DR. BRITAIN STARTS ON ANOTHER CIVIC SURVEY

This Morning He Commenced Work in Assessment Department.

POLICE IS NEXT

Investigation of Force Will Not Be in Nature of Judicial Inquiry.

Dr. Horace Britain, head of the Citizens' Research Bureau of Canada, personally undertook at 9:30 a.m. today a survey of the city assessment department. And the project is still in progress.

Excellent results are anticipated. In fact, the procedure is not in the nature of an "investigation," but just a general survey of the system.

Dr. Britain and Assessment Commissioner Bennett spent the greater portion of this morning going over the assessment rolls and other branches of the department, and some helpful and important recommendations are expected. In fact, the commissioner and his staff appear quite pleased with the prospects of the survey, pointing out that there is every chance that certain filing and index systems that they have had in mind for the betterment of the office will now be permissible.

Not a Probe.

To The Advertiser Dr. Britain declared most emphatically that the "survey" of the police department was not a "probe."

"It will be a general administrative survey and not a judicial inquiry into the rights of persons," he said, when The Advertiser asked him if the undertaking would cover in any manner whatever the oft-repeated charges in the city council about the "excessive" expenditure of the police.

It is assumed from Dr. Britain's remarks that the latter phase of the situation will not be considered by his staff unless something of that nature is encountered which would tend to affect the efficiency of the department.

Accompanied by Chief of Police Visitation Station.

Robert Birrell, the head of the bureau, conducted an introductory survey of the department this afternoon. He leaves the city early tonight and his staff will continue with the detail work in his absence.

"This police investigation is just like tossing money out of the window," Ald. William Wilson, member of the finance committee, informed The Advertiser after the survey.

"Do you think this survey of the police department will be of much advantage?" he asked.

"No," responded the ex-chairman of the board of works in his most vehement manner. "I can see no use in it. We are just having it, I suppose, because the mayor wants it."

NEW SCHOOL OFFICIAL TO COMMENCE JULY 15

Board Requests Marcus Sims To Begin Duties at an Earlier Date.

Marcus M. Sims, the newly-appointed attendance and vocational officer of the board of education, has been asked by the board to begin his duties on July 15. In place of Aug. 1, as was at first suggested. This is the result of a feeling on the part of the board and also of Mr. Sims, that it would take some time to initiate the new officer into the activities that lie before him, and to allow him to get thoroughly acquainted with the filing system of the office.

The new member of the educational staff in London will work in conjunction with Mr. Beal, the principal of the Technical School. This will give a more co-ordinated service. It is pointed out, and will allow Mr. Sims and the Technical School officials to co-operate in the vocational part of the work.

Pressure distribution has not changed much since yesterday morning, the barometer being lowest in the western provinces and highest over the south Atlantic states. THREE ALDERMEN WILL CONSULT ON COSTS OF COURT

Mayor Wenige Names Committee After Conference With Judge Warner.

REPORT TO COUNCIL

Expect Court Expenses This Year Will Approach $3,000 Mark.

Acting in accordance with the methods followed by the juvenile court of Toronto, over which Judge Most presides, Mayor Wenige this morning after a conference with Rev. G. Q. Warner, judge of London juvenile court, appointed three members of the city council, to act as a consulting committee regarding expenditures in connection with the court.

To eliminate the necessity of reports from the court officials themselves, the aldermen, Frank McKay, Albert Judd, and George Burdick, will from time to time examine the list of court expenditures, and make an official report to council sessions.

In this manner, it is expected that the city council will be in a better position to gauge the annual maintenance required for the proper conducting of the juvenile court.

The amount of $2,000 was granted by the 1923 council for purposes of maintenance, but it was learnt from the conference between Judge Warner and the mayor this morning that the expenditures this year will be nearer the $3,000 mark, as certain sums have been expended for permanent fixtures, which will, however, not be needed another year. It is now three weeks since the court offices were completed, but during that time fifty cases have been dealt with, an announcement from Judge Warner, which caused a certain amount of surprise and gratification on the part of Mayor Wenige and council members. "Preventive measures are what we need," said Mayor Wenige, evidently pleased with the record of the court during the brief period of its existence.

The rooms above the city clerk's office on the second floor are now complete and ready for occupation. A Union Jack, which has not yet been secured, will be fitted for the purposes they are to serve.

No Union Jack Yet.

A Union Jack for the juvenile court has not yet appeared on the horizon, but Judge Warner wears a satisfied smile as he gazes upon a certain calendar which now reposes upon his desk and bears the cheerful countenance of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales.

The donor of this addition to the court furnishings is as yet anonymous, but Judge Warner declares he lays his gratitude at the feet of one of the reporters who sometimes pay a call at the court offices.

The judge broadly added that a member of the "G. P." might do well to complete the list of the modest reporter and add a Union Jack to the court's quota.

PAYS HEAVY FINE WHEN HE IGNORES NOTICE ABOUT TAX

Youth Fails To Meet Government Levy and Court Fixes Penalty.

REFUSED LETTERS

Steered Clear of Everything That Bore an Official Stamp.

That it is a rather dangerous practice for an individual to ignore government mail, especially when that mail concerns the payment of federal income tax, was proven recently, when a young, single man residing in a district to the west of London was fined $50 and costs for failure to pay his income tax, which amounted to less than five dollars.

The youth in the case was assessed for his tax in 1920, and he filed a return, but didn't pay. In 1921 he neglected to file his return at all, and received requests at different times from the district office to settle his tax.

After a short time had elapsed, he became quite familiar with the appearance of a department of finance envelope, and so when he went to the postoffice for his mail at various times he refused to accept any matter that evidently was an official envelope.

The delinquent taxpayer evidently thought he had the laugh on the government, and he was indeed surprised when he was haled into court and relieved of about $50 and ordered to pay his tax.

"I suppose that young man thought that he could forward the excuse of not having received his mail, but the game didn't work, and he was caught," Commissioner George Tambling commented this morning. "It ought to be a lesson to everybody to accept government mail, no matter what it contains."

LOOK INTO RECORDS OF FIRE DEPARTMENT

Research Institute Representatives Conduct Survey of Call Book.

J. D. Howe and C. C. Watt, of the Toronto staff of the Citizens' Research Institute of Canada, who, with Dr. Horace L. Britain, are conducting a survey of the fire department, commenced their work in earnest this morning, when they began to examine the records kept at the central station.

Mr. Howe is engaged in looking through the call book kept in the room where the fire calls come in. In this book every alarm is registered, together with every piece of apparatus, and the number of men that answer the call. If a truck or wagon leaves the station for special work of some kind the fact is put down in the record book, as is also any examination of apparatus or other department routine.

Children Throw New Light On Dickens' Masterpiece

Scrooge Invested With Novel Characteristics in Answers On the Literature Paper.

A literature paper in any examination is always full of quaint sayings and entirely original points of view on the various subjects broached in the questions. Here are one or two answers that came to the teachers in answers to the entrance exams.

The main question in the paper was a quotation from Dickens and dealt with that old miser, Scrooge. One line referred to the frosty rime on his head, and the children explained it in these words, "He had a cold rime on his head." "He was wearing a cold hat," and one naive young lady said that "He had a not quite nice story in his head."

Another part of the context contained the phrase, "bestow a trifle," and this was translated by one youngster as meaning that "No one had ever seen old Scrooge carrying a gun," showing the effect of the more exciting movie on the child's mind.

Scrooge was an old man, and age, together with his mental infirmities, had served to slow his processes, so that Dickens describes it as stiffening his gait. This phrase was interpreted by many of the children who gave the following answers: "It meant that he was wearing a stiff collar." "It meant that he was unable to speak, he had a stiff jaw, and he was unable to breathe. One boy said that it meant that Scrooge had taken cold, and that it had left his back stiff and stark."

Again Dickens says that it is better to have no eye than to have an evil eye, a statement that was transformed by one pupil into "It is better to have a glass eye than to have no eye."

NAME J. C. ELLIOTT LONDON TOWNSHIP LEGAL ADVISER

Crown Attorney Is Appointed To Succeed the Late W. R. Meredith.

ACTED FOR 20 YEARS

Several Suits Now Awaiting To Be Fought Out in the Court.

J. C. Elliott, K.C., crown attorney, has been chosen as the new solicitor for London Township, to succeed the late W. R. Meredith, who acted in that capacity for twenty years.

The township statutes do not call for the official appointment of a solicitor, but dating back into the dimmest history of township affairs the practice of choosing a regular attorney has always been adopted.

Before Mr. Meredith held the position the late Judge Durand McMillan cared for the legal affairs of the township before he was called to the bench, and both have figured in historic cases that concerned the township.

In Mr. Elliott the township officials feel that they have chosen a lawyer who will always keep the best interests of the municipality at heart, and who will ever strive for the township enjoying her lawful rights. Two or three important suits involving the township are pending, and in a few months they are expected to be fought out in the courts.

Real Estate Operations Show Return To Normalcy

In Last Six Months 969 Properties of Approximately $2,500,000 Value Changed Ownership.

Another indication of London's increasing prosperity is the semi-annual report on real-estate transfers available today from the office of the city assessment commissioner.

As many as 969 properties changed hands in London since January 1, an increase of 22 over the corresponding period of 1922. The consideration value is roughly estimated by the assessment authorities at a figure approaching the $2,500,000 mark.

Real estate transfers act as a barometer, and the continued increased number is ample evidence that London, in common with the remainder of the country, is rapidly getting back to pre-war normalcy.

TRANS-CANADA CO. GOES VOLUNTARILY INTO LIQUIDATION

Executive of Theatre Organization Decide Action Necessary Safeguard.

CALL SHAREHOLDERS

Organized Few Years Ago and Operates 116 Houses Throughout Dominion.

Special to The Advertiser.

Montreal, July 6.—H. W. Beaulier, president of the Trans-Canada Theatres, Limited, has addressed a letter to the shareholders, advising them that owing to further losses incurred by the company this year, in addition to heavy losses for 1921-1922, it has been decided to place the company in voluntary liquidation. A meeting of shareholders has been called for July 16 to authorize this step, proxies for which are made out in the name of H. W. Beaulier and Henry Joseph.

Try Reducing Expenses.

Mr. Beaulier states in his letter that every effort was made to make ends meet by reducing expenses, but even then the company ran behind, and it was considered the only thing to do was to wind up its affairs.

The company was organized a few years ago to promote the introduction into Canada of a better grade of British theatrical productions, and a chain of theatres across the continent. Vancouver was arranged to book these productions. The project had not proved a paying proposition, and rather than run into further losses it will be allowed to pass out of existence.

The Trans-Canada Theatres, Limited, a chain of theatres, was acquired by the present owners from the Small-theatres and the system leases, owns or controls 116 theatres in all. The company has offices in London, Ontario, and in New York. George F. Driscoll, formerly of London, is the vice-president and general manager of the company, and J. R. Minihick, of the Grand, is director of theatres.

When questioned concerning the proposed liquidation, Mr. Minihick said: "I have received no notice of this as yet. It is too early to say anything definite about it, but I believe it is a preliminary step towards a complete reorganization."

When asked what effect it is likely to have on operation, he said: "I don't think it will mean the closing of the theatres. It is merely an internal affair of the management, in the form of a readjustment. It is altogether likely that the reorganization of the system can be accomplished without interfering with any theatres in the chain."

WILL ASK TENDERS FOR NEW CHASSIS FOR FIRE TRUCK

City Finance Committee Decides Action To Replace Damaged Apparatus.

TERRY MAKES OFFER

Mayor Believes Replacement Can Be Accomplished Without Overdraft.

Meeting in special session at noon today, members of the finance committee directed that tenders be called for a new chassis upon which can be placed equipment formerly used upon the fire truck recently damaged going to a false alarm from No. 2 station.

Arrange to Rent Machine.

In the meanwhile, an arrangement will be made with Tom Terry to rent a machine for temporary use at least. Mr. Terry offered to sell this equipment to the council for $3,200, or a better truck at $3,900. While Mayor Wenige pointed out the need for haste and viewed with favor Mr. Terry's offer, the other members in attendance, Aldermen Judd, Wilson and Greer, ruled that in order to avoid probable criticism from the general public it would be best to advertise for tenders.

Mayor Wenige advanced the opinion that the council should inaugurate a fund to which could be added each year the amount of annual depreciation on the fire trucks. The councilors were of a like mind, while Ald. Greer held that the same could be done with all civic equipment. He reminded that City Engineer Near had already undertaken a move in this direction.

Ald. Greer questioned the source of funds for this latest expenditure, commenting, "It looks like an overdraft."

Expense Unavoidable.

Mayor Wenige pointed out that of course the expense was unavoidable. The truck would have to be replaced with either a new or second-hand machine. He favored the latter, but the committee ruled against him, insisting that new equipment would be cheaper in the end.

