THE WINNER.

Fielding, the Liberal leader, who all before him in the Nova Scotia al elections yesterday, is compara- young man, but is an able debater popular. He has led the Government sively since 1884. Mr. Fielding was in Halifax in 1848, his parents being es of the Province. He entered the of the Halifax Chronicle when 16, and few years became editor-in-chief. In he was elected to the Provincial As- bly, and became leader of the Govern- t two years afterwards. Mr. Fielding's inistration has been able and economi- , though it has been denounced as rongly by his Tory opponents as has been ie Government of Hon. Oliver Mowat. It s a way our Tory friends have when they are in the cold shades.

LATEST CAMPAIGN ECHOES.

The Liberals of Carleton county, hitherto ory stronghold, have almost definitely led to put a man in the field in this on. Mr. Alex. Lindsay, a well-known ant of Manotick, spoken of by many g Liberals.

r. Alexander Farlinger, of Morris- , one of the most prominent and influ- Conservatives in Dundas county, is pporting Mr. Graham, recogniz- ter hypocrisy of the cries raised edith's supporters against the Government.

weeks ago Mr. Clancy, Tory can- e in West Kent, assured a Wal- rg Liberal there was no danger of being defeated, and asked the Lib- vote for him on local grounds. We not noticed Mr. Clancy's opinion d in the Empire.—[Chatham Banner.

The following is a specimen of the tactics worked by wily Tory emissaries in many western constituencies:

Mr. Clancy, Tory candidate for West Kent, visited Pain Court one evening last week and had a talk with a dozen of his friends. He counseled them to keep as quiet as possible on the French in schools and separate school business, but to whoop it up to Mowat on the grain tester—to hold Mowat and the Grits responsible for it. He must have a poor opinion of the intelligence of the people to attempt such a silly piece of deceit. The tester is one of Sir John's pet schemes, as everybody knows.

The Huron Signal, edited by Mr. D. McGillicuddy, one of the best Liberal campaigners in Western Ontario, has this reference to Mr. J. T. Garrow, Liberal candidate for West Huron: J. T. Garrow is a man of the people. Reared from earliest infancy to years of maturity on a farm in one of Huron's best known townships, he is thoroughly familiar with all the ups and downs of pioneer life and settlement in the old Huron tract. Being of a studious disposition, he early in life varied the routine of farm work with a quest for that knowledge which is found in books, and, under circumstances which should be an incentive to every farmer's boy, acquired a foundation of useful information which has proved solid and enduring for the building up of the reputation for ability and probity that he now enjoys. When about 18 years of age he became a resident of the town of Goderich, where he has lived for the past 29 years. Step by step he climbed the ladder, and although at times obstacles lay in his track and discouragements were his portion, with bold heart, strong will and clear brain he pressed ever onward, until to-day he occupies a position in his profession second to none, not only in Huron, but in Western Ontario.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 22.—The Chilian members of the Pan-American Conference have put on record in the archives of the commission their formal opinion adverse to the compulsory arbitration treaty which was proposed and adopted by the conference and signed by several of the delegates, if not by all.

Shot by the Injured Husband.

JESUP, Ga., May 22.—A tragedy occurred here at midnight, resulting in the death of Mrs. B. P. Littlefield and County Surveyor McCall at the hands of the woman's husband. McCall came to Jesup from Brunswick about 10 p.m. and stopped at the Littlefield House. He retired to his room an hour later, but came out, went downstairs in his night clothes and asked for Littlefield, whom he could not find. He then went to Mrs. Littlefield's door and knocked. She admitted him. Littlefield was in the front porch watching the pair and rushed through the window into the room and shot his wife just over the eye, killing her instantly. He then shot McCall four times. McCall died.

The Plot Against Ferdinand.

SOFIA, May 22.—At the trial of the persons charged with conspiracy against the Government, Major Panitza denied that Russia was implicated in the plot. He asserted that Kissoff, formerly commandant of Sofia, originated the conspiracy and induced the witness to watch the movements of Prince Ferdinand with the view of seizing him. After the conspirators gained possession of Ferdinand they were to strive to bring about the election of a new Prince.

Only the Beginning.

BERLIN, May 22.—Before the Budget Committee of the Reichstag yesterday the Minister of War, Gen. Duvernais, declared that having once overtaken her neighbors Germany must henceforth lead instead of following the defensive development of other powers. He wished it perfectly understood that the present demand for money for the army was only an instalment. Complete detailed plans would be later. If, however, it were possible to effect a general disarming the Government would welcome it.

The paper says the Cardinal has written to the President of the Brussels Conference, urging the claims of his mission in Uganda to exclusive recognition on the gronnd that Uganda is outside of British influence. The Post also says the Cardinal has made an anti-British compact with Portugal, and the Portuguese Government is reported to have paid him £20,000 down, with a subsidy of £800 annually, to establish a mission at Mpondo, at the south end of Lake Nyassa.

THE ENGINEER WAS KILLED.

ALTOONA, Pa., May 21.—A freight wreck at Elizabeth Furnace, three miles east of here, last night resulted in the demolishment of seventeen cars, an engine and many head of cattle. Engineer William Boyd, of Harrisburg, was instantly killed. Brakemen Hauser and Olemine and Fireman Baker, all of Harrisburg, had narrow escapes from death, but sustained serious although not necessarily fatal injuries. The accident was caused by the east-bound train crashing into the west-bound freight as the latter was crossing the switch from one track to another.

A Fortune-Teller on Trial.

TORONTO, May 22.—Maggie Milford was tried here yesterday at the general sessions on a charge of fortune-telling, brought under an act of George II., which says, after explaining witchcraft, etc.: Every person so offending being thereon lawfully convicted in that part of England and Scotland shall for every such offense suffer imprisonment by the space of one whole year without fail or mainprise, and to stand in the pillory. The woman was found guilty by the jury, but it is contended that punishment by the pillory was abolished in the reign of William IV. She was admitted to bail pending argument of counsel in the case.

THE M'KINLEY BILL

Passed by the U. S. House of Representatives.

Close Voting on the Amendments—Scenes of Excitement — Trouble Ahead—The Bill Now Goes to the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—In the House yesterday Mr. Baker, of New York, offered an amendment to the Tariff Bill providing that all articles on importation into the United States, whether embraced in the free list or otherwise, shall be subject to and pay no less rate of duty than is or may be imposed by the country of export on like articles exported into the United States. The Tariff Bill was reported to the House at noon by the Committee of the Whole. The previous question on the engrossment and third reading of the Tariff Bill and amendments was ordered by a vote of 161 yeas to 143 nays. Coleman, of Louisiana, and Featherstone, of Arkansas, were the only Republicans voting in the negative. Adams, of Illinois, and Butterworth refrained from voting.

Tha House then considered the amendments agreed to in Committee of the Whole. The first amendment upon which a separate vote was demanded was that of changing the phraseology of the tin plate clause and it was adopted by 150 yeas to 149 nays. A committee amendment, to restore jute yarns from 30 per cent. (as in the bill) to 35 per cent. (the present), was rejected by 144 nays to 143 yeas. The effect is to reduce the duty 5 per cent. by taking advantage of a point in the bill, and is the first Democratic victory so far.

The Tariff Bill was passed in the House by a strict party vote, with the exception of Mr. Coleman, of Louisiana, who voted with the Democrats in the negative. Mr. Butterworth voted aye.

SCENES OF EXCITEMENT.

It is very rare that such scenes of excitement and disorder are presented in any preliminary body as were presented on the floor of the House all morning. Hundreds of pending amendments failed for want of consideration, when at noon Chairman McKinley demanded the previous question on the Tariff Bill, and the final question was presented. For full fifteen minutes nearly every member stood upon his feet and yelled promiscuously all sorts of propositions and denunciations, without regard to the will of the Speaker and without any attention to the gavel. It was a scene that would have put Bedlam to blush. Both sides were equally responsible. It was only when McKinley called for the yeas and nays and the roll call began that one could even collect his thoughts. The roll call soon developed that every man stood solidly with his party, and that the inevitable will of the Committee on Ways and Means could by no hook or crook be defeated or longer delayed; the amendments acted upon were doomed to fail, to be lopped off, as the horticulturist would prune a tree, and the bill passed as it stood.

MUSIC AHEAD.

BUFFALO, May 22.—A Washington dispatch says: "There is going to be a lively time yet over the tariff. For many years a jealousy has existed between the Senate and House. The former is unwilling for the latter to have the credit of formulating a tariff bill, and intends to substitute the McKinley bill with either an entirely new measure, but in general terms resembling the House measure, or the bill prepared by the Senate during the campaign of 1888, amending it somewhat. The Conference Committee will, under the circumstances, have much to do with formulating the bill which will become a law. The Senate, it is believed, will leave about half or two-thirds of the present duty on sugar. Very few Republicans in the Senate are reported to be in favor of a complete abolition of the sugar duty; first, because they do not believe the revenue will warrant such a reduction, and, secondly, because they think the beet sugar industry should be encouraged by a duty instead of a bounty. The bounty is not popular in the Senate."

Drowning Accident at Port Colborne.

PORT COLBORNE, Ont., May 22.—Mrs. Mahaffey, a widow of this place, employed as cook on the steam barge Isaac May, while coming off the boat about 9 o'clock last night, fell between the boat and the wall of the dock, striking her head and fracturing her skull. Alleged Scheme to Capture Lower California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 22.—The Chronicle devotes four columns to an alleged conspiracy to capture Lower California, and to found an independent republic, to be followed by annexation to the United States. Capitalists interested in Lower California lands and mines and well known citizens of Los Angeles were involved. It is claimed the Mexican Land and Colonization Company, composed of wealthy Englishmen owning land on the peninsula, was to furnish $100,000 to aid the filibusters.

A. K. Coney, the Mexican Consul-General here says: "There is no fear of the filibusters attaining their efforts either by peaceful or warlike means. The cordial feelings existing between the United States and Mexico promoted largely through the efforts and by the wisdom of President Diuz will in no way be interfered with through the efforts of half a dozen adventurers whose sole object is to make money while their dupes suffer."

DOWN BY THE SEA!

A Liberal Tidal Wave Sweeps Nova Scotia.

Complete Route of the Conservatives —The Reformers Carry 28 Out of 38 Seats.

Halifax Wild With Excitement—"The Grits Are on the Run."

HALIFAX, May 21.—The Liberals of Nova Scotia to-day achieved one of the grandest victories in its history. Out of a House of 38 seats the Liberals have carried at least 28. The metropolitan constituency of Halifax city and county has returned Premier Fielding, Hon. Speaker Power and Wm. Roche by about 800 majority. Mr. Fielding will have about 1,000 majority. The defeated Tory candidates in Halifax are: H. McD. Henry (son of the late Judge Henry), Patrick O'Mullin and J. J. Stewart, editor of the Halifax Herald.

