Britain Will Isolate Germany From Outside World, Says Premier Asquith

MINISTER SAYS ROUMANIA IS PLEDGED TO JOIN ALLIES

LOCATION OF CANADIANS IN FRANCE DETERMINED

COMPLETE BLOCKADE DECLARED BY BRITAIN

[Canadian Press.]

London, March 1.—4:37 p.m.—"Germany has driven her opponents to adopt retaliatory measures to prevent commodities of every kind from reaching or leaving Germany," said Premier Asquith, in the House of Commons today.

Referring to the German naval campaign against British shipping, Premier Asquith declared that Germany had violated systematically all the conventions intended for the mitigation of warfare. She had taken further steps, the Premier said, by organizing "an under-sea campaign of piracy and pillage." Germany, he declared, was not blockading, and could never blockade, English shores.

The proposed measures of reprisal against Germany, the Premier said, would be enforced with strict observance of the dictates of humanity, but the Allies did not purpose "to allow their efforts to be strangled in a network of judicial niceties." There was no intention, he explained, to confiscate detained ships or cargoes unless they were liable to confiscation under the ordinary conditions of war.

The Premier declared that the Allies would hold themselves free to capture goods wherever there was a presumption that such goods were destined for the use of their enemies or had been sent from hostile countries.

NEVER MORE CONFIDENT.

[Canadian Press.]

London, March 1.—4:26 p.m.—Speaking in the House of Commons today, Premier Asquith made the declaration that at no time had the Government been more confident than today that the Allies ultimately would achieve victory.

Referring to what he termed whispers of peace, Premier Asquith said it was not time to talk of peace; that this time would arrive "only when the great purposes of the Allies are in sight of accomplishment."

CANADIANS IN TRENCHES NEAR LILLE; LIEUTENANT AND ONE PRIVATE KILLED

ALLIANCE WITH TURKEY THE MOST TREMENDOUS BLUNDER GERMANY MADE

The tremendous blunder Germany made in forcing Turkey into a fighting alliance comes into bold light as the successful bombardment of the Dardanelles proceeds.

With Turkey out of the war the Dardanelles could have been kept closed to belligerents, and Russia would have been cut off from supplies through the Mediterranean.

With the prospect of the Dardanelles being open Russia will take on tremendous vigor. The sea routes will be open to her, it will be possible for her to transport men to Southern France, her fleet will be released, and another great army forcing the fight into Turkish territory may be a force for Austria to contend with. On the other hand there is a prospect of the western Allies sending aid to Russia or Roumania. The Roumanians, backed by a large British army, could invade Austria at a vital point. Turkey will be hemmed in by Allied fleets and completely isolated. With the British naval blockade put into effect, both on the lower border and in the North Sea, where do food supplies come from?

Observers see in the smashing of the Dardanelles forts a tremendous new force in the war, brought to bear at great cost perhaps, but of such moment that success may bring the allied enemies to their knees. Most critical of all times is the present stage of the great conflict.

Relatives Notified That Former Met Death in Action in France.

LOCATION DETERMINED

Private Cardew, of Quebec, Dead as Result of an Accident.

(Canadian Press.)

Halifax, N. S., March 1.—The relatives here of Lieut. Boggs, of the first Canadian contingent, have been notified of his death in action near Lille, France.

LOCATION INDICATED

Unofficial reports from the front last week recorded that the first Canadian contingent had been in action in the first line trenches and it was claimed that casualties had occurred. The announcement that the death of Lieut. Boggs took place near Lille, is the first official indication of the location of the Canadians in the firing line.

WAS IN FUSILIERS

The news of Lieutenant Boggs' death was received last night in a telegram received by his uncle, H. A. Boggs, of the postoffice department. Lieut. Boggs was a member of the 86th Fusiliers. His father, Baumont Boggs, went to British Columbia after serving in the Riel rebellion. Another son of Baumont Boggs is also at the front as a lieutenant in the 29th Lancers of the Indian Army.

PRIVATE VICTIM OF ACCIDENT.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, March 1.—It is officially announced that No. 8646, Pte. Richard Thomas Cardew, 2nd Battalion, Canadian expeditionary force, has been killed. No particulars are given. His next of kin is Mrs. Amy Cardew, 12 St. Aimon street, Quebec.

DACIA CASE RESTS IN FRENCH COURTS

Washington Will Await Decision Before Taking Any Further Action.

BRITAIN'S CLEVER MOVE

New York World Says She Smartly Escapes Controversy With States.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, March 1.—Seizure of the American steamer Dacia, formerly a Hamburg-American liner, by a French cruiser, which took the vessel to Brest, places the entire question of the validity of a transfer of flags after the outbreak of hostilities before the prize court of France for adjudication.

The practice of Britain, it has been contended by officials of the American Government, conforms pretty much to the doctrines of the United States, many 'transfers having been recognized in the past.

France Objects.

But the claim has been set up in various quarters during the present war that France has a traditional and unalterable opposition to any transfers of registry whatsoever during war.

No move will be made by the United States Government until the French prize courts render a decision. If it fails to recognize the legality of the transfer, a protest will be entered.

SMART IDEA.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, March 1.—Commenting on the seizure of the Dacia the World this morning says: "American interest in the case of the Dacia, from now on will rest principally on the manner in which this particular ship happened to fall into the hands of French. It is probable that Great Britain was disinclined to meet the issue in its own courts. The French will find no difficulty in treating the ship as an enemy vessel, but if the British had done so, they would have had to ignore several precedents. As it is, France gets the Dacia and Great Britain cleverly escapes a sharp controversy with the United States."

Rather a Relief.

The Herald says: "No official surprise has been shown in Washington over the capture by a French cruiser of the steamship Dacia. Transferred of late from German to American register, the feeling seems, on the contrary, to be one of relief, as tending to make this seizure and the detention of the Wilhelmina separate issues."

Will Ask Reparation.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, March 1.—Official notification of the seizure by the French Government of the steamship Dacia, formerly of the Hamburg-American Line, has not been received by E. N. Breitung, owner of the vessel. In a statement published here today, Mr. Breitung said that "I know our Government will, if necessary, ask for reparation due to any American citizen acting within his rights." Continuing, the statement says:

"I know of no correct statement of international law that can be invoked against the Dacia, and I purpose to demand my rights.

Says She Is American.

"The American Government would not have granted this vessel the right to fly the Stars and Stripes if it had not meant that it would be recognized and respected by every foreign power. The Dacia is as much an American ship as our laws can make her, and I expect her to sail from foreign ports once more for our shores, flying the American flag.

"I have no interest in the cargo of the Dacia. The vessel is insured in England, through private insurance companies. I have recently purchased an English vessel, and I am now in the market for two more. I do not care whether they are French or German."

ARRANGING FREIGHT RATES.

[Canadian Press.]

Chicago, March 1.—Vice-presidents and traffic managers of all the transcontinental railroads of the United States met here today to arrange freight rates to comply with the recent order of the interstate commerce commission lowering rates to coast terminals and increasing rates to intermediate points.

BELIEVES IN EVANGELISM

Distinct Demand For New Type of It, Declares Rev. Dr. Gordon.

BUT ONE WAR RESULT

Great Britain Will Surely Win —United States Favors Mother Country.

"The United States cities may have Billy Sunday, but I believe Rev. Dr. J. L. Gordon, of Winnipeg, will do the city of London more good than any evangelist we have ever had," said one of the most conservative of London's ministers to The Advertiser this morning.

"I hope you will do all you can to attract people to his meetings. He's a good advertiser, and you newspapermen should like him for that."

"Yes, and from what we have seen and heard of him we like him for more than that," said the scribe. "Newspapermen don't always believe in evangelists, but Dr. Gordon's sincerity and simplicity have impressed Londoners already."

These meetings are to continue for three weeks. They promise to be historic in religious London.

"There can only be one result as far as the war is concerned, and that is the final triumph of Great Britain," declared Dr. J. L. Gordon, of Winnipeg, who is conducting a three weeks' Christian itinerary with The Advertiser today. "If the American people considered for a moment that the result was in doubt, their attitude would at once change from neutrality to affiliation. The crisis of the war will be reached when Kitchener's army of a million men go into the field. It will be the beginning of the end.

"I think that the war will end sooner than most people imagine," continued Dr. Gordon, "and it will end suddenly. Some combination of events will bring a cessation of hostilities. The result of the whole conflict will put the British Emipre in a position to lead the way to the first great parliament of the nations, which will result in universal disarmament and a small international police force.

London Attractive City.

"I have been in London but a short time. London strikes a visitor as being one of the most attractive cities in the Dominion, while all signs point to the fact that it is an up-to-date community, and a progressive one. The people appear to be conservative, but it is conservatism of the educated man. By the audiences that I have addressed, I should judge that they have intelligence above the average. Intelligence of this sort is slow to move, but when it does, it moves in the right direction and means something. The intelligent man is not apt to be the overemotional man. He goes through the world head first. I expect to have a successful campaign in this city.

"I strongly believe in evangelistic work. I don't believe that there will be a time when the church can get along without evangelism. I believe that there is a distinct demand for a new type of evangelism.

Street Vocabulary Not Needed.

"I am of the opinion that the work of certain well-known evangelists is open to severe criticism from the standpoint of those who are unselfishly interested in the extension of the kingdom of Jesus Christ. I don't believe it is necessary for an evangelist to descend to the language of the street and the vocabulary of the red-light district in order to bring men and women into the kingdom of God, and that however popular and successful some evangelists may be, I think that the man who deals with vital truths as touching all human relationship, with earnestness and spirit and unction of

FRENCH PEOPLE WILD IN WELCOME TO CANADIANS ON WAY TO TRENCHES

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

London, March 1.—A letter received here this morning gives some interesting details of the Canadian contingent's life in France. The writer is Percy Buttery, who was on the Hamilton Spectator staff at the time of his enlistment in the Canadian ammunition column. "Owing to very rigid censorship," he says, "I am unable to tell you exactly how we got here or, exactly where we are now.

"We had a pretty rough passage across, far rougher than anything I experienced in my two crossings of the Atlantic.

Great Receptions.

"Upon our arrival we met a great reception, and it was evident the Dominion troops who had preceded us had established themselves in the affections of the French people, particularly the female portion thereof. Crowds lined the streets, cheering loudly, clamorously asking for souvenirs.

"All along the route we met an equally enthusiastic reception. Union Jacks were flying from all public streets, and in point of number seriously rivalled the French national emblem.

"One feature of the crowd which impressed me more than anything else was the large number of young women dressed in deep mourning.

"At two stations en route, girls handed us postcards, on which were written their names and addresses, with bitter denunciations of the Germans, and requesting us to send cards back from the front.

Near Firing Line.

"Eventually we arrived at the village in which we now are billeted, and which is about nine miles from the firing line. We can hear daily booming of guns while at night rockets are used by both sides. This village, however, and its neighborhood are so peaceful and quiet, and the inhabitants so calm that it scarcely seems possible a big battle is raging a short distance away.

"This village was in possession of the German for a couple of days, but they were driven out by bayonets right back to the position in which they are now entrenched, and from which in a few days we hope to shift them. In the very field in which our horses are now picketed nineteen Germans are buried, and large numbers of others in different places round about.

ROUMANIA TO ASSIST ALLIES

Minister of Interior Says the British Loan Proves This Settled.

RESERVES BEING CALLED

Senior Students At Military College Drafted Into the Regular Army.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, March 1.—Take Jonescu, Roumanian minister of the interior, informed a meeting of Conservative Democrats, who were discontented with the party's policy, according to special dispatches from Bucharest, that he had refrained from attacking the Government because J. J. C. Bratiano, former Premier and Minister of the Interior, had concluded a formal agreement for common action with the Triple Entente powers—Great Britain, France and Russia.

Loan Is Proof.

Proof of this would be found, Jonescu said, in the Roumanian loan made in London, which it would have been impossible to arrange if the Bucharest Cabinet had not made a categorical statement of its position.

A Bucharest newspaper has announced that ten classes of reserves have been called out for March 13, and that senior students in the military colleges have been drafted into the regular army with the rank of non-commissioned officers.

Allies Expect Her Help.

The confident belief has been expressed in Britain, France and Russia that Roumania eventually would enter the war on the side of the Allies. A dispatch from Paris on February 24 said the Matin's Bucharest correspondent had obtained information that Nicholas Misu, Roumanian minister to London, soon would return to Britain with a note assuring the British Government that the Roumanian army would take the field in April.

Loan of $25,000,000.

An agreement was signed in London on January 27 providing for a loan of $25,000,000 from the Bank of England to the Bank of Roumania against Roumanian treasury bills. The loan was a result of the visit to London of the Roumanian finance commission.

Take Jonescu was reported in December to have declared that "any nation keeping out of the present struggle commits moral, political and economic suicide." He was credited with having declared that Roumania "must not commit such a crime."

NOTICE OF COMING BLOCKADE GIVEN

British and French Ambassadors Notify Sec. Bryan—Sketch Reprisals.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, March 1.—Great Britain and France served notice on the United States today that they would hold themselves at liberty to stop all shipping hereafter to and from Germany. A communication, outlining measures of reprisal on the part of the Allies for the submarine warfare on merchant ships conducted by Germany was delivered to Secretary Bryan by the British and French ambassadors here, who called personally at the state department together for that purpose.

Secretary Bryan promptly apprised President Wilson of the new move, but declined to make any statement. What the nature of the step is was not disclosed by the ambassadors, who intimated that the state department would make all announcements on the subject.

ARMY SERVICE CORPS SCHOOL INSTRUCTION LIKELY FOR LONDON

Will Be Started About Middle of April—Captain Keene Is Making Arrangements.

Another Army Service Corps school of instruction will be started at the Armories here in all probability about the middle of April.

Captain Arthur H. Keene, senior officer of the 16th Army Service Corps, sent a request to the authorities at Ottawa recently, asking whether arrangements could be made for a school in this city. The request was answered Saturday night, in a communication, telling Captain Keene to enlist as many men as possible, and if a sufficient number were recruited, the matter of a school of instruction would be considered about the middle of April.

A number of men so far have been enlisted. About 23 sergeants are still wanted. The establishment of commissioned officers is complete.

Men wishing to enlist may do so on Tuesday and Thursday evenings in the Army Service Corps rooms at the Armories.

It is expected confidently that all the strikers will be back at work not later than Wednesday.

ABOLISH PROPERTY REQUIREMENTS FOR MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS

Labor Men From London and Other Cities Ask Premier For Change.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, March 1.—Labor men, representing workers' organizations in Toronto, Hamilton, Berlin, London and other points called upon Hon. W. H. Hearst and his colleagues this morning to urge the Government to bring in legislation this session abolishing the property requirement for running for office in municipal elections.

The deputation made out a strong case and received an encouraging reception. The Prime Minister did not tell the labor men, as he did the suffragists, that since it was a war session no legislation could be brought down. He questioned them closely upon a number of essential points, and assured them that the subject would have the full consideration of the Government.

Prussian Casualty Lists Mounting Up

Total Now 1,102,212, Exclusive of Bavarians, Saxons and Wurtembergers.

[Canadian Press.]

London, March 1.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Copenhagen wires: Seven more lists of Prussian casualties are published. They contain the names of 11,418 officers and men killed, wounded or missing and bring the total of the Prussian casualties up to 1,102,212.

To these must be added 156 Bavarian, 113 Saxon, 125 Wurtemberg, and 19 naval lists.

PLEADED GUILTY TO MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

Canadian Money To Finance Hospital

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

London, March 1.—Word has been received here today that the Canadian Red Cross would guarantee the raising of the additional money necessary to bring the Duchess of Connaught's Canadian military hospital up to 500 beds, and so enable it to become the base hospital for the Canadian contingent. The present accommodation of the hospital is 100.

Official Statements

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, March 1—Via London, 3:22 a.m.—The war office gave out the following statement this afternoon:

"There is nothing to add to the communication of yesterday evening, except that in Champagne the different supporting positions we successively secured form a continuous chain two kilometres in length to the north and northwest of Perthes, and that in the Vosges our attacks made slight progress at Chapelotte, three kilometres north of Celles."

GERMAN REPORT.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, March 1, by wireless to London, 2:55 p.m.—The official announcement on the progress of the war, given out in Berlin today, contains a statement that the French forces have begun the use of a special artillery shell, which spreads a poisonous gas on exploding.

The text of the communication follows:

"In the western arena of the war—Near Verviers, north of Lille, a British flying machine has been forced to descend by our fire. At a certain part of our front the French have made use of, as they have done on previous occasions, a particular kind of shell, which, on exploding, throws out evil-smelling and poisonous gases, which, however, did no damage.

"Our positions in the Champagne country were repeatedly attacked yesterday by at least two army corps. These forces were repulsed after fierce fighting at close quarters.

Took Mine-Throwers.

"In the Argonne we captured mine-throwers. Between the eastern border of the Argonne and Vauquois, the French made five attempts yesterday to break through our line. All these attacks were broken down with heavy losses to the enemy.

"The positions which we have occupied to the southwest of Badonvillers were retained yesterday, in spite of the attempts of the enemy to recapture them.

"In the eastern arena of the war.—We repulsed Russian attacks north of Consha and northwest of Ostrolenka. Otherwise there was nothing of importance to report."

STEAMER DRIFTING IN MID-ATLANTIC

Wireless Calls For Tow Received From Tritonian. An Unknown Vessel.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, March 1.—An unidentified steamship is drifting, with all propeller blades shorn off, near the middle of the Atlantic, according to the log of the American Line steamer New York, which reached here today from Liverpool.

The New York was spoken by wireless on Thursday last by the British steamer Milwaukee, bound from Canadian ports for Liverpool. The Milwaukee advised the New York of the drifting steamer's plight, and fixed her location as latitude 41, longitude 45.20. The name of the steamship was given as the Tritonian in the wireless message, but maritime records here failed to disclose any such name.

According to the wireless message, the Tritonian requested a tow, and added that except for the loss of her propeller blades all was well aboard.

BILLION DOLLARS IN WAR SUPPLIES

United States' Factories Profit Immensely Through Conflict.

ALLIES ARE THE BUYERS

All War Material Said To Be Transferred to British Boats Here.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—One billion dollars is a conservative estimate of the value of trade in war supplies between the allies of Europe and the manufacturers of the United States during the first year of the war, according to Washington information.

It has not been possible for American manufacturers to furnish war supplies to Germany because of the interruption of trade with that country. In the last six months the Allies have bought from the United States $400,000,000 worth of war supplies. Many of the manufacturers in the United States hold contracts with the British, French and Russian Governments which have at least nine months, and in some instances two years longer, to run.

So enormous has the trade in war supplies grown that Government officials in charge of exports statistics for the department of commerce admit the incorrectness of their figures. Those in charge of the domestic and export commerce bureau at Washington confess that the figures issued by the department convey no idea of the tremendous traffic in war supplies.

Shipped Through Canada.

Principally all war material destined for use of the Allies is now shipped by the American manufacturer or producer to Canada, where it is transshipped in British bottoms to England. Even war supplies for France were delivered in Canada, shipped to England and distributed from there.

Of the four hundred and odd million dollars already spent or contracted for, the following industries have secured the bulk:

Arms, ammunition and explosives, $107,000,000; iron and steel, $66,000,000; textiles, hosiery, sweaters, etc., $32,000,000; automobiles, $22,000,000; chemicals, medicines and hospital supplies, $6,250,000; leather, including shoes, harness, etc, $18,000,000; miscellaneous, including beef, some flour, sugar and provisions, $161,000,000. Total to Feb. 1, $41,250,000.

The Allies, through agents and by direct correspondence, have bought up or contracted for principally the entire output of the factories of the United States manufacturing arms, ammunition and explosives.

BLYTH TELEPHONE CO. ADDS MANY SUBSCRIBERS

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CLINTON, Feb. 28.—The Blyth telephone system is now doing the long-distance work for the Bell Company, and as a result, the town of Clinton has added 500 rural phones to its already large list of subscribers.

The Blyth company has a large number of subscribers in Hullett Township, quite close to the town of Clinton, and the board of trade here has been trying for some time to secure connection with these people, but the Bell Company refused to give the connection until the railway board had given an order regarding it.

This order has now been passed, and arrangements made for the connections to be made at Blyth. At present, the long-distance rate is 15 cents, but this is likely to be reduced, as the advantage of such a connection is mutual.

Clinton is still handicapped by not having better connection with Colborne Township, and efforts are being made to have it secured.

Where Allies Are Splitting Turkey

KINCARDINE BOY DIES FROM WOUND

Death Results From Almost Total Loss of Blood.

FRIEND'S RIFLE WENT OFF

Leg Amputated, Lives Six Hours — May Be An Inquest.

KINCARDINE, Feb. 28. — Edward Kennedy, accidentally shot on Saturday while hunting with a companion, died last night after suffering greatly for six hours. His death was caused by an almost total loss of blood before surgical assistance could be secured. Kennedy, who was 16, and his companion, Albert Wilson, aged 17, a son of John Wilson, started out after dinner for an afternoon's shooting. While going along the river hollow, the muzzle of Wilson's gun came in contact with the back of Kennedy's leg, the gun going off and shattering the bone above the knee.

Went to Secure Help.

Wilson picked up his fallen companion and carried him for about half a mile. Tired out, and hearing sleigh bells, he left Kennedy and ran to secure help, finding Alexander Hoglin, driving, on his way to meet the afternoon train.

Mr. Hoglin hurriedly turned his team about, and driving down into the river hollow, the wounded youth was lifted into the sleigh and driven to the home of his father, Hugh Kennedy.

Dr. McLeod was called, and with the assistance of Dr. Ferguson, amputated the leg.

Could Not Stop Blood.

Mr. Hoglin and young Wilson endeavored to stop the flow of blood from Kennedy's leg when he was placed in the sleigh by tying handkerchiefs above the wound, but were unable to do so effectively. He was very weak when his home was reached.

The question of holding an inquest has been raised, but it is not known definitely whether there will be one. Preparations for the funeral are being made in the meantime.

BRITISH WARSHIP STRUCK BY SHELL

Three Men Killed and Five Wounded On H. M. S. Agamemnon.

SHELLING DARDANELLES

Admiralty Tells of Destruction of Outer Forts and Advance Up Straits.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, Feb. 28.—The Admiralty announced last night that during the bombardment of the Dardanelles fortifications the battleship Agamemnon had been struck and that three men were killed. The announcement said further that the Dardanelles operations were still proceeding.

The new battleship Queen Elizabeth, one of the largest members of the British fleet, took part in the bombardment. This is the first time, it is stated, in which fifteen-inch naval guns have been in action. The Queen Elizabeth, a vessel of 27,500 tons, has eight fifteen-inch guns.

The Admiralty announcement says that landing parties went ashore from the allied fleet. With their assistance three of the four forts at the entrance to the Dardanelles were completely demolished and the fourth was damaged badly.

Official Statement.

