FOURTEEN N POLICE COURT; BUSY SESSION

Mrs. Lewis Would Drop Case Against Simon But Is Not Allowed

A REVOLVER CASE

Negro Cook Explains—Sheffield Street Women Free of Fine if They Move From the Place at Once

Business in the police court this morning was very heavy, so less than fifteen people being called to answer to charges. The case against Thomas Simon, a Syrian, charged with assaulting Mrs. Mary Lewis, was continued. The only witness this morning was John Sullivan, a Syrian. He told the court that he could not speak English very well and the services of Michael George were engaged as interpreter. In her evidence yesterday, Mrs. Lewis swore that Sullivan helped to pick her up off the sidewalk. On the stand this morning Sullivan, a Syrian, testified that he was not present at all. His Honor warned him that if he was found to be telling a lie he was liable to a term in Dorchester. The witness said that he knew practically nothing about the affair, only that he saw Policeman Ross taking Simon away. The case was then adjourned until this afternoon at two o'clock, when other witnesses will be heard.

At the close of the hearing this morning Mrs. Lewis stepped forward and said that she had changed her mind, and that she did not want to prosecute Simon further. She was informed by the court that she had nothing whatever to do with the matter now, as it was now a case of the King vs. Simon. His Honor said that he would decide this afternoon whether Simon would be sent up for trial or be disposed of in the police court. An application was made to allow the prisoner to go on bail, but was not allowed. Thomas Windle, charged with being drunk in Main street and also with assaulting Ruby Johnson, pleaded guilty to the charge. His Honor sentenced that while walking up Main street last night he was accosted by the prisoner. He did not stop but kept on walking. When about ten or twelve feet away from the prisoner he was struck on the head with a banana stock. He could not answer but he did not see any one else around at the time. A Helms, who had told him that Windle had struck him. James Logan said that he was with Windle in Main street and did not see him throw anything at anybody. He did not think that Windle was drunk enough to be arrested. Windle was fined $8 or two months in jail on the charge of drunkenness and was remanded until this afternoon on the assault charge. William Bond, an Austrian, was called upon to answer the charge of carrying concealed weapons, a loaded revolver having been found on his person when he was taken into custody. His Honor this morning pleaded guilty to the charge. He started to explain that he had purchased the gun in New York a short time ago and that he did not know it was against the laws of the city to carry a gun. The appearance of a jury in the court put a different aspect on the case, and Bond had an entirely different story to tell. He said that he had the revolver in his trunk on a steamer lying in port and that he took it with him because he was afraid some one would steal it. The negro was called and said that his name was Archibald Hall and that he was the cook on the steamer and that for some weeks he had been having trouble with Bond. Hall said that Bond and he had on several occasions threatened to beat him. The matter was allowed to stand until two o'clock this afternoon when the captain of the steamer will be called. Joseph Arnesen, charged with using profane and obscene language and also with breaking a large pane of glass in the store of George Chagaris in Mill street pleaded guilty. The evidence of Chagaris and Sinopoli, two Greeks, was taken for the prosecution, while Edward Wright testified for the defence. The evidence was to the effect that the prisoner had gone into the store, after having been drinking and refused to leave. The police were called and he was arrested. Chagaris told the court that the damage to the window would amount to about $7 to cover the expense of replacing the window, and was allowed to go on the other charges. Leo McNamara was before the court on

SPAIN'S PREMIER IS ASSASSINATED

Canalejas Shot Down as He is Entering Public Building in Madrid

Murderer is Captured and Unconfirmed Report Says He has Committed Suicide—An Advanced Radical, Canalejas' First of His School to Be Premier

