A REPRESENTATIVE of a furniture firm was here last week looking for a site to establish a factory. The matter will be looked into by the council. THE Dresden Times refers to the Sart as a "floating derelict." Hard that, even if there is plenty of water at Sarnia for it to float in.

Don't throw banana skins and melon ginds on the sidewalk. If you find one on the walk kick it off and perhaps save somebody a fall. Careless people abound in the world.

THE Wyoming Enterprise is to hand again this week after a lapse of four issues. It is now under the proprietorship of Mr. E. C. Rice, a former editor and resident of Wyoming. We wish the new editor success.

THE Alvinston Free Press has a ne publisher in the person of Mr. J. W. Kedwell, formerly editor of the Petrolea Topic. Mr. Kedwell has been in Regina for a short time but concluded that old Ontario has many advantages over the West. We welcome him back into the newspaper fraternity of East Lambton.

THERE is always someone somewhere, who is anxious to buy what you have to sell, someone who has just the article you want to buy. To complete a deal each must'know the other's wants, and there is no better way to make these wants known than through the "want" columns of The Guide-Advocate.

Ordinary leaf tobacco, well soaked, and tied over bitten spot, takes the pain away rapidly and brings down the imflammation.

THERE seems to be planty of food for the mind in Watford but very little for the body since the last remaining butcher shop closed. Many residents are this week vegetarians by compulsion and do not appreciate the change of diet.

Thus selling price of a lot on Main

The selling price of a lot on Main street, Watford, increased 37½ per cent. in one week. If that had occurred in a Northwest town the news would have been telegraphed to every corner of Ontario as an evidence of the chances to make money in the section.

SECTION 4 of The Municipal Amendment Act, 1912, makes an important change in the number of votes required to carry a by-law granting a bonus in aid of a manufacturing industry. All that is now necessary to effect this result is to obtain the assent of three-fourths of all the members of the council, and twothirds of the ratepayers who actually vote upon the by-law.

THE High School teaching staff for the coming term is composed of Mr. C. Potter, principal, salary $1500; Mr. Alex. Caldwell, $1000; Miss McCaw $950, and Miss Mitchell $900, a total of $4,350. Mr. Potter will teach mathematics, Mr. Caldwell science and Miss McCaw languages.

Our of a total of 22,165 candidates who tried the entrance examination into the high school this year in the province 13,603 passed, or about 61.8 per cent. This is somewhat higher than last year's figures, when 13,027 passed out of 22,198 who tried or about 58.6 per cent.

ALEX. MCNEIL, chief fruit inspector, eports that the present outlook is for a splendid apple crop, evenly distributed throughout the Dominion. The British Columbia crop is particularly large and vill have a large amount for export into the prairie provinces. The Ontario crop is fair and is so evenly distributed over the province that the aggregate is large. Mr. McNeil has just returned from Nova Scotia, and he states the crop is one of the largest on record. It will run up to 700,000 bushels.

COLLINGWOOD BULLETIN :- "Yester day The Bulletin had the pleasure of a visit from one of the town's former resi dents, Mr. Thomas Harris, editor of The Guide-Advocate, Watford. Mr. Harris came to Collingwood in 1874 and for six years was foreman of The Bulletin under Mr. David Robson. In 1881 he left here and went to Brantford where he continued at the business of printing, and thirty years ago went to Watford where he now conducts The Guide-Advocate. While in town he renewed acquaintances with some of the friends he had here over three decades ago and recalled with them incidents of that period. He found a great change in Collingwood and ex-pressed his pleasure at seeing so many evidences of progress and prosperity.
Accompanied by his wife and two daughters, Mr. Harris is making a trip around the lakes by the N. N. Co.'s steamer Majestic."

