

The Weekly Observer.

HILLSBORO, N. B., April 4, 1889.

Observations.

As the death of Hon. Mr. Pope will necessitate the appointment of a new Minister of Railways we would respectfully suggest to parliament the advisability of promoting Albert County's claim to the position.

If the government wishes to add to its popularity, while it recognizes sterling integrity and superior abilities, let it heed our suggestion and make Dr. R. C. Weldon Minister of Railways.

Vital Statistics.

From the report of Mr. R. W. L. Tibbits, deputy registrar general, the following information is obtained: The total number of births reported during the year was 4,153.

The marriages reported number 1,502, of which the following numbers were celebrated by ministers and priests of the denominations named: Episcopalian, 117; Presbyterian, 88; Methodist, 111; Roman Catholic, 636; Baptist, 310; other denominations 24.

The total number of deaths registered was 3,028, of which, 1,542 were males and 1,486 females.

Mr. Tibbits says "the results are very far short of the correct number of births, marriages and deaths in the Province for the year."

Death of Hon. J. H. Pope. Hon. J. H. Pope, Minister of Railways, died last Monday afternoon after suffering illness, aged 65 years.

Mr. Pope represented Compton, Quebec, in 1854, at the general election in that year, he offered as a candidate for the legislative assembly of Canada for Compton, but was defeated.

Mr. Pope was elected a member of the House of Commons by acclamation, and was returned each time he appealed to the electors afterwards.

On October 25th, 1871, Hon. Mr. Pope was sworn in as a member of the privy council and made minister of agriculture.

He held this office until the defeat of the Macdonald ministry in 1873, when he retired with his leader.

On the return of his party to power in 1878, on the defeat of the Mackenzie administration, he was reinstated into his old office of minister of agriculture.

On September 25th, 1886, he was made minister of railways and canals. During the summer of 1880, Hon. Mr. Pope, in company with Sir John A. Macdonald and Sir Charles Tupper, visited England and took an active part in the negotiations which led to the Pacific railway contract.

The last time Hon. Mr. Pope was in the House of Commons was the closing day of the session of 1888.

Woman Suffrage.

Dr. Stockton and H. R. Emmerson Esq., pleaded ably and eloquently, in the legislative halls at Fredericton, for the extension of the franchise to women.

That was not the case so far as representation in the house was concerned. Albert, York, Charlotte, New Brunswick, Sunbury, Westmorland and Kings, according to the census of 1881, had a population of 134,115.

These counties elected 21 members to the assembly, which was a majority of the whole house. In the counties mentioned there was one representative for each 6,396 of the population.

The population of St. John, Westmorland, Carleton, Gloucester, Kent, Queens, Madawaska and Victoria in 1881 had a population of 189,118, and had a representation of 20 members.

In these last mentioned counties there was only one representative for each 9,455 of population. These figures show the inequality of the representation, and he thought it would be well if the province were divided into ridings with one member for each riding.

Under the present form of representation a great injustice was done to some counties, particularly to Carleton county, Sunbury and Kings, which were over-represented, and to some other counties, which were under-represented.

Debates at Fredericton.

FREDERICTON, March 25.—Blair introduced a resolution in the House of Representatives and proceedings of the supreme court in equity and respecting certain criminal courts.

Blair recommitted the Franchise bill. Haulington quoted from the debate of 1885 and journals of the same year to show that he had supported manhood suffrage as far back as 1840.

Stockton moved the following as section 22 of the bill: Every widow and orphan of the age of twenty-one years, being a British subject, and who is otherwise legally incapacitated, shall be qualified to vote in any election for members for the House of Assembly, who shall or may have either the qualifications in subsection D or sub-section B of the preceding section.

Dr. Stockton supported his motion in a lengthy speech. The motion was seconded by Emmerson who spoke for upwards of an hour in favor of extending the franchise to women to vote for members of the House of Assembly.

