And take the breath of morning, like the birds.

O Brother! Now an ecstasy has caught
My spirit to the clouds, the birds shall

Now, Brother, fill thy part, and give thy

And let it peal and peal, until
With sympathy the grove droth ring again.

I can no more; in lightness now I seem Like fragrance on the morning air I float.

Now heaven's rapture lifts me up on wings
Of fire swift I mount! I'm lost in light!

THE PEOPLE'S VERDICT

The citizens of St. John have voted for reform in city government. The old system had not produced satisfactory results. Until the question was taken up some months ago by a group of citizens who desired to see an awakening of public spirit, a more general interest in civic affairs, and a general forward movement for the benefit of the city, there seemed little prospect of a change. Year after year men went to the polls with a ballot, which never gave them an opportunity to vote for a full ticket of such men as they would like to see elected. Civic politics had fallen into a rut. Business principles gave way to expediency, ward influence, and the rule of a small group who thought it worth while to get control of the situation at city hall. When the group of public-spirited citizens already referred to came into touch with civic methods they were bold enough to face the situation, study it, and point to the remedy. That remedy was the elective commission plan of city government. The appeal was made to the people and the people responded. The fight was short, sharp and decisive. It had to be fought over again, some of those who so unselfishly devoted time and thought to the task might be tempted to withdraw, because of the unfair criticism, the insinuations and the open sneers levelled against them. It cannot be said that the opponents of the commission waged a fair fight, or treated the advocates of reform with any measure of justice. They did not fight in the open. They opposed fair and reasonable arguments with anonymous attacks, misrepresentation and the imputation of selfish motives.

The average voter, however, is fair-minded, and if reasonably well-informed on the main issue, may be counted on to take the measure of the opposing forces and choose the side that is open and fearless and guided by the right public spirit. Looking back upon the contest, and remembering how sympathetic the people have usually been in civic politics, it is perhaps surprising that the unscrupulous and artful plan of campaign launched in the closing ten days by the enemies of the commission did not arouse more of suspicion and prejudice than it really did.

But the people had been thinking. The record vote polled shows how widespread was the interest in the struggle. The business men and the working men made common cause against the entrenched forces of the old system, and despite its organization, perfected in many past contests, it was utterly overthrown.

A SIGNIFICANT MEETING

Next to the overwhelming vote polled for commission, the most significant event of yesterday was the meeting in the board of trade rooms last evening.

Naturally there was much elation over so great a victory, but that which most strongly impressed the members of the Citizens' Committee was a sense of the responsibility which the victory laid upon them. These men who had been trained, and charged with self-interest, and with urging the people to take a leap in the dark, were thinking last night, not of the victory or their public vindication, but of the work still to be done for the welfare of St. John. Messrs. W. H. Barnaby, V. H. Thorne, James A. Belyea, H. A. Powell, Dr. H. C. Watmore and others rose one after another to say that the work of the Citizens' Committee had only begun, and that not only during the framing of a new charter, but after it is signed and the first group of commissioners elected, it would still be their duty to take an active and organized interest in civic affairs, to the end that St. John might get not only the best charter but the best civic administration of any commission governed city.

There could be no more hopeful indication of a new and splendid civic spirit than that leading citizens, in the moment of success in a strenuous campaign, should thus look to the future and declare their determination to do all in their power to turn the victory to account for the good of the people. Here were leading Conservatives and Liberals, united to achieve a common purpose for the common good, the shining politics aside and each appreciating the generous motives of the other. Surely this was a significant event in civic history.

St. John has followed the example of Vancouver, and declared for good government.

THE NEW CHARTER

Mr. James A. Belyea, who is chairman of the city charter committee, in his address at the board of trade last evening, showed how keenly he feels the responsibility, and how earnestly he desires to frame such a charter as will ensure a good administration of civic affairs. He will call the committee together next week, and ask that it be enlarged so that the broadest expression of views may be obtained. All who have useful suggestions to make will have an opportunity to do so. The first step will be to find out what the city has to administer—the extent and state of its assets and liabilities—or a general stock taking. An immediate start is to be made, so that the new charter may be framed, approved by the Citizens' Committee, and made ready to submit to the legislature at the next session. Valuable preliminary work has already been done. It has been done by busy men who gave their time cheerfully to the public service in this respect. There is nothing mysterious or menacing about the framing of the charter. There will be no leap in the dark.

