Fifty acres cleared and well fenced. Apply to GARROW & PROUDFOOT. 1794.

BORN.—At Manchester, on the 29th ult., the wife of Thos. B. Miller, teacher, of a daughter. MARRIED.

FEAR-DAVIDSON.—At the residence of the bride's father, Strathroy, on Tuesday, the 6th inst., by the Rev. J. S. Fisher, Nassagaweya, assisted by the Rev. B. Clement, Rev. E. A. Peat, to Mrs. J. S. Fisher, a daughter of Wm. Davidson, Esq., County Clerk of Perth.

Colborne.

Haying is about ended now. Fall wheat is reported as having the largest and most plump heads seen for many years.

According to present appearances the peach crop will be good. Grapes, if not killed by frost, will be abundant.

ERROR.—In our last week's issue we stated that the M. S. S. picnic of Iron and Bethel would be held on Thursday, at Maitland Falls. Owing to false reports it was an error. The picnic was held on Wednesday at Morrish's Grove.

NEWS ABOUT HOME.

"A chief among ye, takin' notes, An' faith he'll print it."

TOWN TOPICS.

The first new hay was brought to market on Tuesday.

Knox Church, Goderich, is talking of buying a $2,000 organ.

The Seaforth and Goderich Cricket clubs play at Seaforth to-day.

THE SIGNAL office is becoming noted for its neat and cheap printing.

Mrs. Mariton and daughter left for Manitoba on Tuesday to join her husband.

HOLIDAYS.—The public schools will close next Wednesday, and not reopen until Sept. 1st.

Mr. Jarvis, of the Bank of Montreal, has just returned to town after enjoying his summer holidays.

Mrs. P. Adamson and her niece have been sojourning in New York during the past week or ten days.

The Lucknow quilters will play the Goderich team on Monday, on the grounds of the latter.

Mr. John Pharis, for many years sexton of the Goderich Cemetery, died on Sunday, aged 65 years.

The fence around the Square has been primed, and turn-sides have been placed at each of the entrances.

Venmor's predicted warm spell came to hand promptly, and the heart of the ice cream man is made glad.

ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS.—There are 67 candidates writing in Goderich at the entrance examination to High School.

Mr. Hope, the manager of Bow Park farm, was in town during the week. He visited Mr. Attrill's herd during his stay.

We learn that Mr. H. Y. Attrill recently purchased a couple of Dutchess cows in England for the sum of $20,000.

A strawberry festival was held on Friday evening last under the auspices of the M. E. Church, and passed off successfully.

Live business men generally advertise more in dull times. That is the true way to stir up the stagnant pools of trade.—[E.]

During the indisposition of Judge Toms last week, Messrs. B. L. Doyle and S. Malcomson acted in his stead at some of the courts.

The band played on the square on the morning of Dominion Day. The proceedings of the day otherwise were as flat as flat could be.

During the past six months the registration of birth, marriages and deaths in Goderich were as follows: Births, 47; deaths, 19; marriages, 9.

The beautiful rainfall of Thursday last, brought joy to the hearts of florists who had been wrestling with watering pots for some time past.

THE SIGNAL staff, from the editors to the imp, thank Mr. W. Baer, of Bennilmer, for a "feed" of cherries. Our printers are all fond of fruit.

If you have an old almanac of the year 1859 you can use it for this year, as it corresponds exactly so far as the days of the week and month are concerned.

No four dollar bills will be issued by the banks after the first of July. Neither will the Government issue bills of that denomination. The 4's will all be withdrawn from circulation.

Hon. John Hibbard, U. S. Consul at Goderich, left on Thursday last for the land of Uncle Sam, to spend a few holidays. He was accompanied by Mrs. Hibbard. We wish them a pleasant trip.

M. E. PICNIC.—This picnic came off on Tuesday afternoon at the Falls. Those present appeared to have a most enjoyable time, notwithstanding a drenching shower just as they were on the way home.

QUOTRS.—Colborne had its revenge at the Point Farm on Dominion Day, bearing home from Goderich. Mr. J. McNair, however, carried off the palm in single handed encounters, beating Messrs Cumming and Strachan.

At the last meeting of the County Council the Treasurer was authorized to invest $20,000 of sinking fund in mortgages on farm property. It will be lent at low rates of interest. Those who want to borrow should apply to A. M. Ross County Treasurer.

FOR MICHIGAN.—Goderich is losing a good citizen in the person of Mr. Robt. Given, carpenter, who this week takes up his residence in Tustin, Oscola Co., Michigan. We are sorry to see steady and industrious citizens like Mr. Given leave our town; yet we wish him every success in the land of his adoption.

MARK THIS.—The public would do well to remember that by 36 Vic. c. 5, s. 2, any person who cages or kills any wild birds, except eagles, falcons, hawks, wild pigeons, king fishers, jays, crows and ravens, or robs their nests, shall on conviction have to pay a fine of from one to twenty dollars and costs.

EUROPEAN TRIP.—We understand that the esteemed pastor of the North Street Methodist Church, Rev. Dr. Williams, contemplates a trip across the Atlantic next month. He will revisit old scenes in England and Wales, run up to Scotland, cross over to Ireland, visit Paris, sail down the beautiful Rhine, and have a general European outing.

The publication of weather probabilities has its advantages. The man who reads a borrowed newspaper finds out when he should borrow an umbrella.

NO QUORUM.—There was no quorum at the School Board meeting on Monday, and of course no business was done. The heated term generally thins a public meeting.

Archibald Forbes is in very poor health. He is at present in England; he will spend the summer in Scotland, and in the autumn will return to America.

The telegraph offices on Saturday were besieged by persons anxious to hear particulars of the president assassination. Both the offices promptly issued bulletins.

Mr. Nicholson's "Little Bonner" did not take part in the Exeter races, owing to the fact that the animal had struck his knee while out for practice a few days before the first.

Messrs. Henry Horton and Chas. Andrews shipped on board the schooner Jane McLeod for Chicago on Monday. We wish our genial townsmen a prosperous and happy voyage.

Mr. F. R. Mann's auction sale of household furniture, etc., at his residence, opposite the American consulate, takes place to-morrow (Saturday). J. C. Currie will do the selling.

Messrs. J. Craig, A. Dickson, J. R. Miller, J. Buchanan and W. Kay are the commissioners appointed by Knox church Goderich, to prosecute the call of an assistant pastor before the Huron Presbytery next Tuesday.

OMITTED.—The name of Miss Cooke was inadvertently omitted from the list of those who sang at the strawberry festival held last week under the auspices of Knox church Bible Class. Miss Cooke and Mr. A. Saunders sang the duet "The Minute Gun at Sea."

GODERICH H. S. L. S.—The following are the newly elected officers of the Goderich High School Literary Society: Pres. Mr. John A. Taylor; 1st V. Pres. Miss Start; 2nd V. Pres. Mr. F. McDonald; Sec. Mr. S. Hays; Sec. of Com. Mr. E. W. Livingston; Treas. Mr. J. R. Shannon; Editor, Miss Seegmiller; Librarian, Mr. A. Craswell; Councillors, Misses C. Williams, K. Moscar, M. Start.

A WRECKED VEHICLE.—On the afternoon of Dominion Day a horse belonging to Mr. Wm. Blake, of Colborne, suddenly started from the gateway of Mr. John Blake's, South street, and dashed madly up town. The buggy was smashed to pieces, bits of the wreck lying on the street as far as the British Exchange, where the animal was stopped. No person was in the rig at the time, and the animal was uninjured.

THE BRUSSELS POST.—This little local paper entered its fifth year last week. As a picker-up of live local news it takes its place with the "good ones" of the county. We were present at its birth—it was our "first-born." Last year we married the sparkling jade to the firm of Kerr & Auld, and our fondest hope will be that she will prove a "helpmeet" instead to the gentlemen who look her for "better or worse" on the 1st of August, 1880.

COLLISION.—On Saturday last, while a buggy belonging to Mr. McLean was standing on the square, a wagon laden with salt, driven by Mr. McKnight of Ashfield, collided with it. Mr. McKnight says he was endeavoring to keep from a buggy driven by a lady which was crossing him on the other side, and in so doing ran into Mr. McLean's buggy. The wheels of the damaged buggy were knocked askew, but the axle seemed to be only bent, not broken.

Our town clock is keeping exceptionally good time. Over eleven weeks ago, Mr. Hood, the street inspector, was entrusted with the charge of it, and after adjusting the pendulum let it run for three weeks. The time from Toronto observatory was then taken and the clock was found to be keeping good time. Eight weeks were then allowed to elapse, and last week Toronto time was again taken. The result showed no perceptible variation. Good for the town clock.

OLD NEWSPAPERS.—Mrs. Copeland has shown us fac similes of some old Boston papers, one of them, The Boston News Letter, being the first paper published in the United States. It bears the date of 1764, and is principally made up of old country news. The Ulster County Gazette was printed in 1800, and contains a long account of the burial of George Washington. Among the advertisements we observed a "saw mill offered for sale, and also a stout, healthy negro wench." Both papers make interesting and instructive reading in the present day.

KNOX S. S. PICNIC.—A tremendous crowd participated in this picnic at Bingham's Grove on Wednesday, about 600 being children. Swings, croquet, ring toss, quoiting, football, etc., were indulged in, and a number of foot races for both boys and girls were much enjoyed by the spectators. The town band put in an appearance just before sundown, and added to the pleasure of the day. Bingham's Grove is a very pretty and convenient spot for picnics parties from town. Mr. and Mrs. Bingham were very obliging, and gave full and free assistance to the managers of the picnic. The children were conveyed to and from the grounds by Phil Reeves street car. One load numbered 59, and the old man was as happy as a king with his lively freight. The affair was voted a great success.

From this date until the end of August the weather probabilities will be sent to every telegraph office throughout the Dominion. This action is taken in the interest of the farming community during harvest time.

BAD LANGUAGE.—John Shenkin was charged before the Mayor on Saturday with using abusive and insulting language towards Louise Cole. John McKinnon was also mulcted $8 for abusing W. D. Arnold. It doesn't pay to use a bad tongue in this town.

On Wednesday evening, Watson's nursery, on South street was visited by hundreds of persons who wished to see the handsome creeping cactus in bloom. The plant is of the cereus Macdonaldi, and began to bloom about 5.30 in the evening, and when fully opened presented a magnificent appearance.

