Under the present law unless holding property in other wards the voter can only vote for two aldermen in the ward in which he resides. The proposed change would give him the right to vote for ten aldermen or for the entire membership of the council. There are 10 per cent. those who think the change would ensure a better class of aldermen, and as it would give every voter a choice in the elections, all would be responsible for the selections

THE HEN QUESTION.

Not in its relations to the McKinley or Wilson tariffs, but with respect to the comfort, convenience and respectability of Fredericton's sidewalks. The careless manner in which hens are permttted to run at large in this city is a positive disgrace, and it is quite time the municipal authorities framed a bye law to abate the nuisance. On St. John street the hens of half a dozen different people practically live on the street and sidewalks, and in many other sections of the city, the upper end of Charlotte street for instance, the abuse is quite as bad. The owners should have sufficient public spirit and decency to keep their broads on their premises when they can daily see the filth on the sidewalks, but we suppose only the law will compel them to do that.

THEY NEED WATCHING.

The bicycling craze has reached Paris, and a French physician directs attention to the deaths of three persons from heart disease while bicycling. In Fredericton the bicyclists are not the ones to suffer from the sport, but the people they are likely to ride down on the sidewalks and at the crossings. The police authorities made a spurt a few weeks ago and fined some of the offenders, but the danger is just as great now as ever. A man or woman riding a bicycle has no more right on the sidewalk than a man or a woman driving a carriage. The bicyclists themselves ought to know that: doubtless they do know it, but they think they can trifle with the authorities. There are many of the young men and women who are never offenders, and it is very unfair that the class should come under con-

the administration, it is declared from headquarters, will not open that constituency very soon. Mr. White has been slated for the collectorship of customs at Montreal, vacant now nearly two years, but the Government is afraid to fulfill its promise to him, lest Cardwell should slip from their support. Had last week's nomination gone to the Government's liking, in all probability the constituency would have been open now, but the conservative nominee, Mr. Willoughby, would be beaten out of sight by the McCarthyite, and so the Government are to hedge a while longer. One would think that if Montreal can do without a collector for two years, the office might very well be business, is now erecting a fine new saw dispensed with altogether, but it is the mill a few miles from Boiestown. The Government's plan to prostitute the highest offices in the country to the exigeral two shingle machines, and it is expected to the country to the exigeral two shingle machines, and it is expected to the country to the exigeral two shingles machines, and it is expected to the country to the exigeral two shingles machines, and it is expected to the country to the exigeral two shingles machines. encies of the political situation.

V TO PARENTS.

The figure relating to the attendance at the Fredericton public schools, published in THE HERALD recently, show lation of the city is receiving instruction in those institutions, and while much of their success depends on the pupils themselves and the teachers who are directing their efforts, the parents of the children are in a large measure responsible for the way the schools advance. Without the corporation of the parents, much of the teacher's work is useless. He must have the support and sympathy of the homes from which the children are drawn, and in this connexion the ten suggestions of a Maine poilosopher are to the point. He believes the best results will be secured if parents observe the following: prompt and regular.

LUMBER.

The most satisfactory feature of the new American tariff for Canada, at least, is the lumber schedule. The American market is practically thrown open to the Canadian lumbermen. The new schedule reads as follows: Logs and round unmanufactured timber

Nova Scotia mills in spruce lumber. Mr. Smith feels a little curious to know what effect the removal of the Canadian export duty would have upon the shingle trade. Shingles are furnished largely from the lower provinces, and the duty has been thirty cents a thousand. This business has gradually gone into the hands of the Canadians, and very few American mills are now engaged in the Washington to begin his novitiate.

A great deal of ink has been used and many lungs exercised in telling the people that Canada is superior to the gloomy circumstances recently surrounding both not specially enumerated or provided for England and the United States. The trade returns and the financial returns have been used to dress up the image of prosperity reflected in ministerial speeches and ministerial journals. We have now come, however, to cast up accounts for the last fiscal year and the returns are all in showing a great decline in receipts and a considerable increase in expenditure as compared with the previous year. An excellent proof of the progress of Fredericton is the very large increase of qualified electors which the city lists just published shows. The increase over last year is a little over 400. Last year's lists contained between 1,200 and 1,300 names, while this year's list contains over 1,600, the largest number of electors ever registered in one year by the city revisors.

The people of Bloomfield Ridge are prea good time and pleasant evening.

Considering how little practice the Fredericton cricketers have put in this season they did as well as could have been expected in their match with St. John in that city last Saturday. They went away without two of their best men, E. H. Allen, and C. E. Neill, two players who generally make a good showing at the bat and that is where Fredericton is the weakest. The St. John boys went to the bat first and ran up a score Among them are of ninety, and Fredericton followed with thirty-eight, Mr. Campbell making a creditable record of twenty-one runs. The great feature of the match was the wonderful bowling of Mr. Fowler for Fredericton. He had nine of the ten St. John wickets to his credit, six of which he clean bowled. Mr. Rutter was not in bowling trim evidently, Rutter was not in bowling trim evidently, for he did not have his usual good luck with the ball. The crease was very lively and with his high and swift delivery many of his bail ticklers went high above the wickets. The same may also be said of Mr. Atherton who bowled a few overs. The second score of importance for Fredericton was made by Mr. Hawthorn who slugged the enemy for seven runs.

The season's play between the two clubs ends even. We defeated St. John here a few weeks ago with five wickets to spare. It is possible the Fredericton club may have a couple of matches with Woodstock this montt. Mr. Neill, the secretary has written It is said that none of the recently elected for a game here to start with, and then the elders of St. Paul's church will consent to club will journey up to Woodstock later. ### Married at Sackville.

James E. Fraser, a well known Fredericton young man, eldest son of George Fraser surprised his friends by getting married this week. The interesting ceremony took place at the Episcopal church, Sackville, Wednesday evening, and the bride is Miss Clara E. Norris, a popular young lady of that place.
