Germany's Words of Cheer for John Bull.

London Times Comments on the German Foreign Secretary's Speech.

King Edward Desires to Visit Paris, But Cannot Find the Time-Rosebery Does Not Seek to Supplant Bannermann.

Berlin, March 12 .- Following are the concluding remarks of Secretary Baron Von Richthofen, made yesterday in the

"The sacrifices that Great Britain has made in blood and treasure made it only humanly natural that her susceptibilities should grow more acute. Every harsh word was felt by her. Every friendly address was accepted with double gratitude. If the members of the diet wished to secure the co-operaion of the British in helping the Boers, they must abstain from provoking Great Britain's susceptibility. There was need of a somewhat more equitable adjustment of light and shade." Continuing, Baron Richthofen said: MORE THAN COUSINS. "If we feel ourselves more than cousins kin to England we shall be able the more effectively to help our common cousins in South Africa. "Let us not always assume that verything done by the English is wrong and bad. I may quote an example. I have read descriptions of the prisoners' camps which made by hair stand on end. A few days ago Gen. Von Trotha, who, from his own experience, was in a position to report on the matter, was at my house. He said to me: 'I consider it my duty, and authorize you to use my name, to declare that I found the prisoners' camps in Ceylon to be perfect models. The former German officers in the camps had only a single complaint-that there was not sufficient variety of food." SYMPATHY DUE. Baron Von Richthofen proceeded: "In my opinion, the dignity of the nation would not have suffered derogation if it had displayed some human sympathy as, for instance, yesterday when the news came of the severe wounding of Gen. Methuen. proper consideration for national feelings it will be possible to make further progress in the direction desired by the Boer relief committee." The foreign secretary concluded with saying that no obsequiousness was ment to the delegation needed on the part of Germany, whose policy was conducted with the object of pleasing the German people and no one else. But, he believed, that the German views in regard to the war it-

"Let us do what we can in the way of services to humanity," said the secretary, "and then, perhaps, we can go further, perhaps we shall be able without drawing upon ourselves a sharp rebuff, to address ourselves as cousins to our cousins on the other side of the channel and speak a good word for our mutual cousins, the Boers.' BRITISH INDORSEMENT. London, March 12.-The Times, reerring editorially to the speech of the German foreign secretary, Baron von Richthofen, in the Prussian diet today "Since the English and American cousins stand well together, Germany probably considers it time to be the cousin of both. That is all proper and satisfactory, but the English will not forget that it is to America they owe this rather touching rapprochement. The circumstance form a new link between us and our cousins in the United States, while both they and we will accept with due cordiality the sage conclusion of the German government that it is well to be on good terms with the two great English-speaking world powers." THOSE IRISH CHEERS.

The Times says the Irish National jubilation in the House of Commons when Mr. Brodrick announced Lord Methuen's defeat is strongly resented by the Liberals, and is likely to drive into the Roseberyite camp several members who hitherto have been following Campbell-Bannerman. Even ex-treme pro-Boers think it un-British to gloat over the misfortunes of soldiers doing their duty.

The leading Nationalists affect indifference as to the government's action. They declare that if the cabined decides to suppress the United Irish League the government must carry the matter to a logical conclusion, and abolish all representative government in Ireland.

ROSEBERY AND BANNERMAN. Lord Rosebery visited Glasgow and his presence excited immense enthusiasm. Enough applications were made for seats to fill the hall in which he spoke six times over. His speech was virtually a reiteration of his previous addresses. He declared that he had no designs on the leadership of the Liberal party, and that he could not, even if he wished, supplant Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman in the House of Commons. He did not desire the leadership in the House of Lords. The am bition of the new Liberal League was not to be excluded from the party. They meant to live and work inside the party, attempting to penetrate it in the only direction they believed to be sound. Lord Rosebery also said: the mischief-makers can distort what I said at Liverpool about the clean slate, I can make it no clearer. At Chesterfield I said that if I were a minister now I should write on the slate Efficiency, Education, Temperance and Housing as the most pressing reforms. Registration reform would probably have to be followed by a general election, so it is not the most urgent." CHAMBERLAIN'S CONFIDENCE. Mr. Chamberlain, replying to the resolution passed by the council of the Liberal-Unionist Association of Liv-erpool and district, in connection with Lord Rosebery's recent speeches, expressing its unabated confidence in the leaders of the Liberal-Unionist party, "I share the satisfaction of the meeting at the patriotic tone of Lord Rosebery's speeches, although I am unable to accept all his conclusions. In view of the attempt which has been made in some quarters to detach the Liberal-Unionists from their leaders and from the Unionist alliance, heartily appreciate the expression of continued confidence which you are good enough to express in the Duke of Devonshire and myself."

THE KING'S BUSY TIME. Referring to the reports of the visit to France by King Edward, the Paris correspondent of the Times says he is able to state that his majesty desires to visit the South of France, but he is so busy at present that there is no immediate prospects of his doing so.

BRITISH TRADE WITH CUBA. Delegates from a number of the British Chambers of Commerce visited the foreign secretary, Lord Lansdowne, at the foreign office, and presented a memorial relative to British trade with Cuba, pointing out that it was feared that, when the administration of that island was handed over to the Cubans a reciprocity treaty would be negoadmitting Cuban produce into the United States at reduced duties, and granting corresponding preferential terms to American produce and manufactures by Cuba. While promising to look into the matter Lord Lansdowne gave but faint encourage-

Kitchener to Start Out With a Special Force.

Methuen Is Not Likely to Have Another Command.

Leyds Says the Boers Can Hold Out Funds Wanted From the United States-Praise for Delarey.

London, March 12. - The Daily Chronicle understands that Lord Kitchener will be relieved from administrative work in South Africa in order to enable him to take the field in person and head a large mounted force in an endeavor to capture Dewet. The Chronicle is also informed that when he is released Gen. Methuen will not assume any further military command in

A casualty list shows that four officers were killed and ten wounded, including Gen. Methuen, dangerously. He is doing well. DR. LEYDS AGAIN.

Dr. Leyds is again in Brussels, says the Times correspondent in that city. Leys confided to a local interviewer his belief in the Boers' power of resistance, and explained that the object of the Boer delegates' visit to the United States was solely to reorganize the Boer relief committees.

THE FEELING IN PARIS. The disaster to Gen. Methuen's column caused a deep impression in Paris. The newspapers express the opinion that it will have a great moral effect in encouraging the Boers to more obstinate resistance. At the same time the papers do not speak too harshly of Gen. Methuen, owing to his generous conduct in the Gen. Villebois-Mareuil affair. The Temps says: "Will England end by realizing that it is impossible to exterminate the Boers, and that the only issue is negotiations for a treaty of peace acceptable to both sides?" the demonstration of the Irish mem- remained in active service to the close bers in the House of Commons yester- of the civil war. Later he studied law day, says:

His popularity is unquestionable, and excuses are readily made in his case, which have not been extended to others who are perhaps more deserving. Gratification is acordingly expressed that he has fallen into the hands of Gen. Delarey, who is regarded as being a humane man, and who, it is believed, is certain to treat him

THE BOER LEADER. The Daily Telegraph does not withhold praise from the Boer leader. says editorially: "The Boer command-er in his latest, as well as in his previous, exploit, of a few weeks ago near Kroonstad, has shown what no other leader on the side of the enemy has ever done—a mastery of daring, yet severely scientific tactics, which would do credit to any professional soldier. If Delarey were steeped in Clausewitz and Jomini he could not have struck with more skill and design or certainty in action. Against such estimates of the Boer leader's prowess may be set the asser-tion that his men were, contrary to the laws of war, wearing the uniform of their enemy, a fact which in the popular view here outweighs any claim to bestow admiration on the conqueror.

