Decisive Battle To Be Fought Soon

Allies' Forward Movement a Feeler—Readjustment of the Lines—Battle on Ground of French Leader's Choosing

London, Sept. 8.—The public is waiting breathless with the hope that the allies have finally taken the offensive, but the cautious tone of the official communications issued from France indicates that the forward movement of the allies is only a feeler to ascertain the reason for the strange eastward swing of the German right.

No matter, however, what the forward movement may mean, a decisive battle cannot be long postponed. Meantime the western valley of the Seine, recently overrun by Germans, has been cleared of the enemy and has been given a breathing spell.

The unexpected swing of the Germans has caused a readjustment of the lines of the allies. This movement of the Germans was ascertained so promptly by the aeroplanes of the allies, that abundant time was given for the shift.

It is evident that the Germans now have before the front of their wedge-like advance, the veterans of the allies' left wing which underwent a terrible shattering along the Franco-Belgian border.

The ranks of these Franco-British forces have been reinforced and the casualties have been replaced with fresh men. Another advantage enjoyed by the allies is the fact that their flanks are protected by the great fortresses of Paris and Verdun, while in the German rear Maubeuge is still held by the French, despite the fall of three of its fortresses.

RUSSIANS HALT TO CAPTURE FORT

In the eastern war theatre General Ruzsky's tactics have been checked by the strong fortress of Przemyel, but this delay will not prevent the general front movement of the Russians along the border from Tilsit to Lemberg. It is considered necessary, however, to capture Przemyel so that the Austrians may not have a single stronghold left in Galicia.

Remarkable reports of the speed of General Ruzsky's campaign, continue to come in. The soldiers slept on an average of three hours nightly and made thirty-five mile marches daily.

"It is evident from reports received in Petrograd, that the Austrians expect to make a long resistance at Lemberg, having accumulated large quantities of stores, all of which have fallen into the hands of the Russians, enabling them to quicken their campaign without waiting for their own transport trains.

GOOD CHEER IN PARIS
Paris, Sept. 8.—Paris is optimistic this morning. Even the surprise at finding that the Germans have been able to traverse nearly the entire Champagne country does not shake confidence in the outcome of the great battle which, for all the manoeuvres, is being fought on ground selected by General Josephoff, the French commander-in-chief. The famous turning movement of the Germans has finally resulted in a battle formation, that puts their own right in jeopardy, as yesterday's advance of the allies' left proved.

As far as may be inferred from the meagre official news the army now called the Army of Paris, must be acting as an independent force holding the convex side of a curved battle line, and free to menace the communications of the enemy.

Bits of news already coming in from the wounded show that the allies aimed a distinct success in the left, the enemy suffering greatly while trying to cross the river Marne. As fast as positions were finished, the French 3 inch shells demolished them before they could be utilized.

The general opinion of the morning press is that the allies may lose the battle and still make the siege of Paris difficult for the enemy, while if the Germans lose the situation of their entire army in France would be critical.

HAPPY IN PARIS OVER NEWS
London, Sept. 8.—A despatch to Reuters from Paris, reviewing the situation at that quarter, says:

"Official statements regarding the situation at the front indicate that the trench had advanced about ten miles up to noon Monday. This latest news on the front has produced an excellent impression in Paris. Unofficial news ought back by soldiers returning from the front is even more encouraging.

Official statements, and the people here are convinced that things could be going better for the success of the French arms."

NOTHER TRAWLER SUNK BY MINE
London, Sept. 8.—Another Grimshay trawler, the Revigo, has been wrecked by a mine which exploded in the engine room. The skipper and six crew members were injured, but with rest of the crew were saved before the vessel sank.

Back to Germany
London, Sept. 8.—A large number of man troops continue to repress Liege their way back to Germany, says a twerp despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

Back-Canadian to France
Paris, Sept. 8.—According to information received at Paris on Sunday, the ship steamer Caroline, with 788 back-Canadians on board, has arrived at Nazaire. The Caroline left Montreal and Quebec August 15.

Man Reinforcements
London, Sept. 8.—A special to the Star from Petrograd announces that many man aeroplanes are appearing on the Russian frontier, heralding the arrival of reinforcements.

The Germans seem to possess a powerful force in the Posen district, as they have their troops from Posen to East Prussia or Galicia as occasion demands.

WAR NOTES
King Albert of Belgium was slightly injured by a shrapnel splinter while he was heading his troops in a retreat to Ypres.

German spy was court-martialed and executed. The Turks are said to be concentrating 80,000 troops and taking other measures to oppose a possible landing of Russians.

Dr. MacLaren Is Home From Valcartier
Inspiring Spectacle Was the March-Past on Last Sunday

After having been in charge of the military hospital at Quebec for the last few weeks, Dr. Murray MacLaren returned home this morning. He declined to speak of his future plans in connection with the militia. Regarding his work at Quebec, Doctor MacLaren said that the hospital had had quite a number of patients, but the percentage was remarkably small in comparison with the great force of 85,000 men under canvas at Valcartier.

Field hospitals had been established at the big camp and these had had some minor cases for their attention. It was most satisfactory to reflect upon the small proportion of sick cases when one considered the establishment of the camp. He had been there on last Sunday and saw the march-past and review. It was one of the grandest, most inspiring spectacles of the kind ever witnessed in Canada. The men, as a whole, were of particularly good physique, but of course a strict eliminating process was necessary and some would have to be sent back though they were as anxious to go as any.

LITTLE ONES DEAD
Mr. and Mrs. George O'Reilly, of Fairville, were called on yesterday to mourn the loss of their twelve months old child, Mary Grace.

William G., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Byers, died today at his parents' residence, 171 Water street, West End.

The death of Donald Alexander, six weeks' old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McAdam, occurred today.

TO TRY AGAIN
Another effort will be made on this afternoon's high tide to float the steamer Shenandoah from the Navy Island bar. If the attempt is successful, she will be towed to Kennedy's slip for repairs.

Fair and Cool
Fair and cool today and on Wednesday. England Forecasts—Fair tonight; Wednesday: continued cool; fresh west winds.

GERMAN PLOT TO STIR UP MOSLEMS

Holy War in Tripoli to Keep Italy Busy

NO MOVE YET BY TURKEY

Russian Victories Clear Balkan Air But Complications Not Entirely Ended—Austrian Troops in Dalmatia

Milan, Sept. 8.—The "Secolo" confirms reports of the discovery of a plot by German emissaries to stir up the Mohammedans in Tripoli to a holy war.

It is said that the plan was intended to insure permanent neutrality of Italy by occupying her attention with internal troubles in Tripoli.

London, Sept. 8.—A despatch to the Times from Constantinople says:—"Although there is still a large section of influential Turks clamoring for intervention, the present European war situation seems to be improving owing to the precarious situation and the unwillingness of reservists to take part in any except a defensive war."

The total number of German officers now in Turkey is estimated at 600. All British merchantmen in the Black Sea have been ordered to leave.

London, Sept. 8.—An Athens despatch to the Times states that the Russian victories over Austria appear to have cleared the air somewhat in the Balkans, although the danger of complications cannot be said to have entirely passed. The popular press believes the Russian victories assure the neutrality of Turkey and Bulgaria.

London, Sept. 8.—A despatch to the Express from Rome says that Austria has concentrated 70,000 men at Sebenico, Dalmatia, in preparation for any international developments.

NOT A HOUSE IS LEFT STANDING

Germans Apply Torch to Termonde and Also Pillage Zele

Paris, Sept. 8.—A despatch from Antwerp to the Havas Agency states that Termonde, sixteen miles from Ghent, was evacuated by the Germans who lighted several fires before retiring. They also blew up a bridge over the river Escant to the north.

Afterward they directed an attack against the southwest front position of the Antwerp army, and were repulsed with great losses.

London, Sept. 8.—Describing the burning of Termonde by the Germans, the Chronicle's Ghent correspondent says:—"By midday Sunday, the blaze had assumed gigantic proportions, and by Sunday evening, not a house stood upright. This has been verified at Zele, where there are thousands of refugees from Termonde. The Germans also pillaged Zele. The suburb of St. Giles also suffered from bombardment and fire."

HIT GERMANY AND AUSTRIA IN TRADE
The following is of local interest:—

8 Beaver Hall Square, Montreal, 4th Sept., 1914. W. E. Anderson Esq., Imperial Trade Correspondent, St. John, N. B.

Dear Sir:—This office is making a very strong effort to enable importers of German goods to duplicate their requirements in the United Kingdom market, and we shall be pleased to receive samples of any goods which had been imported from Germany or Austria and will endeavor to secure quotations for articles of a similar nature from the United Kingdom for importers requiring same.

In this connection, it might be well to mention that there are many firms holding German and Austrian agencies who will be obliged to sever their connections, and if they desire to secure British representation to replace the foreign representation at present held, they should communicate with His Majesty's Trade Commissioner, 8 Beaver Hall Square, Montreal, Quebec.

Yours faithfully, C. HAMILTON WICKES, H. M. Trade Commissioner in Canada and Newfoundland.

ORPHANS TO BE GIVEN AUTO TRIP AND ROCKWOOD VISIT

Tomorrow afternoon the New Brunswick Automobile Association will give the children of the various orphan institutions in the city and vicinity their annual treat. A special permission has been obtained from the management of the Horticultural Association to take the children through Rockwood so as to let them see the collection of animals there. The automobiles with their youthful loads, will assemble at King street east at 2 p. m., and proceed at once to the park. As the roads there are narrow and there will be many automobiles in service the public are particularly requested to avoid driving horses through the park between two and four o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

ARM! ARM! ARM!

