

SPA IS PROVING BIG FAILURE IN SECURING PEACE

Peoples of Europe Look in Vain to Conference for Relief from Post-War Situation.

SIGNS OF DISCORD ARE BECOMING APPARENT

Germany Taking Advantage of Differences Between Allies to Evade Payments.

By WYTHE WILLIAMS.
Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Co. Spa, July 16.—As the end of the Spa "cure-for-peace" conference approaches it becomes possible—as has been the case at the termination of previous sojourns of the peace makers—more accurately to sum up the tragic situation in which Europe still finds itself as the result of the war.

While Spa Remo indicated that with complete Allied unity there might still be hope of enforcing the peace treaty, the Hythe and Boulogne sessions showed more clearly that the supreme council had dallied so long that the situation was getting out of hand and that a situation was impending upon governments which were becoming powerless to deal with it.

Spa still more conclusively proves this and also that the peace conference at present may be built quite up-side down.

Back in the Paris days there was much talk about the ancient congresses of Vienna and Berlin, that the present statements of the peace makers were a constant touch with public opinion and kept the diplomats informed as to what they could and could not accept. Nowadays the diplomats remain away, and the states are represented by the chiefs in person, aided by army experts who have no experience with public opinion whatsoever. The result is that the chiefs get the findings of the experts and are called upon suddenly to take decisions which often they are unable to do without first running off home.

The final result to date is that the congresses of Vienna and Berlin have nothing on the congresses of Paris, Hythe, Folkestone, Boulogne, Brussels, Spa, for nothing has been done that is of permanent value to the world.

Upon the vital question of reparations the most solemn advice handed the conference by the leading newspapers of Europe is that inasmuch as the German plan forms a worthy pendant for the insolent speech of Herr Stinnes and reads like an attempt at a practical joke on the Allies, therefore, the best thing the Allies can do is to refer such a "farrago of German insolence" to the reparations commission and send the Germans about their business. All of which leaves the matter exactly where it was before the Spa conference began.

What seems to be the chief point in it is that fact that the peoples of Europe these meetings do matter—they cannot look at them in the detached manner now possible for Americans. So while the Georgian opinion of America has no right to criticize a conference in which it is taking no part, it would perhaps seem that America is the only place from which healthy criticism can come that will drag Europe from the precipice upon which it now stands.

While the conference commences from Spa may pretend to accomplishments, the fact is that none is satisfied with anything. From France already come signs of discord on the disarmament agreement, which reports from Germany declare that the police force for which immediate dissolution was ordered, has no intention of doing anything of the sort. The Germans are criticized by all hands for passing Sunday night in a friendly poker game in their villa instead of working on their plans touching on or about France. The subject of coal, but quite likely the Germans heard the current report of divergences of opinion between Lloyd George and Premier Millerand on the same subject, which being so highly satisfactory to their own interests, they could not otherwise restrain themselves.

CANADIAN CHIEF ADVISER TO SIR THOS.

New York, July 16.—(By Canadian Press.)—Commodore Aemilius Jarvis, the noted Canadian yachtsman, and Miss Nan Jarvis, equally well known in the yachting world, were among the guests of Sir Thomas Lipton, at the first day's race, on board the steam yacht Victoria, formerly owned by the late Hon. James Dunsuir, of Victoria, B. C. Commodore Jarvis was not only a guest of the noted British sportsman, but during the trials and tribulations of the race when the green-hulled challenger and her competitor, the defender, were endeavoring to make the best of decided, was visibly the "right hand man" of the great British yachtsman.

It was to Commodore Jarvis that Sir Thomas first turned in his anxiety over the accident which befell the Resolute put her out of commission. "I can't take that race," Sir Thomas told the reporters. "It is not with Jarvis," he said. "Jarvis tells me that I must take this race for the general good of the sport, but it makes me unhappy to do so," he said after a brief consultation. "Come to think of it, though," Sir Thomas added, "it was at the last Derby that the seemingly winning horse stumbled and fell just before reaching the finish line, and the next horse was the winner."

NO PROSPECT OF LOWER SUGAR THIS SEASON

Little Hope Held Out by Board of Commerce of Any Reduction of Price in Near Future.

CANADA BETTER OFF THAN STATES

Canadian Consumer Has An Advantage of Four or Five Cents on Retail Prices.

Ottawa, Ont., July 16.—In a memorandum dealing with the sugar situation, issued today by the Board of Commerce, little hope is held out that there is likely to be a reduction in price in the near future.

"The outlook," says the Board, "is far from clear, but the best advice lead to the view that the prices of the present summer will represent not the highest level. This does not mean that the prices ruling at the moment, wholesale and retail, may not yet reach a higher figure. While this point remains uncertain, the Canadian consumer should look to the probability of an advance in the near future, after which, unless all conditions have been misapprehended by competent observers, a decline may be expected."

The Board, after remarking that it has, since its reorganization given considerable attention to the conditions of the sugar trade, points out that Canada has, up to the present time, occupied, having in mind the world's shortage of sugar, a favorable position as to supply and demand.

Advantage With Canada.

The United States and Canada have been best off as to prices, and the Dominion has had almost continuously, and has at the present time, a material advantage. Face values of money give the Canadian consumer an advantage of two or three cents per pound over the American consumer, and close inquiry shows the situation with respect to retail sugar prices to be four or five cents in favor of the Canadian consumer.

That, while random statements have been given publicly with respect to alleged transactions representing importations of sugar from Canada to the United States, the Board, however, indicate ground for alarm on this point. The present favorable situation is due, it says, to the careful and effective action taken by the Government, and to the enterprise and prudence of the manufacturers and merchants concerned, and since both these conditions are continuing, the Canadian consumer may feel assured that his situation is better than that of the consumer elsewhere.

WHEAT CROP OF 1920 NOT UNDER BOARD

Marketing of 'This Year's Crop Will Revert to the Usual and Normal Methods of Pre-War Times.

Ottawa, July 16.—The Government has decided that the present wheat board will not function insofar as the wheat crop of 1920 is concerned. The marketing of this crop will revert to the usual and normal methods of pre-war times. The Government will, however, carefully watch the conditions outside of Canada and will exercise the right to proclaim the enabling legislation of last session, if circumstances make it necessary so to in the public interest. From the present point of view, it is hoped that no such action will be found necessary.

Legislation passed a few weeks ago enabled the Government to constitute a wheat board in continuance of the present wheat board. The wheat board, under the bill, was to have well-defined powers and could be called into operation by proclamation in the Canada Gazette, should circumstances make it necessary.

THREE QUAKES SHAKE CITY OF LOS ANGELES

Causing Tremendous Excitement Throughout City and Suburbs and Produces Much Damage.

SEVERAL PERSONS WERE INJURED

Business in Many Establishments Came to Standstill After Third Shock.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 16.—Three severe earthquake shocks, the first at 10.10 this morning and the second and third at 1.27 and 1.29 this afternoon, created excitement through Los Angeles and its suburbs caused damage of a minor nature to a number of buildings, and inflicted physical injury upon several men, women and children.

The morning tremor shook mortar from brick walls and plaster from walls and ceilings, sending four persons to the receiving hospital with minor injuries and frightening the majority of the population. The shock at 1.27 was followed so quickly by the third at 1.29 that it was difficult to tell just what damage could be attributed to either of these two.

Business Halted.

Business in many establishments came practically to a standstill after the third shock, and thirty minutes later the crowds were still gathered in the streets, either fearful of returning to the receiving hospital with injuries, or in learning to extent of the damage.

A piece of coping, at Market and Main streets, fell and struck a fire alarm box, turning in an alarm. The response of the firemen and rumors flying through the streets caused a person to send in a call for ambulances, which was promptly responded to.

Cracks in the fronts and walls of a few buildings were reported after the second and third quakes, and hospitals in department stores were overflowing with fainting and hysterical women shoppers.

GERMANS AGREE TO DELIVER THE REQUIRED COAL

Thereby Settling One of the Most Difficult Questions Before the Conference.

PREMIERS ADOPT REPARATION PLAN

France Receiving 52 Per Cent., Britain 22 Per Cent., Italy 10 and Belgium 8 Per Cent.

Spa, Belgium, July 16.—(By The Associated Press.)—The German representatives signed the coal protocol, drawn up by the Allied representatives, at 8.45 o'clock tonight, thereby settling one of the most difficult questions which has come up in the present discussion. Signatures were affixed on the document after a four hour session at the Villa Fraumuse, near Spa, which was spent by the Germans in a cabinet consultation in an adjoining room. There was a conflict over the introduction in the protocol of the menace of occupation of additional German territory after October 15, next, if German coal deliveries were not up to the stipulated quantity—6,000,000 tons—by that date. The Allies decided to drop this clause of the protocol below the signature line.

Reparation Plan Adopted.

Before the arrival of the German delegates, today, the Allied Premier completed their consideration of the distribution of reparations due from Germany. As finally adopted, the reparations will be made on the following basis:

France, 52 per cent.; Great Britain, 22 per cent.; Italy, 10 per cent.; Belgium, 8 per cent., and Japan and Portugal each 3.4 of one per cent.; the remaining six and a half per cent. will be divided between Serbia, Rumania and Poland. Besides the eight per cent. Belgium is to receive, she will retain the priority right of 2,500,000,000 marks, from which will be paid sums loaned Belgium by the Allies.

The proposed changes in the protocol, submitted by the Germans, were for the most part, purely technical, and were rejected, except an amendment to Article One, by which the Allies accepted an additional provision that the deliveries of coal should be averaged in order to take into account floods in the Rhine region. Section two, also, was amended to allow a premium of five marks per ton on all deliveries by land and sea.

ANTI-VOLSTEAD YACHT ENTHUSIASTS HAPPY

Witnessed International Yacht Race from Decks of Ward Liner and Enjoyed Their Drinks.

New York, July 16.—(By Canadian Press.)—From the viewpoint of those who witnessed yesterday's International yacht race from aboard the Ward liner Orizaba, the contest was a decided success. Neither the adverse weather conditions nor the fact that the defender became disabled had any disheartening effect on the six hundred anti-Volstead yachting enthusiasts who boarded the liner yesterday morning.

