WOMEN AND DEAD THINGS.

Mr. G. Bernard Shaw, noted critic, playwright, author, and anything else he wants to be, has a notable letter in a recent issue of the London Times. He points out that men attending grand opera at Covent Garden, are forced, by the management to wear evening suits, if they occupy seats anywhere on the lower floors, and continues:

"At 9 o'clock (the opera began at 8) a lady came in, and sat down very conspicuously in my line of sight. She remained there until the beginning of the last act. I do not complain of her coming late and going early; on the contrary I wish she had come later and gone earlier. For this lady, who had very black hair, had stuck over her right ear the pitiable corpse of a large white bird, which looked exactly as if some one had killed it by stamping on its breast and then nailed it to the woman's temple, which was presumably of sufficient solidity to bear the operation. I am not, I hope, a morbidly squeamish person, but the spectacle sickened me. I presume that if I had presented myself at the doors with a dead snake around my neck, a collection of black beetles pinned to my shirt front, and a grouse in my hair, I should have been refused admission. Why then is a woman allowed to commit such a public outrage? Had the lady been refused admission, as she should have been, she would have soundly rated the tradesman who imposed the disgusting headress on her under the false pretence that 'the best people' wear such things, and withdraw her custom from him; and thus the root of the evil would be struck at; for your fashionable woman generally allows herself to be dressed according to the taste of a person whom she would not let sit down in her presence. I once in Drury Lane Theatre, sat behind a matinee hat decorated with the two wings of a seagull, artificially reddened at the joints so as to produce an illusion of being freshly plucked from a live bird. But even that lady stopped short of the whole seagull. Both ladies were evidently regarded by their neighbors as ridiculous and vulgar; but that was hardly enough when the offence is one which produces a sensation of physical sickness in persons of normal humane sensibility.

"I suggest to the Covent Garden authorities that if they feel bound to protect their subscribers against the danger of my shocking them with a blue tie, they are at least equally bound to protect me against the danger of a woman shocking me with a dead bird."

This desire of the daughters of Eve to wear dead things is certainly most extraordinary. Men don't do it, yet the members of the supposedly softer sex, seem to delight in disporting bodies or portions of bodies of birds, or animals. Wings or the entire corpses of the feathered tribe are often used by them as ornaments. In winter furs are worn around their necks with the heads of animals and the gleaming teeth displayed at the clasp. A new fad is said to be the use of snakes' bodies as belts, and so the list might be extended. Why should this be, especially upon the part of those members of the human race, who are supposed to be all tenderness and sensitiveness and humanity?

When a man gets back home after being away camping he feels that he could sleep better if he removed one wall and left one side of the house wide open. City houses, with their little windows, are built for winter, not summer.

GERM DISEASES OF SUMMER

NO ONE NEED FEAR SICKNESS IF MI-O-NA IS USED.

It is the person with a weak stomach who first falls victim to the germ diseases of summer.

People with strong stomachs and natural digestion are ordinarily not subject to bowel troubles, diarrhoea, and other germ diseases that are so common and dangerous in the summer months.

A Mi-o-na tablet taken before each meal will give such health and strength to the weakest stomach that the whole system will become strong and well, and so clean and sweet that there will be no chance for disease germs to become active. Mi-o-na acts directly upon the whole digestive system, soothing and healing the inflamed stomach lining, strengthening the nerves of the solar-plexus, and building up good flesh, firm muscle, and perfect health.

A great many people imagine that their headaches, dizziness, heart burn, or general despondency and weakness is a sign of fatal illness, when the whole trouble is the direct result of a weak stomach and imperfect digestion. A 50 cent box of Mi-o-na tablets will show by the great gain in health that the stomach is the cause of the poor health, and that Mi-o-na is the only remedy that will drive out all weakness, debility, and disease.

Mi-o-na is so nearly infallible in curing the diseases resulting from a weakened stomach, excepting cancer of the stomach, that C. H. Gunn & Co. guarantee to refund the money should the remedy not give perfect satisfaction.

DR. LONSDALE IS DIVORCED

Former Chathamite in the Divorce Court One Week and Married the Next

First Wife Says He Would Have Been Digging Ditches Had It Not Been for Her—Attended Business College Here

One week ago Dr. Lonsdale, of Detroit, was divorced by his wife. On Thursday he married his housekeeper, Mrs. Nicholl, and sailed for Europe. His former wife says: "I supported him; for many years I supported him; but for me he would be digging ditches to-day, and this is my reward. We came to America from England in 1855," she continued with tears in her eyes. "We settled in Chatham, Ont. There wasn't anything that my husband could do, and I worked and slaved and sent him to a business college. We soon moved to Minneapolis, where a friend advised him to study medicine. So he went to the medical college of the University of Minnesota and I supported him by conducting a training school.

"We remained there only a year, and then moved to Omaha, where he entered another medical college, and I, of course, had to support both him and myself. He got into trouble with the professors, and then wanted me to send him to the Electrical College at St. Louis. So I borrowed the money and we moved to St. Louis, where he finally graduated."

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY—THE BEST IN EXISTENCE.

T. M. Wood, manager of the White County News, Beebe, Ark., is a representative southern business man who does not hesitate in expressing his good opinion of a well known remedy. He says, "It gives me pleasure to recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy, having used it myself and in my family with the best results. In fact I believe it to be the best remedy of the kind in existence." Sold by All Druggists.

ONLY FOR ORNAMENT

A good story is travelling at the expense of a local real estate agent. It seems that he was eagerly and eloquently outlining the advantages of a certain house for sale to a prospective lady purchaser.

"My one objection to the place is that it has no bath room," was the response. "I want a bath in the house."

"Oh, that's nothing," replied the enterprising agent. "Why, I have one in my house and I don't use it once a year."

Quarrel Ends Fatally.

Toronto, July 26.—As a sequence to a quarrel with his wife, William J. Poggensee, aged 27, of 97 Hanbury avenue, hanged himself yesterday morning. His wife discovered the body when she returned to the house for her belongings.

WORLD OF SPORT

Here is a suggestion which may be of use to farmers and gardeners at this season. The Philadelphia Bulletin says: "The farmer's scarecrows were all garbed in blue. 'A blue scarecrow' said the man, 'does more good than ten ordinary ones, for birds hate and fear blue as you and I hate and fear typhoid and consumption.' A professor pointed out to me that blue was the thing for birds. At first I was unbelieving, but I experimented, and found that professor to be right."

BOWLING

In the London tournament yesterday both Chatham rinks went down to defeat. Dr. Bray's rink succumbed to Dr. Robertson's Stratford rink in the first round by the score of 4-18. In the second round Wilson Taylor's rink met defeat at the hands of the Stratford rink by E. W. Roy, the score being 12-14.

LAUROUSSE

President George L. Allen, of the C. L. A., was in the city to-day, the guest of Mr. Frank Babcock. When asked regarding the playing off of the St. Thomas-Chatham lacrosse match, Mr. Allen stated that the game would be in at likelihood by the end of the week. The date has not yet been fixed. Mr. Allen also stated that St. Thomas and Chatham stood a good chance of landing the junior championship.—London Free Press.

