AGRICULTURAL POLICY OF PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT

Is Clearly Outlined by Secretary Reek—A Program of Practical Aid to Farmers

The provincial Department of Agriculture, of which Hon. J. F. Tweeddale, of Victoria county, is minister, has outlined the policies it shall pursue and these are briefly given in the following article.

Under the old government the department had no practical agriculturist at its head, and its affairs were practically manœuvred by J. B. Daggett, whose political partisanship was more outstanding than any other characteristic he possessed.

To succeed Mr. Daggett, Hon. Mr. Tweeddale sought the best available agriculturist in Canada and in Ontario found W. R. Reek, expert in all lines and highly recommended by several provincial governments. Mr. Reek is not a politician.

Last week he addressed the Agricultural Committee of the Legislature and following are excerpts from his speech:

Agricultural Societies

Through the societies fertilizer will be purchased, as heretofore, field-crop competitions held, exhibitions and seed fairs managed and every legitimate encouragement given to the improvement of live-stock through the use of pure-bred sires.

Dairying

Proper inspection of the present factories must be diligently carried on. Quality in the finished product must be had if New Brunswick is to keep pace with the other provinces. Modern methods, modern equipment and competent makers are necessary. Dairy schools will be arranged within the province and also close co-operation will be given to the Maritime Dairy School at Truro, where experienced makers will receive instruction from experts yearly.

Proper exhibition of dairy products will be arranged for the larger exhibitions as soon as possible.

Assistance will be given where necessary in the record work undertaken by the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Inspection and instruction in the running of cream separators will be carried on where possible.

A campaign will be carried on and a thorough canvass will be made of some districts to ascertain the advisability of erecting central creameries. This work will require time and the assistance of our best men in whom the dairymen have confidence.

Live-Stock

Every available assistance will be given and efforts will be made to revive the industry and to still further encourage it where it is reasonably prosperous.

The bonusing of pure-bred sires will be continued, but every sire will not be entitled to the same bonus, because among pure-breds there are scrubs. There will certainly have to be a sliding scale, more particularly in the dairy breeds. Agricultural Societies will be encouraged to consider the formation of Breeders' Clubs, choosing a breed and developing it, thereby forming centres.

The co-operative marketing of wool and of lambs will be encouraged, together with the use of pure-bred rams as a stimulus to the sheep industry.

The raising of swine will receive ample consideration as an adjunct to dairying. Pasture methods will be carefully studied.

Stallion enrolment will be followed up very closely during the seasons following 1917. The scrub stallion is the great drawback to the horse industry, but the owners of these animals must be given time to dispose of them and have them replaced by pure-breeds.

Poultry Raising

The marketing of the eggs and the dressed poultry in a proper manner, in order that the largest possible returns might come to the farmer, is the best and quickest method to stimulate the poultry industry.

Horticulture

The present activities will be followed and developed; these are illustration and demonstration orchards. Proper methods are carefully studied, climatic conditions considered and varieties compared in order that proper information may be given to the would-be fruit grower.

Elementary Agricultural Education

The instilling into the minds of children, through gardens and home plots, that agriculture is not all drudgery, and there is much to be learned from natural objects around every home and school, will be continued under the leadership of Mr. Steeves.

Home plots will be emphasized as a means toward the desired end and in conjunction School Fairs will be held, which should increase in numbers yearly.

Summer schools will be continued, in order that the teachers may be better fitted to carry on this branch of their work.

Boy's and Girl's Clubs

The period in a boy's or girl's life immediately they leave school is a time when they are very susceptible to movements or organization work, and it is also a time when they are apt to become dissatisfied with their surroundings, because they find them uninteresting, and the hard work that many face causes them to look for a change and they too often migrate to the cities to conditions often no better than at home.

Club work must be followed all through the country to fill this gap. The boys and girls as they leave the schools, after they have been under the influence of Mr. Steeves, are ready for further work.