The Orizaba, which happened to be in port, was turned into a floating grandstand for the occasion with a bar fully equipped even to doves. For $25 any body who had an aversion for prohibition could witness the contest outside the three mile limit. There was a decided contrast between the countenance of those who saw the race from the Orizaba and those who patronized the excursion boats when the spectators departed at their pier's last evening.

UNPLEASANT AFFAIR OCCURS AT BERLIN

The Display of the French Flag on Bastille Day Caused the Gathering of An Angry Crowd.

Berlin, July 16.—An unpleasant incident occurred Wednesday at the French embassy. The display of the French flag on Bastille Day, for the first time since the conclusion of peace, caused the gathering of an angry crowd, while the Ambassador's guests were arriving for an official luncheon. The guests, many of whom were uniformed French officers, were jeered and booed by the excited manifestants, whose ire was augmented by the back talk of several officers, and the tactless appearance of a Frenchman on the veranda, bowing ironically to look ugly when a truckload of the security police, whose disarmament has just been demanded at Spa, arrived and dispersed the crowd. But the tricolor was lowered and carried off by several Germans who climbed to the roof. The old Imperial flag of black, white and red soon was over the officers' casino opposite the embassy, as a counter demonstration.

Captain Nathaniel Hershoff, designer of the defender Resolute was a guest on J. P. Morgan's steam yacht Corsaire.

MACHINE GUN CAVALRY OF REDS DID IT

Dashing Raids of Budenny's Picked Force Crumpled up Polish Offensive Like Paper.

OUTGENERALLED THE POLES AT EVERY TURN

Operations of This Force Rank With Greatest Achievements in Military History.

Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Co. General, July 16.—The operation of General Budenny, the Red Cossack leader, in the rear of the Poles are described in reports received in Polish official quarters here, which explain the mystery of the sudden collapse of General Pilsudski's front—as ranking among the most brilliant cavalry raids on a large scale in military history and equal in boldness and rapidity to the celebrated feats of American cavalry commanders in the Civil War.

There is no system of permanent trenches along the vast Polish front in Russia, as was the case during the war in France, and there are inevitably many guns where troops are few and far between. Through one such gap to the northwest of Kiev Budenny slipped with his 30,000 picked horsemen, each man carrying mounted on the saddle behind him a machine gun of specially light construction. The marvelous mobility of General Budenny's force upset all of Marshal Pilsudski's calculations and the enormous number of machine guns at its disposal rendered it equal in fighting power to much larger bodies of infantry.

Advancing with extraordinary rapidity, General Budenny captured Rovno and thence pushed on to Dubno, almost 100 miles to the rear of the line of the Suez, which the Poles were holding with 100,000 men, before the Polish general staff grew fully aware of his movements. When outnumbered in battle General Budenny adopted Partisan tactics and his troops, feigning precipitate flight, poured a murderous machine gun fire from their saddles into the ranks of the pursuing Poles, who suffered terrible losses. The Poles were forced to abandon their line of the Suez and to retreat west of Rovno, continually harassed and decimated by Budenny's cavalry. The entire Polish front was shaken and became involved in this retreat.

The Poles lay stress on the fact that their front never was really broken, but rendered untenable by General Budenny's sudden appearance in their rear and his entirely novel tactics. General Pilsudski now is organizing a special force with which to oppose the Red leader's "machine gun cavalry."

General Budenny had laid waste the entire district around Rovno, burning farms and villages, shooting peasants and torturing Polish prisoners so cruelly that in many cases the retreating Poles have shot their own wounded, whom they were forced to leave behind, in order to save them from falling into his hands alive.

CHATHAM HAS HAD ENOUGH

Turns Down Proposal of Bond Issue for Permanent Road Work.

Special to The Standard.
Chatham, July 16.—At the largest attended meeting of ratepayers since incorporation, held at town hall, this evening, the proposal to ask for authority to issue bonds for the purpose of extending the permanent pavement from George street to the Bacon Road, a distance of about one and a half miles at the Western approaches of the town, in connection with the Tarvia Road, now under construction by the Government, was overwhelmingly voted down. The large number of members of the local union attending the meeting strongly opposed the measure.

NOVA SCOTIA MINERS TALKING STRIKE

Will Ask Authority to Strike if Demands for Increased Wages Are Not Granted.

Glace Bay, N. S. July 16.—Silly Barrett, board member of the U. M. W., left tonight for Indianapolis, to attend a meeting of the board members of the U. M. W. Various matters affecting the coal miners of the United States and Canada will be discussed, but the question of local interest, which will be brought before the meeting, will deal with the Royal Commission on the present investigation of wages for the coal miners of the Province. Mr. Barrett will ask the Board if it is prepared to sanction a strike of the coal miners of Nova Scotia in case the coal operators will not grant an increase in wages following a finding by the Commission against the miners. The miners are asking for an increase of one dollar per day for laboring men and a twenty-five per cent increase for other classes and their attitude is that if they do not get this increase they will take either of the two courses—strike, or decreasing the coal output fifty per cent. If the International Board cannot take up this matter at the present sitting, Mr. Barrett will ask for a special meeting to deal with it. The men here have been talking strike for some time past, and vigorous protests were made at public meetings about the delay in appointing the Royal Commission. They are determined to accept nothing less than the terms they have demanded and should the Royal Commission decide against the men, that action will precipitate the most serious crisis that has ever faced the miners of Nova Scotia.

WASHINGTON IS WORRIED OVER CALIFORNIA

Informal Negotiations Between United States Government and Japan Over Proposed Legislation Begun.

PROPOSITION TO EXCLUDE JAPANESE

Has Raised Storm of Protest in That Country—Claim it is Abrogation of Treaty Rights.

Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Co., F. W. WILE.

Washington, July 16.—Informal and preliminary negotiations between the United States and Japan as the result of the coming California vote on the question of more stringent land excision laws already have been begun, it is learned from a source here, and threaten to form one of the most pressing international problems facing this country, certainly of much greater significance to this country as a whole than residents in the east have heretofore thought.

Investigation of the California sentiment has convinced the administration that the initiative measures is of such a nature that it is certain to be approved by the voters of that state, and equally authoritative opinion from Japan indicate that public opinion there already is very much aroused at what is regarded there as a step to abrogate the treaty rights of Japanese in the United States.

There is every reason to believe that the view point of officials interested in the matter has undergone a change which will make the position of this government now differ somewhat from that taken twice before by the Wilson administration when exclusion laws were being considered in California and were deferred at the request of W. J. Bryan and later by Robert Lansing.

is National Matter. The present position is more likely to be that of the United States in the Pacific and east states can no longer be considered merely a local issue, but must be faced as one of extreme importance to the nation as a whole.

The view-point that is impressing persons in touch with the developments, especially in California, is that the Japanese question must be looked at from an economic standpoint and not a question of race, racial antagonism. Looked at in this light, Washington opinion is that the Japanese already have justified some of the fears which Californians have often voiced, particularly that the Japanese were undermining the industrial stability of the state through their intensely low standard of living and that because of the high rate of reproduction they were becoming an increasing menace each year.

These facts brought to light by thorough investigation from the hosts of the entire Pacific slope would be the entire Pacific slope would be under the industrial domination of the Japanese. Experience has shown that they can not be assimilated and that they make no effort to become part of the United States or become influenced by its mode of living.

Japanese Not Assimilating. If conditions are allowed to go on as they are at present it is thought that it would be only a question of a decade or two at the most before the entire Pacific slope would be under the industrial domination of the Japanese.

The letter which Governor Wm. D. Stephens of California sent to Washington appealing for government aid in remedying the existing situation has been placed before the President and the Japanese situation will form an early topic of discussion for the cabinet, and upon its action, of course, depends the ultimate stand to be taken by this government.

The danger in the situation lies in the reaction which the matter will have in Japan. The preliminary report, based on the publication of Governor Stephens' letter has been viewed with interest by the Japanese government, and it is said that the Japanese are deeply to cherish the belief that they will be able within a few years, either through the League of Nations or otherwise, to obtain from the world recognition of the doctrine of equality of races for which they made such a strenuous fight at Paris.

Japanese statesmen and the people generally are said to feel that if the United States is permitted without protest to enact laws against Japanese subjects that its case before the world on race equality will be prejudicially affected.

dealt with on a footing of absolute equality. From the American point of view, that may be regarded as a hard saying, but it is my profound conviction that it carries with it a truth which all the great English-speaking communities will have to accept and act upon, if their place in the world's great hereafter is to be at all comparable to that which it is today.

GERMANS APOLOGIZE FOR FLAG INCIDENT

High German Officials Visit French Embassy and Express Regret at Wednesday's Incident.

Berlin, July 16.—Dr. Hanke von Hamnhausen, Under Secretary of Foreign Affairs with Herr Moll, Counselor of the German government, representing the Protect of Police, paid a personal visit to the French Embassy this afternoon to express official regret over the removal on Wednesday of a French flag hoisted over the French Embassy in honor of Bastille Day. Herr Moll announced the arrest of the guilty person.

Later a company of Reichswehr, with an officer at the head, filed past the embassy portico, which was filled with French officers. The soldiers turned and stood at attention while the tricolor was hoisted. They then marched away singing "Deutschland Uber Alles."

When the crowds in Unter den Linden heard the troops singing there were vociferous "bravos" from the people, who then took up the melody, which swelled into a mighty chorus. The foreign officers might decline to say whether the French Government was satisfied with the apology and the military salute which accompanied it, and the dismissal of two officials supposed to have been guilty of neglecting French property.

TOBACCO HARDENS THE ARTERIES, OVERTAXES THE HEART AND SHORTENS LIFE

Says Dr. Connor, Who Suggests a Simple Test to Find if It is Hurting You. Can You Stand It?

New York.—Dr. Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins hospital, says: Hundreds of thousands of men who smoke and chew, and who believe themselves healthy, are suffering from progressive organic ailments. They would never have been afflicted had it not been for the use of tobacco and most of them would soon get well if they would only stop the use of tobacco.

