MEXICO FORMALLY ASKS WITHDRAWAL OF U. S. FORCES

But Protest Not Likely to Have Any Effect, it is Understood.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21—Immediate withdrawal of the American troops now on the trail of bandits in Northern Mexico was asked today by Mexican Ambassador Bonillas, who called at the department, to present a formal protest from the Carranza government. The text of the protest was not made public and officials would not discuss it further than to say that no reply had been made.

At the war department, it was said that no additional reports on the operations of the American forces had been received from Major General Dickman, commanding the southern department. The troops are now being returned to the United States and it is expected that they will clean out bandits from the stretch of territory twenty miles south of the border where they are operating.

WOOD ALCOHOL KILLS 3. Man and His Wife Under $20,000 Bail For Selling Poison

New York, Aug. 21—Poisoning by wood alcohol was determined by an autopsy to have caused the death of Mrs. Rose Ahmer, 50 year old, of 3,068 Third Avenue. She was found in her home unconscious, and died soon after ward. This was the third death within two days from the same cause.

Nathan Allowitz and his wife, Rose, of 1,728 Washington Avenue, were held in $20,000 bail by Magistrate Mancus in the Bronx on a charge of selling wood alcohol. Thirteen gallons of a liquid seized at their store was said by the Health Department to be alcohol.

Passalo, N. J., Aug. 19—John Dering and his wife, Josephine, of 107 Sixth Street, died in the Passaic General Hospital from wood alcohol.

According to the police John Klots, of 188 Sixth Street, obtained a bottle of wood alcohol from a chemical factory where was employed, and, thinking it grain alcohol, took it home and made a drink of it with fruit syrup. Klots and his wife are alleged to have given some of the alcohol to their neighbors, the Derlings, suggesting they put it in their coffee.

Neighbors heard Derling groaning, and entering his apartment found him and his wife lying on the floor in pain. The police say Klots and his wife also tried the coffee mixture, but sent for a physician in time to save themselves. Klots was arrested on a charge of petty larceny.

A very enjoyable concert was given in King Square last evening by the Temple Band, under the direction of Bandmaster McNeil. There was a large attendance and the programme was particularly well rendered.

THE LATE MR. EWING

Expressions of regret were general and numerous yesterday when it became known that one of the city's leading men, William A. Ewing, K. C., had passed away. His death occurred at his home, 27 Peters street. Taken ill several weeks ago, he went to the New England states and Montreal to consult specialists and then took a trip to England in the hope that the sea trip might be good for him. His efforts were unavailing and since his return, about three weeks ago, he has been confined to his home.

Mr. Ewing was born in this city on June 24, 1860. He was a student at the St. John Grammar school, where he had a brilliant record, and entered the law office of Sir Ezekiel McLeod in 1878. He was admitted as an attorney in 1883 and for a time practised law as a member of the firm of E. and R. McLeod and Ewing. In 1899 he joined the firm of Barnhill, Ewing & Sanford, with which he continued up to his death. Several years ago he was made a king's counsel.

In his younger days Mr. Ewing was very fond of music and was for a time organist of St. David's church, afterwards officiating in the same capacity at St. James' and the Mission churches. He was also a member of the Philharmonic Society. Mr. Ewing was very active in the Masonic fraternity, being a 32nd degree man and for many years grand secretary of the Royal Order of Scotland. He has also been president of the New Brunswick Barriers' Society and of the St. John Law Society.

Mr. Ewing is survived by his wife and six children, William Colin, of the public works department of this city; Thomas Morley, William A. Constance, Frances and Helen, all at home, George R. Ewing of M. R. A., is a brother, as is also Robert S. Ewing, of Winnipeg.

Mr. Ewing was provincial registrar under the Military Service Act and discharged the duties of that office in a manner that won great praise from all. He was one of the best known members of his profession and enjoyed to a high degree the confidence and respect of all those with whom he had business relations. A wide circle of friends and acquaintances will hear with deep regret of his death.

The funeral will be held from the Mission church at 2.30 p.m., Saturday, the 23rd inst.

GUARD OF HONOR WAGON GENERAL'S COMMENDATION

The following letter of appreciation has been received by Lieut-Col. W. R. Brown, late commanding officer of the 26th battalion, from General Macdonnell in reference to the guard of honor for the Prince of Wales, which was composed of members of that battalion:

Lieut-Col. W. R. Brown, D.S.O., late commanding officer of 26th battalion:

Dear Colonel Brown—Now that His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, has paid his visit to the people of New Brunswick, I wish to express my appreciation to yourself, the officers and other ranks of the late 26th battalion for their efforts in rising to the occasion and furnishing the guard of honor for His Royal Highness.

I was particularly anxious that the guard of honor should consist of returned soldiers with whom His Royal Highness was associated for so long a time at the front as a special mark of respect and admiration to our soldier prince.

In thanking you all for turning out on this occasion, I wish to express my admiration of the smartness, cleanliness and appearance of the whole guard.

I should be glad if you could find some way of conveying to all those of your old battalion who took part in the celebration on August 16 my appreciation of what they did on that occasion. Yours sincerely,

A. H. MACDONNELL, Brigadier General Commanding M. D. No. 7.

A pleasant evening was spent at the home of Miss Lou McCullum, Adelaide street, on Thursday, when she entertained a party of young friends in honor of her guest, Miss Beattie Foster of Portland, Me. The evening was enjoyably spent in games, music and dancing, after which a dainty luncheon was served.

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., AUGUST 22, 1919

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury Street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by The St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

The Times has the largest circulation in the Maritime Provinces. Special Advertising Representatives—NEW YORK, Frank R. Northrup, 303 Fifth Ave.—CHICAGO, E. J. Power, Manager, Association Bldg. The Audit Bureau of Circulation audits the circulation of The Evening Times.

GIVE ST. JOHN A CHANCE.

Justice for St. John in the matter of harbor facilities and railway connections should not be a matter of party politics. Both parties should be interested equally in securing for this port the improvements which are its due because of its value to the whole country as the natural winter harbor of Canada.

The opening of the Valley Railway and the improvements which are being made on the line from Fredericton to McEgiver should serve to focus public attention upon St. John's situation and the necessity for complete and energetic co-operation in order to secure for this port its full share of the traffic handled by the Canadian National Railways. It is of the utmost importance that nothing be done to interfere with the expansion of the Canadian Pacific Railway enterprises in this city or province. The C. P. R. has done a great deal for St. John, and the city is not ungrateful of it. On the other hand the taking over of the Canadian Northern and the National Transcontinental by the government has placed under public ownership and management a great railway system from coast to coast and embracing a network of branch lines. The whole system taps a vast traffic-producing territory. There will be business enough, as Sir William Van Horne and the former president of the Grand Trunk Pacific often used to remind us, for all the ports, and St. John does not object, and has never objected, to the development of the other ports to the extent demanded by truly national considerations. But in point of harbor equipment and railway connections for both freight and passengers St. John has never received the treatment justified by its value to the country at large. The time has surely come when all classes should unite, irrespective of politics, to press upon the government of the day, whatever party may control it now or in years to come, that St. John's claims be put on the front street, not because of local ambitions or local benefits but because an honest interpretation of sound national transportation rules would mean a new era for this city and this province.