PUBLIC SPIRIT

It is perhaps too much to hope that there will now be an end of anonymous and cynical attacks upon citizens who take an interest in public affairs, but such criticism will have no effect upon the public mind. We have had a notable demonstration of the fact that public spirit has been aroused, and that men in all parts of the city who formerly betrayed little personal interest in civic affairs are ready to give time and effort to the advancement of the public welfare. This is much better than to hand the control of affairs over to this or that group, which may be able for other than motives of public interest to control a certain number of votes. The city of St. John will prosper and enjoy good government just to the extent that the people come forward as individuals, uninfluenced by any other consideration than that of the public welfare, and vote for principles rather than for the nominees of the secret caucus or the special interest. It is stated that wherever the commission plan has been adopted there has been a growth of healthy public spirit, and the determination of the Citizens' Committee in St. John not to dissolve is a most hopeful indication that the like will be true of St. John.

THE LOSS HAS BEEN DETROINED

The "nihilists" certainly placed the bomb in the right place.

The Standard says it is a "leap in the dark." The Standard's candle certainly did emit a very feeble ray.

Tennyson makes one of his characters say: "However we brazen it out, we men are a little breed." The Standard is trying to brazen it out.

The Globe and Standard got a line yesterday on the extent of their influence and popularity in the city of St. John. The knowledge may be of some service to them.

The hidden hand, like the hand of Satan thrust from the Sea of Darkness in old-time prints, had no power to strike. In the words of the Standard, it was the hand of "the devil that we know."

The Standard says the victory of the friends of the commission "is not due to the merit of their proposal." In other words, the citizens of St. John, in the opinion of the Standard, are a set of fools, who do not know what they want. That's flattering, surely.

The happiest men in St. John last night were the members of the advertising committee of the board of trade. They were the first to take up a personal study of the commission plan and its workings, and were its most enthusiastic advocates.

So far as the late campaign was concerned the Times was convinced from the outset, after study of the commission plan, that it was the plan for this city, and it was felt that, whether commission won or lost, this paper could not win or lose in better company than that of the combined forces of the business men and working men of St. John.

Mr. Walter L. Allison, as a public spirited citizen, does not need any vindication from anonymous attack, but that which was made upon him on the eve of the plebiscite, in the columns of the Globe, was so bitter and unjust that the tributes paid to him last evening by Mr. Powell, Col. A. J. Armstrong and others, and the applause which greeted them, were particularly pleasing to all his friends.

The "spirit of the east," which began to manifest itself in St. John last year, and displaced the pessimism that had so long whispered in men's ears that St. John was dead in its relation to industrial and commercial growth, has broken into civic affairs as well, and there is to be progress and development in that department as in all others. The year 1911 is a great year for St. John.

THE QUEST

A hundred centuries of towering fanes
To show the road—yet none know where It leads—
Ten thousand years of formulas and creeds
And still the secret of the world remains!

The round earth bristles with its countless spires
That point the way to all the ends of space
Where sit the gods that rule our mortal race
Entranced amidst the firmament of fires,
Ah, might we follow to the bounds of
space
Lit by illusive beacons, should we find
The why and wherefore that distract the mind
Or ride forever on a phantom chase?

If we might flash, like light from sphere to sphere,
Should we disclose the planner and the plan,
Or fall—and then return to earth and man
To dare again the ancient riddle here?

For surely here in man's unfathomed soul,
Shut fast within its narrow cranial cell,
Life reaches wide as heaven and deep as hell—
The world, the universe, the mirrored whole!

— Frederick Peterson.

DAUGHTERS OF EMPIRE BALL A BRILLIANT EVENT

A brilliant affair was the charity ball given by the Daughters of the Empire in Kott's Assembly rooms last night. The event, which has been anticipated with considerable interest by the public, was attended by about sixty-five couples. The chaplains were Mrs. Harold Schofield, Mrs. William Angus, Mrs. William Vassie, Mrs. Alexander Fowler, Mrs. W. H. Harrison, Mrs. W. A. Lockhart, Mrs. Homer D. Forbes, and Mrs. George Mahon.

Strangely to say the taking of what was called Fort Chabrol was one of the most difficult tasks of M. Lepine's long career. Jules Guerin, a violent nationalist, anti-Dreyfusard and Deroulé enthusiast, had been sentenced to life. He shut himself up in a house of the rue Chabrol, near

POLICE CHIEF OF PARIS IS REAL RULER OF CITY

M. Lepine, Small in Stature but Mighty in His Position—Some Things He Has Done

Whether it be a lunatic shooting at M. Briand in the parliament chamber, or a rabble of strikers in the streets, policeman Lepine is sent for and the disturbance is quelled by the might of his eye and the persuasion of his common sense and personal intrepidity backed by the force of the police and soldiers.