He would include all women whether married or not, but would be willing to accept what was asked for by the motion of Dr. Stockton.

On motion of Hon. Mr. Blair, seconded by Hon. Mr. Haulington, progress was reported with leave to sit again.

March 26.—This morning bills were introduced by Mr. Murray, amending the incorporation act of the town of Campbellton; by Hon. Mr. Turner amending the law relating to municipalities by Dr. Adams, amending the Bristol Hall company; by Mr. White (in the absence of Mr. Killam), the workable bond act.

Objection having been made by Hon. Mr. Blair to the suspension of the rule 186 to permit of a bill to provide that certain civic elections shall not be held in the city of St. John and in the city of Portland in the month of April in the present year.

The Franchise bill was again discussed, many members favoring the woman suffrage amendment.

Mr. Phinney did not think the time had arrived for conferring the franchise on women. It is admitted that women should vote if it must also be admitted that they should have the right to occupy seats in the assembly.

March 30.—Mr. Mitchell introduced a bill further amending the laws for the protection of certain birds and animals.

Mr. Haulington's bill in addition to the amendment of the law relating to minors and apprentices was agreed to. Reces.

Mr. Lablino committed a bill incorporating the Bel River Valley railway Co., Mr. Tweedie in the chair.

Progress reported and the bill referred back to the committee on corporations.

Hon. Mr. Blair committed a bill relating to limited partnerships, Mr. Palmer in the chair.

Hon. Mr. Blair explained that the bill was largely a transcript of the old act, the chief object of this measure being to remove doubts and uncertainties at present existing.

He moved that sections 16 and 17 be struck out. Carried. Agreed to as amended.

Hon. Mr. Blair committed a bill respecting certain criminal courts, Mr. Palmer in the chair.

After an explanation by Hon. Mr. Blair, the bill was agreed to.—Adjourned.

April 1.—Only routine business was transacted this morning.

This afternoon and evening the Franchise bill was further reconsidered and progress reported with leave to sit again.

Hon. Mr. Blair committed a bill amending the law relating to births, deaths and marriages. After Mr. Blair had explained some of its provisions progress was reported with leave to sit again.

Dr. Alward committed a bill incorporating the New Brunswick four mill company.—Progress was reported with leave to sit again.—Adjourned.

Parliamentary Proceedings. OTTAWA, March 26.—Immediately after routine in the house this afternoon, Mr. O'Brien brought up his resolution respecting the Jesuits' Estate act, which he read as follows:

"That an address be presented to the governor general, setting forth that this house regards the power of disallowing acts of legislation of the legislative assemblies of the provinces of Canada vested in his excellency in council as a negative essential to the existence of the dominion."

"That this great power, which should be fearfully used, should be fearfully used for the protection of the fundamental principles of the constitution and safe guarding the general interests of the people."

"That in the opinion of this house the passage by the legislature of the province of Quebec of a bill entitled, An act respecting the settlement of the Jesuits' Estates, is beyond the power of that legislature."

"That, because it endows public funds a religious organization, thereby violating the unwritten but undoubted constitutional principle of the complete separation of church and state, and of the equality of all denominations before the law."

"Secondly—Because it recognizes the usurpation of right by a foreign authority, namely, his Holiness the Pope of Rome, in declaring his consent necessary to empower the provincial legislature to dispose of a portion of the public domain, and also because the act is dependent on the will and the appropriation of the grant thereby made is subject to the control of the same authority, and"

"Thirdly—Because the Society of Jesus is a secret and political religious body, the expulsion of which from every Christian community where it has had a footing was rendered necessary by its intolerant and mischievous intermeddling with the functions of civil government."

Therefore this house prays that his excellency will be graciously pleased to disallow the act."

Mr. O'Brien declared his desire to avoid the religious side of the question and to deal only with the constitutional aspect. He would not have undertaken the responsibility of bringing before the house such a debatable subject, but it was not that he was expressing the conviction of the people he represented and of the great majority of the people of Ontario.

