THE LOBSTER INDUSTRY.

Along the coast of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island is found this very interesting dweller of the seas. To most people the name is familiar, to some the mention will call up pleasant memories of taste, to others pictures of the hazardous life of those employed in catching this member of the crustacean order. The fishing is done with small boats, many an accident occurs and sometimes a life is forfeited. There was a time when this fishing was carried on along other coasts, but has become exhausted because protective measures were not taken in time. At present it is confined to the North Atlantic from Southern Nova Scotia to Gaspé. There has been an attempt made to plant them in British Columbia waters, try to get across the continent for that purpose. It is too soon to speak of success or non-success in that project. Even where the lobster still is found the supply is not so great as in former years. Care is now being taken to conserve the supply by limiting the catching season to three months, by regulating the traps so that undersized fish cannot be taken, and by hatching along the coast.

On the south-west shore of Nova Scotia the season is in the winter and early spring; on the south-east and northwards around Cape Breton in the spring and early summer. Thus men by going from place to place find employment for a considerable part of the year. At the approach of warm weather, raising the temperature of the water, the lobster sheds its shell. During this period, because of softness, they are unfit for handling. Travelling over the bottom of the sea, in some cases quite extensively, they feed on sea weed or animal matter. Some are of the opinion that the search for cooler waters lures them north or to the deep sea, returning south and landwards in the winter.

The color when caught is a slimy, greenish black, anything but attractive. The protruding eyes, antennae, and fearful teeth set in ferocious claws do not incline anyone towards sympathetically stroking the captive.

Woe betide the one who carelessly handles his catch. They vary in size from a few inches to over a foot in length, with an occasional one of even larger size. The flesh is emerald, the shell hard and tough. Under the boiling process the flesh solidifies and the shell turns to a bright red. The taste is good to the majority, being one of the most highly priced foods in the market. Only the flesh on the tail and in the claws is used for food, the body or shell is thrown aside and used as fertilizer, on which the farmer sets high store.

On the south shore fishing begins as soon as the season opens, as there is no ice to prevent operations. In the north the work must wait until the kindly west winds clear away the ice. This is generally about the middle of latter part of April. But long before the first stage in the preparations have been begun. The canners have been at work, and the men repairing or replacing traps, ropes and boats so as to be on hand ready when the earliest opportunity comes. On the first day of the season, if the water is clear, each man is on hand to secure his berth, or piece of water he intends to set his traps in. The principle is first come first served, each for himself but not the devil for them all. Buoy are set out and lines run between them. To these lines are anchored the traps of which each man hauls from 200 to 300. They are like cages of different shapes and sizes, though mostly built on a base of about two by three feet. The walls are arched to form a roof. They are made of laths set one and a half inches apart to allow room for the small fish to escape. At the ends are set concave nets, the apex of which consists of an open hole through which the lobster crawls, being attracted by the bait inside. The traps are baited, weighted and let down to the bottom of the sea at regular intervals along the line stretched between the buoys. There they await the hungry crawler destined to become food for hungry walkers. Weather permitting the traps are hauled once a day, and the work proves very profitable for those whose time is so spent.

The boats engaged are from eight-teen to twenty-five feet long, propelled by gasoline motor or sail. Sometimes two men work in one boat but mostly each for himself. They leave the shore at early daylight so as to take advantage of the calmer sea, returning as soon as the lines are run, which is about noon, if the sea has not been too unfavorable. The life itself appeals to some, though the large amount of money made in a short time is the greatest incentive. At an odd time as high as $50 worth of fish is taken in one day by one man; the average, however, for the best season would not be more than from $5 to $10. When the cost of the boat, traps, lines and bait is considered the money earned is not excessive. Besides the time spent in repairs and upkeep generally, the risk of losing all in a single night's storm is at times the case, must be reckoned in order to properly estimate the income which ought to be secured.

All along the shore, in the bays and on the islands are found the factories where the canning process is carried on. In some cases the plants are quite extensive and the output varies from 200 to 1,000 cases of forty-eight pounds each. This plant is composed of several buildings, grouped conveniently, the bait house, factory proper, warehouse, cookhouse and men's quarters. The bait house is usually on the wharf convenient for landing and distributing the herring and other fish used to attract the lobster. The factory contains boiler, boiling, cracking and sealing rooms. In the warehouse the cans are labelled, packed and stored for shipment. The cookhouse provides sleeping rooms, dining room and kitchen. Besides these there are often smaller houses where the men live if the cookhouse is not large enough for all. There are generally employed from fifteen to sixty hands, men, women and boys, besides the fishermen. During the height of the season the hours are long, often from daylight till dark, and then the work is very tedious and exhausting.

The boats get in at all hours and then the outside and inside crew must work. The fish are weighed and sorted. On the south shore the large lobsters are crated and shipped alive to the Boston market. The smaller ones and all the north shore catch are canned. They are dumped into large vats of boiling water, and left for about an hour. The vats are then opened, the contents removed and taken to the cracking room, spread out on long tables for the process of devolution. The tail and claws are removed from the body, which is thrown out for the farmers' use. The tails are passed on to the operator who very deftly extracts the meat, the claws to men with cleavers, cracked and passed on. The meat is removed and sent to the packers. The cans are filled, weighed and turned over to the sealer, who, seated by his fiery furnace, solders on the cover. The filled cans are then subjected to the boiling process in a retort under a high pressure of steam, taken out, tapped and quickly sealed. Then they are ready for packing and the market after being duly labelled.

The annual catch is about twenty million pounds, valued at $3,700,000. This being confined to the Atlantic shores of the Dominion, the benefit to the people engaged is seen. In the employment given and the pleasure found in the food so supplied the lobster cannot be looked down on. The market is Europe or America, so also the advertisement our shore receives therein is of no mean value.—The Westminster.

Nova Scotian at Big Maine Show

(From the Berwick Register.)

Mr. W. H. Woodworth returned on Saturday from Lewiston, Maine, whither he went by invitation of the Maine Pomological Society to address a meeting of that body. Mr. Woodworth is enthusiastic over the experiences of the trip; the grand hospitality of the fruit growers of Maine the instructive addresses to which he was privileged to listen and the magnificent display of fruit which they had on show. Regarding this display the Lewiston Evening Journal says: "There is a large exhibit of fruit here from Nova Scotia, and we may add that it is a fine one. Our 'Blue Nose' friends are boasting that they can outdo us, but this remains to be seen."

Mr. Woodworth intimates, however, that the fruit growers of Maine can, this year at least, make a showing of fruit superior in some respects to that which was sent from Nova Scotia.

