REPORT

OF THE

POSTMASTER GENERAL OF CANADA.

To His Excellency the Right Honorable Sir EDMUND WALKER HEAD, Baronet, Governor General of British North America, &c., &c., &c.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY,

In conformity to the Statute, Returns are herewith submitted to your Excellency, to be laid before the Legislature, shewing the operations of the Post Office Department during the year ended the 30th September, 1858; and in the course of this Report will be noticed such other matters of interest in relation to the Post Office as are connected with the Departmental transactions of the year.

EXTENSION OF POST OFFICE SERVICE.

The generally unprogressive character of the past twelvemonth throughout the Province, combined with the necessity for the observance of the closest economy in the management of the Department consistent with the efficient fulfilment of its functions, has tended to check the expansion of the establishment as respects the addition of new post routes and post offices.

The number of offices added to the list has been 60, bringing the number in operation in September, 1858, up to 1566.

The number of miles of new post route organised was 350, with 140,000 miles of additional yearly mail travel.

The number of letters annually passing by post was 9,800,000, and of newspapers, 13,500,000; the newspaper circulation having apparently decreased somewhat since last year's Return.

When considering post office statistics, and their importance as indications of the progress of a country, it must always be interesting to look back upon the records of past years, and mark the comparative advance made.

Note.—There were 189 changes in Postmasterships during the year, as follows :

Resignations.....	164
Dismissals.....	16
Deaths.....	9

189

In this view the following table has been prepared, shewing the changes of the last thirty years in the Canadian Post Office, in its main features, at intervals of ten years, and the contrast between the figures of 1828 and of 1858 will be found sufficiently striking :

Years.	Number of Post Offices.	Miles of Mail Route.	Miles travelled by the Post in a year.	Gross Postage.	Estimated No. of Letters annually.	Estimated No. of Newspapers annually.
1828....	101...	2,368....	455,000....	£15,000....	340,000...	400,000
1838....	380...	5,486....	1,345,000....	£35,000....	1,000,000...	1,250,000
1848....	539...	6,985....	2,225,000....	£65,000....	2,000,000...	3,000 000

The Post Office organization, pervading as it does, every town, village and settlement in the Province, offers facilities not to be obtained by the public through any other agency, for the reception and distribution, in the rural districts more especially, of packets and parcels of small matters of a class unfit for transmission in open covers under Book Post Regulations, yet not of a character to seek conveyance at letter rates of charge.

A Parcel Post forms part of the Post Office system of other countries, and it having been thought that the want of such a convenience was felt in Canada, and that the time had arrived when the Canadian Post Office was capable of supplying that want—the Department has, from the 1st January, 1859, put in operation an arrangement for the conveyance of Parcel Packets between any two Post Offices in Canada with the ordinary mails.

Care has been taken to associate such conditions with the Parcel Post system as seem adequate to restrain the use of it within proper limits.

The charge for a parcel packet is 1s. 3d. per lb., within the maximum weight allowed to a single parcel of 2 lbs., and pre-payment is enforced.

A parcel may be registered on payment of an addition 3d.

The Revenue yielded by the Parcel Post will probably amount to £600 in the first year.

It will be desirable that this new feature in the Post Office system should receive the sanction and protection of special legislation at the first opportunity.

The erection of the new Post Office building at London is in active progress.

The new Post Office at Kingston has been completed, and will be occupied for business so soon as the internal arrangements are ready.

The attention of the Department has been turned to the improvement of the facilities at present existing in the principal cities for the delivery and posting of letters, &c.

It is intended to adopt the system of street boxes, placed at convenient points in the city, and open day and night for the reception of letters, and to be visited at frequent intervals by Post Office Messengers, for the purpose of conveying the letters dropped therein to the Post Office to be mailed or delivered.

Arrangements will also be made to ensure a more frequent and regular delivery of letters within the cities, and especially to serve more effectually than at present, the convenience of the public as regards the local or town circulation of correspondence.

The system of delivery at a City Post Office hitherto followed in Canada, may unquestionably be much simplified and improved where the correspondence has attained a certain magnitude, by the entire separation of the letter from the newspaper delivery.

To provide room in the letter boxes for the more bulky newspaper, as is now done, precludes the economy of space, which, by concentrating the business, would wonderfully accelerate the letter delivery. If the present offices can be adapted to the purpose, it is intended to introduce this improvement in the Toronto and Montreal Post Offices at the earliest convenient date.

The growing interests of Canada in connexion with the Red River settlements, and regions of the North-west, induced the Government during last summer to authorise the establishment of a mail communication directly through our own territory and waters with the Red River country, by way of Sault Ste. Marie, Lake Superior and the voyageur route, thence to Lake Winipeg and Red River.

Whilst navigation lasted on the Upper Lakes the mails were carried by steamer, twice a month, between Collingwood and Fort William (at the upper end of Lake Superior), and thence as frequently by canoe, to and from Red River.

Since the navigation closed a monthly service has been kept up, under arrangements adapted to the difficulties attendant on winter travelling on the north shores of Lakes Huron and Superior, where, in the absence of roads or any approach to continuous settlement, all movement after the snow falls is performed only by the aid of snow shoes and dog trains.

Another new line of communication, of considerable importance in many respects, was likewise opened last summer, through the medium of a sea-going steamer, the Lady Head, which plied regularly between Quebec and the Gulf of St. Lawrence Ports of Gaspé, New Brunswick, and Nova Scotia; giving a speedy and much needed connexion for postal as well as for travelling and commercial purposes, with the District of Gaspé and the Gulf Counties of the Lower Provinces.

The yearly addition to the number of Post Offices and Post Routes, the spread of Railway Mail service, the requirements of the Money Order system, and other causes connected with the growth of the Department, have multiplied the demands upon the Inspectors' branch to an extent which all the exertions of the able and zealous officers employed have been unable fully to cope with,—no augmentation having been made to the number of Inspectors since 1854,—whilst 400 new Post Offices and 3000 miles of new Post Route have been established, and the Money Order and Railway Mail service added in the interim.

As a consequence, it has been impracticable for the Inspectors, for some time past, without neglecting other and more immediately urgent duties, to make the frequent journeys of inspection amongst the country Post Offices and Routes which are nevertheless essential to the maintenance of the establishment at a high standard of efficiency. Every Post Office in the Province should be visited, and a careful examination had into the manner in which the duties are understood and performed, at least once in every year.

This condition of things has caused the Department much solicitude, and more particularly as regards the Eastern Section of the Province, where the wide range of territory included under one Inspector's charge for travelling purposes, embracing the whole of Lower Canada, made the weakness most apparent.

Western Canada is divided into three travelling districts, with an Inspector to each.

To apply, as far as circumstances permitted, a remedy where the evil was most felt, an officer was recently detached from the Postmaster General's own office, to act as an Inspector (chiefly for the purpose of travelling duties) in the twenty-two Eastern Counties of Lower Canada;—without increase of salary, however, and the expense of this temporary measure of relief will therefore be but trifling, as the duties of the officer detached will, during his absence from Head Quarters, be discharged by assistance taken from other branches of the service.

REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE.

The amount of Revenue has been as follows:—

Gross Postage.....	£151,324	13	2½
Less—
Balances in hands of Postmasters	£2,542	10	1
Balance of British Postage collected in Canada.....	13,493	17	5
		16,036	7 6
Net available Revenue	£135,288	5	8½

The Postage collected from ordinary sources exceeds that of last year by upwards of £3,000, and, considering the depression under which all kinds of business labored during the year, it is doubtless a matter of legitimate surprise and congratulation, that the Postage Revenue should not only have made head against its share of unfavorable influences, but should have advanced, even to this extent, upon the Revenue of 1857.

In conformity to an Order in Council, the sum of £16,000 has been assumed as Post Office Revenue in the yearly statement, in lieu of an estimated equivalent amount of postage, which would have been due at ordinary rates, on the Legislative and Executive correspondence transmitted without charge during the year.

The Revenue of the current year will, it is anticipated, advance considerably upon that of 1858. The revival of business, the commencement of weekly mails by the Canadian Ocean Steamers in the approaching Spring, the Parcel Post Collections, and other causes, may be calculated on to aid in producing this result.

EXPENDITURE.

The Disbursements were:—

		£161,169	18 11½

This year's disbursements exceeded those of last year in the items of Mail Service and Salaries and Commissions.

The expenditure for Mail Conveyance includes a large payment for Railway Mail Service, on account of this and previous years;—that item, with the cost of service to and from Railway Stations, being £33,111 2s. 2d. this year, against £28,117 12s. under the same heads last year. As hereinafter stated, the general rate of payment for Railway Mail Service has been decided, and all unsettled claims are now in course of adjustment.

The excess in the item of Salaries and Commissions is caused partly by the commission charge upon the additional postage collected, and which all accrued at the country offices where Postmasters are paid by commission,—partly upon the addition of Assistant Postmasters to the six City Post Offices, under the Act of 1857,—and partly by the adjustment of salaries to the officers and clerks throughout the Post Office establishment, under the same Act.

The Revenue collected in the country offices was :

In 1857	£88,064 15 11
In 1858	91,241 11 4

All the ordinary items of outlay have been carefully watched, with a view to keep down expenditure as much as practicable, but every item of Post Office disbursement so directly represents some distinct equivalent in public convenience, that it becomes extremely difficult to circumscribe the objects of expenditure without trenching upon the accommodation which the public demands from this branch of the service.

And the extent of the service to be provided for being thus in a measure arbitrarily fixed, fully 95 per cent. of the expenditure necessary to maintain it takes place according to rates prescribed, either by law or by special contract, and cannot therefore be influenced by the financial freedom or exigency of the moment.

After several years of rising prices for all descriptions of Mail Service, it has been observed, with much satisfaction, that the more recent lettings of Mail Contracts have shewn a decided tendency towards a reduction in the rates demanded.

FREE NEWSPAPERS.

The number of Newspapers transmitted annually free by post is estimated to exceed ten millions—numerically more than the whole letter circulation—and, in cost of conveyance, duties incidental to receipt, distribution, and delivery, probably representing an equal proportion with the letters of the expenses of the Post Office Service. Previous to 1854, all newspapers were rated at one half-penny each, and at the same rate, the present free newspaper transmission would be chargeable with upwards of £20,000 per annum. Such a sum, coupled with a charge at the ordinary rates upon the Legislative and Executive correspondence (which also at the same period paid postage), would make the Department at once self-sustaining; a result which it is now sufficiently manifest cannot be attained for years to come, from the Postage Revenue, derivable only from the ordinary letter correspondence of the country, at the present tariff of 3d. per half-oz. And even could a sufficiently large revenue be raised upon a particular class of mail matter, it does not seem equitable that the commercial and domestic correspondence should be expected to bear a postage charge so high as to defray the whole expenditure of the establishment, and pay the quotas which should be contributed by the Legislative and Executive correspondence and newspaper portions of the mail.

As a principle it would seem but just that, if newspapers are to go free, the postage relinquished should fall as a charge upon the Public Treasury, and not exclusively upon the letter-writing class of the community.

TRANSIENT NEWSPAPERS.

In pursuance of the Act of 1857, limiting the free transmission of newspapers by post to such as might be posted directly from the offices of publication, a half-penny rate, pre-payable by postage stamp, has been taken, since 1st August, 1857, on all transient newspapers,—that is, papers posted by individuals other than the Publishers. This rate has produced, as nearly as can be estimated, (for a proportion of the halfpenny stamps sold are used in pre-payment of other matters,) a revenue in the last year of £2,000.

It is to be regretted that the convenience given to the public for the transmission of single newspapers, at a small charge, is too frequently abused, by petty frauds, in making the newspapers so sent the vehicles for concealing written correspondence, to the injury of the letter revenue. No doubt this offence is occasionally attributable to ignorance, but there is abundant evidence that in the majority of cases the fraud is wilful.

Exertions have been made to put a stop to these malpractices, and it is hoped that to a certain extent they have been checked.

DECIMAL CURRENCY.

The introduction of the new decimal coinage, and the enactment requiring all public accounts to be rendered in decimal currency, appear to make it necessary that some alteration should be made in the Post Office Laws, by substituting “cents” for pence and parts of pence, where these terms now occur, to enable the Department to adapt its operations and records to the change in the currency of the country.

CORRESPONDENCE WITH EUROPE.

The Canadian Steamers performed their contract voyages to and from Liverpool with great regularity during the past year.

The commencement of the weekly service in the approaching spring will, it is anticipated, attract a large increase of correspondence to the mails forwarded by these steamers.

The United States Post Office has been invited to concur in an arrangement for transmitting letters either in or with the Canadian Mails to and from England.

It is plain that for the European correspondence of Chicago and Detroit, and of the North-western States having those cities for their centres of business, the line through Canada offers great advantages.

Much dissatisfaction had long been caused by the adherence of the Imperial Post Office to the practice of forwarding certain classes of Mail matter to Canada via Halifax, and consequently over the tedious and difficult route through the Lower Provinces, where, being unavoidably more or less exposed to the weather during conveyance by open wheel carriage for several hundred miles, the Mails frequently suffered vexatious injury from wet and friction, and not seldom portions of the contents were entirely destroyed. This grievance has happily ceased, the Imperial Post Office having concurred in the total discontinuance of the use of this Route for the transmission of English Mail matter.

As suggested in previous Annual Reports, no single improvement would be so valuable to the Post Office service as the introduction of the system of the pre-payment of letters by Stamp; all the multifarious operations of receiving, assorting, distributing, and delivering correspondence would be greatly simplified and accelerated; the troublesome and expensive machinery requisite for checking the accurate collection of Postage in its present shape would be superseded; the Revenue lost by dead letters economised, and in fine, a change effected pervading all the business of the Department, for which it would be difficult to over estimate the beneficial results both to public convenience and the well working of the Post Office system.

It is not recommended that pre-payment by stamp should be made absolutely compulsory, but where stamps are readily procurable, pre-payment in that form should be insisted on, and the principle of pre-payment should be enforced by imposing an additional charge on letters posted unpaid.

RAILWAY MAIL SERVICE.

The Mails are under conveyance on 1630 miles of railway.

By existing enactments all railways are bound under a general provision to afford conveyance to the Mails, but the law left the rate of compensation to be paid by the Post Office indeterminate, and vested in the Governor in Council the power of deciding what the rate of payment to be awarded to the railway should be.

This question of what the rate should be, remained unsettled up to the date of last year's Report.

The Department had not pressed for a decision, because the period of inflated prices through which the Province had been passing, and whilst our railway system was comparatively in an incipient stage, was not deemed to be a judicious time to urge the final adjustment of a question of expenditure which would manifestly in its terms of settlement exercise a large influence upon the general cost of maintaining this branch of the public service.

Pending the decision by Council of the general rate of railway mail compensation, the Department had placed Mails upon each railway line as it opened for traffic. In fact, as regards the use of the several railways, the Department could have no option. The grant of a railway charter is tantamount to the concession by the public of the monopoly of mail transport, on the line to be followed by the railway, for, coincident with the construction of a railroad, all the ordinary facilities for mail conveyance are withdrawn, and the Department could not continue thereafter to make Mail Contracts in the line of country traversed, at any approach to the average rates formerly prevailing.

Moreover, there is this peculiar feature in the change to railway transport as affecting the Postal service, that whilst passengers and merchandise reap the benefit of improved speed, with the other advantages of railway movement, and at the same time enjoy a reduction in the cost of carriage, the change has threatened to burthen the public with a vastly augmented charge for the Mail service necessarily transferred to the railways by the grant of their Charters of Incorporation.

This increased claim upon the Post Office arises chiefly upon the special provision required to supplement what is indeed indispensable to make railway conveyance practically available for Mail service.

In the first place, the stoppages of a railway train are too brief to allow time for assorting the Mails carried by it, at the way stations; but this operation cannot be dispensed with, and consequently the Post Office is compelled to train and employ a distinct class of clerks to travel with the trains, and perform these duties whilst the train is in movement. To enable them to perform their functions, a portion of a car—generally about one-third—must be partitioned off and fitted exclusively for Post-Office purposes. Now, the salaries of these clerks constitute a formidable item of expenditure, amounting to about £8,000 in this present year; and yet the necessity created by the nature of railway service for the provision of an office for these clerks in the train, forms the principal ground on which a comparatively high rate of compensation has been claimed by the railways.

Further; the Railway not being able, like the Mail Stage, to exchange the Mails directly to the Post Offices of the Towns upon the line, Mail service of an expensive character is required to maintain the connexion between the Post Offices and the Stations; and the expenditure for this object, coupled with that for the employment of Railway Mail Clerks, apart from the compensation to the Railway, exceeds in most cases the whole of the previous expenditure of the Department for the superseded service by Mail Stage.

The rate of compensation asked by the principal Railroad lines varied from $100 to $110 per mile of Railway per annum—upon an arrangement including the use only of the ordinary Traffic Trains, and of such stopping places for the exchange of Mails as could be selected from the Way Stations at which the Trains might stop for traffic, and not conveying to the Post Office any control over the working of the Trains used for the Mails, either as regards speed or hours of departure or arrival.

It is evident that when to such rates came to be added the expenses required, as above explained, to supplement the Railway service, a total charge would have been created of £60,000 per annum for Railway Mail service alone.

The Department considered these rates to be higher than the public should be called upon to pay for the services rendered; and, until such time as a decision should be pronounced in the manner pointed out by law, continued to pay only such sums, on account, to the several Railways as were considered to fall within the rates to be eventually determined on. A decision has been made by the Governor in Council, establishing the following rates of compensation for Railway Mail transport.

For a daily service with a travelling Post Office over any line of Railway once per day each way, $30 per mile of Railway per annum, if by Day Trains; and $40 per mile, &c., &c., if by Night Trains.

For Mails sent by Railway as ordinary baggage or freight in charge of Company's or Post Office Guard, without travelling Post Office, when not exceeding two cwt. in weight, two cents per single Train mile.

Any additional service or weight to be paid for in proportion to the above rates.

If a comparison be instituted between the rates to be paid for Railway Mail conveyance, and the Railway Tariffs for other matter, it should be considered that this item of traffic will be constant and regular; and that, unlike ordinary freight, almost all the incidental labor of handling, of receipt and delivery, and of surveillance, whilst en route, is performed by the servants of the Post Office; and further, that the weight of Mail matter would not average one-tenth of the freight which would be loaded within the space for which the Post Office pays.

True the Mails are conveyed by Passenger and not by Freight Train, and that the difference of speed is a valuable element in the service; nevertheless, when consideration is given to the above noticed incidents affecting Railway Mail service, and to the just claims of the public to have the Mails conveyed at moderate rates, it is believed that the scale of payment authorised by the Governor in Council will be found to include a sufficient compensation for the advantage given in the transport of the Mails by the more speedy Trains.

Progress has been made in clearing off arrears of Railway Mail service, and all will now be finally disposed of in accordance with the decision of Council in the course of a short time.

REGISTRATION.

About 500,000 letters were registered last year.

It is considered that it would be an improvement on the system if the charge for registration were made pre-payable by a stamp, instead of by money as at present.

The benefit of the system to the public, in securing letters of value from loss or miscarriage, is very great. Except in cases of absolute theft, associated with a betrayal of trust from which no system of registration could afford protection, a missing letter, if registered, can always be satisfactorily traced, and the due delivery assured against the many sources of accidental error to which correspondence is liable, from vagueness or imperfection of address, absolute misdirection, removal of the party addressed, or denial, from forgetfulness, of the reception of the letter. Each of these causes the experience of the Department shews to operate largely in producing the complaints made, from time to time, of the miscarriage of unregistered letters.

In connection with these remarks, it may be observed, that nothing tends more to the safe and rapid transmission of a letter, and to its due delivery, than a clear and full address.

Post Office carelessness and crime is mainly bred and fostered by the action of the public in posting letters, many of them containing large sums, addressed and sealed in so negligent and imperfect a manner as to afford a plausible excuse for error, and, unfortunately, opportunity for dishonesty, where the moral character is not proof against temptation.

Moreover, whilst the list of Canadian towns and settlements, and their respective places on the map of the Province, could readily be embraced by the memory of any intelligent Post Office Clerk, a careless style of addressing letters was not so apt to mislead; but now the condition of matters is very different. Of names of Post Offices alone we shall soon approach 2,000, with many unavoidable repetitions of the same name, or of names bearing an inconvenient similarity one to another, and it is becoming daily more and more impossible that any Clerk should be able to assort, with desirable rapidity and accuracy, a quantity of letters addressed promiscuously through so wide a range, unless assisted by a clear and easily legible style of direction, and by the acquirement on the part of the public of a habit of designating, as part of the address, the County in which the place intended is situated. Every letter should bear—

1st. The name of the person addressed.