The best known habit forming principle of tobacco is nicotine, but the most deadly and demoralizing is furfural. Both are deadly poisons, which, when absorbed by the system slowly but surely, affect the nerves, membranes, tissues, vital-organs and vitality of the body.

The harmful effect of tobacco varies and depends on circumstances and the individual. In some it causes general debility, others catarrh of the throat, indigestion, constipation, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of memory, lack of will power, cowardice and fear, mental confusion, etc.

If you use tobacco in any form you easily detect its harmful effects by making the following simple tests: Read aloud a full page from a book. If your voice becomes muffled, hoarse and indistinct, you must frequently clear your throat, the chances are that your throat is affected by catarrh and it may be the beginning of very serious catarrhal trouble. Next, in the morning, before taking your usual smoke, walk up three flights of stairs at a regular pace, then stop. If you find that you are out of breath, if your heart beat is forced, trembling or irregular, you may be the victim of a functional or organic heart trouble. If you feel that you must smoke or chew to quiet your nerves, you are a slave to the tobacco habit and are slowly poisoning yourself with the insidious deadly drugs, nicotine and furfural. In either case you have just two alternatives—keep on with your self-poisoning process regardless of the dangers, and suffer the consequences, or rid yourself of the habit and escape the dangers.

You can overcome the craving and stop the tobacco habit in a very short time by using the following inexpensive formula: Go to any drug store and ask for Nicotol. Take one tablet after each meal and in a comparatively short time you will have no desire for tobacco. The craving will have left you. With the nicotine poisoning out of your system your general health will quickly improve.

Note: When asked about Nicotol, one of our leading druggists said: "Nicotol is only a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit. It is way ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer, and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol is sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists.

Today's Super-Six vs the Earlier Hudson

TIME only can reveal the true value of an automobile. Remember that each succeeding Hudson has been a better car than its predecessor.

It is notable that every Hudson owner holds his particular car to be of the best series, but nevertheless, those who get today's Hudson enjoy a motoring satisfaction as much advanced over the earlier Super-Six as it was in advance of the other cars of its day.

The basic principle, exclusive to Hudson, which makes its Super-Six motor the fleetest and most enduring remains unchanged. But in a hundred ways, it and the entire car is enhanced. There is greater smoothness, easier driving and freedom from annoyances, considered common to all cars.

The record of any Super-Six is convincing, but the present Hudson attains almost to the height of perfection.

GERMAN PRESSES BUSY PRINTING PAPER MONEY

2,667,000,000 Marks Put in Circulation in Last Week of June—Wonder Inspired at Standing as a Reparations Debtor.

By S. B. CONGER.
Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Co.
Berlin, July 16.—As if to show how easily indemnities might be paid if the rules of the game only permitted Germany, in the last week of June, printed and put into circulation 2,667,000,000 marks in paper money. The note presses, which of all industries in Germany make no complaint of dull times, have, by this record achievement on the eve of the Spa conference, brought the total of new paper issued in the half year to 18,000,000,000 marks. That torrent of money has been turned out at a rate which, if maintained throughout the year and all of it could be applied to the payment of reparations, would suffice to meet the yearly instalments suggested by French financiers even at the present rate of discount of the German mark.

The Reichstag's budget committee is now struggling with emergency estimates which provide considerable additions to the already large staffs of government departments and with the demands of the railroads and postal employees for higher pay. The newspaper Germania, inspired by Minister Wirth, sharply reminds the latter that there are now 180,000 superfluous employees on the payrolls. Those two government services are exhausted by their reiterated demands, but the potential voting power of the railroads and postal clerks and the threat of a general tie-up will probably obtain them an increase.

The ministry of defense's demand for pay allowances for fifty-six generals is sharply criticized in the committee by the Socialists. The army representative explained those officers would be required to teach young soldiers the lessons of the late war. A second bank report, that of the savings institutions, seconds that of the Imperial Bank in disquieting financial experts. The report shows an increase in deposits in April and May of more than 2,000,000,000 marks. It explains that is far from being an encouraging symptom of public thrift and results from business stagnation. The deposits represent not savings, but inductive capital now idle from the liquidation of small businesses and sale of business stocks.

TUXIS BOYS AND TRAIL RANGERS
BY FIRELIGHTER

This week has seen the return of a bunch of happy sunburned Trail Rangers from the Y.M.C.A. camp at Chipman, while the St. David's Church "Camp Galahad" closed the end of last week. Wednesday saw the Tuxis boys making their way towards Chipman to the Provincial C.S.E.T. Camp, determined to have as good a time as the Trail Rangers.

Great interest was shown by the boys at both camps in competing for the various C.S.E.T. badges. Most of the boys qualified for their running, jumping, throwing and campcraft badges, and a good start was made in preparing for the tests for other badges that will be held later on.

At Chipman campers hiked were popular, and small groups would go off with a leader, build their camp fires in various ways under different conditions, prepare meals, and discover what Nature had to show them. The two night attacks on the camp were of great interest to the campers. Two-thirds of the boys guarded the camp while the balance formed the attacking party. These had to get through the lines to the camp-fire without being captured. An attacker was considered captured when tagged by a camp guard. By good stalking a number of the attackers managed to reach their objective.

At "Camp Galahad" great interest was taken in swimming, several badges being won and every boy that was eligible could swim before the camp was struck. One day small groups of Trail Rangers went on a hike and spent the night in lean-tos built of whatever materials were at hand. These boys definitely declare that this is not going to be the last time for over night hikes as far as they are concerned. The Tuxis boys that night took the canoe and two boats and went up river, happening along in time, (accidentally of course), to join the Canadian Girls in Training Camp-fire entertainment at the "Cedars." Afterwards they continued on and camped on a beach further up river, returning to Holder's Point the next morning.

Some of the mothers of the boys visited camp last week and were so enthused that they returned and are camping out themselves with their boys this week, and the big sisters of the boys say it has got to be their turn next.

Where is the North?
It is a most important help to a boy in hiking and camping to know the direction of the north.

If you have not a compass, the sun will tell you by day where the north is, and the moon and the stars by night.
At six o'clock in the morning the sun is due east, at nine o'clock he is south-east, at noon he is south, at three o'clock in the afternoon he is south-west, and at six o'clock he is due west. In winter he will have set long before six o'clock, but he will not have reached due west when he is set.

The Phoenicians who sailed round Africa in ancient times noticed that when they started the sun rose on their left-hand side—they were going south. Then they reported that they got to a strange country where the sun got up in the wrong quarter, namely, on their right hand. The truth was that they had gone round the Cape of Good Hope and were steering north again up the east side of Africa.

To find the south at any time of day by the sun—hold your watch flat, face upwards, so that the sun shines on it. Turn it round till the hour hand points at the sun. Then, without moving the watch, lay the edge of a piece of paper or a pencil across the face of the watch so that it rests on the centre of the dial and point out halfway between the figures XII and the hour hand. The line given by that pencil will be the true north and south line.

No Buttons.
Mrs. Flatbush—Well, I declare! Mr. Flatbush—What's wrong now dear?
"I just wonder where all the safety-pins go I bring into the house?"
"Why, I must contrive some way to keep my galluses attached to my trousers, dear!"

Shediac

Shediac, N. B., July 16.—Beautiful weather for some time has prevailed at the seaside. Numerous touring cars from other parts are daily in our midst. The town is filled with motor parties for the week-end who come for the refreshing sea-breeze. Our own shore has all its cottages taken; Shediac Cape and Point du Chene are filled with summer people, while Cape Brule is enjoying all its old-time popularity.

Dr. Frank Allen and family and Miss Kate Theal have arrived in town from Winnipeg to spend some time. Miss Theal is a sister of Mrs. D. S. Harper, another sister, Mrs. C. C. Carlyle, of Winnipeg, arrived a short time ago.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. James and Miss K. James, of St. John, are at the Walden.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Wilbur, Sussex, are at their cottage, Pleasant street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Macdonald and baby son have returned from a visit to Amherst.

A large number of the citizens were in Moncton this week to attend the circus.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Hogan, of Newcastle, accompanied by their guest, Miss Ryan of St. John, were recent motor visitors at the home of Mrs. E. R. Macdonald.

Mrs. Jas. White and family and Mrs. W. A. Flowers motored to St. John during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kelly, accompanied by Mrs. W. E. Talbot, Calgary, and Miss Mary Harper, motored to Moncton this week, and were present at "Chautauque."

Mrs. J. W. Black and little son, John, of Sackville, were guests during the week of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Charters.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Tait, the Misses Eleanor and Kathleen Tait and Miss Gertrude Evans are on a motor trip to parts of Nova Scotia.

A very enjoyable event of the season was the bridge of four tables given by Mrs. Avar White, when she entertained lady friends at her pretty cottage on Water street, when pretty souvenirs of the game fell to Mrs. Frank Dickie, Moncton, Mrs. R. E. Talbot, Calgary, and Mrs. F. J. Robidoux, Jr. Quantities of flowers adorned the verandah, on which the game was played. Young ladies to assist in serving were Miss Mildred McQueen and Miss B. Harper. The tea cups were presided over by Mrs. Geo. A. White.

Ladies playing cards were Mrs. Talbot, Calgary, Mrs. F. Dickie, Moncton, Mrs. G. Harris, Moncton, Mrs. Charlene, Mrs. E. A. Smith, Mrs. R. J. Dutton, Mrs. Preza, Miss May Harper, Mrs. D. B. White, Mrs. Balloch, Mrs. A. J. Webber, Mrs. J. D. Weldon, Mrs. A. C. Lawton and Mrs. F. J. Robidoux.

One of the pleasant social functions of the week was the tea at which Miss Evans was hostess at her home, Main street in honor of her guest, Mrs. Hamilton, Newcastle. Other guests included Mrs. Racine, Montreal, Mrs. C. C. Carlyle, Winnipeg; Mrs. G. A. White, Mrs. R. C. Tait, Miss M. Tait, Miss G. Evans, Mrs. F. J. Robidoux, Mrs. Rob. We speak of Quality first, because we fixed the Standard of Quality before we fixed the Standardized Price Policy! Price alone is no reason why you should order your clothes Tailored-to-Measure. Price doesn't mean anything anywhere, unless it fixes the value of a Quality that is satisfactory to you.