BRITISH WERE IN THE DARK. Concerning the details of Delarey's coup, nothing at present can be added to the official dispatches. It does not escape notice that on the face of these Gen. Methuen and his staff were abwhole and in executive session, voted | solutely unaware of Delarey's presence in the neighborhood, which prompts ratification of the treaty, providing for the Standard and other papers to s.sk, notwithstanding their professed resolve to suspend judgment, what the British patrols were doing. Furthermore, it is remarked that the Boers were in nowise overwhelming strength, being apparently but 1,500 to the British in Boston in 1855, and was married This, says the Standard, is undeniably a severe shock to the British self-respect, but probably the bitterest have passed almost completely into the drop in the dose is the fact that more than 500 British mounted troops were chased by the Boers for four miles

PRO-BOER VIEWS. This, exclaims the pro-Boer Daily News, is terrible, a most humiliating statement for any Englishmen to read. The News, however, adds: It must be remembered that these men were not regular soldiers. They were jingoes, Rudyard Kipling's waifs and strays from a system of recruiting which would never bear examination. This criticism is aimed at the new were killed or wounded. The Russian Yeomanry, of which it is believed the bulk of Gen. DEATH RECORD Sudden Demise of Ex-Gov. Altgeld, of Illinois,

After Delivering a Pro-Boer Speech at Joliet, Ill.—Other Deaths.

Joliet, Ill., May 12 .- Former Governor John P. Altgeld, died in room 58, Hotel Munroe, this morning at 7:09 o'clock. He had been unconscious since midnight. Mr. Altgeld was the principal speaker at a pro-Boer mass meeting last night in the Joliet Theater. Just at the close of his speech a sudden dizziness seized him, and he was assisted from the stage. The meeting proceeded, the audience not realizing what had happened. Mr. Altgeld was taken to the hotel across the street. He retained consciousness, and urged the newspaper men to keep the affair quiet for fear of alarming his wife. Shortly before midnight he became unconscious, and remained in this condition until death. of death is given as cerebral hemorrhages, there having been an apopletic seizure of the brain.

John P. Altgeld was born in Germany, in December, 1847. His parents brought him to America when he was three months old. In 1863, when sixteen years old, he gained entrance to the The Journal des Debats, alluding to army of the union as a private, and and was admitted to the bar in 1869. During his term as governor, Mr. Altgeld had ardent champions and bitter enemies. One of his acts that caused much dispute was the pardoning of the anarchists, Fielden, Schwab and Neebe, who were in the Joliet penitentiary for participation in the Haymarket riot. His enemies called him an anarchist. His action during the great Pullman strike in Chicago, in 1894, when he failed to call well. The success of Gen. Important Decisions.

Ottawa, March 12. - An important point in criminal law was raised in the local county court in the case of Xavier Daoust, who was convicted of highway robbery a few days ago. Counsel for the prisoners argued that the accused, who gave evidence on his own behalf, should not have been cross-examined by the crown solicitor as to previous convictions, for criminal offense, as such evidence was inadmissible. Prisoner's counsel asked for leave to appeal on that ground. The crown presecutor opposed the appeal, but after hearing argument, the judge granted the application for leave to appeal, as he considered the point raised was an important question of law. As this is roofed and sidewalks torn up. Five the first time a reserved case has been granted on the point in question, and as it is a very important one, in view of the enormous weight the admission of such evidence would have with a jury, the result, no doubt, will be anxiously awaited by prisoners with

NEW HEAD AT HOSPITAL

Thomas H. Heard Appointed Superintendent.

Hospital Trust Disapproves of Ald. Campbell's Plan.

More Patients Than Ever Before-Top Flat Will Be Completed-Steam Table Ordered.

The hospital trust at yesterday's me-ting disposed of three important matters affecting the welfare of the hospital. The three vacant positions on the staff were filled, Mr. Thomas H. Heard being appointed superintendent. Dr. Campbell's plan for increased representation on the trust was disapproved of. The contract for a steam table was awarded to the Gurney Company, of Toronto, and if the first one this being the largest number yet rethe necessary funds from the city.

DR. CAMPBELL'S PLAN. Ald. Campbell's scheme for increased representation on the hospital trust was discussed. The members of the board expressed themselves to the effect that the board was now quite large enough and that any addition would tend to make it a cumbersome body.

Mr. Purdom movd and Mr. McLeod seconded a resolution to the effect that the trustees, while approving of the motives which prompted Dr. Campbell in introducing his scheme, do not agree with the method suggested. The trustees believe that it is well to en-courage subscriptions by private individuals, and hope by the establishment of a Hospital Sunday and other methods to encourage this. The trustees believe that the hospital management as at present constituted is preferable to that suggested by Ald. Campbell, as under his scheme there might be danger that the management of the hospital might pass out of the hands of the people. The trustees hope Dr. Campbell's suggestion will lead many to subhospital, and to bequeath such sums as they desire. The trustees believe that five trustees are sufficient to manage the affairs of the hospital. The motion was carried unanimously. STEAM TABLE CONTRACT. J. C. Park wrote that he had made a mistake of $20 in his tender to supply steam tables to the hospital, and he asked that that sum be added to his tender, or else that he be allowed to withdraw. Mr. Park's first tender was withdrawn. A. B. G. Tisdale, representing the Gurney Company, of Toronto, addressed the board on the matter of the company's tender to supply steam tables. He offered to put in the tables on ap-

Three tenders for the supply of steam tables were considered. The Gurney Company offered to supply one table for $75, and additional tables at $70 each. John Maker offered to supply them at $78, while McClary's price for the tables, called for by the specifications, was $85. The Gurney Company was given an order to install one table, others to be ordered if the first one proves satisfactory.

FILLING THE VACANCIES. Several new applications for the vacant positions were opened. After considering the applications for steward, Mr. Purdom moved that the position be given to Mr. Samuel Grigg, but no one seconded the motion. The mayor then moved that Frank E. Russell, 362 Dundas street, be made steward at a salary of $30 per month, his services to be dispensed with if not satisfactory. Mr. Waterman moved that Miss Jennie Sutherland, of 336 Princess avemore avenue, was blown to pieces, as nue, be appointed bookkeeper at a salwas the building at 221-8 Cumming ary of $20 per month. The motion car-

The applications for the position of superintendent were taken up last. The mayor favored Mr. Thomas H. Heard, of 6 Cartwright street, saying he was the most suitable applicant, and probably the only one qualified to fill the position.

"Why not keep the present occupant, as no more efficient man is applying?" asked Mr. Purdom.

The mayor, seconded by Trustee Mc-Leod, moved that Mr. Heard be appointed. Trustee Purdom, seconded by Trustee Waterman, moved that the matter be laid over for a week. Chairman McCormick favored the motion, and Mr. Heard received the appoint-ment at a salary of $1,200 per year. THE APPOINTEE.

Mr. Thomas H. Heard, the new sup-erintendent is 39 years of age. He is a graduate of the Ontario College of Pharmacy, and after being engaged in the retail drug business, he went on the road as a commercial traveler. He has been a resident of London for 16 years, for 14 of which he has been employed in the London Drug Company's warehouse here.

COMPLETING THE HOSPITAL. Mr. Waterman asked what the city could do in the way of completing and fitting up the top flat of the hospital this year. The increased number of Brighton.

Annual Meeting of Societies in London Conference.

Large Attendance of Delegates and Interesting Addresses—Evening Proceedings.

members, was well represented at yesence, held in the Wellington Street Methodist Church. About 300 delegates from all over Ontario were present, and showed much interest in all that transpired. The proceedings give the impression of sincerity and genuinetomorrow evening, after very important subjects are discussed. Not more discussion of each subject, which invariably proves most interesting. At the morning and afternoon sessions the following subjects were discussed: Loyalty to the Church; Its Teachings, Rev. F. E. Mallot, B.A., Guilds; Its Work, Mrs. I. B. Wallwin, Seaforth; Loyalty to the League, Its Motto, Rev. F. H. Langford, Union; Its Piedge, Miss A. M. Nicholson, Strathrey; Loyalty to Duty, to My Neighbor, Mr. W. H. Kerr, Brussels; to Christ, Dr. A. W. Thornton, Chatham; Opening Exercises, Rev. C. T. Scott, B.A., London; Election of Committees, the Home Library and the League, Rev. T. E. Sawyer, Teeswater; Social to Save. Miss A. Mutch, Gorrie; The League as a Social Factor in the Community, Mr. A. Butchart, Teeswater; The Objects and Benefits of E. Library Work, Mr. R. W. Dillon, St. Marys: Round Table Conference, Rev. A. C. Crews, general secretary. An address of welcome was delivered in the evening by Rev. R. D. Hamilton, pastor of the Wellington Street of the Epworth Leaguers of the city, a loyal greeting. He hoped that every might take the highest rank that a leaguer could. He likened the city to greater London, and advised every leaguer to view the other stately edifices of the city where the work

