

Martha, despite her weakness in having become the wife of one who had been the cause of her first husband's death, was not willy-nilly dejected. She was weak, she was dejected, but she was not crushed, and she was not crushed by every means in her power to protect the young girl she had charge of from contamination.

What Kate had learned was a kind of masculine character, which in her position in the woods was of considerable use to her, and without which she would never have undertaken the present journey to Sewall Hall.

In a few moments the usual signs of the approach to a plantation were seen. Fields of corn, open meadows, a few huts, were visible. Still, on the side towards the river, the wood was thick, and Kate kept on the verge of it, to the right of the trail, for she had no wish to be seen by any of the overseers, white laborers, or negroes of the plantation.

She saw several workings in the fields, but they were too busy to notice her. Presently the sound of dogs barking came upon her ears, and she moved more cautiously and slowly. She was in quite a thick and tangled wood.

Suddenly she started. Voices were heard near her, and one voice she knew too well, that of one she loved above all others.

A moment more she hesitated, and then, remembering the object of her coming, she crept forward, and in another moment saw James Barton seated on a bench smoking, while Phoebe stood on his coffee table, and Phoebe was a white, only half a negro, and not ill-looking, as she had already said. Kate felt a burning sense of shame and disgust as she recollected that even her ignorance and weakness she could have loved that man.

Conquering all other sentiments in one of earnest desire to fathom the mystery of that man's life, she glided a step or two forward and listened.

"Phoebe," said Barton, "no more whispering and grumbling, or I'll send you away South—you are getting foolish."

"Say no more," replied Phoebe, with a flash of suppressed anger in her eye.

in connection with the movement, which appears to have been overlooked by all previous writers. The Fenian Society is an illegal one in the eye of the neutrality laws of the United States, as can be seen from the following language of the Neutrality Act:

"If any persons shall, within the territory or jurisdiction of the United States, begin or set on foot, or provide or prepare the means for, any military expedition or enterprise, to be carried on from those against the territory or dominions of any foreign prince or state, or of any colony, district, or people with whom the United States are at peace; every person so offending shall be fined not more than three thousand dollars, and imprisoned not more than three years."

This clause is explicit enough, and would seem to demand of the Washington Cabinet the suppression of the Fenian organization, the declared object of which is "to provide means for a military expedition against a state at peace with the United States"; and yet, the American Government, so far from proscribing the Fenians, or visiting them with fines and penalties, receives their donations, permits them to take part in national displays, and in every way recognizes and encourages them.

Have any of our readers attempted to account for this extraordinary conduct on the part of the American Government? That the Government, if it desired to employ them, has the means to suppress the Fenians, strong and powerful as the organization undoubtedly is, cannot be questioned; and it is absurd to suppose that Fenianism is tolerated in defiance of law, merely to gratify a passive spirit of revenge by annoying England. There is something beneath the surface not yet brought to light, which urges the American Government to wink at the Fenian movement, and induces prominent citizens to swell its ranks by their contributions. We may be wrong, but we give it as our opinion that the probability of trouble with England as a very distant day, explains the cause of the American Government's tolerating it.

The Fenian movement, a powerful armed organization like the Fenian Brotherhood. The Fenians claim to be not abandoned, and the animosity against Great Britain, engendered during the late war, and which only bids its time to secure satisfaction and retaliation, has not been allayed by the exploits of the practical Shenandoah, and the termination of her inglorious career. In case of any difficulty arising out of these claims, and the existence of this deplorable national animosity, the services of 200,000 Fenians, who have been trained and disciplined in the rough school of war, and who could be buried on Canada in a moment's notice, are not to be despised. This view of the case explains to our mind the position and importance of the Fenian organization to-day. Under any other supposition, we should be inclined to admire the wisdom of the Hon. Mr. McGoey in treating with ridicule a movement which, under ordinary circumstances, might be laughed at, but which, judging from the signs of the times, may yet be destined to play an important part in the world's history.