Yarmouth gives Gayton and Law, Liberals, an immense majority, they beating their opponents nearly 2 to 1.

Antagonish gives Hon. Mr. McGillivray and Mr. McIsaac, Liberals, 500 majority.

Annapolis surprised everybody by giving the largest Liberal majority in its history, returning Attorney-General Longley and his colleague, Mr. Chute.

Cape Breton was redeemed by the Liberals, carrying the county for McPherson and McDonald by 600, defeating the leader of the Opposition, Dr. McKay.

Cumberland returns two Tories.

Digby, in which there were four Liberals and two Tories running, elected the two Government candidates by 500 majority.

Guysboro', which is one of the safest counties for the Liberals in the Province in a straight fight, went to the Tories by a small majority through the Liberals having three candidates in the field and making a three-cornered fight.

Hants returns one Tory, and probably a second by a small majority.

Inverness returns Hon. D. McNeil, a member of the Government, and McKinnon, his colleague, by a large majority.

King's give one of each party.

In Lunenburg the Commissioner of Works and Mines and S. Perry, his colleague, carried the county.

Pictou, that old Tory stronghold, returns McGregor, Liberal, at the head of the poll, and two Tories are probably elected there.

Queen's gives two Liberals and Richmond two.

In Shelburne Hon. Thomas Johnson, member of the Government, and MacCoy are elected defeating C. H. Cahan, editor of the Halifax Mail.

Victoria gives one Liberal and one Conservative.

HALIFAX WILD WITH EXCITEMENT.

The city is wild with excitement to-night, as every ward gave the Liberals a majority. The Tories are so completely crestfallen that they excite the pity of even their opponents. Among the speakers from the balcony of the old Provincial building, where Hon. Joseph Howe was wont to speak to an immense concourse of people, was Hon. Mr. Jones, who met with a most enthusiastic reception.

He successfully removed a couple of long cedars from the mow, when the whole frame gave way and fell on him. A couple of other men were around and came to the unfortunate man's assistance, but not in sufficient time to save his life.

LITTLE HELEN KELLER,

Though Blind and Deaf, Learning to Use the Spoken Language.

BOSTON, May 21.—About two weeks ago an account was published of a remarkable child, Helen Keller, who came from Alabama and was placed in the South Boston Blind Asylum. She was blind, deaf and dumb, presenting the same obstacles to teaching that Laura Bridgeman did. This child showed a remarkable desire to learn, and in the first year she had gained a vocabulary of 1,800 words. Two years before that she knew absolutely nothing of language. Her efforts to learn showed that she had within her a tremendous intellectual force, that must either find an outlet or make a wreck of the child. The child was well formed, physically pretty and pleasing in her manners to an unusual degree, and she aroused an unusual interest among philanthropists. At the end of her second year in school her vocabulary had increased to 3,000 words. Now comes a still more remarkable development. About four weeks ago the child was placed in the care of Miss Fuller, of the Horace Mann School, and since then she has acquired the power to express herself in spoken words which are perfectly intelligible to everyone. The wonderful progress made by the child within two years after she had first been placed in the South Boston Asylum is illustrated by her ability to write. After the words became familiar to her she began to use them in her writing, as shown in this little composition which she wrote during her visit to Boston:

"This morning teacher and I sat by the window and we saw a little boy walking on the sidewalk. It was raining very hard and he had a very large umbrella to keep off the rain drops. I do not know how old he was, but think he may have been 6 years old. Perhaps his name was Joe. I do not know where he was going, because he was a strange little boy. But perhaps his mother sent him to a store to buy something for dinner. He had a bag in one hand. I suppose he was going to take it to his mother."

TIRED OF LIFE.

Sensational Suicide of a Young Woman on a Vestibule Train.

HAMILTON, O., May 22.—Near Monon, Ind., Tuesday night a young woman passenger of the vestibule train, which left Chicago last evening, tied one end of a rope around her neck and the other to the railing of the car and jumped off. As soon as the act was discovered the train was stopped, an engine sent back and the remains found in a pool of water. No one knew her. A ticket to Cincinnati was on her person. She was seen to drink from a whisky bottle on the car and was heard to say that she had no friends in Cincinnati.

MR. STOKES, the ex-missionary, has arrived at the East African coast with probably the largest caravan that ever came from Central Africa. He has 2,000 porters in his train, and he brought them all the way from Uganda, which had been closed to trade for many months. Stokes was sent to Africa by the Church Missionary Society, but he had a keen eye for business opportunities, and it was not very long before he changed his vocation. It was he who supplied Mwanga with the munitions of war that enabled him to regain his throne. As the friend of the King and the pioneer white trader on Victoria Nyanza, Stokes has struck it rich, and the results of his present journey to the coast will doubtless yield him a small fortune.

HON. A. S. HARDY IN SCOTLAND VILLAGE.

SCOTLAND, May 19.—A heavy, leaden sky and drizzling rain were the atmospheric conditions in this village this evening, but a darker sky and a heavier rain would not have kept the electors of Oakland and Burford at their homes when it was made known that the Hon. A. S. Hardy was to be at Foster's Hall to give an account of his stewardship. This the Minister did in a very clear and comprehensive manner, giving a careful review of the record of the Mowat Administration. Mr. C. Heyd, ex-mayor of Brantford, was present and spoke for an hour upon the principal topics of the day. He referred to the success of Mr. Mowat's municipal loan fund scheme and to his masterly treatment of the several constitutional questions. He told of the workings of the Crown Lands Department and clearly explained the relation of the Educational Department to the public school system of this country, and he deemed it a pleasure to congratulate the Mowat Government on the efficient and clean administration of the finances of the country. The chair was occupied by Mr. Jas. Malcolm, of Northfield Center. Mr. C. Daniels, of the Expositor, represented the press.

CONSERVATIVE MEETING AT GUELPH.

GUELPH, May 21.—The Conservatives held a public meeting in the City Hall last night. Col. Macdonald spoke for an hour on the Meredith platform, but failed to create enthusiasm. However, when he made reference to Mr. Lottridge turning Reformer for his own interests he was heartily applauded by Mr. T. Goldie, Wm. Bell and Chas. Raymond, who were on the platform. Mr. H. E. Clarke, ex-M.P.P., Toronto, spoke for over an hour and a half, his chief theme being the separate school question. He handled it in such a manner that one of the most pronounced Tories in the city characterized his utterances as "insulting and scandalous to the Roman Catholic body."

Dr. Nunan rose and contradicted his statements to the effect that the laity of the Roman Catholic Church and the clergy were divided on the question of ballots for separate school elections, and denied also that the Roman Catholics were under the dictation of their priests as to how they should vote, and finally asked the question of the speaker why Roman Catholics should be singled out of all other denominations for ridicule and insult. After Mr. Clarke had disposed of the school question, he approached the finances of the Province. This was too much for the forbearance of a large portion of the audience, the time now being 11:30, and they left the hall with rousing cheers for Mr. Guthrie and Mr. Mowat. The meeting was brought to a close immediately afterwards. One thing was noticeable, viz., that no resolution in favor of the Colonel or the party which he upholds was put to the meeting.

WEST LAMBTON TORIES.

PETROLEA, May 21.—The West Lambton Conservative Convention was not held today owing to the secretary not having issued the notice, and it will now meet at Sarnia on Tuesday, 27th.

THE EASTERN CAMPAIGN.

CORNWALL, May 21.—The Government candidates are meeting with surprising success in the East. Mr. Evanturel is unopposed in Prescott. He has been addressing the people in the West for some two weeks, and is now in Stormont, Dundas and Russell till nomination. Mr. Robillard will likely be also elected by acclamation. Mr. Mack had enthusiastic meetings all over Stormont. He spoke with Mr. Evanturel in Chrysler, Moose Creek and Cornwall. His majority over that of Mr. Leitch will probably be double that of last election. Mr. Graham is making it very hot for Mr. Whitney in Dundas. Mr. Bronson will carry Ottawa by an overwhelming vote. Mr. Monk is opposed to Castleton by his own friends. The same with Mr. French in Grenville. Mr. Caldwell is likely, also to have a walk-over in Lanark. The Meredith platform is deserted by the wise Protestants of Eastern Ontario.

A FARMER CANDIDATE FOR DUFFERIN.

SHELBURNE, May 21.—A large and enthusiastic meeting of the farmers of Dufferin was held here to-day for the purpose of selecting a practical farmer to contest the riding in the interest of agriculture at the approaching Ontario elections, and it was unanimously resolved that Mr. R. McGhee, ex-M.P.P., of Horning's Mill, be the candidate in the interest above described.

CENTER BRUCE.

PAISLEY, May 21.—The Liberals of Center Bruce never entered on a fight with greater energy, spirit and enthusiasm than on the present campaign. They are united, and with effective work Mr. Dack's return will be sure and his majority will be splendid. An effort was made to divide the party by introducing equal rights into the contest, but Mr. Shaw's nomination settled that effectively. The course pursued by the Tories here is to circulate false stories regarding the numbers of Reformers who are going to vote for Mr. Shaw. It is in this way that they keep up the courage of the party. In a report sent from here, and which appeared in the Empire on Monday, the names of certain Reformers are given who are alleged to be going to vote for the Equal Rights platform. Among them are those of Archibald Fasher and John Coulter. Both of these gentlemen are avowed supporters of Mr. Dack, and they are indignant that they should be misrepresented to bolster up a hopeless cause. As to Duncan Fasher, he was a Conservative in 1878. Mr. Dack has gained a number of Conservative friends, who will more than counter-balance any slight losses in the Liberal ranks.

NORTH YORK.

NEWMARKET, May 21.—The contest in North York has been very quiet so far, owing to the fact that the Liberals have always held a large majority in the riding. The Conservatives brought out a man last Saturday in the person of Mr. C. C. Robinson, of Aurora, known all his life as a Conservative. Mr. Robinson has given his adherence to the Equal Rights Association and has resigned his official position in the Conservative Association of the riding, and the Conservatives evidently hope by having such a candidate to reduce the majority of Mr. E. J. Davis, the able and popular representative of the riding in the Local Legislature. As a means of helping along the cause of the Conservative candidate, Mr. Dalton McCarthy came to Newmarket to address the electors.