C.S.E.T BOYS PLAY BALL

First Field Day at Hartland Proves
Huge Success

On June 3, King George's birthday, the Hartland C.S.E.T. boys enjoyed a visit by the Woodstock boys belonging to the same club. Although the weather man predicted rain in the morning the day turned out to be a splendid sporting day and all hands enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent. About eighteen Woodstock boys arrived on the morning freight, several others arriving on the noon express. These boys were entertained at the homes of the members of the club and were given a hearty reception by the Hartland folk in general, finishing up the day's enjoyments by a treat at the fruit stores and an auto ride to their home town.

During the afternoon and evening the chief sport was baseball, a game being played during the afternoon commencing at 2.15, followed by a game in the evening at 6.15. Both games were very much enjoyed by the Hartland baseball fiends and by the friends of those playing. Great credit is to be given the Woodstock boys, especially their pitcher, A. Sutherland, who did splendid work for the visitors. Their team was much lighter and younger than that of Hartland but by steadiness and careful fielding they held the score down admirably.

The game in the afternoon proved a tie 9-9, in the ninth, the tenth inning having to be played to get a decision, Hartland winning. The sensational play during the game was a home run made by Weldon Ward bringing in three scores.

Batteries: Hartland, Keith, Hovey, Taylor; Woodstock, Sutherland, McKinley.

Batteries: Hovey, Keith, Taylor; Woodstock, Sutherland, McKinley.

Umpire: C. D. Dickson. The evening game proved as interesting as the afternoon's, especially when Woodstock's pitcher held out to the end. Keith did good work for Hartland during the latter part of the game. The batteries in both teams did most the work. Score 7-9 for Hartland boys.

Umpires: C. D. Dickson; Bases, A. W. Kyle.

Line-up as follows:

Woodstock	Hartland

THE HIGHWAYS

Good speeches on the Bill for permanent highways were delivered in the Legislature on Thursday by Hon. Mr. Tweeddale, Minister of Agriculture, Mr. Mersereau, of Kent, and Mr. Melanson, of Sunbury and Mr. Melanson, of Kent. It was the maiden effort of the last named gentleman, and he made a most favorable impression.

Hon. Mr. Tweeddale said the subject was one which should be brought out which would recall to the minds of the people the attitudes taken by the late government. Hon. Mr. Hazen, when leader of the opposition, had declared that the road policy of the then government was not in the public interests. In his platform he pledged himself to hand the road money over to the municipal councils and although his party had been in office some years they had not done this. They had tinkered with the highway act of the province to such an extent that today the province was fifty years behind the times in regard to roads.

The late government had a revenue of $500,000 or $600,000 greater than that enjoyed by any previous administration. No government previous to 1908 had ever had revenue larger than a million dollars. Instead of getting closer to the people in regard to road matters, the old governments had got farther away from them. Increased taxation had been imposed; the money was paid out on the order of the Minister of Public Works, and it was difficult for the people to find out what became of it.

The hon. member for Carleton had told of the number of days of road work required to be done under the old government in lieu of the payment of a poll tax, but he did not say that the payment of the tax was optional. If a man was busy and could effect a saving by paying over the money over the money, he would not do the work. With the greatly increased revenue which the old government had, he wanted to know why they had charged $70,000 expended on the roads last year up to special improvements.

Mr. Smith (Carleton) claimed that it was not an ordinary expenditure. He said that good value had been given for the money especially on a road in Victoria county.

Hon. Mr. Tweeddale, continuing, said that the money spent last fall on the road leading from Grand Falls to the boundary line was the most outrageous expenditure ever made on the roads of this province. He could state positively that the roads had been ploughed up when snow was on the ground.

Mr. Smith (Carleton) said the roads had been ploughed for purposes of drainage and the skirting had been done later in the season.

Hon. Mr. Tweeddale said he was glad to hear the hon. Minister of Public Works outline his policy, and he was pleased to hear the hon. leader of the opposition promise his assistance in carrying it into effect. He had also been pleased with the remarks of the ex-Attorney General, who although a city man seem to have a good grasp of the subject. The first principal in Road making was good drainage.