the last drop of their blood in defence of British connection and Magna Charta, either on the soil of this island, or on the borders of Canada or New Brunswick. We hope their courage has not subsided with the effervescence of the wine or the heat of summer, and that they will be ready to offer their swords and services to defend from invasion, the soil of the State Province, whose safety, interests and allegiance are identical with our own. We have no doubt that if the occasion requires it, many of the able-bodied young men of this island would gladly volunteer their services and march to the frontier of New Brunswick to assist their fellow-colonists in preserving the Province to Her Majesty's Crown. We hope, however, that there will be no necessity for such a display of loyalty, and that those despatches about rumored Fenian raids will be found to be the work of some political wags.

THE EDINBURGH REVIEW for October has been received from the American publishers, Messrs. Leonard Scott & Co. This No. is fully up to its predecessors in point of interest and range of topics, as may be judged from the following table of contents: 1. Journal and Correspondence of Miss Berry; 2. Life in the Criminal Class; 3. The Rock-cut Temples of India; 4. Life of Carl Maria von Weber; 5. Campbell's Frost and Fire; 6. Posthumous Writings of Alexis de Tocqueville; 7. Palgrave's Arabia; 8. The Cromwellian Settlement of Ireland; 9. Sir Thomas Wyse's Polonaises; 10. American Psychology.

The second article is a deeply interesting one, as well as suggestive as to the modes in which criminals are treated in Great Britain, a class which seems to be ever on the increase, notwithstanding the laws that are being enacted for the suppression of crime. The eighth article treats on a period of Irish history not the most redolent of pleasing associations, namely: The Cromwellian Settlement of Ireland. That period might, we think, be more appropriately termed, "The Cromwellian Butcheries in Ireland," since of the horrors of which are recorded by John P. Pendergast, Esq., of London, whose book forms the subject of the present critique. The reviewer concludes with the following remarks, which will give the reader an idea of the conclusions drawn by the former from the study of the history of Ireland whilst under "English legislation":

"In closing this review, we cannot but congratulate the sister country upon its altered condition, since English legislation palliated the arm and broke the heart of the people, or that she should be doing 'God send, spring-tide of general reason and substantial improvement, which is rising and swelling all over the country; and though, in the Southern provinces, where there are no manufactures to employ the redundant population, the unsatisfactory state of the land question must, for some time to come, be a bar to agricultural progress, it cannot now be justly charged upon England that she governs less by the love of the many than by the power of the few, or that she steadily sacrifices a noble and warm-hearted people to the caprice of power or the supremacy of an intolerant faction.

The prompt and complete success of the vigorous measures adopted by the Government in the course of this autumn to expose and crush the Fenian association, has earned for Lord Wodehouse the respect and gratitude of all the educated classes in Ireland, and of every class of all denominations. Perhaps it is the first time that measures of repression taken by the Government have been heartily supported by the Irish nation. We hope this will be the last of those obsolete and patriotic youth of Ireland who will learn that they have nothing to gain from secret societies or foreign intrigues, but that the future welfare of their country depends on their steady adherence to a liberal policy in obedience to the laws of the United Kingdom."

We have received from Messrs. Strahan & Co., 50 St. Peter Street, Montreal, the November No. of "THE SUNDAY MAGAZINE," price 15 cents a No., or $1.75 a-year. It contains twenty original articles, including continuations of previous ones, extending over seventy pages, thus making it one of the cheapest publications of the day.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.—We regret to learn that an accident of a very sad nature occurred on Tuesday evening the 5th instant, at Mount Stewart Bridge, where a young woman, named Mary Feehan, daughter of Mr. Edward Feehan, of French Village, left her home on Tuesday morning to proceed to Charlestown by the Heather Bell. On her return to Mount Stewart the same evening, she stepped from the steamer on to the wharf in safety; but, the night being dark and stormy, she unfortunately fell over the wharf. An alarm was given, when a young man named McEachern, at the imminent risk of his own life, plunged into the watery flood, to rescue the young woman, but in vain. He himself being saved with great difficulty.