Paris is governed by 20 mayors, a city council of some 80 members and a military governor. There is also a prefect of the Seine, M. de Selves, within whose jurisdiction comes, of course, the City of Paris. But the burden of keeping the peace of Paris and, as events have shown, of quelling revolutions in the bush, falls upon M. Louis Lepine, chief of police. All revolutions in France begin upon the ground of his small stature, lack of physical strength and somewhat insignificant appearance. His face is wrinkled, and his beard is white, and his head bald, but he has a piercing eye, and his matry figure belies his years. Yet he is the most successful peace-maker which the most difficult nation to govern has ever had.

Lepine was born in Lyons 64 years ago. He has been a soldier and a lawyer. He enlisted as a volunteer for the war of 1870, was wounded, decorated with the military medal, and became a sergeant major. After the declaration of peace he practiced law at Lyons for four years. He had been sub-prefect, councillor of state, secretary-general of the prefecture of police and governor of Algeria.

After a four years' term of office as prefect M. Lepine resigned. Then the students of the Latin quarter grew unruly. One of them had been fined by the faculty of the Ecole des Beaux Arts for an offence in connection with a masked ball. Immediately they arose in their thousands and kept the whole city in an uproar for eight days. The prefect was forced to resign.

Lepine was appointed. He put on his tall hat to show that he was not afraid. He went out among the young men, found the leaders, looked them in the eyes, reasoned with them, joined their organizations and the next day the unruly youths were quietly resuming their studies.

M. Lepine arrested Bonlangais at the famous old cafe Riche, kept order when 35,000 of them went to the Lyons station to see off their chief, saved the city hall against an army of them and successfully defended the Ecole against a whole horde of the followers of the man on horseback.

On the day of the funeral of Pres Felix Faure, M. Lepine, who was not then in office, saw the police in a very tight place. They were forming a barrier against several thousand people and had made a mistake. Lepine jumped from his cab, gave an order, restituted the crowd, the crowd dispersed and the police saluted.

Strange to say the taking of what was called Fort Chabrol was one of the most difficult tasks of M. Lepine's long career. Jules Guerin, a violent nationalist, anti-Dreyfusard and Deroulé enthusiast, had been sentenced to life. He shut himself up in a house of the rue Chabrol, near the Northern station, and defied the powers of the law. One hundred and fifty police were wounded in a day by the mob. Guerin held out for 37 days. The situation looked ridiculous, but Waldeck Rousseau, the prime minister, feared bloodshed.

Finally Lepine got permission to finish the affair, sent a prudent word to Guerin, and the latter, seeing that the game was up, surrendered. At 4.30 in the morning Lepine called upon Waldeck Rousseau to give him the news. The premier came in bare feet to receive the prefect.

One of the best examples of M. Lepine's ability to keep a mob in hand was when 70,000 people paraded the streets of Paris, by way of protest against the execution of Ferrer. The crowd was noisy and showed an ugly temper. Lepine surrounded it with soldiers and police, who moved along with the yelling multitude. The people shouted themselves hoarse, and after four hours' parade, when they saw there was no chance to wreck a church or kill a clergyman, they went home, tired.

Though the prefect of police is a civil functionary, his life is exposed to as much danger as that of a soldier on active service. During a strike a big stone was thrown at M. Lepine from the top of the labor offices; it missed him by half an inch. Had it struck him, of course he would have been a corpse. Now it serves as a paper weight on his office table.

Lepine is a believer in quality rather than quantity. Hence his constant endeavor to improve the condition of the men and to make the personnel of the police better. He has direct personal acquaintance with each man of the 7000. He chats familiarly with his men and is always ready to consider any suggestion they may make.

Frederickton Paper Reviews the Matter of the Suspension Bridge

INFORMATION WANTED

Government Knew That Span Was Not What It Ought to Be and for More Than a Year Kept People Ignorant Until Opposition Member Forced Information Out

(Frederickton Mail.)

The suspension bridge over the Reversing Falls at St. John is, perhaps, one of the most important structures in the province. At the same time, since the bridge is used daily by hundreds of fellow citizens, and very often, indeed, by York county people visiting St. John, the Mail feels that the matter is one of sufficient importance to warrant its taking up for consideration. It is necessary for some discussion of matters affecting the structure.