2nd. The Post Town, or place of residence.

3rd. The County in which the Post Town or place is situated, written in more prominent characters than the rest of the address.

DEAD LETTERS.

The following is the return of Dead Letters for the year, shewing unfortunately a considerable increase in the number as compared with last year:—

MONEY ORDERS.

The Money Order System has continued to occupy the vigilant attention of the Department.

After watching for some time with much solicitude the result of the experiment, commenced in 1857, of advancing the limit of the amount to be granted on a single order from £25 to £100, circumstances led to the conclusion that, though the change might occasionally have promoted the convenience of remitters of large sums, it was on the whole prejudicial to the safe working of the system.

Moreover, it appeared manifest that the experience already had was sufficient to demonstrate that the rate of charge at which Money Orders were being granted to the public, was too low to yield a revenue adequate to make the system self-sustaining within any reasonable period; and further, that even with such a moderate advance in the rate of charge as could be maintained, the result aimed at might yet be undesirably postponed, unless the sources of business and revenue could be enlarged by extending the sphere of operations.

To give effect to these views several measures have been adopted,—

First, as regards the re-modelling of the business already originated. The limit of a single Money Order has been reduced from £100 to £25, the former maximum; stringent rules have been enforced to secure prompt transference to the credit of the public, of the funds, as they accrue in the hands of the Postmasters; and also to forbid a practice which it was discovered had begun to creep in at some offices, of granting Money Orders upon credit, or upon uncertified cheques.

Further, the charge for a Money Order has been advanced from one-half to three-quarter per cent. on all amounts over £7 10s.

The result of these alterations has, it is believed, been most beneficial: the business has been freed from a class of doubtful transactions which appeared to have grown up under the high range of Money Orders, and has been brought into safer channels; whilst the regular and legitimate course of business is in a progressive state, and yields a considerably larger rate of contribution towards defraying the expense of management.

To enlarge the field of business and of profit, a number of new Money Order Offices have been opened at advantageous points, and a further number will be added from time to time as the public convenience appears to require it. Those recently selected have justified the choice by the amount of Money Order business already transacted by them.

Further, a negotiation has been opened, with every assurance of a successful issue, with the Imperial Post Office, for the introduction of a system for the mutual exchange of Post Office Money Orders, for small sums, between this country and the United Kingdom; a measure which, when perfected, will, it is hoped, conduce materially to the public convenience, and prove a valuable source of income towards the general maintenance of the system.

No loss, by fraud or otherwise, has been sustained in Money Order operations, during the past year.

The number of Money Orders issued was 24,865.

The number of Money Orders paid was 24,853.

Amount of Orders issued, $2,198,869 27c.

Amount of Orders paid, $2,197,679 21c.

Amount of Commission accrued thereon, $11,408 65c.

Of which allowed to Postmasters, $5,108 74c.

Remainder to Revenue, $6,299 91c.

The cost of the maintenance of the Money Order branch was $8,673 91c.

The number of Money Order Offices in operation during the year was 171.

Present number, 196.

It is understood that the attention of the Governments of the Lower Provinces and of the United States has been turned to the desirability of adding a Money Order system to their respective Post Office establishments. A movement of this nature, will, of course, be watched with interest by this Department; for the existence of a Money Order system amongst our neighbours would probably render it easy to agree upon some mutually convenient plan for the interchange of Money Orders between our respective countries, and thus afford to the people of Canada a valuable extension of Money Order facilities, and relieve our Mails from large amounts of money remittances which now pass to and from the United States, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, &c., in the shape of bank notes.

I am desirous, in bringing this Report to a conclusion, of expressing to your Excellency, the sense I entertain of the extent to which the improvements I have noticed, and the satisfactory condition of the Department during the year, are to be attributed to the energy and zeal of the Deputy Postmaster General, sustained by a Staff devoted to the welfare, best interests, and well-working of this branch of the public service.

SIDNEY SMITH,
Postmaster General.

Post Office Department,
28th January, 1859.

SCHEDULE.

Accompanying this Report are the following Documents therein referred to:

- No. 1.—Statement of the Finances, Receipts and Expenditure of the Post Office Department, for the year ended 30th September, 1858.
- No. 2.—Detail of all payments made, and charges incurred for Mail Transportation, for the said year.
- No. 3.—Detail of all charges for Salaries, Commissions and Allowances, for the said year.
- No. 4.—Detail of expenditure for Printing and Advertizing, and all incidental and miscellaneous items of disbursements, &c., for the said year.
- No. 5.—Report of all Contracts made for the Transportation of the Mail for the said year.

Pre-payment of Letters between the United Kingdom and Canada.

EDMUND HEAD:

The Governor General transmits, for the information of the Legislative Assembly, Copies of Correspondence on the subject of pre-payment of Letters transmitted by the Post between the United Kingdom and Canada.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE,

Toronto, 25th February, 1859.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT,

Toronto, 19th March, 1858.

Upon the within Circular, from the Right Honorable the Secretary for the Colonies, dated the 15th ultimo,—intimating that for certain stated reasons, the Imperial authorities are desirous of applying a system of compulsory pre-payment to the correspondence passing between the United Kingdom and the Colonists generally,—and inviting the acquiescence of Canada to the proposal.

The Postmaster General has the honor to report, that he concurs in the views expressed in the Circular, as to the superior advantages of the compulsory pre-payment system, and recommends that the assent of the Government of Canada be given to the proposal, with this modification, however, as regards letters posted in Canada for the United Kingdom:—that when through inadvertence a Letter be posted without pre-payment, that it shall be forwarded, charged with a double rate of unpaid postage. The Postmaster General is of opinion that the penalty of a double rate of postage will operate as a sufficiently stringent enforcement of the principle of pre-payment, without resorting to the always irritating process of detaining and opening correspondence.

SIDNEY SMITH,
Postmaster General.

(Circular.)

DOWNING STREET, 15th February, 1858.

Sir,—It has been ascertained by the practical effects of the two systems of optional pre-payment of postage on letters, and of compulsory pre-payment, that the latter system is in every respect preferable.

Under the system of optional pre-payment, much time is consumed by the operations of charging Letters with postage, and more time is wasted in collecting the postage on Letters, to say nothing of the labor and responsibility which are entailed on the officers of the Post Office, who have to keep accounts with the Letter Carriers.

Under the system of compulsory pre-payment, all these inconveniences are avoided.

Such is the beneficial result of the arrangements which have been in operation between this country and the Australian Colonies during the last twelve months, and Her Majesty's Government have resolved to extend at once the system of compulsory pre-payment of postage to all those Colonies, the Posts of which are under the control of the Post Office.

The question, then, which I offer for your consideration is, whether your Government is prepared to establish a similar arrangement between this country and Canada?

All that your Government need do, is simply to require that the postage on all letters for the United Kingdom shall be pre-paid at the places where they are posted.

It is true that the system of compulsory pre-payment is not entirely free from some degree of public inconvenience, or rather, I should say, of inconvenience to certain individuals, as it entails the necessity of sending back to the senders, Letters on which pre-payment of the full amount of postage has been neglected.

As a practical remedy against that inconvenience to individuals whose neglect may have proceeded from inadvertence, it is proposed to apply the rule of the Colonial Book Post, under the following regulations:—

1st.—That all Letters dropped into Letter-boxes, either wholly un-pre-paid, or on which payment has been made of less than a single rate of postage, shall be detained and returned to their senders.

And 2ndly.—That all Letters insufficiently pre-paid, or on which at least a single rate of postage has been paid, shall be forwarded to their destinations, but charged with the deficient postage, and a fine of sixpence.

The fine of sixpence would be equally divided between this Country and the Colony.

Letters and Despatches for the Public Departments in this Country, would be exempted from pre-payment of postage, the charge for which would continue to form matter of account between the Post Office and such Public Departments.

I have to request, that you will acquaint me whether Your Government is willing to accept the proposed new arrangement; and upon being apprised of such acquiescence, the Postmaster General will fix a period for carrying it out in this Country, and in the Colony under Your Government, simultaneously.

I have, &c.,

(Signed,) H. LABOUCHERE.

GENERAL POST OFFICE,
London, 4th February, 1859.

Sir,—In your letter of the 11th October last, you stated that the Canadian Post Office held itself in readiness to carry into effect measures for the adoption of the compulsory system of pre-payment of postage on Letters to and from the United Kingdom, (to be enforced by a fine of sixpence for non-pre-payment,) whenever this Department should fix a date for the simultaneous introduction of the change.

The Postmaster General has hitherto deferred fixing a date for commencing this measure, as he wishes to bring it into operation between this country and the North American Colonies generally, on the same day, and he was in hopes of receiving the concurrence of two of those Colonies whose Governments had not consented to the proposed system.

Having learnt, however, that the Postmaster General of Canada is anxious to introduce the measure at once, Lord Colchester has decided not to await the final replies of the other Colonies, but to make the change as respects Letters between the United Kingdom and Canada, leaving the arrangement to be extended to the other Colonies at some future period.

His Lordship has accordingly obtained the authority of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, for carrying out the measure on the 1st April next; and I hasten to inform you of this decision in order that the necessary steps may be taken for its simultaneous adoption in Canada.

The Postmaster General does not propose to adopt, on this side, the plan about to be carried out by the Canadian Post Office, under which all unpaid letters will be forwarded charged with a fine of six pence, in addition to the ordinary postage; but, in order to prevent inconvenience to the public at first, by the stoppage of their Letters, before the new regulation shall have become generally known, His Lordship will cause Letters wholly or partly unpaid, to be sent forward, for the first three months, that is, until the 1st July next, charged with the postage and the stipulated fine. After that period, however, the system of compulsory pre-payment, as regards letters from this country to Canada (at least to the extent of a single rate of postage) will be enforced; and all Letters not so paid will be opened and returned to the senders.

With regard to Official Correspondence, sent from Canada to the United Kingdom, I beg to point out, that following out the arrangement which has been pursued in other cases where this system has been introduced, all Letters addressed to those Public Functionaries or Departments, in London, which have a postage account with this office, should be exempted from the regulation requiring pre-payment.

Letters addressed to any of the Functionaries or Departments enumerated in the following List, posted in Canada unpaid, must be sent forward as at present:—

Adjutant General's Office.
Admiralty.
Audit Office.
Board of Trade.
Chancellor (Lord.)

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT,

Toronto, 11th October, 1858.

Sir,—The Postmaster General of Canada thinks it right that you should be advised, that upon communication of the Despatch from the Right Honorable the Secretary of State for the Colonies, on the subject, the Postmaster General has stated that this Department holds itself in readiness to carry into effect the measure for the adoption of the compulsory system of pre-payment on Packet Letters, to be enforced by a sixpenny fine for non-prepayment, whenever the Imperial Authorities shall fix a date for the simultaneous introduction of the change.

It would be desirable that the Department should have at least a month's previous notice of the date determined upon, in order to allow the necessary interval for conveying instructions to the Deputies on the more remote lines of Post.

Sir,—I transmit to you enclosed a copy of a Letter which has been received from the Secretary of the Post Office, on the subject of the compulsory pre-payment of postage.

You will perceive that the Postmaster General has obtained the sanction of the Board of Treasury to the new system being established between this country and Canada, on the 1st of April next; and I have accordingly to request that you will give directions to that effect.

GENERAL POST OFFICE, 31st January, 1859.

Sir,—In my Letter of the 2nd November last, I informed you that the Postmaster General had been apprized of the concurrence of the Canadian Post Office in the arrangement proposed by this Department, for the compulsory pre-payment of the postage upon Letters forwarded between the United Kingdom and Canada, but that as it appeared desirable to carry out the system of pre-payment simultaneously in all the British North American Colonies, the Postmaster General would defer fixing a date for commencing it, as respects the Correspondence between the United Kingdom and Canada, until the decision of the other Governments on the same question should have been received.

The Postmaster General, however, has recently been given to understand; that the Canadian Post Office is anxious to carry out this measure at once, as that Office is about to issue a new code of Rules for the guidance of its Officers, and wishes to introduce into this new work the important change contemplated.

Under these circumstances, and as some time may yet elapse before the final decision of the Governments of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, on this subject, is received, the Postmaster General proposes to commence without further delay, the arrangement with Canada, and to leave for a subsequent period the extension of the plan to the other North American Colonies. His Lordship has therefore obtained the authority of the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury for commencing the compulsory pre-payment of Letters between this Country and Canada, on the 1st April next, and steps for this purpose will at once be taken by this Office.

Lord Colchester requests, that Secretary Sir Edward Lytton will be so good as to inform the Governor of Canada, as early as possible, of the decision which, in order to meet the wishes of the Canadian Post Office, has been come to on this Subject, at the same time requesting the Governor to give directions that the new system may take effect in the Colony on the date mentioned.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT,
Toronto, 28th February, 1859.

Sir,—The attention of the Postmaster General having been drawn to a letter published in the Quebec "Morning Chronicle," of the 25th instant, purporting to be a communication addressed to him by the late Secretary of the Quebec Board of Trade, remarking upon the loss of time which takes place at Montreal, in the transit of the United States Mails to and from Quebec, caused by the want of connexion at Montreal, between the Montreal and New York and Boston, and the Montreal and Quebec Railway Time Tables, I am directed by the Postmaster General to express his extreme regret that this letter should apparently have failed to reach him. The Postmaster General will immediately communicate with the Railway Companies on the subject adverted to, and advise the Board of the result.

At the same time I am to observe that the Railway Trains are run by the Companies at such hours as may appear to them to best suit the general traffic of their respective lines—that the Postmaster General has no control over these hours, and as respects the Mails, can only make such use of the Trains, (as they run) as the hours the companies may have adopted for their general traffic, may leave available for mail purposes.

I have, &c.,

Sir,—I am directed by the Postmaster General to instruct you, with reference to the enclosed extract from a Quebec Newspaper, complaining of the delay to the Quebec United States Mails, caused by the want of connection at Montreal, between the time tables of the Grand Trunk and Champlain and St. Lawrence Companies,—to call upon the Managers of those Companies, and see whether they can make such alterations in their arrangements as will remedy the grievance complained of, reporting the result with as little delay as possible.

POST OFFICE INSPECTOR'S OFFICE,

Montreal, 2nd March, 1859.

Sir,—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, No. 424, of date the 28th ultimo, enclosing an extract from a Quebec Newspaper complaining of the delay in the Quebec United States Mails, caused by the want of connection at Montreal, between the Time Tables of the Grand Trunk and Montreal and Champlain Railways, and you instruct me to call upon the Managers of these Companies, and see whether they can make such alterations in their arrangements as will remedy the grievances complained of, reporting the result with as little delay as possible.

In answer I beg to state that I have lost no time in seeing the respective Superintendents as you desire, and have explained the alterations which it is the wish of the Quebec Board of Trade to secure for the public accommodation.

Addressing myself now to the particular points as set forth in the complaint, I must observe that the greater part of it is based upon incorrect information. It is therein stated that the "United States Mails," (meaning of course the correspondence of the principal cities of New York and Boston) "arrive at Montreal about 9 A.M., whilst the Montreal Mails for Quebec are usually despatched something like an hour before." Now the fact is, that during the whole winter the Mail from New York has reached Montreal about 4.30 in the afternoon of each day, and the Boston Bag, for Quebec, does not pass through Montreal at all, it being transmitted both ways via Portland and Island Pond.

The Mails from the other towns, with which Quebec has not a large correspondence, such as Albany, Troy, Buffalo, Whitehall, Burlington, &c., do arrive at Montreal in the morning,* but not before half-past ten; whilst being obliged to close the Montreal Mails for Quebec at seven A.M., to forward over the ice in time for the train from Longueuil, it will be at once apparent how many hours delay would be requisite to secure a connection.

* NOTE.—Generally in the morning unless some detention throws them over till the afternoon. The New York Mail also for the same reason is detained till the next morning.

With regard to the transmissions from Quebec for the United States passing through Montreal, the hour of arrival of the Richmond Train at Longueuil being seldom before 4.30 P.M., whilst the hour of closing at Montreal is 2.30 P.M., for St. Lambert, it will also be seen how impracticable any attempt at connection would be. The inconveniences set forth by the Quebec writer are not now made known to me for the first time. They have been represented in former winters, and their rectification has been the object of my most anxious solicitude; but the Gentlemen of the respective Companies have often assured me, that with the obstacles so frequently occurring in winter, and the short period of daylight at that season, it is impossible to adjust connections with the same facility as during the time of open navigation; and that these long delays and breaks must be borne with, as entirely beyond their control. I would remark, also, that the United States Mails have not laid over this winter at Rouse's Point, but at St. Albans; and however desirous the Montreal and Champlain Company might be to make their arrivals and departures correspond with the Grand Trunk, they are nevertheless very much controlled by the Great Southern Lines, and are consequently compelled to adjust their running to those Railways with which their business and interests bring them more especially in connection. In the coming winter, when the Victoria Bridge is completed, there will then be such an approximation between the two Railways as may render much more feasible an avoidance of the delays now complained of by the Quebec community.

To render more intelligible the obstacles to which I refer, I beg to append the present scheme of running of the New York and Montreal Mails:—

Leave New York (Chamber Street)	8 A.M., or 11 A.M. since 1st March.
Arriving at Troy	5.35, P.M.
Leave Troy	5.40, P.M.
Arriving at Portland	9.40, P.M.
Leave Portland next day	6.00, A.M.
Arriving at Montreal	4.30, P.M.

RETURNING.

Mails close at Montreal	2.30, P.M.
Arrive at St. Albans	8.00, P.M.
Leave St. Albans next day	7.45, A.M.
Arrive at New York	11.30, P.M.

I also enclose herewith, the Table of the Arrivals and Departures of Mails at the Montreal Post Office.

I have, &c.,

(Signed,) E. S. FREER,
Post Office Inspector.

DESPATCHES

From Her Majesty's Secretary for the Colonies, and other documents relating to the Seat of the Government, laid by order of His Excellency the Governor General, before the Legislative Assembly by the Honorable MR. ALLEYN, Secretary of the Province, on the 29th day of January, 1859.

No. 97.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE,
Toronto, C. W., July 31, 1858.

SIR,

On Friday, the 16th of July, the following proceedings took place in the Legislative Assembly of Canada—

“The order of the day for the House to go again into Committee of Supply being read,

“And the question being put that the Speaker do now leave the Chair;

“Mr. Dorion moved, in amendment, that Mr. Speaker do not leave the Chair, but that it be Resolved:

“That this House is duly grateful to Her Majesty for complying with the Address of Her Canadian Parliament, praying Her Majesty to select a permanent Seat of Government, but that this House deeply regrets that the City which Her Majesty has been advised to select is not acceptable to a large majority of the Canadian people.—Yeas 45, Nays 63.”

The proposal of Mr. Dorion was therefore negatived by a majority of 18.

2. I now proceed to give an extract from the votes of the House on Wednesday, July 28:

“Mr. Dunkin moved that it be Resolved,—

“That an Address be presented to Her Majesty to represent that this House humbly prays Her Majesty to re-consider the selection she has been advised to make of a future Capital of Canada, and to name Montreal as such future Capital.

“Mr. Brown moved, in amendment, that an Address be presented to His Excellency the Governor General, praying that no action may be taken towards the erection of Buildings in the City of Ottawa, for the permanent accommodation of the Executive Government and Legislature, or for the removal of the Public Departments to that City.

“ Mr. Piché moved, in amendment to the said amendment, that in the opinion of this House the City of Ottawa ought not to be the permanent Seat of Government of this Province.—Yeas 64, Nays 50.

“ The question being then put on Mr. Brown’s amendment as amended, “ Mr. W. F. Powell moved, in amendment thereto, that in the opinion of this House the City of Quebec ought not to be the permanent Seat of Government of this Province.

“ Mr. Brown moved that the House do now adjourn.—Yeas 50, Nays 61.

“ The question being then put on Mr. Powell’s amendment, and a debate arising.

“ Mr. Cimon moved that the debate be adjourned.—Yeas 35, Nays 68.

“ Mr. Turcotte moved that the House do now adjourn.—Yeas 95, Nays 5.”

3. Thus, notwithstanding the rejection of Mr. Dorion’s motion on the 16th, the Legislative Assembly on the 28th asserted that they did not approve of Ottawa as the “ permanent ” Seat of Government. No proposal has yet been made to embody that assertion in an address or to bring it under my notice in an official shape.

4. On the morning following this division, the two leading Members of the Administration waited on me, and tendered the resignation of themselves and their colleagues. I had no alternative but to accept such resignation, and to send for the most prominent member of the opposition Mr. George Brown, Member for the City of Toronto.

5. The annexed extract from one of the public papers Daily Atlas, August, 2, 1858. contains an account of the grounds of resignation assigned in the Assembly by the Attorney General for Canada West. This report may be considered as authentic.