In five or six years, he said, with such strong men and women as were now taking hold of the work, he believed the society would be identified as the stronghold of Methodist Church organizations. Branches were now tries, and the reverend gentleman rejoiced to see on every hand the young people putting their shoulders to the The Epworth League, with its 75,000 | wheel. God and all humanity were awaiting their service, and the present was the time for live action. terday's session of the fourth Epworth secret of the association's power was League Convention of London Confer- not in machinery but in membership. Rev. J. Livingstone, president of the conference, responded to the address of welcome. He had often felt that nature would stand cultivation in every branch of the league's work, especi was pleased to greet a new league, new because the delegates since last ness. The convention will terminate gathering had received a baptism of either love, truth or higher knowledge of what they were called upon to execute. Old things were now being done than fifteen minutes is allowed for an in new ways, instead of new things in address, but some time is allowed for old ways. Every leaguer should, he said, rehearse new thoughts, endeavor to cultivate new ideas and think new thoughts, and this new baptism in whatever form, should come upon the league to give stimulus. Touching upon the word "referen-dum," Mr. Livingstone said he had no fear that the government would fail in their object. "We do not want to in their object. try to crush other people who do not think as we do," he said. To take a broad Christian view, and not expect leaders to do perhaps what they are unable to do, was his way of thinking. "We should not abuse our power, but use it," Mr. Livingstone stated. In concluding the reverend gentleman said that to assure success the leaguers' hearts should be instilled with that quality of love which brought Jesus to redeem us. Then everyone could go forth conscious of no wrong and with fearing hearts. He thanked the city leaguers in appropriate terms for the reception they had tendered the visitors.

"What We Have and What We Lack"

Church. He greeted all the delegates was the subject of an address by Rev. with open hand and heart on behalf Dr. Young, of St. Thomas. He considered it a privilege to speak in conand as loyal British subjects gave them nection with a movement that had given such successful impetus to the Methodist Church. He likened his position to a merchant taking stock in his store. Some spoke of the league as secondary goods, but he considered it a fair heritage that had fallen upon the church. The league was substantial, yet flexible enough to permit every one to pursue his or her hobby independently. He spoke of the excellent hymnal the church was provided with. He said he often thought that better established in nearly all foreign coun- men were in the churchyard than in the church. He gave brief reminiscences of the church's early establishment by the U. E. Loyalists. Dr. Young had preached out of the pulpit and had taken his text out of the Bible of the first church established in Canada, over a hundred years ago. He believed the Methodist Church would be standing undivided when the horn of Gabriel blew the final blast. Two standards of living were apparent. to him-one after the life of John the ally in the spirit of thanksgiving. He Baptist, and after One whose self-sacrifice permitted him to stoop like a good Samaritan and help the lowly. league, he considered, should take the stand Jesus took, which is the brotherhood of man. He thought that the church code of rules should be slightly > modified. Rev. A. C. Crews, of St. Thomas, spoke on the Epworth League's past work. He had sent out a pamphlet containing a number of questions, asking what was and what was not detrimental to the league's progress, to 1,200 ministers of the Methodist Church. He had received replies from 203 of the gentlemen and did not believe by them that the ministers were uninterested. The answers in all cases differed, but summed up seemed to point out that the league was run on a strong basis and was a source from which came much good. In conclusion, Mr. Crews advised all present to put their best foot forward and keep the wheels well The conference, he said, gave a bright outlook for London leaguers. The session then adjourned till 9 o'clock today.

WOMEN OF THE UNITED STATES

Regard Peruna as Their Shield Against Catarrh, Coughs, Colds, Grip and Catarrhal Diseases.

BELVA A. LOCKWOOD, LATE CANDIDATE FOR THE PRESIDENCY.

Mrs. Belva Lockwood, the eminent barrister of Washington, D. C., is the only woman who has ever been a candidate for the Presidency of the United States. She is the best known woman in America. As the pioneer of her sex in the legal profession she has gathered fame and fortune. In a letter to The Peruna Medicine Company, she says:

"I have used your Peruna, both for myself and my mother, Mrs. Hannah J. Bennett, now in her 88th year, and I find it an invaluable remedy for cold, catarrh, hay fever and kindred diseases; also a good tonic for feeble and old people, or those run down, and with nerves unstrung."

BELVA A. LOCKWOOD. Yours truly,

Anyone who wishes perfect health, must be entirely free from catarrh. Catarrh is well nigh universal; almost omnipresent. Peruna is the only absolute safeguard known. A cold is the beginning of catarrh. To prevent colds, to catarrh out of its victime. Peruna not only away colds. cure colds, is to cheat catarrh out of its victims. Peruna not only cures catarrh, but prevents it. Every household should be supplied with this great remedy for coughs, colds and so forth. nue, New York city, writes:
"For anyone who is as susceptible to coughs and colds as I am, Peruna is a blessing. I am never too careful, and am always catching cold, which semetimes develops into an annoying catarrh of the head. Peruna I have found is excellent for this, being very quick in its action, besides being a most excellent tonic. Miss Helen Sauerbier, St. Joseph,

Miss Flora Wilson, 2,472 Seventh ave-

Mich., writes: "Last winter I caught a sudden cold which developed into an unpleasant catarrh of the head and throat, depriving me of my appetite and usual good spirits. A friend who had been cured by Peruna advised me to try it, and I sent for a bottle at once, and I am glad to say that in three days the phlegm had loosened, and I felt better, my appetite returned, and within nine days I was in my usual health.' Mrs. Leslie Carter, probably the most prominent actress in America, says the following of Peruna: "Peruna is sure to prevent a cold. It will stop a cough before it becomes settled. It cures all catarrhal affections like magic. No money could tempt me to be without this remedy for even a day. It is just the remedy that all women need, especially such women that are exposed to the vicissitudes of climate, as I am. "I never neglect an opportunity to recommend this remedy to my friends. It is America's greatest remedy for America's greatest enemy, catarrh and catarrhal affections. I would not have catarrh for a million dollars, and as long as I have Peruna at hand to check the slightest symptoms of its approach, I feel perfectly safe from this N. LESLIE CARTER.

Colds are considered one of the necessary ills of life. One is liable to catch cold both summer and winter. Very often a cold is the starting point or cause of a lengthy and dangerous catarrhal disease. Colds are always dangerous and should never be neglected a day. A cold is the beginning of catarrh. It may cause catarrh of any of the internal organs—the head, throat, lungs and stomach especially. A remedy that will cure a cold, then, would cure all these direct effects of colds. Peruna is such a remedy. We have letters from all over the United States attesting to this fact. The poor and rich alike use and recommend it. A book of testimonials in the exact words of the writer sent to any address free cf charge by the Peruna Medicine Company, Columbus, Ohio. If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

London, Wednesday, March 12. Death of Mrs. (Hon.) George

W. Ross. There will be universal sympathy for the Premier of Ontario in the unexpected death of Mrs. Ross this morning, at Toronto. Mrs. Ross had endeared herself to a large circle by her quiet, domestic virtues, her strong, calm judgment, and the kindly, unostentatious way in which she filled her position in society. To Mr. Ross the loss cannot well be estimated. To him, as to the various members of the family, The Advertiser but voices universal sentiment when it extends deep and heartfelt sympathy. Mrs. Ross, like her distinguished husband, was a native of Middlesex, which brings the bereavement nearer to the many friends and acquaintances of the family in this city and this section of Ontario.

The London Carpenters and Joiners.

There is likely to be a fair amount of building in London this summer, and the carpenters and joiners are called to meet at Edge Block tonight, at 3 o'clock. It is hoped there will be a large attendance. It is understood that the questions of wages and hours will be discussed, that 25 cents per hour will be asked, and that eight hours shall constitute a day.

We believe it will be generally admitted that in comparison with other trades carpenters and joiners are underpaid. It is a trade requiring much skill to be proficient in. It is also a trade difficult to protect by united action on the part of the men because tion on the part of the men, because there are so many grades of carpenters and joiners, from the man who can take charge of the largest building, to the man who can scarcely drive a nail straight. There is no way of doing even-handed justice to every man, but the efficient man gets the advantage of regular employment through summer and winter. It is believed that 25 cents per hour weather sets in. Is it wise to shorten in the world. the hours in summer-the time when not be better to leave this discretiona day, and take more leisure in winter follows: if he desires to do so? Eight hours in winter, when the days are short, would be harder or quite as hard as ten hours in summer. There would not appear to be any cause for difficulty in arranging for any number of hours in winter, eight, seven or six. We merely suggest these considerations. We will be pleased to learn that the reasonable requests of the carpenters and joiners, who have never been aggressive in this city, have been acceded to. The employers, we believe, share the opinion of the men that they are underpaid, and consequently there is not likely to be anything but amity. This is as it should be, and we hope the building season just opening will be a busy one, satisfactory alike to employers and employed.