THERE was a big turnout of ratepavers at the Council meeting Monday night, the stuffy little council chamber being packed with electors interested in the affairs of the town. The cause of the large attendance was the presenting of a petition from the Public Library Board to the Council asking that body to purchase the Livingstone lot on Main street at $1200 for a site for the proposed Carnegie library. The Reeve read the Carnegie library. The Reeve read the application and explained the positions of the respective Boards regarding the matter. The site chosen does not give ited, in Watford. The Reeve has been in communication with the company for some time and last week they sent a representative in the person of Mr. T. N. Dunn to look over the ground and talk the matter over with the Council. The Company ask for three acres of land near the railway, free water, good drainage and exemption from municipal taxes. The sites Mr. Dunn considered suitable are Mrs. McKaig's property south of the respective Boards regarding the matter. The site chosen does not give much the purchase of said property. After considerable talk it was decided that representatives from the north and south of the worm meet and try to come to some arrangement re site that will be satisfactory to all. The town is certainly formulate in being able to secure postoffice, armory and library buildings all at once and the getting of these improvements should not be jeopardized through lack been done in the matter but when all data is to hand the matter will be placed before the ratepayers.

WATFORD, AUGUST 16, 1912. Fifty Thousand Men Required

Farm Laborer's Excursions--This Year's Wheat Crop Will Be the Largest in THE HISTORY OF CANADA,

The wheat crop of 1912 will be the greatest ever harvested in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta, thus requiring the farm laborers of the East to recruit and assist in harvesting the World's greatest bread basket.

The Governments of the respective Provinces state that fifty thousand men will be required for this year's harvest. These will have to be principally recruited from Ontario, and the prosperity of Canada depends on securing labor cruited from Ontario, and the prosperity of Canada depends on securing labor promptly. The Canadian Pacific, on which Company will fall practically the entire task of transporting the men to the West, is already making special arrangements for this year. Excursions from points in Ontario to Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta will be run and special trains operated, making the trip in about thirty-six hours and avoiding any change of cars or transfers. This will be a day shorter than any other route. See display ad. in this publication for dates, rates and conditions. Consult any C.P.R. agent for full particulars, tickets, etc. particulars, tickets, etc.

About 25 or 30 boys and girls employed at the Petrolea canning factory quit work last Saturday afternoon owing to the meagreness of the pay offered them—5 cents per hour—some of whom worked 12 to 15 hours per day.

DREAM MASTERPIECES

SLEEP STATES HAVE PRODUCED GREAT WORK.

Some of the Best Prose and Finest Poetry Has Emanated From the Dreams of Literary Men and Women and Musical Compositions Has Frequently Had Their Origin In the Land of Nod.

The ranks of "sleep workers" have recently seceived two notable recruits—Signor Mascagni, the great Italian composer, who awoke the other morning with a dream-melody of singular and haunting sweetness so distinct in his ears that he was able to jot it down to its last note; and Mr. Charles Garvice, to whom, in the unconscious hours of the night, came one of his most successful stories.

hours of the night, came one of his most successful stories.

Mr. Garvice had been engaged to write a series of short stories; but when three of them had been completed his brain "struck work." "I went to bed one night absolutely tired out," he says; "but while I slept my brain returned penitently to its work. It conceived an admirable story. The characters were all alive and the style.

It conceived an admirable story. The characters were all alive, and the style was beautiful.

"Alas! when I woke up I had entirely forgotten the story. That night I went to bed determined to dream it all' over again and I did so. I got half-way through the tale in my dream, and then swoke. I remembered what I had dreamed, and better still. I found that the first half of dream, and then swoke. I remembered what I had dreamed, and better still, I found that the first half of the tale had-racalled to my mind the second half as I had dreamed it the night before."

And so it has been ever since (and probably long before) Dante saw in a dream those marvellous visions which he exhibited to the world's wonder in his "Divine Comedy" — the unconscious brain of the man has performed tasks which have completely baffled it in its wakeful hours.

The late Anna Kingsford, the celebrated theosophist and mystic, always declared that her best work had its birth when she was asleep, and in the preface to her most successful book she wrote: "The chronicles which I am about to present to the reader were not the results of any conscious am about to present to the reader were not the results of any conscious effort of imagination. They are records of dreams occurring at intervals during the last few years."

The famous mathematician, the Marquis de Condorcet, only, once in his life attempted a problem which he was unable to solve. He wrestled with it for weeks to no purpose, until one evening he fell asleep over it, utterly exhausted and hopeless. When he awoke he found, to his delight, that the solution had come to him in his alumber and before he left his seat he had committed it to paper.