The people in Ontario and Quebec and in the west—and that combination controls the House of Commons now and will control it in years to come—desire that their freight, export and import, shall follow the quickest and cheapest routes. If it does follow such routes St. John is bound to become a very great seaport, modern in equipment, and prepared to handle in up-to-date fashion the constantly expanding business which will come. Right with respect to St. John there are on the record too many unfulfilled promises, too many uncompleted plans of development in point of railway connections and harbor improvements. The very fact that when each-bound freight reaches McEgiver it is only twenty-two miles farther from St. John than from Moncton is in itself a complete demonstration of the soundness of the proposition that the line from McEgiver to Fredericton should be brought up to the National Transcontinental standard in the matter of grades, curves, and heavy construction, in order that there may no longer be any excuse for diverting freight from its natural objective.

This is a theme upon which the Evening Times has frequently dwelt, and its various phases demand discussion from time to time, because repetition is necessary to arouse public opinion, and also because the situation is too big to be dealt with in the compass of a single article. At the moment it may be permitted again to suggest that the Board of Trade and other organizations interested in the welfare of the city and province should follow the example of the Quebec Board of Trade in laying down a carefully thought out programme of improvements and hammering away at our public men and at the federal government, whichever party may control it, until St. John shall have come into its own.

THE BRITISH ARMY.

Between the lines of the British war cabinet report for 1918 can be read the story of loyalty and devotion that has made the British Empire what it is today and there can be seen the spirit which enlarged a "contemptible little army" of some 700,000 men into a gigantic organization of more than eight and one-half millions.

When the war broke out in August, 1914, the British regular army reserve and territorial forces numbered but 738,514. Into the European maelstrom were immediately thrown that historic "First Hundred Thousand," whose heroic record stands written along the route which marks the fateful retreat from Mons. Those few thousands which were left behind formed a nucleus around which was built the new British army. In the four years which followed England alone, that portion of the island which could be dropped out of sight in Lake Superior, yielded more than 4,000,000 of the best of her manhood to average out-raged Belgium, to assist her ally, France, and to keep the waves of Prussianism from delving her shores. But it was not England alone that was in the struggle, but the British Empire. From all corners of the earth where the Union Jack speaks the strength of Empire, came the message to the Motherland, "We are ready; what would you have us do?" "The best you can," was the answer, and the best was done, to the deep satisfaction of the Motherland and to the consternation of the Huns of Hobenzollern. They saw the "contemptible little army" expand until there was a deep, firmly established wall of khaki stretching from the Somme to the sea, with long spidery lines of the same material stretching back from the trenches, waiting to step in and fill the gaps. They saw the great grey conquerors of the waves plunging their paths across the expanses of blue ocean, loaded heavy with their precious burdens—coming, coming, coming.

And now that great army is nearly all only history. Their task finished, they have gone whence they came, to pick up again the reins of industry which they had laid down in the hour of their country's need. But where they fought the good fight still remain the marks of sacrifice—650,000 white crosses which dot the fertile slopes and valleys under the tropical sun in the east. They are not forgotten and around their deeds shall be written the history which will tell the generations to come of the miracle which transformed a tiny body of men into an overwhelming army, which came into the field willingly, fought gallantly and emerged victorious and satisfied.

St. John has lost a worthy citizen by the death of W. A. Baring, K. C. He stood high among his fellow practitioners in law and had been honored by them on more than one occasion. In his profession he was well schooled and he had well filled an important place in the firm with which he was so long connected. Outside his profession, his friends knew him as a kindly man of unobtrusive manner, skilled in music and otherwise highly accomplished. They are many who mourn his passing.

The situation as between the United States and Mexico grows a bit more tense. American troops crossed the border to effect the capture of Mexican bandits who seized two American aviators and held them for ransom. Now Mexico is demanding that the American troops be withdrawn. It is likely, however, that the pursuit of the bandits will go on, protest or no.

It is not pleasant to read that more than 1,100 divorce applications have been filed for hearing in the Manitoba court this fall. That spells much domestic discord and unhappiness with a weakening at the very foundation of society.

DUSK IN THE GARDEN.

Dusk in the garden; overhead a sky Of tenderest green, bearing a low-hung moon That peers between the apple branches ruddily. There's one lone cricket chirping, then a stir As a soft sea-wind ruffles all the leaves, Awhile the dim-edged flowerbeds fade and blur.

Slowly the darkness thickens. Now the pallid stocks Blend into one low mass of swaying scents;

The huge white lilies and the rosy phlox, Pouring forth fragrance to the coming night, Leave from their courses softly whirling

As here and there the great gray moths alight.

There must be ghosts about in this sad dusk, Drawn by the far-flung spice of lavender,

The stifling sweetness of the old, old musk—Ere the mists of midsummer nights, for countless years

Reborn to fill the heart of youth with ecstasy, And those whose day is done, with unshed tears.

"Many motor speeders arrested in your town, Uncle Sam?" "No. There used to be, but we settled them feller's all right. Hain't been hardly an arrest in six months."

"How did you manage it?" "Wal, we jest fixed the speed limit at seventy-five miles an hour, an' darned few of 'em kin make it, b'gosh!"

"Mamma," complained a little girl recently, "teacher won't let me sing any more, and I'm the fastest singer in the school, too!"

MILLIONS TO BE SAVED IN FOOD

U. S. Government Finds Means To Prevent Spoiling

Methods for preventing the spoilage and loss of great quantities of poultry, eggs, shrimp, fish, and other foods have been developed by specialists of the U. S. Federal Bureau of Chemistry, who have been investigating commercial practices in handling, shipping, and storing foodstuffs.

The rapidly increasing cost of all food makes it highly desirable to reduce spoilage by every available means, say these specialists. Much loss of foods due to spoilage while in transit and in the hands of dealers can be prevented if correct methods for packing, shipping, storing, and handling are followed from the time the foods are produced until they reach the consumer, they say.

Methods for preventing spoilage are based upon extensive laboratory studies of the habits and methods of operation of the minute bacteria, molds, or yeasts, which produce spoilage. There are many varieties of these tiny organisms, and each variety acts in its own peculiar way. The conditions which permit or promote the growth of these destructive enemies, as well as the conditions which retard or entirely prevent their growth, are learned by extended investigations.

Experiments are made to determine the best ways to apply the principles of sanitation, sterilization, dehydration, and refrigeration to different classes of foods under varying trade conditions. The results of the experiments are then tried out on a commercial scale and the most efficient and practical methods adopted. The improved methods are introduced into the industry by means of bulletins which give working plans and information regarding them, and through the personal assistance of technical specialists who are sent to cooperate with the leaders of the industry who desire their services.

Methods for packing and shipping eggs so as to reduce the enormous losses, due to breakage in transit, have been applied through the co-operation of the Railroad Administration and shippers of eggs. In the experimental work on which the methods were based, an instrument for measuring the shocks to which cases of eggs are subjected, while in railroad cars was devised and found to be highly useful in determining the causes of breakage. Instructions as to how to prevent spoilage in eggs by proper candling, cooling, and packing have been issued in a number of pamphlets.