Mayor Wenige was confident, as usual, that the money would be available in some manner without an overdraft, while Fire Chief Aitken announced proudly that he has never had an overdraft in his department yet."

The chief reported that the truck was disabled on its way to a false alarm, and sounded another warning against this practice.

EXPECT TO SOLVE GREAT PUZZLE OF NORTHERN LIGHTS

Radio Operator With McMillan Will Seek To Conquer Aurora Borealis.

MEASURE STREAMERS

(Special wireless, via American Radio Relay League, from MacMillan's Arctic-bound ship the Bowdoin, off Straits of Belle Isle, east coast of Newfoundland, by Captain Donald B. MacMillan. Copyright, 1923, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

New York, July 6.—"We left Sydney behind us yesterday afternoon after an elaborate farewell and good-bye from the inhabitants, and are now sailing north for Labrador. We have learned by wireless that the Labrador coast is packed with ice, and navigation practically impossible, but we are hoping conditions will improve before we get much farther north.

"The steamship Seal, with two hundred passengers, is locked in a pack with her propeller blades gone and helpless, and a steamer from St. John's, Nfld., is endeavoring to work through the ice to her relief. "The winds beginning to catch the chill of the icebergs, and two days or perhaps less, we should find ourselves among them. The Straits of Belle Isle are blocked. We shall do our best to make Red Bay, and seek shelter until a favorable wind starts the ice off shore again, when we hope to work the Bowdoin to Cape Charles, from which point we will have an instant run to Battle Harbor. There we expect to recoupy our old magnetic station of 1921 in our work on the important subject of terrestrial magnetism. All the old stations will be visited and work done at every opportunity.

"So far everything is going nicely. In the event of our fuel becoming exhausted during the long trip we have planned to mix kerosene oil with seal and white oil. Our engines have already been tested with this mixture and work beautifully. Wednesday night, while at sea, considerable excitement existed through the receipt of the Dempsey-Gibbons fight returns, thanks to an American radio relay league operator. Our wireless caught every detail of the proceedings and again demonstrated its wonderful possibilities. All the boys were delighted with Gibbons' plucky showing.

The Port of Sydney was decorated for our departure and the guns of the French battleship saluted us as we put out to sea. Photographs of the scene were delivered to one of the escorting boats which followed part of the way. We filled our tanks before we left and took on a fresh stock of meats and vegetables."

The heavy weather battle was flashed to the Bowdoin from this station and the hearty thanks of all hands later received here.

Public Swimming Classes Proving Very Successful

Instructor Corson Warns That Children Have But Few Days More For Free Instruction.

George Corson, the great swimming teacher who is spending two weeks in the city in the service of the playgrounds, instructing London children not to fear the water and on the finer points of swimming, is something of a psychologist. For instance, speaking of his teaching methods, he says: "No use coming here to fool away your time. I only want to deal with people who are intensely enthusiastic about learning to swim. Make up your mind you can learn and that gives me a 50 per cent handicap. I am away in the heat and your chances for learning quickly have increased to that extent."

An onlooker at yesterday's swimming lesson, when Mr. Corson was handling 100 children, said: "Seven of mine are in there. And I think this is the best proposition that the city of London has ever attempted. Money cannot buy what my children are picking up in the way of learning to swim. This man Corson is really a super. To anything I have ever heard about in the way of swimming instruction."

This is the consensus of opinion in the city.

The Corson campaign, and residents are warned that another day has gone by—another chance has slipped. Corson has only eight more working days. It means eight more chances to pick under a trained expert, free of charge, at least the rudiments of an art that not only develops body and limb, but in a water-bound province has become a necessity.

Dr. George A. Smith, the supervisor in charge of all the playgrounds, is enthusiastic about the progress that the children are making under Mr. Corson, and has adopted the slogan, "Learn to swim in Thames Park and learn more."

Early this morning what pitching contest was staged, followed by a baseball game between two divisions of the campers. Then the word was given to disband and after much shaking of hands and promises to meet again next year, the boys worked to the station in little groups.

A review of camp activities cannot fail to impress one with the advantages of military life for boys still in their teens. Physical training, military drill, rifle shooting and organized sports featured the seven-day period of activity combined with discipline. Officers declared the boys showed extraordinary improvement in their ideas of physical condition and drills of a soldier. Lieut. Col. George Gillespie, camp commandant, testified with other officers to the splendid results of the training when he said the march past of the entire corps was equal to any he had ever seen by regular troops.

Leaves For Another.

Walter Knox, the eminent Canadian athlete, departed last night to direct the activities of another camp just starting. Col. Gillespie paid glowing tribute to the services of Mr. Knox as athletic supervisor of the London campers, stating his untiring services were largely responsible for the rapid advance to good physical condition made by those under his instruction.

Col. Gillespie also expressed appreciation for the satisfactory meeting arrangements made by Mr. Fawkes. He added his thanks to the citizens of London who donated handsome prizes and money to carry on the sporting program. He wished particularly to thank the city council, the mayor, the members of the Club, London Amateur Athletic Association, I. O. D. E., and medical services. Through the latter's good work at a single case of sickness or any serious accident was recorded the entire week.

Major Gordon Ingram, who looked after the training during the field sports held yesterday, was also highly complimented for his interest in the camp.

R. M. C. Men Popular.

One of the laudable features of the outing was the inclusion of four Royal Military College cadets in the camp roster. These boys were immensely popular with the high school and other lads. The severe military training for which the college at Kingston is noted gives them a better understanding of military instruction, and the lectures and demonstrations given by them for the benefit of primary school children proved unusually interesting.

If the government makes a similar grant of money for the purpose, it is probable that another camp will be held next year. Col. Gillespie looks forward to a much larger number of cadets for 1924 and feels certain with his return to the late camp, hundreds more will be attracted to Carling Heights next year.

CADETS STRIKE CAMP AND LEAVE FOR THEIR HOMES

Camp on Carling Heights Most Successful Yet Held in City.

BOYS DID WELL PILOT TELLS STORY

At noon today 500-odd cadets at Carling Heights packed their equipment and entrained for their homes after perhaps the most successful coaching week ever held in this city. Early this morning what pitching contest was staged, followed by a baseball game between two divisions of the campers. Then the word was given to disband and after much shaking of hands and promises to meet again next year, the boys worked to the station in little groups.

A review of camp activities cannot fail to impress one with the advantages of military life for boys still in their teens. Physical training, military drill, rifle shooting and organized sports featured the seven-day period of activity combined with discipline. Officers declared the boys showed extraordinary improvement in their ideas of physical condition and drills of a soldier. Lieut. Col. George Gillespie, camp commandant, testified with other officers to the splendid results of the training when he said the march past of the entire corps was equal to any he had ever seen by regular troops.

Leaves For Another.

Walter Knox, the eminent Canadian athlete, departed last night to direct the activities of another camp just starting. Col. Gillespie paid glowing tribute to the services of Mr. Knox as athletic supervisor of the London campers, stating his untiring services were largely responsible for the rapid advance to good physical condition made by those under his instruction.

Col. Gillespie also expressed appreciation for the satisfactory meeting arrangements made by Mr. Fawkes. He added his thanks to the citizens of London who donated handsome prizes and money to carry on the sporting program. He wished particularly to thank the city council, the mayor, the members of the Club, London Amateur Athletic Association, I. O. D. E., and medical services. Through the latter's good work at a single case of sickness or any serious accident was recorded the entire week.

Major Gordon Ingram, who looked after the training during the field sports held yesterday, was also highly complimented for his interest in the camp.

R. M. C. Men Popular.

One of the laudable features of the outing was the inclusion of four Royal Military College cadets in the camp roster. These boys were immensely popular with the high school and other lads. The severe military training for which the college at Kingston is noted gives them a better understanding of military instruction, and the lectures and demonstrations given by them for the benefit of primary school children proved unusually interesting.

If the government makes a similar grant of money for the purpose, it is probable that another camp will be held next year. Col. Gillespie looks forward to a much larger number of cadets for 1924 and feels certain with his return to the late camp, hundreds more will be attracted to Carling Heights next year.

BOARD OF EDUCATION FINDS NEED OF SURVEY

Trustees Believe Financial and Accounting System Requires Attention.

Although the board of education at their meeting yesterday treated the suggestion of a survey without any preliminary work—discovered later that their financial and accounting system is in immediate need of rearrangement and appointed a committee consisting of the chairman of the board, A. N. Udy, president of the board, the chairman of the standing committees together with the principals of the secondary schools, to make a survey of the matter carefully arising in a report.

The board feels that they should be in a position to see their financial standing and the range of their commitments at every monthly meeting, and as there is no provision in their organization for this being done the committee will see what information in the way of administration can be made. In this connection it is admitted that the question of the proposed survey by the Citizens' Research Institute may come before the board again.

W. A. Tanner, the secretary of the board, stated last night at the meeting that his office was not equipped to carry on this work and will probably make some recommendations to the committee that will show how the position of the board on the disposition of their funds may be seen at any time that it is desired.

CAUGHT BETWEEN TWO BIG STORMS, BALLOON BURSTS

Falls to Earth, But Huge Trees Save Occupants From Death.

PILOT TELLS STORY

Special to The Advertiser. Frankfort Springs, Penn., July 6.—Caught suddenly between two converging storms, 20,000 feet up, the balloon American Legionnaire, piloted by Captain Chas. McCullough, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, was smashed flat, much as a paper bag is exploded by a sudden blow. The balloon, which left Indianapolis in the national elimination race July 4, was over the Ohio River, at Corapolis, when the storms twisted it flat. It shot earthward, Captain McCullough and his aide being saved by hurling overboard everything in the basket, even to the oxygen tanks, and by the fact that they landed in the spreading branches of a big butternut tree.

The balloon was the seventh of the 13 entrants to be forced down. Upon landing with no broken bones, Capt. McCullough wrote a graphic description of his experiences.

By CAPT. CHARLES McCULLOUGH, Special to The Advertiser. Frankfort Springs, Pa., July 6.—"Being the nut in the nut cracker of two terrific storms 20,000 feet up is an experience I don't care to repeat. Every few minutes, even now that I am safely down out of the big butternut tree that finally saved my life and that of my aide, I have to feel myself over in disbelief that I really am all here with no bones broken. Our 24 hours in the air in the national balloon race certainly ended with a dramatic suddenness.

We started with the others from Indianapolis on July 4, and drifted slowly eastward across Indiana and Ohio. The wind velocity was extremely low, and it was not until we climbed to 20,000 feet that we found a strong blow to carry us on up there. The wind was blowing 40 miles an hour and the Legionnaire was driven eastward rapidly. We should have reached the Atlantic seaboard without difficulty but for unforeseen disaster, which came upon us from two directions at once.

One storm drove up from the northeast, another from the southwest, converging at the very point where we were speeding along—high above the Ohio River at Corapolis. We were moving fast, but the storms were coming faster, accompanied by winds of cyclonic velocity. We were caught between the two storms. It was impossible to go over or under, as the gas was squashed out of our balloon by the compact of the elements.

Tossed about like a bit of twisted paper, a burst of paper bag after a blow had exploded it, we were lucky to make a landing with no broken bones, with practically no gas and no sound. We were obliged to leave overboard everything, even our oxygen tanks, as we neared the ground. Our rate of descent, tossed and sustained somewhat as we were by the high winds, was 1,200 feet per minute at the end; when we neared earth and threw over the heavy tanks, the speed of our fall broke to 800 feet per minute, and as we drifted to the ground, the spreading branches of a big butternut tree—the greatest tree that ever grew—received us. This alone saved us broken bones, or worse.

DRURY WILL HEAD FARMERS IN NEXT ONTARIO SESSION

To Accept Post On Assurance of No Dictation From Any Quarter.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, July 6.—The United Farmers of Ontario met at the next session of the Ontario Legislature will sit as the official opposition, and Hon. E. C. Drury will be their leader, according to indications furnished at yesterday's caucus at the Parliament Buildings of elected and defeated U. F. O. candidates. It is understood, however, that Premier Drury's acceptance of the leadership of the U. F. O. is contingent upon his induction by a convention of farmers and the assurance that he will be subjected to no dictation from any quarter.

OPPOSITION LEADER

Premier Drury, after the caucus tonight, stated that everybody was full of optimism and "on their toes." "We believe," he said, "that we have the effective fighting force of the legislature, and we are certainly going to fight every inch of the way."

It was intimated tonight by members of the leadership of the U. F. O. that while the U. F. O. will constitute the official opposition by reason of being the largest group in the house, it will be willing to continue the practice of the past four years and divide the salary of the opposition leader between the heads of the two parties.

PREDICT IRISH PICNIC WILL BREAK RECORD

Committees in Charge of Details Make Preliminary Plans For Monster Outing.