The Lewiston Evening Sun quotes Mr. Woodworth as follows: "W. H. Woodworth of Annapolis Valley, Nova Scotia, a guest of the Association at its annual meeting, spoke of the friendly feeling between the two countries and the great change along agricultural lines that had taken place in them within a few years. He represented a fruit growing section in the land of Evangeline which in 1910 exported 1,700,124 barrels of apples. Thirty warehouses handle the fruit with Berwick as the central association. Steamers are chartered with Halifax as the shipping port. In London an agent looks after the selling. He also handles in home markets, and said the selling of what you produce is the most essential of all. This afternoon Mr. Woodworth will give an address on the fruit industry of his country."

His remarks at the evening meeting of November 20th are thus given by the Journal under the heading: A WORD FROM NOVA SCOTIA.

The address of Mr. W. H. Woodworth of Nova Scotia, then followed, and it was a fine one. This famous orchardist from the Annapolis Valley is an expert and his words were closely followed. His subject was "Our Successes and Our Failures," and it was ably handled. He said: "Mr. President and Gentlemen: I come to you today from Canada, by your invitation, to mingle with you in these meetings and to enjoy your hospitality. I fully appreciate your kindness, and I have listened with interest and profit to the many addresses delivered. I come to you a Canadian, living under another flag, but in language and blood the same. I come also as a fruit-grower from the far-famed Annapolis Valley, in Nova Scotia, noted for its elegant Gravensteins and pretty girls. Women no less beautiful than the lovely Evangeline, made famous by your honored and beloved Longfellow. I hope that my coming to you will strengthen the bond of friendship which already exists between us as individuals and as nations."

"The Annapolis Valley is situated between the North and South Mountains from Digby to the west of Windsor in the east, about eighty miles in length, and having an average width of five miles.

"This Valley is well adapted to fruit growing, having a rich soil and favorable climate. The first apple trees were planted by the Acadian-French, who were the first settlers, and many of the old trees are growing today on the borders of the uplands near Grand Pre.

"The first reliable statistics I have of fruit exported was in 1881-82; the number of barrels exported from Halifax and St. John was 13,805; in 1911-12, the number was 1,271,124 barrels—quite an increase in twenty-one years.

"Progress in fruit growing, was at first slow, but as years pass by new methods are being introduced, and rapid progress has been the result.

"Beautiful orchards extend up and down the valley, planted in straight lines, from thirty to thirty-three feet apart, giving the country a beautiful appearance. Hundreds of orchards have been planted during the last decade and will soon be adding to the yearly output of fruit.

"The leading varieties are Gravensteins, Baldwins, King, Spy, Ribston and Blenheim.

"The land is kept under cultivation, plowed as a rule in autumn and kept in constant cultivation from early spring until July, when the land is sowed to a cover crop, either vetches or clover. Barnyard manure and commercial fertilizers are extensively used. Spraying has become universal, but the greatest enemy is the 'Black Spot' on the fruit, and without a thorough spraying at least four times a season the fruit would be so badly infected that it would not be fit to put on the market.

"Over all of the product of the valley is now handled by the United Fruit Companies, a co-operative organization of but recent growth.

"Our chief markets are found in Great Britain, Germany, Africa and Newfoundland.

"Sent well packed in boxes and barrels, this king of fruits brings a profitable price on the markets, which in turn helps the farmer to beautify his home and educate his children.

"Within the last twenty years, orchards have added greatly to the material wealth of the country, and land that was originally worth only $5 per acre, now planted in orchard is worth $1,000 per acre. The apple industry makes employment for hundreds of men, boys and girls. Co-operating has become a profitable business. Our railways are reaping a good income from the transportation to the waterfront. To sum up the matter, apple growing has been the mainspring of prosperity among us."

THIS BEAUTIFUL NEW YORK GIRL

Possesses abundance of beautiful hair and says: "My hair was thin and ragged and I could never dress it to look nice in any style until I began treating it with Saginee. Saginee grew my hair and made it soft and thick. Saginee is the only dressing I ever use." Mr. W. A. Warren, Bridgetown is agent for Saginee and he says "If Saginee will not make the coarsest hair clean, soft, fluffy and beautiful and add inches to its length bring it back and I will refund your money." Remember to go to W. A. Warren's drug stores as other stores cannot supply you with Saginee. A large shaker-top bottle costs only 50c.

POST OFFICE WILL REQUIRE LARGER STAFF.

Parcels Post Will Give Work to Men Taken on for Christmas.

Montreal, Dec. 3.—The inauguration of the inland parcels post system on January 1st, will prove a boon to many men, for whom the winter may have held the non-employment terror, for, according to one of the officials at the General Post Office, a large number of the extra staff taken on for the Christmas rush will be required permanently to deal with the new system.

"Have you felt any of the Christmas rush yet?" an official was asked this morning.

"Not yet," he replied. "People on this side like to wait so that their mail will reach the other side just before Christmas Day, and the people on the other side do the same thing with regard to Canada. We shall begin to feel the pressure in about twelve or thirteen days' time, and it will continue right up to about January 6. We have not yet made our arrangements for taking on the extra men for Christmas, but that will be done this week. We shall require a heavier staff than usual for some of the parcels post handling, that will come on January 1st. Some of these men come from Ottawa, while others make application here, and are taken on." The figures for November have not yet been released, but it is said that they show no indication of pressure.

REPORT ON TELEPHONE MATTERS

The Decision of the Commissioners of Public Utilities Regarding Telephone Matters of Difference and in Dispute. The Appeal Case of the Board of Trade of Bridgetown Receives a Decision

After several months' delay the Public Utilities Commissioners filed a decision in telephone matters on Friday last that occupies some six columns in the daily papers and is too long to be published in full in the Monitor columns.

The decision while settling for the present the cases that were referred to the Commission, has been made to cover the whole field and make regulations for the whole province more uniform.

The Board preface their regulations by admitting that their work may require further revision later, or when the new rules have been tried, so the patrons of the 'phone must not be discouraged if they do not find every concession they desired this time. We have attempted to take from the long and full report the features that will be of greatest interest to our subscribers.

To the question—What should be the extent of territory served by a certain class? The Board have answered that an area of seventy-nine square miles would be their conclusion. They are of the opinion the shape of this area should be circular rather than rectangular and decide that the circle making up an exchange, ten miles in diameter will best meet the needs in this province, except in few cases where geographical conditions require a departure from this shape.

