IMPRESSIVE MEMORIAL SERVICES

On Sunday the services of the day set apart by Holy Trinity Church were in commemoration of the Pioneers of the Parish of Wilmot. The services being held in the Old Church at Lower Middleton, I inform it was a complete celebration of the Holy Communion at the morning service. The celebrant was Archbishop Worrell, gopeller, and Rev. Dr. Moore, episcoper, Rev. C. Mitchell, Rev. Robert Miller, rector of the church, conducted the service.

Archbishop Worrell preached, and made reference to the pioneer preachers of the parish church in the township of Wilmot. He mentioned particularly Rev. John Wiswall, the first clergyman who settled in this locality.

Rev. Dr. James Robertson, Dr. Dowell, and others whose descendants were labouring in the causes so dear to their fathers.

He spoke of the pioneer work of the men who filled a larger but not more important sphere, such as Bishop Inglis and Bishops Spinney and Courtenay. He then went on to stress the importance of striving not for immediate ends but for the welfare of the whole body and of the nation, and of the work done by such societies as the S. P. G. and S. P. C. K. He urged upon his hearers the necessity to work for the common good, to set aside thoughts for their own particular advantage, and to realize the union of the church which was throughout the world.

The afternoon service held in memory of the early settlers of the Parish of Wilmot was exceptionally interesting. The interior of the old church was built in 1787, was tastefully decorated, and the clergy and choir in their surplices added beauty and dignity to the fine service. Dr. Moore, President of King's College, was the preacher and took his text from Rev. 21:4, "And He that sat upon the throne said unto me, behold, I make all things new."

Besides the preacher, other clergy who were present and took part in this inspirational service were Archbishop Worrell, Rev. Clement Mitchell, Rev. J. Webster and Rev. Robert Miller.

Excellent music was provided by the choir of the local church, assisted by Mr. John Hurdley of Kingston, Mr. Hurdley and Mr. Evan sang suitable and much appreciated solos.

At the close of the service the graves in the cemetery were decorated with flowers by the relatives and friends, of those departed, who were present in large numbers from all the surrounding districts and nearby towns and villages.

THE WONDERS OF THE AGE

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Armdale Theatre, in Middleton, our citizens had the pleasure of witnessing one of the best shows ever seen in or about this part of the country. Professor Mon-O-Rea and his Vaudeville Show can not be beat. He is titled right when they call him the "World's Greatest Mind Reader." The things that he did, would lead you to believe that he is supernatural. He is a wonder. Rita Johnstone and baby, Eileen, in their Dancing Numbers is so far ahead of others, that call themselves dancers, that there is no comparison. They were treated with a good house for three days and left a satisfied audience each night. We hope to have the pleasure of seeing them again in the near future for a return engagement.

IS THE BEE BUSY?

Rise up a scientist to dispute the age-long reputation enjoyed by the bee for industry. He claims the average bee buzzes more than he buzzes himself.

Yet some bees must work—how otherwise could they produce the 3,500 lbs. (nearly two tons) of honey used every month by Moirs?

The best clarified honey from Jamaica with the cream of that produce in Nova Scotia, is used in Moirs products.

APPO-KRISPS, NEW CEREAL FROM WHEAT AND APPLES

Appo-Krisp Limited is a new company, which should be of particular interest to people of the Annapolis Valley. This company is at present floating stock for the advancement of its cause, and should become a very profitable investment to those who buy stock. Appo-Krisp is the name of the product manufactured by this concern. It is a breakfast food prepared from wheat and apples. The wheat used in the cereal is the soft wheat or the wheat that is grown right here in the Valley. And, the apples too, needless to say are the well-known fruits grown by our farmers. So, it looks as though the new company is starting out in a proper way, by using the products of the Valley.

A large advertisement is to be found in this issue, which every reader of The Outlook should read carefully. A Nova Scotia enterprise by Nova Scotians for Nova Scotians. Look it over.