6. Mr. Brown has undertaken to form a Government, and he is to wait on me on Monday for the purpose of submitting the names of those whom he would propose to associate with himself.

7. Until some address or some legislative action is taken in consequence of the proceedings of the 28th, it is impossible to say what is the precise meaning of the vote of the Assembly. It may signify that they think Her Most Gracious Majesty has been advised to select the wrong place for the Seat of Government, or it may signify that the Assembly, contrary to the express votes of the two last sessions, would prefer to continue the system of transferring the Seat of Government from one place to another.

8. If the former of the two meanings is the right one, then I presume some other place will be suggested as preferable to Ottawa,—that is to say:—The Parliament, having referred the decision to the Queen, will itself say what that decision ought to be. At any rate until a clew is obtained to the precise wishes of the Assembly by definite action on their part, and until their ultimate acceptance of the New Government shall have been expressed, any advice or recommendation from me would be premature and useless.

9. I cannot however forbear offering the following observations :

I. The address of last session to the Queen was the act of both Houses of the Legislature, not of one.

II. The Act 20 Vic. c. 17, s. 2, expressly provides that a sum of £225,000 shall be expended at such place as the Queen may select for the Seat of Government.

That choice having been made, the section in question has, I apprehend, operated, and as it contains no provision for a change of place, the section itself must be repealed before it could cease to be binding, or before the money could be laid out elsewhere.

III. As regards myself, I desire to express my unfeigned regret for having, in my despatch of March 28, 1857, No. 49, recommended that Her Majesty should be advised to accept the reference in question. In palliation of so grave an error in judgment, I can only urge that it might have seemed ungracious to refuse a spontaneous reference of this kind, and that it appeared to me impossible to conceive any form in which a Legislature could bind its successors more solemnly, or commit itself in its corporate capacity more conclusively than was done by the Parliament of Canada with reference to the Seat of Government, more especially because their address was coupled with the Legislative provision in the 20 Vic. c. 17, referred to above.

10. It would now seem however that my view of the binding character of the action of a Legislature differs essentially from that taken by the majority of the Legislative Assembly of Canada.

My present duty will be to carry out the Government of the Province in such a manner as may best lead to the ultimate settlement of the difficulty without deranging the administration of affairs.

11. So soon as I am able to afford further information on the deliberate opinion of Parliament, and the course they wish to pursue I will communicate again. In the meantime I am ready to act in all ordinary business cordially and frankly with the new Ministry as I have done with their predecessors.

I have, &c.,

No. 102.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE,
Toronto, C. W., August 9, 1858.

SIR,

In my despatch of July 31, No. 97, after describing the proceedings in Parliament which had led to the resignation of the Executive Council on the 29th July, I said—

Sir E. Head to Sir E. B. Lytton, July, 31, 1858, No. 96, Par. 8. "At any rate until a clew is obtained to the precise wishes of the Assembly by definite action on their part, and until the ultimate acceptance of the new Government shall have been expressed, any advice or recommendation from me would be premature and useless."

2. It is now my business to continue the account of what has taken place since that despatch was written.

On Saturday, July 31, Mr. Brown undertook the formation of a new Government. On Monday, August 2, he waited on me with a list of the gentlemen who were to compose it, and at 12 o'clock on that day those gentlemen were sworn in, and took their seats as my advisers.

The two Houses met at three on the same day when the formation of the new Government was announced in due course. In the Assembly one of the writs was moved for on the part of the new Administration. An amendment was immediately proposed to the following effect.

See Votes and Proceedings enclosed "That the following words be added to the said motion,—'And at this House, while ordering the issue of the said writ, feel it their duty to state that the Administration, the formation of which has created this vacancy, does not possess the confidence of the House and of the country.'"

After a debate which lasted till past midnight, an adjournment was negatived by 65 to 38, and the amendment just recited was carried by a majority of 40 in a House of 102, out of 130 members. The numbers were thus 31 in favor of the new Administration and 71 against them.

3. Though not material to the effect of the vote in a constitutional sense, it is to be observed that the number of Upper Canada members voting for Mr. Brown's government was 25 and the number against them 27. Of the Lower Canadian members the numbers were respectively 6 and 44. Allowance is of course to be made for the fact that the members of the Administration, being five from Upper and six from Lower Canada, could not sit or vote.

No. 1. 4. In the Legislative Council a similar vote of want of confidence was carried by a majority of sixteen to eight, and an Address, of which a copy is enclosed, was adopted. This Address was presented to me in due form by the whole Council on the 4th instant.

5. I have reason to believe that in part at least, these adverse votes were produced by the fact that no distinct outline of their principles or policy was put forward on the part of Mr. Brown's Government, although it was known that the members who composed it differed materially one from the other on vital questions. I annex a report of the debates as given in one of the daily papers.

No. 2. Toronto Atlas containing debate of August 2, 1858. 6. It is in the next place necessary that I should call attention to the following papers.

No. 3. July 29, 1858. The first of these is my communication to Mr. Brown, offering him the opportunity of forming a Government, and his answer to such communication. On the night of Sunday, July 31, 1858, the 1st of August, before he was sworn and before he had even laid before me the names of his proposed colleagues, I placed in Mr. Brown's hands the paper No. 5, in which you will see that I inserted the following words underlined below.

“The Governor General gives no pledge or promise, express or implied, with reference to dissolving Parliament, when advice is tendered to His Excellency on the subject he will make up his mind according to the circumstances then existing and the reasons then laid before him.”

This paper was accompanied by the note annexed to it, and was acknowledged by Mr. Brown on the following morning in the communication No. 6.

After this the members of the Government met me and were sworn into their respective offices as will be stated in a subsequent despatch. The adverse votes referred to above took place the same evening, and on Tuesday, the 3rd, the Council waited on me, and verbally tendered their advice that Parliament should be dissolved. A précis of their reasons for this advice was forwarded the following morning Wednesday, August 4, and the afternoon of that day I replied to them in the paper No. 8, whereupon Mr. Brown immediately tendered his resignation which was verbally accepted by me.

7. It is not worth while recapitulating in the body of this despatch the arguments on either side which are contained in these papers. The whole of them were read in the Assembly on Wednesday night and the enclosed papers contain a condensed report of what passed in the debate.

8. There is one point however of considerable importance as enhancing the inexpediency of consenting to a dissolution of Parliament which I did not mention to my Council but which I ought to state here.

9. The decisive action of the Legislative Council against Mr. Brown's administration was such as to commit that body in the strongest manner. Now if a dissolution had taken place one of two results must have followed—either Mr. Brown would have secured the majority, or he would not. Had he done so a collision of an obstinate kind between the two Houses would have been inevitable. Had he failed to do so, the whole expense and difficulty of a general election at this period of the session, and at this time of year, would have been thrown away. This reason, in itself, would not have induced me to refuse to dissolve the House, but taken together with the reasons set forth in the paper No. 8, it had considerable weight with me.

After accepting Mr. Brown's resignation, I immediately sent for Mr. Galt, who proceeded to confer with his friends, and then informed me that, although he was quite ready to join a new Ministry he was of opinion that Mr. Cartier was more capable of forming one at the present moment.

10. As compared with the Government which resigned on the 30th July, the Executive Council as now constituted presents the following differences:

1. Mr. Cayley has retired, his place of Inspector General is filled by Mr. Galt, and Mr. Sherwood is introduced into the Council on the part of Upper Canada, and takes the Office of Receiver General;

2. Mr. Loranger retires—Mr. Galt, M. P. P., for Sherbrooke, in the Eastern Townships, comes into the Council from Lower Canada, and Mr. Alleyn succeeds Mr. Loranger as Provincial Secretary;

3. Mr. Alleyn is succeeded at the Board of Works by Mr. Sicotte, who vacates the Crown Lands. The Department of Crown Lands is taken by Mr. Vankoughnet,—Mr. John Ross becomes President of the Committees of Council,—Mr. Sidney Smith is again Post Master General, and Mr. John A. Macdonald Attorney General for Upper and Mr. Cartier for Lower Canada.

11. The Government thus reconstituted and sworn in, met the House on Saturday, and explained their policy, according to the report of the Toronto Colonist, papers, to the following effect: "The policy of the present Government is the same as was announced from the Speech from the Throne, in regard to all the subjects therein referred to. The operation of the new Tariff will be closely watched, and it will be readjusted from time to time with a view to maintain the public revenue and uphold the Provincial credit, and incidentally to encourage native industry and domestic manufactures. In such readjustment, the policy of basing the Tariff upon the ad valorem principle will be kept steadily in view. The Government feel themselves bound to carry out the law of the land respecting the Seat of Government, but in the face of the recent vote on the subject, the Administration do not consider themselves warranted in incurring any expenditure until Parliament has had an opportunity of considering the whole question in all its bearings. The expediency of a Federal Union of the British North American Provinces will be anxiously considered, and communications with the Home Government and the Lower Provinces entered into forthwith on the subject. The result of those communications will be submitted to Parliament at its next Session. The Government will, during the recess, examine into the organization and working of the public departments, and will carry out such administrative Reform as will conduce to economy and efficiency."

12. It will be observed by the appointments sent home that in several cases a double appointment was made. The alleged necessity for this is to be found in a supposed error in the wording of the Provincial Act 20 Vic. c. 22, s. 7. As it is most desirable to finish the business of the Session with all reasonable despatch it was not expedient to vacate more seats than was absolutely necessary.

13. When the new Ministry met the House on Saturday the correctness of their view of the Act was questioned by a direct motion to the following effect:

"Mr. Wallbridge moved that it be resolved—That the Honble. Sidney Smith has, since he has been elected to this House, accepted two different offices of emolument at the nomination of the Crown, to wit, the Office of President of the Executive Council, and subsequently that of Post Master General, and that he has thereby vacated his seat in the House as Representative for the West Riding of Northumberland."

The House however by a vote of 32 to 14 negatived this motion, and thereby sustained the propriety of the course pursued.

14. The House then proceeded with the ordinary routine, and got through a large amount of private business. This day (Monday, Aug. 9) the new writs required will probably be moved for and a trial of strength may take place on a question of the confidence of the House in the Government. I have however at present no reason to doubt the result.

I have, &c.,

To His Excellency the Right Honble. Sir E. W. HEAD,
Bart., &c. &c. &c.

May it please your Excellency,

We, Her Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Legislative Council of Canada, in Provincial Parliament assembled, respectfully beg leave to represent to your Excellency that this House having heard the explanations offered to this House by the organ of the Government therein, beg to express their entire dissatisfaction therewith and their want of confidence in a Government which is not prepared to enunciate a policy upon the various questions which the members thereof while in opposition agitated with so much zeal.

TORONTO, Thursday, 29th July, 1858.

No. 3. The Members of the Executive Council have tendered their resignation to His Excellency the Governor General, and they now retain their several offices only until their successors shall be appointed.

Under these circumstances, His Excellency feels it right to have recourse to you as the most prominent member of the opposition, and he hereby offers you a seat in the Council as the leader of a new Administration. In the event of your accepting this offer, His Excellency requests you to signify such acceptance to him in writing, in order that he may be at once in a position to confer with you as one of his responsible advisers.

His Excellency's first object will be to consult you as to the names of your future colleagues, and as to the assignment of the offices about to be vacated to the men most capable of filling them.

No. 4. Mr. Brown has the honour to inform His Excellency the Governor General that he accepts the duty proposed to him in His Excellency's Communication of 29th instant, and undertakes the formation of a new Administration.

No. 5. His Excellency the Governor General forwards the enclosed memorandum to Mr. Brown to-night, because it may be convenient for him to have it in his hands in good time to-morrow morning.

The part which relates to a dissolution is, in substance, a repetition of what His Excellency said yesterday at his interview with Mr. Brown. The portion having reference to the prorogation or adjournment of the Parliament is important in determining the propriety of the course to be pursued.

His Excellency therefore requests Mr. Brown to communicate the memorandum to his future colleagues, in order to avoid all misapprehension hereafter.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE,
Toronto, August 1, 1858.

[Copy.]

Memorandum.

His Excellency the Governor General wishes Mr. Brown to consider this memorandum and communicate it to the gentlemen whose names he proposes to submit to His Excellency, as members of the new Government.

The Governor General gives no pledge or promise, express or implied, with reference to dissolving Parliament.

When advice is tendered to His Excellency on this subject, he will make up his mind according to the circumstances then existing, and the reasons then laid before him.

The Governor General has no objection to prorogue the Parliament without the Members of the new Administration taking their seats in the present session. But if he does so, it ought, His Excellency thinks, to be on an express understanding that Parliament shall meet again as soon as possible—say in November or December. Until the new Ministers meet Parliament, His Excellency has no assurance that they possess the confidence of the majority of the House. The business transacted in the interval ought, in his opinion, to be confined to matters necessary for the ordinary administration of the Government of the Province.

If Parliament is prorogued, His Excellency would think it very desirable that the Bill for the Registration of Voters, and that containing the prohibition of Fraudulent Assignments and gifts by traders, should be proceeded with and become law—subject of course to such modifications as the wisdom of either House may suggest. Besides this, any items of supply absolutely necessary should be provided for by a vote of credit, and the money for the repairs of the Canals which cannot be postponed, should be voted.

His Excellency can hardly prorogue until these necessary steps are taken. If Parliament merely adjourns until after the re-election of the Members of the Government, the case is different, and the responsibility is on the House itself.—A prorogation is the act of His Excellency, and in this particular case such act would be performed without the advice of Ministers who had already received the confidence of Parliament. His Excellency's own opinion would be in favor of proroguing, if the conditions above specified can be fulfilled, and if Mr. Brown and his colleagues see no objection.

No. 6. Mr. Brown has the honour to acknowledge receipt of His Excellency the Governor General's note of last night, with the accompanying memorandum.

Before receiving His Excellency's note, Mr. Brown had successfully fulfilled the duty intrusted to him by the Governor General, and will be prepared at the appointed hour this morning to submit for His Excellency's approval the names of the gentlemen whom he proposes to be associated with himself in the new Government.

Mr. Brown respectfully submits that, until they have assumed the functions of constitutional advisers of the Crown, he and his proposed colleagues will not be in a position to discuss the important measures and questions of public policy referred to in His Excellency's memorandum.

CHURCH STREET,
Monday morning, 2nd Aug., 1858.

[Copy.]

Memorandum for the consideration of His Excellency the Governor General.

No. 7. His Excellency's present advisers having accepted office on His Excellency's invitation, after the late administration had, by their resignation, admitted their inability successfully to conduct the affairs of the country in a Parliament summoned under their own advice, and being unanimously of opinion that the constitutional recourse of an appeal to the people affords the best, if not the only, solution of existing difficulties, respectfully advise His Excellency to prorogue Parliament immediately with a view to a dissolution.

When His Excellency's present advisers accepted office they did not conceal from themselves the probability that they would be unable to carry on the Government with the present House of Assembly. That House, they believe, does not possess the confidence of the country: and the public dissatisfaction has been greatly increased by the numerous and glaring acts of corruption and fraud by which many seats were obtained at the last general election, and for which acts the House, though earnestly petitioned so to do, has failed to afford a remedy.

For some years past strong sectional feelings have arisen in the country, which, especially during the present Session, have seriously impeded the carrying on of the administrative and legislative functions of the Government. The late Administration made no attempt to meet these difficulties, or to suggest a remedy for them, and thereby the evil has been greatly aggravated.

His Excellency's present advisers have entered the Government with the fixed determination to propose constitutional measures for the establishment of that harmony between Upper and Lower Canada, which is essential to the prosperity of the Province. They respectfully submit that they have a right to claim all the support which His Excellency can constitutionally extend to them in the prosecution of this all important object.

The unprecedented and unparliamentary course pursued by the House of Assembly, which, immediately after having, by their vote, compelled the late Ministry to retire, proceeded to pass a vote of want of confidence in the present administration, without notice, within a few hours of their appointment, in their absence from the House, and before their policy had been announced, affords the most convincing proof that the affairs of the country cannot be efficiently conducted under the control of the House as now constituted.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL CHAMBER,
3rd August, 1858.

[Copy.]

Memorandum.

No. 8. His Excellency the Governor General has received the advice of the Executive Council, to the effect that a dissolution of Parliament should take place.

His Excellency is no doubt bound to deal fairly with all political parties: but he has also a duty to perform to the Queen, and the people of Canada, paramount to that which he owes to any one party, or to all parties whatsoever.

The question for His Excellency to decide is not—"What is advantageous or fair for a particular party?" but, "What upon the whole is most advantageous and fair for the people of the Province?"—The resignation of the late Government was tendered in consequence of a vote of the House, which did not assert directly any want of confidence in them.

The vote of Monday night was a direct vote of want of confidence on the part of both Houses. It was carried in the Assembly by a majority of forty in a house of a hundred and two, out of one hundred and thirty, Members—consequently by a majority of the whole House, even if every seat had been full at the time of the vote. In addition to this a similar vote was carried in the Upper House by sixteen against eight, and an address founded thereon was adopted.

It is clear that under such circumstances a dissolution, to be of any avail, must be immediate. His Excellency the Governor General cannot do any act other than that of dissolving Parliament by the advice of a ministry who possess the confidence of neither branch of the Legislature.

Is it then the duty of His Excellency to dissolve Parliament?

It is not the business of the Governor General to decide whether the action of the two Houses on Monday night was, or was not, in accordance with the usual courtesy of Parliament towards an incoming administration. The two Houses are the judges of the propriety of their own proceedings. His Excellency has to do with the conclusions at which they arrive, provided only that the forms observed are such as to give legal and constitutional force to their votes.

There are many points which require careful consideration with reference to a dissolution at the present time. Among these are the following:—

I. It has been alleged that the present House may be assumed not to represent the people: if such were the case, there was no sufficient reason why, on being in a minority in that House the late Government should have given place to the present. His Excellency cannot constitutionally adopt this view.

II. An election took place only last winter; this fact is not conclusive against a second election now, but the cost and inconvenience of such a proceeding are so great that they ought not to be incurred a second time without very strong grounds.

III. The business before Parliament is not yet finished. It is perhaps true that very little which is absolutely essential for the country remains to be done. A portion, however, of the estimates, and two bills, at least, of great importance are still before the Legislative Assembly, irrespective of the private business. In addition to this, the resolutions respecting the Hudson's Bay Territory have not been considered, and no answer on that subject can therefore be given to the British Government.

IV. The time of year and the state of affairs would make a general election at this moment peculiarly inconvenient and burdensome, inasmuch as the harvest is now going on in a large portion of the country, and the pressure of the late money crisis has not passed away.

V. The following considerations are strongly pressed by His Excellency's present advisers, as reasons why he should authorize an appeal to the people, and thereby retain their services in the Council:—

1. The corruption and bribery alleged to have been practised at the last election, and the taint which on that account is said to attach to the present Legislative Assembly.

2. The existence of a bitter sectional feeling between Upper and Lower Canada, and the ultimate danger to the Union, as at present constituted, which is likely to arise from such feeling.

If the first of these points be assumed as true, it must be asked, what assurance can His Excellency have that a new election under precisely the same laws, held within six or eight months of the last, will differ in its character from that which then took place?

If the facts are as they are stated to be, they might be urged as a reason why a general election should be avoided as long as possible—at any rate until the laws are more stringent, and the precautions against such evils shall have been increased by the wisdom of Parliament. Until this is done, the speedy recurrence of the opportunity to practice such abuses would seem likely to aggravate their character, and confirm the habit of resorting to them.

The second consideration, as to the feeling between Upper and Lower Canada, and the ultimate danger of such feelings to the Union, is one of a very grave kind. It would furnish to His Excellency the strongest possible motive for a dissolution of Parliament, and for the retention of the present Government at all hazards, if two points only were conclusively established—that is to say if it could be shown that the measures likely to be adopted by Mr. Brown and his colleagues were a specific, and the only specific, for these evils, and that the Members of the present Council were the only men in the country likely to calm the passions, and allay the jealousies so unhappily existing. It may be that both these propositions are true, but unless they are established to His Excellency's complete satisfaction, the mere existence of the mischief is not in itself decisive as to the propriety of resorting to a general election at the present moment.

The certainty, or at any rate the great probability, of the cure by the course proposed, and by that alone, would require to be also proved.

Without this a great present evil would be voluntarily incurred for the chance of a remote good.

VI. It would seem to be the duty of His Excellency to exhaust every possible alternative before subjecting the Province for a second time in the same year to the cost, the inconvenience, and the demoralization of such a proceeding. The Governor General is by no means satisfied that every alternative has been thus exhausted, or that it would be impossible for him to secure a ministry who would close the business of this Session, and carry on the administration of the Government during the recess with the confidence of a majority of the Legislative Assembly.

