PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE.

Another Bill to Enable Women to Vote.

The Usual Attack on the Agricultural College—Objections Raised to the Proposed Insurance Bill.

[Special to the Advertiser.] TORONTO, March 10.—Among the bills introduced in the Legislative Assembly today was one by Mr. Waters to enable married women to vote for municipal officers.

Mr. Mowat's bill to amend the law respecting mortgages and the sale of personal property was read a second time. It is intended to prevent people from obtaining money on chattels which they may have sold, and provides for the registration of the instrument of mortgage or sale of goods and chattels. The provisions of the act were extended to mortgages of chattels not yet in the possession of the mortgagee or bargainee, such as growing crops.

While the House was in supply on the estimates for the Department of Agriculture, Mr. Waters called attention to the necessity for obtaining an accurate statement of the exports eastward of the Province of Ontario. At present the only record is contained in the trade and navigation returns, compiled by the Dominion Government, and the Province of Quebec, from which shipments to England are made, get the credit for much which the Department of Agriculture should really be means of getting at the actual export of cattle, cheese, horses, etc., from Ontario, and believed that it was a different position as compared with the other Provinces.

The Opposition made the usual attack on the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, but their statements were fully answered by Mr. Dryden, Mr. Avey, Mr. Ross and others.

A large deputation of representatives of benevolent and friendly societies waited upon Mr. Gibson this afternoon with reference to the bill respecting insurance companies. They strongly objected to the section requiring the terms and conditions of an insurance contract to be set out on the face or back of the instrument forming the contract, stating that such conditions were embodied in the constitutions of the various societies and were generally too long to be so printed. Mr. Gibson, however, stuck to the principle that the essence of the condition at least must be so printed. The deputation was reluctant to leave until the bill was referred to a committee. Strong objection was raised to the section which provides that no forfeiture of benefit shall be incurred by reason of assessment, except annual, semi-annual or quarterly dues which are payable at fixed dates, until after written notice had been delivered to the member in fault. One member of the deputation remarked that this section would break up all friendly societies within five years. Another claimed that if the clause went into force speculators would use up all claims and involve the societies in no end of litigation.

A deputation representing the Sudbury Customs Smeltering Company waited upon the Government this afternoon to ask and in helping to establish a customs smelter at Sudbury. It is proposed to establish a company with $50,000 for that purpose, and the deputation asked the Government to assist the project by granting $3,000 for a laboratory and an annual sum of $3,300 for a chemist, assistant and chemicals. A resolution of the Toronto Board of Trade and letters from Professor Galbraith, Dr. Ellis and Professor Coleman, of the School of Practical Science, endorsing the proposition, were read. Mr. J. W. Skinner, secretary of the company, stated that the town of Sudbury had agreed to take $5,000 of the capital stock. Mr. Mowat promised to consider the matter.

THE BEARING SEA TROUBLE.

President Harrison Awaiting Lord Salisbury's Reply to Wharton's Note.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Inquiry at the various executive departments elicits information that the President will take no further action in regard to the Bering Sea matter until he shall have received a reply from Lord Salisbury to Mr. Wharton's note of the 8th inst., insisting on a renewal of the modus vivendi of last year as an essential condition to the settlement of the controversy by arbitration.

Great Storms in the Old Land.

LONDON, March 10.—There was a general renewal of the storm in the northern part of England and in Scotland during last night, and reports have been received of loss of life. In North Wales a great number of sheep have perished.

A great quantity of wreckage has stranded at Streveken, near Lizard Point, and it is believed a large steamer has foundered in the vicinity during the gale.

The Indian Revolt in Bolivia.

LONDON, March 10.—Mail advices from Padilla, Bolivia, bring news of the latest Indian uprising in the Acre and Cordillera districts. The Toba tribes are at the head of the outbreak, and with them are many other Indians, who are friendly toward their Spanish neighbors. Half a dozen towns have been destroyed, several frontier missions have been wiped out and murder and pillage still go on.

The Schneiders' Sentences.

VIENNA, March 10.—Emperor Francis Joseph has commuted the sentence of Rosalie Schneider to penal servitude for life. Her husband, Frank Schneider, will in all probability be executed. The Schneiders were found guilty of robbing and murdering a number of chamber girls whom they enticed to their home on the pretense of giving them employment.

Row in the Italian Chamber of Deputies.

ROME, March 10.—An exciting scene occurred in the Chamber of Deputies to-day.
Premier Rudini reproached ex-Premier Crispi for disloyalty, and Signor Crispi replied in a similar vein. An exciting exchange of charges and counter charges then occurred between the two statesmen.
Finally the President of the Chamber requested the President to respect the rules of the House. The incident is the subject of much comment.

The Queen's Southern Trip.

LONDON, March 10.—The arrangements for the Queen's journey to Costebelle are not entirely satisfactory to her Majesty, who was excessively annoyed at discovering that the two hotels which had been engaged for her were both entirely overlooked by the Hotel d'Albion, and that the establishment which she had chosen for her visit, as March and April are about the most pleasant months in the Hyeres district. The windows of the Hotel d'Albion and its terrace fully command the Costebelle and its grounds, and there is no possible method of preventing them from being constantly overlooked. It is understood the Queen would have preferred to go to Cap Martin, near Mentone, if the arrangements could have been made for the tenancy of the excellent new hotel there.
The horses and carriages which the Queen is to use during her stay at Costebelle are to be dispatched this week from London to Hyeres and the Riviera, and the Queen chair and favorite donkey which draws it.
The Queen sends out nearly all the furniture for her own bedroom and several articles for her sitting-room, a large set of photographs, two boxes of books, plate, glass, china, and an immense parcel of stapery. A messenger is to leave London every evening, except Sunday, so that the Queen's stay on the Riviera will not delay or in any way interfere with the transaction of public business.

