The Germans have removed the Gieseneau from the channel at Antwerp, which the Belgians sank before evacuating the city in 1914. It completely blocked the channel, so that the port has been useless to the captors ever since. Several attempts had been preciously made to free the channel but all failed.

TOY MAKING IN LIVERPOOL

(United States Commerce Reports.)

In an earlier report from this consulate it was pointed out that considerable progress was being made in Liverpool in the manufacture of toys. Twenty firms are now engaged in this industry here and employ more than 3,000 people, 80 per cent of whom are women and girls. Their products include practically all kinds of toys, games, and dolls, except the very cheap tin and wooden toys that formerly retailed at 2 or 4 cents each.

As is well known, the toy market in pre-war times was supplied mainly from Continental Europe. In 1915, that source of supply, being cut off, toys were procured from France, the United States, and Japan, while British manufacturers had already become a factor in the trade, though a minor one. During 1915 the market has been supplied principally by British products, though small importations under license have been made from France and Japan. The placing of toys upon the list of prohibited imports has eliminated the United States from this trade.

The toys most in demand are mechanical toys and dolls, the latter being considered the most important by manufacturers. Prices are about 25 per cent higher than two years ago, but there is no shortage of supplies, and the increased prices are being freely paid by even the poorer classes. Some of the toys exhibit a certain crudeness and are lacking in finish, but great advances have already been made by local manufacturers, so that on the whole their product is considered satisfactory.

In general the toy-making industry is not highly capitalized and is as yet dependent upon the enterprise of relatively small manufacturers. The heavy demands of the home market have restricted attempts at export trade, but a beginning has been made in this line, and concerted efforts will be made to extend the field of operations during 1917.

His Wedding Outfit

The youth sent a letter to a large clothing concern in New York, to ask:

"What is the proper dress for a groom?"

Now it seems that the clerk who opened the mail referred this inquiry to the livery department and that the head thereof dictated a brief reply.

Bottle green, fawn colored trousers, with top boots, silk hat with rosette. We can quote you prices as follows:

"In a short time came this relative letter from the younger man."

"I always knew it was expensive to get married but can't you suggest something a little less elaborate?"

RECEIPT OF CHRISTMAS STOCKINGS

Miss Margaret Williams of Kentville has received two acknowledgements from soldiers in hospital for Xmas stockings sent. We copy in part the letters received:

One from Granville Canadian Special hospital, Ramsgate, said:

Dear Kind Friend: Received your nicely filled stocking yesterday, I sure did enjoy eating the Nova Scotian apple. My wounds are now almost all right but cannot say how long it will be before I am in God's country. I was wounded September 9th on the Somme being hit in the face, knees and wrist. Thank God it was no worse. I will join with all the other Canadians in this country in thanking all you dear girls for all you have done for us.

(Sgd) T. B. KENYON.

Ramsgate, Sept. 25th. I am the lucky recipient of your Xmas stocking received this morning and I thank you most sincerely for your kindness in remembering one of the boys on this day, away from home and friends.

My last Xmas was spent in the trenches and I consider myself lucky in being in England now even at the cost of a few wounds. I was wounded September 15th, one bullet through the thigh and two more in the left hand smashing up my thumb and fingers.

Oh how I long for a glimpse of old Canada again and see some of our Canadian girls again. My home is in Ontario, Left Canada with the 18th Batt., went to France Sept., 1915, so just struck it one year and the Somme was my finish. I was wounded in a big attack on the Germans between Courtallman and Lozeries I belonged to a mounted gun company and out of 36 men only 4 answered that night.

CAPE BRETON TO THE FRONT

Baddeck the Pioneer in Aviation—Its Flyers Second to None

The establishment of a school of aviation in Upper Canada recalls some of the earlier stages of this dangerous game and the men who have been connected with it in Canada. To the little village of Baddeck, nestled snugly on the shore of Bras d'Or Lake, in Cape Breton, belongs the honor of being the scene of the pioneer experiments and developments in what today is a leading profession of war. On a bluff just outside the village is the palatial summer residence of Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, of his telephone fame. One of Dr. Bell's hobbies for years has been aviation, and under his patronage experiments were carried on up until the outbreak of the war by Mr. J. A. D. McCurdy.