The annual Irish picnic, always one of the brightest spots of the summer season, will this year be bigger and better than ever, says the sons of Erin, whose duty it is to execute all arrangements. A meeting of the society was held in the Trenchum House last night to make preliminary plans, and judging from the active enthusiasm shown the 1923 frolic is bound to be the best yet.

As far as is known at present the outing will be held on Wednesday, August 22, but the place has not been decided upon. This will probably be done at a meeting called for Thursday night of next week.

All on the committee chairman are back on the job again this year, so the manifold preparations for the picnic will be carried out in a mechanical and businesslike manner. It is announced that the picnic will never before attempted by any organization at a picnic will be inaugurated this time, but members of the society were more than usually reticent on this subject.

The chairman of the various committees are: Railway, Philip Pockock; baby show, Eric Chisholm; dances, "Bill" Moore; sports, Al. Jack Green; membership, Harry Bennett; printing, Ed. Carby; finance, Cecil Sheehy; and refreshments, Charles Finlay.

Field Meet Ends Week For Cadets of District Who Break Camp Today

Corps From All Parts of Western Ontario Compete in Athletic Events On Carling Heights—Fergus Boys Take Advertiser Cup For Platoon Drill.

After a week of real camp life and rigid training at Carling's Heights the hundreds of school cadets from all sections of Western Ontario will begin today to prepare for the trek back home, enjoying to the full the manifold pleasures of camp life which holds for every Canadian boy, and particularly in the monster field day of yesterday which served as the grand finale of the week's events.

The field day which commenced on the heights at three o'clock was one of the most successful of its kind ever staged in the city, and evoked the liveliest competition in every department of its lengthy program.

The Fergus corps carried off the Advertiser trophy for platoon drill in the course of the morning exercise, and in doing so aroused the envy of delegates from all the other sections of the district. The physical training contest was taken by troops under the command of Lt. Knowles of Fergus, and boys from Guelph, directed by Capt. Cleary.

France Tardy Over Treaty Japan Becomes Alarmed

Nation Enters Diplomatic Conversation With American Government Regarding Naval Disarmament Pact Made at Conference in Washington.

Washington, July 6.—Alarmed at the continued delay, Japan has entered diplomatic conversations with the American government over the failure of France to ratify the naval disarmament treaty negotiated in the Washington conference, it was learned on high authority today.

These conversations are understood to be in the nature of representations to the United States, as the power which called the disarmament conference, and Japan has emphasized the desirability of early satisfaction of the treaty.

LONDON BOY SCOUTS IN CAMP AT ST. JOHNS

Second Week-End Camp of Season Proved Most Enjoyable.

The second week-end camp of the season by the Third London Troop of Boy Scouts was held from Friday, June 29, to July 2 at St. Johns village. About 25 scouts were under canvas for the four days, and under the direction of Scoutmaster West and Assistant Scoutmaster Lawton, and thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

All the cooking was done on open camp fires, and the lads declared that the meals were as fine as if they had come from their own kitchens.

The second camp, but plenty of time was found for sports, and baseball, foot races, swimming races and diving were indulged in. On Saturday the excitement of the day was caused by a ball game between the Scout and the Beaver Patrol under Patrol Leader D. Green. The interest was so keen that the game was interrupted by a mobbing of the umpires, Assistant S. M. Lawton and not, after the tussle, but nothing happened after a minor argument was restored to the teams.

On Sunday the scouts, with their leaders, attended divine service in the village church, and in the afternoon three recruits were invested. The results of the swimming races were: First race—1 Scout Williams, 2 Scout Hopper, 3 N. Clark. Second race—1 Scout Williams, 2 Scout Perkins, 3 Scout Clays. Scout Williams, 3 Scout Clays, R. DECLARES KEARNS BALKED AT FIGHT BUT WAS AFRAID TO BACK OUT

Montana Disliked Actions of Dempsey's Manager Over Contract. CROWD PACKED GUN ALL SHOULD HELP

Special to The Advertiser. Shelby, Mont., July 6.—Now it can be told—Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, was plumb scared in the week preceding the big fight here. Failing to receive the third payment of $100,000, he would have called off the fight had he dared, Montana made it clear that it did not approve of fight managers who demand the ultimate pound of flesh, even though legally entitled to it.

Westerner though he himself is, Kearns' experience in this affair was altogether novel to him. All the chances are that any further contracts he makes in behalf of his champion will call for action in centers nearer the Bowery, where the statutes against gun packing apply to all sane crooks.

Several citizens of Great Falls, Mont., of standing and influence in the community, did not hesitate openly to assert that if Kearns failed to get his money, his fight with Tom Gibbons his exit would be attended by material damages.

It is not pleasant for a manager, accustomed to grabbing huge sums of money from the public, to be put for a few rounds of boxing on the part of his meat ticket, to sit in confinement with stalwart hard-eyed gentlemen whose butts make huge bulges in the rear when they take seats—men who journey to and from Shelby in aeroplanes that crash to earth by leaving the occupants miraculously whole and ready to talk turkey next day.

The fight Kearns called off the fight (Monday night) the crowd in the corridor outside his room continued several irate citizens of Montana to had come to the obvious intention of picking a fight, and only Kearns willingness to disregard habit and let them have the last and the best words prevented something nastier. At least, so it seemed.

Word had come to Dempsey, on the other hand, that it would be just as well for his health if he were not to consider the fight. First of all, he faced him in the ring. Arriving here on the morning of the battle, Jimmy Dougherty, the referee, was addressed by a self-constituted committee that the referee employed any party favoring the champion he would make the journey home to Philadelphia in an unconventional attitude, to be specific, feet first.

One may gather from this that those associated with the champion's party were not altogether at ease. They were more, however, four hours before the fight, when it became manifest Dempsey was going to capitalize upon the friends he has made throughout the country. First of all, they arrived Joe Tapscott from Chicago, a celebrated foe of bad men. Accompanying him were two detectives from Chicago, colleagues of Mike Trant, who have spent their lives missing around Chicago's underworld; then, too, there came three men from Logan County, one of the tough mountain districts of West Virginia.

All in all it was a tough bunch. They had themselves deputized as marshals as soon as they arrived. Shelby was entirely apathetic concerning Jack's protection. This arose when they strapped their 44's around their waists and addressed Dempsey. They were very much at his service. When the champion entered the arena his handlers and bodyguards it was a truly imposing procession, and nothing occurred in the course of the battle to suggest that any two-gun man of Montana was swayed beyond the resisting point by an ambition to start anything.

Perhaps if this bodyguard had been available on July 2—well, there is no telling what Kearns might have done. As it turned out, the fight was held. Kearns, Dempsey & Co. got all the money that was good for them and Montana saw a fine fight. Correspondents escaped from Shelby without suffering the evil things that had been promised them. And the rest—so far as Montana is concerned—is silence.

"SHEIK'S" FORMER PARTNER COMES TO LOEW'S THEATRE

A former dancing partner of Rodolph Valentino is playing at Loew's this week. She is Coletta, who presents an original bill of Oriental dances, every one of which gives evidence of her versatility in the tepid-chamber art.

She is the dancing partner of Rodolph Valentino in the days when he was playing in vaudeville and before he had become the general topic of household discussion in America, and in her act at Loew's this week are several numbers which proved as equally attractive at the time when Rodolph shared the applause which her twinkling toes evoked across the footlights.

Expert Thinks Bout Was a Lesson to Champion Regarding His Condition.

REAL PUNCH ABSENT

Special to The Advertiser. Minot, N.D., July 6.—It was lucky for Jack Dempsey that he fought Tommy Gibbons. If he had not, he might have gone on thinking he is still in championship form, and he might have met Fitz Simps. In Tom Gibbons' place, would have been world's champion before half a dozen rounds had been fought.

Dempsey had everything so far as condition goes, but the old grand slam was promptly broken. He had no real punch in the fifteenth round. He was bringing, he had speed, he could box, he had the heart to take a beating, but he had no real punch. He had no real punch in the fifteenth round. RESTORED TO HER PARENTS.
After spending several hours playing around the police station yesterday afternoon, little Kathleen Glover, 2 years old, who was found by police at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets, was claimed by her parents. How she wandered from her home in Manor Park to the main intersection of the city is a mystery.

Opera Star Praises Tanlac for Her Recovery.

Miss Peggy MacDONALD, 237 Horton street, London, Ont., petite opera singer, is another deserving favorite of the public who expresses deepest gratitude for benefits derived from Tanlac. Miss MacDONALD is now appearing with the Gladie Players, under summer contract at the Majestic Theatre.

"Tanalac has done me so much good," said Miss MacDONALD, "that my gratitude is unbounded. For three years or more I had indigestion so bad I was actually afraid to eat, and often I suffered so I could hardly go on the stage.

"Tanalac has not only relieved my awful suffering, but has built me up nine pounds in weight. I have a perfectly wonderful appetite and everything I eat agrees with me perfectly. I just wish I could send the good message of Tanlac to every one suffering as I did, and I'll gladly tell anyone personally about it."

Tanalac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Tanalac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere.—Advt.

THEY CALLED HIM AN "OLD PILL"

WHAT was years ago when he looked a terrible grouch, a mighty irritable stomach and a liver that refused to do the things that all good livers should. No wonder his friends called him an "old pill" and stayed away.

But that was years ago—long before he discovered Beecham's Pills and learned that two at bedtime can bring sunshine into a man's life. Today, he's an optimist, a hero to his wife, and a staunch believer in Beecham's Pills.

The cause that Beecham's Pills bring into a man's disposition, is the incomparable cheer of sound digestion, active liver, and the regular habits that make good health.

BOARD WILL PAY $1,000 TO DR. WEIR FOR LONG SERVICE

Members Decide To Delay Question of Survey Under Dr. Brittain.

FAVOR APPOINTMENT

As a token of their appreciation of his work on behalf of the educational system in London and on behalf of the children of the city, and also in recognition of more than a quarter of a century of faithful service as an officer of the London board of education, Dr. George S. Weir, late attendance officer, was given an honorarium of $1,000 last night at a meeting of the full board.

There was no discussion on the recommendation of the special committee appointed to deal with the matter of the doctor's superannuation allowance, and the proposal to give him a lump sum of $1,000 was agreed to by the board in less than a minute.

In this connection it is understood that a proposal of an annual allowance of $500 was first made to the doctor, but he was also asked to survey the assessment rolls while drawing this sum. Doctor Weir preferred to be free to follow his fancy after this long period of service, and said that a lump sum would be more acceptable to him, with the result that followed in today's meeting of the board.

Explains Survey.
Colonel W. J. Brown, secretary of the local branch of the Citizens' Research Institute of Canada, in a short address to the board, explained the survey which it is proposed to make, and outlined the nature of the work that has been carried out by the institute in other cities. Dr. Horace Brittain of Toronto answered questions of the trustees as to the service his staff were able to offer. They decided to talk the question over and to come to a definite agreement and communicate with Colonel Brown in due course.

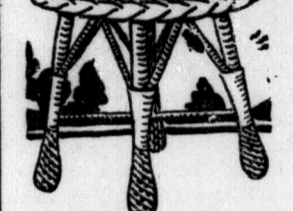

All the recommendations of No. 3 committee as to the appointments of teachers at the Central Collegiate, which were made some days ago, were approved by the board with little discussion. They congratulated the committee on the high qualifications of the men secured by Mr. Miller.

and standing brought considerable discussion from the trustees. The secretary was instructed to give all information to which the council had a right.

Lacks Bookkeeper.
Secretary Tanner in answer to a question stated that the work should be done in his office, but that there was no adequate staff and no bookkeeper. He asked for a committee to look into the question, and was told that perhaps the Research Institute, when and if they started their labors, might find some solution.

The request of William Buchanan, who supplied the board last year with coal, and who fulfilled his contract, in spite of a loss of one dollar per ton, owing to the strike, and who asked the board to meet this loss, some $1,800, was referred to No. 2 committee. The board is paying about $6,000 more for their coal this year than last.

The board agreed to protect the workmen in their employ under the workmen's compensation act. This will mean a yearly premium of about $144, but it was agreed by the board that in view of the fact that they are at present responsible for their workmen's compensation, it would be good business to use the protection afforded by the act.

Will Secure Inspector.
Mrs. Hunt wished to know why the advisory vocational committee had decided that the erection of the new addition to the Technical School did not need the service of a supervisor while in the process of building. Trustee Fred Lawason, agreeing with Mrs. Hunt, moved that a supervisor for the building be appointed, and this was carried unanimously.