Legal Cruelty.

LONDON, March 10.—A story has reached here that has caused many expressions of deep indignation in the English papers. To the westward of county Mayo, Ireland, there lies in the Atlantic a small patch of land known as Clare Island. The inhabitants are mostly fishermen and are miserably poor. A number of them ran into debt and their creditors took legal proceedings against them and sent bailiffs to seize the few cattle owned by the debtors. The bailiffs resisted the bailiffs, and as a result 50 of them were summoned to answer at Loughbeg, the nearest town, in the county Mayo, for resisting the officers of the law. The 50 islanders obeyed the summons and presented themselves before the magistrate.
They appeared to be in starving condition and their thin garments showed them little protection from the inclement weather.
The magistrate listened to the testimony of the bailiffs and then calmly ordered that the further hearing of the case be held the next day at the court house in Westport, thirteen miles distant. To reach Westport in time for the hearing it was necessary for the islanders to start that night. They had no money to pay for conveyances, and were compelled to walk the entire distance over a road that is none too good in good weather. That night a blinding snowstorm set in. The road runs alongside the ocean, and the poor people stumbling along

THE CHILDREN'S FRIEND.

Plenary Tribute to Grand Master Robertson from South-Western Juveniles.

SEASIDE, March 10.—A pleasant incident occurred at the railway station this evening on the arrival of Mr.
John Ross Robertson, the grand master of the Masonic fraternity. A large delegation of school children, to show their appreciation for his well-known benevolence, as particularly manifested on behalf of poor children, for whose benefit he has contributed largely in the building of hospitals and other charitable institutions, on the arrival of the distinguished visitor, surrounded him, and Miss Anne Smith and Master James Robb stepped forward and requested his acceptance of a handsome bouquet of flowers as an evidence of their regard and esteem for his great benevolence.

Mr. Robertson addressed them in a few well chosen words, expressing his delight at the pleasant welcome he had received.

tridge for murder, and one against Lottridge and Douglas for the prisoner Georgey, who turned Queen's evidence at the Police Court trial, but afterwards tried to escape, will be arraigned with the other prisoners, as the Crown Prosecutor claims to have more than sufficient evidence to convict the prisoners.

The counsel for Lottridge will try to prove an alibi. The case will come before the jury next Monday.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

The Canadian Marine Association

Dominion Millers and Ontario Fishermen Asking Special Legislation.

[Special to the Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, March 10.—Hon. Mr. Tupper was interviewed this morning by a deputation representing the Canadian Inland Fishermen's Association, who asked changes in the law in reference to the protection and cultivation of fish. Among other things they asked that a fish hatchery should be established upon the inland lakes, and that the regulations for the close season should be entirely adopted. The latter request is opposed strongly by the officials of the department, and in view of Mr. Tupper's previous attitude is not at all likely to be granted.

Messrs. R. T. Walkem, Q.C., Muckleton, Campbell and Richardson, Kingston, had an interview with the Deputy Minister of Public Works this morning in reference to the lighting of Government offices, buildings and wharves in Kingston.
Nearly all the Kingston visitors are also here with the object of forming a committee of Senators and members to assist in the movement for erecting a national memorial to Sir John Macdonald in the Limestone City. They have already secured promises of assistance from several of the Ministers and many of the members.

The Dominion Millers' Association also had a deputation here to-day. It was composed of Messrs. A. H. Baird, president, Paris, M. F. McLaughlin, Toronto; J. D. Sanbury and C. B. Hunt, London; John Brown and Charles Watts, Toronto;
J. T. Morris and A. Kingman, Montreal; W. Scott, Ottawa. They saw Mr. Miall, commissioner of inland revenue, Mr. Consign being asked and asked for several important changes in the General Inspection Act in reference to the grinding of flour. The association is also seeking incorporation under a Dominion charter. The deputation felt very strongly about the Newfoundland question, and came to Ottawa determined to let the Government know their views. But an interview reached them that a public expression of opinion just now would be of little use, and the deputation was strongly advised to wait.

The House listened to a debate on the Quebec boundary this afternoon, but the session was scarcely livelier than the others of the week, and it was made a speech rose on a motion by Sir Hector Langevin for copies of reports, surveys, etc., which the Government may have respecting the northwestern, northern and eastern boundaries of the Province of Quebec. A bill followed by Mr. Dewdney, Sir John Thompson and Mr. Miall.

The French members of the House are coming back. Quite a number were in their places to-day. Mr. Deion, Mr. Carlier, Mr. Gauthier, Mr. Lacombe, Mr. Laro-che, Mr. Poirer, Mr. St. Laurent, Mr. Tardif, Mr. Thibault, Mr. Trudel, Mr. Vanier, Mr. Wadsworth, Mr. Wilson, Mr. Wood, Mr. Yrre, Mr. Zola, and others.

Young Mr. Tupper is filling the order paper with legislation which is intended to put his department and its laws into better shape. He has introduced a bill to amend the Steamboat Insurance Act, the object of which is to make the act applicable to vessels propelled by electricity or asphalia. There was a clause also making the law in regard to carrying of passengers collect a fee for the inspection of barges carrying passengers.

A large deputation from the Canadian Marine Association met Hon. Mr. Tupper and three of his Ministers to-day and let them know the opinion of the sailors of the lakes upon the proposal to allow a rebate in canal tolls upon grain transhipped at Ogdensburg destined to Montreal.