Though elected as a supporter of this administration, he had, speaking in anticipation of just such an event as the present, said that regardless of consequences he would oppose any attempt on the part of any religious body to exercise powers not guaranteed by treaty.

He realized that the verdict of the house would be against his resolution, but he was willing to appeal from the jury of the house to the jury of the people, who, he thought, would unambiguously declare that no foreign authority, civil or religious, should be allowed to have any voice in its government.

MR. RYKERT. rose to reply. Declaring himself an Orangeman, he ridiculed the threats made in certain newspapers of Ontario against such of the members of that order as should dare to oppose disallowance in this house.

It was one of the best principles of the Orange order that civil and religious liberty should be maintained, but while maintaining this principle he did not feel called upon to join the alliance which had been formed against his Roman Catholic fellow-citizens.

After recess Mr. Rykert referred to the agitation which had been carried on with the object of having the Queen withhold assent to the act, and held a veto to be out of the question. He cited precedents, notably the reply of Lord Carnarvon to the New Brunswick appeal of 1875, wherein he declared that while the memorial from residents of the province had been duly laid before the Queen her ministers could not advise her to disallow an act of a provincial legislature.

Mr. Barron (liberal) followed in support of disallowance and expressing regret that on no occasion he would have to vote against the majority of his party and against the views of his leader.

Clark-Wallace argued in favor of disallowance. MR. COLBY, speaking as one of the Protestant minority of the province of Quebec, declared that at a minority did not seek disallowance as a compromise, but as a means to disturb the harmonious relations existing between Catholics and Protestants in Quebec.

O'Brien's motion asking disallowance of the act was carried by several members. No other important business was transacted.

March 28.—The debate on O'Brien's resolution was concluded at 1:30 a. m. by address from Hon. Willard Laurier, Sir John Macdonald and Sir Richard Cartwright, who in support and explanation of the amendment of the act.

The O'Brien resolution was then lost on division of 13 to 188, the yeas being as follows: McCarthy, McNeil, Tyrwhitt, Barron, Bell, Benson, Charlton, Cockburn, Macdonald (Huron), O'Brien, Wallace, Sutherland and Scriver.

The house adjourned at 2 o'clock. March 29.—Hon. Mr. Tupper introduced a bill to amend the Fisheries Act.

The object is to amend this act so as to prevent the use of seine nets in the tidal waters of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, and to protect the spawning waters of the salmon.

The bill was read a second time. The house then went into committee of supply, and passed a number of items respecting the expenditure on public works and grounds in Ottawa.

After recess, the house sat until 11:45, in committee of supply, with all appropriations for public works and pastings also those for quarantine. The discussion was all upon points of little or no general importance.

April 1.—After routine, in answer to Mr. Weldon Sir John said no export duty had been levied upon pig iron, small iron shipped from New Brunswick ports to the United States, these classes of iron being subjected to export duty.

At 5:15 p. m. an announcement in feeling terms the death of Hon. J. H. Pope, and his funeral services were held at 7:30 p. m. by Hon. Mealy Laurier and Mitchell, the house adjourned for the afternoon.

CHANGES.—Joseph R. Milton, of Elgie has moved into Mrs. Emma Duffy's house, Academy Street, Hillsboro.

OUR SCHOOLS.—School Inspector Smith visited the Hillsboro schools last week. He completed his work in Albert County last Thursday and left for his home in Petiotville on Friday's train.

BUSINESS BOOMING.—Business appears to be booming at Harvey Bank at present. Cashiers have commenced work on Hon. G. S. Turner's new ship which is progressing rapidly. About 60 men are now at work on her.

HOUSES TO RENT.—In great demand at present and are becoming scarce.

WHERE TO GO.—If you wish a first class photograph go to C. E. Northrup, Moncton. Only last week we heard a lady, who is well posted in such matters, say that she considered Northrup turned out as good work as did St. John's best artists. He can be relied upon every time. Try him and be convinced. Read his new advertisement in another column.

