Said To Be of the Negative and inconclusive Sort.

Cabinet May Meet on Wednes day and Decide on the Next Step.

Summary of the Points at Issue Be :ween the Two Parties-The Boers' Reply.

London, Sept. 18 .- The reply of the Transvaal Government to Mr. Chamberlain's note is said to cover nine pages. It is eminently of the "negative and inconclusive" character which Mr. Chamberlain declared would compel the imperial government to consider the situation afresh. It practically ignores suzerainty, reverts to the seven years' franchise, and declines to give equality to the Dutch and English languages in the volks-raad. It is in short purely negative and defiant. The full text may not be available for a day or two, but it will not change the aspect of affairs. The cabinet will probably meet on Wednesday or Thursday to consider the next step. BOERS MEAN TO FIGHT. The Morning Post says: The Boers mean to fight. That is the plain English of it. The Standard says: The Transvaat note is unsatisfactory, and, indeed, a dangerous composition. It might be going too far to say that the last hope of peace had vanished, but it is idle to deny that the rulers of the Transvaal have brought their country very close to the brink of a disaster, which the British Government has done its best to avert.

DUALISM DONE FOR.

Kruger's defiance has terminated a long period of unrest and uncertainty in South Africa, for whatever may be dent Joubert's sons, and all the memthe issue of the present situation, one thing is certain—that dualism in South Africa will end forever.

answer in two words, "Too late." All military men believe it is out of the question to begin hostile opera-tions for two months, no rain having fallen and the veldt being still bare. THE REPLY. The reply of the government of the South African Republic to the latest dispatch of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain proceeds in part as follows: "The government deeply regrets the withdrawal, as the government understands it, of the invitation contained in the British dispatch of Aug. 23, and the substitution in the place thereof, of an entirely new proposal. The proposals, now fallen through, contained in the Transvaal dispatches of Aug. 19 and 21, were elicited from this government by suggestions made by the British diplomatic agent in Pretoria, Mr. Conyngham Greene, to the Transvaal state secretary, Mr. F. W. Reitz, suggestions which this government acted upon in good faith, and after specially ascertaining whether they would be likely to prove acceptable to the British Government. This government had by no means an intention to raise again needlessly the question of its political status. but acted with the sole object of endeavoring by the aid of the local British agent, to put an end to the strained the shape of a proposal which to this government seems both as regards its spirit and form, to be so worded as to people and the legislature of the Transvaal, and also contemplated the possible dangers connected therewith, but risked making them on account of a sincere desire to maintain peace, and were assured by Mr. Chamberlain that such proposals would not be deemed a refusal of his proposals, but would be her one and two year old tots to swal- settled on their merits. "As regards the joint commission, the Transvaal adheres to the acceptance of the invitation thereunto given by her majesty's government, and cannot understand why such commission, which before was deemed necessary to explain the complicated details of the ten years' law, should be deemed unnecessary, and why it should now, without such inquiry, be thought possible to declare this law inadequate. "Further, there must be a misapprehension, if it be assumed that this government was prepared to lay proposals for a five years' franchise and a quarter representation of the new population before the volksraad for unconditional acceptance. As to the language, this government never made any offer such as is referred to conany offer such as is referred to, considering, as it did, such a measure both unnecessary and undesirable.

"The proposed conference, as distinct from the joint commission of inquiry, this government is likewise not unwilling to enter upon, but the difficulty is that an acceptance thereof is made dependent upon the accept-ance, upon the side of the Transvaal upon precedent conditions, which this government does not feel at liberty to submit to the volksraad, and moreover the subject to be discussed at the conference remain undefined.

"This government ardently desires and gladly accepts arbitration, as its firm intention is to desire the enforce-ment of the London convention of 1824.

The dispatch concludes by trusting that the British Government, on re-consideration, may not deem it fit to make more onerous or new proposals, but will "adhere to Great Britain's proposals for a joint commission of inquiry as previously explained by the secretary of state for the colonies to the Imperial Government."

Transvaal's Reply to Secretary of the points at issue between Britain and the Transvaal:

First—Great Britain claims suzerainty over the Transvaal under the terms of the convention in 1881. The Boers dispute the claim, invoking the convention of 1884, in which the term "suzerainty" does not appear. The Boers say the omission was deliberate; the British that the Queen's suzerainty was understood, though not specified, and that it was the governing principle of the convention of Second-Great Britain demands increased facilities for naturalization of outlanders. At present outlanders, de-sirous of naturalization, must take an oath, renouncing allegiance to their former government, and then, after twelve years' residence, and provided the have the affirmative vote of threefourths of the burghers in their district, they become citizens of the South African Republic. The Boers at one point of the negotiations offered to re-duce the probationary term to five years, but the latest advices are that they now stick out for seven years. Third—Great Britain demands for the outlanders a share in the election of the president and increased representation for the gold fields. The Boers say they are willing to concede these points, but under conditions which the British claim are likely to make the concessions illusory. The British Government wants to have this matter thoroughly examined, so as to insure the outlanders getting the substance, and not merely the shadow of their demands in this respect. Great Britain is willing that such an examination should not serve as a precedent for interference in the internal fairs of the Transvaal, which the Boers argue would be the case. These are, broadly, the points at issue between the two governments. Originally the suzerainty question cut very little figure in the dispute, but the more the Boers have insisted upon it the more has it become the para-mount feature of the trouble. Great Britain has throughout flatly refused to even discuss the point.

EXCITEMENT INCREASING. A dispatch from Pretoria to the London edition of the Standard and Dig-gers' News says preparations among the Boers for a staunch resistance are going on continuously, and everything The Daily Mail says: President in the state is in readiness for war. Seven of President Kruger's sons and 50 grandsons, as well as Vice-Presibers of the executive council and volksraad, will take the field. The excitement is growing every moment. Africa will end forever.

At Cape Town it is reported that Mr. Hoffmeyer, the Orange Free State leader, sent a telegram to President Kruger to do all in his power to preserve peace, but that he received an answer in two words, "Too late."

This is about 8,000,000 hecto-litres less than the harvest produced last year. As fairly large stocks still remain in France from last year, the crop this year will about suffice for all demands made upon it, as the yearly consumption in France is about 124, 000,000 hectolitres.

A MENACE.

La Liberte (Paris) publishes a report of an interview with Deputy Lagrasse, who was received by the premier, M. Waldeck-Rousseau, yesterday. The premier, the deputy says, declared that the Orleanists had a wonderful organization, and that the Duc d'Orleans had been on the point of entering Paris. He also said that the Anti-Semitic and Patriotic Leagues, at a sign from Deroulede, could have put 20,000 men in the streets of Paris, and that the re-public had escaped a coup de force by the narrowest margin.