The location of the new factory has not yet been decided upon, but from information gleaned it will in all likelihood be in either Windsor, Kentville, Middleton or Bridgetown. While the other towns may have advantages that should be considered, we believe that Middleton is really the best place. First, because our town is the centre of everything. We have competitive railway rates, we are near to water routes, and the town is situated mid-way between two ocean ports, Halifax and Yarmouth. Middleton has all kinds of water and a splendid electrical power. One thing certain, the company will consider to a large extent the cost of power, and in this matter, the town of Windsor has, we understand, already made an enticing proposition.

We understand that the company intends to interview Middleton Board of Trade and the Town Council with a view to see what inducements we have to hang out.

If Appo-Krisps is handled in a proper manner, this cereal should become just as popular as Grape-Nuts, Corn Flakes, or any of the hundred others. Practically every cereal company has grown to large proportions and are paying handsome dividends and are giving employment to thousands of people.

While, we cannot make any bold assertions, we feel that the proposition should have serious consideration.

HISTORY OF EARLIEST RAILWAYS IN NOVA SCOTIA

An important publication filled with early historical events in Nova Scotia particularly in railroad construction and travel has been issued from the press. The author is Conductor W. W. Clarke of Kentville. The book will be sold for only 50c.

Here are a few paragraphs, which will give one an idea of the interesting nature of the book. These we have culled from an exchange.

Hon. Joseph Howe advocated a railway between Halifax and Windsor in the early fifties.

Sir Charles Tupper was Premier when this road was commenced.

The Crimean War made difficult the financing of the scheme.

In 1866 the Slogan "On to Annapolis" bore fruit.

In 1868 the stage coach between Halifax and Windsor was operating in 1816.

The W. & A. Railway was registered in England on May 1st, 1867.

The D. A. R. had its beginning in 1868.

The first rails were 40 lbs. to the yard with 5 ft. 6 in. gage.

The first engine for the W. and A. R. was landed at Etnakin Creek near Kentville in 1869.

Wolfville was the headquarters of the W. & A. R. in 1869.

The Railway between Annapolis and Horton was opened on Aug. 15, 1869.

The stage coach conveyed Halifax to Annapolis passengers between Windsor and Horton before that section of railway was completed.

The Agents travelled on trains selling tickets and collecting freight charges.

The W. & A. R. General Offices were built at Kentville in 1868 where Conductor Herbert's house now stands. Rodan's white horse was once the motive shunting power at Annapolis. The roadbed near Grand Pre was washed away by the Sazby storm of '69.

The first train of the W. & A. R. arrived at Windsor the week preceding Christmas in 1869.

On New Years Day 1897 the first through train between Halifax and Annapolis was operated.

The 100 rails buried in the mud slide at Mt. Uniacke were never recovered.

When the Nerves Are Out of Gear

THEY NEED NEW, RICH BLOOD TO RESTORE THEIR TONE.

Men and women with nerves out of gear become irritable and fretful and are blamed for ill-temper; whereas the fault is not theirs. Their poor health is the cause. The tired, over-busy wife, or mother, whose household cares have worn her out; the breadwinner whose anxiety for his family has worried him until he is thin and ill, are the nerve sufferers, who become run down. Their nerves, like all bodily organs, need healthy red blood; worry tells a rather dire tale and their nerves are filled. In such cases a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is necessary, for these pills make new blood and tone up the nervous system. The patient becomes full of energy and happiness for themselves and others returns. Mrs. Wm. Hughes, Coldwater, Ont., has proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and does not hesitate to say so. She says:—"Two years ago I suffered untold agonies with my nerves. The pains in my head and the back of my neck were unbearable. I was depressed and cranky all the time. All the rest I took and best of medical attention did me no good. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after taking them for a time felt much better. I continued their use with great benefit, and after my baby was born they were the only tonic that helped me nurse her. I found them a splendid blood enricher, and cannot recommend them too highly."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ON MOTHER'S LAP

Win the shades of night are falling,
When the sun has gone to sleep;
And the stars are diamonds brilliant,
From the blue begin to peep—
In my favorite chair I'm seated,
On the door a gentle tap.
One dear voice, it breaks the silence:
"Want to sit on mother's lap?"

So I lay aside my sewing,
Though I'd like to do it more,
And a lad against my shoulder
Asks a story, "Just once more."
Then I tell him fairy stories,
Fair princesses, plots, mayhap,
Till the place is filled with laughter,
When he sits on mother's lap.

