POICE CALLED UPON TO STOP STREET CARS CRISIS AT THE JUNCTION

Company Attempts to Run Cars on Disputed Territory and Police
Have to Hang on Fender to Save Themselves.

The majesty of the law defied by an irate roadmaster and his representatives forced to climb on the car fender to avoid being run down—such was the exciting incident witnessed at the corner of Keele and Dundas-streets, Toronto Junction, about 3.30 yesterday afternoon.

The trouble with the railway arose out of the refusal of the Toronto Railway Co. when the tracks east of Keele-st. were to be raised. The town officials asked the Suburban Company to assist in raising the tracks and replacing them in proper shape during the paving operations. The town also wanted the railway company to construct a loop from Dundas-street along Keele to Annette-street and back along Annette-street to Dundas-street, to get rid of the "Y" junction at Keele-street.

The company agreed to all these demands and even promised to furnish the rails for the loop, on condition that the town grant the railway company a 25-year franchise over certain streets along which the proposed Brampton & Swanton routes would pass. This the town refused to do.

Yesterday the company began to run its cars on forbidden ground. When the trouble began a crowd of about 10 persons had congregated with Chief of Police Plimpton, Sergeant Peters and Constables Armstrong, Whetter, Dill and Ford as central figures, all of whom appeared in an official and determined mood.

Got Free Ride.

The headlight of a Lambton car appeared on west Dundas-street and Chief Plimpton and Sgt. Peters planted themselves on the tracks in front of Billy Duncan's store.

The car came to Keele-street and then past the corner till the motorist encountered the police. The car stopped and the police remained with their right hands uplifted in awe-inspiring fashion.

"Why don't you go on?" shouted Dan Kinsman, the roadmaster.

"I'm not going to run over a policeman and get myself arrested," retorted the motorist.

The motorist was then put off by the controller handle and started the car right on the police.

Chief Plimpton jumped aside and got on the car step, while Sgt. Peters and Street Foreman Moon jumped on the fender. A mistle might have been the result, but the trouble was over before it had begun.

The sympathy of the crowd was entirely with the officials, who demanded the arrest of the roadmaster.

Manager's Threats.

Manager Royce appeared on the scene and told the councilmen and police that he would hold every one of them personally responsible if they interfered with the cars. In spite of these threats, however, the police continued to stop the cars.

Manager Royce then threatened to sue the councilmen and police for obstructing his business. He threatened to sue the councilmen and police for obstructing his business.

Trying to Smash Agreement.

Mayor Baird said: "This effort by the Suburban Railway Co. to run cars on the tracks of the Toronto Suburban Railway Co. is a bold attempt to put an end to the existing agreement between the town, the Toronto Railway Co. and the Suburban Railway Co."

The application now pending before the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, which comes up for a hearing on Wednesday next, will be fought to a finish. The question is not merely to construe a certain agreement, but to decide the rights of the people on the one side and the claims of a craftily-managed company on the other.

Ignoring Citizens' Rights.

If Mr. Fleming's attitude has the endorsement of the directors of the Toronto Railway Co., it shows these gentlemen to be possessed of a very different regard for the rights and convenience of the public. I have every hope and fully believe that the town's application before the railway board will be successful and that within the next ten days the Toronto Railway Co. will be forced to run its cars to Keele-street.

Councillor Armstrong took an active interest in the proceedings and was

JANUARY DAISIES.

The World acknowledges with pleasure the receipt of several very pretty little pink daisies, with all their summer beauty, accompanied by the following note:

Dear Sir,—Enclosed you will find a flower. I picked it in my garden just a few minutes ago. I have no covering on them and they have been exposed to all this winter's cold. We have not had very much cold weather, but still I think it has been cold enough to destroy all flowers. Well, I must close. I remain,
Your friend,
Violet Moody.

determined to prevent the cars from passing the intersection. "We are opposed," said he, "to seeing these cars run till the case pending in court is settled. Mr. Royce this morning gave me a letter saying that he had no intention of having the cars run to Humberside-avenue, and within six hours after he made the statement the cars were running."

Councillor Whetter was on the war-path, too. "I'll fight Royce every inch of the way in this matter," said he. "He'll never run these cars past Keele-street if I can prevent it."

Citizen John Brown, who is a town authority on railway affairs, stated that he saw trouble ahead for the Toronto Suburban Railway Co.

Manager's Version.

Manager Royce of the Suburban Co. stated to the World that he considered the action of the town officials perfectly unwarranted.

"I told the councilmen and Chief of Police Plimpton that I would not run cars on the tracks of the Toronto Suburban Railway Co. unless I had a written order from anyone to stop the cars, I had nothing out of me from one councilman and I didn't think he had any authority to interfere in the matter at all."

"Our agreement with the 'Toronto Suburban' was that when they cease running their cars between Keele-street and Humberside we commence to run ours. Only yesterday I received a written notice from the Toronto Railway Co. stating that they would not resume the service to Keele-street. Knowing our agreement, and conscious of the fact that we were over three months have been losing business by the existing state of affairs (people from Weston and Lambton having to walk to and from Humberside-avenue), I decided to continue our routes to make connection with the city cars at Humberside."

Glad to Everything.

"We own the franchise over the route disputed and we own the rails; the Toronto Railway Co. were operating over this distance thru courtesy on our part, which did not, however, bring us one cent of revenue. I think the interference of the police and town officials was quite uncalled for. The mob was there, however, and expected to be amused, and I suppose the officials thought it best to furnish the amusement. I have placed the matter in the hands of Rennie and Henderson, the company's solicitors."

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 2.—(Special.)—Michael Hurley of Ottawa was reunited with his sister, Mrs. Ellen Griffin, of Boston to-day, after 58 years of separation. Mrs. Griffin believed her brother drowned over sixty years ago when logging in Canada, and could not believe him alive when presented his claims.

When investigation proved the truth she nearly fainted, and the scene was most affecting. They embraced and wept together. Mr. Hurley has been searching for his sister for a long time. He was once a wood chopper, but now is a prosperous farmer near Ottawa, and his sister is also in good circumstances.

CAMPAGN FUND? NONSENSE!

Sir Henry Pellatt Knows Nothing of Expenditures by an Electrical "Ring."

Some money spending, Sir Henry referred to such an idea as nonsense. At any rate the printing of circulars, mailing of papers, bill printing, etc., by the anti-bylaw support must have cost between $15,000 and $20,000.

At room 43 in the Arcade yesterday, the campaign headquarters of the ring, between 80 and 100 men, who had worked as canvassers, etc., for the "ring," were on hand to get the money, but expected it at any moment. The men became restless and a constable was sent up to keep order. About four o'clock the money arrived and in two and three the men were paid. Many received $80 for their three weeks' work. Others $45. This item alone is said to have cost the company $7500.

AN EX-EMPLOYEE TEELS ABOUT GRAFT

Wm. Jordan Says City
Paid for Work Done
for Private Parties
--Some Missing
Books.

William Jordan, one of the first men to formulate his charges against Park Commissioner Chambers, was called as a witness before Judge Winchester yesterday afternoon. Mr. Chambers himself was unable to be present, as he is suffering from a severe attack of bronchitis and fainting in a cab on his way to the city hall in the morning.

Mr. Jordan first told of his extended experience in England as a gardener. He joined the parks department in Toronto in June, 1906, and remained with it until August, 1907. Since then he has made his home in Olean, N.Y.