Mr. McCarthy began his speech by commending Mr. Robinson for his boldness in taking the Equal Rights position. No doubt Mr. Robinson, like himself, had been looked at askance by his old political associates. He went on, "I have been to a certain extent turned out of my party. I still claim to be—I think I am—advocating opinions which are in the best sense of the term Conservative, and if it is so Reformers may not be able to agree with me. I have been unable to induce any great number of my Conservative friends to adopt my course when that course militated against the orders of their political chieftian." He spoke in a rather sneering tone of the politicians and their pliability in the hands of the hierarchy, but subsequently seemed to see that such a sneer did not sit with grace upon his lips. Thus he apologized: "I am not here to blame my fellow-politicians without accepting the responsibility myself, for I was in public life when some of those acts were passed, and I am not pretending that I took a stand opposing them." There were not five men in Parliament outside of the French members, he declared, who did not deplore the dual language and separate schools, but they all gave way to expediency. He contended that advantages had been given to the separate schools greater than were guaranteed by the constitution. The amendment of last session he declared to be obscure and unintelligible. He knew that Principal Caven and others declared themselves satisfied. All he could say was they were very easily satisfied. He drew a gloomy picture of a French-Canadian invasion, and the subversion of the language and religion of the present majority in Ontario. He repeated his well-known declaration that if not settled by the ballot now this question would have to be settled by force in the future.

The Dairy Markets.

WOODSTOCK.

NAPANEE.

May 21.—Napanee Cheese Board met this afternoon; 771 boarded, 320 sold at 8¾c.

A Distressing Cough often causes the friends of the sufferer at much pain as the sufferer himself, and should receive immediate attention. DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY speedily cures coughs, colds, influenza, sore throat, etc., and in many well attested cases it has effected a perfect cure of consumption.

The cyclone is not considered a windfal to a western town, but that's what it is.

A Dinner Pill.—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment it becomes a poison to the sytem. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convert the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with Indigestion or Dyspepsia.

"Solid Votes" and Their Significance—Schools, Churches and the State.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

Meredith's plank, "Unite, unite against the common enemy," is still doing service. He indorsed it at Toronto. Macklin and Elliot re-echoed the battle cry against the "solid vote" of the Roman Catholics. But on the question being pressed Mr. Macklin admitted that Sir John had at least one-half of the Catholic vote. The Liberals, of course got the other half. Is that a solid vote? This fact must be and is known to the very men who impudently repeated the cry against the solid vote. I believe the Catholic vote is more divided than any of the other churches except the Methodist Church. They are pretty evenly divided between Liberals and Conservatives. The Presbyterian is more solid, being largely Liberals, but the English Church is almost a solid Conservative vote. But who shall have the impudent presumption to deny the members of the English Church the right to vote for whom they choose? Shall the Presbyterians, who are more solid Liberals, go to the more divided Methodist and Catholic churches with an appeal to unite together, and unite with the Presbyterians to crush the English Church as a common enemy? Would that be either Christian or statesmanlike? "Whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so to them." I wonder Meredith and his party did not find that verse when critically searching the "Ross Bible." Such a statement as that of "Unite, unite against the common enemy," expressed by a man looking to the Premiership of Ontario, is simply monstrous. Howling over the French language in the schools, shouting "danger to the State" because a crucifix was found in one of their schools. Would it have been surprising had a Presbyterian catechism or an English Church prayer book been captured in a school house used for Protestant worship on Sunday? Would it have been echoed and re-echoed by press and platform, and shall I say pulpit—(I am ashamed as a Protestant)—but I must say pulpit, too. Yes, there was found a crusifix. What is a crucifix? You agitators claiming to be Christians, answer me this. You know it is a figure of Christ upon the cross. Is that not the hope of Protestant and Catholic? What danger to the State if the children should ask, "What meaneth this?" Would an explanation be dangerous to the children? The danger of the State rests at the door of Meredith and his supporters.

Another complaint is that Mr. Mowat refused to give the ballot to the separate schools. No supporter of "separate schools" has asked for it. Mr. Meredith has asked it to be made compulsory, not having a petition from a single supporter of separate schools. Should Mr. Mowat grant it because Meredith asks for it? The party is now trying to make capital out of the "Equal Rights" cry. That has now got boiled down to complete separation of Church and State. Is the Meredith party prepared to accept that? Young men can yet remember when that party lay snugly in the lap of the State, gorging themselves at its expense till choaked off by the Liberal party, and though now scarcely out of their wallowing condition for the sake of office they suddenly blossom out into exponents of equal rights. Give them office and their natural affinity for dirt will soon land them again in the mire. When the Dominion election comes these same equal right advocates will support Sir John in taxing the consumer 20, 30 and even 50 per cent. to enrich binding twine, sugar and all other monopolies. Yea, verily, you will not wait to be washed till you are back into the wallowing feed pens.

A Serious Accident.

CLINTON, Ont., May 22.—A shocking accident happened near Londesboro', in Hullet township, yesterday morning, whereby three men sustained severe injuries, and may yet lose their lives. An old barn was being torn down, and to guard against accident a rope had been attached to the purline plate, but this was not enough to prevent it falling, and it struck three young men, named Cole, Hamilton and Little, breaking their backs. A young man named Ball also had his shoulder dislocated. At last accounts they were alive.

In the Ice.

MONTREAL, May 22.—The Thomson Line steamship Fremona, which arrived in port from Newcastle, had a very startling experience with the ice about 150 miles the other side of Cape Ray. The ship was steaming slowly through a dense fog last Wednesday, when she got right into the midst of a pack of ice, drifting southwards with the Arctic current. After pounding about in the ice for some hours the fog lifted, and showed the vessel to be in a dangerous position. All around her were heavy hummocks of ice ten feet deep in the water, and showing about a foot above the surface, gradually nearing the steamer, and crushing the smaller pieces of ice in their way were a number of huge icebergs. The captain and chief officer climbed to the masthead, and found that the ice extended as far as the eye could see on all sides. There were hundreds of seals on the ice, some of them being close to the ship. After taking two hours to turn the ship, she was headed southward and worked her way out of the ice. Owing to the movement of such a large mass of ice southward it is feared that navigation will be seriously interfered with.

Railway Men Charged with Manslaughter.

TORONTO, May 22.—Thomas Moses, Stewart White, Thos. Edwards and Daniel Donohue were charged yesterday with the manslaughter of H. S. Leach, Nov. 8, 1889. The prisoners were in the employ of the G. T. R. and had charge of a locomotive which was backing from Little Toronto to the Don-tender first. At Pape's crossing Leach was run over and killed. White and Moses were respectively fireman and driver. Prisoners were alleged to be guilty of negligence.

Mr. Job Scales, of Toronto, writes: A short time ago I was suffering from Kidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, sour stomach and lame back; in fact, I was completely prostrated and suffering intense pain. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it has cured and made a new man of me is such that I cannot withhold from the proprietors this expression of my gratitude.".

EAST MIDDLESEX.

Mr. Purdom at Sterritt's School House. Nissouri — Speeches by Messrs. Moscrip, Wood, Griffin and Purdom.

NISSOURI, May 21.—A large gathering of Reformers gave Mr. Purdom an enthusiastic reception at Sterritt's school house last night. The chair was occupied by Deputy Reeve McKay who introduced Mr. William C. Moscrip, of St. Marys. Mr. Moscrip delivered a telling speech, dealing with the financial advantages which the people had derived from the Mowat Administration, and showing how taxation had been reduced owing to their judicious expenditure on asylums and charities of all kinds. He also took up the various points of the separate schools question, and satisfactorily explained each. He was well received and frequently applauded.

Mr. Wood was the next speaker. He drew attention to the fact that there were few lawyers in the Ontario Legislature compared with the number required for the class of work done there. He very highly commended the Mowat Administration for their efficiency, economy and courage in dealing with public affairs. Had it not been for Mowat's attitude when Ontario was assailed the Opposition would have yielded to the pressure at Ottawa, and this would not be the Province it now is.

Mr. Griffin, ex-deputy reeve of Nissouri, was the next speaker. He, in a vigorous and independent speech, pointed out the necessity for action on the part of those who desired good government. He hoped measures would be taken to preserve the fine lands of Ontario for the future. He had every confidence in the Administration, and hoped it would be sustained, and that East Middlesex would send it a supporter.

Mr. Purdom next spoke, taking up the questions not touched upon by the previous speakers, and each issue of the present contest. He was enthusiastically received. The meeting wound up with the usual cheers heartily given for the Queen, the Administration, Mr. Purdom and the Chairman.

WINNIPEG, May 22.—Five-year-old Percy Shannon was poisoned yesterday near Dominion City by taking a small piece of wild parsnip. His father is in Ontario.

Duke and Duchess of Connaught at Victoria.

VICTORIA, B. C., May 22.—At noon yesterday the Canadian Pacific steamship Abyssinia, with the Duke and Duchess of Connaught aboard, anchored off Victoria harbor and transferred the royal passengers to the steamer Lorne, which conveyed them to the city. The day was a perfect one, and was but a sample of the thirteen in which the trip from Yokohama was made. The royal tourists were received by the Lieutenant-Governor, and a civic address of welcome was presented by Mayor Grant.

Grain Men Gloomy.

MONTREAL, May 22.—A newspaper reporter interviewed a number of grain shippers as to the prospects of grain shipments. They all take a gloomy view of the situation. One shipper, after pointing out that Montreal had lost her position as a grain shipping port, said: "What we need is free trade, and until we get it we must expect our grain men to gradually go to the wall." Another shipper said: "The outlook is anything but bright." The head of a large shipping firm said there was no Canadian wheat being shipped. It was all American. A fourth shipper said: "Never in the history of Canada has the outlook been so gloomy. Montreal should be one of the finest shipping ports on this side of the ocean, yet, thanks to the fact that we are not a free trade county, Montreal is fast losing ground. It may not seem right for a citizen of Montreal to talk this way, yet it is the truth, and sooner or later it must be known. As things stand now, the American has every advantage over us, and what the end will be God only knows.

"THE BEST ARMOR AGAINST DISEASE IS GOOD DIGESTION."

It is a hard, uncontrovertible fact that more disease is directly attributable to disorders of the Stomach than to all the other organs combined; this is not hard for even the unprofessional to understand when we take into consideration the mass of food that it is made the receptacle of for a time, there to be churned, digested and so assimilated.

London Thursday, May, 22.

THE interesting intelligence is telegraphed from Regina, N. W. T., that water has been struck five miles south of that town. To some of the distinguished residents of Pile o' Bones, the telegram would have been more welcome if it had chronicled the discovery of a whisky spring.

NOT a Tory leader has raised his voice against the re-election of Mr. Rykert in Lincoln county, and D'Alton McCarthy keeps as far away from the county as possible. The only inference which can be taken from this silent indorsation of Rykert is that the Tory leaders, no matter to what wing of the party they belong, would rather aid in electing the man guilty of scandalous, dishonorable and corrupt conduct than send an honest and upright Liberal to Parliament. Could venality go much further?