We know that you can pay more than our Standardized Prices for a Suit that is not any better than our Tailored-to-Measure Garments. We have never tried to make a cheap suit to meet a certain price—every garment that leaves our Tailor Shops must be as good as you can get anywhere—and at any one of our 27 Quality Tailor Shops the Quality is the same and all at our Known Standardized-Prices. Our garments represent Real Value rather than a mere vanity high price.

We want the clothes buyers of the Dominion to know that is the secret of our unprecedented volume of business. TWO SUSPECTS HELD BY POLICE Believed to Have Been Men Who Stole Automobile, Property of Bank of Nova Scotia, at New Glasgow.

Two young men who the detective department believe to have stolen a Chevrolet car, the property of the Bank of Nova Scotia in New Glasgow, are being held for investigation at the central police station. The authorities were recently advised that Roy Houdy, aged seventeen, and John George Wright, aged twenty-two had stolen the car in New Glasgow and disappeared taking the car with them. The police were requested to arrest them if seen. The car was found at the beginning of the week lying deserted by the roadside at Model Farm. The two suspects were arrested by C. N. R. Policeman Pierce in the Coach House at Island Yard, for trespassing on government property on Monday last. When brought to the police station it was found that they answered to the descriptions of the car thieves, and as their stories were rather inconsistent the detectives ordered them held until New Glasgow had been communicated with.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Elisha Cosman. The death occurred last evening about nine o'clock, of one of the oldest residents of the city in the person of Mrs. Elisha Cosman, after an illness of six weeks duration. The late Mrs. Cosman was born in Midland, Kings county, on the 21st December, 1834, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sharp. On November 2nd, 1859 she was married to Elisha Cosman. They moved to St. John about ten years later and have been residents of the city ever since. For the past fifteen years Mr. and Mrs. Cosman had been making their home with their daughter, Mrs. E. Nelson Davis, 45 Elbow Row. She leaves to mourn her husband, one son, Dr. E. O. Cosman, of Minneapolis; one daughter, Mrs. E. Nelson Davis, of this city; a brother, W. H. Sharp, of Minneapolis and two grandchildren, Mrs. H. S. Wanamaker and E. O. Davis, of this city. The funeral services will be held at her late residence on Sunday evening and interment will be made on Monday morning at Midland.

Samuel B. Folkins. The death of Samuel B. Folkins, for many years a resident of St. John, for the past six years living at Somerville, Mass., took place at his home 147 Cedar street, Somerville, on Monday last. He is survived by his wife formerly Miss Carleton, and one son, Fred C. Folkins of Dorchester, Mass. Mr. Folkins was nearly seventy-five years of age. The body was brought to Millstreet, where Mr. Folkins was born and interment was made in the family lot there.

Mrs. Jane Appleby. Gagetown, N. B., July 12.—The death took place at her home in Lawfield on Friday afternoon, of Mrs. Jane Appleby, widow of the late Luke Appleby, after an illness of about a week, due to old age. Mrs. Appleby, who was over ninety, was one of the early settlers in Lawfield, and had seen many changes during her long life. She had a large family, those surviving being five sons, Andrew, of Boston, Mass.; Thomas S., of Woodstock; Melbourne and Edward W., of Hamptstead and Guilford, with whom she made her home in Lawfield; four daughters, also survive, Mrs. John DeLong, of Young's Cove; Mrs. W. Dollard, of St. John; Mrs. Fred Peavin, of Queenstown and Mrs. Sancton Taylor, of Pleasant Villa.

The funeral, which was largely attended, took place on Sunday afternoon, from her late residence to St. John's Church, the services being conducted by the rector, Rev. H. T. Buckland. Interment was made in the old part of St. John's Churchyard, beside Mrs. Appleby's late husband.

Donald Tutin. The funeral of Donald Tutin, the young Scotian, whose death came so suddenly and tragically in the woods at Hart's Lake on Monday, took place this afternoon from St. John's church, where the body had remained since the previous evening. Although there were no relatives present to mourn the loss of son and brother, the church was filled with the friends which "Jimmie" had made during his seven years' stay in Gagetown, and many old sinner's were the expressions of sorrow at the sudden call which had taken such a bright, ambitious young lad. The many floral tributes were also an expression of their regard. The burial service was read by the rector, Rev. H. T. Buckland, and the hymns: "God of the Living," "Nearer My God to Thee" and Jimmie's favorite, "The Four a Friend, a Heavenly Friend" were sung. The pall-bearers were Hazen S. McAllister, Harry McAllister, Lewis Brooks, Fraser Fox, M. G. Fox and Frank McAllister, and interment was made in St. John's churchyard.

Ruddigore Or Witches' Curse

Boston English Opera Company Pleased a Capacity House at the Imperial Last Night—The Last Performances This Afternoon and Evening.

Ruddigore or the Witches' Curse was presented last evening by the Boston English Opera Company at the Imperial Theatre. This was the first time this Gilbert and Sullivan Opera has been heard in St. John and it was enjoyed by a fair sized but appreciative audience.

It is a delightful satire on melodrama containing many of the traditional characters of the stage including the wicked baronet, the villainous queen "Rose," the devoted foster brother, the ancient dame faithful to her old love, and the mad maiden.

The holder of the title must commit a daily crime or die in terrible agony and many situations are woven about this main theme—which was splendidly rendered.

The songs are typically Gilbert and Sullivan with several pretty solos and the usual comic songs. A patter song, "It Really Does Not Matter" was the hit of the evening. A duet by Miss Morrill and Mr. Bradward was encored a number of times.

The stage setting of the second act where the family portraits come to life was a good piece of work.

Miss Helen Morrill was very sweet and sang beautifully as "Rose," Stanley Dodson had a number of good solos as Rob afterwards Sir Ruthven Murgatroyd. Miss Oasy was excellent as Mad Margaret. May Barrow had a good part as Dame Hannah. Lora and Ruth, professional bridesmaids were played by Margaret Gilbert and Lilian Chapuisane, Richard Dauntless, the sailor foster brother, was splendidly sung by Ralph Brainerd. While as Sir Bessard, the reformed and reformed baronet, Bertman Golttra's every appearance was a signal for laughter. Miss Car made him a very good partner and good characterization was William Northway as Adam Goodheart. The choruses were well sung with a good volume of sound.

Tonight the "Pirates of Penzance" will be presented.

Mills is visiting at the home of Mrs. M. E. Baldwin.

Mr. Harry Coholan of St. John, is enjoying a vacation at Mr. Jose Milliken's cottage, Lake Umbagog.

Miss Jennie Dodds arrived from Providence, R. I., on Saturday and is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Annie Dodds.

How Do You Chew? And Conditions

Policeman Finds Set of Artificial Teeth—A Few Hints Given Regarding Conditions at Present Prevailing in St. John With Young Men and Women.

A police officer reported last night (16) he was the finder of a set of false teeth on Rothesay Ave., and would like the owner of the lost molars to communicate with police headquarters. There might be many reasons thought of on account of the lost teeth. The owner might be a bashful young person who is too embarrassed to proceed from home and meet friends with a depression in the lower part of the face. Another instance is the married man who would be better home with his wife instead of playing the sport on the joyride which is frequently noticed by officials and others. Then comes the young man who makes a bit with the hundreds of young damsels in the city. The youth and those over the age who have a car, have no trouble in having companions with a fine looking complexion from rouge and powder, even if their face looks good without the artificial supply which brand them as an "up-to-date female." The night police on duty are tired of looking at them and it appears as if the parents of both young male and female do not care regarding the late hours kept or companions. There appears to be no hurry regarding the time that a broiled live lobster is finished along with the conversation and it seems to be the old saying: "This is the life."

Today's Opera Finale

The Boston English Opera Co. will conclude their light operatic engagement here this afternoon and evening with a repeat performance of "The Mikado" at the matinee and the ever popular "Pirates of Penzance" in the evening. Cox's Chances of Winning the Presidency

While Senator Capper's Topeka Capital (Rep.) considers Republican victory at the polls not even in question, declaring that "after November the Democrats will know that a political party can not carry a presidential election in this country by sprinkling a little booze on its clothes," other Republican papers agree with the New York Tribune that it "would be most foolish if they (Senator Harding's supporters) did not frankly recognize the formidableness of the Cox and Roosevelt ticket." The Chicago Tribune (Rep.) says that the bosses nominated Governor Cox because they thought he was "the best vote-getter and the best goat-getter Democracy had."

If you would obtain a practical idea of Governor Cox's chances of winning the election, as pointed out by newspaper editors of all shades of political opinion, you will do well to read THE LITERARY DIGEST for this week—July 17th. The leading article is a careful summary of American newspaper opinion of the Democratic nominee and the advantages and disadvantages that will be his during the campaign.

Indignation Has Been Expressed

Members of the I. O. D. E. Takes Exception Over Statement Made by T. R. Ferguson of Toronto—What the Toronto Telegram Says.

Much indignation has been expressed by members of the I. O. D. E. over a statement made by T. R. Ferguson of Toronto, that religious differences was the cause of the Gooderman-Kingsmill controversy. The Toronto Telegram says:

Miss Amokh, the newly-elected president, would not express an opinion.

Mrs. John Brown, the former president, was asked:

"What is your opinion of the Ferguson speech? Do you except it or would you care to repudiate it?"

"I do not wish to say anything," said Mrs. Brown. "I know nothing whatever about Ferguson, but evidently he has been studying the matter for some time, and some of it is right—certain facts are right, but I am not saying what they are—in the reference to the Church or otherwise. I've had enough publicly and am not saying anything."

Mr. T. R. Ferguson names Lady Pope, Mrs. A. W. McDougall, of Montreal, and Mrs. Philip Klyly as attacking the late president. He also claims Protestant women have been made the dupes of the Catholics.