The Department of Public Works of the Government of Ontario.

A few years ago when the Parliament Buildings had been completed, when the public institutions necessary had apparently reached the limited lested except as a matter of selfquantity, and no new ones were proposed, the Opposition critics thought the Department of Public Works ought to be abolished. They forgot the large amount of work necessary to keep the buildings of the Province in good condition, and had no vision of the future greatness of Ontario.

The grants passed the other day for alds to railways, chiefly to be built In New Ontario, give to the Department of Public Works an importance it never possessed before.

The record of that department, particularly under the management of Hon. C. F. Fraser, is one that has received praise on all hands. The administration of that department, particularly- the erection of the Parliament Buildings within the estimates, assured the people that the strictest | Actors' Fund came to the rescue,

When making a new departure, such as that contemplated with reference to railways in the new northern country, it is well that the works to be undertaken should be in the hands of a department so well equipped for the work as the Department of Public Works. It is fortunate, too, that a commissioner like the Hon. Mr. Latchford is at its head. He is a worthy successor in every way to the Hon. C. F. Fraser, than whom the Ontario Government has never possessed a more worthy member. There is much scope for practical thought and practical work. The imagination could trace a very desirable state of affairs in that new country when the railways have done their unlike that which in every direction has followed the opening up and settlement of this great continent, ex- millions of bushels of grain. It was the cept that it can be accomplished in less time, it can carry all the necessaries and luxuries of life much sooner into the new country, and establish world, with happy homes and smiling firesides, with schools and churches, with every opportunity for improveand development. Whoever guides the work that will be done in this part of the Province, ought to be possessed of sound, practical common sense. The value of his work to many thousands cannot be estimated. We believe the Hon. Mr. Latchford will be equal to his great opportunities and realize his great responsibilities. He has the power to do much for the happiness and success of many, and we believe he will do it.

Well Managed Institutions.

The Peterboro Examiner has been compiling official statistics of the cost of maintaining the inmates in public institutions in Ontario, and in similar institutions in the adjoining States. BILLY RICE ESCAPES A PAUPER'S GRAVE.

The body was held over a week for burial. The authorities were about to bury it in a pauper's

CROPS OF THE FERTILE WEST.

The Country Is Embarrassed by Its Very Wealth.

Question of Transportation of Grain Engages Attention of Dominion House.

|Special to the Advertiser. Ottawa, March 11 .- A sequel to the great cereal story "The Octopus" was told in the House of Commons yesterwork. It is a glorious outlook, not day afternoon. It was the story of the vast Northwest, of boundless areas and fertile prairies, of millions upon tale of a new land, luxuriantly productive. It told of a growth of population, of acreage, and of crops, so stupendous that their very magnitude there a people equal to the best in the has brought about disaster. This is the tragedy of a story which otherwise would have been a series of chapters describing the prosperity of a happy people living in a land distinguished for its fertility. Many of the members from Manitoba and the Territories joined in the telling, and the material which they wove into the warp and the woof of their story was of the present abundance of this enormous area, and its productive potentialities. There is more gold in the land of the prairies, they say, than in the rocks of the Yukon; but if this gold is to be the farmer's, if it is not to lie unsecured upon the farms and in overflowing bins and granaries, and along hills of the Rockies and Lake Superior. it must be rushed to the sea, upon its way to the markets of Europe, at a considerably greater speed than it was this past year These men from the West talked to-day of a Canadian district which last year produced a crop upon unfertilized ground that has never been surpassed by any country in the world. There is a steady tendency for the wheat producing area to recede northwards.

The states over the boundary, which once were unequaled in the growth of wheat, have been superseded by more northerly districts, until now the yield per acre is larger in the Canadian belt than anywhere else in America. In Canada the seed is more prolific, and with increased population and a greater extent of broken land, the crops of future years must be of enormous proportions

But the people of the Northwest have discovered their handicap in the race towards wealth, the fly that accompanies their ointment, as Scott, of Assiniboia, put it. It is the transportation difficulty. If the Canadian Pacific were able to carry the wheat to the lakes within the time that intervenes between the harvest and the close of navigation, the wheat growers from Lake of the Woods to the Upper Saskatchewan would raise their voices in song of gladness and would praise the C. P. R. as the bountiful power at whose touch their wheat is turned to gold. Unfortunately, there are not enough cars, the wheat lies in millions placed as much blame upon the govof bushels awaiting cannot be secured for it, navigation regrettable state of affairs that has closes and it is held over, depreciating existed this past year. He claimed in price, until the next year, and all the song is taken out of the heart of the agriculturalists of the Northwest. Lamentations are heard throughout viled as the doer of this great wrong, and the farmers form societies which pass resolutions that are read to parliament, beseeching it to make the C. P. R. build more engines and more box cars so that their good grain may become good gold, and not lie here all winter till it's worth six cents less a

Six cents a bushel on all the millions of bushels that have been held over this past year is no small sum. Who would not complain if the earth yield- to the proposal that the government ed 50,000,000 bushels that should bring should supply storage for the western full market price, but must go for 6 cents less just because it cannot be carried away? That means millions of dollars that go out of the farmers' pockets into those of the elevator companies, the insurance companies, and to lenders of money; and some of the loss is accounted for in the natural decrease in the price of the stored grain. So it is not to be wondered at

A portion of her letter reads as follows: My father had often promised mother o stop drinking, and would do so for to stop drinking, and would do so for a time, but then returned to it stronger than ever. One day after a terrible spree he said to us: 'It's no use. I can't stop drinking.' Our hearts seemed to turn to stone, and we decided to try the Tasteless Samaria Prescription, which we had read about in the papers. We gave him the remedy, entirely without his knowledge, in his tea, coffee, or food regularly, according to directions, and he never knew he was taking it. One package removed all his desire for liquor, and he says it is now distasteful to him. His health and appetite are also wonderfully improved, and no one would know him for the same man. It is now fifteen months since we gave it to him, and we feel sure that the change is for good. Please send me one of your little books, as I want to give it to a friend."

the existing evil, which they trace immediately to the deficiencies of the C. P. R. transportation facilities. Today their representatives quoted copious tables of figures to show that its rolling stock is insufficient, the storage accommodation inadequate, and the Canadian marine tonnage on the great lakes not great enough to cope with the tremendous crops that the Northwest is now producing.

They want the government, before it permits the C. P. R. to increase its capital stock, as it desires, to get the promise of a service that will insure the Canadian wheat producers west of Winnipeg against the loss to which they have been subjected by the inability of the road to handle the country's grain output. They would have the government assist in erecting elevators at Lake Superior and continue its work of improving the waterway from the head of the lakes to the sea. that the grain act, passed in 1900, which was praised by the other western men for its good results, had not proved satisfactory, but had caused much of the loss. He complained because the government had not foreseen the big crop and provided against loss. W. E Edwards, of Russell, said that neither were to blame. The C. P. R. had enormously increased its carrying capacity. but was caught by the unexpectedly tremendous yield. It was so great that no company, nor five or six companies, could meet the emergency and carry the grain to the sea within the limited time allowed. And he raised objections wheat. He thought that the western farmers should build their own. The government had just as much right to build warehouses for eastern merchants. But it was agreed that some radical change must be made. Hon. J. I. Tarte saw in his French River project one way of easing the trouble, and, in the course of a speech, delivered after the evening recess, he said that this country will need this and every other outlet it can get if the enormous northwestern trade of the future is to find an outlet to the markets of the

Mr. Davis moved that the house ratify the new agreements with the Niagara Falls Pulp Company, the Nipigon Pulp, Paper and Manufacturing Company, and the Blanche River Pulp and Paper Company, the terms of which have been already published. Mr. Davis explained that the companies had been delayed by the lack of power to drive their works, but that was now settled, and under the new agreement all the companies were bound under heavy sureties to spend tons of pulp annually. Mr. Whitney said that it was improper that large tracts of territory should be given away without the representatives of the people being furnished with proper information regard-

Frank Latchford explained that surveys of the road had been laid on the table. These showed that the line from North Bay would not encounter any great engineering difficulties. A railway from Mattawa, however, would have to overcome a great many physical obstructions.