THE Toronto World is very anxious to see one of the candidates in North Perth elected. It says that "at a meeting the other night he said he could not make a speech, but he could sing and dance, and he favored the audience with a ballad. A song and dance on the floor of the House would be a refreshing novelty." In South Essex, C. G. Fox cannot make a speech, cannot dance, cannot sing. But he takes Dr. King, collector of customs at Kingsville, along. He is pronounced an excellent long-winded melodeon.

IF the opponents of the Mowat Government had a good case they would not misrepresent those who are in favor of giving the Administration fair play. The subsidized Toronto Empire, for example, published the following ugly insinuation against Dr. Caven, president of the Equal Rights Association of the Province:

It is stated that Dr. Caven, in writing to friends in different parts of the country, has taken a much stronger position against the Mowat Government than in any of his published utterances.

Dr. Caven, having read the statement, expressed himself in these strong terms:

There is no truth in it. I have written a number of letters of one kind or another during the present election contest, but in none of them have I expressed views different from those published. In effect, the Empire says I have not been telling the truth. I cannot understand where it could have found the slightest ground for its statement.

It seems to be anything to defeat Mowat, just as in 1886, but the people are not fools.

THE chances of Mr. David Creighton's election in North Grey are commented upon by the Tara Leader, a staunch Conservative paper:

So far as we can gather from people living in Derby, which is in North Grey, Mr. Creighton's chances of re-election are very slim. As manager of the Empire, he indorsed and supported Sir John A. Macdonald's Government through the whole of its Jesuit and dual language legislation, and these things are now coming back on him, and are going to defeat him. Mr. Creighton would have been better off, in a political sense, if he had remained in Owen Sound. As it is, the chances are he has lost his grip for all time, and it serves him right.

No wonder that David has been shouting to Mr. Meredith to go over and help him. Ten days ago he was telegraphing to his paper that he had been "wiping the earth" with Hon. G. W. Ross, who spoke in Owen Sound. Now it appears that David's constituents are "wiping the earth" with him. Mr. Cleland is likely to be the choice of North Grey, and a right good member he will make.

THE Hamilton Spectator wishes us to name a life-long Conservative who is now supporting Mr. Mowat. There are many such, but Dr. Chanonhouse, reeve of Wilberforce, who is now supporting the Liberal candidate in North Renfrew, is probably a fair specimen of the men who have determined to frown down the dastardly tactics of the Tory managers. Dr. Chanonhouse, who announces himself to have been a life-long Conservative, thus sets forth the reasons for his adhesion to the policy of Oliver Mowat:

I think it would be a great misfortune if Meredith, Clancy & Company got control of Ontario, as they would be mere puppets in the hands of the Ottawa Government. Experience has convinced me that we require independent and able men at the head of the Government in this Province, who will fully protect our interests and guard against any infringement of our Provincial rights. I am free to admit that we have such men now on the Treasury Benches.

The religious sentiment attempted to be aroused against yourself and the Mowat Government about separate schools and such like is the height of nonsense. I should be ashamed of my Protestantism if any Protestants should be so narrow minded as to be led off from their duty to their country by any such clap-trap. Notwithstanding that I have heretofore opposed you, I have always admired your spirit of manliness and fair play, and therefore I would place more confidence, even from a religious standpoint in your justice than in that of those men who are trying to make their religion their stock in trade in Provincial politics.

MR. JOHN MORLEY characterizes history and literature as "the happiest of all callings, and the most imperishable of all arts."

EVANGELIST MOODY is a strict Sunday keeper, and although he preached four times at New York last Sunday he would not ride in a street car, elevated train or carriage, but walked from his hotel to all the meetings, more than six miles in all.

"TOUGHS."

A Toronto journal which is not particularly friendly towards the Ontario Opposition ventures to come to the defense of certain Toronto fledgling politicians who have been held up to successful ridicule by Hon. Arthur Hardy. It is stated by this journal that Mr. Hardy has spoken of Maclean, Sheppard, et al., as "toughs," and thereupon it learnedly quotes Addison to show the bad taste of calling a reptile a reptile. It would be so much nicer to speak of it as a cold-blooded vertebrate which moves on its belly, and this would have the added merit of being a scientific description. But we can excuse a Toronto journal in defending even Toronto "toughs" when they start out into the country to seek Parliamentary honors. It is just like Toronto; but we rather think that gentry of the stripe of Maclean, Sheppard, Creighton and Holmes will find that the country does not need their services. Does anybody suppose that these "toughs" are moved by any high regard for the interests of rural constituencies when they make so bold as to ask the electors to entrust them with the honor of a seat in Parliament? Nothing of the kind. They are at the best a set of boodle politicians, and if the farmer's dog has not lost his old instinct we undertake to say that some choice bits of cloth will be missing before the campaign is ended. A gentleman who is supporting Maclean in Wentworth at a rate of $10 per night is reported as saying that Mr Hardy used the right word, "for they are toughs," and we would prefer his testimonial to any which an interested Toronto journal may supply.

REV. D. D. M'LEOD INDIGNANTLY PROTESTS.

Rev. D. D. McLeod, of Barrie, a leading Presbyterian clergyman, who was one of the Royal Commissioners appointed to inquire into the condition of the schools in the French-speaking townships in Eastern Ontario, takes up the deliverance of the Tory members of the Equal Rights Association, and handles their unfair assumptions in an able manner. He asserts that the document is misleading and unfair, and says he cannot see how "its authors could expect its statements to be accepted as impartial by any intelligent and fair-minded reader." That is pretty strong, but Rev. Mr. McLeod adduces the strongest proof that his charges are well-founded. Here is how he puts it:

Of the three resolutions which are quoted from the convention, the second is on the French schools, and in it they urge that the Government should secure (a) "that English shall be the language of instruction in all public schools in Ontario," and this the Government has made provision for; (b) "that every teacher in a public school shall be able to use the English language efficiently in imparting instruction;" this also the Government has made provision for; (c) "that no text books shall be used except those authorized by the Department of Education." This also the Government has provided for, and in my judgment the Government has provided for these measures much more effectively than in the method that is proposed by the Opposition. This being the case, would it not have been candid and just in these gentlemen to have acknowledged this? They do "hail with satisfaction the changes initiated"—but they couple this expression of satisfaction with the singular statement: "And now that public attention is directed to the subject, there should be no half-hearted assertion that this must remain, as it is, an emphatically English-speaking Province." Now, is it not rather absurd to demand from any quarter an assertion of this kind, in view of the fact that of the 495,323 pupils in the public schools, only some 5,500 are French-speaking, and nearly all of these are learning English? So these gentlemen expect us to believe the absurdity that there is a danger of these few French children absorbing the English-speaking people of the Province and blotting out the English language! Why do they not publish to the people the real facts of the case? They add instead, "Whatever further legislation or departmental regulations may be found necessary, the next Assembly will be ready to enact and enforce." That is, although the Government has done all and more than they asked for, the next Assembly will "enact and enforce" further. What can this mean except to lead the people to think the Government has not done what they asked to be done in this particular? In an impartial document the truth might be stated more candidly.

But the Tory members of the Equal Rights Committee stated further that:

It was discovered that, slowly and imperceptibly, the French-Canadians who had immigrated into Ontario had, under the guidance of the church, taken possession of the schools, and without legal warrant had practically introduced the school system and teachings of the Province of Quebec, at the same time supplanting the English language by the French.

Rev. Mr. McLeod, as one of the Commissioners, who investigated the whole subject, asserts that no such discovery was made; that there was no conspiracy; that the charges in the paragraph are entirely baseless; that in fact they rest on the imagination alone. Here are the facts, plain and unvarnished, as stated by this unprejudiced clergyman, who had ample means to ascertain them:

It was well known, not merely "discovered," that the French-Canadians who had immigrated into Ontario did, by authority of the law of Ontario, set up schools for their children, or send them to schools already in existence; that these schools were under inspection like other public schools, and in some cases by Protestant inspectors; that these people endeavored to secure such religious instruction for their children as they could in these schools, and such as in many cases the law allowed, though in some cases more time was given to religion than the law allowed; that they were no doubt guided and aided in this work by their priests, as Protestants in like case would have been guided by their ministers; that they used such French text books as in many cases the law allowed, and such as they could procure until others were put within their reach, and that though the schools were for a time necessarily French, and though it was difficult and in many cases impossible to procure competent English-speaking teachers, yet now of 3,345 French pupils on the roll of these schools in the East, 2,632 are learning English, and the 694 not learning it are nearly all too young to have made a beginning in it. These are the facts. Let your readers judge if the paragraph is fair and generous or misleading and unjust. Judge if it be true that our French fellow-citizens are supplanting the English language by the French, when the whole facts of the case show that they are willingly and to an increasing extent having their children taught English, and when we find in the western settlements a generation of people using the English language, who, when they went to school, could not speak a word of English. Sir, I claim to speak on this subject with as great impartiality as the authors of this manifesto, and do speak only because I felt my sense of justice outraged by such a paragraph, in which the basest charge is made against as orderly and industrious a class of our fellow-citizens as are to be found in the Province. I claim to be as loyal a Protestant and as independent in my political opinions as the signers of this document, but I do not think our Protestantism is honored by our making charges of dishonorable and treasonable conduct against Roman Catholics which have no basis in fact. Equal Rights men should show a desire to be just to Roman Catholics as to Protestants. They should not be constantly hurling charges against their fellow-citizens which they never offer to sustain by evidence. Suppose Roman Catholics were to charge these Protestant divines with being guilty of dishonorable and illegal attempts to influence the Government and control the public schools. Would these Protestant divines be satisfied at having such a charge brought against them? Would they not resent it? Ought they not to do unto others as they would be done by? There are many as strenuous upholders of equal rights as the writers of this document who cannot accept their deliverance on this and other points as fair or as an accurate statement of the situation. Nor is there any ground for believing that if these gentlemen were in power to-morrow they could do any more than is now being done to secure for every citizen his rights. These gentlemen must know that to object they have in view will take some time to accomplish. They must know that if their cause is just the pending election cannot affect it, can neither hasten nor hinder it; and while they are on one hand making a few converts, they are on the other alienating men by the unfairness of their statements—so that there are many who believe that the present danger of our Protestantism lies rather in its alliance with bigotry and sectionalism and in its being made the stalking-horse of designing politicians.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

The Canadian Illustrated (Montreal) maintains a high degree of excellence both in pictorial and literary features. The issue of last week gives some fine views of the Longue Pointe Asylum, before and after the great conflagration.

Mrs. Frank Leslie, 110 Fifth avenue, New York city, has just published "Prince Lucifer," one of the most successful novels, by Miss Etta W. Pierce, who has honestly earned the title of the American Ouida. The work is replete with sensational developments, and is sure to have a large circle of readers. Price, 25 cents.

