WHAT IS ROMANISM?

This is an enquiry of no small importance. As nearly one half of our population professes Romanism, the influence upon us, in one way or another, cannot be small.

Let us look a little at its history. He must, indeed, have read to little purpose, who has not seen that popery is an evil tree, bearing only wormwood and gall.

Rev. C. Hibbard, writing from Saratoga to his father, says:—I have used Perry Davis' Vegetable Compound, and for the relief of scorpions, with uniform success.

My dear Brother: We had a very fine passage coming from New York to Otago on the 16th Nov. We were 121 days from London to Wellington, and seven weeks in Wellington.

THE MISSION

These Letters, it seems, are intended to be inserted in the master General of New York, and the fact of their navigation at the proper time:

"Poor Orville," "Sir,—I have the pleasure in announcing to you the fact of their navigation at the proper time:

"The mails from Princes irregularly that the mail is missed, and when enquiry is made the bills and books were ex-

"Mr. Clark, of Charlottetown, a letter he had posted at the address to St. John, for the island. This letter, bearing stamp of the 9th August, was referred to the mail of the day I could do nothing, but search to be made, and under the mails are issued, and referred to was found.

"Had the clerk, Mr. McLeod, neglected the most important duty of checking the mails, he would have been found.

"I am, Sir, your obedient servant, Benjamin Davies, Esq., P. M."

This is a full answer to what we and the public have been asking for. The Editor has very sensibly and judiciously acceded to our request.

Two money letters not having been sent, we were obliged to write to the Editor, and he has had the case from the Editor. It is one of the great conflicts of parties, that detect the shortcomings of the press organ of communication.

THE MISSING LETTERS.

These Letters, it seems, are found, and we will give them to the Editor of Mr. Howe's Postmaster General of New Brunswick, accounting for the fact of their not having been sent to their destination at the proper time.

"On Monday last I received a communication from a Mr. Clark, of Charlottetown, requesting me to re-direct a letter he had posted at that place on the 9th August, addressed to St. John, for a person who had returned to the island. This letter, bearing the Prince Edward Island stamp of the 9th August, changed my opinion with reference to the mail of the 10th. It being English mail day, it could do nothing, but this morning I caused a search to be made, and, sure enough, the letter which the mails are issued, the blue bill containing the letter referred to was found.

"I exceedingly regret the occurrence, and have done all in my power to explain to the persons interested. I sent for Mr. Smith, who mailed Mr. Hall's letter, and explained to him: he is perfectly satisfied, and informed me that the letter being found will make matters all right, and no loss or inconvenience will result as of the parties concerned."

"I am, Sir, your obedient servant, J. Howe, Benjamin Davies, Esq., Postmaster General, P. E. I."

This is a full answer to our enquiry, and one to which we and the public at large were entitled. The Examiner is very sore upon the subject, and accuses us of want of Christian charity; and for what, forsooth? Because we published the fact of two money letters not having reached their destination. This was true at the time of the publication; but we have been, it seems, guilty of suppressing another fact, viz., that the whole mail bag appeared to be missing. We could not well suppress a fact that we were not aware of, having first learned that such had been the case from the columns of the Examiner itself. It is one of the great benefits that flow from the conflict of parties, that each is upon the alert to detect the shortcomings of the other, and make the press the organ of communicating any supposed defalcations of public officers. The Postmaster is peculiarly the servant of the public,—it is for his benefit that his office is instituted; and he has no right to feel in the least offended when facts such as letters having money in them not reaching their destination are brought to his notice, whether through the medium of the press or otherwise; but on the contrary, it is his duty to use every exertion to convince his many-headed jealous and rightfully suspicious master, the public, that he is not to blame. This he has done, and we owe him neither thanks nor gratitude;—he has but done his duty.

The Monthly Meeting of the General Committee of the Protestant Combination will be held at this office, on Wednesday the 27th inst., at 4 o'clock.

Testimonials from Foreign Countries. A pleasing travelling companion, and one that no person should be without is Perry Davis's Pain Killer. A sudden attack of diarrhoea, dysentery, or cholera morbus can be effectually and instantaneously relieved by it, it is equally effectual in curing scalds, burns, &c.

Thomas S. Hanny, writing from Rangoon, Burmah, December 19, 1856, says:—"It is becoming more popular, and in several instances I am assured that the cholera has been arrested and left powerless by its use. The late prevalence of cholera here has swept off about all the Pain Killer I had, and purchasers looking to me for a supply will be disappointed in my ability to supply them. Please send me an invoice of $150 worth by the first opportunity."

CAPE TOWN, Africa, Jan. 28, 1856. Messrs. P. Davis & Son.—Dear Sirs: The Pain Killer, we are happy to say, is getting in good repute, here, and its good qualities are being appreciated. Lately, we have a great demand for the article, and confidently anticipate a large sale in the Cape.