NINETEEN DROWNED. The Danube is still rising, and is now 476 centimetres above its normal level. As yet no danger threatens Vienna, but the railway station and the streets along the banks of the river are submerged. DENIED. The report that Great Britain and Portugal are about to sign a convention by which the latter leases to the former certain iterritory and stations in Portuguese East Africa, and that Germany has secured similar advantages from Portugal, is denied.

DREYFUS MAY BE FREE TOMORROW

New York, Sept. 18. — A Paris dispatch to the Sun says: Capt. Alfred Dreyfus will be released next Tuesday, and will thereafter be at liberty to pursue, as a free man, the vindication of his honor, which no pardon can give. The court of cassation will be open to him for quashing the Rennes verdict as soon as the necessary facts for demonstrating his in-nocence have been collected. His family and friends in announcing the withdrawal of his appeal to the mili-tary court of revision, at the request of the government, affirm their purpose never to rest until the rehabilitation of the injured man is complete.

Dreyfus will accept as clemency what really belongs to him as a right. The French public, by one of the strange revulsions of feeling common in this country, accepts this sequel to the Rennes trial not only without protest, but without positive approval. The anti-Dreyfus party fondly imagine that it ends the whole affair, that it stops foreign criticism, and insures a great and glorious success for the exposition of 1900.

The general public is already turn-ing its back on the Dreyfus affair and giving its attention to the royalist conspirators, whose trial takes place in the high court next month. When the German steamer Moravian ran on the northeast bar in a blinding snowstorm one cold morning last February, part of the crew were rescued from the fastbreaking ship by Supt. The gallant services rendered on that occasion by the Sable Island staff were duly reported to the German Government the rescued captain and officers and Emperor William has bestowed upon the life-savers three gold watches and $125 in money reward.

Wires Kept Hot Between the Boer Republic and Britain.

Natal May Be Raided While the British Wait.

Kruger Losing Friends in England, and the Pro-Boer Party Grows Small.

London, Sept. 16.-Sunday will be an anxious day for Great Britain. The reply of the Transvaal government, it is known tonight, has been formulated and is in the hands of the British agent at Pretoria. Furthermore, the wires at the foreign office are busy with a long dispatch from the British high commissioner in South Africa, Sir Alfred Milner, to the secretary of state for the colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, which is be-ing rapidly repeated to the latter's Birmingham home, so that the contents of the Boer reply will probably rest tonight with Great Britain's colonial secretary.

Unless South Africa is peopled with false prophets, the Boers have either evaded or defied what practically amounted to an ultimatum from the Brit-

From the tenor of their recent com-munications to Mr. Chamberlain they could scarcely be expected to do otherwise. However, this presumed action upon the part of the Boers does not make war a certainty, though it does place the British Cabinet in a position where it must take steps so aggressive that war or an ignominious submission will be the only alternative remaining to the Transvaal.

MAY RAID NATAL. This new, serious phase of the crisis also gravely increases the probability that the Boers would take time and tal, confiscate the mines, arrest the Outlanders for high treason and otherconfiscate the mines, arrest the wise resent, while the British troops are in mid-ocean, what they believe is an attempt to rob them of their in-

If the course of diplomacy is not foreshortened the British Cabinet would meet again and formulate specific demands far more sweeping than the recent ones. These will be trans-mitted to President Kruger in the shape of an ultimatum.

CABINET SCATTERED.

As the members of the cabinet are scattered throughout the country, it is improbable a council could be gathered until Monday night at the earliest, and there is every reason to believe the British Government will exhibit no undue haste in forcing President Kru-ger's hand, for it is palpably more im-portant to have 15,000 reinforcements on the scene of action than gain the gratitude of the importunate Outlanders, who, for weeks, have been crying

The logic of such a policy must be equally patent to President Kruger.

It is hardly conceivable that he will await the arrival of the British reinforcement before taking the initiative. If he displays such hesitation he will strengthen the belief that at the very last moment he intends to back down, an impression which has many supporters among the ultra-conservative-

OOM PAUL LOSING FRIENDS. President Kruger's rumored refusal of the latest franchise demands has lost him many friends in England, and the pro-Boer party has shrunk to small dimensions

The reported formal alliance between the Transvaal and the Orange Free State has also done much to alienate the feeling of those Englishmen inclined to sympathize with the Transvaal, though it is scarcely believed the Orange Free State will take an active part, more than likely confin-ing itself to passive unrecognized as-sistance as in the war of 1880.

The selection of Gen. Sir George Stuart White to command the troops in Natal meets with universal approval, as does also the announcement that in the event of war Gen. Sir Redvers Buller will take supreme com-mand in South Africa. Both are men of great experience, bravery and force-

Most of the special service officers wore civilian clothes, but as many of them were well known, they were quickly recognized and received ovations. The "Fighting Fifth" nearly all wore the Khartoum misunderstood than nervous dyspepsia.

Capt. Chichester said to a reporter of the Associated Press:

People having it think that their nerves are to blame, are surprised that they are not cured by nerve medicines and spring remedies; the real seat of mischief is lost sight of; the stomach is the organ to be looked after. Nervous dyspeptics often do have any pain whatever in the stomach, nor perhaps any of the usual symptoms of stomach weakness. Nervous dyspepsia shows itself not in the stomach so much as in nearly every other organ; in some cases the heart palpitates and is irregular; in others, the bowels are troubled, with loss of flesh and appetite, with the accumulation of g. ### BAD FOR POTATOES

Frost Caused the Loss of 1,000,000 Bushels in Northern Michigan.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 18 .-Grand Rapids freight agents who re-turned to the city yesterday after a week spent in Northern Michigan towns looking after the coming fall shipments report that the two frosts of the past week have caused the loss of about 1,000,000 bushels potatoes throughout the state, or about 25 per cent of the expected crop. The fields throughout the entire northern part of the state are black instead of green, so severe was the cold snap. The early government estimate gave Michigan a crop of 96 per cent. The farmers now say that the crop of the state will not be above 70 per cent. Cars had been contracted for by the hundred to take care of the crop. It is expected now that a large number of the contracts will be cancelled. Corn was also damaged by the frost, SERIOUS PUNISHMENT. Chicago, Sept. 18 .- A special Columbus dispatch says: "Governor Bush-nell has been appealed to in a case of alleged military prosecution by Gen. Otts in the Philippines. The victim is a mere boy, Lawrence Hoon, of Belle Center, Ohio, who enlisted in the regular service at the first call for troops for the Philippines, and who has been sentenced to dishonorable dis-charge and imprisonment for a year in the Bilibid prison at Manila, because, it is claimed, he technically and unintentially offended Gen. Otis. Through private letters it is learned that young Hoon, hearing that there was to be an opportunity for promotion to a lieutenant's commission, addressed a letter to Gen. Otis, requesting an opate soldier from addressing any comportunity to pass an examination. There is a provision prohibiting private soldiers from addressing communications to his commander-in-chief without first securing permission to do so from an intermediate officer. Transvaal Situation Affects the Stock Exchange.