He was employed in pruning the city's trees, having been connected with several of the gangs engaged in this work, among them those under Taylor and Wright. He had also done occasional work at Alexandra Park, Allan Gardens, Exhibition Park, and the city nurseries.

Jordan told how, at Christmas, 1906, he had seen Arthur Chambers and a man named "Good" doing up plants in boxes for different people in Toronto, including Messrs. McBride and Hubbard. The flowers were worth from $2 to $5.

In regard to park employees working in city time on outside properties, one occasion recollected by Jordan was when he had charge of a gang of men and did the sodding around the house at the southwest corner of Church and Dundas-streets.

Two's a Friendly Deed.

"This is for a friend of the 'Gov's,'" Woodall had said to him, "and you must make a good job of it." Jordan had supposed "the gov." to mean the commissioner. The work took some days and he received his pay from the city as usual.

The witness also said that he knew of several occasions when men were sent out with rose bushes from the city nurseries to plant in private gardens. When asked for names, he could only recall McBride.

At one time he had made up a shipment of shrubs at the city nurseries which had been sent to someone in Cobourg. He estimated the value at $50.

Jordan also described the vegetable gardens kept at the Exhibition Park by the commissioner. He had seen 10,000 heads of celeriac growing there at one time. Cauliflowers, potatoes and celeriac.

OTTAWA, Jan. 2.—(Special.)—The Canadian half-cent of the Royal Mint was formally opened this afternoon by Earl Grey before a gathering of three hundred. The governor-general turned the wheel which struck the first silver coin. It was a fifty-cent piece and was presented to Countess Grey.

Immediately after the ceremony a cablegram was sent to the deputy master of the royal mint, notifying him that the Ottawa mint had been set on operation.

It has been found that gold and silver, which comes from the smelter, cannot be relied upon as being of the proper degree of purity, and so the announcement is made that there will be a refinery constructed in connection with the mint. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $15,000.

WESTERN ONTARIO WANTS POWER "ANTIS" BUSY IN GALT AND IN LONDON PROSPECTS FOR BYLAWS BRIGHT

POWER FOR POWER—Old Man Ontario: Congratulations, James. The cheap power you're giving me will be repaid in the long power I'll give you.

Indications Are That the Beck Program Will Be Heartily Endorsed--Toronto's Verdict a Great Uplift.

Toronto is not alone interested in Niagara power. These other municipalities in Western Ontario are also asked on Monday next to endorse by-laws: Hamilton, London, Brantford, Galt, Guelph, St. Thomas, Stratford, Berlin, St. Mary's, Woodstock, Waterloo, Hespeler, Ingersoll and New Hamburg.

"Guelph will follow Toronto's example and carry the power bylaw ten to one," said Ald. Lyon, secretary of the Ontario Municipalities Association, to the World last night.

"As far as my survey of this city goes," said Ald. Lyon, "the bylaw will receive majorities in every polling subdivision."

"The association has been confining its energies to the municipalities outside of the city. It is difficult to look after the city and the city council and the board of trade. Mayor Bowyer was in the chair and he was supported by President Sanderson of the board of trade and Ald. Norman Andrews, chairman of the city finance committee; J. H. Fryer, Galt, chairman of the Western Power Union, was also present.

Ald. Baird voiced the feeling which is evidently not uncommon in Brantford, that other towns and cities with cheaper power facilities are after the power. It is difficult to see how they are planning at Port Arthur and Fort William for cheap power from Kakabeka Falls, and at Kenora and a dozen other places where they have water power, to cut out Brantford.

"They will sweep Brantford out of existence if we don't plan some scheme like the Beck policy to get power at cost and enable our citizens to compete with outside places," he said.

Geo. S. Matthews, the packer, spoke in the same vein. Brantford, he said, was not the only place to go to. If citizens kept their eyes open they would see that Merritt, St. Catharines and other towns near Niagara were getting more manufacturers than anywhere else in the country. If Brantford did not get cheap power it would not be many years till it was a place in the woods.

"It's all very well to shake hands with ourselves and say this is a fine place for business. It's no such thing. I don't want to knock Brantford, but it has no water front, for one thing, and freight rates are high. We must have something like cheap power to offer as a counter-attraction," he warned.

City Solicitor Wilkes spoke as a property owner and ratepayer, pointing out the advantages of getting power at cost. Acting in his own interest he was prepared to pay a share of the cost if there was any to be paid. The cheaper power the more valuable city property would become.

Argument of the Opposition.

Ex-Mayor Elliott endorsed the scheme, as did George Elliott and apparently nearly all the audience except half a dozen. C. B. Heyd, ex-M.P. for the city, was the leader among these. He told the World man afterwards that he would vote against the bylaw, not because the Beck scheme was not all right, but because he doubted the

GREAT BRITAIN HORRIFIED OVER RACE RIOTS

Trouble in Transvaal and Canada Cause of Concern--A Grave Imperial Problem.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Great Britain is experiencing what might well be called an almost startling awakening to the grave problems caused by the immigration of Asiatics to her white colonies. The principal political topic for a week past has been the situation in the Transvaal, where several thousand Indians and Chinese were given the alternative of submitting to what they consider a degrading system of registration or of being imprisoned or expelled.

The reports of further racial rioting at Vancouver come at a particular inopportune time on to the Pacific coast. Officials have hoped that the Japanese emigration would soften the anti-Japanese prejudices in the Pacific coast. The latest outbreak in Japan may excite popular feeling in Canada and impede the efforts of the Japanese government to conclude friendly arrangements with America and Canada.

Outbreak at Vancouver.

If anything was needed, however, to stress upon England the seriousness of the race question, it was another outbreak in Canada, following the Transvaal trouble. It is recognized that the question is most serious for Great Britain than for America, because the Indians are British subjects and the Japanese are Great Britain's allies.

The Transvaal has temporarily refrained from taking measures against those Indians who have refused to register, other than to deny them the traders' licenses, all of which expired on December 31. It is proposed, however, to execute the law in a few days. Two thousand Indians, a part of the Transvaal mob recently in Johannesburg and voted to refuse to submit to the law.

Prominent Indians in England are writing to the newspapers to complain that their compatriots in the white colonies were worse off than the Indians who have the diplomatic protection of their government. They predict a weakening of the loyalty of the Indian Empire.

Paris Paper Scents War.

PARIS, Jan. 2.—Some of the Paris newspapers, notably the Matin, which have been giving considerable prominence to the American-Japanese "war scare," have taken the cable reports of Japan's refusal to accept the American conditions in the matter of immigration together with the decision of the navy department to keep the torpedo boat flotilla in the Pacific, together for fresh alarm. The Matin regards the coincidence of these two facts as highly suggestive and expresses the opinion that Japan intends to press for a diplomatic explosion. The paper asserts the situation is almost analogous to that which existed before the Russo-Japanese war.

A CANADIAN MEMBER'S SEARCH FOR SISTER'S BOY

Interesting Little Romance Disclosed When Little Fellow is Located in Orphanage.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Jan. 2.—(Special.)—Leo McClure, a boy of 12 years, who, since his mother died last August, has been an inmate of the Brightside Orphanage, was found today by his uncle, Hon. J. D. Pepin, a member of the Canadian Senate, after a search lasting several weeks.

Mr. Pepin lives in Ottawa, and he will take his nephew back home with him tomorrow morning.