A home paper is the best local advertising medium. It enters and remains in the home. All the members of the family read it. Mothers and the heads of households peruse it. It contains advertisements upon and live news and striking advertisement announcements are commented upon around the family board. This is one reason why THE SIGNAL is so valuable a medium for live advertisers. IT PAYS to advertise in a well read local newspaper.

THE ALLAN LINE.—We draw the attention of our readers to the advertisement of the Allan Steamship Line, which appears in another column. The Western agency is superintended by Mr. H. Bourlier, of Toronto, who makes it his business to choose live local agents in the principal towns and cities. The Goderich agency is represented by Mr. H. Armstrong, of the Montreal Telegraph Co., who will be pleased to give full information to intending passengers.

We were shown on Tuesday last by Mr. W. J. Swanson, son of our townsman, Mr. GEORGE SWANSON, a walking stick which was presented to "Robbie" Burns, the Scotch bard at Edinburgh. It is of Scotch hazel with an oak head and is a heavy stick, with an even twist from top to bottom. The stick belongs to Mr. Kae, merchant, of Bleinheim, a descendant of Scotia's bard, and is indeed a curiosity not to Scotchmen alone, but to men of all nations who admire the writings of the gifted author of "The Cotter's Saturday Night," "Tam O' Shanter," "Scots wha' Hae," and a hundred other poetical gems.

P. O. STATISTICS.—Through the kindness of Mr. Arch'd. Dickson we are enabled to present the following statistics of the business transacted by the Goderich P. O. for the postal year ending June 30th, 1881: 903 orders were issued payable in the Dominion, $18,342.35; commission on same $115.69; 119 orders issued on the United Kingdom, $1,843.13 commission on same $40.20; 122 orders issued on the United States, $1,967.04; commission on same, $24.20; deposits on Savings Bank account, $34,037; paid for orders issued in Dominion, $9,894.18; paid for orders issued in United Kingdom, $1,254.99; paid for orders issued in United States, $3,492.75; paid for orders issued in Newfoundland, $45.01; paid savings bank withdrawals, $14,144.74; receipts from sale of postage stamps, $c. $4,777.05. Grand total of business transacted, $89,587.75.

BAND OF HOPE MEETING.—A meeting of the Band of Hope, in connection with the North Street Methodist Church was held in the lecture room on Tuesday evening. There was a large attendance of both young and old. After prayer and singing, the chairman, Rev. Dr. Williams, addressed the meeting in a happy manner. The following programme was then proceeded with:—Duet, "Messenger Angels," Carrie Williams and Ida Wilkinson; reading, John Mann; quartette and chorus, "O, Christian, awake!" dialogue, Minnie Yates and Maggie Cooke; solo, Flora Mitchell; reading, Minnie Stead; duet and chorus, "Yield not to Temptation;" recitation, Bella McKnight; solo, "Your Mission," S. P. Halls; dialogue, Lizzie Proctor, Ida McKewen and Geo. Price; chorus, "See the Church of Christ Arises;" reading, Aggie Humbler; recitation, Minnie McKewen; solo, "I stand on Memory's Golden Shore;" Mrs. Hick; dialogue, "John Mann and Everett McKewen;" recitation, Willie Robertson. The meeting was also addressed by Messrs. Thomson, D. McGillicuddy and Mitchell, and was brought to a close by the singing of "Bringing in the Sheaves."

BAND PICNIC.—The band will give a picnic in Ranford's or Bingham's grove on Friday, July 15th, a week from to-day, in the afternoon. Amusements of all kinds will be provided for old and young, with lots of music by the band. In the evening an open air concert will be given by the band (special music being prepared for the occasion). They will be assisted by several ladies and gentlemen with vocal and instrumental music. Tea will be served immediately after the concert at 25 cts. a meal. This is the special feature for the benefit of the band, as this plan is being taken to clear off their indebtedness on the instruments they have purchased, and they hope to be able to more than wipe off the old debt, as two or three more instruments are necessary to complete the band set. It is to be hoped that the town people will give the band a large patronage, by taking their supper in the bush and enjoying the festivities the boys are preparing to give. The band asks for donations from the ladies of the town in the way of cookery or furnishings for the table, quantity to be made known to some of the members before Monday night. Programme next week.

Mrs. Francis, wife of Rev. G. A. Francis, has returned to town after an absence of several months. Rev. Mr. Francis is one of the very happiest of fathers.

ACCIDENT.—On Thursday of last week Mr. Geo. Swanson of Goderich, while returning from Ashfield, was thrown from a covered buggy, and had his shoulder dislocated. At the place where the accident occurred the road is gravelled, while a mud runs along side. There is a drop of about a foot or eighteen inches, and Mr. Swanson's horse was evidently seeking the softer road when the buggy tilted, throwing out the occupants. Fortunately Mr. Swanson had his son along, who at once secured help and the wants of the wayfarers were thus attended to. Mr. Swanson is still under medical care.

CAMP MEETING IN ASHFIELD.—The Camp Meeting under the auspices of the Goderich District of the Methodist Church of Canada, held on the farm of Mr. Andrews, 12th Concession of Ashfield, closed on Thursday of last week. The meeting was largely attended, and although the weather was far from favourable for such meetings, yet interesting services were continued for one week and with encouraging spiritual results. On Sunday there were not less than 2,000 persons present. Most of the ministers of the district were present and took as active part in the services. The order throughout was admirable, and reflect credit upon all concerned.

GODERICH FOR EXCURSIONS.—The Seaforth Sign, is referring to the excursion to this place last week says: "At Goderich ample provision had been made for the gratification of the eyes and ears as well as the digestive organs of the crowd. The Park Hotel grounds looked their best, and a cool breeze sweeping over from the land-ward tempered the heat of the day, without being forcible enough to disturb the even tenor of the Josephine Kidd, as she took her goodly crowd of excursionists over beyond yonder and back again. A thunder-storm passing hurriedly through gave a panorama of magnificent sky effects, that probably received less notice than they deserved amid the general fun!"

THE R. C. BAZAAR.

It lasts Four Days—A Busy Place—List of Successful Ticket Holders—A Popular Young Lady.

The bazaar, under the auspices of the ladies of St. Peter's R. C. church, which began on Thursday of last week, closed on Monday evening. The ladies fought a good fight for four days against overwhelming odds, and although hourly they succeeded in beating back the assailants and depleting their ammunition, they were, nevertheless, forced to surrender on Monday, as their own "powder and shot" had run out. But they stood the siege well, and many an unfortunate sight was made to "blush" before they hauled down their flag. The preparations made by the ladies to receive the "attack" were on an extensive scale, and consisted of elaborate fancy tables, exhaustless eating tables, a post office, a "curiosity shop" and a polling booth on down stairs, and an ice cream parlor on the upper flat. The fancy tables were superintended by Mrs. Dr. Cassidy, Mrs. McIntosh, Miss Doyle, Mrs. O'Loane, Mrs. James Doyle and Mrs. W. Shannon; the refreshment tables were carefully attended by Mrs. John Connor, Mrs. Duffy, Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. McGregor, Miss McManus, Miss McLennan, Miss O'Rourke, Miss Luby; the post office department was in charge of Miss Mary McGregor and Miss McDougall; the "curiosity shop" was in a manner most bland, by Miss Gussie McLennan; the "fishpond" was controlled by Misses Lizzie Hodre, Aggie Ross, Nellie Tranche, and Jennie Morton, and it is needless to say a pretty good catch was the result; ice cream galore was served on the upper flat by Mrs. D. Currie, and Misses Dalton, Robinson, and Fox; Charlie McMann was the general utility man in connection, and received blessings from the old and blushed from the young ladies whom he assisted.

A feature in the entertainment was an election contest for the position of most popular young lady, which was ultimately won by Miss Cooke, after a most exciting contest. Over $100 were raised, chiefly through the exertions of Mrs. O'Loane, who was electioneering agent for the opposition, and kept the friends of Miss Cooke well to their work. A handsome Chinese teapot, the gift of Dr. McGauran, of New York, was presented to the successful competitor. Miss Cooke also received a handsome photograph of the popular pastor of St. Peter's for her efforts in ticket selling.

During the continuation of the bazaar it was visited by the following gentlemen:—Father Shea, Seaforth; Father McGauran, Goderich; Father O'Connor, Wawanosh; Father Sheridan, Dublin; Very Rev. Dean Murphy, Dublin; Father Connolly, Biddulph, and enjoyed the perpetual presence of the pastor of St. Peter's, Rev. J. B. Watters.

On Monday the drawing of the prizes was proceeded with, Col. Ross, M. P. P., and Messrs. M. Hutchinson, C. H. Dunford, and Jas. Doyle, kindly acting as scrutineers. Master Johnnie McIntosh, and Miss Mary McCormac did the drawing. The following is THE RESULT:

On the whole the bazaar was a decided success, financially, and it speaks volumes for the energy of the ladies of St. Peter's. The full returns are not yet in, and we are at present unable to give the exact figures of the amount realized.

Rev. J. B. Watters, pastor of St. Peter's, desires to return thanks to all who took part, as well as the members of other denominations who kindly assisted both with presence and purse.

Business Items.

FOR LADIES.—Special inducements in job lines of fans, hats, laces, gloves, ribbons, feathers and all summer goods are now offering at the Chicago House. As the stock must be reduced we are selling some lines actually below cost. This offer is genuine,

THE ONE DOLLAR BILL.

How it did rain that November night. None of your undecided showers with hesitating intervals, as it were, between; none of your mild, persistent pattering on the roof, but a regular tempest, a wild deluge, a rush of arrowy drops and a thunder of opening floods!

It was six months afterwards that the squire came into the dining room, where his wife was preserving great red apples into jelly. "Well, well," cried he, "wonders will never cease. The Ruddiloves have gone away."

Why Persons Snore. It may not be generally known that it is the vibration of the velum pendulum palati which causes snoring, but it is no less a matter of interest to a great many people who either snore themselves or are annoyed by snorers.

The Peculiar King of Abyssinia. I write in haste, but I will sum up my impression of Abyssinia. The King is rapidly growing mad. He cuts off the noses of those who take snuff, and the lips of those who smoke.