The Admiralty statement follows:

"The entrance to the Dardanelles was guarded by four principal forts, namely, Cape Helles Battery, Fort Seddul Bahr, Fort Orkhanish Tabia and Fort Kum Kalessi Tabia, which will be described for convenience as A, B, C and D. These forts were armed as follows: A, two 9.2 guns; B, six 10.2 guns; C, two 9.2 guns; D, four 10.2 and two 5.9 guns.

"The weather having improved, although the wind was still from the southwest, the attack on these forts was resumed on Thursday morning, February 25, at 10 o'clock. The Queen Elizabeth, Agamemnon, Irresistible and Gautois began by deliberately bombarding Forts A, B, C and D respectively at long range.

"Fort A replied. One shell at 11,000 yards hit the Agamemnon, killing three men and seriously wounding five. The Irresistible and Gautois made excellent practice on Forts C and D, while the Queen Elizabeth concentrated with great accuracy on Fort A, putting both of its guns of action by about 11:30 a.m.

"The Vengeance and Cornwallis then ran in under cover of long range fire and engaged Fort A at close range. The reduction of Fort A was completed, while Forts C and D opened a very slow and inaccurate fire.

"The Suffern and Charlemagne next delivered an attack on Forts C and D, advancing to within two thousand yards of them. It was then seen that they were in no condition to offer an effective resistance.

"The Vengeance, Triumph and Albion were then ordered in to complete the reduction of the forts. All four were reduced by 5:15 p.m.

Mine Sweepers at Work.

"Sweeping operations, covered by a division of battleships and destroyers, were immediately begun. The enemy set fire to a village at the entrance as darkness fell.

"A report also has been received of the operations of February 26. The straits had been swept to four miles from the entrance. The Albion and Majestic, supoprted by the Vengeance, proceeded to the limit of the swept area and began an attack on Fort Dardanus, and some new batteries which had been erected on the Asiatic shore. The fire in reply was ineffective.

"After being shelled from inside the straits, the enemy retired from the forts at the entrance and during the afternoon demolishing parties were landed at Kum Kale and Seddul Bahr (Sed El Bar) from the Vengeance and Irresistible. Forts A, B and C were then completely and Fort D was partially, demolished.

"The enemy encountered in Kum Kale were driven out over the Mendere bridge, which was partially destroyed. Two new four-inch guns, concealed near the tomb of Achilles, were also destroyed, and four Nordenfelts covering the entrance were destroyed. Our casualties on the 26th were one killed and three wounded."

GERMANY IS LACKING PILOTS FOR ZEPPELINS

GENEVA, Switz., Feb., 28.—Via Paris, 4:50 p.m.—Reports received here apparently confirm the loss in the Adriatic Sea, with its crew, of one of the smaller type of Zeppelins sent from Friedrichshafen to Pola (the Austrian naval base), early in February.

Work is said to be continuing day and night at the Zeppelin base at Friedrichshafen on airships intended to replace four which recently were lost because of accidents. Some difficulty is being experienced in finding capable pilots.

FIRST CANADIAN UNDER THE KNIFE

Pte. John Davis, of Renfrew, Has Shrapnel in Foot.

CONTINGENT IS HEALTHY

Comfortable and Placid in Trenches Under Hail of Bullets.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

LONDON, Feb. 28.—The first surgical operation on a wounded member of the Canadian contingent at the Queens' Canadian Military Hospital at Shorncliffe was performed yesterday.

When The Advertiser correspondent visited the hospital, Col. Armour was just starting to remove several pieces of shrapnel from the foot of Private John Davis, of Renfrew, Ont., who was wounded while serving with the 2nd Battalion of the 1st Brigade. The surgeon-in-chief was assisted by Dr. Wallace, of Toronto, the resident surgeon, and Dr. Charles J. Stewart, of Calgary administered the anaesthetic. With the aid of an X-ray photograph taken by Dr. Wallace, the shrapnel was located and removed within a quarter of an hour. The ambulance on which the patient was wheeled from the ward to the operating room was the gift of the Girls' Friendly Society of St. Peter's Church, Coburg, Ont., the birthplace of Dr. Armour.

Out of the proceeds of a concert recently given by Lady Markham, two glass verandas and shelters are being erected, which will afford a lounge for convalescents, which will be both healthy and picturesque.

Toronto Major In Hospital.

Major George H. Higinbotham, of Toronto, who arrived at the hospital from the front, is suffering from gastric ulcers, necessitating surgical treatment. He was second in command of the 3rd Battalion, 1st Brigade, a Toronto regiment largely composed of the Queens' Own Rifles. He was sick before leaving Salisbury, but refused to fall out, and when the battalion entered the trenches ten days ago, still refused to be left behind. It was only when the command was relieved from the trenches at the end of six days that Major Higinbotham was obliged to surrender to the physical suffering. Mrs. Higinbotham is with him at Shorncliffe.

Hardly Saw Enemy.

In discussing his experiences in the trenches, Major Higinbotham said the Canadians hardly had a look at the enemy during the six days before they were relieved, and all that time it seemed as though neither side made any perceptible headway. It was one constant rain of bullets and shrapnel, endangering the life of any man leaving cover. The contingent had braziers with them in the trenches. During the time he was under fire, no attempts were made at charges. While the contingent has been brigaded with Imperial troops, it is believed that this is only a temporary arrangement for instruction purposes, and it is expected that later it will go forward as a division. The health of the contingent has been generally good in France, although influenza has been prevalent.

Others In Hospital.

Other recent entrants at the Shorncliffe hospital are Corporal John Jacques, Privates Bristowe, Rooks, Jordan, all sick, and Private Snider, wounded, of the Patricias, and Corporal Deeves, of the Canadian Engineers, sick. The hospital authorities also expected five more last night.

Lieut. K. Bell Irving, of the East Surrey Regiment, recently reported wounded, is a member of a family with twelve representatives at the front, five in English units, six with the Canadian contingent and one with the legion of frontiersmen. One member of the family was wounded in the Scarborough bombardment.

INDIAN WAS ANGRY BEFORE HE WAS SHOT

Squaws Testify In Trial of Sharkey, Charged With Murder.

[Special to the Advertiser.]

SARNIA, Feb. 28.—The preliminary hearing of Sidney Shorkey, caretaker of Russell Island, who is charged with the murder of Archie Altman, a Walpole Island Indian, was begun Saturday in the Port Huron Police Court before Judge Black.

When court convened, the room was crowded with spectators who were anxious to get a look at Shorkey and also follow the testimony. The prisoner presented a sad picture as he sat with bowed head. He weighs about 240 pounds and has a dejected mien. Beside the whites, there were several Indians and squaws in the court, and they will give evidence.

Dr. W. E. Boswick, of Algonac, the first witness, stated that death had been caused by a bullet which entered the breast and passed directly through the body.

Eye-Witnesses Testify.

Laura Soney, a young Indian girl, who resides on Walpole Island, testified that, together with Lizzie Altman, another squaw and sister-in-law of the murdered man, she was returning to Walpole from Algonac. They had crossed the river on the ice and at the time that they met Altman they were crossing Russell Island on the path used by the Indians during the winter months.

Indian Was in Temper.

Miss Soney stated that Altman accosted them and threw the Altman woman to the ground, in a fit of temper. They walked away for some distance and saw Shorkey come from the shanty, which is alongside the path. The two women halted at the edge of the island next to the Canadian side and heard Shorkey address Altman and inquire for the reason for throwing the woman to the ground. She also stated that she heard Shorkey order Altman from the island.

Heard Two or Three Shots.

It was 7 o'clock in the evening and quite dark, so the witness testified. She further stated that she heard two or three shots and at that she and the Altman women ran for Walpole Island, as they realized that something had happened.

The Altman woman was then called to the stand, but as she could not talk English, it was necessary for the court to adjourn until Chief Jacobs, of the Sarnia Reserve, could be secured as an interpreter.

HAD DYSPEPSIA

So Bad Could Not Take a Drink of Water Without Suffering.

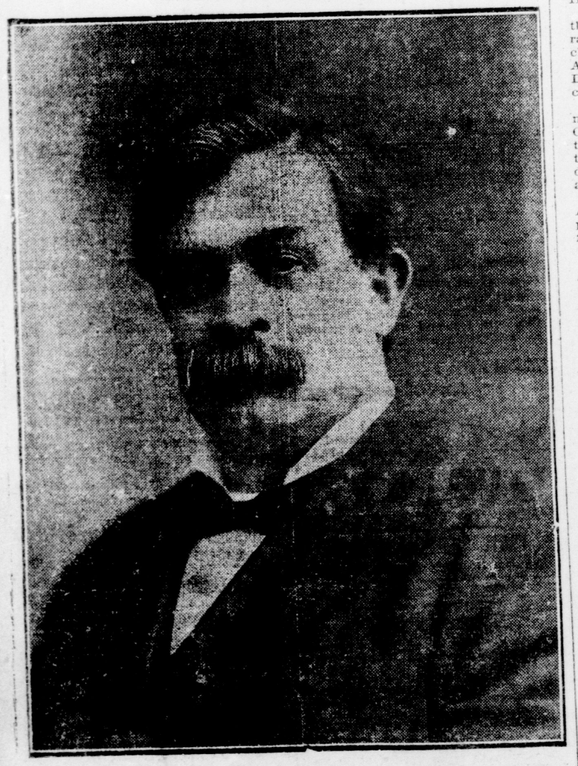

Dyspepsia is one of the most difficult diseases of the stomach there is to cure. You eat too much. Drink too much. Use too much tobacco. You make the stomach work overtime. You make it perform more than it should be called on to do. The natural result is that it is going to rebel against the amount of work put on it. It is only a matter of a short time before dyspepsia follows.

That old, 40-year-old remedy, Burdock Blood Bitters, will cure the dyspepsia and will cure it to stay cured as we can prove by the thousands of testimonials we have received from time to time.

Miss Sarah McRae, Newfield, Ont., writes: "I write to say that I have used your Burdock Blood Bitters, and have found it the best remedy I have ever used for dyspepsia. Two years ago I had stomach trouble so bad that I could not even take a drink of water without suffering. I took six bottles of B.B.B. and have been entirely cured, and can now eat anything without any bad after effects.

Burdock Blood Bitters is an old and well-tried remedy, but on account of the many substitutes we would ask you to make sure that our name appears on both the label and wrapper, as this preparation is manufactured only by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MR. JUDD WRATHY IN POLICE COURT

Clapping of Hands, Following C. P. R. Man's Acquittal, Reason of Anger.

HARVEY WHAM IS FREE

Was Charged With Cashing Two Stolen Checks in Toronto Business Places.

"For very little I'd give you men ten days in jail," said Police Magistrate J. C. Judd today to a number of men in the courtroom who applauded his worship when he acquitted Harvey Wham, a Canadian Pacific brakeman of a charge of stealing two railway checks.

His worship had no sooner finished telling Wham he was acquitted when a number of men in the courtroom, which was crowded to the doors, commenced to clap their hands and stamp their feet.

"Order, order," shouted the court attendants.

"Pick those men out who did the applauding," said his honor.

Chief of Police W. T. E. Williams and the court attendants picked out a number of men and lined them up in front of the magistrate.

Applauding Too Common.

"This court is just as much a court as any other court in the country, and this thing of applauding a decision is getting altogether too common. For very little I'd give you men ten days in jail, which, I think, would be a lesson. You may go now," said his worship, his face an ashen white and his voice trembling with rage.

Wham was arrested a week ago by Canadian Pacific Railway Detective Robert Holding on a charge of stealing one check valued at $27.98, and another for $5.35, from the east side C. P. R. depot. The first check was for wages for William Kellet, of Toronto, and the second was made out to W. G. Young, the jeweler.

Looked Like Man.

Brenard Price, an employee of Powell's shoe store, West Toronto, swore in the witness box that the $5.35 check was cashed by him on a sale of a $4 pair of shoes. In the witness-box Price said that the prisoner looked like the man who cashed the check, but that he was not positive Wham was the one.

Jean Campbell, cashier in Rowntree's, West Toronto, meat market, in the witness-box said that she cashed the $27.93 check on the purchase of a 44-cent steak. Miss Campbell said that while Wham looked somewhat like the man who tendered the check, she would not swear that he was the man.

Handwriting Expert.

City Treasurer James Bell was called as a handwriting expert, but as some of the writing was in pencil and some in ink Mr. Bell stated that it would be hard to make any comparison. In one instance he said there was some similarity.

A number of railwaymen gave minor testimony.

Edmund Meredith, K.C., appearing for the prisoner, and Detective Holding had a slight argument over a signed statement that Holding dictated to Brenard Price, of Toronto.

The case was one of great interest to railwaymen. Nearly two hundred of them attended the trial.

Friends of Wham stated after the trial that Mr. Meredith's client would likely taken action against the detective for damages.

SCHOOL CHILDREN "COLD-SHOULDER" VACCINATION DAY

Average Number of Youngsters Who Came Forward, 40 in Each School.

Public school children gave "Vaccination Day" the cold shoulder in the schools today. The average number of children who offered themselves for vaccination was about 35 or 40 in each school.

London physicians spent a busy afternoon, each school having several doctors detailed by the board of health to vaccinate the children.

In St. George's school, which has an enrollment close to 1,000 scholars, only about 60 were vaccinated. About half this number came up for the ordeal in the Talbot street school. About 35 offered themselves at Rectory street school, but over 100 of the students here had been vaccinated only a few weeks ago.

Grand avenue and several of the other schools will not be visited by the physicians until Tuesday.

TEMPERANCE DELEGATION FROM HERE TO TORONTO

Local Men and Women Expect Visit To Be of Benefit.

One of the most important temperance delegations which has ever gone from this city will leave for Toronto Tuesday to attend the annual provincial and Dominion conventions which will be held there on Tuesday and Wednesday. Among the delegates will be Professor J. H. Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Ashplant, Mr. and Mrs. William Heaman, Mrs. May R. Thornley, Thomas Baty, Alfred Pack, W. T. Mossop and G. Keendeyside.

"We expect that this year's session will easily be the most important ever held," said one of the members this afternoon. "There is a large amount of most important legislation to be considered and we expectto make substantial gains."

DOESN'T WANT CASUALTY WORD SENT TO HER DIRECT

Mother of London Lieutenant Asks That Notification Go To Another Relative.

One of the telegraph companies has been notified by the mother of one of the London lieutenants serving at the front that if telegrams relating to his death or injury should come they are not to be sent to her, but to the place of business of another relative.

Everyone in London is in tense anxiety. The newspapers and telegraph companies are constantly called, and the inevitable request is: "Are there any further casualties?" So far, the losses among the Canadians have been light, but any day the news of large losses may be received.

The postoffice has not yet received many letters for Londoners from Ottawa notifying Londoners of casualties. At least, no special instructions have been received as to the delivery of such mail.

CITY SOLICITOR TO DEFEND LICENSE REDUCTION BYLAW

Board of Control Recommends This at Meeting This Morning.

On recommendation of the board of control, the city will instruct City Solicitor T. G. Meredith to defend the license reduction bylaw, a motion to quash which has been instituted on behalf of James Greig, proprietor of the Clyde Hotel on King street.

Notices of motion of the attempt to quash the bylaw was served on City Clerk S. Baker on Friday last. Today he presented the notice to the board of control and asked for instructions. He further informed the controllers that he had been subpoenaed to appear at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning to answer certain questions and produce certain documents in the examination for discovery. He asked for instructions and legal advice on this aspect of the case as well.

Controller Moore's Motion.

On motion of Controller J. P. Moore, seconded by Controller Frank White, the recommendation was made to instruct the city solicitor to defend the bylaw.

"The bylaw is ours and we are in duty bound to defend it," declared Controller Moore. "We cannot allow it to go by default."

"It would be folly for us to pass this bylaw and then allow it to be quashed without entering our defence," was Controller White's statement, as he seconded the first controller's motion.

City Solicitor Meredith will also be instructed to appear at the examination for discovery on behalf of the city clerk, and to look after the city's interests when this examination is going on.

30 MEXICANS KILLED BY BOMB ON VESSEL

Five Women Among Victims On Board Carranza Gunboat Progresso.

[Canadian Press.]

Galveston, Texas, March 1.—Dispatches reached the Mexican consulate here today, telling of an explosion on board the Mexican gunboat Progreso, which resulted in the death of 30 persons, including five women. The explosion, according to the first report, occurred yesterday morning, while the gunboat was at Progreso. It is said that what purported to be a barrel of rice sent on board was in reality a bomb, prepared by persons opposed to the Carranza regime. The Mexican consul here has cabled for further information, as he is inclined to doubt the report.

WANT FOUR NEW SCHOOLS

School Trustees Unit in Demand for This Number.

Building policies and programs for the ensuing year and the appropriation of school work to the several architects of the city will be important questions to be solved by the board of education at its meeting tomorrow.

At the request of the board of control, the board of education will submit its building program en bloc rather than in any individual form of each separate school. The feeling or the school trustees indicates that they are determined on at least four new schools this year, and will fight any attempt to reduce this number.

Members of the board are expected to participate in a somewhat lively debate tomorrow over the architect question. In the draft of work as submitted by the local chapter of architects the name of A. E. Nutter is left out. He is the only one of the city architects who has not been assigned to one of the four schools, and questions will be asked as to why not.

ORGANIZING FORCES

Commissioner Grant Getting Ready for 1916 Assessment.

Assessment Commissioner Stephen Grant is organizing his forces for the start of the 1916 assessment, which is expected to commence within a few days. The assessors are already mapping out their work, and the temporary clerks will be taken on within a few days.

The addition of ten new divisions to the city roll, necessitated by reason of increased population, means more work for the assessment department. However, a start will be made in Ward 4 this week, and the following divisions have been assigned to the various assessors:

Assessor Martin O'Sullivan, 56, 57, 58, 59 and 64.

Valuator E. D. Grant, 60, 61, 62 and 63.

Temporary Assessor W. A. Eastwood, 65, 66, 67 and 68.

Temporary Assessor Archie Black, 69, 70, 71 and 72.

Assessor McCoubrey, 73, 74, 75 and 76.

Valuator A. E. Burwell, 77 (annexed district north of Dundas street).

WILL LECTURE ON "CANCER."—At Western University on Tuesday evening, March 2, at 8 o'clock, Dr. Fidlar, of the Institute of Public Health, will give a lecture on "Cancer." The lecture is one of the series given under the auspices of the University Alumnai Association. Entrance will be at the west door of the university building.

TELLS OF SPLENDID RED CROSS WORK

Colonel Ryerson, President of Society, Lectures in London Today.

AID SICK AND INJURED

Work Taken Up in Europe — Much Money, Many Supplies Donated.

Some idea of the splendid work which has been and is being done by the Canadian Red Cross Society in caring for the comfort and welfare of the soldiers at the front, is given in the following facts and figures supplied to The Advertiser by Colonel Ryerson, of Toronto, the president of the society, who arrived in the city today, and who will address the members of the local branch this afternoon.

The society commenced its work on behalf of the soldiers by contributing hospital supplies to the concentration camp of the first Canadian contingent at Valcartier and at Quebec. It has since been doing the same thing in connection with the various concentration camps in the country.

It has taken up now work also in Europe, and, in order to furnish immediate aid, has contributed $75,000 in cash to the British Red Cross Society. The sum of $9,000 also was subscribed for the building of one coach of the hospital train organized by Princess Christian.

Sick and Wounded Work.

The work of aiding the sick and wounded is being undertaken by the society through the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, which is the governing body of the St. John's Ambulance Brigade, and the St. John's Ambulance Association. The Order of St. John was given $12,500 with which to fit up a wing of its hospital at Boulogne, and $25,000 with which to send male nurses to England. These nurses are now being recruited all over the country under the direction of Sir Henry Pellatt. It is expected that 60 will be sent from Canada.

OUR NAVY

I. Leff, 316 Grey street, has sent in the following war poem, which we publish:

Our mighty navy, we appeal to you.
We ask you what you're going to do?
Mistress of the seas! We call on thee
To crush the foe and make him flee.
England's honor you must uphold,
Far German sea dogs are very bold;
Eng and must fight with heart and hand,
And show the enemy we can stand.
Our mighty navy, we appeal to you
To show the world what you can do.

WOUNDED IN AFRICA; WILL FIGHT GERMANS

Wingham Veteran Rejoins Army, Undeterred by His Injuries.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Wingham, March 1.—Another old warrior left the town to fight the Germans, in the person of Jack Taylor, who has seen service in the South African war, and carries the marks of wounds. While on scout duty he was under the command of Lord Methuen and Gen. Carrington, where he had three horses shot from under him, two by bullets, the other by shrapnel. The latter caused the wounds, the scars of which he bears today.

Mr. Taylor, of New Hampshire Barracks, started training at the Chislehurst Barracks in October, 1899, and after three months enlisted and went to the front against the Boers in 1900. He stayed there until 1902, when he was honorably discharged.

He returned home at the end of the war, and left there for Wingham about two years ago with his wife and children.

"Mr. Taylor's wife, although not in the best of health, agreed to her husband once more going into active service.

BIDS FOR $1,000,000 LOAN

Will Be Opened at Special Board of Control Meeting Today.

Bids for the $1,000,000 loan that London proposes to float in three-year notes to meet current expenditures, will be opened at a special session of the board of control this afternoon. It is expected that the amount realized by the city will be exceptionally good, in view of the present financial situation, and that the rate of interest will be 5 per cent or less.

Mayor H. A. Stevenson and the members of the board of control have gone fully into the financial situation, and the results of their investigations and interviews are expected to be proven in the amount that will be realized on this $1,000,000 loan.

ORIENTAL WIFE ARRIVES

Babe That Charlie For First Sees Today Came Into City Also.

Mrs. Charlie For, Oriental wife of a well-known local laundryman, arrived in London today with a little baby born in China, and which the father had not until today ever before seen. The young woman was dressed in Oriental costume and her arrival on the depot platform caused many curious to gaze wonderingly at her. She presented a very pretty picture.

BELIEVE IN EVANGELISM

soul, will command the largest hearing and secure the best results.

Evangelism Indispensable.

"The work of evangelism is indispensable. We must have the power of a strange and a new voice. There has never been an age without an outstanding evangelist. I firmly believe that we are on the verge of the greatest era of evangelism that the continent of North America has ever seen. The present business depression, which is well nigh universal, the contingencies brought about by the existence of the war, opens the door to a new chapter in the history of revival work and aggressive evangelism. The people are in a receptive and thoughtful mood at the present time, more so than they have been since the American Civil War. This is the time for the church to be specially aggressive and listen to the voice of the evangelist. My experience leads me to believe that everything is ripe for the very greatest results from revival meetings at this time.

Commercializing Evangelism.

"The main criticism of the work of modern evangelism is that it is becoming commercialized. People hear of the fabulous sums that are paid to Billy Sunday, and are under the impression and inference that the whole evangelistic field is dominated by a commercial spirit, that leads to large financial results. While it is true that an evangelist is worthy and entitled to every gift and donation which the people may see fit to hand to him, it is nevertheless true that when the financial phase is unduly emphasized in connection with an evangelist and his campaign, then the permanent influence of the evangelist is proportionately discounted.