After full and mature deliberation therefore on the arguments submitted to him by word of mouth and in writing, and with every respect for the opinions of the Council, His Excellency declines to dissolve Parliament at the present time.

SIR,

The enclosed duplicate appointments of Executive Councillors marked from one to twenty-six respectively are submitted as usual, but as will be seen by my Despatch of August 9, No. 102, the gentlemen in whose favor they issued have already resigned.

The Commissions (numbered from 26 to 48 respectively) are the appointments of the gentlemen who succeeded to the foregoing in the manner related in my despatch referred to above.

I have to ask that these last may be laid before Her Most Gracious Majesty in the usual manner.

You will observe that the Solicitor General for Lower Canada is sworn of the Executive Council. I am advised that it is necessary on account of the increase of public business, and although not usual of late years has often been done under previous Governors.

SIR,

I have to acknowledge your Despatches of the numbers and dates in the margin with their enclosures, giving a detailed account of the political events which recently occurred during the Session of the Canadian Parliament ending with the appointment of a new administration composed of Messrs. Galt, Sherwood and other Gentlemen.

You are well aware that Her Majesty's advisers have no wish to interfere in any way in the domestic affairs of the great Province under your Government, and therefore while they have read with an interest proportioned to the gravity of the subject the documents thus communicated to them they abstain from expressing any opinion on their general contents.

With regard however to your own conduct in this crisis as an Officer of the Crown, they are of opinion that you acted in accordance with those principles of constitutional Government which obtain in this country as well as in Canada; nor have they any reason to doubt the soundness of your judgment in applying those principles, although this is not a point on which they are qualified to decide.

They are bound, however, not to pass over one subject without remark.

The question of the Federation of the Colonies is one in which Canada has no doubt a very deep interest, and in which any representations, proceeding from the legislature of that Province, will be received with the greatest attention. But it is necessarily one of Imperial character, involving the future Government of the other North American Colonies, equally bound with Canada by the common tie which unites all the members of that Empire. It is therefore one which it properly belongs to the executive authority of the Empire, and not that of any separate Province, to initiate. I do not however question the importance of the reasons which led you to advert to it, and shall await the further development of the views of yourself and your advisers on the subject. I have communicated your speech, and an extract of this part of my despatch, to the Lieutenant Governor of the other North American Provinces.

In reviewing the history of the Session of the Canadian Parliament now terminated, it is impossible for Her Majesty's Government to avoid expressing their regret that after having deliberately invited the award of Her Majesty on the question of the future Seat of Canadian Government, the Assembly should have thought proper deliberately to reject that award. They are not in possession of the reasons which may have led to so unexpected a decision; but they are too strongly assured of the loyalty of the representatives of the Canadian people, to believe that any individual among the Members who joined in that vote intended a slight to his Sovereign.

I have, &c.,

DESPATCHES

From Her Majesty's Secretary for the Colonies, and other documents relating to the Union of the British North American Colonies, laid by order of His Excellency the Governor General, before the Legislative Assembly by the Honorable Mr. ALLEYN, Secretary of the Province, on the 2nd day of February, 1859.

Legislative Assembly,
Toronto, 2nd day of February, 1859.

LONDON, 23d. OCTOBER, 1858.

SIR,

We have the honor to submit for the consideration of Her Majesty's Government, that the Governor General of Canada acting under the advice of his responsible Advisers, has been pleased to recommend that the subject of a Federative Union of the Provinces of British North America, should form the subject of discussion by Delegates from each Province, to be appointed under the Orders of Her Majesty's Government; And we have been instructed to urge the importance of this step as well upon grounds peculiar to Canada, as from considerations affecting the interests of the other Colonies and of the whole Empire.

It is our duty to state that very grave difficulties now present themselves in conducting the Government of Canada, in such a manner as to shew due regard to the wishes of its numerous population. The Union of Lower with Upper Canada was based upon perfect equality being preserved between these Provinces, a condition the more necessary from the differences in their respective language, law and religion—and although there is now a large English population in Lower Canada, still these differences exist to an extent which prevents any perfect and complete assimilation of the views of the two Sections.

At the time of the Union Act, Lower Canada possessed a much larger population than Upper Canada, but this produced no difficulty in the Government of the United Province under that Act. Since that period, however, the progress of population has been more rapid in the Western section, and claims are now made on behalf of its Inhabitants for giving them representation in the Legislature in proportion to their numbers, which claims involving, it is believed, a most serious interference with the principles upon which the Union was based, have been and are strenuously resisted by Lower Canada. The result is shewn by an agitation fraught with great danger to the peaceful and harmonious working of our constitutional system, and consequently detrimental to the progress of the Province.

The necessity of providing a remedy for a state of things, that is yearly becoming worse and of allaying feelings that are being daily aggravated by the contention of political parties, has impressed the advisers of Her Majesty's representative in Canada, with the importance of seeking for such a mode of dealing with these difficulties as may for ever remove them. In this view, it has appeared to them advisable to consider how far the Union of Lower with Upper Canada could be rendered essentially federative in combination with the Provinces of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Newfoundland and Prince Edward's Island, together with such other territories as it may be hereafter desirable to incorporate with such confederation, from the possessions of the Crown in British North America.

The undersigned are convinced that Her Majesty's Government will be fully alive to the grave nature of the circumstances referred to which are stated by them, under the full responsibility of their position as advisers of the Crown in Canada. They are satisfied that the time has arrived for a constitutional discussion of all means, whereby the evils of internal dissention may be avoided in such an important dependency of the Empire as Canada. But independent of reasons affecting Canada alone, it is respectfully represented that the interests of the several Colonies and of the Empire will be greatly promoted by a more intimate and united Government of the entire British North American Possessions. The population, Trade and Resources of all these Colonies have so rapidly increased of late years and the removal of Trade restrictions has made them, in so great a degree, self sustaining, that it appears to the Government of Canada exceedingly important to bind still more closely the ties of their common allegiance to the British Crown, and to obtain for general purposes such an identity in legislation as may serve to consolidate their growing power, thus raising under the protection of the Empire, an important confederation on the North American Continent.

At present each Colony is totally distinct in its Government, in its customs and trades and in its general Legislation. To each other, no greater facilities are extended than to any Foreign State, and the only common tie is that which binds all to the British Crown. This state of things is considered to be neither promotive of the physical prosperity of all, nor of that moral union which ought to be preserved in the presence of the powerful Confederation of the United States.

With a population of 3 and a half millions, with a foreign commerce exceeding 25 millions sterling, and a commercial marine inferior in extent only to those of Great Britain and the United States, it is in the power of the Imperial Government by sanctioning a Confederation of these Pro-vines, to constitute a Dependency of the Empire, valuable in time of peace, and powerful in the event of war, for ever removing the fear that these Colonies may ultimately serve to swell the power of another Nation.

In the case of the Australian Colonies, the Imperial Government have consented to their discussion of the question of Confederation, although the reasons for it, as relates to the Empire, can scarcely be either so urgent or so important as those which affect British North America.

The Government of Canada do not desire to represent the feelings of the other Provinces—their application is confined to the request that the Imperial Government will be pleased to authorize a meeting of Delegates on behalf of each Colony, and of Upper and Lower Canada respectively, for the purpose of considering the subject of a Federative Union, and reporting on the principles on which the same could properly be based.

That such Delegates should be appointed by the Executive Government of each Colony, and meet with as little delay as possible.

That the report of such Delegates should be addressed to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, and that a copy of it, as soon as it is prepared, should be placed in the hands of the Governor, and Lieutenant Governor of each Colony, in order that he may lay the same before the Provincial Parliament, with as little delay as possible.

Upon the report of such Delegates, it will be for Majesty's Government to decide whether the interests of the Empire will be promoted by Confederation, and to direct the action of the Imperial Parliament thereon, with the concurrence of the Legislatures of the respective Colonies.

We have the honor to be,
Sir,

Your most obedient and humble servants.

COPY of a Report of a Committee of the Honorable the Executive Council, dated 4th September, 1858, approved by His Excellency the Governor General in Council on the 9th September, 1858.

The Committee of Council are respectfully of opinion that it is expedient to bring the subject of the Union of the British North American Colonies under the notice of Her Majesty's Government with as little delay as possible, and to inform the Government of each such Colony, that the attention of Her Majesty has been called to the subject by your Excellency.

That your Excellency should submit to the Right Honorable the Secretary of State for the Colonies, the propriety of authorizing a meeting of Delegates on behalf of each Colony, and of Upper and Lower Canada respectively, for the purpose of considering the subject of such Federative Union, and reporting on the principles on which the same could properly be based.

That such Delegates should be appointed by the Executive Government of each Colony, and meet with as little delay as possible.

That the report of such Delegates should be addressed to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, and that a copy of it, as soon as it is prepared, should be placed in the hands of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor of each Colony, in order that he may lay the same before the Provincial Parliament, with as little delay as possible.

To His Excellency The Honorable J. H. T. Manners Sutton, Lieutenant Governor, &c., &c. &c.

The Committee of Council have had under consideration the despatch of the Governor General of the 9th instant, containing the Report of the Executive Council of Canada, on the subject of a Federal Union, of the British North American Provinces.

The Council are deeply impressed with the importance of the subject, requiring as it does the most deliberated and mature consideration.

The British North American Provinces have each attained a great degree of material prosperity under their present constitution; and the increased power of self Government recently conferred upon them, has left them nothing to envy in the political condition of the Citizens of the neighbouring republic.

The Council are of opinion that the interests of this Province and of all the British North American Provinces required that, when the question of a Federal or Legislative Union of the Provinces, is formerly brought before the people, it should be raised in such a manner and at such a time as would afford a reasonable prospect at least of arriving at a speedy and satisfactory conclusion. And without expressing any opinion as to the practicability or effect of such a Union as that referred to in the memorandum of the Council of Canada, the Council would state, that although the subject of a Union of the Colonies, has to some extent been discussed in the public press here, the attention of the Provincial Legislature has never been directed to this matter, nor has it been a prominent subject of consideration among the constituencies, and in this respect New Brunswick occupies a very different position from Canada. And it may be remarked that if the recommendation of the Canadian Government be adopted by the Secretary of State, the question of a Legislative Union with any or all of the other Provinces, must be excluded from consideration by the Commission.

Under these circumstances the Council would respectfully submit, that a reasonable time should be allowed for consideration, before the commencement of any such enquiry as that contemplated by the Government of Canada.

Downing Street, 26th November, 1858.

SIR,

I have on a former occasion acknowledged your despatch, No 118, of the 9th September, accompanied by a minute of a Committee of the Executive Council of Canada, proposing that Her Majesty's Government should authorize a meeting of Delegates, to discuss the expediency, and the conditions of a Federal Union of the British North American Provinces. By this name I understand to be meant an arrangement for establishing a Common Legislation in the Provinces, upon matters of common concern. I have since received a letter on the same question, dated the 25th of October, from those Members of your Executive Council, who have recently visited England; and I have to inform you that the proposal has received from Her Majesty's Government, the careful consideration which its importance demands.

The question however, is one which involves not merely the interests of the important Province of Canada and its relations towards the Empire, but also the position and welfare of the other North American Provinces. The Government of one of them has afforded some indication that it deems the question of a Legislative Union of some or all of the Colonies, as equally deserving of consideration. With this exception Her Majesty's Government have received no expression whatever of the sentiments which may be entertained by the Governments of the Lower Provinces. We think that we should be wanting in proper consideration for those Governments, if we were to authorize, without any previous knowledge of their views, a meeting of Delegates from the Executive Councils, and thus to commit them to a preliminary step towards the settlement of a momentous question of which they have not yet signified their assent to the principle.

A communication in terms corresponding with the present despatch, will be addressed to the Governors of the other Provinces, in order to place them, and their responsible Advisers in full possession of the actual state of the question.

Copy of a Report of a Committee of the Executive Council, dated 5th January 1859, approved by His Excellency the Governor General, in Council, on the following day :

The Committee have had under consideration a Despatch (No. 87, dated 26th November, 1858, from the Right Honorable the Secretary of State for the Colonies, intimating that the Imperial Government, before authorizing a meeting of Delegates from the Executive Councils of the British North American Provinces, on the subject of a Federal Union, as proposed in the Order in Council communicated to the Colonial Secretary by Your Excellency's Despatch, No. 118, of 9th September last, desire an expression of the sentiments which may be entertained by the Governments of the Lower Provinces on that important matter, in order not to commit them to a preliminary step towards the settlement of a question of which they have not yet signified their assent to the principle.

In order to place the Governments of the Lower Provinces in possession of all the proceedings that have hitherto taken place in reference to the above mentioned subject, the Honorable the Attorney General (L. C.) recommends that a copy of the said Despatch No. 87, as well as of the letter addressed by the Delegates from Canada to the Right Honorable the Colonial Secretary, while in England, be communicated to the Governor and Lieutenant Governor of each of such Provinces, with a view to invite such action in the matter as may be deemed expedient.

The Committee advise that the suggestion of the Honorable Attorney General be approved and acted on.

THE GOVERNOR GENERAL transmits, for the information of the Honorable the Legislative Assembly, copies of Despatches from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for the Colonies, and other documents relating to the Intercolonial Railway.

Government House,
Toronto, February, 1859,

(Copy.)

3, CHARLES STREET, ST. JAMES SQUARE,
London, 26th October, 1858.

SIR,

The subject of an Inter-colonial Railway from Halifax to Quebec has been so frequently and so fully discussed both as between the Colonies interested and between those Colonies and the Home Government that the undersigned do not now propose to reproduce at length the arguments which have been from time to time urged in favor of its construction.

The late Earl of Durham in his report upon the affairs of British North America suggested the importance of this Railway. The first practical step however was taken in the organization of a Survey, by Mr. Gladstone, when Secretary of State for the Colonies in 1846, which Survey occupied a considerable period of time, involving a large amount of expense and to which expense Canada, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia contributed.

Earl Grey when Secretary of State for the Colonies in 1851, distinctly pledged the Imperial Government to aid in making the line by affording the Imperial Guarantee to the payment of the interest on the capital required for the work and this pledge would doubtless have been carried out at the time, had not a difficulty arisen as to a branch line from the main line into the State of Maine for the cost of which Mr. Howe of Nova Scotia also claimed the Imperial Guarantee.

Subsequently in 1852, Mr. Hinks on behalf of Canada and Mr. Chandler acting for New Brunswick brought the matter under the notice of Sir John Pakington the then Secretary of State for the Colonies who in effect repeated the pledge of Earl Grey, but a difficulty arose as to the route.

His Grace the Duke of Newcastle as Secretary of State for the Colonies in the ensuing year had the project under consideration with a view to carrying it out, the Russian war however unfortunately intervened and prevented any progress being made, until last year (1857) when Messrs. Macdonald and Rose from Canada, and Messrs. Johnston and Archibald from Nova Scotia again made application to the Home Government and submitted to Mr. Labouchère propositions for the completion of this Railway.

The undersigned have thus but briefly referred to the action in relation to this question as between the Imperial and Colonial Governments knowing Sir, as they do that you, are fully acquainted with its history in all its bearings and that a reference to the Parliamentary Blue Books for the documents and despatches alluded to will be more convenient and satisfactory to you than a repetition of their contents.

It must be borne in mind however that the state of the question in the Colonies interested has been materially changed since the correspondence with Earl Grey and Sir John Pakington.

At that time Canada, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia had not in fact taken any step incurring debt or liability for the purpose of aiding the project and it is proposed here to state briefly what has been done and what liabilities incurred, in the respective Provinces towards carrying out this great Imperial and Provincial Work. Canada has not only provided for the construction of a line of Railway from Quebec to Montreal and thence westward passing through Kingston and Toronto to the western boundary of that Province at Sarnia the foot of Lake Huron, but forty miles below Quebec have been made and are now worked for traffic, and during the next year a further distance of 70 miles to Rivière du Loup now being made comprising in the aggregate 110 miles below Quebec, or 864 miles in all from Rivière du Loup to Sarnia will be completed at a cost to the Province of £3,111,500 sterling raised and paid out since 1852 to aid in the construction of this Railway and involving an annual charge upon the Revenues of the Province to the extent of £186,000 sterling. From Rivière du Loup to the New Brunswick frontier, the distance to be yet made depends upon the route selected the shortest distance being about 50 miles. And there will then be a continuous line of Railway throughout the entire length of Canada from its extreme eastern boundary on the New Brunswick border to its western boundary at Sarnia on Lake Huron.

In addition to this large outlay Canada will contribute the sum of twenty thousand pounds sterling annually to aid in raising the capital for the completion of this important work.

New Brunswick has incurred a heavy debt in the construction of Railways. Upon the completion of the unfinished portion of the road between Thedia and the City of Saint John, a distance of 110 miles which are now under contract: her total expenditure for the construction of Railways will exceed £800,000 sterling for which she will be subject to the payment of an annual interest of £48,000 sterling. She has already given one hundred thousand acres of land to the Saint Andrews Québec Railway and land Company and has pledged a further large grant of land and agreed to pay an annual sum of five thousand pounds sterling to the same Company on certain conditions to assist in the construction of a Railway from Saint Andrews to Woodstock a distance of eighty-five miles, sixty miles of which will be finished this Autumn. Notwithstanding these large expenditure New Brunswick will now provide a free right of way and contribute £20,000 sterling annually to aid in raising the necessary capital for the completion of the Intercolonial Railway.

Nova Scotia before the close of this year will have opened for traffic sixty-one miles of the Trunk line from Halifax to Truro, and a branch line of 31 miles connecting the main line with Windsor, and the fertile counties of the western portion of the Province on the basin of Mines has been in operation since June last.

This portion of the Trunk line has cost about £500,000 sterling, and the Windsor branch £300,000 sterling, the interest of which is chargeable and upon the resources of the Province the capital having been raised upon Provincial Debentures bearing six per cent interest. To complete the Trunk line from Truro to the borders of New Brunswick there remain about 69 miles.

Unless it be in connection with the Intercolonial Railway it forms no part of the policy of Nova Scotia to carry the line from Truro to the New Brunswick frontier, as unaided it is entirely beyond her resources and a line is now being located from Truro to Picton by which communication will be opened with the Gulf of St. Lawrence, Prince Edward's Island and the Eastern Counties including Cape Breton.

In the event therefore of the present effort failing to enlist the sympathy and cooperation of the Imperial Government in completing the Intercolonial Railway in which the general interests of the Empire are so largely involved—Nova Scotia must turn her resources to the construction of the line to Picton and no hope can be entertained that she will afterwards be able to contribute to the Quebec and Halifax line, as all her means will have been expended upon the local lines already indicated. So deeply impressed is she however with the immense importance of this great Imperial and Colonial Railway undertaking that although nearly one half of the line through Nova Scotia has been made and completed since the action of her Legislature in 1849, she is now willing to renew the pledge then given to grant a free right of way and provide and pay twenty thousand pounds sterling annually so long as it may be required to aid in meeting the interest of the additional capital to be expended in making the line from Truro to Rivière du Loup.

Referring then to the action of the Home Government and to the pledges of Earl Grey in 1851, to the adoption of those pledges in effect by Sir John Pakington in 1852, and to the repeated admissions on the part of the Imperial Authorities that the interests and integrity of the Empire are involved in the speedy construction of this Railway, the undersigned respectfully submit that the period has arrived when it is essential that the Imperial assistance necessary be granted.

It is estimated that the different sections required to complete the line from Halifax to Quebec may now be made at a cost of three millions and a half of pounds sterling. If the million and a half of pounds which Canada owes to and proposes to raise and pay off at once to the Imperial Government be appropriated, there remain but two millions more to be provided, and to meet the interest on this sum each Province here proposes to contribute to the extent of £20,000 sterling in each year. The British North American Provinces would thus be brought together and consolidated. The postal communication between England and all North America would be conducted through Halifax and that for the United States would thus pass first through British Territory inasmuch as Letters for Boston and New York and other American Cities would reach their destination sooner through Halifax and over the rail than in any other way.

When the Inter-colonial Railway is completed, there will be an unbroken communication by rail from Halifax in Nova Scotia to the western part of Canada at Sarnia extending over a distance of about 1,400 miles in the direction of British Columbia and Van-Couvers Island, the whole being in the dominions of the Queen and from Sarnia there is now an unbroken water communication for Steamers and Vessels of the largest class to the head of Lake Superior at Fort William a further distance of nearly one thousand miles.

The military objects are now so thoroughly understood and have been so fully dwelt upon in former memorandums on the subject of this Railway that they are not here repeated.

Trusting that this important matter may receive the early and favorable consideration of Her Majesty's Government.