Good. The following judicious rules have been issued by several Philadelphia dry goods establishments, and they are equally applicable to other trades and to other countries. We publish them, notwithstanding the facts being so well understood here as not to be necessary, still there can be no harm in impressing such rules on the minds of young persons just entering on the business.

PAY UP. TRYING now out of business on account of D the fire, it is necessary that all debts owed me should be settled early. I take this opportunity of leaving all concerned to pay up at once. 1778-2m GEORGE CATTLE. LIBERAL OFFERS FOR 1881. Two Years for the Price of One! Signal Extra.

The following was issued from THE SIGNAL Office in the form of an extra on Saturday morning. Further particulars are given on another page:—

Attempted Assassination.

President Garfield Shot

The Ball Causes a Bad Wound

Great Indignation in Canada and the United States.

(Per Dominion Line.)

New York, July 2nd, 1881.

President Garfield, while purchasing a ticket in the Baltimore and Potomac depot at Washington this morning was shot.

The assassin was arrested. Dr. Bliss says the wound is not mortal.

LATER.

Another report says Garfield is dead, but a later report contradicts this and says he is not dead but badly wounded.

The President has just been taken to the White House in an ambulance, under guard of mounted police. The excitement is intense.

LATER.

The name of the would be assassin is Giteau. He was quickly apprehended and is in the District Jail.

The President is lying in a critical condition, one of the balls having entered his bowels. No one is allowed to see him save the doctors, who are in constant consultation.

Immense crowds with anxiety depicted upon every face, throng the grounds around the building where the wounded President is lying.

The White House is now surrounded by troops and police, and the excitement is unabated.

All communication with the White House, except by telephone, is cut off. There is great indignation in Canada and the United States over the attempted murder.

Centre Huron Liberal Conservative Convention.

The annual meeting of the Centre Huron Liberal Conservatives was held in the Queen's Hotel, Seaford, on Monday afternoon last. Although the morning was wet and sloppy quite a large number turned out, each township being represented by three and four or more representatives, composed of the most influential Liberal Conservatives in the riding.

It is not generally expected that the annual meeting will be large, there being no prospect of an election in the near future and the business is usually confined to the election of officers and other minor business. Among those present we noticed a number of familiar faces—F. W. Johnson, W. Campbell, S. Platt, J. Beck, H. Martin, Alex. McNeil, Dr. Coleman, Jas. Mitchell, T. Kidd, A. Morrison, T. D. Ryan, Thos. E. Hayes, K. H. Ferguson, Jos. Evans, M. Morrison, G. E. Jackson, P. Kelly, F. Meyer and James Hicks. On this occasion it was certainly gratifying to see the amount of enthusiasm and the general feeling of satisfaction in the manner in which the affairs of this Dominion are being conducted by the present Government, as the presence of so many from a distance is ample proof of.

Mr. James H. Benson, the President, called the meeting to order, and briefly explained the objects of the meeting in a neat speech, and the meeting proceeded to the election of officers for the ensuing year:

James H. Benson, President. F. W. Johnson, 1st Vice-President. James Hicks, 2nd Vice-President. Wm. Campbell, Sec.-Treas.

VICE-PRESIDENTS.

SEAFORTH.—Thos. D. Ryan, Dr. Coleman, and Thos. Kidd.

GODERICH.—Markus Hutchinson, Jas. Gordon and Wm. Mitchell.

BRUSSELS.—James Young and Thos. Watson.

TUCKERSMITH.—Joseph Nigh and Geo. Jackson, Egmondville; R. Marks, Brucefield.

HULLETT.—W. E. Caldwell, Constance, John Lasham, Ludesboro; James Morrison, Clinton; Isaac Barr, Ludesboro.

COLBORNE.—Joseph Beck, Salford; Patrick Carroll, Carlow; W. Vanstone, Benmillar; Alex. McNeil, Salford.

MCKILLOP.—Bernard O'Connell, Dublin; Robt. H. Ferguson, Walton; James Hayes, and Thos. E. Hayes, Seaford; A. Morrison, Walton.

GREY.—E. Brines, Jamestown; Michael Keffer, Edm.; M. Morrison, Walton; John Whitfield, Cranbrooke; Uriah McFadden, Brussels.

The following resolution was moved by George Jackson, seconded by Mr. P. Kelly.

Resolved, that the present Dominion Government deserve the warmest thanks, not only of the Conservative party, but of every true Canadian, for the admirable manner in which they are administering the finances of the country, in dispensing with all unnecessary officials, and expending our surplus revenues in developing the resources of the country, which stands in marked contrast to the feeble, wasteful, and foolish policy of their predecessors.

We deem it our bounden duty to use every exertion in the way of organization and personal influence to secure to these gentlemen a general, cordial and hearty support at the next elections. We conscientiously believe that the inhabitants of this country owe them a great debt of gratitude for the wise and judicious method they adopted in carrying out the express wishes of the Canadian people, in building the Pacific Railroad by a non-political company. We also heartily approve of their successful dealings with the national trade policy, which has already more than exceeded our expectations, and will no doubt, in the future be the means of making Canada a self sustaining and prosperous nation. We regret, that the salt industry of this locality has not received that attention which its importance demands. We cannot allow this opportunity to pass without testifying our appreciation of the great services to our Dominion rendered by that distinguished statesman, Sir John A. Macdonald, and we trust he will be enabled shortly to return to his adopted home with health completely restored.

Mr. Jackson briefly referred to some of the most important questions. We had come there for the purpose of organization, and from the present appearance there would not be much difficulty in that respect, judging from the feeling of the present meeting. It was one thing the Conservatives could boast of—good legislation for the people. Reformers could not point to jobs or any other unpatriotic act of the present Government. The people are the government of this country, and it was an erroneous idea which some people possessed that because they had no job or other favour to ask of the Government they should have nothing to do with politics. We must all do our share towards making wise and judicious laws. A Government cannot build your houses, clear your farms, etc., but they can legislate in your interest and keep larger and more powerful agencies from usurping your markets. As an evidence of what a bad Government could do, Mr. J. cited the old "family compact," of 1837, and contrasted the difference existing in the state of the country then and at the present time. It was the duty of the Government to make laws to protect the life and property of the people of that country. The present Government stands pre-eminent in this respect through their wise trade policy and that of opening up our undeveloped resources. There cannot be a doubt that the National Policy has not benefited the country, and it did what Mr. Tilly claimed for it by fostering and building up manufacturing industries that have benefited the people. During Mr. Macdonald and Mr. Blake's regime the settled policy of these gentlemen was to help foreign countries to the detriment of this Canada of ours. Instead of the retrenchment they had promised before taking office, they foolishly wasted the people's money in jobs, such as the Goderich Harbor, Fort St. Francis locks, Kaministiquia and Neebing hotel jobs, and gave David Glass, of London, an immense sum of money to build a line of popular telegraph poles that were of no earthly use, and last, but not least, they deepened the Welland canal to benefit the farmers of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota by giving them an easy outlet for their grain into Canada and to the sea-board.

On viewing the policy of the present Government we find them legislating for the benefit of our own people. The have given us our home market, which has benefited the farmer, merchant and mechanic alike. They had given the contract for the construction of the Pacific Railway, the success of which had discomfited the Grit party by their liberal land terms and the large immigration which was taking place in consequence. It could only be a matter of conjecture what the population of that vast country would be in a few years. It was necessary that we should have a through railway line from ocean to ocean to develop and open up the resources of the country, which is essentially necessary to make us the great nation we are destined to become at no distant date. He was certain the people of this Dominion would be willing to record their verdict at the coming election of 1883, as they did in Picton and Colchester last week.

Dr. Coleman then followed in a stirring speech, and paid a very high tribute of respect to the wise and statesmanlike policy of Sir John A. Macdonald and colleagues, yet he regretted, in common with gentlemen engaged in the salt industry of this country, that there was not some protection given to native salt, against the ruinous supply imported from foreign countries. The spirit of the meeting sustained the Dr. in his well-timed remarks, and it was Moved by Mr. Jackson, seconded by Mr. T. E. Hays, and resolved; that whereas many erroneous opinions have existed as to the purity and quality of our Ontario salt, and this now proved by analysis, as well as experiment, that our Huron salt is equal to, and indeed superior to any English salt, we most respectfully request that our salt industry be put on a similar footing with the other Canadian industries by being sufficiently protected, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Government.

Speeches were also delivered by Messrs. Benson, Ryan, Thos. Kidd, T. E. Hayes, Morrison and Campbell.

A communication from Mr. M. McQuaid, Tuckersmith, was read, favorably received, and commented upon. It was referred to the local organizations.

The usual votes of thanks were given to the past officers, and one of the most successful and enthusiastic meetings held here was brought to a close. The next meeting will be held in Seaford at the call of the President.—[Sun.]

HAGYARD'S PECTORAL BALM is composed of the most healing balsams and gums. The balsams, which enter into its composition, were used by the natives when America was first discovered, and are combined with other vegetable tonics, so blended together, that it is a specific for all affections of the throat and lungs. Thousands of bottles are used annually, and it is considered one of the standard preparations of the day.

A MISTAKE.—It is a great and often fatal mistake to take repeated drastic purgatives for constipation of the bowels, they induce piles and cause debility of the bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters is a safe and perfect regulator of the bowels, arousing the torpid liver and all the secretions to a healthy action; acting on the kidneys, and renovating and toning the system in the most perfect manner.

ZOPESA, FROM BRAZIL.—Its wonderful affinity to the digestive apparatus of the human stomach, its most surprising effect upon a torpid liver, and in cleansing and toning the system, can be tested with a ten cent sample bottle.

Biliousness, Indigestion, Constipation—all forms of Dyspepsia yield at once to a few doses of Zopesa, the new compound from Brazil. A 10 cent sample proves it.

WINDSOR.

THE HURON SIGNAL

FRIDAY, JULY 8, 1881.

We are glad to be able to announce that the latest despatches indicate that President Garfield may yet recover from the cruel wounds inflicted upon him by the scoundrel Gitteau.

The rascal Mackie, alias Tooke, who sold bogus examination papers to Collegiate Institute students, was sentenced at Brantford on Monday to three months in the Central Prison.

ARRANGEMENTS are being made by the Chinese to send missionaries to America and Europe to preach the doctrine of Confucius. Well, well, it's strange; but we can find no great fault with the worshippers of Joss if they imitate their European brethren, and send out their missionaries to draw proselytes to their religion.

