The REFUGEES

"Shall I give a reason for your request?"
"Oh, you madden me! Say what I have told you, and at once!"
But the young officer's dilemma was happily over. At that instant the double doors were swung open, and Louis appeared in the opening, strutting forward on his high heeled shoes, his stick tapping, his broad skirts flapping and his courtiers spreading out behind him. He stopped as he came out and turned to the captain of the guard.
"You have a note for me?"
"Yes, sire."
The monarch slipped it into the pocket of his scarlet undervest and was advancing once more when his eyes fell upon Mme. de Montepan standing very stiff and erect in the middle of the passage. A dark flush of anger shot to his brow and he walked swiftly past her without a word, but she turned and kept pace with him down the corridor.
"I had not expected this honor, madame," said he.
"I wished to hear my fate from your own lips," she whispered. "I can bear to be struck myself, sire, even by him who has my heart, but it is hard to hear that one's brother has been wounded through the mouths of valets and Huguenot soldiers for no fault of his save that his sister has loved too fondly."
"It is no time to speak of such things,"
"When can I see you, then, sire?"
"In your chamber at four."
"Then I shall trouble your majesty no further."
She swept him one of the graceful courtesies for which she was famous, and turned away down a side passage with triumph shining in her eyes.

CHAPTER IV.
LOUIS had walked on to his devotions in no very charitable frame of mind, as was easily to be seen from his clouded brow and compressed lips. He knew his late favorite well, her impulsiveness, her audacity, her lack of all restraint when thwarted or opposed. She was capable of making a public exposure which would leave him the butt and gossip of Europe. He shuddered at the thought. At costs such a catastrophe must be averted. And yet how could he cut the tie which bound them? This woman would struggle hard, fight to the bitter end, before she would quit the position which was so dear to her. She spoke of her wrongs. What were her wrongs?
In his intense selfishness, nurtured by the eternal factory which was the very air he breathed, he could not see that the fifteen years of her life which he had absorbed or the loss of the husband whom he had supplanted gave her claim upon him. In his view he had raised her to the highest position which a subject could occupy.

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or grippe with "Preventics" means sure defeat for pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but best of all—prevent the snow-storm of your head or head of these early colds. That's surely better. That's why they are called Preventics.

Preventics are Little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no alcohol, no medicine, no harm. See for the children—and thoroughly safe too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you catch all over, think of Preventics. Promptness may also save half your winter sicknesses. And don't forget your loved one! He is feverishness, night after night. Herds probably like Preventics, greatest efficiency. Sold in boxes for the pocket, also in the boxes of 48 Preventics. Insist on your drugstore giving you

Now he was weary of her, and it was her duty to retire with resignation, eyes with gratitude for past favors. She should have a pension, and the children should be cared for. What could a reasonable woman ask for more?
On the whole, his conscience acquitted him. But in this one matter he had been lax. From the first coming of his gentle and forgiving young wife from Spain he had never once permitted her to be without a rival. Now that she was dead the matter was no longer a secret. One favorite had succeeded another, and if De Montepan had held her own as long it was rather from her audacity than from his affection. But now Father la Chaise and Bossuet were ever reminding him that he had topped the summit of his life and was already upon that downward path which leads to the grave. The time had come for gravity and for calm, a truce of which he was not capable in the company of Mme. de Montepan. But he had found out where they were to be enjoyed. From the day when De Montepan had introduced the stately and silent widow as a governess for his children he had found a never failing and ever increasing pleasure in her society. For a time he had thought that her piety and her talk of principle might be a mere mask, for he was accustomed to hypocrisy all round him. It was surely unlikely that a woman who was still beautiful, with as bright an eye and as graceful a figure as any in his court, could after a life spent in the gay circles preserve the spirit of a nun. But on this point he was soon undeceived, for when his own language had become warmer than that of friendship he had been met by an iciness of manner and a brevity of speech which had shown him that there was one woman at least in his dominions who had a higher respect for herself than for him. And because it was because she was so perfect a creature, his respect for her grew. The pleasures of friendship were very soothing after the storms of passion. To sit in her room every afternoon, to listen to her talk, which was not devoid of wit and fancy, and to hear her speak of duty and of duty to her children, was a pleasure which was not to be despised. And now he knew that the time had come when he must choose between her and De Montepan. Their influence were antagonistic. They could not continue together. He stood between virtue and vice, and he must choose.