Mr. McCurdy established the Curtis school of aviation in Upper Canada, and to date has trained some six hundred aviators, who are recognized among the flyers of the allied forces as second to none.

The Curtis school and plant are now been taken over by the government, and it is the intention to enlarge and improve it. In the early stages of the war, when flying men were scarce, Roman service was rendered by men who received their early training under Mr. McCurdy at Dr. Bell's station, Baddeck, C.

THE GERMAN THREAT

Berlin, Jan. 31, via Sayville.—The following is the annex referred to in the final paragraph of the German note, sent under Washington date:

"From February 1, 1917, with barred zones around Great Britain, France, Italy and in the Eastern Mediterranean, as outlined in the following, all sea traffic forthwith will be opposed. Such barred zones are: In the North Sea, the district around England and France which is limited by a line twenty nautical miles; the district along the Dutch coast as far as the Terschelling Lightship, the degree of longitude of the Terschelling Lightship to Udir; a line from the point sixty-two degrees north latitude, five longitude, westward along sixty-two degrees to a point three nautical miles south of the south point of Farovir (Foroe Islands?); from there across the point sixty-two degrees north, —degrees west to sixty-one degrees north, 15 degrees west; then 57 degrees north, 20 degrees west, to 47 degrees north, 20 degrees west; further, to 43 degrees north, 15 degrees west; then on latitude 43 degrees north to the point 20 nautical miles from Cape Finisterre and 20 nautical distance along the Spanish North coast as far as the French frontier.

"Concerning the south, in the Mediterranean: For neutral shipping there remains open the sea district west of a line from Pt. Des Les Paquette to 38 degrees, 20 minutes north and six degrees east, as well as north and west of a zone sixty miles broad, along the North African coast beginning on (7) degrees west longitude.

"In order to connect this sea district with Greece, the zone leads 20 sea miles in width north or east, following this line 28 degrees north and six degrees east, 28 degrees north and 11 degrees, 30 minutes east to 34 degrees north and 11 degrees, 30 minutes east to 34 degrees north and 22 degrees, 30 minutes east. From there it leads to a zone 20 sea miles broad west of 22 degrees, 30 minutes east longitude into Greek territorial waters.

"Neutral shipping plying within the barred zones do so at their own risk. Although precautions are being taken to spare neutral ships which on February 1 are on the way to ports in the barred zone, during an appropriate delay, yet it is urgently to be advised that they should be warned and directed to other routes by all means available.

"Neutral ships lying in ports of the barred zones can, with the same safety, abandon the barred zones if they sail before February 5 and take the shortest route into the open district.

"Traffic of regular American passenger steamers can go on unmolested if:

"A" Falmouth is taken as the port of destination, and if,

"B" On the going and return journey the Scilly Islands, as well as the point fifty degrees north, 20 degrees west, be steered on. Along this route no German mines will be laid.

"C" If steamers on this journey bear the following special signals which only they will be permitted to display in American ports, a coating of paint on the ship's hull and the superstructure in vertical stripes three metres broad, alternating white and red; on every mast a large flag of checkered white and red, on the stern the American national flag; during darkness the national flag and the coat of paint to be easily recognizable as possible from a distance; and the ships must be completely and brightly illuminated.

"D" If only one steamer runs each week in each direction, arriving at Falmouth on Sundays, leaving Falmouth on Wednesdays.

"E" If guarantees and assurances are given by the American Government that these steamers carry no contraband (according to the German list of contraband.)

"Two copies of maps on which the barred zones are outlined are added."

United States on the Verge of War With Germany

German Ambassador Has Been Dismissed and Gerard Recalled From Berlin

On Saturday President Wilson and his Cabinet decided to break all diplomatic relations with Germany and Count Bernstorff was ordered to leave the country at once, Gerard, the American Ambassador at Berlin was also called home. Whether this move will lead to war is yet undecided as it will depend upon Germany's acts in carrying out her threats. Seldom does an act like this occur without war following. The United States is taking every precaution and action in case war follows.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Besides breaking off diplomatic relations with Germany, President Wilson has made a bold stroke to range the moral force of all other neutral countries along with that of the United States in the interest of peace.