The story of the search and the finding of the boy reads like a romance. Fourteen years ago Mr. Pepin's daughter, who then lived at Richmond, Quebec, with a poor young man with whom she was in love, to escape marrying a wealthy young man to whom she was engaged, they settled in Holyoke, and just after their son Leo was born the father died. The mother was too proud to write home for assistance and secured a position in a Holyoke store. Last summer she was taken ill and in August died. Then it was that the boy was taken to the Brightside institution.

News of his sister's death finally reached Mr. Pepin in Canada and since then he has been endeavoring to trace his young nephew. He came to Springfield yesterday and his search was rewarded today.

EXPLOSION IN FACTORY KILLED TWO WOMEN

One Other is Seriously Injured;
Another, Unhurt, Was Blown
Thru Window.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Jan. 2.—In an explosion which wrecked a building of the Rochester Fireworks Co. to-day, one young woman, Sadie Ernst, 30 years of age, was instantly killed; a second, Mrs. Lillian O'Connor, 28 years of age, recently married, was so badly injured that she died at the homeopathic hospital a short time after being taken there, and a third, May Callaghan, was seriously burned, but is expected to recover. Six young women were working in the wrecked building, a much smaller number than are often employed. One of them that escaped was blown thru a window, but was little injured.

The explosion occurred in the finishing room of a building of the company's plant on East Main-street. The building was a low, one-story structure, and the force of the explosion blew out one side of it and caused the roof to fall in.

The cause of the explosion is yet unknown.

HAMILTON CITIZENS ALIVE TO SITUATION

Mr. McNaught Says City Should Own Everything That Constitutes a Monopoly—General News.

HAMILTON, Jan. 2.—(Special).—Tonight W. K. McNaught, M.L.A., a member of the hydro-electric commission, addressed a cheap power meeting in the east end. Aid. Sweeney presided, and other speakers were Mayor Stewart and Allan Studholme, M.L.A. Mr. McNaught pressed the opinion that the people were alive to the situation and the effect of the success of the bylaw on Monday next in the cities and towns where the poll tax will take place to work an industrial revolution in Ontario. He showed that Ontario is at present handicapped by its dependence on the coal fields of the United States, but this is offset by the great advantage we have in the possession of the Niagara power, of the equivalent value of $120,000,000 of coal. There are 6,000,000 of horse-power going to waste in the water falls of Ontario, and the new Niagara power will make our manufacturers independent of the coal barons of the United States. Mr. McNaught believed that in a few years every railway in Ontario will be electrically propelled.

"We would be keeping in Ontario the nine million dollars paid for coal a year. The advantage to the manufacturer would be a saving of 5 to 15 per cent. in the cost of production, and in the case of electro-chemical products from 30 to 40 per cent. Cheap power had attracted 70 industries with a capital of $140,000,000 in the vicinity of Tonawanda, and a company at the falls figured on the saving of $400,000 a year, thru cheap power.

The commission mentioned that Hamilton had 290 industries with a combined capital of $23,389,000; with an annual output of $85,000,000. The operators earning annually $6,000,000. The city could not afford to miss the opportunity of availing itself of power at cost price.

Should Keep Out Monopoly. Mr. McNaught was of the opinion that the city should own and operate everything that constituted a monopoly. He showed what the people of Ontario had gained by expropriating the private electric plant. He compared the situation there with Montreal, where a private company charged all the people could stand. An auditor asked if it would be necessary to have an auxiliary steam plant in case of accidents, but Mr. McNaught said at Syracuse, 20 miles from Hamilton, Falls, the industries had been up to half an hour in a year, the power being supplied by the Ontario Power Company. He added that the government transmission line would be up-to-date and thoroughly efficient.

Twelve aldermanic candidates spoke in favor of the bylaw. The campaign will be brought to a close to-morrow night, when a meeting will be held in Association Hall, P. W. Ellis of Toronto will speak, and Mayor Stewart has also invited W. P. Maclean, M.P., Education Committee.

The internal management committee of the board of education this evening granted Miss Jeanette Lewis permission to place theatre tickets for sale at the schools in aid of her scheme to raise $12,000 for a Sick Children's Hospital. Neither D. Lewis was appointed sewing teacher at a salary of $300 a year. The pay of Thos. Good, caretaker of the Queen Victoria school, was raised from $675 to $900 a year.

The Conservative aldermanic candidates met at a meeting in the Twentieth Century Club this evening.

George Antcoe, accused of stabbing Stephen Knight, was remanded for a week, this morning.

Small Fire Loses.

The annual report of Chief Tenenick shows that the total damage done by fire last year amounted to only $65,000.

The price of wheat on the local market went up from 92 cents to 94 cents a bushel to-day.

Duncan McIntosh, who stole a bottle of acetic from Dr. Laughlin's office and administered some of it to Roy Wyatt, was this morning sent down for four months by Judge Monk for the theft, but was allowed to go with a warning on the charge of administering it to the boy.

Col. Gibson has indicated that Mayor Stewart apologizes for his assertion that the Cataract Company is receiving stolen goods in connection with the street lighting contract, the members of the company will sue him.

The annual report of Dr. Roberts, of the medical health officer, shows that there were 64 deaths from consumption during the year, or more than from all other contagious diseases combined, and 50 deaths from cancer.

Of Interest to Women

Presented Ensign.

A pleasing function was held at the Toronto Hospital for incurables on Tuesday afternoon, when the 48th Highlanders' Chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, presented a handsome red ensign to the institution. Mrs. John I. Davidson, in making the presentation, said that the order was desirous of showing their sympathy with the object of the hospital and interest in its success and prosperity. In accepting the flag on behalf of the board of management, Ambrose Kent, in a few well chosen words thanked the ladies for their splendid gift, and assured them of the patriotism of the inmates and also of their appreciation of the generosity of the chapter. The institution considers itself honored in being the recipient of the first gift made by this chapter since its inauguration.

Queen of Parade.

PASADENA, Cal., Jan. 2.—Pasadena's annual tournament of roses was held today. Fifty thousand visitors from Southern California were present. The floral parade, the greatest feature of the tournament, was headed by the Queen of Roses and her court, Miss Sutton, the world's tennis champion, was queen. The float in which she rode was a marvelous creation of flowers. The parade extended four miles. Upward of 70,000 persons lined the route of march.

SUICIDE ON INCREASE.

In 1907, There Were 10,782 Who Sought Death.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 2.—Suicides in the United States continue to increase, as they have done for several years past, and also continue in excess of other forms of violent death. The number for 1907 was 10,782, according to reports from all sections of the country.

Until 1906 about twice as many men committed suicide as women, but last year there were nearly three times as many men and this year there are more than three times as many, the record showing 5188 men and 2694 women suicides.

Causes were as follows: Despondency, 4088; insanity, 1010; domestic infelicity, 2172; disappointment in love, 1218; ill health, 851; liquor, 498; business losses, 123; unknown, 786.

In killing themselves 597 took poison and 381 used revolvers. Besides these, 1154 used the rope, 974 drowned themselves, 801 cut their throats, 85 threw themselves from heights, 40 stabbed themselves, 81 jumped from windows or roofs, 6 blew themselves up with dynamite, and 2 starved themselves to death.

There were fewer lynchings in 1907 than in the last twenty years. The total is 63, as compared with 69 in 1906.

RHEUMATISM IS NOW OVERCOME BY MIXTURE

Anyone Can Mix This Simple Prescription, Which Is Said to Promptly Relieve This Dread Disease.