We present elsewhere a report of the proceedings at the Liberal-Conservative Association meeting at Seaforth recently, from the report we learn that everything was lovely. Mr. Jackson, the defeated of South Huron, aired his eloquence.

GARFIELD.

Shot by a Disappointed Office Seeker.

He Receives Two Bullets, but Still Survives.

Great Excitement Everywhere Over the Dastardly Crime.

"The Signal" Extras on Saturday Announced that the President of the United States had been shot that morning in a dastardly manner by a scoundrel named Gitteau.

Careful inquiry has obtained most of the details of the terrible event from eye-witnesses and from persons acquainted with the circumstances mentioned below.

President Garfield and Secretary Blaine reached the Baltimore & Potomac Depot at a little after 7 o'clock in a carriage. The porter attending them got off with the luggage, and the colored man, George, who then stood by three feet away, fired the second shot. At that time the President was nearly across the room and near the door leading into the main room of the depot.

A mattress was brought from one of the rooms of the depot, and the President was carried to a room on the second floor of the building. Around the mattress were gathered Postmaster-General James, Secretary Windom, Col. Ingersoll, the President's son, a police officer and one or two other persons. After a few moments the President, who had rallied somewhat, said: "I don't think this is serious, and he appeared to be quite cheerful. A few moments later he remarked: 'I will live.'"

When Ticket Agent Parks heard the shots fired in the ladies' waiting room, he jumped through the window from his ticket alcove in the room and rushed to the door and seized Gitteau as the latter was leaving the building. Gitteau said nothing whatever to Parks, and made no attempt to escape. Policeman Kearney, who was near by, came up and took the pistol from Gitteau. It is a weapon of large calibre. Kearney took Gitteau in charge, and as hastily as possible conveyed him to the police station, a block from the depot. The assassin made no resistance and said nothing to Kearney. He was turned over to Sergt. Pierce, of the station. To Pierce he said nothing in regard to his terrible deed.

have no doubt he is crazy. When he was turned over to the gaoler, the latter, without knowing anything of the assassination, immediately after putting him in his cell, said: "This man is crazy."

At 7.40 Mrs. Garfield, attended by her son Harry and Mrs. James, arrived from the depot, at the White House, and was met at the south portal by her son James, Mrs. Rockwell and Attorney-General MacVeagh; the latter assisted her from her carriage. She embraced her son James, and attended by the latter ascended the steps hastily. It was an affecting scene. No words were spoken. Mrs. Garfield at once went to the bedside of the President, who was still unconscious. She was prepared for the worst.

During the consultation of the surgeons this afternoon the President was quite cheerful. He said to Dr. Bliss: "Skirmish around here, and see if you can find it," referring to the bullet which struck him in the back. Bliss told him frankly what his condition was between man and man. The doctor said to him: "Unless there is a reaction soon you cannot live long."

The following is the letter taken from Gitteau's pocket, July 2nd, '81.—To the White House—The President's tragic death was a sad necessity, but it will unite the Republican party, and save the Republic. Life is a flimsy dream, and matters little when one goes. A human life is of small value.

The papers referred to above have not yet been given out for publication by Andrews, who is the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Inter-Ocean. He says that while it is true a package of papers are in the hands of the police, accompanied by a note addressed to himself, he has no personal acquaintance with Gitteau, and never heard of his existence until this morning.

"I have just shot the President. I shot him several times, as I wished him to go as easily as possible. His death was a political necessity. I am a lawyer, theologian and politician. I am a Stalwart of the Stalwarts. I was with Grant and the rest of our men in New York during the canvass. I have some papers for the press which I shall leave with Biron Andrews and his co-journalists at 1,420 New York Avenue, where all the reporters can see them. I am going to jail."

The following letter was found on the streets shortly after Gitteau's arrest, envelope unsealed and addressed: "Please deliver at once to Gen. Sherman or his First Assistant in charge of War Department. Gen. Sherman: 'I have just shot the President. I shot him several times, as I wished him to go as easily as possible. His death was a political necessity. I am a lawyer, theologian and politician. I am a Stalwart of the Stalwarts. I was with Grant and the rest of our men in New York during the canvass. I am going to jail. Please order out your troops and take possession of the jail at once. Very respectfully, CHAS. GITTEAU.'"

"I am" he replied, "a native born American, born in Chicago." Gitteau said he was a lawyer and a theologian. McElfresh asked: "Why did you do this?" and he replied: "I did it to save the Republican party." "What are your politics?" said McElfresh. He answered: "I am a Stalwart among the stalwarts. I am a Stalwart of the Stalwarts. I was with Grant and the rest of our men in New York during the canvass. I have some papers for the press which I shall leave with Biron Andrews and his co-journalists at 1,420 New York Avenue, where all the reporters can see them. I am going to jail."

It is true that President Garfield has been shot? If so, express your sympathy for the Government and our hope that the report that he has sustained serious injury is not true. (Signed) GRANVILLE, Foreign Office, London.

Washington, July 2.—The Secretary of State received from Sir Edward Thornton, British Minister, the following telegram, dated London, 10.05 p.m.: To SIR EDWARD THORNTON;

The Queen desires that you will at once express the horror with which she has learned of attempt upon the President's life, and her earnest hope for his recovery. Her Majesty wishes for full and immediate reports as to his condition. (Signed) GRANVILLE.

Another person who knew him was Adolph Herderson, a practicing attorney. He describes him as a dark and swarthy, looking individual, who was evidently troubled with hypochondria and all manner of visions concerning every imaginable subject. While here he was busied a portion of the time writing a book on morals. His mind evidently went by contraries, for he was known throughout the city as a vicious-willed character. His place of business was, however, afterwards changed from Broadway to Wisconsin street, where he remained several months. He finally left the city, having, it is understood, been debarred from practicing in the courts. The next place he struck was Chicago. What he did there and what afterwards is not known here.

known here. His acquaintance was limited, for he was not a man to make friends. Col. Robert Ingersoll says he knew the assassin well and had always regarded him as a quiet, sober and sane man. He had no special profession, but had been an office-holder and office-seeker. Col. Ingersoll is of the opinion that his insanity is feigned. The assassin's resolution to murder President Garfield was evidently intended by the close watch he kept upon his movements for the past few days.

WASHINGTON, July 3, 1 a.m.—The members of the Cabinet remained at the Executive Mansion throughout the night. A message of sympathy from the Governor-General of Canada says he was greatly shocked at the dastardly attempt on the President's life. He trusts that the wound is not mortal. An avalanche of telegrams, expressing sympathy with the President and family have been received, a very large percentage originating in the South.

CONDOLANCE FROM ENGLAND. Sir Edward Thornton and Mrs. Victor Drummond called upon the Secretary of State, who was in attendance upon the President at the Executive Mansion between 4 and 5 o'clock and delivered to him a copy of the following despatch, with many expressions of deep sorrow at the great tragedy: London, July 2, 5 p.m.

CONDOLANCE FROM ENGLAND. Sir Edward Thornton and Mrs. Victor Drummond called upon the Secretary of State, who was in attendance upon the President at the Executive Mansion between 4 and 5 o'clock and delivered to him a copy of the following despatch, with many expressions of deep sorrow at the great tragedy: London, July 2, 5 p.m.

GRANVILLE, Foreign Office, London. THE ASSASSIN'S EARLY CAREER. As a youth Charles was a good, tractable boy, with nothing to mark him as either better or worse than the average of his associates. Several years before he became of age, and while preparing for college at the University of Michigan he conceived the idea of joining the Oneida community, and did so.

GRANVILLE, Foreign Office, London. CHARLES J. GITTEAU. Successful Attention Given to Any Kind of Law Business. Ten Years' Practice in New York and Chicago.

Another person who knew him was Adolph Herderson, a practicing attorney. He describes him as a dark and swarthy, looking individual, who was evidently troubled with hypochondria and all manner of visions concerning every imaginable subject. While here he was busied a portion of the time writing a book on morals. His mind evidently went by contraries, for he was known throughout the city as a vicious-willed character. His place of business was, however, afterwards changed from Broadway to Wisconsin street, where he remained several months. He finally left the city, having, it is understood, been debarred from practicing in the courts. The next place he struck was Chicago. What he did there and what afterwards is not known here.

around his neck and said with an impulse of manner touching and as tender as a woman, "You know how well I love you. People whose motive was both mischievous and selfish have sought to prejudice me against you and M. Veagh and Windom, and perhaps others, and though I have been compelled from the nature of things to give them audience, it has never touched me here," pointing to his heart. United States Attorney Corkhill said: I have the secret force in the United States seeking out the history of the criminal. Up to this time there are no arrests further than his. There may be some. I do not know for certain that the Grand Jury will meet on Tuesday. Should the President die before that time the case will be presented to them then. Should he be in a fair way to recover there will be a delay to establish that fact. Meanwhile there will be no hearing. Should the President die the crime will be murder in the first degree. The only penalty is death. Should he recover, the penalty for felonious assault, with attempt to kill, is ten years. District Attorney Corkhill yesterday at an informal Cabinet meeting, stated that Giteau gave him a full statement of where he got the money to purchase the revolver, and from whom he expected the $500 yesterday; also that Giteau made other important disclosures. This is not to be given to the public unless verified. The detectives believe Giteau to be insane and that he had no accomplices.

ANOTHER STATEMENT BY GITEAU. The Herald's special says:—The rumour that Giteau is one of a number of conspirators is scouted by every man of common sense. Being told yesterday the President was suffering great pain Giteau replied:—"I am very sorry to hear that. I wished I had put another ball into him, for that would have ended his suffering. I had been contemplating the thing six weeks, and what I did I was forced to do by inspiration from God. I did it for political purposes and through patriotic motives. I conceived the affair myself and executed it myself. I am alone responsible. No soul on earth knew of it but myself. I considered it a political necessity to retire Garfield, and thus save the Republican party. I had no murder in my heart, for I had nothing against the President personally. I helped to elect him, I have no fears of future punishment. What I did was for the benefit of the Republican party and the public in general. I have no fear but that I will be liberated. I am a Stalwart of the Stalwarts. I know Arthur and Grant very well. I had no such thought as that my act would make a martyr of me. I knew it was necessary for some one to retire Garfield, and I made up my mind to do it, and save my country and party. I am truly sorry that my act caused him so much pain, but I know of no easier way to rid the Republican party of him than by a bullet. My only motive was to have a Stalwart for President. This is the first rest I have had in six weeks. This thing has been on my mind and I could not sleep. Now it is over and I wish it that he may not recover and make my act fruitless. My mind would be perfectly at rest if he died, and I do not fear any consequences."

