

EMPLOYERS REFUSE REQUEST CIGARMAKERS STRIKE MAY 16 MEN ISSUE THEIR ULTIMATUM

A Committee This Morning Visited the Different Factories and Made a Demand for an Increase of Ten Per Cent--Employers Declare They Cannot Stand the Pressure and a Big Fight Will Result.

The local cigarmakers will strike on May 16. They will quit work on Friday, which is pay day, and the strike will be officially declared on Monday.

A committee composed of Mr. J. McKenzie, Mr. C. E. Booney, and another member of the union, visited several shops today, and laid the claims of the organization before the manufacturers.

They are asking for an increase of 10 per cent in wages, or they will go out on strike on May 16.

INCREASE REFUSED.

In practically every case the increase was refused them, and a number of other shops will be seen today.

The union men declare that they will insist on the increased scale or walk out. The manufacturers say they cannot pay the high wage, and refuse to accept the ultimatum.

THE FIRMS AFFECTED.

Among the cigar manufacturers affected in the city are:

- W. Atkins & Co. Canada Cigar Company. James Donnelly. Dyer Cigar Company. J. Gaete Company. Havana Cigar Company. George Kelly Company. McLeod, Nolan & Co. J. McNee & Sons. S. R. Manness & Sons. Osborne Cigar Company. Joseph Smith. Storton & Dyer. G. E. Patrick. Victoria Cigar Company. William Ward.

Some of these shops are non-union, and some are open shops, but all will be more or less affected by the walk-out, it is stated.

THE UNION STRENGTH.

The union has on its roll about 200 or 300 members. There are fully 1,000 men and women employed in the business in the city, and the money paid out each week sums up to a considerable total.

London is the second largest cigar centre in Canada, Montreal being the largest.

There has been no trouble in the cigar trades in this city for some years. Montreal is free from trouble also, although there was a strike some years ago in which the manufacturers came out best.

PREPARED TO FIGHT.

"We told the committee that we would not agree to the raise," said one manufacturer. "We cannot stand it, and we are prepared to fight rather than submit. The strike will hit some manufacturers more than others. Some of the big shops are union altogether, while others are open shops. There are some non-union shops also. The trade may be affected somewhat, but we will submit to that, rather than be held up."

The men say that conditions are such that they must have more money. They claim that the manufacturers have been busy, and have all made big money.

They also claim that they are well organized, and are prepared to stand a long battle with the manufacturers.

MINISTERIAL ALLIANCE WILL WORK WITH ANGLICAN CHURCH

At a Meeting in the Auditorium This Morning an Amicable Arrangement Was Reached--Service Will Be Held at Same Time as Similar Service in Old London.

At this morning's session of the city Ministerial Alliance everything was satisfactorily arranged for the civic memorial service in memory of King Edward.

Canon Dann was present and it was agreed to call off the proposed memorial service in the Armories under the auspices of the Ministerial Alliance and unite with the Anglican churches to hold a civic memorial service under the joint auspices of the city Ministerial Alliance and the Anglican churches, in St. Paul's Cathedral.

The meeting was held in the Y. M. C. A. parlors and lasted but a short time.

Committee Named.

A committee composed of Revs. Dr. Manning, Dr. Ross and W. M. Walker, was appointed to confer with Canon Dann in arranging the details of the service. This committee met immediately after the close of the regular session.

TWO CRIMINAL CASES FOR JUNE SESSIONS

Only two criminal cases have been entered so far for the sessions of the county court and general sessions of the peace in June.

They are King against Michael Tierney for alleged indecent assault on two charges.

King against George Whiting for alleged seduction.

If John Prodger is committed for trial he will also appear at the same court.

LOCAL AUTOIST WAS IN HURRY FOR SUPPER

Exceeded the Speed Limit and Was Fined Five Dollars in Police Court.

A local autoist, who was fined $5 in court this morning for exceeding the speed limit, offered the unique excuse that he was very hungry and was in a hurry to get home and get his supper.

"You must have been perfectly ravenous," said the court, "as I understand you were going about 30 miles an hour."

"If the policeman says so I guess it must be right," said the gentleman.

The policeman said that the auto went a block in 14 seconds.

"That is too fast," said the court. "Five-dollar fine."

THE STEAMER "FOREST CITY."

This boat will ply on Lake Erie this year between Port Stanley and Rondeau to Cleveland.

KING GEORGE V. FOR FAIR PLAY CITY CLERK TELLS OF FIGHT

When a Lad of Fifteen He Saw Two Boys Fight in Old London and Gave Them Both "a Show"—When It Was Over Prince Gave Each a Sovereign.

City Clerk Baker tells a characteristic story of the new King, George V. In 1880, Mr. Baker was going through Westminster Park in London, England, with a friend, when they came upon two young lads fighting. The boys were about 12 years of age, and apparently had a grudge to settle.

Called the Fight. In a short time, one boy demonstrated his superiority, and the prince signalled the fighters to cease. He took one lad, and Mr. Baker the other. When they were separated, the prince took a couple of sovereigns from his pocket, and sent the boys on their way, bruised but happy.

Mr. Baker and his companion went over to where the boys were, and presently they were joined by Prince George, then a lad of 15, and the young Duke of Roxborough, who happened along.