Such were the thoughts which ran through the king's head as he passed over the rich crimson cushion which topped his pillow of carved oak. He knelt in his own inclosure to the right of the altar, with his guards and his immediate household round him, while the court, ladies and cavaliers, filled the chapel. Piety was a fashion now, like dark overcoats and lace cravats and no courtier was so worldly minded as not to have had a touch of grace since the king had taken to religion. It was the habit of Louis as he walked back from the chapel to receive petitions or to listen to any tales of wrong which his subjects might bring to him. On this particular morning there were but two or three—a Parisian who conceived himself injured by the provost of his guild, a peasant whose cow had been torn by a huntsman's dog and a farmer who had had hard usage from his feudal lord. A few questions and then a hurried order to his secretary disposed of each case. He was about to resume his way again when an elderly man, clad in the garb of a respectable citizen and with a strong deep lined face which marked him as a man of character, darted forward and threw himself down upon one knee in front of the monarch.
"What is this?" asked Louis. "Who are you, and what is it that you want?"
"I am a citizen of Paris, and I have been cruelly wronged."
"You seem a very worthy person. If you have indeed been wronged you shall have redress. What have you to complain of?"
"Twenty of the Blue dragons of Langueadoc are quartered in my house, with Captain Dalbert at their head. They have devoured my food, stolen my property and beaten my servants, yet the magistrates will give me no redress."
"On my life, justice seems to be administered in a strange fashion in our city of Paris!" exclaimed the king.
"And yet there may be a very good reason for it," suggested Pere la Chaise. "I would suggest that your majesty should ask this man his name, his business and why it was that the dragons were quartered upon him."
"You hear the reverend father's question?"
"My name, sire, is Catinet, by trade I am a merchant in cloth, and I am treated in this fashion because I am of the Reformed church."
The king shook his head and his brow darkened. "You have only yourself to thank, then. The remedy is in your hands."
"And now, sire?"
"By embracing the only true faith."
"I am already a member of it, sire."

ALMOST GIVEN UP

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" SAVED HIS LIFE
Mr. Dingwall was Superintendent of St. Andrews Sunday School in Williams town for nine years and License Commissioner for Glengarry—and Tax Collector for Charlottenburg—for fourteen years continuously. Read how strongly Mr. Dingwall comes out in favor of "Fruit-a-tives."

"But he nobly atoned for his error," murmured the Jesuit.
"Then you will not help me, sire?"
"You must first help yourself."
The old Huguenot stood up with a gesture of despair, while the king continued on his way, the two ecclesiastics on either side of him murmuring their approval into his ears.
But the king bore the face of a man who was not absolutely satisfied with his own action.
"You do not think, then, that these people have too hard a measure?" said he. "I hear that they are leaving my kingdom in great numbers."
"And surely it is better so, sire, for what blessing can come upon a country which has such stubborn infidels within its boundaries?"
"Those who are traitors to God can scarce be loyal to the king," remarked

"I can see that you are a very insolent heretic," said he.
Bossuet. "Your majesty's power would be greater if there were no temple, as they call their dens of heresy, within your dominions."
"My grandfather has promised them protection. They are shielded, as you well know, by the edict which he gave at Nantes."
"But it lies with your majesty to undo the mischief that has been done."
"And how?"
"By recalling the edict."
"And driving into the open arms of my enemies 2,000,000 of my best artisans and of my bravest servants. How say you, Louvois?"
"The kingdom is mine and all that is in it," remarked Louis as they entered the grand salon in which the court assembled after chapel. "Yet I trust that it may be long before I have to claim wealth of the church. Where is Mansard? I must see his plans for the new wing at Marly."
"I think," said Pere la Chaise, drawing Bossuet aside, "that your grace has made some impression upon the king's mind."
"With your powerful assistance, father."
"But there is another who has more weight than I—Mme. de Maintenon."
"I hear that she is very devout."
"Very. But she has no love for my order. She is a Sulpician. Yet we may all speak to one end. Now, if you were to speak to her, your grace, show her how good a service it would be to bring about the banishment of the Huguenots."
"I shall do so."
"And offer her in return that we will promote"—He bent forward and whispered into the prelate's ear.
"What! He would not do it."
"And why? The queen is dead."
"She is of good birth. Her grandfather and his were dear friends. If she will serve the church, the church will serve her. But the king beckons, and I must go."
The thin dark figure hastened on through the throng of courtiers, and the great bishop of Meaux remained standing with his chin upon his breast, sunk in reflection.