There is no more important bridge in the province than the suspension bridge since over it there probably passes more traffic than over any other bridge in New Brunswick. Because of this fact there has been general interest in the reports which have been in circulation to the effect that the safety of the structure is very questionable and there will be general interest in the government announcement that action is to be taken toward the utilization of the cast-iron bridge near the suspension bridge to replace the latter or toward the construction of a new bridge.

Mr. Lowell's Urging of Action

There are some interesting, and at the same time startling, facts, to be borne in mind in connection with the bridge. For several sessions, Mr. Lowell, an opposition member from St. John county, has been urging upon the government the necessity of action in connection with this bridge. But the government did nothing more than vote resolutions that Mr. Lowell was acting for a political purpose.

At the session of the legislature just closing Mr. Lowell again brought the question regarding the bridge. He addressed a series of questions to the ministry asking if a new bridge had been reported that the bridge was unsafe. One question was as to whether or not the engineer had declared the bridge unsafe and why it had been concealed from the public.

It developed that the report had been completed and sent to the government by the New York expert last March, when, by the time the house was in session, yet the government had never even informed the house that an engineer had been consulted.

When the government's answer to Mr. Lowell's questions was submitted, it was found that it was vague, multiplicity of words being used perhaps to disguise the real facts. The reply to the direct question regarding the safety of the bridge was a mass of involved statements which no one but a bridge expert could clearly understand.

The situation had a peculiar aspect and Mr. Lowell moved that the government engineer be presented to the house. After some delay the report was forthcoming—and it was found that the bridge was unsafe light on a starting fact in connection with that report as it was last on the table of the house. The minister here nor there. What did the report show? It showed that Mr. Lowell's inquiries were pertinent and very much in the public interest.

The engineer specifically declared that the "margin of safety" of the bridge was lower than prudence requires. In other words, he declared that the use of the bridge in its existing condition was dangerous to the people who pass over it. But the government did not see fit to answer a plain question with plain words.

Kept Back the Report

The government had been in possession of this report for more than a year. It had kept back the report from the public. It had allowed scores, hundreds, of people to use the bridge when the ministers knew from the report of the expert, the dangerous condition of the structure.

More than this, Mr. Lowell asked if the caretaker of the bridge had been instructed to restrict traffic on the structure, as had been advised by the engineer. Ministers replied that such instructions had been given. Mr. Lowell went to St. John and when he returned he informed the house that he had in his possession the very moment affidavits showing that no such instructions had been given the caretaker. And from that day to this the ministers have not said a word in contradiction of Mr. Lowell's assertion that no instructions had been given.

What is the situation? It is simply this: That the government had in its possession for more than a year a report of the gravest importance to the people of the province, and kept back that report from the public. It has allowed the people of St. John and many of their fellow-citizens from other counties to use, with-out any warning of its condition, a bridge which a noted bridge expert had specifically declared to be dangerous.

More than this, the minister did not give to the house and the country the full information which had been asked for by a representative of the people, but evaded the real point raised by the questions asked. Moreover, affidavits, which the minister has never attempted to prove false, declare that no such instructions as the government said had been given in respect to the restriction of traffic on the bridge had been received by the man to whom they should have gone.

It is a serious matter indeed when information of such importance is withheld from the people and an attempt made, seemingly, to deceive the people. It is not a matter of dollars and cents but of danger to life. Providence alone has saved the province from a serious disaster. The government has been taking chances with the safety of the people.

Daily Hints for the Cook

TAPIOCAL CREAM.
Two tablespoonfuls of tapioca, a little more than a pint of milk, one quarter level teaspoonful of salt, one-third of a cup of sugar, two eggs, one teaspoonful of vanilla. Wash the tapioca and put into a double boiler and cover with the milk. If it is pearl tapioca, put it on the back of the stove, where it will just keep warm and let stand for an hour. If it is the fine tapioca, it can be cooked immediately. Stir frequently and cook until soft and transparent.

Beat the whites and yolks of the eggs separately. Gradually beat the sugar into the well beaten yolks and beat until smooth and creamy. Add the salt and stir into the tapioca and stir constantly until the mixture thickens. Then quickly beat into the mixture the whites of the eggs. Continue to beat for two or three minutes. Remove from the fire and when partly cool add the flavoring. Turn into a fancy dish and set aside to cool.

QUAKING PUDDING.
Cut stale bread in thin slices, using enough to make three cups. Butter a mold or bowl thoroughly and sprinkle with currants. Fill with the bread, and curranis in layers. Beat together three eggs, four tablespoonfuls of sugar, a little salt and nutmeg, and add three cups of milk and one teaspoonful of vanilla. Steam for one hour. Turn out gently on a warm plate and serve hot.