An exquisite song called "Dreamland" came similarly to the Rev. C. E. Hutchinson, who, in a vision of the night, saw a ghostly procession filing across the stage of a vast amphitheatre, and awoke with the melody in his ears.

Lord Tennyson used to say that many of his most beautiful passages had come to him in his dreams.

"Some of them, however," he said, "can scarcely be said to have been inspired. On one occasion I dreamt what seemed to me the most beautiful poem ever composed a maryel of poem ever composed, a marvel of grace and beauty and high-thinking. When I awoke, however, all I could recall was this quartette of doggerel:

May a cock-sparrow Write to a barrow? I hope you'll excuse My infantile muse!"

Thomas Campbell had vainly rack-

Thomas Campbell had vainly racked his brain for days to find a companion line to "Tis the sunset of life gives me mystical lore," when it came "like a flash" in a dream: "Coming events cast their shadows before." Goethe frankly acknowledged that he owed much of his best work to dreams. "The objects," he wrote, "which had occupied my attention during the day often reappeared at night in connected dreams. On awaking, a new composition, or a portion night in connected dreams. On awaking, a new composition, or a portion of one I had already commenced, presented itself to my mind."

We know, too, that the first canto of the "Henriade" came to Voltaire in his sleep, and that Coleridge dreamed one night more than 200 lines of his "Kubla Khan" — "the images," he says, "rising before me without any sensation or consciousness of effort."

And was it not in a dream that Robert Louis Stevenson saw the cen-

And was it not in a dream that Robert Louis Stevenson saw the central scene around which he wove that wonderful story, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde"? But, as Stevenson used to as," "The Brownies do half my work when I am asleep."

To Keep From Losing Breath. Where respiration is rhythmical there is no loss of breath in walking fast, running up hill or going upstairs. The method of preventing breathlessness consists in maintaining the rhythm and the speed of respiration. When the breathing is rhythmic the breathing keeps pace with the step. The outbreathing must be twice the length of the inbreathing and not more than eighteen or twenty complete breath circuits must be made per minute.

BERRIES FOR MARKET.

Send Your Product In Uniform Packages and Watch Results.

One of the striking facts of the berry season every year is the astonishing variety of fruit packages which the consumer finds in the market. Boxes and baskets of both wood and paper, square, flat, oblong or flaring, some quart boxes short and some shorter, combine to make a medley which is confusing to the buyer. It is also a puzzle to the grower and a cause of positive loss when he changes his style of package. Really the grower need not do this if he makes proper preparations, but sometimes he is foreed to when in sudden need he is unable to find his preferred style and therefore must take whatever the dealer has to offer.

Often in small shipping towns, where are perhaps only half a dozen growers, there will be found as many styles of packages as there are men. This can be nothing but detriment to the business, because it prevents the interchange of boxes and crates, which might often be of great advantage. vented by co-operative buying. many places this system is now in practice.

Cost is saved by bulking together orders for packages, and uniformity of packages also improves market conditions. If all the growers of even a small neighborhood were so well organized that their supplies could be bought through one agency in a course of only a few years it would be an advantage of great value. — Farm and Housework is drudgery for the weak woman. She brushes, dusts and scrubs, or is on her feet all day attending to the many details of the household, her back aching, her temples throbbing, nerves quivering under the stress of pain, possibly dizzy feelings. Sometimes rest in bed is not refreshing, because the poor tired nerves do not permit of refreshing sleep. The real need of weak, nervous women is satisfied by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It Makes Weak Women Strong and Sick Women Well.

This "Prescription" removes the cause of women's weaknesses, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures those weaknesses so peculiar to women. It tranquilities the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces restful sleep. Dr. Pierce is perfectly willing to let every one know what his "Favorite Prescription" contains, a complete list of ingredients on the bottle-wrapper. Do not let any unscrupulous druggist persuade you that his substitute of unknown composition is "just as good" in order that he may make a bigger profit. Just smile and shake your head!

was on his way into Arkona from Grand Bend, and about 9.15 attempted to pass a buggy on a narrow piece of roadway on the town line. When he turned out his car went over the edge of the road, and overturned twice before it came to a stand, bottom up, at the foot of the emtankment.