CRICKET

Pittsburg, July 26.—The defeat of Detroit to-day by the Zingari team, of Pittsburg, 120 to 99, came in the nature of a surprise, and prevented Detroit clinching the cup being played for in the cricket tournament. The score to date stands: Detroit, 2 wins; Pittsburg, Zingari, Chicago and Cleveland, 1 each.

BLENNHEIM

July 27.—A large number of men are working on the railway erecting a coal hoist midway between the Blenheim station and the diamond. Three young boys, Ralph and Laird Story and Wilfrid Steward, son of John Steward, wandered from home on Tuesday and went to Cedar Springs. From there they walked to Erieau via the lake shore and slept on the floor of the pavilion. A search was made for them the greater part of the night. In the morning (Wednesday) John Steward, Rev. Mr. McLean and F. Boemer went to Erieau, and after they had passed the Shrewsbury station saw the tired trio of boys heading for home. The gentlemen had to go to Erieau and then got a hand car, and when they reached the boys they were not far from home. They were a tired lot and had not enjoyed their trip much, especially sleeping on the floor.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Shillington and family are holidaying at the cottage at Erieau.

Chas. Ordish, of Toledo, is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Mallory, Sr., Lake View House, Erieau.

Mr. Egglestone, of the Standard Bank, Brussels, has taken K. Fraser's place as teller of the local branch here.

In the report of the London bowling tournament the Blenheim rink succumbed to a rink from Owen Sound in the first round for the Labbat trophy.

Mr. John Ferguson, of Sarnia, was a Blenheim visitor on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mallory have returned home after paying a pleasant visit to relatives at Mallorytown, Ont.

A. G. Bounsell, of Chatham, who has been visiting relatives in town for a few days, left on Wednesday morning to spend the rest of his vacation at Renthyn Cottage, Erieau.

Mrs. Vary, of Chicago, is visiting her mother, Mrs. S. Tedford.

Mrs. G. M. Baird, who has been quite ill this last week, we are glad to hear, is much improved in health.

L. M. Appleford, of Seaford, was in town on business on Wednesday.

L. A. Livingston has rented the house next to the Sheldon House and has moved into it to-day.

The farmers in this vicinity are busy drawing in their grain, the wheat being nearly all drawn in; some has been threshed, and Messrs. D. and N. Maynard, Ridge Road East, drew in grain last week to the Canada Flour Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Bentley, of Detroit, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. J. W. Shillington.

There are a number of good views of different parts of the town taken by C. Senior, our local photographer. The negatives are being used for the pictorial postal cards.

A. G. Shillington is away on his vacation.

TAKE MY CURE, WHEN CURED YOU PAY ME

The fact that you could not be cured may have deterred you from taking honest treatment, or you may have been one of the unfortunate who have been treated in vain by inexperienced physicians, free treatments, free trial samples, patent medicines, electric belts and other similar devices. Such treatments cannot and will never cure you, nor will these malades cure themselves. When I offer you a cure, and am willing to risk my professional reputation in curing you, I have such faith and confidence in my cure, and success in treating these diseases that not a single patient who has taken my cure, and who has been paid for it, has ever returned to me to say that I was wrong, and do exactly as I advised. This should convince the skeptical that I mean what I say, and do exactly as I advised. As I am positive of curing you in the shortest possible time, without tedious after-effects, my charges will be as low as possible, for conscientious, skillful and successful services. I guarantee a cure, and if I do not, I will refund the money. I have 14 diplomas and certificates from the various colleges and state boards of medical examiners, which should be sufficient guarantee of my standing and abilities. It makes no difference who has failed to cure you, it will be to your advantage to write to me for my opinion of your case, which I will give you free of charge. I want to hear from patients who have been unable to get cured, as I guarantee a positive cure for all chronic, nervous, blood and skin diseases, which I treat with my special laboratory. All medicines for patients are prepared in my laboratory. I will send a booklet on the subject which contains the 14 diplomas and certificates, entirely free. Address: 205 Woodward Ave., Suite 311, D. Mich.

NEW YORK HARBOR.

Some of the Wonders of This Vessel
Crowded Port.

To present to the mind an easily conjured picture of New York harbor one might make the comparison of the up-turned right hand, with the long, straight forefinger for the lower stretch of the Hudson, with the thumb, joint turned out, standing for the bent East river and the palm of the hand representing upper New York bay. The three together make up the harbor of New York. As Hudson river shelters most of the north Atlantic liners while in port, so does East river harbor those that go to make up the truly foreign fleets. Here they are, pier after pier of them—the steamers that go to the far countries. Mind the roll—Brazil, Argentina, Chile, Peru, west coast of Africa, Australia, India, China, Japan! And hark again to the call of the ports—Rio Janeiro, Buenos Ayres, Valparaíso, St. Paul de Loanda, Cape Town, Tientsin, Sydney, Singapore, Hongkong, Yokohama! And the strange stuff of their cargoes! Rubber from the Amazon swamps—see the naked Indians tapping the trees and the slimy reptiles from the pampas—mark the centaurs-like quagga and his whirling rattle; gold dust, ivory palm oil from the west coast. Dreams for you there! Palm oil and gold dust and ivory; elephants and sacrificial fires and trains of captive slaves; hemp, tea, silks and smuggled opium—and do not believe that opium is not smuggled into New York harbor to this day. You think of all that, and your imagination flames.

The gentlemen in the pilot houses are not always in placid moods. Wild eyed, men glare out from pilot houses aloft, like eagles from their eyries, and pass the time of day. Says one: "Where'd y' think you're going? Back, will you?" And the other: "Back? Me back? Me?"

"You? Yes, you, you sleep eyed, slack mouthed, spine twisted fresh water goob, you square headed, fat-headed!" And so on, detailing irremediable flaws in the genealogy, after which both back down and avert the impending collision.—James B. Connolly in Harper's Magazine.

A PAINTER'S DREAM.

Pope's Story of the Sleep Vision of Sir Godfrey Kneller.

I dreamed I was dead, said the painter. Before me I saw a door and a great number of people about it. As I drew nearer I could distinguish St. Peter by his keys with some other of the apostles. They were admitting the people as they came next to the door. As the first after my coming up approached for admittance St. Peter asked his name and then his religion. "I am a Roman Catholic," replied the spirit. "Go in then," says St. Peter, "and sit down in those seats on the right hand." The next was a Presbyterian. He was admitted, too, after the usual questions and ordered to sit down on the seat opposite the other.

My turn came next, and as I approached St. Peter very civilly asked me my name. I said it was Kneller. I had no sooner said so than St. Luke, who was standing just by, turned toward me and said, with a great deal of earnestness, "What the famous Sir Godfrey Kneller of England?" "The very same, sir," says I, "at your service." On this St. Luke embraced me and made a great many compliments on the art we both of us had followed in this world and entered so far into the subject that he seemed almost to have forgotten the business for which I came thither. At last, however, he recollected himself and said: "I beg your pardon, Sir Godfrey. I was so much taken up with the pleasure of conversing with you. But, apropos, pray, sir, what religion may you be of?" "Why, truly, sir," says I, "I am of no religion." "Oh, sir," says he, "you will be so good then as to go in and take your seat where you please."—Pope.