Body of the unfortunate young woman floated ashore a short distance down the river, when every means were used to restore animation, but without effect, as the vital spark had irrevocably fled. It is supposed that in falling she struck the wheel of the steamer, or that she struck her head against the railing, and being stunned, she made no struggle to get up until her lifeless corpse was found upon the bank of the river. The deceased was beloved by all who knew her, for her unaffected piety and amiable and exemplary disposition, and her death cast a gloom over the neighborhood of which she resided.

The frequent occurrence of accidents at Mount Stewart Bridge calls loudly for some protection thereto for human life, in providing a good and substantial railing to the bridge, and in placing a sufficient light thereon in the night. Surely no additional heart-rending sacrifices are demanded to urge the providing without delay those ordinary means of protection for human life which sad experience and common prudence alike dictate.

JAMAICA.

Papers received from Jamaica give lengthy accounts of the late insurrection, and of the frightful atrocities perpetrated by the rebels.—The Halifax "Citizen" says:—

"The papers do not state the whole number of persons massacred by the insurgents, but the whole number of persons tried by court martial and executed up to the 4th inst., was one hundred and twenty. Among these were members of the legislature, ministers of the Methodist and Baptist churches, editors, officers and privates of the volunteer forces, policemen and others in offices of trust under the Government.—Many of the ringleaders were arrested in their own houses, and documents were found in the possession of some of them, proving that the arrangements, embracing plans for the uprising of the negro population of every important place in the Colony, including Kingston, the town of Paul Bogle, who dated the authorities at Morant Bay, and commenced the massacre some time before the plot was fully ripe. But for this premature outbreak, every man, woman and child in Jamaica would have been murdered. The Maroons were entirely loyal, and by their active co-operation greatly aided the authorities in the suppression of the rebellion. The revolt was not merely a blood-thirsty and aimless attempt at indiscriminate slaughter; it was a deep political plot, intended to give the negroes control of the Government, and to place their leaders in the possession of the rich estates now held by the whites."

We are told that—

"The master mind of the revolt was Geo. W. Gordon, a man with some negro blood in his veins, but of nearly white complexion, a Baptist preacher, and a member of the Jamaica legislature. The confessions of his accomplices point to him as having been active in the rebellion for three years, and most actively for three months. He was hung with eighteen others on the 23rd of October. Numerous arrests had been made at Gordontown, St. David's, Stony Hill, Balmora, and other places. Plantain gardens, and other places. Many hundreds of prisoners, in addition to the two hundred already hanged or shot, still await trial.

Gen. Lamothé, the Haytien exile, also figured among the conspirators, and fell into the hands of the authorities on the 24th ult.

HOW THE REBELLION WAS FOSTERED.—Under the mask of religion, the negroes, living in the negro houses on the estates, and in the mountainous plots of land where they had thievishly squandered the money purchased, had been imbued by certain wicked and desperate men with the doctrine that the soil belongs to the blacks—that the whites are tyrants and oppressors—and that to exterminate, root and branch, the white race, was the duty of God and man. The negroes were to be made to sleep on a moonlight night for the howlings of the wretched delusionists. Frequently the promoters of these orgies of darkness might be seen riding along in the Anglo-nigger style, tall hat, black suit, with white necktie extending from ear to ear, grinning smugly whenever a white man passed them. The same supercilious manner, too, was manifested by their ignorant followers. No wonder, it is the very self-will of the burglar and footpad as each comes within view of booty, checking over the realization of that for which they have not labored.

PAUL BOGLE, the rebel chief, was a very ferocious-looking fellow, and having lately had the small-pox, he was the true type of the fiend. He was about five feet ten inches in stature, and looked 45 years old. This rebel chief appears to have been the constant commander of the rebels, and made his headquarters at Thomas in the East. He resided at Stony Gut, the stronghold of the rebels; called meetings, proposed the manner, and made his followers swear a dreadful oath to be faithful and never on any account to "tell on each other. He was the leader of the rioters on the 11th of October, the day of the massacre at Morant Bay Court House, and struck the first blow at the lamented Baron Von Kettelbach.