Mr. Smith (Carleton)—That was what we were doing last fall.
Hon. Mr. Tweeddale—No, that was a deliberate waste of public money. Continuing he said he felt sure that the policy outlined by the hon. Minister was wise and practical, and good results would be obtained. He believed that the work could be directed from the Board of Works office by means of profiles. The engineer had informed the hon. Minister that profiles could be laid down in the board of Works office at a reasonable cost and would prove invaluable. He was glad that the House had generally concurred in the principle of the bill.

ALBERT VARNER
Buckingham, Que., May 8rd, 1915.
For seven years, I suffered terribly from Severe Headaches and Indigestion. I had belching gas from the stomach, bitter stuff would come up into my mouth after eating, while at times I had nausea and vomiting, and had chronic Constipation. I went to several doctors and wrote to a specialist in Boston but without benefit. I tried many remedies but nothing did me good. Finally, a friend advised "Fruit-a-tives". I took this grand fruit medicine and it made me well. I am grateful to "Fruit-a-tives", and to everyone who has miserable health with Constipation and Indigestion and Bad Stomach, I say take "Fruit-a-tives", and you will get well.

The Tipping Evil
The president of a certain line of coastwise steamers has a novel system of handling the tipping evil. He sends on each of his boats every now and then a detective, who has instructions to go into the dining room, order a large and elaborate repast, and hand the waiter a tip of 10 cents. If the waiter is silent or sorry after receiving this small gratuity his number is promptly reported. It is said that in no place in the world can such a number of smiling waiters be found as in the dining saloons of this particular steamship line.

MOUNT CAVELL HAS ITS UNIQUE FEATURES

Glacier Upon It Resembles Woman Robed in Spotless White—Was It Selected By Inspiration?

The mountain in Jasper National Park that perpetuates the memory of Edith Cavell, the English nurse who suffered martyrdom at the hands of the Germans in Belgium, is a striking pile, whose summit reaches to a height of over 11,000 feet above sea level, and is about 12 miles south of Jasper, from where it can be clearly seen at any time when not obscured by clouds. Its northern face is covered by snows and glaciers, and when seen from the north, the sun or moon presents a splendid spectacle, and it is regarded as being a most appropriate monument for the unfortunate victim of Hunnish hate.

Strange Figure

Lying between Mount Cavell and a high, sombre, verdurous mountain, as yet unnamed, adjoining at right angles there is a remarkable glacier of immense size, which, at close range resembles the prostrate form of a woman attired in robes of white, with outstretched arms, one extending to the side of each mountain and the feet reaching down to the great ice bed at the foot. This figure creates in the minds of those who see it impressions associated with the supernatural, and it lends an additional interest to the memorial mount.

In Mourful Attitude

On the nameless mountain, which it is proposed to call Mount Sorrow, there is another remarkable figure which nature has carved from the solid rock with wonderful fidelity. It is that of a woman in an attitude of mourning, standing over a fount-like basin. Except at the feet, there is no cleavage between the figure and the mountain, and from the point from where it can be seen best it is startlingly realistic, even to the garments, which look like buckskin, the stone being stained a brownish yellow. The life-like appearance of the figure is so very real that impressionable people will doubtless conclude that it was by no means chance that the mountain named in memory of the murdered nurse was chosen, but by an inspiration.

CLIMATE LESS SEVERE

What Study of Larger Glaciers in B.C. Has Revealed

Dr. Charles D. Walcott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, and Mrs. Walcott recently returned to Washington after several months' field work in Canada. Accompanied by only a packer and cook, they spent most of their time on the continental divide, which forms the boundary line between Alberta and British Columbia, south of the Canadian Pacific Railway, studying the cambrian rocks, containing the fossil remains of the earliest animal life.

Owing to the heavy snowfall of the previous winter, and the fact that most of the geological formations which they wished to examine were in the deep snow, about the timber line, little progress was made till the latter part of the summer of 1916. Sections were examined and measured in the Mount Asiniboine region, and from there northwest to the celebrated Kicking Horse pass, where the Canadian Pacific Railway has bored a double loop through the mountain in order to obtain a feasible grade on the western side of the pass.