Wide Awake for June is magnificently illustrated. It is a most interesting young people's magazine, and contains a host of lively stories and pictorial articles. Among others are "Confessions of an Amateur Photographer," Ickery Ann," "The Stick-That-Walks," "The Rubber Boy," "The Margaret Patty Letters," "Men and Things" and Puzzles; $2 40 a year. D. Lothrop & Co., publishers, Boston.

For the wee tots in every family "Babyland" should prove a great attraction. It is full of pretty stories and odd pictures pertaining to child life. But for children a little older "Our Little Men and Women" is the best monthly published. The "Trottino" stories and illustrations are a treat, and the other pictures are really beautiful. The D. Lothrop Company, Boston, are the publishers. "Babyland" is only 50 cents a year; "Our Little Men and Women" is $1.

THE Governors of North and South Carolina attended a temperance banquet given by the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church at Asheville, N. C., on Thursday night. It was probably the longest time between drinks on record for those two historic officials.

Indigestion

IS not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich.:—

"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."

Notwithstanding the combined efforts of jealous rivals to put as under, we are out on top as usual. Look at the record for 1889. Policies issued for nearly $3,500,000. Not bad for a young company, you will say. True, it took some of the old fogies 10 years to write up the same amount. Why, we declined more applications last year than some of the other companies wrote up altogether. How do we account for it, you say. Well, we have plans to suit everybody. Our premium rates are as low as any other company. Our policy is the most liberal, being nearly unconditional; almost a simple promise to pay at death or maturity, as the case may be. The policy-holders are entirely free from all liability; but are, nevertheless, allowed to participate in the control of the Company's affairs and to monopolize nine-tenths (9-10) of the profits of the business. Each policy-holder has one vote for every $1,000 of insurance held by him in this Company. These privileges are secured by the act of incorporation. LONDON IN LUCK.

Rain yesterday saved the Londons another defeat from the Hamiltons. The game was called at the end of the third inning, the visitors having secured five runs on four hits, assisted by three errors and a passed ball in their first inning. The home team failed to score. Petty occupied the box for the Hams and Demaris for the Londons.

If Sullivan's retrial in Mississippi results in his imprisonment the above agreement is to be canceled. Sullivan said he would not engage in a bare knuckle fight.

A SURPRISE.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 22.—Tommy White, the Board of Trade fighter, had his nose broken and was knocked out by Billy Brennan in a mill for $500 a side yesterday at Pine Station, Ind. Forty rounds were fought. Brennan was terribly punished, and was thought to be beaten, when, to the surprise of everybody, he slipped in the lucky knock-out blow.

NOTES.

Marauder, one of the favorites for the Carslake mile and a half race here on Queen's Birthday, broke down at Toronto Wednesday morning practising, injuring a foreleg. It is not expected to recover in time to run.

THE WHEEL.

A new journal of sport and recreation called "The Canadian Athlete" has been started in Toronto, and devotes a great proportion of its space to wheeling news, including a sketch of the Forest City Club. Its departments of lawn tennis, football, lacrosse, cricket, rowing and yachting are also well worth reading. The first number has just been issued, and there is no doubt that sportsmen generally will patronize it.

FOOTBALL.

The football team of "D" Company, I. S. C., left for Aylmer this morning to play a team in that place.

CRICKET.

A LOCAL LEAGUE SHOULD BE FORMED.

A league is suggested of the five local clubs, to play two matches each with each, home and home, for a challenge cup, qualification of players to be residence or registered membership with consent of committee of the whole, the premier club, the London Cricket Club, to be represented by those of its members only who are not also members of the minor clubs. If such a scheme can be carried out, the cricket grounds in North London, South London, at the Barracks and at the Asylum will this year be the scene of some very interesting cricket both for spectators and players, at the same time affording good practice for the first eleven.

BEHRING SEA.

The British Proposals Rejected by the U. S. Government—The Modus Vivendi Temporarily Accepted.

NEW YORK, May 22.—A Washington dispatch to the Herald says; "At the Cabinet meeting Wednesday it was decided to reject the British proposition submitted three weeks ago for a settlement of the Behring Sea question. Secretary Windom was decidedly opposed to the acceptance of the proposal. First, because its provisions were deemed by him entirely inadequate to secure the proposed object of preserving seal life in Behring Sea; and, second, because it virtually ignored the established position of the United States in that sea, arising out of its ownership of the partially surrounding shores and of islands within the sea, the possession of a universally recognized boundary line which included in the cession to the United States the very part of the sea wherein alone this country has sought to exercise a territorial jurisdiction; the inheritance from Russia of a continuous claim of jurisdiction never directly questioned nor successfully assailed, and the undoubted right that the United States has to exercise a reasonable police jurisdiction to protect its own property and interests in Behring Sea and secure to itself the natural use and profit thereof.

Secretary Blaine did not advocate an acceptance of the proposal, and thought it probable that further negotiations would abate the Canadian contentions and improve the position of the United States.

The British proposal being without support from either of the two departments immediately concerned with it necessarily met with rejection—a like fate with that which overtook the preceding American proposal in the council of the Governor-General of Canada. It is said that in neither case was an acceptance of the proposal anticipated by the party submitting it, but that the only result expected from the exchange of proposals was the bringing of the parties a little nearer together by elimination of some points of difference. To some extent this expectation has been realized, so that negotiations are really in a better state, notwithstanding the rejection of counter proposals, than at the beginning.

The next step in the negotiations will be discussions and settlement of the details connected with the creation of a joint commission of experts to prepare and submit to the two governments a full and particular project as the basis of a treaty, by which the whole question can be permanently settled. It is possible the Government of Russia may be directly represented in this commision of experts, but that has not yet been considered. In any event there is a confident expectation that a treaty can be framed in time for submission to the Senate immediately upon the opening of the second session of the present Congress.

The more important question for the Cabinet Wednesday was that of the ad interim policy to be pursued in Behring Sea, with immediate reference to the sealing season, which will be in full headway by the end of this month. The Treasury view was that inasmuch as the British had admitted a close season to be necessary to the preservation of seals and the just interests of the United States, and had offered as part of its proposal a radius around the seal islands to protect female seals from attacks, while obtaining food in waters adjacent to rookery islands, it would be proper to enforce by warning, and by restraint after warning had proved ineffectual, such a clause during the present season, relying upon the good sense and disposition of the British Government to acquiesce in measures so entirely reasonable and merely provisional. This view prevailed, it being a practical and substantial acceptance of the modus vivendi voluntarily tendered by the British Government in company with its rejected proposal.

The commanders of cruising vessels will be emphatically enjoined to refrain so far as within the lines of their instructions from any conduct to British sealers whom they meet that can be made the occasion of just complaint or resentment. These instructions will be communicated to the British Government in order that Canadian authorities may take any action they may deem advisable toward the common end of maintaining peace and amity from now till the close of the season.

SOUTHERN METHODISTS

Take an Unmistakable Stand on the Temperance Question.

ST. LOUIS, May 21.—In the Methodist Episcopal Church Conference here the Committee on Temperance made a long report, in which they define the position of the church on the subject of temperance and give the result of extensive inquiries of the various conferences throughout the country as to the attitude of the churches and their members in regard to the use of intoxicating beverages, their manufacture and sale and license or prohibition. The committee report in substance that:

1. We are convinced that if any more advanced position is possible to take than the one which the M. E. Church South occupies to-day on the question of temperance our membership will get ready at once to take it. We are emphatically a prohibition church. We stand out squarely for the complete suppression of the liquor traffic. We offer no compromise to and seek no terms from a sin of this heinous quality.

2. Our inquiries developed the gratifying fact that in most sections there is very little drinking among our members. We are able to state that for the most part our church members throw the full weight of influence and authority as voters against licensing the liquor traffic.

4. The testimony was uniform and unvarying as to the vitality of our preachers in the cause of temperance.

5. The evidence was practically universal as to the valuable work of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union in the cause of temperance.

The report was unanimously adopted.

The committee on the spiritual state of the church, which was instructed to prepare a condemnation of worldliness for insertion in the book of discipline, made a long report, condemning dancing, card playing, theater going, attendance at race courses, circuses, etc.

Dr. Philpot, of Texas, moved an amendment to cover the use of tobacco and opium, but it was ruled out of order.

Rev. Mr. Hoss wanted the utterance to include racing, owning, raising and selling race horses, manipulating land booms, buying and selling lottery tickets, renting buildings in which liquor traffic is carried on, and owning or editing Sunday papers, but his motion was voted down and the report of the committee was adopted by a large majority.

Great Bargains in Clothing.

The rush to Mr. J. H. Chapman's popular drygood house, 126 Dundas street, still continues unabated. Clothes damaged to any extent by the fire are selling off for almost nothing, and bargain-seekers are well satisfied with the returns they receive for their money. Owing to the recent fire in their premises, the firm wish to clear out an immense stock of drygoods, clothing, millinery and mantles, part of which has been slightly injured by fire, water and smoke. This they are doing at a great sacrifice, and now is the time to secure good bargains before they are all gone.

We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial is without doubt the best medicine ever introduced for dysentery, diarrhœa, cholera and all summer complaints, sea sickness, etc. It promptly gives relief and never fails to effect a positive cure. Mothers should never be without a bottle when their children are teething.

Mabel—The man who marries me must have a good big bank book account. Ethel—You don't mean to say that you will marry solely for money? Mabel—No, not exactly; but if any one swears he loves me I shall require a deposit merely as an evidence of good faith.

Mr. J. R. Allen, upholsterer, Toronto sends us the following: "For six or seven years my wife suffered with Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Inward Piles and Kidney Complaint. We tried two physicians and any number of medicines without getting any relief, until we got a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. This was the first relief she got, and before one bottle was used the benefit she derived from it was beyond our expectation."

CHIMAY-WARD.

Miss Ward's Wedding—The Ceremony—The Costumes—The Guests.

PARIS, May 22.—The marriage of Prince de Caraman Chimay, the eldest son of the Belgian family of that name, with Miss Clara Ward, daughter of Mrs. Cameron, of Toronto and Windsor, which was announced yesterday, was celebrated at high noon at the Nunciature, Rue de Varennes, Monsignor Rotelli, the Papal Nuncio, giving the nuptial benediction. The reception room was crowded with a brilliant assemblage of the branches of the families from all directions, numerous Americans and Canadians being present. The ceremony was performed in the small chapel, while in the adjoining room the choir of the Madeleine rendered the Marche Religieuse, from "Lohengrin," the Panus Angelicus, by Cæsar Franck, and Gounod's Hymne a St. Cecile.