SIMILAR CASES. Sixty-two cases are on record where persons wounded during the late war in the same way as the President have recovered. A BRAVE CHRISTIAN. Blaine has sent the following telegram to Amos Townsend, of Cleveland:—"The President's condition is not materially changed since this morning. At this hour, 2:30, he is suffering less pain. He is certainly calm and courageous. His mind is clear and he accepts whatever fate God may ordain for him with perfect resignation and with sublime Christian faith. We are profoundly anxious and yet hopeful as to the final result."

The Detroit, Mackinac, and Marquette Railroad Company NOW OFFER FOR SALE OVER 1,300,000 ACRES Of the Choicest FARMING and TIMBERED LANDS in the Northern Peninsula of Michigan. Destined to be the best wheat-producing region in the world. These lands are situated in the counties of Chippewa, Mackinac, Schoolcraft, and Marquette, and embrace many thousands of acres of the best agricultural lands in the State of Michigan. Among these in the counties of Chippewa and Mackinac are tracts of what are known as the "burnt or cleared" lands. These lands offer many advantages over the prairie lands of the West, as the timber lands adjoining insure a supply of fuel at little cost. The soil being a rich clay loam of great depth. The timber remaining upon the land being generally sufficient for the settlers' use in building and fencing. These partially cleared lands are now offered at the low price of from $4 to $1.50 per acre, one-fourth cash, and the remainder at purchasers' option, at any time within nine years, with interest payable annually at seven per cent. Roads are being opened through these lands, and no better opportunity has ever been offered to men of small means to secure a good farm, and intending purchasers will be wise by availing themselves of this chance before prices advance, as the lands are being rapidly taken and settled upon. The lands more immediately on the line of the Detroit, Mackinac, and Marquette Railroad from the Straits of Mackinac to Marquette are more heavily timbered, and are almost universally good agricultural lands, leaving splendid farms when the timber is removed. Lumber Mills and Charcoal Kilns will be built at various points along the line, and Furnaces are now being erected along the line of the road at Point St. Ignace. The great demand and good prices for labor, both in winter and summer, make these lands particularly desirable as homes for the poor man. The lands adjacent the Railroad are offered at prices from $5 upwards, according to location, value of timber, etc. The lands are at your very door, and are being rapidly settled by Canadians. For pamphlets, maps and other information, address, W. O. STRONG, Land Commissioner, 29 Newberry and McMillan Building, Detroit, Michigan. 1776.

The Poet's Corner.

Idyl of the Maggotee Man. (From the Burlington Hawkeye.) With many a curve the trunk I pitch, With many a shout and salty pitch, At station, siding, crossing, switch, On mountain, grade or valley, I heave, I push, I sling, I toss, With vigorous endeavor, And men may smile, and men grow cross, But I sing trunks forever, Ever! ever! I bust trunks forever.

Words of Wisdom.

It is sometimes more honorable to admit to be wrong than to persist in being so. Magnanimity is the concomitant of bravery. A brave man is always a considerate man. The coat will not make the gentleman, the cloven hoof of ill breeding will stick out, and the self-sufficiency of ignorance will betray it. Hope is the basis on which we cling when our bark founders amid life's storms—sure to sink without it. The position a man takes in the world by his own exertions is the true index of his ability. The poorest have it in their power to give or withhold kind or obliging expressions. They have it in their power to give or withhold the smiles of affection and sincerity of a tender attachment. Let not the humble offerings of poverty be disregarded. The man of sentiment knows how to value them; he prizes them as the best deeds of beneficence. Stones are hard, and cakes of ice are cold, and all who test them feel alike; but the good or bad events which fortune bring upon us are felt according to the qualities that we—not they—possess. They are in themselves indifferent and common accidents, and they acquire strength by nothing but our vice or our weakness. Fortune cannot dispense either felicity or infelicity, unless we cooperate with her. Quarrels, like thunder-storms, would end in sunshine were it not for the determination to have the last word. If you are scolded or criticised just bite your lips and keep still, it will soon be over; but if you retort you are in for "three years of the war." Many a man who pines himself in torrents of rain for five minutes, and then breaks out into the sunshine of good temper again, will settle down into a three days' dismal drizzle if he is weak enough to insist on having that last word. THE DRIBBLET OF POSITION.—The wife of the rising man advances with him, and with all her might strives to enter "society." Her old friend reads in the papers of her recollections, her memories, her distinguished guests, and remembers the days when they were poor neighbors, happy with their babies, their work, and homely little gaieties. The successful woman, struggling, maneuvering, climbing up the slippery peak of fashion, could tell her how often the taste of the melon is bitter on her tongue; she could tell the price she paid for it. She had an enormous list of friends, chiefly kept up by cards and glimpses in a hall room, but the heavy loss of the people in the little village where she was born, the familiar faces, the ready hands in sickness, the hearts that would faint and fall if she were dead—she has put these things all away from her. They were the price she paid. For in this world nothing is bought for nothing. For all sorts of success the full price must be paid.

Story of a Heald.

A Russian noblewoman expressing a desire to see a Hebrew whose beard reached to his feet, he was sent for from the distant province where he lived. The police official learning that he had been brought to St. Petersburg by government orders, mistook him for an uncommonly bad criminal, and imprisoned him. By this time several weeks had elapsed and both the lady and the Governor who had sent for him had forgotten her whim. So the luckless man might have spent the rest of his days in prison but for the interference of his wealthy relatives. When attention was called to his case and he was ordered on exhibition it was suddenly discovered that the sole object for his exile had disappeared, for the authorities, in accordance with prison regulations, had his hair and whiskers clipped close. He was thereupon set loose, congratulated on his "narrow escape," and warned "never to do it again."

CANADIAN NEWS.

The census of Halifax, has just been completed, and the exact population is 36,109, being an increase of 6,527 in the last decade. The London Advertiser of last night makes a strong indictment against the authorities of that city. It gives two cases of death from blood-poisoning, and says that the city abounds in hot beds of pestilence and fever breeding corners. G. H. Pugsley, of Brantford, liberated at 7 a.m. on Sand Hill, at that city, on Saturday, the Homing Antwerp for the American annual match at Utica, N. Y., a distance of 250 miles from Brantford in a straight line. Mr. Pugsley received a telegram in the afternoon from Utica saying the birds had arrived safely at 2.45 p.m. The Canada Pacific Company want Winnipeg to give them a bonus of $200,000 to build a railway from Winnipeg to Tuile Mountain. They outbid Dr. Scelta by offering in return to locate the workshops of the main line, as well as those of the South-Western branch, at the capital. The South-Western Company's agent in London has sent word that the bonds can be floated without any trouble if they wish to go on with the road.

POSTAL ANOMALIES.—The new regulation of the Postmaster-General respecting the transmission of law papers by post is a very curious one. These have hitherto been sent by book post at the rate of one cent for each four ounces up to five pounds. Now they must all be sent by letter post at three cents for each half ounce. A bundle of papers sent down for use in taxation of costs will often weigh four pounds or six-four ounces, and the price of sending them by letter post at three cents for half an ounce will be $3.84—This, of course, will be advantageous to express companies. A curious anomaly is that the above-named packet would go to Constantinople from here for 32c, while it will take $3.84 to send it from Toronto to Hamilton.—Woodstock Review.

THE COLORADO BEETLE.—Experienced gardeners say that the potato bug bears signs of succumbing to the rule of nature. "Little fleas have smaller fleas upon their backs to bite 'em, and smaller fleas have lesser fleas, and so on ad infinitum." Apparently from the ravages of some industrious parasite, the constitution of the potato bug appears to be breaking up, and consequently his usual avocations are not pursued with his wonted vigor and effectiveness. The operations of the parasites may be seen by the naked eye in the shape of numerous small white spots on the back of the insect. They are more abundant on the female than on the male; and it is also noticed that the eggs take longer to hatch than formerly. These signs of it is hoped—the approaching extinction of the beetle in this locality have been noticed to a slight extent in previous years, but they are so unmistakable in their tendency this season that the heart of the potato grower is glad within him.—[Ex.]

CITY VS. COUNTY PAPERS.—The Norfolk Reformer in discussing the unfair competition to which the country papers are subjected by the obtrusion of cheap reprints of the city dailies, makes the following remarks which are both true and sensible: "To complete the thoroughness of their onslaught on the country papers, agents from the city papers and from other printing establishments in the cities are now roaming from town to town, from village to village, and from one municipality to the other, seeking to obtain jobs of printing from the merchants and men of business in these places, to the severe loss of the printing establishments in those places. But if transient traders or other men should establish themselves for a short time in these places to compete with these very men who give away their printing, all the terrors of the law are invoked—every pain and penalty is brought into action to demolish these fellows, and keep the trade of the district for themselves. The publishers of foreign newspapers, and agents connected with printing establishments at a distance, are as much transient traders in the eyes of local newspaper publishers as the men are who bother and annoy merchants and traders.

Some Interesting Figures.

At the meeting of the International Sunday School Convention of which Mr. S. H. Blake, ex-vice-chancellor, was chosen president, some very interesting statistics were furnished, showing the field of usefulness now occupied by these schools. The total number of Sunday schools in the world is estimated at 250,000; teachers, 1,551,768, scholars, 12,919,778. Looking at the details we find that there are in the Table with 2 columns: Countries and Scholars. Rows include United States, Canada, Newfoundland, England and Wales, Scotland, Ireland, Australia, Italy, Spain, France, Germany, and Total.

THE WORLD OVER.

It seems that Colonel Valentine Baker, whose indecent conduct made him notorious, and led to his dismissal from the British army, has been reinstated or partially so, the Prince of Wales being the first to take him by the hand. He has been re-admitted to the Army and Navy Club. A Springfield pastor went into his pulpit to preach in a bright red dressing gown, and was oblivious of the astonishment of the congregation, until an usher handed him a card on which was written: "You have forgotten to change your coat." He hastily retired, and returned in his customary suit of solemn black.