The next question considered is the question of rates in local exchanges. We give below the table furnished. The classification of exchanges as arranged by the company with the filed rates payable by the subscribers in each class of exchange is as follows:

Rates for one party line:
Class A. 2000 subscribers and over—Business, $45; residence, $30.
Class B. 750 subscribers to 2000—Business, $40; residence, $30.
Class C. 500 subscribers to 750—Business, $34; residence, $27.
Class D. 300 subscribers to 500—Business, $32; residence, $24.
Class E. 150 subscribers to 300 or exchanges having battery call—Business, $30; residence, $22.
Class F. 50 subscribers to 150—Business, $27; residence, $20.
Class G. Under 50 subscribers—Business, $24; residence, $20.

Bridgetown Exchange, it will be seen, will come in "Class E," in the above list, and our price for telephones will therefore be increased to the above figures. For this increase of price we are to be given better hours of service, viz., continuous service except on Sundays and holidays and on these the hours of opening shall be, 9 to 10 a.m., 1.30 to 2.30 p.m., 8.30 at night to 8 a.m. the following morning.

We are also to have the length of conversation extended two minutes, so that it will be five minutes instead of three.

The rate of tolls between adjoining exchanges has also been considered by the Board and their pronouncement on this is as follows:—

The rates for local toll service will be as follows:—

Not exceeding five miles—Two number method, Sub. Non-Subs, Particular party method, Subs 5c; non-sub. 10c.

Over five miles and not exceeding ten miles—Two number method, sub. 5c Non-Subs. 10c; Particular party method, Subs. 10c; Non-Subs. 15c.

Over ten miles—Two number method, Sub. 10c.; Non-Subs. 15c. Particular party method, Subs. 15c; Non-Subs. 20c.

In order to get the benefit of the particular subscriber's rates, subscribers must call to or from points in their own telephone exchange area and satisfy the central office in such exchange area of their standing as subscribers in order to have the call charged to them in such exchange. The company will put the above decision into effect on or before January 1st, 1914.

It would appear from this that hereafter the toll between Bridgetown and Lawrencetown will be five cents per message instead of 10c. as at present. Our Board of Trade and the people at Lawrencetown contended for a free exchange of messages between these places; they get half a loaf. A number of further regulations are made regarding farmers' lines that will be of more or less interest to our subscribers and will be given next week.

The decisions on the whole have not appealed to subscribers and patrons of the telephone in Bridgetown as a great victory for the people. However, as we come to know them better and try them they may be considered all we would reasonably hope for at the present time.

HAIR DOESN'T DIE IT HAS TO BE KILLED

Hair often continues to live and grow long after the death of the body. But it is often killed through neglect or misuse. Almost always the woman of man whose hair is falling out, or is stringy, lifeless and dull looking, is entirely to blame because of not giving it the proper care. It is easy to take care of the hair—easy to make it more beautiful. Use Harmony Hair Beautifier, to make it glossy, soft and silky, and Harmony Shampoo to keep hair and scalp thoroughly clean.

Harmony Hair Beautifier, delightfully perfumed with rose, is very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. It contains no oil, and will not change the color of the hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep your hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo is most convenient to use, giving an instantaneous rich, foaming lather that immediately penetrates to every part of the hair and scalp, insuring a quick and thorough cleansing. It is washed off just as quickly, the entire operation taking only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair, and leaves no harshness or stickiness—just a sweet cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00; Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold in this community only at our store, —The Rexall Store—one of the more than 7,000 leading drug stores of the United States, Canada and Great Britain, which own the big Harmony laboratories, Toronto, where the celebrated Harmony Perfumes and Toilet Preparations are made. W. A. Warren, Bridgetown.

This last importation is from the original stock brought by Ex-Pres. Roosevelt, from Russia. One of the males bears the high sounding title of "Teddy."

There are also, 125 pure bred Cotswalds on the farm, six half bred Karakules. The plan is to keep about 500 breeders. Mr. Robertson of Moncton, has become one of the stockholders, and has put in his Karakule sheep numbering six. Mr. Teller, the Maritime Superintendent of the sheep industry, is to have entire charge of caring for the sheep. Messrs. J. E. and E. C. Shaffer of Lawrencetown, are stockholders in this Company and we wish them every success. They anticipate and predict a lasting benefit to the vicinity and country from the introduction of this industry.

A Des Moines man had an attack of muscular rheumatism in his shoulder. A friend advised him to go to Hot Springs. That meant an expense of $150 or more. He sought for a quicker and cheaper way to cure it and found it in Chamberlain's Liniment. Three days after the first application of this liniment he was well. For sale by all dealers.

New Zealand is sending large shipments of farm products to Canada, and the trade in these commodities is steadily growing. But this will not help the consumer much so long as he is forced to pay a customs tariff on imported foodstuffs. The steamer Niagara, now en route from Auckland to Vancouver, is bringing 17,479 boxes of butter, 255 carcasses of veal, 212 quarters of beef, 274 cases of eggs, 25 carcasses of mutton. The shipment of butter is the largest that has ever been on one ship to Vancouver. The shipment of eggs from New Zealand to Canada is a new industry. Some day, perhaps, the Canadian farmer may wake up to the possibilities of the home market.

Queen Alexandria

Queen Alexandria celebrated her 69th birthday Dec. 1st, having been born on December 1, 1844. She began life in a modest way. The second child, but first daughter, of the poor but handsome young Dane, Prince Christian of Glücksburg, and his cousin wife Princess Louise, it was never thought that the blue-eyed babe was destined to occupy the throne of the greatest power in the world.

The first meeting of the Princess with the Prince of Wales occurred on September 24, 1861, in the Cathedral of Speir, and on September 9, 1862, they were formally betrothed. They were married on March 10, 1863, at St. George's Chapel, Windsor. There were six children born of the marriage, three daughters and three sons, but the Duke of Clarence died at Sandringham in January, 1892. This was a deep sorrow to his father, the late King Edward VII., and his mother. Little Prince John, born April 6, 1871, died the day following.

During her occupancy of the throne with the late King, Queen Alexandria was constantly before the public and her work of charity and philanthropy and her official duties were discharged with love and understanding.

Queen Alexandria has been more or less in retirement since the death of King Edward, but recently she has shown by many charitable deeds that she cannot allow her grief to keep her from what she regards as a necessary duty to the subjects of her son King George the Fifth. She is still one of the most beloved, and revered of royal personages. She came, a stranger to the land, and we are reminded of those stirring and most appropriate lines by Poet Laureate Tennyson, on her arrival to the country of her adoption for her marriage:

"Sea-king's daughter, from over the sea, Alexandria!
Welcome her, thunders of fort and feet!
Welcome her, all things youthful and sweet;
Welcome her, all things youthful and sweet;
Scatter the blossoms under her feet!
Break, happy land, into earlier flowers,
Make music, O birds, in the newly budding bowers,
Blazon your mottoes of blessing and prayer;
Welcome her, welcome her, all that is ours!
O, joy to the people, and joy to the throne,
Come to us, love us to make us your own;
For Saxon, or Dane, or Norman, we Teuton, or Celt, or whatever we be,
We are each all Dane in our welcome to thee, Alexandria."