Origin of the Derby.

The twelfth Earl of Derby is unknown to the reader of the ordinary history book. Lovers of art know him vaguely as the peer who married the pretty and popular actress Eliza Follen, whom the young Lawrence painted so brilliantly. But the earl yearly has his revenge when all the world and his wife look to Derby to see the race for the Derby stakes, for that race, in its institution in 1780, was named after the jovial young peer who was one of the leading patrons of the Georgian turf.—London Standard.

Butter in Slices.

From time immemorial in Cambridge, England, the dairymen roll the butter so as to form a long stick weighing a pound, which they sell in slices, as if it were sausage. In the market the butter merchants do not need to use either weights or scales. A simple glance is sufficient for these people accustomed to the time honored practice. A very neat cut with the knife divides the yard into halves, quarters or eighths very exactly, and it appears that the customer is never given short measure.

The Last Word.

Bobby—Is every word in this dictionary, pa? Peckley—Oh, no, my child. Every little while a new word comes into the language. Bobby—What's the latest word, pa? Peckley—Your ma will tell you. She always has the last word.

Loved and Lost.

Nell—Love doesn't seem to agree with Maud. She is thinner by twenty pounds than she used to be. Belle—She has loved and lost, eh?

No legacy is so rich as honesty.—Shakespeare.

"WHIZ!!" WALK A MILE"

Is a laconic definition of a toboggan ride. It's a quick work going down the slide, but it's a long climb back to the starting point. It is very much that way with health; it is quickly lost and slowly regained. When the first symptoms of falling health appear, proper care may prevent the descent to utter weakness and debility. Usually the complication of disorders known as general debility has its origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. These diseases begin in a perfectly correct manner by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures through the stomach disorders which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach.

There is no alcohol in the "Discovery," neither opium, cocaine nor other narcotic.

"I was all run down; had no strength; had sharp darting pains all through my head and back every day," writes Mrs. Frank Caswell, of Salamanca, N. Y. "I was unable to get on my feet, and I had a severe cough and it nearly killed me to draw a long breath. I was so sore through my lungs. I wrote to Dr. Pierce, telling my symptoms as near as I could. WANTED TO APOLOGIZE

"I see that the poor, old struggling Banner-News has broken out again relative to my humble self," said Ald. Edmondson, laughingly this morning. "Really, I'm only sorry that so few see the Banner-News to realize what an important individual it thinks I have become; although, honestly, I expect they'll be calling me up by phone to withdraw it all and apologize any minute. Last time they alluded to some remarks I had made in the Council, the poor publisher anxiously and excitedly called me up to know if he had better apologize through his paper. I really don't remember whether I had seen what he had published or not and didn't exactly know what he was driving at, but he was bothering away to know whether he'd better apologize. He said he'd seen the correct report in The Planet and found out that his paper was all wrong, and wanted to know what he'd better do about it. I told him it was all right and not to worry. I didn't suppose anyone had read the thing, anyway, and the people would all have it correct in The Planet." And the genial alderman left, laughing heartily at the recollection.

ONE SAMPLE

The criticisms of this great home journal and its position on various public matters which from time to time find space in the columns of its unfortunate and jealous contemporary are usually passed over in kindly indulgent silence. A particularly amusing outbreak, however, occurred yesterday relative to the Aberdeen bridge embargo, when the contemporary in question undertook to hand out its bouquets and criticisms allegedly through Dr. Thornton and a "prominent citizen." In these the "report of The Planet" is challenged from start to finish, and the following statement (including the capitals) is alleged to have been made to that paper:

"What is more, the agreement calls for WIDENING the bridge or BUILDING A NEW ONE if the engineer deems fit. So The Planet's partial statement in this respect is worse than wrong."

As a matter of fact, as the public know, the WIDENING of the bridge was the one thing that the agreement did not call for. It is a matter of unimportance to The Planet, but the friendly suggestion may not be amiss that the reputation of gentlemen alleged to be giving these weighty interviews and expert opinions to our contemporary would not be permanently blasted if they took some little pains to ascertain the facts ere rushing into print.

KILLED BY G.T.R. FLYER

The Misses Inglehart of Palermo Meet Instantaneous Death.

The Two Ladies Had Crossed the Track Before the G. T. R. International Limited, But Their Horse Became Frightened and Backed Up on the 6th Line Level Crossing—One Badly Mangled, Other Slightly Marked.

Oakville, July 27.—As a result of a little recklessness and a frightened horse, a double fatality occurred here yesterday afternoon when the Misses Inglehart of Palermo were instantly killed by the International Limited of the G. T. R.

The accident occurred at the sixth line level crossing, a short distance west of the station. The ladies had been shopping in Oakville during the afternoon, and were on their way home. As they neared the crossing they were warned by a farm hand of the approach of the flyer. The view of the track, however, was obstructed by the station and by a number of cars on the siding.

They drove ahead and managed to cross the tracks in safety. Unfortunately the horse became frightened by the noise and excitement and, stopping backed up.

The locomotive struck the buggy and demolished it. One of the occupants was hurled about two rods; her sister not quite so far. One had her head badly mangled, the other was but little marked. The horse was not injured.

Dr. Lusk and Dr. Urquhart were summoned, but found that both women had met with instant death. The bodies were removed to the undertaker's mortuary. No inquest will be held.

The Misses Emma and Ella Inglehart were the only daughters of J. E. Inglehart of Dundas street, Palermo, one of the oldest and best known families in the County. They were only 20 years of age. Mrs. Inglehart died last fall.

Woman Hurled to Death.
Comber, July 27.—While returning from Lake St. Clair attending a church picnic, Mrs. Chris. Stevenson of Merena Township, was thrown from her buggy in crossing the G. T. R. tracks at Stoney Point. The unfortunate woman fell under the horse's feet, and her skull was fractured, death ensuing before the arrival of the physician. The deceased was a middle-aged person, and leaves a husband and grown-up family.

Head Cut Off by Train.
Merriton, July 27.—James Mathison, lock-tender on the new canal, was found dead on the Grand Trunk bridge, just east of the station here. His head was completely severed from the body.

Falls to His Death.
Owen Sound, July 27.—William Minners, an unmarried man, whose home is in Kincardine, was killed by a fall from a permanent scaffold in the oiling works of the Grey & Bruce Cement Works. He was oiling the shafting, when in some manner he lost his footing and fell headlong to the cement floor, a distance of 16 feet.

In Changing Seats Boat Capsized.
Buffalo, July 27.—A double drowning accident on the Welland Canal, near Montrose, Ont., occurred Tuesday night. The victims were Miss Hattie Hayden and Ernest Doane, both residents of Niagara Falls, N.Y. They were in a boat with Gertrude Dick and Chas. Bloore. An attempt was made to exchange seats, the boat being capsized.