Plans have been furnished for small pre-cooling plants that will enable small shippers of poultry to ship dressed chickens and turkeys with a minimum loss. Model refrigerator cars have been built and extensive experiments made in the shipping of poultry for long distances. The best methods for killing, dressing, packing and shipping poultry have been determined and are being adopted generally by the poultry industry.

Studies have been made to prevent spoilage in the commercial canning of tomatoes, catsup, tomato pulp, and similar products. Bulletins have been issued giving the results of the investigations and outlining practical factory methods which reduce spoilage to a minimum.

Improved methods for handling, packing, and shipping shrimp and salmon have been worked out. Investigations directed toward the improvement of methods for canning salmon are now under way.

Experiments are being made to determine the best methods for shipping fresh fish to inland cities. There is an unlimited quantity of fish which can be utilized to supplement the meat supply of the country. Fish, a palatable, highly nutritious food, has not been used extensively in inland cities because of the difficulty of securing a regular supply of fresh fish in excellent condition as now being shipped from the Gulf and Atlantic coast to the cities of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, and Tennessee.

When fish are properly handled there is little danger of spoilage. Fruits, and to a limited extent vegetables, have been preserved by drying for many years. However, many of the dried products were so much less palatable than the fresh or canned articles that the drying industry has not developed to the extent justified by its possibilities. Experience has demonstrated that many highly perishable fruits and vegetables can be dried in such a manner as to keep indefinitely. Experiments are now being conducted with a view of developing methods of drying that will preserve the delicate flavor of the original products in order to establish in the United States a permanent drying industry.

"DEATH SIGN" IN COURT.

Sisters-in-Law Held for Alleged Threat to Another Woman.

New York, Aug. 22.—Because they were alleged to have made the "death sign" to Mrs. Anna Ross of 117 Mott street, as they were leaving the Tombs court, Mrs. Angelina Gotto of 81 Mott street and Mrs. Lucy Gotto of 5 Baxter street, sisters-in-law, were arrested by order of Magistrate Tobias, charged with disorderly conduct. He found the women guilty and placed them under $500 bonds each for six months.

The women were summoned to court on complaint of Mrs. Ross. She said they were constantly quarrelling. The magistrate told them to go home and keep the peace for a month, and if they did this he would drop the case. A court attendant caught the "death sign" as the three women were leaving the court room.

CHAUFFEUR MARRIED TO RICH EMPLOYER

Haverhill Widow of Fifty-Seven Takes Husband of Thirty-Four

Haverhill, Aug. 22.—The marriage of George E. Stevens, aged 34 years, a chauffeur, and Mrs. Emma E. Chase, aged 57 years, a wealthy widow, is announced as the culmination of a romance that began when the groom entered the employ of his bride two years ago.

Mr. Stevens is in the nature of Lawrence and came to this city in 1909, when he served as an usher at the local vaudeville theatre and was chauffeur for Louis B. Mayer, formerly of this city and now a moving picture producer in Boston.

Previously Mr. Stevens had been a chauffeur in Andover and Lawrence.

Mrs. Stevens is the widow of Herbert A. Chase, who died in Groveland Sept. 18, 1917, and who for many years was engaged in the shoe business with his father, the firm name having been W. S. Chase & Son. She was a daughter of the late Daniel K. Johnson, who was for many years prominently identified with the Haverhill shoe industry.

Mrs. Stevens inherited her father's estate as well as her first husband's. She has always moved in exclusive circles and has travelled extensively.

Mr. Stevens also has previously been married, his first wife having died three years ago in Lawrence. The couple yesterday obtained a waiver of the law requiring five days' notice of marriage from Daniel J. Cavan of the District Court and obtained their marriage license from City Clerk W. W. Roberts.

Mrs. Stevens has for some time past been occupying apartments at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. W. Downes on Main street, Bradford District, and the marriage ceremony was quietly solemnized there by Rev. James Malcolm-Smith, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, this morning at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Stevens, a sister of Mr. Stevens, being one of the witnesses.

Mrs. Stevens has a daughter, Miss Esther C. Chase, aged 32 years, who resides in Pittsfield, while her husband has a son aged 3 years. It became known tonight in connection with the wedding that Mrs. Stevens today made a will and it is reported that she made an anti-marriage settlement upon her husband. The marriage was hastened, her friends say, because Mrs. Stevens intends soon to enter a private hospital in Boston for radium treatment.

ITALY AND THE PROFITTEERS

People In Arms Against Cost of Living

A WINNING BATTLE

Prices Reduced by Half as Result of Agitation—Wholesale Rioting Occurred Before Situation Was Straightened Out

How Italy brought her food profiteers to time is related by Philip R. MacKenzie, special Rome correspondent of the New York Tribune. From the Alps to Sicily, in every city, town and village during the last weeks the people of Italy have been up in arms waging war against the high cost of living, he writes. Mob law, as was to be expected, triumphed and today the high prices of food have been reduced by half everywhere. Nothing short of a revolution could have remedied the high cost of living in this country where meat was sold at $2 a pound, a chicken cost $4, fruit and vegetables over fifty cents a pound, eggs from twenty to ten cents each, and everything else was proportionately dear.

Rationing proved a failure, food control merely served to increase prices, and the numerous laws passed to regulate distribution were invariably evaded. The only remedy adopted to improve conditions consisted in increasing wages and salaries, and as a result labor is as dear in Italy as it is in America, while practically the entire revenue of the state is spent on salaries, allowances and pensions accorded to government employees.

This remedy proved successful for only a comparatively short time. As prices continued to rise and food shortage naturally became more acute owing to an increased demand, in practice the remedy proved only a vicious circle, and the people rose in rebellion and imposed their will with violence.

People Used Violence.

The agitation started at Imola, where the people who went to market in the morning, exasperated at the high prices asked for the so-called prime necessities of life, lost their patience, helped themselves to what they wanted and threatened to resort to violence against the profiteers.

As was to be expected, there was a great deal of excitement which spread like wildfire. Work was stopped everywhere. A strike of protest against the high cost of living was proclaimed by the labor organizations and the men came out and started looting. Next day riotous mobs were seen in half a dozen cities, Bologna, Ancona and Florence, followed the example set by Imola. When the local authorities lost their heads and displayed weakness, the people, besides looting the shops and markets with a certain amount of discrimination, assumed a threatening attitude and resorted to rioting. Wholesale looting followed, with acts of vandalism, violence and armed resistance to the police, and troops were summoned to keep order.

General Rioting.

The rioting lasted three days at Florence. When it subsided there it started at Genova, Turin, Naples and Southern Italy, especially at Taranto, where machine-guns had to be used, as the people attempted to burn down public buildings in Sicily. In small out-of-the-way places republics and soviet were proclaimed. It was decided that as a provisional measure, a general reduction of all actual sales prices by 50 per cent should go immediately into effect, the reduction applying to restaurant prices as well. The prices will be fixed definitely by a mixed committee, whose jurisdiction will be extended not only to foodstuffs, but also to all other important necessities. This committee is to be constituted as a sort of tribunal of arbitration. The merchants were not to appeal from its decisions.

Storekeepers Barred.