When you have a bilious attack give Chamberlain's Tablets a trial. They are excellent. For sale by all dealers.

Shortening Atlantic Time

Substantial progress has been made of late with the scheme which aims at establishing an express service between Great Britain and Australia via Canada.

A strong British company is at present in treaty for the purchase of about 400,000 acres of land at Cape St. Charles on the southeast coast of Labrador. This is an ice-free port, 1,680 miles from Liverpool, about half the distance from Liverpool to New York. The harbor is just outside the Belle Isle Straits and although there are considerable dangers at this part of the ocean during certain times of the year, these are not believed to be unsurmountable.

From Cape St. Charles it is proposed to construct a transcontinental railroad to the Pacific coast—a charter has already been granted for the track as far as the eastern boundary of Quebec.

It is claimed that the journey from London to Winnipeg will be performed in five days—giving only two nights at sea—with an additional six days to Sydney, New South Wales, and a corresponding acceleration to many centres in the west of Canada.

An integral part of the scheme provides for making Black Sod Bay, on the west coast of Ireland, the headquarters of the service on the English side of the Atlantic. Train ferries are also suggested between Ireland, England and Scotland.

HEART TROUBLE

When uric acid is dissolved in the blood it thickens the blood almost to a jelly; this is what causes the heart to flutter and seem to stop because it is weakened by the strain uric acid puts on it. Anti-Uric Kidney Pills drive out all uric acid poisons from the system. They are quick and safe and guaranteed by W. A. Warren. See the name B. V. Marlon is on the package.

HOW HE HEATED HIS COFFEE.

Passing along a street in Cleveland during the dinner hour, I observed how a hod-carrier, evidently a foreigner, managed to warm his cold coffee. He arranged several shovelfuls of moist sand in the shape of a mound, in the middle of which he excavated a hole. This he filled with unslacked lime, on which he poured a little water. On top of the mound he placed his tin pail. In a few minutes the beverage was heated, and he finished his dinner with copious draughts of hot coffee.—Victor Wilker.

Wood for All Industries

Ontario Grows all but Eight of the Thirty-four Woods Used.

Practically all industries are more or less dependent on wood. In Ontario alone, exclusive of the manufacturers of rough lumber, over thirty-eight industries, represented by 1,200 different firms, supplied the statistics recently compiled and published by the Forestry Branch, Ottawa, in a bulletin entitled, "The Wood-Using Industries of Ontario." These firms in 1912 purchased 807,456,000 feet, board measure, of rough lumber, valued at $19,161,384, which, when manufactured into several hundred finished products, ranging from handles to hearses, represent a turning over of several times this amount of capital.

Not only is it remarkable that so many different industries, including foundries, require wood to carry on their operations, but it is equally noteworthy that twenty-six of the thirty-four kinds of wood used should grow in Ontario. The supplies of some of them, it is true, are nearing exhaustion, but this was not always the case, nor is it likely with the steady rise in wood prices, that this will long continue to be the case.

Mr. E. J. Zavitz, Ontario Forestry Commissioner, says: "There is at present in the old settled portion of Ontario an aggregate of about 8,500 square miles which is suited only for forest growth. This means that southern Ontario could eventually have over ten million acres of private woodland." Ontario was once a land of valuable hardwoods, and will be so again.

Another remarkable thing illustrated by this bulletin is the variety of uses to which woods, still common in Ontario, may be put. Elm and basswood with a wide range of use. Maple, Ontario's most important hardwood, has over one hundred listed uses, while birch and beech are being increasingly used, especially for hardwood flooring. Pine forms 21.7 per cent of all the wood purchased by these industries, but is being gradually replaced by spruce, as the supply is nearing exhaustion. By observing the uses and then consulting the classified directory of manufacturers, markets may be ascertained for cherry, apple, sumac and other supposedly little-used hardwoods, and also for many forms of wood-waste.

We wish to call your attention to the fact that most infectious diseases such as whooping cough, diphtheria and scarlet fever are contracted when the child has a cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will quickly cure a cold and greatly lessen the danger of contracting these diseases. This remedy is famous for its cures of colds. It contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given to a child with implicit confidence. Sold by all dealers.

The following advertisement appeared recently in a German paper. It speaks for itself: "Three thousand artificial legs are wanted by a government at present in war. Estimates considered only from concerns able to deliver the whole quantity. Address —" This is one of the awful and inevitable consequences of the civilized brutality which we call war.—Exchange.

Minard's Liniment Cures Distemper.

Dairying, Fruit and Cold Storage

Without cold storage the dairying and fruit industries would be greatly handicapped as much valuable produce would be destroyed by decay. Under such circumstances the cost of living would have mounted much higher than it has, and there would be little hope of establishing outside markets. Because these several lines of industry are closely allied they are all grouped under a single branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, that of the Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner.

This Branch, under Mr. J. A. Rudick, has become a far-reaching organization extending from the milking sheds and the orchards even to the great markets of the United Kingdom. Through the Dairy Division encouragement is given farmers to increase the production of their herds, instructions are issued to teach the best methods of turning out fine butter and cheese. The Fruit Division seeks to enlighten growers on the condition of crops, to teach correct methods of production and marketing and to establish confidence in the value of Canadian fruit. The Cold Storage service assists institutions that require refrigeration to erect proper warehouses; during warm months aid is given railways that carry fruit and dairy produce to maintain low temperatures in their cars; and help is provided to secure cool temperatures to export produce while on the ocean. The Extension of Markets Division exercises a close supervision over the handling of perishable farm produce in transit and as opportunity offers, transportation companies are advised of needed improvements in their equipment. Besides other duties it keeps a careful register of the wholesale weekly prices of all manner of farm produce, and publishes these in the Annual Report of the Branch.

The duties of this Branch of government service enumerated are by no means complete, but they serve to indicate the nature of its work which bears a close relation to the cost of living. They are selected at more or less random from the Annual Report for the past fiscal year, which contains a large amount of useful information. This volume, which is made up of a general review by the Commissioner and eight appendices, is available to those who apply for it to the Publication's Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Concrete is the cheapest building material

WHETHER for a silo, a milk-house, or a million bushel grain elevator, concrete is the most economical building material in use today.