The deputation felt very strongly against the rebate being allowed on grain transhipped at Ogdensburg on the ground that it would hand over the whole carrying trade of the lakes, and especially of the Canadian Northwest, to the American bottoms. They did not get as much satisfaction as they expected. "I don't know whether it was the recent visit to Washington or what," said one of the deputation, "but the Government seems to have changed its mind entirely upon the subject since last year. If they give the Americans this rebate then the sooner we all go over to Washington the better." The delegates also urged the advisability and urgency of who granted he would go to England next

The London Infamy.

A Scorching Arraignment of Judge Elliot by a Conservative Journal.

He Would Have Lost His Head if He Had Lived Two Hundred Years Ago.

[From the Toronto Telegram, Independent Conservative, March 10.]

In times when men took their politics seriously, when the issues to be decided affected their right to life, liberty and the pursuit of three meals a day, British judges have tried to do tyrant kings with services, such as his honor Judge Elliot has just rendered to Hon. John Carling.

Never, even under the last King James, has a judge so successfully usurped the functions of a free constituency. Prototypes of Judge Elliot two centuries ago feebly attempted to do what his honor did boldly, and had to keep their necks from the block by flight when the glorious revolution restored power to Parliament.

Judge Elliot's head is not in danger.
He is protected in the infamy of his act by the temper of these times and the weakness of a dispirited party. That act is none the less, however good may be its intent in effect, a crime against free institutions.

First, the revising officer approved of the form in which the Liberals served their notices of appeal.

Second, in defiance of his own expressed opinion he turned a favorable ear to Conservative attacks upon the validity of practically his own notices.

Third, Judge Elliot, without instructing the revising officer, gave it as his opinion that the notices were bad.

Fourth, the revising officer embraced the judge's opinion as a golden opportunity to keep several hundred bogus votes on the list.

Fifth, the Court of Queen's Bench, afterward sustained by the Court of Appeal, unanimously ruled that the notice was good.

Sixth, in obedience, not to the ruling but to a mandamus, the revising officer heard the appeals on their merits, and struck out of the list under the false pretense of appearing to the Supreme Court, and polled 132 appealed votes.

Eighth, these ineligible votes overcame Hymans' majority and elected Hon. John Carling in the face of the returns.

Ninth, Judge Elliot rules that the names which a partisan returning officer was forced to strike off are properly on the list, not because they are good but because the notices denouncing their removal are bad.

A venerable and honored county judge decides an election upon a miserable technicality that a police court lawyer would be ashamed to use

THE "DEFERENCE" WHICH JUDGE ELLIOT PAYS TO HIS SUPERIORS.

In November, 1891, Judge Elliot expressed his opinion that he had no right to interfere with the order of Revising Officer Fraser—that the Liberal notice should be amended, and that his court should be adjourned—as provided by the Franchise Act. Nevertheless Judge Elliot went out of his way to have a fling at the Liberal notices in a hazy judgment, of which Chief Justice Armour, in the Court of Queen's Bench, said:

"It seemed to him (the Chief Justice) that Judge Elliot had no right to hear the appeal. He thought Judge Elliot was of the same mind, but wanted to give an extraordinary opinion that the revising officer might act upon."

"In deference" to this "opinion" of Judge Elliot, Revising Officer Fraser promptly refused to go on with the trials under the notices which he had ordered to be amended.

Mark the contrast! The Court of Queen's Bench expressly held that the Liberal notices were valid, and that the court had a right to determine the question. The three eminent judges in that court were unanimous on these points.

Does Judge Elliot, "in deference," follow their decision?

By no means. The Conservative manipulators thought they would find some comfort in the Court of Appeal, and Judge Elliot's reply to them, publicly made, was: "I will wait for the judgment of the Court of Appeal."

The Court of Appeal gave judgment, and every one of the three judges who dealt with the question again held the Liberal notices to be valid.

There was not a voice to the contrary. Does Judge Elliot, "in deference," to the judgment for which he waited two months decide in accordance with it?

By no means. Judge Elliot has only waited to hear the judgment of their lordships in the Court of Appeal that he may declare his contempt for it.

When the Liberals are to be "dished," the hazy, unwarranted opinion of a county judge, who says he has no jurisdiction, is deferred to by the Conservative revising officer. But no deference is due from this same county judge to the judgment of such men as Chief Justice Hagarty, Chief Justice Armour, Judges Burton, MacLennan, Falconbridge or Street, not to mention County Judges Price and Wilkinson, of Frontenac, who have given similar decisions.

Dealers in Northwest grain have been bitten by the fall in prices. According to the Winnipeg Commercial, "There is any quantity of wheat, barley and oats held by Manitoba shippers, which could not be sold in car lots on track at the price paid the growers for the stuff, much less pay for the cost of buying and placing on track."

A HUGE SUCCESS! Think of it! $60,000,000 building canals in Canada, other millions on millions building wharves and harbors. As a business investment it has been a gross failure.

Where are the shipyards?

Where are the new vessels?

Surely people do not spend such sums for the sake of decreasing the shipping upon our upper lakes and rivers. We build canals and the Americans use them with their smaller vessels. They build new and larger vessels and must have larger canals and a better way to the sea. Joined in a business partnership with them—by free trade of the continent—they would, as business men, adopt at once the business view of it, and assist in enlarging our canals, and by the St. Lawrence reach the ocean. That is the natural route. That is the business man's route.

But it would not suit the mossbacks to have prosperity. What they want is stagnation and boodle. Those who do not like that they and their sons and sons-in-laws should all hold office, had better "get up and get out."