CINNAMON BREAD.
Take one pint of bread dough which has risen over night, knead into it one half cup of soft butter, one well-beaten egg, two tablespoonfuls of sugar and three or four tablespoonfuls of like-warm water in which a pinch of baking soda has dissolved. Let the dough rise in a shallow baking pan. When it is light spread it with melted butter and sprinkle with granulated sugar and cinnamon. Bake it in a moderate oven. Cut in squares and serve warm.

Zam-Buk Gives Ease

As soon as you feel any deep-seated pain in the joints, back, wrists, or elsewhere, place a liberal supply of Zam-Buk on the fingers or on the palm of the hand, and rub it well in. The penetrating power of this "embrocation-balm" is wonderfully great, and, once having reached the seat of the pain, it removes it speedily. It also ends the stiffness, which is so common after a cold, influenza, or grippe.

Mrs. Frances Wyatt, of 225 Bay Avenue, Montreal, says: "I have used Zam-Buk most soothing and wonderful in a very bad case of rheumatism, and also for stiffness of joints and muscles. I suffered long and acutely with rheumatism, and tried one ointment after another in vain. I also took medicines internally, but it remained for Zam-Buk to effect a cure. I began applying this balm whenever I felt the aches and pains of rheumatism coming on, or felt the stiffness. Zam-Buk seemed to penetrate to the very seat of the pain, driving them out completely, and I am now quite cured."

This case, and scores of similar cases, reported to us, is proof that Zam-Buk's penetrating and healing power is very great. In addition to its use as an embrocation, it is a sure cure for skin diseases, such as eczema, ringworm, itching, burning, scald sores, etc., and its uses are almost endless. For pimples, eruptions, and sores, it gives certain ease. All druggists and stores, at 25 cents box, or free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, Ont.

Many would also try Zam-Buk Soap, for a bath and for the nails, eruptions, pimples, etc., so common among children at this season. Shampooing with Zam-Buk Soap beautifies and strengthens the hair.

Jubilation in Board of Trade Rooms

After receiving his election returns with every evidence of satisfaction at the board of trade rooms last evening, the citizens' committee decided to remain in existence until after the first session of the new council.

Speech Making

Mr. H. Barnaby, the chairman, then said that he and his friend Mr. Thorpe stood in good company as discredited conservatives, but he did not worry about this. He congratulated the day which had seen the patriotic vote of the day which had given the harbor bridge project a majority.

(Times Special Correspondence.) New York, April 17.—John W. When he reached the Florida resort, he called for the head-waiter and told him he wanted the best of his staff to serve him. To the aid he gave him the qualifications he gave explicit instructions.

TOURING EUROPE

Dominion List At Riviera is a Long One

Estimated Three Thousand Canadian Globe Trotters are now Abroad—London Coronation Prices Exaggerated—New Notes in Letter from London (Times Special Correspondence.) London, April 18.—Perhaps in no other way is the growth of a cultured and leisure class in Canada more apparent than in the number of tourists on the continent. The Riviera season is now at its height, and it is remarkable for nothing so much as the enormous "Canadian list" at the leading hotels. The French season has long been dominated by Americans, but no longer is their position unassailable, and it is evident that Canadians are to attain a larger sphere in what has been termed the most expensive of European resorts.

WASHINGTON CONGRESS

ON HYGIENE AND DEMOGRAPHY

Washington, April 19.—In the autumn of 1912, no matter how hot the presidential contest, or other "maneuvers," we must "take our time" for a world's parliament of health. During the last week of September, the rulers of the country must give glad regard to hospitality.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

THE UNDERFERD How Children of the Ignorant Are Robbed of Oatmeal

A canvass made among the intelligent shows that seven homes in eight are starved. The children grow up incapable because bodies and brains are starved. Nature stores in oats more energy food, more brain food, more nerve food than in any other grain that grows. That's why children crave oatmeal. There is nothing to take its place. This is a food on which it doesn't pay to be careless. There is a very wide difference in oat foods—difference in richness and food value. Don't serve the common kind.

COLONEL HUMPHREY ISSUES THE ORDERS FOR CAMP AT SUSSEX

The Make up of the Two Assemblages, June 13 and June 27—Orders for Petewawa Also Orders were issued yesterday by Col. W. M. Humphrey, D. O. C., M. D., No. 8 for the annual training of the troops of the province both at Sussex and Petewawa camps during the summer, and they practically were out of the initiations contained in despatches of a few days ago from headquarters for the dominion. The orders provide for the two camps at Sussex, the first beginning on June 13, and the second on June 27, and Col. Humphrey has specified as to what corps shall drill commencing on each date.