PORT ARTHUR ENGINEER WILL LIKELY GET LONDON POSITION

J. A. Antonisen Has Resigned His Position and Is Now On His Way Here--Water Commissioner Pocock Says He Is the First Choice of the Commission.

Port Arthur, May 9.—J. A. Antonisen, city engineer, recently appointed manager of public utilities, has resigned, and it is expected that he will accept the position of city engineer at London, Ont.

Mr. Antonisen is on his way to London, and will be here on Wednesday or Thursday. A wire was sent to him on Saturday night, giving the information that he asked for regarding the duties required of a head engineer, and fixing the salary at $4,000 per annum.

The understanding was that, if Mr. Antonisen thought himself fitted to give the city satisfaction, on learning the duties required of him, he would agree to a personal interview.

No definite word was received from Port Arthur as to what action he had taken on the receipt of the telegram, except what is contained in the dispatch from Port Arthur.

The First Choice. "If that is the case," said Commissioner Pocock, "Antonisen will probably be in the city tomorrow or Thursday. We wired him the information he asked for, and it was on the understanding that he would come to London, if he thought himself capable of filling the position. We have not engaged him, of course, but he was the first choice of the water commissioners and the board of works. If he lives up to his reputation, there is no doubt he will be named for the position."

KEEP THE PUP IN OR YOU'LL BE FINED

Sad Story of a Canine and a Long Green Two Dollars.

Because his pup went out the front door and in a side door without its muzzle on Lewis Roberts, of the London House, was found guilty by Magistrate Love this morning of allowing his dog to be at large without a muzzle and was fined $2.

W. D. Mahon, W. J. Wilson, John McNicol, Mary Barrett and Ira Link were each fined $2 for a similar offence.

SCHEDULE OF PROPOSED CHANGES WAS PREPARED

Equalization Committee of County Council Met at Court House This Morning.

The equalization committee of the county council was in session this morning at the court house, endeavoring to arrive at a satisfactory adjustment of the assessment in the various townships of the county.

A schedule of proposed changes has been prepared, and this was discussed at great length. A proposal to increase Dorchester's assessment by 51 per cent met with strong opposition from the representatives of that township. There was a general proposal of increased assessments all around, and the members of the committee were not by any means unanimous in adopting the schedule.

The committee adjourned until 2 o'clock, to further thresh out the matter.

Those present were: S. F. Glass, London Township; C. M. McPhee, Ekitrid; Warden Campbell, Adelaide; John McFarlane, Adelaide; R. Banks, Dorchester; James Murray, Westminster; John Jones, Delaware; Hugh Brodie, Caradoc; W. D. Moss, Glenoe; R. Yates, Wardville; James Brown, Metcalfe; J. E. Buttery and F. W. Atkinson, Strathroy; George Elliott, West Williams; J. C. McDonald, East Williams; Thomas Munroe, Parkhill; John Morgan, Ailsa Craig; Marshall Miller, McGillivray; A. K. Hodgins, Bidolph; C. W. Hawkinson, Lapan; John McGuigan, Lobo.

IRISHMEN CABLE THEIR SYMPATHY

Message to Colonial Secretary Regarding the Death of Edward VII.

DR. WILSON REMEMBERED

Resolution of Sympathy With Him in His Illness Was Passed—Also a Resolution in Regard to Death of Mr. Jas. Egan's Sister.

"Sir Edward Grey, Colonial Secretary, London, England: "The Irish Benevolent Society of London, Canada, deeply deplore the death of his Majesty King Edward VII., and extend most profound sympathy to bereaved Queen Alexandra, and desire to express to his Majesty King George their unswerving loyalty to himself and the empire."

The above cable, signed by President Stevely and the secretary, was sent to the Colonial Secretary last night by the Irish Benevolent Society. The resolution was passed by a unanimous standing vote at a special meeting of the society, called for the purpose. It was moved by Mr. Denis Mason and seconded by ex-Alt. John Forristal.

President Stevely called the meeting to order, and briefly explained the reason for the session. He spoke feelingly of his late majesty, and asked Mr. Mason to move the resolution.

The latter said an eloquent tribute to the late monarch, one of the wisest, most broad-minded and lovable the empire had as yet known.

Mr. Forristal referred to the many good qualities of King Edward, and especially alluded to the broad spirit. Continued on Page Eight.

CITY'S CONSENT NOT NECESSARY TO OPERATE SUNDAY CARS

At Least That Is What the Mayor Thinks After Reading a Communication From City Solicitor Meredith in Regard to the Pere Marquette Railway.

"Why do you ask if the consent of the city is necessary to allow the Pere Marquette to operate cars on Sunday over the London and Port Stanley?"

This significant question in a letter from City Solicitor Meredith to Mayor Beattie clearly denotes the attitude of Mr. Meredith to this matter, and is tantamount to an admission that there is no necessity for the consent of the municipality to enable the company to operate cars on Sunday to Port Stanley.

His worship wrote, saying that the council desired a full statement of their position in reference to this matter, and Mr. Meredith will furnish that opinion in a few days.