Dynamite Disfigures Children.
Tottenham, July 27.—By the exploding of a dynamite cartridge in the hands of two children of William Courtney, near here, a boy of seven years of age, had three fingers torn off his right hand, and the other, a child of ten years, had the flesh torn from his body and arm. Both children are badly disfigured about the face, but no fatal results are anticipated.

One Man Dead, Three Dying.
Tottenham, July 27.—By the falling of a timber work on the construction of the new C. P. R. road, about three miles south of here, six cars loaded with gravel fell some ten feet and buried beneath the debris four men, three of whom were extricated, badly and probably fatally injured, and the fourth instantly killed. The dead man is a Russian, 23 years of age, and unmarried. No cause can be assigned for the accident, the structure being apparently substantially built.

Boy Instantly Killed.
Brooklin, July 27.—The twelve-year-old son of William Corner was killed at his father's farm, about two miles west of here, yesterday forenoon. In the absence of his father and elder brother he had of his own option hitched a horse to a light wagon and started for a load of wood. Within a few rods of home the horse took fright, and ran away, throwing the boy violently to the ground and fracturing his skull. Death was instantaneous.

Bandaw Accident.
Deseronto, July 27.—Charles Marnihan, an English emigrant, who came to Canada with his wife about six months ago, and who has been employed by the Rathbun Co., met with a very serious accident, yesterday morning. He was working on the bandaw when his hand was caught, cutting off his first three fingers. He fell on the saw, cutting his arm at the elbow and again at the shoulder. Had his shoulder been cut a half inch further, an artery would have been severed.

FOR TRIAL

The Perpetrators of the Wheatley Whitecapping Apprehended by Mr. Smith.

"After giving the matter the most careful consideration the Crown has decided to prosecute the parties guilty in the Dulmage affair. There are laws in this country to punish parties guilty of offences such as said Dulmage committed and the Crown is always ready to assist in the punishing the same. Mob law in any form in Kent County cannot and will not be tolerated."

The above statement was handed out to the press by Crown Attorney H. D. Smith this morning in reference of the Wheatley white-capping case, reported previously in The Planet. As a result of the information being laid against all the parties implicated, under which they will come before Judge Houston in County court and the case will be thoroughly investigated.

TO RUN FOR FOUR MONTHS

across your bridge for construction purposes—the city had agreed to let us—surprised to hear they had not. If there is any fault on our part we want to know what it is. We offer to leave this bridge in as good condition as we find it and indemnify the city for any damage it may incur.

Mr. Gundy—The question is, "Can the Council, under the terms of the by-law, require the bridge to be WIDENED?" Up until recently the city had thought of widening the bridge, but Mr. Warburton had stated definitely that the company would rely upon their legal rights and would not rebuild or widen the present bridge. The company asks a privilege with one hand and by relying on their rights, hold out a law in the other. It is advisable to settle now the construction of the agreement and find out the answer to the question, "Can the city require this bridge to be widened?"

Mr. Lily—We invested our money—was not the money of others—on the strength of the agreement we had with the city. We are willing to abide by that agreement in its entirety. But we will not submit to you putting your own construction upon it by saying that the bridge was widened. Until we can comply with the agreement by strengthening or replacing this bridge we ask the favor of going across it for construction purposes. If we cannot obtain this favor we will take our medicine like men and say no more about it.

Ald. Edmondson—We wish to be sure that you will widen the bridge after construction purposes are achieved.

Mr. Lily—You wish to make a new agreement, while we refuse to change our rights and liabilities. The railway commission decides whether the bridge is satisfactory and will safeguard the city. The plans are before it now. I know the arrangement made with the city given by Mr. Bell is informal, but you ought to be able to trust our word when, by looking at our work, you can see the sincerity of our intentions.

Mr. Gundy—The whole question is the interpretation of the agreement. Mr. Lily—We will do whatever the railway commission says is to be done. We understood that you had consented to letting us go across temporarily or the trouble would not have occurred.

Ald. Austin—You assumed you had the right to go across.

Mr. Lily—You were there and consented.

Ald. Austin—No!

Mr. Kipp—Yes, you did!

Mr. Bell—Mr. Mayor, you said of my letter, "This looks satisfactory."

Mr. Lily—That was justification for our going ahead?

Mr. Lily—Understand our position. We abide by the agreement and have had an expert bridge engineer prepare plans. We cannot say that we recommend. These plans are before the railway commission now and we will abide by what they say.

Mr. Bell—If you give us the privilege of crossing now, and are not satisfied with the plans when you get them, you are in a worse position than you were before.

Mr. Austin—Do the plans as prepared by the bridge expert contemplate a widened bridge?

Mr. Lily—I DO NOT THINK THEY DO.

Mr. Austin—We know, now, exactly where you are.

Mr. Bell—We have sent for the Engineer for the railway commission, to whose approval the work must be done. If he says the bridge must be widened it will be widened.

Mr. Lily—And, in the meantime, are you going to hold us up when we ask a favor of you? We agree to save you from every cent of expense or damage you may incur. We have treated you right and deserve the same treatment.

The Mayor—That is not so. The bridge frays disproves that.

Mr. Lily—You were there and did not object. You left your Engineer there and said that if the gist of the conversation was put in writing it would be all right.

The Mayor—I said of the letter, "This looks satisfactory."

Mr. Bell—By your conduct you gave us to understand it was all right. At this juncture Mr. Lily and his colleagues left the meeting. The Council then went into session to decide what should be done. All were of the opinion that the whole question was—could the city in view of the agreement insist upon the widening of the bridge? No one seemed qualified to give an opinion upon this because that will, in all probability, be a question for the courts to decide.

Then there was a question of pure ethics—"It seems to me the company at a disadvantage; they ask a favor of us, that of crossing the bridge for construction purposes, will we grant it?" The more generous sentiments prevailed and it was decided to let the road cross temporarily, under the terms of an agreement presented by Mr. Bell, and if any trouble occurs at the expiration of the construction time—four months—meet it then.

The agreement, shortly, provides that the crossing is for construction purposes only and to continue for four months. The time may be extended by a permit from the Mayor. The company agrees to lay its tracks so as not to interfere with traffic or the structure of the bridge and will indemnify the city for any loss or damage the city may sustain. If they do not remove the tracks at the expiration of that period they will indemnify the city for taking them up.

SAD DEMISE

James Glenn, Sr., one of Chatham's most respected residents, passed away yesterday, aged 86 years. Death was caused from chronic bronchitis, from which deceased has been a sufferer for some time.

Those who are left to mourn his loss are, Robert Glenn, of Harwich; James, Jr., and Alfred, of the Glenn Bros. Cartage Agency, and Miss Glenn at home.

Deceased was born in Ireland, but has lived here for a number of years. He was a retired merchant.

The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, from his late residence, corner of Water and William streets, to the Maple Leaf Cemetery. Rev. A. H. MacGillivray will conduct the obsequies.

WARNING TO LIQUOR MEN.

Hon. W. J. Hanna Speaks Right Out at Newmarket.