HOW THE COURT MARTIAL WORKS.—The Court Martial, presided over by Lieut. and Commander Brand, resumed its sittings on Saturday about 3 o'clock. Eleven rebels were tried and condemned; three of the number were women who took considerable part in the insurrection. They were executed the same evening at about half-past five o'clock. Several of the rebels were condemned to death, and one to be flogged—100 lashes. Late in the evening twelve were hanged.

It is one continual scene of hanging day by day, and it becomes a matter for consideration whether the burial of so many people (packed, as I heard a blue-jacket say, "like sardines,") in the town, is not likely to become a serious epidemic here—already the effluvia of the dead bodies commences to taint the atmosphere.

It may not be altogether uninteresting to your readers to know that slightly over 10000 rebels have been hanged and shot in the island of St. Thomas in the East up to date; and it is not at all unlikely that ere the different courts-martial close their sittings, there will be the loss of over 15,000 who will have paid the penalty of their lives for the vile attempt to exterminate the white and colored races of the island.

J. W. Cudlip, M. P. F., for St. John, has been sworn in as a member of the Executive, and not of the Legislative council, as announced by telegraph, consequently there will be no election.

The eighth annual report of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, of St. John, N. B., shows that the amount received from all sources was $1383.80, and the sums expended $1383.80, making the Society in debt to the Treasurer to the amount of $2.37.—The Society relieved 77 families, numbering 325 persons last winter, and 18 families, numbering 80 persons, during the summer months.

A communication to the Antigonish Cable says: Another magnificent cone of gold, weighing 347 ounces, value about $7000, has just been produced from the "Maclean pit," at Goldenville, the total expense incurred in procuring the same, amounting to $1500. The prospect continues good, and appearances indicate that the pit will yield at this rate for the next four or five years.

COURTNEY GREENBANKS.—We learn from the Montreal "Telegraph" that Courtney Greenbanks' of every denomination, from one dollar up to one hundred dollars, have lately been passed in that city. It is asserted that the produce buyers from the other side are the chief instruments of this circulation.—P. R.

TROOPS TO THE FRONTIER.—A Company of the Royal Artillery left Montreal on Monday afternoon to Garrison Isle-Aux-Noix, a military post on the Richelieu river, near the New York border.

It is rumored in Montreal that two regiments of infantry will be sent to Canada at once, if not more. The number of regulars at present in Great Britain and Ireland is nearly eighty thousand, and five regiments are on their way home from New Zealand, so that strong reinforcements can easily be spared, if necessary.

PORK.—Pork in the carcass has been brought to town for shipment to the United States in very large quantities lately; and the continued soft weather has not by any means improved its appearance or quality. Some hundreds of bags lying round Round Point Wharf and in the freight house look black and uninviting. A great portion of this has come from P. R. Island. We heard that some brought down to the railway had to be buried as unfit for use.—(St. John "Globe.")

WE observe that Mr. McDonald, the editor and proprietor of the Pitou Eastern Chronicle, is about to retire from the publication of that journal. The Chronicle has been for many years a very well-conducted weekly newspaper; and we are glad to know it is not intended to allow it to die out. Two young men, Messrs. Alley and McConnell, favorably known in this island will, we understand, assume the management of the Chronicle early in January next. We wish them a successful career.—E. X.

THE President's message, delivered in Congress yesterday, is dignified and amicable in tone towards late rebellious States. In reference to the proposition of Republicanism, the President thinks it no part of our policy. He would have the United States do what Washington sought to impress upon his countrymen, preserve our system of Government for a blessing to ourselves and an example to be imitated by the world; but if the Monarchies of Europe insist on challenging Republicanism to a trial on this Continent, he does not believe the people of this Country will hesitate to meet the issue.