About 9,500 square feet of slate will be needed by London schools up until the end of 1924. The slate can be bought in carload lots at a price that will effect a saving of $500 in the board, and they instructed the architect to arrange for the purchase of this amount. Inspector Greer and the architect will be the judges of the quality of the slate. The price quoted was from 49 to 55 cents per pound, and the carload runs at 5,000 pounds. Another advantage of buying in large quantities was stated to be greater uniformity in the quality of the slate. The traveling expenses of the various officials of the board were subjected to some discussion at the close of the meeting, and may be brought up at another meeting.

Our Family Food—Where and What To Buy

Dainty Foods In Summer To Solve Many Troubles Is Mother Fedwell's Plan

She Tells Poor, Worried Mrs. Eatums How To Cure Fickle Appetites in Hot Weather.

By WINIFRED STUART GIBBS
Food Specialist.

Mother Eatums was a bit downcast. Jim had come in with a "summer cold," the twins were "off their feed," and she herself had hardly the ambition necessary to plan for the feeding of her heat-tried family. Just when she was beginning to feel that life was indeed a problem, Mother Fedwell "breezed in" to use Mother's expression when describing her entrance.

"Now, Eleanor Eatums, cheer up! I was just like that yesterday, but I decided that a mere weather man should never get the better of a Fedwell, so here I am to share my new-found pep with you."

"You need not tell me about it! Syllables are a burden this weather! I'll just go ahead and tell you what I've been thinking out. There isn't a great deal that is absolutely new about it, but after all one has to stir a bit just to think of new ways to dress up old wisdom, and this is especially true in regard to feeding folk."

"Let's be loyal to our old friends—the greens, dandelions, spinach, lamb's quarters, mustard! They are all fine for sluggish livers and appetites not to mention dispositions! And pineapples! My dear, do you realize that the digestive principle in this delicious fruit will just take hold of a hearty serving of meat and bury it along in a half-digested form, saving the rest of the system a lot of work?"

"Then let us for health's sake have eggs and fish at least three times a week instead of meat. These are much easier to cook in hot weather and better for us into the bargain. With cheese salads added you need not be afraid of your family's getting run down."

"Of course, the chicks will go on with their milk, and if you can persuade that Jim of ours to take bread and milk for his downtown lunch instead of the rich hotel lunches he has been affecting since going with that new crowd, he'll also be much better."

"As for desserts, have you a vacuum freezer? They are simply wonderful! But at all events your old freezer makes a lot of frozen desserts possible, and I advise your serving only three types of desserts all summer—frozen plain fruit or simple junkies, or other milk puddings."

"What do you think? Tom confided to me the other day that he and the fellows would eat green vegetables if they were served plain with salt and vinegar, which the fellows by for those who like to mix their own! Said that fussy, jazzy dressings women concoct spoil salads for some men."

"I was surprised, but it gave me an idea!"

"Oh, and tea wagons, and lazy Susan, and many other things, and napkins, and division of labor in serving and, above all, a plan for the meals will make the summertime so much easier."

"Every night," as Hermione would say, "I ask myself, 'Have I simplified today, or have I failed?'"

"Let's try it!"

DRESSING FOR SUMMER SALADS

This is the season for a variety of salads and dressings, for attractive dressings are always of interest to the housewife, not to mention those who have the privilege of eating the salads!

Since the warm days are apt to deprive of some of our "pep" it is a good plan to simplify all household processes as much as possible. Then, too, the summer dietary may well be more simple than that of winter-time.

The very simplest of all salad dressings is the French dressing, and this is the best possible one for a plain dinner salad of hearts of lettuce.

Recipe for French Dressing.

One teaspoonful salt, one-half teaspoonful mustard, one-fourth teaspoonful red pepper, four tablespoonfuls vinegar. Take salt, mustard and pepper and mix with one tablespoonful oil, then add remainder of oil and vinegar.

Perhaps the next most practical dressing is a cooked mayonnaise. This is merely a more formal name for the old favorite, "boiled dressing."

A dressing like this is admirable for a potato or other "hearty" salad, one that is planned as the chief dish of a simple hot weather lunch, or mayonnaise tucked into the picnic basket will solve one of the difficult out-of-door supper problems.

Recipe For Cooked Mayonnaise.

Yolks of two eggs, beat with a silver fork, then beat well into the eggs three even teaspoonfuls mustard, two salt-spoonfuls salt, about same amount of sugar, beat into this alternately five teaspoonfuls melted butter, six tablespoonfuls vinegar, then add seven or eight tablespoonfuls boiling water. Cook this until it thickens, stirring constantly. The main thing is to have it as smooth as possible. Salad oil may be used instead of butter.

Thousand Island Dressing.
Mix one cup of mayonnaise made with mustard, one tablespoonful chopped green pepper, one-half tablespoonful grated onion, one spoonful chopped pickled beet, one tablespoonful chopped pimento. When thoroughly blended, fold in two tablespoonfuls whipped cream and serve cold.

Delectable Dishes From Sour Milk

It is a real trick to do successful sour milk cookery. The following recipes have been prepared by an expert and may help our readers to save the valuable food represented in sour milk:

- Ginger Bread.
Four tablespoonfuls butter.
Half cup sugar.
One egg.
Half cup molasses.
Two teaspoonfuls cocoa.
Half cup sour milk.
One and three-quarters cups flour.
Three-quarters teaspoonful soda.
One teaspoonful ginger.
One-quarter teaspoonful cinnamon.
One-quarter teaspoonful salt.
One teaspoonful allspice.
Sift flour and spices, salt and soda together. Mix other ingredients in the order given and combine mixture. Bake in moderate oven 30 minutes.
- Boston Brown Bread.
One cup whole wheat flour.
One cup graham flour.
One cup molasses.
One cup corn meal.
One teaspoonful salt.
Two cups sour milk.
Half cup molasses.
Mix dry ingredients thoroughly. Mix the sour milk and molasses. Stir in dry ingredients, beating thoroughly. Turn into well buttered pound baking powder cans. Cover tightly

Curious Changes in the Eyes of a Fish.

A study of the different forms and habits of fish will bring most interesting things to light. As an instance: One of the most peculiar things about flounders is that the young of the species swim upright as in the case of all adults of any ordinary species. The eyes of young flounders are like those of ordinary fish, one being situated on each side

ASK PREFERENCE FOR VETERANS IN RAILWAY EMPLOY

Resolution Indorsed At G.W.V.A. Convention—Charge Aliens Are Favored.

FEARS PATRONAGE

Canadian Press Despatch.
Vancouver, July 6.—Desirability of preference in employment to ex-service men employed on Canadian railways was discussed in yesterday's session of the G. W. V. A. here with the result that a resolution was indorsed to the effect that "Whereas, under the working agreement between the Canadian National Railways and the men's representatives in the event of reduction of staff seniority of service governs, and this would affect a majority of ex-service men now employed, all members of his majesty's forces should take their seniority before any of the unutilized aliens; that their seniority should be dated from the date on which they joined the forces, such seniority rights to be applied in all instances, except for promotion in the service, and also that ex-members of his majesty's forces be given preference for employment at promotion." It was contended by delegates from various transportation east and west by the conditions at present existing in railway employment, ex-service men were frequently laid off while enemy aliens and unutilized citizens were kept at work.

Owing to the lack of unity of policy on the part of the veterans organizations in regard to the disposal of the pension funds, the convention recommended that a select commission be appointed of representatives of all provinces, including representation from each provincial unit of the Dominion Veterans' Alliance, to inquire into a recommendation as to the distribution of the funds.

The convention went on record as urging that all possible pressure be applied to the federal government through local members in order that the "vicious influence of the Hearst and similar newspapers may not find circulation in Canada."

A number of resolutions dealing with employment were passed, chief of which was one that stated that the G. W. V. A. views with alarm a tendency apparent in some political quarters to return to the patronage system with the consequent elimination of the power and duties of the civil service commission, and urging upon the Dominion command and the people of Canada generally the necessity for the maintenance of an independent civil service commission. "In order to avoid the evils which would eventually befall the suggested return to the patronage system."

The government was also called upon to continue the measure of re-establishment, making provision for the employment of ex-vocational students in industry, business, in railway service, etc., thus enabling them to qualify for permanent positions.

C.G.I.T. HONOR MEMBER BEFORE LEAVING LONDON

The C. G. I. T. Club of Maitland Street Baptist Church held its annual picnic at Springbank Park Wednesday.

At 6:30 about 20 girls sat down to a supper which was in charge of Pearl Motz, Thelma Mantle and Margaret Roe.

A pleasant feature of the evening was a handkerchief shower given in honor of Nellie Norton, who is leaving shortly for her new home in Coburg. The presentation was made by Miss L. Franklin and Thelma Mantle.

Miss Norton responded in a few words of appreciation, and expressed her regret in leaving the girls. Mrs. L. Roe also expressed her regret at the loss of Miss Norton, whom she described as a splendid C. G. I. T. worker.

A Mohammedan would usually rather die than eat pork, while the Hindu regards the eating of beef with horror—but that is a matter of religion.

A good way to extract onion juice is to slice from the bottom of the onion and then use a glass lemon squeezer. If only a few drops are required they may be extracted by forcing a section of the onion with a fork.

It is well worth while for the housekeeper to compile a food calendar, showing when each food, whether meat or vegetable, is in season. Most of these facts are in a general way, but until we have made a systematic summary we can hardly be aware how often we slip into the temptation to serve something a bit out of season and of corresponding extravagance.

ONE WOMAN'S DROWNING EXPERIENCE.

It is a popular belief that when one is going through the agonies of drowning that the events of one's life pass in rapid review through the mind. This is declared to be a fallacy, the declaration being made by Flora Le Breton, a screen actress, who went through all the experiences of drowning while performing at Bouleau. The action of the play depicted had been anticipated and the coach and its occupants were swept away, and it was only with great difficulty that the girl was rescued from the interior of the vehicle. She was tossed about and held prisoner while the water covered her, and she says that what she remembered was the awful struggle for air and then all was blank and black, but the incidents of her past life cut no figure in her experiences. When she was finally rescued it was feared that she had been in the water too long and that the spark of life had been extinguished.

"Beauty Doctor" May Require a Degree.

France proposes to restrict the profession of "beauty doctor" to fully qualified medical practitioners. A good many Continental physicians do so as a matter of fact, specialize in that branch of the medical art. Dr. Kaup, the German physician who looked after the civil prisoners at Ruhlleben, had been before the war, a beauty doctor in Bond street.

Still Lower Prices On Some Articles To Clear Balance of Groceries—At Thomas

Well over half our stock of groceries moved out last week, so that now, while many lines are cleared out, there are still many needed articles at real attractive prices. Since delivery is almost impossible in view of the rush, we cannot offer this service at all.

Many Articles That You Need Are Left

No Delivery!

Last week the unusual rush of orders entirely crippled our delivery service so that this week we are asking all patrons to carry their purchases of groceries. We regret very much not being able to give our usual good service, but have still further lowered many prices to counterbalance this handicap.

FRIDAY, JULY 6, 1923.

A Memorable Day at Ottawa.

What an expenditure of energy was poured out on June 23 to bring the session of the Dominion parliament to a conclusion. It started at 11 o'clock in the morning, lasted all day with the noon recess, and the night session was not over until 7:55 Saturday morning.

The House of Commons Debates for that day make a memorable contribution to the consumption of white paper in this country. It contains 144 pages with some 950 words to a page, or about 136,000 words in all.

Hon. Arthur Meighen must have realized that it was his last chance to do a great deal of speaking. He made the best of it, his name appearing no less than 195 times.

Sir Henry Drayton was not far behind Mr. Meighen. Possibly it would not have been in good taste for him to outdo his chief in the number of times he spoke, but he came perilously near doing so, being credited with having spoken 183 times.

The prime minister was not conspicuous for his frequent speech, because, including the necessary moving of reports and answering of questions, his name appears only 57 times in that long session.

Mr. Meighen spoke for the sake of speaking. There was political rancor in many of his many addresses. There were old scores piled up that had to be settled right then or not at all.

It is more desirable than holding an open inquiry locally, where witnesses would be called to give evidence against officers, or for officers. These inquiries seldom arrive at any definite point, because the people conducting them have not the training to put their fingers on weak spots and transform them into strong sections.

Local inquiries into fire, police or other departments in Ontario cities in recent years have thrown up mounds of local prejudice that are just as big today as they were three or four years ago.

It is highly desirable that this class of work be proceeded with on exactly the same plan that a physician would use when he diagnoses the case of a sick man. He is not seeking to hurt the man, but to help him.

Major Wenige is on very good ground when he sanctions this method of probing the working of various civic departments. When the findings are sent in they have a finality that could not be secured in any other way.

Meantime German presses grind them out at the rate of millions and billions and trillions. The wonder of it is that, with all these facts before the people—and they are before them every day—that any person is left who is gullible enough to place a good Canadian dollar over against a trainload of German marks.