They Have the Right. "It seems apparent that the company have the right to operate cars on Sunday," said Mayor Beattie. "My understanding of the question is that the city has no control—that it is entirely in the hands of the Dominion railway commission. "However, we want an opinion from the solicitor as to our exact position, and that we expect to have as soon as Mr. Meredith can possibly give it to us."

The company will not make an effort to run the cars until the position of the city is defined. It is doubtful whether or not they would run them without the consent of the city.

A Delicate Question. Some of the council would welcome the announcement that the matter was absolutely removed from their hands, as the question is a somewhat delicate one, in many respects, and it could be more easily settled by such a court as the Dominion railway commission than by a body such as the council.

So far nothing further has been heard regarding the promised opposition to Sunday cars to the Port, and it is likely the agitation has ceased.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

[Associated Press.] Washington, May 10.—That systematic advertising of the country in the interests of immigration as carried on by Canada is shown by official reports received at the office of Daniel J. Keefe, commissioner-general of immigration of the United States. The result is that the Dominion gets a large number of farmers from the western prairies. The farmer is followed by the merchant, then by the manufacturer.

For the year ended March 31, 1910, 103,789 people from the United States immigrated to Canada, and 57,930 came from that country. During the preceding year, 149,969 immigrated to Canada from all countries, of whom 42,865 were farmers and farm laborers from the United States. Only 3,268 persons of the same class came from Canada to this country.

During the same period 2,966 clerks and merchants, and 6,100 persons with occupations immigrated from United States to Canada, while 1,634 clerks and merchants, and 22,320 persons with occupations not classified came from Canada. Thirty per cent of the immigration into Canada during the last eight years was eight per cent Scotch, 33 per cent from United States, and 4 per cent Italian.

WORKMAN DIED DANCING A JIG

Tragic Death of William Young of Goderich, in East London Last Night.

EMPLOYED BY THE G. T. R. Gang of Men in a Box-Car, When One Picked Up a Fiddle and Young Started to Dance His Death Followed in a Few Seconds.

While dancing an Irish jig for the amusement of his fellow workmen in a Grand Trunk boarding car in the East End yards last night, William Young, of Goderich, one of the bridge and building gang, was overcome, and, sinking into a chair, died immediately of heart failure.

Young had been working with the other members of the gang all day near Hyde Park, and in the evening the men were sitting around after supper, singing songs and telling stories.

One man picked up a fiddle and began to play, and Young got up and started to dance a jig. He had only danced a few steps when he was overcome.

Dr. Seabone was called at once, and found that death was due to heart failure.

Mr. Young was 35 years old. Pending the coming of relatives to this city, the funeral arrangements have not been made.

The remains were taken to Smith, Son & Clarke's undertaking-rooms.

Woman Found Dead With Story of Edward's Death in Her Hand.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 10.—With a paper in her hand relating the details of the death of King Edward, Mrs. Sarah J. P. Mobley, aged 70, was found dead here at her home. The coroner attributed her death to heart failure brought on by reading of the King's death.

Mrs. Mobley was an ardent admirer of the late King, and on the walls of her rooms were hung portraits of Edward, picturing his life from boyhood to manhood.

"King Edward is my ideal of a man," she often said to her neighbors.

STABBED HIMSELF. Hamilton, May 9.—What may prove to be a fatal accident took place this afternoon when Albert Chilcott, a shoemaker, living at 648 Barton street east, accidentally stabbed himself. He was paring sole leather and while drawing a keen knife towards him his hand slipped and the knife struck him over the heart, inflicting a wound that narrowly escaped his chest. With blood streaming from his chest, Chilcott ran to the surgery of Dr. Parry, where it was seen the wounded man's condition was critical. The wound was sewed up and the report from the City Hospital tonight is that injured man may not live.

When he first saw the doctor Chilcott said he had been stabbed.

The trainers were fined $250 each during the progress of a race. Afterwards it appeared, the judges decided there had been error in imposing the fines, and they were remitted.

SKIN SORES
At this season, scores of people, girls and women especially, find their faces marked with pimples, dark spots, eruptions, etc. The skin needs attention, needs renovating after the trying winter season. Just think what it has had to go through!

You have been out in rain and sleet and snow. You have been perching from skating, or some other exertion. Then you have stood to "cool off." You have spent hours of the day indoors at a temperature equal to summer heat. Has your face, and gone out into the temperature away below zero! No wonder that the skin of the face and neck shows signs of needing attention.

Zam-Buk is a skin food. Smear it lightly over the spots, the eruptions, the scaly patches, at night, and notice how quickly your appearance improves. As the rich, refined, herbal essence sink deep into the tissue, the hard scurf-like patches are removed. The cuticle is softened. The cells beneath are stimulated to healthy operation. The pores resume their work properly. Better color results. The cells of the skin being purified by Zam-Buk's stimulating balm, become transparent; the blood beneath is able to impart its proper coloring to the tissue, and the delicate bloom of health replaces the sallowness and pallor of disease.

A few days of Zam-Buk treatment will transform a "muddy," speckled, spotted complexion into one of attractiveness and prettiness.

Use Zam-Buk for more serious skin troubles, such as eczema, psoriasis, ulcers, festering sores, ringworm, scalp sores, sores on the body due to food-poisoning, etc. Mothers will find Zam-Buk unequalled for baby! 50c box all stores.