Unpublished Poem by Tennyson is Brought To Light By His Son

London, Sept. 8.—Lord Tennyson, son of the late Poet Laureate, at a patriotic meeting last night, quoted the following hitherto unpublished poem of his father:

"O who is he, the simple fool,
Who says that wars are over;
What bloody portent flashes there,
Across the Straits of Dover?
Are you ready, Britons all,
To answer 'YES' with thunder?
Arm! Arm! Arm!

Nine hundred thousand slaves in arms,
They seek to bring us under—
"But England lives and still will live—
For we'll crush the despot yonder.
Are you ready, Britons all,
To answer foes with thunder?
Arm! Arm! Arm!

GERMANS, AVOIDING BRITISH AND BELGIAN ARMIES, PLAN GREAT BLOW AT THE FRENCH

Paris Correspondent Believes This is Solution of Change in Kaiser's Tactics—Then to Paris or Berlin as Circumstances Direct

London, Sept. 8.—"The world's great puzzle today," says the Chronicle's Paris correspondent, "is the disappearance, southwestward, of the German host which was supposed to be ready to dash itself against Paris."

"To the close student it appears that the accidental aim may be to reach the southern and somewhat less strongly fortified side of Paris, but I think, on the whole, it is larger and bolder than this."

"In the first place, the official communication of Friday reveals that there are three German armies moving southwestward. Friday's communication stated that the enemy has pushed La Ferté, passed Rheims, and is passing along west of the Argonne."

"It is evident that it cannot be the same army which reached La Ferté thirty-five miles from Paris, which passes Rheims, eighty-five miles from Paris and which passes the Argonne forest, 125 miles from Paris."

"The chief necessities of the German tacticians now are as follows: First, to check the Belgians; second, to reduce the length of the line of communication and recover direct touch with Germany; fifth, while accomplishing these ends, to smash the other French armies; sixth, when the German armies are united, to be able to march directly on either Berlin or Paris, as circumstances may direct."

"The present movement to the eastward is apparently with the object of accomplishing these things. The German army which has come south from Mons, will join at Epernay, fifteen miles southwest of Rheims, other German armies, of which we have so far heard nothing, but which evidently have been moving southward from Luxembourg and the Ardennes."

"This immense strategical overturn may involve the German abandonment of Belgium and Northern France, but it immediately threatens the French armies before the Vosges with a rear attack."

London, Sept. 8.—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Nantes, thirty miles northwest of Paris, says:—"The battle of Creil, fought on Wednesday and ensuing days, was intended to mask the new German movement to break through the line of English forces ranged north-easterly through Rheims."

"I was a witness of the continual pouring eastwards and northwards of reinforcements to build up and strengthen the rampart of the allies that was to check the German torrent. It became clear, I suppose, to the German general staff, that just when they were within reach of the objective, Paris, the strength opposed to theirs was more than their fatigued and shaken men could penetrate within any period that would suit the solving. In addition, the Russian problem. They therefore wheeled suddenly, as though in desperation, in an effort to destroy at first that part of the French strength."

STIRRING WORDS FROM CURZON OF KEDDLESTON
London, Sept. 8.—Lord Curzon of Kedleston, former viceroy of India, addressing a recruiting meeting at Hull, last night, said:—"The 'pinchbeck' Napoleon of this war has succeeded in uniting all parties in the British Empire. Great Britain is going through with the business, until she has struck the new Napoleon and his accursed system to the ground forever."

Lord Curzon said the country had shown great forbearance with the limitation of the official press bureau and he believed the government was conscious of a need for some better form of war correspondence.

SIR HENRIK HEATON IS VERY ILL IN SWITZERLAND

London, Sept. 8.—Sir John Henicker Heaton, "father of the Imperial penny postage," is reported dangerously ill in Geneva with four doctors in attendance. Lady Heaton has been sent for from England.

The London Standard says Germany is trying to cut off the United Kingdom's food supplies from Scandinavian lands. They are bidding 20 per cent over British contracts and Germany has removed the import duty on provisions.

Germans Short of Arms; Old Type of Rifles Being Used

London, Sept. 8.—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Rotterdam reports that it is said on good authority that the supplies of German arms are now exhausted. The rifles carried by the Landsturm, the last reserves, are said to be of an old type, and it is also said that there is insufficient ammunition.

Some of the Landsturm appeared armed with rifles taken from the Belgians, while uniforms, it is officially announced, are not available for all of the Landsturm troops.

All Goes Well With the Allies

Last Word of the Day From Paris Is Cheerful

Russian Troops Have Joined British and Belgians—German Right Army is Now Being Attacked in Rear and Line of Communications Threatened

Paris, Sept. 8.—The following official statement was issued at 3 p. m.:—"The allies are doing well all along the line."

The combined French and British armies along a line from Nantuil-Le-Houdouin to Verdun, curving southwards, are continuing their advance, driving the armies back.

The extreme German right wing is now being attacked in the rear, the Belgians, British and Russians are preparing to attack the German lines of communication in Belgium.

The Russian army in east Prussia has begun its great march forward.

The Austrian army of 600,000 in Galicia and Southwest Russian Poland is in a precarious position, with Russian troops on three sides and bog land on the fourth.

The Austrians are preparing Vienna against a siege.

RUSSIANS IN FRANCE

Rome, Sept. 8.—According to the Rome Tribuna, there is in France today a total of 250,000 Russian troops. This newspaper attributes Emperor William's presence at Metz to this concentration of the Russians.

Another Austrian Army in Critical Position With Russian Forces Advancing

Few Days Should Decide Its Fate—Russians Have Taken 82,000 Austrian Prisoners—Czar's Troops Welcomed

London, Sept. 8.—The correspondent of the Chronicle at Petrograd, describing General Rozsiky's brilliant feat at Lemberg, says:—"He hurried his men to the attack by marches so rapid that the men slept only three hours each night, and frequently transport trains were left behind."

"Blow after blow was delivered, now to the north, and now to the south, that staggered the Austrians, and the final battle, lasting a week, drove them to headlong flight."

"The Russians are now able to concentrate their attention on the first Austrian army, whose task it has been to break the Russian line between Lublin and Kholm. Rarely has an army been in a more critical position than this Austrian force and the next few days should decide the issue."

Big Battle Is On
London, Sept. 8.—A despatch from Rome to the Exchange Telegraph Co. says:—"A telegram from Vienna states that General Ruzsky, who, following the capture of Lemberg, executed a flank attack northward against the Austrians under General Auffenberg, the Austrian war minister, is today engaged in a desperate attempt to annihilate Auffenberg's army. The battle has already continued three days and is likely to continue several more."

Paris, Sept. 8.—A despatch to the Havas Agency from Petrograd says that the strong Austrian forts at Nicolaeff and Mikolajow, situated in Galicia, about twenty-five miles southwest of Lemberg, were captured by the Russians on September 4.

Disease Attacks Austrians.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 8.—The Russian embassy here today issued the following statement in regard to the movements of the Russian army:—"On September 5, our troops took the strong fortifications of Mikolajow on the Dniester River. The moats of these works were covered by flanking fire and the artillery placed in steel cupolas, and the whole works surrounded by a triple line of wire entanglements. We took forty Germans and large stores of supplies and ammunition."

"In northern Galicia serious fighting is going on at Rawa Russaka, the first Austrian army, which had been advancing towards Lublin and Holman, is retreating."

WHEAT TAKES A BIG SLUMP
Chicago, Sept. 8.—Wheat swept downward today, influenced by reports of big victories for the allies near Paris, and because of talk that peace might come with as surprising suddenness as characterized the beginning of the war.

Prices receded as much as 6 1/2 cents in some cases. The greatest setback was in the December delivery which fell to 116, as compared with 122 1/4 on Saturday night. Later December rallied to 119. Changes in other months were less violent.

RUSSIANS ARE WINNING AGAIN

Washington, Sept. 8.—A despatch to the British Embassy from the London foreign office states that the second Austrian army is suffering very serious losses, also is now acting on the defensive and in places has retreated.

Rome has a report that the Kaiser and his chancellor and foreign affairs minister are at logger-heads because of the unreadiness of German diplomacy which led to the mobilization of Europe against Germany. It is reported that their resignation has been tendered.

GERMANY'S FOOD A VITAL PROBLEM

(Toronto Mail and Empire) When it is said that Germany's only possible chance to win is by a short war it is meant that in a long struggle the combined resources of the allies are superior to those of Germany, and that in the end they would inevitably tell, no matter what genius the German forces were handled. In a long war, with Germany unable to import foodstuffs, the result is no more open to argument than is the assertion that a bag of flour is heavier than half a bag. The German army might destroy nine-tenths of the soldiers' support foodstuffs, but some one has made the remark that an army fights on its belly, and if the victorious Germans found that their people were already starving, that would be nothing to do but to surrender and accept whatever terms, short of starvation might be imposed by the powers that, from the point of view of actual engagements, had been defeated.

No Problem for Allies As far as the allies are concerned, the food problem is solved already. It is the command of the sea that solves it. From all parts of the world food is now arriving in England and in France, Russia is self-supporting, even should the sea be closed, she could continue to grow all the food her people require. Moreover in Russia the vast majority of the population continues to till the soil and harvest the crops, and will continue to do so no matter how long the war may last. In the event of a long war, France, like Great Britain, will have to import foodstuffs, but the seas are secure for Great Britain, and are secure for France. Germany, however, in normal times grows only 85 per cent of what she eats, and next year on account of practically all the able-bodied men of the nation being under arms, she will grow less. It is said that even now the pinch of hunger is beginning to be felt in Berlin by the poorer classes. In anticipation of a famine, those with a little capital laid in supplies, and those whom stern necessity compels to live from hand to mouth are already hungry.