Our foreign relations are satisfactory, save with Great Britain. The proposal of Earl Russell to submit claims mutually agreed upon to a commission was declined, because the very matter in dispute was persistently left out.

The municipality of law of Great Britain, with its domestic interpretation, the President proclaims, will be secured by the Government as public law for the conduct of neutrals, but he permits the subject, with this protest, to rest where it is, simply insisting that "for the future, friendship between the two countries must rest on the basis of mutual justice."

The correspondence between the United States and France, in reference to questions which have become subjects of discussion between the two Governments, will at a proper time be laid before Congress.

No reference is made to the Reciprocity Treaty, except that it leaves it entirely in the hands of Congress.

FROM EUROPE.

Dec. 6.

The steamer City of New York, with dates to the 23rd ult., has arrived.

The London Times has reason to believe that at a Cabinet Council held on the 16th, it was determined to address an energetic remonstrance to the Spanish Government against the conduct of the Admiral commanding the Spanish fleet off Valparaiso, and against the measures taken by Spain to enforce her demands against Chile.

A Dublin telegram of the evening of the 20th, to the "Morning Post," says that Pigeon Hoop Fort, commanding Dublin Bay, has been garrisoned since the 18th by a large military detachment. All the guards have been doubled, the guns double shotted, and the men held under arms all night. During all that day—the 20th—four General officers were in the fort, and the gates and bridges were closed.

The Underwriters and Marine Insurance Companies of London and Liverpool are reported to have lost half a million sterling, by the destruction of three New Orleans cotton ships at Key West.

Victor Emanuel in his speech at the opening of the Italian Parliament, said that time and the force of events would solve the question, pending between Italy and the Papacy.

The reported arming of the Pigeon Hoop Fort at Dublin is confirmed. Rumor accounts for it by the alleged appearance of a doubtful vessel in the Channel. Magazine Fort, Phoenix Park, Dublin, is similarly strengthened. It is alleged that these movements are not attributable to Fenianism, but to increased discipline under Sir Hugh Ross.

Public meetings are taking place in Manchester to demand from the Government the most searching investigation into the proceedings in Jamaica.

The "Morning Post" sees indications of reform in certain steps taken by the Government.

FROM MEXICO.

Dec. 4.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Semi-official news from the city of Mexico, of Nov. 17th, has been received at the Mexican Legation in this city. Langdon, Minister of Treasury, when Napoleon III. was in exile, in order to arrange the business of the Empire, has declared that it is impossible to succeed in that enterprise, as the Budget amounts to forty millions, and the receipts do not reach quite fifteen millions.

The arrival from Mexico, it is reported that the Liberals are daily gaining ground, and the number of their forces continually increasing. General Diaz deflected an Imperial force in the State of Puebla, and afterwards went to see General Alvarez, to combine of a decisive movement against the French.

FENIANISM

Has formed the subject of many a sensational article in the newspapers on both sides of the Atlantic. Patriotism, as well as hatred and venom, have improved the occasion to the best of their ability for their own and their country's good, so that if the people generally are not acquainted with the motives and intentions of the dead Fenians, the fault does not rest with either of the above classes. As this late hour, we beg to offer a few thoughts that have suggested themselves to us, with regard to the Fenians, since their organization and more recent developments. The avowed object of the Fenians is to erect Ireland into an independent Republic; but however chimerical and far distant we may regard the primary aim of the Brotherhood, there is another consideration, and, to our mind, a more immediate one,

REMOVAL OF THE TROOPS.