As that precious statesman young Tupper put it, "the more people leave the more per capita trade there is left for the rest."

A copy of the original edition of "Pickwick" given by Dickens to Macerally has been sold from the late James McHenry's library for 26 guineas.

HIS SOLITARY DEFENDER.

Our esteemed contemporary deserves everlasting credit for its tremendously eloquent defense of Judge Elliot. For if a final judge, who was also one of the active local managers of the campaign against Mr. Hyman, is not to be defended, it would be rather discouraging as to the future.

Our contemporary will need, however, to temporarily enlarge its columns if it proposes to reply in heroics to every newspaper which deals trenchantly with the unjust actions of the partisan judge.

How many columns of rhetoric would be needed, for example, to adequately overwhelm the sentiments elsewhere printed from the Independent Conservative Toronto Telegram?

THE JUDGES DEFIED BY A SUBORDINATE.

In his determination to give Mr. Carling the suit which the people awarded to Mr. Hyman, Judge Elliot counted the votes of men who are declared by six Superior Court judges to have no legal right to vote.

Judge Elliot went out of his way to take up every decision by the courts in England under an entirely different act, which he thought would bolster up his outrageous judgment.

It was of no consequence to him that such men as Chief Justice Armour, Mr. Justice Falconbridge and Mr. Justice Street, all Conservatives, and the latter himself formerly the legal adviser of Mr. Carling, had pointed out that the English acts differed from the Canadian act, and that the English decisions were inapplicable.

It was of no consequence to Judge Elliot that Chief Justice Hagarty, himself an eminent Conservative jurist, had given judgment to the same effect.

It was of no consequence to him that Mr. Justice MacLennan, in the Court of Appeal, said:

"It would be an intolerable scandal if in an ordinary action in the High Court such an objection as we have here under consideration could be allowed to defeat the rights of any of the parties, and I do not see why it should not be equally so in a proceeding concerning the franchise."

It was of no consequence to Judge Elliot that eminent English judges had expressed the same sentiments.

It was of no consequence to Judge Elliot that the Court of Appeal, to obtain the opinion of which he delayed his judgment for two months, had pronounced against him.

An end had to be gained, and Judge Elliot was prepared to override the judgments of the courts of his own country in the very case he was dealing with.

For the first time in the history of this or any other civilized country has an inferior judge been found boldly and professedly setting at defiance the laws of the land as interpreted by the highest courts in it.

The end is not yet.

MR. CARLING'S POSITION.

For 30 or 40 years Mr. Carling monopolized as far as he could the representation of London—for several years actually holding two Parliamentary seats at one and the same time; only releasing his hold on one of the two seats when the passage of a bill against dual representation compelled him to do so.

At the general election a year ago Mr. Hyman was fairly elected to the House of Commons; when Mr. Carling was at once provided with a life seat in the Senate, with $1,000 a year and nothing to do.

The ruling passion, however, was strong, and he must once more, in the recent by-election, endeavor to prevent Mr. Hyman from enjoying the seat he had fairly won at the general election. The battle was fought, and Mr. Hyman once more duly elected by a sufficient majority.

And Mr. Carling is now in the position—the ruling passion strong as ever—of determining to still monopolize the representation of London in the House of Commons, although a majority of the legal votes of the electors has been cast for Mr. Hyman!

NOT ARTISTIC ROBBERY. BUT ORDINARY SANDBAGGING.

If the conspirators had only had any method they could have accomplished their work without disclosing to all time their dishonesty.

If they had let the revising officer go on and hear the objections in the first instance the Liberals would have been helped. It was the revising officer's refusal to hear that enabled the Liberals to go to the Court of Queen's Bench and have the opinions of that court and the Court of Appeal put on record. If the conspirators had been as bright as they were dishonest, they would have had the revising officer act on the Liberal objections.

Judge Elliot could have done his part as he has done it, but he would not have had to over-rule anybody because no court could have had anything to say about it. It was the stupidity of the bosses in advising Revising Officer Fraser not to proceed with the Liberal appeals that changed what might have been a case of high class and artistic robbery into what is at best, a most clumsy use of the sandbag.

THE BRITISH DRINK BILL.

Dr. Dawson Burns has just made his annual survey of the consumption of alcoholic drink in Great Britain. He shows that the expenditure in this direction in 1891 reached a total of £142,250,000, which is an increase of £1,750,000 over 1890. Of this sum about £78,000,000 was spent for beer alone. There is apparently room for great improvement in the habits of the people. There cannot be a doubt that a great deal of the poverty in the old land is caused by intemperance.

TOPICS OF TO-DAY.

The suggestion has come of insurance against blindness.

The Governor of Petrovavodsk, Russia, has issued a proclamation declaring that judges caught indulging in strong drink on the bench will be prosecuted and all their decisions annulled.

Interesting information upon the unwillingness of the working classes to subscribe in early life for an old-age pension is afforded by a great English firm of cotton spinners. They offered to subscribe £1,000 to a pension fund on condition that the work people subscribe upon an actuarial scale, but this proposal was rejected by a vote of more than two to one.

In preparation for the next siege of Paris the French War Department has taken steps toward the construction of an immense establishment in the city for the preservation of meat by freezing. Similar establishments on smaller scales will be attached to the forts encircling the capital. The cold air will be supplied to all from a central station operated according to a new compressed air system.

It is interesting to read an outside opinion of the result in Quebec. The New York Sun pertinently remarks: "The outcome of the Quebec election signifies that boot-lining will seldom be tolerated when it is committed by Liberals. It also signifies that the principle of Ministerial accountability to a Legislature must never be violated by Liberals, but can be broken by Conservatives at their discretion. The facts justify a further inference, that the provision of the British North America Act that there shall be no session of the Quebec Provincial Legislature in every year has become a dead letter, seeing that the defiance of it by Lieutenant-Governor Angers does not seem to have exercised the slightest influence on the Quebec electors."