Among military men in this city and throughout the province, while they realize that a soldier's duty is to obey, there is a tendency to protest against the early camp at Sussex. It is claimed that the rural regiments which compose the greater number of the men under arms in this city will be unable to attend in full strength if they have to go to camp on June 13, and many do not like the idea of the camp being divided, as it is feared it will detract from the general interest by having two small camps instead of one large one. Protests have already been framed among some corps. It is also noted that the S. C. of this city, which does the preparatory work at camp, are not ordered out until the second camp.

The regiments or sections which are to begin their two weeks training on June 13 are as follows: Fourth Brigade, C. F. A. 6th and 7th Infantry regiments, "A" Section, No. 8 Field Ambulance, and No. 8 Signaling Section. On the 27th the following bodies are ordered for camp: Eighth Hussars, 28th N. B. Dragoons, 73rd and 74th Regiments; "B" and "C" Sections, No. 9 Field Ambulance, and the same sections, No. 1 Field Ambulance, 14th Infantry Brigade, and Canadian Army Service Corps No. 7. The regulars from the capital and other corps of corps, ordered to camp for the whole period of the training month.

The orders for Petewawa Camp provide for the training of the various artillery regiments at that place, the exact dates for which are to be announced later. The 2nd Heavy Brigade will probably attend camp about the same time as last year.

ROY F. FINLAY AND MISS ANNIE M. GATHERS WED

Wedding of interest to many in German Street Baptist Church This Morning

A pretty wedding of much popular interest was solemnized this morning in German street Baptist church by Rev. P. S. Porter when he united in marriage Miss Annie M. Gathers and Roy F. Finlay, two young people who have large numbers of friends about the city, many of whom, with relatives were present in the church this morning to witness the ceremony. The church was prettily decorated with flowers in honor of the bride and groom.

The bride couple were unattended, Miss Gathers was given in marriage by a relative, Mr. G. E. Finlay, a very nice and attractive young man, who is a traveling salesman of nifty blue, carrying a shaver bouquet of white roses and wearing a Paris hat composed almost entirely of foliage. Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Finlay left on a honeymoon trip to Boston and vicinity, whence they will return in about two weeks and reside in Stanley street.

Mr. Finlay is the eldest son of Captain and Mrs. G. E. Finlay of 174 Curmarten street, and is a valued member of the office staff of the firm of W. F. Hatheway Co., Ltd., where he is employed as book-keeper.

His bride, who is a daughter of the late William Gathers, has for some time been sojourning in the German street Baptist choir. A splendid array of wedding remembrances testified to their popularity, included among the presents were silverware, cut glass, china, and other useful and valuable articles. From the firm of W. F. Hatheway Co. Ltd., a case of handsome and costly silverware was presented, while the employees and travelers gave, as a token of their esteem and friendship, a valuable case of post-handled knives and forks.

RIVER REPORTED PRACTICALLY OPEN

Run Out of Ice With No Damage Done—A Jam Near Gagetown

A Fredericton special despatch says—The ice jam at Springhill broke this morning and is now running out. The ice is badly broken up and incapable of doing any damage. The river is now open from Grand Falls to St. John, and by tomorrow night will be pretty well clear of broken ice. The river here is rising.

Advices from Andover state that the river there is clear of ice and has risen four feet since last Thursday. Edmundston reports the ice still solid.

At Indiantown today it is said that the ice in the main river still continues to break up, and if the fine weather continues it is expected that the route to Fredericton will be clear by the latter part of the week. Last night the ice moved a considerable distance down the river, but at Gagetown this morning a big jam was reported. It is believed, however, that this will clear away either today or during the night, and then the main river will be practically free. The ice in the Reach has also broken up.

The steamer Majestic will leave Indiantown at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning for Fredericton with a large freight and a good passenger list. If the ice prevents the full voyage, she will return to Indiantown and make another attempt on Friday.

Reports from the upriver districts are to the effect that the river is rising rapidly, but at Indiantown it has risen little beyond its ordinary height. Several wood-boats are expected down river this afternoon from the Reach with cargoes of lumber.

SCHOOLS REOPENED

The public schools of the city reopened this morning after the Easter vacation. They have been closed since Thursday.