A GENTLE HINT.—Our subscribers will please remember that the OBSERVER has entered upon its fifth year, and therefore the renewal of subscriptions will be perfectly in order. Amounts due from delinquent subscribers will also be gratefully received. We wish all our friends to assist us in making THE OBSERVER a first class paper, by promptly paying the printer.

TO OUR READERS.—Choice selection on outside pages this week. Do not overlook them.

Next week, instead of the W. C. T. U. column, we purpose publishing a very interesting article by a Nova Scotia clergyman, entitled, "W. C. T. U., the Deberth of the 19th Century."

An elderly lady in Westmoreland County who is greatly interested in THE OBSERVER and its many young readers has sent us a series of 10 letters (by a Presbyterian divine) on popular subjects, such as Education, Amusements, Temperance, etc. We purpose commencing the publication of these letters in our issue of April 18. They will be found exceedingly interesting and instructive and should be read by every person.

SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.—The pupils of the Hillsboro graded school, feeling the need of a sidewalk from the main street to the school house, resolved to undertake the raising of funds for that purpose. Accordingly last Monday evening they held an entertainment in the school room, which was well attended. After the literary part of the programme had been very successfully carried out, well filled baskets were sold at auction, the amount realized being $5.40. The spectators greatly enjoyed the readings, recitations and music, all of which were well rendered.

PROGRAMME. Chorus—"Happy Boy and Girl"—School. Reading—"3 Obedient Husbands"—Frank Smith. Recitation—"The Graves of a House hold"—Junie Bleakney. Reading—"A Delaware Law Case"—Lizzie Jump. WHERE IS HE?—Some months ago Thomas Byron, of this city, engaged with a lumberman named Armstrong to do lumbering in the woods near Shepody. In consequence of reports having reached his friends here that he had been killed, they have been anxiously inquiring concerning him, but up to the present time have not been able to ascertain any information regarding his whereabouts. It is stated that those who went into the woods with Byron have been out for some weeks. If there is anybody in Westmorland or Albert counties who knows anything about Byron, or who can give the present address of the party with whom he was employed, they will be doing an act of humanity if they will at once communicate with the young man's mother, Mrs. Michael Byron, who resides on Richmond street—St. John's Globe.

Elgin Notes.

Although the night was very wet and dark yet a goodly number assembled in the Baptist Church on Thursday evening, March 28, to hear the address by Mrs. John March relative to the missionary work in which she is engaged. She gave an account of the Women's Missionary Aid Society, organized by Miss Norris about eighteen years ago, from the time of its inception to the present. Then she told of the work this society has done, and is doing among the Telugu heathens, as well as in the home mission field. She had on exhibition about four hundred different objects that Missionaries had brought from heathen lands. With those she stated, one girl out of the audience as a Telugu heathen and another as a Telugu Christian and two little girls as widows. In showing the degraded position that women occupy in those eastern countries she said that little girls at the tender age of five and six years are betrothed to men whose wives, heretofore had never seen. When once engaged they were as responsible as if actually married. Should their affianced die they are subjected to all the barbarities that befall the lot of the widow. The rings and jewelry are wrung out of their noses and ears. They were cursed by any one whom they chanced to meet, as their presence was to them an omen of evil. They had to withdraw to the most retired seclusion and they were never allowed again to marry. The highest ambition of a woman there is the hope of becoming, in course of time, a man through the transmigration of souls. She also dressed one of the boys up as a priest showing the deception that is played by the priesthood upon their innocent victims.

Mrs. March is a pleasing speaker and the use she makes of objects in illustrating the benighted condition of the poor heathen is far more forcible than a description, without the objects, by the most eloquent orator.

Her address was repeated on Friday evening to a much larger audience and was given in the church at Hillsboro on Sunday morning, and in the hall at Mapleton on Sunday afternoon.