And I sit there in the firelight,
Dreaming dreams of future years,
Of my babies, such no longer,
Till my eyes are wet with tears,
And a prayer ascends to Heaven:
"Father, bless this little chap,
Keep him pure as at this moment,
Safe at rest on mother's lap."

Some marry for better; some for worse; and some to kill time.

Great Help to Young Mothers

BABY'S OWN TABLETS HAVE MANY USES AND ARE ABSOLUTELY HARMLESS.

To have in the house a simple harmless remedy for the minor ills of babies and little children is a great boon to young mothers and this is exactly why Baby's Own Tablets have been found in many households. They reduce fevers, allay the irritation of cutting teeth and regulate the bowels, yet they have no drug taste and children like them.

Mrs. Mary L. Danel, Central Falls, R.I., says: "Baby's Own Tablets are just what they are recommended to be. My little girl was badly troubled with pin worms, was feverish and restless and would be awake all night. I got a box of Baby's Own Tablets and they helped her at once. She is not nervous now and sleeps well at night. I have never used a better medicine for this trouble. I have also found Baby's Own Tablets good at teething time and am glad to recommend them to other mothers."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by all druggists or will be mailed on receipt of price, 25 cents per box, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. A little booklet, "Care of the Baby in Health and Sickness" will be sent free to any mother on request.

SUNBEAM LODGE AND REBEKAHS HAVE GREAT FUN AT PICNIC

Last Thursday was a dandy day—it was the day set for the annual picnic of the local Oddfellows, Rebekahs, visiting members and friends. The picnic was held at Port George, and about three hundred attended.

The first contingent started out at about 9:00 a.m. and throughout the day cars were busy wending their way to the picnic grounds from many points.

The Rebekah and their lady friends supplied the eats and we feel certain there was no plausible excuse for any person not even Frank Elliott or Rev. Turner, (starving, as there was grub of all kinds from the staff of life to all the delicacies imaginable. G. N. Reagh and O. P. Goucher can testify to the goodness of things; of course it wouldn't be polite to say why, but both are quite sturdy.

A night's pleasant part of the whole affair was that every person mixed. This is a feature that helps make a picnic a real success. Folks sat at the tables any old place and conversed freely, as they devoured the sumptuous repast. We always like to see people mixing, it reminds us of the early days in a portion of the country a few thousand miles from here.

Several freezers of ice cream met their Waterloo as J. D. McKenzie smiled to see the product of his factory disappear to parts unknown.

There were sports of all kinds, even a tug of war, in which the married ladies pulled the single dames all over the campus. The married men looked on with awe, recollecting of how their spouses lug them about when occasion demands it, and from this loving interference, no doubt their better halves have acquired the art. There was baseball of many kinds where the fraternity matched their wits and science of the diamond. F. E. Bentley, while not as young as he used to be, was in splendid form, and made some scintillating plays. Including a near-double and five out. Rev. Turner was official umpire, and if he knew more of the game, would make a big league man. He, however, excelled in evening up. Carman Cummings thought he was in the barber shop when he made regular hair splitting plays. Many startling diamond stuff was pulled off, but we did not see everything because supper was in course of preparation, and that interested us a great deal—we rode over in a Ford.

The races were very interesting and sometimes evenly matched. The winners in each event becoming the proud possessor of an all-day sucker.

It was a big day. The Oddfellows and Rebekahs know how, so it is needless to say other than everybody had a sparkling good time, and they'll be at dock next year stronger than ever, so Bupp Reagh says—guess he knows.

"What you need is to cheer up, said the doctor to his patient. "You don't expect a man to cheer up when he has dyspepsia, do you?" was the grumpy rejoinder. "Certainly! Sing, read, night literature, just occasionally—" "Just!" repeated the sufferer.

"Doctor, you're away off. I don't want to jest; what I want to do is to digest."

Two men can admire the same shirt and remain friends, but it is different when they admire the same "Just!" repeated the sufferer.