Recent hospital reports show that the dread disease, rheumatism, is steadily increasing throughout the country. All known means of relief are being resorted to, but with little amount of suffering this winter, especially among those who are not in a position to pack up and visit the noted health resorts to be treated.

Recent tests prove rheumatism not exactly a disease of itself, but a severe symptom of kidney trouble, a condition caused by clogged up pores of the eliminative tissues in the kidneys which fail to filter the poisonous waste matter and uric acid from the blood, permitting these substances to remain in the veins and decompose, usually settling about the joints and muscles, causing the intense pain, swelling and stiffness of rheumatism.

There are numerous remedies known before which the bridegroom stood. He was suffering—calves of soda, colic, colic, potash, etc.—but these drugs are terribly hard on the stomach, often ruining the most delicate organs, and they fall as often as they relieve.

A well-known specialist, who has probably treated more cases of rheumatism than anyone else, and who is also the author of a book on the subject, says: "The ingredients are: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Go to any good prescription pharmacy and get these three vegetable ingredients and mix them with a little water, and you have a dose as a teaspoonful after each meal and again at bedtime."

There is nothing to begette the world for headache, kidney and bladder trouble, too. Such symptoms as frequent and painful urination, soreness, burning, etc., are caused by certain acids and poisonous waste matter, decayed tissue, etc., in the blood, which the kidneys will clear up and purify after a few doses of this prescription.

Down Go Umbrella Prices.

At eight o'clock to-morrow morning the ladies of Toronto get the opportunity of a life time to buy umbrellas at less than the cost of the handles. The shrewd buyers, who actually know umbrella values, will welcome this sale. One never has many umbrellas, and when an opportunity such as this presents itself, the farsighted shopper buys for future use. These umbrellas have handles of silver and pearl and velvet, and the finest holiday goods, selling all along at $5. To-morrow the ladies of the city may pick and choose to their hearts' content, and take the umbrella they like best away with them for $2.95.

Sellers-Gough Fur Sale.

An emphatic demonstration of the power of low prices is seen daily at the fur store of Sellers-Gough & Co. by the large numbers of people attending the January clearing sale. There is no pretence about this sale. It is a legitimate effort to reduce the big stock of furs to make way for goods that are at this moment in the customs.

Thousands of dollars' worth of new furs will arrive from foreign countries during this month's consignments purchased on Mr. Sellers' recent trip abroad. In order to make room and keep the big staff of work people busy the present stock "must go." All day yesterday there were crowds of buyers. There will be crowds again to-day for the price cuts have been extravagant. If you appreciate quality in furs, at tremendous reductions, look for the advt. appearing in our advertising columns.

A Square Piano for $40.00.

Forty dollars is all that is asked for a second-hand square piano by the old firm of Holmstrom & Co. Limited, 115-117 King-st. West, Toronto. It is in excellent condition for a practice piano, and will be sold on small weekly or monthly payments to suit the purchaser.

Teamsters Support Tenants.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—There will be no teamsters to move the goods of the striking tenants on the East Side if the strikers' notices are served on them, according to an announcement to-day from the strikers headquarters.

The anti-high rent league now claims to have organized the occupants of over 1000 houses and to have secured reductions 50 per cent for 250 tenants.

Falls 150 Feet; Little Hurt.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—After falling 150 feet from the Blackwell's Island bridge in the East River to-day, Harry Smith swam ashore not seriously harmed. Smith was at work on the bridge.

The appointment of two Catholic teachers to public school kindergarten will be made by the board of education.

INSPECTION OF BREAD AT SOURCE OF SUPPLY

Change in Method Suggested by Magistrate, in Fining for Short Weight

The Borthwick Baking Company and George Lawrence were convicted before Magistrate Kingsford yesterday afternoon of selling bread below weight, contrary to the city bylaw. The former was fined $30 and the latter $20, both without costs.

Several cases were called, but E. A. DuVernet, representing the Bread-makers' Association, raised the point that the city bylaw could only apply to bread which was not locketed. If bread, he argued, was labeled as being of a certain weight and was found to be under that weight, it was a case of fraud and could not come under the city bylaw. In order that he might consider several cases until Jan. 7.

The first case taken up was one against J. D. Neumann, John Turnball, vice-president of the company, said that the bread was scaled by machine. Each loaf should weigh 22 ounces, and there was a man whose duty it was to see that it was of proper weight. The fire might make a difference in the weight of the loaf of one or two ounces. The loaf when baked should weigh 20 ounces, but it was impossible to fix upon certain margin which would make impossible short weight in the baked loaf.

"Is there any objection to stamping the weight on a loaf instead of pasting a label on it?" asked his worship. "No statutory objection," said Dr. Sheard, who explained to the court the iniquities of the label system. By means of it the size of the loaf was reduced from 4 pounds to 2, and then to 18 ounces.

George Weston, who was present, said that 10 years ago, bakers were paying $2.45 for fall flour and $3.22 for patent flour. Now they were paying $4.50 and $5.50. Wages and other expenses had also increased.

Dr. Sheard remarked that ten years ago with a four-pound loaf the bakers got 64 loaves out of a barrel of flour. Now with a three-pound loaf they made 89.

If it is a fact that this label business enables the bakers to make larger profits, the sooner the community knows it the better," said his worship. "However, there seems to be some defect in the system of inspection. I do not mean that the present inspector does not do his duty, but that there is an inspection at the source of supply."

Mr. DuVernet agreed. "The manufacturers," he said, "should offer evidence in order that the bread can be inspected before it goes out."

The magistrate had already entered conviction and a $20 fine in his book when W. E. Middleton raised the point that Mr. Neumann was only president of the company and could not be held responsible for the act of another official of the company. The case was adjourned in order that the information might be obtained from the Lawrence case was similar to that in the Neumann case.

Fire in Prince's Bedroom.

BERLIN, Jan. 2.—A fire broke out this morning in the bedroom of Prince Eitel Friedrich, the third son of the emperor, in the chateau of Bellevue, located in the Tiergarten, where the prince at present is residing. Considerable damage to the contents of the castle was done before the fire was extinguished. The chateau was built in 1785.

SELLERS-GOUGH FUR COMPANY, - - LIMITED

MANUFACTURERS' SALE

EXPERIENCE has proven that the most progressive firms clear out their entire stock at the end of each year, so as to enable them to start next season's operations on a proper basis. We find we have enough skins on hand to keep our immense factory, employing 140 fur-cutters and finishers, going until the 15th of January. It is our aim to convert this stock, along with our present manufacturer's stock, into cash, so as to enable us to start next season's business with a clean sheet. Already His Majesty's Customs have notified us of the arrival of 60 bales of raw furs for next season's trade, amounting, without duty, to the enormous sum of $62,000. This shipment comprises a small portion of the purchase of our Mr. Sellers, who has just returned from the European markets. After this month our large factory staff will be devoted entirely to making new samples for 1908. The price concessions which we will make from day to day during the month of January, will surely have the effect of reducing our stock to the minimum, which is our desire and expectation.

other garden truck were raised there. He estimated the time spent in these gardens as that of two and a half men. In the meantime he had seen hundreds of plants die from lack of attention.

Behind Wright's house there was a half-acre garden looked after by city employees. City men had also been sent to work in kitchen gardens belonging to Messrs. McBride and Goodall.