The most interesting feature of this committee was its composition: "The committee consists of six representatives of the working classes designated by the two Chambers of Labor, four citizens representing the other classes, and the Mayor of Rome. The citizen representatives must not be merchants or storekeepers." The reduction of prices was to be put into effect and supervised by vigilance committees, one for each district of Rome. These committees were to be composed of the two oldest men of the district, one representative of the city administration, one expert in the line of the business, and one representative of the Chamber of Labor.

Prices Cut in Half.

A detachment of police was assigned to each committee to carry out its orders immediately. The 50 per cent price cut was announced in a proclamation issued by the Prefect of Rome. The proclamation emphasized that on the price-fixing commission the merchants were not to be represented. It was stated that the reduction applied not only to foodstuffs but to clothing and footwear as well.

OSTEND GAY AGAIN, ALTHOUGH LOOTED

Hotels Reopened, But Influx Waits on Account of Lack of Passports

Wreck of Invincible Near by—Splendid Palace Hotel Incurred German Wrath and Was Used as a Stable

(By Edwin L. James in New York Times.)

Ostend, Aug. 7.—The war may be over, but Ostend doesn't believe it. Battered, bedecked in much of its pre-war glory this Atlantic City of Europe still waits for its crowds.

Most of the fifth of the German invasion cleaned away its beaches swept like a well-kept floor, its bath houses freshly painted, and with many flags flying. Ostend is all ready to be gay again, but only a few score people dodge the waves as they roll in and break in the bright sunshine. The trouble is that the British and French, who always formed the great mass of Ostend's customers, cannot get passes yet.

Ostend is worth visiting now. It was always interesting, but the war has added interest to this famous watering place. Off on the north end of the ocean promenade lies in good view the wreck of the Invincible, the British battleship so bravely sunk to bottle up the harbor when the Germans were using it in their last desperate effort to break through the sea. Up the boulevard four big German naval guns stand where they once could sweep the beach from end to end. They have been ruined, so that they could be of no use to the Belgians or other allies, but they are great war souvenirs, in their emplacements, looking out to sea in impotent ugliness. Along the sea wall is strung mile after mile of wire, representing German preparation to fight against landing parties had they come from the allied fleets.

One of the most interesting war relics in this place is the wreck of the Palace Hotel. This was the finest hotel in Ostend. Representing an investment of millions, it was considered the last word in seaside elegance. Built for princes and millionaires, it was used by the Germans as a stable.

I do not know whether the story of the Palace Hotel has been told before, but if so it is worth telling again. On the first day the German invaders reached Ostend the higher officers, naturally, went to the Palace Hotel. They picked out their rooms and prepared to settle down in elegance.

When night came they turned the switches, but there was no light. They got ready to wash up but there was no hot water. They called the caretaker, who told them that the proprietor of the hotel had closed it on the third day of the war. In anger greater they kicked the caretaker down the marble stairs.

The next morning all the officers left going to other hotels where they could get hot water. About noon 1,600 German soldiers and 200 German horses arrived and occupied the hotel. In the magnificent dining room, more than 600 feet long, a great glass encased balcony, they stabled horses. In the gaming room, in the theatre, in the promenade, they stabled more horses.

The men were scattered through the

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommend Daily Use of Magnesia To Overcome Trouble, Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisulphate of Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and blast right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisulphate of Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

Mrs. Killifer desired that the picture be hung to the right of the door; Mr. Killifer wanted it hung to the left, relates Harper's. For once the husband proved to be the more insistent of the two, and Henry, the colored man, was summoned to hang the picture according to Mr. Killifer's order. Henry drove one in a nail on the left. This done, he also asked Mr. Killifer, "Why, boss, dat's de trouble of bringin' de ladder tomorrow when you come round to de missus' way of thinkin'," said Henry.

WORKMAN SAYS NO TRUTH IN REPORT OF BEAVERBROOK MERGER

Sydney, N. S., Aug. 22.-A message from Mark Workman, president of the Dominion Steel Corporation, states that there has been no discussion whatever between him and Lord Beaverbrook as to the possibility of an amalgamation of Dominion Steel and the Steel Company of Canada, nor are any negotiations in progress looking to the merger of Dominion and Scotia. An article in last week's issue of the Toronto Financial Post said that Lord Beaverbrook was interesting himself in the possibility of an amalgamation of all three of the steel companies in question and that the merger of Scotia with Dominion Steel was also under consideration.

DEFERRED PAYMENT CONTRACTS CONVERTED INTO READY CASH

Of Interest to Dealers Who Sell Articles on Time

The volume of time sales now longer depend on the amount of capital invested, for deferred payment contracts can as they are secured be converted at once into ready cash by means of the credit plan of the Commercial Credit Company of Canada Ltd., who have opened offices at St. John, N. B., to cover business in the maritime provinces, under the management of J. E. Dimock. "The system of the Commercial Credit Co. of Canada, Ltd., is very popular wherever it has been introduced throughout Canada, appealing strongly to dealers in automobiles, pianos, musical instruments, and such articles as are sold on lay or "time" payments or conditional sales notes. By means of the plan dealers are able to take advantage of manufacturer's discounts, to increase their stock, their sales, their profits and what is better still it does not interfere with banking arrangements. It permits of greater profits, without increasing capital.

LESSON OF ECONOMY IN DECLINE OF STERLING

Experts Also Exhort People to Increase Production for Export London, Aug. 21.-Reuter's-The decline in sterling, especially in the American exchange, is featured in the newspapers here. The sovereign fell yesterday to $410, the lowest on record, thus one pound sterling is only worth sevenpence shillings in the United States. Experts here are exhorting the public to study foreign exchange conditions and to appreciate the necessity of economy and increasing the production of exports, pointing out that money which now seems so cheap is being hoarded in order to be inflated by paper currency. Similar comment is expressed in Paris.

The Temps of that city compares the position of France with that of Great Britain, pointing out that the pound sterling is worth thirty-four francs in France. It urges an increase of cheaper production in order to sell goods abroad as the only remedy. It concludes its comment on the subject by stating "that it is unlikely the Allies will resume a system of artificial stabilization of exchange."

Chief of Police of Lille Asks Extradition of Von Heinrich, Von Gravenitz and Von Himmel

Lille, Aug. 22.-The extradition of Generals Von Heinrich and Von Gravenitz, German governors of Lille during the occupation of the city by the Germans, and Captain Von Himmel, chief of police of Lille at one time, is to be asked by the Chief of Police of Lille, who has just concluded an investigation and a report on the situation in Lille while the Germans were in control there. The data, which will be sent to the peace conference, will charge the generals and Von Himmel with murders, executions, violence and common law offences.