THE BRIDE

wore a costume of white satin, covered with point lace, with a long veil of point lace, held by a coronet of orange blossoms. She also wore a magnificent pearl and diamond necklace, and a diamond crescent and earrings, gifts from the groom's and her mother's family. The bride is only 17 years old. She is tall and blonde, with dark eyes and brows, and she looked very handsome in her gorgeous bridal robes. She has a fortune of $2,000,000 in her own right, with more in prospect. Her marriage with Prince de Caraman Chimay is quite

A ROMANTIC AFFAIR.

Two months ago she left school in London and went with her mother, Mrs. Alexander Cameron, of Toronto, to Nice. There they met for the first time her present husband, and a speedy betrothal was the result. The bridegroom, who is tall and dark, and 32 years of age, is the eldest son of Prince de Chimay, Minister of Foreign Affairs at Brussels. Lord Lytton and Mr. Whitelaw Reid were witnesses for the bride, and Baron Beyens, Belgian Minister, and Duc de Fezansac for the groom.

THE DRESSES.

Mrs. Cameron, the mother of the bride, wore a costume of moss green velvet, richly embroidered with colored garlands, in Louis XVI. style, made in a long casaque over a petticoat of the palest brocade, with embroidered waistcoat of white satin, and a jabot of lace about the throat. The bonnet was of gold lace and feathers.

Mrs. Eber Ward, sister-in-law of the bride, a tall fair girl with clear-cut features, wore a costume of rose-colored silk, high puffed sleeves, the front being a mass of fine embroidery in gold, silver and pearls. On her head was a tiny bonnet made of two bands of gold, with bunches of small pink feathers in front and back.

Mrs. George Torrance, of Toronto, stepsister to the bride, was attired in a long robe of apricot yellow brocade, with satin sleeves, embroidered in silver and crystal, a Medicis collar, lined with white feathers, and a bonnet trimmed with butterflies and pansies.

Mrs. Whitelaw Reid wore a costume of heliotrope silk, silver embroidered sleeves, and a bonnet of the same combination.

Mme. Hector Fabre, wife of the Commissioner of the Dominion of Canada, was dressed in silver gray brocade, an embroidered front covered with spangles, a Medicis collar of embroidered velvet, lined with white feathers, and high sleeves of brocade of spangled silver.

WEDDING PRESENTS.

Among the wedding presents received from the members of the two families and their friends were a diamond necklace and earrings from Frince de Chimay, and another diamond necklace and magnificent corsage decoration in diamonds and pearls. The Comtesse Greffulpe gave a pearl necklace and a large diamond crescent. Mrs. Eber Ward presented a brougham. Her uncle, Mr. Lyon, gave a complete toilette service of silver. Her grandmother, Mrs. Lyon, superb crystal bottles mounted in silver. Prince Pierre de Caraman Chimay, diamond brooch, with pendant watch and diamonds. Her two sisters, bracelet and watch set in diamonds; the stepmother of the groom, an exquisitely ornamented prayer book, which the bride carried; the Duc de Fezansac, a card receiver lined with gold. Lord Lytton sent an immense packet of white lilies tied with blue and pink ribbons, with a bunch of white gardenias on a gilded handle.

AFTER THE WEDDING.

The newly-married pair, after congratulations in the reception-room at the Nunciature, left Paris by the 4 o'clock train for the Chateau de Chimay, at Chimay, a town on the frontier of France and Germany, where they will remain for the present. Later on they will occupy a hotel in Paris, upon which they have not yet decided.

Mr. Alexander Cameron, stepfather of the bride, will soon return to Toronto, while Mrs. Cameron and Mr. and Mrs. Eber Ward will remain for the present in Paris, where they have taken a hotel for the season.

CONSTANTINOPLE in the course of time has become a religious and ecclesiastical center of considerable importance for Christianity. Recently it has become the seat of a Roman Catholic archbishop. The other church dignitaries residing in the Turkish metropolis are the patriarch of the Greek Orthodox Church (Dionysius V.), the Armenian Orthodox patriarch and the Bulgarian exarch. The number of Christian churches in Constantinople is 145. Of these 25 are Roman Catholics, 3 Greek Catholic, 12 Armenian Catholic, 1 Bulgarian Catholic, 50 Greek Orthodox, 39 Armenian Orthodox, 14 Protestant.

THE efficacy of hot water in shaving is more fully appreciated by the people of that remarkably advanced country, Japan, than in the younger civilizations of the West. Japanese barbers shave nearly all of the exposed surface of a man's head. They shave the ears, the outside and inside of the nose, the eyebrows, and a portion of the scalp. The victim sits on a very low stool, while the barber perches on a higher stool and takes his customer's head between his knees. Then he seizes a very small razor, dips it into hot water, and begins to work. It is no light performance to shave a Japanese gentleman. No lather is used, but a keen edge is kept constantly on the razor by dipping it into hot water once or twice during the operation. Men who shave themselves will find that hot water will put a better edge on their razors than any strap ever invented.

A FEW lucky persons who have come to know some of Mr. Edisons trusted lieutenants have heard the phonograph perform in away that would astonish the genera public. Many cylinders are stowed away with marvelously interesting records upon waxen surfaces. The Gladstone cylinder is exhibited only on rare occasions and to distinguished guests. It is already an extremely valuable record, and at Gladstone's death it will probably be worth $1,000. A cylinder containing a few sentences by old Gen Von Moltke, now 90 years of age, is occasionally set going. A less valuable, but not less curious, cylinder gives the choking sobs of a German infant whose wails where caught in Berlin last December. Funny stories of Eli Perkins, songs by well-known singers, short passages from the current plays, and like things are all on storage in phonograph cylinders and brought out now and then. These cylinders lose nothing in clearness and volume from the lapse of years, but, of course, may be worn out from use. Mr. Edison believes that a record taken to-day and carefully preserved can be reproduced 250 years hence.

DR. WILLIAM B. CLARKE, of Indianapolis, Ind., well known as an alienist and authority on all matters relative to insanity, recently prepared a paper which he entitled "A Study of Suicide." One paragraph in the article cannot fail to be of general interest. It is this: "I feel confident that a frequent cause of suicide has been generally, if not entirely, overlooked, and so am compelled to utter a word of warning regarding it, viz., the reckless use of quinine, especially its use unauthorized by a physician. Any one who knows the pathogenetic ability of quinine, or rather its ability to cause symptoms or perturbations in the well or nearly well person, especially brain and nerve symptoms, cannot deny that it possesses the power to produce a condition nearly allied to insanity, if, indeed, it practically falls at all short of insanity. In large doses it is a depressant instead of a stimulant, contrary to the popular belief, and it is the most popular and universal every-day amateur remedy. Everybody seems to take it, and for any and every ailment. It is reasonable easy of proof that many insanities, suicides and murders can be traced directly to the ill-advised and inordinate use of quinine."

Queen's Park for Picknickers.

J. D. W. writes: "The Mayor's idea regarding beautifying the Queen's Park and supplying picknickers with hot water is good. It is hard to find a pleasanter place to resort to than Queen's Park. In a hot day it is always cool and pleasant, and would have many visitors both from city and country by having it made a little more attractive. I should think it would pay the Street Railway Company to defray part of the expense, as no doubt they would have the financial benefit. They would have many excursionists and band concerts to convey to said grounds."

'Modern Italy.'

The young peoples' meeting in Dundas Street Center Church last evening was well attended. Rev. A. C. Scott Gets Two Months.

Fred Scott, who was arrested on Tuesday, charged with stealing paints and oils from Mr. S. Marshall's livery, was this morning tried before Police Magistrate Parke, found guilty and sent to jail for two months. The evidence of Scott's mother was to the effect that he had kept oils and paints at home for sale, and that he was subject to fits. Mr. Marshall had on Saturday last purchased oils, varnish, paints, etc., and had hired Scott to do some painting for him, which he started to do and the oils were missed. Some of the articles Scott sold to Mr. Turner, and he had a half a bottle of oil in his possession when arrested. A can of varnish, worth $4 50, is still missing.

Ward Number Two.

The assessment of Ward 2 has been completed by Mr. Luckie, and the roll was this morning handed to the City Clerk. The gratifying increase which has been noted in Wards 1, 3 and 4 is also noticeable in this section of the city. The following comparative statement of the ward for the two years will be found of interest:

	1889.	1890.
Population	5,182	5,163
Real estate	$2,953,885	$3,000,755
Personal property	493,700	529,050
Taxable income	435,050	497,252
Total income and prop'ty.	3,883,535	4,027,057

There are 100 horses, 19 cattle, 110 dogs and 1 steam boiler in the ward.

The total increase in taxable real estate, personal property and income is $143,522, and while the population has fallen off 19, the noticeable increase in other wards in that respect will make it scarce worthy of mention. The assessors are now busy with Ward 5, and in a month or two will begin operations in Ward 6 (South London.)

SOUTH LONDON.

Hon. G. W. Ross speaks on behalf of the Liberal candidate, Mr. Purdom, in the skating rink this evening. Every elector is invited, and reserved seats will be provided for ladies.

If you cannot be happy in one way, be in another, and this faculty of disposition wants but little aid from philosophy, for health and good humor are almost the whole affair. Many run about after felicity, like an absent man hunting for his hat, while it is in his hand or on his head.—[Sharp.

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, is ear-ache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, to which the young are specially subject.

COLONEL QUARITCH, V.C.

By H. RIDER HAGGARD.

[Copyrighted by Rose Publishing Co., Toronto, Ont., and printed by special arrangement, through the American Press Association.]

"No, thank you; and now good-by, my dear, good-by. No, don't come with me; I can find my own way home. And now, why do you wait? Good-by, good-by forever in this way. Yes, kiss me once and swear that you will never forget me. Marry if you wish to, but don't forget me, Harold. Forgive me for speaking so plainly, but I speak as one about to die to you, and I wish things to be clear."

"I shall never marry, and I shall never forget you," he answered. "Good-by, my love, good-by."

In another minute she had vanished into the storm and rain, out of his sight, and out of his life, but not out of his heart.

And he, too, turned and went his way into the wild and lonely night.

An hour afterwards Ida came down into the drawing-room, dressed for dinner, looking rather pale but otherwise, quite herself. Presently the old Squire arrived, he had been attending a magistrates' meeting, and had only just got home.

"Why, Ida," he said, "I could not find you anywhere. I met George just as I was driving from Boisingham, and he told me he saw you walking through the park."

"Did he," she answered indifferently. "Yes, I have been out. It was so stuffy indoors. Father," she went on with a tone, "I have something to tell you. I am engaged to be married."

He looked at her curiously, and then said quietly—the Squire was always quiet in any matter of real emergency. "Indeed, my dear! That is a serious matter. However, speaking off-hand, I think that notwithstanding the disparity of age, Quaritch—"

"No, no," she said wincing visibly, "I am not engaged to Col. Quaritch; I am engaged to Mr. Cossey."

"Oh," he said, "oh, indeed, I thought from what I saw, that—that—"

At this moment the servant announced dinner.