SUDDEN DEATH. Mrs. Bannister wife of Capt. Joseph Bannister died very suddenly at her residence on Tuesday the 26 inst. She arose quite early, apparently, as well as usual called up the rest of the family, but before the breakfast was ready she was a corpse. It is thought that death was caused by some affection of the heart.

George Kinzie got his leg badly jammed on Friday at Councillor Blakey's mill.

March made an effort, in its last moments, to fill its bill but it proved quite a failure compared with the boisterous weather of other years.

If your face is marked with blotches, and eruptions run your skin, you may get your bottom dollar worth in a few days. To purify it, there is nothing so good, as the G. M. D. is—try it!

To be clearly understood, I will explain that G. M. D. means "Golden Medical Discovery" (Dr. Pierce's), the popular remedy for debility, lung troubles, and weak, impoverished blood, which, like scrofula, shows its presence in the system in blotches, eruptions, and pimples.

Perfection is attained in Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

Harvey Chips.

Rev. L. M. Weeks left here last Friday for St. Andrews, having received a call some time since from the Baptist church in that place.

Hon. G. S. Turner came home Friday and returned to Fredericton on Monday to resume his legislative duties.

Miss Jones and wife of Salisbury, came to Harvey on Saturday to visit relatives.

Norman N. Smith left here Monday for New Jersey where he went to visit his brother Norton who is at present in that state, in the employ of Professor Gleason the noted horse trainer.

Rev. J. W. Brown preached here again Sunday evening, the subject of his sermon being "A Trial of Faith," which by death, with a name, is credited to himself and which was highly appreciated by his audience. He has made himself very popular with the Harvey, New Horton and Germantown churches and has received a unanimous call to be their pastor. It is understood he accepted the call and left here Tuesday for Lunenburg, and will return the middle of next week to take charge of his new field of labor.

A heavy fall of snow here on Saturday made excellent sleighing which our citizens are enjoying to the utmost.

H. B. Pock, Postal Clerk on the I. C. R. was here on Monday calling on some of his numerous friends.

Elmer Smith and bride returned home Tuesday from their bridal tour and are receiving the warm congratulations of their many friends. The boys gave them a hearty cheer.

Justice Cass's court room was filled with spectators on Saturday as a result of a suit brought by S. C. Stevens against Herbert Newcomb for the recovery of the price of an iron pot, which plaintiff had lent defendant and which plaintiff claimed the defendant had broken. The jury brought in a verdict "no cause of action." Herbert Newcomb for plaintiff, J. H. Dickson for defendant.

Another correspondent writing from Harvey says:—

We boast now that the rum shop nearest Harvey Corner or Bank is situated at Albert, which is some thousand miles nearer than we desire.

Our Assessors, in trying to do their duty faithfully, have met with the treatment usually accorded men who understand to do that. They have exercised somewhat in judgment, but we have faith in their integrity, and believe they are equal to any of their predecessors in the soundness of their judgment.

Albert Notes.

Times are a little brighter since the snow storm, Saturday, which made very good sleighing.

J. C. Stewart, of the Shiretown, was down Sunday morning but left immediately after dinner for Riverside to visit a lawyer, or rather the lawyer's domain.

Mr. Haycock Smith moved into the new store over Anderson & Keiver's store last week.

The Maple Leaf printing office is now situated on the "by-road" to Lunenburg. Tingley & Melane intend shipping three car loads of trees to Quebec this week.

Wm. Burns of this village visited Baltimore this week on private business. We expect soon to be able to record the happy event.

Joseph Wood of this village has been laid up with a lame hand but is now improving.

There is a splendid chance here for a lively stable if the right man comes.

Our good friend Levy is again too premature in stating, in last week's Maple Leaf, that Hopewell Lodge had purchased an organ, as the organ was only put on in trial and the bargain is not yet closed.

Frank Taylor, of Hillsboro, bought that fine harness which Kinzie & Murray had in their shop.