(Canadian Press) Madrid, Spain, Nov. 12.—The Spanish premier, Jose Canalejas, was assassinated today. The assassin was captured by the police. He gave the name of Manuel Pardo as his name, and said he was a native of El Guadix in the province of Huesca. Martin fired four shots at Premier Canalejas as he was entering the ministry of the interior to attend a cabinet meeting. Two of the shots struck the statesman behind the right ear and he fell dead on the spot. The assassin was captured by the police. The project introduced by Senator Canalejas for the separation of church and state in Spain caused a rupture of relations between the country and the Vatican. These have since been resumed and the question of separation is being discussed with a view to a friendly settlement. The Spanish government, however, insists on the supremacy of the civil power. Jose Canalejas visited New York in 1897, just before the outbreak of the Spanish-American war. It was said at the time that his mission was to study the sentiment of the United States people and of the administration regarding Cuban affairs, but it was limited. At the age of twenty-five he became a member of the Spanish parliament, attaching himself to the advanced liberal section. He became a member of Premier Sagasta's cabinet in 1907, when he accepted the post of secretary of agriculture. He introduced many reforms, especially in regard to the working classes, and eventually created a department of labor. When he was asked, in February, 1910, by King Alfonso to form a ministry, the request caused a great sensation, as it was the first time in the history of Spain that an advanced radical had been placed at the head of the ministry. His cabinet has since undergone many changes, but he has always retained the leading place. He had much to do with the signing of the agreement between Spain and France on the question of the future of Morocco, which was recently satisfactorily settled. CLIMB THE HILL SLOPE AND GET AT THE ENEMY

Servians Storming of Prilep Described as Gallant Affair

HUGE STONES CRUSH MANY

On They Rush to Trenches, Then Bayonet and Club Turks With Rifles, Putting Them to Flight—Servian Organization Declared a Model

(Canadian Press) London, Nov. 12.—A vivid account of the storming of Prilep from the Balkan Telegraph's correspondent at Ukip. "On the Servian side," he says, "the battle was waged almost entirely by the infantry because the nature of the country prevented the guns from being dragged to the front. The Servians managed to advance through a narrow defile which was covered with snow and ice. Both sides suffered terrible hardships. The final storming of the Turkish trenches occurred on Thursday. The hill-side was so steep that the Servians, when they reached the trenches, rolled huge rocks among them, scrambling and maiming scores of men. The Servians, disregarding all losses, clambered up the rocks in the face of a terrible fire, and sprang into the trenches, bayoneting the Turks and annihilating them with clubbed rifles when they were unable to fight with the soldiers for hand-to-hand. Every effort is being made to transport the refugees to Anzonia, which is the only safe haven for them. Since the outbreak of the Servian war, the Turkish infantry of the Balkans has been in a few minutes the Turks were in full flight. The most noticeable thing in the attack was that there was not a single shot fired by the Turks. They were filled with a Servian desire to deal with the Turks and reach the sea with a long and to get at the sea. The Servians advanced and overtook the Turks daily. The Turkish military organization, says the correspondent, is a model of efficiency.

STARVATION AND PESTILENCE THREATENING CONSTANTINOPLE

Danger of Massacre Seems to Take Second Place -- Bulgaria Said to Join Austria to Curb Servian Ambition

(Canadian Press) London, Nov. 12.—The danger of a massacre and looting in Constantinople appears to have abated. None of the correspondents of the London papers mention it this morning. It is possible that the epidemic of cholera is not causing greater fears, although, if the army is driven into the capital, no one can foresee what the disgruntled soldiers may attempt. The Daily News correspondent says that there seems to be a quarter of a million people dying from sheer starvation outside the city walls, which soon will be surrounded by a pestilence-stricken famished horde. Even now, the people are fighting with the soldiers for handfuls of grain. Every effort is being made to transport the refugees to Anzonia, which is the only safe haven for them. APPROACHES OF BRIDGE AT FALLS DISCUSSED

The plans for the approaches to the proposed bridge to replace the present suspension bridge were under discussion at the meeting of the city commissioners at noon today. The approaches from the Strait Shore road were found open to serious objection and were deemed unsatisfactory by the commissioners. Owing to difficulties in the way it was thought to look as if the proposal to abolish the level railway crossing at this place would be impracticable. The commissioners decided to ask for a conference of the government, C. P. R. and city engineers on the matter.

AUSTRIA BLUFFING?

London Thinks She Will Agree to Servia's Demands—Report Says Bulgarians Guilty of Barbarous Acts (Special to Times) London, Nov. 12.—There is an increasing interest in all capitals in Europe in Her Majesty's speech in which, with the knowledge that the British navy is ready for fight, he declared the Balkan allies would not be robbed of the fruits of their victory. The feeling now is that Austria, realizing that the members of the Triple Entente are determined that justice must be done in the partition of Turkey, will finally agree that Servia have the "little window" on the Adriatic and that the danger of a general European war will vanish.

Care Will Make the Elbows Beautiful

It is undoubtedly true that ugly elbows are capable of causing more heartache than almost any other beauty defect, and it is for this reason, and no other, that I have decided to gossip with you today on the elbow that is more of an eyesore than an ornament.