The two companies of soldiers, lately stationed here, having been ordered to join their regiment in New Brunswick, without delay, the steamship Merlin was despatched on Monday last from Halifax with two companies of the 17th to take the place of the 16th. The latter will, doubtless, be conveyed to Pictou or Halifax in the Merlin, and thence proceed to New Brunswick. The rumored cause of these changes at this inopportune season is that a Fenian raid is dreaded in Canada, whether the 15th Regiment has been ordered. What truth there may be in the rumor, we know not; but if there is really any danger to be apprehended in Canada, we think this colony might now very well dispense with the presence of troops altogether. This would relieve the colony of an unnecessary expense, and place an additional force at the disposal of the Canadian authorities to meet the needs of the Fenians. The Barrack buildings—cook-house, canteen, and all—might be converted into a House of Industry or Refuge for the Poor. We hope His Excellency, who is a passenger in the Merlin, will make the suggestion to his Council.

Since writing the foregoing, a second despatch has been received by the military authorities here, countermanding the first order, so that the companies now stationed here will remain for the present. Our latest news despatches also explain the cause of the sudden movements of the troops—both here and in the Sister Provinces. If there is any reliance to be placed on despatches, it would seem that the Washington Cabinet had relinquished to the Government of New Brunswick that a Fenian raid was about to be made on that Province, and hence all the available troops in the Lower Provinces have been marched to the frontier. If the despatch does not turn out to be a hoax, we shall have reason to be thankful for the advance of which Fenianism, for while our neighbors are threatened with lively times this winter, we shall remain in complete security in our lee-bound fortress, which would defy even the legation of Brother Jonathan to capture. But where are the gallant Col. Gray, Col. Harland and his "Brigade" now? If we remember rightly, these martial gentlemen declared, last summer, after one or two champagne suppers, that they would stand in connection with the movement, which appears to have been overlooked by all previous writers. The Fenian Society is an illegal one in the eye of the neutrality laws of the United States, as can be seen from the following language of the Neutrality Act:

"If any persons shall, within the territory or jurisdiction of the United States, begin or set on foot, or provide or prepare the means for, any military expedition or enterprise, to be carried on from those against the territory or dominions of any foreign prince or state, or of any colony, district, or people with whom the United States are at peace; every person so offending shall be fined not more than three thousand dollars, and imprisoned not more than three years."

This clause is explicit enough, and would seem to demand of the Washington Cabinet the suppression of the Fenian organization, the declared object of which is "to provide means for a military expedition against a state at peace with the United States"; and yet, the American Government, so far from proscribing the Fenians, or visiting them with fines and penalties, receives their donations, permits them to take part in national displays, and in every way recognizes and encourages them.

Have any of our readers attempted to account for this extraordinary conduct on the part of the American Government? That the Government, if it desired to employ them, has the means to suppress the Fenians, strong and powerful as the organization undoubtedly is, cannot be questioned; and it is absurd to suppose that Fenianism is tolerated in defiance of law, merely to gratify a passive spirit of revenge by annoying England. There is something beneath the surface not yet brought to light, which urges the American Government to wink at the Fenian movement, and induces prominent citizens to swell its ranks by their contributions. We may be wrong, but we give it as our opinion that the probability of trouble with England as a very distant day, explains the cause of the American Government's tolerating it.

In violation of the neutrality law, a powerful armed organization like the Fenian Brotherhood. The Fenians claim to be not abandoned, and the animosity against Great Britain, engendered during the late war, and which only bids its time to secure satisfaction and retaliation, has not been allayed by the exploits of the practical Shenandoah, and the termination of her inglorious career. This view of the case explains to our mind the position and importance of the Fenian organization to-day.

Under any other supposition, we should be inclined to admire the wisdom of the Hon. Mr. McGoey in treating with ridicule a movement which, under ordinary circumstances, might be laughed at, but which, judging from the signs of the times, may yet be destined to play an important part in the world's history.

FROM CANADA. Dec. 5. A special Toronto despatch says that the safe of the Law Society in that place was robbed of $500 last night. A council of the leading Orangemen has been held, at which it was decided to take measures of defence against an anticipated Fenian raid. A dense fog prevailed yesterday in New York, preventing vessels from sea entering, and causing damage in the harbor from the grounding and collisions of vessels. Hong Kong papers state that the effect of a recent decree in China will be to throw a large amount of business into the hands of foreign merchants.