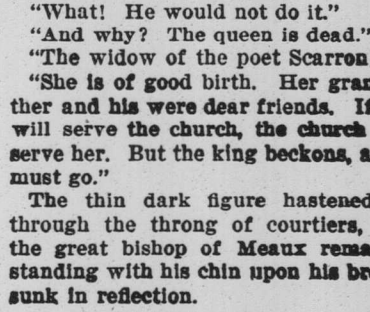

This woman says that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured her after everything else had failed.
Mrs. W. Barrett, 602 Moreau St., Montreal, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:
"For years I was a great sufferer from female weakness, and despite every remedy given me by doctors for this trouble, I grew worse instead of better. I was fast falling in health, and I was completely discouraged."
"One day a friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and am thankful to say that it cured the female weakness, making me strong and well."
"Every woman who suffers from female troubles should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."
FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.
For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, nervous prostration, and all the troubles of the female system. Why don't you try it?
Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

I have much pleasure in testifying to the almost marvellous benefit I have derived from taking "Fruit-a-tives." I was a life long sufferer from Chronic Constipation and the only medicine I ever secured to do me any real good was "Fruit-a-tives." This medicine cured me when everything else failed. Also, last spring, I had a severe attack of bladder trouble with kidney trouble, and "Fruit-a-tives" cured these complaints for me, when the physician attending me had practically given me up. I am now over eighty years of age and I can strongly recommend "Fruit-a-tives" for Chronic Constipation and bladder and kidney trouble. This medicine is mild like fruit, is easy to take, but most effective in action.

assured that even the worst of his subjects bear him such love that they would hasten to come within the pale of the holy church.
The king shook his head. "They have always been stubborn folk," said he.
"Perhaps," remarked Louvois, glancing maliciously at Bossuet, "were the bishops of France to make an offering to the state of the treasures of their sees we might then do without these Huguenot taxes."
"The kingdom is mine and all that is in it," remarked Louis as they entered the grand salon in which the court assembled after chapel. "Yet I trust that it may be long before I have to claim wealth of the church. Where is Mansard? I must see his plans for the new wing at Marly."

The thin dark figure hastened on through the throng of courtiers, and the great bishop of Meaux remained standing with his chin upon his breast, sunk in reflection.

CHAPTER V.
THE elderly Huguenot had stood silent after his repulse by the king, with his eyes cast modestly downward and a frown in which doubt, sorrow and anger contended for the mastery. He was a very large, gaunt man, rawboned and haggard, with a wide forehead, a large, fleshy nose and a powerful chin. He was dressed as became his rank, plainly and yet well, in a sad colored brown kersey coat with silver plated buttons, knee breeches of the same and white woolen stockings, ending in broad toed black leather shoes cut across with a great steel buckle.
His doubts as to what his next step should be soon resolved for him in a very summary fashion. These were days when, if the Huguenot was not absolutely forbidden in France, he was at least looked upon as a man who existed upon sufferance, and who was unsanctioned by the laws which protected his Catholic fellow subjects. For twenty years the stringency of the persecution had increased until there was no weapon which bigotry could employ, short of absolute expulsion, which had not been turned against him.
Two of the king's big blue coated guardsmen were on duty at that side of the palace and had been witnesses to his unsuccessful appeal. Now they were framed across together to where he was standing and broke brutally into the current of his thoughts.
"Now, Hymenbooks," said one gruffly, "get off again about your business."
The old Huguenot shot a glance of anger and contempt at them and was turning to go when one of them thrust at his ribs with the butt end of his halberd.
"Take that, you dog!" he cried. "Would you dare to look like that at the king's guard?"

END YOUR POOF TROUBLES WITH Amatite ROOFING A Roof that Really Protects

The more carefully you study the subject of Ready Roofings the more you will be convinced of the great superiority of AMATITE.

The average buyer sends to a few advertisers for samples, picks out one that looks tough, and sends in his order to the nearest dealer.

If the dealer doesn't keep the kind selected some other kind which he has is generally bought instead.

That is a good way to get a leaky roof.

The careful buyer is more particular. He knows that any roofing will last for a little while without attention, but he wants to postpone the time and cost of renewals as long as possible.

He is figuring next year's cost as well as this year's cost. He thinks of the money he will have to spend after a few years for a new roof if this one won't last any longer. If he can get a better roofing at equal cost that will last longer, he is so much the gainer.

That kind of calculation is called thrift. The thrifty buyer sees important differences between AMATITE and the other roofings.