Some years ago Dr. Walcott found a remarkable fossil fauna in boulders which had been carried into Kicking Horse canyon by glaciers that have long since disappeared. This last trip he located the source of these boulders, high up in the mountain cirque, where a portion of what must have been a great hanging glacier is still active.

Mrs. Walcott, who has studied glaciers for several years, and is well known as an Alpinist, visited Glacier House, where she measured the position of two large glaciers, and determined that the front ice foot in each case had retreated at the rate of 100 feet a year during two preceding years. Mrs. Walcott's studies prove that the ice has been steadily retreating during the past six years. Her measurements agree with observations made in Alaska, and indicate that the climate is not as severe on the Pacific side of the continent as it was a decade ago.

PROTECTING MINERS

Canada's Death Rate High—Belgium's Low—Why?

The accident death rate among miners is greater in Canada than any other civilized country. This is due largely to the hazardous nature of the work and to the class of labor available for employment. The fatality rate in coal mines in Belgium has been the lowest in the world, being but slightly over one per thousand employed. In 1910, the fatality rate in Belgium was as high as it is in Canada. The decrease is the result of the combined efforts of the mine owners, the workmen, and the administration of Mines, and it is due to a great extent to education of technical and professional character. In view of its importance, the government should direct more attention to the education of the workman, so that he may not be a danger to himself or others and that he may be a better educated, more self-reliant, and thus have the opportunity to rise to his position.

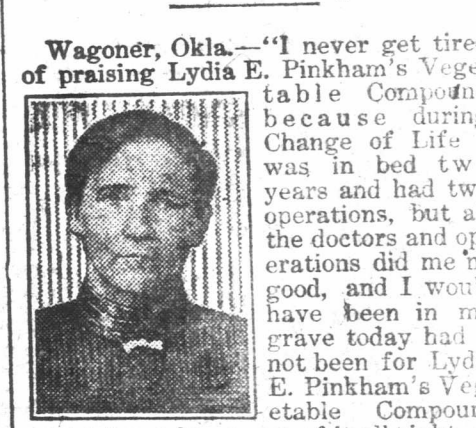

Dry Battery Trouble

Dry batteries, testing lamps, or peres, or less, will operate a portable light bulbs and torches. Four cells wired in series, any desired length of carbon dry cell, terminating in a miniature pull socket, that is equipped with a six-volt lamp, will provide a good trouble light for a considerable period.

Many accidents may be prevented by the provision of municipal seating risks and coasting slides.

Sure! High Heels Cause Corns But Who Cares Now

Because style decrees that women crowd and buckle up their tender toes in high heel footwear they suffer from corns, then they cut and trim at these painful pests which merely makes the corn grow hard. This suicidal habit may cause lockjaw and women are warned to stop it.

A few drops of a drug called frezone applied directly upon a sore corn gives quick relief and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out without pain. Ask the drug store man for a quarter of an ounce of frezone, which costs very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

This drug is an ether compound and dries in a moment and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue. Rub the corn out and pin on your wig.

Seed Grain Distribution

The provincial department of agriculture has distributed no less than 12,300 bushels of seed grain to the farmers of New Brunswick this season. The list included 2,400 bushels of wheat, 9,100 bushels of oats and 800 bushels of barley. In addition to this a quantity of seed potatoes were sent topoints along the line of the International Railway. The seed grain has gone to every county in the province. The demand for it was very keen and many of the applicants did not avail themselves of the Government's offer to give credit but settled cash.

Hon. Mr. Tweeddale and his staff have rendered a distinct public service by the prompt and efficient manner in which they grappled with grain problem. The old government is alleged to have had a policy, but it failed to produce seed for the farmers at a time when they needed seed as they never needed it before.

Miss Eileene E. Henry

The home of William Post, proprietor of the Queen Hotel, Plaster Rock, on May 25, was made extremely sad by the death of his little granddaughter, Eileene Elizabeth Henry, at the age of two years and 17 days.