FROM HAITI. Dec. 5, p. m. The steamship Liberty, from Havana, 29th, has arrived. News from Cape Haytien confirms the accounts of its bombardment by the British.—The rebels have been scattered, and most of the rebel chiefs have been shot. The rebel General Hierrew, with 5000 men, surrendered to the Government, and Giffard is now master of the situation. Most of the foreigners fled to the American war vessel at Cape Haytien during the bombardment. The triumph of the Government was commemorated by festivities at Port au Prince and Jacmel. The cholera at Guadalupe, Martinique, has been so fatal that all vessels from there are refused Pratique, at St. Thomas. Havana is healthy and full of strangers. Lord Russell has sent a letter, complimenting the Governor General of Cuba, for his exertions in putting down the slave trade. Gold 148.

FROM NEW BRUNSWICK. Great Fenian Excitement!! St. JOHN, N. B., Dec. 6, 1865. This city has been somewhat excited to-day over rumors respecting a Fenian raid. This evening's "Globe" says the Government received a telegram from Washington on Monday night, stating a raid on New Brunswick was contemplated. His Excellency telegraphed to the Attorney-General to meet him at St. Stephens. It is thought their efforts will be directed to placing the frontier in a state of defence to guard against surprise or incursion from that direction. After the Attorney-General's arrival, the police authorities were communicated with also Bank Presidents and the officer commanding the forces. The latter expressed readiness to co-operate with the civil powers for the preservation of the public peace. Bank Presidents were directed to redouble present securities and safeguards. Police cautioned to exercise more than ordinary vigilance. Passengers who arrived by the American boat this morning were closely scrutinized. The military are under orders to be ready at a moment's notice, and every precaution will be taken to guard against surprise. It is said a request has been made for a gunboat from Halifax. It is generally thought there is no cause for alarm, but that it is as well to be prepared.

It seems by the Unionist that the chief errand of the Canadian and Maritime "Ambassadors" to Brazil is to get more "India Rubber" for Canadian manufacturers. We hope the politicians in the "embassy" will not invest in the article much themselves; some of their consciences are tough enough, and stretch more than enough already. "There's no rubbing out" however the remembrance of their political misdeeds, with all the India Rubber that Brazil can furnish them. When some of them return with their fingers in their mouths, and are asked what good their "embassy" accomplished they may perhaps say, "Ay, there's the rub."—H. C. CITIZEN.

SHIP NEWS. Wreck and Loss of LIFE.—The Portsmouth Chronicle says the bark "F. Dickinson," from Summerside, P. E. I., with a cargo of produce and wine, went ashore on Phillip's Beach, near Bald Head Cliff, in York Me., on Wednesday morning, at 11 o'clock, and was a total wreck in 15 minutes. The crew were all saved but one, he being drowned. The schooner "Minerva," with a load of produce from Souris, P. E. I., to Gloucester, was stranded on the beach at Souris, on the night of Sabbath last. A survey was held on the wreck, which had been condemned, and ordered to be sold, together with the cargo, consisting of oats, beef, pork and herring. Owen," from this port, arrived at Liverpool on the 29th inst. THE FENIANS AND THE TIMES. [From the New York Daily News, 18th.] The following correspondence, received by us yesterday, is full of interest, and we think explain itself. The article in the New York Times which caused the correspondence, reads as follows:

THE FENIAN IMPOSTURE. Hundreds and probably thousands of poor, honest, unassuming Irish, living in the unpopulated sections of this country, have been ejected into making remittances to the managers of the order here and elsewhere—not one tithing of which, they may depend upon it, are used for any other purpose than maintaining a set of scamps in idleness. Stories come to us of remittances of Fenian funds to Ireland. Most of these stories are doubtless intended to show that the contributions received are actually expended for some revolutionary end.