The other roofings either require a coating with a special liquid every year or two, or periodical painting. Right there is a future expense to be counted by the thrifty buyer.

THE CARRITTE PATTERSON MFG. CO. LTD.
St. John, N. B.

His judgment swings toward AMATITE, because it needs no painting either at the time it is laid or afterward. Once it is on you have no further bother or expense.

Then again, AMATITE has wonderful durability.

First, because it has a mineral surface. Doesn't it seem reasonable to believe that a top covering of crushed stone will resist the wear of storms better than a roofing with a smooth or unprotected surface?

Second, it contains solid layers of Coal Tar Pitch—the material which is used by the best engineers for waterproofing deep cellars, tunnels, etc. Doesn't it seem reasonable to suppose that this offers better protection against water than materials which are never used for such severe service?

One more argument. Weight for weight, AMATITE is the lowest in price of any mineral surfaced Ready Roofing.

These, then, are some of the reasons why thrifty people buy AMATITE—It costs nothing to maintain; it has remarkable durability, and its first cost is very low.

Sample Free.

There are more arguments for AMATITE than these. Our Booklet tells them. Sent with Free Sample for a postal to nearest office.

There are thirty-one convicts in the Kingston penitentiary who are serving life sentences. Twenty-three years is the longest time any of them has served so far. One of the lifers is a man who is over ninety years of age. There are twelve women under the care of the warden, several of whom are under life sentences.

Mr. Hunter, a young Kingstonian, hurried out of a Division street residence, and met a young woman wearing an extra large Merry Widow hat. When just abreast of the young man the young lady gave her head a quick turn and inflicted a gash in the man's nose sufficiently deep to leave a scar. A doctor had to be called.

Have you noticed that people as a rule are not afraid of lightning, but they are very much afraid of thunder? This must make the elements grin; for lightning is actually a tremendous wheeze, and thunder is only a big noise. If an electric storm passed over the country noiselessly, few people would be alarmed, and this is proved by the fact that on hot, close summer evenings the vivid heat lightning startles no one.

A DIFFICULTY

One of the difficulties met with by many industrial companies today is that of securing apprentices. Rather, perhaps, the difficulty is not so much in securing apprentices as in retaining their services for a sufficient length of time to enable them to become of real service to their employers. It is true that many young people are seeking employment today, but it is also unfortunately true that in many cases they are unwilling to take with the employment the measure of hard work and the small wages which are a certainty in the case of almost every beginner. They lose sight, apparently, of the fact that for weeks, perhaps for months, they will be of comparatively little value to their employers. Despite this fact they expect good wages and rapid advancement, forgetting that these come only with experience and the display of interest in the work as opposed to mere interest in the amount in the wage envelope. Not long ago the head of one of New Brunswick's largest mercantile establishments spoke in strong terms of the unwillingness of the boy of today to master his work before expecting increase of pay or promotion in position. Here manufacturing concerns have found it a matter of difficulty to retain sufficient hands simply because the young people hired were unwilling to work for what they were worth in the work.

WILL GRANT AN INCREASED SUBSIDY

Mr. Hazen Explained That Matter Had Not Been Understood Properly.

WILL REMEDY THIS

The alleged reduction in the provincial subsidy promised to the New-England-Chatham-Bank service this year by the late government caused considerable commotion last week in the circles more nearly interested. A verbal promise of one thousand dollars for an adequate daily service to Red Bank was given by the late government but no record of this was found on the file beyond a payment of five hundred dollars found in the Suspense Account. In a letter to D. P. McLachlan, M. P. P., Saturday, Premier Hazen says: "I think the trouble about the subsidy occurred from the fact that all the accounts showed the amount of annual subsidy was $200; the extra amount paid last year did not show in any of the accounts before the government, and no application was made for anything more than the usual grant of $400. I think I am safe in saying that the matter will be arranged to your satisfaction."

This is taken to mean that if an adequate daily service is given the same subsidy as promised verbally by the late government.—Commercial.

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CATARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except as prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous membrane of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure, be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists. Price 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation. Minard's Liniment used by Physicians.

EVIDENCE OF FOUL MURDER

Body of Young Printer is Found With His Neck Broken

POCKETS TURNED

(From Monday's Graphic.)

LONDON, Ont., Monday.—J. H. Roberts, a young Montreal printer, was found in a field east of the city this morning. His feet were found entangled in a barbed wire fence and his neck broken. His pockets were turned inside out, and the police are inclined to suspect murder with robbery as the motive. A handkerchief was resting over the face, as though placed there by some one. Roberts came to the city from Palmerston last week looking for work at his trade. He was not a union man and was unable to get employment.