Mr. Whitney stated his belief that a railway commission should not be appointed. It would simply supply jobs for office seekers, he declared.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS. TORONTO, March 11.—Receipts at the cattle market today were 64 loads, with 1,207 head of cattle, 329 sheep and lambs, 238 hogs and 60 calves. Business was good and prices on the whole were firmer. This was due in part to the fact that only about half the stock in the market was actually on sale, the balance having been bought up in the country and consigned direct to the dealers, who will ship straight through to the east tonight. There was a good demand for exporters, for which high prices were asked, and in some cases obtained; for one choice lot of exporters $5.55 was asked, and something near that figure was paid. Good butcher cattle sold as high as light exporters, picked butchers fetching as high as $4.40 to $4.65. Export bulls are not much in demand just now. Stockers are steady. Sheep and lambs, all sold out, and trade fair. Hogs are unchanged. Wesley Dunn bought 230 lambs at $5.15; 40 sheep at $3.65, and 33 calves at $7 each. THE DEATH OF SYMPATHY AT MAJOR OGILVY

Described by Sergt.-Major Moore, Formerly of London.

We Are Having a Rattling Good Game of It," Writes Sergt. Moore to a Friend.

A letter received from Sergt.-Major L. L. Moore, of the South African Constabulary, formerly orderly room clerk at Wolseley Barracks, dated Jan. 12, from Krondal, near Rustenburg, tells of the incessant patrolling they are doing north and south from Johnnesburg to Pretoria, and east and west from Pretoria to Magato Nek and Strek Ren. It contains the particulars of Major Ogilvy's death at Plepgat, where the constabulary captured 32 Boers. The gallant major was immensely popular with his men. A Boer bullet passed through the major's horse's head and into his stomach, where it could not be located. He died just as he reached the gates of the hospital. The writer says it was the generally expressed opinion on all sides that the capture of the 32 Boers was a poor exchange for the life of their beloved commander. He says there is plenty to eat, although, perhaps, not as soft as one would get at a Sunday school picnic to Port Stanley or a dinner at the Tecumseh, and states that such reports as have been circulated in certain Canadian papers about the heartrending yarns of hardship and sufferings of the S. A. C., are manufactured out of whole cloth. He concludes by saying, "There is no doubt but what we are having a rattling good game of it."

Sergt.-Major Moore also mentions that H. Skirving, of London, formerly of the Mounted Police at Dawson, is now quartermaster-general. Surgeon-Major C. W. Belton, A. M. S., of Wolseley Barracks, is on a couple of days' leave of absence on private affairs. Captain L. A. Laurie, A.M.S.

There is not a single organ of the numan body that can perform its functions without a liberal supply of nerve force—the motive power of the body. The nervous system should never be thought of as a separate part of the body. Its branches extend from the brain and the spinal column to the tips of the fingers and the toes. Just as the blood is carried by the arteries to every nook and corner of the system, so the nerve force, by means of nerve fibres, is distributed, and nerve force is just as important to life as is good, rich blood.

When the nerve cells are wasted by over-exertion, worry or disease, more rapidly than they are replaced, the action of the heart become slower, the lungs begin to weaken, the stomach fails to do its duty, the liver and kidneys falter in their work as filters, and the excretory organs get feeble and in-You may be a sufferer from weakness and exhaustion of nerves, and may have been attributing the trouble to the stomach, kidneys or other organs. Nervous exhaustion is marked by restlessness, disturbed sleep, languid, weary feelings, headache, dyspepsia and bodily pains, inability to concentrate the thoughts, absent-mindedness, weakened memory, twisting of the muscles and eyelids sudden startings and jerking of the limbs in sleep, dizziness, irritability and gloomy forebodings.

Through the medium of the nervous system, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food carries new life and energy to every organ of the body. It strengthens the action of the heart, invigorates the stomach, makes the kidneys, liver and bowels more active, and builds up the entire

"A Gambler's Daughter," a melodrama of the stereotyped brand, only more so, if possible, held the boards and the audience of the New Grand last night. LEAGUERS ENGAGE IN HELPFUL DISCUSSION

Interesting Morning Session of the Epworth League Convention.

This morning's session of the Epworth Leaguers was one of the most enthusiastic and interesting meetings of the kind ever held in this city. The church was comfortably filled, and the discussions were lively.

The reports of the secretary, treasurer and president were adopted after considerable discussion, following which a paper on "Missionary Opportunity and Our Relation To It," taken up. The discussion occupied the greater part of the morning. In place of Rev. G. N. Hazen, B.A., of Sarnia, who was absent through illness, Rev. F. C. Stephenson, M.D., of Toronto, took charge of the subject and, although having no facts prepared, gave a very able address. He happened to with him a large number of interesting maps, charts and illustrations, with the aid of which he made the topic most enjoyable. He pointed out where the leaguers did and should do active work. He showed that the league, instead of standing still, was steadily advancing. Rev. Dr. Thornton received satisfactory answers to several questions askin which he did not quite agree with the previous speaker's statements.

Dr. Stephenson then asked for the reports as to the prayer and study work. These were considered some-what unsatisfactory. He said that in spite of the number of leaguers, that they needed more money and mem-bers and pointed out possible ways of getting over several embarrassing difficulties. Rev. T. E. Harrison also gave an in-interesting talk on missions. The morning was considerably brightened by a song service. The conference resumed at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

A Physicians Testimony For Labatt's Stout.

ALEXANDRIA, DEC., 20th. 1901. Speaking from personal experience I can state that your Stout is excellent in building up the system—I was very much run down and was advised to use Labatt's Porter—this I have done for some time and I largely attribute to its effects my steady improvement in strength and weight. I deem it but justice to you, and it certainly is a pleasure to me, to add my testimony to its sterling qualities, and I gladly recommend your Stout as an excellent tonic and food in cases where such is required. Longshoremen and Freight Handlers Called Out

STRIKES AND

As a Result of the Strike in Boston-A Painters' Lockout in Toronto Threatened.

'LONGSHOREMEN INVOLVED. Boston, March 11.-President J. J. Ryan, of the 'Longshoremen's Union, has ordered a general strike of all 'longshoremen and dock freight hand-lers in sympathy with the New York, New Haven and Hartford men. This embraces 2,500 men.

HAMILTON MOLDERS. Hamilton, March 12.-Vice-President Keough, of the International Molders Union, has been in the city for the past two or three days and has succeeded in settling a difficulty in regard to the scale of wages on certain work tween the molders of Moore. Robinson & Co., and their employers. It is not improbable the foundry molders here will request a ten or fifteen per cent advance at an early date.

TORONTO PAINTERS. Toronto, March 12 .- The master painters have decided on a lockout, to go into effect on Monday, March 17, unless their employes abandon their demand for increased wages and shorter hours.

STRIKE AT DENVER. Denver, Col., March 11. - Carriagemakers, machinists, mattress-makers, indoor wire-workers and fuel handlers in this city are out on strike for an eight-hour day and union wages. The struggle may involve 7,000 workmen in Denver.

HAMILTON STREET RAILWAY MEN.

Hamilton, March 12.-General Manager Hawkins and Traction Manager Green, of the street railway company, met a committee of five from the Street Railway Men's Association, to discuss the grievances of the latter. As a result of the meeting the men and the management are as far apart on their differences as ever, and President Mahon, of the International Association, will be requested to come to Hamilton and advise the men. The principal request from the association was that all employes of the street railway be compelled to become members of the union, the committee holding that they already had a verbal promise from the management to this effect, which was not being strictly adhered to.

The management denied that they had agreed to any such demand, and refused the request of the committee. There are about one hundred men in the association, and about nine or ten non-union men are employed by the company. It is not probable the trouble will lead to a strike.

THE BOSTON STRIKE

Involves Over 20,000 Men-Serious Embargo on Business.

Boston, March 10.-From a body of 600 freight handlers of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad who, on Saturday refused to work because they were required to take care of goods brought to the depots by nonunion teams, the strike forces in this city had grown to an army of 20,000 men by this morning, and from 3,000 to 5,000 other persons are idle because the concerns for whom they work have been compelled to shut down.