Silk Warp Taffeta is highly recommended by dressmakers for linings and drop skirts, and here is an opportunity to secure silk and cotton Underskirts for the price of all cotton. The advantage of this lining over all cotton for drop skirts is that it will retain its firmness and rustle, while most cotton linings become soft. Silk and cotton mixed also gives greater strength than an ordinary-priced taffeta silk. We have not all colors, but if there is a shade here you can use, get your supply while they last. Colors are navy, Copenhagen and pale blue, fawn and ivory, all 40 inches wide. Regular 65c Underskirting, sale price, yard 39c

A CIVIC MEMORIAL SERVICE IN ST. PAUL'S

Tangle Was Straightened Out at Meeting of the City Council Last Night.

The memorial service in St. Paul's Cathedral on the day of the King's funeral will be of a civic nature.

Some criticism of this was made yesterday by the Ministerial Alliance, but Mayor Beattie and Ald. Ashplant brought all parties together, and a most satisfactory arrangement was arrived at.

Rev. Canon Dann will read the burial service. Rev. W. M. Walker, of the South London Baptist Church, will read the lesson, and addresses will be delivered by Bishop Williams, Rev. Dr. Ross, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, and Rev. Richard Whiting, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

All the civic bodies will attend, together with the military organizations of the city.

All Are Satisfied.
At the adjourned meeting of the council last night, Mayor Beattie explained the arrangement, and stated that all parties were agreeable to it. He was well pleased that everything had been arranged so amicably.

Ald. Richter expressed the pleasure of the council at the excellent settlement of the difficulty.

The council will attend the services in a body.

Those present at the meeting were Mayor Beattie, Ald. Richter, Ald. Eckert, Underwood, Ashplant, Jeffries, Fitzgerald, Saunders, Morgan, Pocock, Tancock and City Clerk Baker.

John D. Rockefeller would go broke if he should spend his entire income trying to prepare a better medicine than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy for diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is simply impossible, and so says everyone that has used it. Sold by all dealers.

Mother and Daughter Saved by Gin Pills

THE FAMOUS KIDNEY REMEDY.
44 Woolfrey Avenue, Toronto.
March 21, 1909.
While engaged as assistant at Sterling Mines, Gray's Sliding, Ont., I became familiar with the merits of Gin Pills.
"On leaving Toronto, I left my wife (aged 51) and my daughter (aged 21) in poor health. The former had tried all sorts of remedies for her ailment—Middle Age or Change of Life. The joints in her hands were badly swollen and she suffered much pain.
It occurred to me that Gin Pills would help her and so advised her. This was a happy thought, for my wife wrote back to say she was trying Gin Pills.
"Her next letter said that the pills were doing her good, and the second, that the swollen joints were fast disappearing. Also, her general health and color was vastly improved. Now, she cannot say too much in favor of the Gin Pills. My daughter has also derived much benefit from their use."
"WM. E. CRAIG."
Simply write to the National Drug and Chemical Company (Dept. G), Toronto, and a free sample will be sent you. When Gin Pills have proved their great value, get them at your dealer—50c box, 5 for $2.50.

UNFAIR TO THE BOY. Mr. Winston Churchill, British home secretary, lays a finger upon one of the worst vices of the social and industrial organization of every country.

Referring to the question of unemployment, Mr. Churchill said he discerned, as the greatest of all the evils which tended not merely to unemployment, but to the creation of unemployables, the conditions of boy labor, and the defective and insufficient training which young persons received after they left school.

Young persons not yet grown up ought to be learning as well as earning. A great truth is here expressed in an epigram. A multitude of boys after leaving school enter no trades.

DOING HER BEST. "You know, Miss Blank," said the proprietor of a railroad station restaurant, "there is a great deal in having your sandwiches look attractive."

THE HARD LUCK MAN. "My luck is fierce," in anguish wailed the man who forty times had failed; "the gods that guide poor mortals' feet have soaked me often, and repeat. All things upon this whirling sphere go wrong and foremost when I'm near; if I had luck, like other guys, you'd see me like an alrshp rize; I'll bet a twenty-cent cigar I'd hitch my wagon to a star."

CANADA AND THE WORLD'S CROPS. The April bulletin of agricultural statistics issued by the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome, contains information as to the world's production of wheat areas sown to winter cereals in 1909, crop conditions on April 1, 1910, etc.

The world's production of wheat last year is placed at 3,561,914,637 bushels, as against 3,107,153,598 bushels in 1908. Canada stands fifth on the list of wheat-producing countries, being surpassed only by Russia, the United States, France and British India.

A table giving the number of live stock in eleven countries credits Canada last year with 7,234,085 cattle, 2,132,489 horses, 2,705,390 sheep and 2,912,509 swine.

It is the genius of the British constitution that an incompetent king can do little harm and a competent one a vast deal of good.

The oldest inhabitant ten years ago used to boast that he had lived in the reign of three sovereigns. A ten-year-old can say the same thing today.

The Toronto Y. M. C. A. financial campaign has yielded $685,000 in nine days, or $55,000 more than was aimed at. The campaigners now purpose raising another $150,000 for the Young Women's Christian Association.