General Decline All Round-No New Features in the Published Official Reply.

London, Sept. 18.-The Transvaal situation remains practically unchanged. The general apprehension in regard to the outcome was reflected by the decline in consols and stocks on the stock exchange, where, although all stocks continue depressed, there was no excitement. The text of President Kruger's reply was issued by Mr. Joseph Chamberlain this afternoon, but it adds nothing to the summary cabled to the Associated Press yesterday evening. The language in many places is taken to indicate a firm, unyielding People's Gas, Color-American Tobacco, Sugar, Metropolitan, Brookly Transit, American Steel and Wire, deral Steel and Tennessee Coal dropping from 2 to 5½ points. The railroads were not such seyere sufferers, but in many cases declines were over a point. Rock Island lost 314, and Southern preferred over 2 points. There was great excitement in the opening dealings, and speculative sentiment was fairly demoralized. The tightness of the money market was the motive of the selling.

PAYING A DEBT.

The deed of haror happily never goes out of fashion, but our under-standing of the term needs periodical revision. In Hamilton's day it meant duelling; in Kentucky it masquerades under the name of a feud; in France, as loyalty to the army; in lynching everywhere as righteous justice. The honor that "pops" in noisy bravado, self-glorification and damage to others, is of illegitimate pedigree.

Some years ago an affray among the miners of the West resulted in murder, and Senator Thurston, believing the accused to have been innocent in intention, took up his case and greatly miltgated the lad's punishment. Six months afterward a man, armed to the teeth, appeared in Thurston's office.
"Be you Squire Thurston?"
"Yes."

CUBAN GIANTS WON. Fenton, Mich., Sept. 18.-The Cuban Giants won an exciting game Saturday with the Columbia Giants by a score of 10 to 9.

HOW THE LEADERS BAT. One of the secrets of success of the Brooklyn team at the bat, says an expert, is the foxy and nervy habit of "crowding the plate," of keeping the pitcher on the guess by standing within an inch or two of the home rubber, thus compelling the twirler to take special care to avoid bitting these foxy Superbas, who stand almost flush with the rubber and prevent the penalty of a base under the hit-by-pitched-ball rule. The Superbas constantly change this device by standing remote from the plate to the boundary line of the batsman's box, and on the next pitched ball they will work the "crowd-theplate" dodge. Such tactics as these are perfectly legitimate, and have cut no little figure in the success of the hit and run game, as executed by the plucky Handon players. Pluck, judgment and alert wit are called into play in the successful working of such devices, which often weaken the effecteveness of the most skilled pitchers in the major league. Griffith is one of the few twirlers who refuse to succumb to the wiles of the nervy Brooklyn bats-

NOTED CROOK

He Is "Rev." G. T. Howard, a Very Smooth Swindler.

Worked the Foreign Inheritance Scheme and Has Escaped From Penttentiary.

Jackson, Mich, Sept. 18.—Postoffice Inspector W. C. Baird, of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Guy Gould, of Chicago, on Saturday arrested G. T. Howard, alias William Lord Moore, at Horton, a small village near this city, on the charge of traudulent use of the mails. Howard is said to be one of the most noted swindlers in the United States. He was arrested in Jackson, Tenn., in 1893 for fraudulent use of the mails and his trial there occupied nearly six months. He was finally convictcu and sent to the Columbus, Ohio, penitentary and nine years. In 1897 ne escapeu, and has since been at

When arrested at Jackson, Tenn., he when arrested at Jackson, Tenn., he was serving as pastor of the most prominent church there, and for the past six months he has been preaching at Horton. His scheme is the old foreign inheritance fraud. He writes to susceptible parties, informing them that he has learned there is an inheritance awaiting them in England, and that for a small fee he will secure it for them.

At Horton Howard has created quite a sensation in religious circles. He is an eloquent speaker, and has organized a church known as the Ethical Society, which is at present the leading religious organization at Horton. Howard, who equipped himself with half a dozen convenient names, is a man of more than ordinary intelligence, fine education and great energy, and is a persuasive orator and forceful writer. He is a doctor of divinity and a lawyer and was an edit- | cil. or of two or three religious publica-tions. His conviction at Jackson, Tenn., necessitated two long trials, the first of which resulted in a jury disagreement. Witnesses were sub-poenaed from all parts of the country and Europe, among them being Hon. Robert T. Lincoln, minister to Great Britain, and Hon. John C. New, consul-general to London.

By sending broadcast over this country circulars representing that the recipients were heirs to estates in Revision Revi various places in Europe, Howard, under the name of E. Ross, "manager of the European Claims Agency," tained remittances of $25 from many of his victims on the pretext that he would prosecute their claims to the Subsequently, operating from London under the name of William Lord Moore, Howard represented to his correspondents that Ross had died, and in hundreds of instances he obtained another remittance of $25 each. Returning to New York, Howard sent out fraudulent decrees purporting to emanate from a sufferne court of chancery. The decrees authorized Joseph Leger, the name Howard was then using, to issue possession papers in each case to persons entitled to estates under the decree on the payment by them of $35 taxes due. This scheme netted Howard thousands of dollars.

Early in 1894 Howard was convicted, fined $1,200 and sent to the Ohio penitentiary for nine years and a month. Since his escape he has been operating in the west, his victims principally residing in Great Britain. He is regarded by the postal authorities as one of the most dangerous confidence men and swindlers in the

EX-CONVICT WITH A CONSCIENCE

Pays Back the Money He Stole and the Costs of Pursuing Him.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 18 .- Charles O. Summers, formerly a detective, and escaped convict from the Mississippi Penitentiary, a gold hunter of the Klondike and a man with a conscience, is again within prison walls in Mississippi.

He journeyed all the way from Dawson City, Alaska, to New York, and from New York and Memphis to Jackson, Miss., to surrender himself as a safe robber.

Summers arrived in Memphis on Thursday and called on Superintend-ent G. W. Agee, of the Southern Ex-press Company, at his office. Summers said he was tired of liberty that does not mean freedom. Even in the Klondike he had no peace of mind. He thought of going to China, but his conscience led him back to Mississ-

When he walked into Mr. Agee's office he was prepared not only to declare repentance, but to make restitution. He turned over to Mr. Agee $1,500 in cash to cover the amount of the indebtedness to the Southern Express Company, even including the company's expense of pursuing him. He said that he would also reimburse the State of Mississippi for the expense of bringing him back from Cali-fornia, which he did promptly upon reaching Jackson There is already a strong and grawing sentiment for the pardon of the returned convict.