Little Eileene by her bright intelligent manner and loving disposition easily won a place for herself in the hearts of all with whom she came in contact. The little one was recovering from a severe attack of whooping cough when she was taken ill with symptoms of meningitis of the brain. Later on as these symptoms were disappearing, pneumonia set in. After a number of days of suffering she passed on to make one more number of that throng who

Severe Headaches and Pains in the Back

Resulted From Deranged Kidneys and Constipation of the Bowels.

It is in vain to try to regulate and restore the healthful action of the kidneys until the liver and bowels are set right. And just here is where so many kidney ailments begin with derangement of the liver. The whole work of filtering the blood is thrown on the kidneys, and in time they fail to stand the strain. The poison in the system gives rise to severe headaches, pains in the back and tired, depressed feelings.

Because they act directly on the liver and bowels, as well as on the kidneys, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are eminently successful in the treatment of kidney derangements.

Mr. William Loney, Marysville, N.B., writes:—"I am glad to recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to anybody who is suffering from kidney trouble, or constipation. I suffered for a long time from kidney disease and pains in the back, but have found that by using one pill a week the kidneys and bowels are kept in good order, and I do not have any more pains in the back or head like I used to have. I was also a great sufferer from piles, and could get no relief until I used Dr. Chase's Ointment. This ailment is entirely cured now, but we always keep both the pills and the ointment in the house for use when they are needed."

This statement is endorsed by Mr. F. Saunders, Town Marshal, who writes that Mr. Loney's letter is true and correct.

In the Balance

"In acute disease or sudden injury the steady, constant drinkers' chances of recovery are diminished 50 per cent."—Professor Gilbert Barling, F.R.C.S., Vice-Chancellor of Birmingham University.

IT was at the bedside of a very sick man. The physicians gravely watched the struggle between Life and Death. All depended upon the heart. Could it cope with the crisis? Life hung by a thread. The thread snapped. The newspapers said he died of pneumonia, and so he did. But the physicians remarked, "Too bad he used alcohol, or he could have passed the crisis."

Yet this man was no drunkard—just a moderate drinker; he could "take it or leave it alone just as he liked" and all the rest of it; was a highly respected citizen, and a staunch supporter of "British Liberty" (to have his drop when he wanted it).

Here's the tremendous significance of his case: He always voted true to his convictions. Moderate drinkers form a large proportion of the vote upon which the Traffic depends for existence. In fact, in many communities the moderate drinkers hold the "balance of power."

Help to Enforce Prohibition

When, after the war, the people vote for or against permanent Prohibition the moderate drinker may turn the scale as he wills.

Prohibition is on trial. The moderate drinker of the class mentioned is needed in the fight for vigorous enforcement—the means to permanent victory—and who is more likely to be indifferent? Would that all the moderate drinkers in New Brunswick could thoroughly realize the seriousness of even slight acquaintance with John Barleycorn. Prohibition would be assured forever!

In the name of common sense why will intelligent men vote for such a curse? Think of thousands of good citizens being the Traffic's main political support by voting "wet."

Will the moderate drinkers take the responsibility of killing Prohibition after the war? We think decidedly not. But we want their help now—to enforce the laws and thus make freedom a certainty.

Use your influence with every moderate drinker you know. Help to enforce Prohibition.

Agricultural Policy

The work would consist of live stock competitions, potato and grain plots and also the social side would be developed as necessary.

A trained director for this work would be necessary.

Short Agriculture Courses

At a number of points throughout the country short courses of four or five days' duration will be conducted regularly every winter or at the most convenient time of the year. The subjects under discussion will be those of most interest to the district. These give an opportunity for local discussion.

District Agents

Representatives will be appointed in some sections this season if the properly trained men are to be had. These men must have had practical experience on farms and a college training in addition. They will become a part of the community in which they are appointed and will assist the farmers in any and every problem which may arise. Organization is one of the principal lines of endeavor.