ABOUT CATS

"The way you treat me, Thomas, I ought to leave your flat. Where have you been, you lazy bum?" asked Mrs. Pussy Cat. "Don't mention business friends to me; where were you all last night? One look's enough to tell me that you've had another fight. You do not know how much there is to do around home; a husband ought to help his wife, but all you do is roam. The kittens have been cross and wild they've spilled a cup of cream, they've fought each other and me too, until I want to scream. Now if you don't reform yourself, I surely will and can; I'll notify the officers of Kats of Ku Klux Klan." Her husband paused inside the door and gently switched his tail; though he was twice as big as she, he seemed to shrink and quail; like many human wanderers, by angry wives deterred, he took his cusings calmly, and never said a word.

The character and ideals of any nation are always pitifully expressed in the popular proverbs that have become part of the everyday speech of the people. Here is some of the interesting proverbial philosophy of the Japanese, collected and printed in the London paper, Answers:

"A small-minded man looks at the sky through a reed" and "The heart is the same at three as at sixty" are other Japanese sayings. Picturesque too are "At the foot of the lighthouse it is dark" and "When the hen crows the house goes to ruin." The latter saying indicates the Japanese view of feminism. Equally pithy is: "There is no medicine for love-sickness or a fool."

The Japanese equivalent of "casting pearls before swine" is "giving gold coins to a cat," and instead of "a wolf in sheep's clothing" they speak of "a wolf dressed in a priest's robes."

Your staff having got pretty well through its vacation list, no doubt you're thinking yourself of enjoying a long looked forward to spell of rest.

Of course, being a fairly keen business man, you won't find it possible to "shake the office" altogether.

But you can arrange to have the office bother you as little as possible.

Just leave your itinerary with your chief of staff and ask him to call you only if and when you're really needed.

Then if you don't hear from him you know all's well and when you do hear from him a few words of yours may make all well and you can, carefree, go on your way rejoicing.

At 5 p. m. on Tuesday, August 18, Miss Lillian Winifred Ilsey, daughter of Mrs. Randall B. Ilsey became the wife of Mr. George MacMichael, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander MacMichael of Rexton, N. B.

About forty relatives and friends witnessed the marriage ceremony which was performed by Rev. D. G. Reas, at the home of the bride's brother, Mrs. J. L. Ilsey, LL. B., Highland View, Kentville, N. S.

A profusion of flowers had been used, giving the room a most attractive appearance. The principal feature of the living room decorations was a beautiful arch of evergreen and gladioli, from which was suspended a bell of bridal robe chrysanthemums. Hardly and sweet peas in abundance gave a festive air to the whole house. The dining room a delightful effect was produced by the lavish use of pink sweet peas and snap dragons and white ribbon.

Clad in a charming gown of white satin and silver lace with bridal veil and orange blossoms and carrying a shower bouquet of roses, the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. J. L. Ilsey, while Mrs. Avard Bishop, of Sydney presided at the piano, rendering the wedding marches.

After congratulations had been received, dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. Craig, aunt of the bride, poured tea; Mrs. J. L. Ilsey cut the cake; and Mrs. Phillip Ilsey, of Wolfville; Miss Catherine MacLennan, of Sydney and Misses Lois Lamont and Hazel Caldwell, of Kentville, assisted with the serving.

Mr. and Mrs. MacMichael left on Tuesday evening by motor, the bride travelling in an ensemble costume of diamond green velvet and ermine with trimmings of moussin fur. After a few weeks honeymoon spent in New Brunswick, they will make their home in Halifax.

The beautiful gifts included checks for $600.00 and $100.00; silver ware from the Royal Bazaar of Halifax, of which the groom is a member, and linen from the teaching staff of Sydney, where Mrs. MacMichael taught Domestic Science for the past three years. Before her departure from Sydney friends of the bride gave a delightful shower in her honor.

Among the out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Avard Bishop and Miss Catherine MacLennan, of Sydney; Mrs. H. S. Cunningham, of Truro; Mrs. Forrest, Miss Forrest and Mr. Dorman, of Halifax; Mr. Churchill, Mrs. Blackadar, Miss Yeaton, and Mr. Graham, of Hansport; Mrs. Phillip Ilsey and children and Mr. Shaw, of Wolfville; Miss Sara Jordan, of Grafton; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Philney and the Misses Betley, of Middleton.