Concrete never requires repairs, and the saving in repair-expense alone makes the greater economy of using concrete more apparent every day. The cost of other building materials is constantly increasing. The cost of concrete is being reduced.

Canada Cement

which Canadian farmers use, with their own sand, stone and gravel to make concrete, is the only ingredient you have to buy. We have, by reason of our large output and scientific methods, been able to bring the price of "Canada" Cement so low that it is within the reach of everyone.

An increase in demand results in a greater economy of production, and when conditions have warranted it, we have, from time to time, shared this saving with the consumer by reducing the price of Canada Cement. This demand will continue to increase—as fast as farmers learn of concrete's superiority over other materials.

When you buy cement, see that you get "Canada" Cement; by so doing you will assure the complete success of all your concrete work.

Send a post card for our book "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete." It is free.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1913.

In renovating St. Paul's Cathedral, London, the workmen found part of one of the original lightning conductors supplied under the personal direction of Benjamin Franklin, about one hundred and forty years ago. It was discovered inside of one of the towers, where it was not exposed to the weather, and was in a good state of preservation.

What marvelous progress has been made in the uses to which electricity is put, since Franklin brought it down from the clouds with his kite!
He tells in his autobiography that he wrote letters to the Royal Society in which he offered the suggestion that lightning and electricity were one thing, and some of the savants laughed at him for his pains. He, however, continued his experiments with what result we all are aware, Eager students, in constantly increasing numbers, are diligently prying into the secrets wrapped up in this marvelous agent, which proves itself a willing servant to those who regard its laws, but, a deadly enemy to those who disregard them.

The most advanced scientist acknowledges that he stands only on the threshold of discovery, and yet the practical uses which electricity has been made to serve are already almost innumerable. One of its latest uses is as a servant in a modern hotel. It washes the dishes, cleans the knives, polishes the floors, pares
the vegetables, moulds the butter, cuts the ice into cubes, mixes the dough, bakes the bread, washes and irons the linen, carries messages to and from every part of the buildings, lifts the guests to their rooms, calls them to their dinner, and in other ways serves the purposes of many hands and feet.

Another and very important line
of work is its labor upon the farm, which should be of great interest to the citizens of the Annapolis Valley.
At Eureka, Illinois, there is a Central Electric Station, where electricity is generated, and from which about twenty miles of transmission wires conveys it to different parts of an extensive farming district. It grinds the feed, milks the cows, fills the silos, chops the fodder, churns and works the butter, lifts
the grain to elevators, cuts the wood, does the washing, turns the grind-stones, lights and heats the dwellings and is willing to do many other things if only put to do them in the right way. One can prophesy, without any fear of being proved to be a false prophet, that boys and girls now living in this Valley will see the day, when the streams which flow so plentifully from the mountains on either side of us will be made to generate the power which will perform the hardest tasks of the present men and women, as well as those of the cattle, and under proper conditions will do the work more quickly and with less expense. The Department of Agriculture of the United States says that a farm horse works on the average only about three and a half hours a day for the year round, and eats every day whether he works or not,
but an electric motor consumes energy only when it is in operation.

The cooperation which has given the Clarence farmers such a splendid piece of road, will be able on a larger scale to do for them what is being done in other districts not so highly favored in some respects as their own.

The Institutional News, a little periodical printed by pupils of the Halifax School for the Deaf, has again reached this office.

It contains a number of short essays, very creditable on various subjects, written by the pupils. During the last ten years a hundred young people have left this school, better qualified than they otherwise could have been to earn their own living.

One of the pupils this year is a little boy of six years from Bridgetown, another a little girl of the same age from Perotte.

We wish all the pupils good success.

Boy Wanders in Woods and Becomes Lost

Considerable excitement prevailed around town last Thursday evening, when word was passed around that William Watkins, the fourteen-year-old son of Mr. Henry Watkins, was lost in the woods near town. The fire alarm was sounded at 11 o'clock, which called together the firemen and a large crowd of citizens. A searching party was at once formed, and the men with lanterns searched well that section of woods between the Saunders Road and the Bent road, from the H. & S. W. railway to the Clarence road. The night was bitterly cold and stormy and the search was kept up throughout the night and until noon the next day, when long blasts from the factory whistles notified the searchers that the boy had been found. The boy's own story is that he went to find his father who was chopping wood near the Saunders road. He became bewildered and lost his way. Wandering about for some time he came to the H. & S. W.
railway and instead of coming west, he went east. After travelling the railroad for a long distance he took a short cut across a field and came out to the house of a Mr. McNeil, who lives on the Fitch road a mile or more east of Lawrencestown, where he found shelter for the night. The last walked back to town the next day, somewhat weary of his wanderings.

A Serious Accident

An unfortunate and very serious accident occurred Sunday evening on South Queen street near the St.
James Hotel. Two commercial travellers, Mr. Fred D. Locke of Halifax, and a Mr. McLeod, were returning from the evening service at the Presbyterian church to their rooms at the St. James Hotel. One of our business men was coming into town with his team and was driving at quite a rapid pace to avoid as much as possible of the rain storm that was raging. The two commercial men were keeping to the side of the road in preference to the sidewalk which was icy, and when near the hotel the fast approaching team struck Mr.
Locke, knocked him down, and probably the carriage ran over him. His friend and others nearby rushed to his assistance and soon discovered the man had been seriously hurt. A mattress was secured and the injured man hurried to the office of Dr. Dechman, who dressed the wounds, which consisted of a long cut on the forehead and a bruise on the back of the head. The patient was kept at the doctor's that night and removed to his room at the St. James Hotel the next morning where he still remains.
His condition, as we go to press this morning, has somewhat improved.

Some time during Saturday night or Sunday thieves entered the D.A.R. railway station by removing a pane of glass, broke open the cash drawer and carried away what shall change had been let remain there—about $2.

A violator of the Town ordinances was summoned before the Police Court on Saturday last, and fined for driving his horse and sleigh on the sidewalk. The superintendent of streets is determined to put a stop to persons violating this by-law.

The Hot Dinner advertised to be served at the Grand Central Hotel tomorrow (Thursday) evening, will be served in the reception room of the Baptist church instead of the hotel. You are assured of a good hot dinner for 35c. from 5 to 8. A sale of Dolls will take place in the vestry.

We are indebted to Mrs. Everett Robinson of South Farmington for a copy of a song entitled "Gliding Along," composed by herself. We have "tried it over" and would recommend it to those who are looking for a bright catchy song to add to their repertoire.