Now that you know what to strive for, I will hasten to tell you a beauty secret that will aid you in this work of securing presentable elbows.

My way of keeping the elbows good to look upon, is to hold them for five minutes every day in a pan partially filled with warm sweet almond oil.

What must you do next? Why, wear elbow pads! These are my own invention and I know you will find them of great assistance in this crusade for pretty elbows.

Are you ready? Then take a small pad of cotton—about two inches long and three inches wide—and smear over it a quantity of skin food.

FORMER ST. JOHN MAN, BANKER, SUED BY ACTRESS

Verdict of Two Hundred Pounds Against Charles St. John Collier

BREACH OF PROMISE

Complainant is Variety Actress in England—Evidence in London Court Gives Spectators a Laugh—No Evidence Given by Defence

London papers of October 30 and October 31 contained some amusing particulars regarding a suit for damages in which a London variety actress was successful in securing damages from a London banker, whose parents were formerly well known in St. John, and who was himself born in this city.

"There was almost incoherent laughter in Mr. Justice Horridge's court in the King's Bench Division yesterday during the hearing of an action for alleged breach of promise brought by Miss Mary Ferguson, an actress, of Highgate, against Charles St. John Collier, manager of a city bank.

"The defence is that plaintiff released him from the engagement."

"Mr. Elkin, counsel for plaintiff, said the history of the case was a story of violent love between the two parties. Love at first sight, telephone calls, about 120 letters and telegrams, and hundreds of messages sent to the plaintiff and relatives—said, mark you, he continued, all this took place within the space of 10 days."

"Plaintiff, when she met the defendant, in July, 1910, was an actress, who played the part of a touring company. On July 11 they became engaged, and the day after wards the defendant wrote her a letter from Pentonville—It ran—

"Dearest Little Girl—This is written just as I am rushing for the train. But I cannot help writing you a few lines. You are the girl of my dreams."

"I was amazed and indignant. Scores of these men, it appears, give cheerfully to foreign missions and to movements for the betterment of their own cities, but attempt to impose conditions among the workers in their employ and they commence to scowl."

Long Distance Philanthropy

I was told, too, that there are Y. W. C. A.'s and other institutions for these cities. It is true that there are, but it is also true that these are not so expensive for many of our young workers. Apart from their employ and they commence to scowl."

to plaintiff in the mornings, telephoned to her in the afternoons, and saw her again in the evenings.

"Counsel had a pile of love letters in front of him, and he proceeded to read extracts from them. Specimens ran:—

"Darling—I was just a boy last night. I love you just the same, though, sweet little girl, and I find it so hard to go away—Your own Charlie."

"It seems so long since I kissed you last night, cannot stop to think of all the sweet things you said to me. There never was a woman like you before, and I was just longing for the time when we will be married and together for good."

"You are going to be my wife, and this is final, sweetheart, I did dream of you last night."

"A telegram sent to the plaintiff while she was fulfilling a theatrical engagement in the city ran—

"Many kisses—little girl. Don't be down-hearted—Your own Charlie."

"Referring to an attack of neuralgia in one of his letters, the defendant said—

"You may have a husband with one false tooth, but that is not so bad as a husband with a false heart."

"Another letter ran—

"I am saving up all the kisses for my own little sweetheart, for your own sweet little white mouth—Your own Charlie."

"Mr. Justice Horridge. "What is Charles St. John Collier's age?"

MUCH INTEREST AROUSED OVER THE EXHIBITION

The directors of the St. John Exhibition Association met this afternoon to ratify their report, which will be submitted to the shareholders at their annual meeting which follows.

They report that the general features of the exhibition were successful and the attendance larger than at any previous exhibition for the same length of time. While the income has been practically stationary, however, the expenses have been increasing and the directors suggest that the financial problems must be faced. The same problems have been met by other exhibitions in other places by making a separate charge for the amusement features.

In Sherbrooke, where they tried to increase their revenue this year by raising the price of general admission the fair was almost boycotted. While the directors say that they can afford to run for a few more years and meet annual deficits from the balance still on hand from 1910, they must look to the future when it will be exhausted and they suggest that steps be taken to secure larger grants from both city and provincial government.

The secretary's report giving a general resume of the last exhibition will also be submitted this afternoon.