Only Work Eight Months.

"It ought to be borne in mind, however, that the average man who is a successful evangelist, can only work in that field for eight months of the year. During those eight months he speaks night after night, and sometimes several times a day. Only an evangelist can realize the nerve-wrecking strain. The average successful evangelist is shortening his life. He cannot go through the mental intoxication and the expending of so much energy without shortening it. All the great evangelists of the past have never lived to be old men, though they have always lived clean and upright lives. However, the reward is great and well worth the expenditure of all the energy a man possesses.

COMPLETE BLOCKADE

BLOCKADE DETERMINED.

[Canadian Press.]

London, March 1.—The establishment of a virtual blockade of hostile countries is Great Britain's reply to Germany's attacks on merchant ships, as announced officially today, by Premier Asquith in a momentous speech in the House of Commons.

The plan of the Allied Governments for the regulation of shipping to and from ports of hostile nations contemplates the prevention of commodities of every kind reaching or leaving those ports without, however, involving risks to neutral vessels or their crews. The Allies will hold themselves at liberty to capture goods presumed to have come from hostile countries or to be destined for them. They have no intention, however, of confiscating ships or cargoes which are detained unless they are liable to confiscation under normal conditions of war.

The Premier revealed these measures of reprisals to Parliament and the nation on introducing the third and fourth votes for credit to meet the expenses of the war. These are respectively £37,000,000 ($185,000,000) to balance the expenditures of the current fiscal year, making the total cost of eight months of war £362,000,000 ($1,810,000,000), and another vote of £250,000,000 ($1,250,000,000) as the first installment for the year opening April 1.

ALL PRECEDENTS SMASHED.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, March 1.—It was pointed out here that while there might be no precedent for such a wide range of action as the Allies propose there was likewise no precedent for the German submarine blockade of the British Isles. Neutrals have not always recognized the validity of blockades, and many contests have arisen where belligerents have attempted to confiscate ships and cargoes seized for running blockades that were alleged to be not in accordance with the rules of international law.

Chinese in Vancouver to Open Stores in Opposition.

[Canadian Press.]

Vancouver, B. C., March 1.—That a boycott of Japanese goods has been instituted by the local Chinese is the statement made at the Japanese consulate. This particularly applies to fish and fancy goods. The wealthiest Chinese have formed themselves into a company, the object being to run stores carrying the lines of goods in which the Japanese are now trading. The Chinese consul denies that any order has been received from China to carry out a boycott.

LET THE RAILWAYS BEAR THEIR SHARE

J. F. Orde, K. C., Opposes Increased Freight Rates—Suffering in Common.

GOVERNMENT IS AVERSE

Has Engaged Counsel To Oppose Shouldering Burden Onto Public.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, March 1.—That the application of the Canadian railways for permission to increase their freight rates on all lines east of Port Arthur is looked upon with pronounced disfavor by the Dominion Government, was announced today to the railway commission by J. F. Orde, K. C., who has been engaged as counsel by the Government.

"It is obvious on the face of the application that it is of a most unusual character," said Mr. Orde, when the case was called after the question of international freight rates had been spoken to and reserved for decision later.

Affects All Shippers.

Counsel told the commission that he held a watching brief in the interests of the general public, and he emphasized that the Dominion Government was not going to stand idly by while the railways tried to boost their tariffs in Eastern Canada. The application, he contended, was somewhat unusual, if not irregular, when it would affect the whole shipping interests of Eastern Canada. These interests might find the changes go into effect before they have had an opportunity to know just where they stood.

Mr. Orde said that it seemed strange that at this time, when the country at large finds its industrial relations considerably disrupted owing to the war, the railways should try to obtain a substantial increase in freight rates. The increased efficiency in the methods of transportation should enable the railways to keep down the cost of operation.

Bear Their Share.

"The stand I shall take," he said, "is that no such increases should be made at the present time. If the railways have suffered by a falling off in revenue they are merely suffering at this time as everyone else is, and they should bear their share of the burden, and not try to shoulder it on to the public."

The extent of the protection the Government intended to give to the public in the case would be determined and shown as the case proceeded.

Mr. Howard Kelley, first vice-president of the Grand Trunk, submitted figures to show the abnormal increase in operation of his and other railways in recent years, particularly since 1909.

CHANGE REGULATIONS OF SEWER RENTALS

This To Be Done at Suggestion of City Clerk Baker.

At the suggestion of City Clerk S. Baker, the sewer rental regulations will be changed, and instead of paying 15 cents a foot for ten years, as at present, citizens will now pay 10 cents foot frontage for ten years where they tap into a sewer other than on their own street.

The question was brought to the board of control today, and was the result of a specific case on Ingleside street, where a ratepayer not only had to pay for the construction of the sewer that connected him with Rideau street, but in addition had to pay the 15 cents a foot frontage charge, which was more than the actual cost of constructing the said Rideau street sewer.

As explained by Mr. Baker, the original regulations called for 8 cents a foot charge for 25 years. This was later amended to 15 cents for ten years. The object of these regulations had been to prevent citizens obtaining the use of sewers on other streets to the natural detriment of the possible construction of sewers on their own streets. Now that sewers existed on a majority of the city streets, he believed that the charge should be reduced, and the board concurred in this idea.

A special rebate of two-thirds of the amount of rental paid in is allowed in all cases where a sewer is later constructed on the street on which the renter's property abuts.

SPRING HERE MARCH 21

So Almanacs Say. But Weatherman Often Decides Otherwise.

Just three weeks from yesterday, or to be more precise, on Sunday, March 21, spring will be with us once again if it arrives according to the official schedule. As a matter of fact, though, nature, being feminine, is not by any means punctual on all occasions. The almanac may tell us that spring is due, but the seasons are not amenable to the regulations of almanacs, and quite often appear days or even weeks in advance of or behind the time set by the astronomers and weather prophets for their appearance.

Many indications are accepted by enthusiastic observers of natural phenomena, as proof that spring is near, but none of them is really infallible. Thus the arrival of birds from the more southerly lattitudes is usually taken as an indication of the imminence of spring, but sometimes the birds themselves make mistakes, and their human observers are misled by their arrival.

Nature herself sometimes is deceived. For intance, the unnaturally warm spell of the last few weeks induced a run of sap and a sprouting of young buds on trees which ordinarily would not commence to take on the characteristics of spring conditions until much later in the season, and the result was that people who saw and understood the meaning of these things were led to a mistaken belief that the winter was over. The cold snap of the last few days was sufficient proof of the falseness of this conclusion.

The fact is that, in spite of the almanacs, there is no fixed date on which spring regularly makes its appearance. And, moreover, an honest nature expert will not claim to be able to tell with any degree of certainty when it will arrive until it is actually here.

BAPTIST CONVENTION

To Be Held Here Next October—1,000 Likely to Attend.

Baptist churches of London have invited the annual convention of the Baptist Churches of Ontario and Quebec to meet in this city next October. The convention will be attended by about 600 delegates from the two provinces. The sessions will probably be held in the Adelaide Street Baptist Church.

The Baptist Ministerial Association discussed the convention today, and also decided to hold a meeting of the Baptist Extension Board later this week to discuss the further development of Baptist missions in London.

$100 HYDRO RADIAL FEE.—A grant of $100 as the city's membership fee in the Ontario Hydro Radial Union was authorized by the board of control today.

MUST GO BACK.—James Kelly, arrested while attempting to pick a quarrel with a soldier Saturday night, was today ordered by Police Magistrate J. C. Judd to go back to Sarnia, from whence he came.

WRONG FACTORY MENTIONED.—The fire last Wednesday night was in the carriage factory of Frank Thompson, 236 King street, and not in the factory of W. J. Thompson & Sons, 175 King street, as inadvertently misstated in The Advertiser.

BOATS' NAMES CHANGED.—The Vaderland and Zeeland, of the White Star Line, have had their names changed to the Southwest and Northwest, according to advices received by R. E. Ruse, Grand Trunk city ticket agent.

FIRE DOES NO DAMAGE.—A fire starting from a stove in the kitchen of a house occupied by John Beaten, 167 Bruce street, was put out by the fire department about 11:30 o'clock Sunday morning before it caused any damage.

SAILS FOR EUROPE.—Mrs. Capt. Hunter, wife of Capt. Hugh Hunter, formerly of the Canada Trust Company, who went to the front recently with a Scottish unit, left Saturday on board the Lusitania for Liverpool. Miss Hunter accompanied her.

ENJOYABLE EVENING.—A most enjoyable evening was that spent with the Victoria Woman's Christian Temperance Union at Beth Emmanuel Church to celebrate the second anniversary of the organization of their union. A fine program had been prepared; talent from afar as well as home lent itself to render the occasion memorable.

T. P. ELLIOTT BETTER.—T. P. Elliott, advertising manager of Smallman & Ingram's store, who collapsed in Masonic Hall last Friday night, and was in an unconscious condition at his residence part of Saturday, is reported by members of his household to have recovered consciousness and today is in a much improved condition.

SITE FOR NEW SCHOOL.—The building committee of the board of education meets this afternoon to prepare a report on sites for the new north end school and the one to be located in the south end of West London. An inspection tour of the sites will precede the meeting, and it is expected that a report will be compiled and recommended for the board, which has its regular meeting tomorrow.

TO RESIST ATTEMPT.—A deputation from the license reduction committee will wait upon the city council this evening and ask that their solicitors, Messrs. Macpherson & Perrin, be allowed to co-operate with the city solicitor in the case which comes before the courts on Saturday next. Every effort will be made to resist the attempt of the local hotelmen to have the license reduction bylaw quashed.

CHANGING PREMISES.—The Bicycle and Motor Sales Company, of Clarence street, is moving to new premises on Wellington street, next to the Y. M. C. A., and the management toda ymade a contract by which a two-story brick building 49x99 feet is to be erected and ready for occupation in three hundred hours. This it is stated is the only contract of the kind ever made in London, and calls for the work being done in the shortest time.

CONCERT OF GOOD TEMPLARS.—Hope of the West Lodge, 216, International Order of Good Templars, met in Society Hall, Dundas street, last Tuesday evening. Instead of the regular meeting, a concert was held, consisting of a reading by Mr. Brammal, and solos by Misses Burt and Evans, and Messrs. Morton, Brammal, Boyes, and a chorus of soldiers, also pianoforte selections by Miss Burt. F. Robins gave a short talk on Good Templars. A light lunch was served.

BONSPIEL ON TUESDAY.—The London Curling Club will hold a bonspiel at the Thistle rink tomorrow night. P. C. Powell is donating the prizes, and all curlers are invited. On Thursday the finals in the Western Ontario Tankard will be played here. On Friday six rinks of London curlers will go to St. Thomas. Three rinks will play for the Malahide medal, and three will play friendly games. Six Detroit rinks will play in London Saturday morning and afternoon.

TABULATING PASSENGERS. — In order that the street railway may present figures to back up its claim that double-tracking is not needed on Hamilton road, between Horton street and Egerton street, save in the strip already double-tracked, between Mamalon and Rectory streets, conductors on the Oxford line have been provided with tally sheets and are now tabulating the number of passengers who ride on the line between its terminus at Egerton street and Richmond street.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. Robert Howlett, of Sharon, has returned home, after spending two months with her sister, Mrs. Thomas Howlett, of East London.

Mr. J. E. Young, of St. Thomas, formerly of The Advertiser staff here, spent the week-end at Exeter.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Graham, of Logansport, Ind., spent the week-end with their mother, Mrs. A. Graham, of Hellmuth avenue.

WEDDING BELLS

TREADWELL—SCOTT.

On Wednesday, February 24, Miss Margaret Scott, of Oxford street, was united in marriage to Frederick Treadwell, of Westminster. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. J. Knox, at the First Presbyterian manse.

The bride was becomingly gowned in navy blue silk and was unattended. After the ceremony, the happy couple were conveyed to their home at Glendale, where a dainty luncheon was served. Among the gifts was a valuable cabinet of silver from the bride's friends of the Perrin Manufacturing Company.

TAKE UP AT ONCE BLANKET INS. IDEA

Various Phases of Workmen's Compensation Act Discussed by the Controllers.

Insurance of city employees and the various phases of the Ontario workmen's compensation act attracted the attention of the board of control for a part of its lengthy session today.

Under its provisions the city is prohibited from paying into the fund from which the disability and death claims are met, but certai ncity departments and works, such as the hydro-electric department, sidewalk construction, pavement construction, and garbage department, come under Part 1 of the act, and under that section the city must pay the same as manufacturers and employees who come under the same provision. This means that in the case of disability for a period longer than seven days, the city would have to pay 55 per cent of the salary; in the case of death $20 per month to the widow for life and similar provisions for each child.

Take Case to Commission.

The police, fire and other department come under the Section 11 provisions of the act, and this, according to the reading of the law as interpreted by Controller J. P. Moore, means that the city will have the opportunity to take the case to the commission in the event of any accident or claim.

In view of the fact of the city's liability and its inability to provide against this by contributing to the special insurance fund, it is proposed to take up the question of a blanket insurance policy with the liability insurance company. This will be undertaken at once.

FIREWORKS EXPECTED AT COUNCIL TONIGHT

This When Proposal to Spend $9,000 More on Bridge Comes Up.

Fireworks are expected in the council tonight when the proposal to issue $9,000 more debentures to cover the cost of the Wharncliffe road bride is brought up. This $9,000, as announced in The Advertiser on Saturday evening, is a neat little "overdraft" over and above the estimated cost of the construction of the connecting link between West and South London.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

DEATH OF MRS. McCOMB.

Mrs. Christina Isabelle McComb, wife of Thomas B. McComb, lot 17, con. 3, London Township, died on Saturday. The funeral will be held tomorrow at 1 o'clock to Pond Mills Cemetery.

Dies at Indianapolis.

Albert Penn died at Indianapolis, Ind., on Thursday, aged 53 years.

The funeral will take place from Geo. E. Logan's undertaking parlors today at 3 p.m. The services will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Jameson, of Pipe Line Mission, at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will take place at Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Death of Mrs. Maxwell.

Mrs. Barbara Maxwell, aged 76, died at her home, 349 Glebe street, Sunday morning. Mrs. Maxwell was born in Scotland and came to Canada 25 years ago. She is survived by one daughter, Miss Jessie, at home. The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, to Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The services, at 1:30 o'clock, will be conducted by Rev. W. R. McIntosh, of King Street Presbyterian Church.

Albert Penn.

The funeral of Albert Penn, aged 53, who died in Indianapolis last Thursday, and who was a former florist of this city, was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the undertaking parlors of George E. Logan to Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Jameson, pastor of the Pipe Line Road Mission.

Mary A. Kinder.

The remains of Mrs. Mary A. Kinder, who died at her residence, 88 Becher street, Sunday, were forwarded to Strathroy at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon by George E. Logan. The services were conducted at Mrs. Kinder's home at 12:30 o'clock by Very Rev. Dean Davis, of St. James' Anglican Church. Interment will be made in Strathroy on Wednesday.

MUNICIPAL STOCKYARDS IDEA "CATCHING ON"

Already Applications for Space Made by Toronto Houses.

That London's municipal stockyards idea is "catching on" is indicated by statements made by Ald. George H. Haney, chairman of the special stockyards committee to the board of control today.

He declared that already applications for space in the new buildings have been made by a Toronto commission house, which desires to open a branch here, as well as a bank, which would open a stockyards branch, and that in addition a small packing house had asked for space in order that it could start a local plant here at once.

Mrs. Stegler Released On Assault Charge—Husband Indicted For Conspiracy.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, March 1.—Mrs. Richard P. Stegler, arrested today at the Grenoble Hotel on a charge of felonious assault made by Arthur Mateckat, reporter for a German newspaper, was discharged later in police court. Had certain evidence been more definite, the magistrate said, he would have been inclined to send the reporter and his male friend across to the workhouse.

Stegler Indicted.

Almost at the moment of her discharge in police court, the federal grand jury returned an indictment charging her husband with conspiracy against the United States in obtaining an American passport falsely. Stegler is a German naval reservist. Two others were indicted with him, Richard Madden, in whose name the passport was issued and Gustave Cook, of Hoboken, who, it is charged, participated in obtaining the passport.

Arraigned Later.

The three men were to be arraigned later in the afternoon.

In dismissing the complaint, the magistrate announced that he would be inclined to send Mateckat and his male companion to the workhouse, if the testimony concerning their alleged attempts to disrobe Mrs. Stegler were more definite and clear.

FIRST VANCOUVER OFFICER TO FALL

[Canadian Press.]

Vancouver, B. C., March 1.—Lieut. Duncan Peter Bell-Irving, whose name appears in the Canadian casualty list is the first Vancouver officer to fall on the field of battle. He was a son of Dr. Bell-Irving, of Vancouver, and was among the first to offer his services when the war broke out, joining the 6th Field Engineers of North Vancouver. There are about ten others of the name and family in the service.

Twitching of the Nerves Broken-Down System

Now Entirely Cured — Never Used Any Medicine With Such Benefit as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Headaches, sleeplessness and nervousness are often very disagreeable, but when your nervous system gets into such a condition that the nerves twitch and jerk, and you have peculiar nervous sensations come over you there is cause for grave alarm.

Everyone dreads the thought of paralysis or locomotor ataxia.

Nothing is worse MRS. McKELLAR to look forward to than helplessness. Sometimes it is helplessness of body and at other times the mind is affected, which is far worse.

The writer of this letter did not know what to expect, but fortunately began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in time to head off danger, and writes that she was entirely cured of the old trouble. The last paragraph proves that the cure was lasting.

Mrs. John McKellar, 11 Burton street east, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I was injured some years ago, and that left me with a broken-down nervous system. I could not sleep, and suffered from twitching of the nerves and disagreeable nervous sensations.

"I then began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and can say that I never used any medicine that did me so much good; in fact, I am entirely cured of my old trouble. The Nerve Food not only strengthened the nerves, but also built up my system in every way."

Under more recent date Mrs. McKellar writes confirming her cure, and states that she has had inquiries from many people who had heard of the great benefits she obtained from Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50c a box, 6 for $2.50. At all dealers.

LONDON, MONDAY, MARCH 1.

WHERE IS TODAY'S MILTON?

WHERE is the utterer of golden words who shall send ringing down the grooves of time something of that high spirit which animated England when she went to war in August, 1914—who shall in a golden mesh of eternal words fashion out the form of that inward MUST which sent millions of peaceful men to war at the bidding of their souls?

Even if we do not continue to live up to that high call it will be well for us and for generations yet unborn to dwell upon that moment of high inspiration, and to realize all that was behind it.

Who, then, shall be our Milton, to chant once more the eternal liberties of England, and of the world of free men?—From Public Opinion.

WORRYING OVER ITALY.

DAILY Germany grows more concerned over the possibility of the early entrance of Italy into the great war. Prince Von Buelow, who for several months has been in Rome on the special mission of persuading Italy to remain neutral, according to reports from the Italian capital has informed his Government that Italy has already expended $400,000,000 on war preparations and that a vast majority of the people fully expect that this expenditure will not be wasted. It is said he believes war with Italy inevitable unless Austria can be compelled to return to Italy, Trieste and the district of the Trentino. An indication of how the people regard the situation is shown by the fact that ever since the Italian Parliament convened, it has been necessary to guard the entrances of the House of Deputies with large bodies of troops in order to prevent the public capturing the chamber and driving the Government into instant action. Perhaps the most significant incident was the public statement by the Italian premier, Signor Salandra, that the Government would not overlook the hopes and aspirations of the Italian people. On all hands this is being taken as an assurance that at the right moment Italy will take up arms.

There is no question but that Italy, if she decides to participate in the struggle will be found fighting with the Allies. Quite apart from the fact that the public would never permit taking sides with Austria, there are bonds between Italy and France and Great Britain on the score of past services. Italy will never forget that France aided her to secure independence from Austria, while to Mazzini, greatest of patriots in the eyes of millions of Italians, was given asylum, sympathy and financial aid by England. As well there are close ties due to the democracy which rules all three nations. Nothing could be more repugnant to democratic Italy than to line up with the forces of absolutism. In Italy there is nothing in common with the despotism of the Hohenzollerns and the Hapsburgs.

AN AMERICAN'S NAVAL STORIES.

AFTER four months in England, Henry Reuterdahl, an American marine artist, who ranks high, has written an article in Everybody's, in which he reveals some of the inside history of British naval operations. Reuterdahl has been associated with the American navy for eighteen years, and has come into contact with officers and admirals of all nations. When he professes to know more than the censors permit, his word can be relied upon.

Especially interesting is his description of the incidents leading up to the fight off the Falklands. He says that after the sinking of Cradock's ships, Lord Fisher came into the council chamber of the British war staff, acting like a "bull pricked by the matador's darts."

"Sturdee," he snarls, "you made all these nice plans; why don't you carry them out yourself?"

Sturdee, the discredited strategist, smarting under the defeat of Cradock's ships, for whose destruction he was partly responsible, exclaims:

"Will you let me?"

"Yes, go!" is Fisher's reply.

In an hour the fleet is under way. In a few days the enemy is met—the world knows the rest. Sturdee was able to get the drop on Von Spee, when he had his chance to carry out those plans. The shame of having sent Cradock to face the German Atlantic fleet was in everyone's mind—a piece of Battenburg work. They were "poor, antiquated crocks, manned by landsmen." Yet, the American writer says, "poor Cradock, finest of men, courageous to a fault," was "the kind of seaman who would give battle in a steam launch to a Dreadnought." He fought to the last, "going down with his flag unfurled as the setting sun sank behind the rollers of the Pacific. He was the first admiral to go—the martyr of the ill-gled strategy of the admiralty." His secretary had written before the fight. "We feel that the admiralty should have a better force—but we will cheerfully fight whatever odds we may have to face." Cradock's epitaph he wrote himself: "The navy defends nothing; it attacks." What a glorious bravery was exhibited in the message of the Monmouth to the Glasgow, which escaped. "After about one and a half hour's fighting, the Monmouth caught fire, but fortunately got it under. The Monmouth then reported: 'I am taking water badly forward, engines disabled, and in a sinking condition, but am making toward the enemy TO TRY AND TORPEDO HER.'"

The Heligoland fight was a straight trap set by the British, at which the Germans bit. Two submarines came to the surface, one appearing to be disabled, and the first to rise was being towed by the other. It looked an easy thing to the Germans to pot them both. The Germans came out. The "sub" cast off the towline of its mate, and both dove with a saucy flick of their tails. Then it happened. Out of the mist came the destroyer squadron, and the cruiser squadron. Everyone knows the result. It was not all one-sided, either, says the writer. The British had to pay for their victory in smashed-up ships.

One of the thrilling incidents—a regular Jules Verne touch—was when a British boat, which had been sent out to pick up struggling German sailors, came under fire of a German cruiser. A British submarine observed the boat's plight, came to the surface, opened its tower hatch, took the British crew out of the boat, gave the Germans food and sent them off, then dove.