The President has suggested to all the other neutrals that they break off diplomatic relations with Germany, as the United States has done, and has instructed all American diplomats in those countries to report immediately how the suggestion is received. The opinion in diplomatic circles here is that European neutrals on the very doorstep of Germany, threatened by her military power, will hesitate to take such a step. The effect of the suggestion in other countries is being eagerly awaited. This was the only known development of first importance which came out of a day of tence waiting which followed the actual announcement yesterday of the break with Germany.

News that the American steamer Housatonic had not been sunk without proper warning, and that no lives had been lost, dispelled a cloud which threatened the storm to follow the first act against the United States under the new war zone order.

STILL HOPEFUL OF AVOIDING WAR

Still hopeful that Germany will not ruthlessly sacrifice American lives or rights, the Administration is awaiting developments, but leaving nothing undone to prepare the country for the eventuality of war.

The situation as to Austria is tonight unchanged. There is no doubt, however, that diplomatic relations will be broken with her when she announces her intention to adhere to Germany's course.

PROTECT AMERICAN CITIES AND PROPERTY

Steps to protect American cities against attack by foreign sympathizers are day and night going forward, actively, although silently. Preparations to prevent the disabling of German war-bound ships in American ports are being taken, but they are announced. The question of convoying American ships on their voyages to the submarine zone is undecided although the first impressions is to let American ships proceed in a usual lawful way on the assumption that Germany has been warned that an overt act means war.

Like the highest priced cars on the market, Studebaker retains its beautifully distinctive lines, without faddish or freakish change. Simplicity and dignified elements have been perfected in the Studebaker body owing to the constant refining and perfecting of good basic lines.

The lines are long, clean and sweeping. There is not a single thing to interfere with the smooth continuous flow of the Studebaker body, from the tip of the radiator to the rear of tonneau.

One of the first things you will notice when you come in to see the Series 18 Studebaker is its rare elegance of finish. And the strikingly original gun-metal gray finish of the Studebaker will always look rich and new. Twenty-five separate paint and varnish operations insure its permanency.

Chinese Letter Carriers

How many of our own postmen would care to transfer their services to the Chinese Post office?

To get into postal service in China is not an easy matter.

In the first place an applicant must have strength and courage, and in order to gain these he must be prepared to undergo a very queer method of training. He must wander through mountains and valleys, forests and caves. The exact time to be occupied in a trip of this sort is fixed by the law, and a very heavy fine is imposed for any unnecessary delay.

The would-be postman must repeat these trips at night, and if he listens to the bad spirit there by failing to appear at the required time at a specified place, he is sure to lose his chance of being a postman.

But that is not all, for he is obliged to carry enormous weights for many miles and must return with burden within a given time, though his road usually takes him through districts thick with bandits.

In training, the postman eats very little, though he is used to this and tries every training exercise. Then comes his real examination, under the direction of the government officials. He is taken into a large room, where suspended from a high beam, are very heavy sacks filled with rocks. He must give a swinging motion to all these sacks, run to and fro between them, carefully guarding himself against a blow from the heavy weights. — London Globe.

American Liners Will Sail as Usual

New York, Feb. 1st — A definite ruling and instructions from official sources as to future movements of the American line steamships was asked of Secretary of State Lansing and State Department today by P. A. S. Franklin, President of the International Mercantile Marine. The steamship St. Louis, now in port, is taking on cargo and passengers are being booked to sail for Liverpool Saturday. It was said by Mr. Franklin that unless instructed to the contrary by Washington, the St. Louis would sail for Liverpool, the regular port of destination.

The telegram sent by Pres. Franklin to Secretary Lansing officially advised the State Department that the St. Louis is an American ship owned by American citizens, insured by the United States War Risk Bureau, carriers as passengers American citizens, and as cargo such merchandise as in compliance with the Government War Risk Bureau's regulation with reference to contraband.