A YOUNG ARMENIAN.

A Chat With Mr. Mesrob Baghdasarian, of Harpool.

His Native Country and Its People—Growth Under Turkish Tyranny—Mesrob Studying no as to Attend to the Body and Soul of His People.

Mesrob Baghdasarian, the young Armenian, at Harpool, is a promising literary, is a remarkably intelligent person. He has received a good education during his residence in America and now speaks the English very fluently and correctly.

"It is my earnest desire," he told a reporter the other day, "to take a medical course so that I can go back to my own people as a doctor and as a missionary—so that I may attend to their souls and their bodies too. Our native physicians are very incompetent and thousands of my fellow-countrymen die for want of proper treatment."

"My home, and my relatives are a long way off. I was born in the city of Harpool, Armenia. It is a place of about 30,000 inhabitants, and is noted chiefly for its magnificent old temple, said to have been built 1,800 years ago. Armenia is one of the provinces of the Turkish Empire, and is situated south of the Black Sea in Asia Minor. It is 700 or 800 miles west of Constantinople. When I started out for that city I had to ride the whole way on horseback."

"Ah, it is a beautiful country—Turkey in Asia. Everything grows with that luxuriance common to a tropical climate. It is a veritable Garden of Eden in some parts, while north of the Holy Land it contains many places of historical and biblical interest. Armenia is at the extreme north of Turkey in Asia and being high above the level of the sea, the climate is less mild than in the surrounding country. We have here four months in the year, so that your Canadian winter seems quite natural to me."

"The character of the Armenians? Oh, they are considered the 'Yankees' of the empire—that is, the shrewdest and sharpest of the race. They are very intelligent and are very successful in business. They are high in social and commercial standing because of their superior qualities. The Turks are no match for them. In their own country the Armenians are generally poor, principally owing to the heavy taxes imposed by the Turkish authorities. These unjust and excessive exactions tend greatly to pauperize. My countrymen hate the Turks because of their tyranny, and would gladly throw off the yoke if they could."

"The religion of Armenia is nominally Christian; but the ancient church has lost much of its vitality. Missionary efforts, however, is infusing new life into it, and accomplishing grand results. No; we do not practice polygamy. We are saved that cursed Mohammedan usage by the teachings of Christianity. Our women are not debased and are not compelled to keep their faces veiled in public. The Turkish women are generally beautiful, but the handsomest race in the Turkish Empire is undoubtedly the Circassian."

"I like Canada very much, and I think I shall stay in it some time before I go home. The people in London have been very kind to me. My object in delivering addresses throughout the country is to raise sufficient funds to enable me to study medicine."

Mesrob is about 26 years of age, of medium stature, and has the dark complexion of his race. He has regular features, bright, expressive eyes, and a fine set of teeth, and is altogether a good-looking young man. His lectures on "Constantinople, its mosques and its people," on Thursday evening, in Victoria Hall, under Y. M. C. A. auspices.

Don't flatter me to pay a bill and fondly cherish the belief that that settles it.

The Little Minister.

By J. M. Barry,
AUTHOR OF "WINDOW IN TARTAN," "WOMAN'S SINGLES," "MILADY NICOTINE," ETC.

CHAPTER I.

"None of these things would I do," said Water Lunny, "and I, I dare say, for David Lunny was glowing over my shoulder. Ay, you may sow to me, Elsie, but you can't sow to me, Elsie, for I am a minister. I have done me. I have a time before I start for the kirk. I take my Bible to a quiet place and look Ezra up. In the very power I say canny to myself, 'Ezra, Nehemiah, Esther, Job, the which should be a help, but the moment the minister gets out that awful book, aw goes Ezra like the Egyptian.'"

"And you after her," said Elsie, "like the weavers that wouldnae teach. You make a windmill of your Bible."

"Oh, I winnae admit I'm best. Never mind, there's queerer things in the world for Ezra. He is crissles as a puffed up man than a minister. How does flour-bread say fall on the buttered side?"

"I will mind," Elsie said, "for I was terrified the minister would admonish you for the pulpit."

"He couldn't have done that, for was he no bawled to find Ezra himself?"

"Him no find Ezra?" cried Elsie. "I have told you a dozen times he found it as easy as you could yoke a horse."

"The thing can be explained in no other way," said her husband doggedly; "if he was well and in sound mind, 'twould be 'Maybe the dominie can clear it up,' suggested the post, 'him being a scholar.' Then tell me what happened," I asked.

"Man, have we no teller you?" Elsie said. "I thought we had."

"It was a terrible scene," said Elsie, giving her husband a shove. "As I said, Mr. Dismart gave out Ezra eighth. Weel, I turned it up in a jiffy, and you looked cautiously to see how Elsie McEwen was getting on. Just at that moment I heard a groan from the pulpit. It didn't stop I looked at a groan. Ay, you may be sure I looked quick at the minister, and then I saw a sight that would have made the greatest gape. His face was as white as a baker's, and he had a sort of fallen against the back of the pulpit, staring demented at his open Bible."

"And I saw him," said Elsie, "but up his hand between him and the Bible, as if he thought it was to jump at him."

"Twice," said Elsie, "he tried to speak, and twice he let the words fall."

"That," said Water Lunny, "the whole congregation admits, but I didn't see it myself, for 'a' this time you may picture me hunting savage-like for Ezra. I thought the minister was waiting till I found it."