Industry directly reached by the strike today included freight handlers, team drivers, wool handlers. 'longshoremen and railway switchmen. If the threats of the strike leaders are wellfounded, this day will see the move-ment extended to the building trades union and to unions connected with the foreign steamship traffic.

At the docks of the steamship lines doing a coastwise business, great quantities of merchandise are piled up and the wharves are choked. St. Johns, Nfld., March 11.-The sealers' strike here is ended, and the sealing steamers have sailed for the ice floes. The committee of strikers ordered the strike off. BOXING.

THE JEFFRIES-FITZ FIGHT. Denver, Col., March 12.—The Coli-seum A. C. will offer a $20,000 purse, or 55 per cent of the gross receipts for the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons fight. The officials talk of holding the contest, if Park, in this city, and will construct an amphitheater to seat 20,000 people.

THE DEAR LITTLE SHAMROCK OF IRELAND.

On St. Patrick's day, in the absence of the real article, any green leaf has been made to do duty as the emblem of Ireland. The most used has been the leaves of several varieties of oxalis. The real shamrock, classified botannically, is one of the varieties of trifolium repens. It has not heretofore been cultivated in this country. Mr. George Cairneross, florist, London Junction, has succeeded in propagating a limited number of plants from the real shamrock, brought from County Antrim, Ireland, by Rev. Geo. Gilmore. The difference between these plants and those usually sold for shamrock is apparent and will be appreciated by all who have seen the suggestive and reticent little plant on its native emerald sod. Everyone who wishes to celebrate St. Patrick's day in real Irish fashion should have a sprig of the real shamrock.

Chatham Banner: General Manager William Woollatt, with Chief Engineer Owen McKay, of the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway, were at Rondeau Saturday laying out the site for new coal hoists and docks in connection with cold storage and cheaper handling of coal at that point. A new dock will be built, extending about 400 feet west from the north end of the present west dock and parallel with the Shenango slip-dock. THE HURONIAN

Unconfirmed Report That She Foundered on Sable Island.

Has Been Missing for Over a Month-A Government Steamer Sent to Search for Her.

Ottawa, March 11.-Hon. James Sutherland, minister of marine and fisheries, received a telegram last night from Halifax, stating that it was reported that the Allan steamship Huronian had foundered between Sable Island and Halifax.

Glasgow, March 12 .- The A'an line steamer Huronian sailed from this port Feb. 11, for St. John, N. B., and a month has now elapsed without any tidings of her. FIFTY PERSONS ON BOARD.

Her erew numbered 45. Five others are also on board. Toronto, March 12 .- The steamship Huronian is a magnificent vessel, being one of the best fitted freight boats in the Allan Company's fleet. She was built at the Clyde, Glasgow, last year, and cost $400,000. A portion of her cargo was consigned to Toronto merchants, and there was also a shipment of horses on board for A. E. Taggart, of Tottenham, Ont. The horses were in charge of Mr. J. Taggart, who is on board. The Huronian was on her way to St. Johns to take on a cargo of hay for South Africa. She is of 7,000 tonnage, and is commanded by Captain Brodie, of Glasgow.

THE COLONIAL CONFERENCE.

The Government Makes Public the Correspondence.

Terms Under Which Premiers of the Colonies Will Discuss Empire's Affairs.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, March 11.-A week or so ago the government was asked to disclose its intentions in regard to the conference, which will be held in England during the coronation period, and today, in accordance with his promise given then, the premier brought down a copy of the correspondence concerning the King's coronation, and the conference to be held immediately afterwards.

On Dec. 27, Right Hon. Joseph Chamto inform you that the coronation of his Majesty King Edward VII. has been fixed to take place on June 26, 1902. It is his majesty's desire that the great self-governing colonies of his empire should be represented on that such a coal hoist they can put into with the coronation will extend beyond service any schooner or barge from a few days; but it would probably be hand, and his majesty's government hope, therefore, that he will consider himself their guest for a fortnight from the date of his arrival. It would be an additional satisfaction to them if cost from $75,000 to $100,000, and will Sir Wilfrid Laurier should be accombe commenced at once and completed panied by some lady of his family. "It will be readily understood that on an occasion like this it is necessary that all arrangements should be made some months in advance; and without, therefore, desiring to press for an immediate answer, his majesty's government would be glad to learn, at Sir Wilfrid Laurier's early convenience, whe-ther it will be in his power to accept "The question of representative detachments of troops from the various colonies is also under the consideration of his majesty's government, and whenever a decision has been arrived at, on this subject, I shall address you a further dispatch. This was followed on Jan. 15 by a posed by his majesty's government to take advantage of the presence of the

with them the question of political re-lations between the mother country and the colonies, imperial defense, commercial relations of the empire, and other matters of general interest. "Should your ministers desire to submit definite proposals or resolutions on any of the above questions or should they wish to suggest any further subject for discussion, I should be glad to be informed of its project by cable in order that the other governments can be communicated with. "With a view to the proposed conference, I hope your premier will be able to remain for a short time, say three weeks after the coronation, as a guest of his majesty's government." The answer of the Canadian Government was cabled by Lord Minto on Feb. 23, as follows: "Referring to your dispatch of 27th December, my government accepts the invitation extended to the prime minister to attend coronation. He expects to sail about June 10, accompanied by Lady Laurier, but the exact date cannot yet be fixed.

"Referring to the several questions mentioned in your dispatch of 15th January, the only one which in the opinion of my ministers gives promise of useful discussion is that of commercial relations between the different sections of the empire. The political relations now existing between the mother country and the great self-governing colonies, and particularly Canada, are regarded by my ministers as extremely satisfactory, with the ex-ception of a few minor details, and they do not anticipate that in the varying conditions of the colonies there can be any scheme of defense applicable to all "In the opinion of my ministers there is but a limited range of subjects upon which the contemplated conference can be productive of useful action. Nevertheless, my ministers, realizing the desirability of every opportunity for the discussion, by the public men of the in some of the city departments.  δ CANADIAN TEACHERS

FOR SOUTH AFRICA Few Applications for the Six Positions-

Those Who Only Want a One-Year

Trip Can't Go. Toronto, March 12. - Hon. Richard Harcourt, minister of education, is in receipt of important notifications regarding school teachers to be selected in Ontario for South African the number (as already stated), having been reduced to six. The birch wielders are not to be selected from any particular college or school, or boast of any high specialist certificates, but they must be good general teachers, have a fair knowledge of music and possess the proper ideas regarding discipline. Hon. Mr. Harcourt states that comparatively few applications have been received so far from school marms desirous of training the young idea how to shoot in far away South Africa. He intimates that those who are only looking for a year's trip will not be seriously considered, if others and willing to stay out for a longer period can be obtained.

CHAPTER I.

In the spring of 1840 two men might have been seen riding along the bank of a swollen river, which flowed through the central portion of Pennsylvania. There had been heavy rains in that vicinity for more than a week; the masses of snow which had everywhere covered the surrounding mountains had thus been rapidly melted, and the stream, which ordinarily, at this point, was rather slow and sluggish, and rarely of alarming proportions, was now wide, and deep, and fierce, and the inhabitants of the thriving factory town, which we will call ing factory town, which we will call Franckport, had begun to have some lears that a destructive inundation might Alarming reports of trouble in other districts above them were flying about the village, and these of course, only served to augment the prevailing un-easiness, which had already been caused by the ever-increasing volume of water that was being driven through the narrow river bed in their town.

"If this confounded rain don't stop pretty soon there'll be a great deal of damage done, Mr. Wellington," gravely remarked the elder of the two men re-ferred to, and who was evidently a farm-er, judging from his coarse frock, his sunburned face and bronzed and callous-"I am afraid we shall, Mr. Coffin; it won't take but a few feet more of water to set us all afloat," replied his companion, who was a fine-looking young man of perhaps 28 years.

He was cashier of the bank in Franckport, a young man of considerable property, energetic, enterprising, and bidding fair to rise to a fine position in the world, besides being a great favorite in the community where he lived.

"Yes, your propety surely lies high and dry," replied Mr. Wellington, with a quiet smile, as he thought of the acres and acres of rather questionable soil in his possession. "If trouble comes it will be us who live in the village who will suffer, especially those whose homes are ar the factories."