"Health Coffee" is really the closest Coffee Imitation ever yet produced. This clever Coffee substitute was recently produced by Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Not a grain of real Coffee is in either. STATE OF ANARCHY EXISTS IN PERSIA

Much Excitement and Some Violence Committed At Teheran.

FIRED ON NATIVES

ST. PETERSBURG, Tuesday.—The despatches from Teheran say that as soon as the news of the Shah's death became known the bazars and shops were closed and the streets were deserted. The palace guard, joined by many fanatics, fired on the inhabitants saying "Death to the Nationalists!"

Several persons were maltreated. A state of anarchy prevails at Teheran, which next to Teheran is the largest city in Persia. The governor is powerless as the troops deserted en masse. The cabinet has been reconstituted and the premiership of Mushir-e Vazir.

Twelve hundred will be drawn from permanent corps, there will be representatives of other city corps, while day.

EVERY MAN HIS OWN DOCTOR

The average man cannot afford to employ a physician for every slight ailment or injury that may occur in his family, nor can he afford to neglect them, as so slight an injury as the scratch of a pin has been known to cause the loss of a limb. Hence every man must from necessity be his own doctor for this class of ailments. Success often depends upon prompt treatment, which can only be had when suitable medicines are kept at hand. Chamberlain's Remedies have been in the market for many years and enjoy a good reputation.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints.

TWO MEN SHOT IN REVOLVER BATTLE

Detectives and Bandits have a Warm Time—Then Arrested.

ROBBED COAL CO.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Tuesday.—Two men shot, one fatally, three under arrest and two escaped, are the results of a desperate battle fought by detectives and a band of alleged bandits who were surrounded in a farm house at Belle Bridge, about twenty miles east of here yesterday.

Thomas, 23 years old, a member of the band, was shot four times by Detective Bright, and will die. Manning shot Bright twice, seriously but not fatally injuring him. The men under arrest are Joseph Patterson and his two sons, John and Wilmer. The two men who escaped are unknown.

All the men are alleged to be implicated in the robbery of the Monongahela Consolidated Coal & Coke Co. general store at Boston, a mining town, last Thursday night. It is also alleged that they were implicated in the hold-up and robbery of a street car several weeks ago when eleven passengers and the crew were robbed at the point of a revolver.

BETTER THAN THE KING

Manchester Must Not See Maud Allan Dance

LONDON, Monday.—A sensation has been caused by the action of the Manchester Watch committee, which has refused to allow Maud Allan to dance in Manchester. The people of Manchester are reported to be indignant at this, as Miss Allan danced before the King and Queen and many nobilities and dined with Mr. Asquith.

TOWN TOPICS

(From Tuesday's Graphic.)

The trout fishing at Tide Head is good at present and is improving daily.

PERSONAL

Rev. W. A. Thomas is attending Methodist District meeting at Newcastle.

HEAVY BLOW

A very heavy easterly wind blew yesterday and made it very rough on the river.

SALMON FISHING

The run of salmon down the bay is reported good. In the river some are being caught.

PERSONAL

E. G. Spencer, of Charlottetown, has been transferred from the Oxford branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia, to the Campbellton branch, where he will act as teller.

MAN INJURED

Jas. Devine was quite badly injured in Shivers' mill yesterday. He was caught in some of the running gear and crushed. The injured man was taken to the hospital.

PLENTY MACKEREL

The mackerel along the N. S. coast are reported to be more plentiful than for many years, and the fishermen are catching large quantities. These fish have not appeared in the Bay of Fundy to any extent yet.

A ROUGH DAY

Yesterday's easterly blow would make a heavy sea and it would likely put the finishing touch on the wrecked Lady Ellen. The Graphic endeavored to get particulars through, but this was not possible. Further particulars will not likely be received until Wednesday after the director's meeting.

WEDDING BELLS

An exceedingly pretty wedding and one of wide spread interest was that of Miss Stella Scott, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Maxwell Scott, of Riviere du Loup, and the Rev. Arthur J. Vibert. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ernest P. Roy, assisted by the Rev. Crompton Sowerbutts, on June 2nd, at 7 o'clock in the church of St. Michaels and All Angels, of which Mr. Vibert is rector. The church was beautifully decorated with cut flowers, and from an artistic floral arch was suspended a marriage bell, under which the young couple stood. Long before the hour arrived the church was filled with wedding guests, and outside friends of the bride and groom.