The telegram also advised that the liner Philadelphia, operated under the same conditions, was now about 1,200 miles from Liverpool, on her way from New York; that the steamship Finland was due to leave Liverpool for New York, February 3rd, or 4th, and the steamship Kronland had sailed yesterday from Liverpool for New York.

Like the St. Louis, the Philadelphia, Finland and Kronland carry passengers. On the Philadelphia there are 35 American citizens and 148 aliens; on the Finland 46 Americans and 114 aliens. Cable advices as to the Kronland placed the number on board as 191, but gave no information as to their nationality.

Britains Effort History's Marvel

One of the most eloquent tributes paid by a neutral writer to the part Great Britain is playing in the war, is contributed in a recent issue of the Boston News Bureau, which is reproduced in the Wall Street Journal. The writer says that all the wonders of the world, ancient or modern, fade when compared with what Britain is doing today. A commercial nation of not 50,000,000 people summoned to arms where no arms existed, has produced a bigger army than history ever before recorded, and a war machine in Europe that for wealth of shell, explosive and war power is the amazement of the Germans. Britain has done in thirty months what Germans took thirty years to do, and she has done it more thoroughly, and on a vaster scale. Without an English aeroplane engine capable of circling her own islands, she has vanquished the boasted Zeppelin and is the mistress of her own skies. With submarines by the hundred threatening her coast defences and her food supply, she has swept all oceans, bottling the German fleet, with the exception of an old raider like the Mowand the vessel that is now preying upon merchantmen in the South Atlantic.

The Grand Division of the Sons of Temperance is to meet in quarterly session in Wolfville on Tuesday of this week. The first session will be at 10.30 o'clock. On Monday evening a rally is to be held in Temperance Hall, at which all members of the order were invited to be present. On Wednesday evening a public meeting will be held at the Baptist Church, to be addressed by Grand Division officers and others. Good music will be furnished and an interesting meeting is anticipated. It is hoped there may be a good attendance.

Price of Shoes Going Higher

The price of shoes is going higher—how high no one knows. This is the consensus of opinion of 32 New England shoe manufacturers who arrived in Milwaukee Saturday and spent the day touring the big factories and factories there. Much of the leather used by these eastern makers comes from Milwaukee and information gathered there is what caused the visitors to make the statement. The shortage of leather, a record demand for shoes in the United States and in Europe—these two things were given as the reasons for the coming increase. Arthur D. Anderson, of Boston, associate editor of the Boot and Shoe Recorder, said that every effort was being made by the manufacturers to find a substitute for leather.

Heavy Fighting on the French Front.

Paris, January 31—The official communication issued by the War Office tonight, reads:

"In the course of the quite violent artillery action took place at various points along the front, notably in the sector east of Rheims, and on the right bank of the Meuse. There was no infantry action."

The Belgian communication: "East of Pervyse and south of Noordbroote German parties vainly attempted, after a violent bombardment, to approach the advanced Belgian posts. They were driven back by artillery, infantry and machine gun fire. Aspirant artillery engagements occurred in the direction of Dixmude and Steenstraete."

Canadian railways last year carried 41,551,031 passengers, and only 17 were killed and 40 injured. That is a "safety first" record that is simply wonderful.

A LOSS TO SCIENCE

Lawrence, Kas., Jan 26—Two skeletons of the duckbilled dinosaur were lost to science with the sinking of the ship Mount Temple, according to Charles H. Sternberg, of this city, who found the bones in the Red Deer county in Alberta, Canada. The prehistoric specimens were 32 feet long. They were being sent to the British Museum in London.

Mr. Sternberg said they filled 22 boxes and weighed 20,000 lbs. When the shipments failed to arrive in England an enquiry was made by Mr. Sternberg. Today he received word from Canadian railroad officials of the fate of the shipment. The Mount Temple was sunk by a German raider.