Called it "Tommy Rot."

He had once complained to Mr. Chambers of having been made to work on city property, but the commissioner told him that what he said was "Tommy Rot."

The pruning gangs had little perquisites of their own. If the man before whose house they were working wanted the brush and limbs they cut off he could get it by paying the men 50 cents or a dollar. The wood got in trimming the trees, said Jordan, would have kept the poor of the city in the winter. "Scores of times," said the witness, "the men would be away from their work drinking with the money they received in this way."

Jordan was also cross-examined by Mr. Robinson this morning.

C. R. S. Dinnick produced a receipt for $52.50, which he had paid for 5250 feet of old sidewalk torn up in the exhibition grounds. The money had been paid directly to the city treasurer.

John Marshall said that in 1905 he had bought 40,000 feet of lumber from an old building at the exhibition from Mr. Chambers, at $12 per thousand. It was for the Toronto Ferry Co.

Chambers had telephoned him, Mr. Lightfoot said, and had asked him to come and see him. Mr. Chambers asked him if he had got a subpoena. Mr. Lightfoot said he had not. Then Chambers said either that they had got him in a box or were trying to get him in a box. Mr. Lightfoot could not remember which, and that he (Lightfoot) would probably get a subpoena. Chambers had then asked him if he had signed it must be recalled, and was asked to make another search for the missing book.

More Books Missing.

Mr. Raney produced Mr. Lightfoot's original statement to the effect that Mr. Chambers had asked him to say nothing about the deals in vegetables. Mr. Lightfoot could not remember, Chambers saying that, but said that if it was in the statement which he had signed it must be recalled, and was asked to make another search for the missing book.

When Mr. Robinson, during the day, had asked Mr. Chambers to produce the alderman book, Mr. Raney replied: "We are going to get at the bottom of this matter. If it is theft from the city it is theft, whether it is for five cents or for more."

TWO CENT RAILWAY RATES.

From the general tenor of the reports that have been made regarding the effect of the two-cent fare legislation in the United States it can be gathered that it has not been followed by the reduction in receipts asserted by the railroads to be its necessary consequence. During the movement, operating so powerfully in many states, it was loudly and persistently declared that the roads could not be profitably operated on a basis of two cents a mile for passenger traffic. A little melodramatic demonstration was even arranged in some cases where the passage of the regulating statute was immediately succeeded by a restriction of the train service. And as a rule the railroad men professed the utmost confidence that a very brief experience would demonstrate the reasonable nature of the original tariffs.

As the results necessarily differ owing to local circumstances it would not be just to accept extreme examples, either adverse or favorable, as proof of the reasonableness, or the reverse, of the two-cent-a-mile rate. But wherever there is a settled population of ordinary density with a fair proportion of urban communities, the reports indicate that the new rate is fair and profitable. Thus in Ohio, where the new law came into force in March, 1906, the state railroad commission obtained data from the railroads showing the gross receipts from the sale of tickets to points within the state for the year beginning on June 30, 1906. The data were supplied by twenty-six important roads, and thirteen subsidiary companies, the former showing an increase of $1,400,000, and the latter a decrease of $66,000, leaving upwards of $1,300,000 of net increase. Still more instructive is the comparative statement appended to the report, showing the receipts of 1907 to be above the average during the five year period.

A calculation of the average passenger earnings per train mile of each road in the state, produced very much the same result, there being a substantial increase over the figure for 1906. This gain was no doubt helped by the abolition of free transportation and other methods of making the general public pay for the favored few, but making that allowance ample remains to show that the apprehensions of railroad men were groundless. Passenger travel has been stimulated, and in many instances the withdrawn trains have been restored and additions made to the earlier schedules. The roads seem to be standing in their own light when they refuse to recognize that cheap rates are more than compensated by increased travel. They have so long been uncontrolled that they chafe under public demands for better treatment, but the longer they delay a reasonable reform the more clamorous will be the call for proper consideration of public rights.

EASTERN LABOR IN WESTERN COUNTRIES.

To a recent issue of The Japan Daily Mail, an English newspaper, published in Yokohama, a Canadian correspondent, resident and doing business in that city, contributes a letter on

"Eastern Labor in Western Countries."

His views are of interest from his personal knowledge of conditions, both in Canada and Japan, and also because of his evident anxiety to state the case fairly from both points of view. On the one hand he admits that it is found by actual experience that when Oriental laborers are admitted to free competition with the Occidental on the labor market "they are able to underbid him and appropriate the total reward of labor, thus leaving the laboring citizen, the member of the family, so to speak, unemployed and in distress and hardship."

Moreover, he adds, their numbers are so great that they can supply all demands to the entire exclusion of home labor.

"Again they supply labor," he proceeds, "at much less than its actual value in the countries named and the surplus goes to build up colossal fortunes for the capitalist." It is, therefore, he concludes, the duty of the governments of the countries concerned to protect their citizens from the hardships entailed by the unconditional admission of oriental labor. On the other hand, The Mail's correspondent concedes that a great nation like Japan has reason for requiring for its citizens the same freedom of entry to the territory of friendly nations as it accords to the citizens of other nations. It has also reason in contending that to exclude Japanese citizens is a breach of the treaty undertaking. His suggestion for a possible basis of agreement is that the governments interested should fix a scale of wages which shall be just to the laborers of both countries and require that no lower wages shall be accepted. If wage cutting is permitted as at present then the advance of civilization is reversed and labor forced "into a cheaper and lower mode of life and hence into ignorance, poverty, squalor and crime." This solution, if practicable, which is doubtful, does not take into account the political and social problem attending the introduction of an alien population incapable of assimilation. But it is instructive as showing that the labor difficulty and the propriety of maintaining the western standard of living is thoroughly understood by Japan.

OFFICIAL ELECTION RETURNS

No Material Change in the Figures Announced by the Press.

The result of the civic elections was the all prevailing topic around city hall corridors yesterday.

J. W. Moyes, who was a visitor, gave the opinion that the mayor had obtained about 5000 Conservative votes, but Mayor Coatsworth thought half that number a better estimate.

His worship was particularly pleased with the result of the city's campaign for cheap power.

"If the vote had been taken six weeks ago the bylaw would have been defeated," he said.

He remarked that while dozens of Conservatives he had met declared themselves well satisfied with their votes for Oliver, they did not relish the Liberal majority on the board of control.

Next Monday afternoon the 1907 council met for the last time. The inaugural of the 1908 council takes place the following Monday at 11 a.m. Mayor-elect Oliver dropped in at the city hall yesterday afternoon, for a chat with Mayor Coatsworth, and to receive the congratulations of his friends.

Official Returns.

The official returns in the majority contest give Oliver 6881 majority, with a plurality over Geary and Nesbitt of 315. The total 14,000. Oliver 14,000, Geary 7162, Nesbitt 6523, Simpson 3694 and Vokes 974.

Controller Hocken's exact vote is 15,726, Spence 10,915, Harrison 9704 and Ward 9672.

The returns for the vote for aldermen are also substantially the same as those given in The World yesterday, except that Ald. Keeler held the poll in the fifth ward with 2376.

The bylaw returns are not yet officially given.

Now that the smoke has cleared away it is estimated that the expense incurred by the electric ring in trying to defeat the power bylaw thru employing canvassers and flooding the city with literature must have been at least $15,000.

Ex-Controller Hubbard intimates that he will probably try for a seat on the board next year.