It is not even a good gamble now; it is plain suicide. Mr. Fielding's answer to all that was very simple: "May I point out that the right hon. gentleman in his own last session of parliament, three or four days before prorogation—to use his own words, in the last week of the session—brought down estimates, not for $15,000,000, but for $23,000,000."

Mr. Meighen was critical, sarcastic and doubtful. Not at any time was he constructive in all the long hours of that memorable session.

John Kearns, aged 21, of Freeport, N.Y., was put in the jail at Welland. When no person was looking he climbed on a pipe 50 feet to the roof of the jail. From there he jumped to the top of the wall around the jail yard, and then swung out into a tree.

He was recaptured inside of an hour. John Kearns is not in a class by himself. There are many others who expend whole tons of energy trying to wiggle out of trouble.

Were they to apply even a fair share of this same energy and resource to the ordinary tasks at which men work they would soon arrive near the top of the heap.

Purely a Business Proposition. Brantford Municipal Railway, in its report to the ratepayers, shows a deficit in operating expenses of $13,517, and adds that were it not for the operation of one-man cars the amount of the shortage would have been at least $50,000. It is intimated that the next move will be toward a higher cash fare with some limitations on transfer privileges.

Brantford has demonstrated that it cannot run its street railway on a five-cent cash fare. During the provincial election campaign much was made of the fact that the London Street Railway had been allowed to increase its fare to five cents, with almost unlimited transfer privileges. It is hard to see how anything approaching a good case could be made on this score. There is not a place in the country selling transportation at seven and nine tickets for 25 cents, as London railway was doing before the increase was granted.

Were the city to take over the road the cost of travel would have to be based on the cost of operation. It could not become a charge on the community at large, nor would it be possible to allow deficits to pile up in the hope of overcoming them at some future time.

All these things are straight business propositions. Those who sought to make political capital against Dr. Stevenson simply established the fact that he was a member of the legislature which had permitted the London Street Railway to cease selling tickets at seven and nine for a quarter, and get a five-cent fare. They did not go any farther in the matter, not even staging the claim that it was an unjust charge, or that the people were being held up by having to pay the new scale.

Likewise in the last municipal election in London, when taking over the street railway was an issue, there were those quick to make the claim that if the city owned the line the fare could be four cents. On the face of it that was a poor claim to make because there was no justification for it. There was not one set of reliable figures put up to show how the people of London could buy the road, put it in shape, and then sell transportation at a four-cent rate.

This case is likely to come up again in London because we have not settled our municipal transportation problem. The city can express a willingness to buy the road, or the non-expression of such a desire gives the present company another five years in which to operate.

The point in the whole thing is this, that the tossing the local street railway issue about for political purposes and the attempt at another time to establish the idea that it would be possible to operate on a four-cent rate are both bad for the local situation if the people here are going to own and operate the street railway system. They must be prepared to do so on the basis of paying in fares what the road costs to operate.

The Fair Way to Probe.

If it is necessary to have civic investigations, the method adopted by London is undoubtedly the most desirable plan. The Citizens' Research Bureau has at its disposal experts, disinterested and capable, who can sift out a situation and name the desirable course to correct any defects that appear.

It is more desirable than holding an open inquiry locally, where witnesses would be called to give evidence against officers, or for officers. These inquiries seldom arrive at any definite point, because the people conducting them have not the training to put their fingers on weak spots and transform them into strong sections.

BRINGING UP CHILDREN.

Only take heed to thyself and keep thy soul diligently, lest thou forget the things which thine eyes saw, and lest they depart from thy heart all the days of thy life; but make them known unto thy children and thy children's children.—Deuteronomy iv, 9.

Surely it would be a good thing, if, in our schools, it could be recognized that a child had far better grow up thinking that the earth is flat than to remain ignorant of God and moral law and filial duty.

And it would be a still better thing, if, in all our homes, there could be a sincere revival of household piety—piety in the old Roman sense, which means the affectionate reverence of children for parents; piety in the new Christian sense, which means the consecration of parents and children to God.

This would refill the flame of devotion upon many a neglected altar, and shed a mild and gracious light through many a gloomy home, making it the brightest, cheerfulest, holiest place on earth.

A WORD TO COLLEGE MEN NOW GRADUATED INTO BUSINESS

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D., United States Senator from New York. Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

During the past few weeks there has been a number of commencement ceremonies, the granting of honorary degrees and the announcement of prizes to winners.

At a y medals were distributed for scholastic attainment. It would be interesting to follow these splendid young people and mark their careers. What has become of the winners of a Boston prodigy and live up to it? The intellectual must be warned against the dangers of pure culture. Spend part of every day studying men. Then your study of books will be not on the sports of college. He never dons baseball togs and is afraid of a sweater. He is fearful of being considered worthy. He is himself above the pleasure of the field of gymnasium.

The intellectual is inclined to look down on the sports of college. He never dons baseball togs and is afraid of a sweater. He is fearful of being considered worthy. He is himself above the pleasure of the field of gymnasium.

Young man, you may absorb all the wisdom of the ages, but if you have not health, you are doomed to failure.

Medal men who fail, fail to fail through common sense and for want of strength and health of body. They have brains, but their gray matter is never used for the common and popular things in life.

No matter how the medal men of 1923 have fostered these faults, it is not too late to mend. Give yourself a thorough inventory and then proceed to develop the human side of your nature.

Real strength of mind comes from mental contacts and contests. Strength of body comes from physical exertion. Begin now, medal men, college graduates and all you other young folks! Be human enough to train your muscles as well as your brain cells.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUESTIONS.

O. S. Q.—Will you kindly advise me as to the cause of a very red complexion?

A.—This condition may be due to high blood pressure. I would suggest that you consult a physician for a blood count to determine whether or not you have high blood pressure, and follow the advice the physician gives you.

F. G. N. Q.—Will you kindly tell me whether it is always necessary to have an operation to cure gonorrhea?

A.—No, an operation is not always necessary to cure a gonorrhea. For further particulars, restate your question and inclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

A. V. S. Q.—Is it necessary for a boy 15 years old to take exercises night and morning if he plays in the open air from 5:30 to 8 o'clock every day?

A.—No, but he should practice deep breathing in the morning on arising. This is very helpful.

MISS A. L. Q.—I have a very bad breath and I have tried many remedies, but none seem to help me. What would you advise me to do?

A.—This may be due to constipation, indigestion, nasal catarrh, diseased tonsils or decayed teeth. You should first find out what is causing the trouble in your case and then suitable treatment can be outlined. For instructions on the treatment of constipation, restate your question and inclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

MRS. M. Q.—Will you please tell me whether it is harmful to give a child 2 years raw potatoes?

A.—Yes, it is very harmful to give a child 2 raw potatoes. The potatoes should be either baked or mashed.

MISS D. C. H. Q.—Will you kindly tell me what causes my tongue to become coated?

A.—This is caused by indigestion or constipation. If you will send a self-addressed, stamped envelope, restating your question, full particulars on the treatment of this condition will be given.

ORIGIN OF O. T. A.

Editor of The Advertiser:—Sir,—Will you kindly let us know through the columns of your paper which government framed the four questions that the people voted on about four years ago? Was it the Drury government or the Hearst government? Yours truly, D. E. Formosa, Ont., July 4, 1923.

Answer—The Hearst government was in power at that time.

Looking Abroad

By DOUGLAS McREYNOLDS.

Few writers have said harsher things about the Germans than their own poet Heine, who spent the latter part of his life in Paris and who is buried in Montmartre Cemetery. For many years his admirers in Germany took care that his grave was properly cared for, and made arrangements with a Paris florist for regular supplies in flowers for the poet's last resting-place. During the war this custom was discontinued, but recently its sponsors attempted to revive it. They warned the florist dealer that, owing to the difficulties of exchange, regular payments might not be forthcoming. To this message the florist replied: "Keep your money. I never ceased to decorate Heine's grave during the war. I have continued and shall continue to do so. If your money returns to normal, you can repay me; if not, your poet shall nevertheless receive his bouquet regularly."

Heinrich Heine always had an intense love for Paris from the day when in 1821 he proclaimed the French capital. This predilection for things French is probably due to the fact that his early years coincided with the most brilliant period of Napoleon's career, and the boundless admiration which he is never tired of expressing for the emperor throughout his life. Heine was a true schoolmaster rather than a drummer and trooper of a victorious army than the masters of the Dusseldorf Lyceum, where he was educated.

When in 1830 the news of the July revolution in Paris reached Paris, Heine hailed it as the beginning of a new era of freedom and more than ever his thoughts turned to his lifelong plan of settling in Paris, a plan which he finally realized in May, 1831. His first impressions of the city were jubilantly favorable; Paris, he proclaimed, was the capital of the civilized world; to be a citizen of Paris the highest of honors. He was soon on friendly terms with many of the foremost of the city's capitalists, and for a time he carried on a lucrative journalistic activity as correspondent for German newspapers.

In December, 1835, however, the German Bund issued its notorious decree, forbidding the publication of any writings by the members of the "Young Germany" coterie, of which movement Heine was considered the leading spirit. The serious and immediate effect of this decree was to curtail considerably Heine's source of income. His uncle had allowed him 4,000 francs a year when he settled in Paris, but at this moment he was not on the best of terms with that relative. Under these circumstances he was induced to take a step which his fellow-countrymen found it hard to forgive; he applied to the French government for support from a secret fund formed for the benefit of "political refugees" who were willing to place themselves at the service of France. From 1836 until the revolution of 1848, Heine was in receipt of an annuity of 48,000 francs from this source.

In October, 1834, Heine made the acquaintance of a young Frenchwoman, Eugenie Mirat, a student in a bookshop in Paris, and before long had fallen passionately in love with her. Although ill-educated, she was a woman of a deep and lasting affection, and in 1841, on the eve of a duel in which he had become involved, he made her his wife. "Mathilde," as Heine called her, was not the comrade to help the poet in the days of adversity, or to raise him to better things, but, in spite of passing storms, he seems to have been happy with her, and she nursed him faithfully in his last illness.

In 1845 appeared the first unmistakable signs of the terrible spinal disease, which for eight years, from the spring of 1848 to his death, condemned him to a "mattress grave." In these days he used to have himself carried to the Musee du Louvre, the Venus de Milo, and here he would lie for hours, gazing upon and worshipping this most beautiful of marble. "The most perfect woman in the world," as he called her. These years of suffering—suffering which left his intellect as clear and vivacious as ever—again have effected a purification in Heine's nature, and to have brought out all the good sides of his

A SCOTCHMAN'S PRAYER.

(Written by request.)

Faith! another day has dawned; We've wakened frae our slumber sweet; Ere noon we face our daily tasks We'd fain approach thy mercy-seat.

Oor lika sin we sairly greet; A' oor transgressions we confess; Tune lika hert fae lilt thy praise That we thy name may truly bless.

Oh, wash us frae a' stains o' sin! Be pleased tae cleanse oor guilt Awa'! Gie thine ain spirit tae us till We've nae a selfish wish ava'.

Thy mercy an' thy rightousness Frae morn tae e'en we'd lo'e tae laud; Then hert communion wi' thyself May we be favored aft wi' haud.

SPORT SNAPSHOTS

Four pitching aces are carrying the New Orleans Club in the Southern League to a pennant just as sure as the income tax payments come due.

And one of those four round stars is George Winn, young southpaw obtained from the Cleveland Indians last spring.

All of which is very cheerful news for Manager Speaker of the Tribe, who counts on having Lefty George back again next year.

Winn should be walking the bridge of some nifty destroyer—or whatever Annapolis grade he has—before the entrance exam, but the guys who stood next to him in the exam list drew the appointment.

Then Winn decided to drown his sorrow in law and went to the University of Georgia and then Mercer on legal knowledge bent. He found time to play ball, however, and while captaining the team has a sophomore was grabbed by the Boston Braves for a trial.

They left him go and the Red Sox looked him over. They then sent him to Omaha, called him back and sold him to Oakland in the Pacific Coast League. Oakland kept him two years and then sold him to Nashville. The Indians bought him from Nashville.

At Omaha Winn came within a hit of entering the hall of fame.

His home is in Perry, Ga. He's twenty-four.

ST. MARTINS VS. ST. PETERS TONIGHT.
Heavy rain, which fell yesterday afternoon and early evening, prevented last night's postponed C.A.A. game between St. Michaels and St. Marys at Sunshine Park. The game will likely be played off next week.

St. Martins meet St. Peters at Sunshine Park tonight.

"IRON MAN" JOE MCGINNITY.

Tennysen's pet brook, which goes on forever, has little on "Iron Man" Joe McGinnity. At 52 this baseball star is pitching winning baseball for Dubuque, Ia., in the Mississippi Valley League. He has pitched three 3-hit games this season, and works on an average of three games a week.

ST. THOMAS PLANS BIG SOCCER BILL

Horton Cup Fixtures Start On July 14th.