Reuterdahl has not the admiration for submarines that many express. He believes that all the British boats that were torpedoed were "loafing." No craft proceeding at a fast rate has been caught. And he says the British submarine will be found the equal, if not the superior of the German when the time comes. He pays tribute to the fine lean, young, daredevil British naval lieutenants, "whom he says are the backbone of the navy. He declares it took a "good licking to awaken the great British navy to the traditions of Nelson." But he is certain that it has been awakened, and he thinks that much foolish criticism has been made because of naval losses. He says the man in the street "wants a Trafalgar served hot with his breakfast, preferably near the coast, with parquet seats on the Dover cliffs." He points out that Kantimura's house was being burned by mad Japs, while he was sinking the Russian fleet, and that Hawke was burned in effigy while he was licking the French in Quiberon Bay."

Reuterdahl thinks it wonderful that the British have lost so few ships. Their navy is exposed, the Germans have only exposed their ships in a raid or two.

In conclusion, he advises the United States to look to its navy, which, he declares, both as to administration and morale, is in a deplorable condition. He calls on the people of the United States to remove it from politics.

THAT RUGGLES STORY.

A STORY just ended in the Saturday Evening Post, while showing the English as being "that sort of thing wouldn't do with us 'people'" is essentially a satire on the American snob who wants to be taken up by the visiting earl or duke. It is a smashing indictment on "being what you ain't." There are plenty of Belknap-Jacksons in this country. We think that visiting Englishmen prefer to see us as we are, rough or cultured, and we prefer to see Englishmen as they are, not trying to be Canadians. We think there are more Canadians trying to look and act and talk like Englishmen than vice versa.

HUGHES STANDS FIRM.

GEN. SAMUEL HUGHES has some merciless enemies in his own party who are trying to get him out of the Government by hook or crook. Yet on the whole Hughes is the one member of the Government who has stood up and faced criticism like a man, and who has hit straight out at the grafters. A brazen attempt is now being made to throw suspicion upon the general, and the Opposition is not the accuser.

There is one man who would force the country into an election. He is pulling wires everywhere, and he may pull so hard that Sir Robert Borden will be toppled from his seat. Mr. Rogers does not care about the neatness of his execution, but he is determined to execute.

He is trying to force Hughes to the front. He is one of the type of politicians who is ready to tell other men to do things for their country, but who does very little himself, except exploit it.

ALL GERMANY'S.

MANY Liberals are twitted about "the emergency" these days, but few have any difficulty in turning the challenge to good advantage.

The fact is that ever since the start of the war the emergency has been Germany's. She may claim copyright and patents for the greatest naval dilemma that was ever known in the world's history. Great Britain is "there" in the emergency.

A WINDBAG.

A PERSON called Frank Harris is quoted at great length by the Literary Digest. He is a sort of cosmopolitan, best known as the author of a work on Shakespeare, filled with idiotic trash and nothing more. He is now in the United States, piffling to the Americans, who will read that sort of stuff, his opinion that "England is moribund, but may be saved by defeat."

He has a bright idea that Germany should make peace with Russia by ceding to her Constantinople and Galicia, and promising financial aid. Russia would in return let Germany keep Belgium. Then Germany could force France to a peace or bribe her with "some French communes in Lorraine." After that she could easily beat down Great Britain with submarines and airships.

Imagine Germany "ceding" Constantinople and Galicia, thus turning her only friends, the Austrian and the Turk, into enemies! She would then have to deal single-handed with France, Great Britain, Japan, and probably her quondam allies, as well. Russia at Constantinople finally checkmates the whole German game for exploiting Turkey, for which the Kaiser made the war.

The idea of Germany's placating France with "some communes in Lorraine" is scarcely less brilliant diplomacy. France wants a vote of the people of the lost provinces. She wants Strasburg.

As for England being moribund, the enlistment is the best proof against that. The magnificent efficiency of the British navy does not look like degeneracy. The British aviators are the boldest and best in the business. No Germans dare approach British fortifications; evidently they respect the British aerial guns. About the only degeneracy in sight is a certain Frank Harris, if he can be classed as a Briton at all. Great Britain has probably tired of him and his works, that he migrates over the sea and takes up his song in New York.

PROTECTION.

MODIFIED and fairly-devised protection may be a fine thing for the manufacturer and the country, but what about protection for the workingman? There are a few manufacturers who will protect home labor when a chance comes along to rush a contingent of foreign laborers into their plants. Some day the workingmen will refuse to be coerced by election day signs on the door, and will demand that for every cent's worth of protection he gives he shall receive a cent's worth in return.

TAX NOTICES.

A LOT of notices to this effect: "Owing to the advance in tariff our prices after such and such a date will be, etc.," are being sent out these days. If you examine the advance in price you find that the manufacturer is not paying much of the tariff by keeping his prices down. Perhaps he cannot afford it all but should he not stand a share of it?

THE HESITATION.

THE Government seems to be hesitating about putting the new tariff into effect. Some of the big fellows must be holding the train. Certainly Mr. Common People is hunched up in the day coach, ready to get a cinder in his eye. The Pullmans must be dustproof before the magnates will climb aboard.

Something got into the chimes of St. Paul's one day last week, and they crashed out their ringing peals for hours on end. This caused many people to remark that possibly Rheims Cathedral was shelled by the Germans at the instigation of a long-suffering French populace.

If those German submarines are not too impatient for results they may be able to sink a few English excursion steamers crowded with holidaying women and children. The "Baby-Killers" have not been living up to their reputation since Beatty chased them home.

Berlin is taking great pains to announce the fact that for some time Germany will concentrate its efforts on the eastern front of the war. This is, of course, intended to create trouble between Russia and her allies. Doubtless it is hoped that it will cause Russia to demand that the British and French do something to relieve the pressure at once. To have the Allies make the grand advance that has been promised before they are fully prepared would no doubt suit Germany at present. The trick will not work, as without doubt Britain, Russia and France are in perfect accord along all lines and carrying out operations on one grand general plan.

Music and Musicians

"And to dance on, when we've lost the music Always made me—and no doubt makes you—sick."
—Browning.

The Advertiser people have engaged me to conduct a daily musical column for them. "Daily"—Do you grasp it? A daily musical column for London; well, it's up to the musical men and women to provide me with the stuff to write about. Cynthia Grey does the trick daily, so I'm figuring on being able to do it, too. Hamiltonians and Torontonians and other jealous people say that London is so full of retired people that there is no room for musical people in the place. Don't let them have the chance of saying that it's full of retired musicians, too. There's no chance of that anyhow—of all the musicians that I have ever met, I never knew of one who was able to retire. But who wants to retire? Nobody has any use for retired men now-a-days. The only way to enjoy life is to keep on working until you kick up your heels for the last time. So musical men and women of London, don't let this beastly war knock you into a corner, but keep doing something all the time and then I shall have something to write about. If I can't hold down my job I shall blame you.

* * *

The women of this city are doing an excellent work with their music club organization. For the last two years it has met with much better support than hitherto. Their members, I understand, are divided into active and associate—the active ones are those who can be called upon to appear at their regular recitals, while the associate members take part in the executive work or merely content themselves with paying their fee. To become an active member one has to satisfy an examining body of his or her capability. Many and various are the imprecations that this rule has brought down on the heads of the ladies in charge, but 'pon my soul, I don't blame them. Their standard is good and all they want to find out is that their active members can measure up to it. They don't want to be let in for an embarrasing quarter of an hour by some one attempting to play something that she is manifestly incapable of, or by a vocal display which would only cause momentary expectation on the part of the listeners of a bursting of the singer's tonsils. Most of us choirmasters have been let in for something of that nature on one or two occasions at least, and we have a good deal of sympathy with the ladies in regard to that rule. They are doing a good work for musical London so here's to their further success.

On an exam paper—Explain the difference between Time and Rhythm.

Answer submitted—Time is playing in strict time while rhythm is playing out of time, like rag-time.

* * *

One of the few happy results of the war has been the enlistment in the services of our local charities of our own greatly beloved Tom Martin. The other week at a concert given by the London Conservatory staff for the soldiers' comfort fund, he gave us a group of Chopin numbers, and now I understand he is to give a recital for the benefit of one of the local charity organizations. He is a magnificent artist, and music lovers of London are delighted to welcome him back to the concert platform.

What a lot of raving goes on amongst our professional brethren, in regard to musical amateurs and the way they walk off with many positions which the professionals think they ought to fill. No doubt it seems a hardship occasionally, but if an amateur can fill a certain position let him do it and keep mum. The amateurs are our best friends. A great number of them who take up the study of music do so with the idea of being able to augment their income to some extent, and the mere fact that they do so encourages many others to try the same thing. Amateur music should be given all the help that we professionals can give it. Just look over your list and see how many of your piano pupils would like to do a little teaching some day; how many of your vocal pupils aspire to a church position or look forward to the day when they can turn an honest penny on the concert platform. Eliminate these and see what a hole it would make in your income. There are amateurs who fill church positions. There are amateurs who are church soloists; there are pianists who occupy some of their spare time in teaching. Alright, let them do it—the more the merrier. The mere fact of their being able to do so leads others to fit themselves for the same kind of work, and all the money they spend goes into the pocket of the professional musician.

Looked at from the mere dollars and cents point of view, it is obvious that the professional musician instead of raving at the amateur for filling so-called professional positions, should give him all the help he can.

Answers to Correspondents.

Questions sent to this department should be addressed: Musical Editor, London Advertiser, and should be brief and to the point. They must also be of general musical interest.

At what age should I take up the study of music? LILY.

You do not say, my dear Lily, how old you are nor do you state what branch of music you intend to take up, but on general principles I should say just as early as you can get your father to foot the bill.

* * *

Should a boy whose voice has broken continue singing lessons? A. L.

Decidedly not. You stand a fair chance of ruining your voice completely by continuing your vocal studies at such a time. I shall have more to say on this point in Tuesday's issue.

But little of herself.

OUR POETS OF WESTERN ONTARIO

ETERNAL SPRING.

Trilling from joyous throat
A robin's note;
A bluejay on the wing—
Promise of spring.

Such tears from skies o'erhead
As women shed
Rapt in strange, mother-fears
For coming years.

Fraught with sweet hope again,
And mother-pain,
Eternal Nature broods
In lonely woods.

In shrub and tree the thrill
Of budding, still;
A flower, pink or white,
Blooms in the night.

E'er from Life's winter years
New birth endears
Old Time. Hope's transient gleams
Inspire new dreams.

For since the dawn of things
Long, endless springs
We build anew old pain—
To fail again!

Three Neat Substitutes.

Dear Miss Grey,—As I see, nobody has complied with Dell's wishes for a substitute for meat, I am sending the following three, which I often use and find excellent.

Salmon Loaf.—One can salmon picked fine with a fork, 4 eggs, 4 tablespoons butter, ¾ cup of bread crumbs, salt and pepper to taste. Bake 20 minutes.

Egg Omelet.—Take 4 eggs (yolks and whites beaten separately), 1 cup milk, 1 tablespoon flour, a little salt, add the whites just before putting the mixture in the oven. Bake 20 minutes in a well-buttered dish.

Macaroni and Cheese.—Boiled.—¼ pound macaroni (broken into small pieces) in 3 pints salted boiling water; boil 20 minutes; turn into a colander, pour over cold water and drain. Put a layer of macaroni in a buttered baking dish, then a layer of grated cheese, then a layer of macaroni. Cover the top over with bread or biscuit crumbs, dotted over with butter, then add sufficient milk to cover.

P. S.—Hope Dell will find these satisfactory; if so, will send others.

IMPERIAL CITY COOK.

Ans.—Your recipes do indeed sound most tempting, and I am sure Dell will be grateful. We did, however, have one other response besides yours, being a recipe for "near veal loaf," sent by a reader of the column.

Washing Chenille.

Dear Miss Grey,—Would you be so kind as to tell me how I could clean chenille curtains and a felt cushion top?

2. Also a potato cake recipe, made like biscuits, as I have lost mine?

Thanking you in advance for your trouble, I remain, CURIOUS.

Ans.—1. Some time ago a reader wrote the "Mail-Box" telling how she successfully washed her chenille curtains: "Use a good handful of Lux in nice warm water; wash, rinse in clean warm water, hang out in a good drying wind; that is all I do, and it is all right; mine are red, with a different colored border." I am glad to repeat this information, as coming from a "housewife" reader, I feel it to be most practical.

Unless you could wash the felt cushion top in gasoline, I do not think anything else would answer. Soak it in the gasoline for an hour or so; remove, pressing out all the liquid you can, without creasing the surface too much. Hang on the clothes line to dry; most of the fumes will soon blow away. Be sure to have no fire or lighted lamp near when using the gasoline.

2. Perhaps this is something like you wish: boil potatoes until soft and floury, mash; mix in as much flour as will bind them without becoming stiff, one or two eggs, two tablespoons melted butter, salt and pepper to taste; form into cakes; may either be baked in the oven on a buttered tin, or in deep fat on top of the stove.

Recipes sent by V. F.

Spiced Layer Cake—One egg, 3 tablespoons molasses, 1 cup sugar, butter the size of an egg, quarter teaspoon cloves, same of allspice and a little more of cassia, ½ teaspoon ginger, 1 cup sour milk, 1 teaspoon soda, stir about the same as any other layer cake. This is a nice icing for this cake: Put 1 cup of yellow sugar on stove, with 1 cup seeded raisins; let boil until it hairs; have the white of 1 egg beat well, and pour the mixture over, beat until thick enough to spread on cake; you will find this good.

Peanut Cookies—Three eggs, 2 cups of sugar, 1 cup shortening, half butter and half lard, 3 cups flour or more, 2 tablespoons cold water, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon oil of lemon, and 10 cents worth of peanuts rolled out not too fine. Roll quite thin.

Not Fair to Her.

BROKEN HEARTED.—Without knowing more of the case, I can hardly advise you; it is difficult to say what he meant by such an action; it certainly would not be fair to you for him to break the engagement in this way without any explanation whatever. I fancy that unless he gives a reasonable account of his demeanor you had best let him go. You are young yet, and time will heal the wound.

As to going for a nurse, unless you have had some experience and could qualify, should not advise you to think of it. You know they need the very best ability of doctors and nurses, in the military hospitals, and I understand the military examination is rather rigorous. Sorry to have to discourage you, but there are some hundreds of names of trained and experienced nurses now on the waiting list for Canada alone.

A Taffy Pull.

Dear Miss Grey.—1. When entertaining a party of young people for maple taffy in the evening, would it be necessary to serve lunch? If so, what would be suitable?

2. Could you give me some suggestions for cooling and serving the taffy?

3. When is the war tax on stamps, checks, money orders, etc., to come into force, or is it passed yet?

4. What day did April 24, 1899, also September 24, 1903, fall on?

Here are some tested recipes if you have room to print them:

"Boss Candy Ever"—Stir together two cups graulated sugar and half a cup corn syrup; place on stove and let boil until stringy. Beat the white of an egg very stiff, pour the boiled syrup and sugar over it, and beat constantly until the candy becomes snow-white, and has the consistency of bread dough. Then pour on a buttered platter, let cool and cut in squares. It may also be dropped to form kisses.

Orange Cookies—Beat to a cream a cup of butter, add one cup granulated sugar, grated rind of one orange, one egg beaten light, a quarter cup of orange juice, two cups or more of flour and four level teaspoons of baking powder. Roll into a sheet, cut into shapes, set in a baking pan, dredge with granulated sugar and bake in a moderate oven.

Hand Lotion (to soften and cure chapped hands)—One-quarter drachm menthol, ¾ gill alcohol, ¾ gill glycerine, ¼ gill cologne, ¼ ounce gum tragacanth. Dissolve gum in water in a warm place in 1 pint soft water. Then add other ingredients.

I sincerely wish you and your page every success. PALLAS.

Ans.—1. Yes, I think it is customary to serve lunch at such affairs; one not too elaborate would be ham sandwiches, date sandwiches, cake, doughnuts, coffee. The date sandwiches are made of brown bread, buttered and spread with a date paste made by boiling together half a pound of dates, a cup of water, and half a cup yellow sugar.

2. At old-fashioned taffy-pulls, the young folks used to "pair off"; the hostess provided each pair with a buttered pan and spoons, so that when the pot of delectable sweets was pronounced "done," a portion was poured out into the tins to cool. It was considered quite a trick for one couple to steal another's taffy, and hide it. The victors were considered to be the couple which managed to cool their taffy and get it into candy first. You would need to provide saucers or plates for the candy to be placed on when finished.

4. Monday, Thursday.

Thank you, Pallas, for your very excellent recipes.

Wedding Menu.

DORIS.—1. The way you describe would be very pretty and artistic; besides the similar (before each plate) you could also have one carnation for the guest to pin on. Yes, would advise having the place cards. If you could get them hand-painted, with a pretty floral design in the shape of a heart, or with doves or cupids in gilt, they would be a dainty souvenir. But any stationery store will furnish very nice cards.

2. Here is a suggested menu:

Chicken broth in cups. Bread rolls.
Olives. Whole pickled beets.
Jellied pressed veal. Potatoes rissoles.
Creamed celery.
Tomato jelly in lettuce nests.
Bavarian cream.
Angel cake. Bride's cake.
Coffee.

Potato Rissoles—Season a quart of hot mashed potatoes to taste with salt, pepper, butter and a little hot milk. Add two well-beaten eggs to each quart of potato. Form into balls, roll in egg and sifted bread crumbs, and fry in deep fat.

The tomato jelly is made by straining canned tomatoes free of seeds, season with salt, pepper and a bay leaf, heat over a fire; have some gelatine dissolved in a little warm water, add to the tomatoes, and mold either in one large shape or in individual molds; serve in nests of shredded lettuce, with a little salad dressing.

Bavarian Cream.—One and three-quarters cups cold water, 1 cup canned pineapple, sugar to taste (about 3½ cups), a little lemon juice, 1 pint cream. Soak gelatine in cold water till it absorbs all the water. Then stand dish in vessel of boiling water till gelatine is melted; add sugar to fruit, pour in dissolved gelatine, cool slightly, beat with a fork until light and foamy. Add in whipped cream, and chill. Some also add bananas sliced, and a few nut meats to this cream.

The cups containing the broth should be served on small plates, with a roll beside each cup. Olives and other relishes are in place on the table. After the "broth" course is removed, the veal, rissoles and celery may be brought in, ready served, on fair-sized plates; the salad accompanies this course, served on small plates or dishes. Before the dessert is brought in, the table should be cleared of all soiled dishes, and small dishes of bonbons or salted nuts substituted for the olives, etc. The coffee should be hot and strong; many an otherwise satisfactory luncheon is spoiled by half-cold coffee.

You are perfectly welcome to these hints, I am sure, and by no means wait for a year if at any time I can help you. That is why I am here, you know.

For Asthma Sufferers.

Dear Miss Grey,—I should like to help Anxious Reader and others who suffer from asthma and bronchitis, as I had it for years in the worst form. I came to London some two years ago, and was advised what to do for it. I had already spent hundreds of dollars, and was no better, so I took the advice with a lot of will power and determination, and today I am cured. I was examined by a city doctor the other day; he says there is not a trace of the old trouble. There are so many things to do, and not to do, it would take too much space, so if anyone would care for the advice, I would gladly pass it on. BETH.

Ans.—Any readers afflicted with this trouble, and desirous of benefiting by Beth's advice, should send me stamped, addressed envelope, which will at once be forwarded to her address.

THE BEAUTIFUL SNOW.

D. D., Huron County, sends the following with a special request for publication:

Major W. A. H. Sigourney, nephew of the poetess of that name, was known to be the author of "Beautiful Snow," and its production is accounted for as follows: "In early life he married a Miss Fillmore, a woman of great personal attractions, and with her made a voyage to Europe. During their absence rumors unfavorable to her character reached the Sigourney family. The report seems to have been well founded, for shortly after her return to New York she showed that the demon drink had added another to the list of his victims. She abandoned her husband, became an outcast, and was next heard of as an inmate of a penitentiary. Her husband's love was still strong enough to induce him to make another effort to save her, and through his influence she was released, only again to desert her home. In the winter of 1853 she was found dead under the snow in a disreputable street in New York. Her husband identified the body, and had it buried in New York." The story of that erring wife was told in the touching language of "Beautiful Snow" as follows:

Oh! the snow, the beautiful snow,
Filling the sky and earth below,
Over the housetops, over the street,
Over the heads of the people you meet;
Dancing—Flirting—Skimming along,
Beautiful snow! it can do no wrong;
Flying to kiss a fair lady's cheek,
Clinging to lips in frolicsome freak;
Beautiful snow from heaven above,
Pure as an angel, gentle as love!

Oh! the snow, the beautiful snow,
How the flakes gather and laugh as they go
Whirling about in maddening fun;
Chasing—Laughing—Hurrying by
It lights on the face, and it sparkles the eye;
And the dogs with a bark and a bound
Snap at the crystals as they eddy around;
The town is alive, and its heart in a glow
To welcome the coming of beautiful snow!

How wild the crowd goes swaying along,
Hailing each other with humor and song;
How the gay sleighs like meteors flash by,
Bright for the moment, then lost to the eye;
Ringing—Swinging—Dashing they go
Over the crust of the beautiful snow;
Snow so pure when it falls from the sky,
To be trampled and tracked by thousands of feet,
Till it blends with the filth in the horrible street.

Once I was pure as the snow, but I fell,
Fell like the snowflakes from heaven to hell;
Fell to be trampled as filth on the street,
Fell to be scoffed, to be spit on and beat;
Pleading—Cursing—Dreading to die,
Selling my soul to whoever would buy;
Dealing in shame for a morsel of bread,
Hating the living and fearing the dead.
Merciful God, have I fallen so low?
And yet I was once like the beautiful snow.

Once I was fair as the beautiful snow,
With an eye like a crystal, a heart like its glow;
Once I was loved for my innocent grace—
Flattered and sought for the charms of my face!
Fathers—Mothers—Sisters—all.
God and myself I have lost by my fall;
The veriest wretch that goes shivering by,
Will make a wide sweep lest I wander too nigh;
For all that is on or above me I know
There is nothing so pure as the beautiful snow.

How strange it should be that this beautiful snow
Should fall on a sinner with nowhere to go!
How strange it should be when the night comes again
If the snow and the ice struck my desperate brain.
Fainting—Freezing—Dying alone,
Too wicked for prayer, too weak for a moan
To be heard in the streets of the crazy town,
Gone mad in the joy of snow coming down;
To be and to die in my terrible woe,
With a bed and a shroud of the beautiful snow.

Helpless and foul as the trampled snow,
Sinner, despair not; Christ stoopeth low
To rescue the soul that is lost in sin,
And raise it to life and enjoyment again.
Groaning—Bleeding—Dying for thee,
The Crucified hung on the cursed tree;
His accents of mercy fell soft on thine ear;
"Is there mercy for me? Will He heed my weak prayer?"
O God! in the stream that for sinners did flow,
Wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.