Vital Statistics.

There were more births, marriages and death in Toronto during 1907 than for the previous year. The record is:

	1906	1907
Births	408	541
Marriages	281	329
Deaths	344	359

During December there were 37 deaths from pneumonia, and 25 from consumption, while deaths from contagious diseases numbered 82. The record is much better than that for December, 1906.

Despite the falling off during the last months of 1907, the value of building permits exceeded that of 1906 by $1,065,402, the total being respectively, $14,225,800 and $13,150,398, while the number of permits was 3572, comparing with 3439, and buildings actually erected 5051 to 4710. During December 153 permits were issued, as against 223 for the month of 1906, the five value being $207,015 and $263,783.

MASSACHUSETTS AFTER CONTROL OVER RAILWAYS

Governor Guild's Address Deals With Some Important Transportation Problems.

BOSTON, Jan. 2.—The ceremonies attending the inauguration of Governor Curtis Guild, Jr., of Boston, for his third and probably last term, were held in the state house to-day. The feature of the inaugural address was the governor's remarks on the railroad question.

The governor said, in part: "The most serious question to be determined in this session is the settlement of the transportation problems of Massachusetts."

"No steam railroad operated in Massachusetts is giving the service that it should give to the public. Delay in the shipment of freight and a general tardiness of all trains has marked the service on our railroads."

"Existing law is inadequate to deal with control of railroads. The Massachusetts railroad commission, the pioneer in state control of public utilities corporations, should be clothed with ampler powers."

"I suggest for your consideration, not in any one specific case, but as a matter of general policy, these propositions:

1. That a steam railroad be allowed to control trolley and street car lines of the law of Massachusetts clearly prohibits such control. The competition between the two systems, and since the law of 1907, in express service between steam and street railroads is, I believe, healthy and should be maintained.
2. Should an express company be permitted to control a railroad, and thru a railroad, freight rates? I believe that the influence of express companies in the control of railroads hampers their developments and tends to damage the general interests of the public. I believe that the ownership of railroad stocks by express companies should be discouraged.
3. Should railroad companies be permitted to own trolley or to establish steamship lines?
4. Should one steam railroad be allowed to control another? Such control, whether thru ownership of stock or otherwise, is at present forbidden by statute."

Referring to the rumors connecting the name of the C.P.R. with the purchase of the Boston and Maine Railway shares, the governor said: "One condition must, at all events, be enforced in any proposed consolidation: stringent permanent provisions should be made against the control of any New England road by any corporation, American or Canadian, with an Atlantic terminal for eastbound freight service. Any such combination should be effected not by a lease imposing permanent control, but by the purchase of the corporation and the establishment of a community of interest between the two systems, both of which, in Massachusetts, should run under Massachusetts charters, an supplementing the other, with headquarters in Boston, and managed solely for the development of New England."

"I believe it worth trying by new legislation, not merely to escape the surrender of the relics of New England control, which we at present possess, but to recover the control that we have already lost."

WARM SESSION LOOKED FOR

Manitoba Government May Be Subjected to Attack Re Wood Case.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 2.—The twelfth annual legislature of Manitoba was opened to-day, with 14 opposition and 29 government members.

The feature of the session promises to be the attack on the government based upon the now famous Wood case. Wood was the president of a notorious bucket shop, with headquarters in Winnipeg, and branches all over the west. Following numerous complaints of the Manitoba High Court, he was repeatedly arrested and finally sent to prison, and left a sum of money, estimated at from ten to twenty thousand dollars, in the hands of the court. It is for this alleged fraud and the mystery surrounding the deal that the opposition is making a fight.

"A. B." AND THE RECENT HOSPITAL APPOINTMENTS.

"W. A. Y." in Canadian Journal of Medicine: It is the general opinion in university circles, and especially in connection with hospital matters, that the MacCallum and Bruce truce cannot be a shield to shoulder. The feud between the two clans has been in existence for some little time, notwithstanding the echo of the Bing-Bing of the Cameron Highlanders, accompanied by the softening influence of the Primrose. There has undoubtedly been too much heard from the Laboratory of Physiology in the University of Toronto of recent years, and we are glad that the pibroch of the Bruce clan has been echoed from the hilltops of Queen's Park, putting to silence the bagpipes of the MacCallums, and in the days of the Scottish Reformation, "The Bloody Claverhouse" had himself to kiss the dust, he who was given the right at the baptismal font of the alphabet should now be willing to occupy more of the back-ground and resign his too long held post of military dictatorship.

Christian Science.

Attention is called to the lecture to be delivered by Rev. William Young, C. S. B., of Chicago, Sunday, Jan. 7, at 2:45 p.m., at the Royal Alexandra Theatre, King-street west. Mr. Young has wide reputation as an effective speaker and able lecturer on Christian Science.

Three Arrested for Murder.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Jan. 2.—Three young men, Raymond Bird, Elmer Farley and Arthur Lugo, have been arrested and charged with the murder of John Bruhn, a local resident, on Monday night.

"See" That You Get It

The increased circulation of The Toronto Sunday World for the past year indicates conclusively that the people of Toronto and the Province of Ontario appreciate the efforts of the publishers in providing them with an illustrated publication that reflects credit on the Canadian enterprise that promoted the production of an illustrated paper that deals with things Canadian.

This week's number will, if anything, be brighter and more entertaining than any of its predecessors.

The four views, making up a handsome frontispiece, are indicative of the broad sympathy and charity-giving proclivities of the Canadian people. A view of Little Trinity Church, with its self-sacrificing pastor, Canon Dixon, forms one of the group. A view of the Christmas tree in the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto, with a group of the happy and pleased little patients, forms another. The unselfish devotion of the members of the Salvation Army in looking after the poor and fallen is typically depicted in the third view. A picture that will appeal to everyone is a magnificent flashlight photograph of the dinner given on Christmas last to the City Newsboys in the large banquet room of the I. O. F. Temple, where about 500 newsboys of all races and creeds were sumptuously regaled with all the good things that appeal to a sturdy, pushing lad, thru the efforts of the Rev. J. M. Wilkinson, assisted by the generosity of the premier, the Hon. J. P. Whitney, Mr. Noel Marshall, Mr. Peter Ryan and other citizens.

Toronto, Hamilton, Aylmer and other centres will look forward with pleasure to the representative baby pictures which appear in this issue.

Portrait views of prominent people will appear, including one in which all Canadians will be interested, and the residents of Hamilton in particular, viz., that of the late John Robson Cameron.

Views of Xmas festivities, a fine group picture of the winning rink of the Alexandra Lawn Bowling Club, and a remarkable picture of the St. Andrew's Baseball Club, Champions West End and Interassociation Senior League, adorn this issue. In addition, there are many other views too numerous to mention.

The popular Funny Page, which every child will look forward to, and which is of equal interest to their elders, will be resumed in this week's issue of The Sunday World. Johnny and the Teddy Bears will be welcomed by the juveniles everywhere.

The School for Housewives, by Marion Harland, a page of interesting hints on household affairs, profusely illustrated with views, is a feature that will interest the careful housewife.

The Sunday World, while providing for the literary and pictorial appetite, still retains its essential feature as a newspaper, and all the happenings of Saturday afternoon and evening, including the results of all sporting events, complete turf results, will be found in its columns.

This week's issue will be for sale by all newsdealers, newsboys, and on all railway trains, at 5c per copy.