I hope those dams are strong," Mr. Coffin continued. "Wasn't there some talk, a while ago, about the north shore dam being rather insecure?" 'Yes. I believe there was," replied Mr. Wellington, with an anxious look at the rapid stream on his right; "but the company promised to have it thoroughly repaired, and doubtless it has been attend-

Still the cloud did not lift from his brow, the anxious look did not wholly fade from his eyes, as he was driven through the town, and finally alighted before the door of the bank, and bade his companion adieu.

All day long the rain continued to pour in torrents, the wind arose, and, before night shut down upon that mountain village a perfect tempest was raging. river had continued to rise, was still rising rapidly, until it was five times its ordinary width, and was creeping into some of the streets and settling in hollows of the village. Men-laborers chiefly-went to their homes with anxious fe is: mothers kissed their little ones good-night with a strange fear tugging at their heart-strings, and with a prayer that God would "hold the floods in his hand." The members of the cor-poration were not the least uneasy of the hundreds that went to rest that night in Franckport, and though the matter had been kept secret in order to prevent a panic, they had set men to watch the great north shore dam, which had not been repaired as promised. Darkness and gloom settled over the doomed town, while all through the long hours of the night the tempest continued to rage; higher and higher grew that turbid, treacherous stream, stealing its silent way up towards the dwellings of those sleeping hundreds. those sleeping hundreds.

All at once, just before the dawn, the furious clatter of a horse's hoofs sounded ominously through those quiet streets; a shrill voice arose above the te of doem:

"To the hills! to the hills, for your lives! The north shore dam is giving way! Fly! Fly!"

That agonized voice, those ominous words, pierced the ear of the soundest sleeper, and sent a chill of terror to noise of the elements, like a clarion

People seized only what they could lay their hands upon, and poured forth from their dwellings like bees from their hives, and set their faces towards the hills; while at first, away in the distance but every moment coming nearer, could heard the sullen roar and rush of the merciless waters as they swept onward, with constantly increasing speed, upon the track of their flying prey.

Too late, too late, in many instances this attempt to reach a place of There was no power so herce, so pitiless, as a mighty flood, and hundreds were buried beneath the seething waters ere they had fled a dozen rods. Dwellings were lifted from their foundations and went floating along with the resistless tide, or fell in heaps of shapeless ruins. When morning dawned, there was only devastation and ruin and a wide waste of waters where, only twelve hours before, the busy town of Franckport had stood. Here and tere a building more substantial than others, or one standing upon higher ground, loomed up alone, like some monument set up to mark the spot where death and devastation had done their fatal work.

The next day, and thirty miles below Franckport, the same stream, swollen by the recent rains and floods, and by the breaking away of the north shore dam, flowed smoothly through a fertile plain or valley, where, here and there, were scattered levels wills and attack.

but bright and beautiful, and not a cloud marred the blue vault; there was not a sign anywhere of the sad havoc that had been, so recently wrought a score and a half of miles above that lovely region.

On the west of this fertile valley there was a gentle rise of ground, and down the fine carriage road that led through the plain to the city beyond, there might have been seen descending, on this lovely afternoon, a handsome landau, drawn by two sleek bay horses in gold-mounted harness, and driven by a spruce coachman in dark green livery.

On the back seat of this elegant equipage there are there are the woman of perhaps

He had been out to look over the fart, belonging to his companion, with a view to taking a mortgage upon it, and the owner was now driving him back to his place of business.

"Well, my place'll be safe enough, I reckon, whatever happens," the farmer temarked, in a satisfied tone.

"Yes your propety surely lies high and the reins and regarding them with a safe seemed to be absorbed in the grief that had overshadowed her young life.

Leisurly the proud horses pursued their way down the hill, the driver holding the reins and regarding them with a way down the fifth, the driver holding the reins and regarding them with a look of complacency which plainly indicated the pleasure he experienced in managing this handsome turn-out.

As they came upon level ground, a sudden curve in the road brought them allowed the stream before mantioned. sudden curve in the road brought them alongside the stream before mentioned, when a sudden exclamation from the coachman and a quick drawing of the reins caused the lady to start from her sorrowful reverie and glance up at him.

"What is it Watkins?" she inquired, a faint tinge of color coming into her perfectly rounded cheeks. The man was bending forward, his eyes fixed upon some object before him; and he did not reply for a moment.

"What is the trouble, Watkins?" repeated his mistress, for she could not see upon what his glance was fixed.
"Is there anything the matter with the barses?"

"No, mum, the ponies are all right; but—whatever may that thing be, afloating out yonder in the river?" and he pointed with his whip toward some object that was rising and falling upon the nlit waves and swiftly approaching

The lady sat erect and looked. "Why," she exclaimed, in surprise, "it looks like a cradle, and such a queer, old-fashioned one, too. Where could it have come from?' It was true enough. There was what appeared to be a goodly sized wooden cradle, of the color of mahogany, and of the pattern which our grandmothers used to rock their babies in a hundred years ago, with its straight, angular sides, and its rounded top or hood, with-in which they could discern a white pillow, while wound round and round the cradle, as if to bind something securely within it, was a stout rope.

"How very strange, Watkins," the lady continued. "How do you suppose it could have got there?" "I can't say, mum; but it strikes me it may have come down from above-from Franckport, where they've been having the flood," the man replied, with his eyes still fixed upon the strange obtact.

"Very likely; and it looks as if there were pillows and blankets in it," returned his mistress, who was becoming quite excited over the occurrence. "It was probably swert out of some house up there in Franckport."

"Would you mind, mum if I was to get a nearer view of it?" Watkins asked, in a peculiar tone of voice. "No; but give me the reins; the horses may start," and, reaching forth a small, daintily-gloved hand, she took the lines, while the man nimbly alighted, and, vaulting over the stone wall by the roadside, hastened to the river's brink.

A puff of wind had sent the cradle nearer the bank, and, seeing this, Watkins ran down toward a point of land kins ran down toward a point of land that jutted into the water, and waited there for it to float ashore, which it was soon likely to do.

He had not long to wait, for ere five minutes had elapsed it was within his reach, and he had drawn it high and dry the grass. "By the powers!" he exclaimed, as he peered curiously within it; "there's a baby in it!"

His face was white and scared, and his big hand trembled as he softly drew aside the coverild, underneath the rope, and saw a beautiful babe sleeping peacefully among its downy pillows.

THE MEMBER FOR MONCK

Hon. Richard Harcourt Is Named for Eighth Time.

The Minister of Education Once More Heartily Indorsed

By His Old-Time Constituents-His Plans for Improving the School System-Able Addresses by Hon. Thos. Bain and Geo. P. Graham. M. P. P.

Wellandsport, March 10 .- At a large and most enthusiastic convention held here on Monday the Liberals of Monck for the eighth consecutive time nominated Hon. Richard Harcourt as their candidate for the Ontario Legislature. The delegates, who represented every portion of the constituency, were a unit in their choice, and the business portion of the proceedings occupied but the performances of the government a few minutes. The minister of education, in his acceptance, recalled the days of his first campaign in Monek in 1878, and the cordial support that had been given him since that time.

The convention itself was a tribute to Mr. Harcourt and an acknowledgement of the services he had rendered ment of the services he had rendered during his long and active career in the legislature. When nominations were called for, the name of Hon. Richard Harcourt was proposed. No other names were submitted, and the nomination of Mr. Harcourt was, amid rousing cheers, unanimously

MR. HARCOURT ACCEPTS. In a brief speech Mr. Harcourt exstood by him so faithfully in the past. He well remembered the occasion, Dec. 6, 1878, when he was first chosen to represent the county, and from that time he had been under obligation to hundreds of his friends. He knew that was chiefly on account of their unwavering confidence in the principles of the grand old Liberal party, whose standard he had the honor to bear, He thanked the convention earnestly for renewal of their confidence, and said he was sure of victory while he had such true men at his back.