The Albert Literary Club was organized last Wednesday with a very few charter members but L. M. W. was one of the number. If he takes the same interest in it that he did in the Lodge after he joined it he will not be worth the paper his name is on. But it is to be hoped he will take a deeper interest and thus help us off the "by-road" to which he referred.

Harley Newcomb, of Riverside has been granted a diploma from the St. John's College.

Wm. Nicholson, of Hillsboro, has opened up a tin and sheet iron shop. It is to be hoped that he will have enough business to cause him to remain here, not only for a short time out permanently.

Mrs. Dr. Murray has been ill but is recovering.

A Five Dollar Paper for one Dollar.

The publishers of the United States Commercial Age, in order to introduce their paper into every household, office and workshop in the United States and Canadian Provinces, will send one year, postage free, to any person remitting them ONE DOLLAR. The regular subscription price of the Age is five dollars per annum. It is an old established paper, being in its tenth year, contains eight large pages each week, full of interesting matter for farmers, mechanics and the general reader, as well as five or six columns of market quotations. It is invaluable to anyone desiring to keep posted on the general market, inventions, finance, etc., of the country. Next to the local paper, no one can invest a DOLLAR to better advantage, as the Age at this price is the cheapest paper in the world, ONE DOLLAR buys you the cost of the fine paper upon which it is printed. The publishers are currently giving it away. Send ten cents in coin or stamps for a sample copy, or what will be better still, remit ONE DOLLAR and receive it a whole year. Subscriptions may be begun at any time. Address BRYANT & SLAWSON, Publishers, 99 Broad street, Boston, Mass.

Pleasant Vale Notes.

R. C. Colpitts, who was hurt with a falling tree some time ago, is recovering slowly.

Sutherland Bishop who has been in poor health all winter, fears being entertained that he was going into a decline is again able to go out and attend to his farm duties. His daughter Ida is seriously ill with erysipelas.

Nearly every family has been afflicted with the mumps, in the last six weeks.

John W. Gifford, one of our highly respected young men, who has followed a seafaring life for some time, leaves home in a few days to take charge of the steward's department in one of Albert County's best schooners.

The sugar season which has given such good returns to those engaged in the business is brought to a stand still by the old storm of Saturday. Our oldest residents think we are going to have our March weather in April.

It is quite a perplexing time for our Assessors just now as those who own property, real and personal, are very anxious they shall not be assessed for more than they are worth. But as we have three very honorable men for Assessors we trust justice will be done all parties.

Simpson Defended.

"What the Hopewell Cape People say of the late Mr. Simpson."

W. A. Simpson and his friend, Mr. S. Kerr—son of Principal Kerr of St. John's Business College—came to this village (Hopewell Cape) last Fall having previously visited different parts of both provinces. They spent some time in several parts of this County when Mr. Kerr received word from his father and went to St. John, but shortly after he received and accepted a position in Sioux City, Iowa, where he is now. Before leaving for the West Mr. Kerr was presented with a valuable watch chain by the Y. M. C. A. of St. John. This is the lively young man—Simpson's chum—referred to in the Maple Leaf. Simpson, intending to spend the winter in N. B., concluded to remain here in this village. He had been here only five days when Stewart, doubtless prompted by a feeling of jealousy, reported that Simpson had boasted to him of his conduct during the short time he had been here. This Mr. Simpson most positively denied and as his own honor, and that of two young ladies, was seriously involved he (Simpson) demanded a retraction of what Stewart had said and sent letters to him lying at Albert, to that effect. Wednesday morning however, Stewart came home and was met on the road and struck by Simpson as he had failed to recall his (Simpson's) statement. They had a scuffle in which Stewart knocked Simpson down and falling among the rocks his revolver, which he was always in habit of carrying, fell out. As he resolved to pick it up, Stewart was heard to say, "For God's sake don't shoot me Simpson and I will make all necessary amends and won't take the law of you either." An eye-witness of all that transpired on this occasion solemnly declares that Simpson did not point his revolver at Stewart or threaten his life. But as Stewart had threatened Simpson left the scene of conflict with the ever truthful Jim (not his father) ran with all speed and informed the Officers of the Law that Simpson threatened his life and ordered his arrest. Simpson in the meantime was having his bath, which he had hurt in the scuffle, but he was ignorant of all that was transpiring outside. But being informed that he was to be arrested as a criminal on the charge of threatening life, he looked across the way for some means of escape and every possible way being barred he escaped through a window. After he was outside seeing several in pursuit he then and only then drew his revolver, but threatened no life, and fled.