VALISE AND $50,000 MISSING. San Francisco, Sept. 16. - B. R. Banning, a Hawaiian capitalist, arrived from Honolulu on the steamship Australia, Tuesday, and registered at the Occidental. Among his effects was a valise containing, it is said, between $30,000 and $50,000 in bank notes, bonds and sugar stocks, together with a number of other valuable documents. A few hours later he missed the value. An investigation has been made, and it is now thought that Mr. Banning's property is now on its way to Homolulu, having been sent on board the Nippon street north. JAMES F. HUNT &

George Koyle, charged with stealing a saw from E. Vaughan, of Bayham, was sentenced to a month in jail. Heard & Co. have purchased Atlantic Park, St. Thomas, for $4,000, and will move their factory to the property. Brant Avenue Methodist Church, Brantford, raised $130 by a concert for the fund of the new Salvation Army barracks there.

William Lloyd has sold the 45 acres on the twelfth concession, corner of Morpeth road, Howard, to Walter Claus, of Harwich, for $3,000. Rev. Angus Graham, who is at present stationed at the Petrolia Presbyterian Church, has received a call to St. Matthew's Church, Montreal. Mr. Charles Beck, of Sebringville, had his right hand ground off by being caught in the rollers of the flour mill, of which he is one of the owners.

Dr. Chamberlain, inspector of prisons and public charities for the province, visited the proposed site for the house of refuge at Essex on Friday. St. Thomas Journal: The total appeals filed against the voters' list was 1,140—525 by Conservatives and 620 by Reformers. This is only about one-half the number filed last year.

A congregational meeting of the Presbyterians of Valetta, Fletcher and Stewart was held in Valetta Church, Tilbury, the other evening to moderate a call to a minister. Rev. Mr. Mc-

Quarrie was selected. Andrew Hall, jun., a prominent farmer of Blenheim, has assigned to Sheriff Brady, of Oxford, with liabilities of $9,000 and assets of about the same figure. The farm, which is one of the finest in the township, should bring from $8,000 to $9,000, and the chattels from $1,200 to $1,500.

Charles Marr, of the thirteenth concession of Sombra, on Wednesday drove to Brigden, apparently in his usual health, with a load of grain, and while driving the tire on the wheel of his wagon at Hayne's mill he dropped dead. Deceased was in his 77th year, and leaves a wife and grown-up family.

John F. W. Frier, of Ellice, died on Friday night at his residence, con. 2, near Sebringville. He succumbed to the effects of terrible injuries he received a little over three weeks ago.
With a companion, Mr. Frier was driving near Gadshill when he fell or was thrown out of the conveyance.
The spine was injured, and deceased was paralyzed.

The Walkerville town council does not agree to the site selected for the proposed county house of refuge, and objects that it will have no representation on the board of management, yet will have to pay 4 per cent of the cost of running the institution. The officials of the town refused to sign the agreement, and the matter will be fought out at the meeting of the county coun-

The True Relief, Radway's Ready Relief

For Internal and External U.e. In using medicines to stop pain, we should avoid such as inflict injury on the system. Opium, Merphine, Chloroform, Ether, Cocaine and Chloral stop pain by destroying the sense of perception, the patient losing the power of feeling. This is a most destructive practice; it masks the symptoms, shuts up, and, instead of removing trouble, breaks down the stomach, liver and bowels, and if continued for a length of time, kills the nerves and produces local or general paralysis.

Among the ordinary classes the excitement seems less acute than some weeks ago. A significant instance of this is seen at the Palace Music Hall, which is packed nightly with all sorts and conditions, from the highest to the lowest. Topical songs, dealing with the probable confusion of President Kruger and the wiping out of the Majuba Hill defeat, were received with faint applause, not approaching to patriotic enthusiasm; but biograph pictures of the Dreyfus case brought the audence to its feet, yelling and waving hats and handkerchiefs, etc., and women crying. Curious enough, Maitre Labori received the tion's share of the applause, while Gen. Mercier and Col. Jouaust were hissed, as Emperor William of Germany was hissed over the Jameson raid incident.

He was hooted and groaned at by an immense assemblage, although at the outset of his speech me informed the audience that he was a Lancashire lad, born and bred. The attitude of the audience is accounted for not by what he said so much as by what he was expected to say. Here, for instance, is the pith of his speech:

Another sadder case, because of the victim's youth, was that of Ada Morley, a girl of 20, who left home because her parents were cruel to her. On Monday she left the following letter: Dear Tom, by the time you read this I shall be dead, and my body will be found in the Lea. Do not trouble to-night. It will be found in the morning. I know I have done it myself. but never mind. Good-bye, and God bless you all. Am tired of life.

The third victim was Mr. George Withers, a widely known and respect-ed solicitor of West Bromwich, who threw himself in front of a train at West Bromwich station. He was walking along the platform, and as the train was entering the station he Prizes are to be given for the two most rational and woman-like costumes worn. WIRELESS TELEPHONY.

For some weeks experiments great interest in wireless telephony, as distinguished from Marconi's wireless, emperor modified the plan of campaign telegraphy, have been carried on near Carnarvon by Sir William Preece. Four high poles have been erected at the south end of Menai Straits on a sand bank across the Gwyrfal River. Half a mile off four similar poles were erected. Half a mile still further is a high pole supporting a coll of wire, with one end anchored in deep water. Between these points Sir William has succeeded, without any intermediary other than ether, in trasmitting the sound of a succession of taps. taps were made with a view of sending messages by the Morse code. They were distinctly heard at the receiving station by placing a newly invented ethereal telephone to the ear. Messages were sent without interruption several days. Further experiments are contemplated. So far the system yields much more rapid results than Marconi's although the sounds are not quite so distinct.

LILY'S "SHOT." Miss Lily Grundy, who has just made such a hit in her father's comedy, "The Degenerates," is in private life, public after five years' residence. Very well, I agree. But now the thing is not ended. Let us see where we are. is very tall and slender, with long, bright hair that hangs below her waist. Her face is in singularly good drawing, with a broad forehead, well shaped mouth and frank, clear eyes. When she laughs one is struck by the even line of perfect white teeth. Miss Grandy is an only daughter. She has never acted before, even in private theatricals, so that the "make-up" box was a mystery. She often thought of going on the stage, but never dreamed of doing so until the day during a rehearsal of "The Degenerates" when there was absolutely no one to take up the part of Una Trevelyan. Her father turned to her and said, "Lil, you have a shot at it." Miss Lily took the shot and scored a bulls-eye.

DROVE THREE MILLION MILES. George Pearson, a well-known express driver on the London and Northwestern Railway, has just retired from service. He has been on the Northwestern 51 years, and for 42 years was a passenger train driver, principally of the Irish mail between Euston and Holyhead. He has driven over three millon miles, and it is his pride that he has never been the cause of injury

GIVES SIGHT AND HEARING. The reported discoveries of Mr. Peter Stiens, a Russian scientist, have been occupying some attention lately in London. Mr. Stiens claims to be able to give artificial sight to the blind by means of an electrical apparatus he hos discovered. He says the apparatus will, as in a camera, focus the rays of light from the object to the brain, and sight is given, the objects being clear-ly seen. A Daily News representative, who was tightly blindfolded, so that all was blackness before his eyes, says that on being connected with the apparatus, a duli gray light, succeeded by a clear, bright light, took the place of the blackness, and he saw fingers held up before him. Mr. Stiens says he is also engaged on an electrical apparat-us, by means of which deaf persons will be made to hear perfectly.