Mrs. A. W. McDougall, in being interviewed, stated she regretted with all good friends of the order the unfortunate publicity, but she felt obliged to correct Mr. Ferguson's statement in regard to her personal life.

The statement that I ever at any time made any attack on Mrs. Gooderman is entirely without foundation. I have upon various occasions been obliged to take a stand upon certain constitutional points at variance with Mrs. Gooderman. These constitutional points for which I have stood have been eventually passed by the National Chapter and embodied in the constitution.

Mrs. Philip Klyly said: "Mr. Ferguson calls an article of mine in 'The Echo' an attack on Mrs. Gooderman. The only paragraph dealing with the Kingsmill-Gooderman controversy has been grossly misinterpreted by Mr. Ferguson. The only other member of Mrs. Gooderman so far from being an attack, was highly complimentary of her long years of service."

A Toronto delegate to the National Meeting at Calgary said:

"The new executive of which he has such opinion, out of fifty members, has four Catholics. All these were elected by the meeting. I was obliged to take a stand upon certain constitutional points at variance with Mrs. Gooderman. These constitutional points for which I have stood have been eventually passed by the National Chapter and embodied in the constitution."

"How can Mr. Ferguson maintain that Mrs. Gooderman's downfall was the result of a Catholic plot and persecution?"

"Mrs. George Smith, of St. Catharines, who was among this year's resignees, is not mentioned by Mr. T. R. Ferguson, but she has been foremost in raising the cry that the Catholics were plotting against the Order and its objects—yet the very campaign which she saw lag in Ontario—the year mentioned, was so successful in Montreal that it holds the record in subscriptions."

"On the other hand, the scheme for French relief which Mrs. Gooderman championed and which was the chief cause of the Lady Pope protest (in 1915) was put forth by Madame Ouzages, a French Roman Catholic. Toronto Catholic chapters, the Sir Henry Pelham, and the Edward Kyle, have been Mrs. Gooderman's staunch supporters. How can Mr. Ferguson, in the face of these facts, blame up his Catholic enemy?"

"Lady Kingsmill and Mrs. A. W. McDougall of Montreal, are both Presbyterians of old Presbyterian stock. Mr. Ferguson states the very name I. O. D. E. is hostile to the Catholics, who would like to see the Imperial British nation dismembered. He pictures Lady Pope as a leading member who would control the I. O. D. E. and thus help to French-Canadian Catholic the mother of four sons overseas, a warm advocate of conscription and universal military training."

The yacht William K. Y. C. anchorage for a two weeks' cruise at the end of the party on the 15th inst. The party on the 15th inst. consisted of: Captain Land, mate; Frank H. H. Melrose, cook; Jack Hall. The boys far as Fredericton, most friends.

THE GREAT IMPERSONATION.
"No more successful mystery story was ever written than 'The Great Impersonation,' which bears the name of Mr. Phillips Oppenheim on the title page. The solution of the mystery comes at the end with suddenness as complete as the surprise which accompanies it. The tale is told so skilfully that the reader has no suspicion of its outcome as he turns the pages, yet when he knows the truth he discovers that it has revealed time after time without either him or any of the characters being any the wiser. This is indeed a triumph of construction and treatment, and Mr. Oppenheim deserves all the credit that can be given to him. It is a book that holds the attention from first to last."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

SO

Indignation Has Been Expressed

Members of the I. O. D. E. Take Exception Over State- ment Made by T. R. Fergus- son of Toronto—What the Toronto Telegram Says.

Much indignation has been expressed by members of the I. O. D. E. over a statement made by T. R. Fergusson of Toronto, that religious differences was the cause of the Gooderham-Kingsmill controversy. The Toronto Telegram says:

Mrs. Arnold, the newly-elected president, would not express an opinion.

Mrs. John Bruce, the former president, was asked:

"What is your opinion of the Fergusson speech? Do you accept it or would you care to repudiate it?"

"I do not wish to say anything," said Mrs. Bruce. "I know nothing whatever about Mr. Fergusson, but evidently he has been reading the matter for some time, and some of it is right—certain facts are right, but I am not saying what they are—in the reference to the Church or otherwise. I have not seen it publicly and am not saying anything."

Mr. T. R. Fergusson names Lady Pope, Mrs. A. W. McDougald, of Montreal, and Mrs. Philip Kiely as attacking the late president. He also claims Fergusson's women have been made the dupes of the Catholics.

Mrs. A. W. McDougald, in being interviewed, said she regretted with all good friends of the order the unfortunate publicity, but she felt obliged to correct Mr. Fergusson's statement in regard to her personal life.

The statement that I ever at any time made any attack on Mrs. Gooderham is entirely without foundation. I have upon various occasions, been obliged to take a stand upon certain constitutional points at variance with Mrs. Gooderham. These constitutional points for which I have stood have been eventually approved by the National Chapter and embodied in the constitution.

Mrs. Philip Kiely said: "Mr. Fergusson calls an article of mine in 'Echoes' an attack on Mrs. Gooderham. The only paragraph dealing with the Kingsmill-Gooderham controversy has been grossly misinterpreted by Mr. Fergusson. The only other mention of Mrs. Gooderham, so far from being an attack, was highly complimentary of her long years of service."

A Toronto delegate to the National Meeting at Calgary said:

"The new executive of which he has such creditable mention has been, but four Catholics. All these were elected by the meeting."

"What proof has Mr. Fergusson for his claim that it was a Catholic plot that drove Mrs. Gooderham and her adherents from office?" Lady Pope was not even at the annual meeting. Mrs. John Bruce in her official statement declared she would not remain in office in an order which had refused to pass a vote of confidence in Mrs. Gooderham.

"How can Mr. Fergusson maintain that Mrs. Gooderham's downfall was the result of a Catholic plot and persecution?"

"Mrs. George Smith, of St. Catharines, who was among this year's resigners, is not mentioned by Mr. T. R. Fergusson, but she has been foremost in raising the cry that the Catholics were plotting against the Order and its objects—yet the very pamphlet which she saw lag in Ontario—the war memorial fund—was so successful in Montreal that it holds the record in subscriptions."

"On the other hand, the scheme for French relief which Mrs. Gooderham championed and which was the initial cause of the Lady Pope protest (in 1915) was yet forth by Madame Ouzgryn, a French born Catholic. Toronto Catholics, Oshelle, Chapin, the St. Henry Pelland, and the Edward Kyle, have been Mrs. Gooderham's staunch supporters. How can Mr. Fergusson, in the face of these facts, besmirch his Catholic best?"

"Lady Kingsmill and Mrs. A. W. McDougald, of Montreal, are both Presbyterians of old Presbyterian stock. Mr. Fergusson states the very same L. O. D. E. is hateful to the Catholics, who would like to see the Imperial British nation dismembered. He pictures Lady Pope as a leading member who would control the L. O. D. E. Yet Lady Pope is a French-Canadian Catholic, the mother of four sons overseas, a warm advocate of conscription and universal military training."

THE GREAT IMPERSONATION.

"No more successful mystery story was ever written than 'The Great Impersonation,' which bears the name of E. Phillips Oppenheim on the title page. The solution of the mystery comes at the end with suddenness as complete as the surprise which accompanies it. The tale is told so skilfully that the reader has no suspicion of its outcome as he turns the pages, yet when he knows the truth he discovers that it has revealed time after time without either him or any of the characters being any the wiser. This is indeed a triumph of construction and treatment, and Mr. Oppenheim deserves all the credit that can be given to him. It is a book that holds the attention from first to last."

JOHN H. PACKER, well-known electrical engineer of Liberty, N.S., who says that to look at him to-day no one would ever take him to be the same man he was before Tanlac restored his health. Has gained forty-four pounds.

"For two years previous to the time I began taking Tanlac, I lived principally on a raw-egg diet. During this time I was laid up in the hospital for five months and practically no hope was held out for my recovery. I don't suppose any man had a worse case of stomach trouble than I did, in fact they said I could not live."

"Tanlac did not seem to help me much at first, and I had almost made up my mind to give it up, but if I had given it up it would have been the mistake of my life. I stuck to it for a fair test and am thankful that I did for after finishing my fourth bottle, my appetite was better and I noticed myself improving."

"This encouraged me to keep on taking it and in two months I was able to eat a good square meal and digest it as good as anybody. Then it wasn't long until I got so I could go back to my work and at the time I had finished my last bottle, I found I had actually gained forty-four pounds in weight."

"To look at me today no one would ever take me to be the same man I was when I began taking Tanlac."

The above remarkable statement was made recently by John H. Packer, well-known electrical engineer of Liberty, Missouri.

Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Co., and F. W. Munro under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—Advt.

TROOPS IN CHINA REFUSING TO FIGHT

Railways, However, Have Been Cut and Pekin is Run- ning Short of Food.

By ROGERS AMES BURR.

Copyright, 1923, by Ppublic Ledger Co., Pekin, July 14.—The troops are plainly indisposed to immolate themselves in partisan warfare. Many are refusing to fight and there has been as yet no serious clash. Fear exists that the forces of Marshal Tuan, head of the Pekin military or Ansbals party warring with the Reformists or provincialists will disintegrate and rush back on Pekin and loot the city. All the railways have stopped operation except the Peking-Tientsin line. No food supplies are arriving in the capital, which faces famine. Food riots are anticipated.

The diplomatic corps is determined to keep open the Tientsin line and may demand that the military check trains provide for entry of food. Marshal Tuan and his men are requisitioning vehicles and levying forced labor. The Japanese deny aiding Tuan but there are Japanese military instructors with the Tuan army, which is equipped with Japanese material. The Italians have sold Tuan ammunition in fulfillment, it is claimed, of pre-embargo contracts.

The Chinese Foreign Office in reply to a warning from the diplomatic corps says military exigency may necessitate troops entering Pekin, but that every precaution will be taken to protect foreign life and property.