THE KENNEDYS.—On the 27th ult. Mr. David Kennedy, assisted by several of his family, including Marjory, Helen, Maggie, Robert and John Kennedy, gave a farewell entertainment of Scottish song in Belfast, prior to proceeding to Canada. The programme was much enjoyed, and the large audience loudly expressed its appreciation of the whole entertainment.

PARIS, June 27.—At Versailles yesterday a deputation of Irish and Irish Americans from Paris deposited wreaths at the foot of Gen. Hoche's statue. A poem was read, a banquet was given, and patriotic speeches of the fiercest description were delivered by Pepper, Davis, Egan and Gen. McAdama. Stephens said only a few words of a non-political nature. Egan said: "To-day we are fighting against landlords. Tomorrow we may be fighting for independence."

St. Petersburg, June 27.—At present the mid policy of the late Government was an eminently dangerous policy, now bringing to light the danger which accumulated during Melnikoff's rule. The reactionists are making the most of the discovery of dynamite mines, etc., in order to frighten the Court and secure their own position. Suspicion seems to have been excited by the visit of Melnikoff to Geneva. It is reported that the police and spies have been hated at Court, because not a single independent organ favors the present Government's desires. Severe penalties have lately been imposed upon three or four journals. Several editors have received a circular ordering them to submit the first proofs of their papers to the press censor before four o'clock in the morning.

A Liberal Reward will be Given.

To the writer for the press who never said that his contribution was dashed off. To the young man who doesn't think the girls are all dying after him. To the young woman who wouldn't prefer an ice cream to a substantial meal. To the woman over thirty who never had an offer. To the young woman graduate who would not rather have a white satin dress than high honors at the graduation exercises. To the married man who never considered the possibilities of a second marriage. To the married woman who does not sometimes wonder how she ever came to say "Yes." To the clergyman who doesn't feel a little proud of the tears he called forth at a funeral. To the car conductor who does not take peculiar pleasure in helping the ladies off his car. To the man who never exchanged umbrellas and went off with a worse one than he left behind. To the small boy who never whistled. To the doctor who has the hardihood to tell the wealthy patient that nothing ails him. To the boy of 18 who does not know more than his parents. To the amateur farmer who never drew the long bow when dilating upon his agricultural achievements. To the widow who does not like to have her mourning being done. To the school teacher who can talk without seeming to watch every word she utters. To the politician who never sought the place that seemed to seek him.

Scott's Emulsion

Of Pure Cod Liver Oil

WITH

Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

AS A

REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION

AND

attested, N. B., Nov. 5, 1880.

Messrs. SCOTT & BOWNE.—I have used and prescribed for some time "Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil" and find it a most valuable preparation, agreeing well with the stomach, easily taken, and its continued use adding greatly to the strength and comfort of the patient. A. H. PECK, M. D., Penn. Med. College.

Amherst, Nova Scotia, Nov. 8, 1880.

Messrs. SCOTT & BOWNE.—Gentle: For nearly two years I have been acquainted with Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites, and consider it the finest preparation now before the public. Its permanency as an Emulsion with the pleasant flavor, makes it the great favorite for children, and I do highly recommend it for all wasting diseases of the system. Yours very truly, C. A. BLAKE, M. D.

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 19, 1880.

Messrs. SCOTT & BOWNE.—Gentlemen: I have prescribed your Emulsion for the past two years, and found it more agreeable to the stomach, and have better results from its use from any other preparation of the kind I have tried. H. M. CAMERON, M. D.

Belleville, Ont.

Messrs. SCOTT & BOWNE.—Dear Sirs: I feel it a duty to you not only to you but to the community, to make the following statement: About three years ago my eldest daughter was taken with a severe cold which settled on her lungs, and not withstanding all that her medical attendant could do she got worse and worse, and appeared to be in the last and hopeless stage of consumption. The Doctor said he could do nothing but she had used your Emulsion, and the effect of it was in the opinion of every one who knew her, simply marvellous. Before she had used the first bottle, she felt much better, and to the surprise of us all, she continued to mend so rapidly that in three months she was able to go about as usual, and has continued in such excellent health that she got married a few months ago, and has now as fine and healthy a son as you can find in the country. WILLIAM BLANK.

Elora, Ont., July, 1880.

This is to certify that my daughter has had Lung disease for some time, and very much reduced in flesh, and had not strength enough to walk across the street. She was advised by a had friend to try Scott's Emulsion, and to our great surprise before she had used three bottles her health was completely recovered. I recommend it to every one troubled with the same disease. JOHN W. POWES.

THE GREATEST WONDER OF MODERN TIMES!—The Pills Purify the Blood, correct all disorders of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys and Bowels and are available in all complaints incidental to Females. The Ointment is the only reliable remedy for Bad Legs, Old Wounds, Sores and Ulcers, of however long standing. For Bronchitis, Diphtheria, Coughs, Colds, Gout, Rheumatism and all Skin Diseases, it has no equal.

OFFICE OF AMERICAN CONFIDENTIALS.—I most respectfully take leave to call the attention of the Public generally to the fact that certain Houses in New York are sending to many parts of the globe spurious imitations of my Pills and Ointment. These frauds bear on their labels some address in New York. I do not allow my Medicine to be sold in any part of the United States, I have no Agents there. My Medicines are only made by me, at 283 Oxford Street, London. In the "Books of directions" affixed to the spurious make is a caution warning the Public against being deceived by counterfeiters. Do not be misled by this audacious trick, as they are the counterfeiters they pretend to disown. These counterfeiters are purchased by unprincipled Vendors at one-half the price of my Pills and Ointment and are sold out as spurious Medicines. I most earnestly appeal to that sense of justice which I feel sure I may venture upon asking from all honorable persons, to assist me, and the Public, as far as may lie in their power, in denouncing this shameful Fraud. Each Pot and Box of the Genuine Medicine bears the British Government Stamp with the words "HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and OINTMENT, LONDON," engraved thereon. On the label is the address, 283 Oxford Street, London, where alone they are manufactured. Holloway's Pills and Ointment bearing any other address are counterfeits. The Trade Marks of these Medicines are registered in Gt. Brit. Hence any one throughout the British Possessions, who may keep the American Counterfeits for sale, will be prosecuted, (Signed) THOMAS HOLLOWAY, Oxford Street, London, Jan. 1, 1879.

Household Hints.

SWEET MACARONI.—Break up a quarter of a pound of the best Macaroni into small lengths, and boil in two quarts of water with a large pinch of salt, until perfectly tender; drain away the water, add to the macaroni in the stew-pan a cupful of milk and a quarter of a pound of sifted lump sugar, and keep shaking over the fire until the milk is absorbed; add any flavoring, serve. Stewed fruit may be served with either the macaroni.

STEWED FRUIT.—Almost any fruit well stewed may be given to children, but some, from being too often repeated, will be declined by them. This is often the case with stewed rhubarb, and it should not occasionally therefore be mixed with other fruit. A teaspoonful or two of raspberry or strawberry jam, a little orange or lemon marmalade, will raise the flavor agreeably. Rhubarb and apples are best prepared for eating with rice, or macaroni by gently boiling in a stew-pan tender and tolerably dry; sugar to taste should then be added, and stirred with the fruit over the fire for five or ten minutes. In the case of the acid in fruit being very strong, it is well before adding the sugar, to put in a small pinch of carbonate of soda; much less sugar need then be used.

ONIONS.—It is admitted that the majority of people like onions as food, and only for the perfume, many would eat them who now do not. The unpleasant breath, which eating this vegetable produces, is, perhaps, the greatest objection to its use, but still it is a very wholesome and desirable article of food for many, and hence should be brought on the table in the most attractive form. White onions, and those grown in the South, are less odorous and pungent. Take off the outside skin, cut off both ends close, and let them stand in cold water an hour, then drop them into a saucepan with two quarts of boiling water. Cover, and boil fifteen minutes. Have a kettle of boiling water on the fire ready for use, pour off the water from onions, and add as much more—be sure the water is boiling—and boil half an hour longer.

A Confidence Game.

For some time past the educational authorities have been aware that an individual professing many aliases has been writing to candidates for certificates at the approaching July examinations for school teachers, offering to supply them for small sums with copies of the examination papers prepared for the approaching examinations. His plan of operation was to write say from Brockville to a certain number of students, obtain their money, forward the papers, and then changing his name operate in another town. As a matter of fact he has operated in nearly every town from Brockville to London. The papers supplied for the money were of course bogus. As soon as definite information was obtained the matter was entrusted to the Ontario Government detective, Mr. J. W. Murray, who at once took steps to discover and arrest the culprit.

It became known to Mr. Murray that recently the swindler wrote letters to three students in Brantford offering to supply them with the papers on payment of a certain sum forwarded by mail to Dion S. Fielding (an assumed name) at Woodstock. During the past few days he was traced to Paris, from whence he operated under the name of Alonzo S. Tooke. Letters addressed to him under that name, were received at the office. On Monday he came into the Paris post-office and inquired for a letter addressed as defined. The letter was handed to him. Detective Murray, who was inside the postoffice then stepped out and followed Tooke a short distance and requested him to return to the postoffice. Tooke protested—he was very indignant. He said he was a gentleman, and Detective Murray had better be very careful what he was doing. His protestations were of no avail. He was searched and then formally arrested. He was taken to Brantford last night, and this morning brought before Mr. Weymes, the Magistrate. The charge was preferred and preliminary evidence submitted. No detailed evidence was entered into, as the prisoner pleaded guilty. The Magistrate reserved judgment till Monday next.

When arrested the prisoner gave his name as Alex. Mackie, another alias. He claimed that he had been living in the United States for a number of years past. His real name is known, but is withheld out of consideration for his parents who are respectable indeed. His father is a minister of the Gospel in Ontario. The prisoner, who is twenty-eight years of age, was educated for a school teacher. He is well educated, and possesses a gentlemanly appearance. He stands about five feet eight inches in height; is of stout build, with square shoulders—just the kind of man who could get a living easily in a new country without resorting to fraud.

The number of those bitten is larger than it seems possible to believe. Those who have been duped, however, will receive little commiseration from the public, as they were guilty of a dishonourable amity; and the loss of their money is punishment little enough.

The Fashions.