We have the honor to be,

I have the honor to transmit to you the accompanying copy of a Despatch with its enclosures which I have had occasion to address by this Mail to the

MY LORD,

I have to acknowledge the receipt of your Lordship's Despatch of the 2nd April No. 22, in which you enclose an Address to the Queen from the House of Assembly of Nova Scotia, together with certain resolutions of that House, on the subject of the projected Railroad from Halifax to Quebec and Montreal.

You will I think concur with me in the opinion that it would at present be premature to enter upon the consideration of the request of the House of Assembly that the money which may be voted by the House of Commons for the construction of a Military Road through the British Provinces of North America should be devoted instead to the formation of a Railway.

Whenever the Survey, which it is essential should be first undertaken, shall be completed, I shall be prepared to offer my advice to the Queen as to the course which it may be proper to take in reference to the request of the Assembly for the appropriation of these funds to the Railroad.

I am happy to inform you, by this early opportunity, that I have recommended the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury to give their sanction to the employment of Officers of Engineers on the Survey in Nova Scotia, and the neighbouring British Provinces for which the House of Assembly has pledged itself to provide, and that Instructions, in accordance with my wishes on this subject have been given by their Lordships to the Master General and Board of Ordnance, who will communicate with their Officers in North America. I enclose for your information the copy of a Letter which has been addressed by my direction to the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury, together with copies of two Letters addressed by their Lordships to the Board of Ordnance, and have to add that I shall hope to be able to make known to your Lordship, at a future and not distant time, the matured intentions of Her Majesty's Government with respect to this Survey.

I have, &c.,

DOWNING STREET,

SIR,

The project of a Railroad between Halifax and Quebec having excited considerable attention in the British Provinces of North America, as well as in this Kingdom, Mr. Secretary Gladstone has been in communication with the Governor General of Canada, and the Lieutenant Governors of the Provinces concerned, in this undertaking on the preliminary points which it is necessary to determine before any active proceedings can be adopted for the construction of such an important work. Mr. Gladstone having by the Mail which arrived yesterday received from the Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia a Despatch enclosing an address to the Queen, from the House of Assembly of that Province, with resolutions pledging the House to provide for the expense of the Survey of those parts of Nova Scotia through which it is expected that the Railway would pass, has directed me to request you would represent to the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury that as Her Majesty's Government consider the proposed enterprise an object of general as well as Provincial importance, they are desirous of affording their cooperation to the House of Assembly of Nova Scotia in the requisite preliminary measure for which that House has now pledged itself to provide. It will not however be sufficient to restrict the proposed Survey to Nova Scotia. Mr. Gladstone does not doubt that the people of Canada and New Brunswick have been equally animated by a desire to aid in the formation of some great chain of communication by Railway between the several Provinces and (although their Legislatures have not so far as he is at present aware, adopted proceedings corresponding with those of the Legislature of Nova Scotia) he considers that it will not, on that account, be proper to withhold from the former Provinces the advantage of the Survey which will be afforded to Nova Scotia. The season during which this work can be executed being necessarily very limited, it would not be advisable to defer its commencement, and Mr. Gladstone would therefore impress upon the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury the expediency of an immediate intimation being made to the Board of Ordnance of the wishes of Her Majesty's Government that instructions should be conveyed by the ensuing Packet to the Commanding Engineer in the British Provinces in North America, to depute such Officers of that Corps to undertake the Survey in question as may be selected by the Master General and Board of Ordnance for that purpose.

I am further to request that the Board of Ordnance may be distinctly apprized that to render this Survey adequate to its object, it will be necessary to examine the question where the Port of Embarkation for England would most properly be fixed, having regard to the convenience of the public, the purposes of Despatch, and the general safety of the port and terminus in time of war.

Mr. Gladstone hopes to be enabled before the next Packet to consider, in connection with the Master General and Board of Ordnance, the specific instructions which it may be proper to give to these Officers.

TREASURY CHAMBERS,
17th April, 1846.

SIR,
I am commanded by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to acquaint you for the information of the Master General and the Board of Ordnance, that a desire having been expressed by the Legislature of Nova Scotia to establish a Railroad between Halifax and Quebec, and to have the best opinion as to the line which it would be expedient to adopt, their Lordships consider it to be an object of general, as well as provincial importance that the best line should be selected; and they therefore request the Board of Ordnance to give to the Legislature of Nova Scotia the assistance of such Engineers at present in North America, as they may consider qualified for this duty, and to send out to them orders to place themselves without delay in communication with the Governor General of Canada and the Lieutenant Governors of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick for the purpose of effecting such a Survey as may enable them to form a judgment as to the line most expedient to be adopted.

I have, &c.,

TREASURY, 18th April, 1846.

SIR,
With reference to my Letter dated the 17th instant, on the subject of the Survey of the proposed Railroad between Nova Scotia and Canada, I am commanded by the Lords Commissioners of H. M. Treasury to transmit for the information of the Master General and Board a copy of a Letter from Mr. Stephen dated the 16th instant, stating the wish of H. M. Secretary of State for Colonial Affairs, that the Survey in question should embrace a comprehensive plan of communication between the Provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and Canada, and adverting to certain points to which attention is particularly required, and I am to request that you will move the Master General and Board to send instructions by the Mail about to leave England, to the officers of the Royal Engineers in the three Provinces above mentioned, to take early and effectual steps to carry Mr. Gladstone's wishes into effect, in communication with the Governor General of Canada, and the Lieutenant Governors of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

COPY OF A LETTER FROM B. HAWES, ESQUIRE, TO J. HOWE, ESQUIRE.

DOWNING STREET, March 10th, 1851.

SIR,

I am directed by Earl Grey to inform you that he is at length enabled to communicate to you the decision of Her Majesty's Government on the application for assistance towards the construction of the projected Railway through Nova Scotia contained in your Letters of the 25th of November and 16th of January last.

You are already aware, from the repeated conversations which you have had with Lord Grey, of the strong sense entertained by his Lordship and his Colleagues, of the extreme importance, not only to the Colonies directly interested, but to the empire at large, of providing for the construction of a Railway by which a line of communication may be established on the British Territory between the Provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Canada, and that various plans which have been suggested for the accomplishment of this object have undergone the most attentive consideration.

It appears from Sir John Harvey's Despatch of August 29th 1850, as well as from your Letters and the verbal communications you have made to Lord Grey, that the Provincial Government of Nova Scotia, fully relying on the concurrence of the Legislature, is desirous of undertaking the construction of that part of the projected line which would pass through that province, and proposes to obtain for that purpose a Loan of £800,000 which is the estimated expense of the work. The assistance which Lord Grey understands you to apply for on behalf of the Province is, that the payment of the interest of a Loan to this amount should be guaranteed by the Imperial Parliament the effect of which would be that the money might be raised on terms much more favorable than would be otherwise required by the Lenders.

I am directed to inform you that Her Majesty's Government, are prepared to recommend to Parliament that this Guarantee should be granted, or that the money required should be advanced from the British Treasury, on the conditions which I will now proceed to state.

In the first place, as Her Majesty's Government are of opinion that they would not be justified in asking Parliament to allow the credit of this Country to be pledged for any object not of great importance to the British Empire as a whole (and they do not consider that the projected Railway would answer this description unless it should establish a line of communication between the three British Provinces), it must be distinctly understood that the work is not to be commenced, nor is any part of the Loan, for the interest on which the British Treasury is to be responsible to be raised until arrangements are made with the Provinces of Canada and New Brunswick by which the construction of a Line of Railway passing wholly through British Territory from Halifax to Quebec or Montreal shall be provided for to the satisfaction of Her Majesty's Government.

In order that such arrangements may be made Her Majesty's Government will undertake to recommend to Parliament that the like assistance shall be rendered to these provinces as to Nova Scotia in obtaining loans for the construction of their respective portions of the work. If it should appear that by leaving it to each province to make that part of the line passing through its own territory the proportion of the whole cost of the work which would fall upon any one province would exceed its proportion of the advantage to be gained by it, then the question is to remain open for future consideration whether some contribution should not be made by the other provinces towards that part of the line, but it is clearly to be understood that the whole cost of the line is to be provided for by loans raised by the Provinces in such proportions as may be agreed upon with the guarantee of the Imperial Parliament.

The manner in which the profits to be derived from the Railway when completed are to be divided between the provinces, will also remain for future consideration.

You will observe that I have stated that the line is to pass entirely through British Territory, but Her Majesty's Government do not require that the line shall necessarily be that recommended by Major Robinson and Captain Henderson.

If the opinion which is entertained by many persons well qualified to form a judgment is correct, that a shorter and better line may be found through New Brunswick, it will of course be preferred and there will be sufficient time for determining this question while the earlier part of the line is in progress. It is also to be understood that Her Majesty's Government will by no means object to its forming part of the plan which may be determined upon that it should include a provision for establishing a communication between the projected railways and the railways of the United States. Any deviation from the line recommended by Major Robinson and Captain Henderson, must, however, be subject to the approval of Her Majesty's Government.

It will further be required that the several Provincial Legislatures should pass laws making the loans which they are to raise a first charge upon the Provincial Revenue, after any existing debts and payments on account of the Civil Lists settled on Her Majesty by laws now in force; and also that permanent taxes shall be imposed (or taxes to continue in force till the debt shall be extinguished) sufficient to provide for the payment of the interests and sinking fund of the loans proposed to be raised after discharging the above prior claims. It will further be necessary that the expenditure of the money raised under the guarantee of the Imperial Parliament shall take place under the superintendence of Commissioners appointed by Her Majesty's Government, and armed with sufficient power to secure the due application of the funds so raised to their intended object. The Commissioners so appointed are not, however, to interfere with the arrangements of the Provincial Governments, except for the above purpose.

The right of sending troops, stores and mails along the line at reasonable rates must likewise be secured.

If on the part of the Government of Nova Scotia you should express your concurrence in the above proposal, Lord Grey will immediately direct the Governor General of the British North American provinces to communicate with the Lieutenant-Governors of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, who will also be directed to bring the subject under the consideration of their respective Executive Councils in order that if they should be prepared to join in carrying the undertaking into effect on the terms proposed the details of the arrangement between the provinces may be settled and the sanction of the Legislatures obtained for the plan so that it may with as little delay as possible be submitted for the approval of Parliament.

Before, however, the proposed measure can be so submitted to Parliament, it is proper to observe that there are some other questions affecting the pecuniary relations between the mother country and the colonies which will require to be considered, but as these questions have little, if any, reference to Nova Scotia, it is not necessary that they should be further adverted to in this letter.

I am directed to add that Lord Grey thinks it unnecessary that any measures should be taken by Her Majesty's Government to encourage the establishment of steam vessels for the accommodation of emigrants of the humbler class which is one of the subjects to which you have called his attention.

If there should be a demand for such vessels Lord Grey has no doubt that they will speedily be supplied by private enterprize, indeed he has been informed that ships of large size intended for the conveyance of emigrants, and furnished with auxiliary steam power, are already building both in this country and in America, and if by undertaking the projected railway a demand for labour is created in the British provinces and a large extent of fertile land is opened for the occupation of settlers, these circumstances cannot fail to lead to an extension and improvement of the means now offered for the conveyance of emigrants to these provinces.

Lastly, with reference to the suggestion contained in your letter that convicts might be employed in the construction of the railway, I am to inform you that though Her Majesty's Government entertain no doubt that the expense of the work to the provinces might thus be greatly reduced, while at the same time by judicious regulations all risk of serious inconvenience might be guarded against, they would not be disposed to take any steps with a view to the adoption of this suggestion, unless on a distinct application from the Colonial Legislatures; but if such an application should be made Her Majesty's Government would be prepared to make the necessary arrangements for the employment of a moderate number of convicts on the work, without any charge for their custody and subsistence to the province which may have applied for them.

I am, &c.,

(Signed,) B. HAWES.

JOSEPH HOWE, Esquire.

COPY OF A DISPATCH FROM EARL GREY TO GOVERNOR GENERAL THE EARL OF ELGIN AND KINCARDINE.

DOWNING STREET,
March 14, 1851.

MY LORD,

From the correspondence which I have already had with your Lordship on the subject of the projected railroad from Halifax to Quebec, you are well aware that although Her Majesty's Government have not hitherto been enabled to take any steps towards the execution of that work, it is an undertaking which they have long earnestly desired to see accomplished as they believe it to be one calculated very greatly to advance the commercial and political interests both of the British provinces in North America and of the mother country. It is therefore with great satisfaction that I have now to acquaint your Lordship that I have reason to hope that the time is at length come when this great national enterprize may be undertaken with advantage, if there still exists (as I am assured there does) as strong a desire to promote it on the part of the inhabitants of Canada and New Brunswick as they formerly expressed, and as the people of Nova Scotia have again recently manifested.

2. I inclose for your Lordship's information a copy of a dispatch addressed to me in the course of the last autumn by Sir John Harvey introducing to me Mr. Howe, a Member of the Government of Nova Scotia and also copies of two letters I have received from that Gentleman and of the answer which has by my direction been returned to him. Your Lordship will perceive from these papers that the proposal made by Mr. Howe, on behalf of the province of Nova Scotia and to which Her Majesty's Government has thought it their duty so far to accede as to undertake on certain conditions to recommend it for the sanction of Parliament, is to the effect that the credit of this country should be employed to enable the Provinces of Canada, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia to raise upon advantageous terms the funds necessary for the construction of the proposed railway, just as Canada has already been enabled by similar assistance, to construct the canals by which she has lately completed the most extensive and perfect system of inland navigation which exists in the world. Although Her Majesty's Government are of opinion that great caution ought to be observed in pledging the credit of the British Treasury in aid of loans raised by the colonies they regard the work now in contemplation as being (like the Saint Lawrence Canals) of so much importance to the whole empire, as to justify them in recommending to Parliament that some assistance should be given towards its construction, nor is there any mode of affording such assistance which has been hitherto suggested which appears on the whole so little burthensome to the mother country, and at the same time of so much real service to the colonies as that which is now proposed.

3. In coming to the decision that Parliament should be invited to give this support to the projected railway, Her Majesty's Government have not failed to bear in mind that by enabling the North American provinces to open this great line of communication, it may fairly be assumed that a powerful stimulus will be given to their advance in wealth and population, and that the consequent increase in their resources will render it possible for them to relieve the mother country sooner, and more completely than would otherwise be practicable from charges now borne by it on account of these colonies. In another dispatch of this date I have informed your Lordship, that in the judgment of Her Majesty's Government, the British Colonies ought to be required, as they become capable of doing so, to take upon themselves not only the expenses of their Civil Government, but a portion at all events of those incurred for their protection; and I have pointed out to you, that the British North American provinces and especially Canada have now reached such a stage in their progress that the charges for which parliament is called upon to provide on their account ought to be rapidly diminished. The construction of the proposed railway would greatly contribute to promote this important object. By opening new districts for settlement and by the demand for labor which will be created during the progress of the work, the projected railway cannot fail to increase the wealth and population of these provinces, while by affording a rapid and easy communication between them, it will enable them to afford to each other far greater mutual support and assistance than they now can, in any difficulty or danger to which they may be exposed.

4. Your Lordship will not fail to observe from the letter which has been addressed to Mr. Howe, that the assistance which it is proposed to grant to the provinces towards the construction of the proposed railway, is to be contingent on provision being made for opening a complete line of communication from Halifax to Quebec or Montreal, it is necessary, therefore, to ascertain whether Canada and New Brunswick are ready to join with Nova Scotia in raising the Capital required for the work in the manner proposed, and if so, in what proportion each province is to become responsible for the expense incurred. The question whether it will be advisable for these two provinces to join in the construction of the projected railway, if they should be enabled by the assistance of parliament to raise the required capital at a low rate of interest, is one for the consideration of their respective Legislatures; but so far as I have the means of forming a judgment upon the subject, I should anticipate that their decision would be in favor of doing so. I infer that this is probable not less from what I have learnt of the actual state of public opinion on this subject in the provinces than from the view which I take of their interest in the work. Though I can well believe that there would be much room for doubting whether the railway would pay as a mercantile speculation to a company looking to traffic only for its remuneration, the case is very different when it is regarded as a public undertaking. When viewed in this light, the various indirect advantages which cannot fail to arise to the provinces from possessing such improved means of communication must be considered as well as the very great additional value which would be conferred on a vast extent of public lands which are now comparatively worthless. This is a source of profit from which no advantage can in general accrue to the constructors of railways in countries where the soil has long been appropriated by individuals; on the contrary in these countries the purchase of land is not one of the least important items of the expense to be incurred in such undertakings; but where as in parts of Canada and New Brunswick a great part of the territory to be traversed by a railway is still unappropriated and the land may be sold by the public, the increased value given to it by being thus rendered accessible may render it advantageous to construct a railway, though the traffic is not expected to do more at first than pay the working expenses.

5. If these considerations should induce the Legislatures of the three provinces to combine in undertaking the projected railway, the terms on which they are to cooperate with each other for that object will have to be settled; and in coming to such an arrangement various questions of great difficulty and importance will require to be considered. For instance, it is probable that when the line is completed the traffic will be far more remunerative at the two extremities than in the more central portion of it, while at the same time the expense of construction would from the nature of the country be precisely higher where the traffic returns would be the lowest; so, that if each province were required to pay for the formation of the line through its own territory, and to receive the returns from the traffic through the same, it would follow that while the expense to New Brunswick would be the greatest, its receipts would be the smallest. On the other hand, as I have first observed, one of the most important sources of profit from the construction of such a railway as that now in contemplation would arise from the sale of land of which the value would be increased by the work; and it appears from the papers before me that New Brunswick would probably derive a greater profit from that source than the two sister provinces. Whether the result upon the whole would be, that each province, considering these various circumstances, ought to take upon itself the construction of the railway through its own territory, or whether on the contrary any one should be assisted by the others is a point on which I have not the means of forming a judgment; and I would suggest to you that the best course with a view of arriving at some practical result, would be that a deputation from the Executive Councils of the two Lower provinces should proceed to the Seat of Government in Canada in order to confer with your Lordship and with your Council for the purpose of coming to some agreement upon the subject, which after being approved by the Legislatures of the several provinces, might be submitted for the sanction of Parliament.

6. It does not appear to me that if such a conference should be held it need occupy any very great length of time, or that much difficulty would arise in coming to an arrangement for the construction and working of the projected railway, by which the expense of the undertaking on the one hand and the advantages to be derived from it on the other might be fairly apportioned between the different provinces. Hereafter, I may probably be enabled to offer some suggestions as to the manner in which this might be accomplished; but at present I have only to add that I shall transmit copies of this despatch to Sir Edmund Head and to Sir John Harvey, with instructions to them to communicate with your Lordship without delay on the important subject to which it relates, and it will give me the highest satisfaction if the result of these communications should be the undertaking of a work which if completed cannot I believe fail to add greatly to the prosperity of the British provinces in North America, and at the same time to give additional strength to the ties which connect them with each other and with the British Empire.

I am, &c.,

(Signed,) GREY.

The Right Honorable

THE EARL OF ELGIN AND KINCARDINE,
&c., &c., &c.

COPY OF A DISPATCH FROM THE RIGHT HONORABLE SIR JOHN PAKINGTON TO
THE EARL OF ELGIN AND KINCARDINE.

DOWNING STREET, May 20, 1852.

MY LORD,

I have to inform you that after mature consideration of the proposals laid before them on the part of the Legislatures of Canada, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick respecting the projected line of railway from Halifax to Quebec, Her Majesty's Government have arrived, though with sincere regret at the conclusion that it is not in their power to recommend to Parliament to guarantee the interest of the sum which will be required for the construction of the railway upon that line being as it appears the only one to which the provinces by the representatives are prepared to consent.

2. Her Majesty's Government are not only anxious to act with the most perfect good faith towards the Legislatures and people of the provinces, and to fulfil every just expectation which may have been held out by their predecessors, but they also sincerely desire to adopt all measures by which the welfare of the British Colonies in North America can be promoted as far as they can do so consistently with their duties to the Empire at large.

3. But on a reference to the correspondence which has already taken place on this subject, and especially to the letters addressed by direction of Earl Grey to Mr. Howe on 10th March 1851, and Mr. Hinks on 20th February last, it will appear evident that no pledge had been given of assistance to any line except that originally proposed. Her Majesty's Government have therefore felt themselves free to consider this important question on the simple ground of general expediency.

4. They are by no means insensible of the great national as well as local objects which are involved in the construction of a line of railway by which the three provinces should be united and their communication with Great Britain promoted, but however favorably inclined they might themselves feel towards any project of this character, they are satisfied that some more special ground would be required to justify them in proposing that security should be given to it to so great an extent by the Treasury of the United Kingdom or to justify Parliament in acceding to such a proposal. There must be some distinct imperial interest for the sake of which alone Parliament could be called upon to pledge the national revenue on behalf of such an object.