Our venerable and esteemed townsman, Mr. Edmund Bent, celebrated his 91st birthday on the 7th inst. Mr. Bent's many friends throughout the County will be glad to know that while confining himself largely to the home that he is comparatively well and hearty and enjoys his many faculties quite as much as many men twenty years younger. The Monitor joins in congratulations.

Another mile stone will soon be passed. The arrival of a very much appreciated 1914 calendar of the Maritime Business College, Halifax, reminds us of this fact. It is a very beautiful reproduction of a famous painting by an English artist and is styled "In Bonnie Scotland." The Monitor appreciates highly this remembrance of Principal Kaubach and his excellent institutions.

The people of Ingleswood have commenced to repair their church. The two end walls have been sheathed and the platform extended, which adds much to the appearance of the building. The work which has given satisfaction in every respect, has been done by Mr. Wiley. The people of Ingleswood wish to thank the people of Bridgetown and vicinity who so cheerfully responded to the call of the collectors.

Ten more pure blood Karakule sheep (seven ewes and three bucks) were added to the ranch of the Dominion Karakule-Arabia Sheep Company at Clarence last week. This makes fourteen pure blood and eight half-blood sheep of the Karakule breed that this Company now have on their ranch, in addition to one hundred pure bred active sheep of the Cotswold, Lincoln and Leicester breeds. The Company have recently purchased the Bezanon farm at Upper Clarence.

The teachers in charge of the first four grades in the town school have arranged a program for the Primrose Theatre on the evening of Thursday, the 18th inst. There is no room in the school building sufficiently large for the purpose, and the teachers think it will be pleasing to the parents and friends and profitable to the scholars to have the Christmas exercises united rather than separate as has usually been the case. To cover expenses an entrance fee of 15cts. is requested.

While busily engaged at his place of business last Thursday evening, Mr. J. W. Beckwith was informed that his presence was requested at his home. Mr. Beckwith duly responded to the request, and upon entering his home was greatly surprised to find that a number of his friends had taken possession of the drawing room. The date was Mr. Beckwith's fortieth wedding anniversary, and after congratulations and best wishes were extended, Mr. Fred R. Fay, on behalf of the company of friends and in a few well chosen and appropriate remarks presented Mr. Beckwith with a handsome desk clock. Mr. Beckwith very feelingly responded. The friends knowing that Mrs. Beckwith was in Halifax visiting her son and daughter, the occasion was thus the more a genuine surprise to Mr. Beckwith. An enjoyable evening was spent and the company when leaving wished Mr. Beckwith many happy returns of the occasion.

The annual Christmas tree and entertainment for the inmates of the County Institutions will be held this year at Recreation Hall on Monday, Dec. 29th. It is earnestly hoped that there may be a very generous and general response to this worthy cause this year, and it is desired that not only shall the Christmas season be made as bright and happy as possible for those who are so unfortunate, but also that the debt now remaining on Recreation Hall may be wiped out. Don't wait for Mr. Hiltz to call, but help him out in the good work by responding early and generously.

"Life has no nobler pleasure than that of friendship". At the end of the busy year, full of effort and struggle, comes the season when we forget the trials and welcome the opportunities; when we count our friends and find them many; when we choose for them remembrances, not because of their cost but because of the pleasure they will bring; when we realize to the full that life is worth living, because for once it is unselfish.

I OWE MY LIFE TO "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

They Did Me More Good Than All Other Treatments Combined

Mrs. H. S. WILLIAMS

PALMERSTON, ONT., June 20th, 1913
 "I really believe that I owe my life to 'Fruit-a-tives'. Ever since childhood, I have been under the care of physicians and have been paying doctors' bills. I was so sick and worn out that people on the street often asked me if I thought I could get along without help. The same old stomach trouble and distressing headaches nearly drove me wild. Some time ago I got a box of 'Fruit-a-tives' and the first box did me good. My husband was delighted and advised a continuation of their use. 'Fruit-a-tives' completely cured me. Today, I am feeling fine, and a physician meeting me on the street, noticed my improved appearance and asked me the reason. I replied, 'I am taking 'Fruit-a-tives'.' He said, 'Well, if 'Fruit-a-tives' are making you look so well, go ahead and take them. They are doing more for you than I can'."
 Mrs. H. S. WILLIAMS.

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

EXCLUDE LIQUORS.

Temperance societies in Canada have been alert in asking the Post Master General that under the new parcel post system the carrying of liquors in the mails be forbidden.

This is a reasonable demand and in the public interests. Within the past few years the mail order liquor business has become a curse.

The mail order business is bad enough when general commodities are carried, but in the liquor business it is the worst of all. In territories where the electors have voted against the traffic the country is flooded with insidious circulars from liquor dealers, and workmen, boys, Indian, Negroes are constantly receiving packages of "boose" by express. As a result industry frequently paralyzed and orderly communities disgraced, while the local authorities are powerless to prevent these undesirable conditions.

This has become a gross abuse and the rights of the citizens of the prohibition districts are grossly violated. It is hoped that Hon. Mr. Pelletier will listen to the requests from the temperance societies. He probably does not want to see the post office department made part of the rum-selling organization and the parcel post prove a curse instead of a great blessing to Canada. He should therefore exclude liquors.—Outlook.

A MATTER OF COMMON SENSE.

(From a Talk to Boys by Ex-Governor Long, of Massachusetts.)

Boys, I know it is not much use to preach to you, and that even if an impression is made on you, it runs the risk of being effaced as soon as you come into exposure to a temptation. But if you could only have in these bright, hopeful, confident days of yours, the experience of years, you would abstain from intoxicating liquors, not only as a matter of principle, but as a matter of hard common sense and of your personal happiness, health, success and prosperity. There is no denying that intoxicating liquors are indulged in by many respectable people, or that they are associated in some literature and in some society, with good fellowship and merry times, or that some persons can use them moderately without immediate apparent injury. But take my word for it, that the risk of their use is a terrible risk; that there can be just as good times and just as good fellowship without them and that nobody thinks a bit less of a young fellow because he will not use them, but, on the contrary, that every business man or professional man, whatever his own habits, instinctively turns away from employing any young man who has the taint of liquor about him.