Lucas was thrown out, but Mr. Dillon, who was driving, was pinned under the steering wheel. In a few seconds a fire steering wheel. In a few seconds a fire started, and as the gasoline leaked out in various places, burned fiercely. Lucas, although badly shaken up, realized Mr. Dillon's position, and made frantic efforts to release him. He worked desperately right in among the flames, which were rapidly enveloping the big Cadillac touring car. When he finally succeeded in getting Mr. Dillon out not a particle of the latter's clothing remained, and he was horribly scorched from his neck to his feet. Lucas was badly burned also.

DARK ROOM TESTING

Every child on reaching the age of even years should have the eyes exam-d. Many children have defective vised. Many children have detective vision, and it often happens that one eye only is affected. This throws all the work on the better eye while the other through disuse frequently loses its function entirely. With proper lense correction this trouble will be wholly overcome. If eccompanied by parents we will be glad to examine children's eyes free of charge.

VERDICT IN THE AUTO ACCIDENT

Unskillful Driving Caused the Death of Condland and Willis.

The jury under the direction of Dr. R. G. Kelly, coroner, investigated the auto fatality on the Main Road, Warwick String Instruments auto fatality on the Main Road, Warwick on Thursday evening, August 1st, in the Fire Hall, Watford. The crown was represented by J. P. Bucke, K. C., of Sarnia, County Crown Attorney. The following residents of Warwick township composed the jury:—James King, Wm. Bartley, F. Cook, A. Hay, D. McLeay, And. Auld, Thos. Newell, Thos. Williams, R. McGillicuddy, John Muxlow, D. Auld, with T. F. Wordsworth foreman.

Evidence was taken from a number of witnesses, all of whom agreed that the tracks left by the car on the wet road, still visible on Wednesday morning, showed that they had been off the roadbed several times during the last mile of showed that they had been off the roadbed several times during the last mile of the fatal journey.

One witness, who had seen the victims at Warwick Village a short time before their death, said he thought the driver of the car had been drinking. There was also a half emptied bottle of whiskey found in the wreck. The jury brought in the following verdict.

"We, the jury empannelled to enquire into the cause of death of Wm. Condland, having heard all the evidence that could be adduced, find that the said Wm. Condland with a companion George Bert Willis, on the 30th day of July, 1912, were alone in an American automobile (American No. 18690, Ont. A Bould Virgin"

She Hoped For Strength From Above, but Got on Well With What She Had

By F. A. MITCHEL

One morning in the year 1660, more than two a half centuries ago, a young man and a young girl walking side by side passed what was then called the ordinary, afterward the tavern and which we now call hotel, in the village of Hartford, Conn. The ordinary of that day was the central feature of the town. There political affairs were born, discussed; from there domestic news, gossip and scandal were sent forth. Indeed, the ordinary embodied everything in the village.

It was not kept merely for money making purposes. Since a stopping place for travelers was necessary in the town one of the first citizens was invited to take charge of it. The reasons for this were manifold, though the most important was that since liquor must be sold-so it was then considered-and since our ancestors abuses liable to this traffic they desired the management of a man they could

Now, on that morning when the young man and the young woman, Jacob Murline and Sarah Tuttle, passed the ordinary at Hartford within the taproom sat an Englishman who had just made a forty days' voyage from London to America for the purpose of studying the manners and customs of the colonists with the intention of writing a book about them on his return. He was sitting with the landlord, who had just brewed a bowl of flip, a concoction of beer sweetened with sugar, molasses or dried pumpkin and rum, into which had been thrust a redhot iron called the loggerhead, causing it to seethe and foam. The landlord was giving his guest some account of the said manners and customs in vogue in the colony of New

"Do you see that girl walking with that young man? Well, there's trouble brewing there. The girl is old Goodman Tuttle's daughter, and she's keeping company with young Murline without her father's permission. He'll get fined a dozen lashes at the whipping post if he doesn't mind."