WHEELS GO ROUND

It seems a thousand years ago before there was an auto show—I drew my savings from the bank and bought an auto with a crank. Its four small wheels were hard tired. It had no top to shield my "pards." Its body was a cross between a dump cart and an old cartoon. The people stared when we rode by and horses shifted into high, while dogs and cats and other things departed from our path with wings. Say, was I proud? From ear to ear, I smiled, because I was a pioneer. That early bird gave me a thrill, I vis'ned them that toll and skill would some day buy and build a handsome bus beyond the dreams of most of us. But O, ye gods, who could foresee the many things that's come to be? For instance this: Who could have told that 'er the highways—new or old, from Halifax to Vancouver, wherever found—a hundred thousand wheels go round? Or, that hundreds of deaths—each soul a tax imposed to reach this goal. Thus careless, heedless man holds sway. And when I think of the small car I know the world has travelled far.

The man and woman who try to make their home the most interesting spot on earth for each other, and for their friends and those who are near and dear to them have but occasional use for the club. It is to them, like the theatre, a pleasant place to enter now an dthen, but not a spot to dwell in.

GENERAL NEWS

That a new market has been found for Canadian lobsters, is shown by the report that twenty-six hundred cases of lobsters, valued at about $78,000, were shipped to Sweden from Halifax, N.S., during the first week in July.

The gold mines of Northern Ontario are now realizing aggregate profits of a million dollars a month, according to estimates compiled at Timmins, Ont. There was a gross income of $2,650,000 during the month of June.

Six hundred and twenty-four families from Great Britain and other European countries settled in the West on 187,000 acres of land in the fiscal year ending May 31st, according to the records of the Canada Colonization Association.

Quebec is this year enjoying the greatest influx of tourists it has known for a considerable time. Hundreds of motorists, the majority from the States, are camped in and around the city, and the Chateau Frontenac reports capacity bookings.

During his tour of Western Canada Field Marshal Earl Haig passed through the town on the Canadian Pacific Railway which was named for him several years ago, for the first time. The Field Marshal, on learning his connection with the town, looked as pleased as though he had just won another famous victory.

According to the report of the Department of Agriculture, livestock marketings in Canada during the past year were the best experienced for many years. There were 975,020 cattle, 355,179 calves, 3,094,291 hogs and 485,006 sheep marketed in 1924, as compared with 882,921, 315,822, 2,363,402 and 512,890 respectively in the previous year.

According to J. M. Gibbon, secretary of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies, who recently left Montreal for the West, the annual country ride and pow-wow undertaken by that organization, is becoming so popular that lovers of the outdoors from England and Australia are attending this year, in addition to the members from the United States and Canada.

That 69,000 harvesters would be required to handle this year's crop, of which the East would be expected to supply 50,000, was the estimate arrived at last week at a conference of various governments held in the Canadian Pacific offices at Winnipeg. In the meantime the Canadian Pacific Railway has taken all necessary steps to transport the army of harvesters. Their colonist cars and special equipment has been overhauled and the company is now fully prepared for its annual rush of harvesters.

George Morris Bosworth, Chairman of the Canadian Pacific Steamships, who died in London, England, on the morning of July 25th, from septic poisoning following an operation for appendicitis, was with the company almost from its inception. He was 68 years old when he died, joined the Canadian Pacific Railway in 1882 and was head of the steamship service for nearly seven years. When informed of Mr. Bosworth's death, E. W. Beatty, K.C., chairman and president of the company, stated that in his opinion Mr. Bosworth had had no equal in the country as a manager of railway traffic and added that "the company deeply regrets the passing of another of the old guard, whose ability and effort so largely contributed to the company's success."

Appo-Krisps-Cereal

The Fruit Cereal

Preliminary Announcement

THE PRODUCT

"APPO-KRISPS" is the registered trade name of a ready-to-serve "Fruit Cereal" recently patented in Canada and the United States. The exclusive feature of "APPO-KRISPS" is the blending of Apples and Wheat in the form of flakes. "Fresh Apples — Golden Wheat — Grilled together — Ready to Eat" — a combination of qualities not obtainable in any other prepared food on the market.