Must Import or Starve It is incredible that among the preparations for the war the Kaiser has neglected to provide a stock of foodstuffs that he calculated would be ample for the needs of the people. In some quarters it has been said that Germany has on hand four months' stores, while others say there is not enough food for a year. However much or little there is, there is not an indefinite supply, and sooner or later Germany must import foodstuffs.

MEMORIAL SERVICE A memorial service was held by Guardian L. O. L., No. 54 on Sunday in the Guardian Temple, Lancaster Hall, after decoration of the graves of some thirty departed members. The service was conducted by Rev. J. D. Wetmore, who spoke from second Samuel, first chapter, twenty-sixth verse. Miss Inez Clinch presided at the organ and appropriate hymns were sung by a choir. Grand Master M. H. Shepherd, Jr. presided as master of ceremonies. A good number of the fraternity, as well as a large general congregation assembled.

A POLITE SKIPPER

The captain of a certain large sailing vessel is probably the most polite officer in the whole mercantile service. He has, according to the Canadian lumberman at the present juncture, he has never given much attention to the cutting of posts of the pit-prop variety, though he cut during the coming winter may see an attempt to supply that demand—provided always that the Baltic is not again open to navigation by merchantmen by that time.

He Got It At the show ground at Scotstown an old gentleman was approached by a young fellow who was selling the "offshoot programme." For this he demanded twopenny, but the old gentleman was evidently aware that the program price was only a penny, and hastened to point this out. The boy admitted it at once, but muttered something about not to arrive in time to make money as Mr. Hicks. "But," said the old gentleman, "the aviator risks his life every time he goes up. He deserves several pennies. 'Hing' was the reply, 'and am no riskin' my life every time I try to get up tuppence for a programme.' He got his tuppence.

The Best Quality at a Reasonable Price You Can't Escape Glasses That is you can't without injury to your sight. We can't help seeing. We see before the eye is fully developed. We ask the eye to do close work at an early age. If there are any defects in refraction, or the eye is not fully grown, that close work is immediately and permanently injurious unless properly fitted glasses are worn.

Just as the muscles of the legs and arms lose the suppleness of youth, the inner lens of the eye loses some of its elasticity when we grow up. To some this comes early in life. To others at the age of about 40. Then, even though the eye has been perfect, properly fitted glasses are necessary to improve and preserve vision.

You can't safely select your own glasses, but you can get glasses at Sharpe's with absolute safety no matter what your age is.

POPE BENEDICT XV

How Pope Comes From One of the Oldest Families in Rome

New York, Sept. 8.—The Misses Mary and Jessie C. Hopkins, who have lived in Europe for eleven years, and who came back among the refugees last week, have lived much in Rome, and know all the family of the Pope, Benedict XV. They saw a good deal of the Della Chiesa in the spring and early summer, before going to pass the hot sun in the Austrian Tyrol. "The new Pope is an aristocrat and has the title of Marchese," said Miss Hopkins. "His family is one of the oldest in Rome. The brother of Pope Benedict, the Marchese Della Chiesa, is a retired commander in the navy. He and the Marchese have only one son, whom they call Pino. The Pope's nephew is a delightful youth of nineteen, who is being trained to be a civil engineer, his parents feeling that as they have only one son, he should not be given to a naval or military career. "The Della Chiesa family come originally from Genoa," said Miss Jessie Hopkins. "The Marchese and Marchesa live in a small rather unpretentious 'palazzo' in Rome. The Marchese looks very like his brother the Pope. They are people of high moral ideals. "Of course you have heard that the present Pope wrote a great deal last winter against the modern dances, particularly the tango. The Marchesa has strong prejudices against modern dances and last winter when she organized a dancing class for her son she kept close observation over the performance. Whenever anybody danced in a way that was not consistent with her ideas of what was modest, she would order the music stopped.

WILLIAM WAINWRIGHT'S ESTATE $456,237.

Toronto, Sept. 8.—An inventory of the Ontario estate of the late William Wainwright of the G. T. R., totals $40,010.25 mainly in stocks and bonds. The total estate is $456,237. The Ontario portion is made up of $1,000 insurance and $38,996 in stocks and bonds. The will is dated October 6, 1905 and has five co-heirs. It leaves $1,500 to Montreal charities; the residue to be divided and re-invested, the income from half going to six sons in equal shares, and the other half to the three daughters for life. At their death their heirs will receive the principal.

The New Home Treatment For Ugly, Hairy Growths

(Boudoir Secrets). Here is a simple, yet very effective method for removing hair or fuzes from the face, neck or arms: Cover the objectionable hairs with a paste made by mixing some water with a little powdered detanator. Leave this on for 2 or 3 minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and the hairs have vanished. No pain or inconvenience attends this treatment, but results will be certain if you are sure to get real detanator.

ACID STOMACHS ARE DANGEROUS Nine-tenths of All Stomach Trouble Said to Be Due to Acidity A Physician's Advice on Cause and Cure

A famous physician whose successful researches into the cause and cure of stomach and intestinal diseases have earned for him an international reputation, said in the course of a recent lecture that nearly all intestinal troubles, as well as many diseases of the vital organs, were directly traceable to a de-ranged condition of the stomach which in turn was due nine times out of ten to excessive acidity, commonly termed sour stomach or heartburn, which not only irritated and inflamed the delicate lining of the stomach, but also set up gastritis, and stomach ulcers. It is interesting to note that he condemns the use of patent medicines as well as of medical treatment for the stomach, stating that he and his colleagues have secured remarkable results by the use of ordinary bisulphate of magnesia, which, by neutralizing the acidity of the food, removes the source of the trouble. He contends that it is as foolish to treat the stomach itself as it would be for a man who stepped on a tack to rub liniment on the foot without first removing the tack. Remove the tack and the foot will heal itself—neutralize the acid and stomach troubles will disappear. Irritating medicines and medical treatments are useless, so long as the contents of the stomach remain acidic. There will be no need for medicine—the inflamed lining of the stomach will then heal itself. Sufferers from acidity, sour stomach or heartburn should get a small bottle of bisulphate of magnesia from their druggist, and take a teaspoonful in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after meals, repeating in fifteen minutes, if necessary, this being the dose which the doctor has found most efficacious in all cases.

WHAT THE KAISER FORGOT Says a British newspaper:—Germany seems to have omitted several important factors from her calculations regarding the opposition she would encounter in her endeavor to conquer France and secure her colonies for the Fatherland. Not to mention the surprise in Belgium and the united front presented in Ireland, she forgot Britain's sons in the dominions. After receiving brief reports from the commanding officers of Canadian regiments, Colonel Hughes, the dominion minister of militia, stated that nearly 100,000 men had volunteered for active service. Volunteering in the west has been especially heavy, with many cavalrymen offering to serve in the infantry. A marked feature of the recruiting is the large percentage of British-born. The work of mobilization is proceeding rapidly and smoothly all over the dominion.

CANADIAN RAILWAY RETURNS

(Montreal Journal of Commerce) The traffic returns of the C. P. R. for the last ten days in August are relatively more favorable than any weekly figures published in either July or August. Grand Trunk earnings hold very well. The returns of the Canadian Northern were not so favorable, showing the largest decrease in some time.

A total of $2,980,000 is shown by the C. P. R., which as compared with earnings of $8,845,000 for the same period in 1913, show a decrease of $5,865,000, equal to 12.9 per cent. Grand Trunk earnings totalled $1,581,781 against $1,710,015 in 1913, or a decrease of only 7.5 per cent. A falling off of 32.5 per cent. is shown by the C. N. R. on earnings of $886,200, as against $573,700 in the corresponding week a year ago.

The aggregate loss of the three roads for the last ten days of August is $660,084, which is equal to 12 per cent.

BROTHERHOOD FOR WAR

Peace Movement Hopeless if Prussia Rides The National Brotherhood Council, the members of which recently toured Canada in connection with the annual convention, met at a meeting of the council in London, Arthur Henderson, the labor member, offered to resign his office as president-elect because he had joined the parliamentary recruiting committee. He feared that this might compromise the brotherhood movement, one of its main principles being international peace.

Harry Jeffs, the president, in supporting Mr. Henderson's action, said that his own son, a government official in Saskatchewan, was coming with the Canadian contingent. The international brotherhood had no chance while Prussian militarism ruled. The council agreed unanimously in upholding Mr. Henderson as a recruiting agent.

HINT FOR TEACHERS WHO THINK OF GOING TO SASKATCHEWAN

The supply of duly qualified teachers in Saskatchewan at the present time is practically sufficient for the demand, says an official notice from Saskatchewan. This is due to the effective work of the Provincial Normal schools from which large numbers of teachers have graduated during recent years and to the influx of trained members of the profession from the eastern provinces of the dominion and the British Isles. As a result the department of education for Saskatchewan finds that there is no longer any necessity to issue provisional certificates or permits to persons who have not received recognised professional training. Many applicants for certificates holding high academic qualifications have recently been refused authority to teach in the province owing to their lack of normal school training. These statements should be considered as a warning to all untrained teachers who contemplate the journey to Saskatchewan with the intention of teaching. All teachers wishing to obtain employment in the province should ascertain by correspondence with the department of education the standing to which they will be entitled before commencing their journey to the west.

SIR GEO. TREVELYAN'S WORK

The second and final volume of "George the Third and Charles Fox," from the pen of the Right Honorable Sir George Trevelyan, is in preparation and will appear soon. It brings to a close the series of six volumes of which the first four are entitled "The American Revolution." The forthcoming volume contains a narrative of the events in England, and on the Continent of Europe, which had a bearing upon the struggle in America; and it tells the story of General Nathaniel Greene and the War in the Carolinas, of Doctor Franklin and John Adams in Paris, and the Campaign of Yorktown.

