded the revenue, and Centenary church Sunday night, when

Mr Whittaker explained that insurance men when speaking of "let in-come" meant all business but transfers and cancellations. These were taxed as part of the business of the company to which they were transferred. The aldermen, he said, probably confounded "met income" with "net profits." The latter would be what remained for the latter would be what remained for the company after deducting its expenses of doing business. Mr Whiteaker was opposed to a specific lax for the same reason that Major Grant was. He thought all the companies would be willing to pay a tax on all their business, irrespective of losses, after cancellations and transfers had been taken out. He suggested that the taxes be tions and transfers had been taken out. He suggested that the taxes be levied at a regular rate of a sessment.

Mr Otty was of the opinion that business expenses, should be taken off the company's revenue before the tax was levied. He pointed out that on the St John city business companies were taxed twice, for in addition to the regular city tax each company had to pay a provincial tax of $100 a year and one per cent on net premiums.

Mortal Combat

Consumption during every hour of the night and day kills fourteen persons in the United States alone. It is a constant mortal combat between the forces of life and death. Increased vitality will throw off the deadly germs but debility fosters their multiplication and triumph. Shiloh's Consumption Cure has a double influence. It strengthens the system and at the same time kills the germs. In many cases serious affections of the lungs have been healed like ordinary wounds.

Mrs. Jean Hamilton, Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I was much prejudiced against so-called patent medicines until I realized in person the value of one which had cured a friend after suffering three years from distressing chills and colds. I took but four doses when my chills ceased. This experience made me believe Shiloh's Cure efficacious for coughs and colds, so I tried it and wish to recommend it to every one who needs a good cough medicine. For people living in the country, it will save lots of worry about croup, coughs and la grippe, for it will stop these very quickly."

If you have taken a cold and are suffering from throat trouble or a cough, send to your druggist for a bottle of Shiloh's Consumption Cure, take a hot foot-bath, with plenty of mustard in it; put plenty of blankets over you, and begin a faithful course of the cure. If you are not relieved by the time you have taken two-thirds of the bottle return it to the druggist and he will refund your money. 25c., 50c. and $1 a bottle throught the United States and Canada. Spittal Defends Himself Halipax, Feb 27—The M P A A A committee met today to go into the hockey trouble. E T Hammett having left the province the office of president of the association became vacant. Mail nomination and vote was taken and the result was made known today that J Norwood Dufius was elected to the position. Captain Douglas and Spittal did not leave with the Amherst team yesterday but stayed over to attend the meeting. The evidence of both regarding the allegation that Spittal played in St John under a false name was taken. It was said that Spittal had been registered at the hotel as "Siddele" when he went to St John to play, but the registering was done by an official of the club, not by himself. Spittal said in his evidence that he did not attempt to play under a false name when he went with Amherst and that he had played in good faith all through. This was about all the work done at today's meeting. St John has now to be heard from. HALIFAX, Feb 27-The M P A A A