SUNDAY IN BOSTON

Billy Sunday closed his evangelistic campaign in Boston by preaching to 70,000 people in four services at his tabernacle, and, incidentally, carrying away with him a cheque for $50,000. Boston's cash gift to the evangelist brings the total of free-will offerings that he has received since conducting revivals up to approximately $600,000. The free-will offerings are clear profit for the evangelist. All expenses of the revivals including house rent and living expenses of Sunday and his party, are paid out of collections taken at every service until these expenses have been met. Collections for expenses in Boston totalled $90,436.75. Mr. Sunday preached there to 1,327,500 persons at services in the tabernacle, and his audiences at outside meetings, gatherings at homes of society leaders and trips to adjacent cities, totalled 10,000 more. At the tabernacle, previous to the closing day's meetings, 60,000 people replied to his appeal to "hit the sawdust trail." Here was Mr. Sunday's appreciation of his treatment in Boston:

Boston's batting average for God is .999. She is not behind in history or culture or hospitality, baseball or religion. She trails nobody in anything. God be with you, old scouts! Like me, you thank God that you have lived in this day and generation and that your eyes have beheld such scenes as I have witnessed here. I can understand that how Rhody and other members of the party came to think you were extremely conservative, but I have played baseball here, and I knew that if you brought one-half the enthusiasm and square deal into the campaign that you put into the game it would be all right. It has been one of the characteristics of a Boston audience to give a square deal to the visiting club."

Sunday estimates that he received two million dollars worth of free newspaper advertising during his Boston campaign.

AFTER N. S. APPLES

Mr. A. G. Turney, of Fredericton, Provincial Horticulturist, came to St. John, says the Standard to meet Inspector Vroom of Middleton, N. S. Yesterday they were engaged in making inspection of the stock of local apples which have been shipped here from Nova Scotia. There is an impression prevalent that some of the apples which come to the local market from Nova Scotia are not of the best quality. This is particularly true of the apples packed by the smaller producers in the Annapolis Valley.

Arrested on Charge of Conspiracy to Murder Lloyd George Says a London Despatch

The Daily Sketch says:—The police have unearthed what is believed to be a plot to murder the premier, with the result that Mrs. Wheelodon of Derby, Miss Hetty Wheelodon, her daughter, Mrs. Mason, another daughter, and Alf Mason, the latter's husband have been arrested. They were taken to the police station and formally charged with conspiring together to murder Mr. Lloyd George. They will be taken before the magistrate at Derby on only formal evidence will be given then, but later in the week the charges will be thoroughly investigated. The details are yet unknown, but it is understood the conspirators aimed at causing the premier's death by poison.

Derby, Jan. 31.—Mrs. Alice Wheelodon and her two daughters and the husband of one of them Alf Mason, were charged at the Guild Hall here today with conspiring to murder Premier Lloyd George and Arthur Henderson, member of the House of Commons and of the War Council.

SIR SAM WOULD APPLY MILITIA ACT

"Were I Minister of Militia again I should have no hesitation, and I'm sure I should have the backing of all Canadians, in applying the Militia Act, if we could not get enough men any other way."

This statement was made by Lieut.-General Sir Sam Hughes in an address before the junior bar of Montreal at a banquet, when he spoke on the Militia Act, as it applies to general service in recruiting. Further, Sir Sam said:

"I have no hesitation in saying it would be better to apply the Act so as to get them today. Sir Sam said there are still 800,000 single men of eligible age in the Dominion.

NEWS PRINT CRISIS IN ENGLAND GRAVE

London.—On the principle that misery loves company, the suffering publishers in America may draw considerable comfort from the plight of their brethren in England. If white paper conditions are bad in the United States, they are almost impossible on this side. Up to last November newspapers were permitted to use 66 per cent of the quantity currency used by them in 1914. Publishers thought these conditions were pretty bad, but they were struggling along, doing the best they could, when the Government notified them that their paper allowance would be cut down to five-sixths of the 1916 quantity, which is equivalent to about 50 per cent of the 1914 quantity. Recently there has been strong talk of making a still further cut to a 40 per cent basis, as compared with 1914. The proposed action led today to a visit in force to Prime Minister, when about forty newspaper proprietors, headed by Lord Urnham of The Daily Telegraph were received at 10 Downing St. They made vigorous representations as to the necessity of newspapers to the public in war time and the necessity of white paper to the newspapers. They will receive the same consideration from the Government that would be accorded to any other industry.