THE MODERN METHOD OF CUSTOM TAILORING

Founded on the Physique Type System Devised by Semi-ready Tailors—The New System of Tailoring Men's Clothes Has Made Wonderful Strides.

The English trade journals are discussing the remarkable growth in the demand for Semi-ready Tailoring in Canada. Not understanding the principles of the system the editors express the opinion that it would not "do" in England, nor do they think it would revolutionize and uplift the clothing trade as it has done in Canada. The London tailors and clothiers complain that their foreign trade is vanishing and that their Canadian and American customers express a decided preference for their own better quality of tailoring, despite the saving in evading the duty. This has aroused the press to an open discussion of better quality in work and an insistent demand must ever find its supply. Attention was then directed to the quick evolution which followed the creation of Semi-ready tailoring in Canada.

Before the advent of the Semi-ready idea in tailoring men's clothes a gentleman would not design to wear a ready-made suit. He knew the alphasop method and cheap cloth could not give him satisfaction. The scientific scaling of clothes sizes was studied out and was first applied to minimize the alterations necessary after the try-on which the custom tailor deems necessary. The "Physique Type System" was perfected by this earlier experience, and in a few years one could buy high-class fabrics in suits and overcoats of perfect fit just as one could buy the most desirable leathers in shoes of all sizes, shapes, widths and styles. When it is stated that from one single cloth pattern the Semi-ready system permits a choice of 79 different sizes and any truth in the report that a number of Italians have been put to death in Austrian territory the fact would do much to kindle the war spirit in Italy. Germany is still coquetting with the Turk, in the hope that Turkey will declare war, but that country still professes a desire to remain neutral.

THE WAR NEWS

Events of supreme importance in the war in France are now transpiring, and if the cables of the last twenty-four hours may be relied on the situation grows more favorable for the allied armies. The German armies are in the segment of a circle extending from northeast of Paris by way of Vitry to the fortress of Verdun near the German border.

The Japanese are not behind in aerial warfare. It is announced that they will use aeroplanes in the attack upon the Tsing Tau forts.

There is a rumor that the Kaiser and two of his chief advisors have fallen out and that the latter have tendered their resignations. The Kaiser's resignation will be accepted in due time.

The cheering news comes from England that, while the number of unemployed is double that of last year at this season, the pressure has lessened, and conditions are better than they were a short time ago.

Universal regret is caused by the news that the gallant King Albert of Belgium has been wounded. If any one deserved to come through this war without personal injury and live to see his country compensated in some degree for upholding national honor, it was the King of the Belgians.

The Paris correspondent of the London Chronicle expresses a belief that the purpose of the Germans in their movement away from Paris is to get out of reach of the Belgians and the British and destroy the French armies which are nearest to Germany.

The great crowd at the exhibition yesterday showed that the directors of the association were wise in going on with the fair. The thousands of people not only from the city, but from many parts of the province who thronged the buildings and grounds yesterday enjoyed themselves thoroughly, and it was very evident they had money to spend.

PITTYPAT AND TIPPYTOE

All day they come and go—Pittypat and Tippytoe! Footprints up and down the hall, Playthings scattered on the floor, Finger marks along the wall, Tell-tale smudges on the door; By these presents you shall know, Pittypat and Tippytoe.

How they riot at their play! And a dozen times a day In the troop, demanding bread—In they troop, demanding bread—Only buttered bread will do, And the butter must be spread, Laces thick with sugar, too! And I never can say "No, Pittypat and Tippytoe."

Economy of Space. Jenkins had ceased to complain. Years of patient straphanging had hardened him to the inevitable, and he had long ago ceased even to expect a seat in return for his fare as he returned home from the evening. And now he was growing an old man, bald, doctile, and near-sighted.

But one evening he was forced mildly to expostulate. The train was even more overcrowded than usual, and Jenkins was greatly inconvenienced by the man sitting below the strap from which he was hanging.

"Excuse me, sir," he ventured, "but would you mind moving your portmanteau from the gangway? I really can hardly find room to stand."

"Move my portmanteau," gasped the stranger—"move my portmanteau! Those, sir, are my feet!" "Is that so?" said Jenkins. "Then perhaps you would pile them one above the other?"—London Answers.

A memorial to the musicians who perished in the wreck of the Titanic was unveiled at the headquarters of the National Orchestral Association, Archer Street, Soho, London, by London Ronald. It takes the form of a decorative mantelpiece in one of the club rooms, with a large central panel executed in bronze, showing in relief the figure of music and fame. Beneath is a tablet with an inscription, giving the names of the eight men who went down with the Titanic, April 15, 1912, heroically doing their duty to the end.

The suggestion has been put forth, and receives general approval, that Mrs. Joseph Chamberlain should receive a peerage that would be heritable by the children of her late husband. The statesman was offered titles (in one instance an earldom) by three sovereigns, but preferred to remain known by his own name until the end; his widow, it is possible, may not feel so strongly on the matter, especially as in this way her husband would be posthumously honored.

The cost of cleaning London streets has materially decreased since motor traffic superseded the horse.

Shackleton Expedition To Antarctic Scientifically Equipped

Air-propelled motor sledges mounted on flat runnelike skis form the main reliance of the Antarctic expedition headed by Ernest Shackleton, which is preparing to spend the next few months in exploring the great continent that surrounds the South Pole. An illustrated article in the September Popular Mechanics Magazine declares that in this and many other respects the expedition is better equipped with modern devices than any previous body of polar explorers have ever been. Details of food, clothing, and equipment are given. In the extremely low temperatures of the Antarctic the snow becomes as loose as dry sand so these sledges are mounted on flat, like runners to prevent them from sinking. In a seven-day test in Norway one of these air-propelled sledges, trying six men, towed another sledge weighing 400 pounds and carrying two men, at a speed of from 15 to 20 miles an hour. Only a 30-h.p. motor was used, instead of the larger ones that we have since been installed, with which speed of 22 miles an hour is supplied, and provisions for the general health and comfort of the members of the party have been worked out with lenient care, tested in the snow fields of northern Norway and pronounced perfect. Five motor sledges will be taken. One of the has a 55-h.p. gasoline engine, another a 40-h.p. These two have air propellers, but for use against head winds they are also equipped with positive mechanism in the form of wear. It is made of dull green sponge trimmed with taffeta and lace.

A simple design that answers all purposes of informal dress is shown here. It may be developed in wool sponge with taste and at small expense. Four yards of 42-inch material, with 1/4 yard of tucked taffeta for the revers, 1/4 yard of linen for the vest and collar and 1/4 yard of 18-inch all-over lace will make the dress.

Although the skirt is simple in line, it is decidedly chic and eminently appropriate for informal uses. The waist, with the exception of the collar, back and vest, is cut on an open fold of the material. The lining is made by the simple rules so often laid down in these lessons, with the exception of a center seam at the back.

The under-arm and shoulder seams are now closed as the first step toward making the outside of the waist. Sew the revers to the front as indicated, gather the lower edges of the waist, add the stay and sew in place the Japanese collar. This may be of plain silk instead of linen.

The sleeve seam is then closed, after which the frill is added. Now arrange outside on lining, centers and under-arm seams even; stitch lower edges together, leaving fronts free forward of dart seam. Bring large "O" perforations at shoulder in lining and outside together and tack.

The skirt has a three-piece foundation and high waist-line, closing at the center-back.

For the belt there are several effective styles, but nothing seems to be in greater demand than the crushed girde of moire or satin.

This model is also very good developed in cotton voile, ratine, serge or taffeta.

Simple, yet ideal, frock for informal wear.

Patterns published in this series may be obtained by sending price of pattern in cash or stamps to The Evening Times Pattern Department, 23 Canterbury Street, St. John, N. B. As a rule it takes about two weeks to deliver the pattern to the buyer. Those sending money must be careful (1) to write the number of the pattern plainly (2) to write their name and post office address clearly, and (3) to enclose the price.

Third Propeller Used To Lift Transatlantic Flier

Though the European war lessened the chances of the "America" making a transatlantic flight this year, interest in the equipping and testing of the powerful flying boat has not decreased. Dr. A. F. Zahm, in an illustrated article in the September Popular Mechanics Magazine, explains how the difficulties encountered in lifting the heavy craft from the water were finally solved. He says:

"Planing fins of varying sizes and design all failed to bring the 'America' into the air from the water under full load. Pontons under the wings gave greater promise, but at last were discarded. Finally a sea-sided bottom was built and tried in two styles, first the unbuoyant, then the buoyant. The former was an inverted V planing bottom, or raft, built under the hull from its step up to a yard beyond the prow. When run over the lake with three men aboard, it rose and planed excellently at twenty miles an hour. When completely inclosed and made water-tight, this bottom looked like a scow with up-turned bow and square stern, carrying the original 'America.' It had enough buoyancy and planing surface to please even Lieutenant Porte, who now thought surely the great craft must leap to the surface and skim so perfectly that the original hull need only be built to these lines. But when tried on the lake it wallowed helplessly, its bow heaving powerfully, its tail swamped in the waves. Men placed on the prow, and a submerged blade under the stern, helped to level it, but failed to lift it to the surface or give it planing speed. It was the costliest and worst failure of all the devices yet tried; but for the information so gained perhaps many air-boat designers may be the wiser.

"Mr. Curtiss now—July 18—submitted to his technical associates a plan to add a third motor and attached propeller to the 'America,' symmetrically between the others, and, after receiving their suggestions, ordered this plan to be mounted at once on top of the upper plane, with the propeller projecting in front of the leading edge. The early bilge-like planing fins beside the bow were likewise in place to increase the lift and planing area.