GERMAN PEOPLE SHOCKED. Though the German Government has taken pains to preserve its equilibrium, the result of the Dreyfus trial has tremendously shocked the German people, irrespective of creed and politics. The bitter insult implied by the total disregard upon the part of the Rennes court of the official Reichsanzeiger's declaration of Dreyfus' innocence is deeply felt here. Owing to the peculiar relations with France, these sentiments have not found full vent in the press, and the government organs have done their best to smother them. But in conversation the real feelings of the people, indignation, and almost contempt, are universally and freely expressed, A small majority, composed of anti-Semites and some agrarians and Conservatives, more or less approved the SPYING FOR RUSSIA. The Hamburger Nachrichten, formerly the late Prince Bismarck's organ, made itself their mouthpiece, asserting repeatedly that the evidence against Dreyfus this time was no more than had previously been made public, and that Dreyfus had been convicted, not for spying for Germany, but for Russia, citing a mass of alleged evidence in support of this assertion. When those were disputed and ridiculed by the bulk of the press, the paper said the information was derived from a source excluding all doubt of its authroborated by several competent persons. This view was shared by a number of prominent papers, including the Deutsche Tages Zeitung, the Staatsburger Zeitung and others. The cor-respondent here of the Associated Press has interviewed a prominent foreign official, who said: "The government was not surprised at the conviction of Dreyfus.'

"The Reichsanzeiger publication was largely for the purpose of depriving the world of the chance of saying Dreyfus had again been sentenced because Germany kept silent. We postponed the publication until the last moment, as we suspected it might hurt rather than benefit the accused. "Regarding the assertions of the Hamburger Nachrichten, we think it quite likely the paper is making the statements on good authority. Many well-informed persons believed Dreyfus had Russia and not Germany to This reported connection of Dreyfus with Russia is common talk in diplomatic circles here, where it finds cred-ence. It is also stated that evidence of this was produced at the secret session at Rennes, and M. Delcasse's hurried visit to St. Petersburg just before the court-martial is cited in support of this theory.

BOYCOTTING THE EXPOSITION. On the question of joining in a boycott, public opinion is much divided. The big majority favor active participation in the exposition, while a number of leading and influential papers, like the Vossiche Zeitung, Frankfurter Zeitung and Tageblatt advocate abstin-

"Concerning the talk of boycotting the Paris exposition," says the paper referred to, "it is not Germany's part to put herself in the foreground in such a movement. The official relations of France and Germany have not suffered in the least through the sentence. There is no intention upon the part of the government to join in any directly unfriendly steps against France. The best proof that we do not mean to suspend preparations for the exposition is that the chief commissioner, Herr Richter, has just started for Paris." GERMAN ARMY MANEUVERS.

The army maneuvers this year are regarded as a mediocre success, owing to various causes, chiefly unfavorable weather. For one entire day the operations had to be suspended. The accordingly. The roads part of the time were simply impassable, and the condition of the troops was indescribable, though most of them found shelter, and the commissariat acquitted itself excellently. The maneuvers ended earlier than arranged, because of the intended visit of the czar to Potsdam on Thursday, which was subsequently abandoned. Thus Emperor William had his preparations for this important visit for nothing. Aside from these untoward circumstances, other features aroused serious criticism of the military value of these big maneuvers, in which three army corps numbering 90,000 men, participated. The troops marched well, in infantry covering, in spite of the weather, being often kneedeep in mud, from 20 to 40 kilometers daily. But some of the commanders made some egregious blunders. Gen. Von Falkenhausen, commanding the Thirteenth corps, got separated from the Fourteenth, and the plan of cam-paign had to be licked into shape for the next morning. The emperor's dashing charge at the head of two cavalry divisions on Wednesday was a fine sight. But all the experts agreed that such a charge in actual war and under the same conditions would have

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the maneuvers was that the Fifteenth corps, mainly recruited in Alsace fraternized sincerely with the men of the Thirteenth and Fourteenth corps, who were from other parts of empire. The Alsatian press last week dwelt on the emperor's Strassburg speech in a way showing that his majesty's advice to the clergy to keep good friends with the empire has borne fruit.

Oats closed unchanged to 1/sc lower, and provisions unchanged to 5c higher Trade was dull in everything. Minneapolis and Duluth receipts were 1,007 cars, against 916 last week and 1,112 a year ago. Mr. James McBurney, farmer and veterinary surgeon, of Embro, Oxford county, states:

was troubled with itching piles, and after riding they would get very sore, and bleed, so much so that I was in terrible pain. For nine years I endured this torture, and can safey say that I have tried every remedy one could mention. "Hearing of Dr. Chase's Ointment and knowing of the exceptional merit of the doctor's recipe book, I decided to try the ointment. To my surprise I was cured by one box, and have never been troubled since, though that was two years ago. I am strong and held by the well, and always recommend Dr. Chase's bear interest. What 1900 Will Witness as Indicated By "Old Moore's" Almanac.

Loncon, Sept. 18.—One of "Old Moore's" almanacs has already appeared for 1900, and the usual pessimism is ladled out in the name of the stars and planets. The astrologer has a great deal to say of Russia and the health of its ruler, storms in March. marriages in July, and the work of death's scythe in high places. In March there is to be a storm in the cabinet, and many angry debates in parliament are to come. In the following month one of the great ones of the realm will depart from earth. The health of the sovereign is twice unfavorably presaged. Motor cars, it is said, will increase in thousands. During June and July many fatalities are to occur through them. War, of course, figures nearly every month through various moods of Mars. It will especially threaten in July.

OLD MAN'S EVIDENCE

Mr. H. S. Barnes, of Rat Portage, Speaks in No Uncertain Terms of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Rat Portage, Sept. 18.-No old gentleman in Rat Portage is better known or thought of than Mr. H. S. Barnes, father of ex-Mayor Barnes, of this place.

"Some months ago," writes Mr. Barnes, "my wife asked me to get her some of Dodd's Kidney Pills. She was suffering from kidney trouble, and I got a box, but she never lived to take them. I had long been suffering from symptoms similar to those of my wife, and these now becoming severe, and having a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills in the house, I resolved to try them. The first box eased these symptoms, and continuing their use I was completely cured. Dodd's Ridney Pills possess genuine merit."

-Shortage of Cars. Live stock business on the western roads is running a little lighter than it did last year. Poor's Manual discredits the comerican railroads is close to $12,000,000,-000, nearly all the investment of a half century.