The story that the Duke of Connaught will be the next governor-general of Canada is not new and is not official. His appointment would stimulate immigration from Fifth Avenue, New York, and make Ottawa the social capital of the continent—if that would be any advantage.

A combination of Queen Victoria and King Edward would make not only an ideal monarch, but a perfect man or woman. Perfection is not to be looked for in one person, and it is not expected of King George. But he has lived 45 years without doing anything to his discredit, and it is not likely he will begin to blunder now.

The Brantford Expositor, commenting on the somersault of the London Free Press on the question of the Fielding testimonial, says that our local contemporary "seems to be anxious to maintain its old-time reputation as a journalistic acrobat. Quite true; but it is the sort of reputation that spells disaster."

An exception to the good taste which has marked the comments upon the King's death by the press, the pulpit, and public men is the utterance of Bishop Du Moulin of Hamilton. He says there are "no stalwart men left in British public life to protect the constitution against the raid which is being made on it."

Jason and Samantha were in a department store elevator, when it became stalled between floors. "Now, don't get panicky," admonished Jason; "we'll get started again as soon as repairs is made."

THE HARD LUCK MAN. "My luck is fierce," in anguish wailed the man who forty times had failed; "the gods that guide poor mortals' feet have soaked me often, and repeat. All things upon this whirling sphere go wrong and foremost when I'm near; if I had luck, like other guys, you'd see me like an alrshp rize; I'll bet a twenty-cent cigar I'd hitch my wagon to a star."

A LIFE'S DEVOTION

BY FRANK H. SHAW.
Author of "A Daughter of the Storm," "First at the Pole," etc. (Copyright in U. S. America. All Rights Reserved.)

Tormentally, impassioned, eloquent, his suave, false words poured out in an overwhelming stream. He was half kneeling now; one of his hands held hers as though he would never let it go. His handsome face was alight with passion; the lowering solemnity of it was gone. So well had he deceived himself that he thought he was actually in earnest; perhaps he was, for even in such a selfish love as that of Harold Fortescue's there is some blind seeking after the welfare of the loved one.

Marion was overcome by his passion; she made no attempt to withdraw her hand. At first she did not realize that he was dishonoring her by this fierce protestation, and it was soothing to feel the warmth of his avowal all about her, like a soft garment, to shield her from the coldness and misery that had lately been her portion. Willfully she allowed herself to be blinded to the infidelity that she was proposing. A year ago she would have struck him over the face, and called servants to turn him from the house; but that was a year ago, and the Marion of that day was a different woman from the Marion of this.

In a dim, inchoate fashion, she felt that she was doing wrong in allowing Fortescue to speak thus to her; she was conscious of something of a dark smear on the white purity of her soul, but she was carried out of her usual calm by his torrential pleadings; and he, cunning as the serpent, ventured further. He raised the hand he had clasped to his lips, he possessed himself of the other hand and crushed them both against his breast. It was pulsating violently. Marion contrasted this warmth and throbbing desire with the icy coldness of the recent life she had lived. But the womanhood in her made an effort, unguided by her will, for at heart she was pure and innocent.

She strove to free her hands of his clasp; he only held them the tighter. "I won't let you go, I can't," he said sternly. "You don't understand what it means to me, you woman of ice. I've eaten out my heart with longing for you these many years, and yet—and yet—I don't know that I could bear to send you away now. What do I owe to anyone? The man who should have shielded me has proved himself all unworthy, and I have no one to turn to in this world. I'd turn and kiss the hand that spurned me; I'd bless the heart that told you to give me my ounce; yes, I'd die gladly if I could but know that even for a single minute out of all the eternities there are to live, you'd loved me."

She looked down at his glowing, ardent face, and it was not given to her to see the falseness beneath the passionate exterior. She, used all her life to what she called honor, saw nothing of the sham that underlay the fevered words.

"You—you are forgetting," she stammered. "Harold, Mr. Fortescue, you are forgetting."

"I'm forgetting nothing. I'm forgetting not a single thing. I've eyes, Marion, and I've used them. I have seen that you're a loveless, deserted wife, that your own child has been turned against you by a scheming—scheming man who is not what he would have the world believe him." She started at that; he felt it, and that same instant which had already been his friend helped him once more.

"Then, you know, too," he said softly. "You know that I was telling the truth that night, that the case was all against him? Remember this, Marion, that I came to you and swore to a lie, because I thought that you still loved him, and that your happiness was bound up in his good name. I don't understand what you mean to me. It's a hot, consuming flame that allows me no rest—it gives me no peace. Life is a mockery, existence a hell on me; without you I'm not a man; I'm a mere inanimate clod. Marion, listen to me. Cut loose from this misery which surrounds you, the misery that is dragging you into a grave. Marion, one of my knees, I implore you to remember what you owe to yourself. Don't be bound by a lot of foolish conventions; love is the only thing that matters in this world, and I'm willing for you to give up your arms aching and my heart on fire—to give you the love you need, the love that yours by right. You're made for love, sweet woman, not for the girl's coldness of a selfish man's empty heart."