This afternoon's meeting has aroused considerable interest around the city on account of the rumors that the directors might suggest the closing of the exhibition and it was said this morning that the exhibition is likely to be larger than usual.

TINFOIL IN ENVELOPE THE MINISTER'S FEE

Meanest Man Has Just Been Married in Camden

Philadelphia, Nov. 12—The meanest man in the world has been found. He is the man who gave the Rev. Thilo Goro, pastor of the German Lutheran church, Camden, an envelope filled with tinfoil for marrying a pretty girl to him. He was so mean that when he took out the marriage license he gave fictitious addresses for himself and bride.

The two rang Dr. Goro's doorbell late at night and asked him to marry them. As they had a license he did so. After the ceremony the man handed the minister an envelope supposed to contain the fee. After congratulating the two the minister ushered them to the door and then opened the envelope. Much to his chagrin, he found in it nothing more than neatly folded pieces of tinfoil.

The persons gave their names as Daniel J. Nichol and Florence M. Stevens and their residence as No. 228 Michle street, Camden. They are not known at that address.

We've missed for one long year;

MADAME HALLOCK DELIGHTS ALL IN PIANO RECITAL

The recital given last evening in Century church by Madame Mary Hallock, of Philadelphia, was listened to with appreciative attention by a large gathering of music lovers, who were pleasantly and artistically entertained in a delightful programme, including a wide variety of selections. Madame Hallock displayed wonderful ability and was heartily received by her different numbers. She carried her audience to a high degree of enthusiasm, and thrilled them with the power she exercised over the keys, seeming verily to make the instrument speak, or obey her every touch, so as to express her very thoughts.

Possessed with a pleasing personality, she also showed herself to be wonderfully self with a firm touch, excellent expression, and splendid technique, and she left on her audience an impression which will not soon be forgotten. At the conclusion of her programme and at the end of each selection the large gathering burst into appreciative applause, and it was the general opinion that the equal of Madame Hallock's playing had not been heard in St. John for a long time.

SAYS LABOR FAMINE MAY DELAY G. T. P.

Edmonton, Nov. 12—Owing to the persistence of the labor famine on the Grand Trunk Pacific, grading in British Columbia, both on the eastern and western ends of construction, it is altogether improbable that the new transcontinental will be completed before 1915.

REFORM IMPROVEMENTS Matters relating to social welfare are just now attracting attention in several parts of the Maritime Provinces.

In St. John we have a complete re-organization of the police system recommended. In Fredericton there is a police scandal, and nearly all the members of the force have been dismissed, an investigation having shown that officers not only failed to enforce the Scott Act but themselves partook of liquor in the police station as well as in places where it was illegally sold.

In Halifax at the present time there is a very strong agitation, backed by the city council itself, to suppress all houses of ill repute. In Sydney and in Antigonish County there has just been started an agitation against the prohibition law, and it is supported by a number of clergymen as well as other reputable citizens, who claim that the present law is not enforced and that the conditions are really worse than if they had a license law and proper restriction.

Referring to efforts to get new farm settlers for New Brunswick the Victoria Colonist says: "There is no reason in the world why an industrious settler in New Brunswick ought not to be as well there as anywhere else."

The free kindergartens are compelled to turn away children because there is not room for them. Another room could be opened if funds were provided, as there are trained teachers available.

The Tories caught the government napping in committee on the Home Rule bill in the British House of Commons yesterday and secured an adverse vote.

It is true that the Tories themselves several times when Mr. Balfour was prime minister. It is not a defeat of the government, and unless there are unexpected Liberal defections the House will reverse the committee's verdict.

It is true that many Liberal members have objected to some features of the Home Rule bill, but it does not yet appear that they are ready to carry their objections to the point of defeating the government and placing the tariff reform party in power.

Mr. John H. Roberts, secretary of the Dominion Alliance, tells the people of Montreal that they should provide for social recreation outside of the saloons.

He believes that institution providing dining-room accommodation, smoking rooms, billiard room, conversation room, concert and meeting room, and baths, could be made commercially profitable.

He also utilizes the school buildings as social centres for organized recreation and improvement, as has been done on a wide scale in Great Britain.

He contends that in Canadian cities a magnificent opportunity is being lost by not throwing open the school buildings in this way.

In a reference to the technical schools which have been opened in Nova Scotia towns an exchange says: "Too few men are properly and practically educated or trained. Education and training are required for efficiency and the highest productive capacity where brain work is needed."