W. J. McFarlan, chief engineer of the Rock Island, succeeds James Ar-chibold as chief engineer of the Lackawanna.

Poor's Manual calculates that the South will have to have about 14,000 miles more of railroad before it has one mile to every ten square miles of territory.

A suit for nearly $1,000,000 worth of taxes has been ordered filed in Texas against the International and Great Northern Railroad for back taxes covering a period of 25 years.

The C. P. F. intends to adopt the standard rules for the movement and operation of trains, and the superintendents, trainmasters and train dispatchers are in Montreal discussing the matter. At the end of last year the railroad mileage in the United States was not only twice as great as it was about equal to the mileage in all the rest of the world, and freight rates are decidedly leven here the states was not trons, is assured.—Boston, Mass., Post, Aug. 29, 1899.

Mr. J. H. Hanna, late district freight agent at Stratford, who is about to remove to another point, was presented by a number of his friends in the Classic City, on Friday night, with a farewell address and a handsome pipe and tobacco pouch.

Sir William Van Horne, chairman of the board of directors of the Canadian Pacific road, is reported as saying that part of the plan for the establishment of the Canadian Pacific line of trans-Atlantic steamers is the running of a Canadian Pacific train from Liverpool to London.

Orders for 100,000 new freight cars are now being filled by various car manufacturers in the country, and before the year is over the manufacturers will have more business than they can handle. In fact, they are unable now to turn out cars fast enough to suit the railroads.

It is said that the Pennsylvania if short 3,000 cars, the Grand Trunk 2,000, the New York Central 5,000, the Lackawanna 2,500. It is estimated that all the Chicago-Buffalo-New York roads combined are short 100,000 cars, to meet their present actual demands. All western trade except the St. Paul are short of cars. The late Cornelius Vanderbilt, it is stated, contributed more money to en-courage the establishment of railroad branches of the Young Men's Christian Association than any railway official in the country, although M. E. Ingalis, president of the Big Four and the Chesapeake and Ohio, has been a large subscriber to that work.

The new station of the Grand Trunk which is now in course of construction at Galt, will cost, when completed, in the neighborhood of $10,000, or $7,000 more than was at first proposed to be expended. The station will be one of the most modern in Canada, and will be equipped with all the latest facilities for the quick and safe handling of trains.

Today (Monday) the new rate on grain goes into effect. This puts all grain save corn on a basis of 20 cents from Chicago to New York and corn is put on a basis by itself of 18 cents. This matter came up at the Central Freight Association meeting a few days ago. There was some effort to advance corn also to the 20-cent basis, but it was thought that as it had just been subject to one advance, another might not be popular.

It is said that F. D. Underwood, general manager of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, is to issue an order which will distinguish the uniformed employes of the road in accordance with their years of service. rule will provide for a gold stripe for each five years' service, and for a silver stripe for two years. The conductors, brakemen and baggagemen are also to be furnished with badges. It was announced at the offices of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company, in Haven, Saturday afternoon, that at the meeting of the directors, held in New York, President Charles P. Clark notified the board of his inability to permanently remain president of the company. This communication was refer-red to its standing committee to consider and recommend a future meet-ing of the board what course should be pursued. A quarterly dividend of 2 per cent was declared.

In many respects the scheme of the new western lines is good for the immigrants. From the moment they land at Ellis Island, in New York harbor, until they are loaded on trains bound for the west, the immigrants are in the custody of the agents of the west-ern roads. The individual immigrant agents in New York, formerly employ-ed by the railroads, or at least paid big commission on all the business they seemed connection roads. until they are loaded on trains bound they secured, cannot even get sight of the immigrants in New York now. It cannot be denied that some of the "individual agents" used to rob the inxnigrants of all they had and ship them west over the longest routes, which usually paid the largest com-

Advertising and Its Value.

That judicious advertising makes success of business is clearly evidenced by the success of the Snow-Mac-Kay Advertising Agency, one of the most progressive bureaus of its kind in Boston. Increase in business ne-cessitated a change, and now the Agency is located in larger quarters on the fifth floor of the Niles Building, mon idea that railway building has been overdone in this country.

L. Douglass Shoe Company. The enter-prise and progressive methods of the Snow-Mackay Agency have resulted in bringing to them a large clientage of business houses, who give their patronage to those who insure them the best returns for money expended. The Agency is proud of the fact that it has never lost a customer, and with in-creased facilities the progress of the Agency in a wider field of business, with a great increase in its list of pa-ments have been appearing in The Advertiser for some time.

The Newest Millinery. Modern millinery art is an inexhaustble source of wonder and beauty. Had King Solomon's wives attended the millinery opening this morning at Mrs. A. G. McLeod's, 224 Dundas street, before evening that gentleman might have revised his statement that "There is no new thing under the sun." season's millinery presents many striking novelties. The leading colors are beaver and castor shades. Soft reds, rowen and delf blues, reseda and murier greens are also prevalent. The shapes are larger than a year ago, and the medium-sized hats and large turbans promise to be the most popular. Black taffeta is a favorite trimming, tucked and stitched; immense birds' wings and gulls are used also. In fur trimmings mink and grebe in black predominates. Among the smart hats which the reporter saw were a "Marie Stuart" (the leading style) in black and white, embroidered with black sequins and trimmed with four immense plumes; a large Spanish turban trim-med with large rosettes, and a large gray hat in soft shades, trimmed with a soft ruche, stitched, and a larger seagull. Mrs. McLeod's parlors are veritable bowers of beauty.

At Carterville, Ill., soldiers are patroling the streets and guarding the mine property against attack, as a result of the battle in which seven colored nonunion miners were killed and two wounded on Sunday.

An American View of the Intercolonial -A Revolution Worked.

A staff correspondent of the Buffalo

Express writes that paper as follows:
"It is not necessary to take a trip over the Intercolonial Railway to learn that the government is the third largest owner of railways in the Dominion but if anyone will take the trouble to make the journey, evidences will be apparent all along the line, from Mon-treal to the seaboard, that the road is equally as well managed, and probably better equipped, as far as the comforts and care of the passengers are concerned, than either of the two great trunk lines, whose mileage exceeds that of the peoples' road. The present min-ister of railways, m every way possible, is endeavoring to introduce business principles in the management and working of the road. New parlor cars, with the Grand Trunk tracks. Motor- first-class coaches, the finest that could be built in New York, have been running since June last. It was coming from the the officers of a private concern determined to make it pay.

"The contracts between the C. P. the government road shows that new freight engines, of the modern type, have been introduced. The train hands, backed by some of the local politicians, objected because one train crew would only be used where there were two before. The minister settled this by promising not to remove any of the hands, as he expected that the increased trafaphores were turned against the en- fic which the road would receive under proper management would give them all employment.

"In the car repairing shops one of the workmen stated that the same number of men turned out 20 cars, as against 7 under the old system. This was done by introducing additional labor-saving machinery. The govern-ment also has started to build its own engines. Three new engines are now under way to replace old ones."