Newmarket, July 27.—Yesterday a monster picnic was held by North York Conservatives to celebrate the victory of T. Herbert Lennox at the last election. About 3,000 persons were present. In addition to a program of sports, there were speeches by J. P. Dewney, M. P. P., T. Herbert Lennox, M. P. P., and Hon. W. J. Hanna.

The first two speakers showed how Hon. J. P. Whitney had redeemed his pre-election promises, and Mr. Hanna's speech, which was a ringing exposition of the Government's short career, was rendered notable by the following utterance:

"The Government has cancelled the right of hotelkeepers to sell to boys under the age of 21, and he hoped the liquor men would support it."

"To the liquor men let me say: 'You'll be making a great mistake if you attempt to set the law at defiance.' We don't say this in any unfriendly feeling to the liquor men, but it is the interest of liquor men as well as ours to see that the law is observed."

JAPS' ATTACK ON TUMEN

Osaka Reports Big Engagement is Now in Progress.

Japanese to Threaten Harbin By An Expedition Up the Amur River—Landing Chronicled at Dekastries Freshshadows Well-Planned Attempt to Send Naval Assistance for Attack on Fortifications.

London, July 27.—The correspondent of The Daily Telegraph at Tokio, sends a report received from Osaka, Japan, to the effect that a Japanese army of many thousands is attacking the Russian position on the Tumen river.

Siberian Lighthouse Seized. St. Petersburg, July 27.—Despatches from Manchuria report the landing of a Japanese battalion and the seizure of a lighthouse on the Siberian coast near Dekastries, a post formerly called Alexandrovsk, 700 miles north of Vladivostok, after a preliminary shelling by torpedo boat destroyers.

Military officials here say this apparently is part of the strategy of the Japanese to prevent the escape of Russian garrisons in Sakhalin through the straits. They add that the landing is too far north to have any bearing on the main campaign or on operations against Vladivostok.

To Seize Mouth of Amur. London, July 27.—The Japanese landing at Dekastries, which is the terminus of the only cable line connecting the mainland with the Island of Sakhalin, is regarded by the London morning newspapers as an attempt to seize the mouth of the Amur River, in order to enable the Japanese to despatch an army up that great waterway to threaten the Russian communications.

Japanese gunboats and torpedo boats could thus reach Harbin and give effectual assistance to any attack on the Russian fortifications. Not in Spirit of Defiance. Washington, July 27.—Whether there is to be peace in the Far East or a continuance of the war will be practically decided at the first business meeting of the Washington conference, which will convene at the navy yard, Portsmouth, N. H., about August 5. Baron Komura will open the occasion by threatening to withdraw the essentials of Japan's terms for further negotiations. This, it is declared, will not be done in a spirit of defiance. If the Russian plenipotentiaries are prepared to accept these essentials, the officials here are confident that the hands will be laid for negotiations sure to lead to the signing of a treaty of Washington bringing peace in the Far East.

Witte is Detained. Cherbourg, July 27.—M. Witte has not left Cherbourg owing to the non-arrival of the Kaiser. Wilhelm, whose presence is for bound at Southampton. He expects to sail early this morning.

Rejestyevsky Operated On. Tokio, July 27.—Vice-Ambassador Rejestyevsky has undergone a successful operation. He was wounded on his forehead in order to obviate months of detention. A small piece of bone was removed. His condition is considered satisfactory.

Wants Prompt Compensation. St. Petersburg, July 27.—Acting on U. S. Ambassador Meyer's recommendation in order to obviate months of detention, the Standard Oil Co. consignors of the cargo of the British steamer Oldham, which was seized by Russian warships and burned off Sakhalin Island, have placed their case in the hands of a local attorney, who is empowered to ask the prize court to act as adjudicator. The cargo was valued at $123,000. The British Ambassador is making representations in behalf of the British owners of the ship.

An Inflammatory Proclamation. Odessa, July 27.—The Governor of Odessa has issued an extraordinary proclamation which, when posted in the city to-day, may have the effect of increasing the already bitter feeling against the Jews among the troops and more ignorant classes of the population. The proclamation continues: "Letters have come from the Jews charging the police with preparing for a Jewish massacre."

The Governor then declares that such action is impossible and will not be permitted, but he adds: "The Governor is astonished at the Jews addressing such a letter to him, seeing that it is the Jews themselves who caused the disorders. The police invariably found

Sunshine Furnace

DOUBLE FEED-DOORS

Just about the meanest thing a furnace can have is a dinky little door. Ever have one? Hit the edge as often as the hole? One has to be an expert stoker to shovel coal into some furnaces. If you're not an expert you'll get as much on the floor as in the furnace.

The Sunshine furnace is equipped with a good, big door. You can put your shovel in and drop the coal just where it is wanted—no trouble, no taking aim, no missing, no scattering, or annoyance.

Everything about the Sunshine furnace is on the same scale of thoughtfulness.

IMPROVING HER SKIN.

One Searcher After Beauty Tells of Her Experience.

"I wish the papers would quit publishing these articles that tell you how to be beautiful," says a young matron. "I was fairly content with myself till I began to read them. I had an average good skin, too, but I've steamed it and creamed it and massaged it till it's a wreck. I've been for two weeks trying a new beautifier for it. I've been rubbing my face with slices of onion. It makes your eyes water, and it gives you an unattractive perfume, but the article said it would produce the soft, velvety skin of a child, and I kept it up. Yesterday my husband rose in his wrath.

"What on earth makes you rub your face with onion?" he said. "Wouldn't hamburger cheese do for a change? Why wouldn't potatoes or asparagus do as well? Does it have to be onion?"

"It does," I said.

"You'll have to show me," said he. "Let me see the article that turned your brain. I don't believe it says onions. I believe it says any vegetable you happen to have in the house."

"This made me furious, and I brought out the article. What do you think it said? It didn't say onions. It said cucumbers. I knew it was something you put vinegar on. That's how I happened to get mixed. After this I'm going to let my face alone, but I shan't bear the last of that onion beautifier till I die."

Death is but the dropping of the flower that the fruit may swell.

LANDSCAPE ART.

The Work of Le Notre, Europe's Most Famous Gardener.

Although Le Notre's life was a long and a busy one, he could not possibly have designed all the gardens with which his name is now associated, more or less correctly. The list is an astounding one, ranging as it does from Aranjuez and La Granja in Spain to Wilhelmshöhe and Oranienburg in Germany, from the villas Albani and Pamphili in Rome to Hampton Court and Kensington gardens in England. But, directly or indirectly, he is responsible for the spirit of all these designs, as he created a school of outdoor art, which, modified and adapted to suit various conditions and climates, spread over the civilized world and is the foundation of all the landscape art of today. It was he who first released gardens from their medieval swaddling clothes, widened their narrow borders, did away with their childish decorations of fantastically clipped trees and made them instead dignified parts of a splendid whole. To some people his gardens do not now seem attractive on account of what is called their severity and coldness, but we must remember that they were entirely appropriate to the places for which they were designed and perfectly fitted for their uses and are consequently artistically admirable.—Beatrice Jones in Scribner's.