Live stock problems, seed and cultivation, fertilizer, drainage, and various problems will come under their particular supervision.

Every man will have an office properly equipped for his work, centrally located, in order that the largest number of farmers may find it convenient to call.

Field Crop Competitions

These will be encouraged under somewhat different management than previously, in order that every Agricultural Society may feel like entering them. Hand in hand with them will go the Seed Fairs. "More Seed and Better Seed" must be the motto for New Brunswick.

Selection of seed as practiced by some must be encouraged.

The growing of clover seed must be carefully fostered, because the growing of clovers is absolutely essential to the upkeep of the soils.

Soils

Maritime soils seem naturally acid. The use of limestone as a corrective must be carefully followed; perhaps some demonstration work might be carried on later, after careful tests were made.

Drainage is one of the correctives for acidity. While it is true that underdrainage cannot be followed systematically as in some sections, nevertheless there are an innumerable number of small areas which require the use of tile. It is also true that many are not thoroughly convinced that it will pay to under-drain—demonstration plots in many sections.

A ditching machine cannot always be used to advantage here. Often it is cheaper and easier and quicker to install by hand.

A supply of tile at reasonable prices is a matter for further consideration.

Fertilizers

The use of fertilizers is one of the principal questions in New Brunswick. Care needs to be exercised lest they be used extravagantly. Their use with clover and farmyard manure should be fostered. Doubtless careful experiment may be undertaken throughout the country.

The purchase and distribution requires rigid supervision.

Beekeeping

Proper inspection must be carried on to protect the present beekeepers and assistance must be given to those who are not conversant with the best methods.

The bees in the province are quite free from disease and must continue so, but thorough inspection and care must be maintained.

The proper strains of bees must be introduced.

Women's Institutes

The formation of new societies will be encouraged and the general activities will be followed, where they do not militate against Red Cross or other patriotic work. They will be assisted to carry on patriotic endeavors. A canning campaign and other special work is now under consideration.

Every effort will be made to cooperate with other departments of agriculture, where reasonable arrangements can be entered into.

Efficiency of the officials of the Department will be asked for and insisted upon.

Jenson-Street

An interesting event took place on May 24 at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Street of Bristol when their daughter Francis Louise was united in marriage to Neville R. Jenson, of Somerville. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. A. Ross of Florenceville in the presence of about 40 guests. The bride, who was unattended, was given away by her mother and looked charming in ivory-silk crepe-de-chene, with veil and lilies-of-the-valleys. She carried a handsome bouquet of white roses, carnations, and maiden-hair fern.

Little Miss Doris Phillips acted as flower girl and looked very dainty in cream taffeta with pink trimmings, and carried a basket of May flowers and ferns. Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played by Miss Marguerita Phillips.

After lunch was served the young couple left on the train for a short trip, after which they will reside in Somerville. The bride, travelled in a navy blue suit with embroidery trimmings and hat to match.

She was the recipient of many beautiful presents including silver, cut glass and linen.

The Aroostook Way

A dealer in Presque Isle, Me., one of the settlement centres of the Aroostook potato-producing region, has paid by one check $67,337 for a stock of automobiles of one make this spring. Profits on potato fields in the last year are to pay for these machines and many hundred more of the luxury speedsters. There are many other auto dealers in that section close up under the shadow of the great Maine forests. It is told of one young man who desired to become a potato farmer that he borrowed a year ago $7,500 to buy a farm in Aroostook county and then 2,500 more to stock the place. And late in the fall, after selling the potatoes he raised, he paid the lender the entire $10,000 of the debt and showed him $10,000 more he was taking to a bank to save, all in one season on his new potato farm. And there are one hundred thousand able young men in New England who would rather go to war or work in a factory at $10 a week than farm it anywhere among the hills of this rich section, even if farms were given them and stocked. That is one of the reasons why potatoes come so high for the family table this season. It is not so much the personal greed of the potato farmers and the middlemen as the shiftlessness of human beings who should have ambition to till the soil and be quite contented with reasonable profits.—Worcester Telegram.