FLAT BUTTONS PROOF AGAINST WRINGER

BY CAROLINE COE.

Use only flat-back buttons on garments that are to be laundered. They stay on best and they do not wear the cloth when ironed. They are less apt to be pulled off in the wringer. Buttons that sew through are not as easily broken. Nor do they need quite as large a button hole. Buttons with metal shanks are apt to rust and ruin the garment.

Sew buttons on with double thread and put the thread through the eyes as many times as it will go. Place a pin under the button before beginning to sew. When eyes in the button are filled remove the pin and wind some thread around the threads between the button and the cloth. Put the thread through the cloth. Put the thread through the cloth to wring side of garment, cut off thread four inches from goods and tie several times.

Wax a double thread and it will pass through the holes in the button much easier.

WITH THE I. O. D. E.

The Soldiers' Field Comfort committee, I. O. D. E., reports the following work received up to Saturday: 7th Regiment Chapter, 5 pairs wristlets, 9 pairs socks, 8 scarfs; Lord Elgin Chapter, 22 pairs socks, 16 wristlets, 18 scarfs, 2 helmets; Lord Roberts Chapter, 8 pairs socks, 10 pairs wristlets, 14 scarfs, 1 scarf donated by Miss Helen Gibbons.

The Lord Roberts Chapter has received the following comunimication from Capt. Forbes Mitchell;

"Dear Mrs. Smith:

"On behalf of the N. C. O.'s and men of the machine gun section, I wish to thank the ladies of the Lord Roberts Chapter for seventeen shirts and eight sleeping caps, which were greatly appreciated. Sincerely yours,

MR. JORDAN'S RECITAL DELIGHTS MANY

Artistic Program in First Methodist Church Saturday.

The First Methodist Church was very well filled on Saturday afternoon, when music lovers of the city assembled at a twilight organ recital given by Albert D. Jordan, organist, assisted by Mrs. Edward Wyatt, soprano, and Miss Luta Laymon, contralto, soloists. The recital was held under the auspices of the Woman's Music Club, the proceeds to go in aid of war relief work.

A Fine Organ.

The magnificent new organ of the First Methodist Church was heard for the first time by many in the audience, and no praise seems too great for its wonderful possibilities. Mr. Jordan's ability as an organist is known far and wide, and with the opportunities afforded by the splendid up-to-date instrument, his favorable reputation will no doubt be widely increased. His mastery of the organ was especially noted in the difficult "Organ Symphony", with four of its movements, including the well-known and beautiful Toccata. In the Overture, "Sakuntala", too, Mr. Jordan's descriptive powers and brilliant interpretation were especially marked.

The Soloists.

Mrs. Edward Wyatt's sweet and ringing soprano possesses a force and expression that is heard to excellent advantage in the aria, "Hear Ye Israel", from Mendelssohn's Elijah. Mrs. Wyatt gave a beautiful rendition of this favorite selection. Miss Luta Laymon, whose contralto tones have won many laurels for her in this city and elsewhere, rendered dramatically the "Cry of Rachael", by Mary Turner Salter. The printed program, prepared by Mr. Jordan, deserves special mention, as it helped many in the audience not familiar with the selections to a more sympathetic intelligence of the various numbers.

The complete program contained the following:

Coronation March, Tschaikowsky; Etude Symphonique, Bossi; Organ Symphony, No. 6, Widor (Allegro Vivace, Andante Cantabile, Adagio, Toccata); Elegie, Arogonaise, Massenet; Overture, "Sakuntala", Goldmark, all rendered by Mr. Jordan. Aria, "Hear Ye Isreal" (Elijah), Mendelssohn, Mrs. Wyatt; "Cry of Rachael", Salter, Miss Laymon.

Hood's Pills ure constipation, ‘lousness and all ‘er ills. Do not ‘pe or irritate. 25c.

MOLLY McDONALD

A TALE OF THE FRONTIER

(By Randall Parrish.)

Copyright 1913 By A. G. McClurg & Co.

It was all the work of an instant, a wild, confused bit, so rapidly enacted as to seem unreal even to the participants. Hamlin lay motionless, barely conscious of living, yet unable to stir a muscle. Hughes, screaming out one oath, sank back into a heap, his frozen fingers still gripping his smoking weapon. Then Dupont rose cautiously to his knees, peering forth across the dead body of the pony. The man was unnerved, unable at first to comprehend what had occurred. He was saved as by a miracle, and his great form shook from head to foot. Then, as his eyes rested on the outstretched body of the Sergeant, hate conquered every other feeling; he staggered to his feet, picked up the gun lying in the snow, walked across and brutally kicked the prostrate form. There was no response, no movement.

"All I wish is that I'd been the one to kill yer," he growled savagely. "Hell of a good shot, though I reckon the blame fool meant it for me! Ha threw the rifle forward in readiness, and moved cautiously over toward Hughes.

"Deader than a door-nail," he muttered, pressing back the buffalo coat and staring contemptuously down into the white, glaring face. "I wonder how that coward ever happened to be here—laying out for me, I reckon?"

He straightened up and laughed, glancing furtively about.

"Some good luck that. The whole outfit cleaned out and me twenty thousand to the good," feeling inside his coat to make sure. "It's there all right. Well, good-bye, boys, there don't seem to be nothing here for me to stay for."

He caught the straying pony and swung up into the saddle, glanced about once more at the motionless figures, and finally rode off up the ridge, unconsciously following the tracks left by the fleeing Indians. If the girl ever occurred to him, he gave no sign of remembrance and she uttered no word. Lying on her side, her eyes wide open, she watched him ride away across the barren space, until the ever-moving pony topped the ridge and disappeared on the other side. Twice the man turned and glanced back into the valley, but saw nothing except the black blotches on the snow. Molly made no motion, no outcry. She preferred death there alone rather than rescue at his hands. Scarcely conscious, feeling no strength in her limbs, no hope pulsing at her heart, she closed her eyes and lay still. Yet, wrapped about as she was, her young body remained warm, and the very disappearance of Dupont yielded a sense of freedom, awoke a strong desire to live. Her eyes opened again despairingly, and gazed across the barren expanse. She could see Hamlin lying face downward, the yellow lining of his cavalry cape over his head. It seemed to her the man's foot moved. Could she be dreaming—No! He actually drew up one limb!

This evidence that the Sergeant still lived gave her fresh strength and renewed determination. She struggled to move her own feet; the left was free, but the right was caught firmly under the pony. She struggled desperately, forgetful of pain in the faith that she might save Hamlin. Little by little she worked the imprisoned limb free, only to find it numb and helpless. She lay there breathless, conscious that she ached from head to foot. Beyond her the Sergeant groaned and turned partially over upon his side. Tugging at the blanket, she managed to free one arm, gripped the mane of the dead pony and drew herself into a sitting position. Now the blood seemed to surge through her veins in new volume, and she labored feverishly to release the other hand. At last she undid a knot with her teeth and slipped the blanket from her, beating her hands together to restore circulation. Her right leg was too numb to stand upon, but she crept forward, dragging it helplessly behind her over the snow, to where Hamlin lay.

The girl's heart seemed to stop beating as she looked at him—at the white, colorless face, the closed eyes, the discoloration of blood staining his temple. Yet he lived; his faint breath was plainly perceptible in the frosty air.

"O God!" she sobbed. "What can I do?"

It was an unrestrained cry of anguish, yet there was no hesitation. She had forgotten everything except that helpless figure lying before her on the snow—her own danger, the surrounding desolation, the dead forms accentuating that wilderness tragedy. With bare hands she bathed his face in snow, rubbing the flesh until it flushed red, pressing her own warm body against his, her lips speaking his name again and again, almost hysterically, as though she hoped thus to call him back to consciousness. Her exploring fingers told her that it was no serious wound which had creased the side of his head; if there was no other he would surely revive, and the discovery sent her blood throbbing through her veins. She lifted his head to her lap, chafing his cold wrists frantically, her eyes staring again out across the barren snow fields, with fresh realization of their intense loneliness. She choked back a sob of despair, and glancing down again into Hamlin's face. He did not stir, but his eyes were open, regarding her in bewilderment.

"Molly," he whispered forgetting, "is this really you? What has happened?"

The girl's eyes filled instantly with tears, but she did not move, except that the clasp of her hands grew stronger.

"Yes, I am Molly. Please do not move yet. You have been hurt, but it is all right now."

"Hurt!" he lifted his head slightly and stared about, then dropped it again with a sigh of content. "Oh, yes, now I know." He struggled upright, in spite of her efforts at restraint, feeling beside him for the rifle. "Dupont was there, behind that dead pony. What became of Dupont?"

She dropped her face in her hands, her form trembling.

"He—he got away. He thought you were dead; to make sure he came over and kicked you. Then he took your rifle and the only pony left, and rode off."

"And left you?"

"Yes; he never thought of me, only how he should escape with the money. I never moved, never opened my eyes; perhaps he believed me dead also, and—and I prayed he would. I would rather have died than have him touch me again. And—and I thought you were dead, too. Oh, God! It was horrible!"

The man's voice was soft and low, thrilling with the love that refused control.

"I know, dear; I know it all now," he said tenderly, clasping her hands. "But that is all over and gone." He put up one hand to his wound. "Heavens, how my head aches! But that pain won't last long. I am a bit groggy yet, but will be on my feet pretty soon. You are a brave little girl. Tell me how you got free?"

She went over the short story slowly, not lifting her eyes to his, and he listened in silence, moving his limbs about, confident of the gradual return of strength.

Western Plays Duluth After Meeting Feds

Collegians Will Make Long Trip After Wednesday's Game —Play Minnesota Team on Friday and Saturday —Feds Shift Line-Up Slightly.

[BY BERT PERRY.]

One of the longest trips undertaken by a London hockey team will be made this week when the Western University Intermediates travel to Duluth and play in the Minnesota city on Friday and Saturday evenings against the Duluth hockey team.

The final arrangements for this trip were made Saturday night, when a telegram was received from the Duluth club accepting Western's terms. The club's expenses will amount to something over three hundred dollars, so that hockey must be a paying proposition in the city at the head of Lake Superior.

Feds Have Three Games.

The University team will leave London right after Wednesday night's game in the city series with the Feds. They will travel via Chicago, and will not arrive in Duluth until Friday afternoon. It was at first expected that the team would not be able to make the trip owing to the city series. The Feds have to play in Waterloo on Tuesday night, and they objected to playing three games in as many nights. They were also supposed to play the Waterloo team here on Wednesday night, but that club kindly consented to postpone this game, and the outlaws then agreed to meet the University that night in the Princess Rink in the second game of the series.

Shift in Outlaw Team.

The Feds will present a change in their line-up for the city series. Eddie McKay will replace Lee Walden at right wing, and Al. Moore will play left wing. Ernie Hagerman will take Moore's place at rover. It is expected that this shift will produce more combination play than before, and they expect to give Western a tight run for the city championship in the two games this week.

Owing to the fact that neither team could agree on a referee for the local series, it is likely a Toronto man will officiate. Tackaberry and Lou Marsh have been suggested, and one or the other will act.

NO SIGN OF FEDERAL LEAGUE SCHEDULE YET

Buffalo Meeting Adjourns Until March 13.

FRANCHISE FOR NEWARK

President Gilmore Says Injunction Proceedings Were Unjust and Illadvised.

BUFFALO, Feb. 28.—The Federal Baseball League adjourned its two-days' session here late Saturday afternoon and will meet in Pittsburg March 13. By that time it was expected that the court obstacle preventing the transfer of the Kansas City franchise would be removed and the season's playing schedule could be adopted. Other than to state that the opening games would be played April 10, four days ahead of the opening day of the National and American League, no official statement as to the schedule was forthcoming.

President Gilmore made positive the statement that Newark would have a Federal League franchise this year, and characterized the legal action as ill-advised and unjust. H. T. Gates, the league's attorney, following suggestions received from players and club owners, presented a new contract which will be submitted to the owners by the usual thirty days' mail vote. Mr. Gates stated that the contract was an equitable one and he considered it "court proof" binding alike on player and club.

William Brennan, chief of umpires, announced the following umpires for the season: James Johnstone, Newark; Fred Westervelt, Richmond; William Finneran, Erie; Harry Howell, Brooklyn; Lewis Fyfe, Chicago; Barry McCormick, Chicago; W. P. Shannon, Minneapolis. The ninth umpire will be either Hank O'Day or Jack Egan.

DARIUS RESTA WINS THE GRAND PRIX RACE

Italian Driver Finished First in Slow Time.

TRACK WAS DANGEROUS

No Serious Accidents Occured —Oldfield and De Palma Dropped Out.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 28.—On a rain-drenched, dangerous track, D. Resta, an Italian driver, engaged in his first American speed struggle, won the grand prix automobile race at the Panama-Pacific exposition Saturday in Car No. 6. His time was seven hours seven minutes 57 1-2 seconds. Howard Wilcox, in No. 26, was second, three laps behind Resta, time 7:14:36, and Hughie Hughes, No. 28, third. Time 7:21:46. Gil Anderson, No. 5, fourth. Time, 7:21:38, and Louis Disbrow, No. 12, fifth. Time, 7:34:51.

Before the race was two-thirds over Resta went out in front and stayed there, warding off the rushes of Wilcox and Hughes, who fought valiantly for the leadership. Resta won $3,000, the other four named dividing $4,000.

Rain began to fall an hour after the start. It stopped for two or three hours, then began again and continued until the race closed in the gathering darkness.

Earl Cooper raced only a little more than one lap when a broken connecting rod forced him out. Barney Oldfield was eliminated by engine trouble about the middle, and Eddie Pulford, winner of last year's race, and Ralph DePalma were forced to retire long before the end.

There was no serious accident.

ZINN SCORED SEVEN GOALS FOR VARSITY II.'s

TORONTO, Feb. 28.—Varsity II. easily defeated Queens' II. here yesterday afternoon in the first of the home-and-home games for the intercollegiate championship by the score of 10 to 3. It was a poor exhibition of hockey, from start to finish. The work of Zinn at left wing for Varsity was the only feature of the game. This player was easily the best on the ice, and he gets the credit for his team's easy victory. He alone scored seven goals. Smith was next best, while Wright was Queens' best man.

The line-up:

Varsity II.	Position	Queens' II.
Lavercuq	Goal	Pavli
Beaton	Defence	Spence
Mills	Defence	Prouse
Catto	Rover	Edwards
Smith	Centre	Boyd
Zinn	Wing	Wright

X—Played a tie game.

Owing to the intermediate O. B. A. game in the evening in which some of the City League players played, only one game in the City Basketball League was played off Saturday. In this contest, the High School team met defeat at the hands of Cooks, by the score of 46 to 25 in a fast and interested game. The score at half time was 22 to 19. This is the High School's second defeat, and it practically cinches the championship of the league for the Free Press team. The work of Feltor and Buttwell was prominent. The postponed games will likely be worked off some night during the week.

ANOTHER SHOCK FOR SARNIA FANS

Seaforth Puts Sailors Out on Their Own Ice.

SARNIA LED AT THE HALF

Seaforth Scored Their Five Goals in Close Order in Second Period.

SARNIA, Feb. 27.—The fast Seaforth N. H. L. team Saturday night defeated the local team by a score of 5 to 3, in one of the fastest games of the season here this year, the score at the half time being 1 to 0, in favor of Sarnia, that goal being secured by Finch in fourteen minutes. During the second half the visitors, however, had things more their own way, and as a result they got five goals in close order, while Dore and Finch got one each. The visitors doing the scoring were Sills, Hoffman, Reid. The first and last goal, ting two each. The first of the game were Dore and Lesseur for Sarnia, and Sills, Reid and McGeoch for Seaforth. The line-up:

Sarnia.	Position.	Seaforth.

VARSITY SENIORS WON GAME OF NO ACCOUNT

TORONTO, Feb. 27.—Varsity and Queens played the last intercollegiate game of the season here yesterday, Varsity winning by 8 to 5. As Varsity have already annexed the championship no importance was attached to the game, consequently only a small crowd turned out. The line-up:

'Varsity.	Position.	Queens.
Wilkinson	Goal	Smith
Mathers	Defence	Goddard
Sandercock	Defence	Whyte
Dafoe	Rover	Rappell
Jupp	Centre	Keeley
Murray	Right wing	Dobson.

HOT SPRINGS HAS RACING WITH THE PARI-MUTUELS

[Special to The Advertiser.]

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 28.—The Arkansas State Legislature has brought in a bill, which it authorized, legalizing Pari-Mutuel betting on race-horses. The bill was passed by a vote of 17 to 11, and had a rider attached, making the bill an exception to 35 countries of the State. This will confine racing to Hot Springs only.

The Oak Lawn Palatial Racing Plant will be opened again next spring, for the first time since 1907, when the anti-betting law went into effect in Arkansas.

PARKHILL BOXER WHO IS MAKING BIG BID FOR PUGILISTIC FAME

ALEX. McDONALD, the Parkhill, Ont., lightweight, who last Monday administered a bad beating to Jack Hunter, of Detroit, in Mount Clemens. Hunter was only saved from a knockout by the referee. He took the count of nine once. McDonald is a protege of J. S. McDonald, hotel owned of Parkhill, and the residents of that town have offered to put up $1,000 that he can beat Patsy Drouillard, of Windsor. So far, however, Eddie Glasco, Drouillard's manager, has not seen fit to arrange the bout.

McDonald is an Englishman by birth, and he is only a youngster yet. Johnnie Whittaker is his manager, and George Meyers, the Parkhill featherweight, is one of his sparring partners. Meyers meets Johnnie Pendergrast, one of the best featherweights in Detroit, on March 17 in Mount Clemens. McDonald will take on several more lightweights shortly, and if he continues to improve as much as he has done in his last two or three bouts, he will soon be making a bid for the lightweight crown.

ST. PAUL RETAINS ITS A. A. FRANCHISE

League Will Take It Over If Private Parties Fail To Purchase It.

St. Paul, Minn., March 1.—With a view to determining the future of the St. Paul Club of the American Association which has been on the market without a purchaser since last fall, a special committee appointed at the recent Chicago schedule meeting of the Association, met here today. President Thomas Chivington, Mike Cantillon, of Minneapolis, and A. F. Timme, of Milwaukee, compose the committee.

It seemed certain that St. Paul would retain the franchise. It is understood that John W. Norton has a plan whereby St. Paul interests would take over the club, but if this is not approved by the committee, it is said, the club will be operated here by the association. If the Norton proposition goes through, it is reported that Ike Kelly will manage the team.

KILBANE TO MEET WILLIAMS MAR. 17

Six-Round Bout Between the Featherweight and Bantamweight Champions is Arranged.

Philadelphia, March 1.—Definite announcement that the six-round bout between Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champion, and Kid Williams, holder of the bantamweight title, will be held in this city on March 17 was made today by Harry Edwards, president of the Olympia Athletic Association, which has secured the fight.

Signed articles of agreement accompanied by a $5,000 forfeit for weight and appearance, Edwards said, were received by mail from Kilbane and his manager, who are in Cleveland.

Both men agreed to make 122 pounds ringside. Each will receive $5,500 or the privilege of 55 per cent of the receipts.

"THE FUNNIEST PLAY I EVER SAW."

BY FRANK M. SCHULTE.

Outfielder Chicago Cubs and One of the Greatest Players of the Generation.

I never have been able to decide which of two things I heard on the ball field was the funnier, so I'll tell them both.

In 1908, when I was with Syracuse in the New York State League, we had a four-game series with Ilion, which was managed by Howard Carl.

The series was very important; it meant the pennant for Ilion to win two out of the four games, and we had beaten them the first two. In the third game, Pop Morse was pitching, and up to the fourth inning he had us stopped without a hit. Howard, on first base, was playing the game of his life, and shouting, "This gent certainly is pitching today! He's there, boys, he's there!"

In the fifth we started, and hit Pop for eight straight hits and seven runs. Howard had swallowed his gum, and was unable to speak, but when the eighth hit was made he turned and looked at Jack Fifield, who was coaching for us.

"By Jack," he said solemnly, "in all my baseball career I never was known to lay down, but I feel—peculiar just now."

One day the old Chance, to Evers to Tinker to Steinfeldt to Kling to Sheckard to Hoffman to Brown to Fullerton to the bar-bunch was playing in Brooklyn. Zimmerman had been with the club about a year. Evers and Tinker were at him all the time, telling him if anybody ever stole his bat he'd be gone, and advising him to get some brains.

Chance was sore at Heine for pulling a boner 24 hours before; and Chance hadn't smiled for a week. Heine was sitting near Chance on the bench, Evers was at bat, and Nap Rucker pitching.

The first ball Nap pitched Evers had to fall to avoid being hit on the head, and it almost got him. The next was low, and the third Rucker shot straight at John's bean, and he dropped again just in time.

Everything was quiet on the bench, then someone said: "If Rucker hits him then someone said: "If Rucker hits him, there'll be brains all over the infield."

Heine jumped up and started toward the plate: "If Rucker hits him," he said, "I want to be near and get some of them."

Chance exploded, ha, ha, ha, and laughed until he bumped his head on the top of the bench.

CLIMBERS TOO GOOD FOR LOCAL O.B.A. CLUB

Hamiltonians Won Saturday Night by 23 to 18.

LAST PERIOD, LONDON'S

Poor Shooting Prevented Local Team From Overcoming Early Lead.

The Hamilton Climbers cinched the basketball honors of the local intermediate group when they put London intermediates out of the O. B. A. running Saturday night by defeating them 23 to 18, in a hard-fought game. The Climbers got away to a big lead in the first period, and although the locals had them outplayed at every angle in the second period, poor shooting prevented them from winning. The score at the half-way period was 16 to 8, in the visitors' favor. London outscored them, 10 to 7, in the second period, and should have had a bigger margin.

Eastwood Was Good.

Eastwood played a strong game for the locals, holding Burton, one of the visitors' scoring machines, well in check. Burton only scored one basket, while Eastwood got two. Finlayson and McQueen starred for the Climbers also, while Gough and Shaw shared the honors with Eastwood locally. Colin Duffield made a good job of refereeing.

The teams were:

Hamilton C.		London.
Burton, l.f.	2	Steele, l.f. 9
Finlayson, r.f.	19	Butwell, l.f. 2
McQueen, c.	9	Gough, r.f. 6
Nieman, l.g.	9	Shaw, c. 2
Dodson, r.g.	2	Eastwood, l.g. 4
		David, r.g. 4
Total	23	Total 18

Referee—Colin Duffield.

The Youngsters Won.

A preliminary game between a team of Hamilton businessmen and a local team of businessmen was played, the visitors winning by 25 to 16, after leading, 16 to 8, at half-time. The visiting aggregation was a more youthful one than the Londons team, and had a decided advantage. J. B. Ferguson refereed the game.