Special to The Advertiser.
St. Thomas, July 5.—Arrangements are being made by the St. Thomas City Football League for a home and home game series with the Colonials of Niagara Falls in the near future. The L. and D. Council at London will be appealed to also for a home and home game series. The Colonials have a reputable record, having defeated the Swifits of Toronto this year by the score 4 to 1.

The United Veterans of this city meet the St. John's Rovers next week in the Horton Cup series. The soccer fans of St. Thomas are in line for many snappy fixtures. The fans are still feeling the disappointment of the C. N. R. team of London, who failed to put in an appearance for the league fixture with the Junior Rovers last Saturday. The soccer fan feel that they are being done an injustice in London teams have repeatedly pulled this trick, letting the Saints go to London, but willing to come to the Flower City for the return match.

The drawing up of the schedule for the second half of the St. Thomas series has been completed. The first game will be played July 14 between the M. C. 3. and the United Veterans. The remainder of the schedule is as follows:

July 19—St. John's Rovers vs. M. C. R.
July 24—United Veterans vs. St. John's Rovers.
August 2—St. John's Rovers vs. United Veterans.
August 9—United Veterans vs. St. John's Rovers.

The E. A. Horton Trophy draw, home and home games, follows:

July 14—United Veterans vs. St. John's Rovers, Armories grounds. Referee, D. Forsyth.
July 23—St. John's Rovers vs. United Veterans, M. C. R. drive a bye.

W.F.A. LEAVES ALL DATES OF GAMES TO CLUBS

Special to The Advertiser.
Kitchener, July 5.—Owing to the difficulty in naming dates for the Western Football Association play-offs, the executive has decided to leave that to the teams themselves, but the secretary, D. Forsyth of Kitchener, has been empowered to name dates in case early agreements are not made between the teams concerned.

All fixtures are to be home and home in the first round, as indicated. In the following rounds the secretary is authorized to equalize the choice of grounds so that no club will be called upon to play the second game away from home in two successive rounds. Should both clubs have equal claim the question will be settled by lot.

In the junior series to save expense the appointment of referees is left with the clubs, but in case of no agreement application must be made to the secretary in ample time, as required by the rules.

Seniors Battle Woodstock Over River on Saturday

Hank Downs Will Likely Hurl Against His Jinxes—Saints Visit Stratford.

Last evening's downpour muddied up the ballyard at Tecumseh Park, and the senior's drill had to be called off. Both the fielding and the batting ends of the local amateur machine needed the going over, in preparation for the Woodstock game here tomorrow afternoon. London's last trip into Woodstock territory demonstrated the fact that, regardless of Woodstock's position in the league standing, that team is up there with the others in fight.

There the sting of defeat that still smarts the locals' memory, and they intend to make the revenge sweeter by administering it tomorrow. Ray, an outfielder, might as well have owned up to a long pitcher's training, judging by his appearance against the locals at Woodstock. He had them all swinging, and errors behind him failed to upset his effectiveness.

Hank Downs had a mean wind to contend with at Woodstock, however, and the fallers acted as if the wind was an every-day occurrence there. Hank will, in all probability, be sent to the hill tomorrow. He, too, remembers the sting, and will endeavor to remove it. If his men give him a run or two to keep, he should show Woodstock how real curves are served up.

London must win this game, or they have already dropped one to the Saints, and the way the same Saints are speeding, doesn't leave many slips to be counted on. Stratford is playing host to the Saints, also tomorrow, and if they can send Danny McPherson and his pals home with a loss under their arms, the top of the climb will be again in sight.

Woodstock crowded nearly 1,500 fans into their new plant on the occasion of London's last visit there. There's room for twice that many across the venerable Thames, and there should be a big turnout of fans. Since Woodstock strengthened the team, a real fight can be counted on, and the locals will be called on to battle all the way.

Little Lessons In Golf

BY CHESTER G. HORTON, Nationally Known Golf Instructor.

Although I take great pride in the fact that "Chick" Evans has been a pupil of mine, I am just as proud that "Chick" has done a lot of original thinking on golf. He enjoys the distinction of being almost the only great golfer who uses the plain finger grip. "Chick" disagrees with many golfers, including myself, that distance cannot be secured with the "Vardon" grip, although he admits the other virtues. Speaking of the Vardon grip, Evans says: "The individual may adapt details best suited to his taste, and surely any grip that works as well as 'Chick's' is best suited to him. The grip is the same for every shot in golf except the putt. 'Chick's' is a game within itself, and will be discussed later. Vardon originated a great grip, and it suits you if you can't go wrong using it." (Copyright, John F. Dille Company.)

LENGLÉN TRIUMPHS IN MIXED DOUBLES

She and Belgian Southpaw Did Not Pair Well.

Associated Press Despatch. Wimbledon, July 5.—Miss Suzanne Lenglen has at last lost one of her many championships in tennis. She was forced this afternoon to give up her claim on the title to the mixed doubles championship of the world, and what is worse, she lost her honor in two straight sets. She and her partner, Jean Washer, the Belgian champion, were defeated 7-5, 6-2, in the semi-finals by the old tennis team, Randolph Lycett and Miss Elizabeth Ryan, veterans of many a four-racket contest.

Somewhere tonight no doubt statisticians are trying to remember when, if ever, Miss Lenglen had previously dropped two sets. It never has happened in the past, at least in the French girl became a person of renown. She was gracious in defeat this afternoon, shaking hands with her opponent and then with her opponents, with whom she walked off the courts, chatting easily.

Washer is a left-handed player, and this was the first year Miss Lenglen had him for a partner, she having won last year with Patrick O'Hara Woods of Australia. They did not seem to work together easily, certainly not with an understanding of what the other would do. Suzanne had to handle some hot drives; a few of these she smashed into the net; others she drove beyond the boundary, but what was most surprising was that her shots usually falling just inside the lines in deep back-court, kept falling outside this afternoon. Tomorrow in the center court Miss Lenglen will meet Kathleen McKane, first ranking English woman player, in the finals for the women's single championship.

There was another match today which was much more interesting and the crowd went into ecstasies over it. This match was the one in which two small bob-haired English girls, Joan Austin, a brunette, and Evelyn Collyer, a blonde, triumphed over the team composed of Miss Vlasto Greene, and Miss Eleanor Goss, United States.

Both the girls give promise some day of becoming real stars, for each serves in the circle overhand, but both holly with finesse and each has a fine assortment of overhead strokes.

Having reached the semi-finals, the new player Mrs. Youle and Miss Rose, and if successful will contest for the title on Saturday. Their opponents probably will be the Lenglen-Ryan combination, which does not appear now it feels to her to two other women.

Wimbledon, July 5.—Tomorrow all the remaining semi-finals in the various doubles events will be played, so that on Saturday all the winners will be ready for championships. Tomorrow's schedule is as follows:

Women's singles—Kathleen McKane versus Suzanne Lenglen.
Semi-finals, men's doubles—Lycett and Godde versus Britain, versus Dean and Pizee of India—winner to meet DeGross and Fiaux.
Women's doubles semi-finals—Miss Lenglen and Miss Ryan versus Mrs. Youle and Miss Rose versus Miss Austin and Miss Collyer.
Mixed doubles semi-finals—Vincent Richards and Mrs. Mallory versus Dean and Miss Shepherd versus Britain and Miss Lycett and Miss Ryan in the final Saturday.

Tilbury, July 5.—The Kent County Baseball League game between the Maple City club of Chatham and Tilbury, scheduled for Tilbury grounds on Saturday afternoon, has been postponed by mutual consent until Thursday afternoon, July 12. As this will be the first clash between Tilbury and Chatham this season, the game is awaited with interest.

Arrangements are being made to bring the fast Cadillac Motors baseball team of Detroit to Tilbury for an exhibition game in the near future. (Clare Powell, a former Tilbury boy, is on the line-up of the Cadillac outfit.)

Shelby will go down to history as the greatest fliwer in fight history, but it will also go down in history as the town that hung up the last great purse for a fistie encounter. Tom O'Rourke, white-haired veteran manager, and now impresario of the Polo Grounds A. C. has already started on the road to reason, and in future the highest-priced seats at the Polo Grounds will be $10. And the purses are sure to follow.

Meantime, Shelby in a week will be back to normal, coyotes howling at night on the outskirts of the village, the good citizens once more breathing the fresh air of the wide, open spaces, and the atmosphere of big business surrounding the fight game has blown away and is no longer a contamination.

Port Arthur, Ontario, wants the return bout between Gibbons and Dempsey. Port Arthur, it says, is served by steamship lines and three transcontinental railways. Yes, yes; go on!

George Awrey has resigned his athletic directorship of Queen's. If accomplishments count, he's left the over-sized pair of shoes behind for his successor to fill.

Dan Cupid has committed three personal fouls against the Shamrock basketball team this year. Another one and Daniel will be ruled out of the game, or the Shamrocks will.

About the only thing the fight experts were right about was the crowd. And Shelby was wrong there.

TEX WILL OFFER DEMPSEY FIGHT

Winner of Willard-Firpo Go Will Get Bout.

Associated Press Despatch. New York, July 5.—Tex Rickard has announced that he will start negotiations at once to match Jack Dempsey with the winner of the Luis Firpo-Jess Willard bout, for a world's title fight here, probably at Boyle's Thirty Acres, in September or October. Willard and Firpo, who will battle at the Jersey City arena on July 12, have signed an agreement under the terms of which the winner will be matched with Dempsey, Rickard said.

Willard and Firpo are close to their fighting edge. Both plan but a few days more of strenuous work before tapering off.

Willard has lost six pounds in the past two weeks of training, tipping the scales today at 240 after eleven rounds of fast work.

Firpo, though in fighting trim at the start of his training at Long Branch, as a result of a trip to Cuba and Mexico, has not slackened his program of conditioning. He faces the stiffest test of his rapid climb in Willard's Thirty Acres on July 12. State Controller Newton Burgee, New Jersey boxing commissioner, announced today.

Jeffries is barred from being the third man in the ring by an amendment to the boxing act of 1922 which, said Burgee, provides that a referee must have lived in the state three years before he is appointed to preside at a fight.

LEAFS BEAT HOSPITAL 3-1 IN POSTPONED MIX

Maple Leafs defeated Westminster Hospital in a postponed City League game by a score of 3 to 1 on Wednesday at the hospital grounds. The Hospital team played with ten men, and put up a terrific battle against the Leafs, but it was too much of a handicap against a team of the Leafs' calibre.

The Leafs ran in their three goals in the first half, while the Hospitals were held scoreless. Miller, Hazelwood and Faulkner doing the sharp-shooting. Davies scored Hospital's tally from a penalty.

The Hospital line-up was: Wheatley, Parr and Davies; McCay, Haynes and Noddy; Woodward, Ledham and Smith; Saunders.

The Hospitals eleven will play W. O. R. Saturday at the Westminster Hospital grounds in an exhibition game, permission for which was obtained at last night's meeting of the London and District F. A.; kick-off at 2:30. Arrangements are being made for a game of both clubs. All Hospital players are requested to be on hand in plenty of time for the kick-off.

W. O. R. is trying out two new players in this trying out and Hospital team is trying out a new halfback, Brian Ricketts, who arrived from the Old Country just two days ago.

New York, N. Y., July 5.—Pitchers of the National League are showing a lot more in the first half of the 1923 season than they showed for all of the 1922 season. There is some joy in that for the managers and hope for the fans.

Belyea's Display Is Finest Seen At Henley This Year

All Foreigners Ousted. So the Diamond Sculls Will Be All-British Event.

Associated Press Despatch.
Henley-on-Thames, July 5.—Finishing with a magnificent burst of speed that thrilled the spectators, Hilton Ross, St. John's, Canadian sculling champion, today eliminated Dr. Rudolph Bossard of the Grasshopper Club, Zurich, Switzerland, in the competition for the Diamond Sculls, at the Henley regatta.

Belyea, the experts agree, gave the finest display of oarsmanship seen at Henley this year. Many experts before the race had predicted that the Canadian's 33 years would be a handicap and would cause him to crack under the strain of the Henley mile and a quarter sprinting course. Bossard was leading Belyea by nearly three lengths towards the finish of the race, when Belyea displayed a burst of speed and quickly overtook his opponent and passed into a two-length lead at the finish.

Tomorrow Belyea races D. H. L. Gollan, deaf and dumb British sculler, who has already met and defeated Walter Hoover of Duluth, former holder of the Diamond Sculls trophy, and Russell Codman, Jr.

Codman today proved no match for the British oarsman, who led from the start and won by two lengths. His time was 8 minutes, 30 seconds.

The winner of the Belyea-Gollan race tomorrow will meet J. Bernersford, Jr., of the Thames Rowing Club, Saturday, in the final for the trophy.