"The whipping post! Have parents power here to whip those who pay attention to their daughters without their consent?"

"Indeed they have, and a goodly custom it is. The laws of the colony say that any tempting without the parents' sanction cannot be done by speech, writing message, company keeping, unnecessary familiarity, disorderly night meetings, sinful dalliance, gifts or in any other way."

"And if they disobey this law?"

"Heavy fines may be imposed with a plentiful supply of lashes to the inveigler of the girl."

"And is she not punished?"
"Not by the law. Her father can attend to her case as he likes."

"Is the punishment in public or in private?" "In public, of course. We have no private punishment here in the colo-Heaven knows there are in this nies. Heaven knows there are in this desolate land few amusements. Our

"What is it?" "Jacob Tuttle did not inveigle me at all. I wished to induce him to kiss me. In fact, I enticed him. I dared him to steal my gloves that he might have cause to demand a kiss."

Here was a damper on the assembly. By these few words the case against the prisoner fell to the ground.

"You're a bould virgin," cried the angry judge, "and I must fine you for inveigling the prisoner instead of finirg the prisoner for inveigling you."
"But," exclaimed the disappointed Tuttle, "I shall have to pay the fine.

"Man is Filled With Misery."—
This is not true of all men. The well, sound of lung, clear of eye, alert and buoyant with health are not miserable, whatever may be their social condition. To be well is to be happy, and we can all be well by getting and keeping our bodies in a healthy condition. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil will help all to do this.

My daughter has no money." "That's nothing to me," retorted the court. "I'm here to administer the law and must administer it as it is. It's lucky that I'm not compelled to administer the cat as well." Then turning to the prisoner he added: "The Lord will administer the cat to you, you jade! You've set a pernicious example to all the maids of the colony, and I am troubled that I can make an example of you only by the fine."

"I'm sorry, your worship," replied Sarah demurely, "and I hope God will help me to carry it better for time to

Since Sarah had thus far "carried it" pretty well for herself in saving her lover from a frightful punishment for making love to her it does not appear why any assistance was neces-To outwit her father and the judge, besides depriving all present of the pleasure of the only amusement vouchsafed them at her lover's expense, was a work not to be despised.

When the court was dismissed the Londoner and the landlord went back to the ordinary, where, in order to blunt his disappointment at not having been able to give his guest a specimen of the favorite amusement of the colonists, he brewed an extra strong bowl of flip, pumpkin flavored, and to make it doubly effective gave it a dash of mustard.

Constipationis an enemy within the camp. It will undermine the strongest constitution and ruin the most vigorous health. It leads to indigestion, biliousness, impure blood, bad complexion, sick headaches, and is one of the most frequent causes of appendicitis. To neglect it is slow suicide. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills positively cure Constipation. They are entirely vegetable in composition and do not sicken, weaken or gripe. Preserve your health by taking

Shakespeare's Tragedies. Whenever "Macbeth" is put upon the stage very nearly a fourth of it has to be omitted, for, although it is the shortest of the tragedies, it would take fully three hours to read it out loud without gabbling. "Hamlet" thus read

would take nearly two hours more, and this seems to bear out the contention of Swinburne, among others, that much of the play, and, indeed, of other tragedies, was written by Shakespeare for the study and net for the stage. A six or seven hours' performance must have been too much even for an audience of Elizabeth's spacious times.—London Graphic.

Ethel's face blanched. "Why, what do you mean, Jack? He never told

"Well, I saw him go," said the brother as he reached for his hat. "Don't you remember last evening, when he kissed you first on your right check and then on your left, and then didn't he go to the front?"-Ladies Home Journal.

A Queer Insect.

The "walking sticks," "walking leaves," etc., are among the most curious forms of insects inhabiting tropical America. They belong to the great family of phasmidaes and are as odd specimens of animated nature as one could well imagine. The type of the family is an elongated creature with a cylindrical brown body, looking exactly like a small limb or twig with the bark on. Some of the branches of this numerous family live in the torrid portions of Africa, where oranches of this numerous family live in the torrid portions of Africa, where they attain enormous sizes. Vane, the great traveler, said he had seen them so large that "they had the general appearance of great, animated clubs moving up and down the branches and trunks of the gigantic tropical trees."