PARKDALE'S NEW CLUB HOUSE GOES UP IN SMOKE

Canoe Club's Fine New Building Burned to Ground Before Completed.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, March 1.—Parkdale Canoe Club's new clubhouse went up in smoke this morning. The fire, it is suspected, started from the workmen's stove and the men had to jump into the water to escape. P. C. C. has had more than its share of hard luck, and will have the sympathy of the sporting world in the loss of its new home.

The old clubhouse was burned out two years ago, and the new one which was to cost $30,000, was all but completed.

The damage done is estimated at $20,000.

WANDERERS REFUSE TO PLAY DEFAULTED MATCH

Montreal, March 1.—President Lychtenhein announced that the Wanderers will not play off the defaulted game with the Shamrocks. The match, which was to have been played in Toronto early in February, was defaulted by Shamrocks because the McNamara brothers were unable to play, owing to their father's death. The game was awarded to Wanderers by President Quinn, of the N. H. A.

Wanderers and Ottawa are now on equal terms for the N. H. A. championship.

NORWEGIAN SKI-JUMPER SETS NEW JUMP RECORD

Chicago, Ill., March 1.—The world's record for ski-jumpers has passed from America to Norway was announced here by Akel H. Holter, secretary of the National Ski Association of America. Omtvedt, the Chicago professional, whose jump of 166 feet at Ironwood, Mich., established a world's record February 16, 1913, was out-jumped by Amble Omundsen, of Christiania, recently when he jumped 177 feet on the Eker Ski Club slide.

EIGHTH TROOP WINS BOY SCOUT LEAGUE

By defeating the 2nd Troop team (First Methodist Church) by 9 to 5, the 8th Troop team (Dundas Centre Church) won the pennant in the Boy Scout Hockey League. The winners deserve credit, as they had to play with four men, the remainder being unable to turn up. Every player on the winning team played a great game. White and Parkinson starred for the losers. Following were the line-ups:

8th Troop—Young, goal; Davis, defence; Bryant, centre; Irwin rover.

Referee—F. Horne.

Four scheduled games in the Boy Scout League had to be cancelled on account of the weather, and the two leading teams decided to play off for the championship.

Following is the standing of the teams at the close of the league:

	Won.	Lost.
8th Troop	2	0
2nd Troop	3	1
7th Troop	1	1
18th Troop	0	2
11th Troop	0	2

FORT WILLIAM BEAT WINNIPEG'S GOOD TEAM

PORT ARTHUR, Feb. 27.—The Fort William hockey seven put the Thunder Bay League on the world's hockey map here tonight when they outscored the Monarchs of Winnipeg 5 to 2 in the first of home and home games in the Allan cup elimination series.

HANK O'DAY WANTS TO UMPIRE ON COAST

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Henry O'Day, veteran umpire of the National League, and last year manager of the Chicago Nationals, is through with the major leagues, it was learned today. He has advised John K. Tener, president of the National League, that he does not want his former position, and is anxious to umpire on the Pacific coast.

Ottawa Has Close Game With Ontarios

Senators Went Overtime To Win Out — Wanderers Easily Beat Canadiens, While Torontos Lost One to Quebec.

N. H. A. STANDING.

	Won.	Lost.	For.	Agst.
Ottawa	13	6	70	62
Wanderers	13	6	123	80
Quebec	11	8	83	82
Torontos	8	11	62	79
Ontarios	6	13	73	94
Canadiens	6	13	66	81

OTTAWA, Feb. 27.—Art Ross saved the locals from defeat at the hands of the Shamrocks at the local arena tonight. The Irishmen had the Senators faded in the second period, in which Ronan tied the score, and George McNamara put them ahead. Shamrocks led by 2 to 1 at the beginning of the third period. Alf Smith then benched Shore, and called on Ross. Shamrocks inaugurated a defensive game, and none of the Ottawa regulars seemed able to get through, but Ross finally bored in, and scored on a pretty play, making it 2 all. Then the Shamrocks weakened, and though an overtime period became necessary, the locals rallied and skated the visitors to a standstill, Broadbent breaking up the game after three extra minutes on a side shot. It was one of the finest exhibitions seen here this season. Lesueur and Benedict saved their teams time after time. It was a close call for Ottawa, and Ross got a great reception when he finally responded to the pleadings of the crowd by tieing it up. Play certainly demonstrated the honesty of the N. H. A. race, as Shamrocks, with nothing at stake, battled desperately to throw Ottawa out of the race. Line-up:

Ottawa.		Shamrocks.
Benedict	Goal	Lesueur
Merill	Defence	G. McNamara
Shore	Defence	McNamara
Darragh	Centre	Ronan
Broadbent	R. wing	Denneny
Gerard	L. wing	Cyril Denneny
Ross	Substitute	McNamara

Duford	Substitute	Hunt

Referee—Johnny Brennan.

Judge of Play—Ernie Butterworth.

WANDERERS IN FORM; CANADIENS WERE EASY

MONTREAL, Feb. 28.—Playing at their best form, while their opponents played far below their standard, the Wanderers kept pace with Ottawa in the race for the National Hockey Association championship by defeating the Canadiens, 7 to 4, in their final meeting on Saturday night.

The game was uninteresting, and dragged tediously at the end. The result was expected from the first.

The only major penalty imposed was when Sprague Cleghorn cut Scott's eye open with his stick as the pair went to the ice after a collision. For this Cleghorn was sent to the bench for five minutes, while Scott was forced to retire. The line-up.

Wanderers.		Canadiens
McCarthy	Goal	Vezina
S. Cleghorn	Defence	Dubeau
Prodgers	Defence	Corbeau
O. Cleghorn	Wing	Laviolette
Hyland	Centre	Pitre
Roberts	Wing	Fournier
Smith	Substitute	Berlanquette
Stephens	Substitute	Bawlf
Baker	Substitute	Scott

Officials—Cooper Smeaton and Reg Percival.

QUEBEC BEAT TORONTO IN POOR HOCKEY GAME

TORONTO, Feb. 28.—In a game which was devoid of anything which resembled good hockey, Quebec defeated the Torontos at the Arena on Saturday night. The score was 5 to 4, and does not indicate the play. Cameron was again missing from the Toronto defence. The third period brought forth some fair hockey, but aside from this the game had no redeeming features. A few hundred enthusiasts witnessed the game. The line-up:

Toronto.	Position.	Quebec
Holmes	Goal	Moran
Carpenter	Defense	Mummery
Lowther	Defence	Hall
Foyston	Forward	Crawford
Wilson	Forward	Marks
Walker	Forward	McDonald
McGiffin	Substitute	Malone

McGILL CARRIED OFF HONORS IN THE SWIMMING EVENTS

TORONTO, Feb. 28.—Not only did McGill University win the intercollegiate union swimming title on Saturday afternoon at Central Young Men's Christian Association, but George Hodgson clipped four-fifths of a second off the fifty-yard record for the local tank. The visitors won 25 points, while University of Toronto had 24 to their credit.

Hodgson won the three races in which he entered, and defeated the local crack, Frank Woods. Only in fancy diving did the local competitors stand out ahead of the "red and white." Between the races Instructor Corsan, of the University of Toronto, gave a demonstration of swimming.

Summary:

200 yard relay race—McGill (Hodgson, McLean, Austen, Smith) won; University, of Toronto, (Wood, Tillson, Heustis, Verity), second. Time—1:54 3-5. McGill won easily.

Fancy dive—Woods (Toronto), 117 points, won; Heustis (Toronto), 116 points, second; How (McGill), 98 points, third.

Fifty yards—Hodgson, won, Woods, second; Dengally, McGill, 3rd. Time—26 1-5 seconds. (New record.)

Two hundred yards swim—Kerry (McGill), won; Lister, (McGill), 2; Heustis (Toronto), 3. Time—3:48.

Fifty yards, back swimming—Woods (Toronto), won; Lyons (Toronto), 2; Thomp (McGill), 3. Time—333 4-5.

Long plunge—Roscborough (McGill), 55 feet 1 inch, won; Patterson (McGill), 49 feet 9 inches, 2; Kelleher, Toronto, 49 feet, 3 inches.

100 yards—Hodgson, 1; Woods, 2; Dengally, 3. Time—1:04.

Polo—McGill, 5; University of Toronto, 1.

PARIS O. B. A. TEAM PLAYS HERE TONIGHT

The Paris intermediate O.B.A. team will play in London this evening against the local intermediates. The game has no direct bearing on the group championship, but both teams will make a big effort to win it, nevertheless. This will be the last intermediate O.B.A. game to be played here this season.

HAINSWORTH'S GOOD WORK SAVED BERLIN AT DETROIT

Former O.H.A. Champions Took Second Game by Score of 2 to 1.

DETROIT, Feb. 28.—By a two to one tally, the Berlin champions annexed the second of the two games series with Detroit Arena, seven, last night, and the closeness of the score has done more than anything else to convince the locals that they are at last learning how to play the Canadian national game.

To Hainsworth, perhaps more than any other single Berlin player, is due the credit for the victory. The Berliner was a stumbling block to Captain Johnson's men. He picked off many shots with ease and gave one of the best goal tending exhibitions displayed here since hockey was first introduced. Detroit bombarded the net continually and Hainsworth was in front of every shot stopping 22 with either club, hand or body.

Both of Berlin's counts were made in the second period. There were numerous offsides and plenty of penalties were imposed by Referee Meincke, ten men being sent off the ice. The line-up:

Detroit.	Position.	Berlin
Hamaler	Goal	Hainsworth
Dunston	R. defence	Truschinski
Black	L. defence	Seibert
Johnson (cap)	Rover	Hiller
Williams	Centre	Solomon
Skelly	R. wing	Lareaux
Shaw	L. wing	Boettger (cap)

STATES COULD NOT CHECK THE DICTATOR

Would Be Unable To Defend Her Own Interests—Hint From Lloyd George.

BANGOR, Wales (via London), Feb. 28—10:30 p.m.—The Chancellor of the Exchequer, David Lloyd George, made a pointed reference to the United States in a speech here today.

"If Germany is triumphant over this country," he said, "she would be practically dictator of the world, and where," he asked, "could we then look to a chivalrous country to protect us? To America? If with France and Russia with their powerful armies, we with the most powerful navy in the world, could not face this terrible machine, how could America step in? It would be more than America could do to defend her interests in her own continent. America is unready more than we were."

The Chancellor then took up the liquor industrial questions.

"The Government has wide powers to deal with the drink question and it means to use them," he declared. He said a small minority of the workmen employed in the armament factories had refused to work a full week because of the lure of drink. The Government would use its powers discreetly and in a spirit of moderation, Mr. Lloyd George asserted, but "fearlessly." He was sure the public would support whatever action was taken and not allow indulgence of this kind to interfere with the country's prospects in the war.

Industrial Troubles Must End.

"For one reason or another we do not get the results we are entitled to expect from our workshops. Industrial differences are bound to occur, but we cannot afford them now. It is intolerable that the lives of Britons should be imperiled for the sake of a farthing an hour. During war Governments should have the power of settling differences, I do not believe the parties involved will refuse to comply with the urgent command of the Government that there should be no delay."

Expressing confidence in the outcome of the war the Chancellor said the people of the country hardly realized yet the importance of the struggle in which they were engaged and warned them that victory could not be won without a long struggle. He declared that while England had enrolled the largest volunteer army ever gathered in any country or any century, it ought to be larger still.

COULD NOT GO TEN STEPS

FOR THE PAIN IN HIS KIDNEYS.

When you get a pain in the back you may rest assured that it comes from derangement of the kidneys, for were there not something wrong with the kidneys the back should be strong and well.

Doan's Kidney Pills regulate the kidneys, and there is no further excuse for any kidney trouble to exist. What more needs to be said? While Doan's Kidney Pills are not a "balm for every ill that flesh is heir to," they are a positive, never-failing remedy for every disease that has its inception in the improper action in those delicate little filters of the blood, the kidneys.

Mr. Adelard Cleroux, Eganville, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with my kidneys for four years. They were so bad at times I could not go ten steps for the pain they caused me. My doctor could not do me any good. A friend advised me to use Doan's Kidney Pills. I bought five boxes, and now I have been cured for over three years. I will recommend them to whoever may be suffering from kidney trouble."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50c per box; 6 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

When ordering direct specify "Doans."

HEADACHE, COLDS, COSTIVE BOWELS, TAKE CASCARETS

Tonight! Clean Your Bowels and End Headaches, Colds, Sour Stomach.

Get a 10-cent box now.

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, bad taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have a bad cold.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse the stomach, remove the sour undigested, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular, and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.

BLOCKADE MAY BE DECLARED TODAY

Allies Warn Neutrals of Intent To Stop All German Shipping.

LIVES TO BE RESPECTED

Action Will Result From Submarine Attacks On Merchant Vessels.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, Feb. 28.—Great Britain, France and their allies have advised neutral countries that they hold themselves at liberty to stop all shipping to and from Germany and the countries of her allies.

Public announcement of this action will be made early this week, probably Monday. The text of the declaration will set forth that this decision is necessary because of German submarine attacks, but that Great Britain and France will respect the lives of crews and passengers in any steps they may take.

The declaration is not a reply to the American representations looking to a cessation of German submarine activity and the admission of food to Germany for civilians. The declaration will not affect cargoes shipped before the date of this advice to neutrals.

The exact date carried by the declaration has not been announced but it is probably February 26 or 27.

No special articles of commerce will be mentioned in the British-French declaration. Cotton and foodstuffs, for example, will not be specified, but the terms will be general. The situation created will be entirely justified, according to the English view, because of Germany's unprecedented action in attempting a submarine blockade, regardless of danger to the crews and passengers of ships.

Effect in the Baltic.

Shipping in the Baltic will not be affected, except as Great Britain and her allies prevent supplies from entering Norway, Sweden and Denmark, for re-exportation to Germany. Holland, by making its prohibited export list conform with the British contraband list and by the creation of Netherlands inter-seas trust—to which virtually all cargoes entering Holland are now consigned with the Government guarantee that they will not be exported to Germany—has put its shipping in a position which will be affected little by the declaration.

It is believed here that the Scandinavian countries, doubtless, will take similar action to insure continuation of supplies from America and elsewhere for home use. While Denmark, Sweden and Norway have repeatedly modified the lists of prohibited exports, their regulations for the prevention of re-exportation apparently have been unsatisfactory to Great Britain or the administration of the regulations has been unsatisfactory, as cargoes have not moved to the Scandinavian countries with the same freedom as to Holland.

BERNHARDT GETTING BETTER RAPIDLY

[Canadian Press.]

Bordeaux, March 1.—Dr. Deuce, who is in attendance upon Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, whose right leg was amputated last week, in his bulletin today said that the condition of the patient continued excellent and that hereafter the usual daily bulletin will be omitted. Mme. Berndardt continues to receive a large number of messages daily.

BRITISH WARSHIP HIT GERMAN AEROPLANE

LONDON, March 1.—3:40 a.m. — The correspondent at Lowestoft of the Daily Mail sends a statement made by the two German aviators who were found clinging to their machines in the North Sea and brought into Lowestoft Saturday. The aviators said they had come on a scouting expedition to England the same day that German 'planes dropped bombs on Colchester, Braintree and other towns. This was last Sunday. They were fired at by a British warship, the aviators declared, and one of their 'planes was broken, which compelled them to alight on the North Sea, late Sunday afternoon.

The aviators referred to were picked up in the North Sea by a trawler. They had been clinging to their machine for two days when rescued.

WHY NOT!

ESSEN, Germany, Feb. 28.—Via London, March 1.—1:52 a.m.—The Krupp firm and family have subscribed thirty million marks ($7,500,000), to the new war loan.

ENOUGH FOOD FOR A YEAR IN BRITAIN

Liverpool Warehouses, Crammed With Edibles, Defy Any German Blockade.

GREAT SHIPPING ACTIVITY

Never In History Has Congestion Been So Heavy In Big Port.

[Canadian Press.]

Liverpool, March 1.—Never in the history of this port has the congestion of shipping been so great; nor have the Liverpool warehouses ever been so crammed with foodstuffs as at present. It is the concensus of opinion of importers here that, even should the German submarine blockade prove effective, there is enough food now stored here to feed the country for a year.

Perhaps no city in England bears less trace of the war in the way of military or naval activity than Liverpool. Far removed from the fear of Zeppelins, it is brilliantly lighted at night, and the usually drab city is gay by comparison with London. Liverpool is not a naval base, its harbor being given over almost exclusively to merchant ships. The activity along its miles of docks is feverish, because, in spite of the usually ample facilities for unloading merchant vessels, at least thirty heavily laden steamers are chafing at their anchors in the stream and awaiting berths.

Owners of merchant ships are reaping a golden harvest. Some loss is caused by the failure of ships to get berths on their arrival, but this is more than compensated for by the increase in freight rates.

Shower Shells on Turk Forts Twelve Miles Off

Allied Fleet Said To Have Fired Thousand Shots in One Day.

PARIS, Feb. 28. — The allied fleet on Friday fired a thousand shells at the Dardanelles forts, says a dispatch from the Athens correspondent of the Havas Agency. The message continues:

"The British fleet discharged its guns at a distance of 18 kilometres (about 12 miles). The battleship Gaulois (French) distinguished herself, contributing very largely to the destruction of Fort Sedd-El Bahr.

"Yesterday 40 vessels advanced as far as Fort Orkhanieh and swept the Turkish encampments. They then bombarded in Tepeh, which they destroyed.

"Submarines protected by French vessels and aeroplanes constantly moved about. Torpedo dragging was effected methodically.

"According to information from authoritative sources the arrival of numerous injured soldiers caused a panic in Constantinople. Special trains are constantly under steam at Haidar Pasha, ready to transport the imperial family and the treasury to the interior of Asia.

"During the bombardment of Sedd El Bahr munitions depots blew up, killing many defenders, among whom were numerous Germans."

BAKERS IN VIENNA OBLIGED TO CLOSE

LONDON, Feb. 28.—11:15 p.m.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from Venice says:

"Having been unable to obtain any flour, 150 bakers out of a total of 700 in Vienna have closed their shops indefinitely.

"All vacant lands, including the unused portion of the great central cemetery, are being used for growing potatoes and other vegetables.

"A Budapest dispatch says that snow has fallen uninterruptedly during the last 48 hours in the Carpathians, bringing the military operations almost to a standstill."

TENOR DIES SUDDENLY.

New York, March 1.—Rudolph Berger, the Austrian tenor, who has been singing at the Metropolitan Opera House here, died suddenly from paralysis of the heart Saturday night at his apartments.

AFTER GRIPPE

Vinol Restored Mr. Martin's Strength.

Wapakoneta, Ohio.—"I am a farmer by occupation, and the grippe left me with a bad cough and in a nervous, weak, rundown condition, and I could not seem to get anything to do me any good until I took Vinol which built me up, and my cough and nervousness are all gone, and I can truly say Vinol is all that is claimed for it."—JAMES MARTIN.

Vinol is a constitutional remedy for all weak, nervous and rundown conditions of men, women and children, and for chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis.

PANIC THREATENS INTERNAL TROUBLE IN TURK CAPITAL

Allies' Fleet One-Third Through Dardanelles, Continue Battering Way To Constantinople — Government To Be Transferred To Broussa, Asia.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, Feb. 28. — "There is a panic in Constantinople, and many inhabitants are leaving," says the Athens correspondent of the Weekly Dispatch. "Internal trouble is imminent. The Cabinet has decided to transfer the seat of government to Broussa, Asia Minor."

A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Athens says:

"The Allies have disembarked detachments of artillery near the destroyed Dardanelles forts and British and French flags are now flying over them.

"The fleet continued a bombardment of the inner forts yesterday afternoon. A powder magazine was blown up. There were numerous victims. The fleet had reached as far as the lighthouse near Fort Kilid Bahr. The forts on the European side have been reduced to silence. Mine-sweeping operations continue.

"There are fifty thousand Turks on the European side and fifteen thousand on the Asiatic side."

Fort Kilid Bahr is about twelve miles from the entrance to the Dardanelles, or about one-third the way through, and 160 miles from Constantinople.

Attempt To Profit By Advertiser's Announcement

In connection with the newspaper reference book, "London and Its Men of Affairs," which The Advertiser is publishing, there has come to our attention reports of unauthorized representations, which are being made to prominent citizens, in an effort to profit by the various announcements made by The Advertiser. Certain persons, it appears, upon learning of The Advertiser's plan, have endeavored to take advantage of it to further an advertising scheme of doubtful merit.

Do Not Be Misled.

The Advertiser has done an immense amount of work in preparation to make "London and Its Men of Affairs" a volume which will in every way reflect credit upon the city, and feels it its duty to warn citizens against being misled into confusing this work with anything presented by unauthorized persons, who seek to profit by the publicity given The Advertiser's forthcoming volume. "London and Its Men of Affairs" will carry no advertising matter of any description. It will be the most elaborate and representative volume ever produced in Ontario.

A Fine Production.

In its production The Advertiser is sparing no expense to make the work one which will be prized by Londoners for generations. The printing will be done on the finest calendared paper, and the binding in full heavy calfskin. The edition will represent an expenditure of many thousands of dollars, and copies will be placed in libraries and newspaper offices throughout the province.

SOCIALISTS PROTEST HIGH PRICE OF FOOD

LONDON, Feb. 28—8:20 p.m.—A big Socialist demonstration was held in Trafalgar Square today to protest against the prevailing prices of food and coal. A resolution was adopted expressing indignation and disappointment at the Government's refusal to take "effective measures to deal with the alarming increase in the cost of food and fuel."

The resolution demands Government control of carrying ships, the commandeering of home grown supplies for sale at the lowest possible prices and the fixing of maximum prices for the necessities of life.

$200,000,000 WANTED BY SPANISH GOVERNMENT

LONDON, March 1.—2:49 a.m.—The Morning Post's correspondent at Madrid says:

"The effects of the war on food prices are beginning to be severely felt in Spain. The Government is endeavoring to purchase 50,000 tons of wheat in America.

"To meet the budget deficit and the expenses of maintaining neutrality, the Government plans to float a loan of $200,000,000."

NATIVE OF MONTREAL IS KILLED IN ACTION

MONTREAL, Que., Feb. 28.—Private F. Archie Cameron, of the Princess Pats, a native of Montreal, 28 years of age, was killed in action before Lebray. Word to this effect was received from the militia department at Ottawa by Mrs. T. C. Cameron, of St. Lambert, a brother of the deceased.

A few hours previous to the receipt of the news Mr. Cameron received a letter from Private Cameron, dated February 10, but not stating where it was written, and mentioned that the trenches where he was fighting was full of water.

The deceased was a veteran of the South African war, and later a member of the Mounted Police in South Africa, and still later a miner at the Rand. He was not married.

SOME GOOD NEWS FOR AUTO OWNERS

American Government Chemist Dicovers Method To Increase Gasoline Supply.