NOT TOO MODEST

(Montreal Journal of Commerce.) "The question, 'who won the war?' was lately discussed by a number of writers in various countries, each one disposed to regard the part of his own country as the most important one. In the United States not a few good citizens persuaded themselves that the war was won by the American army. It was an amusing notion, which most of us were inclined to smile at and not ascribe to sensible Americans. That the Americans came into the war at a time when their aid was of great value, and that they did it with the glory of a victor with the nations which had fought for three years before any American soldier appeared in Europe, every body is ready to admit. Only foolish boasting has hitherto claimed more than this. Now, however, we find America's part in the great conflict set forth by President Wilson in terms which he might well have left to Fourth of July orators in the back districts. In his speech to congress last week on the cost of living, Mr. Wilson pleading for assistance to the people of Europe who are short of food, said: "It is in this supreme crisis-this crisis of all mankind-that America must prove her mettle. In the presence of a world confused, distracted, she must show herself self-possessed, self-contained, capable of sober and effective action. She saved Europe by her action in arms; she must now save it by her action in peace. In saving Europe she will save herself, as she did upon the battlefields of the war. The calmness and capacity with which she deals with and masters the problems of peace will be the final test and proof of her place among the peoples of the world."

TO MOVE TO MONCTON

Sussex Record.-Alderman Frank R. DeBoo and family will move about Sept. 1 to Moncton, where they propose taking up their residence. Alderman DeBoo will manage the Canadian Express Company's business in that growing city, and the change has made it compulsory for him to remove from Sussex, where he has lived since childhood days. His removal to Moncton will make a vacancy in Ward Two, and as his term of office does not expire until November, 1920, an election will be necessary. DeBoo and Mrs. DeBoo are both very popular in church and social circles, and their intended departure from Sussex will be mourned by their many friends with much regret.

Washington Makes Announcement -Active Control of Price is Resumed

Washington, Aug. 22.-Active control of sugar prices was resumed by the government yesterday, through an agreement reached between the department of justice and the food administration that licenses will be revoked by the latter when it is shown dealers have been profiteering. VATICAN SINGERS IN NEW YORK FOR CONCERTS

From Sistine Chapel Choir-Will Sing Music Written in the Fourth Century (New York Times.)

Four soloists from the Sistine Chapel Choir of the Vatican, Rome, including the only adult male soprano and male contralto in the choir, arrived yesterday for a four months' tour of this country. The tour was arranged by special permission of the Vatican and the Italian government.

The soloists are Alessandro Gabrielli, soprano; Luigi Gentili, contralto; Leo Cecchini, tenor; and Augusto Dos Santos, basso. Their accompanist is Albert Cammetti. The tour, which has been arranged by the musical bureau, opens in Carnegie Hall, Sept. 14. They have permission to be away from Rome until Jan. 1. They will give seventy-five concerts.

The singers brought credentials from Basilio Cardinal Vicarius, de facto Bishop of Rome; Dr. Ernesto Rossi, music director of St. Peter's; and the Vatican, and Don Lorenzo Perosi, the composer, who wrote that they were very good artists and had sung in the Sistine Chapel for years.

Gabrielli is said to be the only living natural male soprano. He is tall and well built, and is forty years old. He is unmarried and lives with his parents in Rome. He was in the Italian army and was invalided. He walks with a slight limp from rheumatism.

Gentili, the contralto, is married and has five children, including twins. He was a brother-in-law of Prof. George Olin, of Columbia University, an archaeologist, who died in 1912 in Rome.

Cecchini is a lyric tenor. He has sung in the concert of St. Cecilia's orchestra, and has appeared with Battistini, the opera star. He sang the tenor part of Peri's "Eurisaccus" at the "Lazarus" (Don Steno), of the basso, was in the Italian military service.

The coming of the Italian church singers is an event of great interest to the musical world in America. It is the first appearance here of singers from the Sistine Choir. This choir is composed of thirty-two choral chaplains, whose special privilege it is to appear at the ecclesiastical functions at which the Pope appears in person. Some of the music which will be sung in America was written in the fourth century.

The coming of St. Cecilia's orchestra, with which Cecchini sang and which consisted of three choirs of Rome recently was announced.

WOMEN'S HOSPITAL AID

A Complaint Registered—Tenders Said to Be High—The Federal Grant. Keen disappointment concerning the delay in commencing the erection of the new nurses' home for the General Public Hospital were expressed at the meeting of the Hospital Aid yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. J. Boyle Travers, the secretary, in bringing the matter of the proposed nurses' home before the meeting said that she had had the honor to receive from the Federal Government a grant of $2,000 each for the use of the sailors in the hospital.

On motion of Miss Amelia Green, seconded by Mrs. Travers, the secretary was asked to let the president and ask her to appoint a committee to interview the commissioners and obtain a clear statement of the case.

Regarding the tenders received for the nurses' home the hospital commissioners said last evening that there was nothing to be given out to the public. The tenders had been received and would be submitted to a special meeting of the municipal council to be called at the earliest opportunity.

PRINCE RENOUNCES THRONE

Charles of Roumania Persists in Refusing to Be King. Paris, Aug. 22.—Crown Prince Charles of Roumania has written a letter to his father, King Ferdinand, renouncing for himself and his heirs his rights and privileges as heir apparent to the Roumanian throne, as he is entitled to do under Article 88 of the Roumanian constitution.

Crown Prince Charles is in his twenty-sixth year. He contracted a marriage with Miss Zsuzs Lambrina in September, 1918, without the sanction of the king. Although he protested that he did not want to be king and would not sacrifice his happiness for any throne he was disciplined for his marriage, and his parents this year forced him to obtain a divorce.

A report received in Vienna on July 11 said that King Ferdinand was endeavoring to find a wife for Charles among the European princesses.

COOL AND LIGHT The room from one socket

CONSIDER how often you wish to use your electric fan at night! Even in daytime, you don't want to take out a lamp in order to attach the motor. In other words you need two sockets at once. You can have them—without extra wiring, without trouble, and at trifling cost—by using a Benjamin Two-Way Plug. Take out a lamp bulb, put the Benjamin Two-Way Plug in its place—just as you would change an old lamp for a new one—and you have two sockets instead of one, by which to use your fan or any other electrical appliance without removing a lamp or sacrificing your light.

VALLEY RAILWAY OFFERS BEST ROUTE FOR THROUGH TRAFFIC

Will Give C. N. R. Chance to Reach Tide Water 150 Miles Nearer Than Halifax—Speakers at Luncheon Tell of Possibilities of New Road

Congratulations were extended to the directors of the St. John and Quebec Railway on the completion of their task by their guests at the luncheon given yesterday for those who made the call-trip. Optimistic references to the future possibilities of the road were made and C. N. R. officials spoke encouragingly of its prospects.

In response to the toast, L. S. Brown, general superintendent of the C. N. R., said that it had been a pleasure to join the party on the trip from Fredericton to St. John. Under the able supervision of Mr. Foss and his associates the road had been brought to completion and he understood that in a few days the C. N. R. would undertake the operation of the road. A timetable had been prepared and, although it might not meet with

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curvilinear lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by Ross Drug Co. in St. John and most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should soon disappear, dull eyes ought to brighten, and pale cheeks bloom with the bloom of perfect health. Miss Georgia Hamilton, who was once thin and frail, reports her own experience. "Bitro-phosphate has brought about a magic transformation with me. I gained 15 pounds and never before felt so well." CAUTION:—Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its tendency to increase weight, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

the approval of one hundred per cent. of the people, it provided for a passenger express each way on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays and a mixed train on Mondays, Wednesday and Fridays. On the days on which the express operated an eight-section combination sleeping and parlor car with observation end would be provided which would make the through trip without change from St. John to Quebec, with a stop of fifty-five minutes at Fredericton to enable the passengers to secure meals.