But remember that Paint Quality varies

You cannot save the surface with a poor paint—unless you re-paint frequently. That is extravagant—so you naturally seek the paint of utmost durability. Your search for such a paint will lead you ultimately to the pure and permanent

B-H PAINT 70% Pure White Lead
30% Pure White Zinc
100% Pure Paint

Its outstanding merit is primarily due to its white base: zinc white and Brandram's Genuine B.B. White Lead, which for two centuries has been the standard white lead of the world. The purest linseed oil (from our own mills) with best turpentine, aids in giving a tough air-tight coat. You cannot prove these high claims until you've used the paint—but you can meanwhile accept as your guide the experience of your neighbors. Ask any man who ever used B-H if it is not true that it goes farthest—and lasts longest. You will find unvarying conviction among experienced paint-users that the quality and durability of this brand are such as to make it the supreme surface-saver. You will probably find in your neighborhood houses painted with B-H long ago that look as if they were painted but recently.

ICE HOCKEY MAY BE PLAYED IN MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, N. Y.

Tex Rickard Now Controls Great Amusement Palace — Transaction May Cause Tom Duggan's Proposed International League to Materialize.

New York, July 16.—Madison Square Garden, probably the best known institution in the United States, has been leased for ten years by Tex Rickard, the boxing promoter, who after enlarging and renovating the big structure, will turn it into an arena of sport and endeavor to make it the greatest of its sort in the country. For hockey, it is understood, may be a feature. It was announced yesterday that the lease had been signed between Mr. Rickard and the New York Life Insurance Company, owners of the property and the promoter will assume exclusive control on August 1 and promises to stage a dazzling array of sporting events in steady succession. It is understood that the rental is in the neighborhood of $500,000 a year.

It is Mr. Rickard's intention to make over the interior of the big arena not only with the object of increasing the seating capacity, but also to modernize the structure. Madison Square Garden at the present time will hold 16,000 persons, and Mr. Rickard declared that he would increase the seating capacity to 20,000 by means of alterations and the tearing away of the concert hall, restaurant and theatre on the Madison avenue side.

Though many notable contests were staged in the ring of the arena while the Frawley law was operative, none equalled in interest the succession of memorable ring combats that were seen in the historic arena under the Horton law.

It was there that Fitzsimmons, Corbett, Maher, Chynoweth and other great stars of the ring squared their skill and senses. One of the most remarkable bouts ever staged, in which Terry McGovern featherweight champion, knocked out Frank Erne, the heavyweight champion, in three rounds, was seen in the garden ring.

In announcing details of the venture Mr. Rickard said his new duties would necessitate his resigning as official match-maker of the International Sporting Club. This situation forces the conclusion that the new club in the garden will prove to be a formidable rival to the Interprovincial club, and that between these two great organizations, New Yorkers will get the cream of all gloved combats in America.

Mr. Rickard said he would not attempt to stage any bouts until Governor Smith had set the machinery of the Walker law in motion by the appointment of a boxing commission, and that he would endeavor to match men whose records inspired confidence in the patrons of pugilism.

While Mr. Rickard declined to mention the amount for the decade's lease or to hint at the boxing bout that he will stage at the opening show, there is reason for the belief that Jack Dempsey's heavyweight championship, will make his first appearance in the east in a bout under the promotion of Rickard. The promoter is anxious to put Carpenter in the ring with Dempsey and will bid high.

Dempsey is practically matched with "Knockout" Bill Brennan of INTENTIONAL PASS Bone of Contention

New York, July 16.—Much is being said and written about the intentional pass.

Crowds at the ball yards raise a storm every time a favorite is not allowed a chance to hit, and experts are viewing the prevalence of the practice as an open evil of the game.

Many changes are being suggested, but they all put it up to the umpire to decide when the pitcher is committing a first degree pass.

There is an adequate rule now on the books to prevent the intentional pass if the umpires would enforce the regulation.

No matter what kind of a clause is added to the already cluttered code of baseball rules, the umpire must decide whether the pass was intentional on the part of the pitcher.

Miller Huggins has the right idea about stopping the piousness issue of passes, but unfortunately his manager has not the material at hand to use the antidote.

Huggins simply moved Bob Meusel, a boy with a stick almost as powerful as the Homerun King's, up behind the Babe.

It Pays to Feed Empire Feeds!

Cattlemen, farmers and dairymen have learned that it is profitable to buy stock feeds by proteins and that the feed containing the proper amount of proteins is the feed that brings results.

Another consideration steps in, however, and that is, that beyond a certain point, protein ingredients may be present in too great quantity for the animal to use, and there is waste.

Empire Dairy and Hog Feeds contain not less than 16% proteins (guaranteed), which will be used for the nourishment of the animal, without waste.

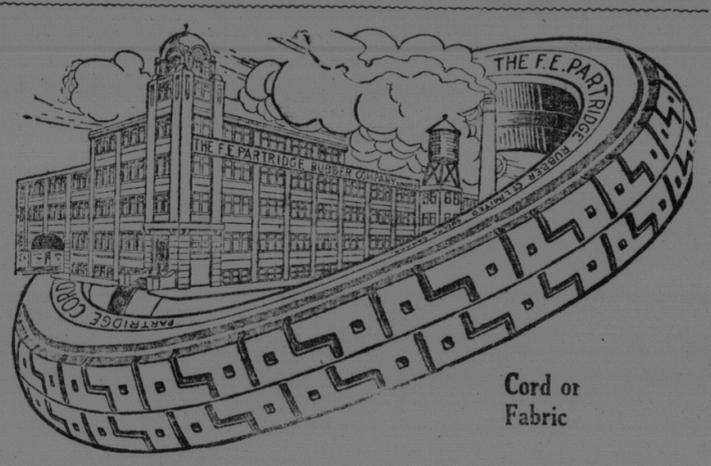

We aim to put up feeds that will pay the user. Only good sound grains and other ingredients are used, and certainly no filler or other useless stuff will ever enter into EMPIRE FEEDS. Try a quantity for a fair testing time. We will abide by the resulting improvement in your stock. Ask your dealer for the honest feeds—EMPIRE BRANDS.

Dearest Little Friends— As this season is to circus time in our part of the country, perhaps some of you have been fortunate enough to attend one or more. Even to see the parade is quite a treat to most kiddies and it gives a fine chance of seeing the animals that seem to be the greatest object of the circus—to show the wild animals and the proxy horses. So I have been hoping that some of our members were able to enjoy this favorite entertainment. The circus of course always make the little folks laugh and indeed the big ones too, then the acrobatic stunts are always wonderful and amusing, but perhaps what appears mostly to the girls and boys are the many kinds of wild animals. Those of you who saw them during this week must have been impressed with their unusual acting. To me it was surprising to see the lions actually performing in a large cage in the centre of the tent. About six of them were in it at one time and the trainer going among them, seemed just as much at home surrounded by the monsters as if they were human beings. Of course I must have taken many months of training to teach them to form the various pyramids which they did so cleverly. You probably know that the lions roam about the woods in East Africa as our deer and moose do in this country. The young ones are very active and wouldn't care for a small morsel of food as you would be to them, they prefer something larger, but the older ones are slow and would be very glad of something small to please upon. The baby lions were the same tawny color that resemble the grassy plains where they live which must make them very difficult to distinguish. They have round gleaming eyes and can see things ever so far. It is said that they have been known to cover up their foot prints with their tails, but I shouldn't care to follow them to find that out, should you? The lion and lioness live together all their life and are very kind to each other and the little lion-cubs and the parents play happily together, they are as harmless and playful as kittens. Doesn't that seem strange to us who see them so savage and fierce looking? The baby lions never kill they are old enough to roar and then they seem to enjoy the latter occupation very much. The lion is called the King of Beasts because he is so powerful and has such a stately appearance but nobody ever calls the lioness the Queen of Beasts.

Answers To Letters

LEON B.—Very pleased indeed to have you join our jolly club and will expect to have a nice long letter from you soon telling all about yourself and your doings as that is our only way of becoming acquainted in the C. C.

GRACE H.—You will need to rise early I think to see the deer themselves rather than their tracks. They are each pretty animals to look at though it would be worth even an early rising to be able to watch them. That joke your friend gave you has been applied to a lot of different things and most everybody gets caught in the answer. You will have enough to keep you out of mischief with the care of chicks and garden. Glad to hear from you and hope to again soon.

ST. STEPHEN MEMBER—You failed to sign your name to your letter so I can't call you by name. The diary would be for the holidays, so your letter will be sent in until near school opening. I am sorry that the riddles you sent were both in our page already. When sending any kind of riddles the answers must accompany them.

ELMA M.—Your letter was acceptable of course, but showed you were as you said in a hurry. Perhaps next time you will wait until you have lots of time then you could show us how neat your letter can be and how nicely you can write. Sorry you did not get to the circus too, but perhaps next time will be your turn. I hope so anyway.

JOE D.—So glad to hear from you again and to know you are having such good times and enjoying the holidays so much. Your school marks were splendid and it is always a pleasure to hear of the success of the members.

NELLIE G.—Too bad about your accident, but when you are about again, how good those birds to hop about and sing for you, it must help to pass the time nicely, and they are such interesting friends to watch. Hope to hear good news from you soon.

WILLIAM B.—You are having a busy summer alright, but when your duties keep you out doors so much, you will get the benefit almost as much as by playing all the time. Enjoy your letter very much and like your year style of writing too.

MARJORIE G. L.—Thanks for all the nice things you wrote, it cheers a person up to hear of having pleased the kiddies. You must be an excellent berry-picker and consequently a very useful little body.

ANNIE W.—It certainly was too bad you lost your pet and of course you would feel very badly for a time. However you must just forget those things especially when you have other dumb friends who want you to care for and play with them. Hope you had a fine day for your picnic, that is always the most essential thing to make picnics successful. Write again some day.

TED R.—You are probably back from your camping trip by this time and how good home with its comfy bed will feel to you. Hope to hear all about your outing for I am sure you would enjoy it very much.

Revenge. A village cricket match often lacks something—certainly not enthusiasm, but occasionally a display of proficiency, and sometimes the necessary number of men are not forthcoming. When Chawley-in-the-Mud played Pockburgh-in-the-Hole, two of the players had to umpire for their side, and one of them was anxiously waiting to bat.