"In the forenoon of July 23, with a useful load of about one ton, Mr. Curtiss ran the three-motored 'America' over the lake, and flew in the most light-hearted fashion. Three other men were in the cabin with him, and two were squatting like tailors on the lower plane next the cabin. Behind the air boat, as she flew above the lake, swept the Curtiss forty-miles-an-hour scooter,

HINTS FOR THE COOK

Prune Pie.

Cook prunes till tender enough to pick out stones, then take enough for one pie, put in a dish with half cup sugar and let warm till sugar is melted. Make a rich pie crust and put your prunes in crust and put in bits of butter and sprinkle a pinch or two of flour on top before putting on upper crust. When done sprinkle just a little sugar on top.

Gelatin Pudding.

To half a box of gelatin soak in one cup of cold water half an hour, add little more than one cup of boiling water, stirring until gelatin is dissolved. Add one cup of sugar and juice of one lemon. Set on ice to harden. Make a pudding of one scant quart of milk, yolks of three eggs, three tablespoons of sugar, and two of cornstarch dissolved in a little

Lancashire Pie

Take cold beef or veal chops and season as for hash. Have ready hot mashed potatoes, season as for the table, put in a shallow dish, first a layer of meat, then a layer of potatoes, and so on until the dish is full. Smooth over top of potatoes and make little holes in which to place bits of butter. Bake until a nice brown. This makes a nice dish for supper.

THE most elaborate collection of new Fashions we have ever shown will be the striking feature of this Garment Exhibition.

We have kept in close touch with the New York Market, and critical care has been exercised to procure only the most representative Fall Styles in Women's Wear.

The two new Silhouettes and the captivating "Basque" and "Moyen Age" Styles are just a few of the authoritative Autumn Fashions.

Your presence entails no obligation to buy although purchases may be made. The primary purpose of the display is to afford you an opportunity to learn what is new and correct in Styles, Materials and Colorings.

IF BACK HURTS USE
SALTS FOR KIDNEYS
 Eat Less Meat if Kidneys Feel Like Lead or Bladder Bothers

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless, inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is still trouble.

THE STATE OF TRADE

Situation Without Any Special Features—Collections Fair in Eastern Canada and Poor West.

Dun's Bulletin says of Montreal trade: The week has not brought out any special new development in the trade situation. Buyers are operating carefully as a rule but there are no misgivings as to the future. It is expected that retail business in the larger cities and manufacturing centres will be somewhat quiet during the fall and winter, owing to the growing number of the unemployed, but business in the country districts should be of an average character, as the farmers as a class are in prosperous shape. Shipping is again moving quite freely, and there is steady export of grain. Some tramp charters, which were cancelled on the declaration of war, have been since renewed. The wholesale dry goods trade held a meeting this week to consider the situation and outlook and it is understood that most of the houses decided to send out their travellers as usual.

Several of the boot and shoe factories have shut down for a few weeks, and the leather market continues quiet but exceedingly firm on prices. Groceries show a steady distribution. In sugars the situation is much mixed, one refinery quoting standard granulated at $8.20 in 100-lb. bags, while the second quotes $5.70 and an outside refinery something over $6.00. In other lines there is nothing specially new. All things considered, collections in eastern Canada may be called very fair, but from the west remittances are poor. The volume of district failures is not out of the ordinary, fourteen minor insolvencies being reported for the week, with liabilities of about $88,000.

Financial Situation Sound and The Facilities Normal, Says H. B. Walker

NO TIME FOR PESSIMISM

Cultivation of Cheerful Spirit and Keying Up of Productive Capacity of Canada Essentials at Present Time

(Montreal Gazette.)

"Our duty is to stand together; to maintain every activity that can properly be maintained; to cultivate a cheerful spirit in ourselves and others whom we may influence, and to steadfastly refuse to cross the bridge till we get to it."

These remarks were made by H. B. Walker, manager of the Bank of Commerce to The Gazette in the course of some informal talk on the general business situation, as a result of the war.

"Of course, we cannot tell how long the war will last or what will be the ultimate situation, but we should not do, as some are disposed to do, sit down and conjure up the gloomiest of possibilities. We know that, so far, we are in a position which has many favorable features. Our financial situation is good. It has not suffered from any disturbance. There is general financial confidence. No financial support has been withdrawn from any proper business. It is true that we cannot obtain money from abroad for new enterprises; but no firm, or corporation doing its regular business, in a legitimate way, has had to complain of lack of credit from the banks.

The latter are affording normal facilities in every case. No anxiety need be felt as to the ability of the banks to move the crop, especially in view of the assistance which the government has arranged to give the banks, if necessary. "It would be the point of wisdom to go on doing our work as if under normal conditions. Of course, in some lines there has been a reduced demand for goods; but in others, as for instance, the milling, the sugar, the clothing, the boot and shoe business, there has been increased trade.

"There has, in a word, been no disruption; and the great and urgent thing is to continue the mutual confidence that now exists.

"We, in Canada, have spent large sums on developing work—agriculturally and industrially. It is now for us to proceed, from the plans we have established—produce agriculturally, to the fullest extent, and in the case of manufacture, to the limit of the market that can be developed for our goods. For one thing, we can learn to patronize our own manufactures more and more, while we may also be able to supply, as respects agriculture and manufactures, products, other countries whose own product has been rendered unavailable through the limitations of war. And one thing patriotic Canadians should insist on, and that is—that when they go to buy goods they should demand to see the trade mark upon them—the new trade mark, if you like—"made in Canada." This is the point to emphasize—that it is up to us to utilize to the full, in so far as possible the facilities we have been supplying ourselves with, at great expense, in increasing our own productiveness. That will go a long way to keep things normal, and it will, at the same time, extend our business.

"The great thing is to maintain confidence. That can be done by cultivating in one's self a cheerful spirit and by trying to get others to share it. There is a tendency if one gave way to it, to take a pessimistic view of things; but we in Canada have certainly no reason to indulge that feeling. Our business is to cultivate an optimistic spirit. Nothing must close or fall to work that can properly be maintained in its integrity. All our people must stand together, working with a single purpose and that to maintain things in so far as possible, as though we had not to see the scarehead lines in the paper.

"It will be surprising how valuable and stimulating such a spirit will prove to be. Those who can speak a reassuring word should do so. In general way, our position is favorable in many vital regards. We have unimpaired financial confidence—which is an asset of the first importance. If our people stand together and if every form of activity is maintained to the utmost of its power—these features will make for the general improvement and betterment. Agriculturally and industrially, Canada should take advantage of the opportunity for increasing her productiveness. This is the juncture at which the thought should be turned in this direction."

HOW PARIS IS DEFENDED.

Emile Aimond, president of the finance committee of the senate and an authority on military affairs, declared to the newspapers last week that for a circumference of 180 miles around the entrenched camp Paris is defended by 1,000 cannon of large calibre, perfectly sheltered and capable of crossing the fire so as to defend all approaches. The batteries, he said, are connected with supply depots by miles of narrow railway tracks.

Rules For Care With Fire In The Woods

- (Conservation)
1. Be sure your match is out before you throw it away.
 2. Knock out your pipe ashes or throw your cigar or cigarette stump where there is nothing to catch fire.
 3. Don't build a camp fire any larger than is absolutely necessary. Never leave it, even for a short time, without putting it OUT with water or earth.
 4. Don't build a camp fire against a tree or a log. Build a small one where you can scrape away the needles, leaves or grass from all sides of it.
 5. Don't build a camp fire where the wind may rise at any time and start a fire which you cannot control.
 6. If you discover a fire, put it out if possible; if you can't, inform the nearest Forest Ranger or Fire Warden as quickly as you possibly can.

THINGS WE CANNOT DO

"Father," said Jimmy, one evening when they had the porch to themselves, "can you keep your third finger straight out while you clench the other fingers on that hand?"

Jimmy's father smiled—not too knowingly, Jimmy had been camping with his Uncle Jack and the boys. But he tried it. With his left hand first, for he was just a little proud of doing things with that hand. He often thought that if he had not been discouraged in infancy he could have become an ambidextrous. It had been perfectly natural for him to handle his spoon with his left hand, but his mother had discouraged it.

After Jimmy's father had experienced a little with the third finger of his left hand he remembered he had another one. Pretty soon he said, "It is queer, but with a little practice—"

"I know a lot of other things you cannot do," said Jimmy, with calm directness. He dashed into the house, and when he came out he had several matches, an egg and a towel.

"Now," he said, putting the matches and towel on a chair and handling his father the egg.

"Now," repeated Jimmy, "put the egg between your two hands lengthwise and try to crush it."

The egg still intact, was soon in Jimmy's pocket, and the towel was over his father's eyes. "Now," he said, "keep perfectly still for five minutes."

"That's easy," said his father.

"You moved your lips," said Jimmy, unwinding the towel and passing his father a match.

"Put the match across the nail of your second finger," he commanded. "Now break it with the first and third fingers of the same hand."

When the match, also unbroken, had joined the egg in Jimmy's pocket, Jimmy told his father to sit squarely into his chair, as far back as he could, and straight up. "Now, daddy," he said, "get up without either bending forward or putting your feet under the chair."

"Now," began Jimmy.

But his father saw Jimmy's mother coming, and hastened to correct a too hasty impression of insanity on his part by reaching for his newspaper. When he had secured it he turned again to Jimmy and asked—"Tell me, can you do any of these things?"