The Strange Metamorphosis.

After this Dick had parted from his elder sister Barbara and his young brother Roly, and had arrived where we found him first, at the mat outside the dining-room door, where he still lingered, shivering, in the cold, foggy

Somehow he could not bring himself to take the next step at once; he knew pretty well what his father's feelings would be, and a parting is a very unpleasant ceremony to one who feels that the regret is all on his own

But it was no use putting it off any longer; he resolved at last to go in and get it over, and opened the door accordingly. How warm and com-fortable the room looked—more comfortable than it had ever seemed to him before, even on the first day of the holidays.

And his father would be sitting there in a quarter of an hour's time, just as he was now, while he himself would be lumbering along to the station through the dismal, raw fog! How unspeak bly delightful it must be, thought Dick enviously, to be grown up, and never worried by the oughts of school and lesson-books; to be able to look forward to returning the same comfortable house, and living the same easy life, day after day, week after week, and no fear of a swiftly-advancing Black Monday. Gloomy moralists might have informed him that we can not escape school by simply growing up, and that, even for those who contrive this and make a long holiday of their lives, there comes a time when the days are grudgingly counted to a blacker Monday than ever makes a school-boy's heart quake within him.

But then Dick would never have believed them, and the moralists would only have wasted much excellent common sense upon him.

Paul Bultitude's face cleared as he saw his son come in. "There you are, eh!" he said, with evident satisfaction, as he turned in his chair, intending to cut the scene as short as pos-"So you're off at last? Well. holidays can't last forever-by a merciful decree of Providence, they don't rest of a sense of license and varied last quite for ever! There, good-by, be a good boy this term. "No, I'm not," said Dick, "Boaler hasn't gone to fetch one yet. "Not gone to fetch a cab yet!" cried Paul, with evident alarm, "why, God bless my soul, what's the man thinking about? You'll lose your train! I know you'll lose your train, and there will be another day lost, after the extra week gone already through that snow! I must see to this myself.

Ring the bell, tell Boaler to start this instant—I insist on his fetching a cab this instant!"

'Well, it's not my fault, you know," grumbled Dick, not considering so much anxiety at all flattering; but Boaler has gone now. I just heard the gate clang."

"Ah!" said his father, with more composure, "and now," he suggested, "you'd better shake hands, and then go up and say good-by to your sister—you've no time to spare."
"I've said good-by to them," said Dick. Mayn't I stay here till—till Boaler comes?" This request was due less to filial affection than a faint desire for dessert, which even his feelings could not altogether stifle. Mr. Bultitude granted it with a very bad grace.

"I suppose you can if you want to," he said impatiently; "only do one thing or the other—stay outside, or shut the door and come in, and sit down quietly. I cannot sit in a thor-Dick obeyed, and applied himself to the dessert with rather an injured expression.

Paul felt a greater sense of constraint and worry than ever; the interview, as he had feared, seemed likely to last some time, and he felt that he ought to improve the occasion in some way, or, at all events, make some observation. But, for all that, he had not the remotest idea what to say to this red-haired, solemn boy, situation grew more embarrassing every moment. At last, as he felt himself likely to have more to say in reproof than on any other subject, he began with

"and that's this. I had a most unsatisfactory report of you this last term; don't let me have that again. Dr. Grimstone tells me—ah, I have his letter here—yes, he says (and just attend, instead of making yourself ill with preserved ginger)—he says, 'Your son has great natural capacity, and excellent abilities; but I regret to say that, instead of applying himself as he might do, he misuses his advantages, and succeeds in setting a mischievous example to—if not actually misleading—his companions.' That's a misleading—his companions.' That's a pleasant acount for a father to read! Here am I, sending you to an expensive school, furnishing you with great natural capacity and natural abilities, and—and—every school requisite, and all you do is to misuse them! It's disgraceful! And misleading your companions, too! Why, at your age, they ought to mislead you—No, I don't mean that—but what I may tell you is, that I've written a very strong letter to Dr. Grimstone, saying what pain it gave me to hear you misbehaved yourself; and telling him if he ever caught you setting an example of any sort self; and telling him if he ever caught you setting an example of any sort, mind that, any sort, in the future— he was to, ah, to remember some of Solomon's very sensible remarks on the subject. So I should strongly advise you to take care what you're about in future, for your own sake."

This was not a very encouraging ad-This was not a very encouraging address, perhaps, but it did not seem to distress Dick to any extent; he had heard very much the same sort of thing several times before, and had been fully prepared for it then.

He had been seeking distraction in almonds and raisins, but now they only choked instead of consoling him, and he gave them up and sat brooding silently over his hard lot indeed, with a dull, blank dejection which those only who have gone through the same thing in their boyhood will understand. To others, whose school life had been one uncheckered course of excitement and success, it will be comprehensible enough—and so much the better for them.

He sat listening to the grim sphinx-clock on the black-marble chimneypiece, as it remorselessly ticked away his last few moments of nome-life, and he ingeniously set himself to crown his sorrow by reviving recollections of

In one of the corners of the chimneyglass there was still a sprig of witn-ered laurel left forgotten, and his eye fell on it now with quite a grim sat-isfaction. He made his thoughts trav-el back to that delightful afternoon on Christmas Eve, when they had all come home riotous through the brilliant streets, laden with purchases from the Baker Street Bazar, and then had decorated the rooms with such free and careless gaiety.

And the Christmas dinner, too! He had sat just where he was sitting now, with, an! such a difference in every other respect—the time had not come then when the thought of "only so many more weeks and days left" had begun to intrude its grizzly shape, like the skull at an ancient feast. And yet he could distinctly recollect now, and with bitter remorse, that he had not enjoyed himself then as much as he ought to have done; he even remembered an implous opinion of his that the proceedings were "slow." Slow! with plenty to eat, and three (four, if he had only known it) more weeks of holidays before him; with Boxing Day, and the brisk, exhilarating drive to the Crystal Palace immediately following, with all the rest of a sense of license and varied

Overhead his sister Barbara was playing softly one of the airs from "The Pirates" (it was Frederic's appeal to the major-general's daughters), and the music, freed from the serio-comic situation which it illustrates, has a tenderness and pathos of its own which went to Dick's heart and intensified his melancholy.

He had gone (in secret, for Mr.
Bultitude disapproved of such dissipations) to hear the opera in the holi-days, and now the piano conjured the whole thing up for him again-there would be no more theater-going for him for a very long time. By this time Mr. Bultitude began to feel the silence becoming once more op-pressive, and roused himself with a yawn. "Heigho!" he said, "Boaler's an uncommonly long time fetching

Dick felt more injured than ever, and showed it by drawing what he intended for a moving sigh.