"How's that?" cried the bowler, as the ball struck the batsman full on the leg. "Out!" cried the umpire, fairly itching to go in. "Ow do you make of that?" grumbled the batsman.

"You were leg-before," cried the umpire, "and I, as umpire, say you're out, so you are out!" "All right!" said the disgruntled swapper. "I'll be umpire when you're in, and when I say 'Out!' you'll be out—and that'll be first ball!"

THE WHISPER-WHISPER MAN. The whisper-whisper man Makes all the wind in the world. He has a gown as brown as brown; His hair is long and curled.

In the stormy winter-time He taps at your window-pane, And all the night, until it's light, He whispers through the rain.

If you peeped through a Fairy Ring You'd see him, little and brown; You'd hear the beat of his chocky feet Scampering through the town. —Thora Stowell.

THE WESTMOUNT BOYS' CLUB STORIES

THE LOST IS FOUND. (Continued from last week.) CHAPTER II. The Lost Boy. The following two weeks found the boys out early and late picking up all the odd jobs that they could get, so with their studies, it was a time of all work and no play for the majority of them. The two weeks quickly passed and at last the final day of the old year rolled around. On that Saturday morning the boys met again at the Westmount House to discuss the wily-excited countenance of the missing boy, John Temple. "How's that?" cried the bowler, as the ball struck the batsman full on the leg. "Out!" cried the umpire, fairly itching to go in. "Ow do you make of that?" grumbled the batsman. "You were leg-before," cried the umpire, "and I, as umpire, say you're out, so you are out!" "All right!" said the disgruntled swapper. "I'll be umpire when you're in, and when I say 'Out!' you'll be out—and that'll be first ball!"

SONG OF THE CREATURES.

Great Lord and King of Earth and Sky and Sea, Who yet can hear a little child like me, Who gives us everything we ask and more, There are the things I want to thank you for— For Brother Sun, whose bright and Brings light and color to each daisy place; Who, in the golden rays he flashes down, Reveals the shining glory of Thy crown. For Sister Moon, whose splendour soft and white Makes out of doors so beautiful at night. For all the tiny silver stars on high, A shower of sparkling snowflakes in the sky. For Brother Wind, who sweeps the clouds away, And cools my cheeks when I am hot with play. For all the crisp, inviting open air That carries life and freshness everywhere. For Sister Water, precious, sweet and clean, Who humbly serves a beggar and a queen; And who, where sea and sizzling pebbles meet, Comes rippling gently round my naked feet. For Brother Fire, whose light and shadow falls In merry dances on my nursery walls; And who, though very powerful and bold, Will warm my fingers when they ache with cold. For Mother Earth, so solid, firm and wide, I could not move or shake her if I tried; Who bears the forests and the waving grass, And little flowers that beckon as we pass. For all the kind people, whosoever they live, Who help each other, suffer and forgive. And who, with loving reverence, unite in serving Thee, by trying to do right! —Jessie Pope.

DATES—NOT TO BE EATEN.

One of our Colonial contributors tells of some of the curious ways in which the boundary riders of the great Australian sheep ranches keep count of the days. One old man, who has lived in the back-country for thirty years, used two jam tins and seven pebbles. One tin was marked "This week," and the other, "Last week." On Monday morning he would take a pebble from "Last week" and drop it into "This week," and each subsequent morning, till "This week" had swallowed the seven. They were returned to "Last week," and the old fellow knew that another Sunday was passed. Another man had tried and failed with several plans. At last he hit on a new idea. He made a big damper (cake of flour and water) on Sunday night, and marked it into seven sections, each section being a day's allowance, so that every time he picked up the damper the grooves would remind him of the day. Unfortunately one Tuesday there came a visitor with a horse and a dog, and the damper was eaten by the horse and the dog. At last he could stand it no longer. "Stop-stop!" he cried, as he scrambled forward and glared at it. "There," he said, "you've eaten 'To-day' and 'We'll-day,' and now you've eaten the best of the morning of 'Thursday,' and I won't know the day of the week!"

DON'TS FOR THE OCCASIONAL BATHER

Don't forget to wet your head, especially the nape of the neck. Ladies who do not meet the ocean's temporary wavelets with what is known as a "permanent wave" had best wear a cap. Don't go in on either a full stomach or an empty one; in the latter case eat a biscuit while undressing. Don't stay in too long, not more than five minutes for the first dip, and from ten to fifteen when you are used to it, is quite long enough. Don't go in when very hot; cool down first. Don't "fool about" between dips or after, but stop in until you come out for good, and then dress. Don't bathe at all if you have a discharge from the ear; it may have very serious consequences. They had spent the day in fishing during a cold, driving rain, and were returning with empty baskets and tried temptations. As they entered the village a large dog ran at them, barking furiously. One of the fishermen kicked it away carelessly. "Aren't you afraid he will go for you if you do that?" asked his friend. His companion looked sadly and sorrowfully into his face. "Only wish he would," was the other's reply. "I'd chance almost anything to go home and say 'I'd had a bite!'"

LETTERS FROM A HOME-MADE FATHER TO HIS SON

By Ed. Streeter THE NEW MACHINE IS LATE TO A FIRE. Deer Sun, Me an your mother continue to miss you. Your mother wishes you more nor I. That's no more our natural cause since you left your share of the work has fallen on her, as Pooch Fried says when somebody let a hole a bricks fall on his head. We talk about you quite a lot. Only last night I was up after supper while your mother washed the dishes. She says "I wonder what Hazzy doin tonight?" says she. An I says "I don't know." Things was hum dinger here a few days ago. You hadnt ben gone morn a week for Squire Freeman got up in counsil meetin an voted to buy in an new fire engine. He claimed as how the old hand pump one was menase to life an lime. Then he recollected to us the time when Hl Warrickers barn burnt up. Ralph Grubb got under the pump handle on the engine. It came down on his head an busted the handle. The Squire allowed how if it had ben count on someones Bapage it woulda stove his skull in 2. But Ralph, he threated to sue cause it made him cut his foot on a peeces o' coal. There was a right smart discombin prone con. Henry Peters got up an says the Squire want to go to get till he had the town so full o' countin an goin wags an machines wasnt safe out on the yard. The Squire said never liked Hank. He says how some o his children want safe out o the mailbox. Right on the Job. The short an long it was we bot a 2nd hand fire engine offen Paduack Genter. It was so smart as you'll see on 5th Av. The thing lay on in Hal Hinklebergs barn ever a month fore we had no cashm to use it. Then one day Hal fones all bet up an says "Cap, (I was lected Fire Capn o the district count on sometimes writin a little insurance on the side.) "Cap," says he, "I hear a report as how the Wido Harris house is burnin." "Hitch right up," says I quickner a flash. Without waitin to finish my dinner I walked right over to Hals place. I let the hired man take the horse to plow," says Hal. "Then," says I, "We'll go with 2." "With 2?" says Hal. "But these 2 we got is from the fire engine. They are the consarned thing round in a circle." "They wont," says I, "cause we split em." "Split em?" says Hal. "Split em," says I. "On the right side an one on the left side." Hal aint a quick thinkin man. By the time he had this worked out I was pretty high hotched. "I'll finish 'em," says I. "You let me have a coles an get a fire goin under the dod busted thing." So Hal went an got a hod o' coles an bins by shed come out. Then we was all redy captin Hal couldnt find his whip. Knowin his horses as well as I did I figured wed save time huntin for it. Bime by Hal remembered hed lent to Squire Freeman only the day before. What's a Fireman For Anyway? Quick as a wink I turned to Hals wife. She said come to give Hal his helmet. It was one o' them come with the cused machine. It was to small fer Hal but he was awful proud o it. He carried it in his han. Hal allowed it was best to have something to distinguish him from the rest o the crowd at a fire. Then peepel wouldnt throw things on him. So Hal went an got the Squires house an got the whip," says I to Hals wife. "Well fello likely split." So Hals wife walked on before an we follered likety split. When we pulled up by the Squires house he was standin by the gate who mban. He allowed hed like to whip along an se the fun. "Jump up," says I. "You let me have a coles an," says I. "Let her go galiger," says the Squire all excited. An we did. I was hangin on behind fer deary life, putting an my makin' the fire out herself. The Squire was up on the box with Hal wakin the horses. The hired man was perched on top with a murey hand kept wakin the bell. The hall aint got no kin to the murey, which we got the injine so cheap. Well bime by we got to the Wido Harris an Lorlessyoun if she hadnt put the fire out herself. "What do you mean by putting the fire out?" your self?" asks the Squire quite sharp, which he had a right to do bein on the town counsil an arin gone to some tribul to see the fun. She Couldn't Wait. The Wido acted kind o' shabby. She says she supposed it wont existly exist. She hadnt like to wait though, knowin Hal. How was he, could he be out o town when he were here. Wids was a natral question. Then the Wido Harris says as how the fire had took place yesterday mornin. It looked like there might be high words. So I says "Maybe its all fer the best." Sure mothers still well. That's because Doct. Slingbess still over in Iyvalde. It makes yure nuther figety to feel to pert. She says she knows the signel. She hadnt ben before the mornin. I tell her not to worry. Just to be pashunt. The Doct. would fix her up good when he comes back. There aint no other news I know on captin the hired girl fell down sines on last week an broke her leg, which makes her feel mighty uncomfortable, an close yure yure truly. AMOS H. ARMBREYST PATH.

—A Man From the House of David.— I don't know if you know what the House of David is or not. Well it's a sort that lives in Benton Harbor, Mich., and it's the rules to get a shave or hair cut and the theory of the religion is that as long as you don't see you don't die. Very few of them live to be 100 but I could easily live to be that age if I didn't half to trot me away shaving every A. M. Well this guy shaved his head and whiskers on his Mrs. shoulder to take a soap and I thought she'd be tickled to death.

Well along about 8 we came to Elk-hart and it was still broad daylight yet, and the sun was shining in the soldier's west but in come a brakeman dressed in a fators hat and muff and a pair of shoes that had been working on the railroad all the live-long day and he pulled down all the shades on the sunny side of the car and lit the acetylene lights and the lady with me says: "What in the world is he doing that for?"