On the first day on which they take charge, regardless of the schedule, they will run passenger trains both ways to accommodate the people who will wish to make the initial trip. Mr. Brown said that he had spent sixteen years in Cape Breton and was familiar with the famous beauties of the Bras d'Or Lakes, but there was nothing there to compare with the trip from Fredericton to St. John by the Valley Railway, and while it might take some time to develop the freight business he was sure that the beauty of the route would attract so many travellers that the passenger trains would prove profitable. The freight prospects were good; only last week he had received a request that five cars be added at one station. He hoped that not many days would pass before they would take charge of the road.

W. R. Fitzmaurice, district superintendent of the C. N. R., said that he had been delighted with the beautiful country through which they had passed. They expected to undertake the operation of the road in a few days and they would do all in their power to furnish an adequate service.

F. W. Robertson, general passenger agent of the C. N. R., spoke briefly of the possibilities of passenger traffic and said that he hoped the business would develop so rapidly that they would be justified in putting on a full sized sleeping car.

A. J. Grey, assistant general freight agent, said that his opinion of the railway as a business proposition was improving as its prospects seemed to be getting better every day. They would do all they could to provide business for the road and he was sure they could get the freight.

Hon. Mr. Carvell.

Hon. F. B. Carvell, who was greeted with vigorous applause, remarked that he was not entitled to speak to the toast to the C. N. R., although he expected to have something to say to the National Railways when they were brought under the jurisdiction of the railway board. He had given him much pleasure to be present at the occasion of the first trip over the Valley railway, partly because he had had a great deal to do with that railway since 1908 and 1909 and had watched its progress through its trials and tribulations.

Mr. Carvell spoke of the high standard to which the road had been built and pointed out that so soon as the connection via Fredericton and McGivney Junction has been completed, traffic from Montreal and the west can be brought to St. John as easily as to Dorchester. "It may be good business to carry traffic to Dorchester and as much farther as is required to get it to the seaboard, but I cannot see it that way," he said. "This new road gives a great opportunity to bring through traffic to St. John instead of going to the coast and back to the harbor. If there is any reason why freight should be carried an additional 160 miles for nothing I do not know what it is."

"While I am on this subject, I might throw out the suggestion that the Ocean Limited should be run from Halifax to Montreal over the Transcontinental line from Moncton. This would make a twenty-two hour run possible. Passengers leaving Halifax at 10 o'clock in the morning or leaving St. John at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and traveling via Fredericton and McGivney Junction, could be in Montreal the next morning. This would enable the C. N. R. to get much of the business from St. John, all the travel from the river counties and much of the traffic from the North Shore, via the Canada Eastern.

"I am looking for great developments as a result of the construction of this new railway. It means much to New Brunswick, and to other parts of Canada as well, for it means that we shall be brought that much closer together. In other parts of the dominion they are inclined to think of us as living down here in a corner by ourselves and anything that helps to remove this barrier of distance will be a great advantage to the whole dominion."

Harbor Commission.

In reply to Councillor O'Brien, who asked for Hon. Mr. Carvell's views on the subject of harbor commission, the latter said: "The city of St. John did what no other city in the dominion has done, by spending large sums of money to develop the port facilities and in building up a traffic which has produced sufficient revenue to meet the interest and other expenses. But the time has arrived when the plant is getting old and in need of repairs and in the near future an expenditure of from half to three-quarters of a million will be required. In view of this situation it was suggested that the harbor should be taken over by the federal government and that the government should repay the city's expenditure and make the necessary improvements. Under such an arrangement all future work would be done by the harbor commission instead of by the federal minister of public works or marine and fisheries. I consider that a good plan.

Sunburn won't trouble you if you use Zam-Buk

Stops at Three Points in U. S.—Mail "Via Airplane"

Toronto, Aug. 22.—Preparations have been completed for the international airplane race, which is to start from New York and Toronto on Monday, according to Capt. J. Beatty of the Aero Club, Toronto.

Ground stops are to be made by the American and Canadian flyers at Albany, Syracuse and Buffalo. These are the only stops in the United States in view of the action of the United Farmers in nominating a candidate yesterday.

The race will start from Roosevelt Field, Mineola, on Aug. 23, by Brig-General Wm. Mitchell, and end at Exhibition Grounds, Toronto, where His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales and many distinguished Canadians will be present to see the start.

THEY ALMOST LOST ALL HOPE

Harold Farthing's Parents Were Afraid They Would Not Be Able to Raise Him—Tanlac Builds Him Up.

"Only mothers will ever know how grateful I am to Tanlac for making our boy well and strong after we had almost given up hope of ever being able to raise him," said Mrs. A. E. Farthing, whose husband is a well known employee of the Canadian National Railroad and who lives at 628 Alexander Avenue, Winnipeg.

"It was two years ago, when Harold was thirteen years old," she continued, "that he was taken with rheumatism, and soon after the first attack rapidly grew worse. He finally got in such a condition that he was unable to stand alone, and he suffered so much when anything rough came in contact with his body that we had to keep him wrapped in cotton batting all day. We tried specialists, electrical treatments, and even sent to the States to get medicines that promised relief, but nothing reached his case. My heart was simply breaking as I saw him wasting away while I was unable to get anything to help him. He did not eat enough to more than keep a bird alive and his suffering was so great both day and night that for months he got no sound restful sleep, but would only be able to doze and get cat naps from time to time. # KERENSKY'S APPEAL FOR AID TO RUSSIA

Declaration Says it is Necessary That Russia Should Again Resume Her Existence as a Broad Democratic State

(Christian Science Monitor.)
London, Aug. 18.—A. Kerensky and N. Avxentieff and certain of their associates recently issued from Paris a declaration to the European democracies which reads as follows:—

"For eighteen months Russia has been eliminated from the list of sovereign powers, for eighteen months Russia is in a state of anarchy, for eighteen months a pitiless civil war is raging there.

"The world is longing for peace. At the Peace Conference the victorious countries raise their voices loudly. The defeated countries are also permitted to speak. Russia alone is silent. She is neither among the victors nor among the vanquished. It is as though Russia did not participate in the great war at all. Why is this so?"

"Russia carried on the war, blockaded as Germany was, almost entirely isolated from the Allies, the great western democracies, and much less developed industrially than her allies. That was one of the main reasons why Russia, in her efforts beyond her powers in this terrible war, was the first to suffer from a collapse of her economic organization. That was one of the reasons she was the first to be exhausted, to lose her capacity to continue the war. Russia became disintegrated in chaos, but the blood of millions of her sons helped to solidify the triumph of the free people. This should not be forgotten by the democracy of the world. It is her duty to extend a brotherly hand to Russian democracy in its struggle with the aftermath of the war—anarchy and reaction.

"It is not only the duty of the world democracy toward the democracy of Russia. A continuation of anarchy in Russia will undoubtedly plunge into anarchy the whole civilized world, for without Russia humanity cannot restore peace, especially a lasting and just peace.