Every physician now condemns the use of alcohol as a drink. Every employer counts the use of it against an employee. If you want a clear head, if you want a sound heart, if you want a clean conscience; if you want a healthy body; if you want money in your pocket and credit to your name, put your foot right down and say that you are going to abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors and keep the faith. Is there anything nastier than a man under their influence? Be clean and wholesome. Keep your brain clear, your head steady, your self-respect firm and you will have a life that is worth living. This is not a matter of goodly talk and sentiment. If nothing else will convince you, experience will, but it will be that experience which can only come too late to be of any use. You may think that you have self-control enough to take care of yourself. But the chances are that your self-control will be no more than pastebord against a gattling gun if you tamper with temptation and once begin the indulgence.

THE STRENGTH OF HAIR

A human hair of average thickness can support a load of six and one-quarter ounces, and the average number of hairs on the head is about thirty thousand. A woman's long hair has a total tensile strength of more than five tons, and this strength can be increased one-third by twisting the hair. The ancients made practical use of the strength of human hair. The cords of the Roman catapults were made of the hair of slaves, and it is recorded that the free women of Carthage offered their luxuriant tresses for the same use when their city was besieged by the Romans.—Scientific American.

THE PRICE OF TRUTH

D. Cady Herrick, at a luncheon in Albany, said of the truth:

"The truth is rarely palatable. They who would bring overmuch truth to bear on their profession or trade are usually corrected after the manner of young Jones."

"Young Jones, a cub reporter on the Cinnaminson Scimitar, wound up an article about a town meeting with the words:

"Mr. Smith then rose and made a few feeble remarks, during which the audience dispersed."

"The editor of the Cinnaminson Scimitar snorted when he saw that sentence. He dashed his blue pencil through it fiercely. Then he wrote in its place:

"The last speaker was our eminent fellow citizen, Mr. George William Smith, who, in crisp and well-chosen sentences, reviewed the subject under discussion, giving to it that clear, well considered and logical treatment which has made Col. Smith one of the foremost orators of our state. The audience dispersed after expressing warm approval of his polished and eloquent utterances."

"There!" said the editor, "that's how to do it."

"But the reporter sullenly retorted: 'The difference between our versions, sir, is the difference between the truth and the false.'"

"No," snorted the editor, "it's the difference between old Smith stopping his paper and cutting me out of seventy-five cents a year, or coming in here and buying one hundred marked copies to send round to his friends."

THE CRATE FATTENING OF POULTRY.

Practical experience has shown that crate feeding is not only a very satisfactory but also an economical method of fattening poultry. The saving in the amount of feed required to produce one pound of gain is quite marked, and the feeder is enabled to observe to greater advantage the progress being made by individual birds. He can also, if necessary curtail the duration of the feeding period in the case of birds which have attained their maximum weight and are ready to be placed in the finishing crate.

Crate fattening cannot with success be carried on in a haphazard way. The feeder requires to understand the principles of what he is at and to give the necessary attention to the details of his work. In order to teach the proper method of feeding poultry in crates the Live Stock Commissioner at Ottawa has prepared a seasonable illustrated pamphlet on the subject which explains clearly the construction of a fattening crate, the constituents and preparation of proper rations, the method of feeding, killing and dressing birds and information regarding packing for market. The work which is designated Pamphlet No. 2 of the Live Stock Branch, is available to all who apply for it while the edition lasts, to the Publication Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

DECLINE SUBSTITUTES

BANE OF THE CIGARETTE.

It has doubtless been a perplexing question to those who have studied it and become interested in it why the use of the cigarette is so pernicious and deadly. The poisonous effects of the cigarette have usually been traced to the nicotine which is common to tobacco in whatever form it may be used. But why should the cigarette be more injurious in its effects than the pipe or the cigar, especially when we are informed that the latter yield more nicotine than the cigarette?

It has been discovered that cigarette yield a substance called furfural belonging to a chemical class called aldehydes, a name which means alcohol deprived of its hydrogen. This substance is entirely absent from cigar smoke, but a single cigarette yields as much of it as two fluid ounces of whiskey. Furfural is reputed to be fifty times as poisonous as ordinary alcohol. Tremors, convulsions, paralysis are results of furfural poisoning. It is extremely irritating to the throat and lungs, causes diseases of the lungs and paves the way to consumption.

Surely a wide knowledge of these facts should give a mighty impetus to the crusade against the cigarette. It is estimated that in the United States 80,000,000 are consumed daily at a cost of over three-quarters of a million dollars. In spite of educational efforts and restrictive laws this use and expense is continually increasing. Japan in 1900 prohibited by law the use of cigarettes by boys under twenty-one years of age. Shall Canada be less wise and more reckless regarding the health and well-being of her young people?

HOW TO AVOID COLD WEATHER DISEASES

To prevent cold weather diseases, put your body into a proper healthy condition to successfully resist them. Colds, gripe, bronchitis, pneumonia, catarrh, typhoid fever, rheumatism and other ailments may be escaped in most cases, if this is done. Build up your health and strength—your nerves and blood and entire body—into such shape that you can count on good health all during the winter months—by taking Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion, the ideal blood, nerve and body builder.

This is a remarkable medicine, but a common-sense one. It doesn't stimulate. So-called "tonics" that stimulate give you no permanent relief; but leave you worse off than before. Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion contains none of these harmful, stimulating ingredients, such as alcohol and dangerous and habit-forming drugs. Its great benefit to you is through its real nerve and blood and body-building effects. It nourishes, builds, strengthens. Its merit does not rest on making you feel better for a few minutes at a time after taking it, but on making you feel better as a result of making you well.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is the ideal blood and nerve-food tonic. You who are weak and run-down, and you who are apparently well now, but are liable to suffer from various cold weather ailments, use Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion to get and keep well and strong. For the tired-out, run-down, nervous, emaciated or debilitated—the convalescing—growing children—aged people—it is sensible aid to renewed strength, better spirits, glowing health.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion—king of the celebrated Rexall Remedies—is for freedom from sickness of you and your family. You'll be as enthusiastic about it as we are when you have noted its pleasant taste, its strengthening, invigorating, building-up, disease-preventing effects. If it does not help you, your money will be given back to you without argument. Sold in this community only at our store, —The Rexall Store—one of more than 7,000 leading drug stores in the United States, Canada and Great Britain. W. A. Warren, Bridgetown.

Albert of Monaco, the manager of the world's greatest gambling establishment, gave the following advice to some Chicago reporters who interviewed: "Don't gamble, young journalists. It makes you unhappy for those who do it. Americans especially should not play for money. They are too reckless. So please don't gamble"—Exchange.

You will find that druggists everywhere speak well of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. They know from long experience in the sale of it in cases of coughs and colds it can always be depended upon, and that it is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all dealers.

Joker's Corner

"I say, caddie, did you ever see a worse player than I?"
 "No, but then, sir, I've only been caddying for four years."