"Well, never mind about it now, father," she said; "I am tired and want my dinner. Mr. Cossey is coming to see you to-morrow, and we can talk about it afterward."

And though the Squire thought about it a good deal, he made no further allusion to the subject that night.

CHAPTER XXIN.

THE SQUIRE GIVES HIS CONSENT.

Edward Cossey, returning to Boisingham on the evening of his engagement, at once wrote and posted a note to the Squire, saying that he would call on the following morning about a matter of business. Accordingly at 10:30, he arrived, and was shown into the vestibule, where he found the old gentleman standing with his back to the fire and plunged in reflection.

"Well, Mr. de la Molle," said Edward, rather nervously so soon as he had shaken hands, "I do not know if Ida has spoken to you about what took place between us yesterday."

"Yes," he said, "yes, she told me something to the effect that she had accepted a proposal of marriage from you, subject to my consent, of course; but really the whole thing is so sudden that I have hardly had time to consider it."

"It is very simple," said Edward; "I am deeply attached to your daughter, and I have been so fortunate as to be accepted by her. Should you give your consent to the marriage, I may as well say at once that I wish to make the most liberal money arrangements in my power. I will make Ida a present of the mortgage bonds that I hold over this property, and she may put them in the fire. Further, I will covenant on the death of my father, which cannot now be long delayed, to settle £200,000 upon her absolutely. Also, I shall be prepared to agree that if we have a son, and he should wish to do so, he should take the name of De la Molle."

"I am sure," said the Squire, turning round to hide his natural gratification at these proposals, "your offers on the subject of settlements are of a most liberal order, and of course, so far as I am concerned, Ida will have this place, which may one day be again more valuable than it is now."

"I am glad that they meet with your approval," said Edward; "and now there is one more thing I want to ask you, Mr. de la Molle, which I hope, if you will give your consent to the marriage, you will not raise any objection to. That is, that our engagement should not be announced at present. The fact is," he went on hurriedly, "my father is a very peculiar man, and has a great idea of my marrying somebody with a large fortune. Also his state of health is such certain that there is no possibility of knowing how he will take anything. Indeed he is dying; the doctors told me that he might go off any day, and that he cannot last for another three months. If the engagement is announced to him now, at the best I shall have a great deal of trouble, and at the worst he might, if he happened to take a fancy against it, make me suffer in his will."

"Umph," said the Squire, "I don't quite like the idea of a projected marriage with my daughter, Miss de la Molle of Honham Castle, being hushed up as though there were something discreditable about it, but there may be peculiar circumstances in the case that would justify me in consenting to that course. You are both old enough to know your own minds, and the match would be advantageous to you as it could be to us, for even nowadays, family, and I may even say personal appearance, still go for something where matrimony is concerned. I have reason to know that your father is a peculiar man, very peculiar. Yes, on the whole, though I don't like hole and corner affairs, I shall have no objection to the engagement not being announced for the next month or two."

"Thank you for considering me so much," said Edward, with a sigh of relief. "Then am I to understand that you give your consent to our engagement?"

The Squire reflected for a moment. Everything seemed quite straight, and yet he suspected crookedness. His latent distrust of the man, which had not been decreased by the scene of the two nights before—for he never could bring himself to like Edward Cossey—arose in force and made him hesitate where there was no visible ground for hesitation. He had, as been said, an instinctive sight into character that was almost feminine in its intensity, and it was lifting a warning finger before him now.

"I don't quite know what to say," he replied at length. "The whole affair is so sudden—and to tell the truth, I thought that Ida had bestowed her affection in another direction."

Edward's face darkened. "I thought so, too," he answered, "until yesterday when I was so happy as to be undeceived. I ought to tell you, by the way," he went on, running away from the covert falsehood in his last words as quickly as he could, "how much I regret that I was the cause of that scene with Col. Quaritch, more especially as I find that there is an explanation of the story against him. The fact is, I was foolish enough to be put out because he beat me out shooting, and also because, well I—I was jealous of him."

FUN, FACTS AND FICTION

A Judicious Compound of Wit and Wisdom.

Summer Martyrdom.—Clerk (at summer hotel)—The lady in No. 16 has been complaining about the chambermaid. Landlord—If No. 15 isn't satisfied, she'd better go. The trouble with these city people is they imagine they come here just for their own pleasure.

"Hair Magic"

Is a good name of Dr. Dorenwend's German preparation for the hair. It really works like magic. All who have used it pronounce it to be unequaled for remedying the lost vitality of the hair roots, restoring gray hair, removing dandruff etc. Just try it. It is first-class. All druggists sell it.

The Present Style of Spring Suit.—Littleshort—I can't pay that old account just yet, Mr. Cutaway, but I want a suit this spring if you can accommodate me. Tailor—Certainly, sir; I'll instruct my attorney to commence to-morrow.

Carter's Little Liver Pills must not be confounded with common Cathartic or Purgative Pills, as they are entirely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority

He (newly-married)—I wish you wouldn't call me dear while we're in company. She—Why, Charles? He—Because it makes me feel so cheap.

A man's wife should always be the same especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they will make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so, too.

"I want a good lot in a quiet neighborhood," remarked the capitalist from the East to a real estate man. "I have just the thing you want," was the answer. And he sold him a lot next to the cemetery.

Why will you allow a cough to lacerate your throat or lungs and run the risk of filling a consumptive's grave, when, by the timely use of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup the pain can be allayed and the danger avoided? This Syrup is pleasant to the taste, and unsurpassed for relieving, healing and curing all affections of the throat and lungs, coughs, colds, bronchitis, etc.

"You love my daughter?" "Passionately." "Well, knowing you as I do, I feel that the best way you can prove your love for her is by giving her up."

Mothers

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation; its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mother's friend. 25 doses, 35 cents.

There is another mean thing about the Chinese. Every one of them is a tail-bearer. See the queue?

Never had a preparation a more appropriate name than Ayer's Hair Vigor. When the capillary glands become enfeebled by disease, age or neglect, this dressing imparts renewed life to the scalp, so that the hair assumes much of its youthful fullness and beauty.

Called down—Feathers.

Something that always takes sides—Laughter.

Nothing impure or injurious contaminates the popular antidote to pain, throat and lung remedy, and general corrective, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It may be used without the slightest apprehension of any other than salutary consequences. Coughs, rheumatism, earache, bruises, cuts and sores succumb to its action.

Don't rub the dirt out of your clothes because your ancestors did. Keep up with the times. Try modern ideas for saving labor. James Pyle's PEARLINE leads all of those which pertain to cleanliness.

What is it that frays your collars, cuffs and skirts and pulls off the buttons and strings? What is it that ruins your paint? It's the old-fashioned way of rub, rub, rub, to make clean. PEARLINE does away with most of the rubbing, so it saves the worst of the wear.

You don't want an imitation, do you? Beware of them. PEARLINE is manufactured only by James Pyle, New York, notwithstanding the plausible stories told by peddlers and some grocers to the contrary.

MICHIGAN MATTERS.

Employes of the planing mills and box factories at Saginaw are moving for a reduction of hours to nine, at the present schedule of wages. Over 2,000 men are employed in the mills and factories.

John Creighton, formerly of the firm of Creighton & McGregor, of Alpena, disappeared on the night of April 7, and the other day his body was found floating in the water at Churchill's dock.

The sale of bonus lots in Muskegon the other day brought about $364,000. The money raised by the sale will be used to improve the new addition and to induce other manufacturing industries to locate there.

A fire at Grandville Monday morning destroyed the Jenison plaster and stucco mills, operated by Loren Day. The loss is total, and amounts to $30,000; insured for $12,500. Cause of fire unknown. The mills will be rebuilt at once.

The barn of O. M. Spitzer, situated in the eastern limits of Mason, was entirely destroyed by fire Sunday night. It contained four horses and twelve head of cattle, all of which were roasted to death. The barn was insured for $400 and the stock for $1,000.

Conrad Schwan, aged 70 years, was found dead in his bed by his wife at the family residence on Lapeer street, Saginaw, on Monday morning. He retired the previous night in apparently his usual health. Deceased was stepfather to City Controller Schwartz.

George Hall, of Bath township, Ingham, committed suicide Monday night by hanging himself to a beam in his barn. Hall was well known throughout Central Michigan as a breeder of Percheron horses. He was 35 years old, and leaves a widow and seven children. No cause is known, but insanity is suspected.

Flora Adam, a young girl working for William Eehr, Manchester, was standing on a chair near the railing hanging out clothes from his back stoop, fifteen feet from the ground, when the line broke and, having hold of the line, the weight of the clothes jerked her over the railing. She fell head downward on the stone pavement, fracturing her skull and breaking her neck.

A disastrous fire, which will be somewhat of a drawback to Flint, occurred Sunday morning, when the mammoth paper mills of Ald. F. R. Lewis burned to the ground, the result of an explosion of the watchman's torch. The fire department fought desperately, but all in vain, as the large amount of paper on hand made a hot fire. The burning of the mill throws about 60 men out of employment. Loss, $10,000; insured for $2,000. The mill will be rebuilt immediately.

Saturday morning about 1 o'clock Mr. H. Fish, and old engineer, who lives in Saginaw, west side, woke up an found his wife cold in death. She was uneasy during the first part of the night and Mr. Fish had been up several times to get her medicine, as he had ofter done before, as she had long been afflicted with rheumatism. A little after 12 o'clock he awoke and heard her breathing heavily, but as she said she was not feeling worse he fell asleep and woke up again about 1 o'clock when he found her cold and rigid. The day previous she performed her household duties, and seemed to be in as good a state of health as usual. The deceased was 75 years of age, and leaves a husband and two sons.

LONG LIFE AND SLEEP.

Happy and Healthy Old Age Depends Upon Refreshing and Natural Sleep During Life.

Not long ago Mr. Gladstone attributed his sound health to the "great gift of sleep." He declares that he always got seven hours and sometimes eight. It is certain that the gift of sleep goes with longevity, for but very few poor sleepers ever reach extreme old age. Sleeplessness is a trouble that cannot be trifled with. The Medical Register, in a recent issue, says "insomnia is the forerunner of insanity, and a grave malady." The wretched person who cannot sleep well nights is even more tired and unrefreshed next morning than when he went to bed. Sleep, which would have given him rest, vigor, strength and fresh energy for the day's work, came not to his weary eyelids, or if he was able to sleep, frightful dreams disturbed his slumber. The next morning his weary eyes, haggard face, befogged brain and aching head showed the results.