Effects of Anarchy.
"Moreover, anarchy in Russia is leading her inevitably to dark reaction and to the destruction of her national wealth through greedy international capitalism. The Red terror is already giving birth to White terror. The old reactionary Russia is threatening to appear before long in a new disguise after anarchy has ground to dust the great Russian Revolution. This reactionary Russia will unite all the reactionary forces of the world, and will strive to convert the League of Nations—this embryo of an alliance of free peoples—into a 'holy union' of governments directed against the democracy of the world.

Without a democratic Russia the League of Nations can never become the foundation for a free co-existence of nations. Russia regenerated as a democratic federative republic, could become a stronghold of peace in the ranks of the world democracies. The preservation for the peoples of Russia of all the political and economic achievements of the great March revolution—particularly the transference of the land to the laboring masses, and a broad Labor legislation—would serve as a firm foundation for future constructive work. The convocation of the All-Russian Constituent Assembly upon the basis of a general, direct, equal, and secret suffrage would make it possible to establish Russia, enabling her to express the true will of the peoples constituting her population.

"The vital interests of the Russian people are bound up with the vital interests of the democracies of the world. It is in the interests of the democracies of the whole world that Russia should again, and at the earliest possible moment, resume her existence as a broad democratic state.

"For these reasons we, the undersigned, consider that it is high time for the representatives of the democracies of the world to urge the governments of free peoples that their activities concerning the fate of Russia should be directed toward helping the peoples of Russia in their struggle for Russia's regeneration. For this purpose it is necessary:

How to Help Russia.
"First, that the governments of free countries should proclaim openly that they will not recognize any government in Russia that has the character of a personal or class dictatorship, particularly a military dictatorship which does not recognize the sovereign will of the people, and which does not carry out any measures to bring about the realization of a democratic government.

"Second, that the governments of free countries should proclaim clearly and definitely that they will employ no methods of interference with the affairs of Russia that would violate her sovereign rights, or that would help separate classes or groups of persons to further their personal interests at the expense of the welfare of the whole country.

"Third, in order to translate such a proclamation into a reality, and to end the civil war at the earliest possible moment, it would be essential that the powers should help with supplies and products only such provisional governments in Russia as would recognize the sovereign will of the people, that would consider themselves in duty bound to convolve immediately after the cessation of civil war an All-Russian Constituent Assembly upon the basis of a general, direct, equal and secret suffrage.

"As for food supplies, they could be given in any case to the starving population of Russia, without distinction of class, by an international neutral organization having only a humanitarian object, without the participation in the distribution of supplies of any of the existing Russian governments. In the event of any government using it for political advantages, the food supply must immediately cease.

Local Self-Government.
"Meanwhile the provisional governments must commence to apply the principles of democratic government by immediately organizing elections for regional legislative assemblies upon the basis outlined above, for the purpose of establishing their authority along democratic lines. The population of these regions should receive all civil rights and liberties, and re-establish by means of elections the democratic institution of local self-government.

"Fourth, such provisional governments in Russia today as would not undertake the obligation of calling a constituent assembly, or would not introduce the government measures outlined above, should not be aided by the government of free peoples, as such governments will be the cause of the continuation of civil war in Russia, and by their mere existence conflict with the very idea of the League of Nations.

"Finally, for the purpose of a united representation of the free nations to Russia in order to explain the democratic objects and aims of the powers to the Russian people, a mission should be sent to Russia, composed of representatives of these powers, including also representatives of organized labor and democracy. Such a mission should be inspired by lofty and disinterested motives.

"This is, in our opinion, the only way to relieve the Russian crisis brought on by the war—this is the only just way of solving the Russian problem in a manner worthy of Russia as well as of the democratic powers. We venture to hope that this declaration of ours will meet the unanimous support of the whole international democracy as well as all truly democratic governments.

Voice From the Press.

The Russian Commonwealth, which stands for a united republican Russia, comments upon the declaration as follows:

"We do not condemn the intentions of the authors of the declaration, we do not associate ourselves with them, because some of their demands are unacceptable to us from the practical standpoint.

"Not for a single instant can we abandon the harsh and tragic reality of the civil war raging in Russia. War has its inexorable laws. The first condition essential to the successful waging of war is that there should be no enemy propaganda to destroy the army. If demagogic Bolshevik propaganda were permitted in Siberia, even in the rear of the army, it might compromise the work of liberation. We can only admit the real importance of elections, when they are carried out under conditions of absolute freedom of speech and propaganda. Otherwise the elections would become a farce. Let anyone indicate to us the method of carrying out really free democratic elections in the rear of an army, without opening at the same time the floodgates of unscrupulous Bolshevik propaganda. Who would be satisfied with only half free elections? Is it in the interests of democracy to accustom the people to such elections?"

KINDNESS NOT FORGOTTEN

Policeman Meets Prosperous Man He Helped as Friendless Boy.

How a few dollars given to a man apparently down and out may yield unexpected returns, says the New York Times, was the story which Patrolman Francis A. Caddell of the First Precinct on duty in the information booth on Brooklyn Bridge, told the policemen in the station house when he came off duty yesterday afternoon.

Some seventeen years ago, on a Summer morning in 1902, Patrolman Caddell, then a detective with a best extending through a large part of Chinatown, extended a helping hand to a young man stranded in the Bowery, whose appearance gained him the policeman's sympathy. The young man was completely outfitted by Caddell and given a few dollars with the parting wish, "Good-bye and the best of luck to you."

Yesterday a big touring car drove over the bridge, its owner stopping a minute to interrogate Caddell as to the best route to Coney Island. As the car started on its way there was a mutual recognition, and so the patrolman says, the man in the car was identified as the stranger he had helped in Chinatown.

Caddell said that the man told him that he had gone to California, and later made a fortune in the canning business. Just now, he said, he was on a motor tour of the country. He promised just as soon as he got back to the Pacific Coast to write the policeman and give him a home and a good job for life.

Ale Drinkers Prefer Red Ball

Because it has that rare, good flavor that you naturally associate with the work of a master brewer.

There's a difference in Ales, though—Some Ales taste good, but are not good; others, again, are really good, but don't taste good. "RED BALL" has the true Ale flavor, because it is Ale—a thirst-chaser and body builder made from the very choicest malt and highest grade hops. Then the water makes a difference. "Red Ball" is brewed in pure, sparkling spring water from our historic artesian well.

You'll enjoy your drink of "Red Ball"—it's piquant 'smack' gets right after your lagging summer appetite and makes you simply ravenous.

At Home—In the Country—At Camp—At Outings of All Kinds

"Red Ball" is enjoyed by young and old alike, being cooling, refreshing, and excellent for warding off warm weather fatigue. It's great after a long tramp through the woods—is a big, cool drink of "Red Ball," prime with the picnic luncheon—Delightful on all occasions.

Sullivan Hotel. It will be fifteen stories high, adding 500 rooms to the present capacity, giving a total of nearly 1,000 rooms, and will include a convention hall to seat 2,000 and a restaurant to serve 1,000 people, making the King Edward one of the largest hotels in America. A roof garden is planned for the fifteen-story.
The cost of the new addition will be approximately $2,000,000, and work will start inside of three months, in tearing down the old buildings, according to Geo. H. O'Neill, manager of the United Hotels Company of America, in Canada. No information is yet available as to how the financing will be arranged, but it will probably involve a local issue along similar lines to those made in connection with various other projects of the company.