WILL BREAK MONOPOLY

Another Invention May Rob Germany of Great Trade In Dyes.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, March 1.—The discovery of two chemical processes—one of tremendous importance to the oil industry, the other far-reaching in its effect on the manufacture of dyestuffs and explosives is announced by the department of the interior. The first is expected to greatly increase the supply of gasoline and break the Standard Oil's monopoly, while the other may make the United States independent of the rest of the world in regard to materials necessary for the dye industry and the manufacture of high explosives, making this country independent of any other in case of war.

Treble Output.

Dr. Walter F. Rittman, chemical engineer of the bureau of mines, is the discoverer of the two processes, which he will dedicate to the whole American people.

The first of the processes promises to enable independent refiners in this country to increase their output of gasoline from petroleum 200 per cent or more. With an estimated production by the independent refiners of 12,000,000 barrels of gasoline a year, this will mean an output from the independents alone of 36,000,000 barrels, greater than the present total production from all sources.

Oust German Trade.

The second process includes the manufacture from crude petroleum of toluol and benzol, both of which have heretofore been obtained from coal tar. As Germany has specialized far beyond other countries in by-products from coal tar, the United States and the rest of the world have been dominated by that country as regards toluol and benzol, which are the important bases for the production of dyestuffs and high explosives, and especially smokeless powder.

VILLA ANNOUNCES CAPTURE OF ACAMBARO

Also Reports Victory Over Carranza Forces At San Mateo.

[Canadian Press.]

El Paso, Texas, March 1.—A battle between Villa and Carranza troops at San Mateo, Chihuahua, and the capture of Acambaro, Guanajuato State, are reported in a brief telegram signed by Francisco Villa, received here last night by the Associated Press. The message, dated Guadalajara, follows:

"I take pleasure in informing you that in a battle held yesterday (Saturday) at San Mateo, the officers belonging to the column of Gen. Urbina defeated the Carranzistas, who lost between 45 and 50 men. They also captured seven prisoners and about 200 fugitives, besides 50 rifles and a rapid-firer.

"In the State of Guanajuato, the forces under Gen. Isaac Arroys, of the northern division, took the city of Acambaro, capturing several locomotives and a large quantity of war supplies."

TO HELP OUT MAN IN THAW'S DILEMMA

Legislation Urged in American House in Favor of Such.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, March 1.—Enactment of legislation by the various states under which a citizen of one state, acquitted in another of a crime on the ground of insanity, may be allowed to return to his home state and providing against detention in an asylum merely upon the order of a judge without a jury trial, is urged in a resolution introduced today by Representative Porter, of Pennsylvania.

The object of the proposed legislation is to cover similar cases to that of Harry K. Thaw, who for more than six years has been endeavoring to get out of Matteawan Asylum in New York and return to his home state of Pennsylvania.

Representative Porter said he had interested himself in the matter in response to the numerous petitions to Congress urging such legislation.

RUSSIA IMPOSES TAX ON MEN WHO STAY HOME

LONDON, Feb. 28. — 11:20 p.m. — A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd says a war tax has been imposed upon men immune from military service and who are under 42 years of age. The tax varies from 6 roubles (about $3), on incomes of $500 or less, to $100 on incomes of over $10,000.

MRS. STEGLER IN MYSTEROUS CASE

Charged With Assaulting Reporter On German Paper In Hotel Room.

SAYS SHE WAS TRAPPED

A Talk On Passport Fraud Started Trouble—Suitcases Figure.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, March 1.—A young woman, who, according to the police, gave her name as Mrs. Anette Stegler, and is described by them as the wife of Richard P. Stegler, a prisoner in the Tombs in connection with alleged passport fraud, was arrested early today on a charge of felonious assault, made by Arthur Mateekat.

The arrest was made in the Hotel Grenoble. Mateekat, who is said by the police to be a reporter on a German newspaper, charged that the woman attacked him with a seltzer water bottle, and also beat him with a cane.

Mysterious Grips.

At the Grenoble Hotel it was learned that the woman, who describes herself as Mrs. Stegler, and Mateekat came to the hotel about 9 o'clock Sunday night. They arrived in an automobile and were accompanied by another young man and woman. Both men carried suitcases, which, according to the hotel people, they guarded carefully, even refusing to allow the bellboys to carry them to adjoining rooms which were assigned to the two couples after they had registered at the hotel desk.

Had No Marks.

About 1 o'clock this morning a call for the police came from the room to which Mateekat had been assigned, and when Detective Burgess arrived he was asked by the man to arrest his companion. He charged that the woman had thrown a seltzer bottle at him, but that he had dodged it, and that the woman had then beaten him over the head with a cane. According to the police, Mateekat showed no signs of the encounter, but they locked Mrs. Stegler up in the precinct station in care of a matron. Detective Burgess says the woman was fully clothed when he entered the room to make the arrest.

Claims a Trap.

The young woman, who claims to be Mrs. Annetta Stegler, according to the police, told the matron that she considered she had been trapped. She said that a woman friend of hers, Anna Hoffman by name, had called her up by telephone and made an appointment to meet her in the evening as she had something important to communicate. When they met her woman friend was accompanied by two well-dressed young men, who invited her into their automobile, and later, she said, they went to the hotel for dinner. It was later when Mateekat, it is stated, began questioning her regarding the passport fraud case that the row occurred.

Plot Suspected.

The young woman requested that Charles Griffith, who is counsel for Richard P. Stegler, be sent for, and it is believed he will appear in court later today, when the young woman is arraigned.

The police, when they heard the story of the carefully guarded suitcases, were inclined to believe that they sheltered telephonic devices for recording conversations. The men carried the grips with them when they left the police station.

The police learned that during the night Mateekat several times called a German newspaper on the telephone and held conversations with some person in German.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.

SAYS NEGLECT IN LONDON'S PRESENT SANITARY SYSTEM

Immense Amount of Money Needed To Make It First-class, Says Expert.

MORE FOR STORM SEWERS

Will Cost $530,000 Instead of $400,000 Originally Called On To Fit Them Out.

London's storm sewer system will cost $530,000 instead of the $400,000 the original bylaw called for.

Consulting Engineer Willis Chipman, Toronto, the expert retained by the city to supervise and plan the storm sewer system, made that announcement to the board of control today. The difference of more than $100,000 is accounted for by the fact that his original plans in reference to Egerton street had been changed, and that instead of the shallow storm water drainage he had planned for that street a dual deep storm water sewer and a sanitary sewer had been called for on the recommendation of City Engineer W. N. Ashplant, and was in course of construction. When this change had been made in the plans none had been made to provide for the extra cost.

Another of the expert's statements that gave food for deep consideration and thought was the one that London would very shortly wake up to the fact that its present sanitary system had been neglected, and that an immense amount of money would be necessary to place it in first-class condition.

System in Bad Shape.

"For the past 15 years the sewer maintenance allowance of this city has been practically nothing compared to the other large cities," he informed the controllers. "The inevitable result of this is that the system is in bad shape, and before long you are going to wake up to the fact that a large amount of money is absolutely necessary to restore the system to its proper condition."

Engineer Chipman waited on the board in order to determine what works were being planned for the current year. Pursuant to a summary submitted last month he declared the following works to be essential:

1. Construction of the Carling Creek storm sewer system.

2. Construction of connecting link of Egerton street storm sewer (from Egerton street along Beatrice street, formerly Muir), to Price street, and thence south to the disposal property, at an estimated cost of $11,000.

3. Expenditure of $1,500 on the siphon chamber on Evergreen avenue to install proper flooring and valves.

Prepare Dual Report.

In addition to the consideration given them this morning these works will be gone into at a special session of the board of works and the board of control this afternoon, and a dual report prepared for submission to the council meeting this evening.

When he outlined his proposals, the expert recommended that if any reductions were to be made in the amount of work planned for this year that it be in the tributaries to the Carling creek section rather than in that section itself. The Carling Creek work he characterized as necessary. Touching on the financial aspect, he declared that in Ontario prospects were much brighter than three months ago, and he believed that it would be possible to advantageously finance the whole proposition this year. With the proposed reductions taken out, these reductions will be determined after consultation with the city engineer's department. He further explained that the deep storm-water sewer on Egerton street would likely make it possible to reduce the size of some of the Carling Creek sections.

Outlet to Sewer Necessary.

Construction of the outlet to the sanitary sewer on Egerton street he decided is necessary. It would be possible, however, to leave the construction of the sewage-disposal plant for another season. It would be September before the whole work was completed, and he believed that running the sewage into the river for a few months, untreated, would be attended by no evil effects. The cost of opening the blind end of the sanitary sewer and providing an adequate outlet would be $11,000.

Another question that he brought to the attention of the board was the fact that 2,000 feet of sewer on Dundas street, running east of Egerton street, would have to be taken up and relaid to give proper fall to drain the McCormick properties and other such plants in the East End. The proposal was made that this work be completed simultaneously with the completion of the Egerton street sewer.

A speedy determination of what was to be done, was urged by Mr. Chipman, in order that the work might be started as early in the spring as possible.

ASSAULTER REMANDED

Mike Rusik's Trial Not Until Injured Man Better.

Mike Rusik, charged with assaulting and wounding John Johnovitch in a drunken brawl in the Windsor Hotel some weeks ago, was remanded for a week, when he appeared for trial before Police Magistrate J. C. Judd today.

Johnovitch, who received a nasty knife wound in the groin during the brawl, is confined to Victoria Hospital, and, according to the authorities of the institution, it will be another week before he will be in fit condition to receive his discharge.

RETURN EUCHRE GAME AT LIBERAL CLUB

Thirty Employees of George White & Sons at Hyman Hall.

Thirty employees of George White & Sons will visit the Liberal Club tonight to play a return match of euchre. All the good euchre players of the club are urged to be present. Wednesday evening there will be a match for ladies and gentlemen. All are invited and a splendid time is assured. Suitable prizes will be offered.

Socially, the Liberals of London have an organization which is doing much to strengthen the party. Hyman Hall is being made use of as never before by young and old members of the party. There are always some "good fellows" to welcome strangers, and one quickly finds congenial spirits at the card tables. The dancing is appreciated by the fair sex.

FAREWELL DINNER TO THREE LOCAL CAPTAINS

Dr. Claude Brown, Tom S. Haygarth and W. N. Ashplant Honored.

Patriotic songs, music, and the well-wishes of friends present and from a distance, went along with the farewell dinner tendered by intimate friends to Captains Claude Brown, Tom L. Haygarth and W. N. Ashplant in the Travellers' Club Saturday evening.

The officers are club members, and are all in the 33rd Battalion.

The dinner was given in a room decorated with patriotic emblems and flags and flowers. Music was supplied by a string orchestra. Telegrams were read from William Gray, M. P., and Frank Glass, M. P., and others. A toast to "The Army" was responded to by Col. Alex. Wilson, commanding officer of the 33rd Battalion; to "The Navy" by P. J. Pocock, and the guests each made a response to the toast, "The Guests."

Songs were of a patriotic nature, and those who took part in the program were William Skinner, Walter McCutcheon, Captain Ashplant, Ken. Murray and L. W. Johnston. Charles Wheeler accompanied the singers on the piano. Harry Buttrey, president of the Travellers' Club, presided.

MANY OBSERVE LENT

More Than Is Usually Case—War May Be the Cause.

The fast season of Lent is being observed this year by a great many more people than is usually the case, the reason, perhaps, being that the feeling of solemnity induced by the great war which is convulsing Europe has resulted in a greater degree of piety than usual.

Roman Catholics, of course, are bound by the regulations of the church to fast during the season, but many Protestants also are voluntarily practicing self-denial in some form or other. A week ago Rev. Dr. Flanders, pastor of the First Methodist Church, preached two Lenten sermons, a most unusual thing for a Methodist minister, and apparently this was but a phase in a general movement for the more general observance of Lent among the members of Protestant church bodies.

In scores of cases people who ordinarily take no particular cognizance of the Lenten season are giving up something to which they have been accustomed, and are turning their self-denial to practical account by giving to the various organizations formed to collect funds or necessaries for the dependents of soldiers, and for the relief of those left destitute by the war, what otherwise they would have spent on themselves.

DRINK HIS CURSE

Another Prison Term for Man Who Already Spent 12 Years There.

John Laird, who has spent over twelve years of his life behind prison bars, will spend another six months in the county jail as the result of his pleading guilty to stealing a robe before Police Magistrate J. C. Judd today.

Laird took the article, valued at $7.50, from a cutter in the rear of the Windsor Hotel Saturday. He was later arrested while attempting to dispose of the article.

In court today Laird pleaded for a chance, and asked for suspended sentence.

"Drink has been the cause of all my trouble, and it has brought me nothing but one prison term after another," stated the prisoner.

Laird has served sentences in Kingston, Toronto, Brantford, Hamilton and London.

CANADIANS NEEDING NEW HOSPITAL SUITS

No More Mufflers and Heavy Underwear Needed.

TORONTO, Feb. 28.—The following cablegram has been received by Noel Marshall, chairman of the Canadian Red Cross Society, from Col. Hodgetts, commissioner of the society in London, England:

"We desire a large supply of hospital suits: blue, with red collars and cuffs; also bandages, linen gauze, and red pocket handkerchiefs. Tobacco and cigarettes are also needed. Discontinue making mufflers, helmets and mitts, and do not send any more heavy underwear."

The society has undertaken the work of enlarging the Duchess of Connaught Hospital at Cliveden, Taplow, Bucks, from its present capacity of 150 beds to 500 beds. This is being done at the request of the British War Office, and the cost of the four additional cottages will amount to $80,000.

Maj. R. W. Leonard, of St. Catharines, Ont., has donated $25,000 of this amount.

THE FIRST SNAKE.

Kippen, March 1.—R. H. Reynolds, G. T. R. agent at Kippen, states he saw a snake glide along the ground on Friday afternoon while he was walking around the station platform. This is the first of the season.

GERMAN INVASION OF RUSSIA FAILS

Forced On Defensive All Along the Line, Says a Correspondent.

CENTRE BADLY SMASHED

Retreats In Some Places Becoming a Disorderly Flight To Escape.

[Canadian Press.]

London, March 1.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent wires from Petrograd:

"It seems no longer premature to assert that the German invasion of Russian soil has definitely failed. The outstanding features of the situation are that the enemy has been forced into the defensive at almost every point along the Niemen-Bobr-Narev line, that the centre has been completely smashed in at Przasnysz, and that on a sector of thirty or forty miles he is retreating rapidly here and there in disorder.

Germans Running.

"Several Russian regiments, which have been following up the Germans day and night, have so far sent in no detailed reports, confining themselves to the laconic statement that the enemy was running, and Przasnysz, which has been occupied by the Germans, had returned into possession of its rightful master at 11 o'clock Friday night, and that the booty captured, it was expected, would be considerable.

Automobiles Helped.

"In the big battle which preceded the expulsion of the enemy from the town, splendid work was done by a detachment of armored automobiles under Staff Captain Gurdoff. The Russian attack was seriously impeded by a battery posted near Dobrzinkova, five miles southeast of Przasnysz, on the road to Makoff. As it was found impossible to silence the bombardment by ordinary methods, Captain Gurdoff gallantly charged with his automobiles to within twenty paces of where the battery was stationed, and with machine gunfire annihilated its crews.

Cost His Life.

"The dashing exploit cost the life of this plucky officer. However, his self-sacrifice was not in vain, as the destruction of the battery had a decisive effect on the course of the whole engagement. Russian cavalry also captured some of the enemy's guns by daring charges.

"A significant incident occurred near Charnevo, thirteen miles south of Augustowo. At this point one of the tributaries of the Bobr and the immense swamps which flank it on both sides are traversed by a causeway, and across this a battalion of a newly-formed German corps was soon marching in close column, with the officers at the head, just as if returning from a parade. No preparations had been made to deal with a sudden attack, and no scouts had been thrown out.

"The Russian gunners waited until the unsuspecting Germans were within comfortable range and then opened a deadly fire. The battalion made no attempt to deploy or to defend itself, but sought safety in ostrich-like tactics, all the men flinging themselves on the ground and shamming death. Six German batteries on the right bank of the river tried to rescue them, but the Russian artillery accounted for the entire battalion, with the exception of a few officers and a score or two of men, who had already crossed the stream and were taken prisoners. This helplessnese is only one of many symptoms of a loss of tone which have shown themselves among the Germans on this front, and which are, no doubt, largely due to quantitative defects in the officers' corps.

[Canadian Press.]

Petrograd, March 1.—The following statement was issued last night by the general staff of the army of the Caucasus:

"Our advance forces, driving the enemy before them, have reached the River Khopatchai.

"There is no change in the situation on the other fronts."

NOTABLE PROGRESS.

[Canadian Press.]

Petrograd, March 1.—Semi-official announcement is made in Petrograd today as follows:

Russian troops should be credited with the initiative of the offensive movement north of Grodno.

Prisoners and artillery captured by the Russians north of Grodno are from the best corps of the German armies now on the eastern battlefront.

Russian progress in the region of Przasnysz has been notable. We have captured one village after another, taking several hundred prisoners in each place.

In other sections the Germans are delivering counter-attacks, bringing fresh troops into action, and certain villages pass from the possession of one side or the other. Nevertheless, our front advances measurably each day.

RETAKE KOLOME.

Paris, March 1.—The correspondent at Bucharest, Roumania, of the Havas Agency, has sent in a telegram repeating the report that the Russians had reoccupied Kolome, in Galicia, and that they were investing Stanislau. Kolome was taken after a fierce fight on Wednesday, February 24.

"The 91st Czech Regiment," the Havas correspondent continues, "in garrison at Prague, mutinied and killed its higher officers. After reprisals on the rank and file, this regiment was sent to Brachoff, on the Roumanian frontier. A second Czech regiment has been sent away from Vienna, and both these organizations are being replaced by Roumanian regiments from Transylvania."

HOLLAND-ENGLAND SERVICE RESTARTED

Passengers Accepted at Their Own Risk—Fear Wearing Off.

AMSTERDAM (via London), Feb. 28.—Passenger service between Flushing and England, which was interrupted by the activities of German submarines, will be resumed on Monday. The number of passengers will be limited to one hundred from Flushing and fifty from England on each steamer. Passengers will be required to sign declarations freeing the steamship companies from all responsibility.

Is "Liverpool" Sunk?

PARIS, Feb. 28—4:30 p.m.—A dispatch to the Liberte from Morlaix, in the Department of Finistere, on the English channel, says that a ship's boat, bearing the name "Liverpool" and containing two dead negro seamen, was picked up today in the bay of Locquirec, a well known bathing resort.

From the appearance of the bodies, it is believed the men died from exposure or starvation. The correspondent says it is inferred that the Liverpool either struck a mine or was torpedoed.

AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN FIRST ARMY PRACTICALLY ALL GONE

About 1,600,000 Are Killed, Wounded or Prisoners—Still In Good Spirits.

[Canadian Press.]

London, March 1.—The Morning Post's Hungarian correspondent at Budapest sends the following:

"The original first-line army of 2,000,000 with which Austria-Hungary began the war is almost non-existent by now. These seven months have cost the monarchy four times as many men as it is willing to admit officially. It has lost not 400,000 but 1,600,000 men killed, wounded, and prisoners. Of these 200,000 wounded are gradually being sent back to the front, some of them, however, not having properly recovered. Accordingly, we can safely say the first line army of the first 2,000,000 is entirely broken up already. New reinforcements have a comparatively small military value.

"The spirit of the army, however, is on no account broken, and one may expect some very good work from it yet, for the machine itself is sound and perfect, only its man power is beginning to give way. Its only hope is that the Russians are no better off. How much truth there is in that hope we shall see in April.

"At present the army of Austria-Hungary with the forces in the field and under training consists of between 3,500,000 and 4,000,000 men, and that is the limit of her military powers."

WAVES QUELL FIRE BUT SAILORS DROWN

Six Norwegians Left Blazing Vessel, and Boat Drifted Away.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, March 1.—Six members of the crew of the Norwegian tank steamer La Habra, carrying a cargo of benzine, were lost at sea in an open boat they had launched in an effort to escape from flames which threatened their vessel, according to an unusual shipwreck story brought to this port today from Horta, Fayal, by the Holland-American freighter Zaandyk.

The fire aboard La Habra was caused by an explosion of benzine while she was on her way from Talarabia, Peru, to London by way of the Panama Canal.

The captain ordered the crew to take to the boats and stand by. The chief officer and five men were in a boat towing astern when the painter burned off and they drifted away without oars in a heavy sea, he said.

The fire was extinguished by giant waves which broke over the ship, and the captain took her safely into port February 7 by dead reckoning, for all his navigation instruments were burned.

YOUNG MEN'S SERVICE

Empress Avenue Church Crowded Last Night.

Empress Avenue Church was crowded last night at the special service conducted by the young men of Francis Bible Class. At the conclusion of the song service, in which the young men excelled themselves, C. Wesley De Witt Cosens, John Belch, George Rossiter, Fred McLeod and Harold Lucas took their places on the platform. The people were delighted with the eloquent and logical sermon preached by C. W. De Witt Cosens, in which he strongly urged the Christian young man to win his unsaved comrades for Christ. He is a young man of excellent ability, coupled with earnestness and devotion, and bids fair for a life of usefulness.

A quartette was rendered by R. G. Bowie, Cliff Robinson, Harry Rossiter and T. Holm, and W. Rossiter contributed a solo.

The young ladies will have charge of the service next Sunday evening.

GRAIN.

Winnipeg, Feb. 27.—Quite a reaction took place in wheat prices, following the decline of Friday. Winnipeg wheat opened from $1.51¼ to $1.52½ for May and July at $1.52¾. Following the opening there was an advance to $1.53¾ for May, while July declined from the opening figures until near the close.

In the early hours the market was unsettled, and with light business. Exporters were said to be chiefly on the buying side in the future market, while few sales for export were located.

Oats were steady, while flax was firmer.

The cash situation was quiet, practically nothing offered of either wheat or oats, and demand quite as indifferent.

On the close there was an extremely sharp advance, caused by shorts covering.

The total number of cars inspected on Friday was 206, as against 208 last year, and in sight today were 300 cars.

Wheat futures closed 2c to 3¾c advance. Cash wheat closed 3¾c to 4¼c higher. Oats closed ¾c to ⅝c higher. Flax closed 1⅝c to 1⅞c advanced.

Cash grain: Wheat—No. 1 northern, $1.52¾; No. 2 northern, $1.50¾; No. 3 northern, $1.47¼; No. 4, $1.43; No. 5, $1.38¾; No. 6, $1.34¾; feed, $1.29¾.

Oats—No. 2 Canadian western, 63½c; No. 3 Canadian western, 60¼c; extra No. 1 feed, 60¼c.

Barley—No. 3 Canadian western, 75c; No. 4, 70c; feed 67c.

Flax—No. 1 N. W. C., $1.62¼; No. 2 Canadian western, $1.59¼.