The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Reginald Vibert of Montreal, and Mr. Edwin Jarvis and Mr. J. R. Scott, brother of the bride, acted as ushers.

Promptly at 7 o'clock the soft strains of the wedding march sounded through the church and the bridal party entered the church. First came the matron of honor, Mrs. E. Smith, of St. John, aunt of the bride, looking very distinguished in a handsome princess robe of pale blue mirror-silk and cream lace, with touches of pink and wearing a large picture hat of lace and pink roses. Then came the lovely young bride, leaning on the arm of her father. She was attired in a beautiful bridal costume of princess and filet lace over white chiffon and tulle, with a crown of orange blossoms. She carried a white and gold prayer book. The ceremony in the church was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Maxwell Scott, and subsequently the happy young couple, amid showers of confetti and with best wishes of their many friends left by the Maritime Express for an extended tour through Canada and the United States.

The bride travelled in a handsome tailor made suit of blue braided broadcloth with hat to match. That the young bride and groom are most popular was unmistakably evidenced by the large number of wedding gifts, which are extremely handsome, many of them sterling silver, cut glass, pictures and rare bric-a-brac, piano and library mission furniture. A host of friends join in wishing the popular young couple a great deal of future happiness, prosperity and usefulness in their new life, upon which they have entered.

RUNNING AT LARGE

The residents in the vicinity of Tide Head are very much annoyed with cattle which are allowed to run loose about the highway.

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE

The commencement exercises at St. Joseph's College will take place on Friday, June 19. The English valedictory will be delivered by Mr. W. R. O'Regan, the French valedictory by Mr. Francois Bourgeois.

On the previous evening, June 18th, the annual bi-lingual debate will take place. The subject for discussion in English is "That capital punishment should be abolished." Messrs. Francois Bourgeois, Cozanne, N. B., 1898, and Alphonse Gaudet, Upper Aboussaguan, N. B., 1898, have the affirmative, and Messrs. Lefrançois, J. Lefrançois, Dorchester, 1899, and Wm. D. Ryan, St. John, 1899, the negative. The French subject is "French Canada owes more to St. Louis D. Lafontaine than to Louis J. Papineau." The rival debaters will be the same as in the English debate.

SAW A MOOSE

J. E. Wilson, M. P. P. of St. John was in Dalhousie this week. He is furnishing the metal roofing for the new saw and roasting mill which is being erected by the Dalhousie Lumber Co., Ltd. Mr. Wilson now believes the statement, made by the members of Restigouche during the session that their county was a great one for game and that the game should be protected. It was a great treat for Mr. Wilson to see for the first time a live moose from the windows of the car on the Dalhousie branch railway. Your correspondent also saw a large one near the railway track on Sunday morning. A cow moose was found caught in a wire fence below Dalhousie Junction, yesterday, and several moose have been seen by others in this vicinity. There is not a single game warden on duty in this county.

STOLE SAILORS

Six sailors disappeared from the Norlanque Mississippi and Edward Percy Sunday night, and diligent inquiry resulted in the discovery that Dan Olsen and his son had taken them out to Napan about 8.30 Monday and hired them to work for the day on the board of the vessel. Chief

Lawson and the masters of the barques, armed with a search warrant, visited Mr. Geo. Searle's farm, Napan, on Wednesday morning and, after searching the outbuildings, knocked at the door and stated their errand. Mr. Searle showed them up to the garret, and the captain picked out their men, handcuffed them and brought them back. Dan Olsen was arrested, charged with having aided the men to desert and was on Friday sentenced to three months in jail for the offence. His son is keeping out of the way. No complaint was laid against Mr. Searle for harboring the runaway sailors, but the farmers will have to be careful about sheltering such deserters. He ought as a measure of precaution, to send information to the police when they employ men who are apparently runaway sailors.—World.

A CONTEST OF MUCH INTEREST. Curator William McIntosh, of the Natural History Society, St. John, superintended the School Children's Competition, at the Exhibition, in that city, this fall between September 12 and 19. The prizes have been decided upon, and all particulars of this interesting part of the show are contained in a small leaflet, which may be had for the asking.

Five dollars as a first, and three dollars as a second prize, are offered to the schools in each county sending in the best collection of plants, ground growing in the fields or woods of the province, which will include grasses, wild fruits in blossom, medicinal plants and weeds.