"You just don't catch me making a fool of myself trying them," was Jimmy's answer.—Brechin Advertiser.

calculation is extended to a day's work is both startling and suggestive. Calculating on an average of nine words to a line, and eighty lines to a column, an expert typist writing at the rate of 100 words a minute brings a pressure to bear upon the keys sufficient to move two and a quarter tons of coal in seven and a half minutes. Calculating on 750 words to a column, the force expended in writing a page of matter from Tilt-Bits would be almost seven tons, and exclusive of the colored covers, the necessary force required by the typewriter keys in typing out or copying a whole number of Tilt-Bits would suffice to move about 225 tons of coal, or energy enough to bring 120 gallons of ice water to 212 degrees or boiling point.

WHAT SAMPLING REVEALS

(Dominion Department Bulletin.)

A herd owner may ascertain from the creamery that his average is forty pounds of fat per cow for the month and yet have a dim idea that some of his cows are better producers than others, but probably few men are prepared for the veritable surprises encountered when they commence regular weighing and sampling. To take the case of two two-year-old heifers that freshened this spring, last month one gave thirty pounds of fat, the other gave forty-six pounds. One five-year-old in the same herd of grade Jerseys gave sixty-seven pounds of fat, and another five-year-old gave only thirty-six pounds. The owner would scarcely believe that one mature cow is thus earning, with fat at 27 cents a pound, $8.87 more than her table mate in just one month. What will the difference be for the whole year? That is the crucial test.

Between two 8-year-olds in the same herd, that both freshened in March, there was a difference of nineteen pounds of fat, last month, worth more than $5. Similar differences are to be found in many herds, illustrating very clearly that it is palpably unfair to take a general average of the herd unless they are decidedly more even in production than those cited. Records of individual production alone can give this valuable information to the owner. Milk and feed records may be obtained free on application to the dairy commissioner, Ottawa.

The Telegraph and Times Free Cut Service and Promotion Department

Advertisers, present and prospective, are invited to call at the Telegraph and Times booth at the Exhibition and inspect the free cut service which is on display there.

Realizing in this age of service that he "profits most who serves best" these papers some time ago installed this feature in their advertisement department with a view to giving greater co-operation to merchants and manufacturers using the columns of these papers to reach the buying public represented in their clientele.

The cuts cover all lines of business for both retail and general use, and are the executions of the best commercial artists in the country. The Telegraph and Times have exclusive access to this service in the local field, and are anxious to have every merchant and manufacturer take advantage of this offer—there being absolutely no charge for the service.

The Telegraph and Times wants to meet out of town manufacturers who are in any way interested in selling goods in the local market. Non-advertising manufacturers are especially requested to make themselves known at our booth, and, if we can in any way assist them to inaugurate an advertising campaign our promotion department will be only too glad to serve. This service will be impartial, efficient and free of all charge.

Samples of work done for advertisers by this department are on exhibition.

German Advance Checked; Allies Successes Force The Invaders To Retire

Apart from the announcement that the German forces have fallen back before the offensive attacks of the Allies on the line from Nanteuil-le-Hardouin to Verdun, the most interesting report is contained in a despatch to the London Evening News from Boulogne in which the French commander, General Pau, is given as authority for the statement that the Allies have won a victory at Prey Sur Oise, in which the Imperial Guard, under the Crown Prince of Germany is alleged to have been annihilated by a British force.

The British official bureau says that the plans of the French commander-in-chief, General Joffre, are being steadily carried out, and that the Allies have succeeded in forcing back in a northwest direction the German forces opposed to them.

Paris officially reports that the Allies have advanced their left wing without energetic opposition by the Germans and that several engagements on the Ourcq river have favored the French and British.

1,000,000 MEN FIGHTING AROUND PARIS. With so many different armies in the field, more than 1,000,000 men being engaged in the fighting to the north and east of Paris, it is difficult to trace the activities in each particular section but from all quarters last night came cheering news of successes for the Allies.

While the German troops which swept down from Belgium under the command of General Von Kluck were fighting for their lives with their backs turned to the city which they aimed to invest the army of the German Crown Prince failing to join with the Brussela army, was swept back at Prey Sur Oise, with the result indicated.

The German movement against Nancy and Verdun which it was feared would be pressed with great fierceness in conjunction with the movement eastward of the invading armies in France appears to have failed.

Successes for the Allies are also reported at La Ferte Gaucher. This place is on the river Morin about half way as the crow flies between Romilly and Chateau Thierry.

Nanteuil-le-Hardouin mentioned above is a small village northeast of Paris midway between the Oise and the Marne some thirty miles from the capital. The line therefrom to Verdun would run due east.

The Russian army operating in Galicia is reported still to be driving back the Austrians.

The casualty list as a result of the blowing up of the British scout Pathfinder by a mine in the North Sea comprises four men killed, thirteen wounded and 242 missing.

GERMANS RETIRE ALONG 120 MILE LINE.

Paris, Sept. 7.—via London, Sept. 7.—8:25 p. m.—It was officially announced tonight that the Germans are retreating from the line of Nanteuil-le-Hardouin to Verdun after a vigorous action with French and British troops.

An earlier official statement given out in Paris today says a general action had started on the line from Nanteuil-le-Hardouin to Verdun a distance of 120 miles. It was then said that, thanks to the vigorous action of the French troops, supported by the British, the Germans had "started retreating."

Unofficial advices from Berlin also have indicated that a battle of tremendous importance was being fought in the territory described.

GERMANS HAVE TAKEN DINAN.

London, Sept. 8.—12:26 a. m.—An Ostend despatch to Reuter's Telegram Company says:

"The Germans have destroyed the Belgian town of Dinan (fifteen miles south of Namur), after shooting hundreds of the male inhabitants because it was alleged shots had been fired from the heights overlooking the city."

INDIA'S POPULATION

India now has a population of 315,156,296 (as against 294,361,056 ten years previously), of whom 217,286,892 were Hindus, 66,647,269 were Moslems, 10,721,848 were Buddhists and 8,378,203 were Christians. The literates numbered only 18,589,878 persons and agriculture claimed the labor of 224,698,909 persons, as against 55,328,046 engaged in industry.

ONTARIO FARMERS

FACE GREAT TASK

Must Step in and Make up Shortage in Britain's Food Supply—Department is Busy

(Mail and Empire)

The farmers of Ontario are facing an opportunity of Imperial service now that may never come again. With her sources of food supply curtailed by the great war and the surplus of those countries that still send her food giving promise of serious curtailment. Great Britain must depend to a very large extent upon Canada.

The importance of impressing this fact upon the farmers is fully realized by the government, and the Department of Agriculture is taking special measures to encourage farmers to widen their field of operations and to specialize as far as possible in the staples Great Britain will need. C. F. Bailey, Assistant Deputy Minister of Agriculture, is sending out letters to the 45 district representatives of the department, urging them to take the matter up at once in their districts. They are being instructed to explain the changed situation from a standpoint of food supplies as a result of the war and to emphasize the importance of producing wheat, beef, butter, cheese and poultry, of which Great Britain will stand in the greatest need.

A special appeal to the farmers of Ontario was voiced by Hon. James Duff in discussing the situation.

Minister's Appeal

"Within the next few weeks," he said, "the farmers of Ontario will be sowing fall wheat. I would, therefore, like to urge every farmer to devote as large an acreage as possible to this crop this year owing to the need that may exist because of the decrease in the production in the countries in Europe upon which Great Britain depends for a large portion of her supply. Ontario, of course, is not primarily a wheat province, but I think an extra large acreage might well be devoted to this crop under the present unprecedented circumstances. I appreciate that the amount which can be sown this fall must be somewhat limited by the plans that have been made during the summer, but at the same time I think special plans should be made to increase the acreage of the crops to be put in in the spring as well.

"There will undoubtedly be special need of foodstuffs along many lines, such as potatoes, beans, dairy products, live stock and poultry, in addition to wheat and oats," continued the minister. "The farmer has the means of increasing his output. Last year in Ontario there were over 3,800,000 acres of land in pasture, but now that there is a good supply of labor I think a great deal of this land could be broken up with advantage and put into crop.

"Aside from the question of profit, it is the duty of every farmer to help in relieving the Mother Country from any need to worry over the food supply either of the east or the west of home. And it also may result in establishing trade connections that will be of great value long after the war is over. This can best be done by using as large an acreage as possible and the best methods of cultivation. Our department will do everything in its power to assist."

To solve the servant question, housewives of Maplewood, N. J., have opened a moving picture show, because the absence of such facilities of pleasure has caused available help to go to other cities.

A MESSAGE TO THIN, WEAK, SCRAWNY FOLKS

An Easy Way to Gain 10 to 30 lbs. of Solid, Healthy, Permanent Flesh.

Thin, nervous, undeveloped men and women everywhere are heard to say, "I can't understand why I do not get fat. I eat plenty of good, nourishing food." The reason is just this. You cannot get fat, no matter how much you eat, unless your digestive organs assimilate the fat-making elements of your food instead of passing them out through the body as waste.

What is needed is a means of gently urging the assimilative functions of the stomach and intestines to absorb the oils and fats and send them over to the blood, where they may reach the starved, shrunken, run-down tissues and build them up. The thin person's body is like a dry sponge—eager and hungry for the fatty materials of which it is being deprived by the failure of the alimentary canal to take them from the food. The best way to overcome this sinful waste of flesh building elements and to stop the leakage of fats is to use Sargol, the recently discovered regenerative force that is recommended so highly by physicians here and abroad. Take a little Sargol tablet with every meal and notice how quickly your cheeks fill out and your body grows firm, healthy flesh are deposited over your body, covering each bony angle and projecting point. Your druggist has Sargol, or can get it from his wholesaler, and will refund you money if you are not satisfied with the gain in weight it produces as stated on the guarantee in each package. It is inexpensive, easy to take and highly efficient.