"Henry Munn," said Elsie, "stood upon one leg, wondering whether he should run to the session-house for a glass of water."

"But by that time," said Elsie, "the fit had left Mr. Dismart, or rather it had taken a new turn. He grew red, and it's gospel that he stamped his foot."

"He had the face of one using bad words," said the post. "He didn't swear, of course, but that was the face he had on."

"I missed it," said Water Lunny, "for I was in full cry after Ezra, with the sweat running down my face."

"But the most astounding thing has yet to be told," went on Elsie. "The minister shook himself like one waking from a nasty dream, and he cried in a voice of thunder, just as if he was shaking his fist at somebody—"

"He cries," Elsie interposed cleverly, "he cries, 'You will find the text in Genesis, chapter three, verse six.'"

"Yes," said Elsie, "first he gave out one next, and then he gave out another, being the most amazing thing to my mind that ever happened in the town of Thrumma. What will our children's children think of it? I wouldnae have missed it for a pound note."

"Nor me," said Water Lunny, "though I only got the tail of it. Dominie, no sooner had he said Genesis third and sixth, than I laid my finger on Ezra. Was it no provoking? Onbody can turn up Genesis, but it needs an able-bodied man to find Ezra."

"He preached on the Fall," Elsie said, "for an hour and twenty-five minutes, but powerful though he was I would rather he had told us what made him gie the go-by to Ezra."

"All I can say," said Water Lunny, "is that I never heard him make a knowledge of women? He rattled them, till I was ashamed of being married."

"It's easy kent whaur he got his knowledge of women," Elsie explained, "it's a' in the original Hebrew. You can hawk the mortal thing out of the original Hebrew, which all ministers have at their finger ends. What else makes them ken to jump a verse now and then when giving out a psalm?"

"It wasnae women like me he denounced," Elsie insisted, "but young ladies that said men astray wi' their abominable sheebling ways."

"To-day," said her husband, "if they try their hands on Mr. Dismart they'll meet their match."

"They will," chuckled the post. "The Brehm's a grand thing, though I, I'm ailed, mighty teuch."

"His sublimest burst," Water Lunny came back to tell me, "was about the duty of the soul being everything and the duty of the face no being worth a snuff. What a scorn he has for lunny faces and som' souls! I dinnae deny but what a bonny face fell takes me, but Mr. Dismart wouldnae gie a blade of grass for it. Aye, and I used to think that in their foolishness about women there was daunt little differ between the unlearned and the highly educated."

SELECT KNIGHTS OF CANADA.

Meeting of the Grand Legion—Election of Officers.

Toronto, March 10.—The tenth annual session of the Select Knights of Canada opened yesterday in Shaftesbury Hall, Grand Commander T. L. Lewis, of Toronto, presiding. The election of grand officers resulted as follows:

Grand Commander—T. L. Lewis, Toronto.

Grand Vice-Commander—W. R. Fenton, Beeton.

Grand Lieutenant-Commander—W. J. Parkhill, Midland.

Grand Recorder—B. J. Leutsdorf, St. Catharines.

Grand Treasurer—J. McL. Stevenson, Barrie.

Grand Aide—S. B. Fell, Morrisburg.

Grand Inside Sentinel—Jas. Bain, Montreal.

Grand Outside Sentinel—James Masie, Kingston.

Grand Medical Examiner—Dr. J. S. King, Toronto.

Grand Trustee (for three years)—W. J. Boulter, Pictou.

Endowment Advisory Board—W. J. Roe, M.D., Georgetown; A. Wicks, Guelph; M. Fennell, Allandale; A. Hudson, Ottawa; W. J. Bell, Beeton; and S. F. Glass, London.

Finance Committee—George Weitz, Toronto, and N. M. Black, St. Catharines. The chairman is a matter of appointment by the grand commander.

It was decided to issue a new medical blank at an early date.

Past Grand Commander Dr. J. S. King, and Cl. T. Campbell, of London, of the ritual committee, exemplified the new ritual and new secret work of the order. A vote of thanks was tendered to this committee for its satisfactory work, and the rank of past grand commander conferred upon Dr. Cl. T. Campbell, who had taken upon himself the chief burden of the preparation of the new books.

The Grand Legion is to meet again in St. Catharines on the second Wednesday in March, 1903.

A NEW KIND OF LEATHER.

A Jerseyman Wants to Put Something Like Tanned Tripe on the Market.

James W. Decker, of Newark, N. J., has discovered a new kind of fancy leather. It is obtained by tanning the stomachs of animals, the same material from which tripe is prepared. Tripe is not tripe until it is prepared for food. What it should be called when considered as material for leather is still an open question. It makes handsome leather for pocketbooks, bags and fancy articles, and can be dyed in any color. Only the inner membrane is used. The heavy integument is split off, leaving a moderately thin and coarse-fibered leather as soft as chamois.

There is a great variety of grain and pattern in the same piece of the leather, and much of it is too plain to admit of using it in large articles with the best effect, but excellent results can be obtained by matching opposite spots of the skin, if skin it can be called. The part known as the "honeycomb" makes a particularly rich appearance when dyed and polished, it is much more effective than alligator or lizard skin, and much softer and more easily worked into irregular forms. Another part has the appearance of being covered with jet beads when dyed black and polished.

Any part of the material will keep people guessing what it is made from, and that is a part of the pleasure of owning any novelty. The inventor or discoverer of this new leather says that he can get from twelve to fifteen feet from an animal.

