Pope's End Believed to Be Near at Hand

He Sinks Into a Condition of Coma

Cardinals Waiting For Final Summons

"My Hour Has Come, Farewell,"
Exclaims Pontiff to Faithful Valet, Centra.

Sunday, 6.40 p.m.—The following bulletin has just been issued: "The Holy Father spent the day in an almost continuous state of coma; strength more depressed; respiration, 30; pulse, 96; temperature, 36.4."
(Signed), Lapponi, Mazzoni, Rosconi.

9.45 p.m.—The Pope continues in a state of coma and his general condition has not changed.

10.15 p.m.—The Pope has had an attack of delirium. The end is inevitable. Cardinal Vannutelli, Grand Penitentiary, whose duty it is to say prayers for the dying, entered the sick chamber at 9 o'clock this evening. This is believed to indicate that the Pope is in extremis.

Monday, 1.55 a.m.—The condition of the Pope is unchanged and coma continues. It is believed a catastrophe will not occur during the night. A contributing element to the weakness of the Pope has been his inability to take nourishment. When an attempt is made to administer restoratives, he does not swallow them. The Vatican has asked payers for the Pope.

2.45 a.m.—A suspicion has arisen that the change in the Pope's condition is due to blood poisoning, as a result of derangement of the kidneys.

4.05 a.m.—When the Pope is called by his attendants he makes a great effort to arouse himself from the torpor into which he has sunk, but he is soon again overcome.

4.53 a.m.—At this hour it is announced that the condition of the Pontiff is apparently stationary.

Rome, July 20.—(3.30 a.m.)—Now that the supreme hour has moment in the Pope's life and that of the world, the contrast between the quiet within and the excitement without the Vatican is most striking. In the vast palace there is a hushed calm of expectation, the only apparent life being the faint whisper of the Pope's attendants as they move noiselessly about, so that from the sick room no sound comes except the heavy breathing of the unconscious Pope or his occasional gasps.

their faces, and behind which the regular tramp of the Swiss guards can be heard. Many eyes are glued to the window in the Pope's chamber, overlooking the piazzas, while the nearby cafes, especially those with telephones, are crowded. Bicycles ready for use are piled up outside them, and cabs are lingering about in the hope of catching the Observatore Romano, the chief Vatican organ, has received orders to hold itself in readiness to issue almost at a moment's notice a special edition. The only thing wanting to complete the paper is the hour of Pope Leo's death.

IN A STATE OF COMA.

Rome, July 19.—(Midnight)—The Pope lies tonight in a state of coma and there are grave doubts in the minds of his doctors if he will ever completely emerge. His complete dissolution seems to be averted by the reliability of the action of his heart. His pulse, the weak, continues steady. Shortly before midnight, Dr. Lapponi said to the correspondent of the Associated Press:

"The Pope at the present moment is in a state of coma which may be called a condition preceding the last agony, the duration of which it is impossible to forecast, although everything leads to the belief that this condition cannot last. To be more exact, he is still in a state of torpor and stupor, from which, however, he rouses occasionally when he hears sharp sounds, as, for instance, the instant voice of one of his familiars calling loudly to him. Left alone he relapses immediately into a condition of torpor. At intervals he murmurs in his sleep, continuing to have forebodings that he is being abandoned by his valet, Centra, and myself. These are the symptoms of incipient cerebral anaemia and general exhaustion. He can no longer turn in his bed without assistance, and is being kept alive by artificial stimulants. During the twenty-three hours he has had two injections of camphorated oil, three of caffeine and two hypodermics of salt, besides drinking stimulants."

Mr. Bisolotti, master of the Pope's chamber, said early in the evening that the pulse had not shown symptoms of being intermittent. Despite his weakness and coma, he believed he would survive the night and possibly to-morrow.

Preparing for the End.

Both the Italian government and the authorities of the Vatican have made final preparations for the Pope's death. The government is rigidly censoring all telegrams and telephonic communications bearing on the death of the Pope. At this hour but few people remain at the Vatican. Dr. Mazzoni and Dr. Rosconi and the cardinals have gone to their homes to await the last urgent summons.

After the Pope added to the gravity of the reports from the sick room of the Pontiff until all Rome waited almost in breath for the announcement of his death. After the state of depression which seized the Pope during the latter part of the night, his condition was steadily downward, and throughout the day the most intense anxiety prevailed. For the first time also, the weather was strongly against him. A blistering heat fell upon the city and the great piazza of St. Peter's took up the fierce sun and threw his back against the Vatican until it was like a fiery furnace.

Spent Restless Night.