VARICOCELE CURED

AS NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT. Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on a double varicocele. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out that they wanted my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Dr. Kennedy and Kergan, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. He wrote them and got the New Method Treatment for me. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $2 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $3 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment."

DUE TO AN ADDRESS

By AUGUST FINCH

Copyright, 1905, by J. C. McClure

"I wish," cried Mildred, "that you would go away and never come near me again."

"I will come around in the morning," said Kendrick Fallows soothingly. "You are all upset. The passing of the customs after that rough passage is enough to try the strongest nerves. You will feel better in the morning."

"I shall not be at home to you in the morning or any other time you call," she announced spitefully. "I want you to keep away from me."

"What is the matter, dear?" he asked anxiously. "Have I offended?"

"Offended!" she repeated shrilly. "As though your very attitude were not an offense!"

"Why," he defended, "I thought I carried it off very well. I battled nobly against a desire to take you in my arms before all those people and—"

"If you had," she broke in savagely, "I should have killed you. Was it not enough insult that you should press my hand and tell me how happy I had made you?"

"Insult!" he echoed. "Wherein lay the insult?"

"That you should suppose that I would have come back just for your sake."

"Of course," he said deprecatingly. "I knew that your father cabled you, but I supposed that you were glad of an excuse."

Mildred stamped her foot in vexation. "There you go again," she fumed. "Why should you suppose that I would be glad of an excuse?"

"Why," vaguely, "to get back, to see everybody—and me."

"I suppose you thought that I paid attention to what you said when I went away."

"What was that?" he asked interestedly.

"You wanted to bet I would not be gone six months."

"I remember," he said, with sudden enlightenment. "The stakes were ten pounds of candy against"—He blundered a little.

"My penalty was an engagement to you," she finished.

"I had almost forgotten," he confessed. "You grew so angry when I suggested it that I put it out of my mind."

"And yet," she insisted, "you appear disposed to claim the forfeit."

"Mildred," he said tenderly, "I thought I had won your heart through something more than a bet."

"Well," she sobbed, "you made me feel so humiliated at the dock."

"Why?" he urged.

"Supposing that I had come back to see you and that I was so anxious to become engaged that I was willing to dispense with the formality of a proposal?"

"I'll propose again now, if that will help any," he suggested.

"It's too late," she said between her sobs.

"Then you did care for me?" he said, with an unfortunate ring of triumph in his voice.

"No!" She sat up very suddenly, dry-eyed and angry. "I did once think I liked you, but when you were so horrid this morning I realized my error."

"How was I horrid this morning?" he asked patiently.

"Supposing that we were engaged just because I came back sooner than I wanted to."

"But I did not suppose that," he denied. "I knew that your father had cabled for you."

"Then why did you take it all for granted?" she demanded, hurt pride in her voice. "Don't you suppose that a woman wants to be asked before she becomes engaged? Don't you know that I'd have died sooner than come back had I known you would put that construction on my actions?"

"But I didn't," he repeated. "I knew you had to come home because they were afraid poor old Bob was worse."

"Then why should you suppose we are engaged if you are not trying to collect that horrid bet?" she sobbed.

"Because you cabled me you would marry me," he explained.

Mildred rose to her feet, her eyes flashing. "It seems to me," she said angry, "you could find a better excuse than a wicked falsehood like that."

"But you did," he persisted. "I wrote and told you that I simply could not get along without you and asked if I could come over and make your tour our bridal trip. You cabled back 'Yes,' and then before I could get a steamer your father told me that you were coming home."

"I never got such a letter," she declared, "and I never would send such a cable."

"Well, I wrote the letter and got the cable."

"I only cabled papa when he sent for me."

"That the only cablegram?"

"I sent two. The first was when I received his message and said I would come and the second was to tell him the boat I sailed on."

"Did you send both?" he asked, a smile beginning to lighten his drawn face.

"I wrote the first. The second the steamer agent sent for me."

"Would you mind," he asked, "writing the address again?"

Dedant he moved to the desk and presently handed him a slip of paper with a few words in fashionable and uncertain characters. Fallows gave a shout.

"I suppose," he explained, "if you address a cable to 'Fallows, 849 Broadway,' and the 'e' looks like an 'a' and it is delivered to Fallows at the same address that I am cleared of charges of presumption. Your father only received the second message. I was given the first. I supposed you had received my letter and that was the answer. Do you see how it was?"

Fallows had to lean very close to the bowed head to catch the whispered "Yes."

"Which 'Yes' is that," he asked tenderly—"that you understand or that you will answer my letter in the affirmative?"

He had to bend closer yet to catch the "Both," so close that his lips brushed her cheek and lingered for a moment unreprieved.

Ethan Allen's Quaint Language.

In the Magazine of History Robert Dewey Benedict, writing on "Ethan Allen's Use of Language," gives this illustration of Allen's quaintness:

When he was taken prisoner at Montreal he was brought before the English General Prescott. Allen's narrative tells us: "He asked me my name, which I told him. He then asked me whether I was that Colonel Allen who took Ticonderoga. I told him I was the very man. Then he shook his cane over my head, calling me many hard names, among which he frequently used the word 'rebel.' . . . I told him he would do well not to come me, for I was not accustomed to it, and shook my fist at him, telling him that was the beetle of mortality for him if he offered to strike." The Englishman probably had seen enough logs split with a beetle and wedges to recognize the appropriateness of the figure of a beetle as descriptive of Allen's heavy fist, and when it was described as a "beetle of mortality" he recognized that it was a weapon which he would do well not to meet.

Almost a Tragedy.

The woman entered the car and sank moaning into the seat. Her face was haggard, and her escort regarded her with deep anxiety.

Suddenly she extracted a tiny vial from her handbag, pulled a piece of cotton out of the mouth of the bottle and was putting it to her lips when a young man opposite sprang to his feet and dashed it from her hand.

"Good gracious, madam!" he exclaimed hoarsely. "Just in time!"

The woman's escort sprang up fiercely, and the two men gripped.

"Confound you!" roared the lady's companion. "Can't my wife use her toothache medicine without having every green, sloppy idiot imagining she is trying to commit suicide?"

Then the would-be rescuer apologized and departed from the car, feeling a kind toward the famous worm which has been trod upon.

Lace Work Trees.

The inner bark of many trees, such as the vine and horse chestnut, is continuous and uninterrupted. In others, such as the ash and the oak, the fibers are separated during growth and form a kind of network, in the interstices of which the medullary rays are seen. Of this sort is the famous lace work tree of Jamaica, whose consecutive layers of fibers are interlaced so delicately as to present a close resemblance to real lace both in color and appearance. A former governor of Jamaica is said to have presented Charles II. with a cravat, a full and ruffles of this vegetable lace, while bonnets, collars and corset-ribbons made of it can be seen in the museum of Kew, London Standard.

CARRIES TROUBLE RIGHT WITH HIM

Fate of the Dyspeptic Who Has Not Learned the Relief that is Found in Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

The Dyspeptic is the man who carries the troubles of the world on his shoulders. He is racked with pain and filled with despondency. Life's not worth living to him.