If you cannot buy The Sunday World in any town outside of Toronto, kindly drop a card to the publishers and a sample copy will be sent you.

Newsboys and News Agents are wanted in all unoccupied territory. Write to the Circulation Department, The World, Toronto, for particulars.

Heintzman & Co., Limited, 115-117 King-street West, Toronto, are offering a Dominion organ with five manuals and four sets of reeds for $25.00 or a Bell organ, where the original price was $115.00, for $38.00. ### CURLING RINK FIRE.

Peterboro Building Destroyed—Loss is $12,000.

PETERBORO, Jan. 2.—This morning, from some unknown cause, fire broke out in the large brick curling rink on Charlotte-street. The fire had made great headway before discovered. The building was totally destroyed, with the books and records of the curling club. The south wall fell outward and very nearly caught five firemen. The loss is estimated at $12,000. The insurance totals $4000, of which $1000 each is carried by the Phoenix, Northern and Western companies. About 125 pairs of curling stones destroyed were not insured. The season's schedule will be carried out in an open rink. President T. Brightman placed an order this morning for the necessary stones.

THE STORE OPENS AT 8 A.M. AND CLOSSES AT 5 P.M.

On Saturday All Will Be in Readiness to Show You Tissot's Wonderful Paintings.

All art lovers, every Bible student, every man and woman who would like to see depicted the Bible characters that generations have read about, are invited to come on Saturday and view the wonderful collection of original Bible paintings by J. James Tissot.

The late Mr. Tissot spent nearly twenty years of his life living among and studying the people of, and familiarizing himself with the landscape of Palestine. This course he deemed necessary in order to better portray the Bible characters.

The longer you look upon the pictures, the more convinced you become that the late Mr. Tissot must have possessed an almost supernatural insight into the lives and characters of his subjects, and the more satisfied you become that he faithfully and carefully studied the Holy Book.

There are 600 paintings in the series, and are being exhibited in Canada for the first time after having caused widespread interest in the principal cities of the United States.

We have fitted up special rooms in the third floor, centre, to show this collection, and we would like as many as can get here to come.

Those who come in the mornings will see them to better advantage, of course. Come.

HEAVY DRAUGHTERS IN DEMAND

Opening Up of Spring Will Likely See Increased Business in Stallions and Breeding Mares.

Last Tuesday the Farming Pages contained some very optimistic views on the opening spring demands for horses. Mr. Arthur Johnston spoke to this effect, from his keen insight into industrial conditions, and his opinions are shared by many horsemen in Canada.

The Breeders' Gazette, in a recent article, ventures the opinion that the horse trade and especially the draught stallion trade, will be on the look up. All accounts received, says the journal, in speaking of United States conditions, agree that under the stimulus of the high prices prevailing previous to what we now call the "slump" the crop of 4-year-old draughts had been very commonly assimilated into the channels of trade, that the crop of 2-year-olds had been very deeply bitten into and that even 2-year-olds of more than usually promising character had been bought by feeders. Regarding the production of foals in 1905 and 1906 accounts vary somewhat, but it is known that these years did not witness the birth of any vast augmented number of young horses. So far as can be learned the crop of 1907 must be rather below the average of the past few years. The very wet and backward spring, extending even into the month of June, was most unfavorable for foal-rearing.

No Scare Justified.

It is therefore plain that even if the commercial operations of such firms as use horses shall be decreased during the coming twelve months, there is nothing in sight to justify any scare in the draught horse business. For years our domestic buyers have been paying more than the buyers for export could obtain abroad after paying the expenses of a 300-mile voyage and the other items incidental thereto. In all the older countries the American horse is highly valued. His strength and his qualities have endeared him to all who have been privileged to use him. If the price should fall a little the British buyers would be so keen after all the suitable offerings as to render the construction of the proverbial bargain cover impossible.

Active Demand Already.

Internal commercial conditions have, however, so far changed of late years that there should be no lack of domestic demand sufficient to absorb all offerings of draughts at prices highly remunerative to the producer. Our population is increasing by leaps and bounds in a manner altogether without parallel in the history of nations. Our manufacturers need heavy horses, come what may, perhaps at slightly lower figures, but they will surely need them. Without the draught horse the railway companies to-day would have to go out of business. The farmer who has been breeding heavy draughts needs heavy horses in any event. This seems to be the general opinion of the buyers of heavy stallions. There is no need for any readjustment of stud fees. For years they have been too low—far off of proportion to the benefit accruing. In short, the draught horse business has become a fixed factor in the American horse-breeding industry and is here to stay. Of course the stallion is subject to all the various influences which govern trade, and importers may have to rest content with lower prices. But even this we doubt. A good stallion is worth just as much, based on earning capacity, today, as he was this time last year or two or three years ago. Advice from our advertisers of stallions for sale indicates that there is no cessation in the demand for high-class horses. Prediction is that this demand will retain its full vitality during 1908.

And if these arguments apply to the conditions prevailing in the United States, they also hold with greater force to the Canadian situation. The west needs horses next spring, when work will go on as before. Progress cannot stop when production is behind consumption. Even in Ontario there is going to be a local demand for workers, as the depopulation of the old "skates" to save wintering have its effect. As George Brodie said: "This hard-time talk is infectious. Let us talk the other way."

The Farmstead.

Remember the short courses.

Decide to go to the dairy conventions.

Here's to 1908! Good luck to the farmers.

Don't forget the Junction Stock Yards' first horse sale.

Poultrymen everywhere are showing great activity in their business.

Vote for the best farmers' you have in your municipal work.

James Watt of Salem has just installed a Beattie litter carrier for the comfort of his Shorthorns.

Power for the Ontario farm ought to be all the closer now after Toronto's verdict.

Be kind to the incoming Britisher, but let the emigrant also learn to sit at wisdom's feet.

W. E. Vanstone of Pickering paid $5.40 for hogs to the local farmers in this week's shipment.

Dr. W. O. Blaisdell, one of the oldest breeders of hogs in Illinois, recently died at Macomb, that state, at a very advanced age.

H. O. Havemeyer, commonly credited with being the head of the United States sugar trust, died at his farm near Commack, New Island, two weeks ago. That farm he formerly maintained a select stud of trotting mares, including such as: Harrold, 2:08 3/4; Belle, 2:08 3/4; Lea, 2:09; Miss Lida, 2:10 3/4, and others of similar class.

John E. Disney of Greenwood writes that his stock are all doing well. The filly foal is a beauty, being one of the best in the county. The weights slightly over 800 lbs. The Shorthorns are a fine bunch.

At Funke's sale of Shorthorns in Iowa the 88 head averaged the good price of $150.70. The highest price realized was $700 for Golden Lavender, a roan 2-year-old heifer, by Golden Champion.

How is it that Ontario cannot have the progressiveness of Manitoba in the matter of telephones? Every rural dweller should make his member aware that he can do something to better his lot by getting a telephone service in this thickly-settled and banner province.

Winter wheat was seeded later than usual and the season for fall growth was not entirely favorable. Is a United States report. There was lack of moisture and too much frosty weather in the Ohio and Missouri River valleys so that the plant has gone into winter quarters with less growth than usual and with inferior root developments. The average condition on Dec. 10 is reported at 87.7, against 90 last year. Should the winter prove even moderately trying it will result in an unusual amount of winter killing. The area sown is reported at 30,774,000 acres, or 3 per cent. less than was seeded last year. Presence of the Hessian fly and of fall broods of the chinch bug is noted in a few localities, but neither apparently is more prevalent than usual.