5. While therefore Her Majesty's Government can readily understand the reasons which have induced the Colonial Legislature to prefer the line of the Valley of St. John as the most expedient for the local purposes of some if not all of the provinces, they cannot at the same time but perceive that those peculiar interests affecting the United Kingdom on which alone public assistance from hence could be reasonably founded are likely to suffer materially by the change.

6. Among the peculiar advantages in this point of view which it was thought that the line selected on the Report of Major Robinson and Captain Henderson would realize were the opening up of a new tract of maritime country easily accessible with the railroad but almost unapproachable without it to emigration from these Islands; and the effecting a safe and continuous route through the province which both by its distance from the American Frontier and its proximity to the Sea might be peculiarly available for military purposes. It is obvious that both these conditions are wanting to the line now proposed which passes at a distance from the Coast and must necessarily run for a considerable distance close to the American Frontier. As far indeed as can be judged from the plans at present proposed, there is no security but that the intended line may ever pass along the right or American bank of the St. John's, and thus though strictly within British territory, be exposed throughout its whole length to an unguarded frontier and at the same time separated by the river from all communication with the main portion of the British province. The project therefore, however commercially valuable in itself, is no longer that which was favorably entertained by Her Majesty's Government in the first instance, differing from it not merely in detail, but substantially in its character and objects.

7. As it is upon the basis of this line only that the Gentlemen now in this Country, who represent the intentions of the Province, are instructed to negotiate, Her Majesty's Government fear that their inability to extend to it the promised amount of support must, for the present at least, terminate this question. But desiring as they do to promote to the utmost of their power the interests of those important portions of the Empire they will be willing to give the most favorable attention to any modification of the proposals now before them which the Legislatures may on further consideration feel inclined to make.

8. I have directed a copy of this dispatch to be furnished to Mr. Hincks and Mr. Chandler, who have been deputed on the part of Canada and New Brunswick to conduct this negotiation, and to whom Her Majesty's Government are much indebted for the assistance which those Gentlemen have rendered them, although compelled to dissent from the views which they have been anxious to enforce.

I have, &c.

(Signed)

JOHN S. PAKINGTON,

The EARL OF ELGIN AND KINCARDINE,
&c., &c., &c.

The Committee of Council respectfully report to Your Excellency, that they have had under their consideration the dispatch of Lieutenant General Eyre, the Administrator of the Government of Canada, on the subject of a Railroad from Rivière du Loup to Halifax.

The Legislature and people of New Brunswick have always evinced a lively interest in the proposed railway, and uniformly manifested a disposition to aid such an undertaking to the full extent of the resources of the Province.

The Committee of Council advise your Excellency to assure Her Majesty's Government and the Administrator of the Government of Canada, of the interest they feel in the proposed Railway, of its importance to the Colonies and the parent State. They believe that the perpetuation of British power in America depends upon the consolidation of the Colonial Empire which the proposed undertaking would greatly promote.

When the question in 1852, was the subject of negotiation between the Province and the Imperial Government, New Brunswick agreed to contribute a fair proportion towards the construction of the railway. His Excellency Sir Edmund Head, the present Governor General of Canada, having taken an active part in the promotion of these arrangements, is fully cognizant of the views of the people of this Province, and of their deep interest in the question.

To the three Provinces, such a railway would be of the highest importance, as a means of developing their resources, promoting their material interests, and strengthening that mutual sympathy and unity of interest and feeling so essential to secure for them that Commercial and political position to which they are entitled from their situation and resources.

The Committee of Council are confident that if Her Majesty's Government could be sufficiently impressed with the great importance of the proposed Railway to the Empire in a national point of view, and that Imperial interests absolutely require it, they would not hesitate to take such measures as would secure its construction.

New Brunswick, with her large domain, could provide a vast field for future colonization, which with her other resources, would afford a present security and future means to defray what might be considered her reasonable portion of the expenditure.

The Legislature of New Brunswick, during its recent session expressed the opinion that your Excellency should ascertain whether the Government of Canada would undertake the construction of a railroad from St. John's to Canada, jointly with the Government of New Brunswick, upon such terms as should be consistent with the interests and means of the respective provinces, with the aid of the Imperial Government.

The Committee of Council are so fully impressed with the great importance of the matter that they would have advised Your Excellency to send a delegation to England, to press the subject upon Her Majesty's Government, did it not appear to them that, from the lateness of the period Your Excellency received the intelligence, such delegation could not arrive in London in time to give that weight to their representations which would be the primary object in any such Mission.

The Committee of Council advise Your Excellency to communicate this Minute to Her Majesty's Government, to His Excellency the Administrator of the Government of Canada, and to His Excellency Sir Gaspard Le Marchant, the Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia.

2 SUFFOLK PLACE, PALL MALL,
20th August, 1857.

SIR,

In preparing, agreeably to your desire at our late interview, a statement of the considerations on which we solicit, on behalf of Nova Scotia, subject to the approval of the Legislature, imperial assistance towards the construction of a Railroad from Halifax to Quebec, through British Territory, we beg to recall the fact that the application is not now made for the first time.

2. The policy of connecting the provinces of British North America by a line of railway, extending from the sea shore of Nova Scotia into the interior of Canada, was first suggested by a British Statesman of great sagacity and political foresight. Lord Durham saw the immense advantages of this great work, not only to the Provinces, but to the Empire.

The idea, once suggested, was not lost sight of,—Earl Grey, when Colonial Minister, felt the importance of the question; and, in a despatch to Lord Elgin, dated the 31st December 1846, he referred to a convention, to be composed of delegates from the Government of the different British Colonies, the consideration of “the mode in which the Provinces should co-operate with each other and with Her Majesty's Government in promoting the construction of the proposed Railway.”

3. The Provinces, thus invited by Her Majesty's Ministers to the consideration of a question of deep interest, entered eagerly upon it, and from that period to the present have done every thing in their power to promote this great work.

Up to 1850, various modes of carrying it out were suggested from time to time, and the different Colonial Legislatures readily gave to each scheme that was brought forward, such offers of assistance as their resources enabled them to afford. In the summer of that year, however, their hopes of success were frustrated by a despatch from the Colonial Secretary, informing the Government of Nova Scotia, that the British Ministry, receding from their original position, would afford no assistance to carry out a project too great for unassisted Colonial resources.

4. Disappointed in her original hopes, Nova Scotia turned her attention to the construction of such local railways as were required for the development of her own commerce and industry, and shortly afterwards sent to England a delegate charged to endeavour to interest the British Government in the question, so as to procure such a guarantee of the Provincial Bonds as would enable her to borrow the money she required upon favorable terms.

The delegate, upon submitting his propositions, was informed that the Government could not undertake to furnish any aid to projects of merely provincial importance, but he was invited to a renewal of the Inter-Colonial scheme. This was again deliberately considered by Her Majesty's Government, and Earl Grey communicated through Mr. Hawes's in a despatch dated the 10th March 1851, a formal decision on the part of himself and his colleagues to afford a guarantee or advance the money from the Imperial Treasury upon the express condition of provision being made by the three Provinces for opening a complete line of communication or from Halifax to Quebec or Montreal, through British territory; and, in a communication to Lord Elgin, then Governor of British America, written four days afterwards, he put forth, as the ground of the guarantee, the importance of the work to the interests of the Empire.

We refer to the correspondence on that occasion, and to the engagements given on the part of the Government, as expressed in Earl Grey's despatches to the Governor General and to Mr. Howe through Mr. Hawes, before alluded to.

The principles upon which our present application is made are stated with so much significance in these documents that we beg permission to quote a few passages:—

In Mr. Hawes' letter, the delegate of Nova Scotia was told.—“ You are already aware, from the repeated conversations which you have had with Lord Grey, of the strong sense entertained by His Lordship and colleagues of the extreme importance not only to the Colonies directly interested, but to the Empire at large, of providing for the construction of a railway, by which a line of communication may be established on British territory between the Provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Canada; and the various plans which have been suggested for the accomplishment of this object have undergone the most attentive consideration.”

Mr. Hawes is directed to state, in very distinct terms, the conditions and considerations on which the aid was granted. His language is:—“ As Her Majesty's Government are of opinion that they would not be justified in asking Parliament to allow the credit of this Country to be pledged for any object not of great importance to the British Empire as a whole, and they do not consider that the projected Railway would answer this description, unless it should establish a line of communication between the three British Provinces, it must be distinctly understood that the work is not to be commenced, nor is any part of the loan, for the interest on which the British Treasury is to be responsible, to be raised until arrangements are made with the Provinces of Canada and New Brunswick, by which the construction of a line of Railway, passing wholly through British Territory, from Halifax to Quebec or Montreal, shall be provided for to the satisfaction of Her Majesty's Government.”

The language of the Colonial Secretary is not less emphatic, He says :
“ From the correspondence which I have already had with your Lordship
“ on the subject of the projected railroad from Halifax to Quebec, you are “ well aware that although Her Majesty’s Government have not hitherto “ been enabled to take any steps towards the execution of that work, it is “ an undertaking which they have long earnestly desired to see accom“ plished as they believe it to be one calculated very greatly to advance
“ the commercial and political interests both of the British Provinces in “ North America and of the Mother Country. It is therefore with great “ satisfaction that I have now to acquaint your Lordship, that I have reason “ to hope that the time is at length come, when this great national enter“ prise may be undertaken with advantage, if there still exists, as I am “ assured there does, as strong a desire to promote it, on the part of the “ inhabitants of Canada and New Brunswick, as they formerly expressed
“ and as the people of Nova Scotia have recently manifested.”

The three Provinces accepted the proffered assistance on the conditions announced to them ; and agreed upon a line of railroad along the Northern shore of New Brunswick, acceptable to the British Government.
The contemplated enterprise was only abandoned in consequence of a misunderstanding as to the extent of the guarantee proposed by Earl Grey, which on the one hand was supposed to include a railroad through New Brunswick, along the Bay of Fundy, towards the boundary of the United States, while on the other hand it was held to be confined to the direct line to Canada.

Subsequently this obstacle was attempted to be removed by an arrangement among the Governments of the three Provinces that the line through New Brunswick to Canada should be transferred from the Northern shore to the Valley of St. John. Her Majesty’s Government declined to accept the latter line on the ground that it defeated a material consideration on their part by bringing the line of communication through the British Provinces in too close proximity to the American frontier.

The positive pledge of the British Government thus deliberately given has never been withdrawn. The conditions upon which that pledge was given, Nova Scotia has faithfully complied with, and her people whose policy to a large extent has been moulded by that pledge, feel that they have a strong claim upon the consideration of Her Majesty’s Government.

On the failure of the Inter-Colonial scheme Nova Scotia has resorted to her former policy, but despairing of Imperial assistance has borrowed money on the credit of her own bonds, and is pushing forward her local railways as rapidly as her resources allow. Already she has put 100 miles under contract, one fourth of the whole is in operation and the remainder approaches completion.

Of these lines the only part available for the Inter-Colonial Railway is the section between Halifax and Truro. From Truro to the New Brunswick border, the Inter-Colonial line present less prospect of remunerative return and would not be undertaken by the Province without aid, and unless to connect with Inter-Colonial Railways. Still Nova Scotia is not insensible to the position she occupies on the foreground of British America. For Inter-Colonial and Imperial purposes, she is willing to make sacrifices which commercial considerations alone would not justify. She will construct a road which but for these considerations she would not venture upon, if Great Britain will enable her to do so. She asks no contribution though she believes the Imperial Government might well give it. What she does ask is, that her bonds for the expenditure from Halifax to the New Brunswick border, shall be guaranteed by the British Government and the Province be thus enabled to borrow upon the most favorable conditions, the amount she requires ; and she will engage to construct, and to maintain and work the road throughout that distance, on the account, and at the risk of the Province.

The guarantee asked for involves no risk.

The Provinces of Nova Scotia is advancing in material prosperity at a rate which will compare favorably with any part of the Western world.

Her taxes, the lowest in the world ; her revenue has always been equal to her requirements, and is rapidly increasing. From 1849 to 1854 with no material alteration in imports, the revenue doubled in amount.

The population increases at a rate nearly equal to that of the whole United States and much greater than that of the States immediately contiguous to our border.

Insular in its position, Nova Scotia largely engages in maritime enterprises. Her coasts skirted by fisheries, the best in the world, her bosom filled with enormous deposits of coal and other minerals, not to be found on the sea board of the United States, the natural habits of a maritime population, have in these sources, unlimited scope for enterprise ; while in the interior of the Country, large tracts of the best land for farming purposes, reward the industry of an agricultural population, not inferior in enterprise to any similar class in any part of the world.

Nova Scotians may with some pride refer to the various sources from which the prosperity of their country springs, and we allude to it now, and dwell upon it, because we wish the British Government to understand that we will incur no debt that we are not able as well as willing to pay and to shew them that what we now solicit may be safely granted : to us the boon will be large, but they may confer it without loss and without risk.

The course of events since 1851 has not weakened the claims of the Colonies or diminished the obligation or interest of the Imperial Government to extend assistance towards the object in view.

Within that period all the three Colonies, and especially Canada, by embarking largely their own resources in railroad enterprise, have earned a right to seek assistance which they did not possess before while by this absorption of their own resources, they have diminished their ability to accomplish this great work.

Under no circumstances would they enter without assistance upon the construction of an Inter-colonial Railroad from Halifax to Quebec. Neither of them if possessed of the means have a sufficiently large inducement or separate interest in the undertaking to justify encountering, its hazards and burthens ; and were it otherwise, a work so large and of so little remunerative promise, is beyond the compass of their own largely taxed resources.

Hence it may be truly assumed that if the British Government do not afford essential aid, this great " National undertaking calculated very greatly to advance the Commercial and Political interests, both of the " British Provinces in North America, and of the Mother Country " to use the Language of the British Cabinet in 1851, will never be accomplished.

It will not however fail because Her Majesty's North American subjects are too short sighted to comprehend its important national bearings or too indifferent to the general welfare to care for its accomplishment or too much occupied with their own more immediate concerns to be willing to contribute towards it. It is because of the higher and larger influences of the work, as much as in consideration of local benefits that we urge the undertaking on Her Majesty's Government.

In case of hostilities with the United States, the facility which a Railroad from Halifax through British Territory would afford for the transport of Troops and munitions of war would be of incalculable advantage; and in a mere financial point of view, would probably, in a few months repay all that the Government might have contributed. In connection with large Steamers on the Ocean, enabling the Government to transport in a few weeks on any threatened emergency an Army to any point of Her Majesty's North American possessions, it would render unnecessary the constant maintenance of a large Military force within them.

Nor is it the least of the advantages that would result from this facility that the knowledge of its existence would tend to avert hostilities that otherwise might grow out of a sense of comparative impunity attendant on aggressive movements. Not less than seventeen lines of American Railroads lead through the United States to the borders of Canada, and give the means of rapid hostile approach; not a single line of British Railroad connects the Provinces together, or affords communication from the Atlantic Shore through national Territory. Of the three routes by which Canada is reached, viz: by the St. Lawrence by Lines of Railroad that traverse the United States, and through the wilderness, the latter would alone be available for the transport of Troops or munitions of war, in the case of hostilities, commenced or threatened at the beginning of winter.

On such an event the spectacle might be presented of a large and preminent Colonial possession of the Empire, assailed by a superior force, and cut off, except at great exposure, expense, and delay,—from effectual aid, not only from the parent State, but from the adjoining Colonies.

None more than the inhabitants of Nova Scotia, appreciate the advantages of peaceful relations with the United States. They, however, who are placed in close proximity, are less credulous than others may be as to the impossibility of hostilities between the two powers. And yet it is apparent to all that the foreign relations of no Government are so subject as those of the United States to the influence of popular impulse or of party interests. This consideration illustrated as it recently was by the enlistment dispute, sufficiently indicates that a policy founded on the assumed impossibility, or high improbability of hostilities with that people, must be deficient in the forecast that seeks by timely and suitable preparation to prevent aggression or successfully to repel it.

The great work we advocate is as necessary to enable Her Majesty's North American Colonies to promote their mutual progress in peace, as it is requisite for their common defense in war. It is almost impossible for those at a distance to comprehend how much New Brunswick and Nova Scotia are unallied to Canada by those bonds of mutual intercourse that might be expected to subsist between Colonies of the same Empire, placed together under circumstances that make a close union their common interest and security.

With the United States Canada has unlimited means of communication by lakes, rivers, canals and railroads; and extensive and intimate intercourse is the result. The capital of New Brunswick connected with the United States by a short and easy navigation, maintains relations as close. Nova Scotia, almost an Island, sends vessels from every part of her shores to the neighbouring ports of the Union, and carries on a trade so extensive that, of the annual tonnage that enters the port of Boston, more than half is from Nova Scotia.

The means of intercommunication between Canada and the Lower Provinces, is utterly insignificant in the contrast.

By Land, for practical purposes, none exists. An uncultivated and hilly country opposes an effectual barrier. Colonel Robinson's valuable report of his surveys in 1848, gives unquestionable information on this head. By water, the comparatively distant and circuitous navigation of the St. Lawrence, offers the only route—one little used while open, and closed through a large part of the year. The result is ignorance and indifference as regards each other, with little concern or ability for mutual benefit.

And intercolonial railroad would give the means of communication at present wanting. It would open to Canada an Atlantic seaboard on British soil, from which she is now cut off; and it would offer to the Lower Provinces a ready access to the vast field of enterprise and progress occupied by their fellow subjects in the interior. It would prove a benefit of incalculable value, should it be the precursor of, as it is an absolute necessity towards a legislative union of Her Majesty's North American Provinces,—a measure essential to the full development of the power which their situation and character are calculated to confer and without which they never can attain the high position to which their united energies and advantages would lead them.

When the important objects to be accomplished by this work are considered, and the difficulties of carrying it out owing to the large extent of uncultivated country through which it must pass in New Brunswick and Canada, with the consequent drawbacks upon its remunerative character, it seems not unreasonable to expect, in addition to the Imperial guarantee for the loan contracted by the Provinces some more direct and substantial aid as a contribution from the national funds for national advantage.

Confining ourselves however to Nova Scotia the aid we solicit is, we think moderate and such as would entail neither inconvenience nor loss on the British Government.

In pressing upon your urgent consideration the obligations which in our opinion, impose upon Her Majesty's Government the duty of extensively aiding the construction of an Inter-colonial Railroad, we are not insensible to the feeble influence excited by the representation of dangers distant and problematical, when the attention is already occupied by objects of present and urgent interest.

Much that we have suggested is however neither distant nor hypothetical, but is of actual existence and daily operation. For while Canada remains cut off from communication with the Lower Provinces and with the Atlantic shore on British Territory, the tendencies to alienation between her and the sister Provinces and to the approximation of all the Colonies to the United States must strengthen and mature.

That portion of our observations founded on the contingency of war with the United States, deals indeed with the future; but if the history of nations and the experience of the past may be relied on, it can hardly be treated as hypothetical, in the sense which should preclude it from present consideration—for the undertaking which we urge must be accomplished while the danger that prompts it is distant and contingent, otherwise it will come too late to avert the evils it is designed to counteract. That the time will come when the evils resulting from the want of such a communication between the North American Provinces, will be felt, should the measure be delayed, and that the question will arise,—Where rests the responsibility for the neglect? we cannot doubt. Her Majesty's Colonial Subjects will not be found chargeable. As early as the year 1848, at the instance of the Legislature of Nova Scotia, and at the expense of the three Colonies, the survey of Colonel Robinson was made, and his Report, full of the most useful information, exists to shew the necessity—the difficulties—and the practicability of the undertaking. Since that time, repeated and strenuous efforts have been made by those Colonies towards promoting the object. Now without mutual concert, and each acting on its own apprehension of the importance of the measure, the Governments of Canada and Nova Scotia have severally commissioned Delegates to press the subject on the attention of Her Majesty's Government.

We have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most humble obedient Servants,

J. W. JOHNSTON,
A. G. ARCHIBALD.

The Right Hon. HENRY LABOUCHÈRE,
H. M. P., Secretary of State for the Colonies.

MEMORANDUM.

The necessity of constructing a Military Road between Halifax and Quebec, so as to render Canada accessible to Her Majesty's forces at all seasons of the year, seems long to have engaged the attention of the British Government.

In 1838 and 1839, when Canada was invaded by organised parties of marauders from the neighbouring Country with the avowed intention of conquest, Troops were transported by that route in winter when the St. Lawrence was closed with much difficulty, at an enormous expense, and with great suffering to the soldiery; and the impossibility of carrying Military Stores in sufficient quantities was then also fully proved.

Several explorations were consequently made by the Military authorities, with a view to the construction of a Military road as part of the system of defence of the British North American Colonies. It was then suggested that a Railway beside being of more utility for this purpose than an ordinary road, would be of great commercial benefit of those Provinces, and at the same time confer the political advantage of connecting them more intimately with the Mother Country and with each other.