There is but one remedy that can be depended upon for relief in all forms of bad sleep. This remedy is Paine's Celery Compound. It soothes, strengthens and tones up the irritated and weakened nervous system, giving sleep, restful and restorative, that will put to flight the dread demon, insanity. Bankers, insurance men, ministers, lawyers, authors, inventors, mechanics, and all who have incurred that dreadful result of over-strained nerves—sleeplessness—have found Paine's Celery Compound to be a true restorative.

Albert H. Hardy, author of the "Maid of Bethany," Springfield, Mass., suffered for months from sleeplessness. He used Paine's Celery Compound, and the relief was like magic. He owes his restored health to the use of this remedy. W. F. Trichel, a well known merchant of Newport, N. J., experienced a very dull feeling for nearly a year, during which he passed a great many sleepless nights and became nervous and down-hearted. His physician could afford him no relief, but seeing Paine's Celery Compound advertised he purchased a bottle, and after taking some half dozen bottles now enjoys quiet and peaceful sleep, and eels like a new man.

We could give hundreds of similar extracts, telling of the healthy, natural sleep which is a balm to brain and body that has come to weary, sleepless sufferers through the use of Paine's Celery Compound, but these are surely enough to convince any one open to reason of the unequaled curative power of this remedy.

GENTLEMEN,—I have personally taken samples from a large stock of your Granulated Sugar, "REDPATH" brand, and carefully tested them by the Polariscope, and I find these samples to be as near to absolute purity as can be obtained by any process of Sugar Refining.

The test by the Polariscope showed in yesday's yield 99.90 per cent. of Pure Cane Sugar, which may be considered commercially as ABSOLUTELY PURE SUGAR.

THE WEATHER.

TORONTO, May 21—11 p.m.—The pressure is high from the lakes to the Atlantic and low over the Northwest States and our western territories. Light rain is falling this evening in Southwestern Ontario and in parts of Manitoba, but the day has been generally fair and pleasant in all parts of the Dominion. Moderate easterly winds prevailed in the lakes. Maximum temperatures: Calgary, 60°; Prince Albert, 74°; Winnipeg, 72°; Toronto, 59°; Montreal, 60°; Quebec, 58°; Halifax, 68°.

LOCAL TEMPERATURES YESTERDAY.

For 24 hours ending 8 p.m.—(Observations taken at 3 a.m., and 8 p.m.: Highest, 57°; lowest, 33°; mean (daily), 52°.

PROBABILITIES

For the next 24 hours for the lakes: East to south winds; cloudy to fair weather with local rains; southwest winds and higher temperature on Friday.

LONDON AND PRECINCTS.

Mass meeting in the skating rink, South London, to-night.

The Misses Cowan, of this city, have been visiting Mrs. Maxwell, Strathroy.

Nomination day will be a week from to-day. Mr. Wm. Glass is the returning officer for this city, and the hour for receiving nominations is 11 o'clock, in the City Hall.

There was a good market to-day, but sales were a little slow. Butter brought from 14 to 15 cents, eggs from 11 to 12 cents. There was a fine variety of flowers, most of which were in bloom.

An Ottawa telegram says: "Mr. Alex. Jacques, "The Old Man," is critically ill to-night. He is over 70 years of age." The "Old Man" is one of the best-known showmen on the continent, and had quite a large circle of acquaintances in this city.

P. C. Lancaster, who was appointed to the force about six weeks ago, attempted to step from a street car while it was in motion yesterday and slipped under the wheels. Several toes were badly jammed and he will be laid up for a week or two.

Mr. Francis Plank, of Port Huron, formerly of the township of Westminster, died at that place last week. The remains were taken to Strathroy and buried, Rev. Charles Smith conducting the funeral service. A wife and three children survive the deceased.

The Fraser House, Port Stanley, is now open for the reception of guests and several are there already from Chicago and other points. Under the able management of Mr. W. Fraser this popular and favorite summer resort is sure to keep up its prestige as a first-class summer hotel.

The Postoffice Department has been instructed that in future electrotype blocks may be sent to Canada and United States addresses at fifth-class rate (1 cent per ounce); but when addressed to other countries they will be liable to parcel rates. The old rate was 1 cent for four ounces.

The excursion to Port Stanley on Monday will furnish an excellent opportunity to parties desiring lots at London's summer resort, "New Orchard Beach," east of the village, where an auction of lots will take place at 11 a.m. The ease of access, splendid beach for bathing, etc., make the spot very attractive and desirable, as evidenced by the number of cottages now going up.

Mr. Joseph Holman, foreman in McClary's works, this city, left on Saturday for an extended visit through British Columbia and California. Mr. George McClary, who left a week previously, will meet him at Calgary. The two will travel together and will be absent about two months. Mr. Holman has been employed by the McClary firm for 31 years.

Another sign of Vancouver's growth metropolisward is shown by the many handsome new equipages to be seen on her streets. Messrs. Queen Bros. have just added to their already fine stock a handsome hack, valued at $1,000. The vehicle is certainly a credit to Vancouver, its shining outside, its luxuriously upholstered inside, and its silver-plated and beautifully ornamented lamps making it actually the "most stylish rig" in town. J. Campbell, of London, Ont., was the maker.—[Vancouver World.

Rev. Dr. Castle has many friends in London who will hear with regret that the reverend gentleman is again seriously ill. "We learn," says the Canadian Baptist, "that Dr. Castle, after preaching for about fifteen consecutive Sundays, has again felt obliged to relinquish his work and to seek relief from his malady by submitting to an operation similar to that which he underwent two years ago. He will have the profoundest sympathy of the readers of the Baptist, and their prayers for the successful issue of the operation."

Mr. John Odell, Medicine Hat immigration agent, returned yesterday from Western Ontario, where he spent six weeks in talking up this district. He spent most of the time among the farmers of Middlesex and Elgin counties. He says that a large number of them will visit this district during the coming summer. Many wealthy farmers and stock-raisers are desirous of emigrating to the Northwest. Mr. Odell brought up a carload of settlers' effects, among which is a beautiful span of road mares.—[Medicine Hat Times.

The Paris correspondent of the Boston Herald, writing of the Salon pictures, says: "I find also the names of several Canadians in the catalogue. Perhaps the best of the lot is Paul Peel, of London, Ont., who shows two canvases, "After the Bath," and a portrait. In the first he depicts the delicate and nicely-modeled backs of two naked little boys who are warming themselves before the stove after their bath. The reflection of the fire lightens up their little outstretched hands with a golden tint, and shows their tender flesh superbly."

Serious Accident.

A young man named Wesley Robinson, employed as core-maker in Wortman's foundry, met with a severe accident, yesterday afternoon, which will incapacitate him for some time. The young man was passing through the carpenter shop, when in some unaccountable way his right hand came in contact with a band saw which was in motion, mangling it in a horrible manner. It is feared he will lose the use of the last three fingers of the right hand. Dr. Gardiner dressed the injured member.

Mr. S. W. Wilson's Funeral.

The funeral of the late Mr. S. W. Wilson, organist of St. Andrew's Church, took place this morning from his late residence Queen's avenue, to the C. P. R. depot, and thence to Toronto. An impressive service was conducted at the house by Rev. J. A. Murray. The pall-bearers were all members of the choir—Messrs. J. W. McIntosh, Jas. Mason, Wm. Muir, F. Rossiter, Robt. Brebner and Robson. The mother and brother of Mrs. Wilson, who arrived in the city yesterday, and Mr. James McSween and Mr. C. R. Somerville (as a deputation from the congregation), accompanied the remains to Toronto. The deceased's brother preceded the cortege to Toronto yesterday to arrange for the funeral.

The Kansas Forger's Case.

At Osgoode Hall yesterday Judge Rose gave judgment on the motion for the discharge from custody of John Wesley Parker who is held here under the warrant of commitment of the junior judge of the County Court of Middlesex, for extradition to the United States on a charge of forgery. The second objection to the warrant was that there was no evidence of the forgery, the original note not having been produced to the defendants whose depositions were produced and acted upon, or before the county judge. Rose, J., is of the opinion upon this objection that the evidence before the county judge was not competent evidence to show forgery and that the prisoner is entitled to his discharge, unless there is power to set aside the commitment and remand the prisoner back to custody that a further examination may be held upon the original warrant. If by Monday next the counsel for the prosecution does not obtain an appointment to hear argument on the question of remand, order to go for the discharge of the prisoner. The other objections are overruled. Aylesworth and McKillop (London) for the prosecutors.

Particulars of Mrs. McArthur's Death.

A Nairn correspondent writes: Another old settler, Mrs. McArthur (mother of Dr. McArthur, of London,) has departed suddenly from our midst. For the past two or three weeks the deceased had been suffering from la grippe, but was recovering, so much that she was attending to her ordinary duties. On Thursday night, however, she retired to bed as usual and slept quietly. Her daughter, who slept in the same room, called to her early in the morning and receiving no answer, looked at her lying with her hand under her head, cold in death, without any signs of a single struggle. Her husband, Mr. James McArthur, was elder in the Presbyterian Church at Nairn, and died two and a half years ago. In the death of this estimable lady the church loses one of its most faithful workers. From infancy she taught her family to attend Sunday school and church and yet, although they are young men and women, they still followed her into Sunday school, in which she had charge of the infant class for many years, a post for which she was eminently fitted. Among the sick she was a welcome visitor. In the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society she held a distinguished place. In short, in every good word and work she was a "mother in Israel."

Sing Their Own Praises.

There are few, if any, in the great army of smokers who have not been, by experience, placed in a position to judge as to the merits of the "Norma" 10-cent cigar manufactured by H. McKay & Co., of London. In almost every cigar store and hotel in Canada this pet of all lovers of 10-cent goods has found its way, and is finding rapid and constantly increased sale. Unlike other similar goods, its fame is not of a transient nature. The "Norma" contains all the merits of the imported cigar, and has in many cases supplanted its more expensive rivals, and each successive season but adds to its host of admiring consumers.

The large establishment of H. McKay & Co. is kept continually engaged in supplying the demands made upon them for the "Norma."

DIVORCE.

Both the press and the public of our Province to-day realize the great necessity for the establishment of courts for the special purpose of trying divorce cases. The Maritime Provinces have long had these tribunals, and the people of Ontario are awaking to the fact that if divorce is right and constitutional the means of obtaining it should not be, as at present, through the long and tedious routine of Parliamentary discussion, but through a court with regular sessions, where all grievances of a marital nature could be ventilated and justice administered without partiality. The time has come when we as a body should with one loud, resistless voice demand legislation to this effect, and recognize the one great and important fact that Cottam's Washing Compound is the safest and most reliable means of divorcing dirt of every description from clothes and all articles of domestic use, and for utterly destroying all germs of infectious diseases. The sale of this compound is increasing daily, and wherever introduced it has never failed to give the greatest satisfaction. When ordering your groceries be sure and include a packet of the above compound, as it can be obtained from all grocers, and when once used it will become essential.