Unfortunately it was misunderstood. "I do wish, sir," said Paul, testily, "you would try to break yourself of that habit of breathing hard. The so-clety of a grampus (for it's no less) delights no one and offends many-including me—and for heaven's sake, Dick, don't kick the leg of the table in that way; you know it simply maddens me. What do you do it for? Why can't you learn to sit at a table like a gentleman?"

Bryan Proposes to Do It by State and Federal Laws.

Scathing Arraignment of All Combinations.

Bess Hanna at Home-Predicts Defeat of Democracy on Any Old Issue.

Chicago, Sept. 18. - Central Music Hall, the scene of the civic federation conference of trusts and combinations, was packed from pit to gallery Saturday, when W. J. Bryan delivered his reply to W. Bourke Cockran, on the trust question. It had been reported that Mr. Bryan had a set of resolutions that he proposed to present, presumably antagonistic to the trusts as they now exist. But this Mr. Bryan denied when seen by a representative of the Associated Press, Mr. Bryan spoke, in part, as follows:

NO GOOD IN MONOPOLY. "Within two years more trusts have been organized than in the previous history of the country, and the people now come tace to face with this ques-Is the trust a blessing or a tion: curse? Monopoly in private hands is indefensible from any standpoint and intolerable. I do not divide monopolies. There can be no good monopoly in private hands until the Almighty senas us angels to preside over us. The entire derense of the trusts rests upon a money argument. It the trust will sell an article for a domar less than the article will cost under other conditions, then in the opinion of some that proves a trust to be a good thing. In the first place I deny that under a monopoly the price will be reduced. In the second place, if under a monopoly the price is reduced, the objections to a monopoly from other standpoints far outweigh the financial advantage that the trust would bring. But I protest against settling every question upon the dollar argument. APPROACH OF MONARCHY. "Abraham Lincoln said he saw in the attempt to put capital even upon an equal footing with labor in the structure of government, the approach of monarchy. Lincoln was right. Whenever you put capital upon an equal footing with labor or above labor, in the structure of government, you are on the road to aid a government that rests not upon reason, but upon force. "Nothing is more important than that we shall, in the beginning, rightly understand the relation between money and man. Man is the creature of God, and money is the servant of man, and I protest against all theories that enthrone money and debase mankind. I want to warn you that when the monopoly has absolute control, brains will be at a discount. My friends, all you have to know is human nature. God made men selfish.

TURNS TO THE BIBLE. "On the farm we used to protect property from hogs by putting rings in their noses. One of the great purposes of government is to put rings in the noses of hogs. If I were going to try to find the root of the monopoly evil I would go back to the Bible for an explanation, and I would find it in the declaration that the love of money is the root of all evil.

"Falling prices, caused by a rising dollar, and the high tariff, have contributed the desire to secure the fruits of monopoly. I do not believe you could destroy all trusts by putting all trust-made articles on the free list, because if any article can be produced in this country as cheaply as it can be produced abroad, then the trust could exist without the benefit of any tariff at all, although it could not extort so much. We cannot destroy monopoly until we lay the axe at the root of the tree and make monopoly impossible by law. The remedy must be complete enough to prevent the organization of a monopoly. We differ more in remedy than we do in our

REMEDY FOR TRUSTS.

"Both state and nation should have concurrent remedies. In the first place, every state has, or should have, the right to create any private corporation which in the judgment of the people of the state is conducive to the welfare of the people of that state. In a cable message was received saying the second place, the state has, or that he would start for America at should have, the right to prohibit any once. foreign corporation from doing business in the state.

"I believe, in addition to a state remedy, there must be a federal remedy. Congress has, or should have, power to place such restrictions limitations, even to the point of prohibition, on any corporation organized in one state, that wants to do business outside of the state contrary to public good. I believe these concurrent remedies will reach the difficulty: That the people of every state shall first decide whether they want to create a corporation; that they shall, secondly, decide whether they want any outside corporation to do business in the state, and, if so, upon what conditions; and, thirdly, that congress shall exercise the right to place upon every corporation doing business outside of the state in which it is organized such limitations and restrictions as may be necessary for the protection of the public good. Col. Bryan at this point read the famous circular letter advertising the incorporation laws of Delaware. commented sarcastically on advantages set forth in the letter. A person in the audience inquired:

"Delaware and New Jersey are both "Delaware and New Jersey and?"
Democratic states, are they not?"
"They were not in 1896. It is not safe to place the people of other states at the tender mercies of the people of such a state as may desire to secure its running expenses fro mthe taxation of corporations organized to prey on people outside," said Bryan. "I am ready to adopt any method for the annihilation of trusts."

"I suggest this: That congress pass a law, providing that no corporation organized in any state should do business outside of the state in which it is organized until it receives from some power created by congress a license to do so. If this is unconsti-tutional, I am in favor of an amendgress power to destroy every trust in the country. Publicity and loss of power to issue watered stock would destroy every monopole to the country. Publicity and loss of and she has improved in every way. destroy every monopoly in the coun-try. As a third condition I suggest have achieved such a result in so short that no license shall be granted until the corporation shows that it has not had a monopoly and is not attempting a monopoly of any branch of industry or any article of merchandise, and & Co., Toronto, Ont.

then provide that if the law is violated the license can be revoked.
"Every unjust tax law is an indirect form of larceny," the speaker asserted. An income tax, he believed, would An income tax, he believed, would remedy another great evil. "I want to protest against the ductrine that the trust is a natural outgrowth of natural laws," said he. "It is not true. The trust is the natural outgrowth of unhatural conditions, created by manmade laws. Government under the principles of the declaration of independence is improvible under an induspendence is impossible under an industrial aristocracy.'

Bryan urged all laboring men and farmers to remember that their interests were identical, and closed by remarking:

"For 100 years the best of all nations have looked to this nation for hope and instruction. Let us settle these great questions that we have; let us teach the world the blessing of a government that comes from the people, and let us show them how have have the people. and let us show them how happy and how prosperous people can be. Action Over a $14 Gas Bill Costs & Montreal Man $3,000.

Montreal, Sept. 18 .- A costly lawsuit oven an insignificant amount has just been decided by the British Privy Council, on appeal from the Canadian courts. A resident of this city named Cadieux, who owed $14 for gas con-sumed in his house, leased a new one and requested the respondent to turn on the gas in the new house. The gas company replied that they would do on the appellant paying his bill. He rejoined that what he owed on the old house had nothing to do with the new one, on which he owed nothing, and unless the company turned on the gas without delay he would compel

The company refused, and Mr. Ca-l dieux took out a mandamus. He was successful at the trial, but lost on appeal, and won again in the supreme court, from which decision the gas company took the case to England opinion of the trust. The case of Mrs. Wm. Her appetite was almost gone, and almedicine, she received no relief from them. Seeing an advertisement of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pilis, I got a box with the faint hope that they would help my wife. She has taken two boxes and the results are something wonderful.