Caution—While Sargol has produced remarkable results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles, it should not be taken unless you are willing to gain ten pounds or more, for it is a wonderful flesh builder.

AMERICANS GIVE TO WAR RELIEF FUND

Fourteen Hundred Dollars Collected to Show Passengers' Sympathy for Britain

Montreal, Sept. 8.—Striking evidence of the sympathy that Americans have for Great Britain in the struggle which she is waging was given by the American passengers on the Canadian Northern steamship Royal Edward during her trip to Montreal, by holding public meetings on board, at which they subscribed the sum of $1,400 for the Prince of Wales War Relief Fund. Canadian and British passengers wanted to subscribe, as well, but the Americans said, "You keep out of this. We want this to be a gift entirely from the Americans to show our appreciation of the fine work which the British navy has done in making the sea safe for us to travel over, and because we believe that in the present war her quarrel is just."

Captain P. M. Wotton, R. N. R., accepted the gift, and thanked the donors on behalf of the British nation for the very substantial way in which they showed their sympathy. He told them that it would be forwarded at once to the proper officials for the alleviation of distress that might arise in England through the war.

Quite easy now to extract any kind of corn—just apply Putnam's Corn Extractor—It works wonders, stops the pain quickly, the thick tissue is softened, and healing goes right to the heart of the corn.

In a few hours the hard core is loosened and separated from the toe. Out comes the corn. Toe is left smooth—not a mark left. Use only Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, recommended by druggists and sold in 25c. bottles.

WOMAN WOULD NOT GIVE UP

Though Sick and Suffering; At Last Found Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Richmond, Pa.—"When I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was in a dreadfully rundown state of health, had internal troubles, and was so extremely nervous and prostrated that if I had given in to my feelings I would have been in bed. As it was I had hardly strength at times to be on my feet and what I did do was by a great effort. I could not sleep at night and of course felt very bad in the morning, and had a steady headache.

"After taking the second bottle I noticed that the headache was not so bad, I rested better, and my nerves were stronger. I continued its use until it made a new woman of me, and now I can hardly realize that I am able to do so much as I do. Whenever I know any woman in need of a good medicine I highly praise Lydia E. THE TURF

Moospath Races. Good racing at Moospath yesterday afternoon was the order of the programme of the Park Matinee Driving Club. A larger crowd than usual was in attendance and fast time was made in each class.

The mixed trot and pace created excitement and was horse racing all through. Nelida R. with King driving, took this event in straight heats, best time 1:12 1/2, with Shamrock second, Royal Pandect third, Nan Patterson 4th, and Margaret Chimes 5th.

The free-for-all did not fill, but in its place a named race was put in, John Glynn's mare Etta Mack and Iowa Parole, driven by McNaumra, furnished some exciting racing. Etta Mack winning in three straight heats, best time 1:18.

Two exhibition half miles under the saddle were given by Master Johnston with his pony, which has become the idol of the crowd. The little fellow went the first half in 1:04 1/2 and the second in 1:02.

An Unfortunate Prince Who is Expelled From His Island Home—An Appropriate Book Binding

(Copyright, 1914, by the Brentwood Company.)

Prince Blucher, great-grandson of that famous German Field Marshal of the same name, who helped the Duke of Wellington to win the battle of Waterloo, near Brussels, ninety-nine years ago, has been expelled from the Channel Islands, by order of the English government, and is reported to be on his way to the United States with the Princess and his younger children.

For a quarter of a century past, or more, the prince has been the owner of the island of Herm, one of the Channel group, within sight of the coast of France, and commanding the entrance to the harbor of Gurnsey. The prince purchased it from a German bank, which had obtained it through the foreclosure of a mortgage, and since that time he has spent a very large sum of money upon the place, his residence, standing on the highest point of the island, being seen from the sea for miles around.

He has been leading there until now a species of feudal existence, the hundreds of inhabitants that form the population of Herm, being all in his employ and therefore his dependents. Most of these were Germans, and very, very princely employer, have been expelled by the British authorities, who have seized the mansion and all its valuable contents.

There is only one landing place on the island, and no one was ever permitted to land without having previously obtained permission, which was only granted after a satisfactory reason had been given for the visit. The law of the Channel Islands, and more especially Herm, is overrun with them. Until the fourteenth century, Herm was occupied by a great monastery. But since the Reformation it has passed through a number of hands, before it finally came into the possession of Prince Blucher.

Naturally the English government could not allow the prince to remain there, after the proclamation of the war with Germany; all the more so as it was reported that most of the German retainers of the prince on the island, were mostly reservists of the German army, and well equipped with rifles, ammunition and even with a number of galling machine guns, and with pieces of larger ordnance at the expense of the prince. There was always a danger, as long as the island remained in the possession of Blucher, that is to say, of a great German noble, of the island becoming a centre of Teuton espionage, and of wireless communication, or even of refuge to the smaller craft of the Kaiser's navy.

Prince Blucher will have bitterly resented the confiscation of his island home by the English authorities for he was deeply attached thereto, and was very irascible whenever any disposition was shown to impress upon his mind that he was not the sovereign, but mere-by Prince William Radziwill, she is now married to a German engineer of the name of Eugene Kolb.

Marcellin Pellet, who has just been removed in so very summary a manner from the office of French Minister Plenipotentiary at the Hague, and succeeded by M. Alliez, is a former member of the Chamber of Deputies, and of the staff of the Paris newspaper, the "Revue Francaise." He is probably the only member of the diplomatic service of France, or of any other civilized country, who can boast of including among his most cherished literary treasures, a book bound in human skin.

It seems that a friend of his, the well known Swiss surgeon, Professor Auguste Reverdin, of Geneva, received one day a notice through a lawyer that one of his boyhood friends dying without issue, had bequeathed to him his small fortune, conditional upon his removing and preserving the skin of his chest, a piece of about fifteen inches square, on which the name of the woman by whom he had been betrayed, to the ruin of his life, was tattooed. The Professor complied with this eccentric stipulation, but found it impossible to induce any of the local leather-workers to tan the skin. Eventually he got it done at Lyons, at a prohibitive cost. It came back to the Professor a strong thick piece of leather.

The thing finally got on his nerves. He developed an impression that it was unlucky, at least to him personally, and accordingly he induced his friend, Marcellin Pellet, who is not at all superstitious, to take it off his hands. Pellet caused one of the volumes of his own works, "Les Varietes Revolutionnaires," to be bound in it. The idea of binding his book of revolutionary miscellany in human hide seemed to him particularly appropriate, since revolutions, especially in France, have proved usually to be good harvesters of such material.

In the British House of Commons on August 25, the speaker rose and said:—I have to inform the house that since the house adjourned I have received this telegram from President Rodzianko, of the Imperial Duma, Russia:—

"The duma of the empire assembled in extraordinary session in view of the exceptional events passing in the civilized world begs the House of Commons of Great Britain to accept their warm and sincere greeting and sentiments of profound friendship, which unite our two great nations. The whole of Russia has welcomed with enthusiasm the resolution of the British people to give their support to the friendly nations in the historic struggle which is developing at this moment. May God bless the armies of the friendly nations of the triple entente! Long live His Majesty King George and his valiant people! Long live the British parliament, and long live Great Britain!"

MAY BE NEW HONOR FOR MAJOR MAGEE IN CANADA'S CONTINGENT TO THE FRONT

Major C. J. Mersereau Appointed Brigade Major, Twelfth Brigade—Disappointed Soldiers Home

Further congratulations may be in order for Major Frank Magee, commanding the unit from the 3rd Regt. C. A. from this city at Valcartier Camp in the overseas contingent. It was reported on quite reliable authority today that he would have command of the only heavy artillery battery going to the front in the Canadian army division.

It is not known that he has been consulted in the matter, but his appointment has not yet been authorized. Not for two years have the local artillery drilled with the 4.7 guns, but this is what would be taken with this detachment so that it is quite a compliment to his capability as an artillery officer that he should be selected. The command would comprise 198 men, and his taking it would undoubtedly mean promotion to higher rank for some of the other officers from St. John with him in the 3rd artillery unit.

Is Brigade Major
A letter received this morning by J. W. Kierstead of Keirstead & Mersereau, contained news of a most pleasing nature to many friends of his partner, Major C. J. Mersereau, who, it was said, had been given the appointment of brigade major of the 8th brigade in the Canadian expeditionary force. This is quite an important office, as the brigade would comprise several thousand men, and it is understood that the volunteers from New Brunswick are within this unit. It is also understood that Col. H. F. McLeod, of Fredericton, is commander of one of the battalions going to make up the brigade.

Rejection
Some members of the 1st regiment from York county were in the city on their return from Valcartier where they had been rejected. They said that the medical examination was particularly strict at the big camp and many men who would like to see action at the front were fearing that they would be rejected though they were in good physical condition.

"Only the fittest of the fit are being taken," said one of the men today, "and it is a case of the survival of the fittest." They had heard that some of the volunteers from St. John had been amongst those weeded out, but could not say how true this was. Word at Valcartier amongst the men was that some of them on being taken across would be sent to Egypt and other parts of Africa on garrison duty, but the belief was that most of the division would be sent into action at the front.

FOR COMPENSATION
Hearing was continued this morning before Mr. Justice Crockett in Supreme Court Chambers in the case of Arnold Crawford vs. Murray & Gregory Limited. This is an application under the Workmen's Compensation Act to recover compensation for injuries received by the plaintiff while working in the defendant's mill. A. A. Wilson, K. C. appeared for the plaintiff and F. R. Taylor, K. C., for the defendant.