Today saw the elimination of the last of the foreign entrants in the Diamond Sculls events, the final will be all-British.

Bernersford won today from K. E. B. Wilson by two lengths.

Special to The Advertiser.
Woodstock, July 5.—The Businessmen sprang a surprise on the fast-moving Juniors a hotly League game tonight, and put a crimp in Bill Blacklock's kids by hitting freely, and Bougherty was hit quite freely, and his men were throwing the ball pretty well all around the park. Foster was on the slab for five innings for the Businessmen, and did very well. Parker worked the last two innings, and held the Juniors scoreless.

Coles in left field was the fielding feature, while Mitchell's perfect night with the willow was the best hitting performance.

M'CLARYS BREAK PERRIN WIN STREAK

Come From Behind in the Fifth and Win Easily, 5 To 3.

McClarys grouped three hits with as many errors in the fifth frame of last night's Manufacturers' League game with Perrins for four runs, clinching the fray, which they later won 5 to 3.

For the first three innings one solitary hit apiece was all that disturbed a pitchers' battle between McClarys and McVicar. But in the fourth Perrins started one beautiful run in on a double and a pair of sacrifices, and then started singing again. Two singles were "erred" all around, and the count was three before they were stopped. That ended Perrins' scoring and their hitting for the game.

In the fifth an error started McClarys away. Three singles followed in rapid succession before another error and a wild peg later a dropped third strike. With four tallies chalked up, Loughheed hit into a double and Coleman grounded out. The last run was scored on one hit, a walk, a fielder's choice and a hit batter.

OXFORD-ELGIN LEAGUE RACE TIGHTENING UP

Special to The Advertiser.
Ingerd, July 5.—By winning two important games away from home, confidence has been restored in the local baseball team, which is now practically leading in the O. B. A. series in the Oxford-Elgin League. The locals struck their winning stride when they took the measure of Springfield on their home grounds. Springfield at that time was leading the league, but in the interval they have hit the tobagian. Yesterday they covered themselves in defeat from a game at Tillsonburg. The keenest rivalry now exists in the league, and a great struggle is predicted before the championship has been decided.

WALKERTON CINCHES W. F. A. GROUP.

Special to The Advertiser.
Walkerton, July 5.—The local junior football team clinched the district W. F. A. championship Tuesday night by beating Mildmay here by 2 to 0. Out of four games to play, the Juniors have played three. They have won two and tied one, so that it is next to impossible for them to lose out on the present series. Walkerton played very good football and deserved to win.

GREAT ADVERTISERS STARTED WITH LITTLE

Firms Now Nationally Famous Had Small Beginnings.
It is not necessary to have a lot of money to start advertising. Many of the largest advertisers started on an unbelievably small scale.
The following first appropriation figures, taken from the May issue of Printers' Ink, shows how humbly many well-known advertisers began: Hupp Motor Corporation, $100.65; The Proctor & Gamble Co., $11,543; William Wrigley Company (total capital), $32; The Charles E. Hires Company, $700; The Borden Company, $513.75.
Even the smallest appropriation, if it is wisely placed, will bring results. It is not the size of the beginning, but the consistency of the effort that counts. Why not apply the same principle to your business?
A small percentage of your gross annual business will pay for a good sized campaign if concentrated in the publications that give you a most complete coverage of your prospects. Invest your advertising dollars in mediums of known circulation and proven value. Even the smallest appropriation, if it is wisely placed, will bring results.

Canadian Press Despatch. Philadelphia, July 5.—An unidentified woman leaped or fell to death from the third floor of the Wanamaker store here at noon today. Crowds of shoppers on the streets witnessed the fall.

It Takes 42 Pounds of Butter To Pay a Plumber for One Day.

It takes 42 lbs. of butter or the output from 14 cows fed and milked for 24 hours to pay a plumber $4.00 a day in New York. Again I say, the one sure place for the farmer to get one hundred cents value is from John A. Nash My Jeweler "where you will eventually buy."—Adv. zxy.

WANTS "SANITY" SIGN ON CANADIAN BORDER

U.S. Senator Would Place Sign Marked "Nonsense" On American Portal.

Canadian Press Despatch. Montreal, July 6.—Paying tribute to the attractions Montreal holds for tourists, United States Ex-Senator John J. Walsh of Massachusetts, speaking here yesterday, declared himself strenuously opposed to prohibition.
"I do not believe in anything unnatural," he said, and he suggested it would be a great thing for Canada to establish a propaganda in the United States opposing prohibition. In reference to this question, the ex-senator thought that it would be appropriate for Canada to have a sign marked "Sanity" at the country's entrance for tourists, and that as a contrast a sign should be placed at the American portal marked "Nonsense."
"I like to come to Montreal," Ex-Senator Walsh continued, "because it fills every human want adequately."

LONDON, ONTARIO, FRIDAY, JULY 6, 1923.

WESTERN ONTARIO CORN SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

RAIN HAS HELPED CORN CROP WHICH SHOULD BE HEAVY

Growth in the Last Week Has Been Surprising, Is Report of Farmers.

HAY CROP FAIR Harvesting of Wheat May Have To Start Before Haying Ends.

Farmers in the London district say that crop conditions have improved greatly during the last week as a result of the rains which have fallen throughout Western Ontario.

The corn crop shows the greatest improvement and it is estimated that the yield will be a good one in spite of the tardiness with which the growth started.

The oat crop has gone too far to receive much benefit from the rains, as the heads had started to form before the rains reached this district.

Haying is going on rapidly, hampered somewhat by occasional rains, but so far, the rainfall has not been sufficient to cause great anxiety among the haymakers.

The wheat crop is all harvested and those who grow this type of hay say that the crop was a very fair one and weather conditions for the harvesting were ideal.

RICHMOND ST. PAVING TO BE DONE THIS YEAR

Ald. Douglass Assures Work From Fullerton to Oxford Streets.

A new pavement this year on Richmond street, from Fullerton to Oxford streets, is practically assured, according to Ald. Leonard Douglass, chairman of the board of public works.

The chairman reported today that in company with City Engineer Near he conferred last night with a number of residents of the thoroughfare, who had already registered opposition.

OPPOSES THE SENDING OF TROOPS TO SYDNEY

Ald. John Colbert Says City Should Send Protest to Ottawa.

Ald. John Colbert, president of the London Street Railwaymen's Union, deplores the use of troops in the strike area of Cape Breton, Nova Scotia.

He reasons that this question should receive the attention of the members of the city council at their next session in the event that the disturbances among the miners and steel workers down east are still in progress.

A formal protest should go to the federal authorities in Ottawa from the city council, argues Ald. Colbert, who adds that it is a shame that the militia should be sent from all parts of Canada down to Nova Scotia, empowered to shoot, if deemed expedient, workmen who have declined to work 11 and 13 hours each shift for less than $4 a day.

Similar protest was lodged yesterday in Montreal by the machinists' union, and according to certain labor representatives in London, like procedure is expected in other parts of the province.

RELIEVES MATE, SARNIA MAN DIES IN OIL EXPLOSION

James Thompson, Meets Instant Death at Imperial Oil Company's Plant.

EXTENSIVE DAMAGE Houses in District Are Rocked by Force of Blast.

Special to The Advertiser. Sarnia, July 6.—But for an arrangement made to oblige a fellow-employee, James Thompson, 40, and father of five children, who was killed in the blast at Imperial Oil last night, would have been well today. Thompson late Wednesday had agreed to take the duty turn of Francis Stewart, single, also employed as a fireman, who wanted to take the steamer trip to Tasmoo Park.

It is now established that Thompson was on one of the overhead walks near the still. His body was thrown in the air by the explosion and fell beside the still. On top of it came quantities of burning oil, and only a few charred remains were found after the fire was extinguished. For a time a number of stills containing oil, and the whole plant with that part of the city, were in danger, but the company's fire-fighting organization proved wonderfully efficient and saved the adjacent stills.

SUZANNE LENGLEN RETAINS TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP

Special Cable to The Advertiser. CITY HALL STAFF TO GET HOLIDAYS TO START AT ONCE

Ald. Judd Secures Action in Conference With the Mayor.

NO EXTRA WORKERS Duties of Those on Holidays Will Be Performed by the Regular Staff.

After weeks of suspense, it seems as though city employees will be starting directly upon their holidays as of tomorrow.

Ald. Albert Judd, chairman of the finance committee, tackled Mayor Wenige on this point at the city hall at noon today, explaining that from all reports, no member of the city hall staff had yet gone on vacation, although in other years holidays had long since commenced by July 6.

The chairman insisted upon some definite action, and the mayor said this question had once claimed the attention of the council, but nothing official had been done owing to lack of unanimity among the aldermen.

Girl-Bride of But Few Days Back At Home With Mother Who Took Her from Husband

"I Have My Daughter Back and I Shall Keep Her If I Have To Work My Fingers to the Bone," Says Mrs. Bartlett, Speaking of 18-Year-Old Mrs. Laird.

"I have my daughter back, and I will keep her, if I have to work my fingers to the bone," declared Mrs. S. Bartlett, 108 Askin street, referring to the elopement of William Linton Laird, Sarnia, and her 18-year-old daughter, Iris, and who were found at Port Huron after the aid of the police had been enlisted.

"Matters went along like this for some time. He did not seem to pay any particular attention to Iris, although she liked him, as I thought, in a friendly way.

"We met Mr. Laird some months ago," she stated, "and he seemed to be a remarkably nice man. He was well-mannered and highly respected by all who knew him. He was a prominent church worker in the Baptist church, which he attended, and he had a good position at Sarnia, where he was living. He used to come and visit us quite often and we were always ready to welcome him as a friend.

NEW EGG RULING WILL WORK WELL FOR EVERYONE

Dealers Expect Cut in Profits, But Say Waste Will Be Eliminated.

HELPS CONSUMER Farmer and Householder Will Benefit Most From New Legislation.

The Dominion Government has announced that on and after Monday, July 9, the buying and selling of eggs must be carried out according to grades.

This means that the present practice of produce dealers and commission houses, who buy eggs at a flat rate from the producers and recandle and grade them, according to their own standards, will have to buy from the farmer according to stated government grades and will have to sell them in the same way.

Produce dealers besieged the deputy minister of agriculture, J. H. Grisdale, with letters, feeling that their profits have been unduly tampered with. In any event, the farmer and the householder will, in a measure, derive real benefit from the legislation provided it is rigidly enforced.

"Re-awh," the W.C.T.U. Fresh Air Camp Opens This Week At Springbank Park

Fourteen Children Bid Farewell To The Dread Heat of City Streets.

Across the new foot bridge just beyond the pump house at Springbank. Then up a winding path on the farther bank of the river. And you're in the very midst of "Re-Awh," the W. C. T. U. Fresh Air Camp for children.

A HAPPY GROUP AT CAMP "RE-AWH." Just three of the 14 small children who are absorbing quantities of oxygen as well as good wholesome food at the W. C. T. U. fresh-air camp, which opened at Springbank this week.

The camp is only just open for the season, and already there are 14 happy children enjoying the fresh air and the beautiful surroundings of the river.

A visit to the camp is a delightful experience. Perhaps you happen to arrive at dinner time. The children, 14 of them, are ranged around the long table covered with dinner.

Five of the children have been guests at the camp for three successive years, and are awaiting the splendid picnic which camp life is building up for them.

The day consists chiefly of eating, playing about among the trees, and bathing or wading in the river. While the nights mean happy dreams in the airy dormitories, where rows and rows of cots stretch the sky.

The camp was instituted by the W. C. T. U. ten years ago, the first camp being merely a tent or two pitched up near the shore in 1914.

LAMBETH METHODISTS HOLD GARDEN PARTY

Outdoor Function, Organized By Ladies' Aid and Epworth League, a Success.

Special to The Advertiser. Lambeth, July 5.—One of the most successful garden parties held for some years was that which took place on the spacious grounds of the Methodist Church on Wednesday evening.

The program was under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society and the Epworth League, committees from both of these organizations worked indefatigably.

The program was an exceptionally fine one, the London Mixed Quartet proving excellent entertainers, while the Onedia Brass Band dispensed good music.

SURE WAY TO GET RID OF BLACKHEADS There is one simple, safe, and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them. To do this, get two ounces of peroxide powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear. Blackheads are a mixture of dust and dirt heavy and curly appearance in the pores of the skin. The peroxide powder and the water dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition.—Adv.

This Fine to Curl Hair Is Way for Outdoor Girl The summer method of curling the hair is the proper thing (for either bobbed or long hair) before going motor-ing, boating or golfing, or indulging in any outdoor sport or exercise. It not only gives the hair the most beautiful heavy and curly appearance, but it also protects the hair from the sun, wind or heat, will not take the curl out. The curliness is quickly acquired and lasts much longer than where waving tongs are used. Besides, the hair is bright and lustrous, instead of dull and dead looking. When combed out it is as nice and fluffy as if it had just been shampooed. Just get a bottle of liquid simerine at any drug store, follow the easy directions, and you will be simply delighted.—Adv.