A man need not suffer from a low productive capacity for lack of the right training. He need not stand the chance of being replaced by another or of never getting ahead. There is still a chance for him to promote and put himself in the way of promotion by taking up an evening class in the Technical School.

Let us hope the time is not far distant when technical instruction will be within easy reach of young men in St. John.

Nothing to it. "Jane has lost all faith in fortune tellers."

One hundred and fifty men in the employ of the St. John Log Driving Company, have been at work rafting the drift drive that broke away from the Douglas boom in the summer, and went into Grand Bay. The work is about completed. The crew will go to Governor's Island next to raft 10,000,000 feet of logs which drifted there.

Constipation is an enemy within the camp. It will undermine the strongest constitution and ruin the most vigorous health. It leads to indigestion, biliousness, impure blood, bad complexion, sick headaches, and is one of the most frequent causes of appendicitis. To neglect it is slow suicide. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills positively cure Constipation. They are entirely vegetable in composition and do not sicken, weaken or gripe. Preserve your health by taking

PASSING THE HAT. "That's a political meeting." "That so? Why?" "Oh, he says since they've started passing the hat at them it's too much like going to church." EXERCISING HER RIGHT "Mamma, young Mr. Ketchley wants to come and see me." "When did he tell you so, child?" "Last time I saw him, he had a blank sheet if he wouldn't like to call, and he said, 'Why, certainly!'"

BEYOND HER. As a slight diversion the teacher suggested that each child in the class draw that which she would guess what the child wanted to be when grown. All sorts of articles were illustrated; books for bookkeepers, hats for milliners, etc. One little girl, however, had a blank sheet. "Why, Doris, don't you want to be anything when you are grown?" "Yesum," said Doris. "I want to be married, but I don't know how to draw it."—London Opinion.

A SKETCH OF GEORGE SANGSTER George R. Sangster, the founder of Wesley Memorial church, Moncton, was born in Falmouth, N. S., in the year 1839. For many years he conducted a railway dining-room in his native town. In 1852 he married Miss Rebecca E. Loomer, of Canning, N. S., and they removed to Moncton in 1876, when they resided in the Wesley Memorial church, which he started on his own account. Mr. Sangster took over the dining-room in the L. C. R. station in Moncton and conducted it successfully for some years. When he retired his son, John Sangster, who still conducts it, took it up. In July, 1891, Mr. Sangster decided to donate the money for the building of the Wesley Memorial and that he

HARKINS PLAYERS HAVE HEARTY RECEPTION IN SOCIETY PRODUCTION

Miss Van Duser and Mr. Stubbs Warmly Welcomed and New Members of Company Make Friends

An inner view of life amongst the leaders in the smart set in New York society was delightfully presented to a good-sized audience in the Opera House last evening by the W. S. Harkins players in their production of the scintillating comedy, "A Woman's Way."

As was the intention when Grace George starred in this vehicle, the centre of the attraction is formed by her control of the situation, and it is to a certain extent an offering in which the lady leads just as all possible chance. However, there were many opportunities for others in the cast, and most of them came well up to requirements.

To every demand made upon her, to all essentials of a successful portrayal of the role of Mrs. Howard Stanton, a pretty, attractive, and determined society woman, Miss Van Duser responded as gracefully, and her playing throughout was of a most efficient character.

Mr. Stubbs, in what little he had to do, played the role of an ever-ready social adventurer in happy fashion. Mr. Price, as Mrs. Stanton's father, was seen to good advantage, and Miss Mona Ryan, a member of the smart set with a steady throng of admirers, added much to the success of the production.

The cast follows: Howard Stanton... John Ripsey, Oliver Whitely... Harry O. Stubbs, Edward Morris... John Swann, General Livingston... J. P. Price, Robert Livingston... H. Oris Holland, Mr. Lynch... John Waller, Wilson... Lowrey Lewis, Mrs. Howard Stanton... Miss Sue Van Duser, Mrs. Blackmore... Miss Mona Ryan, Mrs. Livingston... Miss Clara La Mar, Miss Livingston... Miss Adele Vaughan.

INDIAN LADS AS BOY SCOUTS They Are Joining in States - Some Descendants of Scouts of Other Days

(New York Sun) All of the activities of the North American Indians, except those of actual warfare, are imitated by the Boy Scouts, and there is so much of the Indian life of the days before this country was settled included in Boy Scout lore that it is no wonder that real little Indians, actual descendants of some of the scouts of other days, have become interested in the Boy Scout movement, and have formed patrols of their own.