As this scheme would cost much more than the road originally intended, and as the Colonies would be so much more benefitted thereby, it was thought right that they should contribute to the expense of construction.

A survey was accordingly made in the year 1848, by Major Robinson and other officers selected by the Imperial Government, but at the expense of the Colonies.

Several lines were explored by Major Robinson, but he reported the Eastern or coast line as preferable, although the longest and most costly, for several reasons (principally of a military character) given by him.

This route was considered by the Colonies, and especially by New Brunswick, as comparatively of little value except in a military point of view it was long and circuitous; it passed through a country but little settled; and could not be expected to make any pecuniary return on the cost of construction for years.

The interest therefore of any monies borrowed by the Provinces to build the Railway would fall entirely on their general revenues, a burden which they were little able to bear. These considerations being strongly pressed on Earl Grey, then Secretary of State for the Colonies, he acknowledged their justice, and in a despatch dated 14th March, 1851, agreed that the British Government would guarantee the payment of the interest on monies borrowed by the Provinces for the purpose of making the road on the condition that it should pass exclusively through British territory, but he stated that it need not of necessity be built on Major Robinson's line. Any deviation from that line, was, however to be subject to the approval of Her Majesty's Government.

Misapprehension arose between Lord Grey and Mr. Howe of Nova Scotia, then conducting the negotiation as to whether in case Major Robinson's line were adopted, the Imperial guarantee would not also be extended to a lateral railway running from the Main line through New Brunswick westward to the frontier of the United States.

This side line, if constructed would have much improved the commercial character of Major Robinson's line, as it would have formed a valuable feeder and connected it with the general railway system of the United States. Acting therefore under the belief that the guarantee was to be so extended the three Provinces of Canada, New Brunswick, and Nova Scotia, made an agreement to construct the railway from Halifax to Quebec in equal proportions, and proceeded to legislate upon it with a view to the immediate execution of the work.

On its being ascertained that it had not been intended by the British Government to grant the guarantee to the local line above referred to, all the objections to Major Robinson's route revive, and the arrangements between the Provinces fell to the ground.

Anxiously desiring the construction of the railway, the Provinces, although much dissatisfied at the frustration of their expectations, entered into a new arrangement.

They agreed, if the railway was built along the valley of the river St. John, Nova Scotia would advance three-twelfths, Canada four-twelfths, and New-Brunswick five-twelfths of the costs of construction.

This line promised great commercial advantages, and a fair pecuniary return, and at the same time satisfied the condition imposed by the Imperial Government, that it should pass exclusively through British territory. The agreement thus altered was submitted to the Imperial Government for approval; but Sir John Packington then Secretary, in a despatch dated 20th May, 1852, intimated his disapproval of the proposed deviation from the Eastern Line, and that he therefore did not feel warranted in recommending the guarantee to Parliament. He however at the same time stated, that the Imperial Government was by no means insensible to the great national object involved in the construction of the line, and that the most favorable attention would be given to any modification of the proposals then before him. The negotiations thus fell a second time to the ground, the Provinces are without their Inter-Colonial railway, and England has yet no Military road to Canada.

The three Provinces have been driven from the failure of these negotiations to undertake, within their several territories without concert, and on their own unaided credit and responsibility, the construction of Railways no doubt of local advantage but not of general or national importance.

It was not thought in Canada a fitting time to press this subject again on the British Government, when all its energies were directed to the vigorous prosecution of the Russian War a struggle in which Canada fully sympathised and was ready to make its own. But now that peace has been restored it would seem that no time should be lost in undertaking this great work. Circumstances have arisen during the progress of the war, the enlistment and Nicaraguan questions with the United States for instance, which shew that the necessity for such a road has not decreased. Whether as a means of pouring into Canada a sufficient force, or of withdrawing it therefrom without delay, and at all seasons, in case of sudden exigency, it is equally called for.

The only bar to its construction up to 1852 was the difference of opinion as to route, and that difference it is believed is not irreconcilable.

It is understood in Canada that the route by the valley of the St. John is not now considered by Military men competent to judge, objectionable as a Military road, nay that there are strong reasons for its selection as such. At all events no difficulty is apprehended in finding a line combining the requisites for a Military and Commercial Road. While Imperial interests require as imperatively as ever the completion of this project, the position of Canada with respect to it has materially altered.

In 1852 there were no railways in operation in Canada (with two unimportant exceptions) and she had no winter route to the Atlantic, but since that time ten lines extending over about 1600 miles have been constructed at an aggregate cost of about nineteen millions sterling by private Companies chartered and aided by money grants from the Provincial Government to the extent of nearly five millions and a half.

This sum has been raised partly by the bonds of Canada or the immediate credit of her Consolidated Revenue bearing six per cent. interest and partly by her bonds issued on the credit of a general Municipal Fund, established in the province by Legislative authority. Preparations are now also in progress for the construction of an interior line of communication far removed from the American Frontier by a combined system of railway and canal between the river Ottawa and lake Huron.

Canada has therefore already assumed the full measure of pecuniary obligation which her resources render prudent; but as access to the Ocean and communication with England can only be had in winter through the United States it is manifest that in so far as Imperial interest are concerned the railway facilities are in a great measure incomplete. Canada is fully alive to the importance of providing for the maintenance of her connection with England and she has sought opportunity and availed herself of every occasion practically to cement that relation. For the purpose of establishing a direct postal communication with England which should not only put a stop to a large contribution to the revenue of the United States but also attract to the Colony a share of that trade and that emigration which was being diverted to that country she has established by the payment of an annual subsidy of £50,000, a direct weekly line of Ocean Steamers between the Colony and England. In this enterprise she is not only unaided by England but has to combat a line plying to the ports of the United States, supported by a subsidy from the Imperial Government exceeding £180,000 per annum.

The province has also enrolled, drilled and armed, at her own expense, a large and available volunteer force consisting already of sixteen troops of cavalry, seven field batteries of artillery, five companies of foot artillery, and fifty companies of riflemen; all provided with the most modern and effective arms. The force is maintained at a heavy cost to the Colonial Treasury, and being well disciplined, would be of essential and immediate service, should occasion arise for their active employment.

In addition to this Canada has been divided into Military Districts and the whole Sedentary Militia, consisting of every man capable of bearing arms, has been organized.

In so far as the commercial wants of the province are concerned they are amply supplied by the existing railway communications to the American Seaports New York and Boston, and by the railway from Montreal to Portland over which a Canadian Company has complete control; but this entire dependence on and exclusive relations with a foreign country, cannot but exercise an important and unwholesome influence on the status of Canada as a portion of the empire and tend to establish elsewhere that identity of interest which ought to exist between the mother country and the colony.

We are sensible that we need not dwell on the grave and possibly disastrous consequences which if a rupture should unhappily arise with the United States, may result from the want of communication in winter between England and the interior of the province; but it is evident that the safety of the colony can only be secured either by keeping from the moment of the first apprehension of danger, a military power within it of such magnitude as would repel any invading force during the five months when reinforcements or supplies could not be obtained by sea; or the means must be created of throwing in that force and transporting them to those points which are assailable.

We would further mention some facts which shew that while the means of resisting invasion are in no way increased, the facilities for accomplishment are daily becoming greater. There are now no less than seven American railways terminating directly at the Canadian boundary and a far greater number touching the waters of the river St. Lawrence and the Lakes Ontario and Erie, which divide Canada from the United States. All these roads may be said to form together a continuous line running parallel with, or in easy proximity to the provincial boundary, and by their means America would be enabled to concentrate, with the utmost expedition and ease, all her forces upon any quarter and to choose her own point of attack.

It may be urged that War with America is impossible, or at least an event so unlikely and remote as to justify no expenditure in anticipation of it. Admitting that the character and moderation of the Federal Government afford assurances of continued amity, it is not to be forgotten that there are other elements, not subordinate whose influence may at any time become too powerful for control. The best safeguard against aggression is the power of repelling it. The knowledge of our weakness and exposure to attack may do much to precipitate that which, were our strength understood, would never be undertaken. It is now well known, that being cut off from England, the Province cannot make her resources and strength available should the necessity for their exercise unhappily come to pass, and when the occasion does arrive, it will be too late to provide the means. The road cannot be constructed with a due regard to reasonable economy for several years, and experience shows how impossible it is to foresee what events within that period may interrupt the friendly relations with a Country, the peculiar constitution of which vest so much power in a class whose interests or passions may, at any time, prompt them to acts which would necessarily lead to a rupture, while therefore the commercial or material advantages to Canada which would follow the construction of the Road are comparatively unimportant, she feels it her duty to urge the high national considerations which demand that the work should be undertaken.

There can be little fear of any causes of difference between the Colonies and the United States. The danger hitherto has sprung from subjects wherein as a Colony, Canada had no interest, but which, (such as the Central American, the Oregon and enlistment questions) were purely of Imperial concern; so that should hostilities arise, Canada would (as she was during the last war) be made the battle ground in a quarrel which she did not cause, and in which she had no special concern. The Colony has received the solemn assurance of the Imperial Government, a promise on which she implicitly relies that while she is expected to assume her share of the burden of any force which her own internal wants may require in time of Peace yet that the whole power of the Empire will be put forth for her protection and security against foreign aggression. Canada has acted on this assurance and performed her part of the obligation, but we would respectfully urge that, without means of communication with Great Britain the Imperial Government is powerless to perform its shares, and that the very first step towards the fulfilment of the promise is to provide proper access to the Country.

But apologising for presenting at perhaps too great length arguments whose weight may be fully admitted we proceed to suggest a mode by which we propose that the work should be constructed.

The question of route is one which, in so far as Canada is concerned might be left to the Imperial Government and the Lower Provinces, but the distance of that which would probably be chosen may be assumed at 600 miles. By Major Robinson's report the cost of the longest or coast route of 635 Miles is £7,000 sterling per mile, to which ten per cent is added for contingencies, making the cost in round numbers £5,000,000.

Now Canada has already built, or has in progress, 110, and Nova Scotia 60 miles available for any route selected for the Inter-Colonial Road leaving 420 to be constructed. Allowing one million sterling to be added to Major Robinson's Estimate for the rise in the cost of labor and materials since 1848 the balance to be provided for is £5,000,000. This would include the cost of the whole section apportioned to and now in process of construction by Nova Scotia but does not include the cost of the 110 miles in Canada on which a million raised from other sources will be expended.

We have reason to think that if the facilities we are about to mention be extended to Nova Scotia, that province would complete the additional sixty miles to her own frontier and allow the whole to form a part of the national line. Assuming that New Brunswick would perform a nearly equal share (and her legislature has already assumed a larger burden), there would remain for completion about two hundred and fifty miles at an estimated cost making allowance for the Engineering difficulties of between £2,500,000 and £3,000,000.

We propose that this Sum shall be raised as follows :

In the year 1841 Canada obtained from the Imperial Government a loan of a million and a half for the construction of her public works. This matures at a distant period, but meanwhile a sinking fund has been formed for its redemption. We suggest that the amount of this Loan including the sinking fund be granted in aid of the proposed Railway, and that Canada shall be relieved from its repayment in consideration of her expending the whole amount in the construction of the Line from Rivière-du-Loup, in Canada towards Halifax.

Canada and New Brunswick have already appropriated all their ungranted public lands, for 10 miles on each side of the line, in aid of the understaking. It is assumed that these lands amount to about four millions of acres, and it is proposed that on the security of these, and the road generally, any balance requisite to complete the work should be raised as a first charge.

The system of land grants to aid the construction of Railways has been followed with the most entire success in the United States of America, where lands from being almost worthless and unsaleable, have risen in value with a rapidity far exceeding the most hopeful anticipations.

It is apprehended that the Provinces of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick would not feel warranted in burdering themselves with so large an amount of interest as a loan to be affected on their own credit, would involve, and it therefore seems necessary that the Imperial guarantee promised by Lord Grey should be extended to the bonds of these Provinces to the extent of their respective contributions. This guarantee would enable them to raise the money at such a reduced rate of interest as would justify their incurring the obligation.

The contribution of the Imperial Government then would amount to this:

First.—A guarantee of the bonds of the Provinces of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

Second.—The conditional discharge of Canada's debt of £1,500,000.

And as a direct equivalent, there would be secured, not only a military road from Halifax to Quebec, but continuous railway communication, for the transport of men and stores, from Quebec to the Western extremity of the Province of Canada.

We do not pretend to hold out the prospect of any immediate direct return on the outlay, because we have no data on which to base reliable calculations; but we must express the conviction that, even in a financial point of view, the cost of the road, although the entire outlay were assumed by the Imperial Government, would ultimately be more than saved by the lessened expenditure, which England will be called upon to bear after its completion, by enabling her to reduce her military establishments in Canada.

But in the scheme submitted, the Provinces, cherishing, and sensible of the value of, their connection with England, offer substantial aid and co-operation.

It will be seen that our object is not to involve the Imperial Government in an undertaking in the hope of a pecuniary return, or to assure a liability in the special interest of any Colony. If the best interests of the Empire, the extension of her commerce, and the permanence of British power on the Continent of America, do not warrant the immediate construction of the work; and the contribution of England towards it, we desire to abstain from urging considerations of minor weight on behalf of the enterprise; but the material aid which the Colonies are ready to extend affords sufficient proof that, in their opinion its importance on national grounds has not been exaggerated.

We trust that a consideration of these views (which it is to be understood, are made subject to the approval of the Executive and Legislature of Canada), may meet with the favorable and early attention of Her Majesty's Government.

If provisionally acquiesced in, no time will be lost in seeking to obtain the sanction and co-operation of the other Provinces.

(Signed,)

JOHN A. MACDONALD.
JOHN ROSE.

TORONTO, 1st FEBRUARY, 1858.

SIR,

Having been authorized by the Minute of Council of the 9th July last, to urge on the Imperial Government the reasons which should induce the immediate construction of an Inter-Colonial railway to Halifax, I have the honor to report for the information of His Excellency, that, under the authority contained in that minute, I sought the assistance and obtained the valuable aid of the present solicitor general for Lower Canada, who acted with me accordingly on this service.

At the time of our arrival in England, events in India had assumed a most threatening aspect, and, in consequence, the attention of Her Majesty's Government was very much occupied with matters of a more imminent nature.

We proceeded, however, to communicate as well with the Secretary of State for the Colonies, as with Lord Palmerston, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, the Secretary of State for War, and other members of Her Majesty's Government, and explained verbally and at length our views on the subject of our mission.

The importance of the work to Imperial interests was fully acknowledged, and the means by which its execution could best be accomplished were fully discussed.

After these communications, we deemed it advisable to embody our views in a written memorandum, which we laid before the Colonial Secretary. That memorandum fully states the arguments pressed on the consideration of the Home Government, and is now submitted for the approval of Council.

The Canadian Delegates had the advantage of communicating, while in London, with Mr. Johnson and Mr. Archibald, from Nova Scotia, who were also urging the same subject in the interests of that Province. The propositions advanced by these Gentlemen were nearly identical with those submitted on the part of Canada.

Being apprised that the prerogative of Parliament, the absence of some of Her Majesty's advisers, and the pressing nature of the Indian difficulties, would preclude any immediate conclusion being come to on the propositions of either Canada or Nova Scotia, I considered that a more prolonged attendance would be followed with no advantage, and the question was left under the consideration of the government.

The despatch of the Secretary of State for the Colonies of the 15th January 1858, containing the reply of Her Majesty's Government, having now arrived, I deem it a fitting time formally to report the action which was taken on the mission entrusted to me.

I would state in conclusion that the Colonial Governments of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, as well as Her Majesty's advisers, seem deeply impressed with the necessity of this work on Imperial as well as Colonial grounds; my conviction is that its construction is only a question of time, and I would respectfully urge that the early attention of the Legislature should be directed to it.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

(Signed,) JOHN A. MACDONALD.

The Honble. T. J. J. LORANGER, Provincial Secretary.

London, 13th November, 1858.

The Right Honorable B. DISRAELI,
Chancellor of the Exchequer,
&c., &c., &c.

SIR,

In the interview with which we were honored by the Secretary of State for the Colonies on the subject of the Railway from Halifax to Quebec, Sir E. Lytton stated that while the construction of this work unquestionably entered into the Imperial policy it involved questions more peculiarly financial and that he therefore wished us to address you—and in submitting our united application to add our views of the manner in which the British Exchequer would be affected by your assent to our proposal.

A reference to the enclosed copy of our joint Letter to Sir E. Lytton will shew you, that estimating the capital required to be £3,500,000—the Imperial Government are asked to apply £1,500,000, now payable by Canada—and to guarantee if necessary the proposed grant by the three Colonies of £60,000 per annum, assuming, which we trust will not be questioned that the obligations of the several Provinces, will be honorably met, as has always hitherto been the case, the amount of aid asked from the British Government to secure an object admittedly of vast Imperial interests is limited to the grant of £1,500,000, representing at 4 per cent an annual charge on the British Exchequer of.....£60,000 0 0

Against this sum it is claimed that the construction of the Railway would relieve Great Britain of certain known charges.

Payment to United States Government for the transmission of Mails to and from Canada.....	25,000	0	0
Reduction in Ocean Services as now performed by the Cunard line, Halifax being 547 miles nearer Liverpool than New York in proportion to the whole subsidy at least.....	35,000	0	0
Saving in transmission of troops and munition of war at least.....	10,000	0	0
	£70,000	0	0

To which may be added the sum which would be paid by the United States Government for the transmission of their Mails by the Railway at least as much as is now paid by the British Government..... 25,000 0 0

£110,000 0 0

On financial grounds we therefore do not hesitate to state our conviction that a large reduction may be effected in existing charges upon the British Revenue, while at the same time, the other and more important Imperial political objects will be attained.

We have now fully stated our views on this important subject, and it only remains for us to express our hope that if Her Majesty's Government are desirous of extending their aid—they may be pleased to advise us of their views—and should they not be prepared to adopt the precise scheme submitted by us, that they will be pleased to inform us of the mode by which they consider the object can be attained more consistently with the interests of the Imperial Government.

We may add that if it should be more consistent with your views to grant aid to this proposed Railway by way of subsidy for the services hereinbefore enumerated instead of an absolute grant of money—it would equally meet the expectations and desires of the several Colonies.

We have the honor to be,

DOWNING STREET,
24th December, 1858.

SIR,

You are doubtless aware that frequent communications have passed between me and the Delegates who visited this country from the British Provinces in North America, relative to the proposal that some Imperial aid should be granted towards the completion of an Intercolonial Railway from Halifax to Quebec.

The subject has not failed to receive the anxious consideration of myself and my colleagues.

I need scarcely say that the project is one which Her Majesty's Government cannot regard otherwise than with the best wishes. Even were no national object concerned, it would be highly gratifying to them that the British Provinces in North America should reap the local advantages which would be derived from the completion of this great line of Railway. Those advantages, it is true, would not justify an outlay of British Funds, inasmuch as it is evident that for an Imperial Expenditure there must be an Imperial object, but I readily admit that the plan does likewise embrace interests of a general and national character.

Independently of any military advantages which might attend the existence of an uninterrupted communication by rail over British Territory in the event of any disturbance of the existing friendly relations of Great Britain with all other countries, some benefits of an Imperial kind would at once accrue from the completion of the Intercolonial Railway, the letters from England would pass over a shorter and cheaper route, and the movement of Troops would gain in point of convenience and economy. As to the probable amount of such financial benefits to the Mother Country, there would probably be some difference between the calculations suggested by the Delegates and those formed by the Official Departments in the Imperial Service to which the consideration of matters affecting the conveyance of troops or the carriage of letters would specially belong. It is unnecessary, however, at present to raise that question, and I readily grant that it involves others both of kindly feeling towards Provinces, so loyal and so important, and of general policy in the increased strength and compactness produced by rapid communication, which it would be impossible to reduce to figures and specify in estimates.

But still the national Expenditure must be regulated by the national resources. And however important may be the foregoing advantages, it has been found that objects of interest to Great Britain yet more urgent must yield to the necessity of not unduly increasing at the present moment the public burthens.

For this reason, I can only express my deep regret that while doing full justice to the ability of the arguments advanced by the gentlemen who visited this Country as Delegates upon the subject. and while far from undervaluing the benefits of an Intercolonial communication by Railway, Her Majesty's Government have not found themselves at liberty to accede to the proposal of granting Imperial aid towards the completion of the line between Halifax and Quebec.

To His Excellency the Honorable J. H. T. Manners Sutton, Lieutenant Governor, &c., &c., &c.