SIGNIFICANCE

The whole trend of public buying for more than a generation has been definitely in the direction of prepared, ready-to-eat foods. So much so, that the production of breakfast cereals in Canada alone now amounts to over $4,000,000 annually and manufacturers of distinctive products in this field enjoy consistently large profits.

The increasing sales of such cereals have been in spite of a certain insipidity, of a definite monotony when eaten regularly, and of a deficiency in dietic elements as well as flavor. So much so, that their manufacturers have spent millions of dollars to inform the public of the improvement that results when these cereals are eaten in combination with fruits.

"APPO-KRISPS" alone overcomes these handicaps, takes advantage of the opening, and offers fruit and cereal combined in a most enticing form—makes it possible to "Eat an apple a day in a new way!"

AN INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY

Prominent business men of the Annapolis Valley, Nova Scotia, and of Montreal, whose names are closely linked with the success of leading factors in the cereal field, have associated themselves with the formation of Appo-Krisp Limited, the Company, which is to place this new Fruit Cereal on the market. The Company's first plant will be established in the Annapolis Valley — Canada's Premier Apple Growing district.

The Stock of APPO-KRISP LIMITED is now offered to the investing public.

CAPITALIZATION

Par Value $100.00 per share

This is your opportunity to share in the profits of an enterprise which has an invention fully protected and a product which will merit public confidence. Appo-Krisp Limited is undoubtedly a business with unlimited prospects for growth and profits for the equal benefit of all the stock holders. I believe it is only a question of a short time until Appo-Krisp Limited will be in a position to pay splendid dividends to all stockholders and upon this belief I have acted.

Why don't you mothers and fathers get a nice box of Personal Stationery printed and send to your son or your daughter who is absent? Have their name and address neatly printed on the paper and each envelope. Surely they don't could have no excuse for not writing quite often, and we know they will be delighted to get a chance to use the stationery. Of course to make the scheme a success, the job would have to be done at "The Outlook Office," for we have the famous "Norman" Linen stationery, and we use a very neat type for the printing and do it with a delicate bronze blue ink that makes the finished job something to be a proud owner of. Let us show or send you a sample of our stationery and workmanship. You will be well pleased and may want some for your self as well as for your absent children. Our supply on hand is limited, so we urge you to get in touch with us at an early date. "Nuff said!"

One Japanese characteristic, perseverance, is expressed in the saying: "Fall seven times, stand up the eighth time." Another proverb in the same vein declares: "A road a thousand miles begins with one step."

Fate Turns on Bank Bandits

Bank robbers who have operated with more or less impunity the country over will do well to heed the fate of two of their kind in Ontario. At St. David, Mrs. W. A. Rodgers, wife of the manager of the Imperial Bank shot and killed an armed bandit who had entered their living quarters above the bank. The robber, Mat Koldice, a Ukrainian, had fired at Mr. Rodgers, wounding him in the head and the hand before the impetuous young woman came to the rescue.

No blood was shed in the second case, but a fine looking young man—Leslie G. Hathaway—sometimes bank clerk and auto salesman, is in custody to London after confessing he was the lone gunman who held up the Bank of Montreal at Thorndale, near London, locked four employees in the vault and escaped with $7,000 in cash. After less than three weeks of liberty, Hathaway, who is married and well connected, was arrested in Toronto while driving in a car purchased with the proceeds of the robbery.

So far we have never heard of any person breaking the speed limit on work.

HOW TO WRITE CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

What to Say—and How to Say It—Facts That Influence the Results You Are After. Results from Classified Advertising Depend Largely Upon How the Advertisements are Written. The Following are Suggestions that might prove Helpful in Properly Writing a Classified Advertisement.

Don't try to save space by abbreviating or leaving out words. Use plain English and enough of it to tell all about the proposition.

Point out in your proposition the things in which you think the prospect would be mostly interested.

Select the strongest selling point; this may be the price, the opportunity to make or save money, the exclusiveness of the proposition, the size, the terms or any one of a hundred things.