Can't be overlooked—

the simple truth about Pearl-ine. It washes clothes, paint, dishes—everything that can be washed. It cleans your house from cellar to attic. It saves you half the work, and most of the wear, and it injures nothing with which you use it. The facts about Pearl-ine make its imitators mourn; she who has used it longest, knows best their truth.

Beware of imitations. 248 JAMES PYLE, N.Y.

—The remains of the late Fred J. O'Neill were consigned to their last resting place yesterday. The funeral service at St.
Peter's Cathedral was attended by a large number of friends, who were very highly respectful to the memory of the once famous

—There was a large attendance at the regular monthly meeting of the Young mast as a token of respect for the deceased.

—The recent suit here against parties who had ordered cattle created great interest both in city and country. A Tilsonburg dispatch says concerning one of the defendants in that case: "The dehorning on Saturday at E. York's farm was attended by a large number of whom are now quite decided that dehorning is a great moral improvement. Mr. York intends to give other exhibitions of the same nature."

—At Grace Church, Bradford, on Wednesday night, Bishop Baldwin preached the second of a series of Lenten sermons to a crowded audience. The subject was "Substitution," and of the sermon the Expositor said: "The sermon was a masterpiece of mastery, and held the vast audience spell-bound during the delivery, and was keenly relished not only by the members of the Anglican body present, but also by a large number of members of other denominations."

—"Excellent programme; refreshments; silver collection." All three points of this advertisement were carried out at the social entertainment given last night by Knox Church C. E. Society, South London.
Messrs Carson, McArthur, Annie Stanton and Jennie McNeil, and Messrs. Rossiter, J. Murray and D. McPherson furnished the first; everybody had a share in the second; and the third proved very satisfactory. The pastor, Rev. J. Ballintyne, declined the chair and helped to make the occasion pleasant.

—The county of Brant Sunday school convention, held in Burford recently, extended over three days, the interest being sustained to the close. A special feature was 20 normal Bible lessons which were given by Rev. Joseph Philip of this city.
Large numbers drove over each day from Brantford and Paris. The rest of the convention was well represented, and all the sessions were well attended, and the opinion expressed that it was the most instructive and interesting convention held for years.

—At the annual meeting of the Grand Council of the Canadian Order of Chosen Friends in Toronto, J. A. Matthews and R. N. T. Colquhoun, both of London, were elected to fill positions on the Executive Committee. Some important amendments were made to the constitution, one being the creation of a reserve fund of 1 per cent of the total liabilities, which at the present time amounts to over $50,000. Monthly payments on account of the insurance department were slightly increased for every class. The council meets next year in Berlin.

zens, died this morning, aged 67 years.
He was born in Watkinson, Canada, April 18, 1824, came to Greenwich in 1850, and started a flouring mill. He operated this for two years, and then went into the lumbering business, which yielded him a fortune. He was one of the first aldermen of the city, and was twice mayor.
He was one of the organizers of the Congregational Church and a prominent member of it until his death. He had large interests in lumber."

—A cure for Constipation and Headache Dr. Sims Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion, it does wonders.
Druggists sell it at 50 cents a package.

—Another debate was held by the "Non-Coms" of the 7th Fusiliers in their meeting last night. The question for debate was: "Resolved that married life is preferable to single life." The affirmative was championed by Col. Sergt. Allen and Col. Sergt. Goodbarne, the negative by Col. Sergt. McCrimmon and Sergt. Hayman. The arguments advanced by both sides were forcible and witty, and interested and amused the large number present. The ballot taken at the conclusion showed the affirmative to be the victors by a majority of two.

—A meeting was held at the Richmond Street North Methodist Church Wednesday evening for the purpose of electing the officers and teachers for the Sabbath school for the ensuing year. Rev. Geo. Boyd in the chair. The officers elected were:
Superintendent, J. H. Adams; secretary, Bert Stockwell; treasurer, C. C. Dickerson; librarian, C. H. Frogett; assistants, Mr. Harlan, Mr. Mitchell, teachers, Mrs.
Harvey, Mrs. Oke, Mrs. Frogett, Misses Harvey, Orme and Yealland, Messrs. W.
H. Liddicott and J. R. Mitchell. The secretary's report showed the school to be in a flourishing condition with 142 names on the roll, the attendance averaging 108, an increase since Nov. 1 of 32.

Settled Out of Court.
The case of Donahue vs. McCallum has been withdrawn, a settlement having been arrived at between the parties. It will be remembered that J. Donahue, of South-wold, sued Dr. McCallum, of this city, for damages for slander. The plaintiff had been injured, amongst other things, by his hip being broken. It did not unite well, and the defendant, who was called in consultation, was charged with having said a union of the bones was not obtained quickly because plaintiff had suffered from a disease which delayed the union. Action was entered for damages and the case tried at the fall session. The jury came into court, the foreman reported that they could not agree and they were discharged. The case was to have been tried at the approaching assizes at St. Thomas, but, as stated above, has been withdrawn.

Miss Townsend at the Grand.
—Lady Audley's Secret received an excellent presentation at the hands of Miss Camille Townsend and her company last night at the Grand. The weather considered, the attendance was good. Following was the cast of characters: Roland Audley..... Lewis M. Martin
Sir Michael Audley..... Harry A. Wilcox
George Talbot..... Miss L. C. Martin Alfred Audley..... Miss Melissa Holmes Charles Talbot..... Miss Lucy Cutler
Lady Audley..... Miss Camille Townsend

The drama was supplemented by the second act of "Lash," and Miss Townsend had an opportunity of showing her deep emotional powers. To-night "East Lynne" will be reproduced. "Lady Audley's Secret" will again be the attraction for Saturday's matinee, and the engagement will conclude Saturday evening with the laughable comedy, "David Garrick."