The rushing words overcame her still more. She felt faint, her head whirled. It was pleasant to think that someone—after the long isolation, after the many disappointments—it was good to feel a loving touch and hear a tender word. Dimly a voice whispered to her that she was wrong. Her first wish was to thrust this pleading man away to fly to some safe place, to shut her ears to the bitter-sweet, suggestions of his words. But where could she fly? To her husband? Heaven forbid! The man who had no sense of rectitude in all his being, the man who had committed a dastardly crime to gain his own ends; what sympathy or protection might she expect from him? None; he could never understand how this temptation was slowly sapping away her powers of resistance. If only the child had loved her! Then it would have been all different; she might have crushed that soft, glowing face to hers, and out of the boy's unconscious strength have found strength herself to endure the silent misery of never-ending waiting.

"Marion, don't despise me. If I'm wrong to speak as I have done, if my words make you shudder, forgive me. I speak from my heart—my heart that only beats for you. Marion, come with me to a place I know of, where you'll be surrounded by friendly faces and loving hearts, where the aim of all my life shall be to teach you to forget."

"To forget," she asked in an unbelieving whisper. "To forget! Why that is impossible. You might as well try to lift the hills into the sea as try to make me forget this horror that is fast making a madwoman of me. Forgetfulness is not for me. I waken in the night with a scream frozen on my lips, with awful memories burning in to my brain. Forgetfulness! Not on this side of the grave!"

yet—and yet—I don't know that I could bear to send you away now. What do I owe to anyone? The man who should have shielded me has proved himself all unworthy, and I have no one to turn to in this world. I'd turn and kiss the hand that spurned me; I'd bless the heart that told you to give me my ounce; yes, I'd die gladly if I could but know that even for a single minute out of all the eternities there are to live, you'd loved me."

Several times he came out now, some mad, reckless strain; she felt that this was God's answer to her prayers. Let her dare all things, even the scorn of the world, and her father's blood should be fully avenged. "Harold, shall I ever be allowed to remember these days, if I forget what's due to me and come with you? You won't let me remember will you? You won't ever let a single care come my way, for I'm so weak and afraid, and the slightest shadow of pain will kill me? Better to die, perhaps, than to live on thus."

CYNTHIA GREY'S CORRESPONDENTS

Dear Miss Grey: (1) Is a girl of 16 too young to receive men callers? (2) How late should a young man stay? (3) When a girl loves a young man, and he has proven in every way that he returns her love, and then, for spite, he marries someone else, what can the girl do about it? What is your opinion of Mr. OLD MAID SIBBER.

A.—(1) and (2)—If her parents are willing, it is all right for her boy friends to call occasionally for an hour or two. (3) Nothing. My opinion? He did not love her, and he is unworthy the love of any honest girl.

Dear Miss Grey: Please give me recipe for pineapple SUBSCRIBER. A.—One pint pineapple juice, one pint sugar, one pint water and juice of one lemon. Strain. Add unbeaten whites of three eggs, then into freezer and grind until you have a firm, light ice. Remove dasher and pack freezer in ice and salt until you are ready to serve it.

ALL AROUND THE HOME

By Cynthia Grey

Remove paint stains with turpentine, and tar stains with lard. If you have a scant supply of asparagus for a meal, try cooking a tablespoon of rice with it. Add cream, butter and seasoning. No thickening is needed. If your pancakes stick to the griddle, try beating a teaspoon of melted lard into two quarts of batter.

FASHIONS

Crochet buttons are a new detail in colored shirt waists. White buckskin shoes with white pearl buttons are among the dressy novelties in footwear. Shoes of patent leather or calfskin with cloth uppers continue in favor. Foulards are utilized for the collar and cuffs and for the lining of the new coats. Smoke pearl buttons are still popular fastenings for the black suede boots. Attractive are the curtains of white batiste bordered in color. The new hats that come under the head of large are simply immense. Perlaia pattern pongee is used for soft, scarf-like decorations on some of the hat shapes of black or dark blue faced with black.

HERE'S THE TAM O' SHANTER TURBAN

The turban is and has been so popular that it is almost impossible for the milliner to evolve something new in that line. Here's one, the latest—the Tam O'Shanter. Coats are buttoned with the side-front effect, which is one of the newest fads. And seldom do we see the neck-ruling high collar, even on chilly days. In a few months the brown, streaked and withered necks these collars now reveal, will be smooth and clear. That's what the latest style in collars will do for us!

IN WOMAN'S WORLD

To remove tea stains, lay the fabric over a bowl and pour boiling water through it. Butter that is watery and not well worked must never be used for cake, as it will make it heavy. If mixed with milk instead of water mustard will not get dry, but will keep nice until it is all used up. A good way to tell when ham is fried enough is by the fat. When the fat is brown, not burned, the ham is done. To prevent starched articles sticking to the iron add a pinch of salt and a little lump of lard to the boiled starch. If a pan smells of onions boil it out with tea leaves. This will make it perfectly clean and sweet smelling again. Rusty knives can be cleaned by soaking the blades in paraffin oil and then rubbing them with finely powdered ashes. Burning oil is spread by water. To extinguish it throw down flour, sand or earth. The idea is to prevent the oil from spreading. When ironing colored garments avoid a very hot iron, as too great heat tends to fade the colors. Iron on the wrong side whenever possible. Remember that the shell of an egg is porous and bacteria easily pass through it. Keep eggs in a cool place and keep them covered. When making fruit pies, damp the edge of the pastry with milk instead of water. It holds better and the juice is not so liable to boil over. For frying or covering the tops of entrees use bread crumbs instead of cracker crumbs, as they have less of a flat taste and do not get so soggy. Copper may be cleaned by rubbing with the skins of lemon and salt. The surface should be wiped off quickly, and polished with a dry chamois. Hygienic cooks declare bread made from spring wheat is better than that from winter wheat, as it contains more gluten and less starch than the latter. Scrubbing brushes should always be hung up when not in use, so that the bristles have a chance of drying. They will last far longer if treated in this way. A little vaseline applied to stiff leather boots will make them easy and comfortable. The vaseline should be rubbed into the leather with a piece of flannel. To put starch curtains on the rod without tearing, first run a lead pencil through the hem, inserting the rubber end; that opens the hem easily and quickly.