BOROUGHALL THOMPSON, HALL & CO. Sold by druggists everywhere. T. Deering, & Co. wholesale agents of P. E. Island, and sold by dealers everywhere.

Holloway's Pills.—The changes of climate and, above all, the varieties of water, encountered in travelling even a small portion of any country, are severe trials. In order to secure the system from the evil consequences so frequently resulting from these causes, it is absolutely necessary to be provided with Holloway's justly celebrated Pills. It is proved beyond dispute that in all cases where the stomach and bowels are disturbed by change of air, water, or diet, (or any other cause), they quickly and invariably restore the tone of the one and the regularity of the other. Visitors to, or residents in, the malarial districts of the South and West, will find them a certain remedy for bilious affections and intermittent fevers.

To Dress makers and others. THE UNDERSIGNED RESPECTFULLY recommends to the ladies of P. E. Island, the BRITISH AMERICAN LADIES DRESS CHART, as the most approved system for cutting ladies and children's dresses. The facilities and advantages afforded by this new and scientific mode of cutting dresses, are amply sufficient to ensure its introduction into every family, as well as to the practical consideration of every woman wishing to cultivate a spirit of home economy.

This system entirely does away with the necessity of Fitting or Trying on! The old method of "Pinning on Linings," and refitting once or twice, always was, and is harassing the Ladies, and oftentimes the most costly materials are utterly spoiled. And further, ladies, if their Dress-makers are very busy, have been obliged to wait a long time before they can be fitted, or it takes time to fit by pinning on, and cannot be hurried or slighted without making mistakes. This is entirely obviated by using the "British American Ladies Dress Chart." The system can be taken in less than two minutes. She has no further trouble—her dress can be made and sent to her, fitting perfectly.

The system can be learned in one or two hours. Persons desirous of procuring a Chart, will please apply to Mr. William Mackay's, Dorchester-street, from 4 to 7 o'clock each day. Charlottetown, Sept. 29, 1855. G. W. DAVIS, Agent.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, 1856-59. THE trans-Atlantic Telegraph Cable marks a new era in the history of Human Progress. Henceforth, Europe, Western Asia and Northern Africa, lie within an hour's distance from our shores, and the battle which decides the fate of a kingdom, the capture of a Vienna or Gibraltar, the fall of a dynasty, the triumph of a usurper, the birth of an heir to royalty, the death of a monarch, or the election of a Pope, are heard of in the Mediterranean, the Euxine, the Black Sea or the German Ocean, will be published in New York the next morning, if not on the very day of its occurrence. In a moment, as it were, we have been thrown into the immediate intellectual neighborhood of the whole civilized and a large portion of the semi-civilized world. The rise and fall of stocks in London or Paris will be known to us from day to day in the journals of our sea-board cities. The boldest operators in Wall-street will refuse to buy or sell until they have read the quotations of that day's business on the Royal Exchange and at the Bourse, whose transactions will be closed as soon or so before ours can be begun. A revolution in Italy, an important vote in Parliament, an insurrection in Spain, a fire in Constantinople, will be discussed as our own, and the events of the day will be as familiar to us as occurrences. A mighty though silent transformation in the conditions of human existence has just been effected by the little wire stretching across the ocean's bed from the coast of Ireland to that of North America, and the inevitable result of this must be an unexampled community of feeling and interest among the nations of Christendom, and a consequent desire for a more intimate acquaintance with each other's affairs, and a more thorough knowledge of the political and social condition of the world. The medium of the Newspaper Press. It seems hardly possible that thousands should not henceforth regularly read their own journals, who have hitherto been content with an occasional glance at theirs; and that many who have hitherto been content with a Weekly issue will now require a Semi-Weekly or Daily. In short, intelligence, always a vital element of our well-being, will be more abundant, and our life, has now become indispensable to all.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE, now more than seventeen years old, which was the first journal in the world that appeared regularly on an imperial eight-page sheet at a price of two cents, and which has attained the unparalleled aggregate of more than 200,000 subscribers, respectfully solicits its share of the patronage of the people of this Province. It is bound in a handsome and durable cover, and is published every day, except on Sundays, and public holidays. It is published at a heavy weekly cost, to deserve it. It asks especially the patronage and active favor of REPUBLICANS—of those who hate all forms of oppression, and desire that every rational being shall be free to employ his faculties in the most innocent manner as he shall deem best—of those who would extend Liberty and civil Slavery—but it further appeals likewise to all who are desirous of the extension of National Unity, peace, prosperity, through the Protection of American Industry by wisely discriminating duties on Imports—all who favor National Progress through internal development and melioration rather than through the spoliation of other nations—all who would rather have the National resources devoted to the construction of a Railroad to the Pacific than to the purchase or conquest of a territory in the West, and who would rather see the National funds expended in abolishing or improving the Army and Navy, and expending the money thus saved on the improvement of the people, than in the purchase of territory, and who are desirous of a more intimate acquaintance with each other's affairs, and a more thorough knowledge of the political and social condition of the world.