The Pope had spent a restless night, sleeping only at short intervals, and even then his sleep was agitated. Dr. Lapponi remained in the sick room through the night. At the morning conference the physicians noticed a distinct change for the worse, particularly in the accelerated pulse, which had risen to 98 after remaining for many days between 88 and 90. The distinguished patient appeared to have lost all of that vitality which he has hitherto so remarkably maintained. He appeared pitifully to those about him, asking not to be left alone. His mental vigor was nearly exhausted, he again asked that his bed be celebrated. This was performed in the room adjoining that in which he has been lying, with his eyes closed. But occasionally he started up and cried out as the fear. Gradually, however, his sleep became heavier and assumed a condition of semi-consciousness or torpor.

After noon there was hardly any revival from this continued state of torpor, and the doctors remained continuously at attention.

Excitement in City.

The critical condition of the Pontiff has caused intense excitement through the city. When the state of coma first broke, the doctors formally communicated the gravity of the condition of His Holiness to Cardinal Rampolla, who in turn advised the cardinals of the sacred college. At the same time the general public became aware of the alarming change in the Pope's condition through the various agencies of the church and members of the diplomatic corps, making anxious enquiries.

Two wire rumors of the death of the Pontiff had gained circulation. The cardinals and diplomats upon their arrival in Rome were informed of the Vatican situation, but many of them left upon the assurance that the rumors of the Pope's death were untrue.

The condition of coma was interrupted shortly after sunset. Cardinal Vives y Tuto and Mr. Pifferi, the Pope's confessor, were the first to enter the sick room. When they began to read the Latin prayers the familiar sound of the language which Leo XIII. loved so well penetrated to his couch. The Pope seemed roused from his stupor and showed signs of consciousness. He lifted his head. Cardinal Vives y Tuto took advantage of the opportunity to approach the bed and tell the Pontiff that the cardinals were in the ante-chamber.

"I, myself," said he, "desire to have your benediction."

Gave Pontifical Blessing.

The Pope with a great effort raised a trembling hand and in an almost incredible voice between long pauses gave the pontifical blessing. The Vatican was lit up by the light of the Pontiff's torch, however, appeared to have been too much for him and he fell back into a state of unconsciousness.

Among the cardinals who came to the Vatican today was Cardinal Oreglia, dean of the sacred college, upon whom will fall the chief duty.

UNION BOUND TO COME.

Methodist Churches in England Take Steps Toward Amalgamation.

London, July 19.—The Methodist churches have taken a further important step towards amalgamation by the unanimous adoption of a resolution at the Methodist Free Church Conference at Sunderland. This resolution affects 781 ministers and 133,485 members. The body of the churches is strengthening the amalgamation movement among the Wesleyan Methodists, who include 2,484 ministers and 491,498 members. "Unions may not come for years," said a leading Wesleyan yesterday, "but it is bound to come before long."

AFTER BETTER TERMS.

Montreal, July 19.—British Columbia is after better terms, or as the Western ministers put it, a readjustment of the financial relations between the Dominion and the Pacific province. Hon. Messrs. Wilson, president of the council, and Green, Commissioner of Mines, members of the McBride ministry, are in this city. They state that they have made representations to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues and were well received, although they could give no details until they had first submitted a report on their mission to the Lieutenant-Governor.

JUMPED INTO THE RIVER.

Elmira, N. Y., July 19.—Mrs. Adeline Cheney, who was visiting her sisters, the Misses Hull in Owego, arose early this morning and made her way to the Susquehanna River, where she jumped into the water and was drowned. The body, fully dressed, was found near the steamboat dock.

DON'T WANT THE ROAD.

Montreal, July 19.—General Manager Hays declines once and for all the statement that the Grand Trunk has purchased the "Clover Leaf," or the Toronto, St. Louis and Western. They do not want the road, Mr. Hays says, and have never been after it.

WILL RATIFY TREATY.

Panama, July 19.—Reliable information received here from Bogota says that it appears probable that the canal treaty will be ratified, making the sum payable to Colombia by the United States $25,000,000 instead of $10,000,000, as proposed by the treaty. Cable communication with the capital has been interrupted since Friday.

Two Lynched and Several Prominent Cattlemen Are Being Pursued.

Butte, Mont., July 19.—A despatch from Red Lodge, Mont., says: Jim Gorman, who killed his brother about a year ago and ran off with his brother's wife, and a man named Walters, who killed a widow named Hoover at the Hot Springs two years ago, because she refused to marry him, were lynched at Basin, Wyoming, today. C. E. Pierce, a deputy sheriff, was killed during the attack on the jail.