Even the Government contends to preserving the present status the newspapers are faced with almost intolerable conditions. The Government restrictions on paper and raw materials arise from the need of shipping tonnage for food and munitions, and they are aggravated by the growing scarcity of labor and other factors that make for high prices. Leading paper dealers tell me the market price of paper for customers today is $130 per ton, but that, as a matter of fact, a new paper starting would be unable to obtain news print at any price. I am told by newspaper managers that they are actually paying the equivalent of six cents a pound for current supplies and that they expect the situation to get worse before it gets better.

Thanks to the reserve stocks held by some of the papers, the newspapers have not yet fully accommodated themselves to the scarcity of news print and high prices. The Times has gone from two cents to three cents and given notice of a probable further increase to four cents. All one-cent papers have made drastic cuts in size and are prepared to carry the condensation still further. They do not find that the cut in size has hurt them with their readers.

There has been gossip of The Daily Mail's raising its price to two cents but it is doubtful whether that will be done in the face of the certainty that the Daily Telegraph and Morning Post will stay at their old price of two cents. When the war broke out there was a perpendicular drop in advertising revenue. There has been a gradual recovery although conditions are not yet entirely normal. The advertising outlook is encouraging, as the shops almost universally report good trade. London, streets were never so crowded as at present. Visitors from the country and the continent compete with London housewives in hunting bargains regardless of the war time.

A Sackville News item says: Miss Lillian Hart who recently accepted the position of superintendent of nurses in the Provincial Sanatorium at Kentville, Nova Scotia, leaves this morning to assume her new duties. Miss Hart's many friends will be glad to know that she has almost fully recovered from her serious illness of last year.

THE COAL BILL

A Dealer Tells How to Cut It.

A reader in Cornwall writes: I enclose a cutting from a local evening paper. We have given it a small trial and have found it a saving, so I am forwarding it to you.

During these hard times poor people find their coal bills very heavy. Unfortunately people do not get the most out of their fuel, because they have not time or inclination to try a few experiments.

I have for over 30 years been connected with the coal trade. During this period I tried various methods by which to prolong the life of coal when burning. In the end I succeeded in making one feeding of coal on a fire last from 12 to 13 hours. In my house I used to make one hundred weight of coal last in one fire seven days, burning continuously night and day. This secret preparation was so simple that I often wondered that someone else did not discover the ingredients. The preparation is so cheap that I am pleased to give it to our readers. For one hundred weight of coal mix 16 ounces of common salt with eight ounces of common soda, and about two-thirds of a pint of boiling water to dissolve the salt and soda. Keep this solution in a bottle with the cork out to allow the solution to be well sprinkled. Be sure the coal is well moistened with the solution. The result invariably is very little smoke, a bright, incandescent kind of flame, and long duration of the fuel.—Ex.

OBITUARY

The death occurred at his home, Hill Grove, Digby Co., on Monday, of Mr. Richard Marshall, after an illness of three months of paralysis. He was 76 years old and leaves two sons: Leigh and Harry H., late M. P. P., and now Inspector of Marine and Fisheries at Digby, and one daughter, Annie. He was a member of the Baptist church and was an industrious farmer.

(Hants Journal)

On Friday morning, Jan. 26th there passed away E. J. Morse, a well known barrister of this town. He was 62 years of age, and although he had been in failing health for some time death came very suddenly.

Mr. Morse graduated in Arts from Acadia College, and was admitted to the Bar of Nova Scotia in January, 1891. He came to Windsor the same year, and during the years of his residence here has enjoyed the community. In November he was forced through ill-health to move his law office to his home on King St., endeavoring to carry on his work to the end. He was a member of the Baptist Church, and in politics was a supporter of the Conservative party.

The deceased is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Jessie Parsons of Middleton, two sons and one daughter, Lt. Graham Morse, C. E., now overseas; Emmerson, C. E., in Winnipeg, in the employ of the G. T. P. Railway, and Lucile, Dist. Supt. for the Sterilz Sales Co., Vermont, J. S. Longley, Paradise, is a half brother.