CRUSHER IN TROUBLE
The city's big stone crusher is in difficulties on the new pavement in Canterbury street. While being driven across Princess street this morning the big roller stalled on the broken stone, and the rear wheels sank a foot or more into the road bed. No matter whether driven ahead or backed up, the wheels continued to sink and gouge into the road. Men are now working at extricating it with the aid of deals.

LOCAL PATRIOTIC FUND IS $21,000

Meeting This Morning at Request of Governor Wood — Further Subscriptions

The matter of incorporating the local Soldiers' and Families' Patriotic Fund with the Canadian Patriotic Fund was discussed this morning informally at a meeting of the executive but no decision was reached. The meeting was called hurriedly at the request of Lieutenant-Governor Wood, who said that he was sending out letters to the mayors of all towns and wardens of the county councils in New Brunswick, asking them to organize immediately for a patriotic fund. It will be decided later if this will take the form of a provincial or Canadian fund. The lieutenant-governor said that if the idea was carried out he would likely call a meeting of representatives from each district in the near future.

Mayor Frink submitted correspondence received from the general patriotic fund, showing their methods of subscription and collection. It is expected that the matter will be taken up again at an adjourned meeting of the executive tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

More Subscriptions
The local fund has now reached the total of $21,000, including $19,000 in the bank, and another $2,000 subscribed. The following amounts are acknowledged this morning: Ladies of Lakewood, proceeds of picnic, $82; Thos. Ritchie, $1; Mrs. R. Cruikshank, $5; Rev. Gordon Dickie, $3; Canessa & Lawrenson, $10; C. Lefford, $2; Thos. W. Pile, $8; Sargeant Bros., $1; Geo. E. Ferris, $1; C. Mates, $50; Mrs. M. Killam, $1; Geo. Young, $1; A. B. Springer, $5; St. John's, $1; J. Cordan, $5; B. H. Gath, $1; J. A. Beaver, $10; R. A. Bannister, $2.40; P. A. Wilson, $2.50; John O'Regan, $50; Paped Co., $17.50; John O'Regan, $50; Jas. Ryan, $25; J. H. Noble, $25; F. W. Noble, $10; A. M. Phillips, $25; A. R. Melrose, $10; Geo. H. Waterbury, $50; W. C. Broadbent, $20; J. Rubin, $10; A. R. Campbell & Son, $10; Sinabadi & Ogden Smith, $80; Jas. Stirling, $10; Geo. A. Henderson, $25; Public Landing Outing Association, $50; John Labatt, Ltd., $25; J. E. Secord, $20; St. John Ice Co., $20; H. H. J. D. Hazen, $500; Vassie & Co., $250.

OLD FIREARMS ON EXHIBITION; ARE OF SPECIAL INTEREST NOW

Visitors to the city and city people as well have been very much interested in a collection of guns that have been on exhibition in the windows of Oak Hall, as well as in the collection of old firearms. The weapons are particularly interesting now on account of the fact that the same nation who used them are now sending masses of soldiers into warring countries armed with a more up-to-date and deadly style of fire arm.

The rifles on exhibition are the property of H. G. Currey of Charles street, and date back to the 17th century. They are the same type as were used in the Battle of Waterloo. The collection of Canada and the battle of Trafalgar. Between the years of 1702 and 1877 they were the principal arm of the British army. Two varieties are on exhibition, the Brown Bess, a flint lock musket and the Queen Anne, of the same pattern though longer in the barrel. The flint locks are interesting articles. They are thought to have been brought here by the United Empire Loyalists.

DAY OF INTERCESSION OBSERVED TOMORROW

Tomorrow will be observed in the different Methodist and Congregational churches of the city as a day of special intercession for food to aid the night in this present crisis and to bring a speedy issue of peace.

At the family altar, special prayers will be offered, and a request has been made that 10 a.m. be an hour when all hearts shall be uplifted in prayer, if only for a few moments.

In the evening a union prayer service will be held in Centenary church. It is probable that the president of the Methodist conference, Rev. F. A. Wright, will be present and deliver an address, and Rev. R. J. Haughton will also speak.

FAIRVILLE NEWS

In all the Fairville churches on Sunday, patriotic references to the fund which will be collected in Lancaster were made. Collectors from the Baptist church for the day will be devoted to this cause.

The Gaiety Theatre has offered the councilors 50 per cent of the proceeds of any show previously announced. They say they will either put on a whole evening performance at 25 cents or the ordinary two show programme at regular prices. Their offer no doubt will be readily accepted by those in charge of the fund. It is said that the meeting this evening will be addressed by several prominent speakers from St. John. The three councilors of the parish who have been appointed a committee of management will also speak.

The holiday passed off very quietly in Fairville, most of the mills were closed and there was general exodus in the direction of the exhibition.

Miss Margaret Irvine is home from Fredericton to spend her holidays with her mother, Mrs. Robert Irvine.

Ollie Britteny, who is now on the staff of the Woodstock foundry, has been paying a visit to his people in Main street.

Miss Marjory Stout of Bathurst is visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. Stout, and receiving her friends.

Miss Maude Cochrane is expected today from Boston where she has been in training for the nursing profession. She will spend her vacation with her sister, Mrs. Joshua Cheesman, Prospect street.

SAFE HOME FROM OLD COUNTRY

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Likely and Children — War Conditions in England Spoken of Many friends today greeted Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Likely with their daughter, Miss Jessie A., upon their return from abroad, being relieved to see them home safely after an exciting time in the British Isles. They were accompanied also by their son, Dr. T. S. Likely, of New York, who went there upon his return to this side from Montreal, upon landing from the steamer Laurentic on Saturday. Talking to a Times reporter today, Mr. Likely said that they considered themselves fortunate in having arranged passage on the steamer so long before he set sailing, as otherwise they would have experienced great difficulty in getting accommodations. There were hundreds of Americans and many Canadians in the old country now exerting every possible effort to get home.

Mr. Likely said that the spirit of the English in the great national crisis was most admirable and in keeping with the best traditions of the race. They had accepted the situation with cool determination, and were outwardly calm in the face of many trials, though at heart they were seething with the excitement of the war.

"Recruiting stations have been established in all parts of the British Isles," said Mr. Likely, "and there seemed but little difficulty in getting the required number of men. Everywhere volunteers are flocking to the colors, and the recruiting centres are lively places. The age limit has been extended so that men of 35 years are now being taken. I did not see any of the great force of Russians who were taken through England to Ostend, for their movement was kept secret until they were safely transported. They were taken through, for the most part, by night.

"Business conditions are much improved from what they were two weeks ago. At that time the commercial world was in a state of upheaval, but gradually there has come a sounder feeling and all business interests are endeavoring to establish themselves on their former footing. Banking was particularly unsettled, but now there is a distinct betterment, and before long there should be a state as nearly normal as possible in England, thus of course, reflecting upon the outside commercial world in general."

CHILD DEAD
Many friends will learn, with regret, of the death of Ida Beshara, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Beshara, who was killed on Sunday at her parents' residence, 73 Erin street. She was eleven years old, and had been ill for some time. The funeral will take place tomorrow at 2.30 p.m.

HERE ON HONEYMOON
An interesting event took place at the residence of the officiating clergyman, Rev. George Wood, Chatham, N. B., on Saturday evening, September 5, when Miss May Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lewis, of Escuminac, Northumberland county, was married to W. Livingston Williston of Bay du Vin. Mr. and Mrs. Williston are spending their honeymoon in St. John during exhibition week.

GRANT-McINNES
In St. Peter's church at 5 o'clock this morning a pretty nuptial event was solemnized, when Miss Jennie McInnes, of North End, became the bride of Joseph D. Grant, late of Spokane, now of Chatham. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph H. Borgmann, C.S.R., in the presence of friends and relatives. After the wedding a tempting breakfast was served at the home of the bride, in Chazy street, following which Mr. and Mrs. Grant left for their new home in Chatham, where the best wishes of many friends will accompany them. The bride was prettily attired in a tailored suit of navy blue serge with white hat. She was unattended. Many useful and valuable wedding remembrances were received by Mr. and Mrs. Grant, who have been very popular with many friends.

CAR OFF TRACK
When the old service was renewed yesterday on the street railway line, many in North End thought that at least one source of their troubles was removed, but the schedule was thrown out again this morning when a north-bound car went off the rails near the corner of Portland street. A heavy plank had been lying on the track, apparently un- seen by the motorman, or at least he had not had time to avoid striking it, for the car struck it quite a blow and then changed its course. It went some distance into the roadway, and then was wedged across the track so that traffic was blocked for some time. Eight cars were held up just about the time many people were on their way to work. It was some time before the full service was restored.

"Cereal Stories"

"I like the Cereal Stories that appear from time to time in the newspapers"—said a witty woman.

She referred, of course, to the popular breakfast food advertising.

There is more than jest in her statement, for news that bears such an intimate relation to the home and the table is of immense interest.

The Cereal Stories are only one of many interesting features of newspaper advertising. There was indeed, no part of the daily newspaper is of greater personal advantage to the readers than the advertising.

That is why newspaper advertising gives such splendid returns to those who use it.

This Boys' Clothing Store Meets Every Demand of Both Parents and Boys

Most Youths and Mothers when they buy Boys' Clothing judge it from three standpoints—how well it will wear, how well the boy will look in it, and the price. The boy is concerned chiefly in whether it fits and looks well and allows perfect freedom of motion.

We believe the Boys' Clothing here will meet every one of these demands, fairly and squarely. We do not claim that it never wears out. We do not maintain that it is the lowest priced Boys' Clothing you can buy. What we do say, and say it emphatically, is that BOYS' CLOTHING SO GOOD AS THIS CANNOT BE PURCHASED AT LOWER PRICES.

BLOOMER SAILOR SUITS, (ages 6 to 10 years)..... $3.50 to $ 6.50