Chicago, March 1.—Wheat prices made a sensational downward plunge today as a result of news that fifteen miles of the Dardanelles had already been forced, and that apparently the release of vast stores of Russian grain was only a question of a short time, possibly not more than a fortnight. No attention was given to the fact that the Liverpool market showed an advance instead of a decline. The rush to sell here was such that in some cases 5½c of a break took place the moment the trading began. Opening quotations as a whole varied from 2½c to 5½c under Saturday night, with the market steadying afterward about 3¼c lower than Saturday's final figures.

Liverpool, March 1.—Wheat—Spot steady; No. 1 Manitoba, 13s 8d; No. 2, 13s 6½d; No 2 hard winter, 13s 5½d.

Montreal, March 1.—Trade was good at the West End market this morning, with firm prices for cattle, but hogs were easier. Receipts—Cattle, 700; calves, 150; sheep and lambs, 150; hogs, 2,000.

Medium beeves, 6c to 7¼c; common, 4¾c to 5¾c; calves, 5c to 8½c.

Sheep, 5c to 5½c; lambs, 8c to 8½c.

Hogs, about 8¼c.

Toronto, March 1.—With a fair run of cattle at the Union yards today, trade was brisk and prices firmed up, being about 15c higher than last week. A few choice butchers sold readily. There was a strong, active market in the lamb section, the market lasting about ten minutes; prices were 25c higher. Sheep scarce and strong. Calves steady. There were few hogs in the market. Receipts, 1,275 cattle, 118 calves, 266 hogs and 279 sheep.

East Buffalo, N.Y., March 1.—Cattle—Receipts, 1,000; active; prime steers, $8 50 to $8 75; shipping, $7 75 to $8 25; butchers, $6 to $7 75; heifers, $5 to $7 50; cows, $3 75 to $7; bulls, $4 50 to $7. Veals—Receipts, 800; active, $4 to $12.

Liverpool, Feb. 27.—Cotton—Futures closed quiet. May-June, 4.84½d; June-July, 4.88½d; July-August, 4.93½d; October-November, 5.06d; January-February, 5.13d.

Cotton—Spot slow; prices steady; American middling, fair, 5.84d; good middling, 5.26d; middling, 4.49d; low middling, 4.55d; good ordinary, 4.24d; ordinary, 3.94d. The sales of the day were 6,000 bales, of which 2,000 were for speculation and export, and included 5,700 American. Receipts were 34,700 bales, including 26,400 American.

WALL STREET.

New York, March 1—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—One point advance in Union Pacific and a 2 point decline in Louisville and Nashville to 110, its new minimum, were the principal features of today's early stock market. Prices otherwise inclined to irregularity, Reading responding favorably to a moderate inquiry, while Pennsylvania was heavy on its poor statement of earnings for January. Shares of the motor companies were again active at advancing prices. Americans were lower in the London market.

Noon. — Imports of $750,000 gold from London, where the metal was obtained at the low exchange rates of a fortnight ago, acted as a partial stimulant in the early dealings, but prices fell under their best before the end of the first hour, with especial heaviness in New York Central and Canadian Pacific. United States Steel yielded most of its gain after a lot of 3,000 shares had changed hands at 43. By midday trading became exceedingly dull. Latest developments in the eastern war zone were reflected in another severe decline in grain options. Selling of bonds for foreign holders continued.

1:30 p.m.—Gradual recovery to the high level of the morning was made by some of the leaders after midday. Specialties were heavy, however, American Locomotive, preferred, and American Express falling to minimum prices.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE.

London, March 1.—Treasury bills were in good demand today, and the money market is looking forward to further Government borrowing of this description in connection with today's credit note. Discount rates were steady.

The execution of a few week-end orders made business a shade livelier on the stock exchange. War loan issues and colonial bonds were taken, and the tone of the market was generally good on the latest war news. Oil shares were the busiest in the miscellaneous section.

The American section was neglected. Canadian Pacific was the only active issue. The market closed dull.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES

Children Addressed in Morning at Kensington Methodist Church.

Largely-attended anniversary services were conducted in Kensington Methodist Church, West London, yesterday by the pastor, Rev. J. H. Kirkland. In the morning the pastor addressed the many children present on the subject of the "Magnet," giving a very vivid object lesson by means of a needle and a magnet. His address to the older part of the congregation was "Outside the Kingdom." At night a special song service was held. The subject for the evening was "The Life of Christ," and after a brief address by the pastor, Mr. Joyce gave some excellent stereopticon views, depicting scenes from Christ's life. Tonight the members of the congregation and their friends are being entertained at an "At Home" by the Ladies' Aid. A good program, with refreshments, is being provided. The offerings yesterday at both services were very satisfying.

ACHING BONES AND SORE JOINTS CURED! ALL RHEUMATIC TENDENCIES DESTROYED!

Away Go the Crutches, Every Sufferer Made Well Quickly.

Old age is usually afflicted with rheumatism. Very few past fifty escape its tortures.

Many it bends and deforms. Upon the countenances of others it marks the effects of its awful suffering. Nerviline will cure rheumatism. It takes the pain out of throbbing muscles and swollen joints. It untwists gnarled knuckles. It does this quickly and surely.

Nerviline is not used internally. You rub it on—lots of hard rubbing is required for a minute or two, and then you feel Nerviline penetrating through the tissues; you feel it drawing out the congestion, feel it sink in deeper and deeper till at last it touches the core of the joint or the heart of the muscle affected.

You won't stay in pain with Nerviline—no one ever does. Just try it—you will be amazed at its magical power over pain, a power it gets from the extracts and juices of certain rare herbs and roots it contains. It's harmless—any child can use Nerviline, can rub it on for a sore throat, for a bad cold, for stiff neck, for earache. No family remedy half so useful.

The large, 50-cent bottle is the most economical; trial size 25 cents. All dealers, or the Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Canada.

AGED STRATHROY LADY DIES ON VISIT HERE

Mrs. Mary A. Kinder Was Ill Only Two Days With Pneumonia.

Mrs. Mary A. Kinder, one of the oldest and most respected residents of Strathroy, died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Turner, 88 Becher street, after an illness of two days from pneumonia. Mrs. Kinder had been visiting her daughter for a few days, and although 82 years of age, had been in excellent health until a short time ago.

She was born in Newcastle-on-Tyne, and came to Canada 58 years ago, being married shortly after coming here and residing at Hamilton, Newbury, and later at Strathroy for 46 years. She was active in Anglican Church work and had a great many friends in this city, Strathroy and district. She is survived by seven children, J. H., agent of the G.T.R., Mount Brydges; F. H. Lilloet, B. C.; G. W., G. T. R., Strathroy; Miss Annie, assistant superintendent Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto; T. W., general agent, Confederation Life, Port Arthur; Mrs. Turner, this city, and Rev. B. A. Kinder, and also one brother, T. L. Bloomfield, Buffalo, and one sister, Mrs. Jackson, Brantford. The remains will be taken to Strathroy on the 1:59 train today, and the funeral will be held Wednesday.

FREE—1,500 COPIES OF DR. GORDON'S BOOKLET, "THE SECRET OF A STRONG PERSONALITY," WILL BE DISTRIBUTED FREE TONIGHT AT FIRST METHODIST CHURCH. b

FORMER LONDON TP. MAN DIES AGED 91 YEARS

Andrew B. Morden, of Windsor, Was Grandson of United Empire Loyalist.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINDSOR, Feb. 28.—Andrew B. Morden, who was born in London Township, died here Friday evening after a short illness, aged 91 years. He was the son of Ralph L. Morden, and the grandson of Andrew Morden, a United Empire Loyalist.

On his last birthday Mr. Morden declared that all his life he had abstained from the use of tobacco, and had never tasted liquor. Surviving him are five daughters, Mrs. G. E. Smith and Mrs. J. L. Chapman, of Ann Arbor, Mich.; Mrs. J. W. McKenzie, of Ridgetown; Mrs. Andrew Lynch, and Miss Josephine Morden, of Windsor; four sons, Andrew, of Columbus, O.; Dr. G. E., of Battle Creek, Mich.; Frank and Aldridge, Ridgetown; also seventeen grandchildren and six great grandchildren. The funeral will be held Monday afternoon in Windsor.

MRS. CHARLES GIBSON DIES, AGED 83 YEARS

Mother of William Gibson, Was Native of London Tp., and Lifelong Methodist.

Mrs. Charles Gibson died Saturday morning at her home, 137 St. George street, of pneumonia, after only a few days' illness. She was the widow of Charles Gibson, and daughter of the late George and Elizabeth Parkinson, of London Township, where she was born 83 years ago. She was from girlhood a member of the Methodist Church, in the work of which she was very active. After coming to this city she became a member of the old Queen's Avenue Methodist Church and continued a member until Empress Avenue Methodist Church was opened, when she joined the West London congregation, of which she was a member at the time of her death. One son survives her, William Gibson, superintendent of Empress Avenue Sunday school; also two sisters, Mrs. Edward Parkinson, of Milverton, and Mrs. Thomas Parkinson, of London Township.

The funeral will take place this afternoon from the residence of her son, William Gibson, 143 Oxford stret, to Mount Pleasant Cemetery. Rev. T. Wesley Cosens, pastor of Empress Avenue Methodist Church, will have charge of the services, assisted by Rev. A. G. Harris, of Thamesford, a former pastor.

NEW-FANGLED RELIGION LACKS DYNAMITE OF GOD

"To Hell With Them," Says Evangelist Osborne—Dancing Leads Same Way.

T. H. Osborne, the "Drummer Evangelist" from Chicago, who conducted evangelistic services in this city all last week, gave followers of what he called "new-fangled and wishy washy religions," liquor dealers and "boozers," many sharp raps in his Sunday afternoon talk in the Majestic Theatre yesterday.

Dancing, too, the speaker declared was licentious, pure wickedness, and a sure road to hell." Dance halls, he said, were a curse, and one of the worst curses in the country.

"To hell with your new-fangled religions that never touch a sore spot in their followers. We need the dynamite of eternal God," the evangelist shouted. Higher criticism, as far as "true religion" is concerned, the speaker said, belonged with the new religions that were growing up throughout the land.

Praises the City Mission.

Mr. Osborne told of the work of "Billy" Matheson, of the City Mission on Richmond street, and he had some of "Billy's" converts step up on the platform; clean-looking men now, both young and old. The evangelist was the organizer of the first rescue mission in Rochester, N. Y., 25 years ago, and since that time has been deeply interested in the work, establishing similar institutions for the man who is down and out, across the entire continent of America. He converted Mr. Matheson twenty years ago in a Pennsylvania town.

"The City Mission is for the men who are down in the world; for the drunkard and the man who is starving and wants a sanctuary from the world's knocks for a night. It is for the men who have never had a real mother to love them when they were boys," he said. "Be good to the drunk, and the doddering old man who seems a wreck; he is as good as many of the people right in this city who let liquor be sold to wreck the lives of its men."

Subscriptions Asked For.

Cards were distributed amongst the audience, which filled the orchestra of the theatre, to be filled out, those signing promising a monthly payment for the upkeep of the City Mission.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT SPEAKS ON "INFLUENCE"

Dr. Braithwaite Conducts Men's League Anniversary Service at Askin Street Church.

Dr. Braithwaite, president of the Western University, preached at Askin Street Methodist Church last night on the occasion of the third anniversary of the Men's League of the church. The centre of the church was occupied entirely by men, and the choir was composed entirely of men, under the direction of E. W. Gothe Quartz. Dr. Braithwaite took his text from Romans xiv. 7, and spoke on "Influence."

"Influence is not only universal, but it is also everlasting. Its extent naturally varies according to circumstances," said Dr. Braithwaite. "The primitive world in the separateness of its organizations was very different from modern times when all our interests are so inextricably interwoven. The kind of life we lead, whether monastic or active, whether in the public eye or in comparative seclusion, likewise signifies much in this regard.

"Influence works in different ways and arises from a variety of causes. When a stronger and a weaker nature come into contact, the former naturally has the greater effect on the other, but at the same time is by no means influenced by the weaker. Nor is it simply through personal contact that influence manifests itself. Through the avenue of literature our lives may be far more effectively molded by some one on another continent than by our next door neighbor. Other vital forces over which we have little or no control are such as arise from heredity or environment, while still others are of a subtle and inexplicable nature.

Influence Never Ends.

"But when does influence cease? The founder of a college brings into being a chain of influences that enter into the lives of successive generations of students who from time to time enter its doors. These influences are then carried to all parts of the world where they continue to bear fruit even in generations following. Have the world's great statesman who have passed away ceased to exert an influence among us? Do the lives of former philanthropists and benefactors no longer count? Are our great authors a memory only? Is Shakespeare dead? Or Tennyson, or Browning, or Longfellow, or Whittier? On the contrary, they were never so much alive as they are today. The influence of our lives, instead of causing at our death, goes on spreading out into ever-widening circles, each of these becoming the centre of others from which there continues to radiate indefinitely the impulses which have thus been set in motion.

World Evangelization.

"This suggests the method of establishing the Master's Kingdom. It was His own way. He impressed the spirit of His life upon a small group of commonplace men whom He gathered about Him. They in their turn influenced others with the same spirit they received from Him. In this manner the influence of His great life has been borne along until it has come down to us.

"Now it is for us to reach out to our neighbors in the same way. It is within the power of this body of men to evangelize the world during the lifetime of some present. If one person should win one other disciple each year and every new disciple thus attached should do the same, the world would be evangelized in a single generation."

PRESBYTERIANS GIVE FREELY BELGIANS

Pastor Dwells On Sacrifice of Little Kingdom—Germany Was Prepared.

Special offerings were taken in the Presbyterian churches of the city Sunday with a view of raising $1,200 to send a car of flour to the starving Belgians. Generous offerings were given and a further collection will be made again next Sunday.

At King Street Presbyterian Church, Rev. W. R. McIntosh took as his evening subject, "With the Prussian Army from Berlin to Paris," and drew a vivid picture of the devastation of Belgium and the burning of Louvain and Namur. He commented especially upon the ruthless manner in which the Germans had killed people and farm animals and wrecked homes.

Can Never Repay Sacrifices.

"No matter how liberally we in Canada give," he said, "we can never repay the heroic Belgians for the sacrifices they have made which are now keeping us safe. For forty years the Prussian military autocracy, of which the Kaiser is the head, has been preparing a surprise for the world which it was hoped would result in forcing German dominion upon all peoples. The most wonderfully efficient army that the world has ever known was marching with Paris as its goal before war was declared. It was an army compared with which the hosts of Xerxes and the battalions of Napoleon were insignificant. But for the heroism of the Belgians, Paris would have shared the fate of Louvain and Rheims, and England might have been invaded, too. But the Belgians stepped into the breach and at an awful cost stemmed the German advance. The war has not yet come home to us in Canada. We do not realize what it means to have our country devastated as their country has been.

Should Give Liberally.

"We can and should give liberally to aid those Belgians who remain and are even now enduring fearful hardships. The man of wealth who stays his hand in giving to aid the now destitute people who have saved us, is worse than the dope fiend who desperately and greedily clutches at his last remaining drug. Everywhere in England wealthy people are giving not only for this cause but to help those bereft at home and each of us should do everything we can even if we have to go without some little luxury from our tables."

War Precipitated to Hush Revolution

People World Over Were Demanding Their Rights—View of Dr. J. L. Gordon.

Rev. Dr. J. L. Gordon, of Winnipeg, who has been conducting a series of evangelistic meetings in various cities and towns in Canada, opened a three weeks' Christian Citizenship campaign in the First Methodist Church yesterday, with two splendid meetings, the first in the afternoon and the second following the regular evening service.

He preluded each of his addresses with a short explanatory statement of the objects of the campaign, which, he said, he would conduct with all the fire and enthusiasm of the old-time revival meetings, but with a little change in the methods. The week-night meetings would commence exactly at 7:45 and close at 9:15 o'clock in order to make it possible for those who desired, to make and keep engagements later in the evenings.

"Plain Talks" Promised.

The only sensational thing about any of the meetings, he said, would be the subject. The addresses would be simply "plain talks," not sermons or attempts at brilliant oratory. If he were criticized, it probably would be for his plainness of speech, and he would be rather disappointed if there were not some criticism of that nature.

He announced that at each evening meeting a "question drawer" would be conducted, and a prize of a ten-dollar gold piece would be offered for the question which is deemed the most interesting, reasonable, practical and original, competent judges being appointed to determine the relative merits of the questions submitted. He quoted a number of questions which had been sent in already and which would be answered this evening. Among them were the following:

"What would you do if outside relatives interfered in your home life?" "Is there not prejudice against a man in business when his hair commences to turn grey?" "Should a Protestant marry a Roman Catholic?" "Why do ministers visit the homes of the wealthy more often than those of the poor?" "Does the present style of woman's dress induce the highest form of morality in young men?" "In what sense is the Bible infallible?"

Sir Adam Not Present.

Sir Adam Beck had accepted an invitation to preside at the afternoon meeting yesterday but he was called out of the city at the last moment, and Rev. Dr. Flanders, pastor of the church, introduced the evangelist. He said Dr. Gordon had come at a very opportune time. The greatest work of the day was that of social regeneration, and it was up to the church to get out of herself and devote more time to this great work. Dr. Gordon would help the church to do that.

The suoject Dr. Gordon selected for his address in the afternoon was "The War, the Hour and the Man." It seemed impossible to grasp the fact that in the dawning of the twentieth century, splendid men were being led out to the firing line for the protection of the British Empire, and yet such was the fact. He added:

A Just Cause.

"The cause for which they are fighting is right, and if I were a young man I would be proud to take up arms in such a cause. The man who fights for Great Britain fights a great fight. They say Great Britain is fighting only for a scrap of paper, but it is a scrap of paper on which she pledged her honor. People ask if this war is an indication that Christianity has broken down. It has not broken down so long as a great nation is willing to fight for the protection of a smaller, weaker nation.

"The man who fights for Great Britain fights for a great sentiment. The thing that keeps the Mother Country and her colonies together is sentiment, not her army or her navy. It is a noticeable fact that the farther a Britisher is from his home land the more thoroughly British he is. In the hour that war broke out we had our agitation in India, in England and in other parts of the empire, but these disappeared in a moment. Even when Old London was in darkness, crime commenced to decrease. That is the kind of sentiment that holds this great empire together, and it is sentiment that holds the world together.

Praise for King George.

"The man who fights for Great Britain fights for a noble king. He is of a splendid dynasty, that of Queen Victoria, "Victoria the Good," and the name of George V. will redeem the record of the first four Georges.

"The man who fights for Great Britain fights for a great flag. It is a flag that has floated supreme over a thousand battlefields, and it stands for more than any other flag in the whole world. It is the greatest piece of dry-goods that ever floated in the breeze. It is worth fighting for.

"The man who fights for Great Britain fights for a noble leader. Lord Kitchener is truly English, and one of the greatest things which must be placed to his credit is the splendid ideal he has held up to the soldiers who are fighting under his direction. In the first hour of the conflict he impressed on them the ideal of purity.

Enthroning Democracy.

"The man who fights for Great Britain fights for a great cause, the enthroning of democracy. I believe that the tramp of the legions of the empire sounds the march of men fighting to establish the principles of the heart of Jesus Christ.

"And, lastly, the man who fights for the British Empire fights for a great race. The Anglo-Saxon race will one day rule the world, or, rather, will lead the world, and Great Britain will lead the Anglo-Saxon race. Presently we Shall have the united states of North America, the united states of South America, the united states of Europe, the united states of the Far East, and the united states of Christianity. And in the van will be the Anglo-Saxon race, and in the forefront of the Anglo-Saxon race Great Britain."

"Thought War and Got War."

The war was precipitated, Dr. Gordon maintained, to hide and hush the rumble of revolution. The war lords of Germany went to war because they realized that the people were on the verge of rising against the tyranny under which they were being crushed. And not only in Germany, but in France and England, and all the other countries the common people were beginning to rise and demand their rights.

The speaker warned his audience not to hold God responsible for the war. People asked, "Why does God allow this war?" God was not responsible for it. We brought it about ourselves. We thought war and we got war. He warned them also against national hate of gallant foes. Such hate was not patriotism. There never had been a war in the history of the world in which each side did not charge the other with atrocities. We should be big enough to realize that in the hour of conflict judgment was likely to be warped.

"Anglo-Saxon Complacency."

"And I warn you against Anglo-Saxon complacency and conceit," he continued. "The Anglo-Saxon is rather inclined to consider every 'foreigner' as an inferior being. People in Canada speak of the danger of the 'foreign element.' I am not afraid of the foreign element; what I am afraid of is the Canadian politician, who corrupts the foreigner when he comes to this country.

"I warn you against the doctrine that great armaments are guarantees of peace. They are quite the opposite; in fact, they are responsible largely for the present war. The Kaiser only touched the button; the machinery was all ready to be put in motion. Europe was an armed camp, and all the European countries had been preparing for war for years. A standing army is a standing challenge to fight. And it is not necessary. The untrained man who is fighting for a principle is a much more effective fighter than the trained man who fights only because he is part of a fighting machine."

Women Could Stop War.

Dr. Gordon expressed the belief that women constituted one of the greatest forces in the world, and he gave voice to the hope that, when the war was over, they would refuse to sanction war in the future. If they did that, war would have to cease.

He declared that he would not pray for a speedy ending of the war. He preferred merely to ask for God's guidance.

"You can have peace within 24 hours if you want it," he said, "but you must be prepared to pay the price. Dismember the British Empire and give Germany the map of Belgium and you can have peace. I hope and believe that the war will not end until Belgium has been restored and the German navy swept from the seas."

He believed that America, rather than allow Great Britain to be crushed, would leap into the fight.

Greatest Hour in History.

This was the greatest hour of the world's history, he declared, and Canada had a splendid opportunity before her. If she could not give to the world men of the finest mold the world had ever seen, she was not worthy of her geographical position.

In the evening Dr. Gordon spoke on "The Greatest Mistake in the Life of a Young Man." This he declared to be lack of decision of character, of will power. Young men also made grave mistakes when they sneered at the Bible, the greatest civilizing factor in the world; when they blasphemed the name of Jesus Christ; when they imagined that money was more than manhood; when they smothered their religious convictions; and when they trampled underfoot the love of their mothers.

Character Only Enduring Thing.

"All the money in all the banks in all the provinces in the Dominion of Canada," he said, "will not make a bad man a success. Character is the only thing you had when you came into the world and it is the only thing you can take with you when you leave it."

AUTO BADLY DAMAGED

Department Responding to Alarm Goes to Wrong Place.

Fire in an automobile, owned by Louis McCutcheon, and driven by J. D. Beemer, Saturday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock, badly damaged the car, and called out the fire department to a blaze which they had some difficulty in locating. The car took fire on Queen's avenue, near Beemer's garage. The department, through some misunderstanding or error in sending in the alarm, responded promptly, but went to the vicinity of Richmond and Maple streets. When they finally arrived on Queen's avenue the fire was out. The car was insured, the damage being covered. The fire was caused by short-circuiting in the igniting device of the engine.