The first of these real Indian Boy Scout patrols was organized in the Indian village of Fond du Lac reservation, near Oconto, Wis. The Northwest organizer of the Boy Scouts of America visited the public school which is attended by the Indian boys of the reservation. Many of the boys were out in the forest when the organizer arrived in the village, but the school teacher, who is much interested in the Indian boys, and who believes that the scout movement will be of great help to them, had the schoolhouse bell rung so that the boys would come to hear about the nation wide organization of the Boy Scouts of America.

At the call of the bell the boys came from all directions. They listened quietly while the organizer explained what the organization of Boy Scouts really means, and told them how they might be of help to him and learn how to track game and follow trails in the forest, as their savage ancestors had done.

During the talk the Indian boys betrayed no signs of interest in what the organizer was saying. They listened attentively and gravely to his remarks, but they smiled neither at him nor at one another when he dwelt upon the more amusing side of boy scouting. The organizer was at a loss to understand their attitude. He had never failed to arouse the interest of audiences of boys whom he had addressed before, and he decided that to enlist the enthusiasm of Indian boys some other form of approach was necessary.

At the end of the address the organizer asked the boys whether they were interested in what he had been saying to them and received only the most perfunctory nods in reply. The attitude of the boys was so exceedingly cold that he was in despair over entering a sufficient number to organize a patrol. However, he decided to appeal to the boys individually, and in the most indifferent manner they, one by one, signified their desire to become scouts. It did not seem like an auspicious beginning, however, for, judging from other than Indian standards, an onlooker would have said that the boys did not care at all about the scout idea, and were only consenting to join the patrol out of politeness.

Extraordinary precautions are taken by Korean blacksmiths before they attempt to shoe Korean horses, which are noted for their bad tempers. The Korean blacksmith first trusses the horse up to the heavy timbers of the roof of his smithy, and even small ponies, no matter how docile they may seem, are treated in respect of 640 of the crew and 261 passengers in the same way. The Korean blacksmith wears a white costume as, in fact, do all Korean men. PROPERTY WHICH MAKES UP THE ASTOR FORTUNE

The property making up the $100,000,000 fortune in control of which Vincent Astor will come this week, consists of large parcels of land in the central part of Manhattan, especially in the neighborhood of Broadway, Fifth Avenue and Forty-second street. There are a group of business and tenement buildings on the middle west side and one on the lower east side, a large tract in the Bronx near the old Morris Park race track, the immense country estate, Fencliff, at Rhinebeck, N. Y., a villa and grounds in Newport, several less important properties and a collection of jewels, paintings and sculpture.

On cars should be kept tightly covered. Paraffin which has been exposed to the sun does not burn brightly, and often forms a crust on the lamp wick when lighted.

PURPOSELY DELAYING EXTENSION?

Mayor Frink Criticizes Lack of Action by Street Railway Company

NEW RATES FOR COACHMEN

Commissioner Agar Reports to Council on Expenditure in Street West - Another Policemen For West Side Temporarily - Increase in Ferry Traffic

At the meeting of the city commissioners yesterday Mayor Frink asked the commissioner of public works if the street railway extension towards Kane's Corner was underway. Mr. Agar replied that he had received an application from the St. John Railway Company for a very extensive tunnel near Haymarket Square. This application had been refused on the ground that it really meant the double tracking of that part of the road from Brussels street to the Marsh bridge.

SPORT NEWS OF A DAY; AT HOME AND ABROAD

1912 was only a prelude to what was to come, and what has now become an established fact. The reduction of the world's trotting record from 2:29 2/5 to 1:58, covering, as it does, a period of sixty-seven years, is the most interesting thing to contemplate when it is presented through the medium of type and printing press, and is here given, the table being prepared by The Horse World:

Table with columns: Name, Time, and other details for various trotting records.

Baseball: Change in Class of Players. Professional baseball is a business and billions of dollars are invested in it by business men.

Baseball: Wilson Putting. From a baseball player nothing is required but that he be able to play a good game and keep in condition.

Baseball: Dahlen to Lead Again. Charles H. Ebbets, president of the Brooklyn National League club, set forth the one great question which has been the attention of Brooklyn fans.