KENNEBECAS REPORT
There is a report about Indian town that a local syndicate is considering buying the steam launch Dream with a view of putting her in service on the Kennebec river. The Dream was formerly a pleasure craft and is well fitted for passenger service. There has been no regular service on the Kennebec since the withdrawal of the steamer Hampton.

THE POLICE
Speaking of prospective appointments to the police force, Chief Smith said today that at the present time the force was really up to strength, there being now fifty men on duty. He said that the taking on the strength of some returned men had put the force three men over strength and the recent departures had not really caused vacancies. He is on the lookout for suitable men, however, and said that he was in favor of appointing local men if possible and turning over the leadership of the force to the requirements of the job. He has had several applications from outside points, which have been made by returned soldiers.

SUCCESSFUL MASQUERADE
The masquerade in the pavilion at Public Landing on Wednesday evening was the most successful ever held there. A party of about twenty went up from the city in a motor bus, and two other parties went in cars. There was a large attendance from river points. The costumes were varied and attractive, the music excellent, and the party did not break up till after midnight. The judges, Messrs. Jones, Farley and Bonnell, awarded the prizes as follows: Ladies: 1st, Miss Ethel McGinley; 2nd, Miss Cameron. Gentlemen: 1st, Howard Barnham; 2nd, Charles Clark. The mid-week and week-end affairs at the pavilion have been most enjoyable throughout the season, and on every other evening it has also been open for the use of the young people, who regret that there will be but one more week of enjoyment before the holidays are over.

VALLEY RAILWAY AND THE RIVER STEAMERS
The people along the lower reaches of the St. John river were keenly interested in the inspection trip over the Valley Railway from Fredericton on Thursday. They watched for the passing of the train and those near the line waved a welcome as it rushed past. The certainty that there will be a railway service next summer has aroused keen speculation as to the effect on the river steamboat traffic. It is possible that the steamer Oceanic will not run to Wickham next year. It has been suggested that she might make her up-river terminus at Oak Point. In that case she would arrive at Indian town later in the afternoon. Because she was so late in arriving, and leaving so early in the afternoon this season she could not accommodate many who would like to summer at various river points. An advantage in earlier arrival and later leaving would be that she would be available for runs up river during the middle of the day or early afternoon. Possibly she would also be available for very late trips Saturday night. Such a schedule would be of special benefit to people living on the east bank of the river, and possibly to many others between Oak Point and the city. As yet, however, no decision has been arrived at by the owners.

ST. JOHN SOLDIERS, LANDED FROM BALTIC, HOME TODAY

Parks, Millbridge Place, St. John.

A WAR ROMANCE OF SAINT JOHN INTEREST
Miss Margaret Gillespie Bride of Dr. J. E. Freed of Indianapolis—They Met Overseas
Local friends will be interested in a wedding announcement which brings the news that Miss Margaret Gillespie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Gillespie, 167 Charlotte street, became the bride of Dr. J. E. Freed. Both recently returned after service overseas. The wedding took place in the Lutheran church in Indianapolis, where the groom belongs. The bride formerly lived in Charlottetown and has numerous friends in these parts who will extend good wishes for the future. She is a graduate of the New England Deaconess Hospital in Brookline, Mass. About two years ago she went overseas and for a year and a half served as assistant operating nurse with Major Lunn's staff at the First American Base Hospital in France. While serving there in that capacity she met Doctor Freed, who is a graduate of North Western University and who was engaged in the same hospital. The friendship ripened and on July 28, last their wedding took place. For the present Doctor and Mrs. Freed are making their home in Terre Haute, Ind.

EARLY MORNING CALL TO FIELD; THREE ARRESTS
Policeman Says Fourth Man Hit Him and Made His Escape
A story of midnight and early morning revels in a field adjoining the Maternity home in Hazen street was told in the police court this morning before Magistrate Ritchie, when James Murphy, John McRae and J. L. Morrison were charged with being drunk, lying and making a disturbance. Policeman Thomas told how, at 3:30 o'clock this morning he, accompanied by Policemen Lobbs and Scammon, responded to a call from the St. John Infirmary. He found four men in the field; he said one struck him, knocking his cap off and got away. Murphy, he said, advanced towards him and said he would give him some of the "Kierstead touch" (evidently referring to the case of Policeman Kierstead who was taken to hospital after injuries received in an arrest. He said he caught hold of Murphy, but he broke away. Policeman Lobbs arrested him. The other two went into the patrol quietly. A bottle of liquor was found in the field. The trio was remanded.

Thomas Ramsay, charged with supplying liquor, forfeited a deposit of $200 by non-appearance.
Clifford Cary, charged with taking a car belonging to William Taylor without his permission was remanded until arrangements could be made to have the damages made good.

In the case of Peter Richards, charged with drunkenness and with having liquor in possession other than in his private dwelling, John R. King testified that the defendant, his wife and daughter roomed at his place, 270 Germania street, since last May. At 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning, the witness said he was awakened and asked by the defendant if he wanted a drink of rum. The witness said he asked the defendant to go to bed and mind his own business, and the defendant insisting, the witness called the police. Richards was remanded.

James McIntyre, charged with stealing an overcoat from Walter Reed, a returned soldier, pleaded guilty and consented to the jurisdiction of the court. He asked to be allowed to go out on trial and sentence was therefore suspended. Urban J. Sweeney appeared for McIntyre and Reed, who was the complainant in the case, was unable to attend court, having been taken to the hospital last evening, having been taken ill in the Red Triangle Club, Charlotte street. Two men charged with drunkenness, pleaded guilty and were remanded.

CHANGE IN ARRANGEMENTS FOR BRINGING HOME INVALID SOLDIERS?
It would appear that the government has made a change in order regarding the matter of heading invalid soldiers from hospital ships who up to now have been arriving at Portland, Me. This morning two hospital cars reached the city and were to have gone forward as usual to Portland, Me., but would not be accepted for transit west. They were ordered to Halifax. Just what the situation is cannot be stated definitely at present. The government has spent quite a large sum of money in fitting up sheds and general accommodation at Portland, for the purpose of handling hospital ships and their soldier cargoes and though protests were made to have the matter, the practice was continued. H. C. Groat, general superintendent for the New Brunswick district, C. P. R., said today that he was unable to say just what the change in the routing of the cars meant.

There are still some invalid soldiers to come home, though the number is not very large, and it is possible that orders have been given for the transfer to hospital cars to be made at Halifax instead of the American port.

NEW CHIEF OF SONS OF ENGLAND RETURNS
With the honor of having been elected supreme president of the Sons of England fresh upon him, T. H. Carter returned to St. John last evening from Hamilton, Ont., where he had been in attendance at the annual convention. He was accompanied by Mrs. Carter and daughter, Miss Muriel, who for the last three months has been visiting in Toronto. Mr. Carter has been supreme vice-president of the order for the last three years and has filled that office most capably so that his promotion to the chief position occasioned no surprise, but at the same time has given much pleasure to his friends. He has been a member of the Sons of England for about twenty-five years, the last three years of which have been with Marlborough Lodge in the city.