THE NEW STATION
Will Go Up When the Sewer is Built.

Committees from the C. P. R. and the City to Look Over the Ground—Meeting of the Board of Works—The Drinking Fountain.

The C. P. R. has had a long-standing offer to the City Council to begin the construction of the new station as soon as the latter undertakes to build a sewer from Waterloo to Richmond street at a cost of $4,000, or from Wellington to Richmond at a cost of $2,000, in order to drain the company's property.

The matter came before the Board of Works last night. Ald. O'Meara said he was acquainted with the situation. The proposed sewer would necessarily be in private property, and unless care was exercised in its construction it would be the nature of the land added to the difficulty. It was decided to communicate with Superintendent Tait and have a day appointed when the committee could meet C. P. R. deputation and look over the ground.

Capt. R. Lyndhurst Walmore, of the Barbours, complained of the danger of the C. P. R. crossing at Adelaide street, and asked that a watchman be placed there.
The round-house on the south side obstructed the view of the track and an accident might easily occur. The city engineer and Aldermen Graydon and Bartlett interviewed the company on the matter.

The six new drinking fountains to be erected came up for consideration. The engineer will prepare specifications and the location will be decided upon.
Ald. Bartlett—I think we had better wait until the license commissioners take action and then we can place the fountains where the license holders would be inconvenienced.
(Laughter.)

The Bell Electric Light Company asked permission to remove poles in the busy portions of Richmond and Dundas street and to erect new poles for the new incandescent lighting. Granted.

The committee will meet a Western Fair Board delegation Tuesday night in order to define the duties of the Queen's Park car-taker and arrange for his house.
The engineer and Ald. Bartlett will report on R. J. C. Dawson's petition for a sewer on the south side of Dundas street, east of Eglinton. The engineer will also report on the petition of Frank Barnard et al for a block pavement on Adelaide street, between Dundas and King streets.

Smith Bros. got the contract for covering the pipes in the City Hall with non-combustible material. Their price is $390.

P. E. Bucke's lengthy letter laid out an elaborate plan for the beautification of the city. He proposed a tree farm and the transplanting of trees on the streets in a systematic manner. The committee filed the document, and thought they would get there just the same by enforcing the boulevard bylaw.

Tenders will be called for the lease of the waterworks property in East London. A number of petitions for sidewalks were laid over, pending the engineer's report. Contractor John Walters will be paid $3 87 for some unforeseen work on cedar block pavement. Ald. Connor (chairman), O'Meara, Garbutt, Jones, Bartlett, and Shaw, Secretary Bell, City Engineer Graydon, and Commissioner Owens were present.

"ACCIDENTALLY DROWNED." Such is the Verdict of the Coroner's Jury

In the Matter of the Death of Angus Fraser—Evidence Adduced at the Inquest—His Memory and Not His Mind Defective—Probably Walked Off Bridge Street Into the River.

Coroner Flock held an inquest relative to the death of the late Angus Fraser, at the Police Station last evening. At 7:15 the list of the jury was called, and Robt. Lowry was the only one absent. A fine of $50 was entered against him. He came in a minute later and the fine was remitted.

Mr. Fraser, who died on Monday last, was the first witness. He said he saw his brother on Feb. 26, about 4 p.m., at his home, 390 Ridout street. He was then starting towards Dundas street on his way to the hospital, where he had been under treatment for about two weeks. Frequently he had called at his sister's house during that time and had come and gone back alone. The cause of his being treated at the hospital was that he could not sleep.
His physical and mental condition were both good. He was of a very quiet disposition, but during the last few months of his life his memory had been deficient. Since the beginning of this year the want of sleep had been troubling him, and it had been gradually getting worse. When going any place alone he always had to inquire the way. Last winter he had a severe attack of the grip.
His memory at last got so bad that he could not carry on a protracted conversation. At 6:30 p.m. on Friday last he received word that his brother had not returned to the hospital.
The only reason he could assign for his absence was that he was going to see his wife at her home on Wellington street.
He thought that he was going there. She had not the slightest reason for thinking that he might have committed suicide. Deceased never drank liquor.

Mrs. Annie McIntosh, another sister of deceased, lived across Westminster bridge.
He had called at her house about 10 a.m. on Friday, Feb. 26. He remained about three hours. She corroborated the evidence of the former witness regarding his memory having been poor, but she thought it was a little better when she saw him last. He had sometimes missed his way going to and from his home, but her brother's disposition was usually bright and cheerful.

Thomas McIntosh, a 14-year-old son of the previous witness, saw his uncle about 4:05 p.m. on Feb. 26 on the corner of Dundas and Waterloo streets. He saw him start down Waterloo street towards the hospital. He was smoking his pipe and saying very little. When witness left the hospital, he could guide himself through a crowd of people.

George Holmes, hack driver, living on Bridge street, stated that that street ran out from Wellington road to the river and that there was nothing to prevent any person from driving or walking into the river. His children had found deceased's hat on the ice on the river on Sunday morning, Feb. 26. The ice was broken, and he jumped up at the foot of Bridge street.
A pair of new shoes were also found, one by the witness and one by his son. The hat was found a little south of Bridge street, towards the Port Stanley bridge, and the boots right at the foot of the street.
Where the hat was found the water was deep, and there was an eddy. Deceased could not have possibly fallen over the embankment back of the hospital, considering where his body was found.

Dr. Wm. Waugh performed the post mortem examination on the body of deceased. He found no external marks of violence. The body was well nourished.
Death was caused by suffocation from drowning