During his stay of five months in this village Mr. Simpson was very kind to a host of friends—not by the different tales he told the poor, simple, ignorant country folk, as the Maple Leaf insinuated but by gentlemanly manner to all, by his generous encouragement to the children in learning and by many other kind acts. The people here sincerely regret that through the columns of the press such serious misrepresentations of the matter have been printed and only hope restitution will be promptly made. The hotel proprietor (where he boarded) has been heard to say that Simpson has been a perfect gentleman during his stay here and he has the sympathy of all the larger part of the community. Simpson is not a bad man as the criminal charge insinuated above, he is looked upon by every disinterested person of Hopewell Cape.

Our Washington Letter.

Hope, which is said to be the most persistent thing in politics, again springs in the breast of the patient and lowly office seeker, and at night when he sits by his virtuous couch and counts the money in his inside pocket, he begins to feel mildly encouraged. He is not, of course elated or hilarious, but he is steadily as happy as he ever expects to be in this cruel Civil Service world. He of the rank and file, of office seekers has already discovered that he would be satisfied with a smaller section of the earth than he first requested, and has changed his application to a lesser position.

The present crowd of office seekers is not, however, as easily satisfied as were the peace hunters who came here when Mr. Cleveland was elected. Many of the latter, being willing to accept anything at all, from Secretary of a Department to the laborer who pushes a wheelbarrow, they were essentially sympathetic in their school believing that a very little office was a good thing and that practically as efficacious as a great deal of position. In this they exhibited more courage than sense, as many afterwards discovered to their eternal sorrow, as is shown by the really remarkable list of resignations of Democrats during the Cleveland administration. The present crowd knows full well that an $800 a year position in Washington is not worth the taking, especially as full settlement of the political obligation, and they will not risk them, unless coupled with a substantial promise of early promotion.

A few discharges have already been made in the clerks, and more may be expected. The hungry ones claim to be disappointed, but last week the President's promise to make a clean sweep in so far as possible, and to begin by re-instating members of the Republican party who in good standing who were turned out by the Democrats. To do this it was necessary to remove one and for all President Cleveland's decision that no person shall be eligible to re-instate over two years after resigning or one year after discharge, unless the civil service examination be passed. That this rule will be revoked there is now hardly any doubt. If it is retired, the axe will be kept pretty busy.

Already the small fry in the Government are determining procedure as to be killed. Clerks who have been appointed some years ago, that they have quite forgotten their native place, have for occasional letters from their nephews who still live, very old and feeble back on the homestead, suddenly awake to the realization that they have been prosecuted for political sake and they proceed to cry aloud and exhibit their woe in the market place. In most of these cases the complainant is receiving to day as much salary or more than he received in the days of Republican rule, and he took not enough interest in the last campaign to go home to vote or to contribute one dollar to the funds. These are the political martyrs. Many of the most loud mouthed woe wailers, and in some during Arthur's administration that they lived in contentment and subject of dismissal.

In the meantime the President is incessantly trying to convince the anxious Representatives and Senators that they must shut their candidates, and that the positions cannot all be filled at once.