Trains are made perfectly plain. Stockings and shoes match dresses. New veils are of shaded gauze or tulle. Pillow shams must be one yard square. Silver-gray silk dresses are again in vogue. The mantle, cape, or visite must match the dress. Jackets, scarfs, and shawls need not match dresses. Skirts are made in as many different ways as the bodies. The Mascotte takes the place of the Rembrandt hat or bonnet. White curtains, except of the finest lace, are no longer fashionable. White neck-scarfs are bound all around with hems of colored muslin. Dotted and flowered Swiss muslins are again very fashionable. Maroon and silver-gray in large masses make a striking combination toilet. Colored lace mitts in every style will be more worn this season than ever. Waists are worn either long, short or medium, according to taste or fancy. Corsets for summer wear are universally made of net. They are also very short.

Little people look best in waistband bodies, allowing all the length of skirt possible. Some new stockings have the foot in one color, and the leg in another, or in stripes. Gigot puffs in the armhole are a feature of the Kate Greenway dresses for little people. Round, pointed, puffed, shirred, box-pleated, position, coat and tucked basques are all worn. The princess dress for little girls gives way before the Kate Greenway and Mother Hubbard styles. Pink, blue, purple and black-dotted mull is used for neck-scarfs more than plain white, blue or pink. The Princess of Wales is regarded in Paris as the queen of fashion, whose novelties must be copied by all. Bordered robe pattern dresses in percale, moorie-cloth, satine and lawn, are seen among dress goods for morning wear.

The "Marie Antoinette" is the newest shape in round hats, and the edge is trimmed with a border of fancy straw braids. Lawn-tennis costumes are made of ecru or cream colored batiste, brightened by wide bayadere stripes in rich Oriental colors. Black silk grenadines, in Mexican grounds, have broadened flowers in black plush, the leaves being outlined with threads of gold or silver.

The favorite colors in Paris are lobsters-pink, parrot green, red moss-green, and mustard, both dark and light. The handsomest thin window-curtains are of black silk gauze on which are brocaded figures in old gold silk. Several silk pommops around the crown are considered sufficient trimming for morning, sundown and seaside hats.

Kate Greenway little-boy fashions explode the kilt and princess sacque in favor of old-fashioned jackets and trousers. An elegant toilet shows small shaded catch tips lightly placed down the sides of the tablier. The dress is of delicate mauve, with white lace trimmings.

For the every-day dinner, to which every lady sometimes invites her most intimate friends, it is considered the height of hospitality and grace for her to carve and help the plate of each guest. Mousquetaire gloves are hand-painted in brilliant flowering breams, gay humming birds, golden butterflies, holly-berries and leaves, and tiny branches of hawthorn, clover blossoms and snowdrops.

Fichus of Indian mull, decorated with stamped flower designs and edged with pointed Aurillac lace, are worn crossed over the bodice in front, the ends being carried to the back and fastened with a bunch of Watteau ribbons. Madam Angot souvenir baskets are now filled with roses of one color in their different shades, to accord with the ombre francies; beginning with a pale pink cluster in the centre of the basket, and deepening through several shades to a border of rich colored Jacquemots, surrounded by mountain ferns and wood mosses.

Fun and Fancy.

"I wish to heaven I had a gentleman opposite me," said an irritable old fellow at a dinner party. "Why should you wish such a thing?" was the retort; "you cannot be more opposite a gentleman than you are at present." They were approaching an ice cream saloon and she said: "Oh, Charley I'm going to have my new dress cut bias—Oh—oo. S-p-p-p!" "Yes, and it is like your new dress, for it will be cut by us," and the horrid old wretch led the panting damsel across the street. "Young husband!"—House cleaning means for the women to tie towels around their heads and run the men into the street without any breakfast for a week or so, while they break lamps and spill whitewash on the stairs. A young farmer purchased a plough. While his wife spent her cash on a cough. But the cough broke the plough. No one ever knew how. And they all had a deuce of a rough. "Sam you are not honest. Why do you put all the good strawberries on the top of the measure and the little ones below?" The copper washer's favorite dance is the jig. North-western Minner Journal. The baker's favorite is a bun-dance.—the Home Rule Party—a clog.

EPHRA'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a judicious application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctor's bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are festering around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We often escape notice by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.—Cocoa is sold in packets only in packets labeled—JAMES EPPS & Co. Homoeopathic Chemists, London, Eng.—Also makers of Epps's Chocolate Essence for afternoon use.

It's Just a Hoosiering. For the speedy cure of Consumption and all diseases that lead to it, such as stubborn Coughs, neglected Colds, Bronchitis, Hay Fever, Asthma, pain in the side and chest, dry hacking cough, tickling in the throat, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, and all chronic or lingering diseases of the throat and lungs, Dr. King's New Discovery has no equal and has established for itself a world-wide reputation. Many leading physicians recommend and use it in their practice. The formula from which it is prepared is highly recommended by all medical journals. The clergy and the press compliment it in the most glowing terms. Go to your druggist and get a trial bottle for ten cents, or a regular size for $1. For sale by F. Jordan, Goderich.

DIED IN GAOL.

Inquest upon the Body of Geo. Whittaker, of Brussels, an Insane Person.

On Tuesday morning an inquest was held at the Gaol by Coroner McLean and a jury, upon the body of George Whittaker, of Brussels, who had been committed for insanity on Sunday, June 26th.

Deceased who had reached the allotted three score and ten, had become violently insane, refused nourishment of any kind, and when opportunity offered, beat his head against the iron bars of his cell, thereby inflicting injuries to the scalp, and causing loss of blood, from which together with the gradual breaking up of the system incident to a person of his advanced years, he succumbed on Monday evening, July 4th.

The following is a list of the CORONER'S JURY. Prisoners—Samuel Noble, James Whitting, Peter Shea, Matthew Matheson, Thomas London. Citizens—Geo. Cattle, Henry Spence, James Small, William Cantelon, Stephen Yates, William Jernyn, William Bissett.

The EVIDENCE. Dr. G. C. Shannon, M. D., sworn—On Monday, June 27th, was informed that deceased had injured his head, and sent word to Dr. McLean regarding it; arrived at the gaol, and found a scalp wound about an inch and a half long, which was dressed, some time after was informed that deceased had again injured himself; this time the wound to the scalp extended some three or four inches out part of the integument, about an inch square, was taken completely off by the bars with which the head had come in contact; the wounds were dressed and attended to daily; gave what medicine I considered necessary to patient, and ordered nourishment in the shape of soup, milk, and later, as he grew weaker, a little stimulant; deceased almost absolutely refused to take medicine or nourishment and grew weak, being further reduced by loss of blood; believe deceased was insane, and while under medical influence, indicated the wounds from which, combined with abstaining from nourishment, and the natural decay of age, he succumbed on Monday.

Deceased was attended to carefully and well nursed during his illness by the officials and inmates of the gaol; all the influences tended to hasten his death; deceased might have died from concussion of the brain, but the scalp wound would not have caused death.

Wm. Dickson, Gaoler, sworn—Am keeper of the gaol; the deceased Geo. Whittaker, was received into gaol on the 26th of June; on the evening of the 27th he first showed violent symptoms; he stripped himself naked, and dashed himself against the grating of the ward; three prisoners were in the ward with him at the time; I happened to look into the ward and saw him naked; I went to place him in his cell, and while doing so, deceased struck himself against the grating; the act was so sudden it could not be hindered; placed deceased in a cell with two prisoners, instructing the latter to see he did no further violence to himself; then went and brought Gaol surgeon; the turkey was absent at his tea at this time; his wounds were dressed; he was put into a straight jacket, and then placed in the lunatic cell for the night; shortly after 8 o'clock went to see how he was, and found him standing on the floor, apparently all right; shortly afterward I was called by the turkey, and found that deceased had dashed himself against the grating, and was bleeding profusely from the head; we at once removed him from the cell to the ward, got the gaol surgeon again, had his wounds dressed, and watched him incessantly from that time until he died.

Until Friday there was no apparent change, but at that time he seemed to be losing his violent temper, and became weaker, and continued to sink until he died, shortly after 7 o'clock last (Monday) evening. Deceased was about 70 years of age. He refused food from the time he was brought here. He was committed for insanity. Witness and turkey took night about watching deceased, and were each assisted by a prisoner, do not think the injuries he received hastened his death. There are no appliances about the gaol for the proper securing of lunatics from injuring themselves, with the exception of straight jacket and handcuffs; these latter are not sufficient for the purpose.

Jacob Schwalm, sworn—Lived in the township of Hay; am a farmer; saw deceased when he first came in, and have seen him at different times since; he was a little wild when he first came in and got steadily worse; on the second day, Monday 27th, he became violent, and dashed himself against the grating; I was present with two others at the time; could not prevent his action; he was removed to a cell specially for lunatics; on Monday night I was called to stay with the turkey to watch him.

To a jury—We watched him so he could not hurt himself more. To the coroner—I also watched on him partly during the day, and every other night until he died about 2 p. m. last evening; Mr. Henderson sat up at night with me; I gave him his food and medicine most of the time; he did not take his food willingly, and sometimes took none; thought he took enough to keep him alive; he was well attended to.

The coroner explained that the scalp wounds were not serious, but deceased was both insane and feeble. On Monday morning he saw he was sinking and did not think it was necessary to examine him for insanity. Dr. Shannon does not say positively that deceased died by concussion of the brain, and he (the coroner) thought the end might have been hastened by the injuries, but they certainly were not the cause of it.

The following was returned by the jury as THE VERDICT:

We find that Geo. Whittaker came to his death on the evening of the 4th of July at the Common Gaol of the County of Huron, situated in the town of Goderich, in the said County of Huron, while confined as a lunatic from gradual decay, due to the debility of old age, refusal of food, and the loss of blood and other effects of injuries of the head inflicted on himself while so confined in said Common Gaol, and that the said jury are of opinion that a padded room should be provided for such insane prisoners, and that such a room would probably have prevented the said deceased from inflicting on himself such injuries, and the said jury further say that the said deceased received proper care and treatment at the hands of the officials of the prison, as far as the appliances at their disposal would allow.

At the close of the inquest the jury thanked the coroner for the gentlemanly and courteous manner in which he had presided at the inquest, and for the able way in which he had explained the different points in connection with the death of Whittaker.

The coroner thanked the jury, and said that they had, to his mind, rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts elicited.

COLUMBUS RACES.