The "Dec" Needed Air. A terrible automobile accident occurred at the square the other evening. For further particulars see the papers. We only tell what we know about it. The man who had been injured was a millionaire several times over. The first physician to arrive at the spot was a young chap, just out of college. When the victim opened his eyes he looked directly into the face of the young medic.

"Doc," he gasped, "I'll give you $1,000 if you'll save my life!"
Then the policeman butted in. "Stand back," he warned the crowd—"stand back an' give the doctor air!"
The doctor was the man that needed it.—Exchange. 'A' tarrible automobile accident ocit.—Exchange.

'At a "first night" in a Paris theatre recently one of the scenes showed a funeral procession crossing the stage. As she was about to leave the wings

As she was about to leave the wings and pass across the stage one of the "mourners," a girl, thought of something funny and her face became wreathed in smiles and she giggled happily.

The stage manager was furious.
"Take a franc off that girl's salary!"
The startled "mourner," just making her entrance, burst into tears of dismay and sobbed lamentably all the way across the stage. The critics the way across the stage. The critics said it was a triumal of realism.

"I am only thirty years old, yet for almost two years I have felt more like seventy-five. I have found it difficult to sleep at night and in the morning feel so depressed and heavy that effort was difficult. My hands were always clammy and perspiration on slight effort would break out all over me If was not unpatural that I slight effort would break out all over me. It was not unnatural that I should begin to brood over the chance that I should soon be unfit to do my work, and this dread made my sleepless nights perfect misery. After repeated trials of medicine and mixtures Dr. Hamilton's Pills gave me the first gleam of hope. From the very first I could see they were different in action from other pills. They didn't gripe and acted as naturally as didn't gripe and acted as naturally as didn't gripe and acted as naturally as if nature and not the pills were cleansing my clogged up system. My spirits rose, I felt much better, the sluggish action of the system gave way to normal activity. Dizziness and headaches ceased, appetite, good color, and ambition to work returned and have remained. I am like a new man and I thank Dr. Hamilton's Pills for it all."

INVITING SICKNESS People Whose Blood Supply is

Scanty are in Danger of a Breakdown.

Thin or impure bload is an invitation to sickness. The blood is at work day and night to maintain the health and any lack of strength or purity in the blood is a weakness in the defence against disease. Anaemia is the doctor's name for lack of blood. Its surest symptom is allowed a property of the strength of the str name for lack of blood. Its surest symptom is palor. Anaemia does not confine itself to age or sex, though it is particularly common to young girls between the ages of 14 and 17, when nature makes peculiar demand upon the blood supply. The same lack of blood, however, prevents full recovery after la grippe, fevers, malaria and operations, and is present malaria, and operations, and is present in old age, and in persons who have been under unusual mental or physical strain. In all cases of bloodlessness Dr. strain. In all cases of bloodlessness Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best medicine known to medical science. They actually make new pure blood, which brings with it a healthy appetite and new strength and vitality. Mrs. George Roy, Clair, Sask., says:—"I have tested the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills time and again when a poor condition of the blood might have led to more serious trouble. I am a woman of forty and as occasion required I have used the Pills off and on since girlhood. I have proved their value in the ailments that afflict my sex, and I have never known them to fail. I also gave them to my son for sex, and I have never known them to fail. I also gave them to my son for nerve trouble which we thought would result in St. Vitus dance, but the use of the Pills prevented this and made him well and strong. I do not know any better investment than to keep half a dozen boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the house, as they will save more expensive doctor's bills."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

It's but seventy-two years since the first photographic portrait was made in America—a picture of Miss Dorothy Catherine Draper—made by her brother, Professor John William Draper, of the University of the City of New York. It took an exposure of five minutes in the posure of five minutes in the full glare of the noon day

To-day it takes but a fraction of a second, even in the softly modulated light of a studio. Clever photographers and fast plates and lenses have made having your picture taken a rather plea sant experience these days.