The debate over the confirmation of Whitlaw Reid on Saturday was a hot one, and brought out a great deal of bad feeling. The opposition that was expected from the Southern Senators and who would have made the Republicans as Mr. Reid's support, as being a violation of the honor of the "bloody day" did not come forward, but the Republican opponents of Mr. Blaine were not so generous. They gave it to Mr. Reid with a warmth that was full of local pent up spleen.

The appointment of Corporal Tanner to be Commissioner of Pensions is a great recognition of the non-committed men in the late war. Mr. Tanner is a soldier who bears the evidence of service in his two stumps of legs. His party record is sound and his work during the late campaign was a great aid to his party. His appointment is due to the President's personal desire and to the further influence of Col. Dudley, the former Republican Commissioner, and John O. Howe. It is in open opposition to the wishes of Senator Hiseock, who takes the appointment with bad grace.

There is every indication that President Harrison will not escape without his own experience with New York politicians. The efforts of Senator Hiseock in opposition to the President's long expressed desire to appoint Mr. Tanner, shows the old, familiar face of the New York "boss."

Hints to Housekeepers.

Seraped raw potatoes are very soothing for a burn.

The moment you are instinctively prompted to rub your eyes stop using them.

It is dangerous to fill an oil lamp too full; within an inch of the cap is near enough.

Salt and vinegar brighten brasses as well as any more modern and expensive positions.

When making up unbleached muslin you must allow an inch to the yard for shrinkage.

Drain pipes and all places that are now and are pure may be cleaned with lime water or carbolic acid.

If a dish gets burnt in using, do not scrape it; put a little water and ashes in it and let it get warm. It will come off easily.

Teach Your Boys.

Teach them that a true lady may be found in elio quite as frequently as in velvet.

Teach them that a common school education with common sense, is better than a college education without it.

Teach them that one good honest trade well mastered, is worth a dozen beggarly professions.

Teach them that honesty is the best policy, that it is better to be poor than to be rich on the profits of "crooked whisk."

Teach them to respect their elders and themselves.

Teach them that to wear patched clothes is no disgrace, but to wear a black eye is.

Teach them that God is no respecter of sex, and that when he gave the seventh commandment, He meant it for them as well as for their fathers.

Teach them that by indulging their depraved appetites in their worst forms of dissipation they are not fitting themselves to become the husbands of pure girls.

Teach them that it is better to be an honest man six days in the week than to be a Christian (?) one day and a villain six days.

WHAT SUPERSTITION DID.—A credulous farmer, who followed the advice of a fortune teller and left the lid of his trunk open overnight, next morning discovered that all his savings, one hundred and forty dollars, had been carried off. He didn't lose faith in the fortune teller, however. He again visited her and, upon paying fifty cents, she cheered him up by telling him to open the trunk and take the money, which he returned within twenty-four hours. He opened the trunk but the lot cash failed to put in an appearance.—Fredericton Reporter.

BURNED TO DEATH.—A terrible accident occurred at Lawrence station (St. Stephen branch of the N. B. R.) which resulted, Saturday evening, in the death of Mrs. McGregor, wife of Rev. Mr. McGregor, Baptist minister, of Buffalo, New York, and daughter of Mr. Levi Richardson, of Lawrence, N. B. Mrs. McGregor came home last fall to spend the winter with her parents, and, being troubled with catarrh, had tried many remedies. The only one which gave her any relief was kerosene, and while applying that remedy to near the open stove, her clothing caught fire, every shred of which was burned, leaving her body in a frightful condition. Her sister in trying to extinguish the flames was severely burned about the hands and arms. Mrs. McGregor leaves a family of five small children, the eldest but a about 13 years of age.—Chatham News.

A New Home Treatment.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are not contagious, and that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and outstanch tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy, has been formulated whereby catarrah, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks.

1848. Protection and Profit. 1888.

Two things most desirable in Life Insurance are:

1st. The certainty of protection to a man's family in case of early death

2nd. The certainty of profit to himself if he lives to old age.

These are combined in the