HON. THOS. BAIN. The chairman called upon Hon. Thomas Bain, ex-M.P., formerly speaker of the House of Commons, to address the meeting. Mr. Bain after urging his hearers to leave no stone unturned to secure a victory on polling defense; Marshall, Dale, forwards; Gidday, turned to provincial affairs and asked if anyone could tell what the policy of the Conservative party was. What he said did they pro stitute for the definite platform of the present administration? They had a right to ask that the opposition do something more than make promises. The government had been accused of squandering the public funds, but he invited comparison with the City of Toronto, with its Conservative administration, and a debt of more than $17,-000,000; with the Province of Quebec. with its debt of $23,000,000, almost all accumulated under the Conservative regime there. Ontario had no debt, but had a balance on hand of over $2,000. 000. A government that had administered affairs as satisfactorily as the present one, and had piled up such a surplus, was entitled to every credit.

GEORGE P. GRAHAM, M.P.P. Mr. George P. Graham, M.P.P., held the entire attention of the audience 1:451/2. during an hour and a half, and delivered a rousing speech upon the public issues of the day, eliciting heary applause at frequent intervals. He said the fact that a man had been trusted by his constituents for nearly twentyfive years told more than anything the speaker could say about Mr. Harcourt. He was regarded as one of the most polished speakers in the house, and as a legislator he had been a very busy man. The setting apart of Niagara Falls Park, the admission of women as students of the university, the introduction of the succession duties act, and the revenue act-these were some of the measures fathered by him, and showed that the representative of Monck had had a leading hand in the advanced legislation of the day. The speaker enumerated the chief sources of receipts for the province, and pointed out that the policy of the opposition, as revealed in criticism during debates in the house, would, if caried into effect, take away between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 from the annual revenue of Ontario. The same expenditure would still be necessary, as grants to public schools, farmers' institutes, agricultural schools and the university would be required. The scheme of the opposition, then, would lead to direct taxation; the amount of the deficit could be made up only by direct contribution from the pockets of the people. In concluding, Mr. Graham took up the prohibition question and showed the justice of the government's course. He gave instances to illustrate how general was the use of the referendum in the affairs of churches, societies, and in other countries. The definite action of the administration was, he said, to be contrasted with the carping criticism of the opposition.

MR. HARCOURT ON EDUCATION. At the conclusions of Mr. Graham's address there were loud calls for a speech from Mr. Harcourt. In response, the minister of education said that the reason why the government had held office so long was because it had always the change of life are entirely avoided had men of courage, ability and honesty behind it. The succession duties and the taxes on corporations were the contributions of rich men to the coffers of the province. These measures had been entirely successful. It had been his earnest effort to manage carefully the financial affairs of Ontario during a period of more than ten years, and he was glad to say that the government had to its credit in six banks in Toronto almost $2,000,000 in cash.

THE SCHOOL SYSTEM. The school system of the province ranked high, but there was still room for improvement. The process of evolution went on and the educational requirements of thirty years ago were not those of today. "I want," said Mr. Harcourt, "every shool in this land to give to its boys and girls such an education as will help them after they and pleasant to take, have left the schools. I want to see 6 to 1, 2; Frank Jones, 102 (Otis), 18 to them fitted for the actual business of 5, 3. Time, 1:42½. life, and to do this the schools must be brought to the highest plane of efficiency. Instead of the high schools as we have them today, I would prefer that at least one school in each county should be non-classical. By this I mean that Latin and Greek, which are known as the dead languages, should not be taught there. (Hear, hear.)

COMMERCIAL INSTRUCTION. "In their place I would substitute a course of commercial instruction, which would be of great benefit to the pupils. I am telling you what I want, and it will come as sure as the sun of tomorrow. The first commercial high, school York less than a year ago. In England great universities conducted according to old lines, but changes have taken place even there, and the value of commercial education is being more clearly recognized. If by some act of mine I can improve the education of every child in this province, I will consider that I am developing one of the greatest resources of Ontario. This effort will be directed chiefly to the common schools of the land, in order to make them the best possible for the benefit of every pupil. This effort will not, however, imply the neglect of any part of the present system or of the university at the top. Our energies will still be directed towards keeping them in a high state of efficiency.' (Applause.)

In conclusion, Mr. Harcourt said he knew they would distinguish between and the promises of the opposition. He thanked them all again from the bottom of his heart for the honor they had conferred upon him, and said that as long as they seconded his efforts victory would surely crown their flag. (Loud applause.)

[Special to The Advertiser.] Toronto, March 12. — Mrs. Ross, wife of Premier George W. Ross, died suddenly at 4:30 this morning.

News of the unexpected death of Mrs. George W. Ross was received by her friends and the citizens generally in this city with unfeigned sorrow. daughter of the late William Boston and Jane Stormont, his second wife. She was born 54 years ago at Burnbrae Head, the old family homestead, on lot 15, con. 4, Lobo township, near Mel-rose village. She received her education in the Lobo public schools and at Moffatt's private college, Komoka. In 1875 she married Hon. G. W. Ross, at that time M. P. for West Middle-sex, and public school inspector for East Lambton. After residing in Strathroy for several years, they moved to Toronto, after Mr. Ross' acceptance of the office of minister of education. Here they have resided ever since. Mrs. Ross was an invaluable helper to her husband in his arduous labors. She frequently entertained his colleagues, and members of the house, made a charming hostess, and was a great favorite with all. She accompanied her husband in his campaigns, and in every way showed her deep interest in his advancement in public life. She was Mr. Ross' com-panion on his visit to England last year, when he met with such gratifying recognition from the leading public men of the empire. She also accompanied him on a previous visit to the old land. Mrs. Ross looked forward with interest to attending the coronation in June with her husband, they having been invited to be present by the colonial secretary. The death of Mrs. Ross was the more of a shocking surprise, as she had seemed in such good health up to the Governor Robert Boston, who was deeply attached to his sister, and who feels her death keenly, last saw her on Friday last, when she declared that she was never in better health. On Thursday she entertained a large company of members and friends at dinner. With her husband, she was present a month ago at the opening of the Dominjon Parliament.

Singular Accident to a New York

Beamsville Boy Fatally Hurt While Watching a Hockey Match-Other Casualties.

New York, March 12 .- A Madison avenue electric car, on which were almost 100 persons, has met with a peculiar accident. About 50 of the passengers were injured, none of them seriously.

A new building is in course of erection at 44th street and Madison avenue, at which a portable hoisting engine is used, the engine being on the street. It stood close to the track. The motorman stopped the car as he approached and the engineer told him to wait until he could move the machine. The car conductor thought there was room to pass and ordered the motorman to proceed. This he did, and the car shoved off a valve which extended from the

The suddenly released steam broke the windows in the side of the car next to the engine and covered the passengers, scalding them on hands and faces. Others were bruised by being crushed and thrown to the ground during the ensuing panic.

STRUCK BY A PUCK. Hamilton, March 12.-Two weeks ago Friday night William Gordon Groves the young son of Mr. William Groves. of Beamsville, was a spectator at the Beamsville-St. Catharines hockey game at the former place. He was struck on the head with the puck, and concussion of the brain followed. He was taken home, and all that medical aid could do for him was done. Dr. James White, of this city, and two local doctors attended him. He remained un-conscious most of the time, and died Monday afternoon. Gordon was 8 years and 10 months old, and was a bright, attractive boy, and well liked in the village. He was a nephew of Mr. Samuel Groves, of this city.

Tupper, a young draughtsman, have completely disappeared, and their relatives believe they were drowned in a squall on Lake Washington Sunday morning. Their boat was found bottom up floating near the beach. Close by was a boa whose symptoms were much the same which Miss White had worn.

BEAT HIS SQUAW TO DEATH. Seattle, March 12 .- While crazed by liquor, Johnny Tackum, an Indian, ran amuck at Tobla Inlet, on the Pacific coast, beat his squaw to death with an oar and shot J. Card and F. Hussey, who attempted to prevent the mur-der. Card was seriously wounded.

AN EXPRESSION OF SYMPATHY.

Trustee Board of First Methodist Church

Pass Resolution to Mrs. T. A. Browne. The following resolution has been passed by the trustee board of the First Methodist Church:

To Mrs. Thomas A. Browne: Dear Mrs. Browne,-We desire to express to you and your family our pro-found sympathy in the sudden and painful bereavement you have suffered. Mr. Browne was greatly beloved by us all. We valued his fellowship in the Lord, and will feel the loss of his wise counsel and hearty co-operation in the work of the church.

We prayerfully commend you to the 'Father of mercies and God of all comfort" that he may graciously sustain and comfort you in your great sorrow. On behalf of the board, GEORGE J. BISHOP, Chairman.