PLAYTIME STORIES

THE EAVES KEEP TROUSEL HEAD AWAKE
Father or Mother or Somebody Must Read This to the Kiddies Tonight.

By George Jacob Spinner.
"I can't sleep," said Tousel Head, "As he tossed about in bed; 'There is something on my nose, and my eyes don't want to close.' 'Twas the Elves—those funny kids—Propping up both his eyelids; And they snickered and they smiled, As they teased this little child; 'Wish the Sand Man would come round.' For I want to sleep real sound; If he comes, I'll be SO Good! And mind mamma as I should." As they teased this little child, And Blink said, "Well, I suppose We did act a bit severe." Then came Drouse and said, "I'm here!"

Now for frolic! now for fun! Gee! how I would like to run! Then o'er pillow and on sheet, Danced these Elves with nimble feet; On his eyebrows then they ran, As they called: "Ho! ho! Sand Man!" Soon the Sand Man did appear With his bags of Sand as queer; Then was heard a gentle rap— 'Twas the cutest little tap— And Sweet Slumber gaily cried: "I'm out here! let me inside!" "Crawl in through the big Keyhole— That's the place through which I stole!" Yelled Blink as he quickly slid Down young Tousel Head's eyelid. And as Tousel Head rolled o'er— "Well! you should have heard him snore!"

THE FACTS ABOUT FORT GEORGE

need no exaggeration. We have been careful to UNDERSTATE rather than to overstate the resources of this coming metropolis.

Our advertising has consisted of PLAIN, UNADORNED STATEMENTS OF EASILY VERIFIED FACTS. The public has quickly realized the truth—that the commercial capital of a great empire is in the making at Fort George, Central British Columbia.

Now, hardly an issue of Vancouver or Victoria papers appears but what contains mention of Fort George, of the building of steamboats for the river; of the provision of additional transportation to it from the present railway lines, and now, as spring opens, of the wonderful influx of settlers. We publish a little paper about Fort George and Central British Columbia. It is intended primarily for the holders of lots. It supplies authentic information on the latest developments.

It tells about the progress of the railways, the influx of settlers, the establishment of business houses, the operation of steamboat lines, and all the activities of this thriving young city, and its great surrounding territory.

If you are interested in the development of Central British Columbia, send us your name and address and we will mail you each issue of this paper.

G. T. P. PROGRESS

At London the other day President Charles M. Hays, of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, stated that this summer he expected to ride from Prince Rupert to Copper River on the new railway line.

Construction work is being rapidly pushed forward on the line both east and west of Fort George. Transcontinental trains will be running through here, possibly in 1911, certainly in 1912.

This great transcontinental is only ONE of the many railways whose inland systems will centre at Fort George. There are now seven railway lines, building and projected, which radiate from this point. Its strategic position will COMPEL the railways of the future also to centre at Fort George.

WHY?

Because Fort George dominates the inland waterways. You can verify this statement by a glance at any map of British Columbia. You will see its location at the junction of the Nechaco and Fraser Rivers, and commanding the Stuart River and its south branches of the Fraser; the Salmon River and the headwaters of the Peace.

And what does this signify? ALL RAILWAYS MUST BUILD ALONG THE WATERWAYS TO GET FEASIBLE GRADES, AND THUS THEY MUST ALL BUILD INTO FORT GEORGE.

Spokane, Winnipeg, Edmonton and Calgary are the railway centres of their respective territories. Knowing what these cities have BECOME, you can easily see what Fort George WILL BE. Only Fort George will develop faster, because it is the centre of the LAST GREAT UNDEVELOPED SECTION OF NORTH AMERICA.

Delay may lose for you your share in the profit of the development of this "Last Great Metropolis of North America."

Shun delay.

MRS. McLAUGHLIN POISONED AND HER CHILDREN BURNED

Second Analysis by Government Experts Reveals Strychnine in Quantities in Several Organs of Dead Woman's Body.

Toronto, May 9.—The second analysis of the body of Mrs. McLaughlin, of Uxbridge, for whose murder her husband, Archibald McLaughlin, entered on his trial at Whitby this afternoon, has revealed the presence of strychnine in considerable quantities in other organs besides the stomach. This evidence will be presented by the crown to checkmate the reported efforts of the defence to suggest that the poison found in the stomach on the first analysis, was placed there deliberately after the remains were removed from the burned building.