Lawlessness now prevails in Northern Wyoming as a result. Sheriff Fenton of Big Horn County has appealed to the governor for military assistance. He has one remaining for many days between 88 and 90. The distinguished patient appeared to have lost all of that vitality which he has hitherto so remarkably maintained. He appeared pitifully to those about him, asking not to be left alone. SIXTY SCOTCH MOULDERS

ARRIVE AT THE PLANT

Learning of the Strike They Refuse to Work and Some Will Return.

Toronto Junction, July 19.—Sixty members of the Scottish Society of Iron Moulders, who arrived at Quebec by the Lake Erie on Friday, got to Toronto Saturday evening, and, finding that there was trouble in the Canada Foundry Company's works, asked for a meeting with Union No. 28 of the International Iron Moulders' Union for an explanation.

The meeting was held this afternoon in the mechanical department of the Canada Foundry Company, and was attended by the committee from No. 28, a resolution was passed to the effect that none of them would work for the Canada Foundry Company so long as the strike lasts.

Many of the men will return to Quebec, while others will seek other employment. The meeting this afternoon was attended by about 300 men.

Company Deaf Knowledge.

Upon the arrival of the mechanics at Toronto, the International Iron Moulders' Union here received a telegram from their agent there advising them that the men had arrived from Scotland for the Canada Foundry Company. The Foundry Company were at once notified by telephone, but denied any knowledge of the matter. The men, however, being engaged for the work, they asked, however, that the Immigration Department be given the opportunity of reaching the city. This department refused to do so. No authority had been given to the men to return to the plant of labor hired by private corporations.

Bitter Fight Stages.

D. C. Graeme-Hunter of Scotland, who accompanied the 170 Scotch mechanics for the Canada Foundry Company, and who is one of the largest iron and steel contractors in the country, was interviewed at the King Edward Hotel last night. While reticent as to the situation between the striking moulders and the Canada Foundry Company, sufficient was gathered from his remarks to indicate that a fight of bitter character is just getting started. There is every reason to believe that the Canada Foundry Company's premises are under the control of the strikers, and that the men are in a state of siege.

WALLACE AND AMES.

St. Thomas Paper Says That the Two Men Are Not Friendly.

St. Thomas, Ont., July 19.—A. McCrimmon, late solicitor for the Atlas Loan Company, in a long letter to the press of this city, yesterday, defends his position in reply to statements made by Mr. Hunt, one of the shareholders of the Atlas firm.

After explaining how the shareholders had seen fit to supersede him and appoint a Toronto solicitor, Mr. McCrimmon says: "I must say that I have been and am now taking a hand in their interests, and I would advise to strengthen the hands of their late manager, no matter how misguided he may have been. Let Mr. Hunt and the rest stand at his back to a man while he is in Toronto fighting in his own interests, in their interests and the interests of justice and fair play, an unequal battle against tremendous power and influence."

Mr. McCrimmon says, A. E. Wallace is in Toronto fighting an unequal battle against tremendous power and influence. Wallace is trying to get rid of Mr. Wallace and take over the firm. The Daily Times here, commenting on the letter, says: "If Mr. Wallace has lost his connection with Ames & Co., one would imagine that his interests and those of the Atlas would best be served by remaining with Ames & Co., which is again doing business with good prospects."

EUROPE GAME OF CHANCE

ONLY PROFESSIONAL COURT

Conviction of Hotel Keeper Upheld, With Mr. Justice MacMahon Dissenting.

The Divisional Court has upheld the conviction of Hotel-keeper Laird of Ingersoll, who was fined $5 and costs for allowing a game of chance to be played on his premises. Laird was away from home at the time, but some guests were playing euchre for amusement in a sun room.

The matter was heard by Chancellor Boyd and Justices Ferguson and MacMahon. In his judgment, Mr. Justice MacMahon dissents from the view of the majority and says that euchre is a game of skill as much as whist is, and, in addition, a regulation which forbids the playing of such a game is unreasonable and beyond the power of the Police Commissioners.

Took Unauthorized Fees. James Muir, Justice of the Peace at Port Elgin, had a judgment of $80 recovered against him for taking unauthorized fees from a complainant, a Mrs. McMillan. She then brought suit to recover penalties, and the County Judge found in her favor. The Divisional Court, however, has now reduced the amount to $150, the actual charge on the complaint, and the penalty for excessive fees does not cover this case, where no fees at all were charged.

Injunctions Continued. Mr. Justice MacMahon granted Saturday that the injunctions in the well-known case of J. J. Coleman Goes to Muskoka. Frank C. Cooke has been retained by the author of Toronto, to examine the book before Special Examiner Price. Acting on the advice of his counsel, Mr. Colman refused to answer any of the questions put to him regarding his alleged authorship of the book. He has taken a trip to Muskoka.