Next Monday ought to be a gala day for the well-wishers of the Toronto Junction Stock Yards. The new horse repository, which has been fitted up in the best of style with every convenience, will receive its initiation to the sale rings of the country. Mr. Herbert Smith, the auctioneer, is well known to the trade for his geniality, fairness and winning qualities at the stand. It will be a nice trip for the farmers to make next Monday.

Assizes Court Clerk Resigns.

Archibald Y. Blair, clerk of the non-jury assizes, has resigned to become Inspector of Legal Offices in the new Province of Alberta.

IT BEATS OTHERS.

The following letter from W. S. Carpenter of Simcoe, who recently advertised his sale in the farming pages, speaks volumes for World advertising among the farmers:

Simcoe, Ont., Dec. 20, 1907.

Agricultural Editor World.

The sale was a grand success.

112 head of sheep being sold, including ram, ewes, lambs, yearlings and aged ewes. They brought an average of $37.74 per head.

In conclusion, I wish to thank you for the manner in which you executed your work in connection with the advertising for your paper. I received BETTER RESULTS THAN FROM MANY OF THE OTHER JOURNALS.

Undoubtedly Welby Almas of Brantford is one of the best auctioneers in America. These sheep were all sold in two hours.

Yours very truly,

W. S. Carpenter.

STUDIED ONTARIO FARMING.

Charles Gray, the new secretary of the American Aberdeen-Angus Breeders' Association, Chicago, was born in Aberdeenshire, Scotland, about 30 years ago. His early education was obtained in the public schools at Tarves, Old Meldrum and Ellon. He came to this side in 1888 and attended the public schools in Ontario until he was able to make a hand on a farm. During his eight years' residence in Ontario he worked for the late James L. Davidson of Siltbury Grove, Balsam, Ont., and several other stockmen. When about 20 years of age he secured employment with the Iowa Experiment Station, and for three summers he served faithfully and acceptably in various capacities under the direction of Prof. F. C. Cuyler and Prof. James Atkinson. During the winter of 1890 he was engaged as a feeder in the herds of A. G. Davidson and George E. Ward in Iowa.

DO ORCHARDS PAY?

Port Perry Star: Mr. William Bateman of this town received a letter from his brother-in-law, Mr. Myron D. Silver of Sutton West, Ont., last Saturday, giving a statement of the proceeds of his orchard during the past season. He sold to J. O. Henry & Sons, Ottawa, over 1400 barrels for $2578 cash. He states that he didn't furnish a barrel nor pick an apple nor board the men, simply delivered apples at station, three-quarters of a mile; also sold 260 barrels for family use. This orchard comprises 25 acres and consists of over 200 Northern varieties, including Baldwins, Ben Davis, Russets, Greenings, etc. This Mr. Silver, the trees having been planted when he purchased the property. How will this catch a number of our farmers on Scugog who last spring cut down and burned large orchards, regarding them as an incumbrance to the land?

The Price Current says that the conditions of the growing wheat are apparently maintained. While the late information is confirmatory of the recent reports, reflecting a not uniformly satisfactory condition of the plant in the most easterly portions of the central regions, there appears to be but little indication that such untoward features as have been noted are becoming more widespread, and weather conditions have been such as to favor the plant in growth in much of the area.

Dr. J. C. Siebel Has Discovered Method of Generating Electricity Within Human Body.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—Dr. J. C. Siebel, a physician of this city, announced before the American Association for the Advancement of Science that he has discovered a method of generating energy within the human body. He asserted that electricity stored in the human body can be released and made to do work. This work, he said, is the prolongation of life thru the additional vitality supplied to the human body working as its own electrical generator. Dr. Siebel announced that nutritive elements such as alcohol, sugar and fats, during their consumption by the human body, act as generators of electricity in the miniature batteries that comprise the muscular structure of the human frame. He declared that he has succeeded in the construction of batteries on a working scale, in which the nutritive element necessary to form the connection between the batteries and the system has been created.

THREE-CORNERED FIGHT IN EAST TORONTO TOWN

Big List of Candidates Are Out for Municipal Honors—Y.M.C.A. Hall is Well Filled.

EAST TORONTO, Jan. 2.—The Y.M.C.A. Hall was packed to the doors to-night when the candidates for municipal honors met to air their views and grievances. The gathering was on the whole a snappy one, and for the most part good-natured, tho the several sharp passages occurred, which helped to give added spice to the whole proceedings.

Chairman Costain was an ideal presiding officer and kept the speakers for the most part within the prescribed limit of ten minutes.
John Richardson, one of the candidates for the mayor's chair, and who has already filled the position for two years with distinction, was the first speaker. He was well received and charged the council generally with an excessive tax rate, at the same time declaring that for the first time in the history of the town the debentures had been sold below par.

Phelan Defends Council.
The speech of Councillor T. N. Phelan, the able representative of Ward 2, was marked by a splendid grasp of the financial situation, and dealt trenchantly with the position of the town generally. He combated ex-Mayor Richardson's charge that the council had been extravagant, and said that a large portion of the debt was a heritage from the council of 1906, presided over by ex-Mayor Richardson. The low price at which the debentures were sold this year was owing to the stringency in the money market.

Mayor Ross was well received and declared that East Toronto was singularly favored in location, municipal government and all the essentials of a town.
"We have been trying too long to get into the city," said the mayor. "Let's paddle our own canoe from this time forward, and the audience applauded the sentiment. In passing he paid a well-deserved tribute to Chairman Henry of the fire and light, Chairman Nasmith of the finance committee. He made a strong plea for re-election. Town Clerk Day and Solicitor Grant came in for a word of praise, too, at the hands of the mayor.

Councillor Frank Abbott made a strong plea for the extension of the street car lines to Ward 3, while all the other candidates, with the exception of Reeve Nimmo, spoke briefly.

Reeve Nimmo, who is not a candidate for re-election, trenchantly spoke of the good nature of the crowd, who loudly called "Time, time," while Chairman Henry tried in vain to stem the flow of eloquence. "I'll stand here till I mither," shouted the reeve, "and then I'll quit." He was finally induced to retire.
Andy McMillan, mayoralty candidate, made a capital speech and was well received.
Joseph Hinds made a practical speech and was heartily applauded.
All the other candidates spoke briefly.

The list of candidates who have qualified are for mayor, John McP. R. John Richardson and Andrew McMillan.

In Ward 1 the council elected by acclamation are: F. M. Baker, Fred Lynde and O. M. Hodgson.

For the public school, Ward 1, T. Gardner and A. M. Sinclair still remain in the field. In Ward 2, W. Brown was elected by acclamation, and other nominees having resigned. In Ward 3, George Gilding and Alex. Neilson still remain for the battle.

School is Finished Well Within the Appropriation.
NORWAY, Jan. 2.—The Norway school board No. 20 met for the first time yesterday. The board is composed of J. W. Jackson, Jas. Brown, and Mr. Annandale.

Mr. Jackson, appointed chairman, and Mr. Brown, secretary, presented the report of the board for the year. The board first visited the Norway school, and decided on a number of improvements during the year. Afterwards visiting the handsome new school just completed on Ashdale-avenue, it was satisfactory to know that the Ashdale school has been completed within the cost of the original amount asked with a small margin left.