Mother (looking through the magazine)—"Darling, I see from statistics given here that every third baby born in the world is a Chinese."
 Father (fondling his first-born)—"Then, thank God, this is our first."

Pat had been at work for three days digging a pit, and as the foreman wanted it finished within the week he had told Pat he would send another man to help him. It was getting near eleven o'clock, and Towser, the foreman's bulldog, was looking over the edge of the pit, when Pat said to himself, "I'll have a smoke." He had filled his pipe and was about to light it when he glanced up and beheld Towser's features. Slowly removing his pipe from his mouth he said, "Begorra, Oi've wor-rieked wid Germans and Hungarians, and Oi've wor-rieked with Oitallians, but if a man wid a face like that comes down here to work beside me Oi get up!"

ALMOST TOO MUCH.

In the old days of hand composition a printer known from New York to San Francisco as "Pilgrim" Hazlett wandered into a Pennsylvania town and asked the editor of the weekly for a "sit."

"Well," said the editor, "I can put you to work, but I'm afraid I can't pay much money."

"Make me an offer," said the Pilgrim.
 "All right. I can give you two meals a day at my house, you can sleep here in the office on this lounge and I'll take care of your laundry. Then if you need tobacco get it across the street at the grocery. They run an account with us. And up at the brewery you can get a can of beer whenever you like. Besides, I'll pay you four dollars a week. Is that satisfactory?"

"Gosh," said the Pilgrim, after repeating the offer to get it straight in his mind, "if I get all that what do I want with the four dollars?"
 During an Episcopal convention in Boston one of the bishops had an experience he will long remember. He was a portly man, weighing over three hundred pounds. One afternoon while walking through Boston Common he set down on one of the benches to rest. When he attempted to get up, he failed in the effort. He tried again and failed. About this time a little girl, poorly clad, came along and was attracted by the struggles of the bishop. Stepping up to him she exclaimed:
 "Don't you want me to give you a lift?"

The bishop gazed at her in amazement and exclaimed:
 "Why, you can't help me. You are too little."
 "No, I am not," she replied. "I have helped my pa get up many times when he was drunker than you are."

A member of the nobility—a large land owner in Ireland—paid a visit to his Irish estates. His visit was a private affair, and no one was cognizant of it but his own agent. On the first day after his arrival he hired a car to take him over his property. He was unaccompanied, and the journey being a long one, he struck up a conversation with the driver as a means of passing time.

"Who owns these estates?" he queried in a careless tone.
 "Well, yer Honor," said the jarvey "he's a lord—and he's not ov much account; he gets all his money from the poor people here, and spends it with the big people in London, and we never hardly see him."

"Indeed," said the gentleman, "and why do the people put up with such a man?"
 "Faith then," said Paddy, frankly, "I don't know."
 "It's a wonder they don't shoot him," said the nobleman.
 "It is," was the somewhat laconic reply.
 "Come, now, Pat," said the nobleman in an insinuating tone, "tell me really why don't they shoot him?"
 "Well," ventured the jarvey, "it's the way, yer Honor, what's everybody's business is nobody's business, and that's the truth."

SILK HAT CAUSED RIOT.

On Jan. 15, 1797, when John Hetherington emerged from his London haberdashery shop in the Strand wearing a silk hat, he was surrounded by a mob of such proportions that he was arrested and charged before the Lord Mayor with inciting a riot. The constable who arrested him testified that "Hetherington appeared upon the public highway wearing a tall structure, which he called a silk hat, having a shiny lustre, and calculated to frighten timid people. Several women fainted, children screamed, dogs yelped and a young son of Cordwainer Thomas was thrown down by the crowd and broke his right arm." The defendant pleaded that, as an Englishman, he was free to wear any hat he chose, but, nevertheless, was bound over in $2,500 to keep the peace.

TWO NEW USES FOR PAPER.

We often are astonished at the odd uses to which paper can be adapted. The latest articles to be manufactured from paper are policemen's clubs and automobile tires.

An expert mechanic has placed a few clubs made of paper pulp in the hands of New York policemen. So far from being soft, they are as hard as wood and much tougher. Hard heads sometimes break a wooden club, but the paper ones will not break.

A German mechanic has just completed a process by which he has made auto tires from paper, and as far as they have been tested they have been found very satisfactory. It is claimed that they will be more durable than the best rubber tires, and the cost will be greatly reduced.

A bite of this and a taste of that, all day long, dulls the appetite and weakens the digestion.

West Paradise

December 8. Mrs. Lendley Sprowl of Clementavale, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Harry Trimper, a few days last week. Miss Lizzie Quinlan, who has been spending the past few months at her old home in this place, has returned to Dorchester, Mass., to spend the winter with her brother James. Mr. Eugene Poole, while separating two cows that were hooking each other, had the misfortune to have his hand badly gored by the horn of one of them, making a very painful wound. Mr. W. Rymer, who recently purchased a farm in this vicinity, is certainly a model farmer. This year he has raised three thousand bushels of turnips. Mr. Rymer, since coming to this place, has made great improvements, which shows that he is no amateur at farming. A two-year-old steer owned by Mr. Asthur Morse, became wild and unmanageable and remained in the pasture through all the cold and snow of last week, and was not captured until Saturday afternoon, when Roy Sabean, with his dog, caught him after a desperate struggle and got him secured in the barn. Fortunately no one was injured. Miss Pearl Gillis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gillis, was married to Mr. Walter Durling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Zebulon Durling, of West Ingleville, on Tuesday the 2nd inst. The happy couple took the west-bound train for Boston the next day where they intend to live this winter. We wish them all the joy and happiness of a newly wedded life.

Round Hill

December 8. Mr. Crandall Keith returned from Middleton last week. Miss Freda Rice is spending a few days with friends in Bear River. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cunningham went to Fredericton, Monday. Leydon of Halifax, who has been boarding the past month at the residence of Miss E. Simpson, has returned to Digby to resume his duties with the Nova Scotia Construction Company. If you are troubled with chronic constipation, the mild and gentle effect of Chamberlain's Tablets makes them especially suited to your case. For sale by all dealers.

MacKenzie recently, moved here with his family and belongings on Friday, 5th inst., via H. & S. W. We are pleased to see men of Mr. Parks' type moving to our community. Anniversary Division has not been excited this season. It seems that the cause of temperance must be at or about low water in this vicinity. Concerted action is much needed at this time as the action of the government on the Parcel Post question will take place soon, and the rum element wish to send their poisons through the mails. Every temperance man should shout the negative in clarion tones. Let all say "NO!"