This second analysis will also establish the fact that no poison was administered to the two children, who shared the mother's fate.

This second test was made by Prof. Ellis at the instigation of the attorney-general's department, as the result of a hint let drop by the defence during the cross-examination of the crown officers. The stomach of Mrs. McLaughlin had been exposed to a certain extent before being sent to the analyst at Toronto, and one of the questions asked by the defence was whether strychnine might not have been administered by some one while it lay thus. The crown move in holding a second analysis, not of the stomach, but of other organs, with which it would be impossible to tamper, establishes the fact that poison entered the body before death, and in sufficient quantities, it will be claimed, to prove fatal. The fire, says the crown, made the death of Mrs. McLaughlin doubly certain and also removed the two youngest children. The traces of strychnine, the crown will claim, establish the desire of McLaughlin to get rid of his wife. The fact that the poison passed into the other organs is a further evidence that a quantity was used.

ARRIVAL OF THE NIOBE TO BE GREAT AFFAIR

Expected That Troops From Several Provinces Will Be Present.

Halifax, May 10.—G. E. Boak, chairman of the committee in charge of the proposed Niobe celebration of the cruiser's arrival here, returned from Ottawa yesterday. The original intention was that the ship should reach Halifax on Dominion Day, but owing to the fact that the admiralty are putting the quarters, so that the cruiser may be used as a training ship, and installing a steam-heating outfit, her arrival may be delayed till the third week in July. However, the Government has promised to make every effort to expedite this work.

Mr. Boak says there is a disposition in Ottawa and in the west generally to make the arrival of the Niobe a memorable occasion.

A composite regiment will likely be formed to take part, which will be composed of troops from several provinces of the Dominion. It is expected that one or more Toronto regiments will be represented. All men in uniform will be accorded very low rates of travel on the railways.

What caused the explosion is not definitely known, but it was presumed to have been due to escaping gas. The building, a store and residence structure, was completely wrecked. The injuries to occupants were caused by flying bricks, one of which struck the infant child of Mrs. John Morgan, and others injuring 9-year-old John Morgan so seriously that he may die. The Morgan boy received his injuries going to the rescue of his mother and her brother. The loss is estimated at $60,000.

REDMOND ASKS CHANGE IN OATH

Would Have Part Objectionable to Catholics Cut out at Coronation.

London, May 8.—John Redmond, the leader of the Irish Nationalists, has sent a letter to Premier Asquith in regard to the removal from the royal accession oath of the words which he says are so very offensive to Roman Catholics. He asks the Prime Minister to take steps to relieve King George of using language at the commencement of his reign which must deeply wound the feelings and outrage the faith of Roman Catholics throughout the empire and the world.

The portion of the accession oath to which Mr. Redmond takes exception was taken by King Edward before Parliament on Feb. 15, 1901. It is imposed by the bill of rights, and the act of settlement of the time of Charles II. It is popularly known as the "No Popery" oath, and is administered by the Lord Chancellor.

COMET RED AS KING DIES

Strange Change of Color Seen by Bermuda Observers.

New York, N. Y., May 10.—The Tribune publishes the following wireless dispatch from the steamship Bermuda in Bermuda waters:

On the night of the death of King Edward a phenomenon was observed in the night sky which was seen by a number of observers. The comet, which first became visible at about 2 o'clock in the morning, at 12:30 o'clock the fort near Hamilton began firing its salute of 101 guns to the new King at intervals of two minutes, and as the last gun was fired, at exactly 3:52 o'clock, the comet's tail flared red.

The comet also became a ball of red fire, and the phenomenon continued for five minutes. Many negroes working on the docks refused to work longer, and fell to their knees and prayed. In their superstition they exclaimed that the occurrence boded no good for the reign of George V. Several large parties are expected at Bermuda this month to observe the comet.

LONDON DRAMATIC CLUB GAVE $475 TO CHILDREN

Monthly Meeting of Children's Aid Society Held Monday in City Hall.

At the monthly meeting of the Children's Aid Society held yesterday afternoon in the city hall, the report submitted by the Inspector, Mr. Sanders, gave rise to a discussion as to the best ways of dealing with wayward boys and girls, an unusually large number of such cases being dealt with in his report.

The society is very desirous of enlisting the activities of good people in the city in order to provide a friend and counselor for each of these children, it being agreed that the only way to win such young people and children to good citizenship was to bring them into personal contact with noble and sympathetic men and women who would throw around them the good influences which are lacking in their own homes.

A delegation consisting of Sheriff Cameron, Mr. J. I. A. Hunt, Mrs. Yarker, Mrs. Leonard and Mrs. Talbot Macbeth, was appointed from the society to lay the matter before the Ministerial Association to see if such a body of men and women could be provided by the different churches, any one of whom could be called upon at any time to take one of these boys or girls under their particular care and oversight.

Something has already been done along this line. A number of the members of the board of management themselves, but the large number of cases which have to be dealt with require that the society should extend that phase of its operations.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered by the board to the London Dramatic Society for the handsome sum of $475, which was handed over to the society from the proceeds of the "Jack Straw" performance; also a vote of grateful appreciation to the ladies, clergymen, and citizens who did so generously to further the success of the performance.