It's his own fault. Relief complete and permanent is within the reach of all. It is contained in Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. They digest the food themselves so there can be no indigestion where they are used. Listen to what Mr. R. A. Barton, 23 Tyndall avenue, Toronto, says:

"I had indigestion in its worst form. The doctors could not do me any good and I began to think my case was hopeless. As a last resort I tried Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. I am thankful to say they had the desired effect."

"I was afraid to eat many things that would have suited my taste. Now I can eat anything that is set before me, asking no questions."

A Reminder.

It is amusing at times to notice the efforts which railway porters make to extract tips from passengers.

The following took place at a large station in the north of England: A porter had been attending to the luggage of a tourist and, not receiving the expected gratification, addressed the gentleman as follows:

"Beg pardon, sir, but if any one asks what you gave me what shall I tell him?"

He got his tip.

Its Possibilities.

A man "who knows it all" was not in the least surprised when he heard of a motor car which could be turned at will into a bedstead or grand piano. He said he knows a man who turned a motor car into a telegraph pole, a ditch, a fence and a horse all in a few hours.

No Tick.

"Why don't you wind that clock and set it going?" asked a bad customer at a country store.

"The clock is a sign," said the grocer, and the customer studied it out for himself before he left the store.

Probably.

"Your trouble, madam," said the physician, "seems to be due to an excess of adipose tissue."

"My goodness!" exclaimed Mrs. Plumpton. "I wonder if that is what makes me so awfully fat?"

Every man should bear his own grievances rather than detract from the comforts of another.

Ennui is the complaint of those who have nothing to complain of.

Nothing is never overlooked if it is thoroughly looked over.

CARRIES TROUBLE RIGHT WITH HIM

Fate of the Dyspeptic Who Has Not Learned the Relief that is Found in Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

The Dyspeptic is the man who carries the troubles of the world on his shoulders. He is racked with pain and filled with despondency. Life's not worth living to him.

It's his own fault. Relief complete and permanent is within the reach of all. It is contained in Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. They digest the food themselves so there can be no indigestion where they are used. Listen to what Mr. R. A. Barton, 23 Tyndall avenue, Toronto, says:

"I had indigestion in its worst form. The doctors could not do me any good and I began to think my case was hopeless. As a last resort I tried Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. I am thankful to say they had the desired effect."

CLOSURE ONLY MEANS

Or Advancing Business Before Redmond's Obstruction.

Nationalist Leader Keeps House of Commons In a Ferment Till 3 a. m.—Determination to Block Government Business Carried So Far That 27 Private Bills Are Sent Over For a Year.

London, July 26.—The members of the Opposition in the House of Commons, practically led by John Redmond, the Nationalist leader, who was the champion of the recent defeat of the Government, yesterday inaugurated their threatened plan of making Government business impossible, and, in pursuance of which, they managed to keep the House in stormy session until 3 o'clock this morning, compelling Premier Balfour to have constant recourse to closure as the only means of advancing business.

Supporters of the Government, warned by the recent disaster, loyally stood by Mr. Balfour, maintaining a majority in the neighborhood of 60. One phase of Mr. Redmond's obstructionist tactics is likely to arouse great resentment.

It consisted in blocking private bills for enterprise promoted at vast expense by municipalities and commercial companies, for public works, such as railroads and tramways.

No less than 27 such bills were blocked yesterday, the effect being to delay their operation for a whole year.

It consisted in blocking private bills for enterprise promoted at vast expense by municipalities and commercial companies, for public works, such as railroads and tramways.

Monday afternoon the condemned man managed to secure a piece of broken glass and made a gash under his knee in an attempt to cut an artery. He was detected in time to prevent fatality, and went from the loss of blood and half crazed by the terror of his approaching execution, he spent a restless night.

Deadly Level Crossing.

Toronto, July 26.—Again the deadly level crossing has been the cause of a tragedy. This time Michael Leisenau, aged 15, a tinsmith residing at 63 Palmerston avenue, was killed while driving across the railway tracks at the foot of Spadina avenue yesterday morning. On his wagon was a heavy load of clay. When he started down the steep hill that leads to the crossing he saw the train coming from the east. Throwing all of his weight upon the reins, he endeavored to avert his team and himself from the approaching death. His effort was made too late.

MAJOR WALSH DEAD.

Former Yukon Commissioner—As Inspector of Mounted Police Induced Sitting Bull to Surrender to U. S.

Brookville, July 26.—Major J. M. Walsh died at his home here yesterday morning, after a week's illness with heart trouble.

Major Walsh was 62 years of age, being born in Prescott in 1842. In 1886 he was commissioned Lieutenant No. 2 C. Rifles, Prescott, was appointed captain and adjutant of the 56th Battalion on its formation in 1897, and soon after raised and took command of D Squadron, 4th Hussars. At the time of the Red River expedition he was appointed ensign, but resigned. In 1872 he was gazetted brevet major, and retired from the militia retaining his rank in November, 1875.

He served throughout the Fenian Raid and again in 1879, and in 1873 was appointed inspector of the Northwest Mounted Police. In the Northwest Territories he established a reputation for great firmness and courage in dealing with the Indians and more especially in the treatment of Sitting Bull, the Sioux chief. The latter having held the American forces in check and utterly defeated General Custer, and his command had withdrawn across the Canadian frontier, where he was met by Major Walsh and several troopers and induced to surrender to the United States authorities.

Major Walsh resigned from the Mounted Police in 1883, and established the Dominion Coal, Coke and Transportation Company. The discovery of gold in the Yukon district and the consequent advent of population made it necessary for the Government to appoint a special commissioner to administer the Government in that territory. Major Walsh was selected Aug. 17, 1897, for that office, which he administered with distinguished ability for one year.

BLOWN TO DEATH.

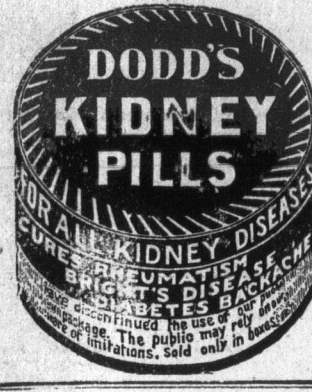

Three Men Meet Violent Death In British Columbia Mines.

Banff, B. C., July 26.—While miners were at work in the Bank Head mine Monday afternoon, three miles east of here, a fearful explosion of dynamite occurred, which wrought awful havoc to the mine, and resulted in the death of Thomas Smiley of Ireland, David Thomas of Wales, and John Williams of Wales, and injury to many others.

The three men killed were literally blown to pieces. The cause of the explosion is not yet known.

Escaped In Night Robes.

Peterboro, July 26.—The residence of Major Daniel Johnston, lot 26, concession 9, Otonabee, was destroyed by fire at an early hour yesterday morning. The family did not have time to save any wearing apparel and escaped only in their night robes. The house, a frame structure, was valued at $1,000 and the contents at about $2,000.

CRIMINAL INSURANCE.

Receivers of Stolen Goods Usually Carry on the Business.