Emphasize this point or points to arrest the reader's eye as he glances through the classified columns; this can be accomplished by placing the most important features at the head of the advertisement or by the use of large type.

Inasmuch as the amount of money involved is the vital factor in transactions prices should always be given.

A man does not want to waste time looking up propositions when he does not know whether it is within the range of his pocketbook. He answers those advertisements he knows come within the price he has in mind.

Many people will not answer an advertisement that omits the price feeling that the advertiser intentionally not mention the price because it is too high.

The number of replies lost because the price is too low or too high is more than made up by the response gained from those to whom the price is right and who probably would not have replied at all if the price had been omitted.

Make your classified advertisements specific. If it is sold on terms, point out the specific terms, not just "easy terms," but $10 down and $5 a month.

Always bear in mind that what is "easy," "desirable," "convenient," "good," "beautiful," "wonderful," "close," "cheap" for one person may not be for another.

The pulling power of the classified advertising lies in the directness with which important details are specified.

It is always well to impel action at the end of an advertisement. Often a person will have a real want and need for the thing advertised, but the wording of an advertisement somehow lacks the power of suggestion to induce action.

To overcome this it is advisable to use phrase that helps the reader to respond at once. "First caller gets this." "This will not last long at the price." "This is a special offer. Mr. Smith before noon." "Telephone us and we will call for you in our car" and other such phrases often stimulate immediate action.

Another element that invites immediate response is to make it easy for the person answering the classified advertisement to find you.

A telephone number is usually very easily called and many people dislike to call personally unless they can determine further details by telephone conversation beforehand.

On the other hand, street addresses should be given wherever possible.

Some people have no telephone, others dislike using it therefore prefer calling in person.

Not only make it easier for the reader to answer your advertisement but always be on hand to answer calls when they come.

This seems like foolish advice, yet experience in classified advertising proves that many people expect a classified advertisement to bring returns when there are not even present to receive the answers or will depend on a person to receive the answers who knows little or nothing about what is advertised.

Repetition has a certain strength. Classified Ads that readers pass by the first week receive interested attention and response the next.

One of the peculiarities in classified advertising is the fact that an advertisement may run several weeks and not bring a single result, yet the following week, possibly when least expected, answers will come from every quarter. For this reason, experienced advertisers order their advertisements to run a number of weeks.

For "Quick Results at Low Costs" put your ad in "The Outlook."

HE WOULDN'T ADVERTISE

He started in to run a store like lots of folks have done, he reckoned he would go ahead and make the business hum. He got a corner site, he did, and daubed it up with paint to make the place he picked upon look somewhat like a store.

And then he went and bought his stock, 'twas new and likewise crisp, he reckoned that this outfit would keep them coming brisk.

He stuck a sign upon his door another on the wall, they were artistic things by heck, like yellow leaves in fall.

He got a rig to peddle with, he had that painted too, and fussed and fribled about his name in colors red and blue.

He figured folks would see that name at either aft or fore and trade would come a crowdin' into his accessory store.

The paper man dropped in one day, he ran a goodly sheet, he told the 'osey man that he could put him on his feet—but this here gent he threw him out, in business he was wise, he wasn't 'cousin' up his coin; he wouldn't advertise.

If other folks were usin' space that was their own affair; he'd build his trade upon goods and prices that were square.

But somehow folks they didn't fall for his painted signs, nor yet for all painted rigs, and stuff up with the times. They 'lowed as how his store was nice, his goods were all right, too, but they didn't know just when he had some equipment that was new.

He didn't use paper that they took in their homes as, and so some other dealer was pullin' in the bones.

He reckoned that the trade would come by waiting round a spell, but while he waited half his goods got old enough to smell. But still he didn't use no space to tell the folks in town how he could tend unto their wants and trim the prices down.

Well, things they went along like they went from bad to worse, and 'bout the only thing to do was to holler for the horses. Until one day he quit the store, the trade was far too tame and the chap that has the business now—the ballist is his name.

THE KING LOOSSES ONLY WHAT THE PEOPLE TEAR FROM HIM.

Handsome good, rich and wise is a woman four stories high. That's a vicious animal, when one attacks him, he defends himself. Our fatherland is where we have friends.