Baseball: School Board Is Asked for Increases. The school board deals with matters of interest last evening.

Baseball: Mr. Powers of High School Resigns - The Proposed New North End Building. The school board deals with matters of interest last evening.

Baseball: The Dropping of Chance as leader of the Cubs and the retirement of Brennan as the Cardinals' manager.

Baseball: The name of Lucille Cameron, of Minneapolis, does not figure in any of the indictments.

Baseball: Washington, Nov. 11—Jack Johnson, world's champion heavyweight pugilist, through his attorney, Benjamin Bachrach today filed a motion in the supreme court of the United States.

Baseball: The matter of securing the Wilmet lot in Bentley street for a school site was taken up and Mr. Agar told of the visit of the commissioners to the site.

Baseball: A committee, consisting of Trustees Russell, Coll and Hullcock with the superintendent, is to revise all the salaries and submit a report to the trustees at an early date so that any increase may be provided for in the estimates.

PROMISE OF GREATER COAL DEVELOPMENT IN QUEENS COUNTY

New Equipment For Working the Mines—Fifty New Steel Coal Cars

The rapid progress of the coal industry in Queens county is becoming one of the prominent features of the development of the province. Not so many years ago the suggestion that the coal deposits in this section were of much value was hardly taken seriously, although mining on a small scale had been carried on for years.

Today, with the recognition of the value of the coal by scientific experts and the practical endorsement of the coal by railways and other large consumers, the coal industry has assumed a prominent place, although its exploitation is still in its infancy. Excellent progress is being made, however, and it is estimated that the work being done this year is developing the fields and equipping the mines will cost at least $5,000,000.

The Rothwell Coal Company is adding materially to its equipment this year. The company already has one shaft equipped in modern manner with steam hoisting and operating gear, steel rails and steel cars in the mine. A new shaft has been opened this year and is being equipped in the same up-to-date style. When this is ready for complete operation, which will be by the middle of the winter, the company will be able to turn out 2,000 tons of coal a month. Owing to the pressure of orders, it is probable the opening of another shaft will be commenced in the spring.

LOCAL NEWS

FOOT INJURED.
While at work in the I. C. R. yard this morning Norman Downey was painfully injured by a heavy piece of rail dropping upon one of his feet. Dr. James Christie attended him, and later Mr. Downey was taken to his home in Stanley street.

SMOKER TONIGHT.
In their rooms in Union street this evening the members of the Irish Literary and Benevolent Society will conduct what promises to be a very pleasant smoking concert. Invitations have been extended to the presidents and officers of the other Catholic societies and it is expected that the affair will be well attended. The committee in charge has arranged an enjoyable programme.

LOST A TRIP.
The steamer Champlain resumed her usual run this morning, after missing a trip yesterday due to an accident to her propeller. This piece of her apparatus worked loose at Glenwood on Saturday and instead of staying up river she returned on Saturday night going through Hilary's blocks for repairs. Before getting into the blocks she was struck by the boom of a schooner and her railing damaged.

DELEGATES HOME.
Local delegates to the annual meeting of the Canadian Baptist Foreign Mission Board in Toronto last week have returned home. Rev. Dr. W. E. McIntyre and Rev. Dr. D. Hutchinson came home this morning while Rev. F. S. Porter, Rev. M. F. McInchison, and W. Spurgeon Frederickson returned earlier in the week. Mrs. Hutchinson will return tomorrow.

The representative from here says that the convention was a distinct success, was well attended and that many matters of interest and importance in mission circles were dealt with. Mr. Spurgeon and Docter were appointed on the executive, the former being made first vice-president for this province.

Men of St. John Who Are About to Breast the Winter Will Want Good Clothing For it

In our men's clothing department you will find right now the right clothing for this winter. So sure are we of the satisfaction it will give that we say to the man who buys a suit or an overcoat: "This must be satisfactory to you, or we shall expect it back."

We can say this of every suit and overcoat in our new winter stock, and be confident to the last notch that there will be satisfaction.

For the new winter overcoats are very fine—and different from any other stock.

No old garments among them, and the tailoring so good, you can be sure that the collar and lapels and the whole "set" of the coat will stay exactly as it is when we try it on.

And yet, we sell these clothes at less than you'll pay for others that are inferior in every way! This is because, as manufacturers, selling to you direct we save you the middle-man's profit, which all others must pay, and, therefore, must get it back from you.