Mothers and Their Children Rainy Day Peace. When my children become quarrelsome after being shut in the house for a while, I divide out their play room, which is not large, with chalk mark petitions, giving each one his corner to play in, calling it his workshop, and making it a rule that no one who is not invited may enter. I find that this seems to make the room large enough for all. (Copyright, 1923, Associated Editors.)

Miss Fashion Will Roast In Velvet Gown and Hat

The Thermometer Has Nothing Whatever To Do With This Summer's Styles—Furs and Fans Fraternize.

By AILEEN LAMONT, Special to The Advertiser. Copyright. New York, July 5.—The iron hand of fashion will be encased in a velvet glove the remainder of this summer. How to be comfortable, though costumed, will become a burning question to women. For velvet dresses and hats will be worn, no matter what the state of the thermometer. Perhaps someone will discover a method of looking cool in spite of red velvet and summer furs, for those who aspire to more than a cold look from worshippers of the prevailing mode.

In the Rue de la Paix, the scissors of the cutters in the workrooms of the great designers already are shearing through the beautifully piled fabrics and New York and London are preparing to follow the lead. For the afternoon frocks, "visiting" dresses as the French call them, the plain velvets will be utilized, while for evening wear the laces and velvet brocades will be the favorite. Already among the plain materials there have been evolved such weaves as tanagra velvet, salmon velvet, tangerine velvet and sytka. The printed velvets will exhibit distinctive colorings, but the designs will be very simple and not over-laded on the background. The Lames will glow and glitter with flashing brilliancy. The advance guard of the velvet brigade—the hats—already have made their appearance. Many small hats, cloches and small cape-lines, now being worn, are of Bankok and horsehair with velvet crowns and trimmings. These follow the wood

At the Movies Last Night

"The Trail of the Lonesome Pine."

Admirers of pretty Mary Miles Minter are advised to see her in "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" at the Allen the remainder of the week, as it has been announced that this remarkable picture, a certain amount of vitality into what might otherwise have been a colorless endeavor. There are some tense moments in the film, some thrilling moments of the dramatic, but Alice Brady fits too well with the rustic of silk, and the fit of New York clothes, to stir on very much as a South Sea Islander. A voice a bit finer than the usual run of vaudeville voices is that possessed by a member of the "Billy Melbourne Company," the headlining vaudeville act. But her singing is all too brief. Another song or two wouldn't have been amiss.

"The Great Alone."

Monroe Salisbury in "The Great Alone" is a popular sort of offering at the Patricia the remainder of the week. This stalwart individual deals with an inspiring series of adventures in the far north, in the customary June-Edwidge, Ernest Torrence, Ruby La Fayette, and others, add real touches. "The Leopardess." Alice Brady is hardly the ideal type for the "jungle plant" type of girl, but in "The Leopardess," at Loew's, she makes the most of her natural, possible role of a degenerate Scotchman's daughter, brought up in lotus-eating fashion, on a South Sea Island, living in a dressing like her native "beasthen."

SCIENCE GETS RECORD OF WHEAT PER ACRE

Good Field Husbandry Brings Results On Farm At Davis, California.

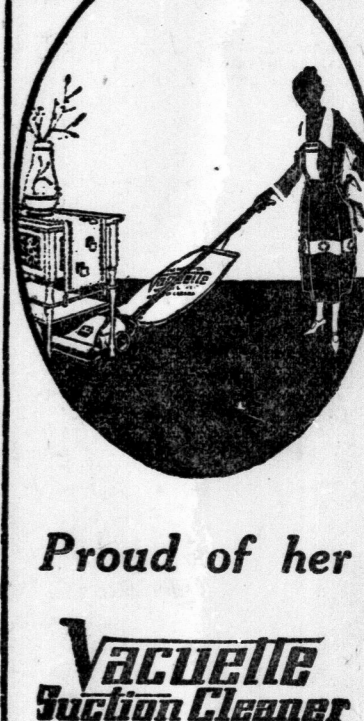

Thomas Hill, one of London's old boys, who is now living in Oakland, California, sends to The Advertiser an account of 110 bushels of wheat produced per acre on the University farm at Davis, Cal. This exceeds by 8.4 bushels per acre the highest previous experiment station record. The reason for this extraordinary crop was systematic breeding, seed collection, seed treatment, approved farm practices, and a deliberate attempt to make a naturally productive soil produce to the limit of its capacity. The crop, which is of high milling quality, has elicited much interest, and is to be widely distributed for seed.

Your Home and You

By HELEN KENDALL.

A GARDEN OF FRIENDS. The hostess and her guests were walking through the garden, where tall hollyhocks and larkspur bloomed beside foxgloves and gorgeous lilies. The hostess was touching different blossoms in a friendly way, and presently she stopped beside a splendid gladiolus, saying: "How do you do, Mrs. Armstrong? Oh, you are opening out beautifully. And a little farther on she saluted a mass of phlox with the gay words: "Oh, my friends, the Taylor girls! Aren't you looking your best, though?" The visiting friend laughed over this personalization of the garden flowers, and the hostess explained: "Well, you see practically everything in my garden has been given to me by friends. The Taylor girls started me with a sample of each of their fine phloxes, and each has spread until now you see how large the Taylor family looms in my garden! My dear old friend, Mrs. Armstrong, sent me one of her choicest gladiolus bulbs, and so of course I have named it for her. I am trying now to have the garden of every one of my friends and neighbors represented in my garden, and I in turn want mine to be represented in theirs; so whenever I grow anything particularly fine, I give them all cuttings or roots or seeds of it." Just then she paused on the edge of her vegetable garden and exchanged greetings with a great rhubarb plant, towering above all the others near it. "My friend, Bob Cummings," she introduced her guest solemnly. "The finest one he grew last year, so he sent it over to pay

When You Can Be Well, Why Be Sick!

Why Suffer Delay and Grow Worse?
Enjoy Life—Health—Happiness

To Have No Back Pains, No Nervousness, No Kidney Disease, With Plenty of Life, Energy and No Blood Disease, Is the Wish of Every Young, Old or Middle-Aged Person.

To you—if you are sick—if you suffer—if you are afflicted with any ailments of MEN—if you are worn out, tired or failing, if you need medical advice—if you are not in perfect health—if life is a dragging, miserable existence—if you lack energy, vim and vigor that make life worth living, to you—rich or poor—young or old—you need my treatment at once.

Nerves and Blood Are Life
The lack of nerve force is found among men of all ages. This is true with men in all walks of life, from the day laborer to the mechanic or professional man. Merchant and clergy are alike sufferers—no man is exempt from the ailment who has rebelled against nature's law, so if you have the result of overwork, dissipation, sedentary habits or worry, and your vital organs are disturbed, remember, delay in seeing the right doctor makes it more difficult to overcome the symptoms, and you might reach a point where you are beyond belief if you delay too long.

NO PAIN, NO LOSS OF TIME FROM WORK BY EXAMINATIONS

My Equipment
Is composed of the latest and best known agents in Electrical, Surgical and Mechanical Apparatus, and I am prepared by the knowledge of their uses and the experiences in prescribing them so as to get the greatest uniform results from them.

I Am Prepared to Give You
Serums, Bacterins, Vaccines and any and all forms of treatment of this character that have been tried and proved a success.

YOUNG MEN—THINK OF YOUR FUTURE

How about it, are you qualified to face it—are others doing more and getting more out of life than you are? Find out, if you don't know already, what is dragging you down. No one can violate nature's laws and succeed. I have helped thousands physically, mentally, morally. I believe, as I have thousands of other men, can help you. Just be frank and tell us your troubles. Let me help you to regain and maintain your health.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN

Constitute a large part of my practice. At this time of life a most important physiological change takes place and men feel the need of an experienced doctor for men to not only treat them at this critical period but as well to advise them as to what to do and what to avoid to regain health, strong nerves and a sound body once more.

The Dangers of Bad Blood Overcome by SCIENTIFIC METHODS
SKIN ERUPTIONS—ECZEMA, ACNE, PIMPLES, ETC.—ARE NOT TO BE WORN OUT.

Windfall Apples Always Sell Quickly For Apple Jelly

WANT AD TIPS

A Market For Used and Off-Grade Goods

Between perfect condition and a state of no utility whatever, there is a wide gap. Think of nearly any article. Most stores sell it only in Number One Shape, yet it has value all along the line, as it deteriorates under use, until it is junked. And the junkman gets value out of it, even then!

If there is value in a thing, the fact that it is not new, not Number One, does not necessarily militate against its sale. This newspaper has hosts of readers of the Want Ad section, who are in the market for just such bargains. That is the right word—bargains. Keen buyers know that the purchaser of many new articles, from automobiles and washing machines to dwelling houses, pays a substantial premium for the new condition. The moment the article passes into the buyer's possession there is an immediate and heavy drop in sales value.

And when the same thing is sold, used condition, it is possible in most cases to get it at a bargain, value considered. The foregoing points the way to successful Want Ad methods with used and off-grade goods. Don't describe the goods in your Want Ad as better than they are—that will only mean disappointment when over-hopeful inquirers call. Describe the goods accurately.

Then indicate their usefulness. And, finally, suggest the big opportunity to save.

An orchardist, who has many windfall apples every year works along these lines, bringing in many an extra dollar for apples there is no market for in regular trade channels. He advertises, "Fine, big, windfall apples, just the thing for apple jelly, butter, cider. Pick them up yourself; 25c a bushel."

The well-worked Want Ad quickly sells used or off-grade articles. (All Rights Reserved.)

SIGHT SAVING CLASS FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Institute For Blind Ready To Care For Eyes of School Children.

School Inspector V. K. Greer included the following letter in his last report to the board of education from the Canadian Institute for the Blind: "With reference to sight-saving class survey in your city, I would say that, subject to later ratification, our board will endeavor to place itself in position to make a survey of the children of school age in your city who are eligible for sight-saving class provision, during the coming fall at our own expense for salary of workers. This obviously cannot be undertaken until classes reopen next session and at that time details of arrangements, including disposition of records made, as well as the obligation of your board concerning activity to be undertaken as a result of our findings and recommendations, can not be gone into and agreed upon before the survey is inaugurated." The board has realized for some time the pressing need for what are known as sight-saving classes amongst children whose vision is below par and some time ago asked the co-operation of the board in arranging this work. The board will consider the proposal offered and in all probability avail themselves of the help suggested.

ANOTHER BIG MONTH FOR BUILDING WORK

Permits Issued in Six July Days Total $49,955 in Value.

Londoners are evidently out to break another building record in July. This is but the sixth of the month and $3 permits have been issued from Inspector Piper's office, at an estimated construction value of $49,955. If this speed is maintained the 1922 total will be smashed with comparative ease.

FINE PROGRAMS BEING PRESENTED AT PORT STANLEY

Cameron Geddes Leads In Community Singing of Popular Songs.

NUMEROUS PICNICS

Tonight there will be a change of bill at the L. & P. S. free movies, Port Stanley, when the feature picture shown will be "O, Where Is My Wandering Boy?" There will also be two splendid comedy reels, with a laugh at every turn, and plenty of excellent music by the L. & P. S. orchestra, headed by Prof. Angelo Russo. Cameron Geddes will again be heard in popular numbers, and he will, as usual, lead the community singing. When old-time ballads and the latest hits will be rendered, with the audience as a gigantic chorus. Monday and Tuesday nights of next week the feature film will be "The Glory of Clementina," and on Wednesday and Thursday nights, "Jack O' Lantern."

Makes Big Hit.

Community singing has made a tremendous hit at Port Stanley. Every night the people fill the spacious theatre situated close to the board walk and sing the songs they love best while the orchestra keeps accompaniment, and Mr. Geddes takes the lead. Every week-night during the season the sing-songs will be continuing.

Manager Fegin of the L. & P. S. cafeteria reports the largest patronage in the history of the cafeteria. due, no doubt, to the splendid cooking and excellent foods served by the railway. The people have learned at last that it is cheaper to eat at the L. & P. S. cafeteria than it is to pack a basket. The L. & P. S. bathhouse has this week alone been patronized by thousands, and on Monday last it was taxed to its capacity, though it people were L. & P. S. bathing suits that day.

RAILWAY TEAMS AT SOFTBALL.

The deciding game in the Canadian National Softball League will take place Tuesday evening next at Springbank. The game has been twice delayed on account of rain, and the delay seems to make the feeling of the married and single men's teams run higher. Both teams are confident that they can bring home the bacon and the match has created such an interest that a large crowd of the railway employees is expected to watch the match on Tuesday.