The Committee of Council having had under consideration your Excellency's memorandum of the 17th instant, and the accompanying despatch from His Excellency the Governor General, dated 10th September, relative to the construction of an Intercolonial Railway, would respectfully express to your Excellency their continued interest in the proposed undertaking. In a memorandum submitted to your Excellency on 10th August, 1857, we presented the reasons which induced us to urge upon Her Majesty's Government the necessity which existed for such a highway.

The joint address of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly to Her Majesty, passed on the 6th April last, shews that the opinion then expressed was fully sustained by the Legislature.

Having been informed by the despatch of the Governor General that the members of his Government were on the eve of their departure from Canada charged with urging that important subject upon the attention of the Imperial authorities, we advise your Excellency to appoint two members of your Council to proceed forthwith to England for the purpose of representing the interests of New Brunswick.

one of the Most Honorable Privy Council, Governor General of British North America, &c., &c., &c.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY :

I have now the honor to submit the Public Accounts of the Province of Canada during the year 1858.

The Report of the Board of Audit, certifying the accuracy of the Accounts, is also herewith submitted.

By this Report, it will be observed, that several important alterations have been made in the form in which the Accounts have hitherto been prepared. Under the present system every item of Expenditure and Income is set forth in Statement Number 3, and the particulars of Expenditure in Statement Number 12. It is therefore no longer necessary to refer to the subsidiary statements to acquire a knowledge of the transactions of the year. They will occupy their proper position of showing the exact state of each special Account.

By the Statement Number 3, it will be seen that the Gross Expenditure has been $11403587.44 and the Gross Income..... 10271291.81

The deficit of $1132295.63

having been met by the altered state of the Cash Balances at 1st January, 1858, and 1st January, 1859, viz. :—

In explanation of this large Deficit, it is my duty to advert to the fact that owing to the very serious and general depression of Trade consequent upon the recent commercial crisis, but, in Canada, more especially attributable to the bad Harvests of 1857 and 1858, the Imports of the country have enormously decreased. They were, in

1856	$43584387.23
1857	39430598.35
1858	29078527.00

These returns sufficiently shew that the country generally has been exercising a wise economy in every article of consumption, and this result must ultimately be fraught with great advantage. The immediate effect has, however, been to produce a serious falling off in the Revenue from Customs, which was, in

1856.....	$4508882.08
1857.. ..	3925051.19
1858.....	3368157.76

The same causes have operated to reduce the Revenue from all other sources. They are as follows in 1858 :—

Public Works	$400727.17
Territorial	415372.68
Post Office	295395.76
Other Revenues, of Consolidated Fund ..	867878.77
Receipts from other sources	427441.67

The Expenditure, instead of being capable of similar reduction, has been largely increased, from the failure of local revenues having thrown upon the Province the temporary supply of funds to meet engagements, for which the general Revenue was not strictly liable. This has been especially manifest in the case of the Consolidated Municipal Loan Fund. The Local Municipalities suffering directly from the pressure upon the rate-payers, have been in many cases unable to meet the interest upon the Debentures issued on their account, and the Government have been required to advance the necessary funds to prevent a failure in their payment of the Interest.

In 1857, the amount so advanced was	$159096.55
In 1858, it has been	368503.51

These advances have been made under circumstances of peculiar pressure, which, when removed, will relieve the General Revenue from this charge, as the Province has never assumed these Debts as engagements of its own, and must look, on a revival of trade, to their resumption by the Municipalities who have received the benefit of the Loans, and on whose united security the Bonds have been issued.

A very large, and it may be found, a more permanent charge upon the resources of the Province, has, however, been created through the guarantees granted in 1852, 1853, and 1854, to the Grand Trunk Railroad, and the Ontario, Simcoe and Huron Railroad. In the former case, Parliament has assumed the payment of the Interest on their advance for an indefinite period; and in the latter case it may be feared that for some time to come, the Province will also have to provide the Interest on its Bonds issued in aid of the undertaking. These liabilities have amounted, in 1858, to $1061756.87.

The Outlay upon Public Works authorized to be met by the issue of Debentures has been $533319.89. The greater part of this Expenditure has arisen from enlargement and improvement of the Canals, Light Houses, and necessary surveys in connection with the important question of establishing the best route for Western Produce to reach the Seaboard. There can be no doubt that a large portion of this outlay is not directly remunerative, and had it been possible wholly to arrest it during a temporary period of financial depression, it would have been desirable to have done so. But considering that these works form part of a system, upon which the Province has already incurred almost the whole of its indebtedness, it would not have been politic, had it even been possible, to have stopped these works. In the case of Surveys, it is the more valuable, as enabling Parliament hereafter to decide intelligently upon any future expenditure.

ORDINARY EXPENDITURE.

The establishment of the Ocean line of Steamships has added an annual charge of $220,000, which may be expected to be gradually met by the Ocean Postage, but must for a considerable time require provision from the ordinary Revenue. The same remark applies to the Tug Service, which costs annually $90400. Amount in 1858 was $217555.10

The transfer of the Ordnance Lands to the Province, has entailed a heavy charge for the maintenance of an Active Militia organization, costing in 1858, with the Enrolled Pensioners now disbanded $162351.54

The Province has received a very large amount of valuable property in consideration of these services, but it will require time to realize it, and meantime the burden has wholly fallen on the Revenue. This charge may, however, be largely reduced in 1859, and from the sale of the Ordnance property, it is hoped, the Militia force will soon be self-sustaining.

The expenses of Legislation, in 1858, amounted to $684442.27. But in this sum are included the costs of a General Election for the House of Assembly, and also the Election of twelve Members for the Upper House, together being $66691.89

This item may therefore be regarded as exceptional, and it may also be expected that as the Session of 1858 proved of unusual duration, a very considerable reduction will take place on the average cost of Legislation.

The Administration of Justice cost in 1858	$608359.24
And Police	41931.01
Penitentiary and Reformatory Prisons	61600.00

$711890.25

On the first item it is expected that the effect of recent Legislation, will be to produce a considerable and gradual reduction. The charge for Police will also be reduced during 1859; but the establishment of the Reformatory Prisons will cause some increased charge for the future under this head.

The Educational, Charitable, Scientific, and Agricultural Societies' grants during 1858, amounted as follows:—

Education exclusive of Trust Funds	$495162.11
Charitable	194988.65
Scientific and Geological	52927.64
Agricultural Societies and Statistics	135648.68
Indian Annuities and Pensions	76359.64

$955086.72

The remaining items of the Expenditure—irrespective of the Public Debt and its management—may be divided into three classes—

Collection of Revenue of all branches (excepting Post Office) including Casual Repairs of Public Works yielding a Revenue—and Survey of Public Lands, have cost in 1858—

Customs	$341868.37
Excise	16290.00
Public Works	270572.18
Public Lands	221316.95
Fines and Forfeitures	11887.65
Casual	33.00
Special Funds	2401.59
		$864364.74

Expenses of Civil Government, including Emigration, Fisheries, and all charges not specially applicable otherwise have been$613995.11

Much of which is provided for by Special Charges for the Service, as appears in the returns of Revenue.

Expenses of maintenance of Public Works and Buildings, Light Houses, Coast Service, Roads and Bridges$436811.53

The Post Office charge of $565636.37 must be regarded as exceptional—as it includes a large amount on account of arrears of former years and the settlement of claims by the Railway Companies for Carriage of the Mails.

The two former classes of outlay, Collection of Revenue....$864364.74
Civil Government..... 613995.11

may, it is hoped, be gradually reduced, without impairing, but rather adding to, the efficiency of the service; and measures are in progress for attaining this end, for some of which the sanction of Parliament will require to be obtained.

The only remaining item of Expenditure is that for Interest on the Public Debt, and its management, which was, in 1858—

Interest	$3030899.25
Management, including Exchange.....	67551.42
		$3098450.67

Of this amount the direct Debt of the Province—

Constituted	$1236376.45
Management, including Exchange.....	51085.21
		1287461.66

Leaving as paid on indirect indebtedness $1810989.01

On account of which there was received from—

Great Western Railroad	$227088.40
Municipal Loan Fund, West & East	151932.56
Sundry minor Accounts	30093.73
		409114.69

Leaving, as the amount advanced in 1858 by the Province.. $1401874.32

The detail of the advance is thus shewn,

Railway Advances	$1260459.21
LESS—Great Western	227088.40
		1033370.81
Municipal Loan Fund, West & East.....	$ 520436.07
LESS—Received	151932.56
		368503.51
		$1401874.32

Of this large sum, that paid on account of the Railways cannot be subject to immediate reduction; but in the case of the Municipal Loan Fund, and other Loans, it has been already remarked that with reviving prosperity, the General Revenue may expect to obtain considerable relief in the current and future years.

On the subject of the Public Debt it is necessary to offer some remarks, in consequence of the exceptional circumstances attendant on the transactions of 1857 and 1858, which, owing to a sudden diminution in Revenue, occurring simultaneously with the necessary assumption of very large and unexpected charges, have caused a serious deficiency in both years, and a consequent resort to Loans to meet it.

The direct Public Debt of Canada, is$24430975.17 which has been created almost wholly for the great Canals and other works of national improvement.

The Expenditure upon these Works is shewn by the Statement of Assets and Liabilities of the Province, at 31st December, 1858, to have been—

Welland and St. Lawrence Canals	$14155206.35
Other Canals.....	2766146.40
Harbours and Light Houses	2817057.92
Roads and Bridges, and	1610267.34
Miscellaneous	1326346.21
	$22675024.22

There has also been charged against the Consolidated Fund for Works which have proved unproductive, or which have been transferred to the Municipalities..... 1982039.70

And there now stands at the credit of the Sinking Fund for the Imperial Loan..... 3752843.22

Total$28409907.14

While the existing direct Public Debt incurred for these works, and including all sums raised up to this time to meet the deficiency of 1857 and 1858, is..... 24430975.17

Whereof Statement 1 shows to be held on account of the Consolidated Fund..... 621726.68

23809248.49

Leaving $4600658.65

which has been paid out of Surplus Revenue, up to 31st December, 1858, after adding the whole deficiency of the two last years.

This Statement will abundantly prove, that the policy of Canada has not been that of providing by Loans for temporary wants, but that in reality, after meeting every engagement up to 31st December, 1858, there remains the sum of $4600658 taken from ordinary Revenue, and applied to permanent works now belonging to the Province.

The indirect Debt of the Province appears, by Statement No. 1, to be—

Railways	$20295098.47
Municipal Loan Fund	9057792.00
Sundries	1169684.85
	<hr/>
	$30522575.32
On account of Railroads	$20295098.47
Of which, the advance to the Great Western Railroad can alone be regarded as secure	2810500.00
	<hr/>

for which the Province may have ultimately to provide—meantime advancing the Interest.

The advance of this sum has induced the investment, by private capitalists, of at least $60,000,000 in the Grand Trunk, Great Western and Northern Railroads. And has thereby secured an uninterrupted Railway communication throughout the entire length of the Province, comprising, with their branches, about 1250 miles of Rail. It will not be disputed, that although the unfortunate disappointment in traffic has caused the Grand Trunk and Northern Railways to become a charge upon the Provincial Revenue, yet Canada has, in every other respect, very largely benefited by these works, and indirectly obtains a return upon her advances, through the diminished cost and increased facility with which the whole business of the country is now carried on; while there is good ground to hope, that ultimately the increase of population and trade may place both these Railroads in a position to assume the charges, which, for the present, devolve upon the Province.

The remaining portion of the Indirect Provincial Debt has mainly arisen from Loans contracted by Municipalities under the Consolidated Municipal Loan Fund Act, and respecting which I have already remarked, that returning prosperity will relieve the Province from the principal weight of this obligation. The amount, at 31st December, 1858, was

Upper Canada	$7294792.00
Lower Canada	1763000.00
	<hr/>

The Act permitting these Debts to be contracted, limits the amount to be issued to $14600000 to be equally divided between Upper and Lower Canada. And looking at the operation of the law up to this time, it may appear proper to the Legislature to restrict the issue of the remainder of the Loans, especially in connection with the ultimate and complete abrogation of the Seigniorial Tenure in Lower Canada, for which it may be necessary to make Legislative provision. The payment, in 1858, from the Seigniorial Tenure Fund of $298351.37, although including a large sum for the expenses of the Commutation Commission, would seem to indicate that the amount required in extinguishment of the feudal tenure will largely exceed the present Fund, and in justice alike to the Seignior and Censitaire, whose title to their property has been entirely changed by the Legislature, from motives of public policy, it does not appear possible to avoid incurring further liability, in which view it may be considered desirable to relieve the Province from a certain part of its indirect liability, connected with the future extension of the Consolidated Municipal Loan Fund Debt. Canada will thus succeed, at a very moderate outlay, in achieving the complete freedom of her Territory from the oppressive burden of the Feudal Tenure, which has in no other country been ever shaken off, without the most prolonged, expensive, and bloody conflict; and her people, instead of remaining worn out and exhausted with the struggle, will at once feel the beneficial results of the change, and by increased energy, freedom, and intelligence, far more than compensate the Province for the pecuniary charge, by which the object has been attained.

In conclusion, I have the satisfaction to state, that by a moderate addition to the existing Duties on Customs, combined with considerable reduction in almost every branch of the Public Service, it is my opinion, that the Expenditure for 1859 will be brought within the Revenue; and should no continued failure of the harvest occur, it is my confident hope, that the Province will be found to have passed through the trying period of recent depression, with certainly as little difficulty as any other country in the world.

All which is respectfully submitted.

A. T. GALT,
Inspector General.

TORONTO, March, 1859.

AUDIT OFFICE, Toronto, February 7th, 1859.

Sir,—In submitting to you the Public Accounts, as finally audited and prepared for publication, we desire to explain the principles which have guided us in the changes of form, which we have introduced this year. The principal alterations are in Statement 3, which gives the entire receipts and payments of the year in abstract; and in Statement 12, which contains the detail of the expenditure. In former years, these statements embraced only such payments and such revenues as belonged to the Consolidated Fund, and there was nearly an equal amount scattered through the separate statements of Special Funds, or which did not appear in detail at all, and could only be imperfectly gathered in the aggregate, from a comparison of the several items in the statement of Affairs of the year under consideration with those of the previous year. Great inconvenience had been experienced from this system, to obviate which we submitted to your predecessor in Office a proposition to include the entire transactions of the Province in one statement; an important change, the principle of which received his assent, and the practical arrangements to give it effect have since been approved of by yourself. It is believed that Statement 3, as now prepared, will include every payment made during the year, and the gross revenue received, with the single exception of the Upper Canada Law Fee Fund, in which case the existing law was found to present obstacles, which for the future we hope will be obviated, either by an Order in Council, or if that should be found insufficient, by Legislation during the present Session.

Although the whole expenditure is included in this statement under the head of the principal services, still some portions of it are so different in their character, and in the authority under which they are incurred, that we have thought it advisable to arrange them in separate columns. The following is the classification which we have adopted:—

(1.)—The Ordinary Expenditure, which there is distinct authority to charge against the "Consolidated Fund."

(2.)—"Unprovided Items," the payment of which has been ordered by the Executive on its own responsibility, and for which a vote of Parliament must be taken before they can be charged against the Consolidated Fund. Of these we still retain a separate statement, in detail, and when arranged under the several heads to which they belong, they form the second column of the statement.

(3.)—Expenditure authorized to be met by the issue of Debentures. This class only contains two heads this year—Debentures redeemed, for which there is a general authority to make a re-issue, and Public Works of a Provincial and permanent character, with respect to which there exists some difficulty. When the estimates for these services have been approved of by Parliament, it has been customary to take authority to issue Debentures for the whole or a portion of the estimate, but the issue authorized has rarely been for the whole amount, and nothing but an arbitrary division can be made of the works which are or are not strictly in this category. In fact the whole estimate is authorized by the vote of Parliament to be charged on the Consolidated Fund, on account of which the Debentures may be issued as required. If the Public Works, however, were so treated, no account would be kept in the ledger of the entire cost of the works, which would be merged in the Consolidated Fund, and it has therefore always been the practice to keep open accounts with the several works, which, in the aggregate, represent a real asset to set against the liability of Provincial Debentures, which has been principally incurred for their construction. For this reason we have thought it best to continue the practice, and to charge in a separate column, headed "authorized to be met by the issue of Debentures," all Provincial Works of a permanent character, including the preparation for them, as Surveys, and the consequences of them, as Arbitrations for damages.

The remaining three classes have hitherto gone under the common name of Special Funds, but as they are entirely distinct in their character, we have kept them separate, and treated them differently.

(4).—The first class is composed of accounts of a purely Provincial character, in which no party but the Province is interested. A special revenue was created to meet a particular service, and if the revenue exceeded the expenditure, the balance was formerly carried on in an open account, as applicable to the service of the following year; but if the expenditure exceeded the revenue, the balance was either carried at once to Consolidated Fund, as in the case of Law Fees, or if there was no authority for this, and no estimate for the service, to unprovided items, in both of which cases it ultimately merged in the Consolidated Fund, and was not charged against the open account. Even this rule, however, was not uniformly adhered to in every year, and we thought it would simplify the Accounts, (and there appeared no legal obstacle,) if both revenue and expenditure were at once included in Consolidated Fund, treating the revenue received in each case as an appropriation. We have not therefore made any distinct column for such "Special Revenues," as we propose for distinction to call them, but for the purposes of comparison with other years, we have noted the amounts formerly charged against them, and separate Statements of each revenue, and of the expenditure on account of it, are given.

(5).—Another important class of accounts consists of those, in which the Province pays in the first place, but other parties are responsible to the Province. The majority of these accounts arise from Debentures issued with the Provincial Guarantee, but as the distinctive feature of them all is, that whether strictly liable or not, this Province has paid and has a claim to be reimbursed, we have headed the fourth column which contains them "Advance Accounts."

(6).—Lastly, there are the "Trust Funds" in which another party, or some particular section of the Province is interested, but the Province is not pledged to any payment except to the amount of the income of the Fund. Under the same head we include several miscellaneous small payments, which have this feature in common with the Trust Funds strictly so called, that the payment has been made on some open account, for the proceeds of which the Province is responsible.

The receipts are similarly arranged:—(1).—The ordinary revenues—in stating which a change has been introduced this year. Formerly, the sums set down for Customs, Territorial Revenue, &c., were the revenues which had accrued during the year, the differences of the outstanding balances at the beginning and end of the year being either added or deducted, as the case might be, to or from the expenses of collection, or in some cases they were neglected altogether. In the present Statement the addition or deduction is made in all cases on the gross revenue accrued, so that the sum set down represents the actual cash received. To these are added separately the special revenues above mentioned. (2).—Debentures issued and the premium obtained upon their sale, together with any payments on account of Public Works sold, the original cost of which was authorized to be met by the issue of Debentures. (3).—Receipts from those parties or funds on account of which the Province has paid interest in its guarantee, together with any other amounts refunded which had been advanced by the Province. (4).—Revenues of Trust Funds, together with miscellaneous receipts, for which the Province is accountable.

It is evident that such an account must be balanced by the differences in the Cash and Banking accounts at the beginning and end of the year.

The introduction of this new system after a considerable portion of the financial year had elapsed, requiring, as it does, different methods of keeping and proving the accounts, from those which have been for many years in use in the Department, have caused greater delay than had been expected in the preparation of the Public Accounts; but we believe that the result will be found more satisfactory and intelligible, and the experience of the past year will doubtless render the work less complicated for the future.

One inconvenience, however, has resulted, which is inseparable from any material change in the form of the Accounts, viz. :—That it interferes with a comparison with former years. In order to meet this difficulty, and to form a connecting link between the old and the new systems, we have prepared two Statements which we submit—the one shewing the Expenditure and Income applicable to the Consolidated Fund, for the years 1857 and 1858, according to the method formerly in use, and the other shewing the entire expenditure and receipts of the Province during the same years, upon the basis now adopted.

Several minor changes in the form of the Subsidiary Statements have been rendered necessary by the alterations in the main Statement, which need not be more particularly alluded to. The only other change to which we would call attention is one in the statement of affairs at the commencement of the Accounts, which we have now arranged so as to be a statement of Liabilities and Assets. In order that it may be a strict and true statement of this kind, it will become necessary to revise the different heads under which the Public Works are arranged, as these represent not their actual value, but the expenditure upon them, which has not been carried at any time to the Consolidated Fund. Such a revision would be attended with great difficulty, but in the meantime there was one item, about which there could be no doubt that it did not represent any true asset. The Upper Canada Roads and Bridges are set down in 1857 as £513,287, whilst they have been sold for a capital of £165,200, of which sum £19,108 10s. has been paid, leaving only £146,091 10s. or $584,366 of an available asset. We have therefore only retained the latter sum, and have charged the remainder through "Losses by Public Works," to Consolidated Fund.

All which is respectfully submitted.