So I says: "He believes in saving daylight." Schedule Hour Forgotten. While he was in Elkhart the crew found out that we wasn't only about 25 minutes late and it wouldn't do to spoil a record so we set around there for about a 1 1/2 hour trying to get back to normal in a real timely way, detector came in and I asked him what time we was due in Niles and he...

Free air is something which is put into the tires of an automobile before it leaves the factory, after which the owner furnished his own air and profanity. The ordinary pneumatic tire is so constructed that it will not stand up unless it is crowded full of air. The modern touring car would be a constant delight if it could be made to operate on stills or had four sturdy legs like many friend and prototype, the mule. So long as automobiles are held up by air and the aid of providence, however, the driver will be confronted with the specter of the hissing puncture and the ear-splitting blow-out.

Boy o' mine, boy o' mine, this is my prayer for you. This is my dream and my thought and my care for you. Strong be the spirit which dwells in the breast of you. Never may folly or shame get the best of you; God grant you strength to be in security. But make no choice that is stained with impurity.

Boy o' mine, boy o' mine, time shall command you. Thought from the brain of you, work from the hand of you; Voices of pleasure shall whisper and call to you; Luring you far from the hard tasks that fall to you; Then as you're meeting life's bitterest test of men, God grant you strength to be true as the best of men.

Boy o' mine, boy o' mine, singing your way along. Cling to your laughter and cheerfully play along; Kind to your neighbor be, offer your hand to him; You shall grow great as your heart shall expand to him; But when for victory sweet you are fighting there, Know that your record of life you are writing there.

Boy o' mine, boy o' mine, this is my prayer for you; Never may shame pen one line of despair for you; Never may conquest or glory mean all to you; Cling to your honor whatever shall fall to you; Rather than victory, rather than fame to you, Choose to be true and let nothing bring shame to you.

A KNIGHTLY DEED OF DEERING-DO

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS. The International Sunday School Lesson for July 18th is "David Spared Saul's Life."—1 Samuel 26: 7-17, 21.

Nothing in "The Arabian Nights" is truer to the spirit of the East or more gloriously written or inherently more interesting than the fragment of the ancient Hebrew chronicles which relates how the outlawed hero, David, spared the life of the sleeping king who was hunting him. The story is assigned for this week's Sunday School Lesson; and the text itself is better than any comment.

"So David and Abishai came to the people by night; and behold Saul lay sleeping within the place of the wagons, with his spear stuck in the ground at his head; and Abner and the people lay round about him. Then said Abishai to David: 'O hath delivered up thine enemy into thy hand this day; now therefore let me smite him, I pray thee, with the spear to the earth at one stroke and I will not smite him: for I will not lift up my hand against the Lord's anointed, and he shall go down into battle, and perish.' Jehovah forbid that I should put forth my hand against Jehovah's anointed; but now take, I pray thee, the spear that is by his head, and the cup of water from Saul's head; and they got them away; and no man saw it, nor knew it, neither did any awake; nor were they all asleep, because a deep sleep from Jehovah was fallen upon them.

Every virtue personality is bound to have enemies. The size and quality and animus of the enemies is really a proof of one's character. If they are foes made by personal acts or words that are discretable, then enemies are a badge of dishonor. But if one's foes are also the foes of righteousness and decency and law, they are as marks of honor.

How shall one behave when beset and persecuted by enemies—although few persons are really hounded by foes, the assumption that they are being a delusion of the mentally unbalanced. The best thing to do with enemies is to forget them, when that is possible. In David's case it was not. An old word of wisdom has it that "My enemies teach me what I ought to do and my friends teach me what I may become." Even bitter and malignant hostility may minister to one's own growth in character.

Saul made a king out of David. These weary months of flight and hiding brought young David to the height of his powers; taught him self-control and self-reliance; made him a master of men; and gave him a detached and tolerant viewpoint of life and its vicissitudes. All unwittingly, the mad king was doing the best possible service to the young rival of whom he was jealous. David went to the throne of Israel a proved man.

King Feisal of Syria, the famous head of the Arab army that routed the Turks from the East, was prepared, like David, for his role of leadership by long, hard experiences as keeper of the caravan routes in the Hejaz. He got the qualities of endurance and leadership before ever he came to his kingly post. Hurrah For Enemies! "Goody-goody" boys are developed in the school of teaching which puts the minor virtues in first place, and makes it appear most important that one shall be agreeable to everybody. Their tender spirits are grieved by the thought that anybody disapproves of them; they lie awake nights over the news of criticism, and are morbid in their self-consciousness.

Out upon such heroism! Every Christian should be trained to expect and desire the severity of all the forces that are opposed to rightness. These negative characters, these "Facting-Two-Ways," Bunyan calls them, are vigorously described by the gentle Saint John in the Book of the Revelation, in his picture of the Laodiceans, as being fit only to be spewed out of the mouth of God. The Lord wants virtile disciples. His meek and lowly Son never once whimpered over the fact that bitter and malignant enemies were continuously on his trail. For they were also the present time there is sporadic fighting. It carries its message of the knightly soul that remains chivalrous in spite of all temptation to descend to base reprisals. It bespeaks the value of adversity and persecution in the development of a great spirit. It reminds us all, high and low, that we are ever within danger of death. Most of all, it points out the royal way to win an enemy, as well as to overcome him.

One-Man Car Again Demonstrated

Was Given Another Trial Yesterday Afternoon, Running on the Regular Service—General Manager Pleaded, Union Officials Think Car Inefficient.

Another demonstration of the type of one-man car that the N. B. Power Co. wish to put in operation here was given yesterday afternoon. The car left the barns in Wentworth street shortly after three o'clock and was operated on the Prince Wm. street, downtown route, making two round trips of the loop. The run occupied about an hour and fifteen minutes.

The car ran along smoothly and passengers were discharged quickly. The incoming passengers were 100, handled as quickly as on the two-wheeled car, but of course there is bound to be some delay at first through unfamiliarity.

The smoking apartment at the rear is quite convenient for the man who likes to enjoy a smoke while riding home from work. It will seat six persons comfortably.

The sentiments of the officials of the company who were aboard were the same as expressed yesterday. They saw many ways in which the car was inefficient. Mr. McCauley seemed pleased with the demonstration. He said that the car would work much more smoothly when the general public became educated to the one-man car idea.

HAZEN McLEAN, superintendent of car service was the driver of the car and he handled smoothly. Mr. McCauley, general manager of the Power Company, F. A. Campbell, Theo. Trott and Percy Moore of the employees union and representatives of the press were present throughout the demonstration.

Trades And Labor Council Meeting

Executive Committee Who Were in Attendance at Tryout Reported Proposed One-Man Car Not Suitable for Service in St. John—Other Business.

At the regular meeting of the Trades and Labor Council held last evening in their rooms, Oddfellows' building, a report was received from the members of the executive committee who were present at the try-out of the one-man car. The committee reported that, in their opinion, the proposed car was not suitable for service in St. John.

A communication was received from the mayor asking the opinion of the conference on the establishment of a free employment service bureau here in connection with the Dominion Government Bureau. The conference after deliberation decided to endorse the establishment of the bureau.

In connection with the machinists' strike it was decided that the arbitration committee of the conference take this matter up. It was also decided to call a meeting of the Metal Trades organizations with a view to the formation of a Metal Trades Council.

Considerable routine business was also discussed.

Municipal Council Finance Committee

Session Held Yesterday to Consider Matters Which Were to Come Before the Council When it Meets on Tuesday Next.

The Finance Committee of the Municipal Council met yesterday afternoon to consider matters which were to come before the Council when it meets on Tuesday next, and among the questions brought up was an interesting discussion, in the course of which it developed that the greater part of the default was a hangover from years back, the warrant being collected in full in most of the parishes during the past few years.

Mayor Schofield presided, and those present were Councilors Jones, Thornton, Bullock, Golding, O'Brien, Anderson and Donovan.

It was decided to make A. D. Gault, who has spent forty years as parish clerk for Lancaster, honorary parish clerk at a salary of $20 per year.

The County Secretary was given authority to settle with the Fernhill Cemetery Company for the care of the county lot from 1907 to 1919.

A motion asking the assessors of the several parishes to file with the County Secretary a list of all properties two years in arrears in their taxes was passed.

The parish of Musquash, which failed to allow the customary ten per cent. for collections, etc., in making up its assessment for 1920, was given credit for the ten per cent. and given authority to make it up on the 1921 assessment.

An amount of $1,000, in addition to $2,500 already granted to the Indian town and Lancaster Ferry Commissioners, was voted and will be reconvened to the Council.

The matter of default taxes was brought up and after considerable discussion the County Secretary was instructed to take steps to collect these amounts which are owing to the county. During the discussion it was pointed out that the amounts owing were mainly a hangover from years back; that for the past few years the warrant for each year had been collected.

The amounts which stood in default in each parish at December 31, 1919, were: Lancaster, $19,550.54; Simonds, $8,847.37; St. Martins, $19,111.65; Musquash, $844.28. Against these is the amount collected since the first of the year, which in the parish of Lancaster is about $5,000, and in St. Martins over $300.

The defendant also made a counter claim for damages, giving as reason that the plaintiff has not carried out his agreement to purchase. Judge Chandler gave judgment for the defendant on the plaintiff's claim with costs and also gave judgment for the defendant on the counter claim for the sum of $1 without costs. G. H. V. Belyea, E. C. Myles B. Innes were for the plaintiff and Kenneth A. Wilson for the defendant.

Mr. Flewelling, in reply, expressed the surprise, as well as the pleasure that the gift gave him.

The meeting, which was well attended, was held in the Art Club rooms, and its special purpose was to discuss matters dealing with the Art Department at the coming Exhibition in September. The members of the Club are very enthusiastic about the project, and it is their intention to make this department the feature of the fair. Special committees have been formed and are working energetically and single-mindedly to that end. The showing will be confined to Canadian Art, and the noblest and best works of our own Canadian artists will be on exhibition.