Then ten and five dollars are the two prizes open to the schools of the province for the two other best collections of minerals and insects. The teachers who aim to get their pupils interested in these contests, should send for the information leaflet as soon as possible. They can be obtained from R. H. Arnold, Manager of the Exhibition.

HAS RECOVERED

Pierre Connell has so far recovered from the scald he received in the wreck of the mail special as to be discharged from the hospital.

IMPROVING GROUND

Mr. O. Smith has had the grounds of Christ Church and rectory neatly graded, and lawn grass sown. This adds much to the appearance of this neat property.

PERSONAL

Miss McEaster is visiting friends in Newcastle.

WILL ATTEND CHURCH

The L. O. L. No. 61 with band will attend divine service next Sunday evening, (June 14.) A full attendance of members is requested.

A GOOD ARTICLE

Published in the River Ale Works is a good line of soft drinks and the proprietor reports increasing trade every season. No need to import light beer when your own town has a good bottling establishment.

NOTHING IN IT

Advice from Edmonston do not seem to bear out the report which reached here a few days ago that eight steam drivers belonging to St. John had been drowned in Big Rapids a few days ago by the swamping of a bateau.—Herald.

MUCH FREIGHT

Freight for the Gaspé coast points is arriving at a rapid rate. The railways have been notified not to accept any further freight via the Interprovincial Navigation Co. until further orders. About fifty cars of freight are at present in the shed or on the wharf.

YOUNG MAN

We would like to get in touch with a young man of fair education to do reporting for the Graphic. A young man who is employed all day could do this work during the evening. Any young man interested might call at the Graphic office any evening after eight o'clock.

BIG CONTRACT

Mr. Harry Gibson of Marysville, has been awarded the contract for supplying all the ties that will be required on the Transcontinental railway between Plaster Rock and Gibson. He also has a contract of clearing a portion of the right of way between the two points.

Yesterday Dr. Lunan reported to the local Board of Health that a young lady patient was suffering from smallpox. The inmates of the house were ordered to stay in and the house was quarantined.

The young lady will be removed to the isolation hospital just as soon as a nurse can be procured. There is only one case now in the hospital, and it is expected this one will be discharged today.

(From Wednesday's Graphic.)

Several young ladies names as competitors for the Graphic's trip to Quebec have been suggested, but so far no one has been willing to accept the trip to be placed before our readers. To these we would say that in the Montreal Herald, of the 2nd inst., was a very best young ladies in Montreal and other cities and towns were in the contest, and some of them are now enjoying the trip. There is nothing to be afraid of, and surely a week's vacation at Quebec with expenses paid is worth striving for. The expenses of the successful candidates will be paid. A grant of $250 will be made to each, which ought to cover the cost of such an outing.

Read the rules of the contest and send in your names at once.

One of the best plays ever presented by a travelling stock company is "A Daughter of the People," which the Jere McAuliffe Stock Company will present at the Opera House on Monday night of next week. The company number twenty-five people and an innovation introduces eight high class feature vaudeville acts. Each play will receive a scenic production. An exchange from Halifax says: "Jere McAuliffe gave the 20th performance of his present engagement at the Academy of Music last evening, with no signs of diminution in the audience, and the crowds just as enthusiastic as ever. Criss Cross, the Detective, another new play, was presented, and the popular comedian had many lines which tickled the risibilities of the audience. His parodies were also as popular as ever."

WASHINGTON, June 5.—As a means of checking tuberculosis in the principal cities of Brazil, the sanitary authorities of that country have instituted a campaign involving the expenditure of $1,250,000. According to a report from Consul General George E. Anderson, who is stationed in Brazil, the authorities of the republic are preparing a campaign especially in Rio Janeiro as drastic as that against yellow fever.

The Brazilian project includes as its material features:

The compulsory report of every case of tuberculosis to the sanitary authorities, the complete assumption of charge of all cases of tuberculosis by public authorities; infectious cases being separated from the public and the patient supported by the public; the establishment of hospitals, with complete isolation, for tuberculosis-infected individuals, and of hotels and boarding houses, agricultural colonies, sanitariums for those not invalid; the absolute refusal of admission into Brazil of any person or animal having tuberculosis; the inspection of all foreign materials likely to carry bacilli of the disease, with power to destroy anything infected, and the betterment of food, housing and other conditions of life of the large mass of the people in which tuberculosis is raging, for the prevention of the disease by fortifying the people against it by improving their general health.