"Criminal insurance," said a detective, "is the insurance that thieves and blacklegs take out in case of arrest. For instance, you are a second story man. You make about $2,500 a year, the average second story man's income, and you carry an insurance of $1,000, for which you pay the big premium of $125 a year. Now, if you are arrested, the insurance company steps forward and hands you $1,000. Thus you are able to get the best of lawyers for your defense.

"Receivers of stolen goods are usually rich, and it is these men as a rule who carry on the criminal insurance business. I know of a criminal insurance company in Philadelphia, another in New York and a third in St. Louis. The policies run from $100 up to $5,000, and the premiums are always enormous. This is because the danger of arrest is so great.

"Besides the criminal insurance concerns I know of a curious beneficial organization that is conducted among the criminals of Illinois. Each member of the organization pays in $1 a week, and in case of imprisonment his family receives $5 weekly as long as his sentence lasts."

There's a story of a farmer and his son driving a load to market. Of the team they were driving one was a steady, reliable old gray mare, the other a fractious, balky black horse. On the way the wagon was stalled and the black horse balked and refused to pull. "What'll we do, father?" said the younger man. "Well," said the father, "I guess we'll have to lay the gad on the old gray."

That homely compliment to women, "The gray mare's the better horse," suggests how often when there's an extra strain to be borne it is laid on the woman's back. How often she breaks down at last under the added weight of some "last straw." Women who are dragging along wearily through life can gain real strength by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It puts back in concentrated form the strength-making material which workingwomen use up more rapidly than it can be restored by Nature in the ordinary processes of nourishment and rest. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are universal favorites with women because they are easy to take and thoroughly effective in suring the consequences of constipation.

Lots of men are cranks, and yet you can't turn them down.

Lever's Y-Z (Wise Head) Disinfectant Soap Powder is better than other powders, as it is both soap and disinfectant. 34

C. P. R. Conductor Fined.

Moosajaw, July 26.—Conductor S. D. McMillen of the C. P. R. was prosecuted before a magistrate here on a charge of theft of $3 in fares. He was fined $30 and $100 costs, or imprisonment for one month.

The Way of the Transgressor.

Peterboro, July 26.—Thomas Mitchell, the young man who defrauded local ministers, was yesterday sent down for three months at hard labor by Magistrate Dumble.

Profitable Herring Curing.
Ottawa, July 27.—The Department of Marine and Fisheries has decided to continue at Yarmouth, N. S., the experiments in the Scotch method of curing herrings which have been carried out with so much success at Canso. Herrings cured by this process have sold for $15 per barrel in the Boston market, as against $7 paid for Nova Scotia herring cured in the ordinary way.

Big Storm Sweeps Carolines.
San Francisco, Calif., July 27.—Rev. J. M. Shannon, who for fifteen years has labored as a missionary among the natives of the Caroline Islands, brings news of a frightful storm which swept over the Carolines in April last. Nearly all of the islands in the eastern end of the group were devastated. Nineteen natives were killed, and the schooners Ponape and Diana were destroyed.

AGNES DONAHOE AGAINUruguayan Government Has Refused to Arbitrate Case.

Britain May Send a Warship to Release Canadian Captain From Prison in Uruguay—Official Advice at Washington Indicate Rather Serious Possibilities—No Relief to An Acute Situation.

Washington, July 27.—Official advice reaching Washington fail to show any relief in the acute situation which has been developing for some time between the British and Uruguayan Governments over the imprisonment in Uruguay of the captain and crew of the Canadian fishing vessel Agnes Donahoe, for alleged poaching. Several months ago the British Government laid before the American State Department a full statement of its side of the case, and the American Minister at Uruguay was instructed to use his good offices to assist an amicable settlement. The British Government takes the ground that, as the contract of the Uruguayan Government giving to a certain company the exclusive right to fish in certain waters was a private contract and was not communicated to or recognized by foreign Governments, the capture of a Canadian ship for fishing in those waters was illegal.

Despite strong representations, however, the Canadian captain remains in prison, and London is now considering the advisability of sending a warship down the South American coast. This step, however, will be taken only after every diplomatic method has been tried to obtain the release of the prisoners.

The London Government is not averse to a settlement of the matter by arbitration, but the Uruguayan Government has thus far refused to arbitrate.

THE SCRIP ENQUIRY.Halfbreeds Signed An "Application," But In Reality Sold Their Scrip.

Winnipeg, July 27.—At the Scrip Commission enquiry yesterday, John B. Latenegrass, the first witness, told that he lived in Belcourt, N. D., and had met McDonald at Lorette. He had made application to McDonald for scrip of a dead brother and daughter. He had signed a paper which he believed was an application for scrip. He received no word from Ottawa concerning it. He got no cash from McDonald but a couple of orders on a store amounting to ten dollars. Witness said he had not sold his scrip to McDonald.

J. B. Latenegrass, Jr., gave similar evidence. Eugene Couture said he had witnessed the Latenegrass papers and believed that the men understood what they were signing and that they agreed to sell their scrip to R. C. McDonald.

NEW AUDITOR-GENERAL.John Fraser Succeeds J. Lorn MacDougall, C. M. G., on August 1.

Ottawa, July 27.—John Fraser, of the Department of Finance, has been notified of his appointment by order-in-council to succeed J. Lorn MacDougall, C. M. G., Auditor-General of Canada.

Mr. Fraser, who is 52 years of age, entered the civil service in May, 1875, and seven years ago was promoted to the position of chief clerk and Dominion bookkeeper.

His salary was $2,450. As Auditor-General Mr. Fraser's salary will be $4,000.

The new Auditor is a brother of A. W. Fraser, K. C., one of the leading Liberals of Ottawa.

He will take over his new duties on August 1, the date on which Mr. MacDougall's resignation takes effect.

Seven Years Short Enough.

London, July 27.—The House of Commons yesterday refused to permit Winston Churchill to introduce a bill limiting the life of Parliament to five instead of seven years. The proposal was defeated by 239 to 176 votes.

TALK MAY

Sell bad Clothes but it doesn't make a customer. We make Clothes that speak eloquently for themselves, and customers that speak for us.

Hot weather Clothes are being hustled out just now, and prices are getting squeezed in the process. Come in and see what you can save on an unlined two-piece Suit since the cut in prices.

Thornton & Douglas, LIMITED.To Jail For Prize Fighting.

Montreal, July 27.—Judge Choquette yesterday sentenced Jimmy Brooks, formerly of Brooklyn, and Jack Wash of Montreal to three months in jail for prize-fighting in a handball alley in the heart of the city. They were the principals, and the judge had no option. An appeal will be taken and judgment in the cases of three others for aiding and abetting was withheld until the appeal is decided.

Dies While Bicycling.

Cobourg, July 27.—A sad death occurred Tuesday evening when Miss Nettie Carruthers, youngest daughter of the late J. D. Carruthers, Hamilton Township, accompanied by her sister, was cycling from her home to the residence of her uncle, only about a mile distant. She was taken suddenly ill and expired in about fifteen minutes, and before she could be taken to her home.