COLUMBUS, O., June 29.—A light rain this morning laid the dust and made the ride to the Columbus Driving Park more enjoyable to-day. There was a cool breeze, moreover, all the afternoon, and the occupants of the carriages on the quarter stretch scarcely needed their fans. The attendance was a decided increase on yesterday, and the pool sellers drove a brisk trade on the events of the day. The presence of the members of the Supreme Court, who occupied carriages under the hill at the quarter stretch, did not seem to prevent the sale of tickets, and many dollars changed hands on the result of the day's events. The track, in the technical sense of the word, could be called heavy. It was by no means sluggish, however, as the time showed. The Judges were Amos Eberly, William Huffman and W. H. Westwater, and the timers the same as yesterday.

The first event of the day was the 2:21 class for a purse of $500. Lucy, Powers, So So and Irene started. The betting was about three to one on Lucy. The horses got off promptly, with So So in the rear of the other three. Lucy left her foot on the turn and lost length before she settled down to work. Meanwhile Irene and Powers had shot to the front, the former in the lead. Lucy was after them like a streak, however, and collared them both at the half, which was reached in 1:11, and the trio were off down the back stretch like foxes. So So doing her best to push her nose past the favorite's shoulder. They came down the turn in the same magnificent manner. Lucy winning by a head in 2:23 1/4; So So second.

Powers came to the front of the beginning of the second heat, and nursing the rail closely, cut out the work for the party. While So So and Lucy were following closely behind. So So was doing his best, while the favorite was left in the rear and the half showed So So a full length ahead of the entire party. It was Lucy's chance to come to the front, as she always could when she tried, and three-quarter pole found her at So So's wheel with Powers close behind. Lucy gained a length at the corner, and was an evident winner. All eyes were, therefore, turned to Irene, who had gained her feet and was putting in her best legs, for second place. She won to top, and indeed, by the best piece of work done during the day. Lucy's time was 2:23 1/4. It was evident that if Irene could repeat this performance she would give the favorite a hard tug for first money, and the friends of the little girl were anxious she should do so. The pace she struck at the send-off was encouraging, but she left her feet on the turn, and Lucy made a clean cut for her old place at the front, and held it manfully to the three-quarter pole, when So So called her and pushed her hard, but without avail. Lucy won the heat and the race in 2:23.—(Cleveland Leader.

Auburn.

The Sacrament of Lord's Supper was dispensed in Knox Church here on Sabbath last. The Presbyterian Church here has been whitewashed and painted inside, and now presents a comfortable appearance. The ladies of the congregation deserve great credit for the part they took in the matter.

ACCIDENTS.—As Mr. J. Lawson, of the base line, was going home from church last Sabbath, his horse took fright and capsized the buggy and threw him and his horsekeeper, Mrs. Craig, out, both of them receiving some painful bruises. As Mr. J. McGee was returning from the Sabbath school picnic, on the first inst., with a lumber of young ladies, he upset his carriage when attempting to pass a team. Several of the ladies received several bruises and the carriage was somewhat demoralized.

QUOT MATCH.—At the picnic on the first inst., a quot match was played between A. T. McDonald and F. Stalker of Hullett and Jas. Symington and Jos. Towley, of Colborne, with the following result, Hullett 61, Colborne 43 points.

A cricket match was played between the pupils of Messrs T. B. Miller and J. F. Lowan, which resulted in a victory for the former.

J. P. Brown, has sold his house and lot on Main street in this village to the C. M. Congregation for a parsonage price $675.

Mr. John Sturdy has gone to Parry Sound district where he intends to spend the summer.

Henry Beadle has sold his imported cart horse, to Messrs. Colquhoun and Donne.

Dunstanon.

Mr. Adam Thompson, blacksmith, formerly of Dunstanon, and now of Lucknow, has had his horse knocked in while shoeing a vicar's horse last week.

Leoburn.

BASE BALL.—The Millburn "Black Sheep," and the I. O. G. T.'s, of this place had a game of base ball on Dominion Day. The totaliters came out ahead by a score of 81 to 51. The scorers had lots of work to do. Time of game nearly 8 hours. The fatigued players at one time adjourned for refreshments.

Colborne.

Mr. John Morris is being bantered by his friends for having purchased a cradle recently. Some of the knowing ones assert that he might have been seen returning from Goderich with one—and not the sort of one used in harvesting wheat, either. Does the fact of the recent birth of a great-grandson in any way account for the agitation about the cradle business?

Benmiller.

The following list of officers has been located for Div. 308, Sons of Temperance of this place, for ensuing quarter: Bro. P. Cantelon, W. P.; sister S. Phrammer, W. A.; bro. W. Robertson, B. S. Geddis, G. Gledhill, A. R. S.; bro. T. Heddle, F. S.; bro. Chas. Walters, Treas.; bro. Wm. Moore, Chap.; bro. Geo. Stewart, Con.; sister M. B. Gledhill, A. C.; sister J. A. Walters, I. S.; bro. Chas. Stewart, O. S.; bro. Andrew Heddle, P. W. P.

The picnic held in connection with this society, on Dominion Day, at the Maitland Falls, adjacent to the village, was the most successful of the season. The day was delightful, the gathering from the village and vicinity was largely augmented by visitors from the neighboring towns and villages. The arrangements made for amusement in the way of music, croquet, swinging, etc., were ample, and the natural advantages of the grounds for promenading, fishing, etc., being unsurpassed, all combined to make the day pass away in a very agreeable and sociable manner. Towards evening addresses logical and entertaining were delivered, for the good of the order, by the Rev. J. A. Turnbull, B. A., and Mr. D. McGillicuddy, of THE HURON SIGNAL. The day's proceedings were brought to a close by the village band playing "God save the Queen," after which all very reluctantly dispersed.

"A BECK."—Our townsman, John K. McGregor, is now engaged in brickmaking, and turns out a first-class article. He is bound to do a good business. More power to him.

The many friends of Miss Dolan will regret to learn of her serious illness. We hope that the progress of the disease may now be stopped, and that she may speedily recover.

Sacramental services were held in connection with the Ashfield Presbyterian church last Sabbath. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Grant, assisted by the Rev. Messrs. McQueen and Sutherland, of Ripley, presided. The services in English were held in the church, and that in the Gaelic in an adjoining grove. Very large crowds were in attendance at both places.

IMPROVEMENTS.—Mr. Young has several men engaged in erecting an addition to his hotel. The department, which is being put up behind the barroom, is intended for a dining room and dwelling, and will greatly enhance the extent of the hotel and give it a much larger and more roomy appearance. Mr. Howden, our energetic butcher, has also been absent of the times this summer, in building a new kitchen and enlarging and improving his slaughter house. A neat and comfortable little dwelling house has been erected by Mr. Johnston on Navigation st. Our village is improving quite rapidly this summer.

The Ottawa Regatta.

The fifteenth anniversary of Confederation of the British North American Provinces was celebrated at Ottawa in grand style. The presentation of a massive gold chain and address was made to Hanlan at the City Hall, in the presence of fully 12,000 people, by Mayor MacKintosh, in behalf of the citizens of Ottawa. The great event of the day was of course the boat race, for which the entries were—Ross, Gaudaur, Hosmer, Teneyck, Riley, Trickett, McDonald, Schaefer, and Smith. The latter being ill was unable to start. All the others came to the front. Owing to the miserable accommodation afforded the press it is utterly impossible to give a detailed description of the race. The judges and the referee, Mr. Hanlan, completely ignored the press representatives, starting the race when the press boat was placed in such a position that she could not possibly follow it, making things generally unpleasant. The only part of the race witnessed by the press representatives was the finish, Ross winning easily; time 27 minutes. Gaudaur a good second. A lively struggle ensued for third place between Hosmer Teneyck, both of whom rowed a plucky race, Hosmer finishing about half a length ahead, Riley, fifth; Trickett, who seemed to be completely played out, sixth; Macdonald, seventh, and Schaefer, eight.

Exeter.

THE NEW RAILWAY.—At the invitation of Mr. Hickson, the General Manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, Mr. Henry, Reeve, and Mr. Fenwick, visited Montreal a couple of weeks ago, to see about the proposed new railway from St. Mary's to Exeter. Although the deputations were received most cordially the result of their mission was not very satisfactory. Mr. Hickson announced that the Directors and Shareholders of his Company are opposed to expending any more money in the construction of branch lines and gave them to understand that the only conditions upon which the company could think of running such a branch would be if the people would build it at their own expense. This information had, of course, a disappointing effect upon our citizens, but they have not yet abandoned all hope of having railway competition.

Dominion Day was celebrated here to-day. In the forenoon a lacrosse match was played—Exeter vs. Clinton. Exeter won by 3 to 1. The horse races commenced at 1 p. m., and were well attended and were a success. Everything passed off quietly and satisfactorily. The following were the winning horses: Local running race—May Morning, 1st; Lady Princes, 2nd. Local trot—Little Nellie, 1st; Little Nell, 2nd. Open running race—Sam Willard, 1st; Bay Jack, 2nd; Little Mand, 3rd. Open trot—Brown Prince, 1st; Dexter, 2nd; Marquis of Lorne, 3rd.

Fordwich.

A great sensation was created in this village by a case of alleged child murder coming to light. The facts are as follows:—A girl named Rebecca McMinn, was charged before Mr. F. Wilson, J. P., with concealment of birth, and the girl acknowledged the fact, and said the child would be found buried in a graveyard a few yards from her father's house. A constable and an assistant, on making a search, discovered the body only eight inches below the surface, in a wooden box without a cover. Coroner McMichael at once empanelled a jury, and an inquest was held in Buschert's Hall. Dr. McKelvey, after having made a post mortem examination of the body, said in his opinion the child had been born alive. He found a ball of cloth in its mouth, which was sufficient to cause death by strangulation, also marks of violence upon the body. Some witnesses were examined, relatives of the girl, but no evidence of any moment was adduced, as all professed to know nothing of the matter, although living in the same house with the girl. The prisoner made a statement to the effect that the child was born on the morning of the 10th ult., that she was alone, and that the infant was born alive—the plug of cloth was put into its mouth to keep the dirt out, and that she took the body out and buried it without any assistance. The jury returned a verdict to the effect that the child came to its death by the hands of its mother, who was immediately placed under surveillance and removed to Goderich in charge of a constable.