Mr. James Carruthers, the "wheat king" of Montreal, predicts a crop of 125,000,000 bushels in the Canadian West this year. May the prophecy come true.

Alfred Dreyfus must be guarded by a special providence. A man who could find his way back from Devil's Island could not rightly be the victim of an assassin's bullet.

WISDOM FOR WOMEN

SHORTBREAD—Seven ounces of flour, one ounce rice flour, one-quarter pound of butter, one-quarter pound sugar, one-half teaspoonful of baking powder, salt to taste, and milk as needed. Mix the flour and sugar together, then gradually add the butter, kneading well, and beating with your hands in both hands. Cut into two or three pieces, and make each piece round as you desire, and about one-half inch thick; place the pieces on a sugar on top, and place some caraway or slices of cardamom on top, and bake in a slow oven till a nice brown color. The time depends on the thickness of the cakes—from a quarter to half an hour.

SCONES—One pound of flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-half teaspoonful of carbonate of soda, butter-milk. Put all the dry ingredients into a basin, and mix; make into a soft paste with buttermilk, sprinkle plenty of flour on the board and turn the paste out on it. Roll less than one-half inch thick and cut with round cutter; place on griddle, and bake for five minutes.

SULTANA CARAMELS—Melt three tablespoonfuls of butter, add three tablespoonfuls of molasses, one-third of a cupful of milk, and one and one-half cupfuls of sugar. Heat to the boiling point, and boil eight minutes, stirring occasionally to prevent burning. Add one and one-half squares of unsweetened chocolate, and stir until the chocolate is melted. Extinguish the flame, add one-third of a cupful of walnuts broken in pieces, one and one-half tablespoonfuls of Sultana raisins, and one-half teaspoonful of vanilla. Beat until the mixture is creamy, pour into a buttered pan, cool, and mark in squares.

VISITING CARDS

Three inches and a half by two inches and a half is supposed to be the proper size for a lady's visiting card (says Etiquette Up-to-date), and three inches by one inch and a half for a gentleman's.

There have been some slight variations in size, however, in ladies' cards of late, and their tendency to become smaller and smaller. Small cards are more convenient to carry, but the old-fashioned size looks the best style.

Some people assert that the first visiting cards originated from playing cards in the days when ladies used to stake enormous sums on "Pope Joan."

At the end of an exciting evening, some of the players would clamor for another meeting at which they could have their revenge, and one of the ladies would scrawl her name and address on one of the cards they had been playing with, adding the day and hour of the renewal of hostilities.

Cards would seem to be returning to their original use, for after years of general seclusion they find themselves written over in all kinds of ways, and unceremoniously sent by post.

The Inland Revenue Department reports that the tincture of iodine on sale in Canada is A1. That is good news to the folks who have sore throats.

Dr. Foster objects to the work at the Dominion Observatory, because it is more scientific than practical. If he carried out his theory to its legitimate conclusion he would abolish the teaching of Euclid and Algebra in the schools.

And so penny postage has come at last between Great Britain and the United States. John Bull has evidently found that as it pays to have cheap postage with one of his daughters, it must be equally good to reduce the rate on his letters to his cousin.

Dust is a danger your home shouldn't endure

The floor that is coated with the glass-like, germ-proof, seamless finish Floorglaze gives will exude practically no dust. That ought to mean much in your home.

Floorglaze

Nearly every malignant disease finds dust its best messenger. And this floor-finish, in any of its ten eye-pleasing shades, deprives dust of its chief stronghold—the floor.

Floorglaze costs little—a gallon covers 500 square feet. Anyone can apply it right. It just CAN'T wear off—tho' it does dry hard in a single night.

Floorglaze is so durable, and stands hard wear so well, that it serves perfectly for floors exposed to the weather—balconies, summer houses, verandas, etc.

Most dealers sell Floorglaze. If yours doesn't happen to, tell us his name and receive a Free Book you'll like to read.

Coil-Spring Wire

Imported direct from England is used for the laterals of "Maritime" Wire Fence. This wire, while it stretches up stiff and taut, is yet remarkably springy—makes a fence so elastic that it instantly springs back into its original erect position after undergoing pressure severe enough to stretch an ordinary fence permanently out of shape. Test the galvanizing of the English Wire with your knife and you'll find it heavier, smoother, better. Fact is, this English Wire makes Maritime Wire Fence fully 25 to 100 per cent. more lasting than ordinary fencing—a 25 to 100 per cent. better investment.
